CHECK MATE

New disclosures shake House; list of Texans, Page 11

WASHINGTON (AP) - House members are rushing toward the political confessional with a litany of apologies in a burst of soul-searching inspired by revelations of 24,000 bad checks.

"You get tarred and feathered by the actions of your fellow congressmen," Rep. Craig James, R-Fla., said of the furor sparked by check overdrafts at the now-defunct House bank.

"I know my constituents are angry and horrified over this entire affair. I am too," said Rep. Dennis Hertel, D-Mich., who is retiring from Congress rather than face re-election with 547 overdrawn checks.

"It wasn't a bank, it was a mess," he said.

The rapid-fire launching of confessions and explanations was a replay of the scenario of mid-March, when the lists of bad-check writers were initially leaked. And the process was no less painful for an institution under siege.

The House ethics committee on Thursday revealed 303 names of current and former House members who wrote bad checks at the members-only bank. It served to breathe new life into a scandal that broke into public view last year and seems certain to carry plenty of Election Day repercussions come November.

Together with the 22 names previously unveiled as the worst abusers of the bank, the new report means that 269 current and 56 former lawmakers wrote checks they didn't have the money to cover, during a 39-month period ending last October.

The committee earlier this month identified 22 "abusers" of the House bank who together wrote some 11,000 bad checks. They were not included in the new list.

Rep. Ronald V. Dellums, D-Calif., topped Thursday's list with 851 overdrafts on his account. Rep. Gerry Sikoraki, D-Minn., was second with 697. Third was Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, with 551. Stokes is chairman of the ethics committee but removed himself from the panel's bank investigation because of his bad checks.

The list included five senators - all Republicans - and four members of President Bush's cabinet.

"I think this brings to a close this whole matter," said House Speaker Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., who blamed the news media for inaccurate reporting of the scandal.

"Exaggerations have taken this thing to a dimension that is unreal," Foley said in an interview with The Associated Press.

While Foley said those on the list "violated no law and no rule of the House of Representatives," a special counsel appointed by the Justice Department is still investigating the matter.

And Republicans continued to fan the political flames, issuing a 30-second television spot for use by GOP challengers in House races around the country that urged voters to "Bounce the Democrats."

House Republican Whip Newt Gingrich was among those chagrined by the latest disclosures.

Gingrich, who had 22 overdrafts, was campaigning in his home district in Georgia as the names were being put out.

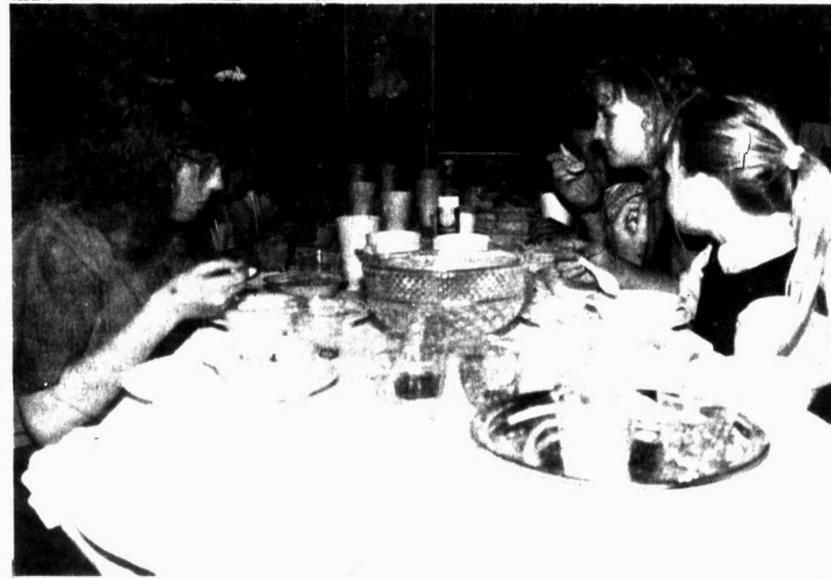

"If people (voters) decide the only thing that matters is the checks, that's a decision they've got to make," he said. "If you look at the total picture...I have a clear tradition of trying to clean up the House."

It wasn't clear which political party would be most damaged. The bad-check list included 180 Democrats, 88 Republicans and one independent Democrat now have a 268-166 majority in the House.

New debit cards will replace food stamps

AUSTIN (AP) - Replacing food stamps with an account system triggered by a plastic card will save money, reduce fraud and ensure that people entitled to the assistance receive it, officials have said.

A test project in which food stamp recipients will be able to use a plastic card to purchase groceries will start August 1993 in Harris County.

State Comptroller John Sharp said the program will be used statewide in 1994, and later possibly be expanded to deliver other social service benefits, such as payments for Aid to Families with Dependent Children and Medicare.

