USDA asks order change

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - U.S. Department of Agriculture attorneys have asked federal Judge Halbert O. Woodward to change last month's order restricting the slaughter of dairy cattle under an 18-month buyout program.

The USDA wants Woodward to either reconsider and annul his decision, clarify the order or postpone it. Government attorneys claim the order can't be implemented without changing contracts with thousands of dairy farmers.

Woodward issued a preliminary injunction April 30 requiring the USDA to specify marketing procedures to limit the total annual number of dairy cattle to be slaughtered to 7 percent of the national herd, as provided by the 1985 Food Security Act.

In repository research

Work halted at two sites

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) - Poor record-keeping in geological studies has led to research being stopped at proposed sites for the nation's first high-level nuclear waste repository in Washington state and Nevada, spokesmen say.

The U.S. Department of Energy stop work orders are not expected to affect recommendations due later this month that the sites be studied further for suitability as the nation's first high-level nuclear waste dump, spokeswoman Ginger King said

'A recent quality assurance survey showed that some of the documentation needed to be improved" at waste isolation projects on the Hanford nuclear reservation and Yucca Mountain in Nevada, Ms. King said.

"The documentation wasn't in the best order, so we said, 'Go back and get it in order," she said in a telephone interview from Washington, D.C.

Texas site not affected

Linda McClain, Department of Energy director of the Texas repository projects, indicated today that exploration of the Washington and Nevada sites has been far more extensive than that of Texas sites, so a "work-stop" order is unlikely for the Deaf Smith County area.

McClain also noted that since two other sites have had temporary halts called it does not mean the Deaf Smith site had been selected as a repository location.

She said the "timing was bad" on the work stop orders because DOE's recommendation for three site characterizations is due to go to the president any day.

McClain said she has not heard any news on the recommendations. "I hear a lot of speculation," she said.

Richland, Wash., will be "redirected" while record-keeping and management controls are tightened, Barry Moravek, a spokesman for Hanford Rockwell Operations, said Thursday.

Hanford Rockwell, a division of Rockwell International that is prime contractor on the BWIP project, is expected to announce Monday its plans for improving record-keeping and what research will be stopped pending quality assurance reviews, Moravek said.

A similar work stoppage is in effect at the Yucca Mountain site in Nevada, 100 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

A third site in Deaf Smith County in the Texas Panhandle also is expected to be recommended for additional study.

Preliminary research at both the Hanford and Yucca Mountain sites has been going on for nearly 10 years. Should they be nominated, as much as $1 billion would be spent at each site on five-year "characterization" work.

Jury gives 70 years for delivery

A jury in 222nd District Court Thursday sentenced Alan Everett Brooks, 32, to 70 years imprisonment as punishment for his conviction for delivery of

"This sentence shows that a jury in Deaf Smith County does not like drug dealers and that they want to do something about drugs," said District At-torney Roland Saul. "It is not their race, but the fact that thay are selling drugs that earn defendants these large sentences. I hope the people that want to be involved in drugs will consider this sentence as an invitation to leave Deaf Smith County."

The jury deliberated for four

Brooks bowed his head and swore under his breath after the sentence was read.

Brooks was arrested on Jan. 22 following a county-wide drug bust in which over 80 arrests were made on various charges of delivery of illegal

Fire at Chernobyl out, children leave school early

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) - An International Atomic Energy Agency official said today that the fire at the Chernobyl nuclear reactor has been put out. The mayor of Kiev said a marter-million children will leave school early this year because of the devastating accident.

The agency official, Morris Rosen, told a news conference in Moscow that an adjacent reactor at the Ukrainian facility suffered some fire damage but its cooling system was working and there was no danger the second reactor would release radia-

Kiev Mayor Valentin Sgursky said schools attended by a quartermillion of the city's children will close early this year because of the power plant accident. He said the move was not an emergency

"We are simply advancing the normal school holiday a little bit," Sgursky told a group of foreign reporters during a visit arranged by the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

Ukrainian Health Minister Anatoly Romanenko was quoted earlier as saying on Kiev radio that school children would be moved out of the area as a precaution. Kiev, the nation's third-largest city with 2.4 million inhabitants, is 80 miles south of the damaged reactor.

