In the afternoon, at three o'clock, Bishop FitzSimon blessed the statue of St. Anthony erected on the Church grounds to commemorate the Silver Jubilee. The statue is of cast Carrara marble, finished in white. It is five feet high, and rests on a pedestal constructed of natural brick, and stands on the grounds born, Italy June 2, after five months there. He is now in the Brooks General Hospital in San Antonio as a patient. His wife, the former Miss Dorothy Nell Adams, is secretary to Senator Ernest Maner at Hot Springs, Ark., but will join her husband in San Antonio soon and both Mr. and Mrs. Avery will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Adams, in Hereford the latter part of June.

between St. Anthony's Church and School. St. Anthony, patron of the local Church, was a tireless preacher of Christianity who lived in the first half of the 13th century, the Bishop explained. He was born in Portugal, but after joining the followers of St. Francis of Assisi, labored in Italy and Southern France.

After the blessing of the statue, Bishop FitzSimon delivered a stirring address on "The progressive March of Christianity." He stressed the spiritual and material growth of the parish during the past 23 years, and congratulated members of the parish on their efforts.

After an expression of thanks by Fr. Albert to all those who contributed to the success of the Jubilee, His Excellency Bishop FitzSimon imparted his solemn Episcopal blessing, closing the anniversary celebration services.

How much wheat will Deal Smith County produce this year? It's anybody's guess. If The Brand knew of any way of proving the result, we'd sponsor a guessing contest, but as it stands, we'll have to wait for next year's census reports, most likely. For average results of some lively guessing by some so-called experts, however, see Page 1, Section 2, of this issue. Most of the boys refuse to be quoted, unfortunately.

Better get in the habit of carrying some nickels and pennies in your jeans. Hereford's getting to be a big town now. The Mayor says parking meters should be here in a few weeks . . . you know, those little gadgets which are designed to make all-day parking unpopular . . . on Main Street, anyhow. Some folks have the idea that people who want to shop ought to be able to get a parking space on Main for a few minutes or an hour or so. Looks like the all-day parkers will have to take to the alleys or side streets.

L. J. Counselman, who lives southwest of Summerfield gets the honor of bringing the first 1947 wheat to Hereford. Counselman's first load was delivered to Sears & Teter Sunday. It tested 60 pounds to the bushel and Counselman reported that it was cutting 30 bushels to the acre. That's not hay. The wheat was stored, not sold, so there's no price to report.

Hereford High School's Band Parents Association is in trouble. The Band Parents are now launching a new drive to raise $1200 to complete payment on the new band uniforms ordered this spring. Somebody's adding machine slipped a cog or something . . . but anyway when the returns were all in, the association was short 1200 bucks to pay the bill for the new suits. Members of the Association have signed notes to pay off the debt, and are now appealing to the folks around town to help the Band Parents out of the hole with some donations to finish up the uniform fund. Stren's Hardware and Charlie Sowell's Real Estate office are headquarters for the fund-raising. Mrs. R. C. McGilvary and Mrs. Janssen are in charge of the job.

Only 115 stalls will be available for each of the three shows first come—first served—according to Quentin Williams, General Superintendent.

Rodeo performances will be held on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, August 6, 7, 8, and 9. Arrangements are being made for the world famous Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band to play for all rodeo performances as well as the big street parade at 4:00 p. m. on Wednesday, August 6.

Stock for this year's rodeo will be furnished by Goat Mayo of Petrolia, Texas, who will also serve as arena director. Fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500) in prize money plus half of all entry fees is expected to draw the largest entry list in the history of the show.

The Cowgirl sponsor contest will again be a special added attraction with a beautiful hand-stamped saddle as first prize, a hand-tailored riding outfit as second prize, and a pair of shop made boots for third prize. All entry fees will be added back as day money.

Streu's Diary

DEAR DIARY:

Entirely too busy to do much writing today. Everybody is getting ready to harvest—getting a lot of time per customer—getting assortments of bolts, rivets, tools, and the hundred and one items needed to repair equipment. However, we are doing our best to get the merchandise in and render the quickest service possible.

In spite of critical shortages in some items, our stock is still one of the most complete to be found.

Just received: Shipment of bolts and stove bolts, canvas slats and slat clips, Desert water bags, wrenches of all kinds, one burner oil stove ovens, gear pullers, low priced plain white dishes in open stock.

Seasonable items for the housewife—iced tea glasses in a variety of shapes and decorations. Water sets, enameled pitchers, ice buckets in aluminum, Presto cookers in 4 qt. and 2 1/2 qt. sizes, pressure cookers, cold pack canners, jelly glasses, fruit jars, lids, caps and rings, jar wrenches and holders, enameled, aluminum and steel preserving kettles, ice picks, and dozens of kitchen gadgets.

Our supply of lawn hose, mowers, grass catchers, sprinklers of all kinds is still complete. Also hedge shears, grass shears, Vigoro, Weed-No-More, and sprayers. Fly sprayers and Gulf spray. Cyno-Gas ant killer, etc.

For those who have time to relax and listen to recordings, we have a few new Sparton combination radio record players priced unusually low at $169.95... One must see and hear this beautifully finished machine to appreciate it's value.

