Amarillo Buys Land In County As Water Supply

The City of Amarillo has purchased 1 1/2 sections of land in Deaf Smith county for use as a future water supply. Cost for the 960 acres, located southeast of Wildorado, was $116,800. A deed for property, purchased on November 9 from E. D. Bruce, was filed in the county clerk's office on December 15. The land is described as being the east half of Section 48 and the whole of Section 49, Block No. 7, BS&F Survey. The property was purchased by Bruce on November 9 from H. T. Neely and Lucile Neely for $116,800. Amarillo bought the property the same day from Bruce for $125 per acre for the section and $115 per acre for the half-section or $116,800. City Manager N. V. Moss told The Brand Wednesday that the purchase, coupled with the purchase of two sections in Randall county, are part of the city's future expansion plans for the water department.

Welfare Office Seeks Donors

An urgent, 15-minute appeal for food, clothing and toys for needy families in Deaf Smith county was issued Wednesday by Mrs. Dyalthisa Bradly, county welfare director. Christmas trees will be given the families from the different school rooms, Mrs. Bradly said. The 46 & 8 chapter in Hereford has made arrangements for an "after hours" shopping tour for 25 or 30 underprivileged children. The youngsters will be given money to spend as they please and will do their shopping in a Hereford variety store.

"There are no immediate plans completed, but plans are underway", he said when asked of the development of the area. He said that there would be probably five or six wells placed on the 960 acres. This was based on the "pattern over a number of years". He reported that he couldn't tell when the land would be developed, but it will be in the "not too distant future."

Moss said he anticipated no development of the property in the next calendar year, however. Land purchased in this county will be a part of the Amarillo water system improvements for which the city is putting a $5,200,000 bond issue before the citizens.

With the land bought last month in this county Amarillo expects to have enough property to develop all the water that the present facilities will handle, Moss told The Brand.

The city manager said he didn't anticipate any more purchases of land to be used as a water supply.

Selling Stock For Local Cannery Deal

A three-day campaign to sell between $35,000 and $40,000 worth of stock in a community venture to finance local purchase and operation of the Hereford Cannery machinery was begun Tuesday night.

Several local businessmen and farmers were at a called meeting held Tuesday night at Hotel Jim Hill at which time the proposition was outlined.

According to Tom McFarland, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, a Dallas insurance firm owning the cannery plant operations has offered to sell the community all the machinery in the Hereford Cannery company for 15c on the dollar.

Friday is the deadline for the local interests to exercise their first rights of purchase. Another firm is interested in purchasing the machinery.

There is about $60,000 worth of equipment in the plant, McFarland said. Some of the equipment is unobtainable on the market today.

Mr. Case of the Case Canning company of Muleshoe was here to appraise the machinery and said it would be worth at least $20,000.

The local plan is to buy the machinery through stock sales at $50 per share. Selling is now underway.

If the machinery is purchased, a new building will be constructed near the Atterbury and Beasley lettuce shed on the Santa Fe lease, McFarland told The Brand. The Santa Fe will lease the land at a nominal fee.

The $35,000 to $40,000 sought to finance the venture will put the local cannery into a position ready to begin operations.

The building formerly housing the Hereford Cannery company is now owned by Charles Huston, lettuce shipper.

In the event of local purchase of the cannery equipment, there are two methods open for operating the business. The Brand was informed.

It may be operated locally with a manager or can be leased to a wholesale grocery firm and rented at a certain figure per case of packed goods.

There are two wholesale grocery firms that are reported to be interested in operating the cannery, McFarland intimated. They will even supply the field men and other personnel, he said.

Information given the Chamber of Commerce recently by Harlingen packers indicated that a net profit of 22c per case can be realized through cannery operations here. The cannery would be able to process potatoes, beans or blackeyed peas. The potato crop alone would bring about 80,000 cases.

Stock in the cannery is being sold by McFarland, Dick Lucas, and John Aiken.

There was no serious damage from a fire at 228 Avenue C Tuesday. The fitting at the jet of gas stove came loose, causing a wild flame, but it was extinguished when the residents turned off the gas outside.

POW List Awaited By Residents Here

Several Hereford families are among the thousands across the nation who are anxiously waiting to hear if any of their relatives are on the Red prisoner-of-war list.

Only one of the Hereford residents has received any word however. Mrs. Shirley Neighbors received a letter from her husband, Sgt. Gerald E. Neighbors Tuesday at noon.

Sgt. Neighbors said "it looks like we'll be coming home soon" and went on to ask about his daughter, Cynthia Kay, whom he has never seen. Mrs. Neighbors said that her husband's letter sounded as if he had received her last letter. She asked that the next letter she wrote to be safe and send another picture of the baby.

Sgt. Neighbors went on to say that he hadn't lost a pound while he had been a prisoner and that they had been treated very well.

Allison Named President Of Chamber Of Commerce

Jim Bob Allison, president of the Hereford State bank, was named president of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce for 1952 at a meeting of the new and old board of directors on Monday night.

Allison succeeds Bruce Woodell as leader of the Chamber of Commerce.

Ray Cowser was elected vice-president of the group. Paul Harvey will serve as treasurer.

Tom McFarland and Betty Murray have been retained as secretary-manager and office secretary respectively.

All the new officers will take over their new duties January 1, 1952.

1952 when the old Hereford Chamber of Commerce officially becomes known as the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce.

The first meeting for the new officers will be on January 4 when they meet and discuss, among other things, the proposed low-cost housing project for Hereford.

Allison was named to the top post after serving last year as vice-president under Woodell. He is a member of the First Baptist church, of which he is also a deacon. He is president of his Sunday school class.

At Monday's meeting, the retiring members of the board of directors were presented gifts. President Bruce Woodell was given an electric shaver and Robert Veigel, Don Zimmerman, and Wayne Edwards were presented cigarette lighters.

Plans for the coming year were also discussed at Monday night's meeting. Among those plans was the membership drive which will start about January 10.

Goal for the membership drive is a minimum of 100 new members, Tom McFarland, secretary-manager, said.

Seigler Explains Hospital Profits And Expenses

T. E. Seigler Jr., manager of the Deaf Smith County Hospital, says a recent Brand article on hospital profits left the wrong impression with readers insofar as it did not go far enough into the financial standings of the institution.

Of the $14,502.03 net profit for the year to date, $8,270.75 has been listed for charity cases, $3,634.83 was the amount spent for new equipment. From the remaining $2,596.45, interest and depreciation still must be taken, Seigler said.

Minor Injuries As Bus Overtakes

Lloyd Haney, 13-year-old student at Walcott Independent school, was injured slightly Monday evening at about 4:30 when the 14-passenger school bus he was riding in overturned in a field after plowing through two ditches about 15 miles northeast of Walcott school.

