911 Emergency to begin service Monday

Deaf Smith County residents with an emergency will be able to call 911 beginning Monday at 8 a.m.

Pamela Dillard of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission joined local government and law enforcement representatives Thursday at City Hall to announce that 911 would be ready Monday.

Testing and installation work has taken three months at the Hereford Police Department, Hereford Fire Department and Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office. Work has been slowed at times by crank callers and a premature announcement by other media that 911 was in place. Installers and others have worked the kinks out of the system, Dillard said Thursday.

Dispatchers and others have also been through training on how the system works and proper responses.

"It has taken a tremendous amount of work by everyone to get the 911 system on line," Mayor Tom LeGate said Thursday at a formal announcement. "It has taken two years worth of work. ... We are not looking forward to receiving 911 calls because that means someone is in distress. We are, however, looking forward to serving everyone more efficiently with a lower response time."

Most 911 calls in Deaf Smith County (and a few in adjacent areas, like Summerfield) will be answered at the Hereford Police Department. Callers will either be handled there or transferred to appropriate areas in Deaf Smith County, Randall County or Amarillo.

911 in Deaf Smith County and across the PRPC's 24 counties is paid for by a 50 cent surcharge added to all telephone bills. PRPC has accrued almost $1 million of the $1.6 million needed for the system. PRPC has applied for $600,000 from a special state fund to make up the difference.

"We have 18 of 23 systems in place across the Panhandle, and we hope to have all the systems in place and operating by May 1," said Dillard.

The 911 system here is only partially complete, Dillard said. The units at HPD and at the fire department have small screens that identify the telephone number of the person calling 911.

"That lets us trace the call in case we need to call the person back, or if we're tracing a crank caller," Dillard said. It also decodes messages from Telephone Devices for the Deaf (TDD).

Next to the large telephone unit is a fancy cassette recording system that

When to call 911

- When you need law enforcement officers.
- When you need emergency medical treatment.
- When there is a fire.

Who can call 911?

•If you live in areas with a telephone prefix of 364, 258, 276, 578, 295 or 357, your 911 calls will be answered in Hereford.

Why use 911 when you can call other numbers?

- It's easy to remember in moments of stress.
- It's quicker to dial than a seven-digit number.
- You'll get who you need no matter what your trouble.
- If you can't speak, the dispatcher can trace your call if you use 911. That's not available when calling other numbers.

What do I do when I call 911?

- Stay calm and speak clearly
- State your name
- State your emergency
- Give your location

Dillard explains 911 system

Pamela Dillard, program director at Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, explains the console used to receive 911 calls at the Hereford Police Department. The 911 system will go into effect for most Deaf Smith County residents at 8 a.m. Monday.

Party leaders close ranks behind Clinton

NEW YORK (AP) - Party leaders and power brokers are beginning to close ranks behind Democratic presidential front-runner Bill Clinton to help him squelch the stubborn Jerry Brown challenge some believe could scar the likely nominee.

The rally-around-Clinton effort took hold Thursday as former rival Tom Harkin and two major labor unions endorsed Clinton, who also got some indirect help in the tough New York primary campaign as two prominent New York political leaders lashed out against Brown's flat tax plan.

While Clinton gathered more establishment support, he began to show the wear of the persistent questions about his character.

An AIDS activist interrupted a Manhattan fund-raiser, questioned his commitment to curing AIDS, and said Clinton was "dying of ambition" to be president.

"That's bull and I'm tired of it," Clinton shouted. "I have listened to all these attacks, attacks, attacks on me, that's just a bunch of bull. ... This is not a matter of personal attack it is a matter of human loss."

The pointed exchange came near the close of a day in which Clinton got significant help for his effort to halt any Brown momentum after the former California governor's upset win Tuesday in Connecticut.

Meanwhile, the New York Times published a story today saying Clinton and aides deleted a provision in a state ethics bill that would have required him and other state officials to disclose actions relating to their families' businesses. Clinton said the provision was deleted to reduce the number of officials covered by the law, which he originally proposed.

Harkin, in endorsing Clinton, said Brown was steering the Democratic campaign into "a destructive phase" with his repeated personal attacks on Clinton.

The Iowa senator said his first priority was to convince skeptical labor leaders to back Clinton, and he produced immediate results.

Within hours of Harkin's endorsement, the Communications

Workers of American and the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union announced their endorsement of Clinton, and other major unions were expected to follow suit.

"If I thought in any way that Bill Clinton was anti-union I couldn't be sitting here," Harkin said at a joint appearance at a Long Island synagogue.

Brown tried to portray the developments as typical establishment support for its candidate.

