

Survey on HHS exam exemptions inconclusive

By REED PARSELL
Staff Writer

A randomly-conducted telephone survey of teachers and students was seemingly inconclusive in determining whether they wished exemptions for final semester examinations to be continued at Hereford High School.

At its most recent meeting, the Hereford Independent School District Board of Education considered a proposal calling for an end to the exemptions, which are dually based on attendance and grades.

Though the school board took no action on July 12, it did agree (by a 6-0-1 margin) to look at the proposal again during a future gathering.

As has been outlined for more than five years, any HHS student does not have to take a final semester exam if he meets certain requirements. An "A" average with four or fewer absences, a "B" average with three or fewer absences or a "C" average with two or fewer absences allows for an exemption.

Last-semester seniors are eligible for exemptions if they have a "C" average and four or fewer absences.

In addition, a student must not have any unexcused absences nor receive a "U" for his citizenship grade.

Gayla Hulsey, who graduated from the local high school in May, said, "I think it's only fair that the ones that are good enough to make the grades should be exempt." The required midterm tests, she felt, are enough.

"Personally, I think they ought to keep them," said Randy Strubbling, a senior-to-be at HHS. The current exemption rules give students incentive to work harder at the beginning of semesters, he believed. "If they didn't have exemptions and knew they had to take finals, they might not give it their best shot."

"I'm glad we had them (exemptions) while I was in school, but I know we need to learn tests," commented Amy Griffin, class of 1983. "In college we all need to know how to take tests."

Another fresh graduate, Tina Watson, expressed similar thoughts. "I don't know if they should be continued," she said. "I'm afraid

I won't know how to take a test...It's going to be tough" in college next year.

"I am for the exemptions because I think they're a really good incentive to do well," HHS English instructor Margaret Bell said. She was impressed with the way exemptions help attendance and felt final exams occur too late to allow corrections in teaching or a student's learning progress. Bell pointed out students are not supposed to be told who is exempt until the final five minutes of the last day of regular class. "There are lots of ways to keep them working."

Robert Priest, vice principal at the high school, said he is "very much in favor of exemptions." Attendance at HHS last year was 96 percent, which Priest said is highest among all other 5A schools in the Texas Panhandle. Students in college-level courses will be adequately prepared for college examinations, he believed.

Economic recovery heats up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economic recovery heated up this spring, with business activity growing at a strong 8.7 percent annual rate — its fastest pace in more than two years, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said in its first official estimate for growth in the April-June quarter that it was the best showing since a revised 9 percent growth in the first three months of 1981.

It was also more than triple the 2.6 percent growth of the first quarter this year, when business activity was beginning to come back.

Last month, the Commerce projected second quarter growth this year at only 6.6 percent, as measured by the Gross National Product. The actual figure — 8.7 percent — was much higher.

And the pickup is even more impressive in light of new figures showing that the recession was deeper than previously thought.

In an accompanying report of 1980-82 revisions, Commerce said the downturn from the first quarter of 1981 through the fourth quarter of last year was a full 3 percent rather than the 2.2 percent previously reported. Those figures are not annualized.

It said the second quarter improvement reflected a "substantial increase" in sales and "much smaller" rate of inventory cutting by businesses.

It said GNP grew at an annual rate of $1.52 trillion.

Inflation, as measured by the GNP-linked, fixed-weighted price index, was 5.2 percent in the second quarter compared to 3.4 percent in the first.

Today's report on real, or inflation-adjusted, GNP covers the entire economy, attempting to measure the nation's total second-quarter output of goods and services and comparing it to the first quarter.

Other, narrower reports have also been encouraging in recent weeks, showing improvements throughout the economy in June.

Commerce announced Wednesday that personal income grew 0.5 percent last month as personal consumption spending rose 1 percent.

It said last week that industrial production in June increased 1.1 percent, its seventh straight monthly pickup.

The Federal Reserve Board said Monday that industry operated at 74.5 percent of capacity in June, the highest level since February 1982.

And the Fed said consumers took on $2.7 billion more in installment credit during June than they paid off. It was the largest amount since September 1981, and economists said it was a sign of consumers' growing confidence in the economy.

Economists generally say growth will slow later in the year as the recovery matures. The Reagan administration is predicting that real GNP growth for the year will be 5.5 percent.

Hawkins wins appeal on competency question

Samuel C. Hawkins, who faces two death sentences for murder and a life sentence for the rape of a Hereford woman, has won an appeal to determine whether he was mentally competent during his trial for the murder of a Borger woman.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday ordered a judge to decide "if it is possible to conduct a retrospective competency hearing, and, if it is, to impanel a jury to pass on the issue of Hawkins' competency" at the time of the trial.

Hawkins, now 39, received a death sentence in 99th District Court in Lubbock March 15, 1978, from jurors who convicted him in the May, 1977 rape-slaying of Abbie Hamilton, a 19-year-old

Borger housewife who was six months pregnant when stabbed to death in her home.

He is also facing a death penalty for the 1976 bludgeoning death of a 12-year-old Amarillo girl. Hawkins came to be known in the press as the "traveling rapist" because of the area range of his crimes.

Hawkins received a life sentence for raping and beating a Hereford woman in 1976. The 21-year-old woman was stabbed in the head, parts of her ears were cut up and the bone under one eye was broken and required surgery. The knife wound required more than 400 stitches.

The appeals court said Wednesday there was evidence that could have led jurors to decide Hawkins was mentally incompetent when tried in the Hamilton slaying.

Judge Tom C. Davis' opinion sent the case back to Lubbock. But it will then be returned to the 84th District Court, D.A. Steve Cross of Borger said Wednesday.

