

To Be Demonstrated at 'Pull'

Mini-Tractors: Little but Loud, Not Used for Plowing Fields

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Hereford will host a micro-mini tractor pull at the Little Bull Barn Saturday night, and while the sled-lugging machines on hand for the event may not match the size of the tractors used in more common full-scale tractor pulls, they're every bit as noisy.

Ed Hammett and Brendon Gallagher are promoting the event, to be held at 7:30 Saturday, and hope to stir up enthusiasm for competition with the pint-sized tractors they are marketing.

Hammett explained that three, four, five and six pound tractor classes are featured in the micro-mini events.

The tractors are powered by engines ranging in size from .049 cubic inches to .20 cubic inches. The engines are similar to those used on flying model airplanes.

"We pull on a 16 ft. piece of plywood, which is used as the track. A model of the large sled used by the Texas Tractor Pull Association, a weight transfer sled, is used," Hammett explained.

According to Hammett, each mini-tractor starts out pulling 10 times its weight, and competition continues in each class until one tractor outpulls all others.

"The world record pull in the micro-mini hot rod class is 98 lbs. pulled on a 15 ft. track by a five pound tractor," said Hammett.

Hot rod class tractors may be rigged with engines up to .20 cubic inches in size.

The tractors used in these events are basically the toys available at most implement dealers. In fact, they come in all of the popular brands.

The lugs are removed from the tires, and Hammett pointed out that softer tires, which provide better traction on the plywood track, can be obtained.

Tractors can be fitted out with rear wheel, belly and front end weights, just like their full-scale counterparts.

The thing that sets them apart from more common toys is that amazingly powerful little engine slung beneath the belly.

"These mini-tractors can run on model airplane fuel, but most serious pullers burn model rocket fuel, which contains a lot more nitro methane," Hammett explained.

The "fuel pump" for these mini-monsters is a large syringe, which is used to squirt fuel into a small tank, in addition to priming the tiny engine for starting.

A small recoil starter is also mounted beneath the engine. Hammett admits that the little tractors are sometimes a bit contrary about starting, but there's no doubt about it when they kick off. The noise is amazing.

Hammett explained that a lot of the appeal of the micro-mini tractors is in their low expense when compared to full-scale tractor pulling, and the fact that the little rigs are downright cute.

"A three pound tractor with a .049 engine will run about $125," said Hammett. "In the event that you ever needed to replace the entire engine, it would run you only about $25, and you can put in a new engine head for $1.50. Heck, I put a new inner tube in a tire on my big tractor, and it cost more than the whole mini tractor rig," Hammett commented.

"Everybody is even when you start pulling with these little tractors," he continued. "It comes down to the weighting of your tractor and the preparation of your tires, and whoever does that best will probably win. You can pit a 12 year old against a 30 year old, and they have an equal chance. Often, the kids will do the actual competition with the rig and the dad will prepare it," he added.

Saturday night's demonstration is sponsored by the Texas Micro-Mini Tractor Pullers Association, a chartered state organization, and is free to the public.

Randy Dutton of Levelland will be bringing a number of tractors for the demonstration.

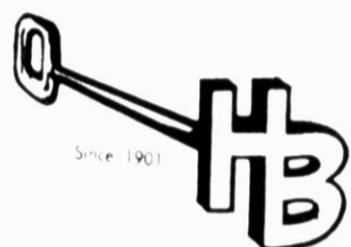

Hammett pointed out that the hobby is just getting started in Hereford, with six local residents owning micro-minis.

"The cost of them is a little high right now, but I'm sure they'll come down as time goes along. They're noisy, but they're also a lot of fun," he concluded.

DA Asks County for 3 More Employees

Cemetery Title Called Erroneous

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

District Atty. Andy Shuval Monday asked the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court to reorganize the DA's office to accommodate an increased workload resulting from two acts passed by the state legislature in its last session.

