Huge sink-hole swallows well motor

Earth drops 36 feet

By SPEEDY NIEMAN
Publisher-Editor

Irrigation wells have been known to sink a few feet on rare occasions, but a huge sink-hole north of Hereford Saturday swallowed up a motor, stand pipes and everything in sight for 30 or 40 feet.

The sink-hole is located on the Harold Dillehay farm, about 16 miles north of Hereford—or three miles east and a mile north of Milo Center. No one was injured when the irrigation motor went down, but two men narrowly missed the freak accident.

Ken Glenn of Big T Pump measured the sink-hole Monday and said it was 36 feet deep and about 30 by 40 feet around. He estimated it would take 1,600 cubic yards of dirt to fill up the mammoth hole.

No one seems to know for sure what caused the sink-hole, but Glenn theorizes that the underground concrete tile line may have cracked and the seeping water formed the structure for the cave-in. A 30-foot section of the underground pipe is missing, along with the gas line carrying natural gas to the irrigation motor.

A worker said the stand pipes were the first to go about 1 p.m. Saturday. About 45 minutes later, the irrigation motor and concrete base fell into the hole. The natural gas was cut off and other wells in the area were shut down for a while.

"If the tile pipe cracked," said Glenn, "I think it could have been caused by seismograph work in the area." He said the Department of Energy had seismograph crews here in 1981 in connection with testing for the nuclear waste repository site. Glenn added that Dillehay had called a DOE official "but they don't seem interested."

Glenn said his company has worked on a number of wells where casings had broken since 1981. They had to redrill some wells, he added.

Bill Alger, who works for Dillehay, had driven his pickup near the irrigation well.

Where Irrigation Pump Used To Be

Four interested men peer into a 36-foot deep hole where an irrigation motor and stand pipes fell into the earth Saturday afternoon. The freak accident occurred on the Harold Dillehay farm, and the huge sink-hole is located about 3 miles east and one mile north of Milo Center. Looking over the situation are Dwain Coody and Ken Glenn of Big T Pump, an unidentified man, and Donald Meyer who farms north of Milo Center. No one was injured in the cave-in, but Bill Alger had driven a pickup near the well to check the motor about an hour before the ground gave way.

Amarillo group joins protest

Calling the Department of Energy's efforts to choose a nuclear waste repository "fatally flawed" three groups opposing the plans for siting the repository in Deaf Smith County have suggested that the DOE "go back to square one" in the siting process.

Representatives of the three groups held a press conference in Amarillo Saturday also endorsed a statement of principles approved at the recent National Nuclear Waste Organizers Conference held in Washoe Valley, Nev.

Included at the news conference Saturday was George Drain, president of STAND (Serious Texans Against Nuclear Dumping) of Amarillo, a new organization which has voted to affiliate as a chapter of the Tullia group. Appearing with Drain were Tanya Kleuskens of Hereford, president of POWER (People Opposed to Wasted Energy Repositories) and Delbert Devin, president of the parent STAND organization.

Mrs. Kleuskens said the Amarillo group voted to affiliate with STAND because its focus was on general public information and regional concerns whereas POWER was geared toward landowners in the dump site area.

Expressing the concern of STAND of Amarillo, Drain urged a halt to the site selection process to permit re-evaluation.

"We support on-site, dry cask storage of waste at the source of generation in order to provide adequate time for development of safe nuclear waste disposal facilities," he said.

He also emphasized the need to eliminate "unnecessary and dangerous shipments of waste across out nation and through Amarillo and the Panhandle in particular." At the NNWO conference in Nevada delegates from five DOE target states were represented, plus persons from California, Minnesota and two national public interest organizations.

"Common ground found by delegates at the conference proves that the DOE's communications problem is not unique to Texas," Kleuskens said.

"It was the same story everywhere," she said. "They (the DOE) don't listen to reasoned criticism, they don't answer legitimate questions and they don't follow up when mistakes are brought to their attention."

"We're inviting failure with the present site selection process," she said. "It can only lead to choice of an unsafe site and the waste of billions of dollars."

Kleuskens added that the newly formed Amarillo group, the parent STAND group and POWER would be working closely together.

County grants sesquicentennial money

By JERI CURTIS
Managing Editor

The county commissioners Monday voted to give the Deaf Smith County Sesquicentennial Committee $2,500 in seed money for purchase of commemorative paraphernalia and to grant the High Plains Food Bank $1,000 from next year's budget.

The Sesquicentennial Committee's request was earlier denied because commissioners believed it was not the county's place to spend taxpayer money on such projects. However, at Monday's meeting commissioner Troy Don Moore said there has been a bill passed allowing counties to assist in sesquicentennial projects. The commission then voted unanimously to provide seed money for the sales of commemorative items.

The grant to the High Plains Food Bank echoed last year's donation by the county. Commissioner Austin Rose said Hereford's Good Shepherd program and several churches are active in the distribution of food locally, and noted that the Senior Citizens Center would soon be using the food bank. Rose also noted that several local vegetable growers make regular in-kind contributions to the bank.

County Judge Glen Nelson, in a review of the adult probation officer contract, said he was not sure how most persons on parole could afford the $40 a month probation fee. Although the contract requests that

Brand honored for advertising

The Hereford Brand received three honors in the West Texas Press Association's better newspaper contest when awards were presented Saturday night at the regional convention in Abilene.

The Brand took a first-place plaque in advertising, a third place in editorials and a third place certificate for general excellence. The Plainview Herald won the coveted the Community Service Award for its work in industrial development. The judge ask the highest fee possible, the judge still has discretion over what is charged. After the discussion, the contract was approved unanimously.

The commission also adopted an amendment to overtime pay policy.

The hour-for-hour compensation was changed to 1 1/2 hours of compensatory time to each hour of overtime, if the comp time is taken in another work period.

Overtime has not been a major problem in the courthouse except in a few cases within the sheriff's office. Sheriff Joe Brown said there have been a few times when overtime was necessary in order to keep fully staffed.

Brown, Graham and Associates will be conducting the annual audit for the county at an estimated $11,000 to $13,500, according to a Brown and Graham representative. Last year's audit cost about $10,000 and was paid with revenue sharing money. Auditing services may be procured by the county without bidding.

In other business the commissioners:

-Tabled naming a grievance committee member until conferring with county attorney Roland Saul.

-Said they would help obtain a typewriter, if the state would not, for the game warden and two highway

School registration starts next week

Registration for Hereford public school students will be held at all campuses Monday, Aug. 19 through Wednesday, Aug. 21, it was announced today by school officials.

