Commission quiet about lawsuit loss

By KIMBERLY THOGMARTIN Staff Writer

Deaf Smith County Commissioners took no action Monday after meeting in closed session for an hour and a half with Amarillo attorney Bill SoRelle.

The court discussed a remedial decree-handed down Friday by Federal District Judge Mary Lou Robinson-which prohibits the county from discriminating against Hispanics and providing for back pay for those who can prove they were discriminated against when they applied for a job with the coun-

"Our attorneys will be studying the decree," County Judge Glen Nelson said after the closed meeting. "Then we'll decide what responses to make." The four commissioners, all present for the meeting, offered no comment.

Robinson had ruled on May 24 that the county was guilty of discriminatory hiring practices in the sheriff, social services, building maintenance and county commissioner Precinct 3 departments.

She also found the county guilty of discriminating against Cecilia Garza, who claimed to have applied for a job in the sheriff's office and who represented the class in the classaction civil suit after it was certified Nov. 8, 1983.

Earlier in the day, commissioners in regular session heard a request from Sheriff Joe Brown to establish a bailiff's position in the sheriff's department.

Brown first told them he would like a full-time bailiff a position that would probably pay around $14,000 a year, but later said he would settle for someone to come in only during court sessions and work by the hour. He said that arrangement would probably cost less than putting someone

Brown told the commissioners that it is not unusual for the district court. county court and grand jury to all meet at once, requiring three and sometimes four bailiffs. Since deputies serve as bailiffs, Brown said it causes the department to be short-handed.

Derrill Carroll, who has been serving civil papers since deputy Harry Hardisty resigned, said he often works all day as court bailiff and then goes out at night to serve

"I'm a family man, and I don't like being gone again in the evening," he told the court.

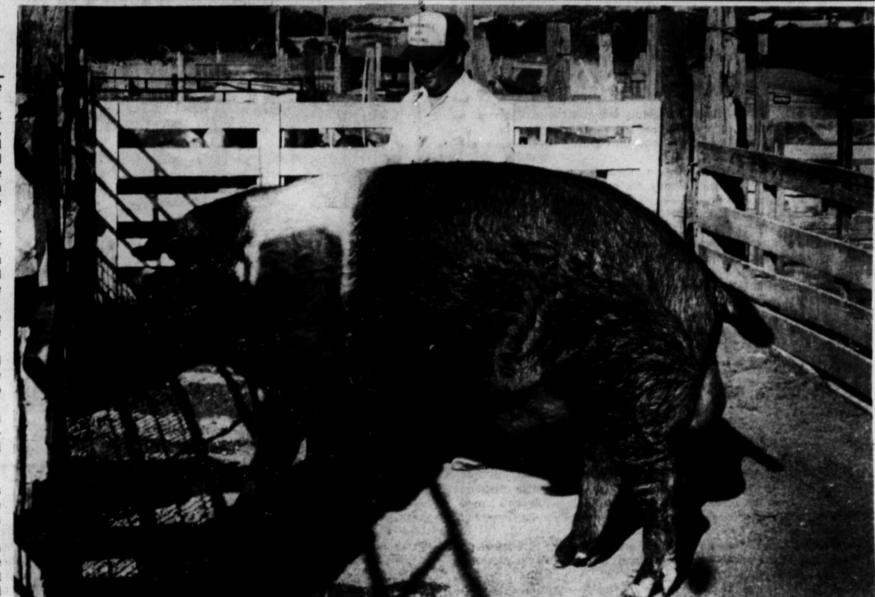

Carroll said the sheriff's office had employed a full-time bailiff in the past, until Hardisty took over the job in addition to serving civil papers.

The court postponed action on Brown's request until commissioners could confer with 222nd District Judge David Wesley Gulley. The judge is out of town this week.

In other business, commissioners agreed to purchase a sign for the Walker Building to identify it as a courthouse annex.

They also formally adopted a minimum hourly wage scale to be paid workers taking part in jail renovation, a move suggested by jail architects. "That's so construction companies that bid on the job can't sneak in a lower bid by paying their workers less," Commissioner Bruce Coleman explained.

Mondale: Democrats are 'mad,' will prevail

HOUSTON (AP) - Walter Mondale got off to a late start in Houston, but supporters who turned out for two appearances didn't let the wait keep them from seeing the Democratic presidential nominee.

A crowd of about 1,000 people waved banners and yelled, "We want Fritz" after waiting more than 30 minutes for Mondale to arrive at a Democratic rally Monday night.

"The Republicans have their heart on Wall Street, their soul at the country club and their heads in the sand," Mondale told supporters meeting at the Sheraton-Houston Hotel. "We will win because we're mad."

Earlier Monday, Mondale visited Texas Southern University, a mostly black school where some 1,000 people waited in a steamy auditorium for

The candidate, however, would not be interrupted this day.

