HHS helping math troubles

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Hereford High School students who have had problems with the math portion of the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS) tests are receiving special help under a new program at the school.

HHS Principal Terry Russell explained the program to the Hereford school board at the board's regular monthly meeting Tuesday at the HISD administration building.

Russell said 80 percent of the students who have failed the mathematics portion of the test began high school in fundamentals of math, consumer math or pre-algebra. "They haven't had the exposure they need to algebra or geometry to pass the test," Russell explained.

Students must pass all three sections of the test (math and two sections on language arts) to graduate from Texas high schools. Students who fail the test the first time it is given, during the fall of their junior year, have another chance to take the test their junior year and two opportunities their senior year.

Russell said 47 of this year's seniors who failed the math section have been enrolled in special classes taught by Karen Abney and Adele Clements. "Now, we have just 14 who have not passed the test," Russell said. With those students' problems addressed, the teachers are now helping juniors and others who have had problems with the test.

The teachers address the objectives on the test during a special class taught the first period each day. Another class has also been started for sophomores who failed the freshman-level test, and other sophomores who have had problems recognized by teachers.

"It has been rewarding for us," said Clements. "The students have gained competence and confidence."

The board also reviewed the 1990-91 audit report presented by Chris Leonard of Gerhardt and Puckett of Hereford.

Leonard said the firm gave the school district a "clean" opinion in the audit letter.

The audit showed the district had a $450,000 shortfall in revenues from the state because of pro-rated stipends from the Texas Education Agency. HISD also was $137,000 under budget on expenditures.

The board honored Agnes Betzen and Terry Connally as employees of the month and accepted the resignations of HHS teacher Scott Caulkins, who has been accepted to pharmacy school at the University of Texas, and Shirley teacher Delia Contreras. Both resignations are effective at the end of the fall semester.

Schools hit hard by flu HJH suffers the most Hereford's public schools are reeling with the flu, with high absentee rates reported Monday and Tuesday.

Hereford Superintendent Charles Greenawalt said Tuesday the district had 486 students and 40 teachers miss school Monday, and 489 students and 34 teachers having to miss school Tuesday.

Most of the students and teachers, said Greenawalt, are suffering with a new strain of flu which has struck most of Texas and New Mexico.

Hereford Junior High has been hit hardest, with 120 students missing school Monday and Tuesday. HJH reported six teachers out sick Monday and 12 teachers having to miss Tuesday. Hereford High School had 90 students miss school each day Monday and Tuesday, with 10 teachers out Monday and 5 teachers missing Tuesday.

West Central was the hardest-hit elementary school, with 73 students out Monday and 82 out Tuesday.

Greenawalt said the high absentee rate could hurt HISD and other area schools in the pocketbook. The Texas Education Agency reimburses schools for their average daily attendance (ADA), and the absentees cost the school district about $12 a day for each day they miss.

Hereford could be in better shape because the district is treated special by the TEA. The TEA will allow Hereford to count its best four six weeks for ADA purposes because of the district's high migrant population. Other districts in the Panhandle that have reported high absenteeism because of illness could suffer severe financial problems because most others must count county attendance for each day of the school year.

Out of School

Hereford schools have been hit hard by the "flu bug" which is going around in Hereford.

	Monday	Tuesday
Aikman Primary	42	40
Bluebonnet Int.	25	35
West Central Int.	73	82
Northwest Pri.	68	72
Shirley Int.	28	22
Tierra Blanca Pri.	40	28
Junior High	120	120
High School	90	90
Total	486	489

The district also reported 43 teachers out Monday and 34 teachers missing Tuesday with illness.

Task force meets over prison proposal

David Hernandez, Don Graham, Lewis McDaniel and Gerald Gamboa look over part of a planned proposal for a state prison during a meeting Tuesday at Hereford City Hall. The task force and various committees are facing a Jan. 15 deadline to come up with a proposal.

Roach, two others indicted in Canyon

CANYON (AP) - Three former West Texas State University administrators routinely used funds intended for student scholarships and other endowments to cover shortfalls in the school budget, a grand jury report says.

Former West Texas State President Ed Roach, former Vice President for Finance and Administrative Services Clarence Thompson and University Controller Gary Barnes were indicted Tuesday in state district court on a charge of misapplication of fiduciary property over $10,000. The charge dates back to 1986.

The grand jury also criticized school leaders for mismanaging funds donated by Dallas businessman T. Boone Pickens, who served as West Texas State's board chairman in the late 1980s.

Roach and Barnes did not return repeated phone calls to their offices Tuesday by The Associated Press. Thompson could not be reached for comment.

Gary Byrd, who served as West Texas State's faculty senate president at the end of Roach's tenure, criticized Roach.

Byrd recalled Tuesday a vote of "no-confidence" in Roach by more than 80 percent of the school's faculty in 1986.

"The indictments simply confirm what we have known since 1986," Byrd said. "The faculty knew there were problems and knew there were some changes being made that didn't fit."

The indictments reopen a chapter in the school's history plagued by allegations of financial mismanagement, including a state audit's revelation in Oct. 1990 that the school might have used state funds to cover up shortfalls in the athletic program.

The school was forced to disband its football program this year due to lack of finances.

"Using money intended for other purposes to cover shortfalls in the athletic program was probably the biggest problem," said Randall County Criminal District Attorney Randy Sherrad. "There were other deficits they attempted to use these funds to cover too."

Lynda Tinsley, director of West Texas State's financial aid office, and students who might have received scholarship funds are listed in the indictments as the persons harmed by the men's suspected criminal activity.

Mrs. Tinsley, whose phone number in Canyon is unlisted, could not immediately be reached for comment.

Sherrad said the offenses are second-degree felonies, punishable by two to 20 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

"We are not worried about a high bond because we don't feel these men will run to avoid prosecution," Sherrad said.

Sherrad said the grand jury's investigation showed a history of fiscal mismanagement at the school under Roach's leadership.

"Beginning in 1986, the practice by those indicted of using restricted funds held in trust to finance the day to day operation of the university became commonplace," the grand jury said in a six-page report.

Roach stepped down as West Texas State president after 6 1/2 years on Dec. 31, 1990 to become associate deputy chancellor for academic program planning with the Texas A&M University System in College Station.

West Texas State joined the A&M System Sept. 1, 1990.

"I want to emphasize that action has already been taken to implement appropriate control and oversight to ensure that all funds are adequately protected and accounted for," Ed Davis, executive deputy chancellor of the A&M System, said Tuesday in a prepared statement.

"The state Auditor (Lawrence Alwin) completed an audit this past summer, and we received high marks for having fully restored fiscal controls at WTSU," Davis said.

A state audit released in April said apparent mismanagement while Roach was president cost West Texas State the chance to increase a $1.5 million endowment from Pickens and his company, Mesa Limited Partnership.

Anderson gets big welcome

NEW YORK (AP) - Returning home to a hero's welcome after almost a week celebrating his freedom, former hostage Terry Anderson vowed his next goal is to begin celebrating his life.

Anderson said his immediate plans were to "run away from all you people and hide for awhile. I'm going to find a beach, where it's sunny, and try to get rid of this prison pallor."