About 2 million Texans receive food stamps, officials said.

A statewide "electronic benefits transfer" system designed solely for food stamps would save the state $10 million per year, he said. Expanding the program to other social services could save $83 million annually, he said.

"What we can do with these cards, and with present day technology, is virtually eliminate fraud, make sure that the benefits are going to go to the people who actually need the benefits, save a lot of money ... and renew public faith," Sharp said.

The comptroller's office has mailed 22,000 questionnaires to retailers that accept food stamps to get their input on transferring to the plastic card system.

A task force, chaired by San Antonio civic leader Mary Alice Cisneros, and Merriman Morton, president of Texas Commerce Bank of Austin, plans to meet with statewide retailers.

Brown softens attack rhetoric

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) - Jerry Brown is toning down his attack rhetoric, but still pegs rival Bill Clinton as a tool of $1,000 donors and the Democratic Party establishment.

Clinton, however, is mostly ignoring Brown as the candidates campaign for Pennsylvania's April 28 primary. As the likely Democratic nominee, Clinton looked more like he's rehearsing for the fall, attacking President Bush for a lack of leadership as Bush almost simultaneously laid out his campaign education plan.

The new, muted Brown dismissed an opportunity to revise his "scandal-a-week" attacks on Clinton when asked about the public's perception that Clinton isn't trustworthy.

"I'd rather let Gov. Clinton address that particular problem. What I'm saying is that if people want real change, they're not going to get it with Mr. Clinton."

"Our campaign is about challenging the very people who are now jumping on Clinton's bandwagon - the $1,000 donors, the lobbyists, the people who got us here," Brown said.

Brown had said he planned to lighten up after his devastating third-place showing in New York, which he blamed on the nasty tone of the primary campaign there.

For the second time this month, Bush and Clinton's speeches collided - whether by coincidence or design. On April 2, Bush unveiled his plan to help the former Soviet republics as Clinton delivered a foreign policy address.

On Thursday, Clinton outlined his own economic plans to the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business, saying he chose that site partly because it is a symbol of the excesses of the 1980s.

"It was here at Wharton that Michael Milken got the idea to use junk bonds," he said. "It was here at Wharton that by 1987... 25 percent of the graduating class was going into investment banking."

He urged the audience to turn away from such pursuits and focus on a new spirit of service to country.

His economic plan included a fully funded Head Start, an apprenticeship program for high school graduates with no plans for college, and a national service trust allowing anyone to go to college and pay back the costs through service or a percentage of future earnings.

Six injured in accident

Hereford volunteer firefighters work to free three persons trapped in an upside-down Suburban after an accident Thursday evening on Progressive Road just south of U.S. Highway 60. A 1983 Suburban driven by Erasmo Dominguez, 46, of Dimmitt, was passing three grass-cutting tractors. One of the tractors driven by Jacob Northcutt, 36, of Hereford, cut in front of the Suburban. Dominguez lost control while trying to avoid the tractor; the Suburban left the road, then overturned in the middle of the roadway. None of the six persons in the Suburban were seriously injured, according to Department of Public Safety reports.

Buchanan says he'll make peace with Bush

HAYFORK, Calif. (AP) - Republican presidential candidate Pat Buchanan said he expects to make peace with George Bush before November's election, but not before making one last stand in California.

Buchanan, who campaigned Thursday in this tiny timber town about 200 miles north of San Francisco, said the state's June 2 primary represents the beginning of the end of a campaign aimed at "reconnecting the government with the people."

The conservative commentator vowed in an interview with The Associated Press to keep up his attacks on Bush and "little Dan Quayle" until after the California primary on June 2.

"I'm going to fight; I'm going to keep on fighting," he said.

But he acknowledged that then, "I'm ready to work to bring the party together in Houston" at the Republican National Convention.

Buchanan angrily dismissed an ultimatum issued Wednesday by Republican National Committee Chairman Rich Bond that he endorse the president once the nomination is a certainty or be denied a prime-time role at the convention.

Buchanan said Bush would make the final decision on his convention role and "We don't need to negotiate with his luggage handlers."

Aides said Buchanan would return to California several times in May. He is expected to focus much of his efforts on southern California, where his conservative message should find receptive audiences.

Cleanup starts in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) - Divers vacuumed wet silt from part of a tunnel that flooded the downtown business district in the hopes of pouring concrete to block the leak.

Officials on Thursday said the silt, clay and gravel had to be removed before the concrete could be poured, down shafts sunk into the Chicago River.

Part of a tunnel under the river burst Monday, sending water surging through a 50-mile network under the downtown area.

