Marines shell Iraqi positions

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) - U.S. warplanes knocked out an Iraqi mobile missile launcher and scored possible hits on three others overnight, the military said, and U.S. Marines mounted their first ground action since Monday, firing artillery shells across the border into Kuwait.

Off the coast of Kuwait, a British Royal Navy helicopter blew up an Iraqi patrol boat with a Sea Skua missile, a pool report said. Iraq's naval fleet is all but out of commission, with most of its vessels either sunk or destroyed.

In the skyborne assault, French Jaguar fighter-bombers used laser-guided missiles to hammer an Iraqi artillery position in Kuwait and fortified positions in southern Iraq, the French defense ministry said today. Two Marine A-6E Intruder attack planes bombed suspected artillery sites in southern Kuwait overnight, a pool report said.

In the Marine artillery attack, gunners fired more than 100 rounds at a suspected Iraqi artillery battery in Kuwait, a pool dispatch said. Iraqi troops did not return fire and no U.S. casualties were reported, according to a pool dispatch.

It was the first ground action near the northern Saudi border since Monday, when Marines exchanged small arms, 25mm cannon and artillery fire with Iraqi troops in southern Kuwait.

The latest allied actions on land, sea and sky came as strategists debated when and how to wage a ground war against Iraq.

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney, en route to the gulf for his first wartime visit to the region, for the first time publicly raised the prospect of a limited ground campaign, rather than an all-out assault.

"You add the amphibious element or the ground forces in the fashion that forces him to move out of his prepared positions, and it's moving out of those positions that makes him vulnerable once again to the air force," Cheney told reporters traveling with him.

Since the war's early days, Iraq has used truck-mounted launchers to lob rockets at Israel and Saudi Arabia, and allied warplanes have worked to hunt them down.

U.S. military officials in Saudi Arabia, speaking on condition of anonymity, today reported some successes. They said one mobile missile launcher in southern Iraq, aimed toward Saudi Arabia, was destroyed. Three others, in western Iraq, aimed at Israel, were damaged or destroyed, they said.

The raid in western Iraq came minutes after the Iraqis shot a modified Scud missile at the Saudi capital of Riyadh early today. A Patriot missile interceptor blew it apart, and no injuries were reported.

Lubbock: war may drag on

LUBBOCK (AP) - President Bush's adopted sounding board believes the allied forces are in for a long haul in the Persian Gulf War.

In the latest Pulse of America survey of 400 Lubbock residents, 57 percent of those polled say the war will last anywhere from three to 12 months.

Fifteen percent say the battle will not last three months and 17 percent say the war will carry on for more than a year.

"Who knows how long the fighting will go on," said Dan Young, owner of the Farmer's Corner agriculture supply store. "But I guarantee you one thing. We will be there 'til the end. If it takes three days or three months, we will be there."

Bush's handling of the Gulf War drew rave reviews with Lubbockites. But his popularity dropped considerably when it came to domestic problems.

Eighty-five percent of those polled in this windblown West Texas city say Bush has made the right decisions concerning the Middle East.

"Bush is doing an excellent job in the war effort," Jess Maynard, a 64-year-old World War II veteran, said from his stool at the Pancake House Thursday.

"I give (Iraq) another week or so and they will be ready to say 'uncle.' Then we can go in with ground forces and clean things up."

But 50 percent of those surveyed in this mostly conservative farming community say Bush is doing a fair-to-poor job of handling domestic

U.S. officials also disclosed that, contrary to previous assertions by top officials, Iraq still has some of its fixed Scud launch sites in addition to the mobile launchers. But they said as far as they knew, none of the fixed launchers has fired a missile since the fighting began.

In the abandoned Saudi seaside town of Khafji, which Iraqi troops briefly held last week, Saudi soldiers were still hunting down a few Iraqi stragglers, the Qatar news agency said today. Citing military sources, it said the Saudis had captured 28 Iraqi holdouts and had one building under siege.

Marine Brig. Gen. Richard Neal said Thursday the focus of the allied air war was on "isolating the battlefield" by severing Iraqi lines of communication and hitting supply centers, roads and bridges. But some reports say such attacks are killing more and more civilians.

The Independent, a London newspaper, today quoted an Iraqi hospital director as saying nearly 50 civilians died and more than 100 were hurt when allied bombers attacked a crowded bridge in the Iraqi city of Nasiriyah, 250 miles south of Baghdad. However, the conservative French daily Le Figaro, which also reported the attack, noted that there was heavy military activity in the city.

The United States has pledged to do everything possible to pinpoint military and strategic targets. Asked about the bombing's toll on civilians, command spokesman Neal responded: "War is a dirty business."

Even as tons of allied bombs rained on Iraq, Secretary of State James A. Baker III talked of U.S. help in eventually rebuilding the country. But he made it clear that Saddam is not part of the Bush administration's picture of postwar Iraq.

"There is no suggestion on our part that the rebuilding of Iraq could proceed, if the current leadership of Iraq remained in power, to the same extent and degree that it could otherwise," Baker told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Thursday.

Cheney said before leaving for the gulf that "the war can end tomorrow, if Saddam Hussein will get out of Kuwait."

But Saddam has shown no sign he will capitulate, and the allies are preparing for the worst. French President Francois Mitterrand predicted the allies will mount a land offensive within a few weeks.

"The ground battle promises to take place in coming days, in any case sometime this month," he told French television reporters on Thursday.

The British commander in the gulf, Lt. Gen. Peter de la Billiere, said he believes the land war is "inevitable."

Some believe the gulf war has taken Bush's attention off of home.

affairs like the economy, civil rights and taxes.

"I think his attention to other issues is being diverted by the war," Young said. "I don't know if he is getting too much help from Congress either. I think we ought to just get rid of everybody in Congress and get a new batch of blood in there."

Lubbock-based Southwest Research Associates, which conducted the survey, faxed the poll to the White House Thursday. Southwest Research officials say the poll is one of only a few that the White House reviews.

The poll has a 5 percent margin of error.

"Bush has said he really appreciates the survey and reads it with keen interest," said Jane Anne Stinnett, a partner in Southwest Research. "We can't say how much influence it has, but he does look at it."

Ms. Stinnett said the Pulse of America poll evolved after the president responded to several questions about the state of the union during a March 1989 news conference.

"Now wait just a minute," Bush told reporters then. "I talked to a friend in Lubbock, Texas, and he says everything is just fine."

Saenz will present honor

Sergio Saenz, a fifth grader at Shirley School in Hereford, has been chosen to present the Texas Bluebonnet Award at the upcoming Texas Library Association Conference in Fort Worth.

Saenz will represent Shirley School which was chosen from schools around the state to present the prestigious award to a book and author chosen by librarians and students from throughout the state. Shirley was chosen from an application filed by Rose Mary Shook, media specialist at the school.

Saenz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Saenz, was chosen from among 107 Shirley students who gave a one minute speech on why they would like to attend the conference and a short synopsis of one of 10 books selected for Bluebonnet Award nominees this year. Fifteen finalists (five from each grade) were then selected, and the finalists presented their speech and synopsis to a panel of judges last Monday.

Saenz selected to present state award

Chosen as first runner-up was David Hickman, also a fifth grader. The second runner-up was Amanda Rickman, a sixth grader.

Mrs. Shook was elated that Shirley was selected from the many schools in the state, and was especially proud of Sergio. Sergio has lived in the United States for four years, coming here from Mexico. "When I came from Mexico four years ago, I couldn't speak, write or read English," Sergio said. "My aunt, Alice Cabrera, showed me how to speak and read in English. She gave me some books and I have enjoyed reading since that time."

"I have attended six different schools in three different states, and Shirley School has been my favorite. I especially like our library. We have many books to choose from. Since I have learned English, books have opened up many things for me." Over 3,500 Texas librarians are expected to attend the conference.

Pantex hopes for expansion

WASHINGTON (AP) - Amarillo has a chance to become the national center for nuclear weapons production under the Energy Department's plans to reorganize the atomic weapons complex, officials say.

Rep. Bill Sarpalio, D-Amarillo, said he believes as many as 10,000 jobs and $2.9 billion in new construction could be generated at the Pantex nuclear weapons plant, depending on what the Energy Department decides to do.

But that decision is three years away, and the first new jobs would not be created until sometime in 1995, Sarpalio said Thursday after DOE announced its plans to restructure the weapons complex. Amarillo officials didn't waste any time organizing a drive for possible expansion of Pantex.