None of the other four passengers or the driver Charlie Hoover, were hurt seriously, according to information given The Brand Tuesday.

Haney was the only one in the mishap who was hospitalized. He was released Tuesday morning. He suffered three broken ribs and a cut on the head, The Brand was informed.

A report of the accident was given The Brand by a co-driver of Hoover's. Hoover was said to have been going north when his one-ton, 1949 panel school bus hit a chuck-hole in the road, whipped on the road, and went out of control to the right and into the ditch. Hoover pulled the bus out of that ditch and it went off the left side of the road, overturned once, and came to rest on its side in a field. The front end of the bus was headed southwest when it came to a stop.

The top of the bus was caved in, the right fenders were damaged, and the windows were knocked out.

The driver who informed The Brand of the wreck particulars said there was a possibility that a loose "U" bolt on the spring might have caused the bus to swerve out of control after it hit the chuck hole. He reported the same trouble on his bus Saturday.

Damage to the bus is estimated unofficially at $500.

THE WALCOTT SCHOOL bus shown above is the one in which Lloyd Haney was injured Monday when it overturned 15 miles northeast of Walcott school.

Useful and Beautiful, Too

A combination desk and chest can save space and be a beautiful piece of furniture at the same time. The example shown above, designed by Michael Hallward, is distinguished by a moderately bold checkerboard pattern of wood veneer squares. Designs like this show why hardwood veneers of selected wood grain figuring are invaluable in modern furniture manufacture. Complicated wood grain patterns cannot be achieved in solid wood.

ASPHALT ROOFING GAINS

The spectacular rise in public acceptance of asphalt roofing during the past decade is reflected by U. S. Department of Commerce statistics which show that manufacturers shipped almost 87,000,000 squares of asphalt roofing in 1950, nearly doubling 1940 shipments of 44,000,000 squares.

COLOR ELIMINATES GLARE

Coloring matter, sold by dealers in building materials and paints, can be mixed with cement during construction to eliminate the glare from a concrete walk or drive.

Decorator Lamp Made Easily

HOMEMAKER HOBBYISTS will enjoy making this attractive lamp (opposite), and at a cost of less than five dollars. A light-socket and cord, two large fruit-juice cans, some Permacel masking tape, a package of self-setting clay and a lamp shade are all that is required.

After assembling the components, remove one end of each can, punch a hole in the center of the upper one's top for the socket; punch another hole in the side of the bottom can near the base for the light cord to be pulled through. Next, fix the cans and socket securely together with the masking tape, then mold the clay on. If desired, designs or texture can be modeled on the surface of the clay while it's soft, using the fingers or kitchen tools. The clay will dry and harden overnight; then paint it to suit the decor of the home and add the lamp shade of your choice.

MASKING TAPE by Permacel binds parts together to make firm lamp base.

Dawn-Wildorado FM Pushed Back For Second Time

The remaining stretch of Farm-to-Market road between Dawn and Wildorado has lost out again in Texas State Highway contract lettings for the second month, according to W. V. York, resident engineer.

York said because of the property owners' delay in signing their deed and easement instruments, the project has had to be taken off the department's January letting schedule. It was previously scheduled for December letting, but was held up because legal work was not finished on this end.

Very few of the property owners along the affected route for the surfacing work have even moved their fences, he said.

Ask Assessment For Water Dist.

Another "battle of survival" for the young High Plains Water District No. 1 was indicated this week as Tom McFarland, temporary chairman of the district, launched a new appeal for funds to "test the mettle" of the law.

McFarland said, "Before the water district is hardly dry behind the ears, somebody is doing their best to repeal the law so a municipality could completely drain the water from under a small district being organized under the same laws as the High Plains district."

"It looks like," he commented, "it will be necessary to contact all of the irrigation farmers in the High Plains once more for a per-very contribution to combat this."

He said a case was set tentatively for January 7 to "try the mettle" of the law and the district will need money to hire a lawyer.

In Deaf Smith county, the per-very assessment will be $5, McFarland said.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Smith and Mrs. A. G. Bell and daughter Evelyn plan to leave Sunday for Oklahoma City to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives

Forty-Eight Dynamite Caps Stolen Here

The theft of 48 dynamite caps from the Southern Geophysical company magazine southeast of Hereford on Monday night was reported by Sheriff J. C. Reese.

Reese said the thief or thieves broke a hasp on the storage compartment in the explosives van and made off with the caps.

The Sheriff said the caps could have been taken by juveniles but it was more likely that they were not. He voiced the opinion that the thief might have been committed by thugs who have been responsible for safe blowings in this section of the state.

Whoever stole the caps knew what to do with them, he reported. They cut all of them off the detonating wires but left about five inches of wire on each cap.

The theft occurred over the week-end and was discovered on Monday morning.

Name Three Texas 4-H Winners

TOP RANKING records in the 1951 National 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds, Frozen Foods and Recreation and Rural Arts programs have brought state honors to three Texas club members. Their awards and brief outlines of records follow.

Della Mae Borchardt, 17, of Orange Grove, was named state winner in the 4-H Frozen Foods program. Donor of the 17-jewel wrist watch award was International Harvester. Skill developed in preparing and packaging foodstuff for freezing has added desirable variety to the home-raised supply, and has reduced the cash outlay for foods. A club member for seven years, Della became interested in frozen foods three years ago, when the family acquired an upright freezer. She helped her mother freeze fruits, vegetables, and meats, and evolved an extremely efficient method of labeling and storing foods. She keeps a chart of the food stored, and records each package taken out. In March of 1950 polio struck Della, and she lost the partial use of her left arm. The doctor assured her that working with her hands from the chicken yard to the north boundary of the yard, built four terraces with grass; cleared a bed for bluebonnets and iris; started a privet hedge between the yard and the chicken yard; trimmed all the trees and cleared the patio and a rock wall leading to it. A senior at Denton High, Yvonne is a member of the National Honor Society. She is also president of the 4-H Club. Yvonne's award, a 17-jewel wrist watch, was donated by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen.

Mary Rae Finehout, 18, of Victoria, has been selected by the State Club office of Texas for outstanding recreational leadership and achievement in the National 4-H Recreational and Rural Arts program. This program provides a medium for home and community participation in sports, dancing, dramatics, singing, arts and crafts, and other activities.

Della Mae Borchardt Yvonne Allen Mary Rae Finehout

would aid in complete recovery and Della devoted even more time to her frozen food projects. Cost of her winning demonstration was $92, as compared to an estimated income of $400, resulting in a saving of $308.