Have you looked at Lake Park recently? Drive by, look, and remember the weed patch it used to be. Our parks are beginning to look like parks again. Flowers to the City Dads.

Dawn Takes Lead In Munny League With Two Wins

Dawn forged into the lead in the Munny Softball this week by topping a pair of leading rivals, the Hereford Firemen and the American Legion teams.

The Firemen, American Legion, and Summerfield are all bunched in a tie for second place in the standings, while VFW is still in fifth position, and the High School team has forged ahead of Idle Sunday School to occupy the sixth position.

High School romped over the hapless Lions, last Thursday night 13 to 10, and came back last night (Wednesday) to upset the favored VFW nine 23 to 8 in a real slug-fest. The Scholars clipped Bishop for 20 hits, and capitalized on a total of 10 errors rung up by the fumbling Veterans.

Last Friday night, in a make-up game, Dawn battered the loop-leading Firemen out of their top-of-the-ladder position with an 11 to 6 pasting. Brock, pitching for the Firemen, allowed only 7 hits, but his teammates matched him with seven costly errors. May was the winning pitcher, allowing the Smoke-eaters only 5 hits.

Monday night Dawn returned to the field to slam through a 12-3 victory over the American Legion, collecting 10 hits off Winkler and Neil. May again hurled the winning game, allowing six hits.

Tuesday night Summerfield defeated the Firemen 7 to 3, with Clark allowing seven hits to win the game. Brock, pitching for the Firemen, gave up only 6 hits, but 10 errors charged to his teammates proved costly.

The standings:

Firemen	4	2	.666
Am. Legion	4	2	.666
Summerfield	4	2	.666

New Blue Cross Membership Drive Planned

A new Community Group in the Blue Cross Hospitalization Insurance plan will be opened in Hereford next week and a concerted drive for membership is being planned.

Representatives from Group Hospitalization Inc. from Dallas headquarters will be in Hereford from Saturday June 28, through Friday, July 4, to receive new members, and will set up headquarters in the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Courtroom in the courthouse.

Members from Farmer, Deaf Smith and Castro counties will be received in the new community group, officials announced. Fifty-three prospective members have already made application to Elmer Mathies, manager of the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Members of the advisory council of the original Community Group, organized here last summer, will aid in forming the new group. They are Mrs. Dyalitha Brady, Fred W. Baird, and Bob Wilson.

In connection with Blue Cross membership, Mathies reported that members of the old group who have allowed their insurance to lapse may re-instate it by enrolling in the new group.

Dues are payable semi-annually on April 1 and September 1. No notices are mailed to members, but a 30-day grace period is allowed. However, members who failed to pay dues prior to May 1 this year have been dropped.

Summerfield is a county line school district, lying partly in Castro and Farmer counties, and for that reason was not included in the consolidation proposal when the Hereford Rural High School District was formed early this year.

Summerfield students have, in the past, been attending high school in Hereford, although a grade school was maintained at Summerfield.

Mrs. John King and children left last week for Waxahachie after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Baird. She joined Dr. King at Waxahachie and they have gone to Nashville, Tenn., where he will intern at Vanderbilt University Hospital.

Retail Merchants Committee Set Up And Meeting Set

A Retail Merchants Committee, to help work out problems affecting the retail merchants of the city, has been formed under the auspices of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce C-O Secretary Pete Cowart revealed this week.

All retail merchants of the city are asked to meet with members of the committee tomorrow night (Friday June 20) at the county courtroom at 8 o'clock Cowart said.

Paul Harvey is chairman of the newly-formed committee with Grady Rogers, Homer Henslee, W. J. Reeves and L. C. Thomas as members.

Purpose of the committee is to help settle such questions as opening and closing hours, closing on legal holidays and other purely retail problems, Cowart said.

These problems will be discussed at the open meeting tomorrow night, and policies will be set up at that time.

Formation of the committee came in response to complaints by local merchants that there has been no set policy in regard to closing on holidays and such occasions.

were carried by heavy majorities in a special city election on April 30, provide funds for waterworks and sewer system improvements and extensions, paving of city streets, and parks improvements.

In round figures the following amounts were voted:

$112,000 for water works improvements which will include extensions of mains and construction of a 200,000 gallon overhead storage tank.

$96,000 for sewer system improvements, including extension of sewer lines and construction of a new and modern sewage disposal plant.

$133,000 for the city's share in a 100-block street paving program.

$55,000 for improvements of city parks, including construction of a municipal swimming pool.

Engineers last week completed surveys throughout the city in preparation for asking bids on the projects and Mayor Dameron said this week that the city hoped to be able to advertise for bids on most of the proposed work within a short time.

Water and sewer systems improvements are high on the city's priority list. Work on these projects will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Biggest drawback may be shortage of critical materials but city officials are hoping to let bids to a contractor who will have needed supplies available so that the work can be started immediately.

Street paving will probably get underway this summer and will be completed next spring. If plans go according to schedule.

Murder Defendant Sweethearts

George Gollum and Beulah Louise Overall exchange a tender whisper in the Santa Ana, Calif., courtroom where they are on trial in the yacht-explosion murder of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overall.

South American ...