According to Cross, at the time of the Hawkins' trial in Lubbock, he had been examined by two psychiatrists and a psychologist and there was no indication he was not competent to stand trial.

If jurors decide Hawkins was competent, the death sentence would stay in effect, the court said. However, if it is not possible to conduct such a hearing, Hawkins must be granted a new trial, according to the appeals court opinion.

Polish martial law to be ended Friday

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Council of State, acting on orders of the nation's military leaders and Communist Party chief Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, has ordered the lifting of martial law in Poland beginning Friday, President Henryk Jablonski told Parliament today.

On Wednesday Parliament, acting to insure the government's grip on the country, granted broad emergency powers to Poland's Communist leaders so they can act quickly to silence any political threat once martial law ends.

Today, shortly before the announcement, Parliament approved a series of tough new regulations that further secure the government's control.

In a nationally televised speech today, Jablonski said "At the request of the Military Council for National Salvation, the Council of State has lifted martial law on the territory of the whole country, starting July 22."

Jaruzelski, who addressed Parliament immediately after the Jablonski speech, said: "martial law was a necessity, an act of defense. The lifting thereof is a conscious choice."

The government's new powers, contained in a constitutional amendment, were proposed by the Communist leadership and were designed to allow the government to impose a state of emergency, swiftly re-imprison dissidents, and keep key leaders of the outlawed independent union Solidarity interned. The amendment was passed 386-1 with one abstention.

Before the announcement that the military decree will be lifted on Poland's national day, the 450-member Parliament approved several special regulations designed to crush opposition to the Communist government, in effect extending some martial law curbs for an 18-month transition period.

The new bill, and a conditional amnesty for political prisoners, was passed without its harsher, permanent provisions after criticism by Roman Catholic primate Cardinal Jozef Glemp, according to non-Communist Party deputies at the Sejm, or Parliament.

Pope issues plea for safety of young hostage

ROME (AP) — Pope John Paul II today begged "in the name of God and humanity" for the abductors of a Vatican employee's daughter to release her unharmed despite the expiration of their deadline.

The kidnapers had warned that 15-year-old Emanuela Orlandi would be killed if Mehmet Ali Agca, serving a life sentence for shooting John Paul in 1981, was not freed by midnight (6 p.m. EDT) Wednesday.

The appeal was in a statement given to journalists by the Vatican.

It was the pope's fifth public appeal for the release of Emanuela, a daughter of a Vatican messenger who has been missing for a month.

Hours after the deadline passed, there was no word on her fate.

Earlier today, after the midnight deadline passed, the girl's uncle, Mario Meneguzzi, said Emanuela's parents "have always hoped, and they continue to hope."

An anonymous telephone caller to the Italian news agency ANSA said earlier Wednesday that the dark-haired youngster was still alive but that time was running out to save her.

"Today's is the last message before the deadline of the ultimatum that is confirmed for midnight of today," ANSA quoted the caller as saying in reference to the July 20 deadline for Agca's release.

"The government of the Republic of Italy with the consent of the Vatican State does not intend to let go of an instrument of propaganda, which is Agca," the news agency quoted the caller as saying.

Under Italy's law governing pardons, Agca first must request a pardon and only President Sandro Pertini is empowered to grant it. There have been no reports of such steps.

Pope John Paul II on Wednesday made his fourth public appeal for Emanuela's release before 35,000 people gathered in St. Peter's Square for his weekly general audience. "And now a prayer for the kidnapped girl, Emanuela Orlandi, for whom we are all concerned along with her family," the pope said. He recited an Ave Maria prayer for her.

Agca, serving a life sentence for the May 13, 1981, shooting of John Paul, has disassociated himself from the girl's case and asked that her abductors release her unharmed.

Police said Wednesday's message was the second death threat this week against the girl.

Italian police and Vatican sources say there appeared to be at least four abductors involved — one with an American-sounding accent. But they have not established whether her kidnapers are the same as those issuing the death threats against her, and they have no solid proof she is alive.

The girl disappeared June 22 after leaving a flute lesson in downtown Rome.

MX program remains alive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The MX missile, a weapon embattled by a decade of debate over how to base it, has narrowly cleared another hurdle on its way to joining the nation's strategic nuclear arsenal in 1986.

After a blitz of telephone lobbying by President Reagan, the House kept the program alive Wednesday night when it turned back, 220-207, an effort to strip from a 1984 defense authorization bill all $2.56 billion to build the first 27 of a planned 100 MX "Peacekeepers."

Seventy-three Democrats joined 147 Republicans to form the majority, while only 18 GOP members were allied with 189 Democrats in voting to prevent production.

Promising further comment from President Reagan today, White House spokeswoman Sheila Dixon said he was pleased with the vote.

The vote marked a significant narrowing of the 239-186 approval margin that the House had given May 24 in releasing $625 million to flight-test the 10-warhead, 192,000-pound weapon.

The slippage occurred largely among moderate Democrats, led by Majority Leader Jim Wright of Texas, who had voted with Reagan in May but voiced second thoughts about the president's commitment to arms control and the need to restrain military spending.

Opponents will have another chance to kill production plans when the House considers an appropriation bill to provide the actual dollars for the weapon, probably in September.

Several opponents said the closeness of the vote led them to believe they will succeed then unless there is dramatic progress at the arms-reduction talks with the Soviet Union in the coming weeks.

While the House planned to act today on other MX matters, the Senate headed for a vote on a motion to limit further debate on its own version of the defense bill and force Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., to bring up his package of anti-MX amendments.

Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., needed the votes of 60 of the 100 senators to approve a cloture motion that would speed completion of the chamber's work on the $200 billion bill, which was on the floor for the 10th day.