"When you run a frontal assault on what you call a decrepit and corrupt status quo ... you can't be surprised when people in that neighborhood band together in a mutual protection defense," Brown said.

While the endorsements were a direct boost to Clinton, his aides were also pleased by critical remarks made by New York Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan and Gov. Mario Cuomo about Brown's flat-tax proposal.

Cuomo said the 13 percent universal tax would give "a big advantage to the people at the top. I'm against the flat tax."

In Washington, Moynihan said Brown's plan would jeopardize Social Security by financing the system with general tax revenues.

"Which is to say it would eliminate the single most important and successful social program enacted in the 20th century," Moynihan said. "It would put a silver bullet through the heart of Social Security."

Electron beam gun fails on Atlantis flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - An electron beam gun Atlantis' crew had fired at 210 times and generated at least 60 shimmering red and green auroras in the night sky over the Southern Hemisphere. It was the first time astronauts had duplicated nature's light shows.

Ground controllers said they doubted the gun could be repaired before the eight-day mission ends Wednesday. They suspected a blown fuse in its battery supply or a circuit problem.

The gun failed Thursday, after the crew had fired it 210 times and generated at least 60 shimmering red and green auroras in the night sky over the Southern Hemisphere. It was the first time astronauts had

The experiment's principal investigator, Jim Burch, said he was happy with what the crew accomplished before the trouble.

The Japanese-designed gun has flown in space only once before.

WTRT election ends in tie for director seat

A tie vote in the election of a director from the Westway exchange of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative produced a dilemma for legal counsel and board members at the annual meeting Thursday evening.

that a mail ballot will be sent to all members attending the annual meeting. A 10-day period will be allowed for ballots to be returned to Aikin.

The vote counting committee for the election of three directors reported the tie occurred between Ernest Brown, currently representing Westway, and Ernest Flood Jr.

The annual meeting at the Bull Barn in Hereford was attended by 250 members and some 700 guests. Members were informed that 1969 capital credits return checks would be mailed.

Election of directors representing Milo Center and Tharp was not affected. Carl Straffuss will return to the Milo Center seat and Jimmie Cockerham will continue to represent Tharp.

In the annual report from the WTRT manager, Thomas A. Hyer reviewed the financial statement showing operating revenues of $3,549,784; operating expense of $2,902,831; interest paid on debt, $217,284; net operating margin, $429,699; interest income, $164,894; for a net margin for the year of $594,563.

Holly Sugar holds four-day division meeting in city

More than 80 Holly Sugar personnel, factory managers and controllers, and corporate officials are attending an Eastern Division Technical Meeting which started Tuesday morning and ends today at Hereford Country Club.

The meeting drew Holly personnel from Sugarland, Colorado Springs, Sidney, Mont., Torrington and Worland, Wyo., and West Division officials from California. Corporate management officials of Imperial Holly Corp. and Holly Corp. attended.

Robert Hanna, president and chief executive officer of Imperial Holly Corporation, addressed the group last night. Other guest speakers included Van Olson, U.S. Beet Sugar Association; Bill Cleavinger, Texas-

New Mexico Beet Growers; and Rick Jorgensen and Ms. Ruby Perez, General Mills, Albuquerque, N.M.

Breakout sessions were held Tuesday through Thursday for operations, maintenance and technical service managers. A golf tournament was held Wednesday afternoon. Meals were served at Hereford Country Club and a barbecue dinner was held Wednesday evening at the KC Hall.

A general session was held yesterday and included talks by Roger Hill, president and chief executive officer of Holly; Lloyd Neville, senior vice president and general manager of the Eastern Division; and Cal Jones, vice president of agricultural.

Guard leaders anticipated cuts

AUSTIN (AP) - The Pentagon's recommendation to trim 3,724 National Guard and reserve jobs in Texas didn't surprise the state's military officials, who say they've been planning cutbacks.

"We already had anticipated all this. We anticipated this and have planned accordingly," Guard spokesman Lt. Col. Eddie Komandosky said Thursday.

Two weeks ago, the Guard announced plans to close 18 armories around the state.

But Komandosky said the federal plan announced Thursday was not bad, just late.

"It's positive in the sense that we're saving money and having the best people return. The negative impact is that it gives the perception that we were overblotted to begin with, and we don't feel that was necessarily the case," he said.

Other state military officials said they also liked the plan, which would force a reorganization of Texas troops.

"We see it as a very positive step by the president and the Department of the Army by streamlining our active force," said Maj. Rudy Purificato of San Antonio's 90th U.S. Army Reserve Command, which could lose 438 positions at four Texas units.

