Cattle Women make donation, discuss beef

Hereford Cattle Women met for their regular meeting recently at the Hereford Country Club and decided to give the Cowgirl Hall of Fame a donation for their Thanksgiving float in the Macy's Day Parade.

Pam Wagner, president, called the meeting to order. Cathy Bunch gave the invocation.

Margaret Formby gave an informative program on the Cowgirl Hall of Fame. Roland Saul reported on their Macy's Day Parade entry.

Jackie Murphy reported on how each member could buy a ticket at each meeting for a chance to win a quilt made by Cattle Women. A drawing will be held at the installation meeting.

Karon Sherrod reported a bank balance and passed out a financial statement. Wagner reminded members that dues are due. Marty McElhanev gave the legislative report. Wagner read thank you notes.

Wagner reported on the Cattle Women's convention in Austin. She received many ideas for promoting beef. One idea is to put cholesterol cards in bank statements showing cholesterol in beef to comparable to cholesterol in chicken, fish and turkey.

Nancy Josseland suggested that the club donate money to the Cowgirl Hall of Fame for their Macy's Day Parade Entry. Discussion followed on the amount. Josseland made a motion that the club donate $300.

Those attending were Wagner, Bunch, Murphy, McElhanev, Josseland, Sherrod, Klett, Beverly

Davis, Lisa Klett, Erin Alley, Pat Graham, Lori Hall, Nance Perrin, Brenda Johnson, Linda Gilbert, Marn Tyler, Sue Sims and Leslie Easley.

DSGH nurses increase cardiac skills

Deaf Smith General Hospital nurses increased their skills and knowledge of assessing and treating cardiac patients during a recent in-service. The training session, presented by the flight nurses with AeroCare, the airborne critical care transport service, was offered to all nurses at the hospital as a refresher course.

The sessions serve as cross-training for nurses whose primary jobs keep them in other areas of the hospital. "By having our nurses trained in many areas of the hospital, we can make more efficient use of our staff," Ron Rives, DSGH administrator said.

The program was the first in a series on the assessment and treatment of the emergency patient. Topics will include trauma, seizures, high fevers in children, and other types of cases frequently seen in the ER.

Renee Hammock, Rn, director of nursing, said that the focus for the first session was cardiac patients because that is what is seen most frequently in the Emergency Room. "New drug therapies and improved treatment procedures are constantly being developed for cardiac cases, so we want to be sure that we are sharp in our skills and knowledge of this problem," she said.

The AeroCare nurses discussed thrombolytic therapy, the use of drugs which break up clots in the heart.

Nurses learned the criteria involved in screening for the use of this type of drug. They were told that the drug was not indicated for patient who have had recent surgery, who have had chest pain for more than six hours, or who have any indication of internal bleeding.

"This is an almost miraculous therapy that, if administered in the early hours of a heart attack, can prevent damage to the heart. This is the same type of therapy that is used in the hospitals in Amarillo, but timeliness of administration is critical. Our ER staff and physicians have the skills and the equipment in most cases to evaluate and stabilize the patient and begin lifesaving treatment quickly," Hammock said.

Nurses were also brought up to date on basic cardiac arrhythmia monitoring and intermediate assessment and treatment that they can perform before the physicians arrives. The ER is equipped with a "crash" chart, which has all the equipment, medications, and supplies necessary to intervene when a patient's heart stop, she noted.

"We're committed to increasing our knowledge and sharpening our skills," Hammock said. "In-services are certainly one of the most efficient ways to do that for a large number of our staff."

"One of the great advantages of being affiliated with Lubbock Methodist is that we get high-quality training programs like this," Hammock said. "If we were not associated with Methodist, these types of programs would be very difficult to come by," Hammock added.

AeroCare is a helicopter and fixed wing transport service of Lubbock Methodist Hospital. The system provides rapid transport from DSGH to Lubbock Methodist in case the patient needs services that DSGH does not offer.

Boys', girls' hoop teams fall to Levelland

Hereford's boys' and girls' basketball teams both fell to Levelland Tuesday in a Whiteface Gym doubleheader.

The boys' game, which Levelland won 61-56, was close all the way, and the Lobos didn't seal the win until Sedic King slapped the ball out of Kevin Kelso's hands with the clock just under 20 seconds.

The girls' game was not close, with the Loboettes winning 58-22.

In the boys' game, Levelland led going into the final two minutes, but Hereford's Sean Smith and Leo Brown each hit two free throws to tie the game at 56-56.

Levelland went down and Cleveland Dawson hit a layup and a free throw--Brown was called for the foul when he went for the block--and the Lobos led 59-56. With 27 seconds left, Hereford looked for a good three-point shot to tie, but King stripped Kelso. King tried to dribble out the clock, was fouled and made a pair of free throws for the final score.

Hereford had a last chance to score but missed four point-blank shots in the final seven seconds.

Coach Jimmy Thomas admitted the Herd didn't handle the "crucial situations" at the end perfectly. "We did some things that hopefully we can correct," he said.

"The bottom line is they made more threes than we did (Hereford had one). We need to stretch the defense," he said.

Hereford's record is now 0-3, while Levelland improves to 4-1, having lost only to District 1-4A favorite Pampa.

