VFW-LEGION TO MEET
An important called meeting of the Hereford VFW and American Legion Posts will be held tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. at the City Hall.

CRACK - OF - THE - WEEK:
"Hereford's City Water Department ought to change its name to the Hereford Sand and Water Company."

A number of addicts of "that good Hereford water" have been complaining for several days of sand in their drink. Seems that a considerable quantity of Amarillo's famous Vitamin K has been added to the anti-tooth-decay properties of Hereford water. The effect may be beneficial to the health, but its' hard on the craw. Most of the complaints have centered around the northeast section of town which leads one to suspect that the "new well" is dredging a bit of the good earth.

Oh well, Dr. Heard's always insisted that it's Deaf Smith County soil, as well as water, that contributes to healthy teeth in these parts. Citizens in the northeast quarter have a golden opportunity to find out.

Allen Fowelson has announced the sale of his shoe repair shop to W. T. (Shorty) Vernon of Lubbock. Allen recommends his successor highly, and leaves a word of appreciation for his customers. He hasn't announced his plans, but fishing is undoubtedly among 'em.

Otho Noland isn't quite sure of just what happened, but thanks to some fancy hemstitching by local doctors, he still has a big toe on his right foot and isn't kicking... for more reasons than one. Otho who says he's been driving a tractor most of his life, insists that it never happened to him before, and thinks that right in the middle of his biggest wheat harvest was a poor time to set precedents. Anyway, he was riding along aboard the tractor when something happened to attract his attention, and investigating, he found his big toe (Continued on Back Page)

False Swearing, Bigamy Charges Follow Wedding

Charges of "false swearing" were filed in District Court against Ike Allen of Hereford, and a warrant for the arrest of Lonnie Franklin James has been issued on a charge of bigamy, both in connection with James' marriage on July 5 to a 15 year old Hereford girl.

Allen, who signed an affidavit certifying that the girl was 18 years of age prior to issuance of the marriage license, was released under $2500 bond last weekend to await action of the Grand Jury.

County Judge Leonard Foster set bond in the case.

Officers are seeking James, whose former home was in Ballinger, on bigamy charges.

James was married on July 5 to the 15-year-old by Justice of the Peace Andy Thomas, after Allen had signed an affidavit certifying her age as "over 18." Monday of last week a letter from a previous wife in Ballinger was intercepted by his bride of three days, and turned over by her to her mother, who promptly reported the matter to Sheriff J. C. Reese.

In the meantime, however, James had disappeared, and officers now are also keeping a look-out for the girl-bride, also missing. In the hope of discovering James.

James had been in Hereford two or three weeks prior to the marriage. The letter intercepted here revealed that he already had a wife and two children living in Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson Celebrate Golden Wedding and Recall Pioneer West Texas Days

Deaf Smith County pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary here Sunday, July 13, admit that they met "when we were just kids" but deny that they were childhood sweethearts.

Annie Eliza Burks was born in Rockwall county, Texas, May 11, 1880, the fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Burks. That same year four-year-old Sam

Sam was born August 13, 1876, to Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Wilson near Corinth, Alcorn county, Mississippi.

Mr. Wilson recalls that his father's was one of a train of four wagons leaving Mississippi that December. The Wilsons were the only ones to come as far as Texas, the others having stopped in Arkansas. Questioned as to what he remembered of the trip which required over a month, the old Panhandler replied he remembered only three insignificant incidents which occurred on the journey.

One of these took place as the wagon train was crossing White River, Arkansas. "One of the fellows had a pack of hounds tied (Continued on Page 5)

Veterans May Get Parksites and Club House

Commissioners Agree to Sale of State Park

A two-year old dream of American Legion and VFW posts in Hereford... the establishment of a Veterans Home here... was a big step nearer realization Monday following a meeting of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court.

Along with the homes, the veterans organizations hope to acquire what will probably become a Veterans Memorial Park and playground.

County Commissioners, in session Monday, agreed to requests by the two veterans organizations to offer for sale the 400-odd acres of land, and the clubhouse, in what is known as Hereford State Park, southeast of the city.

A minimum price has been set on the property which will cover the county's investment.

The decision reached Monday climaxed several months of negotiations between the veteran's organizations, acting jointly on the project, and the County Commissioners.

The park property, now owned by the county, will be offered for sale through proper legal channels. The American Legion and VFW posts, both of which have been chartered under Texas law as corporations, plan to acquire the property jointly.

The veterans have outlined long range plans to take over maintenance of the park, and turn it into a well equipped public (Continued on Page 5)

The group is in Canyon this week, and will come to Hereford on Sunday to begin nightly classes which will continue

ETHREDGE WARD SR. INJURED MONDAY IN ACCIDENT

Ethredge Ward, Sr., suffered a leg injury when he was caught between two trucks as he was unloading wheat at Pitman Grain Elevator here Monday afternoon, July 14.

Mr. Ward was standing between the two vehicles when the spring slipped from under the bed of the six-wheel truck with which he was working.

The bed fell back approximately six feet pinning the elevator man against the second truck. The small bone of his right leg was broken.

He is now in Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Joe Story Injures Eye; Specialist May Save Sight

Joe G. Story suffered an eye injury last week while building a granary at his farm near Vega.

One of the nails Mr. Story was using bounced back, driving into his left eye with enough force to cause considerable damage. He was rushed to an Amarillo eye-specialist who found the sight badly impaired, but is now treating the eye to save the ball.

Mr. Story and his family, who have been living in Plainview for the past six years, returned to Hereford two weeks ago, and are now making their home on Roosevelt Street.

Dawn High Students to Hereford

High school students from Dawn will probably enroll in Hereford High School this fall, Leo Forrest, President of the Board of Trustees of the Hereford Rural High district, said yesterday.

H. H. Miller, board member from Dawn, tossed a verbal bombshell into a meeting of the Board Tuesday night when he reported that most of the Dawn school patrons would want to send their high school students to Hereford.

Board members were discussing transportation of students from Daniel school to Dawn, and were considering sending the Daniel high school students along with Dawn high school enrollees to West Texas State High School at Canyon when Miller quietly made his announcement.

The Dawn school district had been bitter in opposition to forming the Rural High School district, which consolidated the Dawn district, along with four other rural districts, with the Hereford Independent School District.

High school students from Dawn had previously been sent to West Texas High in Canyon. The Board of Trustees was disposed to permit the Dawn High School students to be transferred (Continued on Page 5)

NOT OUT OF GAS—BUT OUT OF THERMALS

Sailplane Pilot Lands Sunday Afternoon in Wheat Field

Sailplane Pilot Paul McCready Jr. of New Haven, Connecticut, landed his motorless craft a long way from home Sunday afternoon when he came in for a more-or-less emergency landing in a field on the G. W. Newsum place south of Hereford.

McCready was piloting his sailplane, "The Screaming Meemie," in an effort to capture the distance crown in the 14th annual National Soaring Meet, being conducted last weekend at Wichita Falls.

He made his unscheduled landing here at five o'clock Sunday afternoon when he mistook a small rain cloud for a cloud of dust which would have indicated a "thermal"—the rising hot air on which sailplane pilots depend for their soaring power.

McCready's expected "lift" turned out to be a down-draft, and he brought the "Screaming Meemie" in for a safe landing in the Newsum field after a futile attempt to reach Clover Airport north of town.