A well-deserved honor was awarded to Yvonne Allen, 16, of Arroyo, who was named state winner of the 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds program. Earnest planning, diligent study and hours of hard work went into the many improvements accomplished. Although Yvonne has been in 4-H work for seven years, and has completed 35 projects in a variety of categories, this was her first year on a Beautification of Home Grounds project. Yvonne and her mother cleared the grounds on their 56-acre farm.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Mary received special training at a leadership recreation school conducted by Dorothy Brightwell, recreation specialist, and at the Black Hills Recreation Laboratory in South Dakota. She was a member of the board of the Longhorn Recreation Laboratory in Athens and was assigned to help with the evening programs and general functions. Subsequently, Mary organized a square dance club, taught folk dancing, and helped put on dance exhibitions in Victoria, Cuero and Gonzales. She has helped conduct several county-wide recreation schools, has assisted in 78 play-nights, and has given her services to her school and to the Girl Scouts as well as 4-H. Awards in this program are provided by the United States Rubber Co.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Superb Saturday Supper; Baked Beans, Brown Bread A Hearty Dish

Time was when the choice of baked beans and brown bread for Saturday night supper was a custom confined to the boundaries of New England. But nothing can keep a good menu from spreading and this excellent combination is a popular, economical meal all over the country today.

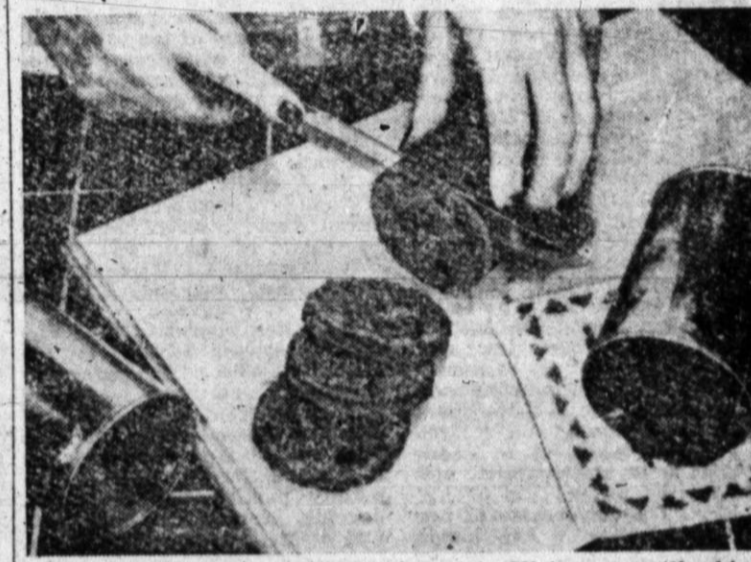

The menu shown here features canned oven-baked beans, crisp cole slaw and homemade brown bread, made right in the same cans that held the beans. If you're a hungry crowd to feed you'll might add frankfurters to this menu. Don't shy away from making the brown bread. You know it's best when it's fresh and hot and this is an easy-to-do recipe. First, put the baked beans into a casserole. Wash the baked bean cans thoroughly and remove the labels. Then follow this recipe for a quick brown bread that will bake while the beans are heating. It makes a wonderful supper bread—and delicious sandwiches. Try the recipe once and you'll use it often.

Molasses All-Bran Brown Bread
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran (ready-to-eat bran)
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup New Orleans Molasses
1/2 cup hot water
1 egg
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon (if desired)

1. Measure All-Bran, raisins, shortening and molasses into mixing bowl. Add hot water, stir until shortening is melted. Add egg and beat well.
2. Sift together flour, soda and salt and cinnamon; add to All-Bran mixture, stirring only until combined.
3. Fill 2 greased cans (baked bean cans) about 2/3 full. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 45 minutes.—Serve at once.
Yield: 2 round loaves.

Serve hot, home-made brown bread with oven baked beans and a salad for a quick and inexpensive supper... or let the bread cool, slice and use for sandwiches to go into the lunch-box or to be served at afternoon tea.

This recipe makes enough mixture to fill two cans (the kind oven-baked beans come in). Select cans that are perfectly smooth—with no dents or mars. Grease well with a liquid shortening. When the bread is baked, remove immediately from the cans and slice.

Heavy Volume of Shopping For Christmas in Town

There will be a Merry Christmas in most homes in Hereford this year if the day's success can be judged by the amount of Christmas buying that has gone on this month in Hereford stores. People started their Christmas buying as early as Thanksgiving this year, which is unusual for Hereford. Most of the Christmas buying in Hereford is recorded in the last two or three days before Christmas.

Not only did the people do their shopping earlier, but they did for better merchandise than they did in previous years. However most of the better and more expensive merchandise that was brought was in the form of staple goods such as clothing—instead of the frivolous items that are generally given as Christmas gifts.

There were many gifts for the home—furniture, electrical appliances, etc.—bought during this Christmas season.

By Christmas week, the Hereford merchants were wondering if they had enough stock to stand up under the onslaught of this unusual Christmas buying.

Toys, of course, were one of the leading items on everyone's shopping list. Mechanical toys of all types and large dolls were the favorites of most shoppers, according to the merchants. Small dolls and educational toys that generally sell as fast as the larger toys were still on the shelf when Christmas week arrived.

Many of the Hereford children will wake up Christmas morning to find toys that are beyond their highest expectations.

Cosmetics, ties, handkerchiefs, and other small items are expected to sell later in the week as last minute gifts for club parties, church functions and friends that could not be forgotten.

The Hereford people have not forgotten those who are less fortunate than they even during the hustle and bustle of Christmas shopping and baking. Nearly every person in Hereford gave something to be used in "Christmas For Others" in both the United States and the rest of the world.

Yes, Christmas in Hereford will be a big affair. — N. G. L.

In other cases scheduled for hearing on Monday, Levy Cordova forfeited his $1000 bond. He failed to appear on a barratry charge filed against him.

A third case, a DWI charge against R. L. Crist, was settled after Crist pled guilty and paid a fine of $100 plus costs.

The offense with which Crist was charged was committed on July 6, 1950.

Crist appeared after the jurors were dismissed. He was not informed of the time his case was to be tried, he told the court.

COAST TO COAST TELEVISION OFFERS NATION'S TOP STARS

Time was (and it wasn't so long ago), when an eye could scan the country's rooftops without stumbling over those long spindly TV antennas which have become an American landmark. And now with the fall return-to-air of the lineup of TV's stars and programs, the baby medium is playing to the biggest audience ever assembled in entertainment history.

Most noteworthy technical have given their performances from a CBS studio in Hollywood, while the rest of the production is telecast from "Toast's" home studio in New York. Some of the Hollywoodians prefer to work from their own neck of the woods.

However, some of the other stars, who are California residents, are choosing to stay in New York for one reason or another. Victor Borge, the pixie piano-genius, who is also one of the alternating comedians on "All-Star Revue," has his radio commitments tying him to the east. He's beginning his second season of thrice-weekly capsule comedy programs on the ABC network.

