REGISTERED HEREFORD SALE MONDAY, JULY 15, BENEFIT RED CROSS

THE SCHOOL BOARD SELECTS TEACHERS

In the selection of teachers for the Hereford Schools for the session of 1918-19, the Board was mainly guided by the educational qualifications and teaching ability of the applicants. The Board is particularly fortunate in securing for the high school faculty men and women who have spent from two to three years in College or University. Four of the seven in the High School possess the B. A. degree from class one Universities.

With the exception of Mr. Fertsch the High School will be represented by a new faculty. The Grammar School retains five of its former teachers. The following is a complete list of the teachers for the Hereford schools: L. M. Fertsch.....Mathematics B. F. Hodges.....Science Miss Minnie Wiles.....Lath & Spanish Miss Mairs Terry.....English Miss Altha Morton.....History Miss Ina Baker.....Home Economics Miss Hattie Mann.....Math. & Eng. Mrs. Katherine Kerr.....Prin. Cen. Sch Miss C. Ora Smith.....Sixth Grade Miss Clyde Wilson.....Fifth Grade Mrs. Pleas Watson.....Fourth Grade Miss Mary Gallagher.....Third Grade Miss Jessie Sisk.....3rd & 4th Grades Miss Grace Lucas.....Second Grade Miss Helen G. Lea.....Primary

To date, it has been impossible to secure a teacher for the Department of Manual Training. The young men prepared to teach in this Department have gone, or are preparing to go into the Government service. Last term Manual Training was considerably interrupted by the change of teachers. The work consequently did not prove to be satisfactory. Manual training may be suspended for the duration of the war.

The independent district assessment is now being made. Upon its completion the Board will be able to definitely figure upon making music permanent part of the school curriculum. This part of our school work needs to be retained and supported by the public. Music in schools is not in any experimental stage. It is of direct, aesthetic educational value.

Too, a commercial department may be added. Courses in this Department will be open only to pupils from the ninth grade thru the eleventh. Work will be planned on a two year basis and consist of type-writing, shorthand, elementary economics, elementary commercial law, and business English and Arithmetic. Students will be required to pay a nominal tuition to aid in fostering this Department.

Piano music has contributed considerably to the development of local talent. Girls who take piano music are really entitled to a credit or credit toward graduation from the Hereford Schools. Where music is standardized and of a progressive series as given in Hereford, credits are advisable. This has been taken under consideration with the Department of Education at Austin.

Miss Tomlinson, who formerly taught expression, has gone into the Y. M. C. A. work in France. This phase of educational work among the children of grammar and high school age, it is hoped, will be undertaken by some one truly interested in the work.

Bible study, like Piano Music and Expression, do not a part of the school, has been a most effective adjunct. This work is being well taught by Miss Tarver, assisted by Miss Duff. All the children were permitted to report for this study when it did not interfere with their school program, and quite a number of the children availed themselves of the opportunity given. The school patrons are most kindly urged to aid financially and otherwise in the promotion of the study of the Word of God.

The final word, Hereford has gone over the top in every war measure. While we are paying out freely for the successful prosecution of the war, let Hereford also stay awake towards its great institution, the school. There must not be a retrenchment in things educational. "An educated mind is the guardian genius of Democracy."

MAN ACCUSED OF MURDER EARL WILSON'S BROTHER NOW UNDER ARREST

Much interest locally has been aroused in the outcome of the tragedy that occurred at Wellington, Kansas, recently when Earl E. Wilson's brother, Clarence Wilson, was murdered in a box car just outside the city of Wellington.

Monday Mr. Wilson received two telegrams from Wellington concerning the case. The officers have arrested a man in Wellington, concerning the case. The officers have arrested a man in Wellington and charged him with the crime. A man named Duvall, who was with Clarence Wilson when he was shot, has positively identified the man arrested as the murderer. Preliminary trial has been held, and the main effort at conviction will be made in September, when Mr. Wilson intends to be present, and push the prosecution vigorously.

CAVALRYMEN IN RACE AGAINST FATHER TIME AND OLD MAN DRAFT

The local Troop C, Texas National Guard Cavalry, has been much in the same predicament at Mahomet's Coffin for the past two weeks—twixt Heaven and Earth. The trouble all growing out of the fact that a great many of these volunteers are included in Class One of the draft. Twenty-four men from this class have been called for on July 22, and unless the Troop is Federalized before official notice of draft reaches each man there will be several cavalrymen who will be sent to San Antonio as members of the National Army.

NEW DOUGHBOYS ARE WINNING HEALTH AND PRAISE IN DRILL SQUADS

Two big Aukward Squads have been out every Tuesday and Friday for the past ten days—that is the Home Guards drill on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. But they are not as awkward as one would suppose. Many of these staid citizens have had some military training in the past, and those who have not are showing a surprising aptitude.

Drilled by Captain Mullins of the Cavalry Troop, and Lieutenants Carpenter and Whitehead of the Guards, former regular Army men, the ninety or more members are rapidly being whipped into shape. They are enjoying the experience, too, and the physical exercises are doing wonders for the wind and endurance of the new doughboys.

DAVIDSON AND FERTSCH OFF ON MOUNTAIN TRIP AND TEN DAYS' OUTING

Two automobiles, containing the entire families of Mr. and Mrs. Rosco Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Lin Fertsch, left Hereford Wednesday in the forenoon, bound for Roswell and beyond to the White Mountains. The party expects to be gone about ten days or two weeks, and will camp out and enjoy nature to the fullest while enroute.

Mr. Davidson stated that he had been on this trip before and had always wanted to try it again.

