Consultants say nuke dump issue political

By O.G. NIEMAN
Editor-Publisher

The problems involving the construction of a nuclear repository are not technical, they are political, John McKlveen, professor of engineering at Arizona State University, told a group of citizens here Thursday morning.

McKlveen and Robert Jefferson, a consultant for Sandia Laboratories, were invited to speak here by Doug Manning, who represents the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce on an Amarillo committee set up to study the repository issue.

The two men also presented their non-partisan views as a program for the Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday at noon, and were to speak to the study committee in Amarillo later Thursday.

They were introduced by Tom Hunt, representing the U.S. Committee for Energy Awareness (USCEA). Hunt said USCEA is attempting to educate Americans on the use of nuclear energy, adding that coal and nuclear power are the primary sources for future energy needs.

McKlveen said USCEA had invited him to appear before many groups to discuss the issues of a nuclear repository. He had just returned from Tennessee where he discussed the benefits of a monitored retrievable system (MRS) to store spent fuel rods before transporting them to a repository. He believes such an MRS would make the transportation system much more efficient.

On this overview of the repository project, McKlveen said he didn't think "there will be any danger to public health if it's done right." He added that "we can't sit back and trust Big Brother to do it right—we need to monitor what is done and make sure it's right."

"Despite the fears, both the records and tests indicate very minimal risks in the transportation of high level radioactive materials," Jefferson told the group Thursday morning. He presented a film on the testing of casks at Sandia Laboratories in 1977-78, which resulted in no release of radiation in even the most destructive crashes imaginable.

Jefferson said this nation had 40 years of experience in transporting hazardous materials and studies and records since 1971 attest to the safety of transportation.

"The mechanical risks are 1000 times higher than the radiation risks," said Jefferson. "We should be much more concerned about seat belts and air bags to protect motorists than what might happen if an accident involves a truck hauling nuclear waste in casks."

Jefferson pointed out that transportation is, by far, the largest activity in the U.S., involving one in five persons. He said two to three million packages of radioactive materials, in various forms, are

Peres' proposal gets mixed reviews

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein and President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt, who met to assess the faltering Middle East peace process, gave mixed reviews to Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres' suggestions for ending the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Hussein also said in an interview Thursday he would not let the U.S. Congress coerce him into direct peace negotiations with Israel by delaying an arms sale.

The king, who met with Mubarak for four hours Thursday, told reporters he saw "some positive development" in the Israeli prime minister's offer, and cited the reference to a possible international conference, possibly under U.N.

auspices, and the Israeli leader's mention of negotiations based on U.N. Security Council Resolutions 242 and 338.

Those resolutions embody the heart of Hussein's own plan, which offers peace to Israel in exchange for Arab territories it has occupied since the 1967 Middle East war and involves an international forum to oversee a settlement.

He added: "Yet even then, we find many contradictions throughout the statement" by Peres.

Peres made the proposal in New York on Monday in an address to the U.N. General Assembly and referred both to a comprehensive Middle East settlement, which the king seeks, and to direct negotiations with Jordan.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says the real measure of a person's worth is how much he would be worth if he lost all of his money.

"Mother, are you very poor?" the boy asked.

"Why, no, Johnny," his mother replied. "I'm very rich. I have you and your brother Bill, and you two are worth millions to me."

Johnny thought for a moment and countered: "Well, then, Mother, do you think you could mortgage Billy and buy me a new football?"

The Brand will publish a special holiday shopping issue Nov. 3 and it will feature pre-Thanksgiving and pre-Christmas gift ideas and articles on the holiday season. The retail business committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is promoting a "Home for the Holidays" theme and local stores will advertise great gift ideas and hold "open houses" for their customers.

Brand staffers have been preparing holiday features for the edition, and we think you'll want to keep this issue around for a while and read it from cover to cover. The special edition will have increased circulation in the trade area. Advertisers are reminded that Monday is the deadline for placing an ad in the section.

Daylight Saving Time ends Sunday at 2 a.m. That's the time we set our clocks back an hour. If you like this arrangement, you may like a new proposal to extend DST.

Under existing law, daylight saving time runs from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. The House has approved a bill that would stretch that period from the first Sunday in April to the first Sunday in November.

The current six-month schedule was a political compromise that has lasted a number of years. A try to extend the schedule to eight months failed in 1983. Boosters of the seven-month period boast the new measure would provide more evening daylight for young trick-or-treaters.

The prospect of more trick-or-treaters on the streets induced the candy industry to support the House bill, it was reported by the Wall Street Journal. Other business backers include convenience stores and sporting goods manufacturers.

Schultz considering Moscow trip

And Soviet proposal

NEW YORK (AP) — As President Reagan winds up three days of pre-summit consultations here, Secretary of State George Shultz is weighing a trip to Moscow and a Soviet proposal for an agreement on principles at Geneva.

Despite Reagan's assertion in a U.N. speech Thursday that Moscow was sponsoring "war with the people" of Afghanistan, Angola, Cambodia, Ethiopia and Nicaragua, preparations for his Nov. 19-20 meeting with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev are accelerating.

