Rustlers today are white-collar

Cattle rustling is still a problem in the Hereford area and other cattle feeding regions, according to Kenneth Chambers.

The only difference between the rustlers of old and many of the rustlers of today: today's where a coat and tie, and use a computer.

Chambers, the area investigator for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, told the Hereford Lions Club on Wednesday of the new challenges facing him and the 30 other cattle investigators in Texas.

"More and more cattle are being stolen by liars and cheaters today," Chambers said. "Some of them have worked in financial institutions, and some have worked against financial institutions. They have stolen thousands if not millions of head of cattle, but they don't have the courage to steal them from a pasture or somewhere. They do it with a computer, and it's a big problem."

Chambers still has to fight old-fashioned rustling, and told a humorous story about how he and another TSCRA investigator caught a cattle thief while perched in the lone tree at the Amarillo Livestock Auction.

"The more valuable cattle are, the more tempting it is to steal them," Chambers said. "Everyone thinks they've come up with a new way to steal cattle, to make it work. In times like today, when the cattle market isn't real good, they steal for the dollars, not the beef. It just depends on the market."

Chambers also told of the special relationship he has with most cowboys in the area.

"Cowboys have a big place in my heart," he said. "If the cowboys find a stray that isn't theirs, they seem to almost tell me. They could probably get by with keeping them, but if they are supposed to have 100 head and they have 101, they'll give me a call."

Christie, Carlson win top honors

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Colby Christie drove his 1,252-lb. medium frame steer to the grand championship of the Hereford Young Farmers Steer Show on Wednesday night at the Bull Barn in Hereford.

Christie's steer outclassed a field of 42 steers to win the grand championship.

Jay Jackson, of the Randall County 4-H, won the five-county reserve championship. Brek Binder of the Hereford FFA drove her large-frame steer to the county reserve title.

In the new heifer division, Michael Carlson of the Deaf Smith 4-H picked up the grand championship. Sy Olson of the Castro County 4-H won the reserve title.

In the steer show, small frame winners were Jim Bret Campbell, first, and Shambryn Wilson, second; in the medium frames, Colby Christie, first, Jay Jackson, second in five county, and Lori Urbanczyk, second in county; and in the large frame division, Brek Binder, first, and Kelly Christie, second.

In the heifer show, division winners were Sy Olson in Class I, Jeremy Blair in Class II and Michael Carlson in Class III.

Buckles for top showmen went to Brek Binder and Jim Bret Campbell, seniors, and Brent Carlson and Ian Isaacson, juniors. Carlson was also named the top rookie showman by Hereford CattleWomen.

The show continues with the market hog show at 4 p.m. at the Bull Barn. Over 240 hogs are expected in the show. The lamb show begins at 5 p.m. Friday, with 134 lambs expected to make the ring.

The show climaxes with the annual premium sale at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at the Bull Barn.

The Deaf Smith 4-H is operating a concession stand with a large variety of foods and snacks.

Here are the placings in the steer and heifer shows at the 1992 Hereford Young Farmers Livestock Show steer and heifer shows held Wednesday at the Bull Barn. Where two numbers are listed, the first is the five-county placing and the second is the county finish in the division.

S&Ls needing funding

WASHINGTON (AP) - The voice was different but the song was the same at a confirmation hearing for Albert V. Casey, President Bush's nominee to head the savings and loan bailout program.

Like his predecessors at the 2 1/2-year-old Resolution Trust Corp. and at the agency it replaced, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., Casey went to Congress on Wednesday to plead for more money.

Casey, nominated to be chief executive officer of the RTC, said the agency needed an additional $55 billion before April 1 to avoid delays in the cleanup program costing $3 billion to $4 million a day.

"I realize that this is not a popular vote," he told the Senate Banking Committee. "Apparently, it does not even occur to the public that, but for taxpayer funds, insured depositors at failed thrifts would not get back all their money."

Congress has given the agency $105 billion so far - with the latest installment of $25 billion approved just before Thanksgiving. The agency has used the money to sell or shut down 585 of the 678 S&Ls that have failed since early 1989. Private analysts expect as many as an additional 300 failures this year and next.

Recycling has become an important subject in the nation's quest to improve the environment, and the re-use of paper is one of the top priorities. The company from which we buy newsprint, Champion International Corp., recently held a groundbreaking on an $85 million recycling plant near Houston. It came about as a result of newspaper publishers saying they will buy recycled newsprint.

