To other area towns

City water rates still low in comparison

In a comparison of eight area towns and their water billing rates, Hereford is among the least expensive despite an increase of charges last week.

The study, released by City Manager Dudley Bayne, shows Dalhart to have the lowest minimum rate: $3.50 for 2,000 or fewer gallons of water used. Next is Amarillo with $3.95 (2,000 min.), Littlefield with $4.75 (3,000) and Hereford with $5 (2,000).

Tulia and Pampa charge $6 and $6.65, respectively, for 3,000 or fewer gallons. Using a 2,000 gallon minimum, Lubbock levies $5.20 while Canyon's lowest charge is $10.

For every thousand gallons used over the minimum,

Amarillo water supply users pay 79 cents while Hereford and Littlefield residents fork out 80 cents. Pampa charges 92 cents, Dalhart and Tulia $1, Lubbock $1.08 and Canyon $1.70 to $2.25.

Hereford's sewer rate, not raised last week, could be termed the lowest of the eight towns at $2.50. Lubbock citizens pay a basic rate of $2.25 but, Bayne said, most of the city's water users are probably charged significantly more.

The other sewer rates are Littlefield and Tulia at $3.50, Canyon $4, Amarillo $4.15, Pampa $4.45 and Dalhart $4.50.

Prior to the June 20 city commission meeting, the City of Hereford had a minimum water rate of $3 and charged 60 cents for every thousand gallons used above 2,000.

Several factors contributed to the need for an increase, Bayne said. One is the cost of electricity needed to run the city's 30 water wells has risen substantially lately. Also, many of the wells (12 this year, two now) have been pulled and worked on to make them penetrate deeper.

Bayne sees no alternatives to wells for the Hereford water supply. Three years ago, the city purchased slightly more than 600 acres of well field land located about four and a half miles west of town. Development has not yet begun at the site, though Bayne said it might soon.

The city manager said there should not be a water shortage this year for Hereford as long as most of the wells are operating.

"If we can get through the month of July," he claimed, "we feel we've got it made." Bayne does not foresee any catastrophes for Hereford's water supply in the long run, though rates might increase considerably more. Farmers, he said, might reach a point where they are unable to use Hereford water because of high costs.

"The city will always have water," Bayne summarized, "though it will be expensive water down the line."

County purchases copiers, okays raise for employees

By BOB NIGH
MANAGING EDITOR

Deaf Smith County Commissioners purchased $45,000 worth of copy machines, decided to back down as the local distribution point for surplus commodities, and approved an across the board pay increase of six percent for county employees when the court met in regular session Monday at the courthouse.

Acting upon one of nine different proposals on various combinations of copiers, the court approved the purchase of four new copiers and one currently leased by the county. The copiers will cost a total of $45,115 for one high speed centrally-located unit, one coin-operated unit for the library, and three desk-top units, one each for the county clerk's office, the district clerk's office, and one for use by offices on the courthouse's first floor.

The county currently pays $1,576 monthly for leasing Xerox model copiers. The purchase plan approved by the court Monday will eliminate those costs, but will still leave maintenance and service costs, as yet undetermined.

County Clerk David Ruland said that the county will save money in the long run, and will own the machines rather than just leasing them. Based on the monthly lease cost, the county will have the new copiers paid for within two and a half years, according to calculations by Pct. 3 Commissioner Bruce Coleman Monday.

Acting in a special called session Monday afternoon, the court approved a six percent pay hike for county employees as recommended earlier by George Louder of Amarillo. The pay hike is effective July 1. The court also okayed a 10 percent pay increase per department as of Jan. 1, 1984, leaving individual raises within departments to the respective department heads.

The court also decided to not remain as the distribution point for surplus government commodities as recommended by county social services director Earlene Cook. Ms. Cook told the court Monday that changes in guidelines for the distribution have now placed the responsibility under the Texas Department of Human Resources.

The county fathers asked Ms. Cook to search for another local organization to act as the distribution point, since the county would be forced to hire additional personnel and face added storage costs and bookkeeping costs if it continued with the program.

Thieves heist meat, tools, tires, radio

Four hundred pounds of meat, worth an estimated $550, were stolen Thursday or Friday from Justin McBride's 611 E. 4th residence, Hereford police reported.

Also taken from McBride were two ice chests. Tom Smith, 431 Fir St., had two boxes of tools lifted either Thursday or Friday from his garage. The glove compartment of his Cadillac was damaged but not broken into. Police valued the crime at $350.

Early Saturday, shortly after 2 a.m., police discovered suspects in a possible horse theft. An officer was nearly struck by a motor vehicle as the suspects evaded arrest. The incident took place in the 100 block of South Main.

Ernest's Garage, 1005 Highway 60 East, had four used truck tires lifted between June 20-27, police reported. Ernest Condarco, 119 S. Ave. K, was the complainant.

A CB radio, worth approximately $150, was taken from a Chevrolet sometime before 5 p.m. Saturday, police said. Victim of the automobile burglary is Revella Skypala, 423 Fir St.

Two incidents of hubcap theft also occurred. Crown Auto Sales, 1315 E. Park Ave., had four spoke 'caps taken off a 1977 Monte Carlo. Police placed a $300 value on the Sunday night crime.

Meanwhile, four hubcaps worth approximately $120 were taken between Saturday and Monday from a 1977 Toronado on the Park Avenue Motors lot, 1503 E. Park Ave. Fabiola Cano, 123 Ave. A, had her $25 bicycle stolen sometime Monday, June 20. The crime was not reported to police until Thursday.

Many items were returned, though nothing significant was damaged, Monday afternoon at the Tom Marnell residence, 406 N. Roosevelt Ave. "It appeared that whomever had done this had went to enough care not to damage anything in the process," the police report read.

Police said there were four citations written during the weekend, four incidents of public intoxication, three DWIs and one assault, disorderly conduct, domestic disturbance, caught driving without a license, shoplifting and verbal assault.

On Monday and early this morning, there were two simple assaults, two incidents of criminal mischief, one family disturbance and one report of a possible theft of three rings.

Brand wins awards

The Hereford Brand picked up a pair of certificates in the Texas Newspaper Contests conducted by the Texas Press Association last weekend. The awards were presented to Brand publisher O.G. Nieman at the TPA's Summer Convention Saturday in Austin.

The Brand was recognized with a second place in advertising and a third place in sports coverage. Both awards were for work produced during 1982 by the newspaper's staff.

The Brand competed in the contest's Division II, which included daily newspapers under 8,000 circulation. The San Marcos Record won Sweepstakes honors in the division, winning first places in general excellence and sports, second places in editorials and news photos, and a third place in news writing.

The Brand was edged out for top honors in the advertising contest by The Kerrville Times, while The San Marcos Record and Taylor Press placed first and second in the sports coverage contest.

Connecticut bridge collapses, three killed, three injured

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — A 100-foot span of highway bridge collapsed before dawn today and hurled trucks and cars into the Mianus River, killing three people and injuring at least three others, authorities said.

Coast Guard and Greenwich police boats were searching the river for more motorists who may have been trapped in their cars.

A 100-foot section carrying three eastbound lanes of the bridge collapsed about 1:30 a.m. on Interstate 95, the main highway into New York City some 20 miles to the southwest, said Chet West, Greenwich Fire Department dispatcher.

State police spokesman John McLeod confirmed three people died in the accident. In addition, two women and one man were taken to the emergency room of Greenwich Hospital in critical condition, said Joan Grey, nursing supervisor. She said she did not know their identities.

Authorities said they had no idea why the bridge fell apart.

The bridge on the Connecticut Turnpike was last inspected in September, said state Transportation Commissioner J. William Burns. "There were problems with the bridge deck, but not with the structure," he said.

The National Transportation Safety Board was sending a team of investigators and Gov. William O'Neill was awakened about 2:30 a.m. and went to the scene, said gubernatorial spokesman Larry deBear.

The accident happened at high tide, when the water is about eight to 10 feet deep, said Lt. Joe Orrico of the Cos Cob Fire Department.

"The bridge is an old bridge. Many people have talked about it needing work for a long time," Orrico said. "I guess it looks like something might get done now."

Emilio Alvarez said he was sitting with friends on his parents' boat in a slip next to the bridge "when I heard an enormous metal crunching sound."

"The splash was incredible. The whole thing was like an explosion," Alvarez said. "That's when we saw a car going over. Almost immediately, I heard a man and a woman screaming for help. I tried to call to them, but they seemed to be too far away."

Strong winds hit Seymour

SEYMOUR, Texas (AP) — Strong winds heavily damaged airplanes and hangers at the Seymour airport, blew apart a drive-in movie screen and knocked down power and telephone lines in this Northwest Texas town, authorities said.