One bill is the Speedy Trial Act (Senate Bill 1043), which puts a deadline on the time permitted to dispose of cases in county and district court. The other act is Senate Bill 977, which requires the prosecutor to represent the Department of Human Resources in all cases under subtitles A and C of Title II of the family code.

The Department of Human Resources was formerly the Department of Public Welfare in Texas.

Shuval asked commissioners Monday in their regularly scheduled semi-monthly session to apply for a state grant in the amount of $38,193.50, of which $27,711.10 would pay for the yearly salaries of two additional employees for the DA's office, an office manager and an investigator.

Would Relieve Workload

The office manager, Shuval told commissioners, would relieve prosecutors of administration duties, including paying personnel, ordering supplies, administering the hot check program and regulating vacation time and sick leave.

Shuval said the title "investigator" is a misnomer.

"He will assist in felony cases and major misdemeanors to interview witnesses, prepare cases for grand jury, prepare cases for plea, assure the appearance of witnesses and make sure our cases are properly prepared for trial in our office," the DA said.

The two employees, Shuval said, would permit himself and assistant DA Schalan Atkinson more time to handle the increased workload brought about the new laws.

Shuval also requested a third employee, another assistant district attorney to be paid by the county. That person, according to the DA, would "allow us to use one attorney for county court, one attorney for felony court prosecution, and one attorney to meet the family law and hot check requirements of our office. JP Court will be a shared responsibility.

The balance of the grant (after salaries are removed from it) would be used as follows:

$4,525 for equipment, $2,400 for travel and $3,557.40 for supplies and direct operating expense.

$5,000 for Construction

The commissioners court Monday

provid, would be required to spend $5,000 for construction, which would be used for either additional office space in the DA's office or for rental of other office space), and $1,874 for equipment.

The Speedy Trial ACT requires prosecutors to be prepared to try each Class C misdemeanor within 30 days, each county court misdemeanor within 90 days and each felony within 120 days.

In 1976, 63 percent of the county court cases were disposed of within 90 days after the cases were filed and 37 percent went more than 90 days. In the same year, 68 percent of the district court cases were disposed of in more than 120 days.

Commissioners decided not to make an immediate decision of Shuval's requests. They will decide whether to pass a resolution asking for a grant at their next meeting Oct. 24.

Air Force To Drill

The County, should the grant be assigned a permit allowing the United States Air Force to drill in three precincts as an exploratory measure for possible missile sites. Deaf Smith, Carson and Lipscomb counties.

Drilling will determine soil content and will be done within county right-of-ways. A nine-man expedition and equipment will arrive Oct. 20 in Deaf Smith County to begin work.

County Considered Possible Missile Site

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith County is being considered by the United States Air Force as a possible site for the proposed MX Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles (ICBMs), the Brand confirmed this morning.

County commissioners met Monday in regular session and during the meeting signed a permit allowing the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Air Force to drill within county right-of-ways on Oct. 20 to determine the feasibility of storing the missiles in underground sites in the county.

A nine-man expedition will be in Deaf Smith County to drill in precincts 1, 2 and 4. The drilling will be done as part of a nation-wide screening study to determine where the missiles will be located.

Areas in Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Kansas are being considered as possible sites, along with eight counties in Texas. Three of those counties—Deaf Smith, Lipscomb and Carson—are in the Panhandle.

"We're just doing soil sampling," said Maj. Al Sabsevitz, special assistant for information with the Air Force at Camp Norton, Calif. "We're just doing some nationwide screening to see what areas are suited for intercontinental ballistic missiles."

The MX missiles have not been developed yet. The Air Force is awaiting the go-ahead from Congress and President Carter and does not expect development of the land-based missile until the late 1980's, according to Sabsevitz.

The MX will supplement and/or replace the Minuteman missile used today as part of the United States' complex defense system.

"We currently have about 1,000 of the Minuteman missiles in silos that are mostly in North and South Dakota and the Wyoming area.

"We're looking at an approved intercontinental ballistic missile, this MX, as our enemy increases his warhead and accelerates against our Minuteman missiles sites.