The Brand has been in the recycling business for about 12 years, we are happy to report. While the market for used newsprint did not justify saving the waste paper for a number of years, we formed a partnership of sorts with St. Anthony's Catholic Church. They volunteered to take our waste paper, at no cost, and either sell it or store it for future sale. Even at low prices, the church group could justify the effort because of volunteer labor and transportation. It has been a good project for us and the church.

For recycling to really have an impact, each community will have to make a concerted effort along with the cooperation of local government.

Despite the numbers game boasted by direct mailers, another survey reveals, again, that consumers would rather receive free-standing coupon inserts and other ad circulars in their newspapers rather than in the mail.

In a survey by Southern Opinion Research Corp., 63 percent said they preferred to receive inserts in newspapers, while only 19 percent said they preferred to get them in the mail.

When asked where they got most of the coupons they use, 53 percent said newspapers, 4 percent said shoppers, 13 percent said direct mail, 5 percent said magazines and 2 percent named other sources.

In a question about grocery shopping alone, 56 percent said they turned to newspapers for grocery advertising, 12 percent used shoppers, 6 percent preferred direct mail and 11 percent named other sources.

In response to the question "Are you more likely to throw away an advertising circular without reading if it comes through the mail or if it is in the newspaper?" 52 percent threw out the mail compared to only 15 percent for newspapers.

The study showed that 77 percent of the people said they read the newspaper regularly, and the percentage rose to 86 percent for respondents with more than a high school education.

Legislator asks court to prevent questions

AUSTIN (AP) - A San Antonio lawmaker accused of working on a state Senate redistricting plan ordered by federal judges has asked for U.S. court protection from answering questions under oath about his redistricting efforts.

Rep. George Pierce, a Republican Senate candidate who has denounced the allegations against him as a personal attack, filed the motion in federal court in Austin.

The motion asks for a protective order releasing Pierce from any obligation to respond to separate subpoenas for his deposition from lawyers for minority interests and Texas Attorney General Dan Morales.

He also asked the court to say he is not obligated to produce redistricting records called for in subpoenas from minority interests, saying they are privileged.

A panel of federal judges meeting in Austin ordered in December that state-backed legislative redistricting plans be replaced with their plan, drawn by U.S. District Judge James Nowlin. The Legislature redraws congressional and legislative district lines every 10 years to adjust for population changes after the federal census.

Morales is investigating sworn statements from three employees of the Legislature's redistricting staff that Nowlin's law clerks and Pierce worked from a redistricting computer in the Legislative Council's office.

Most Democratic lawmakers and minority groups oppose the reapportionment plan by Nowlin, a Republican appointee.

Judith Sanders-Castro of the Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund said that Pierce did not show up for a Wednesday deposition by lawyers for minority interests but instead sent his lawyer.

Pierce's lawyer, Dick Terrell Brown, said he was concerned that a deposition would violate a temporary restraining order prohibiting interference with the judge's redistricting order.

Morales scheduled Pierce's deposition for Thursday in San Antonio, but Brown said Pierce did not plan to appear because the subpoena is defective.

WASHINGTON (AP) - San Antonio will be the site of a second drug summit next month, as President Bush summons leaders of six Latin American nations.

The presidents of Venezuela, Ecuador and Mexico as well as Colombia, Bolivia and Peru will join Bush on Feb. 26-27, spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said.

The summit comes two years after Bush went to Cartagena, Colombia, to map drug strategy with the leaders of Colombia, Bolivia and Peru.

"This meeting, two years after the Cartagena summit, represents another important milestone in the war on drugs," Fitzwater said.

"The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss and coordinate our expanding counter-narcotics cooperation with the presidents" of the six Latin nations, he said.

They represent the principal countries involved in drug trafficking in the Western Hemisphere.

Pioneer club discusses conservation, recycling

The Pioneer Study Club met recently to study "Conservation An Environmental Crisis" at the Caison House Restaurant with Rosemary Thomas and Helen Langley as hostesses.

Gladys Miller, chairman of the nominating committee submitted the names of officers presently serving for re-election. They are Rosemary Thomas, president; Catherine Gripp, vice president; Helen Langley, recording secretary; Nell Culpepper, treasurer; Mary Jane Burrus, historian; Willie Wimberly, federation counselor; Billee Johnson, yearbook and publicity.