"There are no hecklers in this auditorium," said U.S. Rep. Mickey Leland, D-Texas.

School officials selected 20 students in a lottery to determine who would be allowed to address Mondale during a question-andanswer period. But the former vice president's time permitted only four questions - on economy, foreign policy, black business and Democrats planning to vote

"For over 100 years, if it weren't for historically black colleges, no blacks would have entered into the American middle class," Mondale said.

The United Way campaign reached the $28,347 mark during the second week of the drive, it was announced Monday at a reporting session of Deaf Smith County volunteers.

The total represents 22 percent of the United Way goal of $128,150. The general division is leading the way with 54 percent of its division goal reached, according to Wayne Amstutz, executive director.

B.J. Gililland, campaign chairman, commended the work of Carol Legate, Terri Hutson and the workers in the general division. "The group has also had a big boost from Homer Garrison and the Senior Citizens organization," said Gililland.

"Caring More in '84" is the theme of this year's drive. Amstutz urged those who have not been called on for a contribution to participate by addressing a donation to United Way, Box 206,

Mosquitos plague flood scene

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) - As more than 500 Rio Grande Valley families fight to re-establish their homes in the wake of last week's torrential rainstorms, sanitation crews are working to control one of the most biting problems caused by the rain.

Sanitation crews are working almost around the clock to stave off a massive mosquito invasion, Cameron County Health Department spokesman Ray Rodriguez said Monday.

Millions of the pests are breeding in thousands of acres of standing water created by some of the worst flooding since Hurricane Beulah, Crews are in the field fogging adult mosquitos by 4 a.m., he said, and working as late as midnight. During the heat of the day, the crews stay busy spreading larvacides in the worst breeding grounds.

But without help from the public, the state and probably the federal government, Rodriguez said it may be impossible to keep the mosquito problem under control. Public cooperation in getting rid of standing water around the home is vital, he said.

"The evidence will clearly show mismanagement," Public Utility Counsel Jim Boyle said Monday, the opening day of HL&P's rate hearing. "The evidence will clearly show this company is not entitled to one dime of rate relief."

HL&P wants to add about 10 percent to residential bills. Company officials say the increase includes only $288 million in rate hikes, with the rest coming from increased sales. The PUC staff has recommended an increase of $393.4 million.

The hearing is expected to last up to eight weeks, and any new rates approved by the commission would not go into effect until next

HL&P lawyer Hugh Rice Kelly said the company needs money to pay for a construction program needed to guarantee sufficient electricity for the future.

Lady's animals, dirt irk neighbors

BRYAN, Texas (AP) - Joy Rea wants to be left alone to live behind her five-foot-tall log wall with her goats and chickens and the wood coffin on her front porch, but the Bryan City Council has decided that the wall must come down.

Neighbors near her home, a century-old, two-story that has been painted with black crude oil, claim that the log wall and the condition of the house have created an eyesore on the edge of Bryan's famed East Side Historical District. They asked the city to do something

Mondale: terrorists humiliating

WASHINGTON (AP) - Walter F. Mondale, using words reminiscent of the Iranian hostage crisis, says President Reagan is "letting terrorists humiliate us, push us around and kill our people" in Campaigning in Texas where polls show him far behind, the Democratic presidential nominee said Reagan has demonstrated "an atrocious abdication of leadership."

"We need a president who will take charge," Mondale told about 2,000 people who waited through a drizzle at a rally in Texarkana, Texas, Monday.

Reagan will be heading out Wednesday on a campaign trip to Bowling Green, Ohio and Milwaukee. On Friday he meets with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Mondale's criticism was almost identical to that leveled four years ago by Reagan at Democratic President Jimmy Carter's leadership while Mondale was vice president and 52 Americans were held hostage in the U.S. Embassy in Iran.

The hostages, taken in November 1979, were released in January 1981 on Reagan's Inauguration Day.

Growers support new citrus ban

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) - Florida growers rallied around a call for "absolute cooperation" with an indefinite ban on all citrus shipments and a halt on harvesting until all orange and grapefruit groves are rechecked for incurable citrus canker.

New measures to stop the spread of the disease were ordered Monday by state officials after it was discovered that some groves certified canker free had been found to have recent plantings that came from infected outlets.

The ban on intrastate shipment also makes it illegal to move fruit from homeowners' backyards.

"This will certainly curtail our retail sales," said Frank Sullivan of Sullivan's Victory Groves in Rockledge. "The most damage will be done in our local market. But I can't really complain because I agree with what they are doing."

Space battles 'almost inevitable'

LONDON (AP) - U.S. defense chiefs are developing a new breed of military astronauts because they believe space battles are "almost inevitable" in the next 25 years, says the new Jane's Spaceflight Directory published today.