Officials estimated it will take three days to vacuum the tunnel and another 12 days to empty millions of gallons of river water from the underground system.

The disaster closed more than 100 buildings and has cost millions of dollars in lost business.

Many businesses still are pumping water from basements and sub-basements; officials say the flood will put a major dent in the city's economy.

"It may be a billion dollars. It may be more in collateral damage," said Samuel R. Mitchell, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Workers trying to plug the leak say they have sharply reduced the amount of water flowing into the tunnel.

But Army Corps of Engineers Gen. Russell Fuhrman said workers have to move slowly in removing the water.

"The water is exerting a tremendous pressure on the walls of the tunnel and the building foundations," Fuhrman said. "If you take it out too quickly, the walls could cave in."

Plans now call for workers to pour cement down six shafts sunk into the river after the tunnel is swept clean.

Officials want to seal the ends of the damaged part of the tunnel to prevent any further water from getting into the network under the city.

Sharyn Ivory to speak

Sharyn Ivory, RT, is the featured speaker for the final session of the Women's Forum, sponsored by Deaf Smith General Hospital. The session will be held at the Hereford Community Center at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 21. Because of limited seating, those wishing to attend the free seminar should call Peggie Fox at 364-3805.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jeff Goldblum says his parents told him to pick a career he loved — and he chose acting in part to escape them.

"My parents always told me to find something to love because it might be the key to my vocational choice, and I fell in love with acting," the 39-year-old star of "Deep Cover" said in Wednesday's Orange County Register.

"I became obsessed with it. I used to pray each night, 'Please, God, let me be an actor.' I think I felt at the time that acting would get me out of the house," he said.

In his latest film, which opened Wednesday, Goldblum plays an attorney who hooks up with an ambitious drug dealer played by Larry Fishburne.

Ivory will present the topic, "People—How to Cope!". The humorous presentation examines the four major personality types described by Hippocrates 2,000 years ago. "This program is designed to help us laugh at ourselves and understand others better. The presentation is appropriate for anyone who deals with other people on any level, such as marriage, parenting, working, driving in traffic, or living anywhere other than in total isolation," Ivory said.

An experienced speaker, Sharyn has addressed school groups, hospital groups, and church groups on a variety of subjects. Professionally she is the director of radiology at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. She started at the Lubbock Hospital in 1972 as a staff technologist. She is registered by the American Registry of Radiologic Technology and certified by the Texas Department of Health. She received her training at Midwestern University Memorial Hospital School of Radiologic Technology.

Ivory is a native Texan, born in Kermit. She and her husband Royce have a daughter, Karla, and two grandsons.

Make Easter keepsakes

With only a few more days until Easter, it's egg-decorating time for families. Whether you dye the eggs or decorate them with stickers, ribbons and markers, every creation will add a festive touch to your Easter table.

To save your "masterpieces" from year to year, you may want to try decorating "blown eggs." Blown eggs are more fragile than hard-boiled ones, but when Easter is over you can pack them away in an empty egg carton and enjoy them for years to come.

Here's how to blow out the contents of a raw egg: First, wash and dry the egg. Then, an adult should poke a small hole at each end of the egg with a darning needle. Twist the needle inside the egg until the yolk breaks. Blow through the hole at the pointed end of the egg flow out of the opposite hole. Enlarge the hole if necessary. (Collect the contents of the egg in a dish for later use.) Thoroughly wash out the eggshell, let it air-dry and it will be ready to decorate.

For an attractive spring table centerpiece, place your decorated eggs in an Easter basket or hang them from clipped budding forsythia, lilac or weeping willow branches that you have arranged in a water-filled vase. To hand of blown egg to a branch, tape one end of a 10-inch length of thread or fishing line to the pointed end of the egg. Tie the other end of the thread to a branch.

Enjoy the colorful egg tree and look for young leaves as they appear from the buds!

Brown's broken bone deals blow to team

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

Leo Brown broke a bone in his leg Thursday at the District 1-4A track meet at Randall, dealing a blow to the Hereford track team's chances to advance to regionals.

Brown underwent surgery Thursday afternoon in Amarillo. Head track coach Ron Young, who was at the hospital during the surgery, said the bone turned out to be shattered.

"It was a lot worse than they thought at first," Young said. "They had to do a lot of work when they went in."

He was to be kept overnight and possibly released this morning, Young said.

"Dr. (Bill) Barnhill said everything went perfect, no problems," Young said.

The injury happened during the finals of the long jump event. Brown's foot slipped when it planted for take-off, and he landed wrong on the other foot, which was the one that broke. Joe Cabezuela, the coach who works with jumpers, was there.

"It looked odd. It was like there was nothing there (when his foot planted)," he said. "He tried to run through the pit, but he started hobbling and he fell to the ground."

