Pathologist is focus of Canyon hearing

By CHIP BROWN
Associated Press Writer

CANYON, Texas (AP) - Lubbock pathologist Ralph Erdmann may have all the answers concerning the grisly beating death of a 72-year-old Canyon man, but he's not telling.

Erdmann took the stand Thursday and pleaded the Fifth Amendment in the exhumation hearing of a defendant accused of killing Hilton Merriman, who was found in a pool of blood at his home near Canyon on May 13, 1990.

Erdmann, who was indicted by a Hockley County grand jury in February for falsifying an autopsy report, has become the focus of the hearing.

McDowell questions tax use

City Commissioner James McDowell, who recently resigned as a director of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, announced today that he will request accountability of the chamber's use of funds from the city's motel tax.

McDowell said he plans to make a motion at Monday night's commission meeting to suspend further payment of the motel tax to the chamber until a complete accounting of these funds is provided and until state law is met by providing a proposed budget to be approved in open meeting of the City Commission.

The City of Hereford collects a motel tax and gives 75 percent of the revenue to the chamber for promotion and tourism. Even as a chamber director and city commissioner, McDowell said he was surprised to learn that the chamber received about $15,000 a year from the tax.

McDowell said he never saw an accounting of the funds while serving as a chamber board member. He said he checked on the funding reports and found only 12 reports for the last 21 quarters.

McDowell has submitted a letter to the editor on this subject and it will be published in Sunday's Brand.

Attorneys were expected today to continue delving into the doctor's career as a pathologist for more than 40 West Texas counties.

"I plead my rights," Erdmann responded over 200 times as defense attorney Millard Farmer posed question after question about complaints from police officers and fellow pathologists concerning the doctor's work.

"The fact is, Dr. Erdmann took his scalpel and destroyed evidence in this case - physical evidence that we only get one shot to determine what the truth is," said Steven Losch, an attorney for the NAACP Legal Defense Fund-Capital Punishment Project.

"I am not aware of any case in Texas history or the nation's history in which a pathologist took the Fifth about material issues in a case," Losch said.

Losch and Farmer are representing Douglas Nathan Palmer, who is one of six men indicted for beating Merriman to death. One man has already been convicted and sentenced to die in the case.

A tissue Thursday was Erdmann's autopsy of Merriman, which concluded a pitiless beating caused the victim to die of severe brain swelling.

Farmer and Losch argue Merriman's death may have been complicated by a heart condition. The attorneys acknowledge the victim was beaten but contend Merriman's heart disease was purposely overlooked by Erdmann as a cause of the victim's death. They want Merriman's body exhumed to examine heart tissue.

In opening statements Thursday, Losch said Erdmann routinely performs "made-to-order autopsies that support the police version of a case."

In the motion to exhume Merriman's body, the defense claims the district attorneys in Randall, Potter and Lubbock counties have conspired with Erdmann to perform examinations biased for the state.

Randall County District Attorney Randy Sherrod, who is arguing the state's case against Merriman's suspected killers, said there will be "no testimony to show Dr. Erdmann put innocent people in the penitentiary."

Defense attorneys were surprised to learn Thursday from Randall

County Assistant District Attorney John Davis that Erdmann had misrepresented tissue samples from Merriman's body.

Davis said that the state was unable to obtain tissue samples from Merriman's body because "the samples Dr. Erdmann furnished us with were not from Mr. Merriman. They were tissue samples from a 29-year-old man whose name I do not know."

About three weeks after his indictment in Hockley County, Erdmann resigned a $140,000-a-year position performing autopsies for Lubbock County, saying he was overworked.

Lubbock County District Attorney Travis Ware says Erdmann is being attacked by vengeful defense attorneys who resent Erdmann for testifying against them in several court cases.

Sgt. Bill Hubbard of the Lubbock Police Department testified Thursday that Erdmann had failed to subscribe to homicide autopsy protocol by not performing cranial exams and failing to weigh the body's organs.

When Hubbard complained to Ware during a meeting in February, the Lubbock district attorney defended Erdmann, saying: "He works hard. He is always there when we need him... And he is a very good witness," Hubbard testified.

Ware told Hubbard and several other officers in the meeting, "If we had any problems with Mr. Erdmann that we should come to him (Ware). And he said he would straighten Erdmann out," Hubbard added.

Hubbard also testified that Ware said: "He will either comply or I will (expletive) fire his ass."

Hubbard testified that Ware said during the meeting, "To keep quiet about the meeting... if this gets out, the defense attorneys will have a field day with it."

Ware said from his office in Lubbock Thursday that "there is no coverup."

Farmer pounded Erdmann with questions concerning his work for the state.

"How many (district attorneys) have you helped perform fake autopsies?" Farmer asked.

"I plead my rights," Erdmann responded.

Erdmann's wife, Joan, also pleaded

Spain reviews Emergency Operations Plan

Officials take steps to see area prepared for storms

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Severe storms have already hit Hereford this spring, but area officials will be taking special steps during the next 10 days to make sure the area is ready for future storms sure to come.

