Reagan returning to center stage tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, out of the public eye for a month, is returning to center stage tonight with a State of the Union address intended to show him in command, undaunted by the Iran-Contra scandal and promoting an agenda for arms control and economic strength.

Reagan will go before the nation and the Congress at 9 p.m. EST in a nationally broadcast address from the rostrum of the House of Representatives.

It will be his first major speech of the year, and it is expected to be the first time since before Christmas that he publicly mentions the secret arms sale to Iran and diversion of profits to Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

Portraying Reagan as unfazed by the Iran-Contra controversy, presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said, "The president will go to Capitol Hill much in the same manner that he has done in previous years, and in each and every year his message has been a strong message ... received and accepted by the American people.

"This will be the same Ronald Reagan that you saw in '81, '82, '83, '84, '85."

The speech, and an accompanying message on legislation, are expected to spell out a new package of "competitiveness" measures to blunt protectionist pressures growing in Congress because of huge trade deficits. A key item is a proposed easing of anti-trust laws to enable U.S. companies to engage in more joint ventures overseas.

Because of disagreement within the administration, work was not completed on an expected insurance program to deal with the huge costs of catastrophic illness. "It will be mentioned, but final decisions have not been made," said White House deputy press secretary Albert Brashear.

On the national security front, Speakes said Reagan would underscore the need to keep America strong so it can deal with adversaries and assist allies.

He said Reagan, with two years remaining in office, would "stress his desire to come to some conclusion with the Soviet Union on arms control and will pledge to actively seek and redouble his efforts in the area of arms control."

The Iran-Contra controversy has dominated the White House and severely damaged Reagan's standing in the polls. A Gallup survey said 46 percent of Americans believe the president is "not believable" while 38 percent believe he is holding back information on the subject to protect himself and others.

Two polls released Monday indicated public apprehension about the course of the nation and the economy is higher than it has been in at least four years.

A New York Times-CBS News Poll said that while Reagan has halted the sharp decline in his popularity that followed the Iran-Contra revelations, he has lost a fifth of the supporters he had a year ago.

Fifty-two percent of the 1,590 adults polled Jan. 18-21 said they believe Reagan lied when he said he did not know that money from Iranian arms sale went to help the Contras.

A Washington Post-ABC Poll of 1,505 people interviewed Jan. 15-19 found that 36 percent support Reagan on overall foreign policy and 29 percent approve of the president's policy toward Nicaragua.

White House aides said Reagan would not apologize for selling arms to Iran but will take responsibility for the initiative, express disappointment over the outcome, acknowledge that mistakes were made and vow to learn all the facts and then make any corrections necessary.

While acknowledging that tonight's address will not put an end to the Iran controversy, one Reagan adviser, speaking privately, expressed hope it could begin to "move us from being so much entangled" with the problem and set an agenda and a pace for the White House.

For the first time, Reagan will face a Congress in which Democrats hold a majority in both houses. The president's speech will set a tone of cooperation and compromise, the aide said, but already there are fights brewing, with the likely veto of a costly clean water bill that sailed through Congress.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says an expert is a person who can take something you already know and make it sound confusing.

On a very cold, stormy night, the manager of a bakery was about to close shop early when the door opened and a man walked in asking for two sweet rolls.

The baker was amazed to think that anyone would come out in such weather for just two sweet rolls. "Are you married?" he asked the customer.

"Of course," the man replied. "Do you think my mother would send me out on a night like this?"

Judging starts Wednesday for the annual Hereford Young Farmers Stock Show, but the group has already started work this week and has many hours of preparation recorded for the big show. All the entrants in the show need a helping hand for their work, and a guest editorial in today's Brand explains the situation quite well. (See Page 2)

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Banquet is scheduled Feb. 12, and the keynote speaker for the event has been named. He is Dale Van Horn of Raleigh, N.C., a noted speaker, songwriter and entertainer. Tickets are now on sale at the chamber office.

During this period of tough economic conditions, it's a good time to review qualities of a winner and a loser. According to Times Talks magazine, here are some definitions:

The Winner is always part of the answer;

The Loser is always part of the problem.

The Winner always has a program;

The Loser always has an excuse.

The Winner says "Let me do it for you;"

The Loser says, "That's not my job."