"His first three or four jumps looked good. I wondered if his ankle felt all right (Brown had experienced pain there before). I don't know if all of a sudden it decided to give out on him."

The break happened on Brown's final attempt. The jumps Brown completed were good enough to get him second place. Hereford's Shawn Fogo tied Brown's best jump of 21 feet, 1 1/2 inches, but Brown was given second because his next best jump was better than Fogo's next best. As the alternate, Fogo will represent Hereford at regionals.

Fogo filled the hole in the long jump, but there are holes elsewhere that can't be filled. It's against the rules to replace anyone in field events. Brown was expected to win or at least place high in the triple jump and the 110-meter high hurdles. Hereford loses as much as 20 precious points there.

Brown was also on both relay teams, but runners can be replaced by alternates in relays. Young's assistants were at Whiteface Field late Thursday afternoon working with the new runners and the new exchanges that will debut today.

Assistant Stan Carter said the relay teams will find it tougher without Brown.

"There's no doubt about it," he said, "but we're not going to give up. Brandon Geam in the sprint (400-meter) relay and Mark Kuper in the mile (1,600-meter) will have to pick up the slack."

The slack will have to be picked up by the entire team if it still hopes to contend for the district title.

"It's a devastating blow to the track team, but we're not going to give up," Young said. "We'll show up, and we'll do it with what we've got."

There was also good news from Randall. Hereford's boys got some good points in two of the four events that were completed Thursday, and the JV boys and the girls' teams were in good shape after one day.

The boys' team got 14 points in the long jump and 14 in the shot put, which was what Young said they were asked to do.

Stephen Blea took second in the shot with a put of 51-1, and he'll advance to regionals. T.J. Samples' 46-2 1/2 tied him for third, but he lost out on the next-best-throw tiebreaker to Jeremy Kreig of Randall. Craig Hiltbrunner took fifth place with a put of 44-5.

The 3,200-meter run was the only running event completed Thursday, and no Hereford runners placed. Hereford did not have anyone competing in the pole vault. Hereford boys succeeded in qualifying for the finals in the five events that held preliminaries Thursday. Everything was to be finished today.

The Hereford girls' team is doing well after one day. The girls have completed the discus, high jump and triple jump. Hereford got points in all three--especially the discus.

Shantel Cornelius won the event with a toss of 119-11, April Roddy was third at 112-3, and Roxann Torres was sixth at 92-11.

Cornelius placed third in the high jump with an effort of 4-10. Brandy Dunn was fifth in the triple jump at 32-8.

Hereford runners qualified in four of the five preliminaries. Hereford qualified three runners in each of the hurdle races: Jeannie Barrientez (4th), Brandy Dunn (6th) and Erin Dunn (7th) in the 100-meter; and Barrientez (3rd), Angie Jowell (4th) and Rachel Alaniz (7th) in the 300-meter.

Minerva Salazar was the top qualifier in the 400-meter run with a time of 61.01.

"Pampa's still the team to beat, and Borger's got lots of people in finals, and they look good," Hereford coach Martha Emerson said of the meet after one day.

Hereford dominated the JV girls' throwing events, getting first and second in both. In the discus, Beth Haile won with a toss of 94-0, and Clarissa Ramirez was second with a 89-10. In the shot, Michelle Brock won with a 32-4 1/2, and Claudia Ramirez was second with a 29-7 1/4.

Game-saving play

Hereford junior varsity catcher Justin Wright blocks the plate and applies the tag on a Plainview runner Thursday at Whiteface Field. This could have tied the score in the sixth inning, but Hereford survived and came away with a 5-4 win.

JV holds on to 5-4 victory

The Hereford junior varsity baseball team had its chances to lose, but defense and pitching came through in the clutch.

"We didn't panic when they had people on base," Coach Henry Perez said. "We didn't make the errors. I think that was the key."

Plainview's JV started rallies in the sixth and seventh innings but couldn't finish them, and Hereford held on for a 5-4 win. A Bulldog was thrown out at the plate trying to tie in the sixth when Josh Tice retrieved an errant throw behind third and threw a strike to catcher Justin Wright.

"That was for a third out, and that would have tied the game, so that was big," Perez said.

In the seventh, Plainview got men at second and third with two outs, but pitcher Ray Hastings coaxed a pop-up for the third out. Hastings pitched the complete game for the win.

Both starting pitchers found trouble with wildness as seven of the game's runs were scored in the first inning. Both pitchers walked the first two men they faced. Those four batters came around to score.

In Plainview's half of the inning, three runs scored without a base hit. The two walks combined with an error, a ground out and a wild pitch.

