LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - A U.S. devastating beef prices and producers

> A suit filed April 8 by several cattlemen and cattle associations seeks an injunction against the U.S. Department of Agriculture, alleging that the buyout plan has had "the maximum conceivable adverse impact on producers of beef."

The plan has "created a tremendous amount of uncertainty" in the cattle market and caused a sharp decline in beef prices, a commodities broker testified in Lubbock federal court.

"Following the announcement, the market opened sharply lower," David Hutchins of Amarillo said. "The market continued to decline through the week."

Hutchins was one of several witness to testify in a hearing before

U.S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward to determine whether the overnment buyout program should

The hearing concluded Tuesday afternoon, but Woodward's ruling is not expected before next week.

The buyout program, announced March 28 and begun April 1, involves the slaughter of dairy cattle over an 18-month period. Cattlemen contend that the USDA has not implemented orderly marketing procedures for the program and has glutted the market with beef and depressed cattle markets.

"We're in the 22nd day of the program and we've seen nothing but catastrophe in the cash market and the (cattle) futures market," argued Wayne Sturdivant, an attorney for the plaintiffs.

Khadafy's grip uncertain after U.S. air strikes

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) - Western Tripoli say they don't know whether diplomats say the strength of Col. Moammar Khadafy's grip on the government is uncertain following U.S. air strikes last week, but a published report said today that Khadafy apparently has been forced to share power with other military officers.

Libyan officials assert Khadafy is in full control. Western diplomats in the April 15 U.S. air strike hurt Khadafy's hold on power, and that even Libya's Arab neighbors probably don't have a clear idea.

One Western diplomat in Tripoli, who spoke on condition that he not be identified, said it is possible Khadafy reasserted his control following the attack, or that there has been a major shift of power.

"One thing is sure - the last chapter hasn't been written," the diplomat told The Associated Press. "This is a time of great uncertainty."

The London Times reported today that Libya appears now to be ruled by a junta that includes Khadafy and four other military officers.

"A five-man junta of military of-ficers appears to be governing Libya in the aftermath of the American air raid - a collective leadership which includes Col. Khadafy as the nation's nominal leader but which has divested him of his exclusive control over the country," it said.

Deputy inspired to start prevention program

By JERI CURTIS Managing Editor

Graphic tales of sexual exploitation unfold in childlike vocabularies when Sharon Pennington uses nameless anatomically correct dolls in interviews with children who are victims of abuse.

But those euphemized words that kids use for body parts certainly do not diminish the physical and emotional injury the child suffers through abuse, then relives when Pennington questions them private-ly. After a preliminary investigation is done by the Department of Human Resources Child Protection Services department, Pennington videotapes her interview with the child for use in convicting the abuser.

"When kids start explicitly showing sex act with the dolls, it's not much trouble getting indictments," she said. She has never had to be in court. When the abuser sees the tape he or she will plead out to prevent showing the tape to anyone.

Experiences Pennington heard while obtaining depositions from young children and rape victims are what prompted her to become involved in the prevention of abuse through her deputy post in the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office.

She says preschool children couldn't make up some of the stories they tell.

In Deaf Smith County monthly there are about 20 cases of abuse confirmed - by confession or medical proof- of physical and sexual nature. When a television movie or film at school deals with the issue more, cases are reported.

Last spring, as they will again this spring, Pennington and Butch Glenn of the Hereford Police Department joined for a week long pilot program in an elementary school. As a direct result of a film shown in that presentation, three children reported that they were being abused and were removed from the situation.

Children "know the difference between a hug and a 'funny-hug,' " Pennington says. But although the child may not feel comfortable about any activity an adult may force them to do, the child often feels obliging to that adult for the attention or may be told by the abuser that something bad will happen if the victim tells anyone.

Perhaps it is because children are out later to freely play throughout the neighborhood, that during spring reports of abuse rise. Or perhaps because April is Child Abuse Awareness Month, there has been some enlightenment and more cases are reported by persons who have learned it is against the law not to report a suspected abuse case. (Failure to do so may result in a fine of up to $1,000 and 180 days in jail.)

"The programs that Sharon is giving are real good. That's what the town needed," says Rick Lee, a local child pretective service specialist. "A lot of children don't know that what's being done to them is wrong until she tells them."