Although the United States is ahead in space technology, "the Russians have been far more energetic and successful in applying the technology that they possess," editor Reginald Turnill noted in an introduction to the 311-page directory.

The directory is produced by the Jane's Publishing Co., which issues military yearbooks that are considered highly authoritative by the defense establishment.

Turnill said the formation of space commands by the U.S. Air Force and Navy reflected growing concern about navy activity in space. "Concerns that in the next 25 years contests in space are not only possible but almost inevitable, have led to the setting up of the new USAF Space Command," he said.

He said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's "tradition of an open space program is being steadily eroded by the addition of secret control rooms at the Kennedy and Johnson space centers, and by pressure for a separate military fleet of space shut-

Murphy went from Beirut to Syria, where he met Monday with President Hafez Assad, and today he was Corps spokesman at the Pentagon, in Israel, apparently to discuss security arrangements needed to bring about an Israeli troop withdrawal from occupied south Lebanon.

Murphy met this morning with Israeli Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin and was later was to meet with Prime Minister Shimon Peres and visit four U.S. Embassy employees wounded in the Beirut bombing who are hospitalized near Tel Aviv.

The renewed diplomatic activity was prompted by Israeli suggestions that the United States mediate with Syria to assure security for Israel's northern border once Israeli troops leave Lebanon. Israel has occupied southern Lebanon since June 1982.

The official Syrian Arab News agency said the talks between Murphy and Assad focused on "ways to bring about an Israeli withdrawal from occupied Lebanese territory." It did not elaborate.

Israeli Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir said Sunday that withdrawal arrangements would not require a simultaneous Syrian pullout from north and east Lebanon, which has been Israel's main demand since it invaded Lebanon.

Over the weekend, the Shreveport, a helicopter carrier, and two other U.S. navy warships arrived off Lebanon. In Washington, a Marine

The Defense Department identified the other two ships as the John L. Hall, a guided missile frigate, and the Semmes, a guided missile destroyer.

On Monday, American diplomats went back to work at the Beirut annex for the first time since the bombing, and the State Department issued a revised casualty estimate placing the number of dead at at least 13 two American employees, six Lebanese employees and five to 15

"A big operation will be carried out against American interests soon to avenge the martyrs of Sohmor," the Beirut newspaper As-Safir quoted an anonymous telephone caller as saying.

With their motor home parked outside and ready to go, the Campbells are just about to take off on another trip which will complete their tour of the continental United States.

Ruby Campbell and her husband, Raymond, love to travel and are leaving the first part of October to tour the New England states, Canada and back down the eastern coastline. Last summer, they toured the U.S. from east to west.

'When we were working, we used to just take weekend trips," Mrs. Campbell said. "But now we take off whenever we want to go."

When the Campbells return they will have visited each of the 48 states. Presently, Mr. Campbell has been to all but six states. They are planning their next trip to Alaska.

"I think my favorite area might be that up around Washington, Oregon and California," Mrs. Campbell said. "I love the mountains, too. Often, we go pick up my son and daughter-inlaw in Dalhart and then go on up and camp in Eagle Nest and Red River."

Mr. Campbell is a retired electrician and the couple moved to Hereford last November from Gardner, Ill., a small town close to Joliet,

"I have two sisters here, Mayma Simpson and Leta Campbell, and my mother was here," Mrs. Campbell explained. "We moved here basically so I could be close to my mother and could help take care of her."

She also has two sons, Don Leverett in Dalhart and Eldon Leverett in Greenville.

The Campbells did not find Texas that different from Illinois.

"The only thing that's different is the winter," Mrs. Campbell noted. "In Illinois when it gets cold, it stays cold and we have ice all winter.

"We had visited here a lot and liked it," she continued, "so there wasn't much that surprised us."

While living in Gardner, Mrs. Campbell was a member of the Senior Citizens and headed the craft department. Since moving to Hereford, she and her husband have attended Temple Baptist Church. They also like playing all kinds of

When not traveling, Mrs. Campbell enjoys many types of crafts with which she has decorated her home.

I mostly do handwork like pillows and nik-naks," she said. "I started making dolls, too, and have made over 200 of the large ones and 200 of the smaller ones.'

She makes small dolls with handmade arms and legs, and also large dolls whose dresses fan out around them as if they were on a blanket.

Mrs. Campbell likes cooking, too, especially canning and freezing. She enjoys making relishes and cakes and pies.

She shared three of her favorite recipes. Two are for relishes and the other is a bread that she says is easy to make.

Ott presents program to club members

Members of La Afflatus Estudio Club met recently in the home of Lola Jewell with Bea Hutson serving as co-hostess.