Hereford got it all back and more with four in the bottom of the inning. Stacey Sanders and Jason Tatarevich drew walks and Andrew Tijerina singled to load the bases. They all scored on two errors. Elias Reyna, who reached on one of those errors, stole second and scored on Tice's single.

Plainview tied it at 4-4 with a single, a groundout and a single in the top of the fourth, but Hereford retook the lead in the bottom of the inning on Richard Wilbanks' triple to left field and Hayden Andrews doubled to the same spot.

Odd Rules

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP) - A rule in effect in college basketball in 1901, according to the NCAA archives, prohibited a dribbler from shooting for a field goal. In addition to that restriction, a player could dribble the ball only once, and he was forced to use both hands.

Clippers clinch 1st playoff trip in 16 years

By The Associated Press

Larry Brown, the first man to coach two NBA teams in one season, is now the first to coach the Los Angeles Clippers into the NBA playoffs.

The Clippers, whose franchise last appeared in the postseason in 1976 when it was located in Buffalo and called the Braves, clinched the playoff berth with a 96-93 victory over the NBA's worst team, handing Minnesota its sixth straight loss.

"It's been 16 years, and that's longer than I stay at most of my jobs," Brown said, mocking his own reputation for job-jumping.

If the Timberwolves had been able to win, the Clippers' playoff spot was still secure because the Los Angeles Lakers lost 102-94 at Sacramento. The defeat left the Lakers on the verge of missing the playoffs for the first time since 1976, the year the Clippers last appeared in them.

Ron Harper had 29 points for the Clippers, including a free throw with 15 seconds left that completed the scoring. A free throw by Danny Manning with 1:49 left put Los Angeles ahead 95-90 before a free throw by Tony Campbell and basket by Sam Mitchell made it close down the stretch.

Charles Smith had 24 points and 11 rebounds for the Clippers.

Gerald Glass scored 16 points for the Timberwolves.

Kings 102, Lakers 94

Wayman Tisdale scored 22 points to help Sacramento put Los Angeles on the brink of playoff elimination.

Dennis Hopson came off the bench to score 11 of his 19 points in the fourth quarter for the Kings, who outscored Los Angeles 9-4 in the final 2:11 to end a 17-game losing streak against the Lakers, dating to Jan. 10, 1989.

The Lakers, who got 27 points from Terry Teagle, fell one game behind Houston for the eighth and final playoff berth in the Western Conference.

The Rockets have a better record against conference playoff teams - the fourth tiebreaker - so the Lakers would have to win their last two games while Houston loses its last two in order to avoid missing the playoffs.

Heat 95, Bucks 87

Miami got 23 points from Glen Rice and some of the help they need to make the playoffs for the first time.

The Bucks shot just 38 percent and scored a total of 30 points in the second and third quarters, allowing the Heat to pull within a half-game of eighth-place Atlanta in the Eastern Conference. Miami also has an outside chance of catching seventh-place New Jersey.

Rice hit a 3-point basket during an 11-0 third-quarter spurt that overcome a 53-51 deficit. Reserve Kevin Edwards added 20 points, while Brad Lohaus had 23 points and 14 rebounds for Milwaukee, which finished with a 6-35 road record, its worst since 1977.

Pacers 119, Nets 113

Indiana rallied from a 12-point deficit to win at New Jersey, denying the Nets their first playoff berth since 1986.

Detlef Schrempf scored 26 points and Reggie Miller had 11 of his 24 in the fourth period for the Pacers. Drazen Petrovic topped New Jersey with 24, one more than Derrick Coleman.

The Nets, who will still make the playoffs by defeating Orlando on Saturday or with a loss by Miami or Atlanta, led 103-91 with 10:22 to play.

Miller put Indiana ahead for good, 115-113, with a reverse layup with 50 seconds left and Chuck Person's jumper made it 117-113 with 26 seconds to go.

Suns 121, Spurs 101

Cedric Ceballos scored 13 of his 27 points in the third quarter as Phoenix broke away from San Antonio.

Ed Nealy added 17 points in 21 minutes on 6-for-6 shooting for the Suns, who won their eighth straight game at home, where they finished 36-5.

Sean Elliott scored 20 points and Terry Cummings 19 for the Spurs.

Bullets 119, Magic 106

Michael Adams scored 34 points and Washington snapped a six-game losing streak by beating Orlando.

Adams made 13 of 21 shots, including five 3-pointers, to help the Bullets win their final home game of the season. The Bullets' 14-27 record at home was the second-worst in the history of the franchise.

Ledell Eckles scored 27 points for Washington, which lost 14 of its previous 16 games.

Angels foil Russell's save opportunity

By The Associated Press

Oh what a relief it was. And wasn't.

