Council discusses prison plan

Economic advantages of having a state prison in Deaf Smith County and expense of seeking a prison were reviewed briefly Monday by the Hereford City Commission in preparation for a joint meeting with other governmental entities today.

During the special noon meeting, the commission also approved a policy for investment of city funds, in accordance with state law.

Opening the discussion on the possibility of obtaining a correctional institution here, City Manager Chester Nolen said an application must be filed by Jan. 15.

The state requires a site of 320 acres, with no more than a foot "fall" in the property, as well as utilities such as telephone, water, gas, electricity and sewer.

Mayor Tom LeGate estimated that the "up front" expense of these requirements could be more than $1 million for the community.

A meeting was scheduled for 3 p.m. today for representatives of the city, Deaf Smith County, Hereford Independent School District and Deaf Smith Hospital District to discuss the possibilities.

Nolen said that time is a primary problem because the "full package" must be prepared by the Jan. 15 application deadline.

'We have to remember, too, that the state will not reimburse for any of the expense (site, etc.)," Nolen

Representatives from cities that have pursued prison sites successfully have been asked to give an overview of the situation in their communities, Nolen said. A leader in the Lamesa effort, Dave Nix, has accepted the invitation to talk to the Hereford

Depending on the size of a prison, the annual payroll could amount to $4 million, or more, Nolen said. Other benefits would accrue through real estate development and retail business, he said.

The investment policy provides that city funds be placed in short-term investments with full collateral and liquidity.

Although the two-item agenda for the special meeting did not include discussion of the city-owned golf course. Commissioner Emory Brownlow said he would like the commission to reconsider some aspects of future operations.

"I think we should offer operation of the pro shop to a pro," Brownlow said, "instead of the city being in business".

Nolen said the agenda for the next regular commission meeting will include discussion of golf course operation. The commission's regular meeting will be next Monday.

County agrees to construct road

By GEORGIA TYLER Staff Writer

A road deal was struck Monday between Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court and residents of an area off Austin Road, southeast of Hereford.

Commissioners agreed to build and maintain just over a half-mile of road if the right-of-way is donated.

Approval also was given for the county to participate in a program designed to serve families with runaway or truant youth.

Kay Mares of Texas Rural Legal Aid appeared on behalf of clients living in the area, about four miles southeast of Hereford. She said children must walk in mud in bad weather and no roadway for emergency vehicles is available.

"I want to make sure that the county can take over a road, if the easement is obtained," said Mares.

Commissioner John Stribling of Precinct One, in which the area is located, told Mares and about a dozen others interested in the road, "I have no problem with building the road but we need right-of-way 50 feet wide part of the way, then 70 feet."

County Judge Tom Simons said that even if the road is built, there is no guarantee that school buses or emergency vehicles could travel it in bad weather.

Stribling said the county will need right-of-way for 2,900 feet of roadway south from Austin Road. The road would be built just east of the Austin Road crossing of Frio Draw, and is just west of County Road EE.

Mares indicated that work would begin immediately to obtain the needed right-of-way.

A representative of Catholic Family Services of Amarillo spoke to commissioners about a program funded by the Texas Department of Human Services aimed at reducing truancy and runaways in the 10 to 17-year-old age group.

Cheryl Aiken told the court that TDHS contracted the service with Catholic Family Services for Deaf Smith County. A counselor would be employed for 15 to 20 hours per week to work with youth and their families.

An office and telephone must be provided by the county or other entity, she said.

Youth accepted in the program must not have been through the judicial system, Aiken said. The purpose is to address problems of juveniles and their families to prevent or reduce the incidence of truancy and runaways. Commissioners agreed to cooperate on the project and look for office quarters for the counsel-

Christmas parties highlight promotions higher prices, he said.

Christmas baking and holiday parties will be in the spotlight of December supermarket promotions, according to an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The emphasis will shift from the Thanksgiving turkey to baking goods such as sugar, flour, dough products, and pre-made pie crusts," said Dr. Dick Edwards.