Nell Culpepper introduced the guest speaker, Betty Henson, executive director of the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross. She spoke on the "Garbage Glut."

Henson explained the Red Cross is involved in attempting to solve the waste disposal problem in Deaf Smith County. She is working with EnCoRe to find a place to recycle materials such as glass, plastics and tin cans.

Hereford has facilities to recycle metals at Hereford Iron and Metal, newspapers at St. Anthony's Catholic Church and copy paper, computer paper at the Nazarene School. Aluminum can be brought to the Red Cross office. The sale of cans will be used to help with disaster relief for the Texas flood victims.

Langley gave support to GFWC's "Year of the Library" during her talk on "My Turn" explaining the importance of libraries in the U.S.

During the business session, reports from committees were heard including a report from Mary Panciera who stated that 27 persons were presented Christmas trays of goodies after the Christmas party.

Gladys Miller gave a report of donations to M.D. Anderson which stated that only items sterilized and new could be accepted.

Fern Sigle gave a report on donations to the Veterans Administration Hospital which included mens clothing, ladies clothing, Christmas cards, stamps, books and magazines and some cash donations.

Class makes bibs to take to care centers

Members of the Dorcas Sunday School Class of Temple Baptist Church recently met and made bibs for Golden Plains Care Center.

The ladies of the class decided because they had many friends and ex-members of the class in Golden Plains that they wanted to help.

Members started by making lap robes and the management asked them to make bibs.

Before Christmas, the group had donated 24 bibs. Since they have made 48 more.

All members participated. Some furnished fabric, others threaded and finished the velcro.

Four members from the class reside at Golden Plains.

Members present include Mary Jane Burrus, Culpepper, Maria Escamilla, Catherine Gripp, Oleta Hoffman, Langley, Miller, Panciera, Sigle, Thomas, Willie Wimberly, Virginia Wood and guest Henson.

Sims aims to bring stability to Herd tennis

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Hereford High School tennis program is one program in need of some stability. In the past year, only two of HHS' sports programs have undergone changes in the head coach position.

In football, Danny Haney took over for Don Cumpston in February. Since then, Herd tennis has had four head coaches. Natalie Sims, new for the 1992 spring season, is the fourth, and she hopes she can put a stop to the coaching merry-go-round.

"That's one of my goals: to bring stability," she said. She wants to "let (the players) know I'm not planning on going anywhere; to gain some trust that I'm not going to leave them; that hopefully we'll have a coach who'll stick around in the tennis program."

Sims is from Hereford. She was a member of the Herd tennis team and also played basketball before graduating in 1986. She graduated from Texas Tech in December of 1990.

She was an assistant to Coach Kim King in the fall season. King left after half a year to take a job with a firm which provides tennis pros for resorts all over the world.

Coaching stability has something to do with the players gaining the "mental toughness" they need to win, Sims said.

Another of her goals is to "have a winning season, but mainly to get their mental toughness built up to where they can have a winning season," she said. "To win, you've got to be mentally tough. They'll get their mental toughness through a coach that'll be consistent with them. They used to someone, then the coach leaves. They can have that winning season once that's built up.

"Playing as much as I've played, I know your strokes can be on, but if the mental toughness is not there, you're not ready to play. That's why I focus so much on that."

Sims doesn't subscribe to the Vince Lombardi theory that winning is everything.

"I want to win, but as long as one of my players fights for every single point and can come off the court with his head up, even though he lost, to me, that's still a winner."

Sims got her first official head coaching experience under her belt Tuesday, when the Herd lost a dual match to 3A state champ Canyon.

"I felt confident," she said. "I was nervous, but getting to be the assistant for a half a year helped. If I'd have come in blind--or blinder--I'd have been more nervous."

She has two new assistants to help her: Kristin Cassels and Rex Burk. Cassels played tennis at HHS the same time Sims did, and she also graduated in 1986. She also teaches sixth grade at Shirley School.

Burk is from Killeen and new to Hereford. He's also new to coaching tennis, but has experience coaching cycling. He teaches special education at HHS.

