TEXSYLVANIA COMPANY HOLDING MEETING ABOUT DEAF SMITH CO. WELLS

D. L. McDONALD NOW IN EAST IN CONFERENCE WITH COMPANY OFFICIALS.—MUSE CREW IS DRILLING-HOLE; ALL OTHERS INACTIVE

PRAIRIE PEOPLE BECOMING ACTIVE

Great Quantities of Material of all Sorts is Being Unloaded
At Friona, Pits Being Dug, Water Wells
Drilled and Progress Being Made

The Muse oil well, south of Wildorado, is the only well in this immediate section actually drilling at this writing. It is understood that this crew is making excellent headway.

Texsylvania-Parmer No. 1 is idle at present, with the tools still hung up. Meanwhile a big meeting of this Company is being held in the East this week, which D. L. McDonald is attending, threshing out details of future work for the Texsylvania-Parmer, Muse and Jackson wells, all contracts held by the Texsylvania people. It has been rumored that a big standard rig will be installed in the Parmer well at once. The supposition is that the meeting this week will decide the exact date the spudding in program will be announced for the Jackson well south of Adrian.

Hereford Oil & Gas No. 1 is also idle. Everybody connected with this hole has been sick. Work is expected to begin shortly.

It is reported that the Seven States Oil Co.'s well on the OYO ranch in Castro county is idle, after a few days work. No reason for this has been assigned by the company.

The Prairie people are active at Friona. The Brand correspondent at that point writes as follows:

"Oil activities are daily assuming greater proportions as each day shows that the time of beginning the actual work of drilling is near at hand. The work of digging the stush pits is almost completed and the work of erecting the tower was begun Sunday. The tower is twenty-four feet on each side at the base and will be 106 feet high. The well will be known as Farwell C. No. 1. It will be twenty inches in diameter at the top and will be sunk to a depth of 6,000 feet if oil is not found sooner. One large water well has already been drilled on the site which is known as Farwell C water well No. 1, and another water well will be drilled at once which will be known as water well No. 1, Jr. There is now several thousand dollars worth of machinery and material on the ground and a large amount of money has already been expended for labor. With this amount of equipment and the skilled workmen who will be in charge of the work it is expected that the work of drilling when begun will go steadily forward until the well is completed. The large size of the hole and the probable depth will make this well one of the largest and perhaps deepest wells in the country."

ANOTHER FREAK IS NOTED IN WEATHER

Another weather freak occurred Wednesday when it snowed nearly all day, although the fall was so scattered and scanty that it was hardly noticeable. Snow clouds overhung the sky until late in the afternoon and many people at first thought the fall was ashes blown by the wind. The snow melted by the time it hit the ground.

All signs have pointed to a real snow fall, or other form of moisture for several days past, but without result so far.

T. M. PALMER IS OFF TO FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Palmer left Hereford Tuesday for Delray, Florida, for an extended visit with Mrs. Palmer's sister, Mrs. S. H. Hodges. The Palmers will probably be away until June at least.

Mr. Palmer's blood pressure has been bothering him of late and physicians advised the change for the time being. While away Mr. Palmer stated they would probably visit Key West, and perhaps Havana, Cuba.

Born—Thursday, February 19th, to Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, a girl.

Be sure you know your text before you quote Thomas Jefferson. If you don't believe this, ask ex-governor Oscar Branch Colquitt.

LITTLE 3-YEAR-OLD ELAINE NEWELL HAS BAD EYE ACCIDENT

An unfortunate accident which may cost little Elaine Newell, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Newell, the use of her right eye, occurred last Saturday morning.

The little girl was endeavoring to capture a rabbit in the yard of the Newell residence, and the rabbit ran under the house. Charles, the little girl's brother, went to the rescue and crawled under the house after the rabbit. He came in contact with a stiff wire and threw it behind him to get it out of his way. The end of the wire entered the little girl's eye.

Local physicians advised that she be taken to a specialist in Amarillo. There she received treatment for a day or so before being brought back home. The verdict is not yet known, the specialist stating that there might be hope that she could eventually see out of the eye, but that future developments would determine this.