Mayor Keith Adams told about 400 residents who attended a rally at the Amarillo Civic Center Thursday night that a task force has been formed to lure jobs and possibly billions in construction dollars to expand Pantex.

"It's to our benefit to get the community behind it and to get a proposal put together and sell the DOE and Congress on expanding Pantex," Adams said.

Amarillo Economic Development Corp. President Richard Brown said a major Pantex expansion would be the "catalyst for economic renaissance on the High Plains" and be as significant to Amarillo's economy as past events like the coming of the railroad, the discovery of oil and gas and the growth of the meat packing industry.

Pantex, the nation's only final assembly plant for nuclear bombs and missile warheads, is one of five sites under consideration to take over the plutonium-processing duties of Rocky Flats, which would be dismantled, according to DOE.

Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, said the relocation would mean 2,000 to 4,000 jobs for the plant that takes weapons-grade plutonium processing from Rocky Flats in Colorado. Other contenders are Hanford Nuclear Reservation in Richland, Wash.; the Idaho National Engineering Lab in Idaho Falls, Idaho; Oak Ridge; and the Savannah River Site in Aiken, S.C.

The Energy Department's plan for Rocky Flats also considers moving its non-nuclear manufacturing functions to Pantex or Oak Ridge,

There is also the possibility of combining the functions of Rocky Flats and Oak Ridge at Pantex, officials said.

Should Pantex win the plutonium processing facilities from Rocky Flats, it would become the largest facility in the nuclear defense chain, Sarpalio's office said.

"The most encouraging part of the study, as far as Pantex is concerned, is the cost analysis," Sarpalio said. "It appears moving these operations to Pantex would be the least expensive option for DOE. That's certainly a plus for us."

Gramm said the DOE would also consider community support, which Adams said should be no problem.

"We'll have total community support," Adams said before the rally.

New school plan filed

AUSTIN (AP) - A plan to reform school funding by shifting some local property tax revenue from rich to poor school districts has been introduced by the Senate Education Committee chairman.

Sen. Carl Parker said Thursday he hasn't given up on legislation proposing a statewide property tax, which would replace local property levies for schools. But he said as yet, he has not been able to muster enough legislative support for that reform idea.

Parker's alternative plan, which is similar to a proposal by the State Board of Education, would require all school districts to impose local property taxes at the same minimum rate.

Revenue over a certain amount would be taken from wealthier school districts and redistributed to poorer districts.

The plan, meant to comply with a Texas Supreme Court order to give poor school districts equitable funding, also would add $2 billion in state aid to schools over the next two years.

"I would not be surprised after all options are examined if some who have castigated the statewide property tax begin looking at it again," said Parker, D-Port Arthur.

"But sometimes, you've got to take a little different approach to educate folks," he said.

Unlike the proposed statewide property tax, Parker said his backup plan could be done either with or without a constitutional amendment. A proposed constitutional amendment requires approval by two-thirds of the Legislature and passage by voters in a statewide election.

The proposed statewide property tax, which would replace local property taxes for schools, has met with opposition from the Texas Association of School Boards, a group of poor school districts and Republicans. With passage of a constitutional amendment, Parker's new plan would redistribute local property taxes around the state. Without it, the revenue would be redistributed within 20 large taxing districts.

The state is facing an April 1 Supreme Court deadline for school funding reform. The $14-billion-a-year finance system declared unconstitutional by the court relies on local property taxes, state aid and some federal money.

Differences in property wealth among school districts result in funding disparities that the court said it will not tolerate.

Parker's plan would require all school districts to levy property taxes at a minimum of 70 cents per $100 property valuation the first year; an increase to $1 would be phased in by 1995.

Ann's plan criticized

LUBBOCK (AP) - Making good on a promise by Gov. Ann Richards to provide health insurance for all Texans would likely send the state's insurance industry into turmoil and raise rates across the board, a leading industry official says.

"Insurance is an economic discipline," said Dr. Rogers Coleman, president of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas Inc. "If you play games with the rules, you are likely to wind up with the same scenario we have with the savings and loans and banks."

Richards promised during her campaign to provide Medicare to all Texans who fall below the federal poverty line at a price of $400 million.

"I am not saying it can't be done," Coleman said at an insurance luncheon Thursday. "But taking everybody in would change the price and drive up everyone's rates."

News Digest

World, National

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia - Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf says the "dumbest thing" the allies could do is "go right into the teeth of the enemy" - that is, kick off the ground war with a simple frontal assault on fortified Iraqi positions.

NEW YORK - Many banks are widening the terms of a 50-year-old law that slashes interest rates on many loans for military reservists on active duty by dropping interest charges altogether and postponing payment deadlines.

HAMPTON, Va. - When it comes to war and keeping planes flying, Air Force technicians are taught to use whatever's handy to make repairs - soda cans, broom handles, even parts borrowed from a general's jeep.

WASHINGTON - The Senate Ethics Committee is politically divided over the handling of four cases among the five senators who interceded with thrift regulators for S&L owner Charles H. Keating Jr., congressional sources say.

LONDON - It was the IRA's prime target and a bold moment: a mortar attack in broad daylight on the prime minister's residence. The enormity of what nearly happened has prompted charges of a police failure and demands for tighter security.

WASHINGTON - There it was on page 15 of President Bush's fiscal 1992 budget, an entry that brought joy to the hearts of many liberal members of Congress: $223 million more to feed poor women and children. And then 381 pages later, a line that caused their hearts to skip a beat: $678 million less to help the poor pay their heating bills.

MADISON, Wis. - The state has not lifted the licenses of five teachers convicted in 1990 of sex offenses against children and didn't even know about one of the convictions until told by a reporter, an Associated Press review found.

CLARKSBURG, W.Va. - The boy is polite, about 3 years old, likes french fries - as long as there's ketchup handy - can count to five and knows the first few letters of the alphabet. But if the toddler, found abandoned in a church, knows his name, he isn't telling police.

Texas

KILLEEN - The Army has dismissed claims of mistreatment by Louisiana National Guard members who went AWOL, saying the troops were subjected to nothing more than tough combat training.

WILMINGTON, N.C. - Marine Cpl. Albert G. Haddad Jr. - "The House" to his high school football teammates in Texas and "Boy Bumps" to his mother, who remembers he always ran into things as a baby - came home Thursday.

SAN ANTONIO - The chin straps used on the helmets of U.S. soldiers in Operation Desert Storm are being manufactured by blind workers who are completing one order for 170,000 chin straps and are anticipating a second $520,000 contract for an additional 210,000 straps.

SAN ANTONIO - Commerce Secretary Robert Moshbacher says Congress must support fast-track negotiating of a Mexico free trade agreement so that lawmakers don't delay its passage with numerous amendments.

WASHINGTON - Amarillo has a chance to become the national center for nuclear weapons production under the Energy Department's plans to reorganize the atomic weapons complex, officials say.

AUSTIN - Top state lawmakers say they need to proceed with the ticklish business of legislative redistricting, despite lawsuits seeking to keep the state from using 1990 census data that may exclude hundreds of thousands of Texans.

Consumer advocate applications slim

AUSTIN (AP) - The state consumer advocates for utility ratepayers and insurance customers have left their jobs, and Gov. Ann Richards has not been overwhelmed with applicants for either post.

The governor's office released applications Thursday under an Open Records request.

For the insurance public counsel's post, there was only one letter from a person expressing interest: Fred Lewis, assistant state attorney general in the finance division.

Lewis previously was a lawyer in private practice in Houston, and he worked as a briefing attorney for former Texas Supreme Court Justice Franklin Spears. Lewis did not immediately return a telephone call from The Associated Press.

Kay Doughty last month vacated the $61,500-a-year job of heading the State Board of Insurance's Office of Consumer Protection. She went to work for House Speaker Gib Lewis as a top adviser on insurance issues.

Richards has taken after the State Board of Insurance with a call for consumer-oriented reform. A spokesman for Richards, Chuck McDonald, suggested that perhaps "people are waiting to see what she does."

There were three letters or resumes from people for the public utility counsel's job. There also was a business card from Marion Taylor, an assistant public utility counsel, but she said she did not apply for the post.

"I would not be interested in the position under the present scheme of utility non-regulation," she said.

C. Kingsbery Ottmers left the $65,000-a-year public utility counsel's job this week, to work as general counsel for the state Senate Economic Development Committee.

Other resumes or letters were from:

- Barbara Day, a former deputy public counsel who represents cities in utility cases.

