United Way volunteers are beginning to make their rounds for the 1992 fund-raising campaign, and we urge businesses to allow the volunteers to make their presentations to employees.

This could be a key to Deaf Smith County reaching its goal. Instead of a single $5 or $10 donation by an employee, a pledge for $5 a month by a large number of employees could go a long way in putting the drive over the top. The important thing for all of us to remember is that we're contributing to 12 agencies, not just one!

Listening to someone recite poetry is not high on my list of things to do. But I found a new appreciation for poetry while attending the Cowboy Symposium in Ruidoso this past weekend. It took the listener on a trip back in time to those days when entertainment was centered around campfires, storytelling and singing cowboy songs.

We were in Ruidoso with five other couples from Hereford and the group attended part of the Symposium as well as a western show at the Flying J Ranch. The second annual Old Lincoln County Cowboy Symposium featured more than 35 well-known singers, musicians, poets and storytellers from throughout the country. The event was expected to attract some 8,000 visitors over a four-day period. It drew 6,000 last year and it will probably get bigger and better each year.

The Cowboy Symposium was just part of the attraction over the weekend. It was also Aspenfest time, and there was a Aspencade Square Dance program that attracted dancers from Hereford and the area. There were also arts and crafts exhibits at the symposium and the Aspenfest celebration.

The Cowboy Symposium featured such stars as Johnny Gimble and Former Texas Playboys, poet Waddie Mitchell, and Don Edwards, known as America's Cowboy Troubadour. The special western show was great entertainment. The Flying J Ranch is a tourist attraction located a few miles north of Ruidoso. The Flying J Wranglers serve up a chuckwagon supper and perform western music each evening from mid-May to Labor Day, but it was our first time to see the show.

If you like western music and tales of the old West, we'd recommend the weekend trip as great entertainment and something to consider for next October.

The Hereford Whitefaces start District 1-4A action here Friday night when they take on the strong Pampa Harvesters. It should be a great contest, as both teams lost their first games of the season last week and will be fired up to get back on the winning track.

The Harris Ratings have Pampa as a two-point favorite. Harris probably didn't take into account the tremendous support the Herd will get with the home game. Let's pack the stadium and boost the Herd to victory!

Dousing the flames

Elaine Taylor, a registered nurse at Deaf Smith General Hospital, puts out a fire with an extinguisher while getting tips from Kenneth Cook. A special school on how to use fire extinguishers was held Tuesday at DSGH as part of National Fire Prevention Week.

DSGH holds special fire safety classes

Deaf Smith General Hospital observed National Fire Prevention Week by holding its annual training session on fire extinguishers Tuesday. All employees will participate in the annual demonstration, but fire safety is almost a daily procedure, says Kenneth Cook, fire safety officer for the hospital. He explains that part of DSGH's standard procedure is to hold a monthly fire drill which is unannounced and conducted on different shifts. Another test is conducted weekly--a test of the emergency generators which are on within seconds if there is an interruption of power for any reason.

"Regular visual checks of electronic systems and equipment is part of our safety procedure," said Cook. "We check everything that has fire potential--electric cords and plugs, tv sets, and even the nurse call systems. If patients bring in personal items, such as hair dryers, we check those, too."

Cook noted one humorous episode when a patient had brought in a personal item: "We found a miniature car race track set up under the bed. Unfortunately, this violated several safety standards and it had to be removed. The patient was disappointed but he understood that the set had to be removed."

All hospital equipment is monitored and has an electrical check performed every three months by the engineering department. Procedures for fire safety are outlined in the "Policy and Procedure Manual" with which every employee is familiar.

J.W. (Jap) Dickerson, supervisor of the engineering and maintenance department, is a former fire safety official himself. He is also an instructor for the Texas A&M Fire School and a retired chief of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department.

The hospital is constructed with metal wall joints. The plaster walls, patient room doors and hallway doors are fire-retardant, as are the ceilings, the paint and the wallpaper.

"Each department works together for the safety of the patient and the building," Cook said. "Our function in the maintenance and engineering department is primarily to make sure that the building is safe and equipment is operating safely so that the medical staff and nursing staff can take care of the needs of the patient."

Annual 'Otonofest' celebration Sunday in Dameron Park

Music, food and games will be featured at Dameron Park on Sunday as part of the Otonofest Celebration.

Otono is the Spanish word for autumn.

This year's celebration is a joint effort by St. Anthony's and San Jose Catholic churches. In the past, San Jose has been the sole sponsor, but St. Anthony's has joined in as part of a greater cooperative effort between the two parishes.

Games will include bingo, dart throw, putt-putt golf, glass toss, hair and face painting, sucker pull, "wheel of fortune," cake walk, fish pond, pumpkin stand, balloons, goldfish and a ninja turtle catapult.

Food booths will feature taquitos, tamales, fajitas, gorditas, turkey legs, german sausage, hamburgers, hot dogs, Frito pie, stuffed potatoes, cakes, pies, popcorn and cotton candy.

There will be live music throughout the afternoon featuring local groups Animacion, The Moon Dogs, Blue Sage and mariachis.

Petition presented for special early balloting

Lottery opponents ask for Sunday vote

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

A petition calling for opening polls on a Sunday for early voting in the Nov. 5 Constitutional amendment election was filed Tuesday with Deaf Smith County Clerk David Ruland.

The primary target of the Sunday early voting hours petition is defeat of Proposition 11, which would allow a lottery in Texas.

Signed by 15 residents who are registered voters, the petition was turned in by the Rev. Ron Cook, pastor of First Baptist Church.

The petition asks for polls to be open "before and after morning church services on Sunday, Oct. 27."

Ruland, chief elections officer for the county, said law requires him to honor the petition but gives him the flexibility to choose the date and hours.

"I have the option on dates, but not days," Ruland explained. "I have to open on a Sunday but I can select the date."

However, Ruland said he expects to open the polls on the date requested, Oct. 27, but will hold off making a decision on hours.