LEE SATTERWHITE'S SON HAS THE FLU

Hon. Lee Satterwhite, editor of the Panhandle Herald, representative from his district in the State Legislature, and father-in-law of Jim Sanders, of Hereford, arrive here Thursday to look after his son, LeRoy, who is ill with influenza in the Hereford Sanitarium.

LeRoy Satterwhite was on a ranch near Bellvue, N. M., and was brought in here for treatment. He was reported to be doing nicely at the time of going to press.

Mr. Satterwhite reported another misfortune which happened to him last Sunday. The house in which he lived in Panhandle caught fire from a lamp and was burned to the ground. The house was a rented one, and practically all the furniture and personal effects were removed in time to save them.

Mr. Satterwhite returned to Panhandle on the afternoon train Thursday.

AVIATION CO. WANTS BONUS FOR SERVICE

Landing Field and Cash as Consideration for Establishing Line

Captain N. Fe Mackela, Field Manager for the National Airlines Association of Los Angeles, Calif., spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Hereford, in the interests of his company.

The National Airlines Association is a private concern organized for the purpose of establishing a passenger carrying line from the Pacific Coast to New York. The company asks each town through which the proposed line passes to arrange for a landing field for five years and a cash bonus, ranging from $300 to $600.

After conferring with local business men Captain Mackela was requested to submit his proposition in writing, and this will be submitted to the new commercial body soon to be organized.

AUCTION SALE IS LUCRATIVE EFFORT

Farm Auction Sales are quite common in this territory, and seem to be growing in popularity. This custom originated in the north and east, it is said, and is little known in Texas. The fact that a man holds a sale does not necessarily mean that he is leaving the country; rather, the sale is in the nature of a clean-out sale by a merchant.

Recent sales in this neighborhood have set records. The William Story sale at Summerfield last Tuesday was a good one. But the best one recorded yet occurred on Wednesday, held by the Smith Ranch Company, just south of Hereford. Auctioneer W. S. Williams, who conducted both these sales, stated that it took just about three hours to clean up live stock, crops, farm machinery, household goods, etc., that a splendid crowd attended, and the sale brought approximately $8,400. Both of these sales were liberally advertised in The Brand, and by Sale Bills scattered over the country generally.

Mr. Williams announces two sales for the immediate future. The first will be held next Tuesday, March 2, on the S. G. Moore place west of town, held by Will Adkisson, and the second will be held on March 10 by D. L. McDonald.

OTHO BEENE PAYS CASH FOR FARM

Another real estate deal of good size was recently reported whereby Otho Beene of Hereford becomes the owner of the Lem Sawyer place four miles northwest of Hereford. This tract embraces 320 acres and brought $12,800, all cash. The transaction was handled through Ed Connell.

JIM SANDERS' REGISTERED BULL CALF TAKES GRAND CHAMPIONSHIP OVER ALL ENTRIES AT BUYERS AND SELLERS SHOW

McQUEEN TO OPEN
JEWELRY STORE,
MUSKOGEE, OKLA.

J. W. McQueen, who recently sold his grain and coal business in Hereford to Jones & McLean, has decided to put in a Jewelry and Art store at Muskogee, Oklahoma, and will leave for that city within a few days to attend to the preliminary work in opening up his new store.

Mr. McQueen reached Hereford Wednesday from Chicago and Kansas City, where he purchased his fixtures and stock. Delivery of these goods at Muskogee will begin about March 10.

A Main street location for his new business has been secured by Mr. McQueen, and he has also purchased a nice nine room residence for his family, who will leave Hereford as soon as household affairs here can be wound up.

Mr. and Mrs. McQueen and their daughters have made a distinct place for themselves in the business and social life of Hereford, and their loss will be keenly felt by a large number of friends and well-wishers. Hereford's loss is Muskogee's gain, and The Brand commends them to the good people of the latter city.

BREEDERS GETTING READY FOR APL. 13

The Hereford Registered Breeders' Association took advantage of the Buyers' and Sellers' Association convention held at Amarillo this week to boost their coming First Auction Sale, April 13, and liberally advertised it among the hundreds of visitors and cattlemen at the convention. Secretary Dameron distributed advertising cards, describing the event among the scores of Hereford people in Amarillo, and every man, woman and child of them got busy immediately and passed around the cards and talked up Hereford's First Big Annual Sale. It is believed that this work will result in bringing many buyers here in April.