- David Frederick, who wrote: "Briefly put: the 'not-so-good news' is I am a 42-year-old white, heterosexual male lawyer who lives in Travis County and who served on (former Attorney General Jim) Mattox's environmental advisory team ... Mattox was Richards' Democratic primary foe.

But Frederick said among "better news" is that he has worked representing Texas Rural Legal Aid clients before the Public Utility Commission and co-authored a book on electric power policy.

- Luis Wilnot Jr., associate people's counsel for litigation and consumer services in Washington's equivalent of the public utility counsel's office. A Corpus Christi native, he was recommended by Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi.

John Laakso, assistant public counsel, also said he has applied but his application was not in a folder at the governor's office. Richards' press secretary, Bill Cryer, said there is a time lag in processing applications.

Irish Republican Army foils alert

LONDON (AP) - It was the IRA's prime target and a bold moment: a mortar attack in broad daylight on the prime minister's 10 Downing St. residence during a top-level security alert for Iraqi-inspired terrorists.

Prime Minister John Major was meeting with his Gulf War Cabinet Thursday when the mortar, fired from an abandoned van, exploded in the back garden of his home.

He was unharmed, but the audacity of the strike by the Irish Republican Army and the enormity of what could have happened prompted charges that police were not doing their job. There also were demands for even tighter security.

But such calls are as much a ritual after an IRA attack as are the grim acknowledgments by government leaders and others that perhaps there's nothing left to do - that a determined IRA cell will eventually find a way.

"There's a limit to the sort of defensive measures that can be taken," Home Secretary Kenneth Baker told the House of Commons.

"In a democracy, people wish to be free to go about their business. To disrupt their lives any more than we have to would be a concession to terrorism," he said.

Or as the IRA warned after nearly killing Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher in 1984: "Remember, we only have to be lucky once. You have to be lucky always."

Thursday's attack underscored what Cmdr. George Churchill-Coleman, head of Scotland Yard's anti-terrorist squad, called the "versatility" of the outlawed IRA's guerrilla campaign to end British rule of Northern Ireland.

This attack was made with a homemade, three-tube mortar hidden inside a white van with a hole cut in the roof.

The driver parked the van in a no-parking zone within 100 yards of Downing Street and just off busy Whitehall, a broad thoroughfare at the heart of the British government.

He rode off on the back of an accomplice's motorcycle just before the mortars fired, Churchill-Coleman said.

The mortar shell scorched the rear of the prime minister's 17th century residence, and broke windows there and at two neighboring houses, said Stewart Goodwin, a spokesman for Scotland Yard.

The blast occurred within 50 feet of where Major was meeting with senior government officials including Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd, Defense Secretary Tom King and the chief of the defense staff, Air Marshal Sir David Craig.

Three police officers and a civil servant were treated for minor injuries, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Some critics asked why police didn't ticket the van immediately when it stopped in the middle of a top-level security operation, to protect against terrorist attacks in retaliation for Britain fighting with the allies in the Gulf War.

Opposition Labor Party legislator Merlyn Rees, a former Home Secretary, claimed the van was parked for eight minutes before the explosion.

"Something went wrong," he charged.

Churchill-Coleman said the time was much shorter. Baker argued that eliminating the risk entirely would require banning all traffic from large areas of London.

The last time the IRA struck so close to government was when it tried to kill Mrs. Thatcher, Major's predecessor, by planting a bomb in a hotel during a Conservative Party convention in 1984. Five people were killed and 31 injured, but Mrs. Thatcher was unharmed.

Airline fare war faces turbulence

NEW YORK (AP) - The nation's airlines demonstrated their fickle pack mentality this week, first mulling a fuel surcharge then being swept into a fare war that chopped many prices in half.

The $15-per-ticket surcharge, planned by Northwest to offset higher costs brought on by the Gulf War, was scrapped Thursday. Nobody else was going along with the hike amid the rapidly escalating fare war launched a day earlier by America West Airlines.

The Northwest surcharge would have taken effect today.

"It's been dropped," Northwest spokeswoman Christy Clapp said. "It would be difficult from a competitive standpoint for us to fill seats if our fares were $15 higher."

At the same time, the fare war sparked by a half-price ticket sale at America West Airlines was expanding by the hour. American Airlines said Thursday evening it was bolstering its own half-price sale by applying it beyond territory where it competes with America West.

American spokesman Tim Smith said the cheap fares would be available in "roughly 100 different cities: in general, all of the big East Coast cities, all of the big West Coast cities."

The America West promotion was branded a harmful fire sale by angry competitors. But by late Thursday nearly every major airline had matched it.

America West said it was trying to "jump start" the depressed air travel industry by selling half-price tickets through Saturday to any of its destinations, for travel good through Jan. 5.

Others instituted their own half-price sales, similar to the America West deal. American apparently was the first to extend the boundaries of the bargain fares beyond markets where America West flies.

As travelers got their first crack at the cheap tickets Thursday, America West, based in Phoenix, and some travel agents said their phones were ringing wildly. But analysts and competitors doubted the promotion would do much to help the sick industry.

Soviet contest continues

HOUSTON (AP) - The operators of a sweepstakes offering to put an American aboard the Soviet space station plan to continue the contest even though they have been charged with violating state gambling laws, their attorney says.

David Mayer, president of Space Travel Services Inc., and James Davidson, the firm's senior vice president, were ordered Thursday to appear before a grand jury later this month. They were arrested Wednesday for alleged violations of Texas gambling laws and their offices were searched by investigators from the Harris County district attorney's office.

The two men made a brief appearance at a probable cause hearing Thursday before State District Judge Michael McSpadden.

"We intend to run a sweepstakes that is legal, just like McDonald's does or Publishers' Clearinghouse does and keep law enforcement happy," said Arch McColl, a Space Travel Services attorney.

McColl said a 900 telephone number, which charged callers $2.99 to enter the contest, had been suspended temporarily. The fee is at the heart of the dispute with the district attorney's office.

"You can enter the Publishers' sweepstakes and you don't have to buy books. You just mail it back in," said Russel Turbeville, chief of the district attorney's consumer fraud division. "It's that $2.99 entry fee. Our position is that if anybody can pay a fee, it's a lottery."

The contest rules provide for entries also to be mailed in at no charge, which McColl contends makes the contest legal in Texas.

"You can run a sweepstakes 'No purchase necessary,'" McColl said. "We have an alternative form. He (Turbeville) is viewing it in a different light and I think we're going to be able to persuade him that we're going to be in compliance with the law."

"We think the loophole is specious," Turbeville said. "A lottery like this couldn't be set up in Las Vegas."

The promotion, unveiled in December and billed as "The Ultimate Adventure," has been under investigation since then by the district attorney's office.

Mayer and Davidson were ordered to appear before a county grand jury Dec. 19, but subpoenas were dismissed after they agreed to cooperate with authorities and they never faced jurors' questions.

McSpadden ordered the pair to return to a grand jury within the next two weeks. A Feb. 21 arraignment date was set if the jury returns an indictment. Mayer and Davidson remain free on $2,000 bond each.

If convicted of the third-degree felony, Davidson and Mayer face up to 10 years in prison and fines.

"I don't think this is where a young Texas entrepreneur expected to be," Mayer said outside the courtroom.

The sweepstakes had a rocky start when the Soviet news agency Tass called it a hoax, but Soviet officials later confirmed they had a contract to take someone aboard the space station Mir.

According to the contest, a winner would be selected in a December drawing for a trip aboard a Soviet spacecraft to the space station in 1992 or 1993 plus $500,000.

McColl said the operators so far had received no money from telephone receipts, but would not say how many people had entered. He also hinted it was possible the contest could be moved to another state.

"These are well-meaning young men who had a neat idea and were resourceful and I think they've been invited to sell their contract rights to other people who are more hospitable to their sweepstakes idea," McColl said.

FNB receives award

The First National Bank of Hereford has been awarded a Top Five-Star rating by Bauer Financial Reports (BFR), a Coral Gables, Fla., research firm.

The Five-Star rating is awarded to traditional banks, profitable, well capitalized institutions that serve the local community and acknowledges First National Bank as one of the safest, most credit-worthy banks in the United States.

FNB has received this award each of the seven times the Five-Star list has been published. The rating indicates the bank's tangible capital exceeds 9 percent of tangible assets, that there are no excessive delinquencies or repossessed assets and that the bank is profitable.