"We're looking at an alternate means of assuring survival of the intercontinental ballistic missile."

Sabsevitz said that when the site for the missile is approved and the MX is developed, two modes of hiding it will be considered.

"One is a covered, buried trench where the enemy won't know where the missile is located. And another is shelters that would hold the missiles—to build shelters and the enemy will not know which shelter would hold the missile."

Speaking hypothetically, Sabsevitz said Deaf Smith County's residents will be in little danger with hidden missiles.

"It's not worth the cost of them to send 500 missiles to destroy one. He still would not be sure of hitting it."

Sabsevitz emphasized that "Hereford County (sic) has not been selected—we're looking at several areas."

The Air Force has agreed to pay for any damages on county land during the drilling expedition.

Walser Enjoys Hereford Life in Good, Tough Times

By KEITH RIBNICK
Brand Staff Writer

A resident of the Hereford area for over 60 years, Samuel L. "Fate" Walser has somehow managed to wear a smile even through the worst of times.

He says that's how he has lived for so long.

Walser will celebrate his 92nd birthday with family and friends in his longtime home of Hereford on Oct. 23.

Originally from Montague County, Walser was born near Bowie in 1885. He was raised in north central Texas and became interested in farming through his parents.

Walser eventually married Laura Lance and moved slowly toward the Panhandle, stopping for brief farming stints in Wilbarger, Donley and Gray counties. The Walsers finally settled in the Summerfield community in 1917.

He served on the Summerfield school board for several years and, in addition to his farming duties, Walser traveled "far and wide" to recruit teachers for the district.

The Walsers moved to Hereford in 1924 because their teenage daughter was high school age and could not attend Summerfield's non-existent high school. However, Walser kept his Summerfield acreage.

Walser continued to work his farm and became involved in a variety of vocations during the later 1920's and 1930's. Real estate was one of Walser's businesses in the prewar years.

The church played an important role in the Walsers' life, as they became active in the local First Baptist Church. The Walsers worked hard to develop the present church structure in the late 1930's and early 1940's.

Walser retired in the mid 1940's, but remained active in civic, church and family affairs.

Looking back, Walser likes to expound on his sometimes wonderful, sometimes tragic years in Hereford.

"There were no paved roads in town (1917 Hereford) ...not even downtown."

"The dust bowl years were worse than they tell you. I remember a big, black cloud of dust that came up from the north. It looked like a cloud of ash."

"We sold wheat for 20 cents a bushel and milo for 30 cents a hundred back in the thirties."

"It's altogether different now than when I was farming. They irrigate much more now and for a much higher cost. We had to dig only about 200 feet for water...today, it's 400 feet or more."

"I practically quit the real estate business during the depression. People

Busy Week Awaiting American Ag Movement

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

With a massive farm strike rally in Amarillo only three days away, the American Agriculture movement is attracting increasing interest both on the local scene, and from at least one state organization.

A meeting on the movement will be held at the Bull Barn tonight at 8 o'clock, with Jerry Wright of Colorado serving as the guest speaker.

Wright will be explaining the farmer strike movement and how individuals can get involved in it.

All local farmers and businessmen are invited to attend.

On Thursday, leaders of the Texas Farmers Union will be meeting in advance of the strike rally in Amarillo.

The TFU is meeting in order to display support for the protest movement and to make plans for an official statement at the Amarillo rally.

Jay Naman, TFU president, explained the Amarillo meeting, stating, "It's high time we identify those farm organizations which stand fully behind their members and these efforts. We want no doubts that we have been and remain ready for tough action. It's time farmers themselves recognize their friends and enemies in this thing."

Naman pointed out that TFU members will sharpen and focus their direction within the atmosphere of full cooperation with the protest movement. He said that he will spell out that full support during

Series Begins Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Dodgers, two franchises that divided baseball passions and World Series titles in the 1950s, square off in Game 1 of the 1977 World Series tonight.