Work of getting ready for the Sale is progressing smoothly in other ways. One thousand detailed catalogues, describing the pedigrees of every animal to be offered, are being printed and will be mailed out to prospective buyers. Seats to accommodate the expected crowd will be erected soon.

Secretary Dameron asks that every citizen of this community mention the Sale and its date in writing out-of-town letters. DON'T FORGET THE DATE—APRIL 13.

WHAT A GOOD HOTEL MEANS TO HEREFORD AS VIEWED BY SUCCESSFUL HOTEL MAN

The hotel is the foremost public utility of any town.

It is the organized host to the town's visitors.

A town without a good hotel is like a private house without a spare room for company.

As we travel over the country all of us remember those cities with good hotels, just as we remember those friends whose hospitality affords us comfort and pleasure.

There is more certain profit for any town in encouraging a bad hotel to become better, than in any other line of effort.

At some time or other every town that wants to grow, organizes a boosters committee which goes through the motions of trying to interest outside capital to the point of making the town the site of new industrial enterprises.

Free land, exemption from taxes, and even capital are offered these outsiders.

The trouble with this method of boosting is that it starts at the wrong place.

The first essential improvement is self-improvement, and the proper place to begin improving is right at home—with the hotel.

Of course, many hotels are better than their towns, but in that case the town ought to pinch itself and encourage the hotel, and take advantage of the facilities it offers for helping the town to grow.

In other instances, where the hotel needs improving, the trouble is usually lack of capital.

No town can afford not to advance capital enough to enable its hotel to clean up, brush up and spruce up.

With an up-to-date hotel, a town can think of inviting outside capital. Until then its efforts are wasted. One night and one meal in a backsliding hotel will drive away more prospective capital than a booster committee can dig up in a month.

Then, too, every town should remember that it isn't so much what citizens say as to what outsiders say, that makes the best advertisement.

A traveling man in a Pullman stoker does a lot of talking, and if he is grouchy because of a bad night in a bad hotel he will leave nothing unsaid. The same man, pleased with a town because of a good hotel, is a walking advertisement of it.

But it is not alone in its influence on outsiders that a good hotel is important to a town.

Of even greater concern is the influence of a good hotel on those in the town.

The hotel is a common meeting ground—the one place where all sects, creeds and groups can get together.

A good hotel is one of democracy's strongholds.

The social, political and business life of any progressive community centers around its hotel. In the ballroom are held the social functions; around the banquet table men meet and get to know each other better, smoothing out their differences; in the meeting rooms groups of all shades of opinion gather and crystallize their ideas into action—all for the town's improvement and advancement.

As people come better to understand the true functions of the hotel in the community life, there will be more and better hotels, and the pleasures and comforts of life will be multiplied many times.—From an advertisement of the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio Express.

OKLAHOMA MAN IS LOOKING US-OVER WITH HOTEL IDEA

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schwegler, of Frederick, Okla., arrived in Hereford last Monday for the purpose of looking into the hotel situation at this point. Mr. Schwegler recently sold out his hotel interests in Frederick and is now looking for a new location.

Mrs. Schwegler went to Amarillo in the afternoon while her husband remained over until Tuesday afternoon, looking into the situation.

Mr. Schwegler is understood to be a man of long experience in the hotel business. He conferred while here with members of the Hotel Committee and with other business men of the town.

Mr. Schwegler did no care to commit himself to any detailed explanation of his plans at this time, but may be heard from again in the near future.

CAPTAIN TROW SELLS RANCH WITH HISTORY

Over 8,000 Acres in Body
Sold to Amarillo Man for Price of $20 per Acre

One of the largest real estate deals ever made in Deaf Smith county has just been completed whereby Captain Harrison Trow, of this city, sold his ranch of 8,040 acres at $20 per acre to Randy Murchison, of Amarillo, who recently moved to that city from Merit, Hunt County, where he still has large holdings.

This ranch has been owned and operated by Captain Trow for more than twenty years and has been widely known, not only for its cattle production, but in an agricultural way as well. More than four of the thirteen and a half sections are in cultivation. This is one of the very few large ranches in Deaf Smith County that has been held together and not subdivided to make way for the small ranchers who continue to come from time to time to this part of the State.