The four put in Class Two are: Lee Roy Conklin, Ben Raymon Andrew, Cecil Hicks Turner and Joe Paul Smith. It was stated by members of the local Board Thursday that in case the National Guard Troop is federalized before the call for men on July 22, the 24 men sent off on that date will leave just about one or two men in Class One. ### BIDDERS WILL DRAW SOMETHING EXTRA FINE IN HEREFORD CATTLE

Next Monday, July 15, is regular Third Monday Trades Day. In addition, it is the day selected by the patriotic breeders of registered Herefords in this territory on which they propose to put up at public auction some twenty head of registered stuff, to be sold to the highest bidder for cash, the entire proceeds to go to the Red Cross.

This is one of the most patriotic and liberal moves ever started in this section, and one that should receive the hearty support and commendation of all good citizens. These fine cattle should bring fancy prices under very ordinary conditions, and especially so when the cause for which they are sold is considered.

The sale will begin at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, and will be conducted by Colonel L. R. Brady of Manhattan, Kansas, a famous auctioneer of Hereford cattle, assisted by W. S. Williams of Hereford, E. E. Forbes of Clovis and O. C. Snyder of Hurley, all professional and experienced auctioneers. The personal services of all these men are donated. All expenses of this sale are borne by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, and the gross proceeds go to the Red Cross.

The local committee in charge consists of Rat Jowell, W. T. Womble and Ray Barber.

This gives everyone an opportunity to secure some of the best blood in the country and get a start in the registered business. A Pedigree Book, giving the blood behind every animal offered for sale Monday, will be distributed at the sale.

It is sincerely hoped that the people of this section will respond to this generous and patriotic step, on the part of our registered breeders and make this occasion the success it should be.

AMARILLO IS BADLY WALLOPPED IN DIAMOND BATTLE ON FOURTH

Boleshevik 'em—that is cordially invited them down for a nice, inoffensive Fourth of July ball game and then just literally whanged the tar out of them. Did most of it in one inning, too, after tantalizing them along for five frames. Slipped up on them like a Yankee patrol in No Man's Land rushes a Hun listening post.

These fellows from the metropolis of Potter county were all dolled up in grey uniforms labeled "Central Grocery" and for a few brief moments made a noise like a regular ball team. They were kinder fussed up in the very first inning, when our White Face yearlings stampeed and amassed two runs. But they recovered nicely and for the next four innings it was one, two, three, one, two, three.

The first two runs trickled across in this wise: Ralph Smith, first man up, walked; Patton sacrificed him to second; Caylor hit to Sterling, and when that gentleman mused things up all hands were safe. Smith scored on a passed ball, Caylor taking second; Caylor reached third on Earl Wilson's infield sacrifice, and scored on another passed ball. Curtisger was thrown out at first, ending the agony. Two runs and no hits.

Amarillo's lone score came in the first of the sixth. Amarillo's Smith was thrown out at first by Hereford's Smith; Amarillo's Wilson hit a mean one to Hereford's Wilson, over second, and was safe; he went to second on Bailey's poor handling of a difficult throw from Ralph Smith, third on a wild pitch, and came home on Webb's infield roller. Webb was caught napping off first a moment later. Score: Hereford 2-Amarillo 1; a very good game and prospect for a tight battle. And in five minutes it was all changed and the gentlemen from Potter had established an attitude record that would make the best American Ace in France blush with envy. The Brand would not swear to the exact detail of this which follows, but it was the best that could be picked up amid the haze of battle and the clatter of spikes on the home plate:

Walter Caylor reached second on a wild heave by Sterling; this seemed to cause a slight wobble in Page's delivery; for the next thing Captain Earl Wilson hit on one of his curves like a hen on a June bug and hit it a mile, more or less, in the general direction of McQueen's elevator. Caylor scored and Wilson roared on third; Curtisger drove an easy fly square into Morrow's hands, but that gentleman was so upset he dropped it. Wilson scoring. Bailey's was safe on a fielder's choice, and while the Amariillo field was throwing the ball around, Curtisger reached third and then stole home. Bailey took second on a wild pitch, but was later caught off base by Page. Brockhahn reached first on a balk, scored second, went to third on Thurman's single, and home on Holloway's blow to center. Ralph Smith walked, went to second on a passed ball, third on an error by Sterling, and home on an error by catcher Wilson. Holloway scoring ahead of him. Patton was safe on a fielder's choice, and Walter Caylor faced Page for the second time in the same inning. He was thrown out, short to first; Captain Wilson up again, and with a reputation to sustain, met the situation nobly with a two bouncer to left. Curtisger singled thru third and Bailey to center. Wilson scoring. Woodward went in the box for Amarillo and Brockhahn flew out to center, ending the riot. Nine runs, five hits, including a triple and double, six errors.

After that it was a joke. We snaped two more in the eighth, but everybody was too tired running around to pay any attention to them.

Curtisger pitched a steady, careful, dependable game, and was never in danger. Patton, our Castro county receiver, was of great help to him behind the bat. The whole team played good baseball, considering the practice they had not had, and best of all hit the ball hard.

A tremendous crowd was on hand, 125 automobiles being counted around the arena. The proceeds of the game went to the Red Cross. The box score:

M. T. JACOBS NOW SECRETARY IN ALABAMA

The Brand is in receipt of official notice from the Chamber of Commerce of Florence, Alabama, that said organization has employed M. T. Jacobs as Executive Secretary, effective Aug. 1, 1918.

Mr. Jacobs will probably be remembered by many local citizens as the efficient Secretary of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce for the last year or so.

CLARENDON EX-SHERIFF CAMPING ON TIERRA BLANCA IS SURE RAIN-MAKER

Ex-Sheriff Patton of Clarendon, family, and Walter Taylor and family, also of Clarendon, are camping on the Tierra Blanca, enjoying a camping and fishing trip. Mr. Patton states that on previous trips he has invariably brought rain with him, and he is certain it will rain on his camp at least before things are packed up.

JULY FOURTH FITTINGLY OBSERVED

With a carefully staged and planned parade in the forenoon, followed by an eloquent address by Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, and a patriotic Pageant in the evening, Hereford celebrated America's Independence Day uniquely and in a complete fashion which, perhaps, has never been quite equalled here before.