18-165

Of the approximately 20 cases the agency works each month, about 10 percent is for sexual abuse, 60 percent for neglect and the rest for physical abuse.

For every case reported, Glennestimates there may be as many as four which are not reported because children don't tell.

"The children reporting themselves are very rare, there is a fear of retaliation, they are not sure something is wrong. They are convinced (by the abuser) that it's normal. It's a form of brainwashing," Glenn said.

He and Pennington agree that if

Hereford Camp Fire Council has undergone an intense, in-depth evaluation of their program and management recently. Hereford is one of the first councils

Joe Kerr was reelected as president of the board and Dr. Milton Adams was reelected as a director when Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union held its 49th annual membership meeting Tuesday night at the Community Center.

Approximately 200 members attended the session which saw special recognition given to Pauline Howard, assistant manager who retired after 39 years of service, and Robert L. Thompson, who has served on the board 44 years and was president for 41 years.

Also reelected to the executive committee were Dr. Adams, vice president, and Dr. W.J. Hill of Dimmitt, secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Kerr, Thompson, Nick Yosten, Ralph Smith and Don Tardy. Members also reelected Wayne Amstutz to the credit committee.

Reports were made by Kerr and Bob Baker, manager of the credit union. Kerr reported total assets of the credit union had increased 5.2 percent to $14,555,786 and that total posits had increased 6 percent to $13,586,549. He announced that money orders and Travelers checks will soon be available at the credit union. Dividends paid out to members the past year totaled $966.572.

Kerr and Baker and the HTFCU board recently attended the Texas Credit Union League annual meeting in San Antonio. Kerr was presented a Texas-sized plaque by TCUL Chair-man Paul Mitchell of Houston to honor HTFCU on its 50th anniversary.

More than 2,500 credit union officials attended the three-day session which featured educational seminars on economics, government and financial management. Former Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach was a keynote speaker.

R.C. Hoelscher supervised the election of officials, and the nominating committee was composed of Harley Daniel, Mal Manchee and Dick Montgomery. There was a drawing for a number of door prizes during the meeting.

CAMP FIRE

Hereford Council has made a real out-of-the way effort to attend the clusters and can see they have benefited.

Wilkins said a majority of the councils are the size of Hereford and explained how boys were admitted into the Camp Fire program.

"There's just a real big acceptance of boys in the smaller communities. Most of us on council remember going to camp and the leaders took the sons, what we're they to do? Tell them to stay home?" said Wilkins. What the Camp Fire Council did do was to have a pilot where they included boys into the program. The pilot did well and boys are now an official part of Camp Fire.

Wilkins said it was a very little change to include boys, they just had to change the word "she" in the Camp Fire songs and readjust the uniforms. "It's neat to be able to be a family in the council," added Wilkins.

For the next three years Wilkins will be busy conducting evaluations in the other areas. The council territory she serves is all of the state of New Mexico, pieces of Texas, and assigned places the national council asks her to help. After completion of the evalua-tions, they will be filed at national to "Bill's behavior changed. Six weeks after his great disappointment, Bill asked if he could bring a woman home for the weekend. We said, "Of course." I prepared two bedrooms. We paid no attention to who was sleeping where, but the following morning when I went to bring Bill his coffee I was astonished to find the woman in bed next to him, wearing nothing but a smile. He asked, nonchalantly, "How about a se-cond cup, Mom?" as he handed her the coffee I had brought for him.

My husband was in the kitchen at the time so I asked him to carry up the second cup, explaining I was too embarrassed to witness that scene again. My husband called me "unrealistic" and "hypocritical" and reminded me that we had slept together before we were married. (True, but we were engaged for two years).

Three weeks later Bill phoned and asked if he could bring another woman home for the weekend. Wishing to avoid a confrontation I said, "Fine." Again I prepared two bedrooms and only one was used. (I served no morning coffee that time.) Four weeks later he brought yet another woman for the weekend. They shared the same bed. At this writing Bill has slept with eight women under our roof. (He has never brought the same one twice.) I am appalled at his promiscuity and feel he is violating our home. Children with cancer have special needs

Social isolation, physical discom-fort, and fear of death. These are not the typical characteristics of a child's life. But for children with cancer, it is all too typical. Despite the challenges, parents can foster good emotional adjustment in a child with cancer by being realistic about the child's limitations, according to the April issue of Texas Medicine.