Thomas was pleased with the Herd's press in the game. "We pressed a team which is supposed to be super quick, and we did fairly well. I'm pleased with that."

Hereford was led in scoring by Brown with 23 points and Richard Sanderson had 10. In addition, Kyle Hansen scored all nine of his points in one stretch of the third quarter. That was more than half of Hereford's third quarter points.

In the girls' game, which preceded the boys, Hereford scored the first basket of the game, then missed its next 20 shots as Levelland ran out to a 12-4 first quarter and led 29-7 at the half.

Levelland has won four of the last five 4A state championships, but Hereford coach Dickie Faught said that was no reason for such a rout, and he was upset with his players' effort.

"They're (Levelland) good, but they aren't so dang good that we can't at least stay on the floor and compete," Faught said. "I think we were just so scared of them we couldn't play. We didn't give it much of an effort."

Hereford played relatively well in the third quarter, only being outscored 15-12.

"We just gave a much better effort," Faught said. "We didn't change a single thing. There's not much to talk about at halftime."

Jennifer Bullard led Hereford scorers with nine points. Next was Kara Sandoval with four, including a three-pointer which beat the third-quarter buzzer.

Both the boys' and girls' junior varsity teams played Levelland earlier in the evening, with Levelland winning both.

The Hereford girls stuck with Levelland in the first half and trailed only 20-16, but were outscored 19-6 in the third quarter and lost 47-30.

"We always do bad in the third quarter," coach Donnie O'Rand said. "I guess we shouldn't have a halftime."

Jill Walser and Lori Coronado led Hereford with six points each.

The boys' JV fell 45-36. Coach Oscar Rendon said they just got off to a slow start, pointing out that both teams scored 20 points in the second half, but Hereford was outscored in the first half 25-16.

Tim Burkhalter led Hereford with 12 points and Angel Orasco added 10.

Pick-pocket

Hereford's Teresa Baker steals the basketball away from Levelland's Trina Pinner at mid-court. The Lady Whitefaces lost 58-22 in the first game of a Tuesday double-header at Whiteface Gym, then the boys' team fell 61-56, also to Levelland, in the second game.

Applications being taken for Y basketball league

Applications are now being accepted for the 1992 youth basketball leagues at the Hereford YMCA.

The leagues are designed for children in grades 1-6, and teams are coached by adult volunteers. Every game will be supervised and referees are provided. The league specializes in wholesome competition while teaching the fundamentals of team play and good sportsmanship. Every girl and boy plays in every game.

There will be three divisions: first-second grades (six-year-old may play in the division); third-fourth grades; and, fifth-sixth grades. The teams will be drawn at the YMCA office.

The league fee is $13, and all participants must be YMCA members. YMCA membership for youngsters is $25 a year and includes use of the facility for a year. Entry fee must accompany the registration form.

Applications are available at the Hereford YMCA.

Blackshear named SWC player of week

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Texas Tech wide receiver Rodney Blackshear doesn't make a habit of disrupting his coaches' game plan simply to ask that a few extra throws come his way.

But Blackshear, the Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week, was coming home to Houston for the Red Raiders' season finale against the Cougars Saturday. Nearly 30 members of his family would be there.

"You always want to play well in front of the family," Blackshear said. "So I kind of asked coach (Spike Dykes) if we could try to get a pass or two my way."

Blackshear figured a few catches would show the home folks that he had overcome an early-season injury to his left knee and prove that he hadn't lost his touch since starring at Reagan High School.

Texas A&M linebacker Marcus Buckley was named AP's SWC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance in the Aggies' 31-14 victory over Texas on Thanksgiving night. He returned an interception 19 yards for a touchdown on Texas' first offensive play of the game.

Blackshear told his entourage not to be late to the game because "I am going to score on the first play we have the ball."

It wasn't quite Babe Ruth calling a home run, but on Tech's third offensive play, Blackshear plucked a 95-yard touchdown bomb from Robert Hall en route to a school-record performance.

Blackshear, a senior who led the Southwest Conference in receiving yards (973) last year, caught five passes for a school record 251 yards, including the touchdown grab for 95 yards and another for 80.

Tech defeated Houston 52-46 to finish 6-5 and tied for second in the SWC at 5-3.

"I was looking to show off," Blackshear said smiling. "But I didn't think it would turn out that good. We just caught them in the right defenses every time and I was able to get deep on them."

Willis' 31 rebounds too much for Mavs

By The Associated Press
In different ways, the Denver Nuggets and Atlanta's Kevin Willis both were looking to rebound on the road.
The Nuggets, winless away from Denver since beating Milwaukee 126-122 on Jan. 29, snapped a 25-game road losing streak Tuesday night with a 110-100 victory over the Houston Rockets.
Willis, meanwhile, was rebounding in a literal sense.
Continuing his recent domination on the boards, Willis had a career-high 31 rebounds - the most in the NBA since the end of the 1988 season - and scored 29 points in Atlanta's 103-99 victory at Dallas.