The credit for the day's work belongs to the County Council of Defense and its various Committees, and especially to Secretary J. S. Jones, upon whose shoulders fell the brunt of the work. The Pageant in the evening, held on the north side of the Courthouse, just before dark, was the direct result of some splendid work on the part of Mrs. Charles Pratt and ladies who volunteered to assist her.

As in every other effort made by the citizens during the past year, the work of the Hereford Band stood out during the day, as did that of the newly organized Liberty Girls, whose inspiring songs went straight to the heart of the great throng who observed the exercises of the day.

The parade in the forenoon was beautifully costumed, carefully planned, and successfully carried through. An unexpected but fitting climax for the morning's exercises was the unexpected arrival of two train loads of Soldiers enroute "Somewhere in America". The Band played for them, the Liberty Girls sang for them, and the Defense Council gave them smokes, candy and souvenirs. The embryo Samuels seemed to appreciate their welcome in Hereford very much indeed.

The personnel of the parade and the Pageant follows:

Band: Old Glory—Carried by city and county officials; Ed Connel carried large flag. Two small flags were carried by Mayor Kulight and Homer Wilkinson. Mother's Club: They carried the service flag. Preceding the Club was Mrs. J. H. Bowers with two small boys, Rex-Tynes Jr. and Jack Gilliland.

BOY SCOUTS AID UNCLE SAM BY HOEWING WEEDS

Hereford's Boy Scouts are certainly doing their bit for Uncle Sam. Early rising these summer mornings have witnessed a daily gathering of sturdy youngsters, in uniform, down at some convenient spot, where they boarded cars, and armed with hoes and rakes are driven out to the farm nearby for a war on the weeds.

Quite a number are working on the farm of D. L. McDonald, among them being Bruce and Gwynne Guthrie, Bernice Walker, Forest Corn, Daniel Bell and Kineth Rayzor.

Scout Master A. L. Biggs makes an earnest appeal for better support of the Boy Scout movement locally. He estimates that there are about 50 or 60 boys available in this county, and makes a special appeal for enrollment at this time because it is time to register for another year. It only takes 25¢ to join and 25¢ more month to a member.

Every Scout is invited to meet at the Scout Room at the Court House Thursday evening at 4 o'clock with enough food for his supper and breakfast, and one quilt of comfort; also with his staff. From here the first hike of the Summer will start.

Roy Houghland and his sister, Hattie, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jersig at Bovina, and are now taking their boat back with them. While in Hereford Mr. Jersig subscribed for The Brand.

W. B. Parmer is back from a trip down the Fort Worth & Denver railway as far as Fort Worth. Mr. Parmer stopped off at Burk Burnett, Electra and other points on business.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

MISS CECIL GILLILAND, Phone 30

On Monday afternoon the Wesley Bible Class of the Methodist church, enjoyed an outing on the creek. Everyone came with a tin cup and fishing pole, prepared to fish for their supper. Miss Clem proved to be the banner fisherman in numbers by catching 17 fish, while Mr. Brockhahn drew out a 4 pound bass.

After fishing for two or three hours supper was cooked over a camp fire, and it was here that the men demonstrated their efficiency as cooks. After much eating—intermingled with sympathy for Judge Slaton because he could not get enough fish—the crowd of about thirty-five in number, returned to town, all eager to repeat the

Promptly at 3:45 o'clock the ladies met at the church where autos were in readiness to carry them to the meeting. The ladies were met at the door by Mrs. W. B. Davis who assisted Mrs. Saltzman in entertaining the Society. Mrs. Jessie Stanford had charge of the Victrola and several pleasing selections were rendered while the crowd was gathering. As Brother Terry was with us for this meeting he took charge of the devotional services, choosing for his subject "Faith" and gave us such an earnest helpful talk. Mrs. D. W. Hawkins and Miss Lula Edwards then offered prayer. After several songs and a lively business session, Mrs. D. W. Hawkins gave a most delightful reading. ## J. M. BOONE ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR RELECTION JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

To the Voters of Justice Precinct No. 1: There are in this Precinct two elements of society. The first element desires the enforcement of the laws and always stand by the officers charged with the duty of law enforcement and I have always had the confidence of this element for I have always stood for what I conceived to be the duty of every citizen, that is to see that the laws are enforced. I refer you to the County Officers to find out whether or not I have done my duty as Justice of the Peace in the way of enforcing the laws.

There is another element in this Precinct who does not respect the laws themselves and do not want the officers to do anything to force them to respect the laws. This element is opposed to me and are very anxious to have me defeated. It is up to the voters at the Primary election to be held July 27th, to say which element is going to elect a Justice of the Peace for this Precinct to serve for the next two years.

J. M. BOONE, Candidate for Re-election to the office of Justice Peace, Precinct No. 1.

From Camp Travis

CAMP TRAVIS PUBLICITY OFFICE
U. S. N. A.
Camp Travis, Texas
July 6, 1918.

The problem that confronts the army today in receiving thousands of men from civilian life and putting them into the uniform and discipline of military life is vastly different from the recruiting problems of the oldtime regular army. Men now come into the camps at the rate of a thousand or more a day. They come hungry, and somebody has to feed them. Most of them are worn out with a day or two on a crowded troop train, and somebody has to put them to bed. Some of them contracted measles or mumps or something worse perhaps, and if they aren't looked after at once they and their comrades will be laid up, and the training of the national forces will be held up just that much.

For a year the reserve corps officers of Camp Travis have followed the beaten path laid out by the regular army men in the old days when the army was an affair of fifty or sixty thousand men all told. Under the strain of the huge numbers of recruits arriving the system worked badly. Men went two weeks without uniforms, sometimes even a month. Company commanders were distracted with keeping up with sending each increment of new men assigned to them to this infirmary for examination and, to that board for something else. Everywhere the men stood in line long hours waiting their turn to be inoculated and poked into, as it seemed to them, by pretty nearly every sort of doctor that the law allows.