Though radio has taken a back seat to the glamour of television, the old sound-only shows are still holding their own. There are still broad sections of the country where no television at all is available, and some of the longtime TV set-owners are falling back on their radios to fill in the gaps left by some of the less attractive TV offerings. Consequently, radio is maintaining its par as an entertainment medium, and this season you can hear the stable oldtimers back at their microphone stands as well as some new offerings. For the kiddies, of course, there is still an abundance of whoop and event of the season to date is the opening of the east-west coast network which holds more promise at the moment for the west than the east. Programs which originate in New York and are telecast by delayed kinescope (film), often of poor quality, can now be seen there in "live" production. In return, the Atlantic area eventually will be able to watch programs from across the continent, but for the moment, plans for the west-to-east circuit are pretty much limited to Hollywood originations of old New York shows. Jimmy Durante, for instance, who has had to travel to New York for his appearances on "All-Star Revue" (an NBC-TV production, Saturday nights on the live net) can in the future make his wonderful appearances from his home grounds in the film capital. The transcontinental TV tie-up is also making it possible to do split productions, part from California, part from New York. On "Toast of the Town," CBS-TV's popular variety revue, some of the guest stars, for example, holler adventure stories, like the "Mark Trail" program three times a week on ABC, one of the best of the juvenile series for its educational emphasis on conversation and outdoor life.

In TV, however, the coast-to-coast circuit isn't likely to affect any change in the children's programs because of the time difference. The "Tom Corbett, Space Cadet" program, science-fiction interplanetary adventures of the 24th century, is telecast, for instance, during the late evening hour in the east, which would come on a live network in midafternoon in the west when the kiddies are still poring over their school books.

Nevertheless with the coast-to-coast network finally installed and the return to TV of the best veteran TV programs plus additional new star attractions, the 1951-52 season holds forth promise of being the biggest and best.

NORTHWEST HEREFORD NEWS Cultural HD Club Has Annual Christmas Party on Saturday

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

The Cultural Home Demonstration club held its annual Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Jack Renfro Saturday afternoon. Included in the guest list were the workers 4-H group which the club sponsors. Special guests were Jackie Wright, Mrs. Dick Connelly, and daughter Earlene and Mrs. Lyle Rickman.

The program consisted of the singing of carols and the reading of a Christmas Story by Mrs. R. C. Childers, and a reading by Mrs. Arnold Hershey. The program was concluded by the singing of "Here Comes Santa Claus" and to the wonder and surprise of all the little folks, Santa Claus appeared with gifts for all of them.

Mrs. Jack Renfro was a caller in the Childers home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Curtis Barclay and Larry spent several days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Childers, while her husband was away from home. She went home Monday.

A Christmas party was held in the Jack Renfro home for the Dick Connelly children Saturday night. The children were honored with the presence of Santa Claus who brought them gifts of candy and gifts.

A few spots of snow can be seen, but it is all about to vanish. Folks were hoping that it would all be gone before we got some more bad weather. Cows are back on the pasture which gives the farmers a rest from lot feeding. With feed so scarce folks are hoping that stock can remain on pasture.

man apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dowell, Hereford. Dowell, who entered the Naval service April 18, 1951, received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

Before entering the Navy, Dowell attended Hereford high school, and was employed by the Miller Auto Supply. Students at the school are taught to install, operate, and make repairs to ships' engines and all mechanical equipment. ## 'Range Country' Begins East of the Hudson Dutchess County, N. Y., best known as the home of the late President Roosevelt, also is the home of the nation's finest Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

Range country begins with commuting distance of the teeming metropolis of New York—out on the Lone Prairie—where hundreds of highly pedigreed black Angus roam the grass-carpeted hills.

Fuerst Stock Farm, at Pine Plains, is one of the principal breeding establishments upholding the reputation of Dutchess as a nursery for top seed stock. In the short space of 15 years, Myron Fuerst and his wife, Agnes, have developed a herd recognized for its superior qualities by other leading breeders in the United States, Canada and even South America.

Sprawling over 500 acres of rolling landscape, the Fuerst Farm is the setting for an annual sale of breeding stock which this year attracted some 500 breeders from 22 states and Canada. Fuerst and neighboring Bethel Farm sold 66 animals with receipts totaling $149,525. Top price was $11,100 paid for a fine yearling bull, Bethel Bandelier 15th.

The huge sale pavilion stands apart from the other farm buildings and is on a high plateau which provides a sweeping view of the picturesque countryside. Painted white, the long, graceful structure has a gambrel-shaped roof covered with fire-resistant asphalt shingles in a dark shade for contrast.

Other main buildings such as the brood barn and winter shelter for breeding stock also have asphalt shingle roofs to keep the valuable animals warm and dry and to provide fire safety, all important on farms which generally are far removed from organized fire protection.

By JIMMIE GILLETINE

People are beginning to get the Christmas spirit and it's about time, I guess. Anyway, it is nice to see so many smiling faces. I think it must be due to the exchange of Christmas cards. I know the postoffice folks dread them, but exchanging of Christmas Cards is really a wonderful custom, especially those from friends you haven't seen or heard from in years and years.

I also had another unusual experience this Christmas. It happened when Cal Farley called up Tuesday and said he had written me a letter and to be sure and publish it in the paper. "It might not get there on time, though," Cal decided, then said, "just hang on and I'll read it to you. Can you take it over the phone?" He started right out and here's what he said in the first letter I ever got via of long distance telephone:

"Dear Jimmie, "What a fine Christmas present the folks of your community sent to the boys at Boys Ranch by Rev. Roy and Mrs. Ford. It took two Fords and Chevrolet Farley an hour and 30 minutes to unload all of the home-made candies that the Hereford people made and sent over. Of course the real work started when Farley started sampling the different kinds.

"You know, Jimmie, the Ranch Board insists that I eat one piece of all candies going to the ranch and not being allergic to any kind of sweets I can vouch for the Hereford home-made candies being the best ever taken to the ranch. And I am not kidding about this!

"If you were to visit the ranch right now you'd find Hereford fudge, divinity and other fine candies lying out in front of all the other presents under the big Christmas tree in the front of the mess hall, so please, Jim, thank all of the folks in and around Hereford for thinking of the boys at Christmas. Not only this year but every year for the 13 years that Boys Ranch has been "home" to 628 youngsters. Wishing you and Mrs. Gillettine a very pleasant Christmas I am sincerely yours."

Cal Farley.

I agree with Cal. This is a most wonderful thing. I know those kids at Tascosa are truly enjoying the candy and I think the ladies and club members who contributed their time and efforts are to be highly commended. Nothing in the world would do justice to extending full appreciation of those kids — unless it would be seeing the smiles on their faces when they dug into the candy and took the first bite or two. In addition to his letter above, Cal was most enthusiastic over the phone and I know that he was deeply touched by the splendid gesture.