Reagan, meanwhile, was bringing three busy days in New York to an end with separate meetings with Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone and West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl.

The president also scheduled a meeting with the family of Leon Klinghoffer, a partially crippled, retired businessman who was killed during the hijacking of the Italian cruise ship Achille Lauro.

On Thursday, Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze met for 30 minutes with Reagan in New York and commented, "If there were no positive seeds we would not have met at all."

Shultz called it "base-touching" on summit preparations and said the Soviets were showing "seriousness of purpose" in advance of the summit meeting in Geneva, Switzerland.

He said he was discussing with Shevardnadze the Soviet official's proposal in a U.N. speech earlier this year that Reagan and Gorbachev adopt "an agreement in principle" at the summit.

This would fall short of an accord limiting nuclear missiles or specific solutions to other problems around the world. But Shevardnadze said, "There is no doubt that this would be the best gift to all in the jubilee year of the United Nations."

Another Soviet proposal also was on the breakfast table at the U.S. mission — that negotiators consider imposing a freeze on American and Soviet medium-range nuclear missiles in Europe and Asia.

Shultz said he was prepared to "put some additional questions" to Shevardnadze about the idea of dealing with the missiles separately from other arms issues.

Some analysts believe that might help break the impasse in the current Geneva weapons talks. "We are studying it," said Larry Speakes, the White House spokesman.

With the summit less than a month away, the two sides were picking up the pace of their work on the agenda. Shultz said he was "examining"

Nerve gas survives narrow vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House headed for a new fight over nerve gas weapons after its Appropriations Committee narrowly voted to eliminate money that would have been used to build the first U.S. chemical weapons in 16 years.

With its 26-24 vote Thursday, the panel moved to strike $163.5 million for nerve gas weapons from a huge bill appropriating most of the Pentagon's $292 billion budget this year.

The committee later sent the bill to the House floor on a voice vote after also rejecting a move to cut "Star Wars" defense spending from $2.5 billion to $2.1 billion.

Rep. John Edward Porter, R-Ill., author of the move to eliminate the money for chemical weapons, later said he was unsure if he has the support to sustain his ban when the bill reaches the floor.

But he said nerve gas opponents were aided by other legislators who felt "they had been had" earlier this year when the Democratic-controlled House narrowly voted to approve nerve gas as part of a separate bill authorizing the Pentagon's budget.

Jurors deliberating suit against Hustler

HOUSTON (AP) — A 14-year-old boy who accidentally hanged himself after reading about a dangerous sexual practice in Hustler magazine was murdered by the publication's "greed and avarice," an attorney said.

But lawyers representing Hustler in a $1 million lawsuit say the sexually explicit magazine was not to blame for the Aug. 8, 1981 death of Troy Daniel Dunaway.

Diana Herceg of Channelview is seeking $1 million in damages from Hustler, alleging Dunaway, her son by a previous marriage, accidentally hanged himself because of a Hustler article titled "Orgasm of Death." The article describes autoerotic asphyxia, a practice of depriving the brain of oxygen in an attempt to intensify orgasm.

A copy of the magazine, opened to the article, was at Dunaway's feet when he was found hanging from a belt on the door of his bedroom closet.

Jurors in U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals' court deliberated about 1½ hours Thursday before adjourning without reaching a verdict in the lawsuit.

Deliberations were to continue today.

Hobby, White push water plan

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby is predicting that voters in Houston, the state's most populous city, will approve the proposed $1.43 billion water plan.

Hobby says he hopes the plan will pull 60 percent approval in Harris County.

The Houston outcome is considered crucial by the plan's backers because of the expected high turnout for a scheduled mayoral election and because of the area's opposition to past water proposals.

"I think Harris County, for the first time probably ever, will support this plan," Hobby told a news conference Thursday during a campaign stop with Gov. Mark White and House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth.

White called the plan "the best ever forwarded for ratification by the voters."

The governor also said an advertising campaign pushing the plan should begin the week before the election. Fund-raising hasn't reached even half the original $1.25 million goal, he acknowledged after being asked why no ads have appeared so far.

The two-part plan will be listed on the Nov. 5 ballot as proposed constitutional Amendments 1 and 2.

Lucas' capital murder trial delayed

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — State District Judge Brunson Moore says that numerous motions filed in the capital murder case of convicted killer Henry Lee Lucas prohibit any trial this year.

Lucas was to stand trial Nov. 4 for the 1983 ax-slaying of an elderly El Paso woman, but Moore granted a motion for a continuance in the case Thursday.

The judge did not set a new trial date, but said he hoped to begin hearing the case in January or "at the latest," February.

Moore said the continuance was made necessary by several motions that have been filed in the case.

One of the motions had been to have Moore disqualified, but Lucas' attorney, Gary Richardson of Tulsa, Okla., said Thursday he wanted to withdraw the request.

His motion to withdraw the earlier motion was granted by retired District Judge William Earney of Marfa, who came to El Paso Thursday for a hearing on the disqualification motion.