The Texas Army National Guard may see 2,383 spots eliminated or reduced this fiscal year and the state's Naval Reserve detachments could lose 33 positions, under a proposal Defense Secretary Dick Cheney sent to Congress.

In 1993, the Army National Guard would lose 28 positions; the Army Reserves would drop 1,240, and the Naval Reserve would decrease by 40.

The biggest two-year impact is in Houston, where 1,370 troops in seven units would be reassigned. In Dallas, three units totaling 573 spots would be lost.

Although the spots are proposed for elimination, the people who fill them may not lose their jobs. Those soldiers could join other units, making the force more efficient, said Maj. Gary Sibert of Houston's 36th Brigade, 50th Armored Division.

"The ballpark figure we use in Texas is that we're losing 2,400 slots, not 2,400 people. By losing the slots and keeping the people the state will be at 100 percent strength," he said.

Sibert said some "weekend warriors" - the traditional reserve soldiers - would be inconvenienced by the dissolution of their unit.

Congressional perks get scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) - As word spread that the Senate stationery store was discontinuing its discounted stock of gift items, lines of staff members formed at the checkout to take advantage of this endangered perk.

"Fire sale isn't the word for it," said one, his arms loaded with purchases. "It's a feeding frenzy."

No longer will Senate aides and members of the news media be able to buy at cost ashtrays with the Senate seal as Christmas gifts, or coffee mugs with pictures of the Capitol.

House Speaker Thomas Foley, D-Wash., was clamping similar restrictions on his chamber's stationery store.

As Congress agonizes over a series of scandals, lawmakers are hoping to minimize the damage by shedding some longstanding perquisites enjoyed by themselves, their staffs, and even lobbyists and the news media.

Four House members on Thursday proposed eliminating all taxpayer subsidies for services available on Capitol Hill such as meals, haircuts, printing, stationery and photography.

"The perquisite problem ... has become the symbol of what is wrong with the Congress," said Rep. William Hughes, D-N.J. "At the very least, we should be charging ourselves ... what the public would have to pay."

Foley announced last week that he was cutting off free prescription drugs for members of the House, and that the fee they pay to use the House gymnasium would quadruple to $400 a year.

Foley and House Minority Leader Robert Michel, R-Ill., also have appointed a 16-member task force to study the House's internal problems and recommend reforms.

Sensitivity to perks has been on the rise all over town. At the White House on Wednesday, spokesman Marlin Fitzwater was forced to defend President Bush's free medical care. In the process, he conceded that members of the White House staff can get free doctor's visits at an in-house medical office.

"It's been a government practice for years, and yes, I think it is appropriate," Fitzwater said.

A spokesman for Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., said the news media should not be immune from scrutiny.

"Everything ought to be under review," said press secretary Walt Riker. "How can you defend the taxpayers paying for (benefits) for multimillion-dollar media corporations? It just doesn't add up."

Riker noted that print and broadcast reporters and photographers have their own work spaces in both the House and Senate, with paid staff, telephones, copiers and other supplies made available at no cost.

In addition, reporters are granted a certain number of free parking spaces, access to the cut-rate Senate stationery store and credentials that allow them access to non-public areas of the Capitol complex, he said.

Perks are available for others, as well. Staff members on both sides of Capitol Hill can shop at the stationery stores, which provide writing supplies, picture frames, leather goods, umbrellas, and knickknacks at well below retail prices. And a few favored lobbyists receive free parking close to the Capitol.

The bill introduced by Hughes and colleagues Robert Andrews, D-N.J., James Saxton, R-N.J., and Dean Gallo, R-N.J., would change House rules to ban use of appropriated funds to provide services below the cost charged the public. It suggests the services be contracted out to private companies.

Hughes said the institution's image problems, fanned by scandals at the House Bank and Post Office, have become so bad they are distracting members from doing their legislative work.

Libyan defiance seen in World Court

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) - Libya insists it had nothing to do with bringing down Flight 103, but its defiance before the World Court contrasts with its renewed offer at the United Nations to hand over two suspects in the bombing.

Britain and the United States, which is to address the World Court today, say they have hard evidence of Libyan involvement in the 1988 bombing over Lockerbie, Scotland, that killed 270 people.

The West also seeks four other Libyans suspected in the 1989 bombing of a French airliner over Niger in which 171 people died.

The United States and Britain have issued warrants for two suspects they say are Libyan government agents, and asked the U.N. Security Council to punish Libya for refusing to surrender the two for trial.

Diplomats said a sanctions resolution was likely to be adopted

Monday or Tuesday that would impose an air embargo against Libya, ban all weapons and aircraft sales to Libya and urge expulsion of most Libyan diplomats abroad.