"I'm thinking rebounding first, scoring second and defense third," said Willis, now averaging a league-leading 17.5 rebounds in his seventh NBA season. "I've never had a game like that. It's almost like a scoring thing. You get in a groove and everything works for you."
In grabbing 20 or more rebounds for the seventh time in nine games, Willis also had double figures in points and rebounds for the 16th time this season.
Dallas, trailing by 10 with less than two minutes left, had the ball with a 101-99 deficit, but Herb Williams missed from 10 feet with 9.8 seconds left and Willis hit a pair of free throws to seal the victory.

Derek Harper led the Mavericks with 24 points and Williams scored 20.
Nuggets 110, Rockets 100
Chris Jackson scored 16 of his 22 points in the fourth quarter as the Nuggets rallied to improve its record to 1-5 on the road and 8-8 overall after finishing 20-62 in 1990-91.
Houston was led by Kenny Smith and Vernon Maxwell with 20 points each. Reggie Williams led the Nuggets with 26 points.
Bucks 126, Lakers 94
Jeff Grayer scored 21 points and Milwaukee opened a 20-point lead in the first half.

The Lakers got 24 points from A.C. Green and 20 from James Worthy.
When the Bucks outscored the Lakers 12-5 to start the second half, the Bucks led 74-50. It was 88-65 heading into the fourth.
Warriors 108, Jazz 103
At Oakland, Chris Mullin scored 34 points and Golden State hit six consecutive free throws in the final 16 seconds after missing eight straight in the third quarter.
Karl Malone scored 34 points and Jeff Malone 23 for the Jazz, who battled back from a 44-28 second-quarter deficit to take the lead.

Kings 99, Spurs 94
Mitch Richmond scored 24 points and Spud Webb had 21, including two free throws, a steal and a fastbreak layup in the final 10.2 seconds as Sacramento won at home against San Antonio.
David Robinson had 30 points and a career-high 24 rebounds for the Spurs.
SuperSonics 91, Bullets 90
At Seattle, Gary Payton's fallaway 17-footer with 7.4 seconds left lifted the SuperSonics over Washington.
Harvey Grant scored a season-high 33 points for Washington. Ricky Pierce led the Sonics with 26 points.
Nets 88, 76ers 86
New Jersey never trailed after outscoring the 76ers 30-19 in the second quarter. Hersey Hawkins scored nine of his 26 points in an 11-2 burst to start the final period.
Drazen Petrovic scored 19 points for the Nets.
Pacers 108, Pistons 99
Rik Smits scored 24 points and Chuck Person 23.
Joe Dumars scored 33 points for Detroit.

There were three ties and three lead changes in the fourth quarter before the Pacers took the lead for good.
Trail Blazers 124, Heat 94
Terry Porter scored 21 points and Portland shot 55 percent from the field.
The Trail Blazers hit 13 of 17 shots during an 11-minute stretch midway through the game when they outscored Miami 34-12 to take a 75-54 lead.
Grant Long and Glen Rice scored 17 points each for the Heat.
Suns 101, Timberwolves 95
Kevin Johnson scored 11 of his 30 points in the fourth quarter.
The Suns got 16 points and 14 rebounds from Tim Perry.
The Timberwolves got 27 points from Tony Campbell.

Georgia Tech routs Villanova

By The Associated Press
Senior Jon Barry sacrificed, freshman Travis Best and James Forrest scored and Georgia Tech breezed.
Best and Forrest each had 19 points Tuesday night as the 17th-ranked Yellow Jackets had no trouble beating Villanova 80-59 in the fourth game of the Atlantic Coast Conference-Big East Challenge.
But to Tech coach Bobby Cremins, the key was Barry's willingness to sacrifice his own scoring.
"I thought Jon held the team together," Cremins said. "He was really unselfish. Usually Jon will have a few 3-point bombs, and I asked Jon to sacrifice tonight and help us become a more balanced team, and he did it."

Barry scored 10 points, hitting all four of his field goals, two of them 3-pointers.
Best also had seven assists and Forrest grabbed nine rebounds to pull the ACC even at 2-2 in the eight-game series after Syracuse routed Florida State 89-71 in the opener of the doubleheader at the Omni.
The Yellow Jackets (4-1) used spurts of 18-2 and 14-2 on their way to a 46-33 lead at halftime. The Wildcats (0-2) got no closer than 10 points in the second half.
Marc Dowdell led the Wildcats with 14 points and Greg Woodard added 11. Malcolm Mackey added 17 points for the Yellow Jackets.

No. 9 Indiana 78, Notre Dame 46
At Bloomington, Ind., Calbert Cheaney scored 19 points, including five in a game-breaking 13-2 first-half spurt.
Indiana (2-1) beat Notre Dame (0-2) for the eighth time in Bloomington since the 1973-74 season and kept John MacLeod winless since becoming Irish coach this season.
LaPhonso Ellis led Notre Dame with 15.
No. 13 Utah 71, Utah St. 62
At Logan, Utah, Jimmy Soto scored seven of his 12 points during a decisive rally over the final four minutes.
Trailing 55-54, the Utes (4-0) outscored the Aggies 17-6 in the final

3:55 and won going away on the strength of eight free throws in the last 49 seconds.
Josh Grant and Byron Wilson also had 12 points for Utah. Malloy Nesmith came off the bench to score 20 points for Utah State (0-2).
No. 15 Alabama 76, Tennessee-Chattanooga 61
At Tuscaloosa, Ala., James Robinson and Andre Perry led a surge that broke the game open and the Crimson Tide matched a school record with 12 blocked shots.
Robert Horry led the Tide with 21 points, including 16 in the first half, and also had five blocks as Alabama matched the record set last season against Auburn. Robinson scored 14 of his 16 points in the second half and Latrell Sprewell added 14 points while Perry finished with 8.
Robinson hit a 3-pointer to give Alabama its first lead of the second half and Perry began a string of 10 straight points.

