Charges filed in murder of county man

23-year-old man arrested in Amarillo in death of Gudgell

Murder charges were filed about midnight Tuesday against 23-year-old Chris Barron in connection with the weekend shooting death of Bill Gudgell at his home in northwest Deaf Smith County.

Criminal District Attorney Roland Saul, in announcing the development Wednesday morning, said he could give no further details on the investigation.

Barron was arrested in Amarillo and placed in Potter County jail, Saul said.

"He must be arraigned in Potter County before he can be brought to Deaf Smith County," Saul said, adding that he expected the arraignment to take place sometime Wednesday.

The case must be presented to the Deaf Smith County grand jury for indictment, Saul said. The next meeting of the grand jury is set for Sept. 30.

Gudgell, 50, died early Sunday of a gunshot wound. He was found at the kitchen table by his wife, Donna, who was in the shower at the time of the shooting, at about 11 p.m. Saturday.

He was transported by helicopter from the home, located about 20 miles south of Adrian and five miles west, to an Amarillo hospital where he died about 5:40 a.m. Sunday.

Deaf Smith County sheriff's deputies conducted the initial investigation and were joined by members of the Potter-Randall special crimes unit and a Texas

Ranger in the investigation, reported Sheriff Joe Brown.

Brown said tests will be made on a rifle found at the scene. The rifle is believed to be the murder weapon.

An autopsy was ordered by a Potter County justice of the peace after Gudgell's death.

Conviction on the murder charge, a first degree felony, carries a penalty of five to 99 years, or life, in prison, and a fine up to $10,000.

The suspect, Barron, reportedly was a foster son of Gudgell and had been at the home earlier in the evening.

Neither Brown nor Saul would provide further details of the investigation.

Tamale makers

Preparations for this weekend's 16 de Septiembre celebration began at San Jose Catholic Church on Tuesday, when a group of ladies met to begin preparing tamales that will be sold at the celebration of Mexican Independence Day, set for noon Saturday in the Bull Barn. Proceeds from the tamale sales will go toward construction of a new religious education building at the church. Shown here chopping meat for the tamales are Andrea Urias, left, and Dora De Los Santos. Others preparing the meat and chiles for the tamales were Antonia Diaz, Jacinta Mendoza, Victoria Mireles and Stephanie Ramirez.

Farm outlook better but producers still sweating

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Farmers' outlook improved in some areas this week after scattered showers and cooler temperatures, but producers are still sweating out crop yields, according to the state Agricultural Extension Service.

John Zeidler, meteorologist at the Southwest Agricultural Weather Service in College Station, said Tropical Storm Lydia is moving into Texas from Mexico. Combined with a cold front blasting through from northern Oklahoma, the system produce thundershowers in West, Central and East Texas.

But Dallas and the Texarkana-Palmer region are receiving more than average rainfall, Zeidler said, and some flooding was predicted for the northeast part of the state.

Cooler air is filtering into the state behind the Oklahoma front leaving temperatures in the 70s and 80s for the northern two-thirds of Texas.

East Texas district Extension director Ronald Wooley said even though there has been rainfall in the past few days, it wasn't enough to saturate the topsoil in preparation for planting winter crops.

"Some producers will plant small grains in dry soil in the hopes that rain will come soon to germinate the seed," he said.

David Bremer, extension specialist in Corpus Christi, said the cotton harvest is winding up and the yields are not as low as expected.

"The yields weren't as bad as we thought they were going to be," he said. "Some cotton crops actually brought in a normal yield, but there were others that were way below average, even out."

Kenneth Cook, district Extension director in San Angelo, said producers there are starting to harvest cotton about 30 days early because of the abnormally hot weather.

The yield outlook is about 60 percent of normal," Cook said. "But since the weather is cooperating and giving us some moisture, hopefully the other crops will do a little better."

Livestock is starting to go to market all over the state and, for the most part, looks to be in good condition.

Charles Neeb, district Extension director in Midland, said since cattle producers started a drought maintenance program early, the calves are in good condition. By supplementing and thinning herds, he said producers avoided losing cattle.

Randy Upshaw, Extension Director in Dallas, said producers have been scrambling to meet their winter feed requirements for cattle.

"The winter pasture land is being prepared," he said. "So maybe the pastures that are dry now will still provide protein during the winter if the weather cooperates."

The following specific livestock, crop and weather conditions were reported by district Extension directors:

PANHANDLE: Soil moisture short to adequate. Calf crop, stocker cattle good. Ranges fair to good. Rainfall has wheat planting in full swing. Good cotton, peanut progress. Some boll weevil damage in southeastern part. Harvesting corn.

SOUTH PLAINS: Soil moisture short. Ranges still dry. Corn 20 percent harvested. Cotton bolls opening, acreage is 40 to 45 percent open. Sorghum turning color, maturing, little harvested. Cucumber, melon harvests continue.

Rich districts opt to pay state, send money to poor schools

Man held here faces federal court charges

A man being held in Deaf Smith County jail on theft charges was indicted by a federal grand jury in Amarillo last week for an alleged investment scheme.

Donald R. Pepper already faces theft charges in Deaf Smith and Oldham Counties.

The 21-count federal indictment alleges that Pepper solicited investments totaling more than $170,000 from 21 persons. The indictment alleges he represented himself as a wealthy businessman to a man and offered to pay a commission to the man when he obtained investments.

Most of the counts in the indictment allege mail or wire fraud.

Separate indictments, two for theft over $750 but under $20,000 and a third for theft over $20,000, were returned against Pepper in Deaf Smith County in May. He also faces a theft over $750/under $20,000 in Oldham County.

In 22nd District Court last month, Judge David Wesley Gully reduced bonds in the Deaf Smith cases, from $20,000 to $15,000 in the theft over $20,000, and from $10,000 to $7,500 in each of the lesser charges. Bond in the Oldham County case is $5,000.

Pepper has not posted bond on any of the charges.

back to the state or use it to help educate students in nearby, but less-well-off schools.

Sundown, situated in the middle of a rich oil field about 45 miles southwest of Lubbock, already had made budget cuts that resulted in abandoning three annual field trips, including a London tour for senior English students.

Tuesday, voters in the district voted 242-7 to funnel tax dollars to five other Hockley County schools - Levelland, Anton, Ropes, Smyer and Whitharral. By a vote of 245-8, they also authorized the board to send money by the state through the purchase of attendance credits.

Per-student property wealth at Sundown is about $1 million. Voters also gave approval in similar elections Tuesday at Wellman, about 25 miles south of Sundown; Crane, 30 miles south of Odessa; Rankin, 30 miles southeast of Crane; Stinnett, 10 miles north of Borger; and the neighboring towns of Allison and Briscoe in the east-central Texas Panhandle.

The elections were part of the Legislature's effort to disperse property tax dollars from rich school districts to other schools to achieve fairness in funding between the state's rich and poor school districts. But officials of the schools involved were hard pressed to see what was fair about it.

"Our people are tired. They're tired of change. They're tired of feeling the brunt of all of the funding bills and plans that come across the table," Wellman superintendent Bruce Yeager said.

"We feel like - as the small school that appears to be extraordinarily wealthy because of our small numbers - we're taking it on the chin," Yeager said.

Oil values have boosted Wellman's per-student property wealth to $342,000. The Legislature gave Wellman and other property-rich districts five options to reduce their wealth below $280,000 per student.