BFR based its rating on the analysis of the June 30, 1990 financial data filed with federal regulators. Out of 12,504 banks reporting for the quarter, only 1 out of 4 received BFR's prestigious award.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Four years ago I had to discipline my son. From that came a lengthy discussion about our father-son relationship. When the boy told me that he did not feel I always treated him fairly, I asked him to sit down and write out what he thought were the most important attributes of a good father. To my surprise he was gone less than 10 minutes and returned with this list.

Over the past four years I have looked it over several times and felt that for a lad in the 10th grade, he showed a great deal of insight. I'm sending it to you, Ann, because I now realize that it was the turning point in our relationship. If you think it may have value for others, please feel free to run it in your column. -- An M.D. in Atlanta

DEAR M.D.: For a 10th-grader I would say your son showed extraordinary maturity. Thanks for sending it on. I am pleased to share it with my readers.

Attributes of a Good Father

- 1) Listen to both sides of an argument and respect the opinions of the other person.
- 2) Accept the fact that every child doesn't have to be "normal."
- 3) Don't always judge by actions. Consider the motives behind them.
- 4) Work to increase strengths in the relationship, as well as improve the weaknesses.
- 5) Don't be overly protective.
- 6) Consider the harshness of the punishment as compared with the seriousness of the "crime."
- 7) Recognize that I want to be treated like an adult.
- 8) Emphasize my good points instead of dwelling on the bad.
- 9) Don't push a child into doing things he doesn't want to do simply because the father would like to do them himself.
- 10) Realize not everyone has the same abilities and the same ideas of what's important.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Since you once did a column on broken zippers I thought I'd send this in. It's different, to say the least.

In June of last year, Kansas City's own Tom Watson, pro-golfer, was hosting his annual Celebrity Golf Tournament. He usually has three guest pro-golfers. They hold a press conference and then play 18 holes for charity.

This year's guests were: Arnold Palmer, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Tom Kite. During the game, Tom's zipper broke. Need I tell you he was mighty embarrassed, but he kept his cool like the gentleman that he is. He calmly asked if any of the ladies in the gallery had safety pins. Within minutes, several safety pins were volunteered, Tom closed his fly, and he went on to play the 18 holes with perfect ease, like the pro that he is. -- Kitty from Kansas City

DEAR KITTY: Tom Watson always has been a class act. I thought it was pretty nifty, the way he resigned from the Kansas City Country Club in December when it failed to admit Henry Bloch, who would have been the first Jewish member. Watson's resignation forced the club to rethink its policy. Bloch has reapplied for membership and been accepted into the club.

What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' new booklet, "Gems," is ideal for a nightstand or coffee table. "Gems" is a collection of Ann Landers' most requested poems and essays. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $5.87.)

Bride-elect honored

A bridal shower was held recently for Nancy Turrubiates, Feb. 15 bride-elect of James Edd Andrews. Guests were greeted, from left, by the honoree and her mother, Ester Moreno.

Nancy Turrubiates feted with shower

Nancy Turrubiates was honored with a bridal shower Saturday, Feb. 2, at the King's Manor Methodist Home Garden Room. The honoree and James Edd Andrews plan to exchange wedding vows Feb. 15.

Welcoming guests with Miss Turrubiates were her mother, Ester Moreno, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Joe Edd Andrews.

Marilyn Kahlich registered guests and Tammy Turrubiates, Elma Aguilar, Liz Garcia, Lupita Mungia, Marlene Nielson and Rose Galan served refreshments of fruit salad, coffee, punch, dips and a cake made by Margaret Gamez to guests. The table was covered with a red cloth with the theme of Valentine used in the decorations. Tropical plants were decorated by Florestella Rodriguez.

The shower honoree was presented a microwave oven by hostesses: Sonja Pätzold, Elma Aguilar, Michelle Bella, Liz Garcia, Lori Garcia, Rosa Galan, Marilyn Kahlich, Janie Lozano, Sabrina Moreno, Lupita Mungia, Marlene Nielson, Michelle Ramirez, Florestella Rodriguez, Tammy Turrubiates, Yolanda Turrubiates, and Loretta Urbanczyk.

Betty Crocker's Cooking Tips

Q. My cookies always get too dark on the bottom. What do you recommend for greasing cookie sheets and at what level should the rack be placed? C.D., Durham, NC

A. Use a shiny cookie sheet for even browning. Typically cookie recipes with little fat require that cookie sheets be greased. When you do grease cookie sheets, use solid shortening instead of butter or margarine which can cause sticking. Place one cookie sheet at a time on center oven rack for even heat distribution.

Q. What do our recommend to keep either fresh or frozen green beans, green during cooking? N.P., Frederic, WI

A. Place washed and cut fresh beans in one inch of slated water. Heat to boiling and cook five minutes, uncovered. Cover and boil five to ten minutes longer until beans are crisp-tender. Drain and serve immediately. If beans are to be used cold, blanch them cold water immediately after cooking.

The banana plant is not a tree. It is an herb. The stalk is made of leaves that overlap each other, like a celery stalk.

Cattle beef prices down for consumers

Cattle should continue hitting the market in large numbers next month, keeping beef prices down for consumers through much of February.

Dr. Ernest Davis, livestock marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that most market analysts are expecting "a wall of cattle" to move from feed lots to refrigerators before March 1.

"Cattle feeders probably can't escape this extremely large marketing quarter," he said.

Davis said the expected increase in beef supply can be traced to late 1990 feedlot placements.

"Feedlot operators have been placing unusually lightweight steers on feed, however, and that's made predicting their marketing schedules difficult," Davis explained.

Extremely large fed cattle marketings, for example, had been predicted last April and August, yet this did not occur.

Brisk fed cattle marketings in late December and January, however, have already increased meat supplies at supermarkets and provided savings for consumers on many beef cuts.

"The dip in beef prices that we have seen in recent weeks will continue during much of February," said Dr. Dick Edwards, a food marketing specialist with the Extension Service.

"Beef prices are expected to be off about 10 percent, and grocery specials will put some beef cuts 25 to 30 percent below regular December prices," Edwards said.

"The beef sale pricing window will be closed by the end of February, so consumers may want to buy extra beef for their freezers while the prices are discounted," Edwards added.

Davis noted that first-quarter marketings should make only a ripple in cattle prices, which are expected to remain high through 1991.

Davis expects the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Jan. 1 count of cattle and calves -- to be released early in February -- will indicate the nation's cattle herd continues under 100 million head for the fourth consecutive year.

He said this relatively low supply of cattle in Texas and the rest of the nation helped keep cattle prices high last year, a situation likely to continue this year.

Animal placement time in feedlots, and size and frame of those going on feed, Davis said, determine marketing schedules.

Davis predicted that for calendar 1991, fed cattle prices are likely to average $2 to $3 per hundredweight below 1990 levels. Even though lower feed grain prices are anticipated, lightweight feeder cattle prices will be strong, Davis said, and will continue to squeeze feedlot profit margins.

Davis said slow, deliberate growth is essential to the beef cattle industry's welfare.

He predicted that cattle prices will stay fairly strong until producers get bullish on expansion.

Davis noted, however, that last year's trends in foreign trade could hurt the market, should they continue into 1991.

The USDA reported that during the first 10 months of 1990 cattle imports were 62 percent greater from Mexico and Canada than year earlier levels. At the same time, cattle exports to those countries were 35 percent less.

"Imports will offset a slight drop in domestic production," Davis said, "so beef supplies should remain about the same. But competing meat supplies will be larger."

He reported that beef imports from Australia last year were 39 percent above 1989 levels, adding to an overall 8 percent increase in beef and veal imports.

U.S. beef exports to Japan had dropped 20 percent, contributing to a total three percent decline in export sales.

"Under the Japanese beef quota system, we've been assured we'd get a fair share of that trade," Davis said. "Beginning April 1, however, Japan will be discontinuing its quota system, and we'll be competing with the world's exporters."

He said U.S. beef has a good reputation.

"But Japan already has large supplies of frozen U.S. beef in storage," Davis said. "Also, Japanese wholesalers want chilled rather than frozen beef. So U.S. exports could decrease temporarily."

He said on a retail weight basis, U.S. beef consumption declined from 68.9 pounds per person in 1989 to about 67.8 pounds last year. Chicken consumption, on the other hand, reached an estimated 71.8 pounds per person last year, up from 68.9 pounds in 1989.

Many price-sensitive U.S. consumers have already switched from beef to chicken, Davis said, so the recession should have only minimal effect on demand for beef and cattle prices.

He said one of the biggest boosts cattle prices had last year may have been the unexpectedly small quantities of pork. These supplies are expected to increase in 1991's second quarter, he said, providing more competition for beef.