No. 21 Iowa 83, Drake 56
At Iowa City, Acie Earl had 25 points and 12 rebounds.
Iowa broke the game open in the closing minutes of the first half, reeling off 17 of the last 19 points in the final 4:16 to take a 55-27 lead at intermission. The Bulldogs were forced into 18 turnovers in the half, at least a third of them leading to Iowa baskets on sloppy inbound passes.

Dodgers sign Candiotti

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Los Angeles Dodgers, who finished the 1991 season one game behind the National League West-champion Atlanta Braves, no longer exist.
The Dodgers continued to revamp their team Tuesday night, firming up their starting rotation by re-signing Orel Hershiser to a three-year contract and signing knuckleballer Tom Candiotti to a four-year deal.
Hershiser and Candiotti, both right-handers, became free agents after the World Series. Candiotti signed for an estimated $16 million while Hershiser will receive about $10 million over the life of his contract.
Dodgers general manager Fred Claire announced the signings about one hour after former Dodger right-hander Mike Morgan agreed to a four-year, $12.5 million contract with the Chicago Cubs.
Just last Wednesday, the Dodgers acquired outfielder Eric Davis and pitcher Kip Gross from the Cincinnati Reds in exchange for starting pitcher Tim Lincecum and reliever John Wetteland.
Earlier that day, former Dodger first baseman Eddie Murray, a free agent, signed a two-year contract with the New York Mets.

Claire has said several times since the end of the season that young Jose Oflerman will be the Dodgers' starting shortstop next season.
The starting third baseman could be another youngster, Dave Hansen, while yet another youngster, Eric Karros, figures to compete with Kal Daniels at first base, assuming no further deals or free agent signings take place. Davis will play left field, Daniels' former position.
"Will we continue to look to see if we can improve the ballclub? Yes, we will look," Claire said. "We've made obviously two significant steps tonight adding to our ballclub, obviously from a financial impact."
"I would say with the events tonight, the door to free agency got much closer to being closed."
Hershiser, 33, returned to the Dodgers' starting rotation last May, just 14 months after reconstructive surgery on his pitching shoulder, and went 7-2 with a 3.46 ERA and was especially impressive in the season's final month.
Candiotti, 34, pitched for Cleveland and Toronto last season and went 13-13 with a 2.65 ERA, second best in the American League.

"I feel very good about the starting rotation," Claire said. "I believe in Orel. There is not anybody in the world who works harder than Orel. I will never look back on this contract with Orel."
"We also have Ramon Martinez, Bobby Ojeda and Kevin Gross and some good young arms coming up. I'm happy with the rotation."
Hershiser, who averaged 252 innings per year for the five years before his injury, said he preferred not to discuss whether he came close to signing with another team.
Hershiser, 106-77 lifetime, said he has been working out continually during the offseason, as he did after returning to the starting rotation last May.
"Nothing has stopped with my workouts," he said.
Candiotti, 84-78 lifetime, fills a big gap, what with the loss of Morgan and Belcher.
Toronto, in need of a starter, acquired Candiotti on June 27 from Cleveland for outfielders Glenallen Hill and Mark Whiten and pitcher Denis Boucher.

A Star Kicker
CANTON, Ohio (AP) - Jan Stenerud is the first NFL player to be named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame strictly on his merits as a place-kicker. Stenerud, a 1991 inductee, joined a number of other three-point specialists all of whom played other positions.
Stenerud was one of the big factors in the 1970 Super Bowl 23-7 victory for Kansas City over Minnesota. He booted three field goals in that game. Stenerud also is the record-holder for NFL three-pointers with 373.

Blind Mare
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) - Begum, a 10-year-old mare at the Mill Ridge Farm, was born without eyes, but she was born to breed.
The daughter of Alydar never raced but at last count she had produced four foals. Two of them - Songlines who has raced in the United States and Badawi, racing in England - have been winners.
Because of her ailment, Begum got special treatment as a young horse and had only one mishap. She skinned her nose on a fence.

Dandy Darby
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) - Linebackers are ferocious guys on the field, but not all are away from football.
Ray Bentley of the Buffalo Bills, a 6-2, 235-pound player, writes books for children when not playing football. One of his main characters is Darby, described as a lovable dinosaur. That earned him the nickname of Darby from his teammates.
"People can't believe an aggressive football player is a caring individual," Bentley said.

UT AD making wish list of new coaches

AUSTIN (AP) - With the cloud hanging over Texas football coach David McWilliams' resignation slowly passing on, Athletic Director DeLoss Dodds says the phone is ringing with the names of a possible successor.