As the arrivals of new men became more and more steady and the old system became more and more mired down in its complexities, the authorities in charge of Camp Travis since the departure of the Ninetieth Division for overseas service have instituted a new plan. The men are now taken to a central receiving station immediately from the train. Upon entering the station they undress, checking over their valuables and clothes to Y. M. C. A. representatives. They then are lined up and examined superficially by a number of army physicians. Then maintaining the line, they move through a series of shower baths; soaping and scrubbing as they move along, dry themselves with towels furnished as they emerge, and proceed, still in line and still on the move, through a regular battery of medical experts who examine them for defects of heart, lung, feet and so on. Clerks take down their measurements and their family history and vocational qualifications. Other clerks have their clothes ready for them, together with a substantial blue denim barrack bag to stow them in. Orthopedic specialists examine the fit of each man's shoes to make sure that he has not received too large a shoe through another's carelessness or too small a one through his own vanity. The rookie then dons his uniform, puts the rest of his outfit in his bag, reclaims his valuables from the Y. M. C. A. mails his old clothes back home through the same organization, with packing material supplied him, and steps out a soldier ready for instruction in drill, with even his first inoculation for typhoid already in his arm and all is done in a single day.

The new system not only takes a heavy load off of the individual commanders, but actually advances the training schedule by a full two weeks. In other words, the men of Camp Travis will now be ready for their work against the Hun two weeks sooner than the men of last year could train, simply because they got started at real work and drill two weeks earlier. It appears that the problems of organization and of handling vast numbers of men are being met with resourcefulness now by officers, many of whom were themselves in civilian life a little over a year ago.

HONOR THE NAME OF HENRI DUNANT as the real founder of the Red Cross. A care-free Swiss traveler, he witnessed the awful aftermath of the battle of Solferino, between the allied armies of Napoleon, III, of France and Victor Emmanuel II, of Italy and the Austrians under the then young Franz Joseph, and was so profoundly affected by the sufferings of the untended wounded that he forthwith gave his life to the amelioration of such frightful conditions. His book, "A souvenir of Solferino," startled thinking people with humanitarian impulses into a movement which eventually developed into the wonderful Red Cross organization of today. Horrible as this war is, without the reclaiming hand of the Red Cross, it would be too barbarous and awful for human comprehension. Therefore all honor to this man, Henri Dunant, who made his emotions of horror, pity and compassion a great driving force for the inception and development of a great, effective organization for the preservation and reclamation of human life.

THOSE WHO, from inadequate information or some other reason or near-reason, object to universal military training for the youth of our nation, cannot, if they think a moment, oppose the proposition of compulsory physical training for the manhood (and womanhood too) of the country. Such a regime would entail no hardship nor inconvenience upon any, save the sloths, would add immeasurably to the health, spirits and democratic unity of the men of the country, and would, in the event of war, make training merely a military matter, requiring much less time than now, because of the physical condition and mental alertness of the men being trained. "Get next" to this movement, initiated by the National Security League.

"THE SLACKER"

I wish to talk to you, my friend,
Tho' strange as it may seem;
I'll tell you at the very start
"The Slacker" is my theme.
They're all around us here, dear sir,
In every form and style,
And if it happens you are one
Then just take this—and smile.

There is a kind of slacker here
Who dares not go to war;
He does not care for sight of blood,
Or sound of battle's roar.
He thinks he'd better stay at home,
And run the chores or farm;
The women folks might be afraid
With no protecting arm.

There is another class, my friend,
Who sows he won't conserve,
In racking tone he loudly rates,
The meals his women serve.
He fumes that HE must eat cornbread,
With no a meal of meat,
His coffee isn't sweet at all,
HE likes white bread from wheat.

There is another slacker man,
Who boards his silver dollar,
Not one thrift stamp, or Bond he'd buy,
To save his country's honor!
He doesn't believe in these big loans,
The Nation might "go busted",
And then the men with Bonds would see

What sort of thing they'd trusted.
They're all in league with Kaiser Bill,
And working for the devil.
When Kaiser Bill gets down to Hell,
He'll hold an all-night reville;
And they will be invited sir,
For they are German backers.
I wonder if your card will read,
"In Hell, by Bill, for Slackers?"
—Virvian Edith Rayzor.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
Office of the Assistant Secretary
Washington, June 27, 1918.

TO THE EDITOR:

In simple justice to a group of earnest and patriotic men, I ask your attention to a few statements of fact. The House of Representatives adopted an amendment to the Food Production Act of 1919 forbidding the payment of salaries under this act to any man who has been placed in deferred military classification on account of his employment by the Department. Much publicity has been given to this amendment and it has evoked much newspaper comment. The men deferred have been denounced as "slackers," and the impression is conveyed that 2000 clerks in the Department of Agriculture at Washington have been sheltered from military service.

The facts are that only 205 men in the District of Columbia have been placed in deferred classification on the recommendation of the Department and of these, with the exception of eight administrative assistants performing responsible executive work, all are scientific or technical employees engaged in work of the most important scientific character. Much of this work has to do with such vital war gases, the testing of airplane fabrics, etc. Approximately 1700 persons including county agents, veterinarians, chemists, meat inspectors, and experts in the various bureaus of the Department, have been placed in deferred classification at the request of the Department. Not one of these men was deferred on his own request. The Department needs a large number of scientific men to replace those who have gone to war or who have been attracted to private employment. For instance, the Bureau of Animal Industry needs more than 60 veterinarians in its work of meat inspection, without which the health of the soldiers especially and of the civil population generally can not be safeguarded.