Hart, claiming that the decision to proceed with the MX is a fateful one for the nation and deserves lengthy discussion, has delayed calling up his amendments because he expects the

Trio nabbed

Three Hereford residents, all in their mid-30s, were arrested Wednesday night on drug charges, the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office reported this morning.

The arrests took place at 7 p.m. at the 223 Ave. A residence of Rosie Enriquez Garcia and her husband, Julian Garcia Jr. Both were charged with possession of a controlled substance (LSD) and possession of marijuana.

Alegandro Mendez, 606 Irving, was arrested with the couple though he was charged just with possession of a controlled substance (LSD).

According to the sheriff's office, the Garcias were released after 30 minutes on $13,500 combined bond. Mendez is still being held in the county jail with a bond of $5,000.

Assisting with the arrest were the metro officers from Amarillo and Deaf Smith County, along with Deaf Smith County Sheriff reserves.

Panda cub born in Washington zoo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ling-Ling gave birth to a panda cub today at the National Zoo, the first born in the United States and the sixth born outside China.

Paternity is uncertain. The father is either Hsing-Hsing, the male panda that mated with Ling-Ling last March, or Chia-Chia, whose frozen sperm was used to artificially inseminate Ling-Ling.

"It is impossible to determine the weight, sex and size of the cub, but it appears to be normal," Morgan said.

Morgan said the cub was born 124 days after Ling-Ling mated with Hsing-Hsing. She was also artificially inseminated during the same heat period with semen obtained from Chia-Chia.

Morgan said Ling-Ling had held the baby to her breast but it could not be determined if she were actually feeding it.

"Ling-Ling is an inexperienced mother," Morgan said, adding that the zoo would conduct an around-the-clock watch "to make sure Ling-Ling continued the excellent care she is already providing."

For seven years now, zookeepers have been hoping that Ling-Ling and Hsing-Hsing would start a family. Every spring Ling-Ling, now 12, would come into heat. But each time, Hsing-Hsing, six months younger, couldn't figure out what was expected of him.

Morgan said paternity will be determined by comparing tissue samples of the cub and sperm donors when the baby is old enough to be tested.

Investigators probe 11 apartment fires

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Arson investigators are working without many clues in their attempt to find someone who has destroyed 11 apartments in a 150-unit complex since March, a fire department spokesman says.

Tommy May said Wednesday there is no logical reason for the fires, 10 of which were set in vacant apartments.

Each started when combustible material, such as paper, was ignited in the apartment at all hours of the day and night, May said.

Residents of the Oak Village apartments say they're sticking close to home.

"We're all fearful to leave our homes for even a minute," said Ernestine Junius, 62. "Just six days ago, the apartment two doors down from me was burned. I have my daughter and her baby living with me and we just can't take much more."

"We all just wish they would catch whoever is responsible. If they don't, we may have to move."

May said only about 20 percent of the apartment units are occupied and all are "in fairly bad shape." He said the complex covers five or six city blocks and most renters are poor.

"No one witnessed any of the fires and investigators don't know whether someone acting alone or a group of people started the fires," he said.

Man killed while sleeping with gun

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A 19-year-old man who bought a pistol after he was beaten by a youth gang that had threatened his sister was killed when the gun discharged as he was sleeping on it, police said.

Kenneth Williams, who was struck in the chest by the bullet, had grown fearful and reclusive after the gang attack, his sister said.

"He bought it (the gun) off the street about two weeks ago because he was so scared," said Williams' mother, Helen Johnson. "I think it was hot but he had to have it."

Investigators said the .38-caliber pistol apparently had a hair trigger, because when a relative took the gun out of the young man's hand and threw it on the floor, it discharged again.

Williams, who was sleeping on a cot in a front bedroom when the gun discharged, was pronounced dead at John Peter Smith Hospital about 3 a.m. Tuesday. An autopsy was ordered.

No advantage to low nicotine cigarettes

BOSTON (AP) — Smokers probably don't cut their intake of tar and nicotine by switching to "light" cigarettes because there is no such thing as a "less hazardous, safer cigarette," says a report released today.

People absorb just as much nicotine from the low-tar, low-nicotine cigarettes as from regular brands, says the study in today's New England Journal of Medicine. And the tar intake from these smokes is probably the same, as well.

The research, conducted at San Francisco General Hospital Medical Center, measured nicotine levels in smokers' blood. It found there was no difference when people used low-yield cigarettes — those advertised as being low in tar and nicotine.

"In short, it is obvious that, despite the seductive advertisements, there is no less hazardous, safer cigarette," Dr. Claude Lenfant of the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute wrote in a journal editorial.

The Federal Trade Commission uses a machine that smokes cigarettes to measure the tar and nicotine levels in various brands. The results are listed on cigarette packs and in tobacco company advertising.

Robbers glue postmistress to wall

LONDON (AP) — Two bandits robbed a post office of $60,000 then glued the postmistress to the wall.

June O'Brien, 31, said two men ordered her to open the safe Wednesday, and then smeared her hands with powerful, hard-sticking glue and stuck them to the wall.

"They jammed an object in my back," she said, although she did not see any guns.

Mrs. O'Brien stuck to the wall for an hour before her husband John arrived at the north London post office and cut her free from the wallpaper.

He took her to the hospital where doctors removed the glue with solvent.

A Post Office spokesman said: "I can't remember raiders using superglue before. It was by all accounts a pretty painful experience." The spokesman declined to be identified.

What price electric car?

There are two ways to build an electric car; at least two ways.

One is for our government's Department of Energy to allocate 10 million of your dollars to General Electric and let their engineers do it. And they did.

They combined an electric motor and a gasoline engine. For speeds up to 40 the electric motor is power enough. At speeds over 40, an on-board computer "shifts gears," cuts in the gasoline engine.