Next week, April 5-11, is the official Severe Weather Awareness Week for the Panhandle area.

"The purpose of the West Texas Severe Weather Awareness Week is to provide people with the knowledge that can help them protect their lives when severe weather threatens," said Jose M. Garcia, warning coordination meteorologist for the National Weather Service in Amarillo.

Garcia said NWS will hold a tornado drill at about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday. The drill will include transmission of a tornado drill exercise on the "weather wire," a special teletype that goes to many radio and television stations. A special test of the NOAA Weather Radio alarm system will be held at the same time.

"These drill will give persons in homes, schools, hospitals and businesses a chance to see if they can receive a warning and take the actions needed during an actual tornado," said Garcia. If there is threatening weather on Wednesday, the test will be moved to Thursday.

Hereford officials have been at work for several weeks on severe weather preparedness. Fire Marshal Jay Spain conducted a test of emergency warning sirens three weeks ago. Spain said further tests will be held during the spring and summer.

Hereford's emergency program received a real-life shakedown on March 27 when two tornado warnings were issued for Deaf Smith County. The Emergency Operations Center was in business for over two hours as volunteers scoured the countryside watching clouds.

"When you consider that we hadn't had a chance to go over our operating procedures, it went excellent for the first time this year," said Spain about last week. "I guess you can only say pretty good because there were a couple of things that went wrong. We've already talked about them and corrected them."

Spain said the weather watchers use not only their eyes but the information picked up on radar. Spain said radar-watching is important for any home.

"The best thing people can do is watch TV and look at that radar," said Spain. "We've always had the weather service call us and say, 'Hey, go look at this cloud, we think you might have something.'"

"We're not going to blow the sirens until there is something on the ground coming toward Hereford. That doesn't mean you don't need to know what to do and when to do it. If you wait until we blow the sirens before you have a plan, you may be too late."

Six million will have chance to repent of income tax sins

WASHINGTON (AP) - The federal government is setting its sights on the ultimate tax cheat: an estimated 6 million couples, individuals and businesses that don't even bother to file a return.

First comes the carrot: a program by the Internal Revenue Service to encourage non-filers to join the system. Those who comply will be offered the chance to pay back taxes on the installment plan.

Then, the stick. IRS Commissioner Shirley D. Peterson said a team of 1,200 IRS auditors will be unleashed on "the most highly productive non-filers we can identify." Criminal prosecutions will be used against chronic offenders, she said.

In case the message needs driving home, Mrs. Peterson told the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee on Thursday, "The Department of Justice will announce a bunch of indictments" on April 15 - the deadline for individuals to file their 1991 returns.

All this is part of an effort by the IRS to reduce two embarrassingly large figures:

-The tax gap, exceeding $110 billion a year. This is the estimate of income taxes that individuals and businesses avoid each year by not filing returns, exaggerating deductions or under-reporting income.

-Accounts receivable. This is the backlog of assessed but unpaid income, payroll and other federal taxes, which over the years has grown from $96.3 billion at the end of 1990 to $110.7 billion a year later. About 60 percent of this is owed by businesses. Most of the share attributable to individuals results from failure to pay taxes when a return is filed or new assessments when an audit is completed.

The Senate committee focused its attention Thursday on accounts receivable as part of a hearing into an $8 billion program to modernize the IRS computer system.

NASA plans mission in newest spacecraft

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - The Atlantis has landed, and NASA is preparing its next space flight. It's the mission to beat all missions - the first flight of a new shuttle and a daring satellite rescue by spacewalking astronauts.

The Atlantis' successful atmospheric research mission ended Thursday with a Kennedy Space Center touchdown.

The inaugural voyage of the $2 billion Endeavour - Challenger's replacement - is scheduled for May. It's clearly the highlight of NASA's year.

So many spacewalks are planned during the Endeavour flight - three, a shuttle record - that four astronauts have spacewalking duties. Usually, it's two.

During the seven-day flight, two spacewalking astronauts are to attach a motor to a communications satellite that has been stuck in a lower-than-intended orbit for two years.

It will be the first satellite retrieve-and-repair job by Americans since 1985.

William Lenoir, head of NASA's space flight program, said officials "shoehorned" the seven-day mission into the shuttle schedule despite the continuing backlog from the 1986 Challenger explosion. The accident, which killed all seven astronauts aboard, grounded the fleet for 2½ years.

Friend of Education

Suzy Wall, right, was named Hereford Junior High's first "Friend of Education" Thursday. Teacher Marian Gooden presented Mrs. Wall with a HJH "Proud Crowd" tee shirt when she recognized her contribution to the school. Mrs. Wall, owner of Texas Gallery at Sugarland Mall, donated ceramic supplies to the school. Mrs. Gooden said the greenware and glaze supplies would be of "great benefit" to her classes.

Mob boss loses 'Teflon Don' title

NEW YORK (AP) - This time charges stuck to the "Teflon Don."

A federal jury convicted mob boss John Gotti on Thursday of murder and racketeering charges that carry a life prison term. He had beaten charges three times since 1986.