The Winner sees an answer for every problem.

The Loser sees a problem in every answer.

The Winner sees a green near every sand trap;

The Loser sees two or three sand traps near every green.

The Winner says, "It may be difficult but it's possible;"

The Loser says, "It may be possible but it's too difficult."

Drug dog info meeting set

A general public meeting to provide information on the Hereford Schools use of a drug sniffing dog will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 2, according to school authorities.

In the meeting, it will be explained how the drug searches will be done and how students will be handled if the dog alerts to illegal substances.

By the end of this week, all parents should receive a letter with times of student assemblies on each campus and a copy of the disciplinary action to be used.

Board to consider bond Friday

No action was taken Monday evening, but Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors plan to vote Friday on whether to ask for a $1.5 million bond issue. The meeting is set for noon in the Deaf Smith General Hospital board room.

Board chairman Fr. Charles Threewit said more information is needed before a vote is taken, but that what is proposed would pick up cash flow for the hospital by about $100,000 annually. The proposal does not call for increases taxes, but to make a short term indebtedness long term.

Currently, the hospital's indebtedness requires an annual payment of about $300,000. With a bond issue of $1.5 million—which includes the debt and money for capital improvements and maintenance—payments would be less than $200,000.

Drink tax remitted

Deaf Smith County and the City of Hereford each will receive $1,600.02 from the state for their share of the 12 percent mixed drink tax collected during the last quarter of 1986. Revenues for each were $12,800.15.

It was the first full quarter since the minimum drinking age was raised from 19 to 21. State collections were down about $4 million compared to the same period in 1985.

School meeting set Thursday

Hereford Schools trustees will convene at 7 p.m. Thursday for a special meeting on a 3-item agenda.

The board is to conduct the annual evaluation of the superintendent, Dr. Harrell Holder, and have a conference with him. Such items are usually done in closed executive session.

Also on the agenda is consideration of buildings for the vocational agriculture department.

Rains is new Secretary of State

AUSTIN (AP) — Houston lawyer-businessman Jack Rains got across-the-board bipartisan support in his confirmation by the Senate as Texas secretary of state.

Rains, who was confirmed Monday on a 29-0 vote, will be sworn in Wednesday in the Senate chamber.

Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown, R-Lake Jackson, and Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, both urged Senate approval of Rains, 49.

Brown said Rains "has made substantial contributions to the Houston area and to the state of Texas over the last several years."

Rains graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in Port Arthur, and Parker joked, "Do you really think we need a guy in these challenging times that wasn't even tough enough to stick it out in Port Arthur?"

"Senator, you are an example of what Port Arthur can produce," responded Brown, touching off loud laughter among senators and spectators.

"That's what I saying, do you think the state's ready for two of us?" Parker said.

"I'm proud to second the nomination of Jack Rains as secretary of state," Parker added.

Gov. Bill Clements, who appointed Rains as Texas' chief elections officer, quipped that he agreed with Parker "that we don't want but one of them."

Anti-abortion measure filed

AUSTIN (AP) — Pro-life lawmakers have filed a bill that would ban abortions after the point at which the fetus could live outside the mother's body, with or without life-support machinery.

The director of the Texas Coalition for Life said abortions performed on such fetuses is the same as killing a baby.

"People in this state do not support infanticide, and when you kill a baby that's viable, a baby that can live outside the womb, you are, in a sense, practicing infanticide," Bill Price of Dallas said at a Monday news conference.

Price appeared with bill sponsors Sen. Ted Lyon, D-Rockwall, and Rep. Mike Millsap, D-Fort Worth. The sponsors said Texas is one of only nine states that allow abortions at any stage of a pregnancy. Lyon said "viability" of a fetus generally occurs after about 24 weeks of pregnancy.

The bill also would require minors to get parental approval for an abortion. Minors also could seek a judge's permission if the minor chose not to speak with her parents, such as in incest cases.

Millsap called the abortion bill the most important issue of the year.

"There is no greater issue that the Legislature of the state of Texas has to face than the issue of protecting the rights of the unborn. All of the issues relating to prison overcrowding and budget problems, all of those pale into insignificance when you consider the damage done by the lack of abortion regulation laws in the state of Texas," he said.