After Earney granted the withdrawal, Moore returned to the bench for a discussion on the progress of the case.

Moore said the next step would be for Lucas to undergo psychiatric testing to determine whether he is competent to stand trial.

Factory worker receives artificial heart

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 47-year-old factory worker who "would have been dead" from heart disease was in critical condition today after doctors implanted a Jarvik-7 artificial heart in his chest until a human heart can be found.

Thomas J. Gaidosh, who received the mechanical pump during a six-hour operation Thursday at Presbyterian-University Hospital, was the third person to be given a Jarvik-7 as a stopgap during an authorized implant.

Meanwhile, in Hershey, Anthony Mandia was in critical but stable condition, and showing improvement a week after becoming the first recipient of the artificial Penn State heart, officials said.

Gaidosh, near death from heart disease, approved the implant before surgery began at 4 p.m. Thursday, said hospital spokeswoman Mary Lou Michel. He was in critical condition today, officials said.

"The decision was based on the fact that the man's life was being threatened," said Ms. Michel. "Death was imminent. He would have been dead."

The resident of the western Pennsylvania town of Sutersville had been waiting for a human heart for about a month.

Meanwhile, at Hershey Medical Center 180 miles east of Pittsburgh, doctors said the absence of clots and bleeding was an encouraging development in Mandia's week-old recovery.

Mandia, who also awaits a human heart, remains in critical but stable condition, free of the complications that arose earlier in the week, said Dr. John W. Burnside, a hospital spokesman.

Duarte's daughter and rebels freed

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Scores of leftist rebels allowed to leave El Salvador in a complicated exchange arrived in Panama City today on their way to Cuba following the release of President Jose Napoleon Duarte's daughter, who had been held hostage for six weeks.

Seventy-six guerrillas, 73 wounded fighters and three rebel commanders who had been captured by the government, arrived in Panama City from San Salvador aboard a Panamanian jet. Panamanian military officials told The Associated Press they would be flown to Cuba.

A Cuban plane and Cuban diplomats were on hand to meet the rebels. Another group of 23 wounded rebels reportedly was flying to Mexico City.

Two of the wounded rebels were carried out on stretchers, and many were missing arms and legs.

In addition to freeing Ines Guadalupe Duarte Duran, 35, and a friend, Ana Cecelia Villeda Sosa, the guerrillas were known to have released nine of 38 mayors and municipal officials the government believes were kidnapped by the leftists and whose release was part of the exchange agreement.

Speaker Lewis endorses farm-ranch finance program

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gib Lewis has joined the sponsor of a loan program in endorsing a proposed constitutional amendment touted as one way to attract young people to farming and ranching.

Lewis on Thursday described as a "very noble program" a proposal that would provide low-interest loans to buy farm and ranch land.

The House speaker appeared at a Capitol news conference with the sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment, Rep. L.P. "Pete" Patterson, D-Brookston, and others.

The proposed amendment and legislation to put it into effect were approved by the 1985 Legislature.

"We've got to do something to try to attract and keep some young people in agriculture," said Patterson.

"We would be the first to admit this program will not cure all the ills of agriculture in this state and this country, yet we feel like it will be an effective tool in helping some young people out there that would like to own some of the land that they are farming or ranching," Patterson said.

State Land Commissioner Garry Mauro put the average age of Texas farmers and ranchers at 60, and he, too, said "we need to attract young people."

Proposition 10 on the Nov. 5 constitutional amendment ballot would authorize the issuance of up to $500 million in bonds, with the proceeds being used to make loans.

To be eligible for the Farm and Ranch Finance program, a person must be a United States citizen, a resident of Texas for five years, have been a member of a household in which at least 35 percent of the gross income was from farming or ranching for the preceding three years, and have a net worth of less than $250,000.

A minimum purchase of 50 acres is required. A loan shall be for a maximum of $100,000 with a minimum down payment of 5 percent. The loan would be for 40 years.

The land purchase must be used for farming or ranching only, and a person could buy land under the program only once.

Asked if he would be as "hard-hearted as bankers" in foreclosing on unpaid loans, Mauro said, "One person's hard-heartedness is another person's fiscal responsibility."

with Shevardnadze whether to accept an invitation for further talks in Moscow. Speakes called a trip by Shultz "a matter for discussion."

Shultz rejected, meanwhile, suggestions that the United States was de-emphasizing arms control's place on the summit agenda.

Reagan's speech concentrated on the "deep and abiding differences" between the superpowers in Africa, Asia and Central America.

He suggested progress on "other critical issues" might depend on negotiating an easing of tensions there.

"That doesn't mean that arms control is at the bottom of the pile,"

Shultz said. "On the contrary, in everybody's view, it is a significant issue."

Robert C. McFarlane, the president's national security adviser, said if the Soviets want a relationship of "mutual benefit" with the United States, including trade and arms reductions, "they will think hard" about the regional tensions proposal.

In an interview with Cable Network News, he said, "I think they will find it worthwhile to engage."