"The Teflon is gone. The don is covered with Velcro, and all the charges stuck," FBI agent James Fox said.

After a 10-week trial, jurors deliberated 13 hours before finding Gotti guilty on all 13 counts.

Gotti showed no reaction. "I'll be OK," he told supporters before being led out of the courtroom and back to jail.

Sentencing is scheduled for June 23 in U.S. District Court.

The conviction crowned the prosecution's six-year crusade to put away the man they described as head of the nation's most powerful crime family. This time, the 51-year-old mobster was done in by his own voice and the testimony of once-trusted underboss Salvatore "Sammy Bull" Gravano.

Gotti was heard on hours of secretly recorded tapes, openly discussing murder and other Mafia business.

Gravano, who admitted to 19 murders on the stand, said he committed 10 at Gotti's direction. He provided a chilling narrative of the killings that boosted Gotti from captain to boss.

The centerpiece of the indictment was the Dec. 16, 1985, assassination of "Big Paul" Castellano and his lieutenant, Thomas Bilotti, outside a Manhattan restaurant.

Prosecutors alleged - and Gravano testified - that Gotti ordered the hit to seize control of the Gambino crime family from Castellano.

The indictment charged Gotti and co-defendant Frank Locascio with murder, murder conspiracy, illegal gambling, loansharking, obstruction of justice, bribery of a public official and tax fraud. Locascio, 59, was convicted of all but a gambling charge and faces the same sentence.

Much of the drama in the Brooklyn courtroom focused on the showdown between Gotti and Gravano, his once-trusted confidant. Gravano testified for nine days as Gotti glared.

The defense strategy was to portray Gravano, 47, as a liar who cut a good deal with prosecutors so ambitious they would go to any length to get Gotti.

"Our country is sick to the core if it is willing to pay for testimony by literally absolving a person of 19 confessed murders," Gotti lawyer Albert Krieger said.

Gravano, the highest-ranking Mafia member ever to testify against Gotti, was charged in the original indictment but cut a deal under which he now faces a maximum of 20 years in jail.

The trial was his fourth in six years for Gotti, who reveled in the role of crime boss, dressing in designer suits and playing host to an annual Fourth of July celebration and fireworks show.

In 1986, an assault case was dismissed when the complaining witness declined to identify Gotti. The following year, he was acquitted in a federal racketeering case. Gotti was again found innocent in 1990 of conspiracy and assault in the shooting of a union official.

Cash flow won't stop candidate

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) - Democratic presidential front-runner Bill Clinton is low on cash but suddenly enjoying the rocky politics of New York entering the final weekend before primaries that will test the strength of Jerry Brown's dogged challenge.

After several tentative and turbulent days in New York, Clinton said Thursday he believed he had turned the corner as the Tuesday balloting approaches. He appeared a far more confident and relaxed campaigner, even singing an Elvis Presley tune during an evening television interview.

"My message to the New York press - Don't Be Cruel," a crooning and laughing Clinton said in New York City on WNET-TV's "Charlie Rose Show."

After morning appearances in Buffalo today, Clinton was heading for three events in Wisconsin, where aides said the race with Brown is tight and where the effect of the cash shortage can be seen in Clinton's advertising.

Meanwhile, Brown's campaign submitted a matching-fund request to the Federal Election Commission for more than $1.2 million, representing 21,458 contributors. Clinton's campaign requested just over $1 million, based on only 8,265 donors.

Jodie Evans, Brown's campaign manager, said those figures highlight Brown's ability to raise money in small amounts from numerous contributors, while Clinton attracts larger contributions. Brown has set a $100 limit on individual donations and refuses contributions from political action committees.

Clinton appeared upbeat for the final push in New York and Wisconsin, which award 244 and 82 Democratic convention delegates, respectively.

"I like this - I like a good scrap," Clinton said Thursday night.

Morales determined to continue investigation of Tilton ministry

AUSTIN (AP) - Attorney General Dan Morales, locked in a legal duel with TV evangelist Robert Tilton, says he won't stop his investigation into Tilton's ministry.

"No one is above the law in our state. Doctors are not. Lawyers are not. Elected officials are not above the law. Not even preachers are above the law," Morales said.

The attorney general on Thursday stepped up his efforts, announcing a new criminal investigation and saying he will give information to federal authorities.

"If Robert Tilton believes we are going to back down in this investigation, he is sorely mistaken. And if Robert Tilton believes he can flout the law and operate in some fashion with immunity from state criminal and civil statutes, he is sorely mistaken," Morales said.

Tilton and his Word of Faith World Outreach Center Church in suburban Dallas have been under scrutiny since ABC-TV's "Prime-Time Live" broadcast a report in November that said Tilton kept financial donations sent with "prayer requests," but the requests didn't reach the minister.

Tilton has denied wrongdoing. His lawyer, J.C. Joyce of Tulsa, Okla., was out of the office Thursday and not available to comment on Morales' actions. "Mr. Joyce is the only one that's talking to the media," a secretary said.

Morales announced that he will: -Begin a criminal investigation in addition to the civil inquiry.