Children with cancer face an entirely new way of life. In addition to medical treatments, children face a dependence on doctors and other health care professionals, slowed development in school, and anxiety, depression, and withdrawal due to their illness. According to authors their illness. According to authors Donna R. Copeland, PhD and Frances F. Worchel, PhD, "most children master the task of coping with the changed conditions and threats to their lives, particularly if they have a well-functioning family to support them." Writing in the of-ficial journal of the Texas Medical Association they add, "but many children run into difficulties..when it seems warranted, the child and seems warranted, the child and family should be referred to a psychologist or psychiatrist who is trained in dealing with emotional and behavioral distress associated with cancer and its treatment." Dr. Copeland is associate professor, department of pediatrics, The University of Texas, MD Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, Houston. Dr. Worchel is assistant professor, department of educational psychology, Texas A&M University, College Station.

Flag Presentation

An American flag was recently presented to the Deaf Smith County Historical Museum by Kathryn Ruga, vice-regent of the Los Ciboleros Chapter, NSDAR. Juanita Phillips, museum director, at right, is shown accepting the gift. The local DAR chapter donates flags periodically to various organizations in Hereford.

Garden Club encourages observance

This week is being observed as Texas Beautification and Litter Control Week, and members of Bud to Blossom Garden Club are encourag-ing Hereford residents to clean up around homes and businesses.

"When Spring is in the air, it's also a sure bet that trash is in the alley, litter is in the street, and weeds are in vacant lots," says Wilma Bryan, anti-litter chairman of Bud to Blossom Garden Club.

"Texas Beautification Week is a good time to start spring cleaning, mow the yard, plant a few flowers, and clean up alleys and vacant lots," added Mrs. Bryan.

With the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train due here May 15, Mrs. Bryan said the club also encourages citizens to help clean up veteran Park, where the visitors will camp overnight.

Members of the Los Ciboleros Chapter, NSDAR, met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Stanford Knox. 341 Stadium Drive.

Mrs. Austin Rose and Mrs. J.P. Jones served refreshments to the membership and special guests which included Garth Thomas of Hereford, Mitchell Blackburn of Friona, and Carol Lantz and Grace Killough, both of Dimmitt. Regent Violet Reinauer called the meeting to order and conducted the opening ritual with the assistance of Ruth Newsom, chaplain.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mary Williamson; the American's Creek, Kathryn Ruga;

Knox quoted Theodore Roosevelt, "We have room for but one language here and that is the English language for we intend to see that the crucible turns our people out as Americans, of American nationality, and not as dwellers in a polyglot boarding house."

Minutes were read and corrected and the treasurer's report was filed. Margaret Bell gave a brief report on the recent Texas DAR Society Conference.

Mrs. Jack Flynt of Dimmitt was presented for application to membership.

Also, several commitee reports were heard. The flag committee anSchool, and Brett Clements, a student at Hereford High School.

Mrs. C.F. Newsom, American history essay chairman, presented bronze medal awards to students placing first in the contest. From Hereford were Lezly McWhorter, Lee Anne Reinauer and Carrie Skelton.

Also, certificates of award winners placing second were given to three Hereford students, Kelly Christie, Teresa Ellen Baker and Tonya Deckard.

Bell also recognized the Outstanng Teacher of History, Carolyn Johnson.

Those present at the meeting included Bell, Charlotte Clark, Beth Clark, Lois Gililland, Frances Hennen, Wanda Jones, Knox, Newsom, Nell Norvell, Reinauer, Patricia Robinson, Helen Rose, Ruga, Careen Smith, Edwina Thomas, Mary Williamson and Argen Draper.

Thomas gave the program entitled, "The Flag of Our Country." This presentation included the genealogy and history of the flag from its earliest beginning. The second part of the program was a film of color slides with music and voice commentary, "The Flag Etiquette."

Ruga, program chairman, an-nounced that a book on historical landmarks was being placed in the Deaf Smith County Library in Thomas' name as a token of appreciation for his presentation.