His flight of 235 miles from Wichita Falls to Hereford was the second longest of the day, according to preliminary reports from Wichita Falls, where officials were preparing to confirm a new sailplane record, of 302 miles set by Richard J. Comey of Cambridge, Mass., who winged in to Tucuman, N. M.

The previous American national distance record was 209 miles set in 1940.

McCready reported here that he had originally headed across Oklahoma after taking the air at Wichita Falls at noon Sunday, but changed his course (Continued on Page 4)

JayCees Will Launch First Project Sunday

Organization of the Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce was completed this week, with the election of officers Tuesday night, and the JayCees prepared to swing into immediate action on a series of community improvement projects.

John Kelly, local manager for the Associated Growers of Hereford, potato processors, was elected to head the Board of Directors as President of the organization at a meeting Tuesday night.

Bruce Wooddell, Hereford city marshal, and Fred Pierce, local theater manager, were named as vice presidents in charge of external and internal affairs, respectively; Bill Wolfe was elected secretary, and Paul Conaway treasurer.

Other members of the 12-man Board of Directors, elected at the organization meeting Monday night, are Lowell Sharp, Dub Reeves, D. C. McWhorter, Ben Ezzell, Debbs Knox, Rayland Evans, and Sam Nunnally.

The JayCees have started with an initial membership of thirty. Other young men in the city are invited to join the group.

Membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce is open to any young man of good character between the ages of 21 and 35 who is interested in the organization. Older men are eligible for membership, but under the JayCee charter, may not hold office nor head committees. (Continued on Page 5)

75 Prizes Will Be Offered In Mounted Parade

Some seventy-five prizes will be awarded in the big Mounted Parade which will be staged here Saturday, July 26, under American Legion sponsorship, Bill Smith announced this week.

Grand prize for the parade will be a two-year old paint pony, donated by Glen Weir.

A complete prize list for the show will be announced next week, Smith said. Prizes and cash have been donated by Hereford merchants.

There will be divisions in the show for all ages. Two children's divisions have been announced, one for youngsters from one to 12 years of age; and one for those 12 to 18 years.

Prizes will be offered for the youngest boy and girl in each division; for the smallest and largest pony, for the best horsemanship by boys and girls in each division, for the best riding habit, prettiest and ugliest mounts.

A special prize will go to the horse and rider coming from the farthest distance in an open division in which all entries will compete.

Prizes will be offered the oldest man and oldest woman riding in the parade.

A complete list of prizes will be announced for men's and women's divisions as well. (Continued on Page 4)

Spud Growers Watch Market Plunge; Gov't Buying Starts

With spud harvest getting well underway here this week, growers have seen the market drop from $3.75 per hundred at the weekend to an unstable $3.10 to $3.25 by yesterday afternoon on U. S. No. 1's, while government buying of No. 2's has already started.

"The local market was in a turmoil yesterday, with growers and processors blaming each other for glutting the market and sending the price plunging.

No. 1 reds were being quoted at between $3.10 and $3.25 yesterday afternoon, while cobbiers, representing some 30 per cent of the Deaf Smith potato crop, were near the floor.

Shippers were trying to hold the price on No. 2's above the two dollar market, yesterday without success. Seven cars had been consigned to the government at support levels ($1.12 per hundred) by late yesterday afternoon.

Potato quotations Saturday were at $3.75 per hundred. By Monday the market dropped to $3.50, and was down to $3.25 yesterday, with some spuds reported going at lower prices.

Yield and quality of the early crop are both good, according to processors. Highest reported yield was in the neighborhood of 200 sacks to the acre on the John Paetold place.

Yields are running between 100 and 160 sacks to the acre in general. Growers say late spuds will run to heavier yields. (Continued on Page 4)

Wheat Harvest Over--Box Car Shortage Isn't

Wheat harvest was all over in Deaf Smith county this week.

A few scattered combines may still be running in the county, but the last major acreage was harvested on Monday, and the fleet of combines which moved across the county a week ago has gone north.

In their wake, they have left Deaf Smith county with the richest harvest in history... a wheat yield estimated at about nine million bushels... with millions of bushels still on the ground or piled in improvised farm granaries.

The story of the 1947 harvest has been one of... and shortages... a surplus of trucks, and finally of combines, and a desperate shortage of box cars to move the grain.

Elevators in the county, with a total of nearly three million bushels of storage capacity, were overflowing in the first week of harvest; and their bins have been glutted since.

Hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat have rolled, and are still rolling, out of the county on wheat trucks to points all over Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas.

The highways leading out of Hereford for the past two weeks have carried a steady stream of big trucks, all loaded to the top with grain. By contrast, freight yards here have remained empty of cars. Less than 200 cars of wheat have been shipped by rail from Deaf Smith county, elevator men estimate.

The Pitman elevator made 150,000 bushels of storage available early Monday, after completing turning of wheat in the bins, and the resulting rush had trucks lined up along Highway 90 and all through town on Highway 51 through most of the day Monday. Announcement that storage would be available was made by radio Sunday, and wheat trucks poured in to the elevators from all sections of the county.

Fraser elevator will still taking some grain in the new elevator at mid-week, after shipping a considerable quantity out by truck; and Sears and Teter elevator, which has been running a fleet of trucks since early in the harvest, is still taking wheat in limited quantities. Packard Mill reported yesterday afternoon that their bins were full and no more grain could be stored until box cars are made available for shipping.

The price was still rising. Local buyers were quoting $2.95 a bushel on the Hereford market

Dawn Still Leads Myny Softball Loop This Week

Dawn softballers held their lead in the Myny Softball League as play was resumed this week after a two-week harvest vacation, with the Hereford Firemen staying in the win-column to hold their second place rating.

Dawn fan wild Tuesday night to swamp the High School team 21 to 3 behind four-hit pitching by May.

The Firemen had a scare tossed into them Wednesday night, however, by the cellar-dwelling Lions Club team, but nosed out with a 10-7 victory. The smoke-eaters held a 10 run lead going into the last inning when the Lions suddenly came to life and shoved across 7 runs in a big rally. Brock pitched for the Firemen, allowing 6 hits.

Monday night Sunday school upset Summerfield in a close 9-8 battle. Wilson was the winning pitcher, allowing 12 hits, while J. Clark, on the mound for Summerfield, gave up only 8.

Tonight American Legion and VFW tangle, and Monday night the Firemen meet the up-and-coming Sunday School. Tuesday night Summerfield takes on the Lions. Wednesday night High School and American Legion meet and Thursday nights it Dawn vs. VFW.

Spud Growers . . .

All six of the local processing and shipping houses were in operation this week.
E. A. McBryde, assistant state director of Production Marketing Administration, from College Station; Harry Sullivan, assistant chief of the Shipping and Storage Section of PMA, of Dallas; and Dennis Poe, purchase representative, were all in Hereford yesterday to check over the local situation.
Poe has set up his offices at the county courthouse, and is preparing the machinery for anticipated government purchase of spuds at support levels.
The PMA officials said that they hadn't expected to have to deal with the Deaf Smith market at all this year, but with the events of the past few days, are preparing to start buying under the support program.
Unless a change in the market develops, cobblers are expected to go on the government market in a short time.
No. 1 cobblers were being offered at support levels at Plainview yesterday, although no Number Ones had been sold at support price here up to yesterday afternoon.
Support prices on U. S. No. 1 Grade A spuds are $2.25 per hundred. On No. 1 B's and U.S. 2's, the support price is a dollar twelve and a half.