-Turn over information gathered on Tilton's ministry to the Internal Revenue Service, U.S. Postal Service and other authorities.

-Ask the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to lift a lower court ruling that has stalled parts of his civil investigation.

-Keep pushing for financial records of the ministry, which Tilton's wife testified in court generated about $65 million last year.

"That is an awful lot of money involved here; $65 million is a lot of cash. And I was elected, among other things, to ensure that our Texas consumer laws and charitable trust laws are complied with," Morales said.

Tilton this week refused to turn over the financial records Morales seeks. He also announced that his ministry had converted from a non-profit corporation to a church.

Morales said he was puzzled by Tilton's failure to cooperate.

"If the reverend has nothing to hide, I don't understand why he refused to cooperate with our requests or with our investigation," he said.

Morales emphasized that "I have no reason to believe at this point" that Tilton has committed any criminal act.

But, he said he also believes "that an investigation on the part of our criminal law enforcement division ...

is merited and is justified by the facts that we have in hand."

Morales declined to specify what a criminal investigation would entail, although he did mention statutes on criminal fraud and theft by deception.

"It's a very different ballgame when you start talking about the Texas Penal Code. Criminal sanctions, criminal fines and possibly even jail time are involved when you get to the criminal side of things," he said.

Morales chided Tilton for making personal attacks on him.

Kansas' Williams wins close coach of year decision

By JIM O'CONNELL
AP Basketball Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Roy Williams of Kansas was named Associated Press college basketball coach of the year today, the first Big Eight coach to ever win the award.

Williams led the Jayhawks to the championship game last season, but lost three starters from that team. Still, Kansas (27-5) managed to win the Big Eight title for the second straight season and was the No. 1 seed in the Midwest Regional, losing to Texas-El Paso in the second round. The Jayhawks were ranked second in the final poll of the season, Williams' fourth at Kansas.

The nationwide voting of sportswriters and broadcasters was conducted before the NCAA tournament on a 5-3-1 basis and was the closest since the award was started in 1967.

Williams received 21 first-place votes and 129 points to edge Jerry Tarkanian of UNLV, who retired after the season. Tarkanian had one less first-place vote than Williams and 117 points, one more than Duke's Mike Krzyzewski, who was named to the top spot on 14 ballots.

George Raveling of Southern Cal, who agreed to a contract extension Thursday, was fourth with 111 points and was followed by Perry Clark of Tulane, 110, and Pat Kennedy of Florida State, 96.

The remainder of the top 10 vote-getters was: John Calipari of Massachusetts, 83; Bob Huggins of Cincinnati, 77; Bob Knight of Indiana, 39; and Eddie Sutton of Oklahoma State, 35.

Krzyzewski, Huggins and Knight all have teams in the Final Four, but the other coach who still has a chance at the national championship - Michigan's Steve Fisher - didn't receive a vote.

Knight won the AP award three times, in 1975, 1976 and 1989. Sutton was a two-time winner, at Arkansas in 1978 and at Kentucky in 1986.

Randy Ayers of Ohio State won the award last season.

Williams, an assistant to Dean Smith at North Carolina for 10 years before taking the Kansas job, has a 103-30 record with the Jayhawks, winning at least 27 games each of the last three seasons.

Knight will stick to basics vs. Duke

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Indiana coach Bob Knight, student of the arcane and master of military maneuvers, has a simple strategy to beat Duke.

Sure, he'll have his team meteorologist on hand to check the wind currents, "the greatest intangible" in the Metrodome. And Knight just might crack his bullwhip, march his players barefoot over one of Minnesota's 10,000 frozen lakes and do a cerebral reversal number on their heads.

But when it comes down to hoops Saturday in the NCAA semifinal against defending champion Duke, Knight is totally a back-to-basics kind of guy.

The Final Four is not the time for convoluted game plans pulled out of some mysterious playbook the coach has had stashed away in a closet for just such an occasion.

Rather, it is a time when all the fundamentals Knight has been preaching through the season, all the picks and rolls and easy shots, and all the little moves to get position underneath for rebounds form the basis for attacking the nation's No. 1 team.

"I think that's the way you should play," Knight said, scoffing at the notion that he'll have to resort to magic and mirrors to get his 27-6 Hoosiers past 30-2 Duke. "There isn't anything complicated about the Duke game.

"You can coach basketball in two ways. You can coach it with a lot of things, sort of like a surprise and change. Defensively, if you subscribe to surprise and change, you can force the offense to make a lot of adjustments during the course of a game. The second theory on coaching is simplicity and execution, and that's always been the theory I've subscribed to."

That means a deliberate, half-court-style offense, a strict man-to-man defense and old-fashioned board crashing on both ends.

There isn't anything extraordinary about the way Indiana is playing in the tournament, Knight claimed, noting that the blowout of UCLA in the West Regional final wasn't just a matter of the Hoosiers rising to a peak after the loss to Purdue in the regular-season finale.

The current Indiana players, however, are playing beyond the third round for the first time.