Turkeys will e sold at 39 cents to 49 cents per pound, up from the Thanksgiving discounts of 19 cents a pound, Edwards said.

"You'll see more emphasis placed on serving these meats for the holidays instead of the traditional turkey dinner," he said. Ground beef in 5-pound, prepackaged "chubs" should be offered at 99 cents per pound. Prices on chuck and shoulder roasts should be from $1.30 to $1.70 per pound for bone-in cuts, he said.

Higher-quality cuts such as boneless rib roasts also should be discounted, he said.

You also should see a big push on ham, but the traditional bone-in ham will still be down to around $1 a pound."

Another non-traditional Christmas entree will, be promoted during December, he said. Consumers could find sale prices of $3.50 per pound on medium-count shrimp, he said. Some vegetables could be in short supply during December, Edwards "I guess the bad news is on the vegetable front with the whitefly infestation in California's Imperial Valley. That cut into the winter supplies of lettuce, melons, cucumbers and squash." Damage to winter vegetables alone is estimated at $62 million thus far this year, said Ray Prewett, executive vice president of the Texas Vegetable Association.

Cooler fall weather is beginning to set the pest back somewhat in California, but harvested head lettuce acreage is expected to be down 20 percent from the 39,000 acres last season, said Dick Dillon, Imperial county agriculture commissioner. Produce packers in California are suggesting that prices for lettuce could be back to $1 a head in December.

'What consumers don't understand is that this market is very 'thin,'" Edwards said. "Even a little fluctuation is production can cause major fluctuation in prices.

Texas citrus will be scarce in supermarkets. "For all practical purposes, there is none," he said.

However, fruit such as early peaches and grapes coming in from chile in late December will be a boon to the consumer, he said, and sale prices should average from 59 to 69 cents per pound.

Herd loses opener, 55-52

Hereford's varsity boys basketball team jumped out to an early lead, then suffered a slow second quarter that spelled the difference in a 55-52 loss to Lubbock Coronado at Levelland on Saturday.

The game was the Herd's season opener for 1991-92. Coronado went to 2-0 after the win.

Leo Brown led Hereford with 18 points before fouling out in the fourth quarter. He was the only person in double figures for the Herd.

Hereford jumped out to an 8-0 lead to start the game, and led 22-17 at the end of the first quarter. Both teams suffered through a slow second quarter, but Coronado fared a little better and tied the score at 26 at halftime. Hereford's only points came on a three-pointer by Richard Sanderson and a free throw by Kyle Hansen.

In the third period, Coronado's Michael Scott hit four straight threepoint field goals to stake the Mustangs to a 42-39 lead after three periods.

"we had some breakdowns. especially on defense," said Hereford coach Jimmy Thomas. "We can remedy those. The hustle was there for us, but we still have to work on our offensive and defensive execution.

"We need to work on our rebounding in places, too. They had 3-4 shots on 3-4 possessions in a row, and that is too much." The Herd outrebounded the Mustangs, 35-26, for the game. Derek Mason was the leading rebounder with 15.

The Rebels will return several key players from last season's championship ballclub.

"It's going to be tough for us," Hereford coach Dickie Faught said Monday. "We improved some Friday over our first game against Brownfield, and we're going to look to improve some more against Tascosa. We just have to keep working.

Both the boys' game at Plainview and the girls' game at Tascosa will be preceded by junior varsity contests.

The Hereford freshman boys teams earned their second wins of the year Saturday in games against Valleyview.

The "B" team took a 51-41 overtime win, while the "A" squad, led by Benton Buckley's 22 points, earned a 61-48 win.

Bono sounded properly modest after the finest game of his mostly obscure seven-year NFL career.

"Right now I say the same thing I always say - I have to go back and look at the films. I did some good things, I did some bad things. But it was a great win for us," he said.