He planned to spend his first Christmas in seven years with relatives and friends.

Anderson, 44, made his remarks in the main newsroom of The Associated Press headquarters Tuesday before cheering colleagues and an enormous yellow and black banner reading "TERRY... FREE!"

"I knew I'd get a welcome, but I didn't think it would be anything like this," he said. As he passed a bulletin board festooned with photos of himself, he smiled and said, "I can grin bigger than that."

Some colleagues who greeted Anderson appeared more choked up than he did.

"When I saw him in person, in the flesh outside the building here, up close, it just blew me away," said veteran AP reporter Richard Pyle, who worked with Anderson in Japan and the Middle East and who wore a bracelet bearing Anderson's name until his release.

"It was like nothing else ... because I was able to touch him and say 'Hello, Terry' directly," Pyle said.

Anderson was AP's chief Middle East correspondent when he was kidnapped in Beirut on March 16, 1985. He was freed Dec. 4 by his Islamic Jihad captors.

He arrived in New York Tuesday after recuperating at a U.S. military hospital in Wiesbaden, Germany. Doctors there pronounced him in excellent health.

"This is my homecoming," Anderson told reporters at Kennedy Airport, where he was introduced by AP President Louis D. Boccardi and received a key to the city from Mayor David Dinkins. "This is where my people are."

He also was welcomed by family members and the Rev. Lawrence Jenco, a former hostage.

Anderson was driven by limousine to AP headquarters to take what his boss called "the empty chair at AP's table." He walked into the arms of Deputy International Editor Nick Tatro, his predecessor in Beirut.

"I saw him a few days before he was kidnapped, and then to see him all of a sudden in such good shape, just like I left him, was just astounding," Tatro said. "I expected to see somebody who was perhaps ... damaged goods as a result of this."

Jim Watson, an International Desk editor, was one of hundreds of AP employees who gathered outside the news agency's building at Rockefeller Plaza to greet Anderson, his daughter Sulome and her mother, Madeleine Bassil.

"I was as worried as I could be about him, but I always thought he'd make it," said Watson, who supervised Anderson on the desk two decades ago.

The crowd, including many people wearing buttons with Anderson's photo, shouted "Terry! Terry!" as he arrived with a police escort.

"WELCOME HOME TERRY" read a banner strung outside the building; yellow balloons bounced in the air; the Rockefeller Center Christmas tree gleamed down the block.

Anderson hugged, kissed and shook the hands of his well-wishers. "It's a real thrill to know that he is back," said Frank Crepeau, assistant international editor. "He seems to have carried off the whole thing very gallantly."

Anderson, who grew up in Batavia, N.Y., was the last American hostage released and was held the longest.

Two Germans remain held in Lebanon, and about 300 Lebanese remain held by Israel or its proxy militia in southern Lebanon.

Hicks will lead Demos

Donald Hicks, well-known county farmer and former county commissioner, was elected Monday as Democratic County Chairman for Deaf Smith County.

The precinct chairs of the county Democratic Party met Monday to fill the position. Lloyd Newton had resigned after the elections last year.

Attending the meeting were Nancy Hill, precinct 1; Deniz Pulliam, Pct. 3; Roddy Glenn Allred, Pct. 5; John A. Smith, Pct. 6; Gerald Parker, Pct. 7; Eldred A. Brown, Pct. 8, and Helen Rose, former county leader. Rumaldo Garcia is precinct 2 chairman, while precincts 4 (north of town) and 9 (Bippus) are not filled.

As Demo county chair, Hicks will accept applications for candidates wishing to file in the Democratic primary here in March.

EC reaches new accord

MAASTRICHT, Netherlands (AP) - European Community leaders early today overcame deep divisions to reach an accord on establishing a loose political federation with a common foreign policy and a single currency by 1999.

In a last-minute compromise heading off the two-day summit's collapse, Britain was granted escape clauses on currency and labor policies, but EC officials said they expect London to eventually become a full participant.

The 12 EC nations decided to give up some of their individual sovereignty and forge a single economy of 338 million people in order to better cope with increasing competition from the Japan-led Pacific Basin and a trading bloc forming between the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Member nations had already agreed to drop internal trade barriers by 1993.

The community's new constitution, replacing its founding 1957 document, is to be signed in early February then ratified by member nations' parliaments by the end of next year.

"We have created a European union," President Francois Mitterrand of France declared as the grueling summit ended after midnight in this ancient Dutch town near the German border.

"Maastricht stands as a decisive breakthrough for Europe," said German Chancellor Helmut Kohl. He said the accord should help to dispel concern over a resurgent unified Germany by firmly anchoring his country into the EC.

GOP goes to court over redistricting

AUSTIN (AP) - Republicans have attacked Texas redistricting plans in state and federal courts, hoping to substitute maps the GOP has prepared for next year's legislative and congressional elections.

The Texas Supreme Court took one challenge under advisement Tuesday, while a hearing continues this week before a three-judge federal panel.

"We're trying for relief for everybody - for our Mexican American plaintiffs, our black plaintiffs, our Republican plaintiffs," said John McCamish, attorney in the GOP-led lawsuits.

Several minority rights groups, however, are backing plans that they already have worked out with state leaders.

In the Supreme Court, McCamish argued Tuesday that Attorney General Dan Morales overstepped his authority by negotiating a settlement with minority rights groups on Senate districts.

That settlement was approved by State District Judge Mario Ramirez in Edinburg, who had ruled plans passed by the Legislature violated minority rights. McCamish said the state judge also exceeded his power in approving the settlement.

State leaders just sent a similar House settlement plan that was approved Monday by Ramirez to the Justice Department, hoping it also will win federal approval.

The Justice Department already has approved the Senate settlement plan and a congressional redistricting plan passed this year by the Legislature. Justice threw out a House plan approved by the Legislature, saying it discriminated against Hispanics.

Assistant Attorney General Renea Hicks defended Morales' right to enter into settlements and told the Supreme Court that such action is preferable to handing the matter to a federal court.

Hicks said of the Republicans, "They want to walk down the street ... and ask the federal court to impose on the state an election plan."

Justices closely questioned lawyers concerning the redistricting powers of state and federal courts, the attorney general and the Legislature. The court did not immediately rule in the case.

McCamish said that federal court intervention is currently the only legal avenue for imposing a new redistricting plan.

A three-judge federal panel in Austin began a hearing Tuesday on the Republicans' effort to have candidates for the 1992 elections run from districts drawn by the GOP.

Republicans have said that plans adopted by the Legislature violate the Voting Rights Act, split communities of interest and are the result of political gerrymandering.

Federal court testimony started with the House plan. Parties on both sides say the hearing is expected to last through the week.

A lawyer who helped prepare the Republican-backed House plan, Mary Anne Wyatt, said that drafters did not discriminate against Democrats or minorities. She said the plan was not drawn with the intention of maximizing GOP election chances.

Private car rate freeze urged board

AUSTIN (AP) - A state consumer council is urging insurance regulators not to approve an increase in rates for private passenger cars.

Public Counsel Amy Johnson also recommended a 5 percent hike in commercial auto rates, compared with industry recommendations she pegged at 43.8 percent.