Duke and Indiana will follow the game between Cincinnati and Michigan.

"When we played Butler and Notre Dame (in December), we probably played as well as we played against UCLA," he said. "It isn't as though all of a sudden it's playing well. That's not the case."

Knight traces Indiana's revival to a long overdue shift in leadership, chiefly Calbert Cheaney shooting 60 percent in the Hoosiers' four victories and Eric Anderson bombing away after Knight told him to concentrate on his own play and quit worrying about others.

The Hoosiers will have plenty of worries with Duke center Christian Laettner and guard Bobby Hurley.

"I don't think Laettner's a position player. He's probably the best big basketball player that I've seen in a long time," said Knight, who will counter Laettner with Matt Nover, Anderson and forward Alan Henderson.

"He really plays a different game than anyone else," Anderson said.

Indiana will try to wear down Hurley with its four-guard rotation of Damon Bailey, Greg Graham, Jamal Meeks and Chris Reynolds. They combined for 22 of Indiana's 23 assists against UCLA in a game where the Hoosiers had eight turnovers.

"He's a good guard who penetrates, gets in the lane and dishes the ball off," Meeks said of Hurley. "It's definitely gonna be tough for our guards to stay on him for 40 minutes."

Duke has one big advantage in the game - experience - after getting to the Final Four for five straight years and six of seven.

"The more Final Fours you go to, the more cousins you find out you have who need tickets," Blue Devils coach Mike Krzyzewski quipped.

Indiana is at its fifth Final Four under coach Bob Knight, the last in 1987 when the Hoosiers won. In fact, the only Final Four appearance by Knight that didn't end with a title was the first, 1973, when UCLA beat Indiana on the way to its seventh straight title, the last team to repeat as national champion.

O'Neal to announce NBA decision today

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - All-American center Shaquille O'Neal is expected to skip his senior year at Louisiana State to turn professional.

The 7-1 O'Neal, who dominated college basketball for three years, scheduled an afternoon news conference in San Antonio today to reveal his plans. The news conference was planned at Fort Sam Houston, the U.S. Army post where his father is stationed.

O'Neal, 20, declined to discuss the matter Wednesday night when he attended a San Antonio Spurs game with family members.

He also chatted during the game with sports agent Leonard Armatto of Los Angeles, who represents former Lakers star Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Hakeem Olajuwon of the Houston Rockets and Karl Malone of the Utah Jazz.

Although O'Neal has not publicly discussed his intentions, indications were he would enter the June NBA draft. Several news organizations have cited sources saying the announcement was imminent.

"If I do go pro, I've promised my parents that I'll get my education. When I go back to get my degree, it'll be a national TV event," he said last week.

LSU coach Dale Brown said he met with O'Neal and his family Sunday night in San Antonio and told them he supported O'Neal's decision, whatever that will be.

LSU athletic director Joe Dean said O'Neal may already have retained an agent. Whenever he turns pro, O'Neal is expected to sign one of the largest contracts in all of sport.

Laettner voted NCAA's best

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Duke's Christian Laettner, the man who has made the Final Four a yearly routine and getting there as exciting as it gets, today was named Associated Press college basketball player of the year.

The 6-foot-11 senior All-American received the Adolph F. Rupp Trophy, the award named for the late University of Kentucky coach.

Laettner easily beat last year's winner, Shaquille O'Neal of Louisiana State, in the nationwide voting of sportswriters and broadcasters which was conducted on a 5-3-1 basis before the NCAA tournament.

Laettner received 53 first-place votes and 336 points, while O'Neal, a junior who is reportedly set to declare for the NBA draft, had 248 points and 33 first-place votes.

The top vote-getters were on the All-America team, as was Jim Jackson of Ohio State, who was third with 172 points and was followed by Harold Miner of Southern Cal, 131, and Alonzo Mourning of Georgetown, 41.

Laettner has made the NCAA tournament his personal highlight film with four Final Four appearances in as many years, with a national championship last season. Saturday's game against Indiana will tie Laettner for most tournament games played, 22, and he already has the scoring record, 380 points, as well as most free throws made and attempted. He is eighth on the all-time rebounding list and is one steal shy of taking the top spot in that category.

His turnaround jumper from 17 feet to beat the overtime buzzer gave the Blue Devils a 104-103 victory over Kentucky last weekend and the spot in the Final Four. He did the same thing as a sophomore, nailing a shot from almost the same distance in the same situation to beat Connecticut in the East Regional title game.

Laettner's statistics this season, one in which Duke ran from start to finish as No. 1, are also quite impressive. He averaged 21.9 points and 7.8 rebounds while shooting 58 percent from the field, including 57 percent from 3-point range, the second-best figure in the nation.

"When he was a freshman, he was not nearly the player he is now, but he has come a long way with the Duke coaching," Indiana coach Bob Knight said of Laettner. "Laettner is a bigger version of a player in our own conference, Jim Jackson. He is not as quick as Jackson, but he has the ability to pass, shoot and create for his team."