Ray Cowser says that the secret committee which annually selects the "Man of the Year" for the Lions Club is in need of help. He says that the committee would like some nominations, along with pertinent reasons, and that they should be sent to him. He will, in turn, give them to committee members. This is another excellent program sponsored in the community — and folks should help out by making nominations. The idea, according to Ray, is to find the man who has done the most for the community. It's not a popularity contest, but a sincere effort to find the most valuable man. Let's turn in some letters, folks. This is a tough job — and we should all be interested in securing a fair, judicious selection. Furthermore, the deadline is drawing near. Make your nomination today. Mail it to MAN OF THE YEAR COMMITTEE, care of Ray Cowser, President, Hereford Lions Club.

More and more people are complaining about the traffic situations on Third and Fourth Streets. They don't know who has the right-of-way. A few of the intersections have stop signs entering these two streets — and people are at a loss to know about the other points. When both parties figure they have the right-of-way, it could be fatal. If these streets were planned out like Fifth Street and Park Avenue maybe the misunderstanding could be cleared. There are probably several more similar streets, but these are the two you hear most mentioned. It is a dangerous situation and Third Street carries as much or more traffic than any other street off Main. How about, Mr. Safety Council? Do you hear the same talk over town? Stop signs are a nuisance when you are in a hurry, but they do serve a definite purpose.

Holiday spirits have been dimmed for hundreds and hundreds of Hereford people this Christmas due to emergency illness suffered by Carl McCaslin, Joe Evans and Kelly Gray. There are probably no three people in the community who have more friends than these three men. They are all coming along fine, however, and that helps a lot. Visiting is always a problem in these emergency cases. People want so bad to help that they can actually do some harm. Be sure and check with the doctors and hospital authorities. A nice note or some flowers are wonderful — and there will be lot of long, long days when these folks are on the road to recovery. I am just as guilty as anyone on this subject, but it is most important and from now on I am going to double-check before visiting.

Well, it's time for last-minute shopping and that's the kind of shopper I am. Guess there are a lot more, too, from the looks of things. A filthy rumor has been started. Don't believe anything you hear about Earl Phillips and the publisher of a certain Hereford newspaper. It isn't true. We were not left in Ft. Worth — just almost. When enroute to the Railroad hearing in Austin last week, we left the plane in Ft. Worth to get a cup of coffee. They called out our plane and we rushed to the field to find that the entrance ramp had been moved back to the fence. We had to argue a little bit, Yes! However, they did let us on the plane and I have to admit that the attitude toward us was somewhat cool, but we got to Austin with the rest of the boys. True enough, we didn't get off again until we got to Austin, but we weren't scared. We just "kidded" the nice, comfortable seats on the plane. Furthermore, it is malicious gossip when anyone tells you they had to ask us to leave five minutes after we got to Austin. We were just polite and wanted to let the other passengers go ahead of us. That's the truth. If you don't believe it, just ask Earl!

P.S. to Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Gillettine: We absolutely were not following those two hostesses when we got off in Ft. Worth. They change hostesses in Dallas.

Even Lee Little admits this much. Anything Ben Childers, Vernon Wilson, Lee Little or Don Zimmerman tells you should be taken with a grain of salt. A joke is a joke, but this is getting serious — at least to two people I know.

Sgt. Lee Mullins Home from Korea

Sgt. Lee Mullins, husband of the former Alma Dale McFarling of Hereford, arrived in the United States last Monday from Korea. Sgt. Mullins, whose home is in Ellensburg, Wash., has been in Korea since January 12 and has come home on the Army's rotation plan. He served with an engineer unit.

The Mullins are at Ft. Sumner, N. Mex. where the youngsters have been enrolled in school while the sergeant was overseas. They plan to visit Hereford later this month.

Two Attend Funeral Rites for Brother

Mrs. A. G. Bell and Mrs. Nora

Russell were in Texoma Oklahoma Tuesday to attend funeral services held for their brother, W. J. Daniel, 76, who died at the home of his daughter in Spearman Monday following a long illness.

Mr. Daniel had lived in Spearman for the past 10 years and was a member of the Church of Christ. He leaves three children, Roy, of Enid, Okla.; Mrs. Paul Roach of Spearman and Mrs. Reda Rhodes of Mississippi.

Mr. Daniel had visited in Hereford on many occasions and spent some time here with his sisters last spring.

Grandstand Gropings

By Kent Snare

I took a Common Carrier type trip down state last week and encountered among other sundry items a territory quite some drier than our own . . . and incidentally I encountered some firm opinions on last Saturday's football outcomes. . . natural, one of them was prejudiced, since it originated in the environs of Temple, who at that time, was the favorite in the state championship tussle with Breckenridge and who emerged a strongly contested second in a round of two. And I might add that the writer's enforced audition to above comments, inflicted on his personal eardrums at Four A. M., in an eatery devoted to inferior, inedible viands was not conducive to any extenuated support of Temple. . . the consensus of the so-called sages not withstanding. . . To heed the din, Temple couldn't lose and sure enough they did. . . If you want a reason for Lubbock's tight fit with Baytown and I have heard no demand for one, leave me advance one to you and et cetera. . . I saw a heel and from this angle I can advocate a pertinent factor and you can label it Orton. . . Said Orton ran the Split T for Baytown and did just that. . . Even in practice you got the idea he was employing four hands and a pannier. . . He palmed that apple and filled the air with feints to a degree that you speculated whether or not they were using a football or an invisible spheroid. . . And he was a pretty fair, country passer. . . His best prime mover, a twisting jump pass up the slot that was timed to a nicety. . . For corroboration, I refer you to the Lubbocks. . . I suspect, also that Jess Neely and Clyde Lee have taken a bead on this lad. . . and if not, why not, he'll make them a hand even if he does originate in their backyard. . . However LSU's Tinsley may have a bear trap set for him, rumor has it that the Bayou University suburbs extend night onto Philadelphia via Ohio. Said pattern conforming to Tennessee's and Georgia's ideas of adjacent soliciting pastures. . . If you haven't seen a Tennessee roster of recent vintage you should oughta take a gander at one. . . Looks like a Who's Who of Here and There, predominantly there. . . I took a loose glance rundown of the Sporting News All-Pro Football team. . . and as is the popular misconception that it takes twenty two men to constitute a scribe's club, they listed 22 play for payers. . . And I was interested in the sections as listed by the schools they attended and not by their point of first appearance. . . There were 13 from the Midwest; Two from the Big 7; One, Doak Walker, the least hefty at 173, from the Southwest; Two from the East; One from the Northwest; One from the South and Two from the Southeastern Conference. . . The defensive line had one lilliput at 215, the ball-

Bobcats Down Herd Here Monday, 55-37

The Hereford Whitefaces hosted the Dimmitt Bobcats Monday night as Coach John Blaine's cagers trounced back south with a 55-37 victory.