"It's time we hold the line on auto rates and not subject Texas drivers and businesses to dramatic changes in their auto premiums every time they turn around," Ms. Johnson said.

"A rate freeze is going to actually penalize those people that they are supposed to be helping. If you look at other states that have mandated a rate freeze, insurance companies have been much less willing to continue freely writing insurance than they were in the past," said Jerry Johns of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service.

"Essentially, it creates a problem of availability - and that does not benefit the consumer," Johns said.

The State Board of Insurance has scheduled hearings to begin Dec. 16 on auto rates.

In a proposal filed Tuesday, the public counsel suggested that the board establish a "benchmark" private passenger auto rate at the current state rate and allow rates to vary from 15 percent above that line to 30 percent below it.

Ms. Johnson said two major auto insurers have proposed rate increases of 9.8 percent and 11.7 percent, with the option of exceeding or dropping 30 percent from those standards.

Air Force commits $720 million on parts for still-unbuilt planes

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Air Force has spent at least $720 million on parts for B-2 stealth bombers that may never be built, and the 1992 defense bill President Bush signed last week permits spending hundreds of millions more.

The Air Force committed the money in advance on the assumption that Congress eventually would finance 75 of the radar-evading planes. That assumption now looks highly doubtful; thus, the parts may become spares or never be used at all.

For two years running, Congress has refused to let the Air Force buy additional B-2s beyond the 15 already in the pipeline. Many in Congress doubt the need for more bombers, which at $865 million a copy are the most expensive planes ever built.

The Air Force says B-2s are needed to replace aging B-52 strategic bombers.

As of last September, the Air Force had committed at least $720 million for advance purchases of components and materials that congressional investigators say are intended for use in 17 more B-2s than Congress has authorized.

And if the Air Force carries out its original plan for B-2 production work in the current budget year it will have parts for 32 more planes than are authorized, according to the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress.

Maj. Gen. Stephen B. Croker, who oversees the B-2 acquisition program for the Air Force, said in an interview Monday that the Air Force would not decide until January how to spend the $1.8 billion Congress approved for B-2 procurement in 1992.

He indicated that some amount of the $1.8 billion would be spent on B-2s not yet authorized. Croker defended the practice as consistent with Congress' intent.

The fiscal 1992 defense authorization bill that Congress passed in November and President Bush signed last Friday does not tell the Air Force how to use the $1.8 billion beyond saying the money is for "procurement, including advance procurement."

That means the money could be used for work on the planes now under construction or it could go for advance work on planes beyond the authorized 15.

Sen. Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., a leading opponent of the B-2, said he was "stunned" to discover that the defense bill permitted the advance purchases.

"The Pentagon will argue that we have the parts - why not put them together?" Leahy said. "And Congress will buy more B-2s unless this nonsense stops now."

The fiscal 1990 defense bill earmarked $425 million for spending on B-2s not yet authorized for assembly, and the 1991 bill provided $295 million for that purpose.

Croker said Congress had made it clear in 1990 that it wanted the Air Force to commit money in advance for work on planes beyond the authorized 15 in order to limit price increases for parts and to make the production line efficient.

The 1992 defense bill was "deliberately crafted to permit us to use the funds however necessary to protect the program, prevent unreasonable cost growth and to protect options for the future," the general said.

Mideast negotiators continue talking

WASHINGTON (AP) - Israeli and Palestinian negotiators are taking another stab at settling a niggling procedural dispute that threatens to trip up already unsteady Mideast peace talks.

The first day of talks Tuesday brought Israel and Syria, two of the region's most implacable enemies, to a State Department negotiating table for more than three hours. Each side accused the other afterward of intransigence, but both agreed to keep talking today.

Israeli and Lebanese delegates held two negotiating sessions Tuesday and planned to meet again today. Israel proposed that Lebanon sign a peace treaty; Lebanon asked that Israel pull its troops out of a buffer zone against terrorist infiltrations.

Israel promised it would - if Syria removes its 40,000 troops from Lebanon and arrangements are made to guarantee the security of Israel's northern border.

But ironically, it was the negotiations where most progress had been predicted that proved most unyielding.

After meeting for more than five hours; the heads of the Israeli, Palestinian and Jordanian delegations failed to break an impasse over a Palestinian demand to negotiate with Israel in a separate room from the Jordanians.

Israel insists on negotiating jointly with Palestinians and Jordanians, who form one delegation, although Israel is willing to break up the talks into subcommittees. The Palestinians say they are a people, not a subcommittee, and they insist on separate talks.

Israeli negotiator Elyakim Rubinstein said at day's end that differences remain, but "I think we narrowed the gap. ... I believe the gap is bridgeable."

"They think if we are asking for a separate room we are asking for a separate state," said Hanan Ashrawi, the Palestinian spokeswoman.

On that, at least, Israel agreed. The Palestinians, said Israeli spokesman Benjamin Netanyahu, are trying "through procedure to force independent statehood." Israel objects to an independent Palestinian state on the West Bank and Gaza Strip, which it captured in the 1967 Mideast war.

The United States rejected an appeal from the Palestinians to intervene. But a U.S. official expressed concern that unless the impasse was broken, the dispute could hamper progress on other fronts.

Jordan's spokesman, Marwan Muasher, said that if the sides are unable to resolve the dispute, the other Arab delegations would meet to decide how to proceed.

For the time being, the three delegation leaders confined their discussions to a pale-blue sofa in a State Department hallway, with Rubinstein in the middle. "Corridor diplomacy," was how Ashrawi described it.

At the Palestinians' hotel, several officials closely affiliated with the Palestine Liberation Organization were reporting blow-by-blow to the organization's headquarters in Tunis. Israel has refused to include the PLO in the talks, calling it a terrorist organization.

The delegates all live under Israeli occupation and stand to gain from progress in the talks, which are designed to lead to self-rule for 1.7 million Palestinians in all aspects of their daily lives.

Substance was discussed, however, with Syria, although neither side budged from its known positions: Syria insisting on a total Israeli withdrawal from the Golan Heights, captured in 1967; Israel insisting on a Syrian commitment to sign a peace treaty.

Chief Syrian negotiator Muwaffak Allaf said the Israelis had tried "to talk about everything except for withdrawal from territories, rejecting the possibility of land for peace."

But Netanyahu said "you don't solve nearly a century of conflict with two hours of negotiations."

Obituaries

GEORGE R. JOWELL Dec. 9, 1991

George R. Jowell, 80, former longtime Hereford resident, died Monday in Dallas. He had lived in Kingsland since 1973.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Waldrope-Hatfield Funeral Home in Kingsland with burial in Lakeland Hills Memorial Park there.

Mr. Jowell, a native of Hereford, was a retired farmer. He lived here until moving to Kingsland. He was a Hereford volunteer fireman for many years and was a member of the Christian Church and Masonic Lodge.

Survivors are his wife, Betty Jowell; a son, Bud Jowell of Hereford; a daughter, Kay Cortello of Dallas; two brothers, Richard Jowell of Kingsland and Henry Jowell of Camarillo, Cal.; two sisters, Inez Brown of Carson, Cal., and Louise Roberson of Friona; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Museum celebrates Christmas

The Deaf Smith County Museum is celebrating the Christmas season by decorating parts of the museum to depict early day Christmas. The museum decorated the tree with hand strung popcorn and cranberries. The tree is adorned with antique ornaments dating back to the 1900s and with original candles and candle holders.