And during cross-country driving with the gasoline engine, the batteries are being recharged.

In average use, GE claims this vehicle uses 50 percent less gasoline.

So that's one way to build an electric car — for $10 million.

Now let me tell you how Briggs and Stratton built a better one in 18 months at a total cost of $200,000.

Briggs and Stratton, investing its own money — not yours — has built a HYBRID electric vehicle.

In town it offers the clean, quiet efficiency of electric power. On the highway it offers the range and flexibility of an economical gasoline-powered car.

An on-board computer determines the combination of gas and electric power needed for any driving condition.

Briggs and Stratton has no intention of going into the electric car business. The company developed this prototype vehicle merely to show that private industry can do it — without government subsidy.

And hopefully to encourage others to refine this technology.

Doug Janisch, engineer in charge of this project, says "We're hoping the wealth of engineering, inventive and productive genius stored up in United States corporations will be turned loose on America's most pressing problems, rather than waiting for 'somebody in government' to solve them."

The Briggs and Stratton HYBRID car carries two adults, two children and the groceries at speeds up to 75 miles an hour, mileage up to 145 miles per gallon, range without refueling 240 to 300 miles.

The company is also financing its own alcohol experimentation program — converting its gasoline engines to burning pure alcohol, a renewable resource which can be economically distilled from common agricultural crops — even from waste.

This is not the "first" for Briggs and Stratton. That company pioneered motor vehicle power plants in 1908 — innovative engineering subsequently adopted by Henry Ford for his Model-T.

Now who'll be first to put this newer power principle on the production line?

Only three deputies, Karol Maluczynski, Romuald Bukowski and Ryszard Reiff — all non-party members abstained from voting on the two bills, reporters at Parliament said. There were no "no" votes. An official count of the "yes" votes was not given.

Janusz Zablocki, one of a handful of non-party deputies, called on Parliament to allow students and university employees fired for political activity to work, and he said Glomp wrote a letter to the Parliament criticizing permanent changes in the penal code. Zablocki said Glomp's protest delayed until next week consideration of permanent changes called for in the special regulations bill, such as tightening censorship and a toughening the penal code. He said this would allow time for possible amendments or changes.

The influence of the church has grown since Pope John Paul II visited his homeland last month. The church role as a dissenting voice in Polish society also has increased since the demise of the independent Solidarity union, suspended by military rule and formally outlawed last October.

The amnesty bill would free or pardon violators of martial law and make sure they avoid political protests or strikes in the future by providing for imprisonment.

Parliament has little real power and has always approved whatever proposals the Communists submit. When Jaruzelski decreed martial law Dec. 13, 1981, Parliament endorsed it afterward.

The amnesty measure covers all women, all people under 21, and anyone sentenced to three years or less. Those with longer sentences would have their terms cut at least in half and possibly revoked.

However, government officials have said that the amnesty will not apply to seven fugitive Solidarity leaders.

Republican-led Senate to try to kill them quickly.

As a hedge Wednesday, he filed more than 500 additional, mostly technical, amendments that he could employ during the 100 hours of debate permitted by the cloture rule.

The history of the MX has been marked by examination and rejection of nearly three dozen basing plans since the weapon went on the drawing boards in the early 1970s.

The latest plan — suggested by a bipartisan presidential commission in April and quickly embraced by Reagan — revives a once-discarded proposal to place the MXs in underground silos in Wyoming and Nebraska now home to Minuteman 3 missiles.

Opponents contend that because these silos are believed to be targeted by the Soviets, the super-accurate MXs would have to be launched minutes after sensors — perhaps erroneously — detected enemy missiles heading for them.

But in the five-hour House debate, much attention also was focused on the effect a congressional decision to prevent production of the missiles would have on the arms talks in Geneva.

MX advocates, led by Democrats Les Aspin of Wisconsin, Albert Gore Jr. of Tennessee and Norman D. Dicks of Washington, cited recent conciliatory moves by the Soviets at the bargaining table and said it was vital that U.S. negotiators not be undercut at a crucial time.

Reagan made the same point in a letter Wednesday to Rep. Melvin Price, D-Ill., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and in a stream of telephone calls to wavering congressmen.

But detractors claimed not to see any real progress in Geneva and said they continue to doubt Reagan's sincerity on arms control.

Terrorists hit Beirut hotel

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Three terrorists shot their way into Beirut's most luxurious hotel and exploded a bomb-laden car, killing six people and wounding 18, including an Italian peacekeeping soldier, police said today.

They said two bodies were dug out of the rubble this morning, raising the death toll to six in Wednesday night's attack on the Summerland hotel, packed with guests who had fled sectarian violence in the nearby mountains.

In southern Lebanon, guerrillas shelled settlements in northern Israel Wednesday for the first time in the 13-month-old war, but no injuries were reported.

Police said the hotel terrorists machine-gunned two guards to death and detonated a car packed with explosives, killing two parking lot attendants, starting a raging fire and shattering the hotel's windows. The killers fled, and police said they had no clue as to their identities.

Among the 18 wounded by the blast were an Italian soldier in Beirut's multinational peacekeeping force and an undetermined number of other people were missing. Firefighters struggled for three hours to control the blaze, which came only hours after Druse gunners in Lebanon's central mountains shelled Christian east Beirut, killing three people including a young girl, wrecking five cars and shattering chandeliers at a Greek Orthodox church.

By early today no group had taken responsibility for bombing the hotel, where many residents of the central mountains had sought refuge from the deadly feuding between Druse and Christian militias.

"They escaped the fighting only to be bombed by explosives," said a hotel employee who asked to remain anonymous. He said most of the hotel's 102 rooms were occupied.