Most property-rich districts across the state have been selecting options that send their money to neighboring schools or to the state, and that was the case with each of Tuesday's elections.

In Wellman, voters gave 83-0 approval to Option 3, which channels money to the state, and also to Option 4, which allows a school to pay to educate transfer students from nearby schools.

At Crane, voters approved Option 3, which will result in the school district surrendering about $7 million to the state. Crane, with school enrollment of 1,284, has $661,985 per student now.

"Our problem with Austin is this plain and simple ... they're leveling us down to bring the other group up, so we all end up being mediocre," superintendent Roger Hailey said. "We'd like to be spending even more per student, instead of less."

Voters at Rankin approved both Option 3 (186-2) and Option 4 (179-5). Per-student property wealth is now $430,867, which means Rankin must give up $942,000. Under Option 4, money would be sent to educate students from Midland, Garden City, Big Lake, McCamey and Ozona.

Residents in the Plemons-Stinnett-Phillips Consolidated district approved Option 3 by a vote of 360-7 and Option 4 by 364-4.

Local student semifinalist for national scholarship

One Hereford High School student has been named as one of 15,000 semifinalists for the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Aaron P. Stevens, 17, son of Ike and Suzanne Stevens, was included in the nationwide news release made available today that included the names of all the semifinalists across the United States.

Stevens, a senior at HHS, is a member of the National Honor Society, the Key Club and is in the Top 5 Percent of his class. He is a lineman for the Herd football team and owns his own lawn mowing business.

The secondary students selected as Merit Scholarship Semifinalists have an opportunity to continue in the competition for more than 6,500 Merit Scholarships, worth more than $25 million, to be awarded next spring.

The nationwide Semifinalist pool includes about half of a percent of each state's high school graduating class.

More than 1 million juniors in more than 19,000 U.S. high schools entered the 1994 Merit Program by taking the 1992 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, which served as an initial screen of program entrants.

The number of semifinalists designated in each state is allocated according to the state's percentage of the national total of graduating high school seniors.

Semifinalists are the top scorers in each state, and they must now advance to the Finalist level of the competition in order to be considered for Merit Scholarships.

To qualify as a Finalist, a Semifinalist and a school official must complete a detailed scholarship application, including information about the student's educational interests and goals, and participation and leadership in school and community activities.

The student must have an outstanding academic record, be endorsed or recommended by the high school principal and submit SAT scores that confirm the earlier PSAT/NMSQT performance.

About 90 percent of the Semifinalists are expected to become Finalists, with Merit Scholars chosen from this group.

Every Finalist will be considered for one of 2,000 National Merit $2,000 scholarships to be allocated on a state representational basis.

Corporations, foundations and other business organizations also will support some 1,200 Merit Scholarships for Finalists who meet a sponsor's preferential criteria.

Another 3,300 Merit Scholarships will be financed by colleges and universities.

Clinton confident of future of three-nation trade pact

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Clinton predicts he will win his battle to create a continent-wide free trade zone, but opponents say it will take more than the endorsement of three former presidents to carry the day.

Opponents contend they already have the votes to defeat the North American Free Trade Agreement in the House, where many members from industrial districts fear the loss of millions of American jobs to low-wage plants in Mexico if the proposed pact takes effect.

Clinton and former Presidents George Bush, Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford denounced claims of job losses as a scare tactic during an elaborate East Room signing ceremony Tuesday for supplemental NAFTA agreements dealing with environmental and labor concerns. "Although the fight will be difficult, I deeply believe we will win," Clinton said, contending that NAFTA will make America more competitive in the emerging global economy.

"This is not a time for defeatism. It is a time to look at an opportunity that is enormous," he said.

The agreement would eliminate virtually all barriers to trade and investment among the United States, Mexico and Canada over the next 15 years, creating the world's largest and richest free trade area.

The president was taking his campaign on the road today with a visit to the port of New Orleans to tout the benefits of increased trade with Mexico. Louisiana ranks as the fifth biggest exporter of products to Mexico with sales of $753 million in 1992, double the level of five years ago.

Ironically, Bush chose a visit to the same port last October during the closing weeks of his re-election campaign to highlight his differences with Clinton over NAFTA.

Astronauts to walk in space

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - Discovery's astronauts today inspected two spacesuits that will be used in Thursday's six-hour practice walk outside the shuttle.

Spacewalkers James Newman and Carl Walz intend to try out 21 tools NASA is considering for the Hubble Space Telescope repair job in December.

Newman, Walz and Discovery pilot William Readdy spent about an hour checking dozens of pieces on the spacesuits, making sure everything was working. They said the suits were ready to go.

At the time, Bush charged that his Democratic challenger was waffling on his support for NAFTA by demanding that the main agreement be supplemented with side accords to boost protection of the environment and worker rights.

Those differences were not mentioned during Tuesday's White House ceremony as Bush and Clinton sounded a bipartisan note for the trade agreement before an enthusiastic crowd of NAFTA supporters from Congress, business and environmental groups.

"Sounds like a couple of good spacesuits," replied Mission Control's Jay Apt.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, meanwhile, weighed whether Newman and Walz should be asked to secure a loose, sharp-edged steel clamp in the cargo bay during the spacewalk.

Flight managers are looking into whether the clamp, knocked loose Sunday when Discovery released a $363 million communications satellite, could cause any damage during the jarring ride home.

Zella Powell has recently been named Director of the Hereford Family Services Center.

Powell moved here from Plainview to take over the office, located at 207 South 25 Mile Avenue.

The center is a regional office of the Texas Panhandle Mental Health Authority.

It provides mental health services to the residents of Deaf Smith and Oldham counties. Services include treatment of major mental illness such as schizophrenia, bi-polar disorders and major depression.

In addition, the office provides programs on mental health topics.

The center receives funding from the United Way of Deaf Smith County and from the Oldham County United Way.

The office is staffed by four people, including Powell, case manager Hilda Arce; rehabilitation specialist Albert Scumbato; and secretary Margie Scroggins.

Congressman conducts survey to determine impact of NAFTA

WASHINGTON (AP) - So much confusing rhetoric is swirling about the North American Free Trade Agreement that one Texas congressman is conducting his own survey of the accord's likely impact.

"Just tons of information is coming in every day," Rep. Jim Chapman, D-Sulphur Springs, said Tuesday. "It's conflicting information, I might say."

Leery of relying on others' assessments of NAFTA's impacts, Chapman is asking major employers in his district to provide information on job changes, gains and losses.

"I want to be able to localize the impact of NAFTA to my congressional district," said Chapman, who is a likely supporter of the trade pact.

He's far from alone in the Texas congressional delegation.

The Texas contingent, in fact, appears to be one of the few bright spots for the White House, which Tuesday kicked off its high-profile fall campaign to secure passage of the accord.

Where Democrats are deserting their president in droves on NAFTA, only four of the Texas delegation's 32 Democrats and Republicans have announced their outright opposition.

Eighteen have committed their support and four are leaning in favor, and liberal Jesse Jackson. Labor, environmental and consumer groups also are working to torpedo the pact.

Republicans, meanwhile, are somewhat bemused at a pro-NAFTA lineup that spans Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and Clinton.