Speaking of food, he says he has learned to like North American dishes; reluctant to name a favorite food for fear it "wouldn't be good politics," he finally confessed fried chicken is "just about tops." However, Leo Forrest, Project Manager of Deaf Smith REA, insists Bill's favorite is catfish.

Everything has not gone smoothly with the Spanish-speaking American in Texas. Although he speaks English remarkably well for one who began learning the language only last September, he sometimes is "stumped" by a name or an expression he hears here. For instance it was not so funny when, as he traveled toward Hereford, he found himself on the wrong train and not in Hereford at all but in Muleshoe. After many minutes spent in pondering the name "Muleshoe" in English and Spanish (mule y sapato in the latter) he finally got a taxi to bring him here.

Asked about the English expressions he found hard to understand, he answered with a puzzled look, "When I meet someone and he waves his hand in the air and yells 'Hi!' what does it mean?" He continued that the first time that had happened he decided from the tone of voice used for the greeting that someone was hurt, and Bill began to look around to see who needed help!

And then there was the time the waitress asked him if he would have canned peaches for dessert, and then spent some time trying to explain that she meant the fruit was in a can. Mr. Solanilla had never heard the word "canned" and there was no word in his language like it. The Hereford visitor holds the title Agriculture Engineer received in Columbia upon his graduation from college. He hopes someday to come again to the United States to take his Master's degree.

Concerning the Student Exchange program, he expressed, "It is very important for our people to know more about the United States in order that they may help their own country to advance. International training gives us the opportunity to know your country and your people better."

He was quick to compliment Hereford as having the "friendliest people I have met in the United States."

As the interview ended, he made the usual English remark, "Take it easy!" And that is Guillermo Alfonso Solanilla Mosquera—or just plain BILL.

J. L. McFarling Receives A&M Scholarship

J. L. McFarling Jr. valedictorian of the 1947 Hereford high school graduating class was one of 26 boys in Texas to receive 4-year scholarships to Texas A & M College under the "opportunity awards program" of the A&M development fund.

Deaf Smith's Wheat Acreage Highest In State; Yield May Set Pace

ENFORCEMENT PROBLEMS INCREASE WITH HARVEST Sheriff Advises Farmers to Keep Check On Trucks and Drivers As Wheat Hauling Starts

Don't place any unnecessary restrictions in the way of your harvest, Sheriff J. C. Reese advised local wheat growers this morning as the Hereford area began preparations for its greatest wheat harvest in history.

With transient truckers and harvest crews pouring into the area from all sections of the United States and Canada for the bumper wheat harvest, officers are beginning to worry about their multiplied problems of law enforcement.

tempting to hi-jackers who may cruise along the road. Don't dump at the turnoff, Clearman advised. The odds are heavy that the Plains are going to be dotted with piles of wheat within a week after harvest gets in full swing, because storage facilities are going to be loaded beyond capacity. If you have to pile your wheat on the ground, Clearman advises, pick the highest and driest spot you can find . . . and clear it of trash. If your dump is clean and well-drained, loss of grain by rotting will be cut to the minimum.

Flood Cleanup Job at Ottumwa

In the wake of the recent flood at Ottumwa, Ia., an automobile sits mired in silt and hedged by washed-out blocks of sidewalk concrete.

Predictions Range From Six To Nine Million Bushels Here

While Ochiltree and Hansford counties fight it out in pre-harvest box scores over which will be the Banner Wheat County in Texas this year, Deaf Smith County farmers, with easily the biggest wheat acreage in the state and some of the brightest prospects, are calmly preparing to harvest a wheat crop that may top both the North Plains counties.

The exact number of acres planted to wheat in this county this year is unknown, but many local observers are figuring now that the 400,000 acre figure generally credited to this county in most estimates, is low.

In a survey of local farm agencies and elevators made by The Brand this week, average estimates placed the total acreage in wheat at about 430,000 acres.

These estimates were based on the following figures: The total number of acres in cultivation in the county is 548,000. This is a reasonably accurate figure.

Known acreages planted to potatoes, 4200, and sugar beets, 1600; and estimated acreages in alfalfa, 5,000, and other small grain and vegetable crops (including oats, barley, onions, etc.) 5,000, total only 15,800 acres.

Acreage which will be summer-fallowed or planted to grain sorghums is liberally estimated to total not more than 100,000 acres.

Subtracting this total of 115,800 acres known or estimated to be planted in other crops from the known total acreage in cultivation, 548,000 acres, by the process of elimination, must be planted in wheat.

That, at least, is the line of reasoning followed in arriving at the estimated acreage.

Ochiltree county, closest competitor to Deaf Smith in acreage planted to wheat, boasts an estimated acreage of 345,000 acres.

Floyd County is third with 315,000 acres, and Hansford fourth with 309,000 acres.

Ochiltree County is claiming the state production record with a pre-harvest estimate of 8,500,000 bushels, figuring a 25-bushel per acre yield.

Hansford county, with less acreage, is predicting an even heavier average yield of nearly 30 bushels per acre for a predicted total of 9,270,000 bushels.

Deaf Smith optimists, more conservatively estimating the county's average yield at 20 bushels per acre, are predicting a crop of more than eight and a half million bushels.