Let me cite you an instance of what happened in Kansas the other day. Douglas County farmers had just organized for more efficient food production and had hired T. E. Moore, a graduate of the Kansas State Agricultural College, as county agent. County Agent Moore was confronted with the immediate responsibility of providing hands to save the County's harvest of food crops. He was provided with a motor car, an office was rented, and a stenographer and office assistant employed. Douglas County farmers meant business. Then like a bombshell came a card from the Draft Board announcing Moore's call into military service. Appeals in his behalf were unavailing. Inquiries to the Agricultural College brought the response that this was the second county farm agent in Kansas to be drafted, and that there appeared nothing to do but close up the Douglas County Farm Bureau. Another man able to handle the farm agent's job was not to be had. So the motor car was stored, the office locked up, the stenographer and assistant discharged, and now Douglas County, according to a news dispatch, "will not have a farm bureau until the Kaiser is licked."

The amendment was introduced on the floor of the House and was adopted without committee investigation. The Senate Committee made careful investigation by taking elaborate testimony and going into all the facts, and as a consequence the members voted unanimously to kill the amendment.

The fact that the Department has been the subject of some heedless and unjust comment is my warrant for addressing you this personal note.

Very truly yours,
CLARENCE OUSLEY,
Assistant Secretary.

PRIESTS HELP IN FOOD WORK

Home demonstration agents of the Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges have received much help in food conservation work from priests of foreigners' churches. The priests give out information for the agents to members of their congregations and announce meetings and demonstrations. Sometimes they come to the meetings and speak. This influence is very valuable in impressing upon the foreign-born women the need of learning how to meet the food regulations.

Over 3,000 women are at work in the production of gas masks at the Long Island gas-defense plant.

Women stenographers and typists are now being enrolled in the Naval Reserve as yeomen.

Much knitting is being done since the supply of yarn arrived. Since the cost of the yarn was considerable in advance of the funds on hand it was found necessary to devise some means of raising further funds. THE STATE OF TEXAS

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
Oldham County, Texas, August term, A. D. 1918.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Deaf Smith County, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded, that, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the county of Deaf Smith four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon J. W. Wright, Sam S. Wright and E. VanMetre, who are non-residents of the State of Texas, and C. L. Hills, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the District Court, to be holden in and for the County of Oldham, at the Courthouse thereof, in the City of Vega, on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1918, the same being the 5th day of said month, then and there to answer the first amended original petition of G. A. Morris as plaintiff, filed in said Court on the 7th day of June, A. D. 1918, against J. W. Wright, Sam S. Wright, E. VanMetre, and C. L. Hills as defendants, said suit being numbered 201, the nature of which demand is as follows, to-wit:

That on December 1st, 1910, E. VanMetre, J. W. and Sam S. Wright executed to plaintiff note for $4,000.00 due December 1, 1911, bearing 8 per cent interest until maturity and 10 per cent thereafter; said note given in part payment of S. W. quarter and North half sec. 39, blk. K-5 T. W. & N. G. R. Co. survey of land in Oldham County, Texas, that date conveyed by plaintiff to said parties, and vendor's lien retained to secure said note, which provided for 10 per cent attorney's fees if collected by legal proceedings, said note payable at Amarillo, Texas. Default being made plaintiff sued in the District Court of Potter County, Texas, May 20, 1912, and after personal services on said defendants on October 3, 1913, secured judgment in the sum of $5,018.38 with 10 per cent interest from that date and costs of suit with foreclosure on said land with order of sale, under which said land was sold January 6, 1914, for $32.58, the amount of costs, leaving said $5,018.38 unpaid, which, with interest, amounts to about $7,250.53 which remains unpaid. That said Wrights and VanMetre reside at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, but have property in Texas, on which attachment may be levied. That by original petition filed April 9, 1918, plaintiff sued out attachment to Deaf Smith County, which was on April 19, 1918, levied upon the North half of sec. 84, all in blk. K-5, G. B. & C. N. G. Ry. Co. survey of land in Deaf Smith County, Texas, copy of which writ of attachment, with officers return was duly recorded among the attachment records of Deaf Smith county on April 20, 1918, whereby valid lien was fixed to secure payment of said indebtedness. That on December 1, 1917, plaintiff filed in this court Suit No. 197, against J. W. Wright, et al, on the cause of action above set out, and sued out attachment to Oldham and Swisher Counties, which was on December 4, 1917, levied on the N. W. quarter of sec. 62, blk. M-8, A. B. & M, that on Feb. 12, 1918, judgment was rendered in said 197, for $6715.25 with foreclosure on said Swisher county land, which was on May 7, 1918, sold and bid in by plaintiff for $500.00 which after deducting costs of $35.75 net credit of $464.25 was made on said claim. That defendant Hills is claiming some interest in the N. W. quarter sec. 84, blk. K-5, G. B. & C. N. G. Ry. Co. survey of land in Deaf Smith County, Texas, on account of three vendor's lien notes dated June 3, 1909, but which according to plaintiff's information have been paid as indicated by releases recorded in Deaf Smith county, but in which said quarter section is not properly described.

That if said Hills' notes have not been paid, they are barred by limitation and cease to be a charge on said land. Defendants Wrights and VanMetre being non-residents, and the residence of defendant Hills being unknown, plaintiff prays for Citation by Publication and for judgment against said Wrights and VanMetre for the amount of said debt with foreclosure of attachment lien against all of the defendants, for removal of cloud as to said Hills' notes, and for relief general and special both in law and equity. Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said Court, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, W. A. Pulliam, Clerk of the District Court of Oldham County, Texas.
Given under my hand and seal of said Court in Vega, this 1st day of July, A. D. 1918.

Report of Circle No. Three

In East Hereford at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. D. Bourn, our Circle held a very interesting meeting, last week.

The devotional was led by Mother LeGrand, who read the 25th chapter of Matthew, making suitable and instructive comments about the talents and different lines of service. Mrs. Bourn then made the opening prayer.

Mrs. Pitman, our vice-president, had charge of the meeting. The lesson was in Beecham's book and as each one read the references from the Bible, incidents and experiences were given.