Doors will open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 3:30 p.m. during the three-day registration period. All students are urged by school officials to complete registration during these three days.

Secondary students (grades 7-12) need to pick up schedules, and a time will be announced. A special sophomore orientation will also be held at a time to be announced.

Students who are transferring in from out of the school district must contact the superintendent's office for the purpose of updating transfers. All students new to the district should bring all records from the school they attended last year.

Registration of 5-year-old kindergarten through third grades will be conducted at the primary schools—Aikman, Northwest and Tierra Blanca. Fourth through sixth grades will register at Bluebonnet, Shirley and West Central.

Four-year-old students will be eligible for pre-kindergarten if they are unable to comprehend the English language, or if they are from a family whose income is at or below subsistence level. More information will be presented by the school district later. These children must be 4 years old by Sept. 1. They will register at the nearest school to their homes.

Kindergarten and first-grade students new to the district are asked to bring current immunization records and proof of date of birth—a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, etc. Kindergarten students must be 5 years old by Sept. 1, 1985.

Decker to be recommended

Bobby Decker, assistant principal at Hereford High School for the past two years, will be recommended to the Hereford School Board by Superintendent Harrell Holder to become principal at Stanton Junior High School. He is expected to succeed Terry Russell who was named Hereford High School principal last month.

Decker, 39, has B.S. and M.Ed. degrees from Tarleton State University. He started his teaching career at Ferris Junior High School in 1968. The next year he moved to Burleson where he remained until 1977. Decker became basketball coach at Hereford in the Fall of 1977. He coached the Whitefaces until he became a full-time assistant principal last year.

"We looked inside and outside the system for a new junior high principal", Holder announced. "Bobby has made a strong commitment to improvement of curriculum and discipline. I am confident he will work closely with students, parents, and teachers in achieving excellence for Stanton's students."

3-year-old attacked by mountain lion

NEW BRAUNFELS, Texas (AP) — A 3-year-old girl was to undergo surgery today after being mauled by a mountain lion in the parking lot of Comal Park at Canyon Lake.

The child, identified as Charlie Natalie Keller of Elmendorf, suffered a skull fracture and multiple lacerations Monday evening when a man's pet lion, which was leashed, attacked her, according to hospital and sheriff's office spokeswomen.

Comal County Sheriff's dispatcher Jan Cox said the girl was attacked by one of two mountain lions owned by Michael Ottea of Wetmore, a small Bexar County community.

"Both animals were on a leash, but the owner was unable to subdue the male," Ms. Cox said.

She said she did not know the details surrounding the attack or why Ottea had his lions at the park.

She said the girl was attacked between 7 and 7:45 p.m. She was visiting her aunt and uncle, whose names were not immediately available. Ms. Cox also did not know the names of the girl's parents.

No cause known for plane crash

QUINLAN, Texas (AP) — A Hunt County Sheriff's investigator said there was no immediate explanation for the midair collision over northeastern Texas that killed three Jackson, Miss., men on a business trip.

Two Dallas area men survived the crash Monday by making an emergency belly landing of their plane in nearby Van Zandt County, authorities said.

The Hunt County Sheriff's Office identified the three Jackson men as broadcast executive Owens Alexander, 63, the pilot; his son, Doug Alexander, no age available, and son-in-law Kurt Baskin, 33, who were partners in a landscaping business.

Hunt County Sheriff's Lt. Bryan Henson said federal investigators were trying to find the cause of the crash, but "there's no explanation right now."

The sheriff's office said the Alexander plane was a 1974 Cessna 206 six-seater en route from Jackson to Love Field in Dallas.

It collided with a larger twin-engine Super King Air Beech 200, an eight-seater, which was being flown by two commercial pilots on a training flight from Dallas Love Field.

Union Carbide offers medical payments

INSTITUTE, W.Va. (AP) — Union Carbide Corp. has offered to pay the medical expenses of the 135 people injured in a poison gas leak, but disputed a company memo that said the chemical is as dangerous as the gas that killed more than 2,000 people in India.

Company officials admitted Monday that workers initially thought the leak at the Institute plant was not serious and delayed notifying authorities.

And Senate Minority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., arranged for a delegation of top federal regulatory officials, including Environmental Protection Agency Director Lee Thomas, to inspect the plant today.

Six Carbide employees were injured, 129 residents were treated at hospitals and thousands more were trapped in their homes when aldicarb oxime, the main ingredient in the pesticide Temik, escaped Sunday morning.

Carbide disputed the significance of a 1983 internal memo describing aldicarb oxime as being in the same toxicity class as methyl isocyanate, or MIC, the deadly substance that leaked from the Carbide plant in Bhopal, India. The memo was released by the office of Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif.

Carbide spokesman Tom Sprick responded that "the category has considerable range to it and all products are not equal in weight. From what I understand, it (aldicarb oxime) is not as dangerous."

Byrd said he arranged the tour in part to investigate residents' complaints that they were given inadequate warnings and information when the chemical cloud engulfed their homes.

"This incident has raised a lot of questions that need to be answered," he said. "The people of the Kanawha Valley need to know if this situation was handled properly."

Reagan rests at his remote ranch

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — With President Reagan out of sight at his remote ranch, his staff aides are planning a rigorous autumn round of speeches, trips and TV appearances for him, confident he will be in top physical shape.

"The doctors have assured us he should be (in) normal health, that is health similar to what it was last spring," White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan told reporters Monday.

"I talked to him today and he's in great spirits mentally and physically. He said, 'I feel fine; I'm ready to go,'" Regan said.

The president, who underwent colon cancer surgery July 13, is spending three weeks of rest and recuperation at his mountaintop ranch with only one public appearance planned, during a four-day trip to Los Angeles, 90 miles southeast of the ranch.

Reagan's aides, meanwhile, were gathering on two coasts for today's top level brainstorming session designed to map out the balance of the Reagan term.

Their plans relied heavily on the president's predicted robust good health. Regan said the current plan was for at least one presidential trip a week after his vacation ends Sept. 2.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the fall agenda would include radio and TV appearances, speeches and trips by the president as chief spokesman for his administration's domestic and foreign policy.

Home of jailed leader's wife burned

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The home of Winnie Mandela, wife of the South Africa's top jailed black leader, was burned down, her lawyer said today.

Mrs. Mandela was not in her home at Brandfont, a remote black township in the Orange Free State, when the fire broke out late Monday or in the early hours today. A week ago, the house and an adjoining medical clinic were badly damaged in a police raid, lawyer Ismail Ayob said.