75 Prizes . . .

A cash prize of $25 is being offered to the person submitting the winning name in a contest to select a name for the proposed Riding Club, which the Legion will attempt to organize after the parade.
Registration for the riding club will be at the Bull Barn after the parade. Details of the name contest will be announced later.
Plans are to form a club of riders of all ages to promote horseback riding as a sport and recreation, with the idea in view of forming some such booster organization as Amarillo's famed Will Rogers Range Riders or the Clovis Mounted Patrol.
The parade will assemble Saturday morning, July 26, at 10 a.m. at the Bull Barn. Riders are requested to be on time.
Persons needing mounts for the parade may contact Dr. C. D. Kelton, who will attempt to arrange for them. Owners having one or more saddle horses which can be made available for the parade are also asked to contact Dr. Kelton.

behind and under his wagon." Mr. Wilson remembers clearly the commotion caused by the "floppies" as they hit the water and had to be cut loose from the wagon to swim across.

"I also remember," the Deaf Smith old-timer reminisced, "that a bad snowstorm forced us to stop several days with some strangers along the road. The thing that impressed me was a huge collie or shepherd dog, which kissed my little brother goodbye as we left."

The only other thing that has stayed with him through these 65 years is the sight of a big black bear chained to a stake near a blacksmith shop somewhere between Mississippi and Texas.

The Wilsons landed at Shady Grove, Kaufman county, January 1. They moved on to Rockwall county in 1883 to settle on a neighboring farm to the Burks. Eliza Burks and Sam Wilson were playmates as children and attended the same country school. They were married in her home near Royce City July 11, 1897.

The couple moved—again in a covered wagon—in 1901 to Quail in Collinsworth county. With them were their two children, one of whom is now Mrs. Vera Davison of Hereford.

At Quail they lived in a half dugout and operated the post office. Mr. Wilson was postmaster there for two years before they moved back to Rockwall county because they "had blown away that Quail!"

Gale, Texas became their home when they "pulled up stakes" again in 1910. While living there, Mr. Wilson became interested in land in the Panhandle and in 1924, he came with some land agents to Deaf Smith county where he purchased a tract of land near Summerfield.

The Wilsons moved to this county in 1929 only to return to Gale in less than two years. However, in 1935 they came again to Summerfield, this time "to stay" around Hereford.

For many years, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson farmed on the land which they still hold west of Hereford. The past four years they have lived on Avenue E here.

The couple has five children—Earl Wilson, Snyder; Mrs. Vera Davison, Hereford; Byrd Wilson, Frisco; R. L. Wilson, Hereford; and Obe Wilson, Summerfield.

Fifteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren are living.

Fire Wednesday Destroys Store House at Warren's

Fire which caught from burning grass and trash destroyed a storage house at the Bill Warren place two blocks north of Harrison highway on 25-Mile Ave. about 3:00 Wednesday afternoon, July 16.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Warren was at home at the time of the fire. Miss Katherine Manner, a cousin of Mrs. Warren, was alone in the house.

When she awakened from a nap, she found the building was burning. The frame house and its contents were complete losses.

Members of the Hereford fire department were able to save the garage which stands near where the other building burned.

Miss Ella Aikman and Miss Madeline Bell returned Sunday from Plains where she spent the weekend with friends. Miss Aikman left Tuesday for Lubbock for a short visit there with friends.

The present clubhouse would be utilized as the nucleus for the Veteran's Home. Plans call for remodeling and eventual expansion of the clubhouse to provide a permanent home for the local veterans, as well as a building which can serve Hereford in the capacity of a community center.

LOCAL MILLS SAY DEAF SMITH WHEAT GOOD MILLING

Miller Charges Over Half Wheat Grown In Floyd County Undesirable; Starts Furore

An unidentified mill, described only as "one of the big ones," touched off a furore in Floyd County a week ago with the statement that 53 per cent of the wheat being produced in Floyd County is undesirable for milling. The name of the mill issuing the statement was withheld from publication, according to the Floyd County Hesperian, "because the use of their name might hurt them in business here."

The statement was released by W. C. Cates, director and manager of the Farmers Grain Company of Floydada.

"The time isn't far off when Floyd County wheat will be penalized if a change is not made," Cates predicted.

Three varieties of wheat were named by the mill as undesirable, and one of the varieties named is widely grown in Floyd County, the miller said.

Editor Homer Steen of the Hesperian criticized the mill source for not coming out flatly and saying what types of wheat were undesirable and why.

"Our attitude was and is," Steen said editorially, "that if the mill is unwilling to have its name used, we'd be willing to quote an unknown source on the varieties of wheat the unknown source claims are undesirable. Evidently the situation is one that needs clarifying. A wheat man surely wouldn't want to try to make a mill take some kind of wheat the mill doesn't want, any more than the mill will try to make people eat a brand of flour or toasties the public will not receive. In the latter case, it can't be done, of course.

"The question naturally arises: why are the varieties of wheat the mill doesn't want undesirable? And what could the grower do to get along better with his customer?"

Editor Steen opined that 53 per cent of a six and a half million bushel crop is too much grain to throw away.

Hereford flour millers, contacted in regard to the story, were inclined to call it "fishy."

The millers said, however, that they were not familiar with Floyd County wheat, and added that at least one variety has been found to be of poor milling quality.

Steen said editorially, "that if

Tech Expedition Seeks Dinosaur Bones in Big Bend

LUBBOCK, July 15—Seeking bones or skeletons of dinosaurs for addition to the West Texas museum and for research at Texas Technological College, a scientific expedition will enter Big Bend National park next month.

Wann Langston, geology instructor, will head the expedition, accompanied by H. C. Bailey of Clarksville and Owen Hofack of Levelland. Bailey will complete requirements for a bachelor of science degree in geology at the end of the current summer term. Hofack is also a geology student.

The Department of the Interior recently issued the party a permit to excavate dinosaur remains in the park during 1947.

The group will search specifically for remains of saurpods dinosaurs of the Upper Cretaceous age, which closed about 75 million years ago. Only two skeletons of this type, both incomplete, have been discovered in North America. One is in the National museum, Washington, and the other at the University of Oklahoma museum.

Langston hopes to supplement this material with further discoveries this summer. He also expressed hopes that the party may unearth remains of an entirely new dinosaur fauna, one never previously described.

The saurpods dinosaur is one

One local miller said that Chief-Can wheat was considered to be of poor milling quality, and guessed that this variety might have caused the complaints in Floyd County.

Little wheat of this variety is grown in Deaf Smith County, however, the millers said.

Deaf Smith county wheat is generally of good milling quality, the millers stated, and local mills have had no difficulty with Deaf Smith grown wheat from this standpoint.

The unidentified miller who criticized the Floyd County wheat was quoted as saying that 53 per cent of the wheat grown there was of such poor milling quality that cereal products made from it could not be sold to the trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hicks and daughters of Houston are spending the summer on the Robert Jackson farm. Mr. Hicks and his brother-in-law Walter Seed of Hereford left Saturday morning for a trip to the mountains in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Wright and son Billy and Miss Imogene Spencer of Amarillo were guests of the largest of the group. Sometimes attaining an overall length of 82 feet, it is characterized by a short body and long neck and tail.

Leaving Lubbock July 18, the party will search for prehistoric remains about seven weeks. Center of the search will be about 100 miles south of Marathon.

Highway Signs Are Erected on County Line East and West

Chamber of Commerce Highway signs are going up this week. Two of the signs, advertising Deaf Smith County and Hereford, "The Town Without a Toothache," have been erected on the county line on Highway 60 east and west of Hereford.