We were glad to have Mrs. Byrd Mrs. Cardwell and Mrs. Smith with us. Some of our members were sick and some were out of town. We missed them. The Circle needs every member to help carry on the Lord's work and use their influence for the Cause.

Miss Miller took down the minutes. Mrs. Pitman called the roll and each one answered with a verse on "peace".

There was a short business session.

Mrs. Dr. Hicks told how Mrs. Bradley and girls were overwhelmed with surprise and pleasure and endeared to the Circle for remembering Lola on the event of her graduation.

Mother LeGrand dismissed us with prayer.

The Circle meets this week at Mrs. Dr. Gabbert's with Mrs. Bourn as leader. All are cordially invited to attend.

RED CROSS NOTES

It was stated last week that quotas of work would be assigned chapters beginning with July. This has been done for all work except surgical dressings. For other work it is as follows: For July, August and September: 120 Girls' chemise. 60 Helpless case bedshirts. 3 Layettes. 60 Children's dresses, 4 years. 50 Comfort kits.

KNITTING

276 Sweaters. 180 pairs Socks. For June the shipment of knitted goods was: 50 pairs Socks, 20 Sweaters. The big assessment on this Chapter for the months of July

August and September consists of knitting. From headquarters we have the following instructions:

"SPEED KNITTING"

"The quota of knitting assigned Chapters has been greatly increased. This is to supply the large numbers of men abroad and now in training at home. Plan a knitting campaign. Ask women to pledge work. Owing to the scarcity of gauze surgical dressings workers may have considerable spare time—employ this in knitting. "Start no surgical dressings shops now—start knitting shops."

For convenience to workers in different parts of town the following ladies will give instruction. On the West side Mesdames

CAKE!

Cattlemen, you can add a material increase to the weight of stock you are preparing for market by adding a per cent of cotton seed cake to their ration. It will make your grass last longer.

Feed cake to your milch cows for increased cream and butter production.

We have the cake, and can supply you with either the cracked or cold pressed.

WOMEN TORTURED!

Suffer terribly with corns because of high heels, but why care now?

Women wear high heels which buckle up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority.

Corns can easily be lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called freezezone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. You simply apply a few drops directly upon the tender, aching corn or callus. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts out without one particle of pain.

This freezezone is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Tell your wife about this.

Among the promotions announced at division headquarters, Camp Bowie, recently by Major W. R. Scott adjutant, were the following former students of the University of Texas: First Lieutenants to be Captains: Robert K. Hanger, Fort Worth, '18 Acad. and Law, 132d Field Artillery; Emmett Lee Wilkinson, Corsicana, '06 Acad., '07 Law, 132d Field Artillery. Second to First Lieutenants: John Lee Green, San Antonio, '18 Law, 141st Infantry; James H. Barnard, Wichita Falls, '20 Acad., 142d Infantry; George C. Thompson, Amarillo, '19 Acad., 142d Infantry.

ARTHUR GUY EMPEY

MACHINE GUNNER, SERVING IN FRANCE

LIST BY ARTHUR GUY EMPEY

At the training depot it does not take long to find out a man's character, and Lloyd was promptly dubbed "windy." In the English army "windy" means cowardly.

The smallest recruit in the barracks looked on him with contempt, and was not slow to show it in many ways.

Lloyd was a good soldier, learned quickly, obeyed every order promptly, never groused at the hardest fatigues. He was afraid to. He lived in deadly fear of the officers and "noncoms" over him. They also despised him.

One morning about three months after his enlistment Lloyd's company was paraded, and the names picked out for the next draft to France were read. When his name was called, he did not step out smartly, two paces to the front, and answer cheerfully, "Here, sir," as the others did. He just fainted in the ranks and was carried to barracks amid the sneers of the rest.

That night was an agony of misery to him. He could not sleep. Just cried and whimpered in his bunk, because on the morrow the draft was to sail for France, where he would see death on all sides, and perhaps be killed himself. On the steamer, crossing the channel, he would have jumped overboard to escape, but was afraid of drowning.

Arriving in France, he and the rest were huddled into cattle cars. On the side of each appeared in white letters, "Hommes 40, Chevaux 8." After hours of bumping over the uneven French roadbeds they arrived at the training base of Rouen.

At this place they were put through a week's rigid training in trench warfare. On the morning of the eighth day they paraded at ten o'clock, and were inspected and passed by General F—, then were marched to the quartermaster's, to draw their gas helmets and trench equipment.

At four in the afternoon they were again hustled into cattle cars. This time the journey lasted two days. They disembarked at the town of Frevent and could hear a distant dull booming. With knees shaking, Lloyd asked the sergeant what the noise was, and nearly dropped when the sergeant replied in a somewhat bored tone:

"Oh, them's the guns up the line. We'll be up there in a couple o' days or so. Don't worry, my laddie, you'll see more of 'em than you want before you get 'ome to Blighty again, that is, if you're lucky enough to get back. Now lend a hand there unloading them cars, and quit that everlastin' shakin'. I believe yer scared." The last with a contemptuous sneer.

They marched ten kilos, full pack, to a little dilapidated village, and the sound of the guns grew louder, constantly louder.

The village was full of soldiers who turned out to inspect the new draft, the men who were shortly to be their mates in the trenches, for they were going "over the line" on the morrow, to "take over" their certain sector of trenches.

The draft was paraded in front of battalion headquarters and the men were assigned to companies.

Lloyd was the only man assigned to D company. Perhaps the officer in charge of the draft had something to do with it, for he called Lloyd aside and said:

"Lloyd, you are going to a new company. No one knows you. Your bed will be as you make it, so for God's sake, brace up and be a man. I think you have the stuff in you, my boy, so good-by and the best of luck to you."

The next day the battalion took over their part of the trenches. It happened to be a very quiet day. The artillery behind the lines was still, except for an occasional shell sent over to let the Germans know the gunners were not asleep.