The winds were part of a series of rapidly moving thunderstorms that moved through the area Monday evening, dumping showers and isolated heavy downpours, the National Weather Service said.

By dawn, the shower activity had reached Fort Worth, where downpours and winds up to 50 mph were reported, according to the NWS. Other heavy showers and thunderstorms drenched the Concho Valley area near San Angelo.

Eight airplanes, two gliders and six hangers were heavily damaged at Seymour airport, said Baylor County Sheriff Don Mooney.

Much of the town was without electricity for over three hours after the worst of the storm hit about 6:30 p.m., authorities said.

The screen at a drive-in theater was destroyed, windows were broken in downtown businesses, a tree was blown onto a house, the roof of another house was blown off and over 200 utility poles were toppled by the

Condo project in works

A condominium-townhouse project has been developed for Hereford.

The Masters Apartments, located one block east of Highway 385 on 15th Street in northeast Hereford, are being converted to condominiums.

Through a press release, developers said the advantages of a condominium-townhouse include the security of having several owners in the same building as well as the advantage of having very little responsibility for the care and upkeep of the outside of the buildings, the lawns, driveways and landscaping.

Four local businessmen - Warner Lawson, Bud Thurber, Tim Gearn and Dr. Gerald Payne - have owned the Masters Project for about two years. The conversion of the project to condominiums is being completed at this time. The condominiums will be marketed by all of the members of the Hereford Board of Realtors.

Governor White signs brucellosis-control bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill to persuade the federal government to roll back its quarantine of Texas cattle has been signed into law by Gov. Mark White.

White on Monday signed a bill to bring Texas' brucellosis controls into line with federal regulations of the highly contagious cattle disease.

The measure was approved by the recent special legislative session, which ended Saturday.

"I am very pleased to see this barrier removed once and for all, allowing our cattle industry to continue its trade with other states and nations," the governor said.

The bill would add three members of the general public to the nine-member Texas Animal Health Commission and would allow the commission to treat differently cattle sold for breeding purposes and cattle sold for slaughter, which was a sticking point until a compromise was reached.

The also would make the improper use or sale of brucellosis vaccine a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of up to $200 and would require veterinarians to report cases of brucellosis to the commission.

White called the Legislature into special session to deal with brucellosis after the U.S. Department of Agriculture quarantined Texas cattle on June 1. The USDA later extended the time for Texas to comply with federal brucellosis regulations.

Numerous states issued their own quarantines against Texas cattle.

"USDA has assured me that it will advise all who have contemplated or taken action against Texas cattle shippers, that there is no longer a need for concern over the health of our Texas cattle," White said in a statement.

State has no money left to spend

AUSTIN (AP) — State Comptroller Bob Bullock says the state has so little money left to spend — about $36,000 — that it couldn't even finance two full days of a legislative session.

"Mother Hubbard has nothing on the state of Texas," Bullock said Monday. "Our cupboard is bare."

Bullock said the recent special session sent him spending measures totaling $15,411,634, leaving an anticipated balance of $36,866 from the money he estimated was available to lawmakers at the beginning of the session, which ended Saturday.

"Out of a $30.9 billion state budget, we are looking at a $36,000 reserve," Bullock said in a statement.

He said a single legislative day costs taxpayers about $20,000, and Gov. Mark White has indicated he will call at least one more special session to deal with other issues, including possibly a teachers pay raise.

"We've enjoyed more than a decade without a general tax increase in this state, but another special session may mean the end of that and the beginning of a new era of expense for Texas taxpayers," Bullock said.

Three men charged in slavery case

TYLER, Texas (AP) — A Thursday court appearance has been ordered for three men accused of illegally smuggling aliens to an East Texas tree farm in a plot authorities say included enslavement.

Steven Lee Crawford of Center, Randall Craig Waggoner of Nacogdoches and Joe Armando Gonzales of Rocksprings were indicted last Thursday on charges of conspiring to violate immigration laws by transporting 12 undocumented workers.

Crawford and Waggoner also were indicted on 11 additional counts of holding the Mexicans in involuntary servitude.

Gonzalez has denied the charge against him. No telephone numbers are listed for Crawford and Waggoner and they could not be reached for comment.

Federal investigators said they began looking into the case after police in Center found 17 Mexicans living in squalid conditions near the East Texas community 150 miles north of Houston. Investigators said the aliens apparently were being used to plant trees.

The workers lived in a 9-foot by 12-foot room with no toilet facilities and were being fed very little, a Center police officer said.

The three men were issued summons to appear in court for an arraignment Thursday, a court spokeswoman, who declined to be identified, said Monday.

Elderly woman didn't believe in banks

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — An elderly woman who kept her life savings in her purse because she "didn't believe in banks" had the money stolen by a mugger who knocked her down, police say.

Willie Mae Lloyd, 76, was left penniless by the theft of about $2,000, police said Monday.

Ms. Lloyd, who walks with the aid of a crutch, suffered cuts and bruises when she was attacked about 7 a.m. Sunday.

"She didn't believe in banks," said James McGee, manager of the low-income housing project where Ms. Lloyd lives. "We warned her to put her money in a bank, but she wouldn't do it. She always wore her purse around her neck."

Now what for Britain?

The day before Britons went to the polls June 9 — before the polls ever opened — London's Daily Express headlined, MAGGIE IS THE MAN!

The London stock market soared record high, anticipating the biggest conservative margin in Commons since Churchill. Now what?

Conservatives, if that is still an appropriate word, have overwhelmed their adversaries in West Germany and in Britain.

Similarly, in the United States, surveys indicate a public recognition of the need for less government, less taxes, less inflation — even at the price of continuing unemployment.

Socialism — the other way — lavish government spending to create jobs (for voters) proved counterproductive. Workers were taking home more money — worth less.

And each new wage raise diminished further the value of money and shoved the worker into a higher tax bracket.

Now we and they are biting the bullet — supporting politicians who dare to wean us.

During Maggie Thatcher's first term she ended foreign-currency controls, reduced the upper income tax from a maximum 80 percent to a more productive 60 percent, throttled parasitic groups which thrive on welfare and began returning socialized companies to private hands.

But now, with a bigger than ever public mandate — now what?

Here are steps I believe she would like to take next: Abolish the minimum wage and prohibit any new closed shop labor contracts.

Abolish foreign aid, instead encouraging private investment in selected countries.

Abolish the capital gains tax and all investment income surcharges.

Remember, I'm listing things she would "like to do," pragmatically, politically, necessarily, she can only "move in these directions."

In education, Maggie is known to prefer tax rebates for parents who send children to private schools.

She would like to end the Post Office monopoly and the BBC "monopoly."

But again, the first order of business for Britain's prime minister as for our own president is somehow to maneuver over, under or around the special interest groups — in and out of government — which rely on the welfare state even to the detriment of the public good.

Election campaign billboards in Britain read: "It's starting to work" don't turn back."

President Reagan pleads, more succinctly, "Stay the course."

If there is a tide in the affairs of men, the tide has turned away from "big government" toward encouraging bigness in people again.

Bill Signing

State Sen. Bill Sarpalius, formerly of Hereford (right), looks on as Gov. Mark White signs into law anti-dogfighting legislation sponsored by the Senator. Also looking on are State Rep. Terral Smith (left) and other proponents of the bill.

White signs anti-dogfight law

(AUSTIN)...Beginning in September, anyone arrested and convicted of arranging dogfights for betting purposes in Texas will face a possible fine of up to $5,000 and a possible maximum sentence of 10 years in jail.

The anti-dogfighting law, sponsored by Senator Bill Sarpalius, was signed by Governor Mark White last week.

Local couples attend convention

Five couples from Hereford recently attended the 107th annual convention of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshall's Association of Texas.

Attending the convention June 18-22 in Beaumont were Messrs. and Mmes. Mike Watts, Jay Spain, Ted Higgins, Ronnie Bell and Glenn Hendrickson.

Pike Powers, executive assistant to Governor Mark White, was keynote speaker. Powers is an attorney and former state representative from Beaumont.

Delegates attended business sessions and seminars on such topics as use of computers in the fire service, certification, budgeting, public relations, and legislation.

A bill sponsored by the Association in the last session of the Texas Legislature would have created a $20 million fund for the purchase of much-needed firefighting equipment. The bill was passed unanimously in the Texas House, but died in the Senate Economic Development Committee, largely because of the opposition of the fire insurance industry.

Monies for the fund would come from one percent of the fire insurance premiums collected in the state and would be allocated to individual departments through grants and low-interest loans.