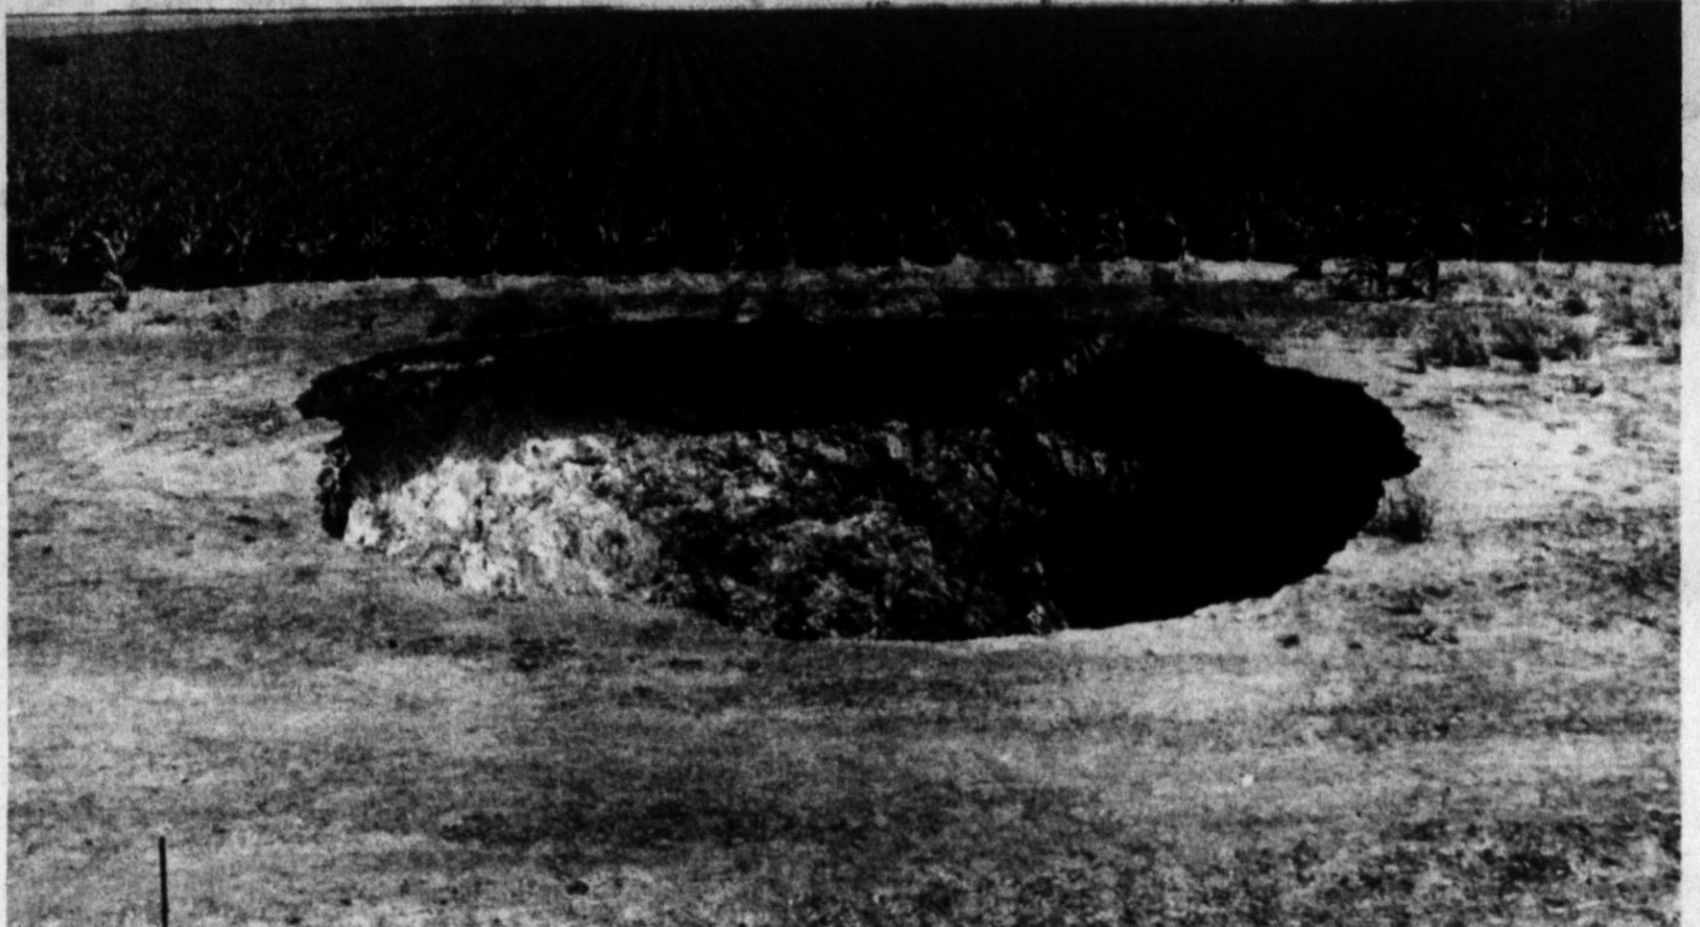

Mrs. Mandela had been at an undisclosed address in the Johannesburg area since the police raid.

No information was available immediately on how the fire started. Meanwhile, the unofficial death toll in nearly a year of unrest in South Africa topped 600. Police said arsonists hurled the body of a black man wounded by police gunfire onto a burning truck during serious overnight rioting near East London.

The man was burned to death "as a result of this barbaric act," a police statement said.

In racial violence across the country Monday, six blacks were killed.

Three bullet-riddled bodies were found in Durban, and reports said an Indian shot and killed another black man. Fighting between Indians and blacks that began last week has claimed 67 lives in Durban.

Two Views Of Huge Sink-Hole

Celebration banners reported missing

Several banners hanging around the city to mark the Town and Country Jubilee celebration this week are missing.

Hereford police have received reports from four businesses which have had banners taken — Hereford Rapid Rental, Sherwin Williams Paint, Smith and Davis law offices and Lithographics.

At Lithographics police also found that a storage shed had been damaged.

Other weekend action included arrests of one for driving while intoxicated, one for drunk in control of a motor vehicle, and two on traffic warrants.

Reports were taken for an assault, two harassments, two incidents of criminal mischief, one disorderly conduct, one of sale of alcohol to a minor, a civil dispute and a prowler.

Weekend thefts included a CB radio from a vehicle, value at $200; a bike, valued at $30; tools from a tool box, valued at $1,000; cash from a purse in a house; a purse taken from a car; and a battery charger, valued at $255.