Libya went to the World Court to seek emergency protection from attack or international sanctions.

The Security Council discussed the sanctions in a closed meeting Thursday. Libya's U.N. ambassador, Ali Elhoughri, told reporters his government tried to turn over the men to an Arab League delegation in Tripoli on Tuesday. The Arab delegation declined, he said, awaiting a World Court ruling.

According to the Arab League envoys who met with Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi on Wednesday, he said he wouldn't give up the suspects unless ordered to do so by the World Court.

Elhoughri reiterated Libya's willingness to release the men. But U.S. Ambassador Thomas R. Pickering dismissed the offer as "more smoke and mirrors ... more shell games and confusion."

Libya also met accusations of stalling at the World Court, formally known as the International Court of Justice, where U.S. State Department legal adviser Edwin D. Williamson was scheduled to present Washington's side today.

"Libya will say anything ... which may help postpone the day when it will have to accept responsibility for its actions," Alan Rodger, Scotland's solicitor general, said before the court Thursday.

Rodger gave a detailed account of an investigation it said linked Libyan intelligence officials to the Flight 103 bombing. He said the Swiss-made timer used in the bombing had been traced to a shipment of 20 delivered to Libyan intelligence officials.

Britain said Libya's application to the court was merely a stalling tactic.

Libya claims it has complied with international law by investigating the two suspects.

The World Court is the judicial arm of the United Nations, but it has no enforcement powers. It is likely to rule on Tripoli's emergency request within three weeks.

The Sunday school attendance challenge is in its fourth week and continues to spark competitive spirit between classes. The challenge is a fun activity and an opportunity to share with others the excellent teaching and class fellowship that is being enjoyed at FUMC.

United Methodist in Northwest Texas and across the denomination, will observe One Great Hour of Sharing with offerings taken at the morning worship service to support the work of the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR). This offering provides the base support and undesignated funds for immediate response to global disasters.

OPERATOR DIALED 0-

This notice is to advise of the introduction by AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. of an operator service surcharge of $.50 per call, effective April 24, 1992, on calls utilizing AT&T's Operator Dialed 0- service. At the same time, AT&T will reduce Customer Dialed/Automated and Customer Dialed-Operator Must Assist Calling Card service charges from $1.05 to $.93 per call.

OPERATOR DIALED 0- service denotes those situations where the Customer dials the operator and requests the operator to dial the called number. A function of this surcharge will be to recover new costs now imposed on AT&T by local telephone companies involved in processing these calls.

These revisions will affect customers who utilize AT&T's Operator Dialed 0-Customer Dialed/Automated and Customer Dialed Operator Must Assist Calling Card services. The positive net revenue impact to AT&T of these two changes is less than $225,000 annually, which is .03% of AT&T's annual interstate revenues.

Any person who wishes to comment on these applications, or who would like further information, should mail a request as soon as possible to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Hints from Heloise

CLOTHING LABELS

Dear Heloise: When my daughter went off to college, she had no idea of how to take care of her clothes. I bought iron-on tape for all of her clothes but instead of her initials I put:

- C, meaning cleaners
- WD, meaning wash and dry
- WH, meaning wash and hang
- HW, meaning hand wash.

I also told her to use a washing powder and cold water. It worked beautifully — no ruined clothes. — Pat Lagan, Houston, Texas

This would sure be a big help and time-saver for those busy college students. Getting adjusted to college life is hard enough without worrying about ruining clothing. Thanks so much for writing, and I hope this helps prevent a load of pink towels and red T-shirts. — Heloise

Send a money- or time-saving hint to Heloise, PO Box 795000, San Antonio TX 78279 or fax it to 512-HELOISE. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column.

Tyson 'will survive' six-year prison sentence

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Mike Tyson faces six years behind bars and the prospect of never regaining the heavyweight boxing title. Whatever happens, he says, "I will survive it."

A judge sent Tyson straight to prison Thursday for raping a beauty pageant contestant last summer. Defense lawyer Alan Dershowitz asked an appeals panel to free Tyson pending appeal. A hearing was scheduled today.

"Every moment Mr. Tyson spends in confinement is a moment of injustice," said Dershowitz, a Harvard law professor whose celebrity clients include Michael Milken and Leona Helmsley.

Marion Superior Court Judge Patricia J. Gifford on Thursday sentenced the 25-year-old boxer to 10 years each for one count of rape and two counts of criminal deviate conduct. She suspended four years from each count and ordered the terms served concurrently. Tyson was fined $10,000 on each count.

She said Tyson should not remain free on bail because he might rape again.