"This is exciting for baseball," enthused the Dodgers' Tom Lasorda, a National League pennant winner in his rookie managerial season in the big leagues. "Here we have the two great teams which over the years have been eyeing each other with major league baseball."

Lasorda, who said he was cut from the Dodgers' 1955 championship team because of a young left-hander named Sandy Koufax, was highly emotional about the classic confrontation between the Yankees pinstripes and the Dodgers blue.

Meanwhile, his managerial counterpart, Billy Martin, proclaimed there was no longer any special rivalry between the Bronx Bombers and the Dodgers, former tenants in the borough of Brooklyn.

"The fifties were too long ago," said brash Billy, a hero of the Yankees' 1953 World Series win over the "Bums" of Brooklyn. "We used to travel by subway then. Now we go cross country in planes."

There now is a lot more separating Los Angeles and New York besides 3,000 miles. The Dodgers, a team built from its minor league system, failed to enter the free-agent market. The Yankees, however, have been called the best team money can buy, adding free agent plums Reggie Jackson and Don Gullet to last season's AL championship club that dropped four straight World Series games to the Cincinnati Reds.

The Dodgers believe in the credo that the team that loves together plays together, while the Yankees play together on the field and argue about it in the clubhouse.

"We built this team on togetherness, love and spirit," said Lasorda, who managed many of his players in the Dodgers chain before succeeding long-time skipper Walter Alston this season. "I love my players because they got me here."

The Steelers raced by the Chargers 41-13 to highlight AFL play. Other AFL results had the Jets 14-0 winners over the Dolphins, the Oilers 18-13 over

McNaney Takes Contest Prize

Entrants in last week's Brand Football Contest didn't do as well as they had the past two weeks when one or two misses was necessary to win some money, but Curt McNaney doesn't mind. He won the contest with five misses.

McNaney's 21-5 record got him $25 for first place, while Mike Brorman won second place over Sheila Brannon by the margin of one-point on the tie-breaker after the duo missed six games on the list.

Brorman guessed 49 on the number of points Miami and Baltimore would score in NFL play Sunday. The Colts won that battle 45-28 to make the number 73. Brannon took third place with a point guess of 48.

McNaney missed the Coronado, Canyon, Dimmitt, Alabama, and Houston Oiler wins on the contest. He could also have been charged with a miss on the Florida-Pitt 17-17 tie as the rest of the contest entrants, but an error on the contest allowed a correct guess on that game.

The Colorado St.-Utah game from the previous week had inadvertently been left on the square with the Pitt-Florida game. Thus, any guess in that square was counted correct this week.

Brorman erred in picking Palo Duro, Lockney, Vilanova, Arizona, New Mexico State, and Tennessee, while Brannon's 24-19.

Games next week have the Printer's Devils playing the Midnight Cowboys at 1 p.m.; Sante Fe meeting the Cowpunchers at 2 p.m.; the Giants and Farmers clashing at 3 p.m. in a battle of winless teams, and the Bad Company-Toters match-up at 4 p.m. to conclude the day.

misses came by picking Hereford, Caprock, Palo Duro, Lockney, Oklahoma, and SMU.

On the year three persons are tied for the lead with 20 misses each. Ranking on the top currently are Dempsey Alexander, E.H. Loerwald, and Joyce Wartes. Just one guess behind the leaders are six others, including Duane Albracht, Wayne Amstutz, Cliff Johnson, Danny Rice, Dickey Sims, and Earl Stagner.

All of the above totals are figured with the entrant's two worst weeks thrown out.

Twisters Gain 3-2 Victory

The Hereford Twisters soccer team gained a victory Sunday in a 3-2 win over the Amarillo Dragons. Emilio Romero, Jr. scored all three Hereford goals in the contest.

The team will conduct winter training this year under the guidance of Javier Gutierrez. Interested persons may call

Ann Landers Distressed Daughter-in-law

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read the letter from the woman who suggested, as "The Perfect Gift" for a mother-in-law, a whole day alone with her son.