Common cold cured with honey, vinegar

Believe it or not, colds and the flu can be contained or controlled for pennies a day.

Many people are surprised to learn that the daily intake of two common pantry shelf items, such as raw, pure honey and apple cider vinegar, are capable of performing this task.

Even Hippocrates, the father of modern medicine, prescribed vinegar and honey to his patients 24 centuries ago.

In his book, "Arthritis and Folk Medicine," Dr. D.C. Jarvis tell us that he and his wife used honey and vinegar for 30 years - their daughter for 18 years; and that all three remained resistant to disease, free of colds and rarely ill.

The addition of crystallized vitamin C to this formula reinforces further this do-it-yourself solution that is also capable for preventing the onset of other threatening diseases.

Little known facts - Honey and vinegar are bactericides! Combined, they contain more than 30 nutrients, many of them essential, and all in proportion. This nature-made package contains numerous minerals, vitamins, enzymes and acids.

In 165, Dr. Lavie and Professor Remy from the Paris Institute of Bee Research discovered that bees manufacture six antibiotics as well as honey.

Twice-honored Nobel Prize Laureate, Dr. Lunus Pauling, tells us that the common cold occurs more often than all other diseases combined, and may be followed by severe complications such as bronchitis, sinus infection, mid-ear infection, mastoids, meningitis, bronchopneumonia, or the exacerbation of other diseases such as arthritis, kidney and heart disease. He also says that vitamin C is a formidable foe.

The synergistic action of honey, vinegar and vitamin C provides an environment hostile to harmful pathogens and more specifically bacteria and rhinoviruses which harbor the cold bug.

The cold and flu season is upon us, so not is the time to act. At the first sign of an impending cold or case of the flu, the formula should immediately be put to work and supplemented with plenty of rest and as many catnaps as possible. Strenuous exercise should be restricted and hot tea (no caffeine) wit honey, lemon and one third teaspoon (2000 mgs) of vitamin C should be consumed. This allows mother nature to collect her fighting strength and to lash back at foreign intruders. (It is advisable to consult your physician is you suspect a medical problem.)

Lady Whitefaces edge Frenship in Wolfforth

The Lady Whitefaces basketball team beat Frenship 44-43 on the Lady Tigers own floor Tuesday night, while Hereford's boys' team had a rough night in Dimmitt and fell 81-49.

Coach Dickie Faught called the girls' win "definitely our biggest win of the year."

"I know it's only our third (they're now 3-8), but Frenship's definitely a better team than Palo Duro or Dunbar. They're not as good as the other teams we've played but they're a tough team on their own floor."

Three-point shots were the edge for Hereford, as Jennifer Bullard hit four from long range and led all scorers with 20 points. Kara Sandoval hit three treys, and she totalled 12 points.

The game was close the whole way though Hereford had a tough second quarter, scoring only five points.

"They changed defense on us," Faught said. "They went to a zone: a 1-2-2 we had seen very little of. We struggled through the quarter until we could talk about how we wanted to attack it." The Herd fell behind 24-22 after the second quarter, but got things worked out during halftime and outscored Frenship 13-10 in the third to retake the lead.

Hereford led 44-39 going into the final minute after Sandoval hit a free throw (she had seven of Hereford's nine points in the period). Frenship scored a basket to close within one, then fouled Misty Dudley, who missed her free throw. Frenship then had six seconds to try to score.

"They got the ball to the wing and tried to get it to the post," Faught said. "Bullard kind of reached out and got a hand on it, and while the ball was rolling around on the floor, the buzzer went off."

The girls junior varsity lost to Frenship, 50-38, despite Katie Young's 12 points.

The varsity plays in the Denver City tournament this weekend. They'll meet Stanton, a 2A school, at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

The boys' varsity was blitzed by Dimmitt, which is the third-ranked team in the state in Class 3A. The Bobcats got 51 points from fast break opportunities.

"Our transition defense just killed us," Hereford coach Jimmy Thomas, whose team is now 1-6. "They broke on us real bad. We've got to fix that. "We had some pleasant surprises," Thomas said. "I thought Eric Sims played well. He had eight points, a lot of rebounds, a couple blocked shots."

Chad Sandoval led the Herd with 11 points, followed by Sean Smith with 10 and Leo Brown with nine. Lincoln Stewart scored 23 for the Bobcats, and Miguel Saucedo helped with 14.

Dimmitt used its press defense to turn a small lead into a 20-point lead in a short span of the second quarter and led 42-21 at the half. Hereford had several turnovers in that stretch, plus "we weren't hitting some shots that we should have," Thomas said.

The Herd junior varsity won big, 71-52 over the JV Bobcats.

The varsity boys play in a tournament in Abernathy this weekend, starting with a 10 a.m. game Thursday against Floydada.

Smulyan: M's can't survive Seattle

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) - The major league owners gathered today at the winter meetings to hear more stern warnings from commissioner Fay Vincent about the game's financial future.

They actually got a preview on Tuesday when Seattle owner Jeff Smulyan outlined why he must sell the Mariners and how the small markets can't compete.

Whitey Herzog, however, moved to get the California Angels back into competition in the AL West by signing Chuck Finley to a four-year deal for $18.5 million, acquiring Hubie Brooks from the New York Mets for Dave Gallagher and getting reliever Chuck Crim from Milwaukee for two minor league pitchers.

Herzog made the first trade of the meetings on Sunday when he acquired Von Hayes from Philadelphia. He's far from finished, either.

"I would like to sign Otis Nixon," Herzog said. "And we want to resign Kirk McCaskill. If I can't sign him, we will go after another pitcher, like Rick Sutcliffe."

Aside from all of Herzog's doings, the undercurrent at the meetings is a message that some of the big money being paid out might decrease after the 1993 season when the contracts with CBS and ESPN expire.

Smulyan's problems are a little different. He wasn't able to get enough revenue from local media to make it work in Seattle.

The Mariners make a major league low $1.5 million from their media deals. Meanwhile, the New York Yankees are paid $43 million annually for their cable TV rights.

"There are going to be three or four clubs this year that will have a payroll larger than our total revenue," general manager Woody Woodward said.

"Our most prosperous club generates in excess of $100 million a year, while at the end of the revenue spectrum there is a club whose annual revenues are less than $40 million,"

Vincent said.

Last Friday, Smulyan announced that the Mariners were up for sale for $100 million. Local buyers, with perhaps financial assistance from the city government, have 120 days to buy the club.

If local ownership does not come forth in that period, Smulyan would have to give a notice to vacate. He has not done that so far.

There have already been rumors that if local ownership is not found in Seattle, the team will move to St. Petersburg, Fla.

It would cost St. Petersburg about $30 million less than the $95 million in expansion fees paid by Miami and Denver. The Marlins and Rockies, who start play in 1993, will also have to spend another $35 million in start-up costs.