"I have to post notice 72 hours in advance and I may wait until Oct. 23 to decide on the hours," he added.

The petition was filed by the Hereford minister in an effort to encourage voters to mark ballots against the proposed lottery amendment.

"My main interest is the lottery issue," said Cook, adding that he attended a meeting of Texans Who Care in Amarillo last week and learned that petitions could be filed calling for polls to be open on weekends.

Texans Who Care is an organization opposed to gambling in the state and was active in the parimutuel betting and horse racing issue a few years ago.

Cook said Oct. 27 is the date selected for his petition because "that is high attendance day for Texas Baptists."

He added, "That would give folks a good opportunity to vote."

Since Texas enacted legislation allowing voters to cast ballots prior to election day without offering specific reasons, early voting affords a greater opportunity for voting.

Cook observed that "there are lots of courthouses that will be open on Oct. 27" and reminded that "there are other issues on the ballot."

The election ballot lists 13 proposals for amending the Texas Constitution.

Besides Proposition 11 which would authorize the lottery, a controversial proposal to authorize issuing $300 million in bonds for student loans is listed, No. 13.

Early voting begins on Oct. 16 and closes at 5 p.m. on Nov. 1, Ruland said.

Signatures on the petition filed by Cook were verified as registered voters in Deaf Smith County, he said.

The county clerk said he hopes to get some idea of response he could expect for voting on Sunday before he sets the hours.

"We'll have to put employees on overtime and I need to have an idea of how many we can expect on a Sunday," he continued.

"If you invite people to a party, you want to know if they're coming," Ruland said.

Thomas vote stalled by harassment charge

WASHINGTON (AP) - Clarence Thomas, stalled just shy of confirmation to the Supreme Court, faces an uncertain future in the Senate as lawmakers investigate charges that he sexually harassed a former assistant. Both Thomas and accuser Anita Hill pledged cooperation with the probe.

"This is not going to be an easy hearing," Judiciary Committee Chairman Joseph Biden said Tuesday after a day of drama in the Senate in which Thomas "totally and unequivocally" denied the allegations, Democratic support for the nomination eroded and the Senate agreed to a one-week delay.

With the vote put off until next Tuesday, Biden, D-Del., said the FBI would be called to investigate, and witnesses would be subpoenaed if necessary for a hearing.

President Bush and Senate Republicans rallied around Thomas, a black, conservative federal appeals judge - and sought to limit the scope of the renewed confirmation proceedings.

"This is a test for Clarence Thomas," Senate GOP leader Bob Dole of Kansas said. "It's a test of his character, and I believe he's up to the test."

Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., Thomas' chief advocate in the Senate, said he hoped there would be no "fishing expedition" or chance for "people to come forward with whatever they want to dump on Clarence Thomas."

Thomas' chances for confirmation in a scheduled Tuesday evening vote evaporated in the face of concern over the allegations by Hill, a University of Oklahoma law professor.

Hill has alleged that after she refused his request for a date, Thomas made sexually inappropriate comments, including descriptions of pornographic movies, when they worked together a decade ago.

Carlsons host farm tour

Local Roundup Community council sets meeting

The 222nd Judicial District Community Justice Council will meet Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. in the District Courtroom in Hereford. The agenda includes an introduction by District Judge David Wesley Gulley, adoption of CJC by-laws, appointment of an executive committee and task force, and a meeting schedule.

Sophomore supper is Friday

The sophomore class at Hereford High School will host a brisket supper from 5-7 p.m. Friday at the Hereford Junior High School cafeteria. Brisket and the trimmings will be served for $4 per person. Takeout plates will be an additional 50 cents. Proceeds will benefit class projects.

Deputies find submerged vehicle

Deaf Smith County sheriff's deputies arrested a man, 17, on warrants for no driver's license and failure to appear. Deputies recovered a stolen vehicle from a tailwater pit northwest of Hereford. The vehicle had been reported stolen earlier in the day.

Reports to Hereford police on Tuesday included a suspicious vehicle in the 100 block of Campbell; assault by threat in the 300 block of S. Texas and in the 400 block of Ave. B; tampering with mail in the 400 block of Ave. G; a strange telephone call in the 400 block of E. First; and theft of a wallet in the 500 block of Ave. J.

Police issued 18 citations Tuesday.

Hereford volunteer firefighters responded to a minor vehicle fire in front of the post office on Tuesday.

Fair weather through weekend

Tonight, clear with a low in the upper 40s. Light and variable wind. Thursday, sunny with a high around 80. Variable wind 5 to 10 mph, becoming southwest during the afternoon.

The extended forecast for Friday through Sunday: mostly clear. Lows in the mid 40s to around 50. Highs in the upper 70s to lower 80s. This morning's low at KPAN was 52 after a high Tuesday of 89.

Thomas opponents force extension

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate's center swinging doors flew open and in marched the major domos of the Republican Party, wearing long faces: John Danforth, Arlen Specter, Alan Simpson, Bob Dole.

They'd reached a decision. They were about to throw in the towel. They would cave. They would let Clarence Thomas' opponents have more time to fight his nomination. They felt they had no choice.

The business of the Senate is conducted in the Senate, but its bargains are made elsewhere.

Danforth - tall, distinguished, Episcopal priest, Ralston-Purina heir and Thomas' chief sponsor - came to the Senate to wave the white flag of surrender. It was midafternoon.

Paul Wellstone, a curly-haired freshman Democrat from Minnesota, was making a speech on the Thomas nomination.

"All too often," he was saying, "when we raise the question of sexual harassment, we are ignored."

But Wellstone faded away. Danforth seized the moment. He shoved his hands in his pocket and rocked on his heels.

"The situation before us," he said, simply enough, "is as follows. This whole confirmation process has been turned into the worst kind of sleazy political campaign."

Over the weekend, someone had leaked Anita Hill's allegations about X-rated movies and X-rated talk by her old boss, Thomas, now a nominee for a lifetime Supreme Court seat.