Following a brief business meeting conducted by President, Lucille Hughes, the program was presented by Pet Ott who spoke on "Women With Influence"

With Influence."

She mentioned that women have influence on young children with whom they have contact whether good or bad. She continued by saying that a child will pattern his life after someone he admires.

Mrs. Ott stressed that mothers are probably the most influential people followed by teachers, group leaders, Sunday school teachers and others. She also mentioned that women are in politics, aviation, organizational groups and are church leaders.

Roll was answered by quotations, quips and news items by Mary Williamson, Della Stagner, Allyne Johnson, Aileen Montgomery, Alberta Higgins, Terease Hale, Emily Suggs, Eva Gililland, and Lydia Hopson.

Louise Kinsey was introduced a a guest.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 2 in the home of Eva Gililland with Miss Stagner serving as co-hostess. Ms. Hutson will present the program on "Trends in Fashion."

One breed of dog never barks. The basenji (buh-SEN-jee) is a small dog with pointy ears and a curled tail. It growls, snarls, whines and sometimes, when it's excited, makes a noise similar to a yodel. This dog also washes itself the same way a cardoes.

Ann Landers

From Hooker to Tramp

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was especially interested in the column about people whose family name is Hooker because it happens to be my name, also.

All through school I was embarrassed by the jokes people made. When I read headlines in the papers such as "Mayor Determined to Run Hookers out of Town" I felt personally violated.

I remember complaining to my mother when I was about 15. She said, "Don't let it bother you, dear. One day you will be married to some nice young man and from that day forward the problem will be behind you."

On my 23rd birthday I married Elmer Tramp.--Somewhere In Arkansas day.) The following letter may help you feel better.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am sorry the Hooker families are having so much trouble because of their name, but I deserve a little sympathy, too.

My name is John Smith. Nobody will believe it. When my wife and I register in a motel we get strange glances. When I present identification people look at me funny. I have been tempted more than once to take my mother's maiden name, which is Polish and difficult to pronounce. At lease it sounds legitimate.—Sign me—Also Victiminzed In Philadelphia

DEAR VIC: Stay with Smith, John. Simplicity has a charm of its own.

Do you feel awkward, self-conscious—lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

The Three Girls of your Life

A Feeling Of Oneness

Life was extremely rough on the early settlers' families. Grandma, grandpa, mom, dad, brothers and sisters all lived together in some very tight quarters.

There was little leisure time with each family member having to carry his or her full load of chores. Yet, family life was comfortable — and prosperous.

At our bank, we strive to generate that same Pioneering spirit of oneness. We want to make your banking experience with us as friendly and pleasant as possible.

When you bank with us, you'll know we've brought back that Pioneering spirit . . . the kind of dedication it takes to get the job done right.

At our bank, we're pioneering new ways of service and security for you and your entire family.

Raiders move to 4-0

Los Angeles rallies for victory

By JOHN NADEL AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Jim Plunkett has been the instigator of many last-gasp victories by the Raiders, both in Oakland and Los Angeles, since he joined the club in 1978. His explanation for such heroics is almost mystical.

"It's Raider tradition," Plunkett said with a smile Monday night after guiding Los Angeles 76 yards to a touchdown in the closing moments of a 33-30 triumph over the San Diego Chargers. "It doesn't matter who's wearing the uniforms."

The Raiders needed 10 plays to negotiate those 76 yards, with the first 74 coming on passes by Plunkett. As the Los Angeles Coliseum crowd of 76,131 went wild, Marcus Allen dived into the end zone from a yard out with 45 seconds remaining.

Local runners win

Not only did the victory give the Raiders a 4-0 record, enabling them to join Miami and San Francisco as the only unbeaten teams in the National Football League, it extended their mark on Monday nights to 21-2-1 since the prime time series began in 1970.

"It's a win, it's Monday night, I'm very pleased with the way things came out, I'm tired," said Los Angeles Coach Tom Flores with a weak smile. "We don't plan to win them in the last quarter, but as long as we can continue to do so, I'll be happy."

It didn't appear the Raiders were going to do so when San Diego linebacker Woodrow Lowe returned a tipped Plunkett pass 32 yards for a touchdown with 10:21 remaining. That gave the Chargers 17 points in a span of 3:21 and a 30-20 lead.

"Those things happen," Plunkett said when asked about the interception. "Fortunately, there were still 10 minutes to go."

After a 44-yard kickoff return by Dokie Williams, the Raiders moved 53 yards in eight plays. Allen scored the third of his four touchdowns with 8:20 left to make it 30-26. It stayed that way when holder Marc Wilson fumbled the snap from center on the conversion attempt.

The Chargers, who dropped to 2-2, held the ball for nearly five minutes, but eventually were forced to punt, giving the Raiders possession at their own 24-yard line with 3:33 left.