EAST RELIEF WORK TO START MARCH 1

The Rev. J. R. Sharp, recently appointed County Chairman of the Near East Relief Fund for Deaf Smith county, announces that he will start the campaign for this work on March 1, and earnestly asks the aid and cooperation of every good citizen of the county. The campaign has been delayed owing to the influenza situation and to the fact Rev. Sharp himself has been ill. Concerning this work Mr. Sharp says:

"Remember the near East relief committee is incorporated under an act of Congress. It reports to a congressional committee. Every cent contributed goes to relief work. The overhead expense is met otherwise.

"The crying need of the near East countries so appealed to the heart of the President that he urged Congress to appropriate $150,000,000.00 for the purchase of flour alone for these countries.

Mr. Hoover says:

"The care of 300,000 orphans and the provision of clothing, of hospitals, and medicine supplies, must be consummated by private charity. This, therefore, leaves the eminent service that your committee performs still as necessary as ever."

HARDIN BARBERSHOP OWNERSHIP CHANGED

T. M. Mace, now associated with the Powellson Top Shop, announced this week that he had purchased the interest of J. W. Hardin in the Hardin Bros. Barbershop. Roy Hardin, younger member of the old firm, will retain his interest, and still another brother will arrive this week to help in the work of the shop. Mr. Mace will continue with the Top Shop and will not have direct charge in the barbershop.

CLAUDE TERRY IS MOVING FURNITURE

Claude Terry, former Assistant Cashier of The Western National bank, now with the First National at Plainview, spent this week in Hereford, boxing up his household effects and furniture and shipping them to Plainview.

THE BONUS

Time has not served to alter the truth of the old saying that you can't eat pie and have it. So it is with a mingled feeling of curiosity and perplexity, to say nothing of amazement, that we contemplate the attitude of the ex-service men of the American Legion who, through their national leaders, are preparing a campaign for financial recognition of their performance of duty in the world war.

The dispatches tell us that the legion's leaders have decided to demand of Congress the passage of an act that will make the United States Treasury responsible for a bond issue of approximately $2,000,000,000, from which will be paid to each man of the army and navy a bonus equivalent to $50 for each month of his service under the flag.

And, with that done, there is no assurance that the end has been reached. A pension system, fashioned after that of the civil war system, soon will follow; for the pensioning of our fighters is a thing that has embedded itself in the fundamentals of the government, no matter what is said.

What has already been paid out, therefore, is only a drop in the bucket as compared with the expense of the world war that still confronts the country.

Where will it end? There are four million ex-service men. A great majority of them will be the family men of the future. These must shell out in taxes, either direct or indirect, to pay the compensation which they themselves demand. It will be taking from one pocket and putting in another. Scientists and economists will tell you the system is not tenable, but that will make no difference because the young men who risked their blood are neither scientists nor economists. And congressmen are also human beings, and they want to be elected and reelected.

We shall see whether the boys can eat their pie and have it. But it's going to be a rough time for the taxpayers.

The trouble is, we suspect, there was indistinctness in stating the country's need. Anyhow, we got food controllers when fool controllers would have been of greater assistance.

Remember Pollyanna, of the story book, who found something in everything to make her glad? Well, after looking over the list of presidential candidates, we're glad only one of them can be elected.

Idaho has voted for woman suffrage, and only six more states are needed to make the ratification of the constitutional amendment complete. Then the women will discover that it wasn't votes after all that they wanted.

It is pretty rough that Jack Dempsey if he fights Carpenter for $500,000, will actually receive only $195,050, as he will have to pay to the government $40,840 as normal tax and $203,510 as surtax. Still, it is hardly a matter for the average citizen to weep about.

Cheap Dependable Power —Drawbar or Belt

THE OilPull is the most efficient and economical oil burning tractor on the market.

This is proved by an experience as old as the industry itself. There is practically no kind or condition of farm work in which the OilPull has not proved its superiority—whether it be breaking sun-baked virgin sod on the prairies of the West, or plowing through the muck of the rice lands of the South.

One reason why the OilPull tractor is the most efficient oil-burning tractor is because the entire machine, including the motor and patented oil carburetor, is built in the Rumely plant especially for oil-burning.