Violation of the law would be a Class A misdemeanor, which carries a jail sentence of up to one year in prison and a $2,000 fine. Under the bill, the doctor could be charged, but not the female who had the abortion.

State law now allows abortion until the day of birth, although few late-pregnancy abortions are performed.

The director of the Texas Abortion Rights Action League blasted the bill as unnecessary and potentially harmful to minors.

'88 launch goal optimistic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — NASA's goal of resuming shuttle flights early next year is in jeopardy, say officials in and out of the space agency.

Testing of the redesigned booster rocket is behind schedule, fixes for the main engines and brakes are needed and the engines probably will have to be test-fired first with Discovery locked on its launch pad, they say.

The working date for Discovery's launch is Feb. 18, 1988. Many here believe it's an overly optimistic goal, but a necessary one by which to set milestones.

"It's a good target and we may come close, but nobody I know around this place is going to tell you we're going to make that date," said Charles D. Gay, shuttle operations director.

Top officials here say it could be accomplished, but only if many other milestones are met on the road to recovery.

Air Force Gen. Forrest S. McCarthey, director of Kennedy Space Center, said officials think the schedule is realistic. He said it is longer than those in the past "because we are cutting over time and proceeding very cautiously."

Waite detained by terrorists

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Police said today that gunmen have kidnapped a Saudi Arabian, bringing to 11 the number of foreigners reported abducted in two weeks. And a news agency says hostage negotiator Terry Waite has been detained by the terrorists with whom he was meeting.

Waite, a lay envoy for the Anglican Church, has not been seen in public since Jan. 20, when he set out from his hotel in Moslem west Beirut for a meeting with the kidnapers of two Americans.

It was the longest he has remained underground in his five trips to Lebanon to negotiate freedom for hostages.

Kuwait's official news agency KUNA said Monday night that the Moslem kidnapers with whom Waite was negotiating had placed him under house arrest in a secret location.

Spokesmen for the Progressive Socialist Party, a Druse militia that has been in charge of guarding Waite, refused to comment on the report.

Mexico gets U.S. drug funds

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A substantial increase in U.S. funds is available to Mexico for use in joint drug eradication programs, an American Embassy spokesman said.

Press attache Vincent Hovanec said Monday that $15.5 million has been authorized for fiscal year 1987, compared to about $9.5 million by Mexico spent in the previous year.

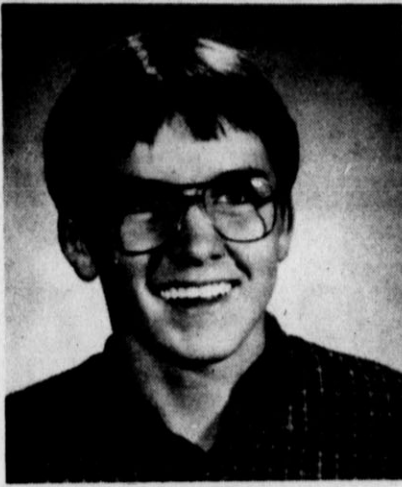

"I don't know if all that funding will actually be spent," Hovanec said in a phone interview. "It is a sizable increase in resources that has been put at the disposition of the Mexican government."

The American funds traditionally have been used to maintain an air fleet that has grown to 89 aircraft.

"If you've got more aircraft and they fly more sorties, that means more maintenance, so that is built into the program," Hovanec said. The authorization of a funding increase comes after allegations in Washington that Mexico was not doing enough in the international fight against the illegal drug trade.

U.S.-Mexico relations were strained severely after an agent for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration was killed in February 1986 and a second one detained and beaten by police last August.

Helping hand

By KAY LEDBETTER
Amarillo Globe-News

Christmas has passed and with it the period known as the "time for giving." Yet, one hand remains outstretched, trusting that the giving has not stopped.

That outstretched hand represents not one individual, but one group - youth interested in the future of agriculture - and they're not asking for a handout, but a helping hand.

The hands belong to members of 4-H and Future Farmers of America youth clubs throughout the Texas Panhandle who are needing help as they enter their stock show season.

They are winding up their projects for the year. Each individual has taken responsibility for a young animal - whether it be a pig, lamb, calf or rabbit, and they have nurtured it until it has reached a market weight.