NL owners on Tuesday discussed their options concerning realignment and scheduling as a result of expansion. There's a possibility of a change in the makeup of the divisions involving St. Louis, Chicago, Atlanta and Cincinnati.

"We discussed realignment and we hope to know soon whether we will realign," NL president Bill White said. "There are some financial problems for both Chicago and St. Louis ... how it will affect their broadcasting."

A switch to the NL West would mean less TV broadcasts in prime time since there would be more games against San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

In other transactions on Tuesday, Philadelphia signed free agent infielder Mariano Duncan to a two-year deal for $4.5 million. Cleveland traded catching prospect Ed Taubensee and right-hander Willie Blair to Houston for outfielder Kenny Lofton and infielder Dave Rohde.

San Francisco continues to shop Kevin Mitchell and free agent Danny Tartabull narrowed his choices, with the Chicago White Sox leading the way.

Mitchell becomes a Mariner

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Kevin Mitchell, one of the best power hitters in baseball, was traded today from the San Francisco Giants to the Seattle Mariners in a five-player deal.

The trade was made following four late-night meetings between the teams, and came two days after it was announced that criminal charges would not be filed against Mitchell who was arrested and booked last month for investigation of rape, battery and false imprisonment.

Mitchell, 29, has hit 104 home runs in the last three years. He hit 27 homers with 69 RBIs and batted .256 while being limited to 113 games by a groin pull.

For Mitchell and pitcher Mike Remlinger, the Giants received pitchers Bill Swift, Mike Jackson and Dave Burba.

"When the Giants came to the winter meetings, the quest was pitching," Giants general manager Al Rosen said. "We'll miss Kevin, who was a tremendous bat for us."

Mitchell was MVP of the National League in 1989 when he hit 47 home runs with 125 RBIs.

All-District: 6 Herd gridgers make 1st team

Monroe Timberlake
Senior defensive tackle
First team

Facts: Made 94 tackles (second on the team), 18 for losses, and four sacks. Also was first-team All-District in 1990.

Coach Danny Haney says: "Monroe was the heart of our defense. He came off a great junior year, improved and was as good a defensive player as there was in the district. There's not a player we've ever had that's played harder than Monroe. He played hard all the time."

Derek Mason
Senior defensive end
First team

Facts: Made 43 tackles, eight for losses, with three sacks. Saw his first varsity defensive action midway through the season. Served as team captain. Was second-team All-District as a tight end in 1990.

Haney says: "Derek was an outstanding player for us defensively. He anchored the strong side, which made us a pretty good defensive team. Derek provided great leadership during the off-season and during the season. He's very intense and a hard worker."

Richard Sanderson
Junior safety
First team

Facts: Made 80 tackles (third on the team). Intercepted three passes and defended seven.

Haney says: "Throughout the year, Richard did a great job at free safety. He continually made plays against the pass and the run. He was a good field general out there; he knew what was going on."

Leo Brown
Senior tailback
First team

Facts: Gained 1,577 rushing yards on 282 carries. That's good for the Hereford single-season rushing record, and was the fourth highest total in Texas (Class 4A). Also is Hereford's lone candidate for the all-state team. Served as team captain.

Haney says: "Leo was outstanding all year. He was tough and durable and can see the defense really well. He was the best back in the district. He gave us the opportunity for the big play every time he touched the ball."

Michael Campos
Senior offensive tackle
First team

Facts: Graded out at 89 percent; had 28 pancake blocks; allowed only one sack.

Haney says: "Michael was probably our steadiest player and definitely our most improved player. That speaks for what's in his heart: he wanted (to improve) really bad."

T.J. Samples
Senior offensive guard
First team

Facts: Graded out at 87 percent; had 32 pancake blocks; allowed only three sacks. Served as team captain.

Haney says: "T.J. is all-district because he's a great team player. He did lots of things for us. He anchored our line and gave us an opportunity to dominate."

Harvesters lead lists

To the victor go the spoils. That maxim was held up by the number of players from District 1-4A champion Pampa who made the all-district football teams, which were announced this week. The announcement was delayed because of Pampa's three playoff wins, but the Harvesters' season ended Saturday with a 19-12 loss to Sweetwater in the regional finals in Lubbock.

Harvesters claimed 21 of the 54 spots on the first and second offensive and defensive teams. In addition, Player of the Year honors went to senior linebacker/fullback Zach Thomas.

Coach of the Year honors went to Stocky Lamberson of Randall, who turned a winless 1990 squad into a 6-5 playoff participant in '91.

Randall, which finished second in the district, placed eight players on the teams, four on the first team. Borger put eight players on the teams, including two first-teamers, and Dumas had seven honorees, three on the first team. Caprock had one player make the second team.

FIRST TEAM

Center: Chad Augustine, Pampa, Sr, 6-5, 200.

Guard: T.J. Samples, Hereford, Sr, 6-3, 280; Matt Clark, Pampa, Jr, 6-1, 230.

Tackle: Michael Campos, Hereford, Sr, 5-8, 200; (tie) Chris Whitney, Pampa, Jr, 6-4, 260; Chris Cook, Randall, Sr, 6-3, 260.

Tight end: Jay Grosfield, Dumas, Sr, 6-4, 230.

Wide receiver: Anthony Benson, Randall, Sr, 6-3, 185; Doug Richardson, Randall, Sr, 6-1, 175.

Quarterback: Brandon Barker, Randall, Jr, 6-1, 175.

Running backs: Leo Brown, Hereford, Sr, 6-2, 195; Sammy Laury, Pampa, Sr, 6-2, 180; Zach Thomas, Pampa, Sr, 6-1, 225.

Kicker: Todd McCavit, Pampa, Sr, 6-1, 180.

Defense

Tackle: Monroe Timberlake, Hereford, Sr, 5-10, 235; Grosfield, Dumas; Kurt West, Pampa, Jr, 5-8, 200.

End: Derek Mason, Hereford, Sr, 6-2, 215; Phillip Sexton, Pampa, Sr, 6-2, 235.

Linebacker: Thomas, Pampa; Justin Johnson, Pampa, Jr, 6-3, 190; Jason Cecil,

Eric Sims
Junior linebacker
Second team

Facts: Made 106 tackles to lead the Herd defense. Added three tackles for losses, one sack and even defended two passes.

Haney says: "Eric was one of the most improved players—with every game, he got better. By the end of the year, he was as good a linebacker as there was in the district."

Mark Kriegshauser
Senior defensive end
Second team

Facts: Made 72 tackles (fourth on the team), had eight tackles for losses and four sacks. Served as team captain.

Haney says: "Mark provided great leadership; he was a returning starter. He didn't get a lot of action because they didn't run to the weak side very much, but he was an anchor on that side. He was truly a force in district play. He was the difference in several big plays."

Ramiro Garza
Junior center
Second team

Facts: Had 39 pancake blocks and allowed only three sacks. Snapped left-handed after injury to right hand.

Haney says: "Ramiro started out at tackle. We moved him to center, and he did a great job. His attitude, his heart, and his desire enabled him to be a great football player."