But you don't have to take any chance even on such a remarkable record as the OilPull has established. With every OilPull you get a written guarantee that the tractor will burn all grades of kerosene under all conditions, and at all loads, to its full rated power.

And in the unusually strong construction of the OilPull we find the reason for its remarkable dependability—a dependability well illustrated by the fact that the first OilPulls built are still in use and good for many seasons more.

Moreover, this economical power is equally dependable and efficient at drawbar or belt. With its proper distribution of weight and its reserve power, it will handle any drawbar job put up to it. With its throttle-governed engine, giving automatic speed control, the OilPull is second to none for close speed regulation on the belt—not even excepting the best steam engine built.

No matter what the size of your farm—you can get the OilPull tractor in a size that will properly meet your needs—from 3-plow to 10-plow capacity.

Sixteen Years' Experience

For sixteen years, a corps of metallurgists have been studying and constantly perfecting the steel that goes into every part of the Ford car and the Ford One Ton Truck. Each separate part has been studied to learn the type of steel best fitted for it. Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as side-lines by mail-order houses, down-town stores, and many garages. ## CASTRO COUNTY

DIMMITT

We are beginning to realize that spring is really near when the wind blows as it has for the past several days. It is almost time to plant gardens as well as crops and with the season in the ground that we have, we expect a bountiful harvest. Don't let us forget, however, that we sow the seed, but it is God, who gives the harvest.

We are getting anxious to hear a sermon again. The Presbyterian and Baptist pastors have not been with us since before the holidays. Rev. Sharp did not come last Sunday because he was not able. We hear that the Baptist pastor has had the "flu".

Our Sunday School is progressing nicely, after a long vacation, with flu. Few new cases are reported and those who have been sick are better.

The Dimmitt school is about normal again having continued during the epidemic. The trustees are having fountains installed which will furnish fresh water for the children.

Cleo school has been closed for several weeks. The teacher, Mrs. Rayzor, of Hereford, having been called home on account of sickness and then called elsewhere to nurse a son, who was sick.

Cleve Tate has purchased the City Drug Store from Judge Kerr, who has managed it for about four years.

Clarence Dixon, of the Cleo neighborhood, has sold his farm and will give possession soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rea Gilbreath came home from Tulla Tuesday, after quite a visit there.

Rev. Florence, who is taking the census, was out after dark one evening last week in his car. He found he had no lights, tried to drive without and ran into a fence, breaking his windshield and radiator, but did not injure himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Bell and children of Canyon, spent Sunday with Mr. Bells sisters Mrs. Cash and Mrs. E. S. Ireland. Daniel and Evelyne Bell, of Hereford, accompanied them.

W. B. Kimble, of Mulkey community will move to Dimmitt soon, having sold his farm.

Mrs. Payne Gilliland, of Hereford, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Shepard.

SUMMERFIELD

Summerfield is a very busy place at present. Mr. Johnson the grain buyer affords a good market for the farmers to dispose of their grain. He also attends to the cattlemen's needs in supplying them with cottonseed hulls, seed and cake, and furnishes coal for the country for miles around. While Mr. Ness, the congenial merchant, can supply any necessary mercantile article desirable. In the near future, with the possibility of a depot, an elevator and many other improvements, Summerfield will be a sure enough town.

The Santa Fe is putting in a railroad crossing directly north of J. W. Hanlan's place. This will open the road straight north past the Betts and Vogele farms.

Our community was saddened when the news came Sunday morning of the death of Mrs. W. P. McMinn. Grandma McMinn had been in very poor health for a long time. Several times recently it seemed the frail body could no longer retain it's hold on the thread of life. The family were summoned last week when her condition became more alarming and she passed peacefully into the Great Beyond Sunday morning. Funeral services were held at the

L. L. Cannon lost a very valuable horse one day last week. The lot gate was left open and the horses went across the road to the railroad track. When the train whistled they all got out of the way but this one, not being afraid of a train it did not move, and the train was too close to stop in time to avoid hitting it.

Mrs. Chancey Tice and Maxine visited Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Gaetz.

Mr. and Mrs. Lance and Velma, also Lois and Emma Alexander, spent the day Sunday at Charlie Walsers.