Fighting her word with his, Danforth produced a statement from Thomas swearing it wasn't true. He produced photocopies of handwritten telephone logs jotted down by Thomas secretaries, everything blacked out except 10 calls over six years from Anita Hill.

"Just called to say hello," said one entry. "Sorry she didn't get to see you last weekend."

The point was that a cordial relationship had been maintained. Here was a sworn and subscribed statement from one Carlton R. Stewart, who worked with them both: "At no time did I hear any complaints from Ms. Hill concerning sexual harassment."

Here was Stanley Grayson's affidavit. Last month he met Hill at a convention in Atlanta. She talked about Thomas' nomination "and stated that, 'he deserved it.'" She said nothing about sexual harassment.

Hundreds of copies of these papers flooded the Senate.

"I don't think there should be a delay," said Danforth, his voice husky. "This poor guy has been tortured enough."

But he had gotten a call from Thomas. "He said to me on the phone, 'I have to clear my name. I have to restore what they have taken from me. I have to appear before the appropriate forum and clear my name."

And so Danforth would accept a delay. The 6 p.m. vote would be put off.

Bob Dole, the Republican leader, took over. He had a more pragmatic reason. He wasn't sure he had the votes.

"What do we want to find out from this man that we don't already know?" he thundered.

But, Dole said, he figured he had 41 votes for Thomas, 41 against, 18 undecided. Too risky. Seven Democrats who said they would vote for Thomas had made their way to the Senate to suggest a postponement.

Dole needed them, so he gave them their delay.

Four hours later, offstage, the deal was struck.

Harassment victims often find allegations cause new troubles

By LISA LEVITT RYCKMAN
AP National Writer

It began with a touch. A wink. A smile. An offhand remark.

Kathy Davis' boss rubbed the back of her neck and grabbed her around the waist. Her skin was so soft, he said. Her hair smelled so nice. He loved her perfume.

Davis wanted to keep her job. She also wanted to keep her dignity. She realized she could not have both.

"I knew if I blew the whistle, he would terminate my employment," she said on Tuesday. "He had so much power. I knew what would happen."

It is no mystery to Davis why Anita Hill waited so long to come forward with allegations that she was harassed by Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas when they both worked for the U.S. Education Department and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission in the early 1980s.

USDA is seeking comments on whether the acreage reduction percentage should be 5, 10, 15 or some other percentage within the proposed range.

USDA has estimated planted acreage, production, domestic and export use, ending stocks, program participation rates and deficiency payments for three ARP levels. The tables estimating the impacts of each of the reduction levels are available for review in the Deaf Smith County ASCS office at 317 W. Third.

Comments on the 1992 Upland Cotton program should be mailed to the Director, Commodity Analysis Division, USDA/ASCS, Room 37140S, PO Box 2415, Washington, DC 20013.

EPA taking comment on wetlands manual

The Environmental Protection Agency is receiving public comment on proposed changes to the federal manual for wetlands delineation. Comments received during the comment period, scheduled to end Tuesday, will be used to form final rules for wetland delineation.

Several areas (playa lakes in particular) have been delineated as wetlands. Producers who have wetlands on their farms and ranches are currently operating under a farm operating plan prepared according to the Food and Security Act. Changes in EPA regulations will impact these plans.

So far, comments received have been 35 opposed and 1 for the proposed changes. Those opposed to

"This is going to ruin her life," said Davis, who has been dismissed from a number of jobs by employers who learn of her harassment lawsuit, which was settled last year. "She is a very strong and courageous lady. I believe every word she says."

Many others apparently do not. Thomas vehemently denied the charges. The White House dismissed them as a smear. Hill came forward only after other associates at the EEOC brought the allegations to the Senate, and much has been made of the timing.

But women who have had similar experiences, or work with women who have, understand completely.

"We hear from women every day, women whose lives are destroyed by sexual harassment," said Barbara Otto, spokeswoman for 9 to 5, an advocacy group representing working women. "Not only does the woman have the potential to lose her job, but once she comes forward, she could lose her relationship with her spouse or other loved ones. She loses her self-esteem. She is degraded and shamed.

"Society still points the finger at the victim: What did you do to bring this on? It's your fault."

Kathy Davis filed a complaint with the EEOC in 1985, while Clarence Thomas headed the agency. She was fired a month later. In the next five years, she nearly lost her husband and her health.

"Physically and mentally, I had taken all I could," said the Atlanta woman, now 39.

If she had it to do again, Davis is not sure she would, and that reaction is typical. A recent survey showed that 42 percent of women say they have been harassed on the job, but only one in 10 chooses to file a complaint.

Hereford's Jennifer Hicks spikes for a kill--one of her two which were Hereford's first two points of Tuesday's match with Caprock. The Lady Whitefaces won 15-6, 15-6.

Netters edged by Canyon

The Hereford High School tennis team's girls dominated Canyon's girls, but not quite as much as Canyon's boys dominated Hereford's boys, and Hereford lost the team tennis match 10-8.

The two teams played the non-district match Tuesday at Whiteface Courts in Hereford.

While the Hereford boys were swept in straight sets, the Hereford girls won all but one of their nine matches. In the top singles pairing, Hereford's Bri Reinauer fell to Tara Van Doren 6-0, 6-4.

Otherwise, Hereford won them all: Robyn Sublett def. Erin Metcalf 2-6, 6-2, 6-2; Emily Fuston def. Tiffany Lindsey 6-1, 6-3; Sherry Fuston def. Deana Brake 6-1, 6-2; Michelle Berend def. Amanda Evans 6-0, 4-6, 6-0; and Jennifer LeGate def. Jill Hamrick 6-0, 6-0.

In girls doubles, it was Fuston/Fuston def. Metcalf/Lindsey 2-6, 6-4, 7-5; Reinauer/Sublett def. Brake/Van Doren 6-0, 6-4; and Berend/Legate def. Evans/Pearcy 4-6, 6-0, 6-4.