Asked if he was saying to the Soviets it would be difficult to improve overall relations without progress on Afghanistan and elsewhere, McFarlane replied: "I couldn't have said it better. That's right."

Reagan is determined, meanwhile, to confront Gorbachev about the way Soviet dissidents and other citizens are treated.

The Soviets evidently are still resisting.

"I'm sure they are very well aware of the fact that that is a matter of great importance to the American people and, for that matter, people throughout the democratic world," Reagan said.

Ann Landers 'Common sense'

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My father died after a 10-month bout with cancer. In those 10 months several events occurred that inspired me to write "RULES TO VISIT BY." I hope you will share them with your readers.

1. Call before you go to visit. Never drop in. Sick people have bad days when they don't want company.
2. If you want to know about a person's illness, ask him or her. Don't drag the family into a corner and bombard them with questions.
3. Talk about your hobbies and the activities that give you pleasure. A person with a terminal illness doesn't need to hear about all the folks you know who have terminal illnesses and what their treatments are.
4. If the person says there is no cure for the illness and that he/she has accepted the inevitable, don't describe the miracle cures you've heard about.
5. If you can't visit, send a card or letter, or call on the phone. It doesn't take much time and it lets the person know you care.

It doesn't take a lot of effort to give a sick person a lift. An old friend sent my father postcards every few weeks that said simply, "I am thinking of you." That meant more to him than anything else. Sign me—BEEN THERE AND KNOW, ANYWHERE, USA

DEAR USA: Here are your rules. Thanks for sending them on. The bottom line is common sense, which is surprisingly uncommon.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please let me say a word to "Oakland," the 17-year-old girl who is considering going back to a former boyfriend who has confessed that he is bisexual. That young person couldn't find more pain if she searched for it. I know because I lived through that very same nightmare. Twenty-five years ago I convinced myself that "Mr. X" couldn't possibly be gay or bisexual. "It was ridiculous," I told myself, because he had asked me to marry him. The result of that marriage is a lifetime of heartache, lies and pretending that everything is OK.

I know I need therapy to find out why I stay with this man and more important, why I still care so much for him. My main concern is protecting our children.

"Oakland" can and should run in the opposite direction. No one needs this kind of trouble. At 17 she has many options. She could choose someone who will make her feel good about herself. I'll be praying for her.—MICHIGAN

DEAR MICH: I hope "Oakland" listens. She will never get better advice anywhere. Thanks for your prayers and your efforts to help her.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: "Realistic in Minn.'s" closing state-

La Plata 9th grade beats Littlefield JV, 18-12

La Plata Junior High School's ninth grade football team scored an 18-12 victory over the Littlefield High School junior varsity Thursday in Hereford.

In a game played in Amarillo Thursday, the La Plata eighth grade team suffered a 33-14 loss to Amarillo Christian.

Next Thursday, both the La Plata eighth and ninth grade games play at Clovis, N.M., against Yucca Junior High School. The ninth grade game starts at 3:30 p.m. and the eighth grade game at 5 p.m.

The La Plata ninth graders trailed Littlefield 6-0 at halftime, and were behind Littlefield 12-6 after three quarters of play.

Kyle Andrews scored La Plata's second quarter touchdown with a two-yard run. The touchdown was set up by Clint Cotten who returned an interception 35 yards.

Jason Scott rushed three yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter that tied the game at 12-12.

Andrews scored the game-winning touchdown with a 55-yard run later in the final period.

Coach Ed Coplen said good offensive efforts were turned in by Andrews, Todd Collier and Roger McCracken, and that Joe Medrano, Bryan Watts, Scott Devers, Stewart Mitts and Clint Cotten played good defensive games.

Coplen also stated that his kickoff team played a good game.

Amarillo Christian built up a 20-0 halftime lead in defeating the La Plata eighth grade team 33-14 Thursday's.

day's. "In the first half our team appeared to be intimidated as Amarillo Christian had eight freshman in the starting lineup," said Coach Tommy Bowling.

"However, we outplayed and outscored them in the second half. Their only scores in the second half came on two interceptions for touchdowns," Bowling continues.

"Our eighth graders gave a good account of themselves in the second half in spite of having two starters out and three players—Charles Romero, John Cornelius and Steven Tucker—all playing with nagging injuries," Bowling adds.

In the third quarter, La Plata scored when James Hillwig caught a touchdown pass from Robert Cavin. The scoring play went for 50 yards.

Hillwig caught a pass from Cavin for the two point conversion. Amarillo Christian held a 26-8 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Brian Wagner scored the other La Plata touchdown with an eight-yard run in the fourth quarter. The touchdown was set up by a pass reception of 40 yards that Russell Backus caught.

"Cameron Gullef, John Maloof and Christ Solomon played very good filling in for injured players," Bowling said.

"Also, a lot of credit is due Kyle Van Landingham, Charles Daughtery, Eddie Cantu, Tate Smith and Jim Andrews who played the whole game both ways," Bowling notes.