FRIONA NEWS

Leland Goodwine and Fred White were in attendance at the tractor school held at Amarillo Friday and Saturday of last week. The school was conducted by representatives of the Avery Company. They express themselves as well pleased with the instruction which they received.

School was resumed Monday after a lapse of two weeks on account of the prevalence of the "flu." About three-fourths of the population here was afflicted with the disease, but no cases were serious. During the enforced vacation Miss Cullum was in Amarillo, Miss Ficke in Canyon, and Miss Wilson visited her parents at Coleman. Prof. Parker and Miss Stevens remained in Friona.

Logan Simpson went to Amarillo Sunday to see Rev. Mobley in regard to fixing a date for his lecture here. Rev. Mobley had a date with the social committee of the C. E. during the early part of the winter but sickness prevented him from filling his appointment at that time and since then there has been no effort made to renew the date. Rev. Mobley has promised to give us a night between now and the 15th of March. Announcement will be made as soon as the date is definitely fixed.

There were about fifty persons present at the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday night. This was the largest number that have been present in so long that the few faithful ones cannot remember when such occurred before. Prof. Parker, our newly elected president, has surely gotten things moving and it seems that our society is recovering some of its old time energy. Two committee meetings, that of the Prayer-meeting committee and the Social committee, were held Monday night and a list of leaders were chosen for the remaining numbers of the first half-year; while the social committee made plans for a social for Friday night of this week in addition to the lecture by Rev. Mobley as mentioned in the foregoing paragraph. This lecture will very likely be held on Friday night, March 5th. At the meeting Sunday night it was voted to send two delegates to the State convention to be held in Dallas in June. A meeting to formulate plans of work for the year will be held soon.

Rev. Willman returned from California two weeks ago, much benefited in health, and on learning that there would be no church services on Sunday on account of the "flu" quarantine, he departed next day for Dallas to attend the meeting of the Interchurch movement. He returned from Dallas Monday and will probably resume his regular services next Sunday.

G. W. Maurer returned from a visit to his old home in Ohio last week. He was called there on account of the serious illness of one of his brothers, but we are informed, the brother's death occurred before he arrived. Mr. Maurer says conditions in the east do not look at all enticing to him and that the Panhandle looks good and he is glad to be back again.

Harry Shierieb returned last week from Topeka, Kansas, where he has been for the past few months attending the Santa Fe railroad school. He returns fully equipped in training for the work of station agent and his many friends here wish him the greatest success in his chosen line of work.

High School Notes
 The boys of the High School played a game of basketball with Texico-Farwell last Friday at 3 p. m. The student body exhibited considerable interest in the football pep by giving yells and songs. A clean and snappy game was witnessed with Hereford the winner by a score of one. The final score was Hereford 34, Texico-Farwell 33. Both teams played well together. Bruce Guthrie proved easily the star for the locals. He made 26 points of the total. Other games are being arranged. Come out and enjoy these games.

Another accident happened to the Bullock family one day last week, when a can of kerosene was accidentally knocked off onto a hot stove, and the fire caught the clothing of Mrs. Bullock, burning the upper portion of her body and arms. The burns are painful and quite serious, but not expected to be dangerous. This is the third accident to befall this family during the past few months, and the entire community sympathizes with them in their misfortunes.
 Quite a bit of excitement was created in Bovina Monday on account of the prairie fire northwest of town. It seems that the fire originated in New Mexico and travelled in an easterly direction. It was extinguished before getting within several miles of this place.

UTILITY OF RELIGION; VALUE OF CHURCHES
BISHOP W. A. CHANDLER
 In The Texas Christian Advocate
 Business men and publicists in these perplexing times are being forced to consider that religion is indispensable to the very existence of social order and civil government.
 On January 27 one of Babson's Reports, in the form of a striking letter on "Churches," was issued.
 In this "Special Letter" Mr. Roger Babson shows how that the safety of a man's securities when locked up in a safe-deposit vault depends not "upon the great steel vaults or the keys of the box," but upon "the honesty of the bank clerk," who, if he chose to do so, might make a duplicate key and clean out the box at any time; and that the honesty of bank clerks rests on the prevalence of religion in the community.
 Then he proceeds to set forth how that the value of the securities, as well as their safety, rests on the same moral and religious basis, his exact language being as follows:
 "Let us now consider upon what the value of the papers within the box depends. Surely they have no value of themselves. Their value depends upon your ability to foreclose, in case payment is refused. Now this fact presupposes that your certificates, bonds and mortgages are properly drawn. Have you ever looked at them to see if they are properly signed, not to mention their legal status? Local real estate mortgages we have examined for us. For the legality, proper execution and genuineness of our other securities we depend upon our bankers and brokers. But this simply means that we really do not depend at all upon the pieces of paper which we so carefully protect in our safe-deposit boxes. It is the integrity of the men who prepared them, the integrity of the officials who signed them and the integrity of the bankers who sold them upon which we really depend. If any of these parties are dishonest, the papers which we so carefully cherish would be valueless. We could not collect from any court on forged, fraudulent or even illegally issued documents.