The woman wrote, "I have spent many days with my daughter-in-law but never a day alone with my son since he married several years ago. It would be a perfect gift, and it costs nothing. Please suggest this to all those daughters-in-law out there who are wracking their brains for something special to give their husband's mother."

That letter blew my mind. Please tell me, Ann, how can I get my husband to spend a day with his mother when I can't even get him to telephone her?

And why was the request directed at the daughter-in-law? It sounds like a not-so-subtle hint that she is keeping her husband away from his mother. Why didn't she suggest it to her son?

The facts are these: My husband does not have very good feelings about his mother. She is a complainer, a nag and a bore. She is also an expert at laying on the guilt. ("Why don't you include me?")

I have tried to smooth things over to prevent a total rift. I'm the one who sends the flowers on Mother's Day, the gift at Christmas. I bake the birthday cake and buy her a gift from "us." If it were up to her son he wouldn't give her the time of day. And in all fairness I must admit she is a selfish, difficult woman, and I can understand his feelings, although I certainly don't condone them. A mother is a mother, and should be treated with respect and consideration no matter what.

But please, Ann, play fair. Print this letter for all the daughters-in-law who are in my sp.-Our Name Is Legion.

DEAR LEGION: Thank you for expressing your gut feelings. It was distressing to me to receive thousands of letters from daughters-in-law who said the same thing. What in the world is happening to families anyway? I wish I had some easy answers, but alas-I have none.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: On April 25th, my husband asked me for a divorce. No reason-just "fed up." He moved out of the house but came by often to see our little girl. (He is crazy about her.)

Last week he told me he had been living with another woman but grew tired of her and wants to come home and be a part of the family again. I was thrilled until he gave me the Big News. The girl (who is 23) went and got herself pregnant. His comment to me was, "What a dirty trick!"

I need to know how to deal with this situation. I still love my husband and our little girl needs a daddy. Please advise.-Big Trouble In Texas

DEAR TROUBLE: First, dear, no woman can "get herself pregnant." She needs help. And your husband helped her. He has a legal responsibility to the woman and must support their child until he (or she) is no longer a minor.

Discuss this problem with a counselor, a clergyman, or a lawyer. Take your husband along, if possible. Together you should decide what is the best course of action.

CARVE A JACK-O'-LANTERN
As the morning air gets nippy and crisp, thoughts turn to fall. For the younger set, fall means Halloween. Make this Halloween special with a real pumpkin Jack-o'-lantern!
Pumpkin season lasts from late September until early May, with the peak season in October and November. About 79 percent of the pumpkins marketed are sold during October.
You will see several popular varieties of pumpkins at the market. Connecticut Field is the traditional jack-o'-lantern pumpkin. It averages 10 to 12 inches in diameter and weighs about 20 pounds, though larger ones aren't uncommon.
Small Sugar is the favorite for baking pies. It is about 7 inches in diameter and weighs 6 to 8 pounds and is an excellent eating pumpkin.
Mammoth variety is grown mainly for exhibition and livestock feed, but is used as a table variety, also. This pumpkin is 18-plus inches in diameter and weighs 60 to 75 pounds.
Other varieties that may be seen are: Green Cushaw, Golden Cushaw, Kentucky Field, Winter Luxury, and Large Cheese. These are multi-purpose varieties.
Buy only mature pumpkins that are heavy for their size.
Check for excessive scarring, cracks and soft-rot. There should be no wet-breakdown or indications of freezing or disease.