Monday's reports included two harassment cases, suspicious sounds, theft of license plates, three juvenile assault cases, harassing phone calls, and an adult assault.

MoorMans reported about 50 to 60 gallons of gas stolen. Police found the tank lock broken off.

An attempted auto theft was discovered early Tuesday morning behind Pickup Corner. The unsuccessful attempt left about $1,500 in damages to the vehicle and $1,000 in damages to a fence.

Police are still looking for one of two runaways reported. One runaway returned and the second one is believed to be in the city.

One person was arrested for assault and one for second violation of having no liability insurance.

Appian gets highway bid

The Appian Corporation of Hereford was the lowest of three bidders vying for the reconstruction and widening project of a mile of U.S. 385 here. The company's bid of $1,369,124 was accepted by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

The project extends from one mile north of U.S. 60, near Plains, to one mile north to the northern city limit line.

An Appian spokesman said the storm sewer work would begin between Oct. 1 and Oct. 15. The complete project — to include grading, storm sewer installation, a flexible base asphalt concrete pavement and curb and gutter — will continue through May 1986.

The mile strip will be widened from two to four lanes and a continuous left turn lane will be added in the center of the roadway.

During the construction, traffic will be carried on half the street. The City of Hereford is paying for the curb and gutter and storm sewer work.

Donald Day of Canyon will be the state resident engineer directly supervising the project.

Joe Rankin to speak Aug. 17

Joe Rankin of Ralls, president of the Texas Farmers Union, will be the keynote speaker at the annual meeting of TFU's District 1 membership on Saturday, Aug. 17, at Sutherland's in Amarillo. Rankin, longtime vice-president of the 10,000-member family farm group, assumed the position as president on June 1.

Also on the program will be newly-elected TFU vice-president Bob Girard. Girard is also director of the Senior Texans Employment Program, which is sponsored by Texas Farmers Union.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. with a Dutch treat meal, followed by a social hour. The public is invited.

Dillehay arrived just before the column pipe went into the hole. "I'd guess the hole was about 10 feet in diameter at that time," he said.

Dillehay said he had contacted the governor's office about the incident. "We have no proof, but I feel the problem started after the ground was shook real good by seismograph crews in the area in 1981," said Dillehay. He said it would cost $15,000 to $20,000 to replace the well.

Young farmers elect officers

The Hereford Young Farmers group has elected new officers for the coming year.

Bill Caraway will serve as president of the group and Jim Steiert will be the vice president.

Other officers are Tom Schlabs, secretary; Dennis Schilling, treasurer; Mike Meiwes, reporter; and Kenneth Schlabs, parliamentarian.

at the Chamber of Commerce office and Hawk Kreig and Jim Ward, organizers, expect at least 30 more to sign up.

Spectators will be lining the streets of Avenue F, Park and Main before the 11 a.m. event, but persons involved in the parade will be out a little earlier.

Parade floats and participants should start arriving at the Hereford High School parking lot around 9 a.m. if they are at the start of the parade. Those would include the dignitaries and bands which have traditionally been at the lead.

Ward said the heavy equipment and horse groups may wish to come later so the parking lot, now fenced, would not become cluttered.

"It would be ideal if it would work out that way," he said.

Floats will be judged as they pass the Chamber office.

DEAR POLLY — How can I remove tomato sauce stains from plastic freezer containers? — MRS. G.B.

DEAR MRS. G.B. — Try this cleaning mixture. Mix three-fourths cup baking soda with one cup vinegar. Pour into the stained container or submerge the stained portion in the mixture. Let stand five minutes. If any stain remains, rub with a little baking soda on a damp sponge. Or, soak the container in a quart of water with one-half cup chlorine bleach added. If after 20 minutes the stain is lightened but not entirely gone, you may increase the strength of the solution by adding another cup of bleach and soak for an additional 20 minutes. Wash and rinse the bleached container thoroughly after removing the stain. — POLLY

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Cable TV came to our city several months ago. My husband and I were delighted with the prospect of seeing some unusually fine entertainment that had been denied us before.

Thirty days of cable had us tearing our hair out. We would not have believed such filth could be transmitted into the homes of decent people. We canceled our subscription but through some fluke we still get the channel.

What sickens us is that our children, 8, 12 and 14, can see the most explicit sex scenes by merely flipping the dial. It is not possible to stay at home every night and police their viewing.

We have discussed the problem with friends who are as outraged as we are. They claim nothing can be done because the First Amendment protects those purveyors of trash. Can this be true? Please reply. We are—EVERY PARENT, USA

Transfer is a patient's right

DEAR DR. GOTT — I became unhappy with my physician and switched to another. I asked my old doctor to send my medical records to the new one. That was eight months ago, and he still hasn't. Is this a normal practice?

DEAR READER — Not only is this not a normal practice, but it is patently unethical. A doctor is bound, by courtesy and professional conduct, to forward a patient's records to another doctor. An occasional physician will refuse to turn over records because the patient has not paid his bill; this also is unethical.

However, before you complain to your county medical society, give your old doctor the benefit of the doubt. Perhaps he did not receive your request for transfer. Maybe you did not ask him to do so in writing. Some M.D.s will not send records until they have a signed release from the patient; this can be awkward, but it is ethical.

Telephone your former doctor and ask for clarification. If the paperwork is in order and he is simply procrastinating, ask your new doctor how to proceed. This will give you valuable insight into how he deals with a recalcitrant colleague. Finally, the ethics committee of the county medical society will, upon receiving your written complaint, force your former doctor to release your records.

Around the County

By DAVY VESTAL
County Extension Agent

Diversification, that is one key to any successful program. The other key is hardworking challenging people as its nucleus. The Deaf Smith County 4-H clubs have these two keys, and they can open the door to the future for you.

One man's future that looks bright is 4-H'er Rickie Vogel, 16-year-old son of Herb and Elizabeth Vogel of Hereford. Rickie has exhibited champion steers all over the United States in the past seven years and is performing likewise duties this year.

In the past two weeks Vogel has shown the grand champion steer at the National 4-H and FFA Yamaha Show in Oklahoma City, Ok. and reserve grand champion at the Hill Country 4-H and FFA Show in Kerrville. Vogel is also an active member of the 4-H livestock judging team which participate in state competition this year and feels a lot of his early success is due to youth oriented programs.

The 4-H horse program has reached a diversified stage. These activities include judging contests, horse shows, roping schools, and drill team performances. The drill team has recently performed in Dalhart at the XIT Rodeo and Parade. Twenty Deaf Smith 4-H'ers and leaders made the trip to Dalhart.