"It is a strange feeling to be on the same side as President Clinton and all I do is console myself by saying I'm also on the same side as Ronald Reagan," said Rep. Lamar Smith, R-San Antonio, who is leaning in favor of the pact.

Veteran Rep. J.J. "Jake" Pickle said the White House took a big step forward with its ceremony Tuesday, replete with pomp, pageantry and three former presidents. Also on hand were Dallas Mayor Steve Bartlett, San Antonio Mayor Nelson Wolff and Laredo Mayor Saul Ramirez Jr.

"Today at the White House NAFTA was born again and will now take wing and fly," said Pickle, D-Austin. "The eloquent comments of the presidents will help dispel some of the misinformation being spread about this agreement."

Both sides are waging a heated campaign, inundating lawmakers with letters, calls and visits.

Chapman did have some harsh words for fellow Texan Perot.

"I do think Perot has done a terrible disservice to the debate," Chapman said. "We do need a vigorous and honest debate on NAFTA and we haven't gotten that from Ross Perot."

Student ACT scores show improvement; still below national AUSTIN (AP) - Texas students' scores are still below the national average on the ACT college entrance exam, but they rose slightly this year, according to a report released by the Texas Education Agency.

The state's average composite score on the American College Testing program exam was 20.1 on a 36-point scale, up from 19.9 in 1992.

Nationally, the average score was 20.7, up from 20.6 the previous year. Texas' larger increase narrows the gap between the state and national scores.

The test includes English, mathematics, reading and natural science.

A record 54,115 Texas students took the ACT in 1993, marking the third consecutive year the number of test-takers increased, the agency said. Last year, 53,201 students took the ACT in Texas.

"This shows that more and more students are considering college as a valid postsecondary option," said Texas Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno.

More than 875,000 graduating high school seniors took the test nationwide this year.

The composite scores of all ethnic groups in Texas went up except for Asian American-Pacific Islander students. Their 1993 score was 21.5, down from 21.7 the previous year.

Black students' score increased from 17.1 to 17.2; Mexican American-Chicano students, from 18 to 18.1; Puerto Rican-Cuban-Other Hispanic students, 18.4 to 18.5; and white students, 21.1 to 21.3.

An increased number of students took the test in all but the black and Hispanic ethnic groups, who showed a decrease.

The Texas Education Agency said the number of test-takers in the state who took rigorous, college-preparatory courses increased for the third straight year, to 33,187.

Students scored higher if they had a "core curriculum," including four years of English, and three or more of math, social studies and natural sciences. This year, Texas students with such a background got an ACT score of 21.4, compared with 18 for students taking less.

"More students appear to be getting the message that rigorous courses will better prepare them for life after high school, regardless of what they decide to do," Meno said.

The ACT exam is administered by American College Testing, a nonprofit educational service organization based in Iowa City, Iowa. It is one of two college-entrance exams.

The nation's leading admissions exam is the Scholastic Aptitude Test, sponsored by the College Board. Officials last month reported that SAT scores for Texas students also are up but remain lower than the national average.

Besides wanting to know about the children, I would like them to have some family medical history. I have had a kidney removed and am also an insulin dependent diabetic.

Could you please help me by printing part of my letter? If anyone has information, please call or write.

Amarillo Opera to open season this weekend

"Kismet", an Arabian Nights fantasy musical, is the season opener for Amarillo Opera at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Amarillo College Concert Hall Theater. It will also be staged at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Popular actor-singer Gene Murray (Uncle Henry in "TEXAS" for 27 years) fills the principal roll of Hajji, the beggar/poet. Artistic Director Mila Gibson has also cast Brenda Lintner as the Hajji's daughter Marsinah, Jerry Perales as the Caliph, Pamela Trash Home as the sexy Lalume and Kelly Teal as the wicked Wazir.

Nancy and Bob Josslerand, Amarillo Opera/Bravo! coordinators for Hereford, say that all seats for the popular show are priced at $7.50 and that they will take orders for them effective immediately.

Tickets may also be purchased at the Amarillo College Box Office, AC Fine Arts Commons Lobby, according to Box Office Manager Carolyn Blackburn. They may be obtained from 1-5 p.m. and one hour before the performances.

Lee Kendle is music director/conductor. Dancers of the Lone Star Ballet, under the direction of Neil Hess, are guest artists for the production. A 40-member chorus directed by Joan Weber and an orchestra made up of Amarillo Symphony members provide the musical setting for "Kismet." William A. Moore, "TEXAS" founding director, serves as dialogue coach.

NEW YORK (AP) - Ivana Trump says her philosophy of life is stitched on a pillow in her living room: "The best is yet to come."

"And I believe it," Donald Trump's ex said in the October issue of McCall's. "I really am in a terrific stage of my life. I am 44, not so young that I know nothing from nothing and not too old to be able to enjoy what I have."

Mrs. Trump, who divorced her tycoon husband in 1990, has launched her own line of clothing and jewelry and written two novels.

Special retreat scheduled

A special retreat for all single, divorced and separated persons will be held Sept. 24-26 at the De Falco Retreat Center in Amarillo.

The retreat, "Beginning Experience", will be held from 8 p.m. Friday until 4 p.m. Sunday with meals and sleeping accommodations provided. Dress will be casual. Cost is $65 and a deposit of at least $25 of the cost is required with registration.

The retreat was originally designed by and for Catholics, but is open to persons of all religions. The leaders are almost equally divided Protestant and Catholic.

Beginning Experience was designed to assist divorced persons not feel unwanted and unloved on the periphery of the church of their choice. It helps all persons deal with grief and help turn pain into an adventure in grace. Persons especially trained for the retreat lead group programs, with private reflection and small group dialogue following each program.

Persons interested in the program may call Beck Sanderson at 364-5211 (work) or 364-5813 (home).

NEW YORK (AP) - Tony-winning actress Tonya Pinkins lost a battle for custody of her two sons to her estranged husband.

State Supreme Court Justice Lewis Friedman said Monday that he was awarding Ron Brawer custody of Maxx, 6, and Myles, 4.

The judge said both parents were "clearly fit," but he cited Pinkins' temper and career and Brawer's "greater ability to be consistently available to the children."

Pinkins, 31, appeared on the ABC soap opera "All My Children" and won a Tony for her role as Anita in "Jelly's Last Jam" on Broadway.

She is going through a bitter divorce from Brawer, 50, a composer, lyricist and co-director of music for the soap opera "Another World." They married in 1987.

Women of some hunter-gatherer societies - the closest modern equivalent of Stone Age cultures - experience surprisingly low rates of certain cancers common among women of industrialized nations, according to National Geographic.

Herd gets no rest before Monterey

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Hereford football team will be looking to win its first game of year this week on only four days of rest. The Herd, fresh off a 22-20 loss to Palo Duro on Saturday, has to come back and play Monterey Thursday in Lubbock.

Herd coach Danny Haney said the short week changes a few things, but its really not that much of a disadvantage.

"It's caused us to hurry up in some things," he said. "We didn't put in anything new, except in terms of (preparing for) some things they do."

The short week would be a problem for Hereford if the Herd had a lot of mild injuries, but all the players are in pretty good shape right now.

Monterey has a full week; the Plainsmen played last Thursday, beating Midland High 28-14. They'll be well rested but not any better prepared. Haney pointed out that because Hereford played Saturday, the Monterey coaches didn't get scouting reports and game films until later than usual.