Buy clean pumpkins that are of a rich orange color.
Pumpkins come in all shapes and sizes. There are some that are nearly round, others are oblong, and some look a bit flattened on the top. Let your pumpkin shape add character to your jack-o'-lantern.
Children love to carve jack-o'-lantern faces. This can fill a rainy afternoon with fun.
To carve a jack-o'-lantern, set the pumpkin on a table with the stem-side up. Cut off the top about one-eighth of the way down, exposing the hollow center of the pumpkin. Save the top for a lid.
Scoop out the seeds and the stringy material from the inside of the pumpkin, leaving a hollow shell.
Using a sharp knife, carve a face on one side of the pumpkin. To make the pumpkin last longer, spray the inside with a clear plastic to keep it from molding.
Last of all, place a short candle inside to light up the faces of the jack-o'-lantern and the children, then replace the top.
The seeds you scooped from the inside of the old jack can be roasted for a special treat.
Separate the seeds from the fiber, but do not wash. Spread the seeds in a shallow pan, salt liberally, pour a tablespoon of melted butter over them and bake one hour in a 250 degree oven, or until dry and lightly browned.

Texas Now No. 2

Michigan Back On Top

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer
The Michigan Wolverines returned to the top of The Associated Press college football ratings today while last week's 1-2 teams, Southern California and Oklahoma, dropped to sixth and seventh.

The Wolverines, voted out of the No. 1 position two weeks ago at the request of Coach Bo Schembechler, climbed back by defeating Michigan State 24-14 while Alabama stunned Southern Cal 21-20 and Texas knocked off Oklahoma 13-6.

Michigan received 44 of 61 first-place votes and 1,180 of a possible 1,220 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. The surprising Texas Longhorns, back among the elite teams in Fred Akers' first season as their head coach, vaulted from fifth place into the runnerup spot with 15 first-place ballots and 1,100 points. Colorado, a 29-13 victor over Oklahoma State, jumped from sixth to third with one first-place vote and 775 points, followed by Alabama with 762 points. The Crimson Tide was tied for seventh a week ago.

Despite a 46-0 rout of Purdue, Ohio State slipped from fourth to fifth with 735 points and the other first-place ballot. The Buckeyes were followed by Southern Cal with 659 points and Oklahoma with 657.

Arkansas, tied for seventh last week, was eighth this time with 424 points after an idle weekend. Rounding out the Top Ten, just like last week, were Nebraska with 471 points and Penn State with 304. The Cornhuskers beat Kansas State 26-7 while the Nittany Lions shaded Utah State 16-7.

Note Dame, which also had the weekend off, remained in 11th place. Kentucky, a 23-7 winner over Mississippi State, rose from 16th to 12th.

The rest of the Second Ten consisted of Texas A&M, Wisconsin, Texas Tech, Louisiana State, Pitt, Florida.

Nieman Re-Takes Forecasters Lead

Speedy Nieman re-took the lead on the Fearless Forecasters panel this week despite a sluggish start in the high school ranks. Nieman owns the panel lead with a 115-41 record, one ahead of Joyce Shipp.

Nieman looked as if he might slip some at the start of the weekend as he missed six of nine high school games on the contest. He missed only three college contests and the Houston Oilers victory over Pittsburgh the rest of the way.

Houston and California. Last week's Second Ten was Notre Dame, Texas A&M, Brigham Young, California, Pitt, Kentucky, Texas Tech, LSU, Wisconsin and Florida.

Houston rejoined the Top Twenty after a one-week absence even though the Cougars didn't play last weekend. They replaced the Brigham Young Cougars, who dropped out following a 24-19 loss to Oregon State.

Drew Pearson Wants Decision On Dorsett

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys wide receiver Drew Pearson would like to see rookie running back Tony Dorsett's statistics if the Heisman Trophy winner played all 60 minutes of a National Football League game.

Pearson said, "I feel Coach (Tom Landry) has got to make a decision on a starter and stick with him. Preston Pearson is doing a good job and it's hard to keep him out."

"But can you imagine what Tony would do if he got to play a whole game? He only played half the time against St. Louis."

Dorsett rushed for 141 yards and two touchdowns, including a 77-yard romp which was the longest touchdown run in the club's history.

Pearson said "I feel better when Tony is in there because the defense really has to guard against the run. That means the cornerbacks have to come up a little and it opens up the secondary for the pass."