Dumas, Sr, 5-10, 190.
Cornerback: Dave Davis, Pampa, Jr, 6-0, 180; Ronald Knighton, Borger, Sr, 5-5, 155.
Safety: Richard Sanderson, Hereford, Jr, 6-1, 160; Andy Cavalier, Pampa, Sr, 5-11, 170.
Punter: Michael Davis, Borger, Sr, 5-11, 150.

Player of the Year: Zach Thomas, LB-FB, Pampa.
Coach of the Year: Stocky Lamberson, Randall.

SECOND TEAM

Center: Ramiro Garza, Hereford, Jr, 5-10, 250.

Guard: Jeremy Krieg, Randall, Sr, 5-10, 255; Garrett Scribner, Pampa, Jr, 5-11, 190.

Tackle: Troy Reeves, Pampa, Jr, 6-4, 230; Travis French, Borger, Sr, 6-3, 200.

Tight end: Sexton, Pampa.

Wide receiver: McCavit, Pampa; Joey Stuebgen, Borger, Jr, 5-8, 155.
Quarterback: Cavalier, Pampa.
Running back: Knighton, Borger; David Davis, Caprock, Sr, 5-10, 170; Travis Sims, Randall, Jr, 6-2, 185.
Kicker: Valdemar Martinez, Borger, Sr, 5-9, 190.

Defense
Tackle: Michael Ledbetter, Dumas, Sr, 6-3, 200; Krieg, Randall; Clark, Pampa.
End: Mark Kriegshauser, Hereford, Sr, 6-4, 200; Jared Morton, Dumas, Jr, 6-2, 190.

Linebacker: Eric Sims, Hereford, Jr, 6-2, 198; Brad Dennis, Randall, Sr, 5-9, 155; Jason Johnson, Pampa, Jr, 6-3, 195.
Cornerback: Stuebgen, Borger; Chad Adams, Dumas, Sr, 6-1, 155.

Safety: Laury, Pampa; Leroy Jones, Borger, Sr, 5-10, 160.

Punter: (tie) Laury, Pampa; Paul Dobbins, Dumas, Sr, 6-4, 200.

Bulls' centers shaking 'Jordanaires' tag

By The Associated Press
If the rest of the NBA wasn't already in trouble, it's going to have real problems beating the Chicago Bulls if they start getting 35 points from the center position.

Stacey King scored a season-high 22 points and Will Perdue a season-high 13 as the Bulls won for the 15th time in 16 games Tuesday night, 108-103 over the Seattle SuperSonics.

The two centers, averaging a combined 13.8 points despite their increased playing time because of an injury to Bill Cartwright, perked up a Bulls offense hampered by back and hand injuries to Michael Jordan, the NBA's leading scorer. Jordan scored 19 points on 7-for-20 shooting. "I'm missing my shots and sooner or later I'll find the hole," he said. "But everybody slumps. It's something that everybody has to work out and I'll work myself through it."

King, averaging 10.4 points, was 9-for-12 from the field and Perdue, averaging 3.4, was 5-for-7 from the center position.

Ricky Pierce led the SuperSonics with 30 points.

Clippers 127, Warriors 117
Ron Harper scored 29 points and Danny Manning 28 as Los Angeles overcame an 18-point deficit. The Clippers scored eight of their nine fourth-quarter field goals on rebounds or layups, outscoring the Warriors 36-24 in the period. Charles Smith scored 20 points for the Clippers.

Tim Hardaway scored 33 points for the Warriors.

Lakers 92, Kings 90
Los Angeles won at Sacramento behind Byron Scott's 26 points.

James Worthy scored 24 points for the Lakers, who trailed 66-54 with 11:16 left in the third quarter.

The Kings trailed 92-86 with less than two minutes left, but pulled within two on Spud Webb's two free throws and jumper, giving him 23 points for the game.

Hawks 118, Bucks 104
Dominique Wilkins scored 41 points and Kevin Willis had 24 points and 14 rebounds as Atlanta won at home with a big first half against Milwaukee.

The Bucks trailed 57-43 at halftime and never got closer than 10 points the rest of the way.

Moses Malone led Milwaukee with a season-high 27 points and 13 rebounds.

Rockets 108, Trail Blazers 106
Hakeem Olajuwon scored 15 of his 25 points in a fourth-quarter rally as Houston broke a five-game losing streak by winning at Portland.

Olajuwon keyed a 23-9 spurt in the final 3:52 of the game.

Clyde Drexler led Portland with 24 points.

Pacers 109, Spurs 102
San Antonio, which won 10 of its first 13 games, lost at Indiana for its fifth consecutive defeat.

Reggie Miller scored 25 points, Micheal Williams had 23 points and 10 assists and Chuck Person scored 20 points for the Pacers.

The Spurs were led by Willie Anderson with 22 points.

Knicks 114, Nets 88
At East Rutherford, N.J., New York beat New Jersey for the seventh consecutive time behind Patrick Ewing's 23 points and 12 rebounds.

The Knicks outscored the Nets 34-21 in the second period and rolled to their eighth victory in nine outings.

Drazen Petrovic led the Nets with 22 points.

Suns 102, Pistons 93
At Phoenix, Kevin Johnson scored 25 of his 28 points in the second half.

Jeff Hornacek made two free throws with 37 seconds remaining to put the Suns ahead by seven.

Joe Dumars led the Pistons with 25 points.

Jazz 122, Magic 103
At Salt Lake City, Karl Malone had 27 points and John Stockton 24 in Utah's rout of Orlando.

The Jazz put the Magic away early, taking a 36-21 lead after one quarter behind Blue Edwards' 10 points.

Orlando was led by Sam Vincent with 23 points.

Mavericks 114, Heat 110, OT
Rolando Blackman scored 31 points as Dallas won at home to snap a four-game losing streak.

Blackman, who scored 11 points in the fourth quarter, completed the scoring with two free throws with 26 seconds left in overtime.

The Heat was led by Willie Burton with 23 points.

Utah St. upsets No. 10 Utah

By The Associated Press
Utah State's biggest win in recent years was Utah's first loss this season and first at home in 20 games.

The Aggies trailed by seven with five minutes to play and rallied for a 62-62 tie after regulation. Utah State then went 8-for-10 from the free throw line in overtime for a 74-72 victory over the 10th-ranked Utes, a win which made up for a 71-62 home loss to the in-state rival last week.

"We beat a really good basketball team. Utah plays extremely hard defensively. This win gives us a big lift," said coach Kohn Smith, who called the win the biggest in his four years at Utah State.

Malloy Nesmith and Kendall Youngblood scored 13 points each to lead Utah State, while Carlito DaSilva added 12 points and 11 rebounds and Jay Goodman scored 11 points.

Utah's only field goal in overtime was a 3-pointer at the buzzer by Jimmy Soto, a shot made meaningless after Todd Gentry made two free throws with seven seconds left for a five-point lead.

In other games involving ranked teams Tuesday night, it was No. 6 Oklahoma State 77, Louisiana Tech 71; No. 9 Kentucky 82, Southwest Texas State 36; No. 13 Indiana 88, Vanderbilt 51; No. 16 Iowa 108, Northern Iowa 85; No. 17 Oklahoma 106, Texas 91; and No. 19 Arkansas 70, Kansas State 59.