Along the way, they have encountered the costs of the animal, feed, medication, boarding space and many other expenses. At the same time, they had an opportunity to learn responsibility, along with a knowledge of agriculture animals and their general upkeep needs.

Then, to complete the project, 4-H and FFA members exhibit their animal in hopes it will meet the judge's perception of what will adequately serve today's market. If it does, there's a blue ribbon or a banner waiting and a small amount of prize money in most cases.

But only a few receive the prize money and even that is not meant to help cover expenses.

Each county hopes to help its youth profit not only educationally, but also economically, by holding a premium auction. The premium is the amount paid over and above the market price.

In the sale ring, the youth confront some of the difficulties many of their parents have seen in the business world. They face empty wallets and short bank accounts.

The students have been advised and warned that this is a year of tight money supplies and that premium sales could hurt if participation is not good.

As exhibitors, their job is a little tougher this year. They need to work a little harder for their premiums, make a few more contacts and advertise a little more.

This year, more than ever, they must have a quality product if they expect people in the community to spend hard-earned money on it. And the community, it is hoped will turn out during the stock show and sale days to reward these youth for their efforts.

It doesn't take the high prices that some big stock shows pay for champion animals to make a local sale a success. It just takes a lot of community support.

And the more supporters or buyers there are, the less investment each one will have to make.

Companies and businesses can pool resources and perhaps donate the animal to a needy group. Neighbors can form a small buyers club and have a block party later to barbecue their purchase.

These are not greedy little hands that are outstretched. Most youth just hope to break even or maybe get a start on next year's project.

These 4-H and FFA members are not looking for a handout, but a hand up, as they take their first steps in the real world of business. They don't need a big hand, just a supportive one.

City rallies to help robbery victim

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A 35-year-old paraplegic robbed of a specially equipped car, a wallet and other items by bandits who broke into his home and cut him with a knife is getting help from people who heard about his plight.

Police received about a half-dozen phone calls Monday from people offering to help Norman Huron, who also lost a television, stereo, radio and video recorder during Saturday's 4:20 a.m. robbery.

His 1971 Camaro, designed to allow him to drive with his hands, was found abandoned Sunday, but Huron did not have the money to have it towed to his home.

Interim Police Chief William Gibson on Monday approved having Huron's car towed by a police wrecker to his residence.

He said the car appeared undamaged, but he was unable to test drive it because the keys were taken during the robbery at his West Side home.

Callers offered financial help to Huron, who lives on a $300 monthly Social Security check, police spokeswoman Romana Lopez said.

Authorities are setting up a trust fund for Huron who now must pay locksmiths to make him another set of keys.

"We are going to do everything we can to help this man," said Lt. Gary Nagy of the police burglary office.

Huron said the knife-wielding robbers broke in through a side window, slashed him on his left hand, bound him, and even took change from two piggy banks.

CRIMESTOPPERS

A Deaf Smith County Precinct 1 Chevrolet pick-up was stolen sometime Friday night, Jan. 16, 1987, or the next morning. The vehicle was parked in a residential driveway at 401 Hickory Street. The pickup was a white body with "DEAF SMITH COUNTY PCT. 1" in black letters on both doors with a white rack in the bed along with a white tool box running the length of the bed. The stolen vehicle was located north of the Nazarene Church where tracks showed the driver had been turning donuts in the snow. The tool box had been opened and the following tools were found missing:

- 1 jack
- 1 battery
- Assorted hand tools

The estimated total value of stolen articles and damage done to the vehicle is $900.00.

Anyone giving information leading to the arrest and indictment of the person(s) responsible for the Crime-of-the-Week will receive a $300 reward. Anyone having information may contact the Crime Stoppers Clue Line at 364-2643 (364-CLUE).

Dale West, son of Joe and Mary West, is the 1986-87 DAR Good Citizen of Hereford High School, as named by the school faculty. Chosen on the basis of dependability, leadership, service and patriotism, Dale is sponsored by Los Ciboleros Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in a scholarship contest at state and national levels.

Special honors and awards received by West during his three years at Hereford High School include being the district vice-president of the Future Farmers of America, Key Club Editor, and president of his class in his junior and senior years. A member of the National Honor Society, Dale was chosen as the delegate to Boys State from HHS and has participated in the University of Texas Honors Colloquium as a National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist.