Hereford splits games

The 1991 eighth grade boys' basketball tournament opened in Hereford Thursday, and the Hereford teams came away with a split.

The Maroon team put four players in double figures in downing Pampa Blue, that school's "B" team, 58-51.

The Maroon led at the half 36-27, but Pampa scored the first 11 points to take the lead. A basket by Hereford's Coy Laing, who led with 14 points, stopped the string with a lay-up. Then, after a basket by Pampa, Hereford converted three good defensive plays into lay-ups—two by Michael Brown—making it 44-40. They never gave up the lead again.

The other three Maroons in double figures were Richard Hicks with 12, Brown with 11 and Ashley Noland with 10.

Hereford's White team had a tougher time. They lost to an exceptionally tall Borger team 76-30.

Raymond Alaniz' 7 points led the Whites.

In other action Thursday, Pampa Red—that school's "A" team and the top seed in the tournament—whipped Valley View 56-31, and Canyon shut down Dumas 36-19.

Today in the winners' bracket, Hereford Maroon meets Canyon at 6:45 p.m. in the junior high's west court and Pampa Red meets Borger at the same time at the east court.

In the consolation bracket, Hereford White will play Valley View at 5:30 in the east court while Pampa Blue and Dumas clash in the west court.

The only other Hereford basketball team in action was the freshman boys' team. They traveled all the way to Pampa for their district tournament, only to get drubbed by the hosting Harvesters 104-44. Michael Carlson was the high scorer for the Herd with 14 points.

Table set for showdown

HOUSTON (AP) - The No. 2 Arkansas Razorbacks can focus on their weekend showdown against No. 1 Nevada-Las Vegas now that they've disposed of the feisty Houston Cougars.

Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson told his players not to look beyond Houston and they responded with a hard-won 81-74 victory Thursday night over the Cougars.

"Houston was our entire preparation this week," said Arkansas guard Todd Day, who had 30 points. "Coach Richardson told us the toughest worry this week was Houston. Now he's glad the game is out of the way."

The Hogs, who have won 20 consecutive games, fell behind 67-63 with 7:22 to play but rallied with a 15-0 run to keep their string intact.

"Vegas won't change our season," Day said. "We still need to win all the conference games to get a good sendoff into the Southeastern Conference."

The Razorbacks (23-1, 10-0) are aiming for their third straight Southwest Conference title and are trying to become the first team to go through the league unbeaten since Houston in 1983.

Day said the pressure would be off the Hogs for Sunday's game.

"Sunday's a big ball game, we're supposed to lose so I suppose we have nothing to lose," Day said. "I feel like all the pressure is on Vegas."

Houston (14-7, 6-4) almost proved too much of a warmup for Sunday's big game.

The Cougars trailed the entire game until going ahead 58-57 for the first time with 12:48 to play on a basket by Alvaro Teheran. That started a run that resulted in Houston's biggest lead of the game at 67-63 lead with 7:22 to go.

That's when Arkansas started its 15-0 charge, leaving Houston scoreless for 6:48. Houston had won 18 straight home games since losing to Arkansas in Hofheinz Pavilion last year.

"They've been through the wars and that's why they're No. 2," Houston forward Derrick Smith said. "We made two key turnovers and that basically turned it around. You might say they eventually caught up with us."

It was an off night for guard Byron Smith, who averages 18.3 for the season, but went scoreless against Arkansas. He missed 11 shots from the field.

"Coach told me to keep shooting even though I was having an off night and had no rhythm," he said. "I had no confidence at all in my shot. I only kept shooting because I was open."

Oliver Miller scored 16 points for Arkansas. Derrick Smith and Teheran each scored 20 points for Houston.

"The table was set for a big, big upset," Richardson said. "Houston played its best game of the year tonight, I thought. I was glad our guys were able to come back. That was quite a game. We proved we could get behind and still come back and win on the road."

Miller said the Razorbacks are anxious to play the Runnin' Rebels in Arkansas.

"Vegas is no more than we are, they are just a team," Miller said. "Our house is a tough place to play and we have great players too. The question is can they stay with us."

Meanwhile, UNLV tuned up with a 113-64 pasting of Fresno State, which left quite an impression on Fresno's coach, Gary Colson.

"This is undoubtedly the best ballclub ever put together on the college level," Colson said. "There's not a college team in America that can beat them on a neutral floor."

And while Arkansas feels confident about home cooking, UNLV isn't afraid to come to the table at Barnhill Arena.

"Our guys are used to playing in front of crazy, hostile crowds," UNLV coach Jerry Tarkanian said.

No. 4 Indiana 105, Northwestern 74

Calbert Cheaney scored 21 points as the Hoosiers celebrated coach Bob Knight's election into the basketball Hall of Fame.

Cheaney scored 14 points in the second half while Eric Anderson scored all of his 16 in the first half.

Southern Cal 87, No. 5 Arizona 83

Harold Miner scored a season-high 36 points and Southern Cal beat fifth-ranked Arizona for the first time in their last 12 meetings.

The Wildcats got 22 points from Chris Mills.

No. 6 Duke 86, No. 11 Virginia 74

Christian Laettner scored 16 of his 22 points in the second half and the Blue Devils rode their pressure defense to victory. Duke forced 13 turnovers in the first half.

No. 9 N. Carolina 92, N. Carolina St. 70

Rick Fox scored 16 points as the Tar Heels wore down the Wolfpack 24 hours after the Atlantic Coast Conference teams met with a different result.

North Carolina used 14 players in losing 97-91 in a 3-point shooting bonanza Wednesday night, while N.C. State used only six.

Rodney Monroe had 20 points before fouling out with 5:09 left after scoring 37 Wednesday night. Tom Gugliotta went from 28 points to seven.

No. 12 Southern Miss. 91, Virginia Tech 79

Daron Jenkins scored a career-high 26 points. The Golden Eagles never trailed but needed a big second half from Jenkins - who had 11 points in an early run - and 15 from Darrin Chancellor.

No. 14 UCLA 64, Arizona St. 44 Tracy Murray scored 17 points. Murray also converted two three-point plays in the final 10:18.

The Sun Devils, whose leading scorer was Jamal Faulkner with 11 points, kept the score down by playing a deliberate offense against UCLA's zone.

No. 17 Utah 80, Hawaii 60

Center Paul Afeaki scored 10 of his 14 points for the Utes in the second half. Josh Grant led the Utes with 15 points.

Bulls shake Detroit hex

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Bulls have cleared another hurdle in their three-year chase of the Detroit Pistons for Eastern Conference supremacy.

The Bulls, who lost the Eastern Conference finals to Detroit the last two seasons, won their first regular-season game in seven tries at the Palace of Auburn Hills when they beat the Pistons 95-93 Thursday night.

"The guys are elated to win," Chicago coach Phil Jackson said. "I think they feel they've been snakebitten before. The win allows them to get that monkey off their back and now they can feel positive before the playoffs come."

Michael Jordan scored Chicago's final 10 points and finished with 30.

"We were right within striking distance, and that's what leaders are supposed to do, step up and do all the necessary things to lead their team," Jordan said. "We did all the right things."

"It was a competitive basketball game, but in your own building you should be able to come away with a win in a game like this," Pistons coach Chuck Daly said after his team fell to 21-3 at home.

Elsewhere, it was Atlanta 127, Charlotte 114; Houston 96, Cleveland 92; Boston 117, New York 101; Orlando 108, Minnesota 103; Washington 124, New Jersey 117; Dallas 102, Golden State 101; and San Antonio 118, Indiana 108.

The Bulls, 1-6 in the playoffs at the Palace, now are 32-14, their best record ever after 46 games. They held the Pistons to 41 percent shooting.

Detroit, 6-2 since losing Isiah Thomas with a wrist injury, got 25 points from Bill Laimbeer and 19 from Mark Aguirre.

Rockets 96, Cavaliers 92 David Wood's go-ahead 3-pointer with 19.7 seconds left and Buck Johnson's free throws with 1.1 seconds to go spoiled the return of Cleveland's John Williams.

Williams, whose $5 million salary and bonus this year makes him the league's highest-paid player, returned from a sprained left foot sustained

Nov. 16. He scored just four points for the Cavaliers, who got 23 from Larry Nance.

Johnson scored 22 points.

Spurs 118, Pacers 108 David Robinson had 35 points and 15 rebounds, and Sean Elliott added a career-high 30 points for San Antonio.

The Spurs led 96-90 with 8:11 to play, then used a 16-6 surge in the next five minutes to build a 112-96 advantage.