The boys were on the losing end

Turley's Series

NEW YORK (AP) - Former New York Yankee pitcher Bob Turley was not famous for his control, ending his career among the leaders in dishing out walks on a nine-inning basis.

Turley had lots of control, however, in the 1958 World Series between the Yanks and Milwaukee Braves. After losing the second game, Turley faced the Braves in the fifth contest with the Yanks down, three games to one.

Bob shut out Milwaukee in game five. He got the final out as a relief pitcher in game six as New York evened the series. The next day, after no rest, Bullet Bob set Milwaukee down on two hits in six and two-thirds innings in relief. The Yanks won the clincher, 6-2.

of all nine of their matches. In singles: Satyen Patel def. Torey Sellers 6-3, 6-3; Preetesh Patel def. Jamie Kapka 6-3, 6-2; Joe Browder def. Donnie Perales 6-0, 6-4; Steve Trevino def. Chris Lyles 6-0, 7-5; Brigham Rindlesbacher def. Jarrit Edwards 6-1, 6-3; and Lee Hay def. Richard Drager 6-0, 6-1.

In doubles, S. Patel/Browder def. Kapka/Sellers 6-2, 6-4; P. Patel/Trevino def. Lyles/Perales 6-2, 6-3; and Hay/Markley Wilhite def. Edwards/Mario Martinez 6-0, 6-0.

Several matches which did not count were played. In girls' doubles, Hereford's Gabriela Gamez and Brooke Weishaar beat Melissa Lair and Camille Nall 7-5, 7-6, but Hereford's Lezly McWhorter and Lori Schlenker fell to Sara Parks and Sara Schott 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

In singles matches, Schlenker def. Schott 6-3, 6-0; Weishaar def. Lair 8-4; Gamez def. Nall 8-2; but McWhorter fell to Parks, 6-1, 6-2.

The boys played two practice matches: Canyon's Wilhite beat Mario Martinez 6-2, 7-5, and the Canyon pair of Rindlesbacher and Jason O'Leary beat Tom Jarecki and Lupe Perez 6-0, 6-4.

The Hereford Lady Whitefaces had little trouble with the Caprock Lady Longhorns, winning 15-6, 15-6 Tuesday in a District 1-4A match in Whiteface Gymnasium.

The win brings Hereford up to 3-1 in district and 18-3 overall. The Herd is all by itself behind Dumas (3-0) in the standings after Randall was upset by Pampa Tuesday, 15-12, 15-12. Randall is now 2-2, and Pampa and Caprock are 1-3. Dumas and Borger play Thursday.

Randall has a chance to get back into a tie for second when they host Hereford at 2 p.m. Saturday. Prior to the loss to Pampa, Randall (15-6 overall) looked like the team most likely to threaten Hereford and Dumas in the district.

In Tuesday's match, the only problem the Herd had with the smaller Caprock team was that they didn't finish the match as quickly as they could have.

"We rotated too many times without scoring," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said. "We were getting great kills for sideouts, but we relaxed too much when we served."

Hereford's junior varsity also beat Caprock, 15-9, 15-4. Coach Jill Harrison said Hereford had a problem with its serving.

"We focused on our serves so much before the match that we put a lot of pressure on ourselves," she said. "We've never missed that many serves. I think it was because we knew we wanted to get them all in. But overall I was pleased."

Michelle Brock served up eight points for Hereford, and Jeannie Barrientez helped with seven.

Hereford's JV is 11-6 overall, 4-0 in district and they face Randall Saturday. Harrison said she doesn't know anything about Randall's JV, but her team has played Randall's varsity.

"We played with 'em (losing only 15-9, 15-11), and that'll give us as much confidence as anything. Just knowing we can play with their varsity gives us confidence against their JV," Harrison said.

Cavazos scores in lone game

Hereford Junior High's eighth grade White "B" team got a 42-yard touchdown run from Hector Cavazos in the third quarter to beat Plainview's "B" team 6-0 Tuesday in Plainview.

That was the only football game played Tuesday involving a Hereford team. Both junior high grades' Maroon teams play Valleyview Thursday, with the eighth grade "A" and "B" here starting at 5 p.m. and the seventh grade "A" and "B" there starting at 4:30.

All sub-varsity high school team play Thursday except the freshman Maroon team. The freshman White "A" and "B" teams will host Randall at 4:30 p.m. The junior varsity and sophomore teams will be out of town, with the sophomores at Amarillo High at 4:30 and the JV at Pampa at 7. The varsity Herd hosts Pampa at 7:30 at Whiteface Stadium.

Run For Roses

LOUISVILLE (AP) - The traditional bouquet of dark red roses draped over the Kentucky Derby winner each year had its inception in 1896 when Derby winner Ben Brush got the first bouquet, a smaller one made up of white and pink roses.

Sports columnist Bill Corum labeled the race "The Run for the Roses" in 1925 and the name stuck.

Corum later served as president of Churchill Downs, the home of the Derby, from 1950 to 1958.

Journeyman pitcher helps Twins win Game 1

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Pop flies were eluding the home team. Hometown hero Jack Morris was getting hammered. A 5-0 laughter had become nothing to laugh about - a one-run game with two on and a dangerous batter at the plate.

The Thunderdome had become the Wonderdome as Minnesota Twins fans put their Homer Hankies in their pockets and wondered if they would have to use them later to dry their tears.

And then the Big Train, Carl

Willis, came steaming in from the bullpen.

Willis, 30, in his ninth minor league season before the Twins summoned him in April, retired all seven hitters he faced Tuesday, preserving Morris' 5-4 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays in Game 1 of the AL playoffs.

"The Big Train was comin' down the tracks, so we knew we were all right," catcher Junior Ortiz said. "He deserves some points as the MVP of the season for us."

Carl Willis? MVP?

Here's a guy who was so horrible in Triple-A last year (6.39 ERA) that he went back to college to get his degree "because I didn't think any team would give me a job."