In the darkness, in single file, the company slowly wended their way down the communication trench to the front line. No one noticed Lloyd's white and drawn face.

After they had relieved the company in the trenches, Lloyd, with two of the old company men, was put on guard in one of the traverses. Not a shot was fired from the German lines, and no one paid any attention to him crouched on the firing step.

On the first time in, a new recruit is not required to stand with his head "over the top." He only "sits it out," while the older men keep watch.

At about ten o'clock, all of a sudden, he thought hell had broken loose, and crouched and shivered up against the parapet. Shells started bursting, as he imagined, right in their trench, when in fact they were landing about a hundred yards in rear of them, in the second line.

One of the older men on guard, turning to his mate, said:

"There goes Fritz with those d—d trench mortars again. It's about time our artillery 'taped' them, and sent over a few. Well, I'll be d—d, where's that blighter of a draft man gone to? There's his rifle leaning against the parapet. He must have legged it. Just keep your eye peeled, Dick, while I report it to the sergeant. I wonder if the fool knows he can be shot for such tricks as leavin' his post?"

Lloyd had gone. When the trench mortar opened up, a maddening terror seized him and he wanted to run, to get away from that horrible din, anywhere to safety. So quietly sneaking around the traverse, he came to the entrance of a communication trench, and ran madly and blindly down it, running into traverses, stumbling into muddy holes, and falling full length over trench grids.

Groping blindly, with his arms stretched out in front of him, he at last came out of the trench into the village, or what used to be a village, before the German artillery razed it.

Mixed with his fear, he had a peculiar sort of cunning, which whispered to him to avoid all sentries, because if they saw him he would be sent back to that awful destruction in the front line, and perhaps be killed or maimed. The thought made him shudder, the cold sweat coming out in beads on his face.

On his left, in the darkness, he could make out the shadowy forms of trees; crawling on his hands and knees, stopping and crouching with fear at each shell-burst, he finally reached an old orchard and cowered at the base of a shot-scarred apple tree.

He remained there all night, listening to the sound of the guns and ever praying, praying that his useless life would be spared.

As dawn began to break, he could discern little dark objects protruding from the ground all about him. Curiosity mastered his fear and he crawled to one of the objects, and there, in the uncertain light, he read on a little wooden cross:

"Pte. H. S. Wheaton, No. 1670, 1st London Regt. R. F. Killed in action, April 25, 1916. R. I. P." (Rest in Peace).

When it dawned on him that he had been hiding all night in a cemetery his reason seemed to leave him, and a mad desire to be free from it all made him rush madly away, falling over little wooden crosses, smashing some and trampling others under his feet.

In his flight he came to an old French dugout, half caved in and partially filled with slimy and filthy water.

Like a fox being chased by the hounds, he ducked into this hole, and threw himself on a pile of old empty sandbags, wet and mildewed. Then—unconsciousness.

On the next day, he came to; far distant voices sounded in his ears. Opening his eyes, in the entrance of the dugout he saw a corporal and two men with fixed bayonets.

The corporal was addressing him: "Get up, you white-livered blighter! Curse you and the day you ever joined D company, spottin' their fine record! It'll be you up against the wall, and a good job too. Get hold of him, men, and if he makes a break, give him the bayonet, and send it home, the cowardly sneak. Come on, you, move, we've been looking for you long enough."

Lloyd, trembling and weakened by his long fast, tottered out, assisted by a soldier on each side of him.

They took him before the captain, but could get nothing out of him but: "For God's sake, sir, don't have me shot, don't have me shot!"

The captain, utterly disgusted with him, sent him under escort to division headquarters for trial by court-marshal, charged with desertion under fire.

They shot deserters in France. During his trial, Lloyd sat as one dazed, and could put nothing forward in his defense, only an occasional "Don't have me shot!"

His sentence was passed: "To be shot at 3:38 o'clock in the morning of May 18, 1916." This meant that he had only one more day to live.

He did not realize the awfulness of his sentence; his brain seemed paralyzed. He knew nothing of his trip, under guard, in a motor lorry to the sandbagged guardroom in the village, where he was dumped on the floor and left, while a sentry with a fixed bayonet paced up and down in front of the entrance.

Bally beef, water and biscuits were left beside him for his supper.

The sentry, seeing that he ate nothing, came inside and shook him by the shoulder, saying in a kind voice:

"Cheero, laddie, better eat something. You'll feel better. Don't give up hope. You'll be pardoned before morning. I know the way they run these things. They're only trying to scare you, that's all. Come now, that's a good lad, eat something. It'll make the world look different to you."

The good-hearted sentry knew he was lying about the pardon. He knew nothing short of a miracle could save the poor lad.

Lloyd listened eagerly to his sentry's words, and believed them. A look of hope came into his eyes, and he ravenously ate the meal beside him.

In about an hour's time, the chaplain came to see him, but Lloyd would have none of him. He wanted no parson; he was to be pardoned.

The artillery behind the lines suddenly opened up with everything they had. An intense bombardment of the enemy's lines had commenced. The roar of the guns was deafening. Lloyd's fears came back with a rush, and he cowered on the earthen floor with his hands over his face.

The sentry, seeing his position, came in and tried to cheer him by talking to him:

"Never mind them guns, boy, they won't hurt you. They are ours. We are giving the Boches a dose of their own medicine. Our boys are going over the top at dawn of the morning to take their trenches. We'll give 'em a taste of cold steel with their sausages and beer. You just sit tight now until they relieve you. I'll have to go now, lad, as it's nearly time for my relief, and I don't want them to see me a-talkin' with you. So long, laddie, cheero."

With this, the sentry resumed the pacing of his post. In about ten minutes' time he was relieved, and a D company man took his place.

Meat Must Be Sold

Fresh meat is perishable. It must be sold within about two weeks for whatever it will bring.