Some experienced elevator men, however, are counting on a 15-bushel per acre yield, which would still pile up a total of six and a half million bushels.

Any way you take it, its going to be a whopping big wheat crop. With estimates ranging from six to nine million bushels of wheat in the county, and a market still hovering around the two dollar a bushel mark, there's a pile of money in the fields.

Harvest should get well underway in another week. Many farmers are planning to begin cutting early next week. Ripening of grain was slowed some by cool weather last week, but the grain is beginning to turn golden in the fields.

Sucker growth in fields hard-hit by green bugs, mostly in the immediate vicinity of Hereford, will slow the harvest in these fields. Cutting in the dry-land belt in the western part of the county is expected to be well ahead of harvest in the irrigated sections.

G. T. Higgins Is Elected to Head Local Masons

G. T. Higgins is the newly-elected Worshipful Master of the Hereford Masonic Lodge, AF&AM No. 849. Higgins succeeds Jim Kirby in that office.

Local Masons elected officers at their regular meeting on June 9 at Masonic Hall.

Bill Hromas was selected Senior Warden; Herman Ford Junior Warden; and Charlie Noland, Tiler.

Installation of officers will be at the first meeting in July, which will be held on Monday night July 7.

DEAF SMITH LEADS STATE IN WHEAT ACREAGE Eight Plains Counties Are Listed by Census Bureau As Among Nation's Leaders in Wheat

Eight Panhandle-Plains counties are listed by the U. S. Department of Commerce Census Bureau as being among the 100 leading wheat growing counties in the United States.

Deaf Smith county heads the list of Texas producers, and ranks sixth in the nation, according to the Census Bureau release.

Figures are based on 1944 wheat acreages, as reported in the 1945 Farm Census.

Deaf Smith was ranked first in Texas for that year with 345,975 acres planted in wheat. Ochiltree County was second (and 19th in the U. S.) with 303,980 acres.

Hansford county was third (and 21st in the U. S.) with 274,945 acres.

Others in order, with their national ranking shown in parentheses, are: Farmer County (62) 206,249 acres; Swisher County (69) 198,880 acres; Castro County (75) 91,290 acres; Carson County (76) 185,467 acres, and Randall County (92) 165,666 acres.

Deaf Smith, with an estimated 430,000 acres planted in wheat this year, is expected to hold or better its position in the national ranking.

These eight Panhandle-Plains counties, according to the Census Bureau, reported a total of 1,892,472 bushels of wheat in 1944. This was 43 percent of the state's 4,408,046 acres in wheat, and 3 percent of the U. S. total acreage of 58,286,103 acres planted to wheat in that year.

When all the returns are in for 1947, however, these figures will probably look like peanuts, at least as far as the Texas Panhandle is concerned.

The three leading counties, Deaf Smith, Hansford, and Ochiltree, according to current pre-harvest estimates, will produce more wheat this year than the entire wheat produced in 1944.

Fort Worth Visitor Is Given Play-Party

Marline Gilliland gave a little surprise party Friday afternoon for her playmate, Peggy Ann Aiken of Fort Worth, who with her mother and sisters are spending the summer in Hereford.

Asked to play with Peggy Ann were Jean Gilliland, Lamona Neff and Dorothy Faye Daniel. The little girls had been playmates since babyhood. John Gilliland was also a party playmate.

American Language, Like Old Gray Mare, Ain't What She Used to Be

"The brideship had plenty of cuddle seats aboard and there was a great deal of mop."

The above sentence makes perfectly good sense, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica 1947 Book of the Year, which carries an article on new words added to the English language. A rough translation of the sentence would read:

"A ship carrying large numbers of servicemen's brides had aboard many small seats for babies, which are seats hung from a strap slung over the shoulder, and there was a great deal of a mild form of hubba hubba."

Some more of the new terms added to the language to describe new conditions, ideas and inventions according to the Britannica Book of the Year, are:

Banana money. Japanese currency, so named because it bears the design of a banana.

Boom and bust. A cycle of economic inflation and deflation.

Buyer's strike. A movement by consumers to force prices down by declining to buy.

Fact finder. One engaged, as in a labor dispute, to ascertain the facts of a case.

Gray market. A modified black market.

Hot. Pertaining to objects which have been made radioactive.

Huckster. A radio advertising man.

Sitter. Short for baby sitter; one, usually a teen-age girl, who sits with a baby while the grown-ups are out.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM THE TEXAS BUTANE DEALERS ASSOCIATION—

BUTANE and PROPANE Users!

Is Your BUTANE or PROPANE System Ready for Next Winter?

The Texas Butane Dealers Association asks every domestic butane or propane gas user to take stock of your present system. If your tank cannot furnish gas enough to serve you through the four winter months without refilling, you may find yourself without heat this winter.

New industries developed during the war now demand tremendous amounts of butane and propane gases, throughout the year. On the other hand, domestic users of gas burn four to seven times more in winter than in summer. Because of tremendous demand, your dealer is able to furnish you very little more gas in winter than in summer. In order to "level off" this high winter load, heating gas users must plan now to tank up far ahead with a four months' supply.