Dodds declined to discuss individuals, but the names of well-known coaches popped up as soon as McWilliams announced Monday he was resigning following his third losing season in five years. McWilliams asked to be reassigned as associate athletic director.

"I'm excited about our future," Dodds said Tuesday. "I think our football program is close... and I'm excited about what we can do with it. "I want to get it back to where we're top 10 or making a run at the national title."

It was thought that with the resignation of the homespun McWilliams, Texas would try to hire a coach who favors pro-style passing, would trim the deadwood and could recruit both inner-city and out-of-state players.

Possible successors mentioned in Texas newspapers included Stanford coach Dennis Green; Dennis Erickson of Miami; Bobby Ross of Georgia Tech; Dick Sheridan of North Carolina State; Steve Spurrier of Florida; and Howard Schnellenberger of Louisville.

Others mentioned were Bruce Snyder of California; Bill Snyder of Kansas State; Terry Donahue of UCLA; John Mackovic of Illinois; Bill Mallory of Indiana; former Texas quarterback Alan Lowry, now an assistant at Tampa Bay in the NFL; former Pittsburgh coach Mike Gottfried; and former Alabama and NFL coach Ray Perkins.

The list is lengthy, sources said, because there is no obvious choice - coaches who have winning seasons also have posted losing season records, and Texas will demand one who wins every year.

"I think as we go through this process almost every name will come up," Dodds said.

McWilliams' record was 31-26 for a winning percentage of .544. He lasted as long as he did only because of his personal popularity and a single Southwest Conference championship season last year.

This year, there was talk of a national title, which vanished after non-conference losses to Mississippi State and Auburn and a run of injuries that struck down 21 frontline players at one time or another.

Texas' seventh loss in eight years to arch-rival Texas A&M, 31-14, on Thanksgiving night, was the final straw in a 5-6 season.

To start the search for McWilliams' successor, Dodds assembled a committee of about 45, which includes UT basketball coach Tom Penders; baseball coach Cliff Gustafson; athletics council members; faculty; students; athletes and staff, such as former Heisman Trophy winner Earl Campbell.

Dodds said the search also will involve Darrell Royal, who coached Texas' 1963 and 1969 national championship football squads and never had a losing season in 20 years at Texas.

The first committee meeting is set for Friday in Austin.

McWilliams has four years remaining on his contract. His base salary with expenses is $116,000 per year. But with television and radio contracts and other perks, he makes about $300,000 annually, Dodds said.

"Certainly $300,000 doesn't scare us today, and we can work above that," Dodds said. "Unless they're talking something really out of line, I don't think we've got a problem on the package."

Dodds said he had no timetable for hiring a new coach, although a quick decision could help Texas' recruiting. One holdup is that successful coaches are preparing for bowl games.

"I'd like to think we could do it in two weeks, but the bowls cloud that," he said. If an attractive candidate - a "difference-maker" - wanted to wait a week or two to talk, university officials would wait, he said.

But Dodds said Jan. 20 is a key date for having a coach, because after this weekend that is the next on-campus visit for possible recruits.

"I think it would be important to have that covered by then," he said.

Johnson realistic, Jones optimistic about playoffs

IRVING, Texas (AP) - When it comes to NFL playoff optimism, coach Jimmy Johnson is the conservative and owner Jerry Jones is the liberal.

"If we can win 11 games I think we have a good chance at winning the Super Bowl," Jones said of the Dallas Cowboys playoff drive. "But the first thing you have to do is get out there where the big boats are."

Johnson on the same topic says "You've got to concentrate on just one opponent a week. This week we play New Orleans."

Johnson only wishes last year was this year.

"A year ago eight victories would have put you into the playoffs," Johnson said Tuesday. "Obviously, it's going to take more this year. We have a difficult schedule the last three games but we knew how that was going to be before the season started."

The Cowboys were 7-9 in 1990, losing a playoff berth in the final game of the season to Atlanta.

Dallas is 8-5 with a home game Sunday against New Orleans, a road game in Philadelphia, and a home game against Atlanta left on the schedule.

Now, Johnson is worried a 10-6 record might not make it. The Cowboys can clinch a wild card by winning their last three games.

"Well, we've got two out of three games at home and that helps," Johnson said. "We've got to keep things going. Our players are feeling good about themselves."

Jones said "there are teams a lot less talented than we are who have played in Super Bowls. Why not?"

The Cowboys will have to beat New Orleans on Sunday in Texas Stadium without Troy Aikman.

"Troy will be out for the game although he's trying to work," Johnson said. "He's done some throwing. We'll see if he could take a few snaps and be available in an emergency role."

Aikman has recovered rapidly from a partial tear in a lateral collateral knee ligament. Aikman has targeted the Philadelphia game in two weeks as his possible comeback game.

Steve Buerlein, who has led Dallas to two victories since Aikman was injured, will start against the Saints, who have lost three consecutive games and are two-point underdogs.

Buerlein was hampered by a sprained ankle in a 20-10 victory over Pittsburgh on Thanksgiving Day.

"Steve's fine now," Johnson said. Johnson said he's glad the Cowboys are catching an off-form New Orleans.

"I'd rather play a team that's struggling than one that's on a roll playing extremely well," Johnson said.