In Tel Aviv, the Israeli military command said two mortar shells apparently fired by guerrillas in Lebanon exploded near the Israeli border settlements of Hanita and Admit on Wednesday, but caused no casualties.

It was the first time shells fired from Lebanon have landed in Israel since the Israelis invaded Lebanon in June 1982 to smash Palestine Liberation Organization guerrilla bases.

"I really think they should be discontinued," said Carolyn Johnson, government and history teacher, "because students will come back from college" and claim they weren't prepared.

Marilyn Leasure of the HHS mathematics department felt local students learn

"good habits" for attendance, which could carry over into their less-structured college lives. Without exemptions, many students would not come to school, she believed.

"I just really hope we retain the policy," Leasure said.

Now You're Cookin'

By LeAnne Hughes
Staff Writer

Since Susan Raney moved to Deaf Smith County June 21 as the new assistant county extension agent, she has been busy with 4-H trips, helping 4-H'ers with clothing and record book projects and agent training meetings.

"I never knew a job with the Extension Service would be so hectic, but I have enjoyed every minute of it. The people of Hereford have been so nice and friendly that I know I'm going to like it here," Susan said.

During the three weeks that Susan has been here she has traveled to New Mexico for Electric Camp, been in charge of the fashion revue, judged two county fashion revues, and attended an all day agent seminar in Amarillo. She is currently preparing for the judging of record books.

Susan is really a Texan at heart. She was born in El Paso but was raised in New Mexico. "When I applied for a job with the Extension Service I sent applications to New Mexico, Texas, Colorado and Arizona, but I was really glad to hear from Texas first. I have always wanted to return to Texas and now I'm finally getting my chance," Susan explained.

While in junior high and high school, Susan was involved in 4-H for seven years. She won numerous awards and traveled many miles. One of Susan's most prestigious awards was a trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Ill.

"The trip to Chicago was the best I ever took. I met lots of new people and loved the countryside. When I arrived in Chicago I really couldn't understand how I was chosen to come to National Congress," Susan said.

Susan was chosen to represent New Mexico in Chicago for the amount of work she had done in Food and Nutrition. During her seven years in 4-H and Food and Nutrition projects Susan did everything one can imagine concerning food. She had major projects in baking, international foods and a self determined project.

"In my project concerning international foods I chose the nation of Italy to study. I have several friends that are Italian and I was real interested in Italy. In my project I learned to cook every kind of Italian food you can think of, not just pizza and spaghetti. I also bought a pasta machine and made my own noodles," Susan said.

During Susan's last years in 4-H her county agent asked her to be a junior leader in Food and Nutrition. Anytime someone had a question about food or nutrition they called Susan.

"One time I was helping a group of 8,9 and 10-year-old 4-H'ers with a bread project. I brought a grinder and whole wheat to the meeting. We ground the wheat and made flour. We then made bread from scratch. It was the best bread I have ever eaten because those kids just wanted to knead it and knead it," Susan laughingly said.

One of Susan's major goals for Deaf Smith County is to try and get more involvement in 4-H. "I think 4-H has something for everyone. Whether it be child care, food, photography or riflery, 4-H has it. 4-H hasn't changed much since I was in, only it has progressed with the times. 4-H is a modern organization for today's kids," Susan said.

When Susan started college she was a home economics and communications major. "When I was in high school I took a journalism class as an elective and I enjoyed it so much I wanted to use it somehow in my career. Home economics has always been my first love so I decided to incorporate both fields into one major," Susan explained.

"I knew I had always loved 4-H and I had the experience to be an agent so I decided to apply for extension work," Susan said.

While attending New Mexico State University Susan was involved in many clubs. She was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, the American Home Economics Association and Alpha Delta Sigma. "I worked my way through college and with my other clubs I really didn't have time for Collegiate 4-H," Susan said.

Although Susan was not in Collegiate 4-H she worked at the New Mexico State 4-H office and this kept her in touch with 4-H.

Besides Susan's full time job she has other activities. She is an outdoor person who loves to hike, swim, ski and run but she also likes the indoor things. She sews and is a cook. She also has a dog named Magnum and a boyfriend who lives in Chicago.

Since Susan likes to cook she has been kind enough to share some of her favorite recipes.

"I'm a big cheesecake lover. Triple Lemon Cheesecake is a new approach to cheesecake because I make my own lemon filling. Some people do not want to spend that extra time, so just omit ingredients 8-15 and skip step 3.

Two other favorite recipes of Susan's are Sweet 'n' Sour Chicken and Layered Salad.

TRIPLE LEMONY CHEESECAKE

1 cup lemon cake mix
1/2 cup flaked coconut
One-third cup margarine, softened
1 egg
2 packages (8 oz.) cream cheese
2 eggs
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
7 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups hot water
3 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons margarine, softened
2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
2 cups dairy sour cream
1/4 cup sugar

1. Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Beat cake mix, coconut, one-third cup margarine and one egg in large bowl on low speed until crumbly. Press lightly into ungreased 13-by-9-by 2 inch pan.

2. Beat cream cheese, two eggs, 3/4 cup sugar and the lemon peel until smooth and fluffy. Spread over the base mixture. Bake until set, about 20 minutes.

3. Mix cornstarch, 1 1/2 cups sugar and salt in saucepan; gradually stir in hot water. Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until thick and clear, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir 1/2 cup hot mixture into yolks; stir this back into hot mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly two to three minutes. Remove from heat; stir in 2 tablespoons margarine. Add lemon peel and juice and stir until smooth. Cool.