Hall Of Fame Inductee

Charles "Chuck" High, left, a resident of Denton and a graduate of Hereford High School, receives a plaque commemorating his induction into the Tarleton State University athletic hall of fame. TSU President Dr. Barry B. Thompson, right, made the presentation last weekend. High, who participated in football and track at Tarleton, was one of inducted into the hall of fame at halftime of the Tarleton State-Austin College football game last Saturday.

Charles High honored at Tarleton State University

Charles High, a former Hereford High School athlete and ex-football player at Tarleton State University, was inducted into the university's athletic hall of fame last weekend.

The induction ceremonies were held in conjunction with the "Hall of Fame" game played between Tarleton State and Austin College last Saturday in Stephenville.

Four former Tarleton State athletes were honored along with previous inductees at a reception on Saturday morning and at a luncheon before the induction ceremonies during halftime of the football game.

Gene Ross, a teammate of High's at Tarleton State, presented High for induction. High was a football and track star at Tarleton.

Ross was an offensive guard for the Texans when High ran for 2,126 yards. Ross said, "Chuck made me look like a good lineman."

Ross recalled that High "was never hurt as a running back and that he never made excuses." Ross also said High is "a special person" because of his work at the Denton State School with the mentally retarded.

High, a Hereford native, said he was glad he had a chance to attend a small college and thanked everyone who had a part in his selection into the hall of fame.

"I don't know how deserving I am," said High, "but I guess the people who saw me play can best judge."

Last three White JV games are canceled

The last three games on the 1985 schedule for the Hereford High School White junior varsity have been canceled because of inelegibilities at the other schools.

The White junior varsity lost 20-0 last Saturday to Lubbock High in a game played in Lubbock. One of the three remaining games was to have been played Nov. 7 against Lubbock High.

Coach T.R. Sartor of the HHS

White junior varsity reports that the Lubbock High coach told him 28 of the 33 Lubbock junior varsity would be ineligible the rest of the season.

The other games canceled were a game that was scheduled this week at Canyon, and a game that was scheduled at Lubbock Monterey on Nov. 2.

The Hereford White junior varsity had an 0-6 season record.

Stanton 8th, 9th grade teams lose at Plainview

Two Stanton Junior High School football teams had tough times Thursday in losing games to Plainview Red at Plainview.

The ninth grade team lost 25-8 and the eighth grade team was shut out 14-0.

For the season, the Stanton ninth graders have a 3-4 record, and the eighth grade team has an 0-6 record.

Next Thursday, the ninth grade team is scheduled to play at Canyon against the Canyon High School sophomore team at 5 p.m. The Stanton eighth grade team is scheduled to play at home against Amarillo Christian at 4:30 p.m.

Plainview Red returned the game-opening kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown and added second quarter touchdown runs of two and 17 yards for a 19-0 halftime lead over Stanton in the ninth grade game Thursday.

In the third quarter, each team scored a touchdown. Plainview Red led 25-0 after its quarterback scored with a one-yard run.

Keith Brown of Stanton returned an interception 22 yards for a touchdown and also ran for the two-point conversion.

Neither team scored in the final period as Plainview Red won the game 25-8.

"What a nightmare!" ninth grade Coach James Salinas declared. "Everything we attempted to do went wrong."

"Our kicking game, defense, offense—everything was terrible. We made more mistakes than most teams make in a season. We've just got to regroup and get this game out of our minds."

In the eighth grade game, Plainview Red scored a touchdown in the first quarter and a touchdown and two-point conversion in the second quarter in defeating Stanton 14-0.

ENMU plays at East Texas, aims for 3rd straight victory

Eastern New Mexico University aims for its third straight football victory Saturday when the Greyhounds play at East Texas State University in Commerce.

Kickoff for the contest is set for 1 p.m. ENMU enters the game with a 2-3 record and East Texas State is 3-2.

Last week, ENMU defeated Cameron University 30-7, a team that East Texas State beat 14-3 the first week of the season. Cameron University is the only common opponent for both ENMU and East Texas State this season.

East Texas State's other games have been a 30-20 loss to Southern Arkansas, a 34-24 win over Northeastern Oklahoma, a 40-21 win over Sam Houston State, and a 41-13 loss to Central Oklahoma two weeks ago.

Eastern New Mexico lost its first three games of the season before defeating Texas Lutheran 27-24 and beating Cameron University.

ENMU is averaging 251 yards total offense per game, while allowing 344 yards by its opponents. East Texas State is averaging 143 yards rushing and 222 yards passing for an average of 365 yards total offense.

The Greyhounds are averaging just 62 yards passing per game, along with 189 yards rushing.

East Texas State is led by quarterback Royce Slehta who has completed 87 of 137 passes for 1,076 yards and eight touchdowns this season, with seven interceptions.

Mike Triggs, who was injured in ETSU's first game of the season, is listed as the starting quarterback for this week's game.

ENMU is led in passing by Tommy Gonzales with 485 yards in 41 completions out of 83 attempts. Gonzales had thrown four touchdown passes and two interceptions.

Danny Jackson of Kansas City throws five-hitter

Royals defeat Cardinals 6-1, stay alive in Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — So the Kansas City Royals head home again today, secure in the knowledge that they haven't won a World Series game there against the St. Louis Cardinals yet this year.