The big plays of the final drive were Plunkett passes of 16 and 11 yards to tight end Todd Christensen and 15 yards each to Frank Hawkins and Malcolm Barnwell.

Plunkett finished the game with 24 completions in 33 attempts for 363 yards, clearly his finest performance so far this year.

Annual Couples contest

Dirks-West win tourney

Bill Dirks and Tiffi West shot a two-day best-ball total of 135 to win the championship flight of the annual Couples Golf Tournament Saturday and Sunday at John Pitman Municipal golf Course.

The event was sponsored by the top places Saturday Hereford Women's Golf Association. Also in the Championship Flight, the team of Kevin O'Hara-Renee Chapman tied with Ron and Jan Weishaar for second place. Both teams shot 137.

Buddy and Alma Lamberson won the first flight with a 135. J.A. and Helen McWhorter took second with 137, and John Stagner and Mary Harman were third at 139.

In the second flight, top honors went to Virgil and Thelma Marsh, who had a 141. They beat their nearest competitors by seven shots. Bill Davis and Juanita Sims tied with Lee Estrada and Shirley Reeves at 148, good for second place.

A playoff was necessary to decide the winners in the third flight. Doc and Colleen Weaver tied with John and Marie Robinson at 154 in regulation, but the Weavers won the playoff for first place. Dave and Trisha Workman were third with a 158.

Jerry and Wy Harrigan shot 157 to

Gary Kreigshauser and Teresa Albracht were second at 160 and George Whitten and Revella Skypla

"Nellie and I had a big talk last season," Lanier said of a meeting with Milwaukee Bucks Coach Don Nelson. "I told him I never wanted him to have to come to me and tell me, 'Dobber, you just can't do it anymore.' I think a player loses that perspective.

"You're always thinking your level production and contribution is higher than people around you."

So after 14 seasons as one of the dominant centers in the National Basketball Association, Lanier decided on his own to retire. He made the announcement Monday at

Golfers earn split

Hereford and Plainview High School boys split a dual golf match Thursday, Plainview winning the A-team crown 159-162 and Hereford the B-team title 182-191.

In the A-team match, nine holes, Hereford's Matt Albracht was one shot off low score with a 38. Plainview's Jamey Dixon shot 37 to pace the Bulldog team.

Other scores for Hereford were:

Michale Drake, 40; Scott Folger, 41; Bobby Valdez, 43; and Mark Paetzold, 48.

Albert Valdez of Hereford fired a 41 over nine holes for the low score in the B-team contest. Plainview's Ron Morris had a 45.

Other Hereford golfers and their scores were: Craig Rogers, 46; Steven LaFuente, 47; Heath White, 48; and Johnny Urias, 49.

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Their critics jokingly called them the Flubs, not the Cubs, and claimed a team that insisted on living in the past had no future playing strictly daytime baseball.

But they were wrong, these would be Cub-Busters. The Chicago Cubs, the only team in the major leagues that continues to play all-day baseball at home, suddenly has learned how to beat the daylights out of the rest of the National League

Matthews. "So this is what it's all about. Any time you taste the champagne in September or October, you know you've done the job."

What the Cubs did was a job on the rest of the National League.

The only team that previously had not won an NL East title since divisional play began in 1969, the Cubs in one magical summer week that their fans will remember for years turned a 41/2-game deficit behind the New York Mets into a 41/2-game lead they never lost.

"The magic number is zero, zero, zero!" yelled winning pitcher Rick Sutcliffe, whose 1984 season has been one for the record books.

Sutcliffe, overpowering the Pirates Lee Smith a rally-stopping reliever with a 90 mph-plus fastball, allowed just two hits in raising his NL record to a dazzling 16-1. Coupled with the four victories he recorded with the Cleveland Indians before being dealt to the Cubs in June, he established himself a strong Cy Young Award candidate - and just the fourth pitcher to win 20 games while pitching for two clubs in two leagues in the same season.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with an order from the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice it has filed a tariff to reduce the monthly rates for the Switched Access portion of the company's intraLATA Foreign Exchange (FX) Service offering that was implemented starting June 1, 1984. Simultaneously, the LATA-wide toll-free calling scope, also started June 1, would be discontinued and the calling scope would return to that in effect prior to June 1. The Commission has assigned this matter Docket Number 5891.

The net effect of the tariff will be a monthly decrease in total billing of approximately $700,000 until November 1, 1984. After that time the net effect on the company's revenue is estimated to be negligible.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N. Austin, Texas 78757. # Science fiction buff plans Beaumont museum

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) -There is a fifth dimension beyond that which is known to man...It is the middle ground between light and shadow - between science and superstition. And it lies between the pit of man's fears and the summit of his knowledge. It is an area we call...Beaumont, Texas.