Fortunately for the sake of the Herd's preparation, the Plainsmen don't do anything all that unique. They just play aggressive defense and run the ball at you, Haney said. They've done it so well they're 2-0.

"They're probably the hardest forcing defense we've played against," Haney said. "They really get off the ball. They get into the offensive man and force him to retreat. They kind of create a new line of scrimmage in reverse. They're real aggressive."

"Offensively, they're going to run the power game," Haney said, naming tailback Levone Madden. "They'll run the toss, the fullback dive, isolation and they'll run the option. They'll throw the ball about 10 times a game. They've got a couple of good receivers and their quarterback (Dee Buchanan) is better than average."

Players of the week--Tailback Marquise Brown ran for 178 yards Saturday, and linebacker Gabriel Medrano recorded 16 tackles. The players received player of the week awards for their efforts.

The sub-varsity players of the week are as follows: linebacker Martin Martinez, junior varsity; quarterback Wade McPherson, sophomores; linebacker Sonny Perez, freshman A team; and running back Alfredo Penalber, freshmen B team.

Player of the Week

Hereford's Gabriel Medrano (56, preparing to put a lick on Palo Duro's Joel Tudman) was the Herd's defensive player of the week. Tailback Marquise Brown got the offensive honor.

Errors made in contest

Oops. Two mistakes were made in this week's football contest, and rulings have been made that we hope won't inconvenience anyone.

First, one of the contest games, with teams 17 and 18, was omitted from the ads on the contest pages. Any entry marked with either 17, 18, both or none will be counted correct.

Second, the tiebreaker game for this week is the Hereford-Monterey game. Alert players would notice that the game will be played Thursday and the entry deadline is 5 p.m. Friday. Since most people will get the score exactly right, if there is a tie, all tied entries will be placed in a hat and the winners drawn. The game will not be used at all.

Spikers err in Amarillo

The Hereford volleyball team was a victim of its own mistakes when it lost 15-4, 15-7 to Tascosa Tuesday in Amarillo. The Herd drops to 14-3.

"It was just one error after another," coach Brenda Reeh said. "Our hitting and our blocking was really weak."

"The more mistakes they'd make, the harder they'd try, and as a result they'd make another mistake. It was one of those nights when it wasn't just one player having a bad night, it was everybody. It was a team effort."

Hereford got quite a few sideouts but had trouble scoring with the serve, Reeh said, while Tascosa would score two or three points at a time.

"I hope this'll be a good wake up call for us," she said.

Jessica Evers got 11 digs for Hereford, and Katie Young added 10 digs. Danielle Cornelius led with four kills.

Hereford lost a three-game decision in the junior varsity match: 15-13, 4-15, 15-4.

The Lady Whitefaces will host Lubbock Coronado at 2 p.m. Saturday in Whiteface Gym. The JV match will start about 20 minutes after the conclusion of the JV match.

Naz spikers win

The Nazarene Christian Academy volleyball team beat Victory Academy, 15-13, 15-13, Tuesday in Amarillo.

In the early days of baseball, some teams had a different color uniform for each position.

Atlanta manager Bobby Cox once played third base for the New York Yankees.

$5 Million Center
BETHANY, W.Va. (AP) - Bethany College will have a $5 million Health and Recreation Center next year. The projected opening is There's Always Been One Good Way To Insure Your Crop Investment. Now There Are Two.

Ask your local crop insurance agent about this year's new Group Risk Plan (GRP).

It's a pilot program being offered in selected counties and it provides an alternative to conventional Multiple Peril Crop Insurance policies.

It could be just right for you.

The cost is low. The dollar amount of protection is high.

Production guarantees and indemnity payments are based on the county average yield rather than individual farm yields.

There's almost no paperwork and you don't need yield records.

Although GRP may not be for everyone, it's definitely worth looking into.

Get the facts from your local crop insurance agent. But do it soon because the deadline to apply is rapidly approaching.

Crop insurance policies sold or reinsured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation are available to all producers regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age, or disability.

Hereford's Brooke Weishaar lunges to hit a ball at the net. She and doubles partner Natalie McWhorter won their match, as did most of their teammates in Hereford's 17-1 win over Canyon Tuesday at Whiteface Courts.

Herd netters clout Canyon

Hereford's tennis team hosted Canyon for a team match Tuesday. They were rade hosts, winning the match 17-1.

Canyon only win came in the No. 1 boys' singles match, in which Matt Williams beat Chris Lyles 7-5, 6-0.

Hereford starts its district schedule at 10 a.m. Saturday, when Borger comes to Whiteface Courts in one of the three key matches in the District 1-4A race. Hereford will also host Pampa on Oct. 2 in another key match. Pampa against Borger is the other key match; the district's two regional berths will almost certainly go to either Hereford, Borger and Pampa.

Following are the results of the Canyon match. The schools of each winner are in parentheses.

Giants start to plummet

By The Associated Press

Going ... going ... gone? The San Francisco Giants are doing their best imitation of being knocked out of the park - or in this case, the NL West race.

The slumping Giants lost for the seventh straight time Tuesday night, and the 8-1 defeat to Chicago dropped them further behind the torrid Atlanta Braves. The Braves, winning for the 27th time in 33 games, beat Cincinnati 10-3 to pull 2 1/2 games ahead of the Giants.

It's the biggest deficit of the season for San Francisco.

"I'm really tired of talking, to tell you the truth," Giants manager Dusty Baker said. "I just want one word: action. That's it. No more talk. Just action."

The Montreal Expos, meanwhile, continued to keep the heat on the Philadelphia Phillies in the East with a 12-9 win at St. Louis. The Phillies saw their lead shrink to 4 1/2 games with a 5-4 loss to the New York Mets.

The Giants, who have lost 11 of 14 at Candlestick Park, had occupied first place since May 11 before dropping to second on Saturday as the Braves rushed to the top with their late-season surge.

Once again, the Giants were outpitched.

Jose Bautista pitched a five-hitter and the Cubs pounded six pitchers for 13 hits. Bautista (8-3) gave up the Giants' only run on Royce Clayton's leadoff homer in the fifth.

Jim Deshaies (1-2) was the loser.

Braves 10, Reds 3

In Atlanta, Ron Gant hit the first regular-season grand slam of his career and Tom Glavine got his 19th victory.

Gant connected in the second inning off Bobby Ayala (6-8) to give Atlanta a 6-0 lead. Glavine (19-5) - just one victory shy of the 20-win mark for the third straight season - won for the ninth time in his last 10 decisions.

"It seems like we've been waiting three months for the Giants to go into a skid and now that they have, all the pressure's on them," Gant said.

Mets 5, Phillies 4

In New York, Jeff Kent blooped a bases-loaded single in front of Lenny Dykstra in the sixth and the ball bounced past the center fielder as another run scored, lifting the Mets past the slumping Phillies.

Frank Tanana (7-15), who had lost three straight starts, allowed three runs and eight hits in six-plus innings. Danny Jackson (12-11), who also lost to the Mets on Aug. 14, allowed four runs - just one earned - and five hits in six innings.

Expos 12, Cardinals 9

In St. Louis, rookie Kirk Ruetter raised his record to 8-0 as Montreal stayed hot with a victory over the Cardinals.

Allen Watson (6-5) was the loser.