"As to whether you are capable of committing this crime again, quite honestly I am of the opinion that you are," the judge said.

"I'm not guilty of this crime," Tyson said in rambling plea for leniency. He apologized for his "crass" behavior during the 1991 Miss Black America pageant in July, but said he never harmed his accuser, 19-year-old Desiree Washington of Coventry, R.I.

"When I'm in the ring, I break their ribs, I break their jaws. To me, that's hurting someone," he said.

Tyson told the judge he expected the worst.

"I'll survive. Whatever the situation, I will survive it," he said.

Miss Washington, who remained in Rhode Island, was somber after the sentencing, prosecutors said.

"I think that this is still difficult for her to deal with - the fact that this man is going to jail, that's she imprisoned herself emotionally for the rest of her life," Deputy Prosecutor Barbara Trathen said.

Miss Washington submitted a letter to the court for the sentencing hearing.

"Each day after being raped has been a struggle to learn to trust again, to smile the way I did and to find the Desiree Lynn Washington who was stolen from me and those who love me on July 19, 1991," she wrote.

Tyson was taken a prison intake center, where he was expected to remain for several weeks while officials decide where he should be imprisoned.

He could be released in three years with time off for good behavior. But special prosecutor Greg Garrison warned that Tyson must obey the terms of his four-year post-prison probation, which include psychotherapy.

"He may do the whole 10 years if he can't behave himself, and he gets out and gets himself jammed up again," Garrison said. "She (Gifford) didn't throw the keys at him and say, 'Have a nice day.'"

Miss Washington testified during the two-week trial that Tyson lured her to his hotel room, forced her on the bed and raped her, laughing as she cried in pain and begged him to stop.

Defense lawyers portrayed Tyson as a sex-obsessed boor who propositioned Miss Washington, then 18, with an unmistakable vulgarity. They said she willingly had sex with him.

In Panama, World Boxing Association president Elias M. Cordova said Tyson's career is over unless he prevails on appeal. The association prohibits felons from boxing professionally.

"It isn't the first time this has happened to a professional boxer," he said. "But it is important for boxers to look at themselves in this mirror. In this case, it is the end of a career."

Tyson became the world's youngest heavyweight champion in 1986 - at age 20 - by knocking out Trevor Berbick. Buster Douglas took the title from him in 1990.

Tyson's violent eight-month marriage to actress Robin Givens collapsed in 1988, and several women have sued him over alleged sexual misconduct.

Four favorites advance to regional finals

By RICK WARNER
AP Sports Writer

A familiar foursome has moved into the elite eight of the NCAA basketball tournament.

Top-ranked Duke, No. 4 UCLA, No. 5 Indiana and No. 6 Kentucky advanced to the regional finals with relative ease Thursday night. Altogether, the four schools have won 21 national championships and been to the Final Four 38 times.

Duke downed No. 19 Seton Hall 81-69 and Kentucky beat No. 17 Massachusetts 87-77 in the East, while UCLA beat New Mexico State 85-78 and Indiana eliminated No. 20 Florida State 85-74 in the West.

On Saturday, Duke (31-2) will play Kentucky (29-6), and UCLA (28-4) will meet Indiana (26-6).

Tonight, third-ranked Ohio State plays No. 18 North Carolina and No. 11 Oklahoma State faces No. 15 Michigan in the Southeast semifinals. In the Midwest, it's Memphis State vs. Georgia Tech and No. 12 Cincinnati vs. Texas-El Paso.

Defending champion Duke used a balanced attack to get within one victory of its fifth consecutive Final Four. The Blue Devils got 16 points apiece from Christian Laettner and Antonio Lang, and 15 each from Grant Hill and Brian Davis.

"It took everybody to do it," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said. "That was one of our tougher ballgames."

Seton Hall scored seven straight points to pull within six with 7:36 remaining. But Duke responded with a superb passing sequence that led to a pair of free throws by Davis, and the Blue Devils were never threatened again.

Terry Dehere had 21 points for Seton Hall (23-9), which beat Duke at the 1989 Final Four.

UCLA ended New Mexico State's dream season with a tough, man-to-man defense and the inside power of Tragy Murray and Don MacLean. Murray, a 6-8 forward, scored 21 points and the 6-10 MacLean added 19 as the Bruins moved one victory away from their first Final Four since 1980.

"It was a game of inches - in the Bruins' favor," said New Mexico State coach Neil McCarthy. "When they had (Ed) O'Bannon and Murray and MacLean, they were really big."

New Mexico State (25-8) was trying to become the first 12th-seeded team to reach the Final Four. But the Aggies' matchup zone defense and court leadership of 5-foot-8 guard Sam Crawford, who had 16 points, were no match for the Bruins' savvy and scoring.