When the doors of The National Hall of Fame of Science Fiction and Fantasy finally swing open sometime in 1986, it's too bad the eloquent Rod Serling won't be there to intone that familiar little speech. But maybe his ashes will.

"I talked with Rod Serling's widow," laughs R.A. "Hap" Henriksen, "she's still got his ashes and maybe we can get them down for a visit sometime."

Henriksen might be kidding, but most likely he's not. People thought the artist-sculptor from Kountze was kidding earlier this year when he suggested a national museum for science fiction and fantasy be built in the beginning of work toward a 1986 opening of such a museum, housing memorabilia and artifacts from films, art and literature. He is now beginning work to raise the $5-to-$10 million necessary to fund the project. The museum's board has already obtained an option to purchase on a building in downtown Beaumont, and has begun receiving articles to be placed in the museum.

Beaumont, a city of 118,000 people. Recently, Henriksen announced

The International Conference on the Fantastic will meet in Beaumont in 1985 to support the museum, and a week earlier Henriksen will announce the museum's first inductees into its Hall of Fame.

All Henriksen wanted at first was merely a place to exhibit his artwork. "But nobody's ever attempted something like this," he says. "Nobody."

So when he pitched it to prospective museum board members mostly influential businessmen and luminaries in the science fiction world - he drew interest like the Millenium Falcon attracts Empire museum's board include author Alan Dean Foster; Hugo Award-winning illustrator Michael Whelan; Jeff Walker, an executive with Warner Brothers studios; Real Wayne Musgrave, a Dallas-based artist; and businessmen from Houston and Beaumont.

That gave Henriksen enough clout to trek to the recent World Science Fiction Convention in Anaheim, Calif., to talk up his brainchild. Bill Neild, the mayor of Beaumont, and other city officials went to Anaheim with Henriksen. And the museum proposal received nothing but enthusiastic support.

"We were totally stunned by the reception we received," says Henriksen. "People are so willing to support this project. We received good response both from fans and from people who might be able to donate exhibits.

"A lot of things were working in favor of placing it in Beaumont," he continues. "People liked the fact that there's relatively good weather 12 months a year. They liked the fact Members of the proposed that there's an Interstate highway and that Beaumont has plenty of hotel rooms. There isn't a major tourist thing here, and let me be blunt about this, downtown Beaumont is virtually empty."

While in Anaheim, the party met with representatives from motion picture studios and private collectors to discuss possible exhibits to be placed in the museum. Henriksen says some commitments were made.

"We're already getting some of the stuff in," says Henriksen. "We have received manuscripts and some movie props. We don't have a place to put it, so we're keeping it locked in a safe."

The museum obtained a collection from the widow of Academy Awardwinning special effects artist Willis O'Brien, who is best known for creating the stop-motion effects for the original "King Kong."

O'Brien, who died in 1962, also created the effects for "The Lost World" and "Son Of Kong." He won the first special effects Oscar ever awarded, for "Mighty Joe Young" in

Among the pieces included in the O'Brien collection are storyboard illustrations from the 1933 "King Kong" film, rare promotional posters from the film and O'Brien's Oscar statuette.

"The storyboards reveal something rather peculiar," says Henriksen. "Apparently the original 'King Kong' movie was to be 'King o months I have been working on this Kong Meets Frankenstein.'"

Indeed, O'Brien's storyboards show the comparison of a giant ape, with a humanoid monster, labeled "Frankenstein Monster." Since the storyboards were prepared before the classic "Frankenstein" was filmed, they would seem to suggest that the character made famous by Boris Karloff would have been an animated miniature if the filmmakers had followed their original plans.

"We're in negotiation for an even more exciting exhibit," says Henriksen, but he would not reveal just what that exhibit might contain.

Henriksen stresses that the proposed museum is a national foundation, and memberships will be sold this year at science fiction conventions around the country. Memberships begin at $25 and reach in excess of

The artist acknowledges his work over the next two years is going to be tough, but once it's finished he wants to fade into the background. "I'm an artist and for the past six museum, so I've got nothing really to sell," says Henriksen. "When the museum opens, though, we're going to hire a real museum director. I'm going to retire."

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) - people who died," says Heine, the Museum director Aalbert Heine says talking about the 18 months he spent as a German prison during World War II gives him nightmares.

Holland when the Germans invaded.

"A lot of colleges were closed by the Germans but ours stayed open. We were obliged, when we were through, to work for the Germans as slave labor," he says.

In 1942 he graduated with degrees in chemistry and geology and was able to evade the Germans for a year

Staying underground was difficult, he says, because all food was rationed and a person needed to stay in a single place to qualify for ration coupons.

Heine was finally arrested by the Germans while buying some black market ration books and was put to work. He was 22.