4. While lemon filling is cooling mix sour cream with 1/4 cup sugar until smooth. Spread over cheesecake. When lemon filling is cooled, spread it on top of the sour cream layer. Cover, and refrigerate for at least 10 hours, preferably 24 hours.

SWEET 'N' SOUR CHICKEN

2 whole chicken breasts, cut in 1-inch cubes
1/2 tsp. salt
1 beaten egg
3/4 cup bisquick
1 cup cooking oil

Two-thirds cup sugar
2 Tablespoons cornstarch
1 Tablespoon paprika
1 (1 lb., 4 oz.) can of pineapple chunks
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 cup green pepper strips
1/2 cup sliced onion
2 med. tomatoes quartered

1. Season meat, dip in egg (with a little milk) and roll in bisquick. Fry in hot (400 degrees) oil until golden brown, drain on paper towels. Place in 250 degree oven to keep warm. 2. Combine sugar, cornstarch and paprika in 10-inch skillet. Drain pineapple; add enough water to juice to make 2 cups. Add pineapple juice, soy sauce and vinegar to cornstarch mixture. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Boil 1 minute.

3. Add green pepper and onion. Cover and cook until tender. Add pineapple and tomatoes. Heat well. 4. Add meat and serve over rice.

Clean spinach and red leaf lettuce. Tear into bite size pieces and mix together. Place half of the lettuce and spinach mixture in a large salad bowl.

Mix together sour cream, mayonnaise, and dressing mix. Spread half of dressing mixture on top of lettuce and spinach.

On top of dressing spread peas and sprinkle half of bacon, mushrooms, scallions and eggs. Add remaining lettuce and spinach.

Spread remaining dressing mixture on top. Top with mushrooms, scallions, eggs and bacon.

Parmesan cheese and almonds may be used as garnishes. Refrigerate overnight.

One-third to one-half a teaspoon dried herbs is the equivalent of one tablespoon fresh herbs.

Ex-champs top division

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are trying to hold a Family reunion this summer.

It's been four years since the Pirates' self-proclaimed "We Are Fam-a-lee" won the World Series with a swashbuckling, free-talking, free-swinging team that wasn't intimidated even by a 3-1 World Series deficit against the Baltimore Orioles. Willie Stargell was the Pirates' patriarch and Dave Parker was the intimidating big brother, talking loudly and swinging a big stick.

The Pirates had been just another team since that colorful championship season, but of late have been going like '60 — and '71 and '79, the last three times they won the World Series.

"I don't know what it is that makes this club get hot when the weather gets hot," says reliever Kent Tekulve.

"We're coming together and we've got a shot," said pitcher John Candelaria.

These new-breed Pirates stumbled through the same kind of early season slump they endured in so many seasons gone by, falling so far off the pace the National League nearly had to send out a search party to find them.

But they put together a nine-game winning streak to get back into the five-team National League East race, then returned after the All-Star break to win nine of 10 games during their most successful West Coast road trip in history.

And now they find themselves atop the division standings.

Tekulve says the Pirates are performing exactly as they did in 1976, 1977, 1978 and 1979, when they recovered from spring somnolence to stage stirring summer surges.

"It's an attitude type of thing," he said. "This has always been the kind of club that didn't destroy itself by losing early in the season. People don't go around pointing fingers."

"But while I can explain why we can get out of a hole every year, I sure can't explain why we get in one."

In 1978, the Pirates were once 13 games behind the division-leading Philadelphia Phillies, then won 22 of 23 home games during one incredible stretch. This year's team has been as many as 1 1/2 games back in a division where the top four clubs are all playing around .500 baseball.

"I've never seen anything like it," Candelaria said of the NL East's balance.

He notes a lot of fans and writers have been comparing the '83 Pirates to the '79 Bucs, who also made a remarkable mid-season turnaround.

But he points out that many of the veteran stars of that team are gone — Stargell, Phil Garner, Tim Lincecum, Ed Ott, Bert Blyleven — and have been replaced by a new breed of Bucs like Marvell Wynne, Dale Berra, Johnny Ray and Tony Pena. Parker, statistically if not physically, is only a shadow of his former self.

"But that was '79 and this is '83," Candelaria said. "It's four years later and we don't have as many veterans. This is a much younger team. This is going to be a good team, a very good team, but who's to say what's going to happen over a 162-game schedule?"

Manager Chuck Tanner doesn't know, either — and he also can't explain why his teams always seem to fold, spindle and mutilate in April, May and June until finding themselves in the middle of a pennant race in July and August.

"If someone knows, I'd wish they'd write and tell me," he said. "I don't think anyone has the answer."

While many managers play their regulars day in and day out early in the season, Tanner makes sure his reserves don't rust away in the rain and cold of April. Then, when many teams' starters are beginning to tire, the Pirates have plenty of fresh players.

And if there is a road to the pennant... "u83 Pirates, it could be just that — the road. They have lost 20 of 39 games at Three Rivers Stadium, where the players sometimes outnumber the fans, but have a winning record away from home.

"For some reason, we're a more relaxed team on the road," said Bill Madlock, who has replaced Stargell as the team's captain. "The guys seem looser on the road, there's no question."

"Some don't like to admit it, but we're entertainers," Tekulve said. "Who wouldn't rather play to a full house? I'd always rather play in front of 25,000 or 30,000."

Despite being the league's third biggest draw on the road, where they've already played to well over a million fans, the Pirates haven't drawn half that at home.

Candelaria blasted the fans earlier in the season, claiming they seem to lack the sophistication of those in other cities.

"But I was mad at the time, and it's all forgotten now," he said.

The fans may have forgotten Candelaria's remarks, but they haven't forgotten about the glory days of old.

One fan recently draped a banner reading "We Are Still Family" over the right field fence.

Baltimore wins again.