At the Moscow news conference, Rosen said workers were trying to seal off the No. 4 reactor at the Chernobyl facility where a chemical explosion occurred April 26, setting off a fire and spewing a radioactive cloud over Europe.

"The aim is to encase the whole fourth unit in concrete and work has begun to place a concrete foundation under the reactor," he said.

Ukrainian Premier Alexander Lyashko had told Western journalists in Kiev on Thursday that crews still were trying to put out the reactor fire. The director of the U.N.-affiliated International Atomic Energy Agency, Hans Blix, flew over the reactor Thursday and said on Soviet television that smoke was coming from the facility. But Rosen said today, "The fire is out." He said his information came from Soviet officials and observations of a team from the Vienna, Austria-based nuclear watchdog

He did not specify what observations led to the conclusion that the fire was out. There was no indication whether the release of radioactivity had stopped, or whether the reactor core meltdown had been halted.

Blix said at today's news con-

White remains confident about spending cut plan

AUSTIN (AP) - Downplaying double-digit increases in state agency spending the past two months, Gov. Mark White remains confident his budget-cutting plans will trim the

"This plan is working, and I think it will work," White said Thursday.

The governor responded to reports from Comptroller Bob Bullock which showed spending by agencies during April was up nearly 20 percent over their average for the first six months of the budget year.

White - who two months ago asked some 200 state agencies to trim spending 13 percent by Aug. 31, 1987 - said it will take a little time for his spending reduction effort to show results.

"I think the overall savings goal we've set is still on course. We still feel we're going to achieve those numbers," he said.

The governor's spending cut request was contained in an executive order issued in mid-February. While he lacks the constitutional power to require reductions, White urged agencies to freeze hiring, not fill many job vacancies, reduce travel and save money through other

The executive order was issued after Bullock predicted that state revenue would fall $1.3 billion below the 1966-87 state budgets because of plunging oil prices and oil tax revenue

But Bullock on Wednesday issued a second monthly report showing that agency spending has risen since White's executive order took effect

Bullock said April spending from all funds ran 19.9 percent above the average for the first six months of the fiscal year, while March spending had been up 15 percent.

White said the cuts will show up -

Hispanic requirement protested

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — A protest by members of the Midland Hispanic Chamber of Commerce over the selection of a statewide Hispanic Businessman and Businesswoman of the Year has created a battle within the ranks of the Texas Association of Mexican American Chambers of Commerce

According to Roger Robles, president of the MHCC, the request was not well received by the other TAMACC representatives at their quarterly meeting in South Padre Island last week.

Robles said represenatives of the other 27 Mexican-American chambers of commerce in the state apparently feel that Hispanics would not be recognized and honored unless they were recognized by their peer group.

Reagan official advised Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Canadian diplomatic document discloses that a Reagan administration regulatory official privately advised Canadians early this year on strategy to weaken a proposed rule to ban deadly asbestos in this country.

The document, made public Thursday by the House Energy and Commerce oversight and investigations subcommittee, is an unclassified telex sent Jan. 31 to Ottawa by officials of the Canadian

The telex contains a report of a meeting a day earlier between two unidentified Canadian diplomats and Robert Bedell, deputy administrator of the Office of Management and Budget office that oversees rulemaking by federal agencies.

The topic of the meeting, requested by Canada, was the proposed asbestos rule announced just days before by the Environmental Protection Agency after a long struggle against OMB.

The telex shows that Bedell not only voiced continued OMB opposition to banning asbestos but also advised Canada - which supplies about 90 percent of the asbestos used in this country - how to focus its battle against the EPA proposal.

The advice-giving brought Bedell a tongue-lashing when he appeared before the subcommittee. "You were out conspiring with officials of a foreign government to satistage the proposed rule, said Rep. Ron Wyden, D-Ore. E IILE

Graduates paid less than hoped

WASHINGTON (AP) - The average beginning pay for the one in four graduating college seniors who have already accepted jobs is $15,900, considerably lower than expected, according to a survey by

The magazine says in its May 9-11 issue that graduating seniors expect to make an average $23,205 their first year out of school. The higher figure represents the expectations of those students still awaiting job offers, the magazine says.