Trailing 47-31 at halftime, New Mexico State scored the first 10 points of the second half. But UCLA pulled away again, taking a 61-47 lead on a three-point play by O'Bannon and a 3-point shot by Gerald Madkins.

Kentucky capitalized on a technical-foul call against Massachusetts coach John Calipari and overcame poor 3-point shooting to defeat the Minutemen.

Jamal Mashburn scored 30 points for Kentucky, which won despite being outshot from 3-point range for the first time this season. The Wildcats made only 3 of 15 long-range shots, while Massachusetts was 5 of 9.

UMass (30-5), which had won 14 straight, cut a 20-point deficit to two points with 5:47 remaining when Calipari was called for venturing outside the coaching box. Kentucky then went on an 11-2 run and Massachusetts couldn't come back.

John Pelphrey scored 18 points for Kentucky, while Jim McCoy led Massachusetts with 21.

Eric Anderson, playing with four stitches in his chin, scored a season-high 24 points in a reserve role as Indiana beat Florida State. The Seminoles jumped to a 9-2 lead before the Hoosiers rallied behind Anderson, who came off the bench and scored 17 points in the next 14 minutes.

Anderson, a 6-9 senior who averages 10.6 points per game, swished a long jumper as soon as he entered the game. He followed it with a 3-pointer and helped the Hoosiers take a 34-29 lead before banging his chin on the court while chasing a loose ball. He continued to play for awhile with a big bandage on his chin, but went to the locker room shortly before halftime to get stitches.

Doug Edwards, who finished with 20 points, made a layup and Byron Wells hit a 3-pointer for Florida State (22-10) just before the halftime buzzer to close the gap to 40-38. But Indiana reasserted control at the start of the second half when Calbert Cheaney and Greg Graham combined for the first 10 points to make it 50-38.

Lakers squeeze back into playoff picture

By The Associated Press

Terry Teagle's hot streak has the Los Angeles Lakers back where they're supposed to be - in playoff position. With some help from Hakeem Olajuwon's dispute with the Houston Rockets.

Teagle had 28 points as the Lakers, who have made it to the postseason 15 straight seasons, trounced Dallas 115-92 Thursday night, the Mavericks' 15th straight loss and 23rd straight on the road.

Combined with the Los Angeles Clippers 109-95 victory over the Olajuwon-less Rockets, it put the Lakers back into the eighth and final playoff spot in the Western Conference. They're a half-game ahead of Houston and one behind the Clippers, who haven't made the playoffs since 1976.

Houston has 11 games left, the Lakers 14 and the Clippers 12.

The Lakers won despite yet another injury - Sam Perkins was put on the injured list with a rotator cuff injury. But the injuries have created opportunities for Teagle, usually one of the league's top-shooting sixth men.

"I'm starting to feel more like I did when I was with Golden State," Teagle said. "My game revolves around my offense, and it feels good to get on the floor and be effective."

Sedale Threatt added 21 for Los Angeles, which has now scored 131 and 115 points in its last two games and averaging 100.1 before that.

Mike Iuzzolino had 19 to lead Dallas.

Clippers 109, Rockets 95

Across town from the Forum, Danny Manning had 18 to lead the Clippers, who tightened their grip on their first playoff berth since 1976, narrowing the gap between themselves and sixth-place Seattle to a full game. They lead the Lakers by a full game and the ninth-place Rockets by 19.

Vernon Maxwell scored 14 of Houston's first 16 points and finished with 26. The Rockets suspended Olajuwon Monday for refusing to suit up after doctors cleared him to play. He injured a hamstring against the Clippers March 17.

Hawks 107, Bullets 95

At the Omni, Alexander Volkov had a career-high 25 to lead Atlanta to its fifth win in seven games.

Volkov, who spent most of his first two NBA seasons on the bench or the injury list, got help from Kevin Willis, who scored 14 of his 22 in the third quarter and had 16 rebounds.

Knicks 106, Nuggets 104

In Denver, Mark Jackson hit three free throws in the final 11 seconds for the Knicks, who had an 83-64 lead with three minutes left in the third quarter before the Nuggets went to a full-court press. The victory clinched a playoff berth for New York, which holds a 4 1/2-game lead in the Atlantic Division.

Denver took the lead at 104-103 on Chris Jackson's 3-pointer with 22.3 seconds left. But Mark Jackson, who finished with 25, was fouled, made one of two, got his own rebound and was fouled again. This time he hit both with 5.6 seconds left to give New York the win.