Pirates 1, Marlins 0

In Miami, Carlos Garcia hit the first pitch of the game for a home run and Paul Wagner threw a six-inning shutout as Pittsburgh beat Florida in a rain-shortened game.

It was the first win since July 17 for Wagner (6-7), who allowed four hits, struck out five and walked three. He was credited with the first complete game of his career.

Chris Hammond (10-11) went the distance for Florida.

Dodgers 5, Padres 3

In San Diego, Mike Piazza hit his 29th homer to set a major league record for a rookie catcher and then added his 30th for Los Angeles against the Padres.

Orel Hershiser (12-12) allowed three runs on five hits in 7 1/3 innings in establishing his longest personal winning streak since also taking four in a row last season from May 19-June 9. Doug Brocail (3-12) was the loser.

Rockies 9, Astros 4

Rockies 6, Astros 5
 In Denver, Eric Young's RBI single in the 10th inning of the second game gave Colorado a sweep of its doubleheader with Houston.

Nelson Liriano reached first on an error by left fielder Luis Gonzalez to lead off the 10th. Liriano advanced to third on a sacrifice and an infield out and scored on Young's single off reliever Xavier Hernandez (3-5). Darren Holmes (3-3) pitched one inning for the win.

Colorado reliever Bruce Ruffin set a team record with nine strikeouts as the Rockies won the opener.

Ruffin, who relieved Armando Reynoso (10-10) in the sixth, struck out nine of the 15 batters he faced in four innings. Hayes took the team lead with his 22nd homer and drove in his 82nd run, both career-bests. Houston's Doug Drabek (8-16) gave up 12 hits and six runs in four-plus innings and took the loss.

Rangers fall to 3 1/2 out

By The Associated Press

Every American League team that needed to win Tuesday night did just that.

Except Texas. Toronto won, New York won, Baltimore won and Chicago won. That left the standings in the AL East looking the same today as they did Tuesday: Toronto leads New York by 1 1/2 games and Baltimore by two games.

In the West, however, Chicago's lead over Texas increased to 3 1/2 games as the White Sox beat Kansas City 8-3 and the Rangers were blanked 2-0 by Cleveland.

Only 2 1/2 weeks remain in the regular season, and Texas is running out of time in its race to catch Chicago. The teams still have a three-game set remaining at Comiskey Park from Sept. 24-26, but the Rangers are hoping to avoid the necessity of sweeping the Sox on the road.

That didn't have any luck Tuesday against Cleveland starter Mark Clark, the pitcher with the highest home runs-to-innings pitched ratio among AL starters with at least 75 innings pitched.

The Rangers, who entered the game leading the majors in home runs, looked for the long ball against Clark (5-4). But no one could connect with the right-hander's assortment of junk pitches. Minnesota 8-3.

White Sox 8, Royals 3

At Kansas City, Ivan Calderon broke a 3-3 tie with a bases-loaded, three-run double in the seventh.

The Royals, who won 9-0 the night before, needed a sweep to stay in contention for the division title. Kansas City is now six games behind.

Jason Bere (9-5) got the win and Hipolito Pichardo (6-8) took the loss.

Blue Jays 9, Tigers 5

At Detroit, Rickey Henderson broke open a tie game with an eighth-inning RBI groundout, and Tony Fernandez added insurance in the ninth with a three-run homer.

Juan Guzman (12-3) won his fifth straight game, allowing six hits in 7 1/3 innings. Duane Ward pitched the ninth, striking out Cecil Fielder with two men on base to end the game.

The Tigers fell seven games out of first place with 17 games remaining.

Yankees 12, Brewers 5

A pep talk from George Steinbrenner and a couple of games against the lowly Milwaukee Brewers look to be exactly what the New York Yankees needed to halt their road trip woes.

New York won for the second straight night, getting a home run and four RBIs from Danny Tartabull and a strong five-inning relief outing from Paul Gibson (1-0). The Yankees are 3-5 on their nine-game trip and 2-0 since the team owner addressed them for the first time since spring training.

Orioles 11, Red Sox 3

At Boston, the Orioles rallied for four runs in the seventh and five more in the eighth, making a winner of Fernando Valenzuela (7-9) for the first time since July 23.

Valenzuela pitched an eight-hitter to snap his nine-game winless streak.

Danny Darwin (14-11) allowed two-run homers to Hoiles and Harold Baines.

Angels 9, Mariners 2

At Anaheim, Calif. the Angels scored three runs in the second, five in the fourth and one in the seventh to end Seattle's four-game winning streak.

Joe Magrane (3-1) snapped the Angels' four-game losing skid with his third straight victory. Erik Hanson (10-12) took the loss.

Athletics 8, Twins 3

At Minneapolis, Kurt Abbott and Scott Hemond hit two-run homers and Steve Karsay (2-3) outpitched fellow rookie Eddie Guardado (3-8).

Cowboys fire Elliott, hire ex-Lion Murray

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Steady Eddie Murray will be the new field goal kicker for the Dallas Cowboys, who decided they'll take what they can get on his usually short kickoffs.

Murray, who has played in 182 NFL games and scored 1,141 points, was signed by the Cowboys Tuesday to replace second-year kicker Lin Elliott, whose inconsistency in the early season included two misses in Sunday's 13-10 loss to Buffalo.

Murray, who has hit 249 of 334 field goal tries and 394 out of 399 extra points, beat out seven other kickers including Tracy Bennett, a former World League kicker.

"It's going to be a little strange kicking for the Cowboys," said Murray, who has played for Detroit and Tampa Bay and was accustomed to kicking against them.

Elliott understood why he was let go.

"I kind of dug my own hole," the Dallas Cowboys kicker after he was released Tuesday. "Maybe if the team had been playing better, I would have kicked better."

Ranger High School quarterback lights up Santo

DALLAS (AP) - As he suffered through an 0-10 season that included several painfully embarrassing losses, Ranger quarterback Todd Hatton never gave up.

"We were down 50-0, and he was still going out there trying to score touchdowns," Bulldogs coach Scott Svendsen said. "I told him to learn now so next year you'll be ready."

This year, he's more than ready. Now a junior, Hatton has led Ranger to two straight victories, shattering their 29-game losing streak and earning some positive publicity for a change.

Hatton himself is being recognized for his part in the turnaround. Tuesday, he received top billing on this week's Associated Press honor roll for completing 23 of 31 passes for 351 yards and five touchdowns in a 36-16 victory over Santo.

"He's a smart, heady player," Svendsen said. "He works harder than anybody, and he's real competitive. He just wants to win. It doesn't matter if it's football, baseball or Monopoly."

Despite not winning last year, he still put up good numbers including 2,247 yards passing.

He's doing the same this year, throwing for 300 yards in consecutive games for a total of 736 yards for the year.

A similar performance this weekend could make the Bulldogs 3-0 as they host Gorman (0-2) in their homecoming game. Gorman won last year's meeting 10-7 on a last-second field goal.

In other outstanding performances in Week 2:

-Deron Mackey of Austin Lanier was amazing in a 34-2 victory over Austin High. He completed seven passes for 223 yards and touchdowns of 79, 60, 31 and 6 yards; caught a 58-yard TD pass; rushed eight times for 40 yards; and had seven tackles.

-Heath Starnes accounted for 25 points, made 11 tackles and had an interception in 2A Stratford's 55-34 victory over Dalhart, a 3A team. He had touchdown runs of 3, 30 and 49 yards and kicked 7-of-7 extra point kicks.