After the Texas Rangers did not get what they needed from their ace closer, Jeff Russell, California's Bryan Harvey protected the Angels' ninth-inning lead for a 3-2 victory Thursday night.

California scored three runs in the ninth inning. Rangers starter Brian Bohanon gave up a double to Chad Curtis to start the inning and on came Russell. He yielded singles to Bobby Rose and Junior Felix. An error by third baseman Dean Palmer and Gary Gaetti's sacrifice fly handed Russell his first loss against a victory.

Last year, Russell had 10 blown saves in 40 save opportunities.

"I think we were supposed to win this one," Gaetti said. "We kept getting out of jams, and when you do that, you usually win."

But they had to have some tidy relief, and Harvey, the AL's top fireman last year, did the job. Harvey, who converted on 46 of 52 save opportunities last year, earned his third save.

"It was a big game to win, another one-run game," said California manager Buck Rodgers. "We better get used to it. We're going to be in a lot of one-run games this year."

"That's why it's so great to have a closer like Harvey. If you get a lead, you know you're going to keep it."

White Sox 5, Mariners 4

At Chicago, George Bell hit a two-run homer and singled to start a two-run rally. Bell got the chance to play left field for the first time after being the designated hitter thus far this season for the White Sox.

He singled to start a two-run second and hit his third homer off loser Rich DeLucia in the third inning after Steve Sax had singled.

"It's tough to sit on the bench," said Bell, who came across town in a trade with the Cubs earlier this year. "I prefer to go out there and show what I can do. But if they want me to DH, I'll DH."

Who was Seattle's DH?

The Mariners lost their designated hitter because of a lineup mistake. The official lineup card listed both Pete O'Brien and Tino Martinez as first basemen. Both batted in the first inning, and when Martinez went to first base, O'Brien became ineligible, with DeLucia replacing him as the No. 5 batter.

Athletics 1, Royals 0

The host Royals continue to mess up. This time, they got their ninth loss in 10 games - their worst start ever - on Keith Miller's two-base error with two outs in the 10th.

Quirk, who had singled off reliever Jeff Montgomery, came around to score.

Dennis Eckersley pitched the 10th for his fourth save in relief of Dave Stewart. Royals starter Kevin Appier allowed only two hits and fanned eight in eight innings.

Tigers 13, Indians 4

At Cleveland, Rob Deer homered twice, giving him four in four games, and Mickey Tettleton hit a three-run homer for the suddenly awakened Tigers.

Deer led off the third with a homer off Dennis Cook (0-1), then hit a two-run drive off Scott Scudder shortly after an 18-minute rain delay interrupted the sixth inning.

Tettleton homered off Rod Nichols during the Tigers' seven-run seventh. Detroit had eight hits in the inning, including a double and a triple by Milt Cuyler.

Bielecki, Braves blank Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Thanks to Mike Bielecki, the Atlanta Braves' starting rotation doesn't appear to be as vulnerable in the No. 5 slot as it was last season.

Joining a stellar cast that includes steady John Smoltz, phenom Steve Avery and Cy Young winner Tom Glavine, Bielecki fit right in Thursday night with 5-2-3 innings of no-hit ball and finished with a two-hit, 3-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

In the only other National League game played Thursday, San Francisco defeated San Diego 6-1.

"I came into spring training knowing I had to win a job," Bielecki said after earning his first victory for Atlanta since the Sept. 29 trade that sent him to the Braves from the Chicago Cubs.

Bielecki (1-1) hadn't thrown a shutout since 1989, when he had his best year in the majors and helped lead the Cubs to a National League East title with an 18-7 record, a 3.14 ERA and a career-high 147 strikeouts.

Anyone who didn't think Bielecki was overpowering might get an argument from the Dodgers' Kal Daniels, who struck out all four times and was caught looking his last three times up.

Bielecki's batterymate, Damon Berryhill, drove in two runs with a fourth-inning groundout and a sixth-inning RBI single off right-hander Kevin Gross (0-1).

The sluggish Dodgers fell to 3-7 and committed two more errors, giving them 11 in 10 games. A wild throw by third baseman Dave Hansen led to Atlanta's second run. Catcher Mike Scioscia made a throwing error to second base on Deion Sanders' second stolen base of the game.

Sanders had two singles and ran his hitting streak to all 10 games.

Giants 6, Padres 1

At San Francisco, Bill Swift, who has all but one of the Giants' wins, pitched his second straight complete game and doubled twice.

Swift (3-0), who returns home to Seattle between starts to await the birth of his child, lowered his ERA to 0.70.

Obtained from the Mariners in the trade for Kevin Mitchell, Swift ended San Diego's five-game winning streak.

Will Clark tripled in the sixth inning for his 999th career hit as the Giants ended a three-game losing streak.