Last weekend the team performed at the All Girls Rodeo, held at the Cowboy Club. The club has several major functions planned for the Town and Country Jubilee such as pony rides, a buggy pull, parade and childrens barnyard.

The 4-H Shooting Sports program has boomed this summer. Twenty-seven 4-H'ers have been shooting every Saturday morning at the Gun Club and have had a lot of fun. Three weeks ago the club sponsored a contest in which five counties participated. Deaf Smith 4-H'ers did very well. This past weekend 10 4-H'ers traveled to the State Trap Shoot in San Antonio. We will have their results next week.

The 4-H Showmanship Club will hold its annual Progress Showmanship Clinic, Saturday, Aug. 24 at the Bull Barn. Rick Vestal, former Vo-Ag leader and county extension agent and owner, operator of a meat company in Lamesa will serve as judge and instructor for the clinic.

Wall plaques will be presented to champion and reserve champion showman in both steers and lambs, and also to the champion steer and lamb of the clinic. The barn will be open Friday for preparation and official weigh in will begin at 7 a.m. Saturday with the clinic and show getting under way around 9:30 a.m. All county 4-H'ers and FFA'ers are urged to bring their animals and participate. Also those new 4-H'ers and FFA'ers would benefit greatly from this clinic.

The Horse Club will provide refreshments and eats for dinner and everyone is urged to attend and support the youth in this program.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

WTSU to present drug overdose workshop

The W.T.S.U. School of Nursing Department of Continuing Education will present a continuing education workshop, "Drug Overdoses - Accidental and Intentional", in cooperation with Dumas Memorial Hospital, 224 East 2nd Street, Dumas, Monday, Aug. 26, from 6-9 p.m.

The content will be presented by Robert S. Gregory, R.Ph., MS, and Karen J. Gregory, RN, MS, ANP. This workshop is aimed at RNs, LVNs, nursing students, allied health professionals, and all levels of EMS personnel.

This workshop will focus on the emergency management of the client experiencing an accidental or intentional drug overdose. It will examine characteristics of individuals at risk of overdosing. The mechanisms of drug absorption, metabolism, and excretion will be discussed generally, along with four interventions in caring for the over-dosed client. Three substances commonly injected in a drug overdose will be identified.

Robert S. Gregory, R.Ph., MS, received his bachelors degree in pharmacy and his masters degree in Hospital Pharmacy Administration from Massachusetts College of Pharmacy in Boston. He has worked as a staff pharmacist at various hospitals in the New England area, and is currently the Director of Pharmacy Services at Coronado Community Hospital in Pampa. Gregory is the president of the Panhandle Society of Hospital Pharmacists, and is an active member of the Texas and American Societies of Hospital Pharmacists.

Karen J. Gregory, RN, MSN, ANP, received her master of science degree in ambulatory care/primary care nursing from Boston College in Boston, Mass. She has experience in ICU, recovery room, and emergency room nursing. She has a particular interest in preventative health care and health maintenance behaviors.

Gregory is a member of the nursing faculty at West Texas State University, and is the director of in-service education and infection control at Coronado Community Hospital in Pampa. She is also an adult nurse practitioner, certified by the American Nurse's Association.

The Texas Department of Health has approved this offering for three contact hours in Category 1 for all levels of EMS training.

The Texas Nurse's Association has approved this offering for three contact hours for RNs enrolled in their CEARP program.

The registration fee is $20 for health care workers and $10 for students. Written preregistration is suggested. The deadline for preregistration is Wednesday, Aug. 21, and may be made by calling (806)656-2441 or mailing the registration fee along with your name, address, and phone number to: Continuing Education, School of Nursing, W.T. Box 532, Canyon, Tx. 79016.

In case of a large enrollment, the workshop will be moved to a larger facility. Notice will be posted at the hospital.

Today in History

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 13, the 225th day of 1985. There are 140 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Aug. 13, 1961, Berlin became a divided city as East Germany sealed off the border between the eastern and western sectors. East German police and troops used barbed wire and barricades to block crossing points to halt the flight of refugees. Two days later, work began on the Berlin Wall.

On this date: In 1521, Spanish conqueror Hernando Cortez captured present-day Mexico City from the Aztec Indians.

In 1624, French King Louis XIII named Cardinal Richelieu his first minister.

In 1792, French revolutionaries imprisoned the royal family.

In 1818, suffragist Lucy Stone was born in West Brookfield, Mass.

In 1846, the American flag was raised for the first time in Los Angeles.

In 1889, William Gray of Hartford, Conn., received a patent for a coin-operated telephone.

In 1899, director Alfred Hitchcock was born in London.

In 1960, the first two-way telephone conversation by satellite took place with the help of Echo 1.

Ten years ago: General Motors Corp. announced it was raising prices on its 1976-model cars an average of 4.4 percent.

Five years ago: At the Democratic National Convention in New York, President Jimmy Carter endorsed most of the party's platform just hours before his renomination.

One year ago: At a breakfast in Los Angeles honoring U.S. Olympic athletes, President Reagan hailed them as heroes who had given their country unforgettable memories. The athletes returned the favor by making the president and his wife, Nancy, honorary members of the U.S. Olympic team.

Today's birthdays: Television evangelist Rex Humbard is 66. Cuban President Fidel Castro is 59. Actor Pat Harrington is 58. Singer Don Ho is 56. Singer Jan Faganberg is 34. Actress Quinn Cummings is 18.

Thought for today: "You grow up the day you have the first real laugh - at yourself." — Ethel Barrymore, American actress (1879-1959).

Oklahoma cowgirl wins all-around title

All-Around Cowgirl

Twila Rutherford, center, of Noble, Okla., was named the all-around cowgirl when the Hall of Fame Rodeo Association All Girl Rodeo concluded Sunday afternoon at the Cowboy Country Club. Rutherford received her belt buckle and other prizes from Bob Barrett, rodeo association president, and Margaret Formby, founder of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame in Hereford.

Swimming classes start at YMCA August 19

Swimming classes for youth are scheduled at the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA, beginning on Monday, Aug. 19 and ending on Saturday, Aug. 31.

The classes will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and also on Saturday. Fees for the classes will be $20 for YMCA members and $30 for non-members of the YMCA.

Time for the classes on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday are: 5:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. for one to three-year-olds; 6 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. for four and five-year-olds; 6:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. for five to seven-year-olds; and 7 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. for eight-year-olds and older.

Times for Saturday morning class sessions will be announced during the individual classes.

Adults may also sign up for swimming classes on an individual basis. They need to call the YMCA for appointments, and the entry fees will vary for adults.

For more information on the swimming classes, call the YMCA at 364-6990.