"They beat us there two games. We won two in Toronto to win the American League flag. The Cardinals won the National League pennant in Los Angeles, where everyone said they couldn't win," Kansas City relief pitcher Dan Quisenberry said. "Home hasn't meant a whole heck of a lot lately, has it?"

The Royals were down two games to none against the Cardinals before they even got to St. Louis. And they were down three games to one before they walked into Busch Memorial Stadium Thursday night.

"They beat us two out of three here," Cards catcher Tom Nieto said. "Now all we've got to do is go over there and beat 'em one out of two."

"We've got 'em right where we want 'em," pitcher Bret Saberhagen had said a couple of days ago, when he started the Royals' turnaround in Game 3 with a six-hit, 6-1 victory.

"I hope he gets another shot at them. I hope he can live up to his quotes," Manager Dick Howser said after the Royals stayed alive on Danny Jackson's five-hit, 6-1 victory Thursday night.

"I don't feel good about being down, but we've done it before. We've experienced it before," Howser said. "Now we're going home and we've got our No. 2 starter (Charlie Leibrandt) and our No. 1 starter (Saberhagen) going for us."

"It's been a good Series for us. It's got a chance to get a lot better."

"It's making a U-turn on Interstate 70, heading back to the other end of the Show-Me State. The champagne that was on ice in the St. Louis clubhouse heads westward with Cardinals, the weak-hitting Cardinals, a team with a .196 batting average through five Series games.

"We haven't hit the ball too hard off Jackson," St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog said, looking not only at the Cards' Thursday night loss but last Saturday night's 3-1 opening-game victory over him as well. "I guess we haven't hit the ball too well off anybody," Herzog said.

"Too much Danny Jackson. He pitched a very good game. He had a good cut fastball and a real good slider," Herzog added. They were, in fact, the only two pitches Jackson threw all night.

The same thing happened in Game One, when Jackson lost despite limiting St. Louis to two runs in seven innings. "We haven't done too much with him," Herzog noted.

Then he added daily, "We haven't done too much with anybody in this Series. We're just not hitting."

In five games, St. Louis has scored 12 runs and managed just 30 hits. The Cardinals are batting a nearly invisible .196 and the mystery now is how they have managed to win three games and sit just one win away from the world championship with this paltry attack.

The collective offensive coma has come at a most inopportune time because Charlie Leibrandt, the KC left-hander with a score to settle, is waiting for them in Game Six Saturday night.

It was Leibrandt, remember, who had St. Louis shut out on three hits with two out in the ninth inning of Game Two before seeing the victory vanish under a brief but effective avalanche of Cardinal hits.

Subtract the four runs and four hits St. Louis had in that one inning and the Cards' Series attack, if that's what you want to call it, measures eight runs and 26 hits in 43 innings.

That is not the stuff of which world championships are constructed.

They got only two hits that mattered Thursday night, first-inning doubles by Tommy Herr and Jack Clark that wiped out a Royals' lead built in the top of the inning on singles by Lonnie Smith and Willie Wilson, and Frank White's run-scoring groundout.

In the top of the second, Jim Sundberg hit a bat-handle looper to left. Instinctively, Tito Landrum took a step back, then charged. His head-first diving stab failed and the ball bounced past him for a double.

"The ball was hit on the fist," Herzog said. "That's the toughest ball for an outfielder to handle. I don't fault Tito for not getting to the ball."

Buddy Biancalana then singled to right. Sundberg wheeled around third. Cesar Cedeño fired home. Sundberg made a head-first dive. Nieto took the throw and dived at Sundberg.

Safe, signaled home-plate umpire

John Shulock.

Nieto, Clark and Herzog surrounded Shulock, protesting the call to no avail.

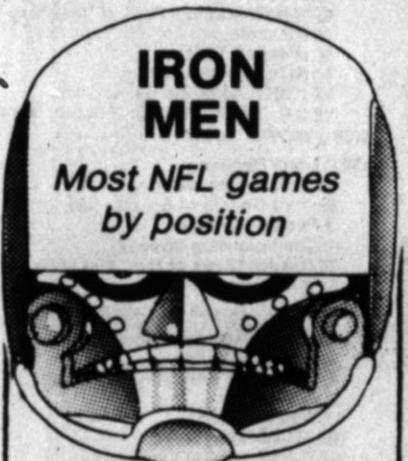

"The throw was up the line," Shulock said. "Nieto went up to get it, tagged Sundberg on the foot, but that was after Jim had touched the plate with his hand. It's a tough call. You have to watch the play and look at the plate, but I had a good angle to see everything."

Nieto saw everything differently. "I had to go a little up the line for the throw and I forced Sundberg to sort of go out of his way a little bit, and I felt that I tagged him on the hip before he got to the plate," he said. "Everything happened so fast. It sounds a little corny, I guess, but I tagged him and I had my eye on the plate, and then he tagged the plate."