"It's a pleasant problem for Coach Landry. I've been on this team when we had a solid running game with Calvin Hill and when we didn't. There's nothing like having the threat of the run—particularly with somebody like Tony who can go all the way any play."

Overall Nieman leads the panel with his 115-41 mark. Shipp is next at 114-42, Nigh and the younger Nieman are behind the consensus column with 104-52, marks, while Paul Sims is last with a 97-59 record. The consensus column has a 107-49 record.

The panel as a whole missed the Dumas win over Hereford, the Lubbock win over Caprock, the Alabama stunning of USC, the Canyon win over Palo Duro, and the Houston win over the Steelers.

Pearson suffered a bad sprain of his left wrist in Dallas' 30-24 victory over St. Louis in a National Conference showdown Sunday.

"The X-rays didn't show a break or anything but what ever it is I'm not going to miss the Washington game," said Pearson.

Washington (3-1) travels to Texas Stadium to play the unbeaten Cowboys Sunday in another NFC East showdown.

"If we don't beat the Redskins this week then the big wins we had over Minnesota and St. Louis won't mean a thing," said Pearson. "If we can win, it puts Washington two games out and puts us in good shape."

Landry indicated Monday there was a chance that Dorsett might get a starting call over Preston Pearson, who is having one of the best years of his 11-year National Football League career.

"He Dorsett could but I don't want to speculate right now," said Landry.

Dorsett said the St. Louis game was "a real moral builder. It showed the coaches have confidence in me to leave me in a tight situation. I know the system now and I can turn loose without thinking."

SWC Quarterbacks On Endangered List

Quarterbacks in the Southwestern Conference appear to be going the way of the whooping crane, snail darter and furbish loueswort - on the endangered species list.

Less than halfway through the season, four SWC teams have lost their starting quarterbacks and Texas has even lost its No. 2 signal-caller.

Baylor's hard-luck starting Quarterback Sammy Bickham, who has already suffered a separated shoulder and a dislocated finger this season, was to have surgery today for a torn knee ligament and a broken foot suffered last Saturday.

Texas' No. 1 quarterback Mark McBath, injured in the first quarter of last week's 13-6 upset of bitter rival Oklahoma, will have his broken left ankle encased in plaster for 10 weeks. Meanwhile, the Longhorns' No. 2 quarterback Jon Aune, who tore up his knee within minutes of McBath's departure from the Oklahoma game, underwent surgery Monday to repair a torn ligament and remove both cartilages from his right knee.

Texas Tech's star quarterback Rodney Allison had already been sidelined with a broken leg suffered Sept. 24 against Texas A&M, while Danny Davis, the catalyst for the Houston Cougars, was earlier lost for the season with a shoulder injury.

And Southern Methodist's Mike Ford has been playing all season with a series of injuries.

Texas Coach Fred Akers will be forced to go with unknown third-stringer Randy McEachern, who bounced off the bench in the first quarter last week to guide the Longhorns over the Sooners, against potent Arkansas on national television Saturday.

Backing up McEachern will be freshman Sam Ansley, while Ted Constanzo, who underwent knee surgery last summer, has resumed workouts.

With Bickham out, Baylor Grant Teaff will have to choose between sophomore Greg Wood or freshman Scott Smith, who have also been nursing injuries all season.

At one point, Teaff had all three quarterbacks listed as

Oiler Pride Made Difference

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips says pride was the difference in the Oilers' 27-10 victory over Pittsburgh Sunday.

and nine Steeler turnovers didn't hurt either. The Oilers, who played poorly in a 27-7 loss to Miami, rebounded Sunday with a 27-10 victory over Pittsburgh to take sole possession of the AFC Central Division with a 3-1 record.

"When you get nine turnovers in a game, you should win no matter who you're playing," Phillips said, referring to Houston's six interceptions and three fumble recoveries against the Steelers. "I'm enjoying it," Phillips said when asked about the Oiler's first place standing. "But I'd like to enjoy it one more week. That's all you can do anyway. Take 'em one at a time."