Instead, he made a team that was hungry for middle relief, went 8-3 during the season and became the unlikely hero in the biggest game of his life.

"From a personal standpoint, this is unquestionably the highlight of my career," Willis said.

Morris (1-0) cruised through five innings with a 5-1 lead and a three-hitter. Chili Davis drove in two first-inning runs, Greg Gagne's single keyed a two-run second and Shane Mack had an RBI double in the third as the Twins refused to knuckle under to Tom Candiotti's floaters.

The Twins turned the tables on the speedy Blue Jays, stealing a season-high four bases and throwing out Roberto Alomar at the plate in the fourth.

But after getting the first out in the sixth, Morris gave up five straight singles as the Blue Jays tied the New York Yankees' 10-year-old AL playoff record. One of the hits was a blooper that second baseman Chuck Knoblauch never saw. Two of the hits came on 0-2 pitches, one after Joe Carter fouled off five straight Morris offerings, another by Kelly Gruber that drove in Toronto's last two runs.

Enter the Big Train.

"When it left the bat, I thought it had a chance to go," Maldonado said. "Unfortunately, it wasn't meant to be for us."

"After that," Willis said, "I settled down."

He was perfect until Rick Aguilera relieved him with two outs in the eighth. Aguilera, whose 42 regular-season saves tied a Minnesota record, gave up John Olerud's single before easily getting the last four batters.

When Twins manager Tom Kelly came to the mound to thank Willis for a job well done, Willis thanked Kelly just for giving him a chance to pitch.

He has come a long way - from Bristol, Conn., to Lakeland, Fla., from Birmingham to Evansville, Ind., from Denver to Colorado Springs. He even pitched in NHL cities Vancouver and Edmonton before Kelly gave him a shot.

"He was kind of quiet and we were trying to figure him out," said Kevin Tapani, Minnesota's scheduled starter in Game 2 today. "I have some friends who knew him and they said he was a character."

"So I started getting on him. Every time he opened his mouth, I turned what he said around to make it look like he was blowing his own horn. Pretty soon, everyone in the clubhouse was going, 'Toot! Toot!' We started calling him Train and then it developed into Big Train. We had a lot of fun."

Twins fans un-welcome Jays

By JIM LITKE
AP Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - In case the Toronto Blue Jays harbored any illusions just how unwelcome they really were, in case they thought the constant screaming and the tens of thousands of silly little "Homer Hankies" waving in the non-breeze might be directed at someone else, one resourceful Minnesotan went to the trouble of spelling it out in red, white and blue.

"Hey Toronto," read the banner draped over the upper-deck railing in right-center field of the Metrodome, "this is the AMERICAN League."

So it is. But if we're going to be picky about it, maybe we should also require that playoff games being played on this side of the border be played in an American ballpark - which this joint most definitely is not.

Biosphere III, maybe. A fully equipped, fully carpeted porch with enough seating to invite 55,000 or so of your closest friends over for a beer, possibly. A rec room with an awesome stereo rig for those teen-agers who can't get enough of Guns 'N Roses, perhaps.

But a ballpark? Who exactly are they trying to kid?

When the late Billy Martin brought his Yankee team through the Metrodome in one of his frequent stints as manager, he left muttering about a "Chinese ping-pong palace." A few years back, before Mike Ditka was to bring the Chicago Bears here for a football game with the Vikings, he laced on a pair of skates for photographers and suggested they turn it into a roller rink.

Of course, Toronto manager Cito Gaston wouldn't admit to any dislike for the Metrodome on Tuesday night, if only because his team has to play here again today. They also have to go back to their own dome - the one with the retractable roof on the other side of the border - for at least two more games.

"This place doesn't bother us," Gaston said after Minnesota hung a 5-4 collar on the Jays. "As I said, the National League teams are the only ones that have complained about this place."

"And I hope," he added, "that they don't get a chance to do it this year."

He may yet get his wish. But he is definitely off-base about nobody but the NL teams complaining.

"I've been here nearly eight years and believe me, it never gets easier," Twins shortstop Gary Gagne said. "Never."

Which explains how Tuesday night, Minnesota left fielder Dan Gladden, who's played here five years, nearly blew two routine fly balls. And how the Twins nearly blew the ALCS opener on what, in any other American ballpark save those other abominations in Houston and Seattle, would have been a routine popout.

The situation was this: Roberto Alomar was at the plate and Toronto was trailing 5-1 in the top of the sixth with Devon White at first after a one-out single. As White broke to steal second, Alomar sent the ball toward the roof and both Gagne and Minnesota second baseman Chuck Knoblauch tried to fool White by pretending to set up for a double-play ground ball.

"When White finally realized it was hit in the air, he had to turn back for first. So it worked," Gagne said, adding sheepishly, "for a while anyway."

The problem was that when both infielders looked back toward the roof for the ball, neither of them had any idea where it was. It landed between them behind second base and the Jays came up with three more singles and three runs. Unfortunately for Toronto, however, the sky didn't open up any more after that.

Red Sox fire Morgan, hire Hobson

BOSTON (AP) - Joe Morgan, folks, often whimsical as a member of baseball's old school, is out. Butch Hobson, soft-spoken, hard-nosed and a no-nonsense disciplinarian of a younger generation, is in.

Just two days after the end of the 1991 season and hours before the start of the AL playoffs, the Boston Red Sox shocked the baseball world Tuesday, firing Morgan, 61 next month, as manager and promoting Hobson, 40, from Pawtucket of the Triple-A International League to replace him.

Faced with the possibility another major league team would try to hire Hobson, the Red Sox brass - including John Harrington, representing principal owner Jean Yawkey, and general partner Hayward Sullivan - booted Morgan upstairs, offering him a job as special assistant for major league scouting in general manager Lou Gorman's office.