The sign to the east is located on property owned by Joe Friemel. West of town, the sign is located on the J. B. Noland place. Friemel and Noland donated the sites without charge to the Chamber of Commerce.

The signs are 13 feet by 38 feet.

Supt. George Graham wants to remind parents of six-year olds entering school this fall for the first time this year that small pox vaccinations will be required... of the kids, not the parents, of course.

George also reports that no reserved parking tickets will be sold for football games here this fall. The first 75 cars to arrive at the field will be admitted to parking spaces for a 50-cent fee, and after that, the gates will be closed.

when soaring conditions appeared better over West Texas. He made the 235 mile flight in five hours—good time for a motorless aircraft.

McCready's ground crew, headed by his father, Dr. Paul B. McCready of New Haven, arrived early Monday morning to dismantle the sail plane and load it for the return to base.

McCready was unperturbed by his landing here. Most sailplane landings are un-scheduled, anyway.

McCready's was one of forty sailplanes to take off from Wichita Falls Sunday. Several landed at Amarillo airports.

The sailplane enthusiasts resent having their craft labelled "gliders."

One of the sailplane pilots who landed at Amarillo clarified the point for Amarillo News reporters.

The Board has decided to transport grade school students from the Daniel school district to Dawn, where a grade school will be maintained; and will bring the Daniel High School students, along with those from Dawn, in to Hereford.

No decision has been made as yet regarding maintenance of grade schools at Summerfield and Westway; although it appears certain that a grade school will be maintained at Summerfield at least.

All high school students in the district will attend Hereford High.

JayCees...

Each member of the board of directors heads one or more working committees.

The first meeting of the group was held last Friday night at the county courtroom, when C. T. Davis, president of the Amarillo JayCees, headed a delegation of Amarillo members to discuss forming of local organization.

With Davis were Chester Parks, past president of the Amarillo, chapter; Walter Shaller, John Marler, and Bill Kenyon.

Davis explained the functions and qualifications of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Parks discussed procedures of organizing and affiliating with state and national Junior Chambers of Commerce.

Thirteen young Hereford business men were present. A second meeting was called for Monday night, with twenty-four attending, and the group voted to organize and elect members to the Board of Directors.

At a meeting of the Board Tuesday night, officers were named, a decision made to charter the local organization under the name of Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce with both state and national organizations, and plans laid for starting initial projects.

First project undertaken by the Jaycees will be immediate improvement of the city park located on South Main street at the Boy Scout Hut. With the cooperation of the City of Hereford, the road leading into the park, impassable for months, will be graded and filled, weeds and grass will be mowed, and JayCee members will begin work today afternoon on the job of trimming trees, clearing underbrush, and generally cleaning up the premises.

Plans include erection of concrete benches and picnic units, and continued improvement in landscaping and maintenance.

Other projects have been outlined by the directors, and will be undertaken as quickly as time permits.

All Hereford JayCees are requested to meet at the park at two o'clock Sunday afternoon to get the work underway. Committees, with the cooperation of the city, will have completed preliminary work by that time.

In organizing the local JayCee chapter, members were told that the JayCee is a working organization. Those who were not willing to work were invited not to join.

"We want to emphasize, also," President Kelly said, "that we are not in competition with the Hereford Chamber of Commerce or any other local civic organization. We want to work in cooperation with all of them to accomplish projects needed for the improvement of our city."

Regular meetings of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held on the second and fourth Tuesday nights of each month. Meetings for the time being will be at the county courtroom.

A special called meeting of all members, however, will be held at the courtroom next Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m. Prospective new members are invited to attend.

There's a movement on, incidentally, to provide more grandstand seats at Whiteface Field which may cut off some of those 75 parking spaces. It's not definite yet, and may not happen this fall, but more about that later.

D. C. McWhorter and Bill Wolfe have been appointed as a committee to prepare a draft of Constitution and By-Laws to be presented to the membership at that time, and other important business will be taken up.

Purposes outlined for the Junior Chamber of Commerce are: to promote the civic welfare, to assume the duties of intelligent citizenship, to encourage mutual understanding.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is non-partisan, non-political and non-sectarian.

There are no paid workers in the organization. All work is voluntary and gratis.

Currently on the rolls as members of the chapter are Lloyd Littlefield, Bill Brandon, John Kelly, Lowell Sharp, Russell Wingert, Ernest Kendall, Dub Reeves, D. C. McWhorter, Bruce Wooddell, Gus Fanderward, Johnny Harris, Hillary Aven, Ben Ezzell, Fred Pierce, Debs Knox, Irvin Ward, E. J. Pepper, Gerald Gollehon, Neil Young, Bill Wolfe, Rayland Evans, Sam Nunally, Paul Coneway, T. J. Clay, W. B. Wilson, M. C. Adams, Dick Barrett, and Dick Barnard.

He was Capt. J. Shelly Charles, senior pilot for Eastern Airlines, who flies sailplanes for fun. "A glider," he said, is a contraption designed to be towed aloft, dragged for some distance behind a prime mover, and then released to glide to earth.

"A sailplane is an accurately designed, light-weight machine that gains its own altitude once off the ground. A sailplane can rise on so-called thermals, or rising air currents, and can stay aloft indefinitely."

Anyway they can stay aloft "indefinitely" until they run out of thermals, as Pilot McCready found out over Hereford.

Section of Land Sold for Sewing Machine In 1877; Yielded $30,000 in 1947 Wheat

History of Rich Deaf Smith Land Tract Is Traced

By RUTH TUCKER

A tract of land, a raw suit, and one thousand sewing machines are parts of one of the strangest stories to come out of early Deaf Smith County.

On December 15, 1876, the state of Texas issued to the Galveston, Brazos and Colorado Narrow Gauge Railway company and scrip certificate No. 1 for 90 acres of unsurveyed land in Texas. Texas was at that time offering 16 sections of unsurveyed land for each mile of railroad that was constructed in the state.

This certificate No. 1 covered section 61, Block K-5, Deaf Smith County. The land is located off Twenty-Five Mile Avenue, 22 miles north of Hereford.

May of 1877 found John Summerfield and crew surveying Block K-5 while they subsisted principally on buffalo meat and provisions freighted from Gainesville and Fort Worth, 350 to 400 miles away.

In September of the same year, this section 61, K-5, became one of 70 sections of land which were patented and deeded to Gunter & Munson, Sherman, by the

Land was cheap—when it could be sold at all—and finding that they were holding 70 sections of land for which there was no market, Gunter & Munson traded their land, including section 61, to A. B. Howard for one thousand Wheeler & Wilson sewing machines. Howard was then State agent for the machine company.

The machines, all of the pre-1900 box top style, were demonstrated and sold all over Texas (Continued on Page 8)

Canadian Dam At Tascosa Gets Support

DALHART, July 16—Renewed agitation for construction of a dam across the Canadian River near Tascosa came this week following the suggestion by Ray S. Daniel of Amarillo, Potter County Commissioner, that immediate steps be taken to get a dam built across the Canadian at that point.

Officials of the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce and the Dalhart JayCees threw their full support behind the project this week.

The Chamber of Commerce agreed to work with Commissioner Daniel in enlisting the support of the International Parks (Highway 51) Highway association and the support of highway leaders in Dalhart, Hartley county, Channing, Vega, Hereford, Amarillo, and other towns and cities along the Highway 51 route.