Laettner's selection deprived O'Neal of becoming the third player to repeat as player of the year. Bill Walton of UCLA, who won the first Rupp Trophy in 1972, was a three-time winner, as was Ralph Sampson of Virginia (1981-83).

Laettner is the first player from Duke to win the award.

The legendary "Real McCoy" was a star welterweight boxer named Norman Selby.

Rockets mash Nuggets; stay in playoff hunt

By The Associated Press

The Houston Rockets did what they have to do to get back into the NBA playoff race - play as a team. The Rockets - in their second game since Hakeem Olajuwon returned from a three-game suspension - had nine players in double figures and outbounded Denver 55-41 on Thursday night while routing the Nuggets 137-114.

"Everybody got a chance to be a part of it and we needed to get our morale and confidence back," coach Rudy Tomjanovich said. "We needed more of a blue collar attitude."

Houston exploited the inside against Denver, which played without its rookie All-Star center Dikembe Mutombo after he had surgery on the torn ligaments in his left thumb earlier in the day.

Houston established a season-high for points in snapping a six-game losing streak, while the Nuggets extended their string of losses to six.

Olajuwon had 17 points and 11 rebounds, Sleepy Floyd scored 17 points and reserve forward Larry Smith scored 15 on 7-for-7 shooting for the Rockets, who trail the Los Angeles Lakers by two games for the last Western Conference playoff berth.

Mutombo, who tore a ligament in his left thumb against Phoenix on March 28, underwent successful surgery on Thursday, but will be out for the rest of the season.

Suns 109, Warriors 105
Andrew Lang matched his career high with 21 points and grabbed 13 rebounds as Phoenix won for the 13th consecutive time at home against Golden State.

Lang's two free throws with 5.6 seconds remaining gave the Suns a 108-103 lead.

Billy Owens and Sarunas

Marciulionis had 21 points for the Warriors.

Trail Blazers 118, Jazz 86
Clyde Drexler emerged from a brief shooting slump to score 33 points in 29 minutes as Portland won at home against Utah.

Drexler, playing despite a strained right knee and sore big toes, was 13-for-16 from the field.

Jeff Malone led Utah with 17 points.

SuperSonics 111, Kings 103
Seattle handed Sacramento its ninth loss in 10 home games as Eddie Johnson scored 28 points.

The SuperSonics outscored the Kings 15-6 in the final 4:42, overcoming a 97-96 deficit.

Seattle trailed 81-70 late in the third quarter before taking an 84-83 edge into the fourth period with a 14-2 run.

Mitch Richmond scored 29 points for the Kings.

Cavaliers 115, Clippers 98
Cleveland reached 50 wins for the second time in franchise history and beat Los Angeles for its 11th straight victory at home.

The Cavaliers got 19 points from Larry Nance and 18 points each from Mark Price and Brad Daugherty.

Cleveland pulled away by outscoring the Clippers 63-38 in the middle two quarters.

Ron Harper led Los Angeles with 20 points.

Frederick and Kenny Gattison with 16 points apiece.

Trailing 59-51 at halftime, Charlotte closed to 72-69 before New York outscored the Hornets 16-5 for an 88-74 lead entering the final period.

Braggs makes bid for starting job

By The Associated Press

With opening day only a few days away, there still are jobs to be won. Just ask Glenn Braggs.

Braggs drove in five runs with his first two homers of spring training Thursday, a performance that may have earned him the starting spot in left field for the Cincinnati Reds.

Manager Lou Piniella said after a 10-2 victory over Toronto that his lineup, which included Braggs in left and Big Roberts at second base, probably will be his lineup Monday when the Reds open against San Diego.

"It looks to me like he wants to play," Piniella said.

Braggs is batting .340 with 11 RBIs in 18 spring games. In addition to his two home runs, he walked in his other two plate appearances against Toronto.

"I can't remember having four good at-bats like that," Braggs said. "It was a good day. I didn't do anything different."

Expos 4, Mets 3
At West Palm Beach, Fla., Marquis Grissom scored from third base on a wild pitch by New York reliever Tim Burke in the 10th inning.

Twins 6, White Sox 5
At Fort Myers, Fla., rookie Pat Mahomes, bidding for the fifth spot in Minnesota's rotation, pitched seven strong innings. He gave up three runs, all of them scoring on Tim Raines' fluke inside-the-park homer, which stopped Mahomes' spring scoreless streak at 20 innings.

Tigers 10, Royals 6
At Haines City, Fla., Rich Rowland and Mickey Tettleton homered and Tony Phillips had three hits and drove in three runs in Detroit's victory over Kansas City.

Astros deal Schilling
HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Astros on Thursday acquired righthander Jason Grimsley from the Philadelphia Phillies in exchange for righthander Curt Schilling.

Grimsley, 24, split the 1991 season between Philadelphia and Triple-A Scranton, appearing in 12 games for the Phillies and going 1-7 with a 4.87 ERA in 61 innings.

Grimsley will report to the Astros Triple-A affiliate at Tucson, Ariz.

Schilling, 25, had been acquired by Houston from the Baltimore Orioles on Jan. 10, 1991, along with Pete Harnisch and Steve Finley in a trade for star first baseman Glenn Davis.