By doing this you can be absolutely sure of your supply. It's "Winter Insurance," just as the farmer has always stored grain early for winter use. Housewives do their canning in the summer. Your gas will already be in your tank when you need it most. And by taking less time for your dealer's services, he can supply you and your neighbors more efficiently and more economically at the time when winter roads usually hold up gas delivery.

Before you buy any system, consult your local gas dealer. He is your friend, he knows butane-propane, and he will cooperate in every way to help you prepare for winter now.

Salvation Army Fund Drive Is Launched in State This Month

The Salvation Army State Headquarters in Dallas has launched a state-wide appeal for $800,000. This announcement was made by Colonel Charles H. Dodd, divisional commander, from the Dallas headquarters this week. Nathan Adams chairman of the board of The First National Bank at Dallas is serving as treasurer of the fund and other state-wide committee members are to be announced at a later date.

Included in the overall campaign is $50,000 toward a new state-wide hospital for unwed mothers in San Antonio; also $25,000 for better facilities at the State Youth Camp at Irving. A portion of the fund will be used for rehabilitation of Salvation Army buildings in war-torn Europe. Part of the fund will go to retirement allowances for Salvation Army officers who reach the age of 65. Some of the money will be used for disaster work in Texas. The Salvation Army prison and parole work will benefit as well as the Training program for Salvation Army officers.

Letters are now being sent to some of the wealthy residents of the state, asking for their co-operation.

It is hoped that before the campaign is finalized, which will not be until some time in 1948, that every resident of the State will have an opportunity to give something. Checks may be made payable to The Salvation Army and mailed to Nathan Adams,

SEEDS of ADVICE

from The Garden Club

(Note—This article on "Trees" was prepared for the Garden Club by Mrs. O. G. Hill.)

Trees That Pay Their Freight

Permanence of shade trees in the south and west depend more on common sense than on the amount of money spent to keep them growing. It doesn't matter whether the trees are old or new the way of keeping them healthy is essentially the same. They must be properly fed, watered and sprayed to kill disease and insects. Whether we use a commercial for feeding purposes or whether we use our own compost must be decided by each individual gardener. The use of compost takes the place of Mother Nature's method of feeding in the woods where each twig and leaf that falls lies there to decay going back into the soil to feed the trees. We can make our own compost from each year's crop of leaves and grass and return them in the form of top soil every few years to the area from which they came. As little as one fourth inch of top soil raked or furrowed in will do, more may be used if desired. This method applies to lawns also.

It is especially necessary to watch old trees, both the tips of the branches and high up in the tree. If they are beginning to die the tree is beginning to starve and in its weakened condition disease will probably attack it. A good method of feeding trees a commercial food is to punch holes 18 inches deep in the ground under the shadow cast at high noon. These holes should be in concentric circles two or three feet apart. Place a handful of complete fertilizer in each hole or its equivalent of slow-acting foods like bone meal plus the chemical ones. The more often the top soil is restored the less frequently will the trees need to be fed by this method, but a combination of both will assure normal growth.

The oaks in general are about the finest trees we have in the south. They require a hot wet climate. However, the black oaks are faulty. They grow rapidly but break up in sleet or storm and are often hollow inside. Elms are very good trees, but are easily damaged in sleet country. The maples, both sugar and red, are very fine trees. Of the ash trees the white ash is probably the best though the green ash does well here also. The linden tree which is a native is full of honey. The hickories are hard to keep but well worth keeping as long as possible. Other trees adapted to this locality are mesquite, pecan and black walnut.

All the trees mentioned above are slow growing and if a quick growing but shorter lived tree is desired to fill in until these are grown any of the following may be used: honey locust, black locust, chipa berry, Princess tree, (Paulonia), Catalpa, dogwood, red bud, mulberry, Tree of Heaven (Ailanthus, of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" fame). Some of these may be needed twenty years until the others are grown.

The pine family of trees serve 3 purposes: (1) To set off your house (2) To screen you from an undesirable view in winter and (3) to give privacy They give only a lateral shade in summer after they have grown some size. Of the broad leaf evergreen trees perhaps the American Holly and the Southern Magnolia are the best known.

Any or all of the above named

The wedding took place in the Morrow home with the Rev. Carl Madsen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, reading the double-ring ceremony. Pink and white pennants, and other spring blossoms decorated the home. The bride wore an attractive pink crepe frock with black accessories with corsage of Johanna Hill roses. She carried a white Bible and wore an heirloom strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Miss Janet Eiter was maid of honor and Lee Bashor served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a short wedding trip and have returned to Montrose, Colo., where Mr. Bashor is an accountant for Lathrop Hardware Company. ### Wayland College Gets "Go-Ahead" As Senior College

Wayland College at Plainview received the go-ahead signal this week for accreditation as a four-year college.

A unanimous vote by the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas at a meeting in Dallas Tuesday approved the Wayland board's application to make the school a full-fledged senior college, according to word received from Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall, president-elect. This makes Wayland one of three full colleges on the plains.

The board's decision will make it possible for Wayland students to attend two more years and receive standard college degrees. Among the Hereford students who completed junior work last year and will be eligible to return this fall is John Harlin.

With the third year offered this fall, Wayland officials expect many of those who graduated from the junior college to enroll in September to continue their work. The fourth year will be available the next year, and the students who last got diplomas at Wayland will possibly be among the first to receive degrees there.