This is the second defeat of the year for Coach Wayne Stark's basketeers.

ham and Mathers were the second high scores with eight apiece.

For Dimmitt, Billy Gregory led the victorious Bobcats with 16 points, followed by Dennis with 11.

Detton, Cummings Win Tag Team Go

Pat O'Dowdy and Leo Wallick were disqualified in the Australian tag team match held Saturday night at the Bull Barn and the decision was handed to Dory Detton and Bob Cummings.

Cummings had taken the first fall from Leo Wallick to give the in 16 minutes with a body press. Bob Cummings and Detroit's Leo Wallick battled to a draw in the second one-fall event of the evening.

All the action came in the tag team match with two referee's calling the action. Matchmaker Guy Lawrence was the third man in the Detton-O'Dowdy go and Joe Detton, Dory's father, called the second.

After the first fall with O'Dowdy on the receiving end of the torturous leg-binder, Wallick and Pat shot the works and wore out their welcome.

"The President's Lady" Stresses Important Christmas For Jacksons

Reviewed by Corinne Jennings

Christmas in the era of Andrew and Rachel Jackson meant big family gatherings, with plenty of food prepared to serve scores of relatives, friends and guests over a period of several days. Irving Stone's new biographical novel, "The President's Lady" stresses one particular Christmas of importance in the lives of the Jacksons.

"At Christmas she (Rachel) helped decorate Johnny's (a nephew) house for the big family party, festooning the walls and windows with holly and berries and clusters of mistletoe. Johnny told her that from every thing he could sense in the papers and the wind, Andrew would be the next president; he then added in a bemused tone:

"Your husband is a very surprising man; his nearest and best friends have found him out."

Rachel thought it was strange way of saying that they had never fully appreciated him.

But she knew that the attaining of the highest office in the land, no matter how efficient and capable Andrew was, it might not be as easy as their friends and followers thought it would be.

Looking back she remembered too much of the past which taught her that "for the Jacksons fulfillment rarely came when anticipated; generally it was achieved later, when it has lost much of its meaning and savor. She recalled how eagerly Andrew had wanted to be appointed governor of Louisiana back in 1804, and how sure everyone was that President Jefferson would give him the appointment; she remembered how terribly he had wanted to be judge of the Mississippi Territory, and how he was certain he was that he would get it; she recalled how he had been kept out of Canada during the War of 1812 by an Administration that was desperate for commanding generals, only to be sent to Natchez and then dismissed without firing a shot."

He had never achieved anything the easy way and why should they expect a smooth passage to this highest office in the land. Until now their very simplest ambitions had taken years of disappointment, frustration and defeat.

To make all this worse for Rachel was the fact that all his troubles and disappointments were because of his marriage to her and his great love for her. She was a divorcee in the days when such was more than frowned on, it was considered a disgrace and even worse.

The conditions and circumstance of the divorce and how it played havoc with her life through no fault of her own makes an intensely interesting story and one that the present generation can read with more understanding and sympathy; (which was one thing that caused the Jacksons at the time to go through their own private hell to get and give legal proof which would clear them, to us of the future, and prove their innocence.)

Rachel tried again and again to make a success of her first marriage even returning after he had put her out of the house forcing her to return to her own people. Each time because of his cruelty and unjustified jealousy of her she was judged wrong by those who did not know the circumstances. His own shortcomings and wrong doings later explained his actions to her, which at the time she was at a lost to understand.

Because of this, a thing she could not help, Rachel was hounded all the rest of her life by their political enemies and otherwise, until it broke her heart and caused her death just when at last Andrew attained the presidency. But they, who so cruelly persecuted the Jacksons, could never destroy Rachel's love for Andrew, nor his love for her.

The author, Irving Stone, is a fine biographical novelist and will be remembered for his other books of this type, "Lust for Life" (Van Gogh); "Immortal Life" (Jessie Bent Fremont); "Adversary in the House" (Eugene V. Debs); and "Passionate Journey" (John Noble). All of these are in the county library along with his newest one according to the librarian, Mrs. Boydston.

Stricter Penalties For Serious Traffic Violations After Jan. 1

Class Enjoys Holiday Party

Mary Elizabeth class of the First Baptist church held its monthly business and social meeting combined with a Christmas Party in the home of Mrs. Ralph McCullough Thursday evening. Mrs. H. D. Goldston was cohostess.

Mrs. Willard Scarth was program chairman and led the group in singing Christmas carols. Mrs. H. D. Goldston gave the prayer.

Sue Scarth sang "Once Upon a Winter Time" accompanied by Shirley Sharpe and the main portion of the program was a review of the book "Bogie" by Fred Seale, given by Mrs. A. L. Manjeot.

Mrs. Roy Calvert, president, conducted the business session during which plans were made to send a cheer basket to a needy family. Gifts were exchanged from a decorated tree.

Refreshments were served from a table which represented a huge Christmas box tied with red ribbon. Three red candles surrounded with bright baubles were placed at one corner of the table. Mrs. Roy Calvert poured.

Those present were: Mesdames Sandofrd Smith, Joe Kendall, John Hacker, Abe Martin, H. E. Miller, Comer Cobb, Willard Scarth, Sank Ramey, W. E. Landrum, Roy Calvert, O. H. Herring, Jeff Roberson, A. L. Manjeot and the hostesses.

Austin — Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, Jr. reminded Texas motorists today that they will be subject to additional and much more stern penalties if they are convicted of serious traffic law violations when the state's new Motor Vehicle Responsibility Law goes into effect on January 1.

If an operator's license is suspended or revoked for violating any traffic law carrying that penalty, under the new Safety Responsibility Law the Texas Department of Public Safety must also suspend the registration of all motor vehicles registered in the name of that person, unless he gives proof of future financial responsibility in the amount of $15,000. The same proof must be furnished and maintained before an operator's license can be reinstated, if it was suspended for violation of a traffic law.

Proof of financial responsibility is also required in the following circumstances:

1. For forfeiting any bail or collateral that was given to secure appearance in court for trial on a charge of violating any law that provides for suspension or revocation of an operator's license upon conviction.

2. For operating a motor vehicle without being legally licensed to do so.

3. For operating an unregistered motor vehicle.

Proof of financial responsibility for the future may be furnished by depositing with the Texas Department of Public Safety a certificate showing ownership of an insurance policy that will cover damage claims resulting from a traffic accident, up to $15,000; by depositing $15,000 in cash or securities with the Department; or by posting bond with the Department in the same amount.