Delegates to the Beaumont convention voted to support a petition drive asking Government under the new law, anyone convicted of causing a dogfight for financial benefit will be guilty of a third degree felony. Anyone using or permitting another person to use any real estate, building or other property for dogfighting will also face third degree felony charges. Dogfighting spectators will also be subject to arrest and fine.

According to Senator Sarpalius, "The new law is necessary because we've seen a migration of dogfighting to Texas as a result of harsher penalties imposed against dogfighters in nearby states."

Dogfighting has been prevalent in the Panhandle. Panhandle peace officers have raided several dogfights where participants and spectators, including children, were gathered as dogs fought in bloodstained pits.

"Dogfighting has been a big business in Texas, despite the fact that it has been an illegal activity. We're confident that the new law, which mandates tougher penalties, will discourage the brutal sport in our state," Senator Sarpalius says.

GOP ready to kill Demo plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders say they are ready to kill a Democratic plan that would limit the 10 percent personal income tax cut due to take effect Friday.

"I believe we have the votes to defeat it," said Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn.

The Senate today was taking up the House-passed measure that would limit the July 1 cut in personal income tax rates to a maximum of $720.

Democrats argue they are trying to restore fairness to President Reagan's tax policies, which they contend favor the rich. In addition, they say that limiting the third installment of the three-year, 25 percent tax cut plan Reagan pushed through Congress in 1981 would boost federal revenues and help pare soaring deficits.

Republicans say passage of the measure would be breaking faith with taxpayers who are counting on the tax cut and could endanger the recovery. They add that Democrats only want the additional revenue to pay for more spending.

Reagan, meanwhile, has called the measure "ill-advised, misguided and politically motivated," and vowed to "stand ready to veto this tax increase should it reach my desk..."

But Republicans appeared confident they could prevent the measure from ever getting to the president's desk.

The GOP has a 54-46 majority in the Senate and Baker indicated Monday he also expects some Democratic opposition to the so-called tax cap.

"I think we'll have some Democratic support in our effort to defeat it," Baker said.

Last Thursday, the Democrat-controlled House passed the measure on a 229-191 party-line vote. There were no Republicans voting in favor of it and 29 Democrats joined 162 Republicans in opposition.

Baker promised Democrats a vote on the measure earlier this year in exchange for their help in passing legislation that raised the public debt limit.

The aim of the tax cap is to alter tax brackets at middle- and upper-income levels so that the tax cut would be limited to a maximum of $720 per family and $637 for single people.

Generally, the legislation would affect single taxpayers with income above $36,000 and couples and families with income above $46,000.

In addition, Democrats argue that 89 percent of the $6.2 billion that would be raised by the tax cap would come from people who earn more than $50,000 a year.

For example, a $100,000-a-year family of four could expect a $2,368 tax cut this year. With the cap, that would drop to $720.

While the tax cap issue has become a political skirmish, Congress soon will have to address the issue of raising revenues.

Lubbock's mayor dies

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Bill McAlister, Lubbock's mayor since 1980 and a prominent West Texas broadcaster who owned two television stations, has died at age 42, apparently of a heart attack.

McAlister was pronounced dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital at 12:54 a.m. Monday by physicians in the emergency room, said hospital spokesman Brent Magers.

A teen-age daughter discovered McAlister unconscious at his home, Magers said.

Greenwich Fire Chief John Titsworth said one car was submerged 40 feet from the east embankment of Riverside, a section of Greenwich. Another was found 30 feet from the east bank on the shore, according to Cos Cob volunteer fireman Michael O'Connor.

O'Connor said the driver, a woman about 20 years old, had to be twisted out of the back window of the car, which had landed on its left side.

One truck, its cab submerged in the river, was resting vertically against a bridge abutment, he said. Another truck was nearby, on its side, partially under water on the east side of the bridge.

Two burglaries investigated

A CB radio and approximately $180 worth of other items were taken recently from Mrs. Bill Kendall of Austin Road, the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office reported.

Aside from the CB, for which a value is not yet known, stolen were a pair of prescription sunglasses, carton of cigarettes, parcel receipt from the post office and pair of slacks. The theft occurred between 2:30 p.m. Saturday and 10:45 a.m. Monday.

The sheriff's office also related a 16-year-old male was caught in the act of committing a burglary early Sunday morning at Edward Villarreal's residence, 15th and Progressive.

In other matters Monday the court:

—Changed county policy to require any new county employees who will be driving county vehicles to take a defensive driving course, and to require any county employee driving county vehicles who has had a moving violation or accident within the past two years to do the same. The court will pay for the classes, and also left attendance of the class open to other county employees at their option, also at county expense.

—Approved in concept of a beautification project being proposed by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce as presented by C of C exec Mike Carr. The court will select one of its members to serve on a task force to see the project, which has both immediate and long range goals, through.

—Approved the transfer of a county vehicle's title to the tax appraisal district.

—Decided to abandon a bridge project in the Northeastern section of the county in Pct. 4. The structure was to have been included in a federal program, which subsidizes the needed repair work.

—Declined participation in an investment pool.

—Agreed to recommend the services of Motivation, Education & Training, Inc. to county employers. The MET program aids farm laborers to find permanent work in other fields.

—Approved payment of expenses for Ruland to attend an election seminar in Austin next month.

—Held a budget hearing, pursuing projected figures provided by County Auditor Alex Schroeter. The court is expected to approve the $3.3 million document at their next meeting.

storm, officials said.

At Lake Meredith, about 40 miles north of Amarillo, eight people were rescued after winds gusting to 60 mph capsized a small boat about midnight, officials said.

In the Knox County town of Vera, about 32 miles west of Seymour, a grain elevator was heavily damaged during a severe thunderstorm, the Department of Public Safety said.

Power was knocked out at Aspermont and there was an unconfirmed report of a tornado at a site where a roof was torn off a trailer house, said Stonewall County Sheriff Sheep Morrow.

In Knox City, where 1.5 inches of rain fell in 30 minutes, high winds tore down part of a restaurant and knocked down tree limbs and power lines, authorities said.

Power and telephone service outages hit Wichita Falls and Iowa Park, and some roofs were blown off houses, the DPS said.

Meet Your Neighbor

Multi-talented newcomer hasn't time to be bored

By SANDY PANKEY
Staff Writer

"I couldn't live long enough to possibly do everything in this life that I want," remarked Peggy Williams of 114 Juniper. This woman doesn't know the meaning of the word bored.

Mrs. Williams and her husband, L.R., who became owners and managers of the Montgomery Ward store in November, have within a few months completely redecorated their home.

Moving here from Odessa where she owned a bed and bath shop and operated a decorating service for approximately 15 years, Mrs. Williams explained that she was fortunate to have learned basic decorating short cuts in her business and college courses she had enrolled in.

With the aid of her sister, she made all the draperies and cornice boards for her home. "My sister did the hand work, I cut and hemmed the draperies and made cornice boards and my husband hung them for me," she commented.

The couple also built a canopy in the ceiling of the master bedroom, carpeted, had ceiling fans installed in each room, and put fabric on the walls.

Besides decorating her own home, Mrs. Williams has redecorated clients' homes using fabric on the walls. "When I began hanging wall fabric, many of my customers in the Odessa-Midland area were surprised they had not seen that done outside of Dallas," she added. Much of the sheer fabric I use is easily cleaned. All you need to do is spray a protective fabric guard on the material and vacuum as needed.

"I have redecorated two homes in which I used white and very little color for accent. The home I did in San Angelo was totally white with the only color being an antique Oriental chair and afghan that the owner already had."

"I also used a white color scheme in a home in Midland that I decorated," she continued. "The carpet and walls were all done in white as well as the couches and two velvet chairs."

Other interests the newcomer has include making stained glass and oil painting.

While living in Odessa, Mrs. Williams made a 36x48 inch stained glass with a rose design for a window located near a fireplace in the living area.

As a complementary piece, she also made an oval 34 x 27 inch stained glass long stemmed rose design for their front door.

Mrs. Williams also instructs stained glass classes. "My husband has been preaching morning and evening Sunday services at the Church of Christ in Dalhart. It wouldn't be feasible to drive there and then have to drive back in the evenings so we just spend the day there."

"He usually spends the afternoons visiting, teaching and studying and I teach stained glass classes."

Mrs. Williams loves to oil paint. "At the present I have been commissioned to do two paintings," she said. Although the talented woman took commercial art classes in her college work where she studied perception and composition, she actually taught herself to paint.

"I love two paintings in our home that my husband wants to keep. They are pictures of a lion and lioness and her cub. Most everything I paint I sell but these two will remain at home," she stated.

She and her husband are "workaholics." They both keep busy even during their leisure time. "We just never sleep much; there is always something to do," said Mrs. Williams. "My husband likes to draw up architectural plans and enjoys building houses from the ground up. In the six years that we lived in the Odessa and Midland area, he built four homes all that we lived in."