He termed playing New Orleans "quite a challenge. They have the second rated defense in the league. We'll have to play extremely well to move the ball on them. They got on a roll early and were playing with a lot of confidence."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: "Beth in Houston" who wrote to complain about her neighbor's garage sales, spoke for a lot of people. Especially me.

A woman who lives not far from us has a garage sale so often it isn't funny. Her neighbors are beginning to wonder where she gets all that stuff. For starters she pays no store rent, has no business expenses and probably doesn't pay any taxes on the sales. (Who would know?) Meanwhile, the poor guy who rents a storefront has to pay rent, keep books, buy insurance and shell out taxes. When this woman has a garage sale the whole block is jammed with bargain hunters and cars, and the neighborhood looks like hell.

If people want to make money on their junk, they should hunt up a flea market and unload it. Sign me--A Little Old Lady in Glendora, Calif.

terrific bargains for myself.

Beth's problem is one that our entire nation is suffering from. She's spoiled rotten -- another casualty of our throwaway society.

Myrtle Beach, S.C.: Has "Beth in Houston" ever heard the expression, "One man's junk is another man's treasure?" She said garage sales are tacky, but I love 'em. I have found $50 blouses for $2 and picked up close to $1,000 worth of baby clothes for $30. Garage sales are as American as apple pie. What a great way to make money on stuff that has been in the attic for ages.

DEAR READERS: Can you stand one more letter on what makes men so violent? This explanation is different from the others, and beneath the humor there might be a kernel of truth. Here it is:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A recent column of your sought an explanation for the origin of male aggressive behavior. I will be happy to explain it to you.

The origin of human male aggression has been traced to the cave home of one Oog and his mate, on Day Two of recorded history. It happened as follows:

Mrs. Oog: "Oogy-poo, I was just over to see the Moogs, and do you know what, dearest? They have TWO fireplaces in their cave AND a mastodon-hide cover for the entrance. I also noticed that they have twice as many tapirs in their corral as we do. Does this mean that Moog is a better provider than you?"

"It is SO embarrassing to see that wretched Moog woman lounging around in her saber-toothed tiger robe, while I'm wearing this stiff old deer hide. And did you know that she is expecting their fifth child? It will probably be another son. When are we going to start a family? Can it be that little runt of a Moog is a better man than you are?"

Yes, that's how it all began, Ann--Alan Wright, Apalachicola, Fla.

My Laugh for the Day (Credit Moosetown Moos): A woman on vacation in Las Vegas asked her escort at the roulette wheel what number she should bet on. He told her, "Bet your age."

She placed her bet on number 25 and fainted when 38 won.

Is life passing you by? Want to improve your social skills? Write for Ann Landers' new booklet, "How to Make Friends and Stop Being Lonely." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.15 (this includes postage and handling) To: Friends, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

DEAR LADY: You and Beth represent a small minority. The mail in support of garage sales was overwhelming. Here are some samples:

From Binghamton, N.Y. Sorry "Beth's" nose is out of joint about her neighbor's garage sales, but obviously she has a lot more money than I have.

As a mother of three on a limited income, I find garage sales a godsend. For about one-tenth of what it would cost in a store, I can dress my three kids very nicely and pick up some big-tent philosophy) within the platform, the preamble to the platform or whatnot, that remains to be seen. But that message will have to be articulated with great clarity."

Jonathan Allman, editor of the Plain English Campaign, an organization that battles gobbledygook and doubletalk, called the quotation "a classic example of U.S. doublespeak."

Club ready for Christmas Tour

La Madre Mia's Christmas Tour of Homes is scheduled Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. The Randy and Francis Farr home, 2026 Plains, is one of the three homes on the tour. Francis Farr, seated, is shown with club members Gladys Merritt and Tricia Sims in the Farr living room. A stained-glass manger scene and a Christmas wreath highlight the room. Tickets for the tour are $3, available from a club member or at the door.

LONDON (AP) - Dan Quayle won a booby prize from the Plain English Campaign for what it deemed an incomprehensible remark on an unidentifiable subject.

The vice president was awarded the Golden Bull on Monday for remarks quoted in The Washington Post in July:

"We offer the party as a big tent. How we do that (recognize the

LEGAL NOTICES

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
 Notice is hereby given that the Hereford I.S.D. will be accepting sealed bids until December 18, 1991. Bids will be opened December 19, in the central administration office located at 136 Avenue F, Hereford, Texas, for the following:
Two-Ten Unit Computer Lab Assisted Instructional Systems. Computers will need to be compatible with current system software.
 Specifications and information may be obtained by contacting: Corky Lockmiller, Asst. Superintendent for Special Programs, at 711 Park Ave, Hereford, 806-364-5941. The District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

NEW YORK (AP) - Elizabeth Taylor canceled another appearance because of a bout with the flu that has kept her in bed with a fever of 103, her spokeswoman says.

Miss Taylor, who canceled a U.N. lunch on Monday, has dropped out of Thursday's annual masquerade ball for the American Foundation for AIDS Research.

Miss Taylor was following doctor's orders to rest at home in Los Angeles, spokeswoman Chen Sam said Tuesday.

DALLAS (AP) - Dallas has been added to Van Halen's latest tour - and today's show won't cost fans a cent.