Change made in YMCA youth activities schedule

A summer campout that was scheduled as part of the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA summer adventures program for youth has been postponed to Aug. 23.

The activity on the 23rd will be a campout at Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Youth are advised to bring old clothes, hiking shoes, swimming suits, sleeping bags, and their own snack. Supper and brunch will be furnished, and each child should bring $4 extra.

There will be no activities on Friday this week. Wednesday is radio day in the summer adventures program, from 9 a.m. to noon.

On Thursday, the activity is "Revenge of the Nerds," in which youth will throw water balloons, eggs and cream pies, and pour chocolate syrup at Jerry, Susan and Shelley. Thursday's activities goes from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Cost is $3 a day for YMCA members in the summer adventures program, and $5 a day for non-members of the YMCA, except days when youth are asked to bring extra money.

Hall of Fame baseball player Harry Heilmann had a career batting average of .342 for 17 major league seasons. In 1923 he hit .403 to lead the American League while playing for Detroit.

Chick Hafey, one of the first major league ballplayers to wear glasses while playing, hit .317 in his 14-year career for the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds.

La Plata ninth grade football practice to start

The ninth grade football team at La Plata Junior High School will hold its first practice session on Monday, Aug. 19, at 4 p.m. reports Coach Ed Coplen.

Helmets will be issued on Wednesday this week, from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. Seventh and eighth grade football teams at La Plata will begin practicing after school starts. Seventh grade athletes must receive their physical examinations before school starts.

For more information on the La Plata football practices, call Coplen at 364-6969.

Oscar Swahn of Sweden was 65 when he won a gold medal as a member of a Swedish shooting team in the 1912 Olympics. He is the oldest listed Olympic gold medalist.

The women's heptathlon was held for the first time at the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles. Glynis Nunn of Australia was the winner of the competition which was comprised of seven events.

Boys Ranch Rodeo set in September

The forty-first annual Boys Ranch Rodeo will be held over the Labor Day weekend with up to 10,000 people expected for the two performances. Nearly 250 of the Ranch's boys will be riding calves, steers, bulls, bareback broncs, along with area riding clubs that will participate in the grand entry. It is a rodeo for all of the boys and those who do not compete as contestants will be selling barbecue beef plates, soft drinks and snow cones, or working at the many jobs required for a successful rodeo.

The boys will be competing for belt buckles and for the titles of Junior and Senior All-Around Cowboys. Specialty acts will include a wild steer race, FFA project parade, calf scramble and barrel races with five and six-year-old boys riding stick horses. Among the spectators will be many of the Ranch graduates who are expected to return for their annual reunion. Over 3,000 boys have called the Ranch home since 1939 and some travel long distances to attend the rodeo and for a meeting of the Boys Ranch Alumni Association.

A new addition to the rodeo arena this year is an expanded, covered reserved bleacher section with seats priced at $3.50. Reserved box seats are $4.50, general admission $2.50 and children 6-12 are admitted for $1.00. Barbecue beef plates will be prepared by the boys and sold for $3.50 at noon each day. Rodeo action begins at 2:30 P.M. September 1st and 2nd.

The Boys Ranch Rodeo is the only one of its kind in the nation with boys of all ages riding professional rodeo stock under R.C.A. rules. Further information and reservations are available by calling (806)372-2341, or by writing, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas 79174.

How long could your business stay afloat after a major fire?

As an independent agency, it's our job to help our clients make it through the rough times.

One way we help is to look beyond the obvious. The property and casualty portion of a business insurance package will probably cover the repair of a damaged building. Overhead expense continues during the rebuilding period, however, while receipts do not.

This is why we recommend business interruption insurance. It can provide the money any business needs to weather a storm.

We can provide a business insurance package to meet your specific needs through CNA or other insurance companies we represent. Contact us and see.

Our early settlers knew that, if they were going to survive in their new surroundings, they would have to work hard. Everyday there were many chores to be accomplished around the home. They could rely only on themselves to get the job done.

In 1900, the First National Bank of Hereford was founded. The folks who started our bank knew it would take a lot of hard work to make it successful.

Dorsett says Cowboys should trade him before season

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys holdout running back Tony Dorsett says he has told team president Tex Schramm that the team should consider trading him before the National Football League regular season begins.

Dorsett and Schramm met briefly during the past weekend and Dorsett says he is no closer to reaching a contract agreement now than he was two weeks ago.

Class D men's softball tourney planned in Dumas

A class D men's softball tournament, the Dumas A's Tournament, is scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Dumas.

Entry deadline is Thursday at 10 p.m., with an entry fee of $100. Blue Dot balls will be used in the tournament.

Individuals on the first and second place teams will receive trophies, and team trophies will be awarded to the first, second, third place and consolation teams. Other awards will be two MVP awards.

To enter the tournament, or for more information, call Larry Aaron at 935-3578, or George Anthony at 935-7227.

Schramm confirmed that Dorsett asked for the trade.

"He keeps saying he's been embarrassed and that he might be better off somewhere else," Schramm said. "But I told him you don't just pull down the curtains on a bad experience because you're traded to another team."

If traded, Dorsett said he would prefer to play for Don Shula with the Miami Dolphins or the Pittsburgh Steelers, who play only 20 miles from his hometown of Aliquippa, Pa.

Dorsett has been seeking to renegotiate his contract with the Cowboys, he has been involved in a dispute with the Internal Revenue Service over an more than $400,000 in back taxes the IRS says he owes and he has been upset that his financial problems have been publicized by the news media in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

"Right now I think I will be traded," Dorsett told the Dallas Times Herald Monday. "I think I've made it pretty obvious that I wouldn't mind going to another team."

"Right now I don't know if I will be with the Cowboys or not this season,"

Four players—Elgin Baylor, Bob Cousy, Bob Pettit and Jerry West—were chosen for the National Basketball Association All-Star First Team 10 times.

Dorsett said.

Dorsett wants a new contract that would include an annuity that eventually would pay him $6.4 million, the same amount that Cowboys defensive lineman Randy White will receive from his 20-year deferred payments. He has missed 18 days of training camp and has been fined $13,000 so far.

Cardinals defeat Pirates, 8-1

Tudor wins 14th in 15 starts

By DICK BRINSTER AP Sports Writer

If the mark of a good pitcher is a victory on a night when he feels like a bad one, pencil in John Tudor as a good one on the threshold of becoming a great one.

"He told me before the game he didn't have good stuff," St. Louis catcher Darrell Porter said after Tudor limited Pittsburgh to five hits over eight innings Monday night to win the 14th time in his last 15 starts as the Cardinals bombed Pittsburgh 8-1. "If you don't have good stuff and you're pitching that well, you're doing pretty good."