The U. S. Army engineers, after a year of study, recently rejected the proposed dam as impractical for flood control purposes.

Army Engineers had been assigned to survey two proposed sites for the dam, one at Tascosa and the other further downstream at Sanford.

Both proposals received unfavorable reports from the engineers for flood control purposes, although the engineers incorporated in their report a recommendation that, should a dam be constructed at either site for water conservation or other purposes, the flood control features should be incorporated.

Daniel believes that dam at Tascosa could be justified on several counts in addition to flood control. Some of his suggested uses for the Tascosa dam: water supply for Amarillo and other Plains cities; recreation site for the Panhandle; and as a Highway crossing of the Canadian.

The International Parks Highway, which is now well established as a through north-south route from the Canadian border to the Big Bend National Park in Texas, crosses the Canadian near Tascosa. Construction of an adequate highway bridge over the Canadian at that point has long hampered continued development of the Highway route.

Wheat Money Will Boost Totals More

Bank deposits in Texas Panhandle banks, even without the impetus of 1947's bumper wheat crop, had spread to an imposing total of more than two hundred million dollars at the June 30 call.

This total was compiled from statements of banks in the 20 Panhandle counties, plus Swisher, Farmer, and Castro counties.

At the time of the June 30 statements, little or no wheat sales had been made from the record-breaking 1947 crop, which is expected to add another hundred million dollars to bank deposits in the Panhandle area during the next two or three months.

Deposits in the two Hereford banks have increased by nearly a million dollars in the two weeks since the June 30 statements were issued, and only a small percentage of the Deaf Smith wheat crop has been sold to date. Local banks, which reported a total of $6,629,420 on deposit at the June 30 call, now total approximately $7,000,000 in deposits, and the big rush of business from wheat and potato sales is still to come.

Most banks in the Panhandle area reported increased deposits over their December 31 totals.

Deposits in forty Panhandle banks totaled $197,806,246 on June 30, with deposits in five banks at Stratford, Higgins, Mobeetie, and Happy, and the Citizens Bank and Trust Company at Pampa, not included in these totals.

SEEDS of ADVICE

from The Garden Club

ORNAMENTAL SHRUBS FOR BEAUTY

(Note—This article was prepared for the Hereford Garden Club by Mrs. J. F. Slaton.) Plains gardens are particularly fortunate that there are many types of evergreens from which to choose in landscaping the home grounds. In the last few years it has been found that many shrubs are adaptable to the Plains that in previous years were conspicuously absent. With an ample supply of water and adequate wind protection there are many shrubs that will do well in this area that are not now in use.

Location and soil conditions will determine the degree of success, and the more hardy selections of shrubs now used in both old and new gardens are highly recommended for the major part of the planting, but space should be left for new and more unusual varieties.

In selecting shrubs, plants should be chosen that grow naturally into nice shapes and as nearly the size required for the space allotted to them. The foliage should have good texture, the tracery of stems and branches should be considered and they should be selected with an eye to the way they will blend into the garden picture through the entire season.

If planting for foliage effect, the broad-leaved evergreens provide soft and varied arrangements and in addition to foliage some have berries of various colors. The Boxwood does well here. It grows in any well-drained, slightly acid soil, but should have partial shade because the foliage becomes burned by winter sun and wind. There are only two species of the Boxwood but there are numerous varieties of these species. Some are used as hedges, some as border plants and one variety grows in a billowy mound, well suited to the noblest architecture. Variety Rotundifolia is the name of the mound type while Variety Suffruticosa is the name of an edging Box which is well worth time to plant and care for. Teucrium, commonly called Germander, belongs to the mint family and grows throughout the temperate and warm parts of the earth. Some of the species are adapted to rock gardens and flower borders and they are not particular as to soil. The tree variety of Germander is recommended for dry climates. It grows to a height of six feet and is a very attractive shrub with silvery foliage and blue flower.

Cotoneaster is a broad-leaf evergreen belonging to the rose family and most of them are hardy even in the north. They rank among the most useful of shrubs for ornamental plantings, for they are outstanding for their attractive habit of growth and colorful fruit. Some species have white flowers which are conspicuous and in some varieties the foliage takes on a brilliant color in the fall. It is better to buy the plants which have been started in buckets.

Broad-leaved evergreens make their greatest contribution to the landscape in the winter when most trees and shrubs are bare and care should be taken in placing with regard to when they will be most enjoyed. If used for foliage effects alone, some distance from the house is best, but if the pleasure is to be derived from colorful berries, then they should be placed near the house.

Among the evergreen varieties useful because of their berries are the various kinds of Pyracanthas, which has been chosen as Deaf Smith County's shrub in cooperation with the Texas Highway Department memorial beautification plan. Massed plantings of Pyracanthas glow like bonfires in the fall and winter and have proven themselves well adapted to this locality. Their popularity rivals that of the nandina. Holly should be planted in rich, rather moist soil and can be planted in late summer or early spring. Keep the soil moist by sprinkling in the evenings of hot days through the first summer. Apply a deep mulch of leaves in the fall and place a protective screening of burlap about them the first few winters. Ilex Opaca, which is the native American Holly, M. Carmuta Bufardu, Howard's Variety and the Croonenberg Variety all have beautiful red berries. Others that might be mentioned are Spirea, Mock Orange, Crape Myrtle, Weigela and Japonica.

With careful selection and proper care, all of the shrubs mentioned can be grown to good advantage in Hereford and can be made a source of pride and joy to the entire community as well as to the individual landscaper.

COLD FACTS about HOT WATER

by Margaret Mallaby

Considering that the average American family has to wash a full acre of dishes and launder three miles of clothes every year . . . the present enthusiasm for automatic laundries and dishwashers is not surprising.

What is surprising is the general lack of knowledge about the kind of hot water supply necessary to make these new labor-saving devices do their jobs efficiently.

The situation is so serious that one of the leading manufacturers of laundry equipment asked the Gas Industry to double its promotion of automatic Gas water-heaters for private homes.

The reason why Gas is preferred for water-heating . . . particularly by washer makers . . . is simply this: Gas heats water faster than any other agent; A 30-gallon automatic Gas water-heater provides as much constant high-temperature water as a 100-gallon heater of any other type.

The secret, of course, is the way Gas immediately replaces and stores hot water as it is drawn off . . . a vital point when you realize that the most popular do-everything laundry requires 18.3 gallons of 160 degree water to soak, wash and rinse nine pounds of clothes.

Furthermore, clothes washing is just one of the many modern hot water requirements. The new automatic dishwashers need plenty, too. In doing the complete job they use three fillings . . . clean-off with lukewarm, actual washing with extra hot, and steam rinsing with 180 degree water . . . all of which must be instantaneously on tap! Add to that the dozens of house-cleaning tasks, baths, showers, shaves and cooking needs and it's easy to see why the reliable temperature control and super abundance of an automatic Gas water-heater is the only answer today.

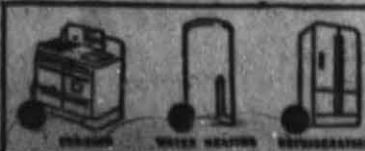

There's one more point without which no Gas water-heating story is complete. Economy! I like to save it for last because it seems all the more remarkable that a Gas water-heater could give so much with so little effort and yet cost so little to run. Frankly, haven't you found that's true with all Gas appliances?