VALUE OF CHURCHES

"But granting that all the company officials, the attorney's clerks and the banker's employees have been honest, how then would you enforce your claims without an honest court? You could not do so. Hence, your real security for the stocks, bonds and other evidences of wealth is the integrity of the people who elect or appoint the judges who make foreclosures possible. But even with honest courts you still may become penniless unless public opinion insists upon these court decrees being enforced.

"You may have a mortgage on my house. Your mortgage is of value only as everyone connected with it—the lawyer who drew it—and the little stenographer who copied it, up to the jury which is to enforce it, is honest. Yes, and even then you cannot get me out of my house unless the majority of the entire community is honest. With the community sympathizing with me, the officers would not and could not put me out. Under such circumstances what would your mortgage be worth? ABSOLUTELY NOTHING. Moreover, if this is true regarding local mortgage, it is much more serious in connection with our investments in railroads, in industries and other properties outside the city where we live."

After making these statements, he inquires the meaning of all these obvious facts, and answers his own inquiry in this wise:

"What does all this mean? It means that the real security for the stocks, bonds, mortgages, deeds and other investments which we own is the integrity of the community. The steel boxes, the legal papers and the other things which we look upon as so important are the mere shells of the eggs. The value of our investments depends not on the strength of our banks, but rather upon the strength of our churches. The underpaid preachers of the Nation are the men upon whom we really depend, rather than the well-paid lawyers, bankers and brokers. The religion of the community is really the bulwark of our investments. And when we consider that only 16 percent of the people hold securities of any kind and less than 3 percent hold enough to pay an income tax, the importance of the churches becomes even more evident."

He closes the letter with the very logical exhortation, "For our own sakes, for our children's sakes, for the Nation's sake, let us business men get behind the Churches and their preachers."

All that Mr. Babson says is too indubitable for discussion, and every sensible man of business knows it, although very many men in the commercial world live constantly as if these things were not true. They draw immeasurable benefits from the Churches and do nothing to help the Churches. They are parasites on our Christian civilization, drawing blood from its system and contributing nothing towards its nourishment and maintenance.

From the six prime ministers of Great Britain and its Colonial Dependencies comes a similar testimony to the importance of religion as the foundation of society. These experienced and astute statesmen perceive the perils which threaten the British Empire and the dangers by which the whole world is menaced, and they issued recently the following address to their fellow citizens:

"To our fellow citizens of the British Empire:

"The war, in shaking the very foundations of ordered civilization, has driven all thoughtful men to examine the bases of national and international life.

"It has become clear today, that neither education, science, diplomacy, nor commercial prosperity, when allied with a belief in material force as the ultimate power, are real foundations for the ordered development of the world's life. These things are in themselves the tools of the spirit that handles them.

"Even the hope that lies before the world of a life of peace protected and developed by a League of Nations is itself dependent on something deeper and more fundamental still. The co-operation for which the League of Nations explicitly exists to foster will become operative in so far as the consenting peoples have the spirit of good will. And the spirit of good will among men rests on spiritual forces; the hope of a "brotherhood of humanity" reposes on the deeper spiritual fact of the "Fatherhood of God." In the recognition of the fact of that Fatherhood and of the Divine purpose for the world which are central to the message of Christianity we shall discover the ultimate foundations for the reconstruction of an ordered and harmonious life for all men. That recognition cannot be imposed by Government. It can only come as an act of free consent on the part of individual men everywhere.