Rangers' Brown going distance

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Kevin Brown hasn't wasted any time taking care of some unfinished business.

After tying an American League record by going 33 starts without a complete game last year, the Texas Rangers right-hander has finished both of his starts this season.

Brown hadn't gone nine innings since July 23, 1990, but he said he never gave the streak much thought - probably because he was thinking too much about his mechanics.

"You don't ever want to concentrate on mechanics," said Brown, who did just that last spring and spent most of the season trying to undo the harm.

"It's just a bad habit I got into," Brown added. "I tried to change my mechanics when I was up in spring training and I just got out of whack, and it pretty much took until about midseason until I straightened it out."

Brown consulted a sport psychologist late last year to stop himself from thinking too much on the mound and fading late in the game.

The numbers show he got his money's worth.

Heading into tonight's game against the Oakland Athletics, Brown, who went 9-12 last year with a 4.40 ERA, is 2-0 with a 1.50 ERA.

Last year, Brown gave up more hits (233) than he had innings (210.2) and barely threw more strikeouts (96) than walks (90). So far this year, he has given up 10 hits in 18 innings while striking out 12 and walking six.

"The big thing is I'm facing batters and not facing myself," Brown said.

Brown said the complete games are a result of his new attitude not to dwell on motion and mechanics. But, he said, the 39-game streak without a complete game really didn't bother him that much.

"It was not that big of a thing," Brown said. "There was a couple of times I had to opportunity to throw a complete game last season, but it was a situation where we needed to get some guys some work."

Brown, 27, said this spring he was going to revert to his younger days when he threw with little thought and much abandon, an approach that earned him All-American honors at Georgia Tech and made him a first-round draft choice in 1986.

"A lot more of my energy is going

If you like catching when you go fishing, then turn off the television and head to the lake.

In Texas, Lake Greenbelt near Clarendon reports the fishing is excellent for bass, sand bass and walleye. Bone rattletraps and pumpkin lizards should catch a limit.

At Lake Meredith, the walleye are on the riprap at the dam. Countdown Rapalas and jig/minnows will catch some really big walleye. Main lake points are loaded with walleye and big smallmouth.

Lake White River near Crosbyton is getting better. When the water hits 60 degrees, the bass will join the walleye in a feeding frenzy.

In New Mexico, the fishing at Ute Lake near Tucumcari is simply fantastic. Local bass clubs are rewriting their record books with unbelievable numbers of quality bass. A two-day team tournament was won with 56 pounds, and even second place caught more than 47 pounds. Experts are tossing slug-go's and buzzbaits, put on some heavy line and head up the Canadian River.

Ute Lake will be the site of a Fun Tournament with bass fishing starting at 6 a.m. Saturday and lasting until noon mountain time. Registration is at the marina 6-10 Friday and Saturday morning starting at 4:30 a.m. Entry fee is $20, and the top ten anglers earn money and prizes. The winner earns the prestigious "bass ring."

In Oklahoma, Lake Foss is turning out record numbers of walleye, crappie, striper and even some tasty saugeyes. A 1/8 ounce jig tipped with a minnow will catch a limit of some delicious fish.

Lure of the week--Often copied but never equalled is the old, dependable RattleTrap. These lures will catch any fish that eats minnows. Buy several rattletraps and start bouncing them off the rocks in water 5 to 20 feet deep.

You will need several because some rocks eat 'traps.' If you care not bouncing off the rocks, then you are not going to catch many walleye or smallmouth. It is the change in direction that seems to trigger a strike. Chrome/blue, crawdad color, red and bone-white are some of the best colors.

Warning--The hooks on a trap need to be super sharp. Use a net to land the fish because a trap will catch both you and the fish if proper care is not exercised.

Next week--Results and secrets from several bass tournaments.

toward my pitches instead of what my body is doing," Brown explained. "It's how I threw in college. It's nice to feel that way again."

Brown has been called upon to take a leadership role in the Rangers' rotation because of injuries to Nolan Ryan. Ryan is on the disabled list for the fourth time since 1990, this time with a strained left calf muscle and an inflamed right Achilles tendon.

Pitching coach Tom House, himself a psychologist, said Brown's therapy in the off-season gave him confidence to accept that responsibility.

"It used to be that you had to hide to do that or not let anybody know," House said. "And now it's part of the performance curve. It's just something that's accepted. Other pitchers have had success with it, and even if it only helps a little bit, it's better than no help at all."

Brown said his sessions with the psychologist taught him that "I just have to trust myself and not worry so much about trying to be perfect. I had to accept that what my body does naturally is enough to go out and get the job done."

House said he thinks Brown's troubles stemmed from him having to fine-tune his game in the big leagues.