Faithfully yours,

Margaret Mallaby

Romance of 15th Century and Violence of Twentieth Feature New Books in Library

The romance of 15th-century France, the violence of Italy during the Renaissance and the conflict in present-day Russia hold the spotlight of interest in the new books now available in the Deaf Smith County Library.

The fiction side features two popular authors. Thomas B. Costain, author of "Black Rose," is back with "The Moneyman"; Samuel Shellabarger, who wrote "Captain From Castile," has now published "Prince of Foxes."

The story of France in the 1400's and of Jacques Coeur, the king's moneyman, Costain's book is the account of a "great love and a great conspiracy" centering around Coeur and 16-year-old Valerie.

It was Valerie whom Coeur chose to succeed the king's mistress, and the teen-age girl wove "the first strands in the fatal net of love and intrigue."

"Prince of Foxes" preserves the luscious, enterprising, violent and creative era known as the Renaissance. The scene is in Italy where began the "turbulent rebirth of a new world and where its flowering was most gorgeous—and in some phases most deadly."

The reader of Shellabarger's book will find himself in Venice, where the "unbridled horses of St. Mark still reflected the golden gleam" of the setting sun; in "Ferrara, where the Duke d'Este was building a great modern city backed by new guns and lordly intrigues"; and to Rome, "where all paths met and only a fox could extricate himself."

A welcomed book for a confused world in the non-fiction category is Joshua Loth Liebman's "Peace of Mind." It deals with modern psychology and psychiatry from the religious angle.

One critic said of this volume, "It makes masterful use of the tools of psychotherapy." The author "insists that 'peace of mind' can be won by knowledge, discipline and character and undertakes to show the way."

With a title that has a tendency to scare readers, Selig Hecht's "Explaining the Atom" may give the impression of being "heavy" reading. On the contrary, it does away with the idea that atomic energy cannot be understood in everyday terms.

The author shatters the old belief that Americans must only believe in "the fact of Hiroshima rather than the theory of fission." In plain, clear English terms, he explains "what the atom is, how we learned about it, the steps by which we found out how to split it, and why it produces energy when it is split."

Neither a defense nor an indictment of the Soviet system is John Fischer's "Why They Behave Like Russians." The non-fiction account is a "dispassionate effort to explain the motives and probable future course of a country and a people which we must understand in order to survive in an unstable world."

It answers many of the questions which Americans have asked concerning the Soviet people since the end of World War II.

This year's show is jointly sponsored by the Dumas Lions Club, Dumas Chamber of Commerce and Dumas Rodeo Association.

The Lions will man all concessions on the Midway shows at night, in an effort to meet their quota of funds needed to transform the Don Harrington Ranch near Amarillo into a suitable regional encampment for Boy Scouts of this area.

CITY DADS OR DOO-DADS IS QUERY Spearman Young People Carry Torch For Swimming Pool in Demonstration

Young people at Spearman, dissatisfied with delays by the City Fathers in completing a municipal swimming pool, staged a torchlight march to the home of Mayor E. C. Womble last week to voice a protest.

The demonstration was organized by members of the Spearman Youth Council.

A petition was presented the mayor by the leader of the marchers, Rev. Bill Masters, youthful pastor of the First Christian Church, demanding immediate steps to complete the city swimming pool.

Eighty-five members of the Youth Council took part in the march. Several carried torches, and others carried signs reading "We Want a Swimming Pool Now" and "Are You City Dads or Doo-Dads."

The Mayor explained to the marchers that the city was ready to complete the pool but couldn't get materials.

Masters countered by stating that the Youth Council knew where materials could be bought with immediate delivery, and offered to give the information to the City Councilmen.

The entire demonstration was orderly. Members of the Youth Council simply took the attitude that they wanted a place to swim while they were still young.

Lamesa Soph Is Tech's Seventh 3-Letter Man

LUBBOCK, July 14 — Ernest Hawkins, Lamesa sophomore farm boy who is rated by coaches as one of the best competitors in the history of Texas Technological College, has become the seventh athlete to become a three-letterman at the college.

Hawkins during the past school year won a Double-T in football, basketball and track, the fifth man in Tech's history to gain three letters in a single school year.

Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hawkins, Route B, Lamesa, was first-string quarterback on the Red Raider football team last fall, played forward in basketball and climaxed his track season with a fighting stretch finish to win the Border Conference half mile in the annual meet at Albuquerque, N. M. He served 18 months in the Navy, six months overseas. He also lettered in football and basketball at Tech in 1944-45.

Another Letter to the Editor from... The Bootleg Philosopher

Dear Editor:

I guess I have been swept off my feet as much as the next man and don't suppose there's no cure for it and as soon as another election comes along I'll go overboard again as you never can tell, maybe this time the candidate really means to pave the road past my house and maybe even throw a little gravel in the driveway and fix the culvert, but if you ask me there is entirely too much hysteria and commotion over all these flyin saucers people is seen all over the United States.

In practically every newspaper I pick up out here at Bootleg, from the Hereford Brand on down to the Amarillo News, there is considerable mention of these flyin saucers and hurlin pancakes and other missiles which folks are seen all over the country.

Now I don't doubt a lot of folks has seen some flyin saucers and so forth, but what I can't understand is why all the excitement and commotion?

Thunderation. I been seen flyin saucers out here at Bootleg for years, but ain't never rushed to the newspapers about it. In fact, flyin saucers ain't all. Skillets, stove lids, pie pans, stew pans, flat irons, the teakettle, tin plates, stovewood, once the whole stove itself, in fact, anything my ole woman could lay her hands on, but I always considered it a private, personal matter, not something to be paraded in the headlines all over the country and callin out the Army and Navy and the atomic scientists about, if you get what I mean.

I suggest you tell them people who is reportin all them flyin saucers to calm down. As long as they keep dodgin 'em, that's the main thing that matters. Here comes one now, but I always figured dodgin was easier than bendin over a wash tub. Missed me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Hub Cap Not Fair Exchange for Two Fenders Is Plea

A. V. Hendrick, president of the Hereford State Bank and an old hand at figuring percentages, didn't figure that a hub cap... not even a Buick hub cap... was a fair exchange for a pair of fenders off his 1946 Plymouth.

Hendrick was justifiably upset, and so reported to City Marshall Bruce Wooddell.

The exchange was effected sometime on the night of July 6. Hendrick had parked his car in front of his home at 710 North Main, just south of the triangular intersection of Main and Avenue B at Mother's Park.

On Monday morning, he found the two outside fenders missing, and a Buick hub cap and a streak of blue paint left in their place.

Wooddell, after scouting around on the strength of these slender clues for a blue Buick with a smashed right fender for a few days, finally found his quarry parked in a downtown alley Wednesday night of last week.

The owner, at Wooddell's suggestion, was quite happy to foot the repair bill on Hendrick's Plymouth last Thursday morning. He had intended to come around and report the accident, he explained... but was just a little slow about getting around to it.

C. V. McCord who has been employed at Hunters Grocery Store, has gone to Amarillo where he has accepted a position in the McCart Warehouse. His family will join him there as soon as living quarters are available.

Tech Graduates Get Assistance In Finding Jobs

LUBBOCK, July 14. — Future graduates of Texas Technological College will be assisted in finding work by an official placement office established by the college to serve students in all divisions.

Dr. W. M. Whyburn, president, has announced that the service will begin operation Sept. 1. Previously placement work has been handled informally by deans, department heads, interested teachers and the education department's teacher placement office.