"I didn't think I had as good a fastball as I had in the past few games," said Tudor, 15-6 with a glittering 2.07 earned run average and a major-league-leading six shutouts.

The victory enabled the Cardinals to stay within a game of the New York Mets in the National League East. The Mets survived a ninth-inning scare to edge Philadelphia 4-3.

Mets 4, Phillies 3

Sid Fernandez, who says he is beginning to feel comfortable in the major leagues, matched his career high for strikeouts with 13 as he pitched a one-hitter into the ninth inning.

Despite his performance, the 22-year-old Fernandez had to sweat out the ninth when Roger McDowell gave up a three-run homer to Philadelphia's Glenn Wilson.

Keith Hernandez drove in three runs and Wally Backman had three hits and scored three times to lead New York.

Cubs 8, Expos 7

After witnessing seven home runs, Montreal Manager Buck Rodgers called it "a Wrigley-Field-with-the-wind blowing-out kind of ballgame," adding that "you can never have enough runs in this ballpark."

Chicago's Thad Bosley hit two of those homers, including a two-run game-winner in the eighth inning, as the Cubs broke their seven-game losing streak. Bosley, who drove in five runs, hit a pinch three-run homer in the sixth and stayed in the game.

"I have never accepted my role as a part-time player and I never will," the 26-year-old Bosley said.

And Bosley, who leads the National League with 13 pinch hits, beat the best in Jeff Reardon, 2-5, who leads the major leagues with 29 saves.

Ryne Sandberg also homered for the Cubs, and Lee Smith got his 24th save. Tim Wallach hit two homers for the Expos while Hubie Brooks and Tim Raines had one each.

The Cubs announced after the game that 39-year-old shortstop Larry Bowa was being placed on waivers for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Dodgers 3, Braves 0

While Los Angeles has soared to a seven-game lead in the NL West, left-hander but Rick Honeycutt hasn't felt like much of a contributor. But this time Honeycutt surrendered just two singles over six shutout innings before Tom Niedenfuer came on to get his 10th save.

"It was a relief just to go past 2-3 innings," said Honeycutt, who improved his record to 7-10. "It had been a real stumbling block."

He had been knocked out of three straight games since last winning on July 9 against Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers now have 18 team shutouts, a major-league high. Padres 2, Reds 0

With bullpen ace Rich Gossage out of action with a knee injury, San Diego was badly in need of relief and got it in the form of Lance McCullers. The hard-throwing right-hander, called up from Las Vegas of the Pacific Coast League, pitched 2 2-3 innings in relief of starter Mark Thurmond to preserve a shutout and earn his first save.

McCullers' effort against the struggling Reds, who have scored just three runs in their last 41 innings, saved the game for Thurmond, who started his first game since July 11. The Padre left-hander departed after suffering a pulled muscle in his left buttock in the seventh inning.

Steve Garvey doubled home two runs in the sixth inning off Mario Soto, 10-13.

Dave Parker got three hits for Cincinnati, which lost its fourth straight game.

Tolleson hits RBI single in 9th

Rangers edge Blue Jays, 5-4

By The Associated Press

Infielder Wayne Tolleson says he was in one of his favorite situations in the bottom of the ninth inning when he drove in the winning run with a bloop single to give the Texas Rangers a victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

Tolleson's single scored Steve Buechele and gave the Rangers a 5-4 come-from-behind victory over the American League East-leading Blue Jays.

The Blue Jays chose to pitch to Tolleson although he entered the game batting .344 and already had two hits with the winning run on third base.

Toronto pitcher Bill Caudill said Tolleson "is a low ball hitter. He battled me."

"I thought I was throwing the ball well. I play for a tremendous team and I'm having a mediocre year," the Blue Jays hurler said.

Tolleson says his game winning hit apparently surprised the Blue Jays.

Buechele doubled to lead off the ninth and Geno Petralli moved him to third with a sacrifice bunt to set up Tolleson's sixth game winning RBI of the season and his fourth since July 21.

Tolleson raised his batting average to .351 and .391 against righthanded pitchers after batting just .189 against them in 1984. He also has ten RBI in his last 27 games after going 76 games, dating back to August

BASEBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Darryl Strawberry of the New York Mets, who batted .529 with four home runs, has been named National League Player of the Week for the period ending Sunday, the league said.

First baseman Don Mattingly of the New York Yankees, the defending American League batting champion, was named the AL Player of the Week after posting a .542 batting average and a 1.042 slugging average for the week.

GENERAL

ROCKLIN, Calif. (AP) — A typographical error in the San Francisco 49ers' 1985 media guide, just off the presses, refers to Coach Bill Walsh's "vastly futile mind."

According to 49ers' public relations director Jerry Walker, the passage was supposed to read "fertile mind." A second, revised edition is planned.

1984, with just two.

Although he gave up pinch hitter Damaso Garcia's game tying RBI single in the top of the ninth inning, rookie reliever Dwayne Henry, 1-0, picked up his first major league victory.

Cliff Johnson put the Rangers in a position to win the game when he brought them from a 3-1 deficit in the bottom of the eighth inning with a three-run homer, his 11th of the season.

Tony Fernandez tripled, doubled and scored two runs for the Blue Jays. Over his last nine games, Fernandez has 11 hits, seven of them doubles and two of them triples.

The Blue Jays jumped out to a 1-0 lead off starter Burt Hooton in the first inning when Fernandez led off with his triple and scored on Lloyd Moseby's single. They added a run in the second when Whit hit his 14th home run of the season.

Toronto made it 3-0 in the third. Fernandez opened with a double, took third on a groundout and scored on Rance Mulliniks' sacrifice fly.

The Rangers made it 3-1 in the third against Toronto starter Doyle Alexander when Duane Walker walked and scored on a double by Pete O'Brien.

Angels 5-4, Mariners 6-3
 Along with round-number milestones like 20, 30, 400, 500 and 3,000, baseball has numbers whose importance comes from the stars who stopped there — 56, 61, 714, 755 and 4,191. Reggie Jackson reached 521.

Jackson entered a new class of baseball royalty with his 521st career home run Monday night, but in a losing cause. The California Angels lost the first game of their doubleheader 6-5 to the Seattle Mariners.

The Angels won the second game 4-3, with Brian Downing hitting a two-run homer.

Rod Carew advanced on an all-time list of his own. His four hits in the doubleheader left him with 3,009 hits. He moved ahead of Al Kaline into 14th place on the all-time list. Lou Brock is next in line with 3,023 hits.