"Responsible as we are in our separate spheres for a share in the guidance of the British Empire as it faces the problems of the future, we believe that in the acceptance of those spiritual principles lies the sure basis of world peace. We would, therefore, commend to our fellow-citizens the necessity that men of goodwill, who are everywhere reviewing their personal responsibilities in relation to the reconstruction of civilization, should consider also the eternal validity and truth of those spiritual forces which are, in fact, the hope for a permanent foundation for world peace.

"D. Lloyd George, United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; R. L. Borden, Canada; W. M. Hughes, Australia; Louis Botha, South Africa; R. A. Squires, Newfoundland; W. J. Fassey, New Zealand."

These are words of truth and soberness, and, if what these great men say is true, nothing is more needed now than a wide-spread revival of religion.

But what is the essence of a revival of religion? It is not a mechanical movement, originated and managed for the purpose of safe-guarding property and defending the social system against the perils of disorder and disintegration. A real revival of religion is a return of the people to God by repentance for their sins and true faith in Jesus Christ our Lord.

We cannot use God for our earthly ends and interests, but we must worship Him for his glory, and love and serve Him as a matter of bounden duty.

Mr. Babson is quite right when he shows us that the bank clerk must be honest in order to make our securities in the deposit-vault safe, and that the honesty of the bank clerk must rest on religion; but we must beware that we do not care more for the safety of our securities than for the salvation which is in Jesus Christ. We cannot use our Lord as a watchman over our bank vaults. Nor can Mr. Lloyd George and his associated prime ministers engage the Savior of the world to become the political guarantor of the British Empire.

Salvation from sin will safeguard all the interests of mankind, both commercial and political, national and international; but there can be no salvation of the world from sin until the individual souls in the world repent of their sinfulness and turn to God, with no thought of promoting earthly interests but solely because the divine law requires it.

A great deal of doubt will have to be put away before men will thus return to God. As long as we indulge our skepticism and practice our self-indulgence we will not come back to God, nor even have an adequate motive for doing so.

German rationalism, discrediting the Holy Scriptures and denying the deity and authority of Jesus Christ, undermined the moral life of the German people and their rulers. Hence the awful war which has increased the public debts of the Nations from $40,000,000,000 in 1914 to $200,000,000,000 in 1920, to say nothing of the more awful waste of human life which it entailed. This is a fearful price to pay for infidelity. But are we sure that the world is yet clear of danger from the same source? Are the Germans, or the Allies, penitent for their sins? Are they not just as rationalistic and godless as ever? How then can they repent?

Mankind may as well understand that we cannot play fast and loose with God. We cannot get along without religion, and we cannot have religion if we doubt and disobey God at the same time.

Roman statesmen tried in vain to keep the ancient religion of the Romans after they had lost all faith in it; they desired it as a means to preserve social order. But they failed. A religion that is doubted and disowned is impotent to save any soul and powerless to preserve any Nation.

Let the men of today take warning from the folly of the Roman publicists. If Christianity is false, it can have no power to save us or anybody. If it is true, we must accept the salvation it offers, and obey the authority which it imposes, and all because it is true. We cannot retain it for its utility when we have ceased to believe in its credibility. It has no utility, if it is untrue. A lie never was and never will be useful to the human race.

Grandma McMinn Dies

Grandma McMinn, aged 76 years, less one week, died at her home in the Summerfield community Sunday morning, February 22, at 7 o'clock, after a lingering illness. She had been in declining health for a number of years, and had been confined to her bed for about three months.

Amanda J. Hill was born in Panola county, Mississippi, February 29, 1844, and was married to W. P. McMinn, September 19, 1864. To this union was born seven sons and two daughters, six of whom, together with her husband, survive her.

She was one of the old settlers of this community, coming here in the early days of Hereford, and was known and loved throughout the community.

Years ago the Methodist church was organized at Summerfield, and Grandma's name was among the charter members, as she had been a consistent member of this church since the early age of thirteen years, and remained an active worker in all its affairs as long as her health would permit.

Funeral services were held in the Hereford Methodist church Monday at 11 a. m., conducted by her pastor, Rev. B. Y. Dickinson, and assisted by Revs. W. H. Terry, J. E. McClurkin and J. A. Lindley.

The many friends extend to the family their sympathy in the hour of sorrow.