The new service is not designed to eliminate this informal assistance to students by staff members who may have personal contacts with prospective employers, but is expected to prove helpful in preventing overburdened with such activity, Dr. Whyburn said. Further, the office will provide a central channel where in-

A QUARTER CENTURY OF PROGRESS

About 25 years ago, wheat came into its own in the territory we serve. Last year alone wheat farmers here harvested about 40 million bushels of high protein wheat... in fact almost four-fifths of that produced in Texas is grown in our area.

Today, good bread from our wheat helps keep a healthy America healthy.

We have so much confidence in the wheat industry—and all other industries we serve, that we are investing 35 million dollars in a building program. This expansion program in our territory will bring more dependable electric service to industry and farms and better living—electrically—to everyone!

How Mr. Parker gets good telephone service

Mr. Parker just got the telephone he and his family have been waiting for. He wanted an individual line because the Parkers do a lot of telephoning. But no individual lines were available because of shortages, so he took a party line instead.

Now Mr. Parker is wondering... "A party line... hum-m-m... what kind of service...?"

Party-line service is good service. It's simply a service you share with neighbors and they share with you. Of course, you can't call while someone else is using the line, but on the other hand, no one else can call while you're using it, either—so it's "even Stephen!"

Party-line service is best when conversations are kept reasonably short so everyone has a chance to call or be called. A little thoughtfulness of the other fellow, a little practice of the golden rule do wonders on a party line.

One of these days, when we've provided service for everyone waiting and there's enough equipment, we'll be around with those individual lines Mr. Parker and hundreds of other folks would like to have.

PANHANDLE NEWSPAPERS REPORT ON PROGRESS OF FLYING DISCS Flying Saucers Made Fourth of July Week-end Like Bank Night With Free Dishes Over Panhandle, Reports Indicate

The famous "flying discs" may or may not be still a mystery by the time this is read, but whatever they are—or were—they touched off one of the biggest "sight-seeing" sprees in U. S. history.

Deaf Smith countians apparently were too busy with wheat harvest to see "flying saucers" or any other related phenomena, but other Panhandle residents were more observant. From all around the Panhandle last week-end, newspapers recorded reports of enough "flying saucers" to furnish every pantry in Texas with crockery. It was Bank Night every night, and a set of dishes free with every show.

Albert Cooper of the Shamrock Texan staff personally scouted one report, hurriedly phoned in to his office by a Shamrock housewife in mid-afternoon, and came through with no discs but a prosaic explanation.

"The lady (we promised not to divulge her name)," the Texan reports, "telephoned us and said 15 or 20 of the bright objects were flying over, coming from the southwest and travelling toward the east."

"Anxious for a first-hand interview with one of the discs, we rushed to the door and trained our 20-20 vision in the direction advised, but all we saw was a bunch of hand bills dropped by an airplane circling over town."

At Floydada, however, five youngsters who were "sleeping out" viewed flying discs between 10:30 and midnight Monday, according to Homer Steen of the Floyd County Hesperian.

The report was delivered to the Hesperian, Steen recorded, by Aubrey Guthrie, honor boy of the 1947 graduating class at Andrews Ward school in Floydada. There were 15 or 16 discs, the boys said. They (the discs) were travelling fast and the lads did not have time to get more than a few seconds impression of the gadgets.

Memphis had a tougher problem, however. No one reported seeing any "flying saucers," according to the Memphis Democrat, "but an occurrence on the Edwin Thompson farm Monday afternoon (July 7) has all the local brains in a quandry over an unnatural phenomenon."

"When Thompson went out to his farm on the north edge of town, he found over an acre of cotton and truck garden with wilted and crisped leaves, as if the plants had been subjected to intense heat. Other plants bordering this clearly defined area were still green.

"What caused it? Falling meteorites? Flying saucers? Poison gas?"

"After the first impulsive and 'possible theories were discarded, everyone decided that it must have been escaping chlorine gas. But this only conclusion exploded when the water department revealed that no gas had been released."

This tossed the Memphis theorists, and the Democrat, squarely back on the Flying Saucers. But nobody in Memphis had seen one.

A man at McLean, according to Lester Campbell in the McLean News, had not only seen "flying saucers" but could explain them. The McLean saucers, according to the sworn story, came from the guy's kitchen and sailed on a southerly direction over his head as he crossed his back porch. No "Men from Mars" were responsible however... the "lady of the house" was on the sending end.

And at Perryton, Van Stewart of the Ochiltree County Herald interviewed a Perryton man who had examined one of the "Flying Saucers" at close-range. As Van tells the story:

"This man, Phineas P. Tankerful, an itinerant harvest hand, reports that he had an opportunity to see one of the discs last Friday evening, July 4, soon after his return from an evening of celebration with some friends.

"I was in bed," says Tankerful, "when this bright round object flipped through the window, did a few banks and turns, then came to a stop right on the foot of the bed.

"It looked like a couple of pie pans fitted together. The disc, which thus was really two discs, kept opening and closing like jaws in operation. Every time the jaws opened, a belch of white flame popped out.

"At first it scared me," admitted Tankerful, "but then I decided to stick it out. Besides, I couldn't get out of bed. I tried.

"After a few minutes of belching, a strange thing happened. Two small men, not more than a few inches high, jumped out and made for me. They had rather large hammers in their hands. Without warning, they started beating me on the head.

"It hurt like the dickens," Tankerful said. "I hollered as loud as I could but they kept on. Finally I lost consciousness."

State VFW Will Sponsor Texas Softball Tourney

AUSTIN, July 14: Eugene Horton, Austin, recently reappointed athletic director for the Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has announced that the first major event on the 1947-'48 VFW Athletic program will be a state softball tournament in San Antonio, Aug. 7 and 8.

With the VFW post of District No. 20 (Bexar County) as hosts, the tournament will be open to the more than 400 VFW posts in Texas. Winner of the tournament will be given an expense-paid trip to Topeka, Kansas, for the national VFW softball tournament, Aug. 20-24, inclusive.

Athletic Director Horton also announces that a well-rounded athletic program will be carried out by the VFW in Texas during the 1947-'48 fiscal year, just begun.

Marble shooting, soap box derbies and softball tournaments will be sponsored for grade school boys of the state, and competition for members of the more than 400 VFW posts in the state will be provided in bowling, softball, basketball and rifle shooting.

In all events the VFW will sponsor county, district and state tournaments, with the state champion—individual or team—to represent the Department of Texas in national tournaments sponsored and conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. F. B. Crenshaw of Brownwood is a guest in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Lucas.

"When he came to, the disc and the little men were gone," the Herald interviewer reported. When asked what happened to them, Tankerful hazarded the guess that "that pair of pink elephants and the green snakes must have scared them away."

"The snakes and the elephants wandered into the room just about the time I passed out," he added.

Louis Bromfield, Author-Farmer, To Be at Lubbock

LUBBOCK, July 12. — Louis Bromfield, nationally known author and lecturer, will speak on soil conservation at a meeting in the Senior High School auditorium in Lubbock, Nov. 13; Ft. Worth, Nov. 11; Amarillo, Nov. 12; Wichita Falls, Nov. 4; and Abilene, Nov. 15. He will be one of about 100 executives and industrial leaders of the nation who will travel over the state on a special Burlington train.

Owner of a model farm, Bromfield has written a number of books with soil conservation as the central theme.

In addition to his talk in Lubbock, Bromfield will speak at rallies in Corsicana, Nov. 10; Ft. Worth, Nov. 11; Amarillo, Nov. 12; Wichita Falls, Nov. 4; and Abilene, Nov. 15. He will be one of about 100 executives and industrial leaders of the nation who will travel over the state on a special Burlington train.