Dr. Marshall said the next step at Wayland will be completing the faculty for the enlarged program. He expects the faculty to number about 25 when the three-year program is set up. Expansion of the laboratory facilities and enlargement of the library are on the immediate improvement program, Dr. Marshall said.

The Bootleg Philosopher

Editor:

Primarily I don't get wrought up or alarmed over much that goes on outside a few hundred yards one way or another from the farm, as by the time a man gets his own home in order and gets out enough answers to his wife's questions and keeps his bills paid to keep a part of his stores always feelin' friendly and gets used to havin' a road past his house paved specially ever election year left like it is the rest of the year, he just ain't got much time for national and international affairs.

However I try to do my duty to them and many's the time I've sacrificed myself by lettin' my crops grow up in grass while I went into town to help thresh or to a complicated political situation or unravel the Turkey-Greece problem, or help President Truman and Senator Daniel think out their troubles.

But I seen in the papers the other day where the U. S. Congress in Washington is gettin' behind on their work and is considerin' workin' on Saturdays from now until July, and its my opinion that if this country don't stop driftin' we're headin' for complete ruin. It has took me years to build up the principle with my wife that workin' on Saturday is un-thinkable and up-American. Saturday is one day a man don't have to have no excuse for not workin'. He don't have to find a busted cultivator part to take to town even if he hadn't intended to plow. He don't even have to claim he has got to go to the courthouse in Hereford to sign up for Triple A payments, as anyhow Fost Collier has got the same idea and closes up his Triple A office on Saturdays like anybuddy with brains and a government job. A man don't even have to forge a jury summons to get off the farm on Saturday. In fact, he just don't need no excuse at all on Saturdays; all he has to do is put on a clean shirt if he's a mind to and go into town because he likes to go into town.

But if the U. S. Congress, a outfit I figured a man could depend on to stand back of tradition, a sort of last-refuge against change and un-American ideas includin' work, is gonna fling caution to the winds and enter into new fields and entertain new ideas and start workin' on Saturdays, then there's a man to turn to I know the world is in a upheaval but I don't see no sense in the U. S. Congress cuttin' loose the anchors and driftin' into strange and untried seas, so to speak. I will appreciate you usin' your influence with Congressman Worley to nip this thing in the bud. If my wife hears about this there's no tellin' where it will end.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BOOTLEG PHILOSOPHER GETS SOME FAN MAIL

Anonymous Reader Has Harsh Word for Brand's Ace Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was slipped under the door Saturday morning. While its against our policy to publish anonymous letters, we feel that this frank analysis of J. A.'s character needs airing... badly... and are also certain that we wouldn't have to go half a block from the Brand's office to find the writer. Here's J. A.'s first fan mail, folks:

Dear Editor:

I've been around these parts a longtime and I know a lot of folks out Bootleg way. But I have never seen anyone that is hiding behind as much brush as this old snuff-dipping boy that calls himself "the Bootleg philosopher".

I have known three fellows in my life that had a face full of long whiskers. One fellow didn't have any chin; one had a mean scar across his face, caused from arguing with his wife while he was trying to shave with a straight razor; and the other old boy had quite a history: they run him out of the Cumberland mountains in Tennessee for shooting squirrels with a shotgun.

I rather think J. A. wears his because it is too much trouble to shave. Anyway he sure has something on the ball in a lot of his ideas. If he could just get the kind of loan he wants and the interest payable as he states, on the production basis, no doubt he would make the grade to 1951 with the Bank ownin' him a little interest.

If he could get his hwy paved for nothin' and without Taxes for upkeep and have his neighbors come over and harvest his crop, haul it to town, and bring him the cold cash, he could sit on his fanny in the bind weeds knee deep until frost comes. Maybe bind weeds don't even freeze, I don't know, but anyway this old boy could move in by the cook stove and dip snuff until Spring. Then his wife would trim his whiskers and walk down to his broken-down mail box and bring his paper. Doesn't seem to matter which paper or how old it is.

This old boy probably has a lot of trouble with a lame back, that really gives him a fit when his wife mentions a little work, such as, maybe wiring up the front gate that has been flat on the ground for a couple of years and he has worn a path around it. Maybe this old one-gallus boy can't see the two-holer in the back that is in a bad way for repairs, with one side wired to the windmill tower and the other to the hog shed. It tilts just enough forward that the door with the top hinge still holding keeps it from falling on its face. The door can't be moved in or out, with barely enough room to squeeze through. Part of the roof is gone and with the recent rains, the old hen that is settin' in one corner and the mail-order catalog hanging on the wall are in a pretty bad state. The winding path that leads to the house is lined with bind weeds and sand burrs, with a big red ant bed right in the middle of the path. He doesn't like this, especially on hot days, he has to hurry through those crawlin' pests or get stung. I sincerely hope that this little house doesn't face Harrison Hwy cause when its paved and the cars are whizzin' by in almost a continuous string it might interrupt some of this flat-head's deep thinking.