Trail Blazers 128, Kings 106

In Sacramento, Portland clinched a playoff berth for the ninth straight year as Clyde Drexler had 20 points to lead eight players in double figures.

Cliff Robinson contributed 19 points for the Trail Blazers, who improved their record to 50-20. They broke the game open with a 22-6 run in the 6:49 before halftime to take a 61-46 lead and led by as many as 28 in the fourth quarter.

Kevin Duckworth and Danny Ainge each scored 17 points for the Trail Blazers.

Mitch Richmond paced the Kings with 23 points.

Stymie was claimed for $1,500 by Trainer Hirsch Jacobs and went on to win $918,485 in purses.

JV Herd tans Bovina, 16-3; freshmen fall

Hereford's junior varsity baseball team started the Plainview JV Tournament out right with a 16-3 win over Bovina's varsity squad.

Bovina led 3-0 after an inning, then 6-3 after two innings, but a 13-run burst by the Herd in the third swamped the Mustangs. The time-limit ran out after three innings.

Hereford's freshman team also played, but they weren't so lucky. They lost 5-1 to Frenship's JV team. The Herd freshmen were to play Dimmitt's JV today.

The Hereford JV was to play the winner between Muleshoe's varsity and Coronado's JV.

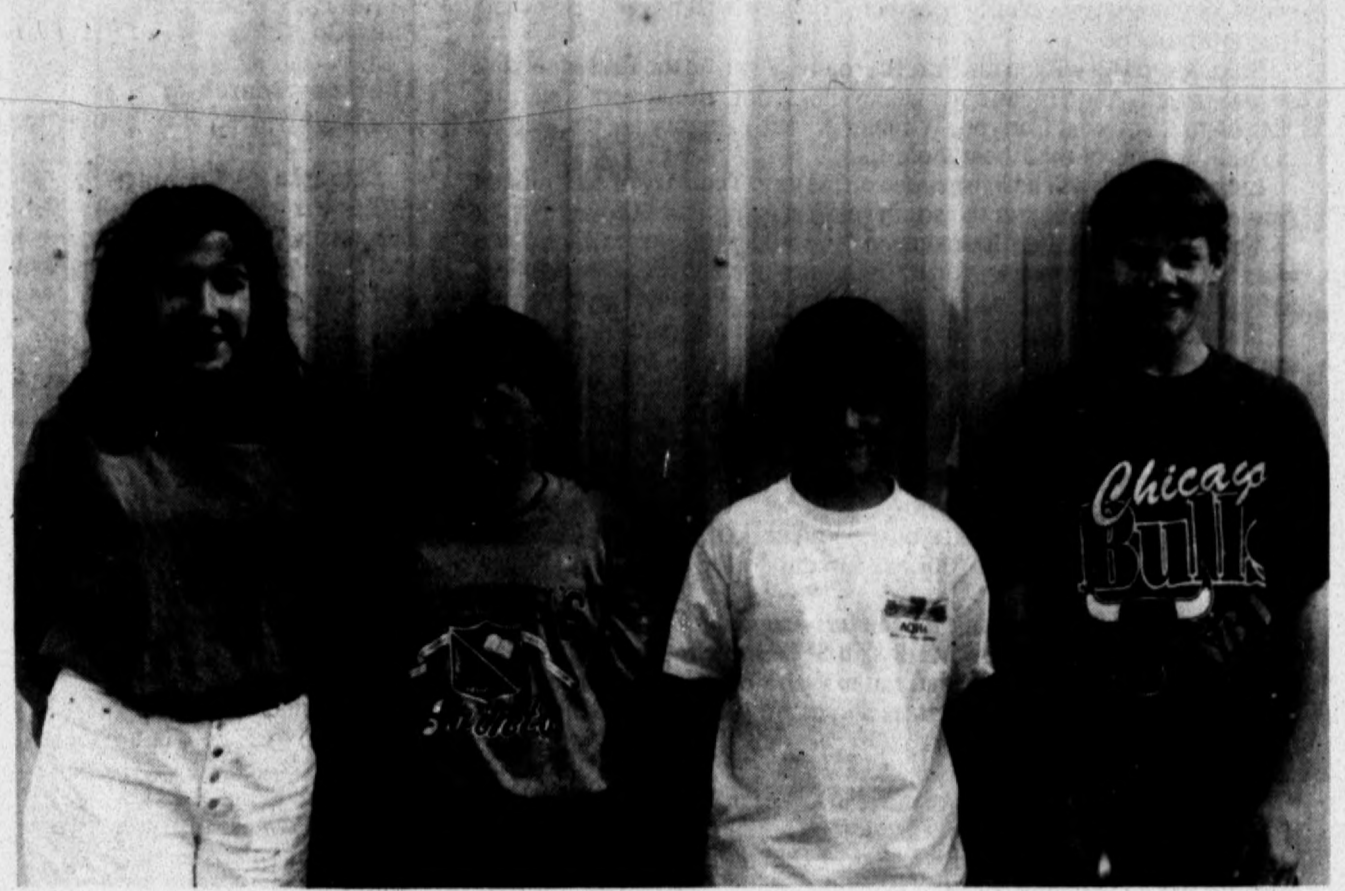

1992 Herd football schedule

Here is Hereford's 1992 varsity football schedule. The Herd will start out under the Saturday afternoon sun, but every regular-season game after that will be on a Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Hereford will also scrimmage Amarillo High: the sub-varsity teams Aug. 27 and the varsity Aug. 28. Stanford survives Tech run, ends Lady Raiders' season

SEATTLE (AP) - Tara VanDerveer watched her young Stanford squad dominate in the first half like the Cardinal teams of previous years, then seemingly let up against No. 12 Texas Tech.

The Red Raiders ran off eight straight points to start the second half, cutting the Stanford lead from 14 to six.

"Tara called a time out and told us we needed to get more emotional on the court," forward Chris MacMurdo said.

Molly Goodenbour's 3-pointer sparked a Cardinal run, and Stanford led by at least 10 points over the last 14 minutes as they defeated Texas Tech 75-63 on Thursday night.

No. 3 Stanford has appeared in three consecutive West regionals, but carries only one senior on the squad. All-time Pacific-10 Conference steals and assists leader Sonja Henning was lost to graduation, as were first-team All-Pac-10 selections Julie Zeilstra and Trisha Stevens.