Ford returns, hits three taters

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

The Seattle Mariners thought they could take advantage of Dan Ford's inactivity for the last month. Instead, Ford did a month's worth of work in one game.

Seattle starter Matt Young said he asked catcher Rick Sweet before Wednesday night's game at Baltimore how they should pitch to Ford, playing his first game since June 21 because of an injured knee.

"Sweet said, 'Let's go after him. He's been on the disabled list. Make him hit your pitch,'" Young said. "And he did."

Ford slammed three solo homers and added a fourth hit with a bunt as the Orioles beat Seattle 4-2 for their fourth straight victory and 10th in their last 11 games. Cal Ripken had four hits for Baltimore, including a seventh-inning RBI single that snapped a 2-2 tie.

"In my first at-bat I was jittery," said Ford, put in the leadoff spot by Manager Joe Altobelli. "My first day hitting leadoff I thought, 'What am I going to do leading off?' I didn't know what my approach was going to be. I was just trying to hit the ball someplace hard."

Ford belted homers in his first two at-bats off Young, 8-10, and added another one in the ninth off Mike Stanton after his bunt hit set up Ripken's tie-breaking single in the seventh.

Sammy Stewart, 3-3, held the Mariners to two hits in the middle three 2-3 innings after Seattle scored its two runs off Orioles starter Mike Boddicker.

Red Sox 6, Angels 4
At Anaheim, Wade Boggs hit a two-run triple to snap a ninth-inning tie and give Boston its victory over California.

Both teams scored three runs in the eighth inning.

The Red Sox went ahead 4-1 on Tony Armas' three-run homer, his 20th of the season. Brian Downing led off the California eighth with his 10th home run. Later in the inning, Reggie Jackson doubled in a run and Tim Lincecum hit a game-tying single.

Brewers 4, Rangers 3
At Milwaukee, Cecil Cooper broke a 3-3 tie with his 21st homer leading off the eighth inning as the Brewers won for the ninth time in 10 games and handed Texas its 12th loss in 15 outings.

Cooper, who has 13 hits in his last 21 at-bats and 17 RBI in nine games, drilled the first pitch to him by loser Mike Smithson, 6-9, into the right-center field bullpen. Cooper now leads the majors with 73 RBI.

Tom Tellem, 7-2, pitched out of a 3-3 jam in the eighth to gain the victory.

A's 9, Tigers 2
At Detroit, Oakland got six runs in the seventh inning, highlighted by Bill Almon's three-run homer, to beat the Tigers.

Dwayne Murphy drove in three runs with a homer and a single for the A's, while Rickey Henderson stole his 55th base and also had a homer and a single to extend his hitting streak to 12 games. Chris Codrilli, 7-6, scattered seven hits to gain the victory.

Yankees 6, Twins 4
At Yankee Stadium, New York won its sixth straight game and Minnesota lost its seventh in a row as Don Baylor smashed a two-run homer in the 10th inning.

Steve Kemp opened the 10th with a double against loser Ron Davis, 3-4, and then Baylor ripped his third hit of the game and 11th home run of the year.

White Sox 8, Indians 2

At Cleveland, Tom Paciorek and Ron Kittle slugged two-run homers in Chicago's five-run fifth inning and Harold Baines also homered to power a 14-hit attack against Cleveland.

Every Chicago starter had at least one hit, led by Paciorek and Mike Squires with three each. Richard Dotson scattered nine hits in eight innings for his ninth victory in 15 decisions.

Royals 14, Blue Jays 8
At Toronto, Kansas City broke open a close game against Toronto with eight runs in the seventh inning, keyed by Pat Sheridan's two-run single and Don Slaught's two-run double.

Trailing 4-3 going into the seventh, Kansas City chased Toronto starter Dave Stieb, 11-8, and two relievers. The Royals had seven of their 19 hits and two walks in the inning.

Greg Pryor added a three-run homer and Willie Aikens a two-run shot for the Royals.

No-hit bid ends in ninth

By BEN WALKER AP
Sports Writer

Craig Reynolds broke his bat and broke up Charlie Hudson's chance for glory.

Hudson, a 24-year-old rookie right-hander for the Philadelphia Phillies breezed through the Houston lineup Wednesday night and had a no-hitter after eight innings.

As he trotted to the mound with a 10-0 lead to start the ninth, the crowd of 21,052 on a steamy Philadelphia night cheered. Third baseman Mike Schmidt stood near the young hurler as he warmed up, thrust the ball into into Hudson's glove and wished him good luck.

Pinch hitter Harry Spillman was the first batter, and he struck out looking at a 1-2 pitch.

That brought up Reynolds, a reserve infielder who had entered the game in the seventh inning and had just 11 hits all season.

Hudson threw two strikes past Reynolds, and missed with a ball, before Reynolds fouled off a pitch. Then, Hudson threw it down and in, and Reynolds broke his bat as he looped a single to center field.

Before the inning ended, Denny Walling cracked his first homer of the season and Dicke Thon followed with his 13th homer. Hudson ended with a three-hit, 10-3 victory.

Hudson, now 3-3 on the season, said with a sad smile: "I'll get it (a no-hitter) another time."

Joe Lefebvre paced the Phillies attack by knocking in five runs. He staked Philadelphia to a 4-0 lead in the first inning with a grand slam, his fifth home run of the season, and singled in an eighth-inning run.

Mike Scott, 5-4, took the loss, ending his five-game winning streak.

Pirates 7, Dodgers 3

In Pittsburgh, Dale Berra drove in five runs as the Pirates moved into first place in the NL East, a percentage point ahead of St. Louis. Berra lined a two-run single and Pittsburgh took a 6-3 lead in the sixth on an error by Dodger second baseman Steve Sax.