This is the spring tennis season, when the players play for individual berths at the regional tournament and then hopefully at the state tournament. There is no team competition, but Berger is the school with the players who'll most challenge the Hereford players. Returning for the Bulldogs are Barry Thrutchley and Danett Jordan, District 1-4A's singles champs in 1991.

"We've really got our eyes on Berger," Sims said. "They're going to be the tough ones."

The Herd returns a few of the players who finished first or second at the '91 district tournament (only first or second places advance to regionals).

Jamie Kapka finished second to Thrutchley in boys' singles. Hereford swept the doubles spots last year, but each of those four teams had one senior, so none of the teams is intact for this season. The underclassmen on those teams were Teresa Baker, Robyn Sublett, Torey Sellers and Greg Coplen, but only Sellers is currently in tennis practice.

Baker and Coplen are playing basketball, but Sims expects both to join the team after basketball season is over. Sublett is not in practice, but Sims said Wednesday there is a chance she will play this season.

Herd cagers look for wins

Both of Hereford's varsity basketball teams will try for their first district wins Friday night at Randall, and for the girls it will be especially tough.

The Lady Raiders are ranked fourth in the Class 4A by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches. They are 21-2 after beating Pampa 75-68 Tuesday in Pampa. Before that game, Pampa was 3-0 in district play, including a 64-47 win over the Lady Whitefaces. Randall is now 4-0 in district.

The Lady Whitefaces (7-19) start the varsity doubleheader at 6:30 p.m., and the boys follow at 8. The Herd is 5-17 and 0-2 in district, and the Randall boys are 10-11 and 1-1 after a 95-69 loss at Pampa, which kept its number one spot in the latest TABC poll.

The junior varsity boys play at 6:30, and the JV girls, owners of a three-game win streak, play at 8.

Playing tonight in Hereford is the freshman girls' team, which will face Dumas at 6 in the gym at Hereford High School. The freshman boys play at Dumas, with a B game at 6 and an A game at 7:15.

Bills' Smith denies he's leaving

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Bruce Smith does not want out. He wants to speak out.

In the midst of Super Bowl week, with its manufactured stories and vacuous interviews, the Buffalo Bills defensive end has managed to make news.

Mobbed by media members Wednesday, Smith reacted calmly but sternly to a USA Today story saying he was looking to leave the team after the season because of racist letters he received when injured.

"I made one or two statements in reference to it and then dropped it," Smith said. "It was blown out of proportion. I in no way meant for this to be on the front cover of USA Today and I clarified that when I was talking yesterday."

"I guess it's easy to relate this all together when I answer a few questions, and make a story out of it."

"The most important thing is this game. After this game, it could be a different story."

The racist letters story broke during the season, a year in which Smith played in just five games, only three fulltime. Smith, the 1990 NFL Defensive Player of the Year, has called it the toughest season of his career.

"One of the real frustrating parts of this is the fact I already was down and then felt I got kicked," Smith said. "If I had been healthy and playing and playing like I was last year, I probably would not have received them. That irritated me."

Smith still isn't 100 percent. He said he never knows until game day how his left knee will feel and how much he'll be able to do. As the lynchpin of the Bills defense, Smith's physical condition is critical; the Bills slumped to near the bottom of league defensive rankings during Smith's surprisingly long rehabilitation from a July arthroscopy.

But it is his mental outlook that seems most damaged, from confronting both health problems and hate mail.

"Hate mail and racist mail are different," he said. "You get mail saying you should go back to Africa, you spread diseases, that is different."

"I think it's a very small portion of people. I believe around 98 percent of Buffalo is fantastic. They stand by you no matter what happens. I guess you find that small percentage anywhere."

"You can't stop people like that. You can only try to help them. That thought was one thing that helped me overcome this whole ordeal."

How much has it bothered Smith? Certainly enough for it to be on his mind and in his discussions as the Bills prepare to meet the Washington Redskins in the NFL title game.

"The only way to solve something like this is to speak out about it. Anybody who says we're overreacting or that it might make us look bad is being just as bad."

Ernest Byner of the Redskins noted that Houston's Warren Moon, once selected the NFL Man of the Year for his charitable work, recently received racist mail. NBA star Charles Barkley also has spoken about racism recently, calling Philadelphia "a racist town."

"Who's to say it's going to be any better wherever else he goes?" Byner said. "We don't have a team in Africa yet."

"I've had one letter that was racially motivated. It's unfortunate and it's something we have to deal with as a nation."