About 945,000 students will graduate from college this year, according to Department of Education estimates.

The survey, based on field interviews with 423 students on 104 campuses, found that the college seniors expect to put in about 45 hours a week on their first job.

But only 44 percent of them say they intend to start work upon graduation. Thirteen percent said they are going on vacation, 24 percent said they intend to attend graduate school full time and 16 percent said they will combine work and graduate school.

Stains caused by cleaning solution

NEW YORK (AP) - Mysterious stains that appeared in the last six months on the Statue of Liberty's copper skin probably were caused by a vinegar-like solution used to clean the statue's interior. says a corrosion specialist.

John Francy of Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill, N.J., a consultant to the National Park Service, said Thursday he was testing to determine what substance stripped off the statue's protective patina in three separate spots, although the cleaning solution seemed most

Human urine, reported Thursday as a cause by the New York Dai-

Franey said the problem may have been a result of efforts to clean the statue's interior of layers of paint and an adhesive. He said it would have taken "major gallons" of liquid to accomplish the stripping. "I find it hard to believe a few guys could have urinated that

SEATTLE (AP) - The United States may be benefiting from lower oil prices now, but industry analysts expect prices to rise and the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to stay in the driver's seat in setting prices.

Houston, trailing by as many as 12 points, sent the game into overtime on the play of Olajuwon and Jim Petersen. Olajuwon scored 12 points in the final quarter before drawing a double technical foul and being ejected. Petersen got a quick basket to start the overtime, but he drew his sixth foul moments later. Sampson followed suit with 1:40 left in overtime. Natt scored on that play but missed the free throw, leaving the score tied 114-114.

Natt's inside move got Denver up 116-114, but Mitchell Wiggins countered for Houston on a baseline drive with 37 seconds remaining. He was fouled on the play, but missed the free throw. Both teams missed subsequent shots to force the second overtime.

Sampson, who hauled down 18 rebounds despite a poor shooting night, said he thought the Nuggets may not have anticipated Petersen's perfor-mance. The second-year pro had 15 points and five rebounds.

Olajuwon finished with 28 points to pace Houston. Lloyd had 25 and Mc-Cray 20. Alex English had 42 points for Denver, followed by Natt with 23.

Olajuwon exited after throwing an elbow at Denver's Danny Schayes and then grabbing referee Jack Madden's shoulder and spinning him around with 6:08 left in the fourth quarter and Houston trailing 94-93.

The play began under the Houston basket with Olajuwon being fouled by Schayes. The referee indicated a foul on No. 34, Schayes, but the public-address announcer interpreted it to be an offensive foul on Olajuwon, also No. 34, and announced it as such. Olajuwon, given a technical for his flying elbow, got the additional technical seconds later in trying to get Madden's attention.

Lakers 'shut up' Mavericks 120-107

DALLAS (AP) - The defending vorid champion Los Angeles Lakers hut up the Dallas Mavericks and their rowdy Reunion Arena fans to advance to the NBA Western Con-

The Lakers, who have been to the NBA championship series four straight years, are trying to become the first team in 17 years to suc-cessfully defend a title.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin

unson led the Lakers to a 120-107 victory over the Mavericks Thursday night and a 4-2 edge in their bestof-seven series.

Los Angeles will host Houston, which defeated Denver 126-122 in two overtimes Thursday night, on Saturday in the first game of their best-ofseven series at 12:30 p.m.

The Lakers gave the Mavericks their worst home playoff loss in history as Abdul-Jabbar scored 27 points and Johnson added 23.

"We prevailed despite all the psychological warfare that tried to distract us," said Lakers Coach Pat Riley. Dallas Coach "Dick Motta did what he had to do in the underdog position."

Dallas' Mark Aguirre missed most of the fourth period with a twisted ankle and said "I would have loved to have been in there. I just couldn't move."