"We were taken to a cement factory. They did not have any use for a geologist or chemist, so they put me to work in the laboratory. I soon learned they were not just making cement," he says.

Rockets were being made at the factory and Heine's task was to keep a lab journal on the project.

"The day I was taking the notebook home I was arrested by the Gestapo," he says.

He was imprisoned for a few months and then taken to court. His case was moved to the highest court in Berlin, the People's Court. "The lawyer asked for the death penalty," he says. But using the German language he had learned in high school, Heine was able to defend himself. Instead of death he was condemned to "security incarceration." "Prisonship in Berlin was terrible," he says. "There were almost daily bombardments. Sometimes there were so many planes in the air, it changed the temperature." The prison was hit a few times by the bombings. Sometimes jail guards had a difficult time getting around the prison because bombings jammed the doors.

Things went from bad to worse. After a few months in the jail, he was placed on a prison train to begin a journey to a concentration camp.

After one day on the train, the prisoners were moved to a spur at Leipzig to allow military trains to pass. Prisoners were herded to local police headquarters.

"They were not ready to receive hundreds and hundreds of people. They had no... rooms for us to sleep. It stunk, there were no bathrooms. People died," he says.

there several days because the ficials came by and asked all Germans to step out. Heine went along.

"I figured any place they were going could not be any worse than where we were," he says. "When we got to the prison they were taking us to, they lined us up and counted. It didn't work out. There was one too many."

Heine was discovered and chastised, but claimed to have been told to go with the Germans.

He was never sent to the concentration camp since there were not enough guards to escort him to the camp. Instead, Heine was put to work.

"It was the worst part of my life. They had us digging up unexploded bombs. This was in February. All we had to wear were a shirt, a pair of pants and wooden shoes," he says. Work days ran from 5 a.m. to 5 p.m., he says. On one trip to dig up bombs, only 15 of the 45 people who went out came back. The rest died in explosions.

Heine clearly remembers April 10, 1945, the day he was liberated.

For three days he had listened to artillery and grenades. On the morning of the 10th, he was looking out a window at the prison's front gate.

An American soldier carrying a gun marched through. "I thought to myself, 'If I go and stand behind him I'm free." Heine He broke the lock on the door and ran down the corridor to the American soldier. The entire prison resounded with the music of breaking locks, he says.

Heine was so grateful to Gen. George Patton's 3rd Army for releasing him that he stayed for six months to serve as an interpreter with the U.S. Army before returning home to Holland.

When released, the 6-foot-2 Heine weighed 120 pounds.

Heine moved from Holland to New York City in 1951, becoming an instructor at the American Museum of Natural History.

DON'T KISS $8,938 GOODBYE

That's how much you could lose just on resale value if you don't buy a John Deere

Looking for a big discount when you buy a tractor? Don't get stuck with an even bigger discount when you want to trade.

Always consider resale value when you price a field tractor. Because the differences among brands may sometimes be bigger than ANY purchase incentive.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1984 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 5-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 87 percent of its 1979 list price. The

Is this only true of one model? No. Every 40 Series 90- to 180-hp tractor has an average resale price that's higher than its new price five years ago.

Is resale your only John Deere advantage? No. Don't forget the remarkable fuel efficiency of today's 50 Series John Deere Tractors. And don't forget our unmatched reputation for high quality and high reliability. See your John Deere dealer. He'll be happy to explain the big difference between a low-price tractor and a low-cost John Deere: 100-hp 4050, 120-hp 4250, 140-hp 4450, 165-hp 4650 or 190-hp 4850.

NOTE: Average resale prices taken from Spring 1984 Official Guide of The National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association.

> RUNNING FOR HEALTH

NEW YORK (AP) - Women who want to run should start from the ground up, says a national class runner.

Sharon Barbano, a consultant for the L'eggs national running circuit, says women should limber up before working out on the road. She advises 10 to 15 minutes of stretching exercises to help avoid muscle strain or other

Would-be runners should lie on their backs and do single leg raises 10 times on each leg then, with palms flat on the floor, draw the knees to the chest and roll from side to side at the hips at least 10 times.

"A day of hard running should always be followed by a light day," says Ms. Barbano. "Increase your weekly mileage by adding running days gradually. Of course, you should consult with your doctor before engaging in any physical activity.

legislation which created the panel itself must be implemented soon, Texas Education Commissioner Raymon Bynum says.

Bynum said Monday he knows several of the new board members and considers them "very fine people (who) I think will do a good job. I would assume the ones I don't know are of the same caliber."

He noted that some of the appointees have backgrounds on local boards of education, while others have backgrounds in business.

Bynum advised that the new board members will have to be quick studies because the new law's time frame does not allow them much time to get used to the job and the reforms required

"They will have their work cut out for them and have to move in a hurry," he said.