He did all of this while working. Williams was president of the Mechanical Seal and Service Co. that manufactured seals for rotary shafts.

The couple open their store at 8:30 a.m. each day except Sunday and try to be at home around 6 p.m. However, when freight arrives, they might not finish until midnight.

"The evenings are times for our creative projects," she continued. "I find I can work on my hobbies easier after work than early in the mornings."

As a joint hobby, the Williams like to travel. They have toured extensively throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Caribbean.

They are members of the 15th Street Church of Christ and the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Her husband has joined the Kiwanis Club and she is a member of the American Business Women's Association.

Various local organizations host Hall of Fame inductees

The 1983 inductees to the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center were guests of local organizations throughout the weekend, which was highlighted by the annual Rhinestone Roundup Saturday evening.

Friday night, the welcome committee of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, chaired by Betty Drake, prepared a pick-up supper for 70 honorees, their families, and special guests.

Members of the Hereford Junior Riders Club, including Shonda Long, Jill Johnson, Poppy Richardson, Kendra Tisdale, and Terry Johnson Long, president, dressed in Western attire and acted as hostesses and servers for the reunion supper.

The induction ceremony was held at noon Saturday at the Hereford Country Club. Over 100 people were present at the luncheon, were Bill Allen, HOF board member, acted as master of ceremonies.

Mayor Wes Fisher presented keys to the city to Western Heritage honorees Ernestine Chesser Williams, Agnes Wright Spring, the late Augusta Corson Metcalfe (accepted by her son, Howard Metcalfe), and to the Cowgirl honorees Flaxie Fletcher, Alice Adams Holden, the late Reine Hafley Shelton (accepted by her son, Tom Shelton), and Anna Lee Aldred.

Bob Sims, president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the honorees and presented gift packets from the Hereford Tortilla Factory. Dolores Foster, representing Arrowhead Mills, presented baskets of the company's food products and Roberta Caviness, of the Hereford CowBelles, presented beaded wire earrings.

Margaret Harper, 1981 Western Heritage honoree and founder of the outdoor drama, "Texas," was present to see the unveiling of her portrait painted by local artist Randy Jones. The portrait is on the cover of the cur-

Texas society warns parents about dangers of fireworks

Fireworks and the Fourth are a patriotic combination. Yet too often the combination misfires and results in the tragic stories that can be found in the Independence Day files of the Texa Society to Prevent Blindness.

"These stories are of youngsters - and their parents - who learned too late 'Don't play with fireworks; they're not toys,' says John L. Mann, M.D., an ophthalmologist who is chairman of the Society's State Medical Advisory Committee.

"Fireworks belong at licensed public displays," said Dr. Mann. "There, their colorful patriotic skybursts can be enjoyed without endangering life or property. But when private individuals start playing with fireworks, trouble and tragedy are inevitable."

As proof Dr. Mann cited a survey Prevent Blindness conducted a year ago among Texas ophthalmologists that indicated that 23 Texans were blinded or lost most of their sight on July 4th because of fireworks. An additional 49 people suffered eye injuries ranging from second degree burns to corneal lacerations.

He added that the Consumer Product Safety Commission also reported last year that, nationwide, over 11,000 were treated in hospital emergency rooms for fireworks-caused injuries; 1,600 of these were to the eyes.

"What these figures show is that there is no such thing as a safe firecracker," Dr. Mann emphasized. "Even seemingly harmless sparklers sizzle at 1500 degrees F and can give a burn that will quickly take the sparkle out of the eyes of any youngster who has been playing with one."

"But the most dangerous projectiles are bottle rockets. Bottle rockets caused almost all the cases of blindness reported in the Texas survey and over half of the other injuries."

"The majority of injuries were to teen-aged males who seem prone to 'horse play' when they get a hazardous projectile such as a bottle rocket in their hands," he said.

As examples, he told of two boys who jokingly 'waged war' with lighted bottle rockets and of two others who competed with each other to create the biggest bottle rocket blast. In each instance this "Fourth of July fun" resulted in a boy blinded and cosmetically disfigured.

To prevent such tragedies, Dr. Mann said that the Society would like to see fireworks strictly controlled throughout the state and is disappointed that all of the bills introduced recently in Austin to strengthen existing laws have apparently died in legislative committees.

"Preventing fireworks injuries is better than trying to cure them. Even with all the miracles of modern medicine, it is not always possible to save the sight of a child who bends over a firecracker, only to have it explode in his face. That is why Prevent Blindness urges all parents to insist that family fireworks be limited to public displays, and no exceptions permitted."

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness is an affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness, now celebrating its 75th year of preventing blindness through programs, education and research.

4-H Firsthand

Good photos tell 4-H story

By BRAD MORRISON
County Extension Agent

Good pictures can help a 4-H member record a lot of exciting events, and that's where the 4-H photography program comes in.

The 4-H photography program can help youngsters learn how to take better pictures by paying particular attention to composition, camera angle, background and many other things that go into a "picture that's worth a thousand words."

Background is also important. A simple background makes the subject stand out. A light-colored background is best for dark subjects; a dark background, for light-colored subjects.

The photographer should move in as close to the subject as possible to eliminate distracting background elements. Or, shoot from a high or low camera angle.

4-H photography projects and activities are fun and educational. As they learn-by-doing to take and use pictures, 4-H members begin to appreciate photography as an art, science and communications tool.

Kodak offers recognition to program members at all levels of participation; six $1,000 scholarships nationally, expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress for one member per state, and four medals of honor in each county. Winners are chosen by the Extension Service and awards arranged by the National 4-H Council.

More information on the 4-H photography program is available at the county Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

McGilvary elected as delegate to convention

Carole McGilvary, librarian at Stanton Junior High School, will leave Wednesday as a delegate to the National Educators Association Convention in Philadelphia, Penn. The convention will continue through July 6.

Mrs. McGilvary was elected as a delegate by members of the Hereford Educators Association. Her husband, Reuben McGilvary, will also attend as an alternate delegate.

During the convention, which will be attended by approximately 10,000 educators, delegates will be voting on policies for the next two years and passing resolutions that will affect the whole teaching profession.

Mrs. McGilvary has been librarian at Stanton for 13 years. She has also taught at Shirley Elementary School and at schools in Seminole, Midland, and Lubbock.

Connors shocked Monday

Upsets aplenty at Wimbledon

By BOB GREENE AP Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — It has been a surprising Wimbledon Tennis Championships from the start. And the surprises keep coming.

It's been a Wimbledon full of sunshine for the most part, with only one day's play held up by rain. That contrasts completely with last year, when daily downpours put the tournament at one point more than 200 matches behind.

It's been a surprising Wimbledon for the "old folks" — 39-year-old Billie Jean King, making her second straight trip to the women's quarter-finals, and 37-year-old Virginia Wade, Britain's last winner here in 1977 and its last hope this year.

And it's been a surprising Wimbledon for the 1974 champions — Chris Evert Lloyd and Jimmy Connors. Not a happy Wimbledon — just a surprising one.

"I am surprised that Connors was beaten," said John

McEnroe, now strongly favored to capture his second Wimbledon crown. "But it does not make my path any easier, whatsoever."

While Connors, the defending men's champion and the No. 1 seed, was falling to the rocket-serving Kevin Curren of South Africa 6-3, 6-7, 6-3, 7-6 Monday, McEnroe moved into the quarters with a hard-fought 7-5, 7-6, 7-6 victory over Bill Scanlon.

Women's quarter-finals today sent Wade against South Africa's Yvonne Vermaak, King against giant-killer Kathy Jordan, top-seeded Martina Navratilova against Jennifer Mundel of South Africa and No. 3 Andrea Jaeger against No. 11 Barbara Potter.

In Monday's matches, played in autumn-like weather, seeded players fell like leaves on a September morn.

Besides Connors, No. 13 Brian Gottfried was among the losers in men's play. Women's seeds to tumble were No. 7 Wendy Turnbull, No. 8 Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia, No. 12 Virginia Ruzici of Romania, No. 15 Kathy Rinaldi and No. 16 Claudia Kohde of West Germany.

King, who has won a record 20 Wimbledon titles in 21 years of play on these famed grass courts and who surprisingly reached the semi-finals a year ago, ousted Turnbull 7-5, 6-3.

NBA draft boasts guard talent

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After an early rush of centers and forwards led by Ralph Sampson of Virginia and Steve Stipanovich of Missouri, today's National Basketball Association draft was loaded with potentially solid guards in the early rounds.

"There's a preponderance of guards of roughly equal quality," Jerry Colangelo, general manager of the Phoenix Suns, said.