Hobson, a former Alabama quarterback under coach Bear Bryant who played the first six of his eight major league seasons with the Red Sox, was summoned from offseason duties working with young prospects in the Florida Instructional League and quickly accepted a two-year contract through the 1993 season. Terms were not announced.

Morgan, who will be paid $375,000 next year on a contract extension given him on June 1, when the Red Sox were battling Toronto for the AL East lead, was fired as abruptly as he was hired. On July 14, 1988, the day after the All-Star Game, John McNamara was fired and Morgan was promoted from third base coach to become the Red Sox' 37th manager since the team became a charter member of the American League in 1901.

Morgan said he went to Fenway Park for a noon meeting with club executives, expecting to discuss the future of his coaches - Bill Fischer, Al Bumby, Dick Berardino, Richie Hebner and John McLaren. Instead, he said he was told the news that "I was out there."

With two division titles, a third-place finish and a tie for second in 3 1/2 years as manager, Morgan said he was "surprised, no question about that," because "I've done a helluva job."

Rangers drop five from roster

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The Texas Rangers dropped five players from their major league roster Tuesday and offered them an outright assignment to Class 3A Oklahoma City of the American Association.

Pitcher Mike Jeffcoat, catchers Mark Parent and Mike Stanley and infielders Mario Diaz and Gary Green have the right to refuse the assignment and become free agents.

Jeffcoat exercised that right immediately, and the others were asked to notify the Rangers of their intentions this week. They also are expected to refuse the assignment and become free agents.

Texas also reinstated pitchers Brad Arnsberg, John Barfield and Scott Chiamparino and infielder Jeff Kunkel from the 60-day disabled list.

With the moves, Texas has 39 players on its major league roster. Jeffcoat, Diaz and Stanley spent the entire season with the Rangers. Green was with the major league team briefly in June and July and played most of the year in Oklahoma City.

Parent tore ligaments in his left knee in spring training and missed virtually the entire season before returning for three games in September.

Helps Students

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) - Student-athletes at Clemson University have little or no excuse if they don't get passing grades.

The school now has a $2.5 million academic learning center designed to help them. The facility has 44 tutorial rooms, two rooms with 30 computer terminals, seven offices, a meeting room, and a 175-seat auditorium.

Construction of the building was financed by IPTAY, a Clemson booster organization.

Richardson's Abron keys upset of Plano

By MIKE DRAGO
Associated Press Writer
Richardson coach Winston Duke expects good things from Chris Abron, so the best game of the junior tailback's career came as no surprise. Abron carried 21 times for 228 yards and two touchdowns, boosting Richardson to a 21-20 upset of No. 9 Plano. The effort earned him mention in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

"I think that's just Chris," Duke said. "He plays hard every week. There's not anything that you'd ask him that he wouldn't do."

Duke said Abron, who now has 749 yards on 93 carries, has the speed and agility to dominate games. He did just that against Plano, scoring a game-winning 80-yard touchdown with 3:18 remaining. He also scored on a 1-yard run in the third quarter.

"The best way to describe him is the way the college coaches do, and that's an impact player," Duke said. "He's one of those people that's football smart. He's real good at seeing the holes and when he sees them he's got the speed and quickness to get through them. That's something you can't teach a kid."

Donald Veasley has emerged as a star for defending 4A champion Wilmer-Hutchins, which returned no starters from last year's team.

In last week's 28-14 victory over Midlothian, Veasley ran for 264 yards and three touchdowns. That gave him 628 yards on 93 carries through five games.

Wilmer-Hutchins coach Robert Woods said Veasley is getting better every week.

"He's got good speed and quickness," Woods said. "We're an option type team and we get a lot of yards to the outside. He's been doing a good job of running and catching out there. He's still making some mistakes though and he's got a long way to go."

Adrian Robinson starred on both sides of the ball for Edna, which shocked No. 1 Cuero 35-20. Robinson ran for touchdowns of 17, 37 and 1 yards, passed for a 54-yard score and caught an 11-yard touchdown pass. He also intercepted two passes.

"He's had several good games, but I don't know if he's had anything like that before," said Edna coach Buzzy Whitley.

In other outstanding performances:

- Brendan Acharyakosol of Jasper kicked field goals of 27 and 28 yards and four extra points, caught a 19-yard touchdown pass and returned an interception 90 yards for a touchdown in a 40-14 victory over Port Arthur Lincoln.
- Houston Scarborough's Demetrius Perry carried 42 times for 204 yards and three touchdowns in a 24-18 victory over Houston Kashmere.
- Tony Phillips of Spring Westfield ran for 200 yards and five touchdowns in a 42-39 upset of No. 3 Huntsville. Phillips' last score, a 3-yard run, sealed the victory with 4:53 remaining.
- Tony Blockett of Garland Lakeview carried 34 times for 222 yards and two touchdowns in a 24-7 victory over North Mesquite.

- Shawn Walters of No. 1 Arlington Lamar carried 30 times for 240 yards and three touchdowns in a 30-18 victory over Arlington Sam Houston. Walters' scores included a 91-yard run that broke the game open in the third quarter.
- Johnnie Hudman of Albany ran a kickoff back 90 yards for a touchdown, returned a punt 59 yards for a touchdown and scored on a 5-yard run in a 28-6 victory over Anson.
- Cody Graves of Goldthwaite scored five touchdowns in a 47-14 victory over Cisco. The scores came on runs of 16 and 51 yards, receptions of 19 and 4 yards and an 85-yard interception return.
- David Roman of Winters carried 18 times for 242 yards and touchdowns of 38, 31, 14, 5 and 91 yards in a 40-6 victory over Jim Ned.
- Cleon Williams of Boling carried

21 times for 203 yards and four touchdowns in a 51-0 victory over Brazos.