His plans for the future are to enroll at the University of Texas at Austin with a major in Plan II, an inter-disciplinary liberal arts honors program. After completing his undergraduate work, he wants to go to law school and to practice criminal law. His hopes also include a career in the political arena.

He likes to exhibit pigs with the Future Farmers; his other FFA interests include the study of parliamentary procedure. The HHS team won third place in the state contest in the fall of 1986. Dale is a member of the HHS science teams as well. He attends the First Baptist Church and is a member of the church's youth group.

The 1986-87 honoree from Dimmitt High School is Jacalyn Thompson, daughter of Jack and Carolyn Thompson of Dimmitt. A senior at DHS, Thompson ranks as the number one student in her class and is involved in many activities at her alma mater. Her special interests include band, Interact, Future Homemakers of America, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Student Council, and the National Honor Society.

She also plans to become a lawyer, but her special interest is tax law. She hopes to attend Texas A&M to major in accounting with a minor in finance.

Scissor cutting art explained

Scherenchnette, the art of scissor cutting, was the program given by Kim Moore, when members of Cultural Extension Club met recently in the home of Byrdie Fellers. Moore was introduced to the art by an aunt. She started research and has corresponded with the Smithsonian Institute of Fine Arts, Houston Fine Arts Association, Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts and various other fine arts associations. She also gave the history of scherenchnette saying that it first began in China in the third century. It is a popular art in Poland, Germany and Switzerland and was found in the United States as early as the 1700s.

Many of Moore's designs were found in family Bibles. She cuts, mats and frames her work and participates in art shows. One particular design took over 200 hours to complete.

The meeting was called to order by Vice president Fellers. Jewell Hargrave led the prayer and Bertha Dettmann led the group in the pledges to the United States and Texas flags.

"No Illusions in the Class Room," taken from Charles Swindoll's book "Growing Deep in the Christian Life," was read by Fellers as the opening exercise. Roll call, "The Woman I Most Admire" was answered by members and one guest. It was announced that Nell Pope will attend a T.E.H.A. membership and leadership training meeting at 1:30 p.m. Feb. 3 in the Deaf Smith Library Heritage Room.

Fellers is the club's nominee for Extension Woman of the Year, the award to be given at the Appreciation Luncheon Feb. 23 at the Bull Barn.

Fellers served refreshments to Edith Hunter, Winnie Wiseman, Mary Lou Spinbarne, Marie Thames, Virginia Sumner, Jewell Rogers, Carrie Mae Doak, Moore, Dettmann and Hargrave.

The next meeting will be Feb. 13 in the home of Carrie Mae Doak.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Poultry stock made easier

By Polly Fisher

DEAR POLLY — Here's my favorite method for making poultry stock. Most people know that you need to put the chicken or turkey carcass in a pot big enough to fit it, cover it with plenty of water, then simmer it for a few hours.

To avoid a lot of messy straining after the stock is cool, I cut a good length of cheesecloth, open it up completely, and place the uncooked carcass on one end of the cheesecloth.

Roll the carcass up in the cheesecloth, twist the side ends closed and secure by tying the cheesecloth around the bird with twine or heavy thread. Then put in the pot and cover with water as usual.

When the stock is done cooking, remove the entire carcass-cheesecloth bundle and let cool. Cut open and pick the meat from the bones to use in your soup. — LENE

Ski trip re-scheduled for Saturday, Sunday

The Camp Fire ski trip, which had been planned Jan. 17-18, has been re-scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. The group will stay at Camp Summer Life in Vadito, N.M. with skiing at Sipapu Lodge.

A registration fee of $55 is required of which $15 is non-refundable. For those interested in going contact the Camp Fire office as soon as possible.

The total fee will include one night, two days and five meals. Youth need to bring a snack to eat on the bus Saturday morning. A breakfast snack will be furnished at Las Vegas, N.M. The first meal will be lunch Saturday served by Camp Summer Life at the lodge. The group will stop for hamburgers in Las Vegas on the return trip.

All students in second through 12th grades as well as Camp Fire families are invited to attend. Youth younger than second grade must be accompanied by a parent. All non-member skiers must become registered by paying an additional $7 which will provide insurance coverage on the trip.