Whatever it was that happened, the Royals were up 2-1. And after Jackson struck out and Lonnie Smith drew a walk, Willie Wilson tripled to right-centerfield—the last pitch by Bob Forsch—for two more runs.

They tacked on two more off Jeff Lahti, one in the eighth on shortstop Ozzie Smith's throwing error and one in the ninth on Pat Sheridan's double.

On Saturday night, Danny Cox will go against Leibrandt in a rematch of the second game, when Cox left after seven innings and the Cards beat Leibrandt with four runs in the ninth.

If the Royals can get past Cox, they'll have a chance to become the first team to win the World Series after losing the first two games at home.

All they'll have to do is beat Cardinals ace John Tudor, already a two-time winner in this Series.

They'll have their own ace going for them Sunday night.

"All I can do," Saberhagen said, "is sit, watch, root, hope, pray, talk a lot and keep myself occupied until my turn comes again."

Jack Clark would pay handsomely to find out what has happened to the St. Louis Cardinals' bats.

"We just haven't been able to hit the ball and score some runs," Clark said following St. Louis' 6-1 loss Thursday night to the Kansas City Royals in Game 5 of the World Series. "They're doing a lot of things right, and we're helping them."

Equally perplexed was outfielder Tito Landrum, whose infield hopper in the ninth was one of only five St. Louis hits.

"We've got to do what we've been doing all year long, get back to fundamental baseball and get the wood on the ball," Landrum said. "But your hat's off to the other guy. They've been doing the job. It's just a matter of the offense. We've got to make some adjustments."

Lowest of the low for St. Louis is shortstop Ozzie Smith.

"Hey, everybody would like to hit 1,000," said Smith, owner of a microscopic .063 average. "What can you do? You can't quit. We've just got to do our job."

The National League's top offensive club with a .265 regular-season average, the Cards are hitting a minuscule .196 in the World Series.

"He pitched a good ballgame. It was the second time we'd seen him,

Baseball trade may include Baylor, Fisk, five others

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A trade between the Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees hinges on Carlton Fisk and Don Baylor, a published report states.

The New York Times said the seven-player trade is contingent on the Yankees' signing of Fisk to a new contract and getting Baylor to approve a move to the White Sox.

The trade, if approved, would send Fisk, pitcher Britt Burns and utility infielder Scott Fletcher from the White Sox to the Yankees for Baylor, a designated hitter who has asked to be traded, catcher Ron Hassey and two pitchers, Joe Cowley and Marty Bystrom.

Fisk, who will turn 38 in two months, can declare for free agency the day after the World Series ends. In 1985, he had the most productive season of his 15-year major-league career, hitting 37 home runs and driving in 107 runs.

Baylor, 36, has a clause in his contract which gives him approval of any trade.

and we just didn't get anything going," Clark said of Thursday night's winning pitcher, Kansas City left-hander Danny Jackson. "I don't know if we're not hitting or their pitchers are shutting us down. It's one of the two."

While Clark's double in the first inning drove in St. Louis' lone run, the Royals feasted with 11 hits off a string of five Cards moundsmen.

"At least I, myself, got in some innings and should be sharp when we get back to Kansas City," said St. Louis reliever Jeff Lahti. "Tonight, we were a little ragged, but that could turn around."

Bob Forsch, the Cards' starter, was roughed up the most — surrendering five hits and four runs in 1 2-3 innings — but he also had shaky support.

Landrum, who has only three errors in his major-league career, made two misplays in the first two innings. One set up Frank White's RBI groundout, and the other opened the gates for three Royals runs.

"I thought he got more on it than he actually did," Landrum said of a one-out drive off the bat of Jim Sundberg that fell for a double when Landrum failed to reach it in the second inning.

"My instinct made me take a step back. Then I froze, and it was too late," Landrum said. "The ball hit my glove and bounced off."

SMU-Texas battle is SWC showdown game

By CHARLES RICHARDS
Associated Press Writer

Southern Methodist is a six-point favorite to beat 19th-ranked Texas in the showcase game of the Southwest Conference Saturday as the league race hits the halfway point.

SMU (3-2, 2-1) is unranked and prohibited from going to the Cotton Bowl because of recruiting violations, but the Mustangs are paced by two great running backs in Reggie Dupard and Jeff Atkins and have plenty of incentive against Texas (4-1, 2-0) in a 2 p.m. contest in Texas Stadium.

For one thing, the Longhorns' victories in the series the past two years were the only thing preventing SMU from representing the SWC in the last two Cotton Bowls.

For another, the Mustangs appear to be playing more relaxed after back-to-back losses to Arizona and Baylor erased hopes of a national title for SMU. The Mustangs were overpowering in drubbing Houston 37-13 last week.

Despite being unable to score a touchdown, the Longhorns hurdled a major obstacle last week when Jeff Ward's five field goals gave them a 15-13 win over Arkansas. The only other SWC team with an unblemished record in conference play is Baylor (6-1, 4-0), a 27-point favorite at home against Texas Christian (3-3, 0-3) at 2 p.m.