No. 17 Oklahoma 106, Texas 91
The Sooners (5-0) beat the Longhorns (4-3) for the eighth straight time behind the 24 points and career-high 20 rebounds of Bryan Sallier. Oklahoma opened the second half with a 19-4 run.

B.J. Tyler led Texas with 24 points.

No. 6 Oklahoma State 77, Louisiana Tech 71
The Cowboys (8-0) came up with an impressive road win. Oklahoma State took a 42-28 halftime lead, but the Bulldogs (3-3) stayed within striking distance as their 45.3 shooting percentage was the highest against the Cowboys this season.

Byron Houston led Oklahoma State with 15 points.

No. 9 Kentucky 82, Southwest Texas State 36
All 13 Wildcats got to play at home and Jamal Mashburn's 17 points. Most of the starters saw limited playing time in the second half after Kentucky (4-1) went on a 24-2 run on the way to a 49-18 halftime lead. Southwest Texas State (2-3) was led by George Conner's 22 points.

No. 13 Indiana 88, Vanderbilt 51
Bob Knight benched three starters - Calbert Cheaney, Eric Anderson and Damon Bailey - to show his unhappiness with recent offensive production, and it paid off in the easy win at home.

No. 19 Arkansas 70, Kansas State 59
The Razorbacks (5-2) rebounded from a home loss to Missouri with the road win against the Wildcats (3-1), who missed their first nine shots of the game. Arkansas departed from its usual racehorse style to control the tempo behind Oliver Miller, who had 18 points. Kansas State was led by Aska Jones' 12 points.

Christmas card project underway

Project Christmas Card, sponsored by L' Allegra Study Club, is underway. Instead of sending out cards, participants are asked to make a donation to the fund and have their name appear in a full page ad in the Dec. 22 Sunday Brand. All the proceeds go toward the purchase of emergency heart equipment for Deaf Smith General Hospital. Deadline is Dec. 16. Contributions can be made at local business and banks. Pictured are (l-r) Judy Wall and Juliann Jorde.

VFW auxiliary met, discussed events

The Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #4818 met in regular session Monday night with Betty Boggs presiding. The meeting opened per ritual at 7:30 p.m. with the minutes read and corrected, correspondence read and treasurer's report given. Donations of $550 were divided between several worthwhile organizations. Twenty-five bibs were donated to Golden Plains Nursing Home.

Final plans were made for the auction sale to be held Dec. 13, at 6:30 p.m. There will be a chili supper for those attending prior to the sale. The auxiliary Christmas party will be Dec. 16 at 7 p.m. All ladies will bring a woman's gift and each man will bring a gift suitable for a man. Plans were made to decorate the post home for Christmas. The meeting was closed according to ritual to be reopened Monday night, Jan. 6 at 7:30. The meeting was preceded at 6:30 p.m. by a chili supper. Members present were Boggs, Martha Bridges, Leone Buckley Baum, Anna Conklin, Jo Irlbeck, Essie Martin, Ruth Morris, Erman Murphey, Terry Rhyne, Ruth Stethem, Mabel Yocum, Valerie Artho, and Marie Goheen. V.F.W. members present were: Bob Morris, Bob Baum, Tony Irlbeck, Earl Yocum, Tom Goheen and Bill Craig.

Christmas party enjoyed

The Deaf Smith General Hospital Auxiliary met recently in the home of Mrs. Buster Sublett for a Christmas party. The members brought their specialty dishes which were appreciated for the occasion. Recipes and small gifts were discussed and exchanged.

Members attending include Bonnie Sublett, Mary Williamson, Olga Harris, Anna Stindt, Mary Jane Burrus, Nell Culpepper, Grace Covington, Lupe Cerda, Quintna Waits and Alice Koenig.

Daniels to be honored Thursday

Margie Daniels, director of Hereford Senior Citizens, will be awarded with a community service award Thursday night by the Hereford Masonic Lodge #849. The award is given by the Grand Lodge of Texas to someone who gives exemplary service to the community. A reception in honor of Daniels will be held at 7 p.m. at the Hereford Senior Citizens. The public is invited to attend.

Pantomime performers in ancient Rome wore masks with three compartments. Each compartment had a different face.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a 5-foot-7 inch problem. He is my 14-year-old nephew. I will call him Frank. This kid is a walking eating machine. He eats all day long. I realize he's a growing boy, but this is ridiculous. Tonight at 10:30, after a big dinner with double helpings of everything, he opened up a can of pork and beans, polished it off and drank two glasses of milk. A half hour later he put away a plate of lasagna that would choke a horse. This kid must have a cast-iron stomach. If I ate that way I'd be sick for a month. He weighs 138 pounds and looks skinny as a rail. I don't know how he does it. Frank is living with us until his parents' house is ready to move into. I learned yesterday that the construction will take longer than they thought. I don't know how much more of this I can stand. The kid goes through three gallons of milk and eight boxes of cookies a week. Our grocery bills are out of sight.

The boys' parents are lovely people and they were very helpful to my husband and me during our salad days. We feel it would be ungracious of us to complain about how much their son eats. But honestly, Ann, he is going to put us in the poor house. We need advice.--Medium-Sized City, Large State

DEAR FRIENDS: There's a problem here that transcends a teenager's appetite. It's gluttony.

Tell this human vacuum cleaner that he may no longer eat between meals and that from now on, his nighttime snack will be a bag of microwave popcorn and an apple or a banana. And let him know you mean business.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sympathy to the daughter who found it so difficult to agree with her sisters about using a feeding tube for their 90-year-old father. The feeding tube is fine if the patient is going to recover from surgery or an ulcer, but it can be an instrument of torture for an elderly person whose quality of life is minimal.

We were horrified to see that because our 89-year-old mother had pulled out her naso-gastric tube, it had been replaced and her hands were put in "boxing mitts" and tied to the bed rails. She could not turn in bed or even wipe her nose. Her own doctor was not on call, so an associate had ordered the tube replaced.

Tell "Heartbroken Daughter" to find a doctor who will not lay a guilt trip on her for letting her father go as naturally as possible.

Also, this points up the importance of all adults (young people forget they can have tragic accidents) filling out a living will or power of attorney which expresses their wishes for life support, tube feeding, etc. This can help both the family and the doctor to make painful decisions. A living will can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Choice in Dying, 250 W. 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10107.

Power of attorney forms are available in some states from the state medical association or at most hospitals and senior centers. You can also get a free copy of the American Bar Association brochure "Health Care Powers of Attorney," by sending a postcard to AARP Fulfillment, No. D13895, P.O. Box 21100, Long Beach, Calif. 90801-2400.

It's difficult when a family member is critically ill, but it's much easier when all the children share their feelings and don't have any dissension or concerns about health care.--Two Loving Daughters, Camarillo, Calif.

DEAR DAUGHTERS: You've made some excellent suggestions and I thank you.

Drugs are everywhere. They're easy to get, easy to use and even easier to get hooked on. If you have questions about drugs, you need Ann Landers' booklet, "The Lowdown on Dope." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Lowdown, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago Ill. 60611-0562.