I admire this old boys ideas cause I hate work myself. I would love to see him go to Congress, but we have enough of that kind up there now. I don't have anything to say about his letters... maybe they are good and maybe they ain't, but I will say that I hope a copy of the Hereford Brand doesn't get in the creek with one of his letters in it. We don't have too many fish as it is... well, that would be pollution, son.

That's all, brother,
AH FOOEY

Army Air Rescue Service Also for Area Civilians

An emergency air search and rescue service for fliers lost or forced down within this area is now being conducted by the Army Air Rescue Service operating from Biggs Field, El Paso, Texas. Assistance will be given whether planes in trouble are civilian or military, and the unit is also authorized to transport by air, anyone injured in ground accidents when other transportation is not available.

All persons who have knowledge of an airplane crash or emergency landing in this vicinity are urged to place a collect long-distance telephone call to the Army Air Rescue Service, El Paso, Texas, telephone East 3181, Extension 3991.

The area covered by the Biggs Field unit includes more than 469,000 square miles and takes in Texas, Southeastern New Mexico, and the Southern portion of Oklahoma. A force of thirty-two officers and enlisted men is constantly standing by on a 24-hour alert basis to respond to calls for assistance.

Equipment provided for rescue expeditions is elaborate and complete. Six aircraft of various specialized types are used. They include two C-47 transports, three L-5 reconnaissance planes and a helicopter. Transports are especially equipped for flying supplies and emergency equipment to accident scenes, and for dropping supplies by parachute when necessary. The smaller reconnaissance planes are capable of landing in remote and rugged terrain and are equipped as ambulances for flying injured persons to hospitals. The helicopter, a whirling-winged aircraft which can take off straight up and land straight down, can reach quickly by air, places inaccessible from the ground.

Among the emergency equipment carried by rescue planes is a medical "bomb" which was developed by the Biggs Field Air Rescue Service for parachute delivery to injured men when landings of rescue planes cannot be made immediately. This contains blood plasma, morphine, splints, antiseptics and other medical supplies of an emergency nature. When required, medical officers who are especially trained for rescue work, jump by parachute to give first aid treatment to doomed fliers.

Since the Air Rescue Service unit was activated at Biggs Field in September of 1946, its men and planes have spent more than 900 hours in the air searching for lost aviators. A total of thirteen missing aircraft have been located during this period.

The Service has recently been extended and authorized to go to the aid of civilian as well as military aircraft which encounters difficulties in flight. Prompt reporting of aircraft accidents by witnesses is of great assistance in rescue operation.

Hereford Visitor Finds Deaf Smith Spuds Delicious

From a feature column written by Howard R. Smith of Chicago for National Research Bureau, Inc., with which he is associated, comes some interesting comments about Hereford. Smith was a business visitor here recently, while en route from Tucumcari to Amarillo, and stopped over in Hereford for a visit at The Brand and a "Hereford meal."

"Hereford, you may recall," he writes in his column, Penicillins Along the Way, "from an article in Colliers and other national publications, is 'The Town Without a Toothache.' Something in the soil in the Deaf Smith county region seems to lend a sort of magic medicinal quality to food products grown thereabout which arrests and prevents tooth decay."

"To say the least, Hereford grown spuds are delectably toothsome. The natives lament, however, that they don't get to eat their own produce. So much of it is shipped away they only get what is left."

MARKETS

(USDA) — Southwest farm markets remained generally firm to strong last week, but easiness cropped up on some types or classes of nearly all commodities, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Movement of new crop wheat, oats, and barley had gotten well under way and trade sources expected sorghums to join the parade in two or three weeks. Wheat prices sagged steadily, and lost about 20 cents per bushel, closing at $2.25 Friday. Corn and sorghums advanced several cents while oats and barley changed very little.

Low markets stocks of rice consisted mostly of packaged lots in the hands of retailers. Feed markets showed a stronger tone last week, with higher prices for oil-seed meals and corn feeds. Southwest alfalfa growers had about finished harvesting the first cutting. Most peanut areas enjoyed favorable conditions for the growing crop and for late planting. Texas wool sold from 47 1-2 to 52c per pound, grease base.

Cotton scored market net advances again last week despite late easiness. Good spot demand for the better grades brought only scant offerings. Most crop areas needed rain.

Slow demand for East Texas tomatoes resulted in slightly higher prices. U. S. No. 1 6 by 6 and larger sizes sold late in the week at $3.25 to $3.50 per lug box. North Texas onions held fairly firm at around $1.90 for 50 pound sacks of U. S. No. 1. Shipments of watermelons and cantaloupes increased, with some price declines reported on the Fort Worth and St. Louis markets. Good quality green beans from Arkansas and Oklahoma took over the Kansas City market, where first triumph potatoes found slow sale.

Eggs remained firm last week, while poultry held about steady with declines of the week before. At Dallas and Fort Worth, heavy hens brought 22 to 25 cents per pound, light 18 to 21, and fryers 35 to 36. At Denver, New Orleans, Houston, and Bryan, heavy hens ranged from 22 to 26 cents, light hens 18 to 21, and fryers and broilers 30 to 35. The Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas area brought heavy hens at 20 to 25, and broilers at 25 to 31.