Other SWC games Saturday send Houston (1-5, 0-3) to 14th-ranked Arkansas (5-1, 2-1) in a 12:04 p.m. game televised on the Raycom network and Texas A&M (4-2, 2-1) to Rice (3-3, 2-1). Texas Tech (3-4, 0-4) has the week off.

Odds makers listed Arkansas as a 17-point favorite over Houston. No line was quoted on the A&M-Rice game.

SMU strong safety Keith Brooks predicted an inspired game Saturday by the Mustangs against Texas, which ended SMU's 21-game unbeaten streak in 1983 en route to an unbeaten regular season and a Cotton Bowl berth. The Ponies could have been undisputed champs last year if they had beaten Texas, but the Longhorns won, 13-7.

"It's time to shine," Brooks said. "You'll see a whole new attitude for Texas," said T.D. Briggs, another stalwart for SMU on defense.

Dupard is the nation's sixth leading rusher with 741 yards, an average of 135.4 yards per game, and is the third-highest scorer with nine touchdowns.

Other than Ward, whose nine field goals in 13 tries this season rank 14th nationally, the Longhorns' only national leaders are kick returners.

Eric Metcalf, Texas' exciting freshman, ranks sixth in punt returns, having brought back 16 for 216 yards. Norman Nunn is 10th in the nation in kickoff returns with an average of 25.2 yards on six returns.

Texas A&M suffered its first SWC loss last week when Baylor put together a late scoring drive. Despite losing SWC pass leader Mark Comander for the season with a shoulder separation early in the game, Rice claimed its second straight league win by beating Texas Tech 29-27 on James Hamrick's 57-yard field goal with 18 seconds left. The Owls, with a new-found running game, now have won three of their last four.

Cafeteria employees hear guest speaker

All employees of Hereford Independent School District cafeterias gathered Monday evening for a covered dish supper in the junior-senior cafeteria.

Frances Kerr, manager, and other employees served as hostesses to the 73 employees and 12 guests present.

Trudie Gray, cafeteria supervisor, extended a welcome to all present and introduced the guest speaker, Bob Kennedy of Canyon, area supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Health.

Kennedy held a question and answer session answering questions concerning sanitation "do's and don't's".

"Why Food Spoils—Molds, Yeast and Bacteria" and "Food Preparation and Hand Washing Kitchen Utensils" were the films presented during the training course in food service sanitation conducted by Kennedy. More questions and answers followed.

The next meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 18 in the junior-senior cafeteria hosted by Northwest cafeteria employees.

Sharon Pennington, a deputy of Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department, will present the program.

Upcoming events discussed by Rebekah Lodge members

Noble Grand Kee Ruland reminded members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228 of upcoming events when the group met in regular session Tuesday evening.

She said that toys should be brought to the next meeting for the toy walk at the Rotary Club's annual Halloween carnival.

Also, it was announced that the Oct. 29th meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. and members were reminded that this will be a Halloween costume party.

Recommendations were made for Fern Davis, Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge No. 114, be named as District Deputy President for 1986 and Lydia Hospon as lodge deputy.

Members were thanked for assisting at the recent chili supper.

Jo Irlbeck served as hostess to David and Karrol Rettman, Guy and Bessie Lawrence, Susie Curtsinger, Edna Mathes, Beth Hall, Thama Pearson, Anna Conklin, Irene Merritt, Faye Brownlow, Ursalee Jacobsen, Peggy Lemons, Ada Hollabaugh and Lydia Hopson.

Sorority welcomes two new members recently

Marcy Hughes and Elizabeth Jesko were welcomed as new members when Alpha Iota Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met recently in the home of hostess Holly Bixler. Nancy George served as co-hostess.

Jeff and Kathy Love, music director and children's ministers, presented a program on child rearing by performing a skit entitled, "The Little Kids."

A baby shower was given to chapter member Carol Kelley and son, Christopher.

During the business meeting, plans were discussed for the upcoming Valentine's Ball and Founder's Day.

Also, thank you's were expressed by Lisa Gelatt, Ruby Sanders, Cindy Garth, Carol Kelley, Bixler and Janis White.

It was announced that AIM's scrapbook won second place and the yearbook received third place rating at the Panhandle Area convention in Dumas.

The next meeting will be Nov. 7 with rituals conducted Nov. 19.

Members present included Bixler, George, Connie Matthews, Sanders, Jackie Fangman, Lou Ann Eubanks, Marge Bell, Garth, White, Hughes, Jesko, Kelley and Dona Hendrickson.

Johnson presents program about Texas wildflowers

Mrs. Ray Johnson presented a program on Texas wildflowers when members of Summerfield Study Club met recently in her home.

The hostess showed slides and told the localities that wildflowers are best suited.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Jerry Lance. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. J.R. Euler and the Pledge to the Texas Flag was led by Mrs. L.B.

Lookingbill.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Thurman Atchley and the treasurer's report was given by Euler.

Johnson served refreshments to Mrs. Mack Noland, Lance, George De Lozier, Lookingbill, Euler, and Atchley.

Maria Escamille was welcomed as a guest.