Bono, San Francisco's third-string quarterback, did some very good things in the first half of the 49ers' 33-10 victory over the Los Angeles Rams on Monday night.

NEW YORK (AP) - The Rolling Stones have signed a three-album deal with Virgin Records for a reported $45 million - one of the richest recording contracts in history.

Under the contract signed Wednesday, the Stones will produce the albums beginning in 1993. Virgin will also assume rights to the 17 Stones albums since 1971, from "Sticky Fingers" to their latest, "Flashpoint."

The Stones' current label is Columbia Records, whose parent is Sony Inc.

The Los Angeles Times, citing unidentified sources, said today the deal is worth $45 million. Virgin Records spokeswoman Sue Sawyer would not comment on the report.

Other major deals reported this year include Michael Jackson signing with Sony for about $65 million, sister Janet Jackson signing with Virgin for up to $50 million and Aerosmith agreeing to a $37 million pact with Sony.

Sinusitis season brings misery | Ask Dr. Lamb

Millions of Americans can add sinusitis to the list of afflictions that may strike them this flu and cold season.

The misery of clogged sinuses can even be life-threatening to some people if not treated says an ear, nose and throat specialist at Baylor college of Medicine in Houston.

"It's very rare, but certain individuals can die form complications, such as abscesses of the brain," said Dr. Marcelle Sulek, an assistant professor of otorhinolaryngology at Baylor. "So, while for the majority, it is a bothersome and sometimes painful ordeal, sinusitis should be taken seriously.

Sinusitis is an inflammation of the membrane lining the facial sinuses, the air-filled cavities in the bones surrounding the nose. Commonly, the sinuses between the eyes (ethmoidal) and in the cheekbones (maxillary) are affected.

Most sinusitis is caused by infection spreading to the sinuses

"It is extremely common," Sulek said. "And for most people, medications are available for treatment."

Early symptoms of sinusitis include a feeling of tension or fullness in the affected area, and sometimes a throbbing ache. It may also result in a stuffy nose and a loss of the sense of smell.

Antibiotics should be prescribed immediately to combat the infection. Sinusitis sufferers should see a physician no later than one week after onset of the symptoms, since early treatment can prevent complications.

Over-the-counter decongestants can often relieve the stuffiness by reducing the inflammation of the see a physician who specializes in the sinus membranes and restoring disorder. For more severe cases, surgical drainage may be necessary. Sulek recommends sufferers see an otorhinolaryngologist if the symptoms--particularly non-drainage or facial pain--persists.

Recently I was put on prednisone, which has helped. I am taking one 5 mg tablet of prednisone every day. Will this dosage cause any side effects, and how long a period of time is it safe to take it?

DEAR READER: There is a lot of concern about the use of the various steroids to treat medical problems. The adrenal steroids are not the same thing at all as the anabolic steroids abused by some athletes who want big, strong muscles. Those steroids are related to the male hormone testosterone. The adrenal gland also produces steroids of a different kind, called cortisol. The first synthetic and more pure form of this hormone to be developed is cortisone.

Today, the most commonly used adrenal steroid as a medicine is prednisone. It is a synthetic hormone related to cortisone, but it has less of a tendency to cause a person to retain salt and water. One of its most important actions is to suppress inflammation. That is why it is used in so many diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis, and in asthma, which is also an inflammatory disorder.

These hormones got their bad reputation originally because large doses were used in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. But with the newer preparations, such as prednisone, and small doses, these undesirable side effects can be avoided. Current thinking by many authorities is that small doses of prednisone in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis are safer than the commonly used aspirin-type medicines in the amounts of those medications needed to control pain.

Usually 7.5 mg a day or less of prednisone is safe on a long-term basis. Your dose of 5 mg should be safe as long as you need to use it. I have discussed the use of these hormones as a medicine in Special Issue 34-04, Your Vital Adrenal Steroids (Corticosteroids), which I'm sending you.