-Sweetwater's Terry Clemmer completed 15 passes for 345 yards and four TDs and ran for 97 yards in a 38-34 victory over Abilene.

-San Antonio Clark quarterback Rad Weaver returned from a neck injury that kept him out of the season opener. He sparked a 41-21 victory over Round Rock Westwood, completing 18 of 25 passes for 302 yards and three TDs.

-Ronald Cash helped Freer return to the Class 1A poll at No. 10 by returning a kickoff for a TD and rushing for another 87-yard score in a 34-0 victory over George West.

-As much as Odessa Permian stresses the team concept, the Panthers' 35-7 victory over defending 5A Division II champion Temple never would've been possible without Sheldon Bass and John Williams. Bass had six receptions for 90 yards and a TD, plus an interception and fumble recovery on defense. Williams ran for 200 yards and four touchdowns.

-Linebacker Wesley Burton recovered a blocked punt and returned it 28 yards for the winning TD in Fort Worth Wyatt's 14-13 upset of then-No. 2 Dallas Kimball. Ten of his 15 tackles were unassisted.

TCU tailback gets SWC honor

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Scoreless, trailing by 20 points, cursing the football gods and grasping for miracles, Texas Christian pushed the right button Saturday night.

Would you believe a sophomore tailback named Andre Davis, a backup who gained nine yards rushing a week earlier? And one yard last year?

Believe it. A 5-foot-10 flash from Longview, starting only because of an injured teammate, Davis is The Associated Press selection as Southwest Conference offensive Player of the Week.

He rushed for 167 yards and four touchdowns and scored the winning two-point conversion with a minute left in the Horned Frogs' wacky 35-34 ambush of New Mexico last week.

"A magnificent game," sighed second-year TCU coach Pat Sullivan. "We definitely needed a spark from somebody ..."

TCU offensive coordinator Pete Hoener said.

"We're kind of ignited us and carried us through the night."

"He'll find a way to win."

The AP defensive Player of the Week was Corey Seymour, a Rice tackle who forced two fumbles and recovered one of them in the Owls' 34-0 victory over Tulane, the Owls' first shutout in 20 years.

Davis scored his final touchdown on a draw play from the 7 with exactly 1:00 left, then ran the identical play for the pivotal conversion.

Code name: Smoke. "It's called Smoke Draw," said Davis, adding that Sullivan told the team Saturday night, "We're going to go out and run at them until they stop us."

The Lobos never did, at least after Davis and his teammates caught fire late in the second quarter.

Down by 20-0, the Frogs showed signs of life with a 63-yard drive capped by Davis' 6-yard touchdown run with less than three minutes left in the first half.

TCU quarterback Max Knake passed 11 yards to John Oglesby for the only score of the third quarter, and then Davis put his brand on the '93 Frogs.

He scored on runs of 2 and 31 yards and then, after New Mexico regained the lead with two touchdowns, Davis wrapped up the final 10-play, 65-yard drive with his fourth TD.

"I feel overwhelmed," he said of the AP award, "but the offensive line really deserved it. They put the hurt on people and opened the holes."

Both Davis and his coaches agreed that his 26-point performance against the Lobos stemmed in part from a dismal outing in a 35-3 season-opening loss to Oklahoma.

"I think the big thing was that he started the OU game and didn't play up to his expectations," Hoener said, then came back a week later determined to do his best.

"And he obviously did it." Davis conceded he was nervous against Oklahoma, suffering from "first game jitters," but said that's now behind him and the Horned Frogs (1-1).

"I think this game really built up our confidence," he said. "I think we can play with anybody in the conference. I really think we can compete for the championship."

Foreign exchange student gives sorority program

A question and answer time about the life of foreign exchange student, Tonya Vahranova, opened the recent meeting of Alpha Alpha Preceptor Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Tonya, who is from the central Russian town of Yoshkar Ola, greeted chapter members in Russian upon her arrival at the home of Gerry Taylor. She will spend one year in Hereford as a high school senior. When she returns home she hopes to study law and become a lawyer. She lives in the home of sponsors, Tom and Valerie Fellhauser.

Tonya came to the meeting as the guest speaker of Brenda Thomas and Nan Gauthreaux. She finds the people of Hereford "very friendly" and lists as her favorite American foods: French fries, pizza, McDonald's and peanut-butter.

President Marcia Mardis opened the meeting and led 17 members in repeating the opening ritual. Marcia welcomed new chapter members and announced that the chapter had received a three-star rating from international. It was reported that the Northwest Texas Area Convention will be held Nov. 6-7 in Pampa. Deadline for registration is Oct. 15.

Thanks yous were extended to secret sisters by Lillie Shipman, Nan Gauthreaux and Virginia Jackson. A thank you was read from Brian and Melinda Thomas for the wedding gift.

Yearbooks were distributed by Shipman with special thanks given to Barbara Burkhalter for the covers.

Brenda Thomas reported that a case of paper goods was sent to Wayland, Mo. by the service committee. A request was read from the Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence asking for personal items for adults and children as well as toys, games and books for the children. A trivia quiz will be given at each meeting with fines levied for wrong answers will all monies to be given to the Christmas Stocking Fund.

Ways and means chairperson, Lillie Shipman, reported that the chapter will be selling Beta Sigma Phi cookbooks again this year.

An election by secret ballot was conducted for the selection of the chapter's Valentine sweetheart for 1994. It was announced that Jimmie Middleton will serve as sweetheart.

The next chapter meeting will be Sept. 21 with Barbara Burkhalter and Lillie Shipman serving as hostesses. Secret sisters will be revealed and new secret sisters drawn.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments served by hostesses, Gerry Taylor and Phyllis Neill.

Members present were Marge Bell, Ruby Sanders, Nan Gauthreaux, Virginia Jackson, Marcia Mardis, Beverly Redelberger, Alene Tindall, Lillie Shipman, Jimmie Middleton, Sharon Bodner, Linda Brown, Barbara Burkhalter, Susan Cardinal, Phyllis Neill, Murlene Streun, Brenda Thomas and Gerry Taylor.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son, who is in his early 20s, has fathered a child with a young lady who lives in another state.

Prior to knowledge of "Dee's" pregnancy, "Boyd" had intended to break up with her, so apparently, true love was not part of their relationship.

At this point, Dee hasn't demanded any financial assistance, probably because she realizes that Boyd doesn't have much to offer. She would, however, like for Boyd to be a part of their child's life, if only to show up a couple of times a year, like Christmas and the child's birthday.

The baby will soon be a year old, and Boyd has expressed no interest in seeing him. We offered to buy him a plane ticket, which he refused to accept. Even though Dee chased our son shamelessly, Ann, we believe he is being unfair by ignoring her and their child.

Apparently, Boyd is trying to forget his mistake, but we are afraid he won't be able to live with himself years from now if he continues to behave as if Dee and his child don't exist.

We don't know if we should send a birthday gift to the youngster or not. We are uncomfortable about establishing any kind of bond or relationship under the circumstances. We've encouraged Boyd to get counseling, but he refuses. Please advise us.-- Concerned Parents in Milwaukee

DEAR CONCERNED PARENTS: I hope you will send a gift and be a part of your grandson's life. Just because Boyd is behaving in an immature and irresponsible manner does not mean that you must cut yourself off from your grandson and his mother.