Mavericks 102, Warriors 101

Dallas, led by Derek Harper's 30 points, won for the fourth time in five games after losing seven of their previous eight.

Rolando Blackman hit two free throws with 8.6 seconds remaining for the Mavericks.

Southwest Outdoors

with Mel Phillips

The latest trend in fishing lures is tiny versions of the proven fish-catching lures. As you already know, I believe that a Rattle Trap by Bill Lewis Lures is one of the most effective fish-catching lures that has ever been invented.

The standard size is the 1/2 ounce version. My fishing tournament victories have been few and far between but the two most important victories were due to my trusty "trap." Using the standard size lure, I have won my bass club classic, and then last year at Lake Spence, I placed second in a field of 197 anglers in an open West Texas Tournament.

Any color Rattle Trap will work—as long as it is chrome-blue back. (Other and better fishermen that this writer buy several other colors including a crawdad, Smokey-Joe, chartreuse-black back and gold.)

Now comes a really neat idea—a 1/8 ounce model "trap." It is for those really tough days when bass, sandbass and hybrids are feeding only on small baitfish.

Guido Hibdon of B.A.S.S. fame suggests increasing the hooks one size and making sure that they are razor sharp. The pros will have one rod rigged with a trap at every tournament. It is their "search" lure, while a worm or jig is their "load-the-boat" lure.

After talking to more than 30 professional anglers, it is clear that loud rattling lures can and do put lots of fish in the boat. Don't tell your fishing buddy about the new 1/8 ounce version; show him at the lake. Let me know how you like these little baits.

Outdoor World '91 is going to be the best outdoors show ever held indoors in our part of Texas. Mark your calendars for March 1, 2 and 3 at the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo. In addition to ol' Jimmy Houston, you can see Ted Miller, Dreabon Joiner, John Hope, Dale Waggy and Butch Colantonio.

The trout fishermen will have a special casting tank. Ti Piper, author of "Fishing New Mexico" and an expert fly fisherman, will conduct several seminars on fly tying, fly casting and "secret spots" for some great trout fishing in New Mexico and Colorado.

Outdoor World '91 will have a special world for the kids, where they can play and learn the basics of fishing. Kids under six will be admitted free and entertained while you big kids can look at the attractions for adults: boats, campers, RV's, fishing seminars, duck-calling contests and even an indoor archery range. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is bringing a taxidermy display of the top 15 Texas trophy bass. It's awesome. Bring the entire family.

Harrah remembers draft in early 70s

ABILENE, Texas (AP) - The possibility of San Antonio Spurs center David Robinson being called up for active duty during Operation Desert Storm has attracted a great deal of attention recently.

As a graduate of the Naval Academy who is currently in the Naval Reserve, Robinson, of course, is not an average National Basketball Association player. Nor, Navy authorities say, is he likely to be called up for the Persian Gulf crisis.

A high-paid superstar in the military reserve is almost unheard of today, but that certainly wasn't the case 20 years ago.

Toby Harrah, in Abilene recently for a stop on the Texas Rangers' Winter Caravan, remembered the days early in his professional baseball career when it was very common for an athlete to serve in the National Guard or reserves.

"You were either in college, married and had children, or in the guard or reserves, or you got drafted. These guys don't know anything about the draft," said Harrah, pointing to Rangers pitchers John Barfield and Mike Jeffcoat who were on the tour with him. "A lot of guys I played ball with were in the reserves. Vietnam was going on."

"You had to go to meetings one weekend a month and then a two-week summer camp. You were obligated for six years."

Harrah, who spent 16 years in the major leagues - mostly with the Washington Senators, Texas Rangers and Cleveland Indians - first joined the Ohio National Guard in 1967 when he signed a professional baseball contract.

"I went to Ohio Northern on a football scholarship," he said. "But in 1967 (prior to his freshman season), I signed with the Senators. So I lost my scholarship."

That also meant it was time to join the National Guard to avoid the draft. And just because he was a professional baseball player didn't mean he got a break from summer camp, either.

"I remember one year when I was with the Senators, I was hitting .370 when I had to report to summer camp," Harrah said. "When I came back, Tim Cullen was playing in my place. He was playing well, and I couldn't get back in the lineup."

The two-week break in the middle of the season didn't always mean bad things, however.

"I remember one year when I was in the minors," he continued. "I had the opportunity to play softball during summer camp. My first game back I went 5-for-5. Fast-pitch softball from 40 feet got me ready."

Harrah, who was in the National Guard from 1967-72, was assigned to a howitzer unit in Marion, Ohio. Only once in those six years was he called to active duty.

"That was during the riots at Kent State (which occurred during the Cambodian invasion)," he said. "I was sent to Ohio State. I was there for a few days, and then went back to Burlington in Class A ball."

Harrah, who is beginning his third season as the Rangers' first-base coach, loves his job.

"I've got the best seat in the house," he said, with a smile. "And I get in free."

Harrah, selected to the American League All-Stars with the Rangers in 1972, '75 and '76, is one of six Rangers to hit 20 or more homers in as many as three different seasons (1974, '75 and '77). He hit a career-high 27 homers in 1977 and carried a .264 career batting average.

Greenwell rich Red Sox

NEW YORK (AP) - Mike Greenwell is the highest paid player on the Boston Red Sox - at least this week.

The left fielder got the biggest contract in the team's history when he agreed Thursday to a four-year deal worth approximately $12 million.

Greenwell, 27, had threatened to become a free agent after the 1992 season if he didn't get a multiyear deal this winter. He made $1,225,000 in 1990.

"Mike is an integral part of this team," Boston general manager Lou

Gorman said. "Neither side wanted to go to arbitration, so we are pleased to get this done. With a four-year deal, we have bought out two years of possible free agency."

Greenwell batted .297 last season with 14 homers and 73 RBIs. He is batting .313 in four big league seasons with 73 homers and 388 RBIs.

His stay at the top of Boston's payroll is likely to be short. Two-time Cy Young Award winner Roger Clemens is negotiating a contract extension that will be worth well over $4 million a season and possibly a record-breaking $5 million a year.

The Red Sox also avoided an arbitration hearing with outfielder Tom Brunansky, agreeing late Wednesday night to a two-year contract worth $5.55 million.

Brunansky gets a $400,000 signing bonus, $2.3 million this season and $2.5 million in 1992. Boston has an option for 1993 at $3.2 million with a $400,000 buyout.

Seven other players in arbitration agreed to one-year deals, reducing the number remaining in arbitration to 62.

Cincinnati shortstop Barry Larkin more than doubled his salary to $2.1 million. Larkin, who made $835,000 in 1990, batted .301 in 1990 with seven homers and 67 RBIs.

Five right-hander pitchers also settled. Kirk McCaskill and California agreed to $2.1 million, a raise of $1,132,500. Mike Henneman, who made $335,000 last season, tripled his salary when Detroit agreed to $1.1 million, while Chris Bosio and Milwaukee agreed to $875,000, a $165,000 raise. Bill Landrum and Pittsburgh settled for $820,000, a raise of $517,500.

Straight A's for Baylor, A&M in recruiting race

An AP Sports Analysis
By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Baylor and Texas A&M were in a photo finish for the Southwest Conference football recruiting championship on national signing day Wednesday, but the defending champion Texas Longhorns were less than an eyelash behind.

All three cashed in the bluechips of Texas schoolboy talent and could boast of recruiting classes that ranked high nationally.

Baylor did it with across-the-board recruiting that included the top-rated running back in Texas, Louis Fite of Waco, called by coach Grant Teaff "the most gifted player I've seen come out of Texas high school football in 30 years."

The Aggies had their crown jewel in Rodney Thomas, the amazing running back of the Groveton Indians.

Texas countered with the talented James Thornton, the tremendous touchdown maker from McKinney.

It was an dazzling haul by the three SWC schools. While the other schools landed quality players of note, none had the depth of the Bears, Aggies and the Longhorns.

Here's a gradebook and how each school performed:

BAYLOR-Straight A card for Teaff. The Bears snagged some quality linebackers in Shelton Lewis, Chris Dull, Donnie Laurence, and LaCurtis Jones. Their defensive backs are the best in Kendrick Bell, Philip Kent and Mark Anderson. Quarterback Tony Moore of Katy Taylor is one of the best from Texas. Charles Horton, Chad Boyd, and Byron Thompson are tremendous defensive linemen. It could be the best defensive class Teaff ever signed and topped off with Fite, it could rank as the best ever for the Bears' coach IF Fite passed his SAT on his most recent try.