A certain amount of beef is frozen for foreign shipment, but domestic markets demand fresh, chilled, unfrozen beef.

Swift & Company cannot increase prices by withholding meat, because it will not keep fresh and salable for more than a few days after it reaches the market.

Swift & Company cannot tell at the time of purchasing cattle, what price fresh meat will bring when put on sale. If between purchase and sale, market conditions change, the price of meat must also change.

The Food Administration limits our profit to 9 per cent on capital invested in the meat departments. This is about 2 cents per dollar of sales. No profit is guaranteed, and the risk of loss is not eliminated.

As a matter of fact, meat is often sold at a loss because of the need of selling it before it spoils.

An especially fitting closing for the series of Sunday afternoon meetings was the very excellent address given at the court house on last Sunday by Rev. A. L. Moore, presiding elder of the local M. E. Conference. The speaker touched upon the political phases of the League's work only indirectly, but laid special emphasis upon the importance of maintaining a high standard of government, a government that includes in its basic principles, education and religion. He urged that women look upon the ballot as a high and holy call whose obligations should be accepted gladly. This address was one of the best heard at these meetings.

Carl Raht of Fort Davis, a former student of the University of Texas, has recently finished writing a book entitled, "The Romance of Davis Mountains and Big Bend Country." While attending the University Mr. Raht made a notable record by his search into the early history of Texas. He spent 18 months gathering material for this book which is largely of a historical nature and covers a period of about 400 years.

How the U. S. Bureau of Standards tests Automobile Oils

Do you know the greatest weakness of ordinary automobile oils? Do you know the chief cause of wear and expense? Do you know how the U. S. Bureau of Standards tests automobile oils—what tests this Bureau considers most important? You will find the answers to these questions in the U. S. Bureau of Standards Technologic Paper No. 73—"Data on the Oxidation of Automobile Cylinder Oils." (Address, Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.) This explains how motor oil is tested for sediment—the same famous test that has shown how Veedol reduces friction and wear, by reducing sediment. Veedol is made by the special and exclusive Faulkner Process, that causes it to resist heat, and reduces sediment 80 per cent. That means less friction, less wear on your engine, less oil expense.

W. S. S. FLASHES

The State prize of $100 in War Savings Stamps, offered by Louis Lipsitz, State Director of the National War Savings Committee, for the best essay on thrift written by a Texas boy or girl, was won by Miss Katherine S. King, of Kerrville, Texas. The judges in the contest were Dr. Ivan Lee Holt of Southern Methodist University, Gus W. Thomasson, manager of the Associated Industries of Texas, and A. V. Lane, former president of the University of Texas and now vice president of the American Exchange National Bank. There were a number of contestants.

That their "boys" will have a "start" when they return from foreign battle service, many persons are now regularly purchasing War Savings Stamps for them. A great number of Soldiers' and Sailors' Nest Eggs have been started.

Although many West Texas Counties have suffered great loss on account of drought, the records of the National War Savings Committee show that a large proportion of the West Texas counties pledged the President in full June 28, National War Savings Day. Roberts and Carson Counties were the second and third counties to go over the top. Maverick County, on the Mexican border, was first.

MORE SMALL ARMS FOR EXPEDITIONARY FORCES; PRODUCTION COST DROPS

German timidity before American pistol fighters armed with American .45 caliber automatic pistols has brot about a change in the equipment of the American Expeditionary Forces by the War Department, and the Ordnance Department is rushing production of these weapons. About 3,000 are turned out daily and production is increasing. The impression exists that a shot from an American .45 takes a man out of action completely. Men hit from the smaller German pistols frequently continue in action effectively. The .45 caliber was adopted by the United States Army in 1911. Despite the heavy increased demand for these pistols the ammunition branch of the Ordnance Department has effected a saving during the past two calendar months of nearly $2,000,000, mostly on small arms ammunition, such as .45 caliber ball cartridges, .30 shells, and on clips and bandoleers.

The total savings by the Ordnance Department for these two months through salvage, waste prevention and the utilization or sale of discarded materials have aggregated $8,757,025. Cost of Vickers machine guns has been reduced $322.35 each. Colt machine guns, $22 each. Government rifles now cost $22 each, a reduction of $13 each.

INSPECTORS WILL CARE FOR HEALTH OF WOMEN WORKERS

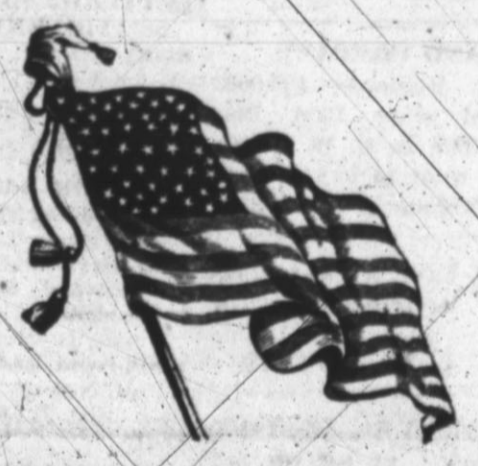

Health of women workers in munition plants will be looked after by women health officers who are to be trained under the direction of the Women's Division of the Industrial Service Section of the Army Ordnance Department.

An eight weeks' course of study for carefully selected women health officers has opened at Mount Holyok College, Mass. The course is under the general direction of Dr. Kristine Mann, health supervisor of the Women's Branch of the Ordnance Department. The staff of lecturers and instructors include well-known specialists in physiology and hygiene, physical education, factory organization, and labor.

Women taking the course are college graduates or of equivalent technical education. Almost all of them have had experience in dealing with working women. First requirement for admission to the course is perfect health, and only those were selected who will inspire wholesome living among the munition workers.

Many young women graduate and former students of the University of Texas are engaged in war work, some holding clerical positions at Washington, others in training for Red Cross overseas service at Vassar, and in various other capacities. A few are already in France working hard in their chosen war labors.