"I think it must be evident to the public by this time that our new Safety Responsibility Law really means business in assuring greater safety and security on our streets and highways," Director Garrison said. "The requirement of permanent proof of financial responsibility is, of course, in addition to the penalties that are provided by the traffic laws themselves. This is one of the provisions of the new law that is going to help us put chronic law violators and accident causers of the road permanently."

Sticking Door
The sticking of a door against the door frame may be caused by loose hinges, settlement of the frame of the house, swelling of the door or frame, or warping of the door. Plane the edges of the door, preferably along the hinge side, since these are easier to remove than the lock. Varnish or paint the freshly-planed edges immediately.

Cigarette Stains
Obstinate cigarette stains can be removed from the fingers by using well-soaped pumice stone and hot water. The lighter stains can be removed with plain lemon juice.

A few small pieces of camphor dropped into the silverware drawer will prevent the silver from tarnishing.

Cleaning Painted Walls
Dampen a soft cloth in warm water, rub on the cloth a small quantity of baking soda, and wash a small part of the wall with this. Then rinse with clean warm water, and wipe dry. Walls cleaned in this way look as if freshly painted.

Community Christmas Program at Frio Planned For Christmas Eve

By Mrs. Owen Andrews

A Christmas program is being planned for the traditional Christmas Eve community event at Frio. Only once, so far as anyone around here can remember, has the event been held on any other night except Christmas Eve. The general opinion has always been that only on THE night, is it proper and fitting for Santa to appear and climax all other festivities. The program being planned will consist of a pageant presented by primary and junior-

State Receives Largest Monthly Draft Call Since March, 1950

AUSTIN — State draft headquarters today received the biggest monthly draft call it has been allocated since March, Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said.

The call, for 2,144 men, is for February 1952, the state allocation of a national quota of 55,000 men. With the exception of three months since March, state calls have been under 1,000 men. The March call was 4,145.

General Wakefield said Texas would not be able to induct any registrants in February under 21 years of age on December 31, 1951, except delinquents or volunteers, without getting authority from national Selective Service headquarters.

On the official notice of call on Texas, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director, stated: "No registrants who are not at least 21 years of age on December 31, 1951, except delinquents or volunteers, should be ordered for induction under this call without prior authority from this headquarters."

"From present indications, it appears that we may have to request national headquarters to give us this authority," General Wakefield said. "Right now it looks as if we might be just short of the amount of older men."

"We are taking into consideration the number of older men we had on hand as of the end of November and the number we are examining and inducting in December. An extra good acceptance rate for older men being examined in December might enable us to make the grade without touching men under 21," General Wakefield said.

"We can't take into consideration men we will examine in January," the state director continued, "as the army in most cases will not have time to give us reports early enough to make inductions effective in February."

General Wakefield explained that draft boards cannot induct any man until 21 days after he is mailed a notice that he is acceptable for service.

The state director compared differences between the January and February calls for induction. He pointed out that the national call for January is 59,650 men and the state share of this quota is 1,471. The national call for February is smaller, 55,000, yet Texas has a larger share for its quota, 2,144.

"This is within regulations," General Wakefield commented. "It is the intent of the law that a surplus of older men in any part of the nation or state be called up first when substantial quantities are known to exist anywhere. We will use the same method in allocating the February call to local boards."

Here's How A Garage 'Grew' in Illinois

How a boxy, unattractive garage apartment in Illinois was expanded into an architecturally pleasing three-bedroom home is reported in Practical Builder magazine.

Major concerns in planning this expansion project were economical construction and easy maintenance. Walls of concrete block are stuccoed. White asbestos siding used on the second floor matches the siding originally used on the garage. The roof of asphalt shingles in a green blend offers pleasing contrast to the white sidewalls, and contributes to the crisp, clean appearance of this modern home.

Concrete, asbestos and asphalt provide economical, fire-safe construction in this home expansion project. The new roof of asphalt shingles in a green blend provides color contrast with the white sidewalls.

This project illustrates the possibilities inherent in many smaller homes for economical modernization and expansion to provide the comforts and conveniences of new construction, but at less cost.

Model Conservation Program in East Texas Described in Magazine

AUSTIN — A model conservation program, centered in East Texas, is described in the December issue of TEXAS GAME and FISH magazine.

Theron D. Carroll, the author, tells how a group of landowners, sportsmen, school people, and business and professional men are cooperating with county, state and federal agencies in a program of wildlife restoration and management.

Carroll, Supervisor of Conservation Education for the Game and Fish Commission, writes: "In this particular area, referred to geographically as Houston county, biologists have found all of the natural essentials to provide food and game mammal of Texas — the white-tailed deer. The natural habitat is also suitable for squirrels, bobwhite quail and possibly wild turkeys. Turkeys have long been driven from this area; bobwhite has done well on a few protected sites; the squirrel crop comes and goes; and the few deer in the area have, according to natives, infiltrated from surrounding counties."

Carroll reports that, while conditions were suitable, there was no wildlife. "The people reasoned wisely that perhaps in the human element could be found the missing link," he continues.

"Then they began to see that if the people in the area did not recognize the role of wildlife in the community and did not make provisions for the wise use, management or, if you prefer, the conservation of wildlife, they could never expect Houston County to produce the game in sufficient quantity for the full utilization of this natural habitat."

Carroll relates how enabling legislation permits the Game and Fish Commission to join with the United States government in protecting and managing wildlife resources in the Davy Crockett National Forest where the model undertaking is located.

"Conservation education," Carroll writes, "is being introduced in the classrooms in such a way that boys and girls are taught the interdependence of man and the natural resources such as soil, water, forest, minerals and wildlife." He cites the Crockett Chapter of the Future Farmers of America as typifying the interest shown in this vital demonstration of cooperative effort.

Hunting Fines Down During Past Month

AUSTIN, — Texas Game and Fish Commission said a 25 per cent drop in law enforcement cases for November under the same month last year "probably shows better sportsmanship."

The total cases for November, 1950, was 443 with fines and court costs aggregating $12,207.58. The total for November, 1951, was 332 cases with fines and court costs aggregating $10,055.20.

The Chief Clerk observed that the decrease was shown despite an increased number of enforcement officials and normally improved law enforcement facilities over last fall.

"We hope the showing reflects a better attitude among hunters and fishermen," said the Chief Clerk. "Of course, there still is room for improvement."

Items in the monthly arrest report for November include the usual violations:

No hunting license, 65; no fishing license, 20; killing ducks in closed season, 28; hunting deer at night, 17; killing doves in closed season, 12; pollution, 11; hunting from an automobile, 10; killing doe deer, 9; killing deer in closed season, 7; headlight deer, 6; killing wild plover, 5; illegal shrimp trawl, 5; killing doves after or before legal hour, 4; hunting with unplugged gun, 4; possession of deer with evidence of sex removed, 3; untagged deer, 3; killing squirrels in closed season, 3; killing doe antelope, 3; netting in closed water, 3; shooting doves with rifle, 2; hunting on game preserve, 2; hunting after conviction, 2; exceeding bag limit on ducks, 1; refusing to show license, 1; killing spike buck deer, 1, and trapping quail, 1.