TEXAS A&M-Straight A's for coach R.C. Slocum in his most dynamic recruiting class at Aggieland. Besides Thomas, the Aggies got Wilbert Biggens of Aldine MacArthur, one of the top five running backs in the state and hit the quarterback jackpot by signing Matt Miller of San Diego (Ca.) Mount Carmel and Tommy Preston of A&M Consolidated. The Aggies got the best defensive lineman in the state in Sam Adams of Cypress Creek and the best center in Darius Smith. They also got the best placekicker in Keith Waguespack of Port Neches-Groves and punter Sean Terry of Gunter.

TEXAS-A minus for David McWilliams, who loaded up on offensive linemen for Thornton to run behind. Missing from the equation is a bigtime quarterback. Norm Watkins of Irving and Duane Vacek of Irving MacArthur are crackerjack linebackers and Kenny Harrison of Port Arthur Jefferson will help at wide receiver. Several recruits complained of Texas "arrogance" on their recruiting rounds and tight end Scott Waterbury of Arlington Lamar said he went to Oklahoma State because of it.

RICE-C plus for coach Fred Goldsmith, who went for speed. He got some in wide receiver Byron Coston, running back Yoncy Edmonds, and quarterback Bert Emanuel, who have all been timed in 4.4 seconds in the 40. Goldsmith signed recruits, from Florida, California, and Oklahoma in a national hunt for talent. Emanuel and tight endobby Grant transferred to Rice from UCLA. "We got fast receivers and speed in the secondary," Goldsmith said.

ARKANSAS-C for the Hogs whose best-known Texas player is Brian Brown of Grand Prairie, rated the second best receiver in Texas behind Mike Miller of Willowridge who went to Notre Dame. Brown has to pass his SAT as do a number of players in Arkansas signed by the Hogs, who will be playing their last year in SWC competition.

HOUSTON for Houston coach John Jenkins, who landed a talented quarterback in Lawrence McPherson of Sugar Land. John Jenkins got his share of junior college transfers, who will be mysteries until they perform in the fall for the Cougars.

TEXAS TECH-C for Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes, who signed one of the state's best running back in Jamie Gibbs of Ballinger. Tech also got an excellent linebacker in Terry Bell of Waco High. The Red Raiders welcomed several transfers from the West Texas State program and a number of junior college transfers in a difficult to analyze class.

TCU-D for TCU coach Jim Wacker. Not a lot to brag about in Horned Frog class, which has its share of junior college transfers. Wide receiver Angel Alvarez of Mission is a good one. The Horned Frogs, who were second on a number of highly rated players, hoped to hit it big on their class of sleepers.

SMU-D for a high coach Tom Rossley, who got a newly regarded offensive lineman in Shawn Couch of Deer Park. The Mustangs didn't get another player rated in the top 100 in the state.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A Valentine party will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 13, in the church fellowship hall. The event will be catered.

A breakfast for the men with Minister Alton Tomlin will be held at 8 a.m. Saturday. A women's breakfast is planned for 8 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 16.

The Crown Bible Study will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Jim Donaldsons' home. If you are interested in joining the study on personal financial management, contact Jim Donaldson so you can receive the materials necessary to prepare for the group.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

In recognition of the Boy and Girl Scouts of America, members of Troop 52 and 281 will participate in the Sunday morning service. Several of the troop members will serve as ushers and greeters. Bear Denton will give the children's sermon and Dalene Burns will serve as lay liturgist.

Members of the Boy Scout troop will also be serving breakfast from 7-9:30 a.m. Sunday in the fellowship hall. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of needed camping equipment and to help the boys pay for their summer camp expenses.

Ski registrations are due Sunday. Completed forms and a deposit is required in order to be registered. Forms are available from Jo Ochs and are located outside the youth Sunday school classrooms. The youth will have UMYF at their usual time Sunday evening.

The United Methodist Men's Organization invites the single ladies of the church to a Feb. 14 Valentine's Dinner to be served at 4:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall. Ladies interested in attending should contact the church office. Transportation will be furnished for those who request it.

Dr. Steve McElroy has announced his five-week Bible study to begin at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 20, in Ward Parlor. The theme of the study, which will conclude March 20, will be "The Will of God."

Officers of UMW were recently installed. They are Margaret Bell, president; Morgan Cain, vice president; Betty Jo Carlson, secretary; Birdene Huff, treasurer; Frances Parker, Christian personhood; Helen Langley, supportive community; Eleanor Hudspeth, Christian global concerns; Virginia Garner, Christian social involvement; Roberta Caviness, program resources; Jeanne Dowell, membership chairman; Sue Coleman, publicity and public relations; Wilma Goetsch, cheer; and Marjorie Thomas, local church activities.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Beginning at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service, Dr. David A. Slamp will be presenting the first part of a five-part sermon series entitled "Dealing With the Five Deadly D's". "Coping With Delays" is the subject of this week's message titled, "How to Pass Life's Greatest Tests." The public is invited to attend.

Other topics to be covered in the next four weeks of the series include "Faith Is An ACTION Word!", "The Deadly Disease of Disobedience", "Why Christians Get Defeated" and "What To Do When You're Down."

The series is being made available on audio tape. The tapes may be purchased when the series is completed next month.

Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and the Sunday evening worship service starts at 6. The Wednesday night Bible study is at 7.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The service at St. Thomas Church on Sunday will be the celebration of the Holy Communion. Included within the celebration will be the institution of eight lay eucharistic ministers who, after extensive training, will be licensed by the Bishop to handle the chalice at the communion. Those to be licensed are Donna Bogan, Earl Brookhart, Jerre Clark, Buth Davis, Amy Gililand, John Gililand, Claudia McBrayer, and Dr. Duffy McBrayer. Father Charles Threewit will preach on the gospel for the day, Mark's story, "The Transfiguration of Our Lord."

At 7 p.m. Wednesday and continuing until the end of the war in the Persian Gulf, there will be the celebration of Votive Mass for peace and for members of the armed forces. Prayer will be offered for each of the members of Operation Desert Storm. If names need to be added to the list or corrections made, please call the parish office at 364-0146.

Ash Wednesday services are planned at 7 a.m., 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. The service will be the special Ash Wednesday liturgy with the imposition of ashes and the reminder that people "are but dust, and to dust we shall return", and the celebration of the Holy Communion. St. Thomas' Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper will be held from 5-7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 12, in the parish hall. Tickets for the all-you-can-eat supper will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for children ages seven through 12. Those six and under will be admitted free of charge.

Visitors are invited to participate to any degree they desire.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday school for all ages begins at 10 a.m. The Adult Bible class will review a brief study of the history of the Middle East with emphasis on the clash between Judaism, Islam and Christianity.

The theme of the Sunday morning worship service at 11 will be "This Is My Beloved Son, Listen to Him." The text is Mark 9:2-9.

The mid-week Lenten Vespers will be held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The theme for this year is "At Lent, Lift High the Cross."

The sermon for this Wednesday evening is "Jesus' Cross Is My Obedience Before God." The text is taken from Luke 22:41-46 and Philippians 2:8.

SAN PABLO UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Minster Hilda Cavazos invites the public to attend all services at the Hispanic Methodist Church.

Sunday school for all ages begins at 10 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are at 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. The Wednesday evening prayer service is 7 p.m.

COMMUNITY CHURCH

The public is invited to attend the Sunday worship services at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

Sunday school for kindergarten age children through high school is held from 9:15-10 a.m. at the congregation's temporary location at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center, 426 Ranger Drive.

The Sunday worship service, led by Doug Maging, begins at 10 a.m. The public is invited to attend.

The congregation provides a taxi service for anyone needing transportation for any reason. For additional information call 364-0359 or 364-3869.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

An all-church Valentine Banquet is planned at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 14, in the fellowship hall. The cost is $3.50 for adults and $2 for children.

The theme of Home Missions Month, being observed throughout February, is "People With A Mission." The adult book, "What Is A Missionary", will be presented at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 20, in the fellowship hall. A luncheon will follow.

The high-school ski retreat is scheduled Feb. 21-24. The cost will be $110. The cost for the youth who were on the Warriors Life Group will be $55. All money is due by Sunday, Feb. 10.

Those interested in the church visitation program are asked to meet at 7:15 p.m. each Monday in the office area.

Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:45 a.m. and the Sunday morning worship service starts at 11. The public is invited.

AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m. and Sunday morning worship service at 11.