"How do you deal with it? It depends on the situation itself. A lot of foolishness goes on in the world and you can't get an answer to all of it. You have to realize who is saying it and what the motivations are when somebody says something halfway crazy."

Fernandez to meet Seles

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) - Mary Joe Fernandez looked back on her last match against Gabriela Sabatini and didn't like what she saw.

Fernandez had won only five games against an aggressive Sabatini in the semifinals of the New South Wales Open in Sydney two weeks ago.

But she reversed that in the Australian Open today, stunning the No. 3 seed 6-1, 6-4 and advancing to a meeting in the Grand Slam tournament final against Monica Seles. The top seed and defending champion needed only an hour to devastate No. 4 Arantxa Sanchez Vicario 6-2, 6-2.

Tonight, the men's semifinals will pit top-seeded Stefan Edberg against

Fernandez and her new coach, Harold Solomon, watched a tape Wednesday night of her mistake-plagued loss to Sabatini.

"I said I had to do something drastically different," the No. 7 seed said. "I tried to attack a lot and come in a lot."

The attacking style took Sabatini by surprise. She had used the same tactics in ousting Jennifer Capriati in the quarterfinals, but couldn't handle a mirror image of herself.

The athletic Argentine broke Fernandez in the first game, then lost the next six games as Fernandez charged the net regularly, demonstrating her best form by far in the tournament.

"She played very well," said a subdued and downcast Sabatini, who had looked sharp while not dropping a set in her last two tournaments.

Public Notice

On October 4, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) that proposes a new optional service called DigiLine™ Service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10655.

DigiLine Service uses a 144 Kbps facility, typically divided into two 64 Kbps B Channels and one 16 Kbps D Channel to provide access to and from the public switched telephone network for circuit-switched voice communications. DigiLine Service also provides transmission of circuit-switched data and packet-switched data within the customer's service office area only. This service allows the simultaneous transmission of voice and data over a single residence or business telephone line from a serving office equipped for DigiLine Service.

The monthly recurring charges for DigiLine Service consist of three major rate elements: Basic Interface Facility ($19.00); Basic Interface Equipment ($12.00); and, an Integrated Services Network Component for each B Channel (rate varies from $1.90 to $7.25 per B Channel depending on the customer's class of service and location.) Other charges may also be applicable depending on the options requested by the customer.

DigiLine Service operates only with compatibly-equipped FCC Part 68 registered equipment. The service will be offered initially in the following exchanges and within the following serving offices:

Exchange	Serving Offices
Dallas	Fleetwood, Richardson, Riverside
Austin	Fireside
San Antonio	Capitol, Medical Center
Houston	Clay, Medical Center

DigiLine Service may be furnished in other serving offices in any of the above exchanges in combination with foreign serving office charges. In addition, DigiLine Service may be available in other exchanges upon a customer's bona fide request. A bona fide request is a written request for service. Upon receipt of the bona fide request, Southwestern Bell will conduct an economic analysis to determine the financial viability of offering the requested service.

Southwestern Bell expects DigiLine Service to generate first-year revenues of approximately $236,000.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this docketed proceeding should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but not later than by February 10, 1992. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at 512-458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is 512-458-0221.

Nets show stuff, nip Suns

By The Associated Press
 The New Jersey Nets showed how far they've come this season and let coach Bill Fitch know there's still a long way to go - all in the same night.
 The resurgent Nets overcame an early 13-point deficit, then nearly blew an eight-point lead in the final 70 seconds before beating the Suns 106-104 Wednesday night.
 "The finish was God's way of telling me we have a lot of work to do," Fitch said after the Nets nearly wasted a 106-98 lead with 1:10 left.
 Two 3-pointers by Tom Chambers, who scored 31 points, pulled the Suns to 106-104 with 3.9 seconds left. Chris Morris then threw away the inbounds pass, giving Phoenix possession under its basket.
 Kevin Johnson, held to nine points the night after he injured his lower back at Chicago on Tuesday night, missed a last-second 3-pointer that would have won it for the Suns.
 Derrick Coleman scored 28 points, Rafael Addison had nine of his season-high 19 in the fourth quarter and Mookie Blaylock had 18 points, 12 rebounds, nine assists and five steals to lead the Nets.