7 Texas 4-H'ers Win National Honors

HIGHEST honors were accorded seven Texas 4-H Club members recently when they were named national winners in their respective programs. Accomplishment, personal achievement and participation in club and community activities were all considered when their records were judged. Pictured here are the champions in the National 4-H Clothing, Food Preparation, Beautification of Home Grounds, Field Crops, Dairy Foods Demonstration, Farm and Home Safety and Tractor Maintenance programs.

Yolanda M. Ellis, 16, Plainview, winner in the 4-H Clothing Program, in six years of club work made 80 garments, 41 articles, five hats, eight bags and one pair of gloves, exhibited at 31 local, county and state shows to win many blue ribbons and $148.75 in prizes. One costume was made from an old tan woolen plaid coat and a pair of tan woolen trousers and displayed with accessories in the local fabric mart window. The Spool Cotton Co. provided Yolanda's $300 college scholarship award.

Food Preparation champion Mary Ann Goertz, 17, Red Rock, has planned, prepared and served 5,875 meals in eight years. She was state cherry pie winner in 1950 and this year represented Texas in the national contest in Chicago. She served as chairman of the 4-H Camp Foods Committee, planning menus, buying food and coordinating work. She managed a county-wide 4-H supper, serving 100 plates in 30 minutes. Mary Ann received a $300 college scholarship from Kelvinton.

Outstanding work in 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds won a trip to Club Congress, donated by Mrs. Charles B. Walgreen, for Leon M. Langford, 16, of Farmers County. He began his four year beautification program by cleaning up unsightly trash left from building a new home. He made an outdoor fireplace and lawn chairs for picnicking. Landscaping included a rock garden and a rose trellis entrance to the garden which contains every flower in his locality. Leon won the county beautification award in 1948, 1949 and 1950, and the state award in 1950.

Ray J. Riley, 16, of Hart, a certified seed grower since he was 13, was named National 4-H Field Crops winner. Ray grows certified grain sorghums, broom corn, sweet sorghum, grass sorghum, rice, oats, barley and wheat. He also grows state registered grain sorghums to sell to other certified growers. His yield of 2,110 per acre of sweet sudan was the greatest ever raised in Texas, the previous record being 2,000 pounds per acre. International Harvester Co. is the donor of a $300 college scholarship for Ray.

Agnes A. Warren, 17, Waco, a six year club member, has lived on a dairy farm all her life, and her family has long realized the value of dairy products in the diet. For her work in 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration Agnes was awarded a trip to National Club Congress by Carnation Company. Her latest accomplishment is to make and serve cottage cheese in various combinations with fruits and vegetables. She gave a team demonstration on this subject six times to an audience of 2,025.

Billy Whitte, 17, Muenster, gave special attention to farm and home safety during his seven years in 4-H, but not until his home burned did he systematically check fire hazards. With three other boys he distributed 500 farm safety sheets in Gainesville during Farm Safety Week. More than four hundred boys checked homes against a Hazard sheet as a result of four radio talks and three safety displays Billy made. General Motors was the donor of his $300 college scholarship.

Adam T. Wolf, 16, Gainesville, also won a $300 college scholarship for excellence in his Tractor Maintenance project. Through neglect one of the family tractors broke down during threshing and eight hours of valuable time was lost, impressing upon Adam the importance of proper maintenance. Later, due to threatened rain, a tractor had to be kept running all day and into the night to prevent a heavy loss in grain harvesting. One of Adam's services in the club was to help plan and conduct a tractor clinic for younger boys. Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. donated his award.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Wesley Cox is helping Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Rutherford move to Buhl, Idaho. He was accompanied on this trip by his young son, George.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Turner of Hereford assisted Henry Turner at Dawn Mercantile last Saturday.

Winners of prizes at the drawing at Dawn Mercantile on Saturday were: J. E. Dudley, H. R. Stewart, Ted Richardson, Vergie Calloway, J. F. Matthews, Cecil Payne, and W. C. Huff.

Among those attending the teachers dinner at the Shirley school last Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corder, Mr. and Mrs. Christman, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bruner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Grimes were hosts at a dinner given by a utility company at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carathers on Friday evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Airhart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corder, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brown, Lloyd Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carathers, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Grimes.

Mrs. Melvin May was hostess at the Dawn Music clubs Christmas program at her home last Tuesday afternoon. Twelve members were present.

The Dawn Home Demonstration club held its Christmas program and an exchange of gifts in the home of Mrs. Johnnie B. Caraway on Friday afternoon of last week.

OPS Acts To Relieve Shortage of Livestock Feed By Price Increase

The Office of Price Stabilization has moved to relieve the critical situation facing livestock growers and feed dealers in Texas, Oklahoma and other southwestern states caused by local shortages of cottonseed meal, hulls, cake and pellets.

Alfred L. Seelye, OPS Regional Director, said that the revision of supplementary regulation 31 to the general ceiling price regulation is expected to alleviate shortages by permitting dealers to add to their cottonseed feed ceilings actual increases in transportation costs, caused by bringing in feed from other parts of the country. This should result, he said, in dealers being able to build up their feed stock to take care of their customers without undue financial hardship.

Growers have been feeding a record number of livestock much earlier and heavier than usual. Seelye said, due to the lack of hay and grass caused by drought conditions and insect infestation. Despite the fact that there is no actual shortage of cotton seed in the cotton producing areas, mills operating at capacity have been unable to crush seed fast enough for the huge demand.

Local stocks of cottonseed feed products in the hands of dealers largely have been depleted, according to the OPS Regional Director, creating a situation which could result in a reduction of the beef and lamb supply, since many animals might be sent to market too soon.

Price ceilings on cottonseed feed generally are established on local production with moderate, or in some cases, no freight charges included.

However, Seelye said, many southwestern feed dealers now are forced to obtain their supplies from surplus feed areas, principally the southeastern states, resulting in large increases in transportation costs.

Under the OPS emergency adjustment, effective until May 1, 1952, dealers can add the difference between these increased costs and the average of feed transportation costs during the base period of December 18, 1950 to January 25, 1951, to the retail ceiling price of each quantity of feed they have purchased.

Although his neighbors scoff at him, the shoemaker, a one-time deeply religious man whose faith had been shattered by tragedy, goes about his business making certain that this day, above all, he is kind to those about him. A surprise realization that God is with him every day and in every endeavor he undertakes.
Designed to appeal to peoples of all religions, "The Guest" is a strong plea for faith in God and the fostering of universal human kindness.