Ruga read the President General's Message.

Knox gave the National Defense Report "English Our Official Language." In the article, several stories were related as told by millions of immigrants. English was the vehicle that enabled them to become Americans. being forced to learn English in public schools was the escalator that enabled them starting with only the clothes on their backs to rise to success in education. business and professions.

nounced that an American flag was presented to the local museum by Kathryn Ruga. Argen Draper, co-chairman of the Deaf Smith County sesquicentennial committee, announced she had presented 16 talks to women and groups, five talks to men's groups, two programs on KPAN Radio Station and eight book reviews.

Knox announced that the Wagon Train will be in Hereford Thursday, May 15. A parade is being arranged down Main St. and the round-up will be at the Bull Barn. The times will be announced later.

Also, it was announced that the May 17 luncheon meeting will be held at 11:45 a.m. at the Hereford Country Club. Mrs. Thomas Jo Upchurch, Jr., Texas state vice-regent, will report on the Continental Congress held in Washington, D.C. recently.

A report was also heard concerning the chapter's tea and reception held recently to honor the 1985 DAR Good Citizens and the American History Month essay winners. Cotten hits homer over centerfield fence

Whitefaces whip Caprock, 11-3

By GARY CHRISTENSEN Sports Editor A towering home run over the centerfield fence by Curtis Cotten in the first inning, coupled with a seven-run second-inning, powered the Hereford Whiteface varsity baseball .500 mark in the Distr team to an 11-3 victory over Caprock

The win puts Hereford above the .500 mark in the District 3-5A season at 6-5. The Whitefaces, who are 13-8-1

Getting Some High Fives

Curtis Cotten (7), at the right, gets some high fives from his teammates after he belted the ball over the centerfield fence in the first inning. Cotten's two-run homer helped spark the Whitefaces on to an 11-3 victory over the Caprock Longhorns. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen) for the season, play at Plainview on Friday at 4:30 p.m. and play at home Saturday at 1 p.m. agaisnt Tascosa, Cotten took advantage of the wind which was blowing from the southwest. His hit just cleared the green fence in centerfield, giving. Hereford a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Before Cotten hit his home run, Keith Anderson hit a double.

Hereford Coach Don Long, com-menting on Cotten's home run, said, 'I've been here seven years, and that's only the third time I've seen a ball hit out over the centerfield fence."

Anderson, who pitched a complete game for the Herd, hit another double in the second inning to drive home three runs.

Kyle Streun and Robby Collier began the Whitefaces' second inning rally with singles. Keith Herrera singled to bat in Streun and Collier for a 4-0 Hereford lead.

Rodney Torres reached base on an error, and Stefan Hacker walked to load the bases. Anderson then cleared the bases ahead of him with his double, which was lined off the rightfield fence.

In the same play in which Ander-son hit the double, he went to third base on a throwing error by the Caprock rightfielder.

Cotten then walked and stole second, setting up a two-run double by Philip Webster, who hit the ball into right centerfield. That gave Hereford a 9-0 lead.

Caprock scored all three of its runs of the game in the third inning, the only time the Longhorns were able to really connect off Whiteface pitcher Anderson. In the other six innings, Caprock had just two hits off Anderson

The Longhorns scored those runs with a double, infield single, a Hereford error, and two RBI singles. Anderson had three strikeouts in the game, but was backed up by a defense which caught a good number of fly balls in the outfield. Anderson walked just one Caprock batter.

Both teams committed four errors in the game.

Hereford, which had eight hits in the contest, scored its other two runs in the third inning.

Herrera walked, stole second, and Hacker walked. Anderson followed with an RBI double.

Complete Game By Anderson

Keith Anderson recorded another pitching victory Tuesday for the Hereford Whitefaces when he hurled a six-hitter against the Caprock Longhorns. Only the third inning gave Anderson some problems, when Caprock had four of its hits and scored all three of its runs. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

Cotten then hit a grounder toward the Caprock third baseman, who committed an error on the throw to first base. That allowed Hacker to score and give Hereford what was its final margin of the game, eight runs, 11-3.