Between 16-24 guards were possibilities for the first two rounds, but only two — Byron Scott of Arizona State and Darrell Walker of Arkansas — were considered by many to be good enough for the top 10 picks.

The San Diego Clippers said Monday they will take Scott the fourth player chosen.

Houston's pick of the 7-foot-4 Sampson and Indiana's choice of the 6-11 Stipanovich were certainties, and the Rockets said Monday they would take Rodney McCray of Louisville as the No. 3 choice.

Last week, San Diego General Manager Paul Phipps said that even though the Clippers were loaded with frontcourt talent — rookie of the year Terry Cummings, Bill Walton, Tom Chambers and Michael Brooks — the team would take a forward in the first round. He mentioned Antoine Carr of Wichita State, Sidney Green of Nevada-Las Vegas and McCray.

On Monday, after the Rockets said they would take McCray with the third pick, Phipps switched signals and said the Clippers would take Scott.

Indiana decided to take Stipanovich so he can join with the Pacers' best young players — Clark Kellogg and Herb Williams.

"I would project that he will start for us at center so we can move Williams to forward and Kellogg to small forward," Pacers Coach Jack

McKinney said. "We don't really label the positions as power forward or small forward under our system, but for purposes of matching up on defense, we like that front line."

McKinney called Stipanovich the "next-best basketball player in the draft. We have needs at all positions, but getting him gives us more flexibility because he can play forward, too."

The Boston Celtics reacquired a first round pick in a trade Monday with Phoenix, sending veteran backup center Rick Robey and two second-round choices to the Suns for guard Dennis Johnson and the 21st pick overall in the draft.

Festival swimming ends

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Giant-killer Bill Barrett scored his second victory over a favored opponent and Michelle Richardson and Jeff Kostoff each won their third gold medals as swimming competition concluded at the National Sports Festival with upbeat performances and some downbeat prophecies.

Barrett became the third prominent U.S. swimmer to express a desire to retire before the 1984 Olympics. Steve Lundquist and Rowdy Gaines earlier said they had grave doubts about whether they wanted to continue training for another year.

But Barrett also conceded that his victory Monday night in the 100-meter freestyle — in a festival-record time of 51.30 seconds — might give him the momentum he needs to carry over into 1984.

Barrett, 23, of Los Angeles went out fast and held off

Gaines, who finished a close second. Barrett's time shaved .28 seconds off the old record, and was all the more incredible since it came at the Air Force Academy's 7,250-foot elevation which generally places swimmers at a disadvantage.

"I knew I had to go out hard," said Barrett, a member of the 1980 Olympic team and the American record-holder in the 200-yard and 200-meter individual medleys. "I didn't want to have to come from behind against Rowdy Gaines. I was very surprised at my time."

Barrett, who won the 200 individual medley on Saturday, beating Lundquist, said he hopes to make the Pan American Team in August. "Then I'll decide whether to swim toward 1984," he said. "If I continue to progress as I have this year, I'll probably continue."

Richardson, 14, of Miami, Fla., claimed her third festival gold medal by capturing the 1,500-meter freestyle, while Kostoff, 17, of Upland, Calif., also made it a triple by winning the men's event at the same distance. Kostoff was named the festival's outstanding swimmer.

Another meet record fell Monday night in speed skating. Bonnie Blair, a 21-year-old from Champaign, Ill., who is considered America's best bet for an Olympic speed-skating medal next winter, won the women's 500 meters in 50.99 seconds, blitzing the old mark set by Lydia Stephens at last year's festival.

"The time was very surprising," said Blair. "I was thinking I'd get more like a 52."

The ice at the Broadmoor World Arena was unusually fast, as Stephens, the runner-up from Northbrook, Ill., and third-place Gloria Bogacki of Park Ridge, Ill., also eclipsed the old record.

Stephens won the women's 1,500 meters, while Patrick Moore of Niles, Ill., won the men's 1,500 and Dave Pavlicic of Florissant, Mo., took the men's 500.

Organizers reported that ticket sales from the first five days of the festival have topped $600,000, some $200,000 above the projected income for the entire 12-day festival.

Tennis starts July 11

Youth tennis lessons will be offered by the YMCA beginning July 11, with registration for the program now underway.

Classes, all to be held at the Hereford High School tennis courts, will be conducted every weekday from 9-10 a.m. No more than 16 kids will be allowed per class, as participation is on a first-register-first-serve basis.

YMCA members must pay a $10 entry fee while non-members will be charged $15.

More information may be obtained by phoning the YMCA at 364-6990 or by visiting its office in the Sugarland Mall.

Bandits stay alive with victory over Denver

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Tampa Bay's rain-soaked victory over the Denver Gold kept the Bandits in the United States Football League playoff chase, but the club will still need outside help to reach post-season play.

"We're too good a team to be out of the playoffs," wide receiver Danny Buggs said Monday night after a 26-23 triumph kept Tampa Bay's hopes alive and boosted the team into a three-way tie for the Central Division lead.

But Coach Steve Spurrier's 11-6 troops have won only two of their last five games, and now must win at Birmingham on Saturday and hope division rivals Chicago and Michigan, both also 11-6, lose their regular season finales at home against Oakland and Arizona, respectively.

"We know now that all we can do is go out and win (against Birmingham). We can't control what the other teams do," said Tampa Bay linebacker Paul Piurowski. "If they don't help us, we're out of the picture. If that doesn't happen, then that's how people will remember it, and that's it."

The Bandits got some help in the form of the weather Monday night. Denver, which trailed 15-0 in the first quarter, led 23-18 with 8:32 left in the fourth when officials interrupted the game for 50 minutes because of a violent thunderstorm.

Pirates outlast Cardinals for ninth win in row

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals played one of those knock-down, drag-out baseball games, with even a long shower thrown in.

It finally came down to a rookie pitcher who could throw the ball over the plate — not at the batter's head.

"He's outstanding. He's got good control. He throws them strikes, that's the main thing," said catcher Tony Pena of batterymate Ceciliano Guante following Monday night's 6-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

"He makes them swing the bat, and that's what you really have to do. He's overpowering, especially against right-handed batters."

It was the first major league triumph for Guante, a Dominican who took over for John Candelaria at the start of the third after the Pittsburgh starter was ejected for throwing at a batter's head. He blanked St. Louis the rest of the way, extending the Pirates' string of victories to nine. In addition, he collected two singles for his first big-league hits.

"We knew he could pitch, but we didn't know he could hit," said Pittsburgh pitching coach Harvey Haddix of Guante. "When I want to talk to him, I go to Tony. I asked him if he was tired, and he said no."

Guante entered the game after Candelaria was ejected for sallying a pitch over the head of Joaquin Andujar, 3-11. The pitch by Candelaria was in apparent retaliation to a beanball thrown by Andujar at Pittsburgh's Marvella Wynne in the top of the third that triggered a flow of players from both benches onto the field.

A thunderstorm in the top of the fifth inning suspended play for two hours and 20 minutes as the Pirates were handing the Cardinals their seventh straight setback.

Expos 3, Cubs 1
Warren Cromartie socked a tie-breaking single and Gary Carter added a run-scoring double as Montreal scored a pair of eighth-inning runs to defeat Chicago behind Charlie Lea's five-hitter.

Jerry White opened the eighth with a single, the Expos' ninth hit off Chicago starter Chuck Rainey, 7-7. One out later, Rainey attempted to pick White off first but threw past first baseman Bill Buckner and White raced to third.

Cromartie singled to produce the go-ahead run and one out later, Cromartie scored as Carter doubled off reliever Warren Bruslarf.

Lea, 6-3, completed his third straight game and fourth this season. He walked two batters and struck out six.

Montreal scored the first run in the second as Carter doubled and Tim Wallach followed with a single. The Cubs tied it in the fourth on Buckner's home run, his ninth.

"He got stronger as the game went on," said Carter of Lea. "He was throwing harder in the eighth inning than he was in the first."

Braves 2, Reds 1
Pascual Perez hurled a five-hitter and Brett Butler and Rafael Ramirez slugged home runs as Atlanta ripped Cincinnati for a sweep of their five-game series.

Perez, 9-2, struck out six and walked only one to out-duel Mario Soto, 9-6. Soto gave up four hits and struck out 10 in eight innings, tying Steve Carlton for the major-league lead in strikeouts with 117.

Kison returns to toss shutout for Angels

By BEN WALKER AP Sports Writer

All's well in California now that Bruce Kison is back.

Kison, who began the day on the disabled list, threw seven sparkling innings Monday night as the Angels blanked the Texas Rangers 8-0.

"I wanted to go and try to pick up where I had left off," said Kison, who allowed just two hits in his first in a month.