10,000th NBA point on a third-quarter layup. Lever's basket with 1:43 remaining broke the game's last tie and he added two free throws for a 111-107 lead.
 Dale Ellis had 23 for Milwaukee.
Jazz 100, Spurs 98
 John Stockton hit three free throws in the final 16 seconds and reserve Mike Brown had five of his 11 fourth-quarter points in the last 1:16 as Utah improved to 17-1 at home.
 Stockton's 3-pointer with 2:23 to play gave the Jazz a 92-87 lead, but Sean Elliott hit a 3-pointer with 2:07 to play to bring the Spurs within 92-90. Brown made a three-point play 27 seconds later, then added two free throws to give Utah a 97-92 lead.
Cavaliers 119, Pacers 115
 Larry Nance sank two baseline jumpers in the final 1:13 as Cleveland overcame a five-point deficit in overtime.
 Mark Price, who led Cleveland with 30 points, and John Battle each made two free throws in the closing seconds.

Bulls 115, Hornets 112
 Michael Jordan's tie-breaking three-point play with 8.3 seconds left gave Chicago its 11th consecutive victory.
 Jordan's jumper in the lane and Horace Grant's layup tied the game with 29.7 seconds left. Larry Johnson, who led the Hornets with 31 points, then lost control on a drive. Jordan, who finished with 23 points, scooped up the loose ball, drove for a layup as he was being fouled and made the free throw to complete the scoring.
Celtics 107, Magic 95
 Reggie Lewis' 14 third-quarter points and a 14-0 fourth-quarter run keyed Boston's fourth straight victory.
 Orlando got within 80-77 on Jeff Turner's two free throws with 10:20 left in the game, but a hook shot by Robert Parish started the 14-0 surge that made it 94-77 with 5:31 to go.
Heat 125, Bulls 112
 Glen Rice scored 22 points and Rony Seikaly sparked a third-period surge. Miami put the game out of reach in the third quarter with a 19-3 run. Seikaly had seven of his 13 points during the run.
76ers 119, Knicks 109
 Charles Barkley scored 37 points. Barkley scored the first 10 points of the third period and had 17 in the quarter as the host 76ers built an 86-72 lead.
 The first outdoor tennis match was played in England in 1873.

Rice routs Red Raiders

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Rice center Brent Scott loves it when the Owls' perimeter players get hot.
 Point guard Marvin Moore scored 22 points, drawing Texas Tech's defense out of the paint, allowing the Owls to feed Scott inside for 20 points as Rice defeated the Red Raiders 84-69 Wednesday night in the Southwest Conference.
 In Austin, the Texas Longhorns took over first place in the SWC with a run-and-gun 106-91 victory over Southern Methodist behind 28 points by freshman Terrence Rencher and 23 points and 10 assists by B.J. Tyler.
 The Longhorns are 4-1, one-half game ahead of Texas Christian (3-1) and a full game ahead of Rice and Houston, both 2-1. Texas Tech and SMU both fell to 1-3.
 "It always helps when our perimeter players are hitting their shots," Scott said. "They can't collapse on me when they are hitting. If we continue to shoot like tonight we will be fine."
 When Scott wasn't connecting on 9 of 13 from the field, he was using his 6-10, 250-pound frame to handcuff Tech's leading scorer Will Flemons.
 Flemons scored 14 points in the first half to keep the Red Raiders close, but he managed only eight points in the second half as Rice broke the game open.
 "We switched a lot of things up on them," Owls' coach Scott Thompson said. "They had some problems with our defenses and we were able to control their shooters."

 The Red Raiders, fresh from a 101-98 upset of 21st-ranked Tulane Saturday, shot only 40 percent and were shut out during a four-minute stretch late in the second half.
 Flemons finished with 22 points and 12 rebounds, his ninth double-double of the season, to lead the Raiders.
 Tech coach James Dickey said Rice's inside-outside attack of Scott and Moore was too much to handle.
 "Rice really had a great performance tonight," Dickey said. "They just came out and took it to us and that's just what I thought they would do."
 "We played hard at times, but overall it looked like we just weren't ready to play."
 Texas coach Tom Penders praised Rencher's play against SMU.
 "Terrence is so smooth. He plays so well, you don't notice him. I don't think there's any better freshman in the country," Penders said.
 Larry Brown, who was fired this week as San Antonio Spurs coach, was in the stands at the SMU-Texas game, but refuted speculation that he and Penders might be changing places, with Penders going to the Spurs and Brown to the Longhorns.
 He was there only as a friend of Penders to watch the game, Brown said.
 "I've been here before," said Brown, who took his place in the stands midway through the first half and flashed the "Hook 'em Horns" sign to fans. "I'm just watching a friend coach."