Caprock's fourth inning ended when the Whitefaces turned a double play. A Caprock player, who had doubled, began running when a line drive was hit. Hereford second baseman Herrera caught the line drive and threw to shortstop Torres to complete the double play.

Lately, you have been told about the complexity of the office of Justice of the Peace. Do not let all of this confuse you. I stand behind the words of a great leader, Thomas Jefferson when he wrote, "Laws are made for men of ordinary understanding and should therefore be construed by the ordinary rules of common sense." I hope to bring a high standard of professionalism and objectivity to the office. With my background I can work together with the various officers I will come in contact with, like the District Attorney's office, Sheriff's Department, Department of Public Safety and our County Commissioners to bring a cohesiveness to the office.

DEAR POLLY — How does one boil eggs without getting that awful green on the outside of the yolk? — CINDY

DEAR CINDY - Boiling eggs will turn the rim of the volk green. The se-cret is to hard-cook the eggs, not boil them. My favorite way is to cover the eggs with cold water, heat the pan just until the water comes to a boil, then immediately turn off the heat. Let the eggs sit in the hot water for 25 Let the eggs sit in the hot water for 25 to 30 minutes, then rinse in cold water to stop the cooking. The result is tender, well-cooked eggs without a trace of green around the yolk. This also helps to eliminate cracking, since the eggs are not allowed to bobble around in boiling water. You'll have perfectly cooked eggs every time. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I've always had trouble cooking broccoli. If I left it whole, the whole thing sank in the wa-ter and the buds would get water-soaked. I never seemed to have any luck if I cut it up and cooked it since it never seemed to get done all at once. The other day I tried this method: I

I put about four and one-half inches of wa-ter in the kettel with a little salt and cooked the whole thing about twenty minutes. I had the most perfect broc-coli I've ever tasted. The buds, held out of the water were perfect not out of the water, were perfect, not soggy. The stalks were all cooked evenly tender. - BLANCHE

County 4-H'ers win in district

Three Deaf Smith County 4-H'ers won the district senior division 4-H livestock team judging contest last weekend at the Nance Ranch, qualifying them for the state contest in June.

Chris Urbanczyk, Rickle Vogel and Jeff Hicks each placed third, fourth and fifth, respectively in the in-dividual high scores of the contest, Davy Vestal, Deaf Smith 4-H director, was pleased with the results of the 20-county competition because the local youths edged out Randall County which had held the district title for years. Deaf Smith County was second place in the district last year, but traded places with Randall County this time.

The Deaf Smith team netted 1,499 points of the 1,650 points of the contest. The second place win off Randall County was just three points behind that, at 1,496, and edged Dallam County into third place with 1,495 points.

In keeping with Hereford Study Club's theme of the Texas Sesquicentennial, Mary Panciera presented a book review when the group met Thursday in the home of Virginia Winget.

Panciera reviewed the book with a Texas setting and by a Texas author, "The Wind," by Dorothy Scarborough.

The novel, first published in 1925, soon received wide favorable acclaim from many sources, but in Texas itself the book generated a furor of criticism. Panciera stated West Texas especially regarded the book as a brutal attack on the land they loved.

"The Wind" is set during the devastating drough of the 1880s around Sweetwater. Drought, winter blizzards, and falling market prices wiped out the boom conditions of the Texas cattle industry.

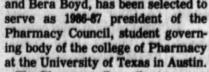

"The wind itself is a main character in the novel, and it

How about something "pumped from a bog in Ugan-da and treated with the soap scum from the bathtub of Col. Khadafy?"

Try San Angelo's drinking water.

On second thought, maybe you'd better not. Those rancid remarks were but a few of the responses in a "Describe the Water Contest" conducted by Jack Cowan, a columnist for the San Angelo Standard-Times.

Cowan asked residents of this Southwest Texas city of 80,000 to complete the phrase, "San Angelo water tastes like

He indicated that some of the best entries were X-rated and unprintable but concluded that they "surely will help to inspire the city council and city staff ... to seek remedies for the water situation."

San Angelo gets its water locally from Lake Nasworthy, Twin Buttes and O.C. Fisher reservoirs. Because of low lake levels, the city has been piping in up to 18 million gallons of water a day from a reserve source, said City