Phillips said the Oilers were embarrassed by their Miami performance. "I think their pride was hurt when they didn't play as well as they knew they could," Phillips said. "That's why it's hard to handicap games. Sometimes a player doesn't do what he's supposed to do. There's that human element that no one can predict."

Phillips won't try to predict if injured starting quarterback

Dan Pastorini will be ready for Houston's second straight division showdown Sunday against Cleveland. But he's not counting him out either.

"He's not one to give in to pain," Phillips said of Pastorini, who suffered a sprained ankle late in the third quarter. "If anybody can play on it, Dan can."

Pittsburgh also had quarterback problems, losing Terry Bradshaw with a broken bone in his left wrist and backup Mike Kruczek with a shoulder separation.

Phillips said the Steelers' quarterback losses should not detract from Houston's performance.

"They lost their quarterbacks but they didn't lose their defense," Phillips said. "There's no doubt it was hard for them to play without their quarterbacks. But last year their Number Two guy came in and did a good job against us.

"But I think we were going to win anyway. We intercepted their best quarterback four times in the first half."

Houston's position atop the AFC Central Division standings will be tested again in the AstroDome Sunday against the Cleveland Browns, tied for second place with Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, all with 2-3 records.

KIRKLAND, Wash. (AP) — The Seattle Seahawks signed defensive end Horace Jones for a second time and placed defensive end Andy Dorris on waivers Monday, said Coach Jack Patra.

Rozelle, here to address a meeting of the Houston Touchdown Club, was asked why no penalties resulted from the fight.

The commissioner said officials try to break up scuffles before they become full-fledged fights.

"That official was trying to keep it from getting out of hand," he said. "You don't like to throw players out of games unless it's necessary."

The league's alternatives for violence during games are fines and suspensions, he said.

"Football is an emotional game and we try to take that into consideration," he said. "But we can't cross that line (violence). We are a very physical sport but it is disciplined."

He (Lambert) shouldn't

Pete Rozelle, the NFL commissioner, was present at the game and he said Monday if there is any punishment assessed it would be a fine and not a suspension.

"I think Lambert was at fault but I certainly don't think he intended to swing on an official," Royelle said. "But there was a fight going on and he was flailing away. The official came in as a peace maker."

"He (Lambert) shouldn't

"The St. Louis game was a real moral builder for me."

Dorsett said that fate in the game against St. Louis he kept the looking to the sideline because he feared Coach Landry might give him the hook.

"It felt good for him to leave me in there in such an important game," said collegiate football's all-time grounder gainer. "It felt real good."

Dorsett Says He's Ready To Turn Loose

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys million dollar rookie running back Tony Dorsett says he has finally mastered Coach Tom Landry's complex offense and feels grateful for being left in the game in a pressure situation against St. Louis Sunday.

"It showed the coaches have confidence in me to leave me in a tight situation," said Dorsett Monday, who is running with the same authority he showed as the Heisman Trophy winner at Pittsburgh.

"I know the system now and I can turn loose instead of thinking," said Dorsett, who scored two touchdowns in a wild 30-24 victory over St. Louis.

Will Dorsett start over veteran Preston Pearson next Sunday against the Washington Redskins?

Landry said Monday "He could but I don't want to speculate right now."

Cowboy wide receiver Drew Pearson said "I feel coach Landry has got to make a decision on a starter and stick with him. Preston is doing a good job and it's hard to keep him out."

"But can you imagine what Tony would do if he got to play a whole game? He only played half the time against St. Louis."

Drew Pearson said "I feel better when Tony is in there because the defense really has to guard against the run. That means the cornerbacks have to come up a little and it opens up the secondary more for the pass."

Pearson added "It's a pleasant problem for coach Landry. I've been on this team when we had a solid running game with Calvin Hill and when we didn't. There's nothing like having the threat of the run—particularly with somebody like Tony who can go all the way any