Schilling spent time in Tucson and in the majors last year. Schilling was 3-5 with a 3.81 ERA in 56 games for Houston.

NHL strike endangers Stanley Cup

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Hockey Writer

TORONTO (AP) - With the NHL regular season just about history, can the Stanley Cup playoffs be far behind?

The question of the playoffs, which are scheduled to start on Wednesday, became bigger with each passing day of the NHL strike.

As the strike went into its third day, six more regular-season games had gone by the boards, making it nine over the first two days. Two more will be added to that list tonight.

That left nine regular-season games on Saturday and 10 on Sunday to be played - if the strike is settled quickly. However, Thursday's developments didn't inspire much confidence for a quick settlement.

The NHL Players Association said it offered two new contract proposals to management, but was rejected both times.

The Reds have won five straight games and are 19-9, their best spring record since 1965. Toronto's injury-depleted pitching staff has given up 46 runs in the last six games, all losses.

Indians 11, Mariners 8
At Tempe, the Indians ended 46 years of spring training in Arizona by beating Seattle. Cleveland will move from Tucson to Homestead, Fla., next year, while the Mariners do not have a home for next spring. Paul Sorrento's bases-loaded double capped a five-run seventh inning for the Indians.

Cardinals 5, Astros 4
At St. Petersburg, Fla., Ray Lankford got four hits and scored the winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning on Bernard Gilkey's single.

Phillies 2, Orioles 1
At Clearwater, Fla., Wes Chamberlain hit a two-run triple in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Yankees 6, Braves 5
At Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Bernie Williams hit a solo home run with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning off Alejandro Pena.

Cubs 9, Brewers 1
At Mesa, Ariz., Sammy Sosa homered, doubled and singled as Chicago got 13 hits.

OPERATOR DIALED 0-

This notice is to advise of the introduction by AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. of an operator service surcharge of $.50 per call, effective April 24, 1992, on calls utilizing AT&T's Operator Dialed 0- service. At the same time, AT&T will reduce Customer Dialed/Automated and Customer Dialed-Operator Must Assist Calling Card service charges from $1.05 to $.93 per call.

OPERATOR DIALED 0- service denotes those situations where the Customer dials the operator and requests the operator to dial the called number. A function of this surcharge will be to recover new costs now imposed on AT&T by local telephone companies involved in processing these calls.

These revisions will affect customers who utilize AT&T's Operator Dialed 0-Customer Dialed/Automated and Customer Dialed Operator Must Assist Calling Card services. The positive net revenue impact to AT&T of these two changes is less than $225,000 annually, which is .03% of AT&T's annual intrastate revenues.

Any person who wishes to comment on these applications, or who would like further information, should mail a request as soon as possible to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 (teletypewriter for the deaf).

WHEN YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL, NEWSPAPER SELLS IT BEST.

No matter what it is you're selling, newspaper can sell it best. You can show it. Describe it. Explain it. Compare it. Offer a coupon for it. And cover your entire marketplace with it. All in one day. And for a lot less than radio and TV.

And the unique thing about newspaper is that it adds credibility to your message. People believe it when they read it in the paper. Maybe that's why retailers use newspaper more than any other medium?

Newspaper. It delivers.

Just returned from attending the world's largest sportsman's show called World Fishing Fair at the Bass Pro Shop in Springfield, Mo. What a show! What a business! This was my first trip to visit the mecca of the fishing world, and to say I was impressed would be an understatement.

The people of Bass Pro—from president and founder John L. Morris down to the army of clerks and cashiers—share one common trait: they were friendly and genuinely interested in making sure I had a good time. The fact that my old fishing buddy Dean Logan and I spent some major money on fishing equipment was nice, but these people made us glad to shop at their store. Other retail businesses could learn some valuable lessons from Bass Pro.

Bass Pro was founded by Johnny Morris in 1971 in the corner of his father's liquor store. Johnny was a college kid and wanted to make a little spending money. He quickly built a world-class business. Bass Pro is now the world's largest catalog seller of fishing equipment, the world's largest manufacturer of fishing boats and now the site of the world's best sportsman's show. To order a free fishing catalog, simply call 1-800-BASS-PRO.

Bass Pro Shop displays attractions like three aquariums full of huge bass, catfish, striped and walleye that are hand-fed minnows by brave scuba-divers. More than 300,000 square feet of space is loaded with every fishing lure in the modern world, every hunting item known to man and the clothing necessary to enjoy that fishing and hunting. Did I mention the three-story waterfall or the collection of old fishing lures and rods? Finally, everything is priced below retail, and manufacturers delight in offering special deals.

Really, it would be worth taking a family vacation to Branson, Mo., so you could sneak off to the Bass Pro Shop.

The Fishing Fair, held every four years, included 150 of the world's leading tackle manufacturers and 70 seminars by more than 40 fishing pros! Special tents were erected so the thousands of anglers could see their fishing heroes. It is difficult to capture the scale of this anglers' extravaganza, but rest assured that Dean and I plan on returning in 1996. We just might meet you at the waterfall and walk over to a seminar by ol' Jimmy, Bill or Hank. Okay?