The $55 fee does not include skiing expenses. The lift rates at the ski area are $17 for adults and $13 for children 12 and younger. Price of ski equipment rental is $9.75 for adults and $7 for children 12 and younger.

The swimming pool at Camp Summer Life is enclosed with a whirlpool. Bring a swimsuit.

Sleeping bags and luggage need to be at the Camp Fire Lodge Friday between 9 a.m. and noon. Pack ski clothes in a separate plastic bag to go under the seat on the bus. Waterproof levis are excellent for skiing. The luggage will not be unloaded until the group reaches Camp Summer Life Saturday night. Take only necessary items.

The skiers will be returning at approximately 11 p.m. Sunday at the lodge.

Ann Landers

Mother deeply depressed

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother has attempted suicide several times. I'm 17, the youngest in my family and the only one at home with her.

My parents often argue bitterly on the phone about another woman. After one of these conversations last week my mother swallowed a bottle of tranquilizers right in front of me. Another attempt was made after she had had arguments over the phone with my older brother.

My mother keeps doing this to me and I can't stand much more of it. I give her comfort, compassion and a shoulder to cry on, but it only lasts as long as the next phone argument. I've suggested counseling, but she says, "The problem isn't me. It's your father and his girlfriend," or, "Your brother is the one who needs a shrink."

After each suicide attempt I take her to the emergency room and listen to her complain to everybody about what a rotten life she has.

Neither my dad nor my brother has asked how my mother's bizarre behavior affects me. They don't realize how difficult it is to keep her afloat. The entire responsibility is on my shoulders. Some days I feel as if I am ready to reach for the pills myself. What should I do? — 17 Going on 70 in Mpls.

DEAR 17: Your mother sounds deeply depressed. Moreover, she is taking out her anger and frustration on you, which is unfair.

Urge your family doctor to insist that she get professional help. There are chemicals available (under strict guidance of a physician) that could put an end to her bouts of depression and suicidal behavior.

I believe you need counseling on a continuing basis to help you cope with the stress at home. (Look up Mental Health in the phone book.) Your father needs help, too. The other woman undoubtedly triggers your mother's despondent spells and he needs to talk about it.

As for your brother, why has he been permitted to shirk all responsibility? He should be at your side lending emotional support. You can use all you can get, dear. Insist on it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for the person I got stuck sitting next to last night.

I went to a great deal of trouble getting ready for the dinner party. I bought a new dress and purse, and had my hair done. It was going to be a grand evening. But there you were, ready with the details of your operations, waiting for someone to sit down so you could talk your head off.

Your gallbladder problems were unappetizing, to say the least. I couldn't eat. Your varicose veins wouldn't let me dance. Your kidney stones made me nauseated. Your blood transfusions, X-rays and problems with the oxygen tent sent me home with a headache.

I have had three major surgeries, but I wouldn't dream of telling you or anyone else about them. Please spare your next dinner partner. You ruined my evening — Trapped in Maine

DEAR MAINE: Sorry about the organ recital. People who talk about their operations (or tests) or aches and pains are world-class bores. And almost always they are totally insensitive to the effect they have on others.

The Newspaper BIBLE

ARE YOU LISTENING?

All that is now hidden will someday come to light. If you have ears, listen! And be sure to put into practice what you hear. The more you do this, the more you will understand what I tell you. To him who has shall be given; from him who has not shall be taken away even what he has. (Mark 4:22-25)

Young men, listen to me as you would to your father. Listen, and grow wise, for I speak the truth - don't turn away. For I, too, was once a son, tenderly loved by my mother as an only child, and the companion of my father. He told me never to forget his words. "If you follow them," he said, "you will have a long and happy life. Learn to be wise," he said, "and develop good judgment and common sense! I cannot over-emphasize this point." Cling to wisdom - she will protect you. Love her - she will guard you.

Determination to be wise is the first step toward becoming wise! And with your wisdom, develop common sense and good judgment. If you exalt wisdom, she will exalt you. Hold her fast and she will lead you to great honor; she will place a beautiful crown upon your head. My son, listen to me and do as I say, and you will have a long, good life. (Proverbs 4:1-10)

Listen to this wise advice; follow it closely, for it will do you good, and you can pass it on to others: Trust in the Lord. (Proverbs 22:17-19)