Does Boyd realize that he is obligated by law to support his child? If not, someone should tell him. He also needs to understand how important it is for him to accept his son--both for the child's sake as well as his own. Boyd has a bit of growing up to do. Let's hope it happens soon.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is the first time I've disagreed with you in all the years I've read your column.

Dear heart, your response to "Oklahoma" was completely off the wall. The writer was absolutely correct that the way Americans dress is a disgrace. Millions of us are sick and tired of seeing people in malls wearing tank tops, short shorts, cutoffs and sandals, with matted hair and dirty feet. They are in airports and supermarkets and, yes, theaters and churches as well. Where is their pride?

The bride is barefoot. Even the so-called movie stars are a disgrace. Nothing is glamorous anymore. Celebrities appear in see-through tops and get-ups they would have been arrested for 10 years ago. This country is beginning to look like an X-rated movie and an unmade bed.

CHICAGO (AP) - Did someone try to smoke out Oprah Winfrey?

TV stations in Miami and Chicago showed footage of the talk show host approaching her limousine after a show on violence against tourists in Florida.

The tape showed her accepting a package from an unidentified person and entering the car. Moments later, she and her entourage jumped out as smoke poured from the car.

Spokeswoman Colleen Raleigh, who was with Winfrey in Miami and returned to Chicago on Monday night, denied the package was a smoke bomb.

Freestyle dressing breaks many boundaries this fall

This fall, forget about the rules and regulations defining fashionable flair--"freestyle" dressing is changing the way you can express your personal style.

Unconstructed and loosely interpreted, this new manner of dressing has no boundaries. It's as simple as wearing what you love and putting together pieces in a way that makes you feel comfortable.

Creating a unique outfit has never been easier. It's an unconventional combination of all your favorite items from the past, present and future. New pieces feel like you've had them forever, and old pieces look new again. Layers are important to the carefree attitude, with long over short and short over long. Loose items worn on the bottom are complemented by slim shapes on top, where body-hugging meets baggy.

Offering unexpected mixes and an eclectic mood, the fall collection allows the "freestyle" spirit to create distinctive looks that embody individual style.

Try wearing colored denims and a poor-boy T-shirt with a rustic, hooded anorak, or a denim utility vest over long thermal tops and stove jeans. The oversized barn jacket--with a snap-out quilted lining that doubles as a vest--pairs perfectly with corduroy short-shorts

QUESTION: Can triplets be identical?

ANSWER: Yes, so can quadruplets and quintuplets. Of course, we know that twins can be identical because we see them around us all the time.

Identicals happen because a fertilized egg splits into two cell masses before cell reproduction (mitosis) begins. Each mass is genetically identical; thus, each offspring will be like the other, including sex.

Triplets occur whenever one of the cell masses divides again. Quads occur whenever each divided cell mass divides again, forming four cell masses. Quints occur when one of the four cell masses divides again.

In 1934, for example, the Dionne quintuplets, born in Ontario, Canada, were identical sisters. In fact, they were not only identical, but were the first quint to all live more than one hour. They all reached adulthood.

Whereas identicals all come from one original fertilized egg, fraternal twins, triplets, quads and quintos come from two, three four and five separate eggs, respectively.

About two out of every three twins are fraternal. Fraternal do not have to be of the same sex.

They are usually no more alike than brothers and sisters who are born at different times.

In the U.S., twins occur about once in every 73 births; triplets occur about once in 7,400 births; quads occur once in 636,000 births; and quintos occur about once in 40 million births.

Pearls are perfect for fall fashions

This season fashion will take its inspiration from the past, circa turn of the century. And according to those in the know, cultured pearls will be the "queen" of gems for the fall.

"So many of fall's fashions are based on romantic looks from the past," says Ann Elkins, fashion director of Good Housekeeping magazine. "Pearls--from traditional chokers, ropes or necklaces to more unique, eclectic designs--seem to be the one constant accessory element used to enhance these nostalgic fashions."

Elyce Newhauser, accessory editor for Mademoiselle magazine, agrees. "Fashion this season is not about flash," she says. "It's about personal style with a softer, romantic approach. Since pearls are soft and very feminine, they make a perfect jewelry choice."

And what will be the pearly trend this season? Newhauser believes longer-length strands in smaller-sized cultured pearls will be an important jewelry item.

"We've pretty much seen the last of those Barbara Bush, jaw-breaker-sized imitation pearls that were popular for the past few years," she says. "Smaller-sized cultured pearls in longer lengths, over 60 inches, and delicate single-strand chokers, will complement Edwardian-inspired fashions of the season. Pearls are a natural progression from the ruffled shirts and long dresses that will define the look for fall."

Here's An Idea That Can Strengthen Your Family

Tonight at the dinner table, read something out loud to your family. Tomorrow night, let another member read something. A news story. A Bible verse. A Robert Frost poem. A cereal box panel. History. Humor. Anything. Each night a different family member can read a selection. Imagine the wide range of subjects your family will read in 365 days. What a stimulating way to have your children develop good reading habits. We have 23 million illiterate adults in America. We wouldn't have one, if each of them had been served reading as part of their nightly diet. It's non-fattening, but enriching. And it doesn't cost a dime.

Good nutrition vital for all newborns

Child Health Day arrives in October along with fall's harvest, emphasizing that good nutrition is a key to a baby's healthy start in life. Healthy Start, a nationwide program promoting healthy behavior for pregnant women, new mothers and babies, supports breastfeeding as the best way to provide all the nutrition infants need in the first six months. Breastfeeding also protects babies against some infections. Babies may be allergic to cow's milk or formula, but never to mother's milk.

Breastfed or bottlefed, newborns need to eat every two to three hours. If you choose to feed your baby with bottles, keep the bottles and nipples very clean. Use iron-fortified formula and follow the directions for fixing it. Cuddle your baby during bottle-feeding.

Signs of your baby getting good nutrition include: a weight gain of at least a pound a month; 6-8 wet diapers and 3-5 bowel movements a day; alertness and activity; and healthy-looking skin. If you have questions about breastfeeding—or when to begin feeding your baby solid foods—ask your baby's healthcare provider.

If you need help obtaining food, ask your local social service agency about such federal programs as Aid to Families With Dependent Children, Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children and food stamps.

The Newspaper BIBLE

DISAGREE: BUT DON'T BE DISAGREEABLE!

Paul and Barnabas stayed at Antioch to assist several others who were preaching and teaching there.

Several days later Paul suggested to Barnabas that they return again to Turkey, and visit each city where they had preached before, to see how the new converts were getting along.

Barnabas agreed, and wanted to take along John Mark. But Paul didn't like that idea at all, since John had deserted them in Pamphylia. Their disagreement over this was so sharp that they separated. Barnabas took Mark with him and sailed for Cyprus, while Paul chose Silas and, with the blessing of the believers, left for Syria and Cilicia, to encourage the churches there.

Paul and Silas went first to Derbe and then to Lystra where they met Timothy, a believer whose mother was a Christian Jewess but his father was a Greek.

Timothy was well thought of by the brothers in Lystra and Iconium, so Paul asked him to join them on their journey. In deference to the Jews of the area, he circumcised Timothy before they left, for everyone knew that his father was a Greek (and hadn't permitted this before). Then they went from city to city, making known the decision concerning the Gentiles, as decided by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem.