Bynum also said he has been thinking about retirement for some time but has no immediate plans to leave office as the new board is starting work.

"It's no real secret I have the SCOPE panel.

discussed retirement as long ago as two or three years,' Bynum said, adding that he expects his work to be reviewed by the new board members.

"I would assume that like any board, they would evalute my performance and whatever.

"I'm continuously on record that I do not want to work where it's not felt that I'm doing the job. I will do everything in my power to assist this new board to orderly carry out House Bill 72 (the education reform bill) and make an evaluation later," he said.

The new, 15-member board was appointed last week by Gov. Mark White. It replaced the 27-member elected board which came under sharp criticism from White, the Select Committee on Public Education and others.

Bynum has been commissioner of the Texas Education Agency since June 1981. He opposed some of the public education reforms sought by

Blood drive scheduled with fair

Residents are urged to donate blood at the monthly blood drive scheduled from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Hereford Community Center.

During the August blood drive, 59 units of blood was received.

Normally, the blood drives are slated for the fourth Wednesday of each month, but next month's drive has been rescheduled for Oct. 16 to coincide with the health fair at the Community Center. Blood will be received throughout that day.

Over 30 health related agencies will have educational booths set up during the fair which is scheduled by the Deaf Smith family living committee and county extension office. Screenings and tests will include blood pressure, diabetes, TB, breat self-examination, hemacritis (anemia) and hearing.

The fair is free of charge both to the exhibitors and those attending. There is still time for organizations to reserve a place to exhibit. Anyone interested may call Louise Walker at 364-3573.

Clown enhances meeting

Hereford Study Club met recently at the home of Virginia Winget with Mary Stoy, Jean Ballard and Elizabeth Cesar as co-hostesses.

Balloons and clowns decorated the home and the tables in the patio room. Just after the guests arrived, Balew, a real clown dressed in bright clothes and green hair, made animals out of the balloons and gave one to each guest.

Morgan Cain called the meeting to order and recognized the new member, Barbara Allen. Hot dogs, watermelon and ice cream were served during the meeting.

Members present were Allen, Ballard, Willie Braddy, Doris Bryant, Cain, Jeanie Caison, Cesar, Mildred Garrison, Betty Gilbert, Gladys Setliff, Gracie Shaw, Helen Spinks, Bessie Story, Stoy, Winget, Inez Witherspoon, Joan Yarbro and Leta Kaul.

The next meeting will be Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Betty

Public urged to view 'Epidemic'

"Epidemic," a drug education film, will be presented this evening at 8 p.m. in the Wesley United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. All parents, teenagers and school age children are urged to attend. Representatives from the Teen Challenge Center in Amarillo will be there to discuss their program and how referrals may be made.

Randy Villarreal receives honor

Randy Villarreal of 112 Star has been selected for honorary recognition in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Villarreal, a senior student at Hereford High School, was chosen for his achievements in academics, athletics, activities and service.

The custom in England is to drive on the left side of the road. The reason for this may go back to the days when men carried swords as they rode on horseback. By keeping to the left, the rider could keep his sword arm toward the approaching traveler in case he had to defend himself.

PRESENTING THE

COURTYARD ADDS PRIVACY AND INTEREST

HOME DESIGN by Larry Farnsworth

This uniquely styled three bedroom house with its interesting roof line and dramatic front-of-the-house chimney continues the drama inside with altogether equal distinction. A big raised entry sets the tone for an interior which is planned with imagination as well as prac-

Note, first, that this entry itself combines these two components of superior designing in most exemplary fashion--it is not only imaginative and well suited to exciting decor, it is also planned to channel household traffic with practical ease to all areas of the house.

At the front of Model CC 1575, a big pleasant living room enjoys the cozy fireplace served by that massive chimney and has a lovely view too, through the big window overlooking the private garden which graces the main entrance approach.

The adjacent formal dining room provides a pleasant setting for leisurely meals and through open planning shares in a feeling of added spaciousness.

At the back of the house a large family room with a practical, U-shaped kitchen just across its long dining counter, has a pleasant view of the rear yard and access to it as well through its sliding glass doors.

The three bedrooms and two baths which occupy the other portion of the house enjoy remarkable privacy and quiet, sheltered from streetside distractions by the large two car garage and the entrance garden area behind that delightful central wall with its wrought iron gate.

Note the big bedroom closets and the double lavatory in the compartmented main bath. And see, too, the well placed laundry alcove which, with the baths, forms a plumbing core for economy and functional efficiency as well. The short hall offset here has a handy inside doorway to the garage, too.

Model CC 1575 is a distinguished plan that is as interesting as it is livable. An ntional basement plan is available.

Call 1(800)634-3401 if interested in House Plans...or send a post card with name, address and phone number to Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89125.