Lead singer Sammy Hagar is keeping a promise he made in 1988 when he stopped a concert at the Cotton Bowl to apologize, saying his voice was weak because of a sinus infection and strep throat.

"Like a fool, I said, 'I'll do a free concert for you folks,'" Hagar recalled Tuesday. "And I meant it."
 The outdoor concert was scheduled for this afternoon at Dallas Alley.

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Pete Rose has been checking out restaurants in Delray Beach for the past two weeks, apparently looking for one to buy, merchants say.

The ballplayer, who owns two restaurants in Cincinnati, refused to comment Monday after looking over the kitchen and dining area of the Arcade Tap Room.

The former Cincinnati Reds star was banned from baseball in 1989 for gambling. He served five months in prison for cheating on his taxes.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Johnny Paycheck is headed back to prison, but this time to sing.

The country singer will perform Dec. 8 for inmates at the Federal Corrections Institute in Phoenix, spokeswoman Lisa Wysocky said Tuesday.

Paycheck was released from an Ohio prison earlier this year after serving two years for shooting a man in a bar.

"I wanted to do this because I know how much something like this would have meant to me," said Paycheck, best known for the hit "Take This Job and Shove It."

NEW YORK (AP) - Bryant Gumbel, who will celebrate his 10th anniversary on NBC's "Today" show in January, has signed a three-year contract to continue as co-host.

Salary terms weren't disclosed. Gumbel's previous contract reportedly paid him $7 million over three years.

Christmas season officially here

The day after Thanksgiving traditionally marks the beginning of the Christmas Season, at time when forest of Christmas trees start opening up on street-corner lots.

Some folks will drive out to a choose-and-cut tree farm for Texas-grown Virginia pines and Afghans. Besides these varieties, retail lots will offer fir and spruce from the north. Some nurseries also will be selling trees with roots intact to plant outside after Christmas.

Whatever the variety, buying the right Christmas tree and keeping it fresh for the holidays requires some thought and planning, said Jim Chandler, forester with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Before Making a selection, he said, determine where in the home the tree should go.

"The tree will look smaller at the (choose-and-cut: farm than at the house," Chandler said. "Take the advice of the farm operator and use some type of measuring pole to determine the height of the tree."

Once the tree is home, cut the bottom quarter inch off the trunk. This keeps the trunk from being sealed off with sap and allows the tree to continue drinking water.

Place the tree in a water-holding stand right away. If the tree is not going to be decorated immediately, Place it in a bucket of water in a cool space such as a garage, he said.

"The tree needs water at all times," Chandler said. "A normal 6 to 8 foot Christmas tree can drink up to a gallon of water in the first 24 hours."

Keep the tree away from heat sources, fireplaces, or television sets, he said. Make sure lights and electrical connections are in good working condition to avoid fires.

Do a freshness test when building a cut tree from a retail lot, he said. The needles should be resilient.

"Hold a branch about six inches from the tip and pull you r had toward the tip, allowing the branches to slip through your fingers. On a fresh tree, the needles shouldn't fall off in your hand."

Then, lift the tree a couple of inches off the ground and let it drop on the stump end. Examine the needles that fall.

"There should be a few old brown needles that have died, but if you have a lot of green needles fall from the tree, that's a sign that the tree has dried out," he said.

A good fragrance and a green color also indicate freshness.

Trees that will be planted outside after Christmas should be handled differently. Since they are living plants, they cannot be kept indoors as long as cut trees.

"They'll dry out form central air-conditioning. They shouldn't be left in the house more than a week."

Chandler had a word of encouragement to those dismayed at the disposal for so many cut trees during Christmas.

"Remember, for every Christmas tree cut, there are two to three new seedling planted to ensure that we will have Christmas trees for the future," he said.

Additionally, many cities have start recycling projects for Christmas trees. In some urban areas, trees are chipped and used in landscaping. Some coastal cities are using the trees to hold back erosion of coastlines. Cities near major lakes are sinking trees into the water to provide habitat for fish.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have had Parkinson's disease for 14 years. I go through falling, constipation, diarrhea, visual difficulties, stiffness, difficulty walking, severe tremors and many other problems, including depression. I have seen four different psychiatrists who only charge exorbitant prices. My husband insists that all of these problems are in my head. My immediate family members are all deceased so I have no support if regard to the depression and other problems.

I have always been employed, enjoyed all sports and was a very outgoing person, but because of my various symptoms, I have become very withdrawn. I'm now 68 years of age.

I am on Sinemet 25/100 every two hours as prescribed by my doctor at the Parkinson's disease center. Eldepryl did nothing for me. I have much literature on Parkinson's disease but my husband will not even read it. I suppose I'm looking for something magical in your Health Letter, if you will send it to me.

DEAR READER: Your symptoms are typical of Parkinson's disease, and all of the complications you mention and more can occur. That includes depression, mental changes, mental confusion and stiffness. Tremor is one of the earlier signs in most patients.

The Sinemet is a combination medicine which provides L-dopa. This substance is used by the brain to form dopamine. This important brain chemical enables the various nerve-cell connections in your brain to work properly. In a sense, Parkinson's disease is caused by multiple breaks in the electrical circuits in the brain because of a lack of dopamine.