So the church grew daily in faith and numbers. Acts 15:34-41; 16:1-5

Hints from Heloise

Q. I am confused about whether or not detergent disinfects clothes and towels.

A. I buy bright-colored towels and end up discoloring them because I use chlorine bleach to make sure they are disinfected. Would using colorsafe bleach disinfect them while saving their color?—Juanita Caine, Boston, Mass.

A. Laundry detergent and colorsafe bleaches do not disinfect clothes. However, with regular laundering and drying, most germs are removed from clothing and towels.

Only chlorine bleach that has an EPA registered number on the label has the disinfecting properties to disinfect laundered items when used following the label directions. (Note: Not all brands of chlorine bleach are disinfectants; there are some off brands that are not. Be sure and check the label for the EPA registered number to assure that that particular product contains the disinfecting properties.) You may want to change to white towels that can be disinfected during the laundry process without color change.—Heloise

FAST FACTS

Other uses for shoulder pads:

- Use to make pot holders and hot pads.
- Use as stuffing for craft projects.
- Put in shoes to help keep their shape.
- Pin to ends of hangers to hang sweaters.
- They make great knee padding for gardening or for a crawling child.

EXTRA KEYS

Dear Heloise: Leaving extra sets of keys in strategic places can save untold money and time. Keep duplicates of all your keys in a safe place at home. Keep a copy of your car and house keys in a locked drawer in your office. Give a trusted co-worker a copy of the key to that drawer.

Give a trusted neighbor a copy of your house key.—Renee Kornbluth, W. New York, N.J.

This would definitely save one from having to call a locksmith because of lost keys. However, don't put a name or address on the keys just in case!—Heloise

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have diverticulosis. I had a Hemoccult test and tested positive for hidden blood in the stool. Can the traces of blood come from the diverticulosis or is it something else? Also, what causes diverticulosis? What kind of diet should I follow, and what foods should I avoid?

My doctor recommended I take Metamucil which I do regularly every day. I had a colonoscopy about three months ago, and it showed no cancer. Is that a good enough test for cancer or should I take something else?

DEAR READER: A Hemoccult test for blood in the stools is a screening device. If it is positive, additional studies need to be done to eliminate cancer. Incidentally, you must be on a diet free of all red meat for three days before taking the tests. Often it is said for two days only, but more recent studies suggest that three days is much better to avoid having a positive test from simply eating red meat.

If by "colonoscopy" you mean direct visualization of the colon, that is a very good way to exclude colon cancer. If it was negative, it is most unlikely that you have colon cancer.

Yes, you can have blood from a diverticulum, also from a polyp and, of course, internal hemorrhoids. There are other diseases of the colon that may also cause blood elements in the stool that you can't see with the naked eye.

Diverticulosis means "small pockets of the colon" — really little ruptures of the inner lining of the colon through the colon wall. The cause is not clear, but some think increased pressure in the colon may be a factor in causing them, related to diet. They were once almost non-existent, but today they are extremely common. They may cause no symptoms in many people.

When they cause symptoms, a diet that includes more bulk, such as cereals, is often recommended. Metamucil is one of the bulk formers that can be used. You should avoid foods that cause gaseous distention, though that may include the very foods that actually provide the fiber you need.

Read Special Report 94, About Diverticulosis: Pockets of the Colon. I'm sending you a free copy. Others who want this report can send $3 with a stamped (52 cents), self-addressed, No. 10 envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/94, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077-5537.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am always cold, even in the middle of summer. Everyone else is hot, but I'll be just right or even a little chilly. I've seen doctors for tests and everything turned out perfect. I'm not anemic, nor is there anything wrong with my thyroid. Is there anything else you might think of that could be wrong?

DEAR READER: It would be helpful to know what your body temperature is, but I assume it is normal. You feel hot or cold in relation to the flow of blood through your skin, not what your actual body temperature is. That is why you can have normal thyroid function, normal metabolism and normal temperature and still feel either hot or cold.

The blood flow through the skin is controlled by your autonomic (involuntary) nervous system through your brain. You can increase the blood flow through your skin through exercise and that is why exercise makes most people hot. When you feel cold try to increase your level of physical activity. If you smoke, don't. That constricts blood vessels in the skin. Calcium channel blockers such as Procardia may help by dilating the arteries, if that doesn't cause your blood pressure to be too low.

DEAR DR. LAMB: In one of your columns you answered a letter about taking 2,000 mg of vitamin E. I have been taking two 400 I.U. soft gels daily. What does 2,000 mg of vitamin E mean? I have never seen vitamin E in "mg" amounts on the label. Is it harmful to take two 400 I.U. of vitamin E daily?

DEAR READER: There are two ways of expressing the amount of vitamin E. One milligram (mg) of vitamin E is equivalent to 1.5 I.U. (international units). Thus, 2,000 mg of vitamin E is 3,000 I.U. — a very large dose. Your daily intake of 800 I.U. is equivalent to 533.3 mg. That amount should not be harmful to you and may be helpful.

To give you an idea of how much you are actually getting, the recommended daily allowance (RDA) for vitamin E is only 10 mg (15 I.U.). So you are getting many times that amount. Individuals who are taking larger doses may experience digestive complaints such as nausea, gaseous distention and diarrhea.

Large doses of vitamin E may also increase the action of medicines given to prevent blood clotting. That can increase a person's risk of hemorrhage.

There is no evidence that vitamin E in man will correct any disease, except for rare anemias in newborns. There is no medical illness that is caused by a vitamin E deficiency, such as scurvy from vitamin C deficiency or pernicious anemia from a deficiency of vitamin B-12. It is much more essential in certain animals that have a metabolism different from man. It does not improve a man's sexual capacity or correct impotence. And well-designed studies cast doubts that it is of any benefit in men who have Peyronie's disease (commonly called the bent-nail syndrome involving the penis). It may help relieve leg cramps in some people and is worth trying for that purpose.

I have discussed vitamin E in my new Special Report 143, Vital Facts About Vitamins, which I am sending you. Others who want this report can send $3 with a stamped (52 cents), self-addressed, No. 10 envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/143, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077-5537.

Vitamin E as well as C and beta-carotene are antioxidants. All of these may be important in preventing fatty-cholesterol deposits in arteries, in which case your daily intake may help you. But probably 200 mg (300 I.U.) would be sufficient for any such benefits.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am a 28-year-old mother. For as many years as I can remember I have been having what I call "blackouts." They all start the same. First I feel a hot flash travel up my body to my head, where I start to sweat. Then I can't see. My eyes are open but all I see is black. I also get light-headed and dizzy. After a minute or so I take deep breaths. Then my vision comes back like tunnel vision and I return to normal and am fine.

My doctor said it has something to do with migraines. I've only once had a headache that was bad enough to take an aspirin. I get slight episodes about three to four times a month. Do you have any idea what is causing this?

DEAR READER: You are describing fainting episodes caused by lack of blood flow to the brain. As the blood pressure falls, the circulation to the retina in the eye is inadequate and everything turns black. Tunnel vision means the circulation has returned to the center of the eye but the pressure is not yet great enough to provide circulation to the outer areas of the retina. You need to see a neurologist to evaluate the cause. There are many mechanisms that can decrease blood flow to the brain.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077-5537. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.