But Goodenbour, center Val Whiting and others have gradually filled the gaps, and the Cardinal were favored over Texas Tech.

"I'm really proud of the way they respond to pressure situations," VanDerveer said. "The bigger the game, the better they play. It's been like that all year."

Stanford dominated the boards, grabbing 43 rebounds to the Red Raiders' 25. Texas Tech had only two offensive rebounds.

"Stanford has an awfully good basketball team" Texas Tech coach Martha Sharp said. "Defensively they gave us the best pressure we've seen all season."

Rachel Hemmer led all scorers with 21 points, and Goodenbour added 19 for Stanford. Whiting finished with 17 points and 11 rebounds.

Texas Tech point guard Sheryl Swoopes, a 6-foot junior who was named both Southwest Conference player and newcomer of the year, led the Red Raiders with 17 points but shot just seven of 19 from the field. She tied Whiting for the game high with 11 rebounds.

Stanford, which finished the regular season at 26-3, shot just 41 percent from the field (26 of 63), but made 17 of 23 free throws. Texas Tech shot 49 percent but went to the line only seven times, making six free throws.

The Red Raiders, Southwest Conference champions who finished the regular season with a 27-4 record, were making their first appearance in the regionals.

Stanford was up 35-21 at halftime after allowing Texas Tech only six points over the last 11 minutes.

Stanford will face No. 23 Southern Cal in the West Regional championship game Saturday night. Southern Cal defeated Stephen F. Austin 61-57 in their semifinal game in Seattle on Thursday night. The winner of the Stanford-Southern Cal game advances to the Final Four in Los Angeles on April 4-5.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

SHIPS OF THE DESERT

THE USE OF CAMELS IS RECORDED THROUGHOUT THE SCRIPTURES. THESE "SHIPS OF THE DESERT" HAVE PLAYED THEIR PART IN THE PAGEANTRY OF THE BIBLE. THE PATRIARCHS TOTALED MUCH OF THEIR WEALTH IN THE NUMBER OF CAMELS THEY OWNED. WHEREVER THE NOMADIC TRIBES OF ISRAEL WANTED TO WANDER CAMELS ALWAYS DID THE LEG WORK. FOR ONE WEALTHY PATRIARCH TO SEND A PRESENT OF A DOZEN OR SO CAMELS TO ANOTHER WAS NOT UNUSUAL. AND CONSIDERING THE AMOUNT OF LUGGAGE EACH CAMEL COULD CARRY (WEIGHT OF 500 POUNDS) A FEW OF THESE LONG LEGGED BEAUTIES MEANT THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BRINGING NOT ONLY THE BEST TENT AND FURNISHINGS BUT ALSO THE NEEDFUL PARAPHERNALIA. THE CAMEL WAS STUPID, ILL-TEMPERED, AND SOMETIMES VINDICTIVE, BUT OH HOW NECESSARY TO THE DAILY LIFE OF THE WANDERER OF THE DESERT.