Motta said he wondered why Aguirre didn't play.

couldn't play anymore."

Aguirre scored 14 of his 28 points in the third period but didn't make a basket in the fourth quarter. Rolando Blackman had 23 points for Dallas, including 12 straight in the fourth

"The Lakers deserved it," Motta said. "They just played better that's all. We lost to a great team. We deserved to be on the floor with them."

James Worthy, who had 21 points for the Lakers, also said he enjoyed the quiet Mavericks and their 17,007 fans in Reunion Arena.

"Talk is cheap," Worthy said.
"You have to go out there and play the game. I think Motta put a lot of pressure on his players. It's very satisfying for 12 guys to quiten down 17,000 people."

Los Angeles built a 20-point lead early in the third period but Dallas cut it to two points before Worthy, Johnson and Abdul-Jabbar took charge. Johnson had nine free throws in the fourth quarter.

"This was a tough series," said Worthy. "But we won when it counted like we usually do."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I realize the world is changing, but some of the changes are more than I can ab-

Is propriety a thing of the past? Is nothing sacred? Or am I an old fuddy-duddy who hasn't kept up with the times?

I received the following in the mail today and was offended by it. I always have considered you fairly level-headed and a woman of taste. Will you please give me your opinion of the following announcement?—NO NAME IN ALA.

Mrs. N.C. Wishes to announce to anyone interested that her eldest daughter, C.N. having proven to herself and the world that it is possible to reach age 35 without ever having married is finally going to wed R.W.F., a wonderful and patient man of whom Mrs. N.C. heartily apin fact has been hoping for years to secure as a legal family member

(but that's another story...) in a small and picturesque ceremony at their home

on Saturday, Sept. 14, 1985

DEAR MRS. N.N. in Ala.: give the woman a break. I'm sure most guests thought the announcement was offbeat and amusing. "Mother" was probably panicky because her daughter hadn't married sooner, but actually nobody pays attention to such things anymore and it was not necessary to make an issue of it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read with great interest the letter in regard to the elderly parents who were no longer able to drive the family auto but insisted on doing so in spite of the hazards it presented to themselves, other drivers and pedestrians.

My parents had the same problem and I imagine that most of us, if we live a long enough life, will have to confront it one day. I would like to pass on to you and your readers my parents' solution.

Although they stopped driving, they retained their car and continued to pay all expenses connected with it: insurance, gas, license, etc. When they wanted to go somewhere they had friends who would drive them. This was much more convenient than asking acquaintances and neighbors to use their own cars to take them to the market, church, and the homes of friends and family. It also allowed them to retain their independence and self-respect.-F.R.F. Jr.

DEAR F: Thanks for an excellent solution to a sticky wicket.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a woman who has bad arthritis in my right hand. When someone gives me a firm handshake I almost faint. How can I avoid this problem without being unfriendly? D. IN BATON ROUGE

DEAR BAT: Extend your left hand promptly and say, "Sorry-I have arthritis." To those who have arthritis in both hands, clasp the person's wrist and say the same thing.

Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," explains every aspect of sexual behavior-where to draw the line, how to say no, the various methods of contraception, the dangers of VD, the symptoms and where to get help. For a copy, send $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

The Newspaper BIBLE

"KEEP QUIET AND LISTEN TO ME!"

Paul stood on the stairs and motioned to the people to be quiet; soon a deep silence enveloped the crowd, and he addressed them in Hebrew as follows:

"Brothers and fathers, listen to me as I offer my defense." (When they heard him speaking in Hebrew, the silence was even greater.)

"I am a Jew," he said, "born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, but educated here in Jerusalem under Gamaliel, at whose feet I learned to follow our lewish laws and customs very carefully. I became very anxious to honor God in everything I did, just as you have tried to do today. And I persecuted the Christians, hounding them to death, binding and delivering both men and women to prison.

"The High Priest or any member of the Council can testify that this is so. For I asked them for letters to the Jewish leaders in Damascus, with instructions to let me bring any Christians I found to Jerusalem in chains to be punished." Acts 21:40: 22:1-5