Eldepryl (deprenyl) is a new medicine used primarily to delay the progress of Parkinson's disease in the early course of the disease.

I'm sending you Special Issue 34-12, Parkinsonism, as you requested, which describes the characteristics of the disease and the management.

There is more to it than taking medicine. Others who want this issue can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/34-12, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077.

Your husband probably has a problem accepting your illness and handles it by denial. Perhaps you could convince him to talk to your psychiatrist about it.

DEAR DR. LAMB: My 18-year-old son is having problems with epididymitis. He has terrible pain in his testicles. The doctors can't seem to keep it under control. Can this be cured?

DEAR READER: The epididymis is the tubular mass next to the olive-shaped body of the testicle and contains the tube for the transport of sperm to the prostate. It may become infected by a variety of bacteria. The infection may originate in the prostate itself, particularly in an older person. It can occur from an infection some other place in the body.

Yes, it can be quite painful. Usually, during an attack, a man has to stay in bed and have the scrotum supported. Cold packs are applied to the scrotum. Medicines to control fever and pain are used. Since it is an infection, the appropriate antibiotics are the important aspect of treatment. A chronic form of inflammation may follow an acute attack. Again, searching for a cause of the infection, such as in the prostate, and the use of antibiotics are indicated. Finally it resolves and the epididymis may be essentially normal. In some instances, the inflammation may cause blockage of the tubes and cause sterility.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

Prime Time for Kids

Start a Gift-Wrap Tradition

During this season of anticipation, laughter and celebration, we have the opportunity to make special memories for our children that will last a lifetime. Unfortunately, the pace of modern family life inevitably shifts into fast-forward about now.

Instead of letting the hectic pace get the best of your family this week, press the pause button on your lives and set aside a quiet afternoon or evening to enjoy a do-it-yourself kind of tradition. It feels good to take a break from the commercialism that surrounds us by making something that comes from the heart.

One of our family favorites is making gift wrap and gift tags together. We print our designs on recycled brown grocery bags cut open to make a flat sheet, butcher paper and construction paper.

Here are some unique printing ideas to get you started: Snowflake prints — Make printing stamps from nature by cutting a firm green bell pepper in half crosswise. Dry the freshly cut area on each half with paper toweling. Paint the cut area with white tempera paint and press the pepper firmly on colored paper. The print will make a lovely snowflake. (If the stem is intact on one piece, your pre-schooler may use it as a handle for dipping the pepper half in the paint.)

Hands-on design — Pour tempera paints in holiday colors on plates. To make the prints, family members can place their hands (palm down) on the paint, and carefully press their painted hands on the paper. Assist toddlers to make sure the entire hand makes a print and wash hands when changing colors.

Fast-tracking — If you have leftover paint on the plates, ask your kids to gather small plastic toy vehicles. Dip the wheels of the cars and trucks in the paint and drive them across the paper to make loops and curves. Add paint to the wheels when necessary. Use all the colors for a wild design. When complete, wash vehicles immediately in soapy water.

If you'd like to share your comments or ideas for family projects, write to Donna Erickson, P.O. Box 16188, Minneapolis, Minn. 55416.

Arthritis and Running
LOS ANGELES (AP) - Highly accomplished runners may not be at a higher risk for developing arthritis in their knees, according to Arthritis Today, a publication of the Arthritis Foundation.

Magnetic resonance images were taken of seven long-distance runners' knees one day before and one day after completion of a marathon, reported Dr. Frank G. Shellock, a research scientist at Cedars Sinai Medical Center in Los Angeles.

"All the knee joints were very well preserved and looked normal, even after races ranging in distance from 17 to 50 miles and from three to 10 hours in duration," Shellock said.

Reasons that may reduce the risk of arthritis and other degenerative diseases in trained athletes include genetic factors, use of the body in the most efficient ways and adaptations resulting from training.

Holiday thank yous important

People spend a good amount of time and money selecting gifts for their loved ones, taking special care to suit the needs of the individual.

The same amount of care should be given when thanking those who have been so gracious. Any form of thanks is always appreciated, but making someone feel as though they have made a smart and meaningful purchase is a gift in itself.

Instead of hastily choosing a package of thank-you cards, pick a card for each individual, having your thank-you come truly from the heart.

Have pictures taken of each of you unwrapping your gifts. In the thank-you card, enclose a photograph of the person's gift being opened, worn or displayed.

Those who have access to equipment for videotaping the festivities may opt for an elaborate thank-you. A mini-film of gift-unwrapping time, plus on-camera reactions will absolutely thrill the gift-giver.

How about a personal thank-you for those who live in your vicinity? Taking the time to thank someone in person and expressing how much you are enjoying the gift will make that person feel that his or her gift to you really meant something special.

If time allows, a get-together for everyone to whom you want to say thank you is a unique and fun way of showing your gratitude.

Children play an important role in thanking people, also. When a child creates his or her own very special thank-you, it not only pleases the gift-giver, but it directly shows the child how important (and fun) it can be to thank someone.

For example, a child might make a drawing of the gift; talk into a cassette tape recorder, telling about the gift received, or create a thank-you card.