Crimson Tide rolls down Top 25 list

By The Associated Press
 Apparently Wimp Sanderson knows a lot more than just which plaid jacket goes well with the motif of each Southeastern Conference arena.
 The Alabama coach was telling anyone willing to listen that his Crimson Tide weren't as good as the poll was making them out to be.
 Just 10 days ago, Alabama broke into the Top Ten holding onto an eight-game winning streak as it was reaching No. 9.
 Now, the 15th-ranked Crimson Tide are on a three-game losing streak, the latest a 78-77 home loss to Mississippi on Wednesday night.
 After Joe Harvell had scored 32 points and the visitors had taken control with a 21-4 run early in the second half, the Rebels were 8-7 overall and 1-3 in the conference, while Alabama, which played without starting guard James Robinson for disciplinary reasons, was 14-4 and 2-3.
 In other games involving ranked teams Wednesday night, it was: No. 6 Ohio State 72, Minnesota 69; No. 7 Connecticut 97, Providence 86 in overtime; No. 9 Arkansas 75, Florida 62; North Carolina State 99, No. 10 North Carolina 88; No. 11 Arizona 92, Arizona State 55; and No. 14 Michigan State 66, Purdue 61.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: My mother says you aren't supposed to mix dishwashing detergent and chlorine bleach together to use as a cleaner but she's unsure of exactly why. Can you help us? — Sally C., Conway, Ark.

Your mother is right! According to the Soap and Detergent Association, you should avoid mixing hand-dishwashing detergents with chlorine bleach. Some formulations contain ingredients, especially ammonia, that are incompatible with chlorine, and hazardous gases may be released.

Always read labels, and when in doubt, don't. — Heloise

PLASTIC WADING POOL
Dear Heloise: Recently a neighbor was discarding a small wading pool. It was cracked and wouldn't hold water. I took it and used waterproof tape inside and out to seal the crack, then added two bags of sand. My children, Samantha and Adam, got a very inexpensive sandbox. They are entertained for hours and there's one less piece of plastic in the landfill.

Also, an old shower curtain held with four clip clothespins are the cover to keep out the rain and local cats. — Mrs. Sherri L. Stanton, Old Forge, Pa.

HANDY COMB
Dear Heloise: I have found that a fine-tooth comb works great to remove lint and fuzz from self-gripping fabric tape fasteners. — Joy Harris, Middletown, Ohio

Send a money- or time-saving hint to Heloise, PO Box 795000, San Antonio TX 78279 or fax it to 512-HELOISE. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column.

Through tree planting programs, the public and private sectors are working together to shade and beautify America.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In response to the letter from the woman who was 35 and had never been kissed, I would like to put in my two cents' worth.

I am a 30-year-old professional woman, a graduate of one of the most prestigious law schools in the country. I am not plain or unattractive. In fact, I have been described as a knockout. I am fastidious, healthy and cheerful. People are drawn to me at parties and social gatherings and are curious to hear my opinions about politics and other current issues. My life is full of kind and generous woman friends, some married and some single. I have not had a date in 10 years.

I am quite certain that my "datelessness" is not due to any failing or deficit on my part, nor is it because of tactlessness or egocentricity. I am convinced that men today have absolutely no interest in women.

Their lives are taken up with work, football, basketball, golf, fishing, hunting, pornography and quite often, just sitting around and drinking. An occasional need for female companionship is satisfied with a casual one-night stand.

So many men are threatened by an intelligent, articulate woman. I have discussed this with several female friends around the country and it is apparent that this problem is epidemic. It may be part of a backlash against the women's movement or simply a sad response to hard economic times. I don't know why things are this way, but I assure you that if you ask a random sample of women, a sizable majority will validate my observations. Although I agree with your advice to the woman who wrote, I would also add that her single status may not be due to any fault of her own. She may do all the right things and still remain companionless.