"In this organization, we asked some young pitchers to mature on the major league level who under normal circumstances probably would have spent an extra two or three years in Double-A and Triple-A ball," House said. "But that's the price you pay when you accelerate young talent."

"It's never been a question of tools," House added. "It's been a question of experience to go with the tools, and I think what you're beginning to observe now is the meshing of experience and talent."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

A TIME FOR WAR

GENERALLY WITH THE FIRST WARM BREEZES OF SPRING CAME THE CLOUDS OF WAR. THE WINTER RAINS AND SNOWS HAD TO BE OVER WITH BEFORE ARMIES COULD MOVE. THERE WAS NO DECLARATION OF THE INTENTION OF WAR BY ONE NATION TO ANOTHER. AN INVADING COUNTRY KNEW IT WAS AT WAR ONLY WHEN ITS PEOPLE SAW THE FIRST TROOPS OF THE MARAUDING INVADERS. THE ISRAELITES WERE STRATEGISTS OF NOTE. THEY DID NOT HAVE THE EQUIPMENT THAT OTHER ARMIES HAD SUCH AS CHARIOTS AND WAR MACHINES, SO THEIR BATTLE PLANS HAD TO BE OUTSTANDINGLY ORIGINAL. HISTORY SHOWS THAT WITHOUT EXCEPTION THE LEADERSHIP OF THE ISRAELITES WAS PAR EXCELLENCE. IN ALMOST EVERY BATTLE THEY FOUGHT THEY WERE NUMERICALLY WEAKER BUT THEIR DARING TACTICS AND THEIR FAITH IN GOD, AS THE POTENT FORCE BEHIND THEM, BROUGHT THEM VICTORY.

CLASSIFIED ADS
Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	15	3.00
2 days per word	26	5.20
3 days per word	37	7.40
4 days per word	48	9.60
5 days per word	59	11.80

If you run ads in five consecutive issues with NO changes, you get the same ad in the Reach 4 More free. The regular charge for that ad would be $4.00.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing; all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALIS
Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS
Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 28 years old. My husband, "Alan," and I have been married for two years, although we've been together for eight. It hasn't been easy.

Alan has a lifelong friend named "Bill," who is in prison for various crimes -- murder, drug dealing, etc. He's due out soon. During Bill's imprisonment, he and Alan have exchanged letters on a regular basis. Bill is gay.

I confess I'm a nosy wife. I steamed open the envelopes and read all of Alan's letters from Bill. He would be very upset if he knew this. Two of Bill's recent letters made it clear that he is more than a little interested in my husband. Alan has never said a word about this so I can't bring it up.

Bill's latest letter, which was even more explicit, accidentally ended up in our junk drawer instead of in the garbage. Since I use this drawer every day, do I now have the right to say something to Alan about the letter?

I feel very threatened by Bill. Before he went to jail, he used to take Alan to gay bars until all hours of the night. Bill knows I don't like him. It has nothing to do with his sexual preference. It's because of the influence he has on my husband. I discussed this once with Alan and his response was, "It's none of your business. You can't tell me what to do."

In Bill's last letter, he wrote, "When I get out of jail, the partying is going to be great." Can you give me some guidance?—No Name, USA

DEAR NO NAME: It is not certain that Alan is bisexual, but when a woman competes with a homosexual for the affection of a bisexual male, she almost always loses.

Since AIDS has reared its ugly head I would not advise any woman to continue in a relationship with a man who has sex with another male.

Tell Alan you found Bill's letter in the drawer and the message is clear. Give him a choice—the marriage or Bill. If he tells you again that what he does is none of your business, see a lawyer. P.S. If he walks, I say good riddance.

America's best legitimate advertising buy is still the local newspaper that is involved in your community. Junk mailers don't contribute a dime to the betterment of Hereford. They take and don't give back.

Hereford has a number of excellent retail stores who make every effort to fill your needs or services. Shop at home with the local folks. They help support your church, your kids, your entire community.

Be a good neighbor. Be alert for vandalism or break-ins. If you see anything unusual around a residence or business, call the police. Let's all be involved in policing our neighborhoods.

DIAL 9-1-1,

AND HELP IS ON THE WAY!

PLEASE DO FOLD SPINDLE & MUTILATE THIS PAGE

Print is the only medium of communication designed to accommodate humankind.

You can fold it to fit in a crowded briefcase, your wallet, or a recipe file.

You can spindle it to remind you of the latest shows you want to see, tonight's TV schedule, information of interest to a co-worker, schedule of sports events.

You can mutilate it for cents-off coupons, telephone numbers, sales hours, store addresses, political cartoons.

You can even line the bird cage with it or wrap fish in it.

Try that with your radio or television.