Kison, 7-1, had won five straight games before he was shelved with back spasms. At that point, California was three games on top of the American League West.

Since that time, however, the Angels had meandered through a 13-14 month. With Monday night's victory, California moved into a tie with Texas for first place in the division.

"He surprised me and certainly pleased me," said California catcher Bob Boone. "He went about it like he'd never been out."

In other AL games, the New York Yankees downed the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 in 11 innings, Oakland topped Kansas City 7-1 and Chicago beat Seattle 7-4. Boston at Cleveland and Detroit at Milwaukee were rained out.

Kison gave up a one-out double to Mickey Rivers in the first inning, a leadoff single to George Wright in the second and then pitched hitless ball for the rest of his stint.

California Manager John McNamara had planned on letting Kison throw 90 pitches, and the right-hander was pulled after issuing his only three walks of the game in the seventh inning, which gave him 94 pitches.

Luis Sanchez retired all six batters he faced to nail down the victory.

"You can't pitch better than Kison did for as long as he did," McNamara said.

The Angels won by beating Rick Honeycutt, who came into the game with a five-game winning streak and was leading the AL with a 1.45 earned run average.

Ron Jackson, who had three singles, put California ahead 1-0 in the third inning with a run-scoring single. Boone's sacrifice fly drove in an unearned run in the fourth and chased Honeycutt, 10-4, in the fifth on Fred Lynn's RBI single and Bob Grich's run-producing groundout.

Grich singled in a seventh-inning run off reliever Jon Matlack and Ellis Valentine drilled a three-run homer, his sixth, in the eighth.

"It was bound to end someday," Honeycutt said. "I didn't have anything out there. It was a struggle all the way."

Yankees 4, Orioles 3
Butch Wynegar spent most of the day attending his father-in-law's funeral in Minnesota. He returned to Yankee Stadium at night and drove in the winning run with a single with two outs in the bottom of the 11th inning.

Wynegar, who was 0-for-4 and had grounded into two double plays, drove a full-count delivery from Tim Stoddard, 3-2, off the right-field wall to score Don Baylor, who was running from first base on the pitch.

New York had tied it in the ninth with an unearned run. Lou Piniella singled off Tippy Martinez and went to second when left fielder Al Bumbry misplayed the ball for an error. One out later, Steve Kemp singled in Piniella.

Lenn Sakata, the second batter of the game, drilled his first homer of the season to give Baltimore a 1-0 lead. Switch-hitter Ken Singleton's ninth homer of the year — his first from the right side of the plate since 1981, a period of 243 official at-bats — gave the Orioles a 3-1 lead in the sixth.

The loss allowed the idle Toronto Blue Jays to move into first place in the AL East, one-half game ahead of the Orioles.

White Sox 7, Mariners 4
Julio Cruz, making his first appearance in Seattle's Kingdome since being traded from the Mariners to Chicago earlier this month, cracked an RBI single in the seventh inning to snap a 4-4 tie.

Greg Walker added a two-run single later in the inning to insure the White Sox victory.

Ron Kittle's league-leading 18th homer, a three-run blast, gave Chicago a 4-1 lead in the third.

Richie Zisk doubled in a Seattle run in the first inning and belted a solo homer, his seventh, in the third.

Seattle's Jamie Allen and Dave Henderson batted out of order in the first inning and Chicago Manager Tony LaRussa protested the game in the sixth when Henderson singled after he returned to his original batting position.

A's 7, Royals 1
Ben Callahan, making his first start in the majors, pitched six strong innings as Oakland broke a six-game losing streak.

Chris Codiroli, knocked out of the starting rotation by Callahan, relieved the rookie and got his first save.

Carney Lansford and Bill Almon homered to give Oakland a 2-0 lead after four innings.

Confidence big key for Texas Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP)

— If there's one difference between the 1982 Texas Rangers and the 1983 ballclub, it's confidence. And the Rangers have never been more confident as they are at the start of their longest road-trip of the season.

The Rangers, winners of six straight games and 15 of 20 going into Monday's contest with California, completed their longest homestand of the season in fine fashion — 10-4 — to make it the most successful homestand in the club's history.

The Angels won the opener of a three-game series in Anaheim 8-0 Monday night, leaving California and Texas tied for first place in the American League West with 39-32 records.

"I sure did expect us to do this well," said manager Doug Rader, blunt as ever. "We're very confident."

They've also been very good. The Rangers lead the American League in pitching, and, over the homestand, hit near .300. Lefthander Rick Honeycutt, 5-17 last year, was 10-3 before Monday's game with a major-league leading earned run average of 1.45. He is a good candidate to start the All-Star game for the American League.

"This was a tough homestand and winning really does cure a number of problems," said third baseman Buddy Bell after the 4-1 win over Oakland Sunday to cap a sweep of the four-game series.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective August 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

As a result of the settlement of a lawsuit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against AT&T, Southwestern Bell, on January 1, 1984, (or as otherwise ordered by the United States District Court) will no longer be a part of the Bell System, but will be owned by public shareholders. Under the terms of the settlement, Southwestern Bell has identified 15 areas in the state within which it may provide service, and the federal court with jurisdiction of the settlement has tentatively approved these areas, called LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). On or about January 1, 1984, Southwestern Bell can not provide service between these LATAs, and in addition, must transfer to AT&T customer premises equipment that it leases to customers.

Southwestern Bell has filed a proposed revised rate schedule with the PUC reflecting these changes. These rates would become effective August 1, 1983, if they are not suspended by the PUC; however, it is expected that they will be suspended and that the rates ultimately set by the PUC will become effective on or about January 1, 1984. If the rates were to become effective as filed, they would produce a 48.2% increase in Southwestern Bell's unadjusted test year revenues (or a 76.36% increase in Southwestern Bell's test year revenues adjusted to reflect the effect of Southwestern Bell's divestiture from AT&T). Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in rates for intraLATA interexchange toll services, any change in those rates could also affect customers of other telephone companies. Southwestern Bell is proposing changes in the structure of the present private line and foreign exchange services. Changes in these rates may affect customers of other telephone companies. Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas para servicio de teléfono en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 1o de agosto de 1983, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission (PUC, o Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y que es servida por Southwestern Bell, y dicho arancel está disponible para inspección pública en todas las oficinas de Southwestern Bell en Texas. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios cada vez que Southwestern Bell solicite un cambio en dichas tarifas.

Como resultado del arreglo judicial al cual se llegó tras el proceso legal entablado en contra de AT&T por el U.S. Department of Justice (Departamento de Justicia), Southwestern Bell dejará de formar parte del Bell System (Sistema Bell) a partir del 1o de enero de 1984 (o en la fecha que disponga el United States District Court — Tribunal Federal de Distrito), y llegará a ser posesión de accionistas públicos. Bajo las condiciones de dicho arreglo, Southwestern Bell ha identificado 15 regiones dentro del Estado de Texas en las cuales puede proporcionar servicio, y el tribunal federal con jurisdicción en el arreglo ha dado su aprobación provisoria a estas regiones, que se denominan "LATAs" (Local Access and Transport Area, o Regiones Locales de Acceso y Transporte). A partir de fecha 1o de enero de 1984 aproximadamente, Southwestern Bell no podrá proporcionar servicio entre dichas LATAs, y además deberá ceder a AT&T todo equipo ubicado en premisas de clientes y alquilado a los mismos.

Estos cambios se han incluido en el propuesto arancel de tarifas de servicio revisado que Southwestern Bell ha archivado con la PUC. Dichas tarifas tendrán vigencia a partir del 1o de agosto de 1983, a menos que fueran suspendidas por la PUC; sin embargo, se espera que si seran suspendidas, y que las tarifas que en último caso establezca la PUC entrarán en vigor a partir de fecha 1o de enero de 1984 aproximadamente. Si las tarifas entrarán en vigor tal y como se han archivadas, aumentarán en un 48.2% los ingresos no ajustados de Southwestern Bell para año de prueba (unadjusted test year revenues), o sea un aumento de 76.36% en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell para año de prueba, ajustados para reflejar el efecto del desposeimiento entre Southwestern Bell y AT&T. Cualquier cambio en las tarifas para cualquier servicio tipo-interLATA que proporcione AT&T o una compañía subsidiaria después del 1o de enero de 1984 podría afectar a los clientes de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para servicios tipo "intraLATA interexchange toll", cualquier cambio en dichas tarifas también podría afectar a los clientes de otras compañías de servicio telefónico. Southwestern Bell está proponiendo cambios en la estructuración de los servicios actuales de línea privada (private line) y de intercambio extranjero (foreign exchange). Cambios en las tarifas para dichos servicios podrían afectar a los clientes de otras compañías de servicio telefónico. Cualquier cambio en las tarifas para cualquier servicio tipo-interLATA que proporcione AT&T o una compañía subsidiaria después del 1o de enero de 1984 podría afectar a los clientes de otras compañías de servicio telefónico.