CLASSIFIED ADS
Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	15	3.00
2 days per word	26	5.20
3 days per word	37	7.40
4 days per word	48	9.60
5 days per word	59	11.80

If you run ads in five consecutive issues with NO changes, you get the same ad in the Reach 4 More free. The regular charge for that ad would be $4.00.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALS
Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS
Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Hints From Heloise

COUPON SHOPPING

Dear Heloise: To speed checkout at the grocery store when using a large number of coupons, arrange them according to value — all 50-cent, 25-cent and 10-cent coupons together. Tell the cashier that you have done this, then she can multiply 7 x 50, 10 x 25, etc.

I have had cashiers express sincere appreciation for this, and I have an idea the person behind me in line is happy about it too. — Helen M. Allen, Columbus, Ohio

It takes more than blind luck to pin down the right home.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have read the letters from people who had diarrhea from milk and from cereals. My husband has had a similar problem for years and his doctor has never been able to find a cause. He has had every test you can imagine. The doctor said it is not caused by cereals or lactose intolerance. When he stopped using milk he did seem to be better, but still had some problems.

What else could be causing his diarrhea? Are cereals and milk the only two foods that may cause persistent diarrhea?

DEARREADER: His diarrhea may not even be related to what he eats. I presume his doctor has checked for the various intestinal problems such as ulcerative colitis, Crohn's disease and ova and parasite infections.

Coffee may irritate the bowel in some people. A frequently overlooked factor is alcohol. A person who has a regular habit of drinking may have diarrhea. If the amount of alcohol he drinks is small, the doctor may overlook it. And unless he asks about alcohol, many people think a couple of drinks a day are of no medical significance and never mention it.

Sure, you could go on stumbling through the housing market. Running into dead ends and getting cornered with too little information.

Or you could nail down that new home the easy way. By consulting an experienced real estate agent.

An agent can point out options you may have missed. Get you inside interesting homes that you may never have seen otherwise. Even do a lot of the groundwork, so you don't have to.

Like researching financing packages. Checking through the multiple-listing service for homes that fit your needs -- and your pocketbook. Negotiating with the seller. And arranging for inspections. He or she will even be there at closing.

So instead of forging ahead without knowing what's out there, get some help from an expert. A real estate agent.

Inside The Hereford Brand, you'll find both qualified agents and valuable information about home buying. Everyday, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And The Brand's Sunday housing section examine the latest market trends and housing opportunities.

With the right guide, hitting your mark can be child's play.

THE HEREFORD BRAND

Because of the strict definition of allergy, some foods that a person does not tolerate which cause diarrhea are not called an allergy, but rather "food intolerance." By carefully eliminating one food at a time, a person may be able to find the offending food when that is the cause.

Chamber singers present concert

The Hereford Chamber Singers will present their Christmas concert for the community on Dec. 15 at 3 p.m. in the Hereford High school auditorium.

There will be no charge for admission, but donations will be accepted to defray expenses of the group.

Highlights of the program will include familiar Christmas carols and tunes sung to carious arrangements. The men's chorus will sing the spiritual "Child of God" by Emily Crocker and the women's chorus will perform Tolmage's "Ave Marie."

Jan Walsler directs the choir and Dec Anne Trotter is the piano accompanist. Serving as music chairman is Joe Flood and Gene Streun is the chairman of the board of directors.

Numbers to be performed during this concert are as follows: "A Merry Christmas" by Brown; "Christmas Dreams" by Huff; "Everybody's Coming to Bethlehem" by Carter; "I'll be Home for Christmas" by Zegree; "Christmas Question" by Marshall; "Silent Midnight" by Grundahl; and "Agnus Dei" by Clatterbuck.

A special feature number will be "A Musicological Journey Through the Twelve Days of Christmas," by Courtney, an amusing arrangement with parodies classical compositions during the past four centuries.

Some 35 Hereford, Dimmitt and Vega adults compose the chorus of musicians who love to sing and share their vocal talents with others. The group has been organized since 1974 and has traveled as the Panhandle's ambassadors to Australia and Romania.

the choir recently performed during the "Choir Festival" during the Hereford Senior Citizens Center's Festival of Trees.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Take pain out of holiday weight

It's January 2nd and Mr. "I-Need-To-Lose-Weight" (Mr. I) has resolved to lose weight and get into shape. He heads to the local gym (the membership is a Christmas gift from Mrs. I), determined not only to burn off that ten pounds he gained during the holiday season, but to get into the best shape of his life.

He is adamant, drastically reducing his caloric intake, working out four hours a day, seven days a week. He feels great after the first week, his pants are looser, and he feels stronger and healthier than ever before.

When the going gets tough...

The second week is a little different, though. The hunger pangs start setting in and muscles he never thought he had are giving him pain he never thought existed! But he remains determined. He still makes it to the gym every day and sticks to his diet.

The third week, "drop out" sets in. "Mr. I" begins to realize that he doesn't have the time - or the energy - to devote every free moment to exercise. So he heads to the gym only occasionally that week. The idea of eating another carrot makes him sick, and he keeps having recurring dreams of junk food. "Mr. I" starts feeling deprived, and eventually breaks his diet by eating double chocolate cheesecake a la mode.

Another week goes by, and most of his old habits are back. The rationalization phase starts. "Mr. I" says things like, "Exercise and diets are for weirdos." "If we were meant to be thin, God wouldn't have invented potato chips!" and "I'll try to start my diet again next week."

"Mr. I" trades in his carrots, celery and rice cakes for chocolate, ice cream and cookies. He makes every excuse not to exercise, and resumes his role as "couch potato." By the fifth week he's gained back every pound he lost and even put on a few additional ones, too.

Similar scenarios happen to millions of people year after year. But they can be avoided. The old phrase "slow and steady wins the race" is one "Mr. I" should have subscribed to.

A diet and exercise regimen should be something that's eased into, not jumped into. For someone like "Mr. I," who led a sedentary lifestyle, an intense exercise program is a real shock to the body. Not only did "Mr. I" set himself up for failure, but he could have harmed himself a well (pulled muscles and ripped tendons, jut to name a few possibilities.) Equally, "Mr. I" should have started out with a minimal exercise program and gradually increased the time and intensity as his body got used to the new activity.

Taking the right approach

"Mr. I's" approach to dieting was another mistake. By drastically reducing his intake of calories, he "tricked" his body into "thinking that it was starving. As a result, his body built up extra fat cells, his metabolism slowed and, in the end, ended up gaining weight.

The public is invited to attend.

Westway bazaar set

Westway Home Extension Club will be having its Country Christmas Bazaar Dec. 14 at the Hereford Community Center.

There is no admission charge and several booths will be having drawings. Arts and crafts from all over the area will be represented. Activities will be available for the children.

Most of the fresh water on earth is unusable for living things; it is locked in the snow and ice at the poles and the peaks of the highest mountains.

How long since you've updated your business insurance?

That's one question our business clients never have to worry about. As an independent insurance agency, it's our business to watch for the changes that come with growth—new locations, additional employees, new equipment. Then we analyze how these changes affect our clients' insurance needs, and recommend the best protection available.

Years of working with major insurance companies, like CNA, have given us the experience to make business insurance protection keep pace with our clients. If you're responsible for your company's business insurance, give us a call.