It is important for her to recognize that even if she never marries or gets a date, she is still a worthwhile individual in her own right. She should take comfort in the fact that many studies suggest single women can have rich and full lives. Furthermore, if she wishes to alter her virginal status, I suggest that she consider a trip to Europe or Latin America where the males have a totally different approach to strong, competent women.--Chicago

DEAR READER: I, too, live in Chicago and find it curious that a fastidious, healthy, cheerful, well-informed "knockout," an attorney no less, has not had a date in 10 years.

I cannot buy your theory that the reason you haven't been asked out in a decade is because men today have absolutely no interest in women. In fact, I see a great deal of evidence to the contrary.

Perhaps closer to the truth is the fact that you have a very low opinion of men, as stated in your letter, and without realizing it, you give off these negative vibes. Both men and women tend to be attracted to people they believe like them. You may unintentionally turn men off and that could be why your phone doesn't ring.

DEAR READERS: Remember the woman who wrote to say she quite biting and picking at her nails by wearing a rubber band around her wrist and snapping it hard every time she caught herself doing the forbidden thing? Well, since printing her letter, I have received at least 200 letters from readers who tried it and were thrilled that it also worked for them. Five women said it made them stop smoking. Thanks to all who shared their success stories and BRAVO!

Club studies quilts

The Lone Star Study Club met in the home of Ruby Stevenson with Birdene Huff presiding over the business meeting.

Argon Draper gave a program on quilts. She stressed the importance of taking care of quilts in washing and storing.

Each member brought a quilt to show and tell something interesting about the quilt.

Draper stressed the importance of signing and dating the quilt for future generations.

Rebekahs install officer

Hereford Rebekah Lodge #228 met Tuesday with 19 members present.

Vice-grand Ocie Bolton presided in the absence of the Nobel Grand.

Reports were made of sick and bereaved and 29 visits to the sick, 45 cheer cards and 14 dishes of food were recorded.

Nelma Sowell was installed as color bearer by acting D.D.P. Susie

Curtsinger presented by conductor Mary Lou Weatherford.

Dolls discussed at club

L'Allegra Study Club met Jan. 16 at Margaret Carnahan's home with Joyce Lamas serving as co-hostess.

Suzie Wall, guest, presented a program on porcelain doll making. She demonstrated and explained the different stages of doll making from the pouring of porcelain to the final steps of painting and body parts attachments.

She stated that this is a very time consuming, but rewarding hobby. President Carmen Flood presided over the business meeting. Members present were Carnahan, Flood, Kitty Gault, Priscilla Ham, Poppy Head, Diane Hoelscher, Barbara Kerr, Sylvia Khuri, Lomas, Mary Kay McQuigg, Shelly Moss, Michkah Nolan, Hilda Peralles, Dee Ann Trotter, Ella Marie Veigel, Judy Wall and Jan Weishaar.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: My 73-year-old mother has had several TIAs (transient ischemic attacks). She is convinced that they are leading to a major stroke. That is not what I understand them to be and I would like to be able to calm her fears. Will you please send your special report on TIAs?

DEAR READER: I appreciate your need to relieve your mother's concern, but she is right. I do not mean she is certain to have a major stroke at all, but the risk of having one is greatly increased in people who have TIAs. Anyone who has had even one TIA should be evaluated by a neurologist, and the circulation to the brain carefully studied. He or she should be on a program to help decrease the risk of such an event, such as aspirin therapy to decrease the tendency for platelets to clump and start the formation of a clot.

In some instances, surgery is useful, as when the carotid arteries in the neck are significantly obstructed. TIAs are little strokes. They cause any of the symptoms seen in a major stroke with the exception that the symptoms are of short duration, often a few minutes but no longer than 24 hours. Evidently they are the result of only a temporary obstruction to part of the circulation to the brain—not long enough to produce permanent damage to brain cells. The symptoms depend on the area of the brain involved and can include paralysis, speech and vision difficulties.

I am sending you a free copy of my new Special Report 202, Strokes: Prevention and Recovery, as you requested. Others who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/78, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077.

The cause of TIAs is not certain. One concept is that material from a fatty-cholesterol deposit in the wall of the carotid arteries in the neck may fragment and be carried with the circulation to smaller arteries in the brain. The possibility of spasm of arteries in the brain cannot be overlooked. Don't unnecessarily alarm your mother, but be certain she is adequately evaluated and on a program to decrease her risk.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.