Cattle sold generally strong to $1.00 or more higher last week, but easiness developed on lower grade cows at San Antonio and on lower grades of all classes at Fort Worth. Common to medium steers and yearlings brought $14 to $20 at Houston, while medium to good kinds realized $19 to $23.50 at Fort Worth. San Antonio bought medium steers at $31 to $33.25. Oklahoma City moved good and choice steers at $24.50 to $25.00.

Hogs scored net advances of 25 cents to $1.00 or more at most southwest terminals last week, but butcher hogs lost mostly 25 cents at Oklahoma City, and sows dropped $1 at San Antonio. Bulk of good and choice butchers brought $24.75 to $25 at Fort Worth, and $24.75 to $23.50 at Denver. Late top was $24.75 at San Antonio and Oklahoma City.

Some sheep and lamb markets made small to sharp gains, but lambs dropped $1 to $3. at Fort Worth, old crop lambs fell at San Antonio, and ewes weakened at some places. Good spring lambs moved at $20 at San Antonio; while good and choice kinds turned at 19 to $23 at Fort Worth; $24.75 to $25.25 at Wichita; and $24.50 to $26 at Denver.

Mrs. Ruth Mabry of Plains and Miss Ruth Hood of Amarillo were in Hereford over the past week end. They were guests of Miss Madeline Bell and Miss Ella Aikman.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brinkman the past week have been her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Knystra of Twin Falls, Idaho and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bechtel of Buhl, Idaho. They returned to their respective homes yesterday.

BEST-SELLERS AT DEAF SMITH COUNTY LIBRARY New Books on Library Shelves Offer Pleasant Summer Reading to Patrons

With school out and long summer days spelling more leisure for Hereford youth, probably many students are turning to reading for pastime and enjoyment. The Deaf Smith County Library has a varied selection of new fiction and non-fiction to interest young people, according to Mrs. Clara McLean, county librarian.

One currently-running Broadway play is now ready to be checked out. Arthur Miller's "All My Sons" is No. One choice of the drama critics this year. The tale of twin shadows of a catastrophe growing out of World War II is 'set in a dramatic structure of almost unbearable intensity and complete fluency.' Critics say this is a first rate piece of modern theatre.

Numerous novels just received are on the Best Seller list recently published. Among these is "Gentleman's Agreement," by Laura J. Hobson, author also of "The Trespassers." Concerned with the Jewish racial question, "Gentleman's Agreement" is the story of a New York staff writer on an assignment to do a series of articles on antisemitism and of the effect on the journalist of his research.

Also about the Jews, though not on the Best Sellers group and perhaps less practical than the Hobson story is E. Thorbecke's non-fiction "Promised Land." Divided into four sections—Ancient Palestine, New Palestine, Laboratory of the Future, and Rebirth—this book is of unsurpassed worth in background and current material on this question for those who wish to study these people.

Other fiction Best Sellers now in the library include "Vain Shadow," by Hartzell Spence; "The Big Sky," A. B. Guthrie, Jr., and "The Vikings," Frank Yerby. The first is told of "one of the greatest adventures of all time—the discovery and conquest of the Amazon River by Don Francisco Orellana," a Spanish conquistador. Adding a romantic touch to the book is the love story of Orellana and the beautiful Ana de Ayala of Spain.

Mountain men and mountain fur trade of the middle of the nineteenth century are the subject of Guthrie's "The Big Sky." The author says of the work, "The mountain man seeking escape from settlements and social institutions, brought them on himself... he found paradise of freedom and adventure and immediately went about destroying it... he was the agent of his own destruction."

Willard Motley's "Knock on Any Door" is not autobiographical but is the story of "what can and does happen to any American boy in any city."

Best Sellers in the non-fiction class include "Human Destiny" by Lecomte du Noy, re-interpreting the theory of evolution in the light of modern physics, this book is probably too heavy reading for high school students. It presents convincing arguments to prove that man could not possibly be on the earth by chance alone.

John Gunther's "Inside USA"; the one-volume condensation of five volumes, "A Study of History," by Arnold J. Toynbee; and Haydie Yates' "70 Miles from a Lemon" are available now. The last is the humorous account of an escapade by a couple running from civilization up in the Big Horn Mountains of Wyoming. Elswyth Thane's "The Light Heart" is the fourth of The Williamsburg Pentology. It tells of a Williamsburg, Va., girl who fell in love once with a childhood sweetheart and again in England with Capt. Oliver Campion, DSO of the 27th Lancers. "The Big Country Texas," Donald Day, is edited by Erskine Caldwell, and is one of the American Folkways books.

Another Marguerite Lyon story "Hurrah for Arkansas" is now out. The reader will attend a Peach Festival, go jewel hunting, see rice being planted and harvested, pick cotton, and be in two states at once in the pages of this book.

Besides the books named, there are on the library shelves many new juvenile stories and lots of good novels which are no longer new but offer interesting reading.

Attend Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Crosthwait are in Las Cruces, N. M., where they attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Nancy Bostick, which took place Saturday. Miss Bostick is a former Hereford resident.

The Crosthwaits will visit in Carlsbad, N. M., and in Lubbock before returning home.

Mrs. W. J. Todd of Canadian left Sunday after visiting her sisters, Mrs. J. O. Newell and Mrs. Ida Ricketts, and brother John Patton, here.