Local committees are being organized among women's garden club groups and kindred organizations and in the several conservation districts throughout the Texas territory included in the tour, to work out detailed plans for afternoon and evening meetings in each of the six cities named.

Burlington and the Houston bank sponsored a similar tour last January. Because of the gratifying results, a much broader soil conservation and agricultural development program was decided upon.

New Traffic Code Doesn't Prohibit Hitchhiking—Just Regulates It

AUSTIN, July 14—Contrary to inaccurate reports, the new Uniform Traffic Code does not prohibit hitchhiking, George Clarke, managing director of the Texas Safety Association, said today in Austin.

The Code, which goes into effect September 5, was supported by the Texas Safety Association and 58 statewide cooperating groups in the recent session of the legislature as a safety measure.

The two-line subsection of the traffic code pertaining to hitchhikers reads: "No person shall stand in a roadway for the purpose of soliciting a ride from the driver of any vehicle."

A roadway is defined in the bill as "that portion of the highway improved, designed or ordinarily used for vehicular travel..."

The bill defines a highway as "the entire width between the boundary lines of every way publicly maintained when any part thereof is open to the use of the public for purposes of vehicular travel."

Clarke emphasized that the bill does not forbid any person to stand on the shoulder of the road for the purpose of soliciting a ride from a driver.

He said that it is a prevalent practice in the state for hitchhikers to stand on the concrete or corrugated surface of the road, and that this action constitutes a definite hazard to the hitch-will get $300 each, all plus entry fees.

Amateur ropers and girl sponsors from a wide territory are expected to compete, said H. V. Tull, Jr., general rodeo chairman. The arena seats over 5,000 people. There are 2,175 seats reserved at $2.40 per show and 2,915 bleacher seats at $1.80 for each performance, tax included. In addition the spectator section provides 34 box seats, each accommodating six people and selling for $50 for three shows.

The big show is under the sponsorship of the Plainview Junior Chamber of Commerce. Members of the Plainview Rodeo Association, Inc., and the community in general had a hand in completing construction on the grandstand arena. Almost 100 workmen, all donating their time, were busy several nights doing the carpenter work required to get the plant in readiness for the three nights of entertainment.

Mrs. Fred Meek of Plainview has charge of the cowgirl sponsors arrangements. An experienced rodeo rider, Mrs. Meek will act as hostess to the girl contestants from whom the rodeo queen will be selected from winners in the barrel race.

The Plainview rodeo plant, valued at several thousand dollars, grew from a small calf roping club maintained here for several years by enthusiastic horsemen. The first rodeo was held in the arena last year, spectators crowding a few bleacher seats. The convenient, flood-lighted facilities to be used this year are quite a contrast to the first set-up.

The Plainview high school band will furnish special music for each nightly performance. Plainview is doing its best to make the rodeo attractive to the home folks as well as to her neighbors.

Miss Betty Jane Robinson left Tuesday after a brief stay here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Robinson. She is a student in the School of Nursing at the University of Texas Medical School.

Mrs. George McConnell and children are visiting her mother, Mrs. Oscar Vaughn, and other relatives. Their home is in Washington, D.C.

G. D. Anderson Is Named President of Farwell Bank

FARWELL, July 10—G. D. Anderson, who concluded his 20th year as active vice president of the Security State Bank of Farwell, has been elected president of the institution to succeed the late J. H. Head of Hereford, who died in May.

Anderson, in taking over the presidency of the bank, said that no successor had been named as yet to the vice-presidency.

"The directors put me in as president and told me to go ahead until the wheat harvest rush is over," Anderson explained.

Anderson came to Farwell 22 years ago from Arkansas, and was first connected with the Friona State Bank, where he was cashier for two years before going to the Farwell bank as vice president.

Anderson recalled that when he first joined the firm, deposits were around $85,000. Deposits in the Farwell Bank at the June 30 statement were $2,222,893.

Officers and directors of the bank with Anderson as president, are L. S. Pool, cashier, G. W. Brunley, J. A. Fitman, G. D. Anderson and Beiva P. Anderson, directors.

During the early 1880's, Howard deeded the Deaf Smith land to Mary Wilke of Austin, for $16,025. She in turn conveyed the land, a part of which was the section 61, K-5, to J. W. Richey, who sold it to J. L. Fullton for $50,900.

Howard, who had received the land for 1000 sewing machines, in 1888 made a deal with some Littlelock, Ark., lawyers to redeem Survey 61—and the other 69 sections—which he claimed had been taken from him illegally.

Fullton was granted title to the land, which he sold to Robert Berger, who then conveyed it back to Mary Wilke for $82,800.

In 1901, J. W. Ford of Deaf Smith County bought section 61,

Dr. A. L. Aulick Will Address Baptists Here

Dr. A. L. Aulick, visiting Professor of Religious Education at Eastern New Mexico College, Portales, N.M., is scheduled to address members of the First Baptist Church here Sunday, July 20.

The Chair of Religion was established by the Baptist Convention at Eastern New Mexico in 1937. Dr. Aulick has been head of the department since 1944 when he succeeded Dr. George C. Humphrey.

The guest speaker had not announced his subjects yesterday. He will have charge of both morning and evening services at the Baptist Church.

Dr. Aulick graduated from the University of New Mexico with an A.B. degree and from Colgate University with the A.M. degree. He holds the Bachelor of Theology from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Other degrees he holds include the B.D. from Colgate University and the Doctor of Theology from the University of Dubuque.

The professor will be the last of a series of speakers to be heard at the local church during the past six weeks while the pastor, the Rev. R. H. Cagle, has been preaching in the Hawaiian Islands.

Block K-5, for $1,120. It was during this ownership that part of the section was broken for cultivation.

Ford sold the section to J. E. Hill of Hereford in 1920. Mr. Hill put it all in cultivation before selling the South and North halves to John Rempel and George Rempel, respectively, of Oklahoma.

This tract went through its last change of hands up to date in 1931 and 1933 when Mr. Hill re-purchased the two half-sections for a total of $21,244—a section which at one time had been traded for approximately 14 sewing machines.

According to Mr. Hill, the wheat grown on 640 acres of land this year averaged 25 bushels to the acre.

Butane and Propane users!

Now

IS THE TIME TO INSTALL A LARGER Butane or Propane System

If your butane or propane tank is not large enough to last four winter months without refilling, you may be without fuel when you need it this winter. The Texas Butane Dealers' Association asks every user of heating gas to take stock of his present system at once.

Many people have added new appliances—ranges and refrigerators—until they've outgrown their gas systems. The war developed new industries which use butane and propane gas on a year-round basis, while domestic users burn four to seven times more in winter than in summer—but your dealer can furnish you very little more gas in winter. To ease this high winter demand, heating gas users must tank-up with a full four-month's winter supply.

It's the age-old question of "stocking up" early. Farmers have always stored summer grain for winter, just as housewives do their summer canning. And it's "Winter-Insurance" to store your heating gas ahead. Your four-months supply will be in your own tank when you need it most. You'll also help your dealer make deliveries more economically and efficiently when road conditions are worst for gas delivery.

The Texas Butane Dealers Association urges you to drop in and see your local gas dealer as soon as possible. He knows butane—propane, and he will do everything to help you get ready for new winter—now. Before you buy any heating gas system, see your local gas dealer first!