Police look for bombers of teller machines

DALLAS (AP) — An official of a company that operates automatic bank teller machines says he fears a series of bombings of the machines here may trigger a rash of similar thefts.

Police said they believe the same thieves are responsible for three bombings at north Dallas banks in four days.

"When the first one occurred, we were shocked to find out that one of the TV stations went out and did an investigative job and literally gave a step by step description of how you do it," said Doug Kirk, a spokesman for Affiliated Computer Systems Inc., which operates about 800 MPACT automatic teller machines statewide for numerous banks and financial institutions.

He did not identify the television station.

Kirk said the bombings are a first, as far as he knows.

"It's possible it has happened in some remote situation somewhere else, but we think we would know about it if it did," he said.

The North Texas Regional Clearing House Association, a financial institution association with 110 members, posted a $2,500 reward for each person arrested and indicted in the bombings of automatic tellers at two of its members' banks — Texas Commerce Bank and the Gateway National Bank.

Police responding to a burglar alarm at about 5 a.m. Sunday found smoke pouring from shattered windows at the Plaza National Bank. They said thieves escaped with an undetermined amount of money from an MPACT machine.

Police spokeswoman Vicki Eiker said investigators believe the same men destroyed a Pulse machine at Texas Commerce Bank late Saturday night and another MPACT machine which was blown open Thursday.

"This is not a gallant kind of new Robin Hood-type thing," said Kirk. "It's a darned serious thing that's happening. People could get hurt."

Witnesses said they saw two men in black fatigues carrying military-type rifles fleeing the Texas Commerce Bank at about 11 p.m. Saturday. Investigators said the passersby apparently frightened the thieves away before they could take any money from the machine.

The bombings caused an estimated $30,000 damage to each of the two bank buildings, investigators said.

An MPACT machine at the Gateway National Bank was destroyed early Thursday and an estimated $2,000 was taken. The building housing the machine also was damaged, police said.

Kirk said the machines are "like a safe. It takes dynamite to blow (them) up. On the one done (Saturday night), the explosion went off and it didn't open up. It didn't do the job. It's a terrible feeling ... and people with a criminal nature will see this as a new venture."

In each case, the robbers slipped into small rooms behind the machines to plant the bombs, police said.

"It's pretty messy," said police investigator Marvin Nowell who is assigned the cases. "It does more damage than what they are getting in money. There's not that much money in the machines."

A witness to the Saturday night bombing said that he heard a sound "like someone had hit the building with a vehicle" and saw two men wearing black jumpsuits and carrying military-type rifles run from the bank.

"I saw smoke and debris everywhere and a few seconds later, two guys dressed like SWAT-men came out of the smoke," said James Bridges, 28.

"I asked them twice if they were security and one of them just turned and looked at me as they continued running," he said. "I suddenly realized what was happening and I ducked behind a building so I wouldn't get shot."

Spokeswoman Becky Ray at Mercantile Texas Corp., the parent company of Affiliated Computer Systems Inc., said the company was working with the FBI on the bombings and that federal investigators advised the company not to discuss the details of the thefts.

MPACT is the largest system of its kind in the country, Kirk said.

A spokesman for InterFirst Bank, which operates 40 automatic teller machines in the Dallas area, said bank officials "are keeping an eye" on developments in the case.

He said the InterFirst bank officials periodically review security procedures and have found that "everything is as good as it should be and can be."

Resident wins division at N.C. Hollerin' Contest

HOUSTON (AP) — It is a relic of days gone by, an art form, its fans say, that recalls the days when telephones had not been invented and simple messages got one's point across.

Lois Miller, a soft-spoken Spring mother and training supervisor, said she does it to express herself.

She hollers.

Mrs. Miller, 33, recently traveled to tiny Spivey's Corner, N.C., to participate in the annual National Hollerin' Contest. She came home with a trophy for winning the women's "calling" division.

"Up there, they say that women don't holler, but I said, 'Back in Texas they sure do,'" Mrs. Miller said.

Mrs. Miller said she developed her holler — a high-pitched combination of shrieks, barks, yelps and whisks — while horseback riding, and when she was growing up.

"I'd always wanted to whistle and, since I couldn't, I... started expressing myself through hollerin'," she said.

"I got better at it, too, after learning to play the bugle and the trumpet in school — that gave me volume."

Hollering, Mrs. Miller said, is "really a great way of communicating."

She said her husband laughs about her avocation.

"Oh, my husband thinks it's nice for me to be able to express myself by hollerin'" she said. "Our course, I haven't tried calling him to dinner that way."

About 10,000 visitors crowded Spivey's Corner for the contest. Forty-nine people normally reside there.

The contest "was a real experience," Mrs. Miller said.

"It was like being at a big Willie Nelson concert."

Mrs. Miller said the contest is a way for southerners to "relive a lost art."

Spivey's Corner banker and longtime contest organizer Ermon Godwin said hollerin' was an accepted form of communication before the age of the telephone.

"A farmer would get up early in the morning, start up his chores and get to hollerin' some. Maybe every once in a while, he let out a whoop or two. Then threw in a couple of howls," Godwin said.

Bonnie and Clyde at world's first rodeo

PECOS, Texas (AP) — The wild, wooly days of the West of the Pecos rodeo, which once featured a surprise appearance by outlaws Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow, will revisit Pecos this week with an eight-day celebration of the 100-year anniversary of the world's first rodeo.

Pecos claims title to the world's first public rodeo, held July 4, 1883, despite arguments from Denver and Cheyenne, Wyo., who say rodeos that tested cowpunchers' abilities first came to their communities a decade earlier.

But Encyclopedia Britannica says the 1883 calf-roping contest down Pecos' main street — with cowboys in dusty pursuit — was the world's first. Bronco and steer riding contests near the Steers County Courthouse firmed up Pecos' place in the history books, Pecos chronologist Alton Hughes said.

Since "Trav" Windham won the rodeo — he got nothing but a handshake and title then — the Pecos Enterprise has called this city of 13,000 the "home of the world's first rodeo." Winners of the Pecos finale on July 4 will share $172,000, the ninth-best on the 1983 professional rodeo circuit.

The Pecos rodeo, held annually since 1929, also will feature the revival of the world's first Jackrabbit Derby. That event ran once in "Night in Old Pecos" opened the centennial Monday night at Judge Roy Bean Park, and fireworks on the night of the Fourth will end celebrations of the first rodeo.

In between, horse-drawn carriages will spruce up the 1883 parade, there will be a fiddler's contest and selection of the Golden Girl of the Old West. There also will be dances, town barbecues, a pancake breakfast and mock gunfights.

But town officials doubt there will be a repeat appearance of Bonnie and Clyde, who surprised the town when they showed up during the 1932 rodeo. One drug store owner was so taken by the pair, he even cashed a couple checks, Hughes said.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Allergy and joint pain

DEAR DR. LAMB — In one of your columns you said that calcium does not cause or worsen arthritis. I presume you mean it is OK for elderly people to drink milk or eat cheese.

I like both. Unfortunately after drinking milk for a few days or eating cheese, I get arthritic pains in my wrist, thumb and joints. After omitting the milk and cheese for a few days the arthritis eases and I have no pains in my joints.

I am not saying it is the calcium but the pain has come and gone in relationship to my drinking milk and eating cheese. Just when I think I have been free of pain long enough and I could go back to milk, I try it and it brings back the pain in the joints.

My general health is excellent except for this problem. Any suggestions? DEAR READER — I would suggest that your reaction is not related to calcium at all.

First, it is important to define what you really have. Joint pains don't always mean arthritis. Your story is not really suggestive of arthritis anyway. But your story could suggest an allergy to milk. Food allergies are more important than many people realize. Since the allergic reaction is really dependent upon some substance, in this case something in milk, reacting with an antibody in your body, there can be many different symptoms.

Your allergic antibody can be fixed in any tissues in your body. If it is in the skin, you will have hives when you consume the offending food. If it is in the intestine, you will have intestinal symptoms. And if the allergic antibody is fixed in your joint tissues, the offending food would cause joint symptoms.

This kind of allergy to milk is not the same thing as intolerance to milk sugar, called lactose intolerance.

I am sending you The Health Letter 19-12, Food Allergies, for a more complete explanation of how allergies can cause many symptoms. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio

City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Why not ask your doctor to refer you to an allergist. He may be able to help you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I was reading an article about the popularity of hot tubs, steam rooms and sauna baths. At the end of the article the writer said that persons with any history of angina, hypertension or respiratory problems should use these with care, and only with the consent of their physician.