- Kerry Bennett of West-Orange Stark ran for 272 yards on 19 carries, including touchdowns of 51, 83 and 60 yards, in a 28-26 victory over Silsbee.
- Kelly Johnson of Hawkins caught 10 passes for 186 yards and three touchdowns in a 50-31 loss to Willis Point. Johnson now has 35 receptions for 715 yards and nine touchdowns this season.
- Wellington's Wesley McKnight carried 22 times for 258 yards and three touchdowns in a 42-6 victory over Memphis. McKnight also caught a 20-yard touchdown pass.
- Tremaine Brown of Amarillo Palo Duro carried 28 times for 220 yards and touchdowns of 91 and 15 yards in a 26-22 victory over Amarillo Tascosa.
- Andrew Martinez of Center Point rushed for 114 yards, intercepted three passes and recovered three fumbles in a 48-0 rout of Sabal.

- Jimmy Sendejo of San Antonio Southside carried 21 times for 252 yards and three touchdowns in a 25-18 victory over Pleasanton.
- Maji McNely of Divine had 22 carries for 222 yards and three touchdowns in a 31-20 victory over La Vernia.
- Will Clay of Snyder carried 23 times for 290 yards and four touchdowns in a 29-14 victory over Seminole.
- Marfa's Jimmy Martinez ran for 217 yards and two touchdowns in a 26-12 victory over Wink.
- Paul Lisowski of Corpus Christi Flour Bluff made 20 tackles, including seven unassisted, and intercepted a pass in a 24-15 victory over Port Lavaca Calhoun.
- Mundral Lewis of Wichita Falls Rider carried 26 times for 245 yards and four touchdowns in a 34-27 victory over Richland.
- Dallas White's Michael Martin ran for 206 yards on 20 carries in a 19-0 victory over Bishop Lynch.

A&M faces big hurdle in Waco

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - The next assignment for the Texas A&M football team may be its biggest hurdle of the year: to beat the Baylor Bears.

Baylor was Aggies head coach R.C. Slocum's preseason pick to win the Southwest Conference.

"Everything is scary about them," Slocum said Tuesday. "They have all the ingredients of a solid team. They have no weaknesses."

After its 38-21 victory over Houston Saturday, Baylor rose to No. 8 nationally in The Associated Press college football poll. Texas A&M, at No. 21, is the only other ranked SWC team.

Slocum said A&M can't expect to stop Baylor just by stopping quarterback J.J. Joe, who has led Baylor to a 5-0 start, its best getaway since 1980.

"Stopping one person is not the answer," he said. "Because if you have to stop him, there are other weapons."

Slocum said he has mixed emotions about having an open date next weekend, while Baylor is playing Rice.

From the injury aspect, Slocum said, "I'm glad we don't have to play. But a part of me wants to go out somewhere and play Saturday."

But if A&M did play, quarterback Bucky Richardson probably wouldn't be able to play, Slocum said. Richardson was named the SWC offensive player of the week after leading the Aggies past Texas Tech, 37-14, last week. But he suffered a turf toe injury in the contest.

Richardson has been hobbled by a sprained arch and has already missed one game this season. Still, he sparked the Aggies against Tech, running for three touchdowns.

"I think the time off is good," said Richardson. "We have some guys who need to heal. Plus it gives us two weeks to think about it and get mentally prepared for Baylor."

Slocum said he would probably hold his senior quarterback out for the entire week.

"We need him in there to have a chance to win against Baylor."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently I read in your column about a man whose wife had just returned from a stay in a psychiatric ward. She suffered from anxiety attacks and he was beside himself.

I have a dear friend who suffered terribly from panic disorders. She couldn't sign a check without having a glass of wine and was terrified of going to the grocery store or any place where she might have to stand in line.

This friend heard of a program at Duke University in Durham, N.C., and decided to try it. The change in her has been nothing short of remarkable. She is a different person. Once a month she goes to Durham and she feels simply terrific.

I've never written to you before, Ann, but when I read that letter I felt I had to pass along this information.—A.M., Burlington, N.C.

DEAR A.M.: My office spoke with Dr. Jonathan Davidson, director of the Anxiety and Traumatic Stress program at Duke. This is what he said:

"Our program deals with all the major anxiety disorders: panic, post-traumatic stress, obsessive-compulsive disorder and phobias, including social phobia (excessive shyness, fear of embarrassment, blushing, sweating or fear of speaking to others).

"These disorders are common but unfortunately go untreated in many cases. Most people respond well to brief courses of treatment lasting two to three months, but longer-term follow-up is often necessary. It is never too late to seek treatment. Effective therapies include individual counseling, medication, cognitive-behavior therapy and joining a support group.

"Our program offers evaluation and treatment for all the types of anxiety described above, as well as research into finding newer, improved treatments. Often these research studies are cost-free to participants. At this time we are conducting medication treatment studies in adults and children with obsessive-compulsive disorder and in adults with social phobia. We are also studying the risk of developing post-traumatic stress disorder following rape.

"We generally accept no more than 100 people into a study. Treatment is also available for those who do not qualify for one of the current studies, but there is a charge.

"Anyone interested should send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Duke University Anxiety Program, Duke University Medical Center, Box 3812, Durham, N.C. 27710."

This is Ann talking. The Duke University Medical Center is one of the finest in the country. I recommend it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have cancer and am receiving chemotherapy. I'm proud of the way I'm handling the situation.

A woman I work with can't stand for me to do well. Every time I speak positively about my recovery, she tells some horror story about a friend or relative who seemed to be getting better -- and then she adds, "Suddenly she died," or "Within a few months she was gone."

She really depresses me. What can I say to put her in her place?—No Name, No Town

DEAR N.N., N.T.: Her place? That woman HAS no place. I wouldn't give her standing room at a skunk raffle. From now on, hold the progress reports and spare yourself her dumb responses.

Feeling pressured to have sex? How well-informed are you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet "Sex and the Teen-ager." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Teens, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

XEA style show models

Louise Packard (l) of the Pants Cage and Imogene Zinck of The Vogue model fashions their stores will show in the Oct. 22 Xi Epsilon Alpha Style Show. The theme for the show will be "City Lights."