At 39 years of age and in his 18th major-league season, Jackson is now tied for the No. 8 spot on the all-time home run list.

Five hundred and twenty one is the number of home runs Ted Williams hit.

It's also the number hit by Willie McCovey, the only man not enshrined in the Hall of Fame besides Jackson to have hit 500 home runs. McCovey becomes eligible next year.

His first time up Monday, Jackson hit a 1-0 pitch from Seattle's Frank Wills into the left-field stands. With one more like that, Reggie will become one of only eight men to hit more than the Kid.

His 521st was Jackson's 98th homer with the Angels. He hit 254 with the Kansas City and Oakland A's, 27 with the Baltimore Orioles and 144 with the New York Yankees.

Jackson's 521st home run came on his 8,957th career at-bat. Williams hit 521 in 7,706 at-bats, and McCovey in 8,197.

Jimmy Foxx, with 534 home runs, and Mickey Mantle, with 536, are well within Jackson's reach. After them the list leaps to 573 and Harmon Killebrew.

The only players in baseball history with more home runs than Reggie Jackson are Hank Aaron, Babe Ruth, Willie Mays, Frank Robinson, Killebrew, Mantle and Foxx.

Indians 8, Orioles 5
 Next time Pat Tabler comes up with the bases loaded, walk him. Tabler is 22-for-34 with 54 RBIs in such situations over three years with Cleveland. He has driven in 15 runs while going 6-for-6 with the bases full this year.

Tabler singled in two runs with the bases loaded as Cleveland scored five times in the first inning. He added a run-scoring double in the ninth.

Baltimore starter Scott McGregor, 9-10, made just 17 pitches and failed to retire any of the five batters he faced.

Yankees 10, White Sox 4

Ron Hassey hit two homers, helping Phil Niekro to his 295th career victory.

Hassey's second homer of the game triggered a seven-run seventh inning that broke a 3-3 tie.

The triumph was their seventh straight, giving the Yankees their longest winning streak of the season and lifting them to within six games of Toronto.

FAA official says

Air controllers experienced

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The southwest regional director for the Federal Aviation Administration says the air traffic controllers directing Delta Flight 191 were highly experienced and their professionalism shows in tapes of their conversations with the plane before it crashed.

"One thing that is important that will come across (the tape) is the high degree of professionalism that existed in the cockpit of the aircraft and with the air traffic controllers," said "Tex" Melagin, FAA Southwest Region director.

He said the controllers' experience ranged from a minimum of eight years to more than 20 years.

The FAA released on Monday a transcript and tape of the Aug. 2 conversations between the controllers and the pilot of Flight 191, which crashed on final approach to the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, killing 134 people.

Their comments showed the pilot had little concern over a threatening thunderstorm shortly before the jet crashed.

At one point a controller issued a general advisory to all aircraft:

"Yes sir — all aircraft listening except for Delta 1291 (another Delta flight) is going to go across the airport. There's a little rain shower just north of the airport and they're starting to make ILS (instrument) approaches..."

Delta Flight 1291 asked controllers for permission to go around when the pilot called "a buildup."

But Norm Scoggins, manager for the airport tower, said the jet was avoiding a storm cell separate from the weather cell that Flight 191 encountered.

At one point, controllers directed all pilots to begin using flight instruments to approach the runway instead of relying on visual approaches, a common procedure when visibility is impaired by poor weather.

At 6:03 p.m. CDT, 2 1/2 minutes before the crash, controllers announced some "variable winds" at the north end of the airport.

Controllers then told the pilot of the jet to reduce speed.

"Tower Delta 191 heavy out here in the rain. Feels good," the pilot responded.

After telling the pilot of a Learjet to make room for the Delta flight, an air traffic controller said, "Delta go around."

At that time, the controller made a "spontaneous judgment" and probably didn't know the jet had hit the ground yet, said Earl Wolfe, assistant manager for the air traffic division of the FAA's southwest region.

Wind shear — a sudden shift in winds — has been discussed as a possible factor in the crash. In a wind shear, a strong flow of air rushes toward the ground, then hits the ground and shoots violently outward in all directions.

The regional FAA will continue working with the National Transportation Safety Board during the investigation that should continue for at least two more months, Melagin said.

Sheer optimism is what makes you think you can possibly drive into any line but the slow-moving one at the auto teller.

Cincinnati processed so many hogs in the early 1800s that it was called "Porkopolis."

Passing Out Books

The Texas Migrant Council held a RIF book distribution at McDonalds on Aug. 7. The migrant council is serving children, (ranging in age from zero months to six years), of the migrant farm workers in the Hereford and Dimmitt area. The center is open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday. Above, each child received a book to encourage reading during the summer months. Every child was allowed to pick out their own books.

We're not doing nothing about escalating street crime. Jamestown, North Dakota - with citizen volunteers patrolling the streets - has reduced vandalism 30.6 percent in one year. The volunteers spend their own money for fuel, drive their own cars and give up evenings at home for "patrol duty." And with the official benediction of Jamestown's Chief of Police and the complete cooperation of patrol officers. When the citizen watchers weary of the tedious assignment, they re-read this something written by an anonymous cop. QUOTE: "I am the man. I have been where you fear to be. I have seen what you fear to see, done what you fear to do. All these things I have done for you. I am the man you lean upon, the man you cast your scorn upon. The man you bring your troubles to. All these men I've been for you. The man you call the man in blue is just a man, just like you. And through the years I've come to see I cannot be all you ask of me. So take this badge: take this gun. Will you take it? Will anyone? And when you watch a person die and when you hear a battered baby cry then do you think that you can be all these things you ask of me?" In Jamestown they know they can't-but at least they try.

So it is important to all of us that enough small businesses prosper to keep our economy resilient and constant when industry's giants stub their toes. The National Federation of Independent Business surveys its membership each quarter. Historically, they have demonstrated an uncanny comprehension of what comes next. Here is their most recent prognosis for our nation's economic well-being: They are optimistic. Capital spending plans are near record high. They plan to build inventory and to add more employees.

They anticipate economic activity remaining strong through this year and next year. They expect inflation to remain under control; only 21 percent anticipate any price increases in the next three months. This projects a non-food inflation rate for this year of about 4 percent. Professional economists frequently embarrass themselves. These quarterly reports have never proved an embarrassment to the NFIB. (c) 1985, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

Just a reminder, if your old furnace is about to give up, you might want to consider a new, high-efficiency heat pump. If your air conditioner needs replacement but your gas furnace is still in good working order, an add-on heat pump may be the answer. The most efficient system is the geothermal heat pump. It may be used in the conversion of an existing system or a new installation. Call (806) 364-1166