Part II of the video series on the New Age Movement, entitled "New Age Onslaught Against the Saints", will begin at 7 p.m. A nursery will be provided.

DAWN BAPTIST CHURCH

What can you do when the situation seems hopeless? During the 11 a.m. service Pastor Jim Hickman will offer an answer to that question in the sermon entitled "Praying Up A Storm".

"The Early Church: Facing Problems and Finding Solutions" is the topic for the 7 p.m. Sunday Bible study on the book of Acts.

For further information about the church and its ministry call 258-7330.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. James W. Cory's sermon for the regular 10:30 Sunday morning worship service is entitled "The Best Kept Secret." The scripture lesson is Mark 1:40-45, 9:2-10a.

Sunday School for all ages begins at 9 a.m. Fellowship before the worship service is from 10:10-10:30 a.m. Junior and senior high fellowship will meet at the church Sunday at 6 p.m. The confirmation class will meet Sunday from 4:30-6:30 p.m.

Youth groups are sponsoring an adult dance, "Sock Hop", on Saturday, Feb. 9, from 9 until midnight at the church. Music will be provided by Doug Schroeter. Sounds from the 50s to the 90s will be presented. The public is invited and all proceeds will go to help youth activities. Game tables will be set up for those who do not want to dance. Dress from your favorite era. The cost is $3 per person.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	15	3.00
2 days per word	26	5.20
3 days per word	37	7.40
4 days per word	48	9.60
5 days per word	59	11.80

If you run ads in five consecutive issues with NO changes, you get the same ad in the Reach 4 More free. The regular charge for that ad would be $4.00.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: My husband is 49 years old and has high blood pressure. He is on medication for this — Hytrin and Hydro-DIURIL. He still uses some salt and consumes 12 to 18 ounces of alcohol a day and as much as 32 ounces on weekends. His doctor does not know this. Is his medication doing him any good at all by consuming the salt and alcohol?

DEAR READER: Yes, his medicine is helpful. The Hydro-DIURIL does wash out sodium and helps to neutralize the effects of his using some salt. However, he would be much better off to avoid the salt. Hydro-DIURIL is a diuretic that washes out potassium as well as sodium and he needs the potassium. If he didn't use salt, he would need less medicine.

The alcohol is an even more serious problem. Doctors often see patients who have medical problems caused by alcohol and the patient conceals his habit. A shocking number of cases of high blood pressure are directly related to using alcohol. Estimates are that from 10 to 30 percent of all cases of high blood pressure are caused by alcohol.

Incidentally, alcohol use also increases the risk of a hemorrhagic stroke. The increased tendency to hemorrhage along with high blood pressure is a bad combination. Your husband needs to know that he could cause himself to be severely disabled for the rest of his life, if such a complication should occur. That could seriously affect the quality of his life thereafter. He could well survive and be paralyzed and unable to speak after such an event.

Originally it was believed that you had to consume quite a bit of alcohol to cause high blood pressure. More recent studies show that in some people even two cocktails a day may be a significant factor. Anyone who has high blood pressure high enough to require medication should avoid alcohol.

Your husband needs to read about blood pressure and its treatment. Have him read Special Report 72, Controlling Your Blood Pressure. I'm sending you a free copy. Others who want this report can send $2 with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/72, P.O. Box 787, Gibbstown, NJ 08027-9908. The good news for him is that if he stops using alcohol, it is likely that his blood pressure will drop. Often this form of high blood pressure is reversible if a person will stop using alcohol.

DEAR DR. LAMB: What is your opinion on an article in Time magazine concerning the use of electric blankets? Is there a real danger of contracting cancer or brain disorders through prolonged use? My husband and I have been using one since 1973. He was told his platelet count was down so much that it was a concern. My husband is 76 and has polymyalgia rheumatica and takes prednisone.

DEAR READER: Despite some scare stories in national publications, the answer to cancer and electricity is not at hand. The original scare stories were about the danger of electric power lines. But it was then learned that the exposure to electromagnetic fields was actually greater in the house, from household appliances, and yes, the electric blanket.

Electromagnetic fields do affect cell function, but we don't know to what extent. There is no reliable evidence that exposure to electromagnetic fields could cause cancer. If there is an increased risk, I would judge it to be small, making it difficult to establish. If you are concerned, just use your electric blanket to warm the bed initially. Warm socks and warm sleeping garments such as thermal underwear will keep you just as warm.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I read that you said protein powders were no good. I lift weights about two or three days weekly and feel that my muscles are starved for something. I read in my body building magazine that when you lift weights, and are very active, your body needs twice the normal amount of protein. I know that eggs, meat and fish are the main sources of protein. What if you can't always eat eggs, meat and fish? You'd be consuming less calories and considerably less fat by drinking a protein shake.

You should not have said that they are not good for you. Please let me know if these muscle building shakes are really as good for you as they are made out to be as a supplement. My muscles are getting smaller, not larger in my arms.

DEAR READER: I should have said, and did, that you didn't need to buy expensive protein supplements to support your protein requirements to build muscles and strength.

A pound of lean meat, poultry or fish will supply 100 grams of protein. And a pound of newly developed muscle tissue will also contain 100 grams of protein. A quart of milk will contain nearly 40 grams of good quality protein. If it is skim milk with nonfat solids added, you will have a limited consumption of fat in your diet. Since a growing male needs only 56 grams of protein a day, that leaves plenty of additional protein to build a pound of muscle a week, if you consume only 100 grams of protein in your diet from good healthy foods — rather than protein powders or shakes.

The fact that your arm muscles are getting smaller is not much of a recommendation for protein powders.

Perhaps you have missed the point that you also need to consume enough calories — not just protein — so that you will not need to use the protein in your diet for energy.

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

- All 172 pages in full color
- Each page measures a large 15 x 11 inches
- Presents the entire state in stunning detail
- Appendices and specialty maps of many different features

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

What they're saying about "The Roads of Texas"

"When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS... you'll wonder how you ever travelled the state without it."
Texas Highways Magazine October, 1988

"For details of Texas terrain, oil company maps and the State's Official Highway Map can't match THE ROADS OF TEXAS."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

SAMSON, THE SON OF MANOAH, OF THE TRIBE OF DAN, IS ONE OF THE JUDGES OF ISRAEL DURING THE PERIOD OF DOMINATION BY THE PHILISTINES, HOLDING THIS OFFICE FOR TWENTY YEARS (JUDGES 13:5). HIS AUTHORITY SEEMS TO HAVE EXTENDED ONLY OVER HIS OWN TRIBE AND HIS ACTION AS A DELIVERER OF ISRAEL FROM THE PHILISTINE BONDAGE DOES NOT GO BEYOND A FEW DEGLUTORY ATTACKS UPON THE PHILISTINES.

DEDICATED TO THE SERVICE OF GOD AS A NAZARITE BY HIS MOTHER FROM TIME OF BIRTH, SAMSON'S HISTORY SHOWS HIM A FUN-LOVING FELLOW WHOSE LIFE STYLE WAS BOISTEROUS INDULGENCES AMONG THE PHILISTINES, THEMSELVES HIS MARRIAGE TO A PHILISTINE WOMAN AND LOVE FOR RIDDLES AND PRACTICAL JOES ONLY LED TO DISASTER FOR HIS WIFE AND HER FAMILY. HIS GREAT STRENGTH SEEMS TO BE THE ONLY THING THAT SAVED HIM ON THE NUMEROUS OCCASIONS WHEN HIS PENCHANT FOR DANGEROUS LIVING GOT HIM INTO TROUBLE. SUCH A MANNER OF LIVING COULD ONLY END DISASTEROUSLY, AS IT DID FOR SAMSON, WHEN, BLINDED AND USED AS A SLAVE BY HIS ENEMIES, HE EXERTED HIS GREAT STRENGTH IN AN ACT OF PERSONAL REVENGE UPON HIS TORMENTORS BY CAUSING THE COLLAPSE OF A TEMPLE IN WHICH THE PHILISTINES WERE FEASTING TO THEIR GOD, DAGON. IT IS NOTED THAT WITH SAMSON'S DEATH THREE THOUSAND PHILISTINES WERE ALSO DESTROYED—BUT ONE WONDERS HOW MUCH MORE SAMSON MIGHT HAVE ACHIEVED IN HIS LIFE HAD HE CONFINED HIS AGILE THINKING AND ENORMOUS STRENGTH TO THE DEDICATED LIFE OF A TRUE NAZARITE INSTEAD OF... "A-WHORING AFTER THE DAUGHTERS OF THE PHILISTINES".