I would appreciate your comment on this as it should be informative to many of your readers.

DEAR READER — The statement is correct. Your body constantly generates heat and the heat must be eliminated. If it isn't you would develop a fever or dangerous high temperature. Your heart works hard to send blood to your skin and cool it and reduce body heat. Your arteries dilate to send more blood to the skin. You've noticed the flushing that occurs when you are hot.

It may not be so easy to reverse the dilatation of the arteries if the blood pressure drops suddenly. So heat is fun and comfortable, but it must be treated with respect. If your heart and lungs are already working with a handicap, you have to be careful not to add additional stress and overload its capacity.

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, June 28, the 179th day of 1983. There are 186 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:

On June 28, 1914, Austrian Archduke Ferdinand and his wife were assassinated in what is now Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, by a Bosnian revolutionary, triggering World War I.

On this date: In 1778, at the Revolutionary War Battle of Monmouth, N.J., the aid given the colonials by Molly Pitcher made her a heroine in American history.

In 1838, Britain's Queen Victoria was crowned.

In 1919, the Versailles Treaty ending World War I was signed in France.

In 1942, the British 8th Army retreated from the Germans to El Alamein during World War II.

Ten years ago: James Schlesinger was confirmed by the Senate as secretary of defense, succeeding former Attorney General Elliot Richardson.

Five years ago: The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that college admission programs that give special preference to minorities are constitutional, but that a University of California medical school must admit Allan Bakke, a white man, because its admission program was not flexible enough.

One year ago: A special prosecutor announced that there was no evidence linking Labor Secretary Raymond Donovan with any crime during the time he was executive of a New Jersey construction company.

Today's birthday: Comedian Gilda Radner is 37.

I FOUND IT; LET'S CELEBRATE!

Dishonest tax collectors and other notorious sinners often come to listen to Jesus' sermons; but this caused complaints from the Jewish religious leaders and the experts on Jewish law because He was associating with such despicable people—even eating with them!

So Jesus used this illustration: "If you had 100 sheep and one of them strayed away and was lost in the wilderness, wouldn't you leave the 99 others to go and search for the lost one until you found it? And then you would joyfully carry it home on your shoulders."

"When you arrived you would call together your friends and neighbors to rejoice with you because your lost sheep was found."

"Well, in the same way heaven will be happier over one lost sinner who returns to God than over 99 others who haven't strayed away!"

"Or take another illustration: A woman has ten valuable silver coins and loses one. Won't she light a lamp and look in every corner of the house and sweep every nook and cranny until she finds it? And then won't she call in her friends and neighbors to rejoice with her?"

"In the same way there is joy in the presence of the angels of God when one sinner repents."
Luke 15:1-10A

Ann Landers

Bully for you!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'll admit that the man who wanted to wire his wife's bedspring so he could press a button and give her a slight electric shock to get her up in the morning to fix his breakfast was a little far-out, but in principle he was perfectly right. I was surprised you weren't on his side. A husband who works hard all day is entitled to a hearty breakfast to get him off to a good start. A wife who is worth her salt will get to bed early enough so she will not need to have an electric current sent through her body to get her going in the morning. Some women are like dumb animals. You have to show them who's boss or they aren't worth a damn. I trained mine right from the beginning and, believe me, there are no arguments in our house. This is the way all families out to be run.—Big Ed in Montgomery, Ala.

DEAR ED: Well, bully for you! You trained her right from the beginning, did you? I can believe there are no arguments in your house — just a lot of love, affection, respect, admiration...all the good things generated by your compassion and consideration. You should live so long, Mister.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter (age 17, a high school senior) left for summer school this morning decked out, from the waist up, looking as if she was going to a New Year's Eve party. She wore a red satin blouse trimmed with lace over her blue jeans. When I told her I thought the combination was inappropriate, her father accused me of being unnecessarily nasty. The girl has no taste when it comes to clothes. Is it not my responsibility as her mother to say something? Please tell me how to phrase my suggestions regarding her school attire so she will accept them in the spirit intended.—Midwest Mama

DEAR M.M.: The problem is not one of phraseology, it's the fact that you say anything at all. You daughter seems hostile, unresponsive and tuned out where you are concerned.

My advice is to cool it, Mom. Granted, a red satin blouse over jeans is ridiculous but somebody at school is sure to make a remark—or, more to the point, will needle her about the outlandish get-up. Coming from one of her peers, it will be much more effective.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A person can scarcely pick up a newspaper or magazine or turn on the TV or radio without hearing some reference to sex—how much, how many times, what is normal, etc.

My husband and I are in our mid-30s, healthy, bushy, happy with our four children and our lives together. Our relationship is almost totally platonic. No one would guess it. We are both good-looking, effervescent and fun-loving. Apparently we have low sex drives—both virgins when we married. Is this normal? Should I be concerned?—Sleepers in Mexico

DEAR SLEEPERS: No. For you and your husband it's normal. Don't give it another thought. Consider yourselves fortunate to have found each other. It was a lucky match.

TMA promotes healthy lifestyle

Despite advances in modern medicine, good health is still primarily the responsibility of the individual. Bad health habits are the root of many medical problems. That is the message in a pamphlet titled "Your Health is in Your Hands," produced by the Texas Medical Association. The pamphlet notes that practicing good health habits has two important benefits: —You may save money on doctor bills and home remedies.

—You will feel better and will have taken an important first step towards a longer, healthier life.

TMA encourages you to watch six areas to ensure good health:

—Alcohol: If you drink alcoholic beverages, do it moderately. Two drinks a day should be the limit. Overindulgence can lead to alcoholism, cirrhosis of the liver, and auto accidents.

—Smoking: Ideally, no one should smoke. On an average, 80 percent of all deaths from lung cancer are caused by smoking. It has also been linked to circulatory diseases, increased risk of heart attack, and cancer of the bladder, mouth, and throat.

—Obesity: Many persons weigh more than is healthy because their eating is triggered by anger or anxiety. If you can identify the times your resistance to overeating is greatest, you have accomplished the first step in changing your eating habits. Being overweight can lead to heart attacks, diabetes, and high blood pressure.

—Exercise: Regular exercise is a must to keep your heart muscles and lungs in shape and to supply your body with the blood it needs. How much and what kinds of exercise you need depends on your age and physical condition.

—Sleep: The amounts of sleep needed varies from person to person. Eight hours a night is the general rule.

—Three nutritious meals a day: Something as simple as eating breakfast may increase the quality and length of your life. Have lunch and dinner at roughly the same time each day. Avoid snacks.

A copy of this pamphlet can be obtained by writing the Texas Medical Association, Communication Department, 1801 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin 78701, or by calling 512-477-6704.

Hereford students earn honors at Texas A&M

Three Hereford students, Robert B. Boyd, Barbara A. Koelzer, and Glenda S. West, have been named to the Dean's Honor Roll at Texas A&M University and Patrick R. Johnson, also of Hereford, a spring graduate in mechanical engineering, has earned "Distinguished Student" status at Texas A&M.

Boyd is a senior majoring in geophysics, Koelzer is a junior business analysis major, and West is a sophomore in agricultural economics.

Students must earn at least a 3.75 grade point ratio out of a possible 4.0 during the most recent grading period to be named to the Dean's Honor Roll. Recipients of the "Distinguished Student" honor must earn at least a 3.25 grade point ratio.

Highway bridge collapses

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — A 100-foot span of highway bridge collapsed before dawn today and hurled trucks and cars into the Mianus River, killing three people and injuring at least three others, authorities said.

Coast Guard and Greenwich police boats were searching the river for more motorists who may have been trapped in their cars.

The three eastbound lanes of the bridge, 70 feet over the water, collapsed about 1:30 a.m. on Interstate 95, the main highway into New York City some 20 miles to the southwest, said Chet West, Greenwich Fire Department dispatcher.

State police spokesman John McLeod confirmed three people died in the accident. In addition, two women and one man were taken to the emergency room of Greenwich Hospital in critical condition, said Joan Grey, nursing supervisor. The three injured people were identified by Mrs. Grey as David Pace, 27, and his wife, Helen, 23, of Warner Robins, Ga., and Eileen Welden, age unknown, of Darien, Conn.

The worst bridge collapse in the United States in recent years came when the Silver Bridge, a 1,756-foot span between Kanauga, Ohio, and Point Pleasant, W.Va., fell into the Ohio River on Dec. 15, 1967, killing 46 people. On May 9, 1980, a freighter crashed into the Sunshine Skyway Bridge in Florida's Tampa Bay, toppling a 1,400-foot section of the span. Thirty-five of the 36 people thrown into the water died.