Club meets at Inkahoots

The L'Allegra Study club met recently at Inkahoots and studied the store's unique co-op setup.

Members toured the store after Charla Schlabs and Beverly Harder presented a program on the store. Different finished products of arts and crafts were viewed by the group. The art of smocking and embroidery was demonstrated on collars and outfits.

Carmen Flood presided over the business meeting. Judy Wall and Michal Noland served as hostesses.

Members present were Kay Lyn Caviness, Flood, Kitty Gault, Diane Hoelscher, Barbara Kerr, Sylvia Khuri, Mary Kay McQuigg, Noland, Karen Payne, Hilda Perales, Suzanne Smith, Ella Marie Viegell, Wall and Jan Weishaar.

Veledas tour Zinser home

The Veeda Study Club met recently in the home of Margaret Zinser. The group toured the Zinser home as their program.

Bettie Dickson, president, called the meeting to order and roll call was answered with "the first home of my marriage." Zinser led the tour of her home.

Those attending include Marcella Bradley, Juanita Brown, Frances Crume, Bettie Dickson, Mary Dziuk, Della Hutchins, Joyce Ritter, Betty Roberts, Norma Walden, Margaret Zinser and a guest Jean Ruther.

The next meeting will be Oct. 14 in the home of Theda Seiver.

NEW YORK (AP) - Robbie Robertson, who longed to be a New Orleans jazzman before he grew up to be a rock 'n' roll star, pays tribute to New Orleans music and American storytelling in "Storyville," his first album in four years.

The album takes a short story written by Robertson and mixes it with performances by Aaron Neville and other New Orleans musicians, as well as Bruce Hornsby, Neil Young, Garth Hudson and other rockers.

"I know New Orleans music really well because when I was 14 I was in a New Orleans wannabe band," Robertson, the former lead guitarist and songwriter for The Band, said in today's The New York Times.

His story is about a boy and girl who meet as children and whose paths cross later in life.

"It's told in a structure like 'The Godfather' and tries to explain how a person becomes the person that they did," Robertson said.

Amarillo area pageant sets sign-up deadline

The 1992 Miss Amarillo Area Scholarship Pageant committee will crown the 1992 Miss Amarillo Area Feb. 8, 7:30 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center, and the committee has set a Nov. 16 deadline for women who want to enter.

The non-profit scholarship pageant, which has been an award winner the past two years, is seeking contestants ages 17-26 from the top 35 counties of the Texas Panhandle.

The women must be 17 by Sept. 1, 1992, and they must be a senior in high school. Competition will be judged on talent, comprising 40 percent of the judging while interview accounts for 30 percent and bathing suit and evening gown competitions make up 15 percent each. The winner of Miss Amarillo Area will win scholarships, grooming services for a year, clothes and cash prizes. She will go on to compete in July at the Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant in Fort Worth with Miss Texas advancing to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J.

Patti Stapp, executive director of the Miss Amarillo Area Pageant, wants to continue the winning tradition.

"We hope the excitement we generated from the Miss Texas Pageant in Fort Worth will help us bring in good contestants, produce a good show and help us represent this area well next year," said Stapp.

Cake club to meet

The Sweet N' Fancy Cake Decorating Club, will meet October 9, Wednesday, at 7:00 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center.

The program for the evening will be given by Marrie Leverett on the making of cake toppers from Wilton's Color Flow Mix. The monthly baking of the King's Manor cakes will also be discussed.

Betty Henson will have the clubs cake supplies on hand if members need anything.

From Saints and Martyrs to Ghosts and Pranks
NEW YORK (AP) - Today's Halloween originally started with the observance of All Saints' or All-Hallows Day, which falls on Nov. 1. The pagan custom begins as the sun sets the day before - on Hallows Eve, or Halloween.

It was first observed as a festival of the dead and in the 7th century, Pope Boniface adapted it as a celebration of all the known - and unknown - saints and martyrs of the Catholic Church.

It used to be celebrated in May, but in the 8th century Pope Gregory III shifted it to its present date, according to "The Folklore of American Holidays."

All Saints' Day is followed by All Souls' Day (Nov. 2), another Christian adaptation of pagan festivals for the dead. This is a day of intercession for dead souls which have not yet been sufficiently purified, in the belief that the prayers of the living will help. It originated in the 10th century, as a memorial day.

Unlike All Saints' Day, All Souls' Day was abolished by the Church of England - although it is recognized informally by many Protestants. The two days have become combined in modern secular tradition.

Nowadays, mumming, pranks, bonfires, decoration of graves, belief in the return of ghosts or dead souls, fortune-telling and ritualistic games are all associated with the eves and days of both Nov. 1 and 2.

Hints from Heloise

Q. Would you please repeat your salt-substitute mixture made with spices. I am on a salt-restricted diet and this recipe would be very beneficial to me.
 — Irene Chouinard, Auburn, Maine

A. This zesty salt-substitute mixture is wonderful, so clip and tuck away the recipe for safe keeping.

5 teaspoons onion powder
 1 tablespoon garlic powder
 1 tablespoon paprika
 1 tablespoon dry mustard
 1 teaspoon thyme
 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
 Combine, and after mixing well store in a spice shaker with a tight-fitting lid. As with all spices, keep in a cool, dry place. — Heloise

POT SCRUBBER

Dear Heloise: The best dish and pot scrubber that I have found comes from the produce section of our grocery store. It is the plastic netting that is used to bag onions. It removes sticky foods, rinses easily and, best of all, it's free. — Palma Billings, Huntsville, Ala.

You bet! You're helping by reusing the bag rather than just tossing it in the garbage. — Heloise

CANNED CHICKEN BROTH

Dear Heloise: When you open canned chicken broth, it often has chicken fat floating on top and it is hard to remove.

I have discovered that if I keep the can in the refrigerator, the fat hardens on top and can be lifted off easily. — Lucy Perry, Chapel Hill, N.C.

AXYDLBAAXR
 is LONGFELLOW

One letter stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