The next Baylor Lake Big Bass Tournament is at 7 a.m. April 11. The entry fee is $50 until Monday, when it increases to $60. Based on 100 entries, the winner makes $2,500 and each hourly winner takes home $100. For details call (806) 353-3654.

Jury decides Switzer didn't libel reporter

AUSTIN (AP) - Former Oklahoma football coach Barry Switzer is praising the verdict reached by a jury that he didn't libel reporter Jack Taylor Jr.

"If it was a football game, we won by half a hundred," Switzer said Thursday. "My attorney said, 'No coach, it was by 34-14.' I said, 'If you want it to be 34-14, that's fine.'"

Taylor, who now works for the Los Angeles Daily News, appeared shaken.

Taylor said: "We feel our reputation, and my family name has been restored by this verdict. Although it is not entirely as we had hoped."

After four days of deliberations following a six-week trial, the jury voted 10-3 that Switzer and Taylor were guilty of invading one another's privacy. The jury also found that Switzer didn't libel Taylor.

The jury awarded $95,000 in exemplary damages to Taylor and $18,500 in exemplary damages to Switzer.

But because the jury didn't award any actual damages, lawyers said neither man likely will have to pay anything.

Taylor claimed that Switzer's autobiography, "Boodlegger's Boy," linked the reporter to a scheme to plant drugs on an Oklahoma football player around the time of the 1988 Orange Bowl.

After the verdict, most of the jurors lined up for Switzer to autograph copies of the book that were given to them to follow during the lengthy trial.

WTSU to host peer educator conference

Students involved in the Peer Education Program on junior high, middle school, high school and college and university campuses across the Panhandle will converge on West Texas State University Saturday, April 4. The conference, expected to attract between 100 and 200 participants, begins with registration and a breakfast at 9 a.m. and concludes with "Chilin' Time" at 2:45 p.m.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) - To give consumers what they want, local supermarkets study customers' shopping preferences, which vary by geographic location.

Ground coffee, for instance, sells best in the Midwest, while Southerners prefer instant and freeze-dried, and whole bean coffee is the favorite of Westerners.

Statistics compiled by Market Metrics, whose software system identifies sales potential for products sold in 30,000 supermarkets nationwide, show that baby supplies - diapers, soaps, lotion, nurses and teething remedies - sell at higher rates in Western states, and lower in Northeastern states.

Among the basics, Southerners buy the most flour and shortening for baking, but the Midwest leads in purchasing whole wheat flour.

Other regional choices: Southerners buy the most jellies, Midwesterners lead in jams. Westerners buy more bottled water, wine, champagne and beer than anyone. But Southerners consume the most brandy and cognac.

According to Mary Hill, WTSU dean of student services and conference coordinator, peer educators serve as mentors and role models for fellow students.

"We sometimes think of peer pressure in very negative terms, but it can have some very positive effects as well," Hill said. "The program is growing rapidly across the Panhandle in all levels of education. This conference will give peer educators the information and tools they need to make a real difference on their home campuses."

The conference, sponsored by WTSU and the 13-member Panhandle Consortium, includes programs on "You booze You Lose," "Games People Play," "Food for Thought," "Push Your News," "AIDS Awareness" and "Advertising Awareness." It will also feature "Chilin' Time," a combination song, dance and rap number designed to teach facts about health issues. The "show" has been presented in more than 35 high schools and universities and is presented in more than 35 high schools and universities and is performed by WTSU peer educators.

Jeffrey Grice, a third-year Texas Tech University medical student, peer educators from Eastern New Mexico and members of the WTSU Music Therapy Club will join the peer educators from West Texas State University as conference presenters.

Conference goals are to train peer educators, to develop and implement programs on crucial health issues, to promote positive lifestyle choices and to enhance peer education programs.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

PROPHECY DOOMED ELI

ONE OF THE GREAT EARLY PROPHETS WAS ELI BUT IN HIS OLDER AGE HE BECAME MORE OF A DOT-ING FATHER THAN HE WAS A PRIEST. HIS TWO SONS COULD GET AWAY WITH ANYTHING SHORT OF MURDER IN THE EYES OF OLD ELI. THE SONS, AS LESSER PRIESTS IN THE TEMPLE, USED TO CON-FISCATE MEAT THAT WAS FOR SACRIFICES USING IT FOR THEIR OWN MEALS AND WASHING IT DOWN WITH SACRIFICIAL WINE. COMPARED WITH SOME OF THEIR OTHER EVIL DEEDS THIS WAS ONLY A MINOR OFFENSE. ELI, ALTHOUGH HE KNEW OF THESE MISDEEDS, DID NOTHING ABOUT THEM UNTIL IT WAS TOO LATE. FINALLY GOD SENT A PROPHET FROM THE WILDERNESS WHO PROCLAIMED BEFORE ELI THE DOOM THAT HE FACED. (1 SAMUEL 2:27-31)