Berra's three-run homer, his 10th, gave the Pirates a 3-0 lead in the first inning against Burt Hooton, 8-4.

Los Angeles' Ken Landreaux, who went 5-for-5. Rick Rhoden, 7-8, gave up 12 hits before being relieved in the ninth.

Giants 4, Cubs 3

In Chicago, Jack Clark belted his 15th home run of the season with two outs in the top of the 10th inning to beat the Cubs.

The blast came on the first pitch by reliever Lee Smith, 3-5.

Greg Minton, 4-6, went the final three innings to get his second victory in two days for San Francisco.

Minton allowed a home run in the ninth by Jody Davis to tie it 3-3.

Mets 3, Braves 2

In Atlanta, Mookie Wilson's RBI single with two outs in the eighth snapped a 2-2 tie. Then the Mets held on in the bottom of the ninth.

Chris Chambliss led off the brave ninth with a double off reliever Carlos Diaz. That brought in Doug Sisk, who got one out before Jerry Royster beat out a high chop, sending pinch runner Randy Johnson to third.

But Sisk got pinch hitter Dale Murphy to ground into a double play.

Expos 6, Reds 4

In Montreal, the Expos continued to plague Cincinnati's Mario Soto.

Al Oliver and Gary Carter stroked run-scoring singles and Tim Wallach added an RBI double in the fifth inning against Soto, who is 10-9 this season but has a 1-7 lifetime mark against the Expos.

Charlie Lea, 7-6, took a five-hitter into the ninth, but left after Nick Esasky belted a two-run double. Esasky had earlier blasted a solo home run, his sixth.

Padres 5, Cardinals 4

Ruppert Jones slammed a three-run homer in the ninth to rally visiting San Diego past the Cardinals and reliever Bruce Sutter.

With St. Louis ahead 3-2, Sutter got one out before Terry Kennedy and Garry Templeton singled. Jones then unloaded his fifth home run of the season to pin the loss on Sutter, 7-6.

Babe Ruthers win

Local 14- and 15-year old all-stars from Hereford advanced to the Babe Ruth District finals Wednesday by virtue of a 24-1 trouncing over Dimmitt.

The visiting Dimmitt squad jumped to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning before the sky fell on top of it. Curtis Cotton smacked two round-trippers to lead the Hereford attack. Bobby Medina and Phillip Webster also hit homers.

Medina was the winning pitcher, allowing just two hits and striking out 10.

Hereford will play the Olton-Dimmitt winner Friday at 7 p.m. Should the local team lose that game, it will have another chance to advance to sectional play with a Saturday night rematch.

Sims looking at USFL

By The Associated Press
Billy Sims might be interested in joining the United States Football League, the Cincinnati Bengals very definitely are interested in raiding the new league.

Sims, the star running back of the Detroit Lions, rejected a $3.5 million, five-year contract offer by the National Football League team and will play out his option this season. Sims' agent, Dr. Jerry Argovitz, is part owner of the Houston Gamblers, a USFL expansion team which begins play next year.

Another Detroit running back, Dexter Bussey, was happy with the team's offer and signed a multiyear contract Wednesday.

The Bengals, winners of the American Football Conference Central Division the last two seasons, will be losing receivers Cris Collinsworth and Dan Ross to the USFL. Collinsworth signed a contract with the Tampa Bay Bandits for the 1985 season, and Ross agreed to join the Boston Breakers next year.

Mike Brown, assistant general manager of the Bengals, said the team has spoken to the agent for Bandits receiver Eric Truvillion, who led the USFL with 15 touchdown catches this season. Cincinnati also is interested in Boston linebacker Marcus Marek.

"We would consider signing a player on any team that signs a player on our team," Brown said. "We're not starting anything, but anyone who starts with us will hear from us."

San Diego wide receiver Wes Chandler, the only NFL player to gain more than 1,000 yards with passes last season, has not recovered from a sprained foot injured May 7 and will undergo X-rays.

Dallas cornerback Everson Walls, an All-Pro, has sent telegrams to the Cowboys and NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announcing his intention to retire. Walls, who must report to training camp by Thursday night or else face a $1,000-a-day fine, is unhappy with the status of contract negotiations with the Cowboys.

Cleveland Browns' safety Judson Flint broke his right ankle during practice Wednesday and is out indefinitely.

The New York Jets reached agreement with first-round draft pick Ken O'Brien, a quarterback from Cal-Davis, and traded wide receiver Bobby Jones to Cleveland for an undisclosed draft choice.

Atlanta waived punters Rick Maashburn, Scott Vernoy and Greg Lowery; Buffalo cut cornerback Riley Washington; Houston waived wide receiver James Davis; San Francisco released linebacker Jerry Floyd, defensive backs Steve Harris and Admiral Larry, offensive lineman Kevin McGill and defensive linemen Jertucio, Greg Sykes and Mike Barbee.

The Chicago Bears reached terms with veteran safety Gary Fencik, tackle Mike Covert and cornerback Mike Richardson. Cleveland signed linebacker Dale Carver; New England signed wide receiver Clarence Weathers and released placekicker Tom Skoruppa; Philadelphia signed nose tackle Ken Clarke and offensive tackle Stan Walters; Pittsburgh agreed to terms with nose tackle Gary Dunn; and center Jeff Bostic signed a series of three one-year contracts with Washington.

The Kansas City Chiefs announced the retirement of nose tackle Don Parrish.

Peete defends absence from tourney in Britain

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Calvin Peete, who is defending title in the $350,000 Anheuser-Busch Classic, said he made the right decision in withdrawing from last week's British Open golf championship.

"It was not an easy decision," said Peete, who has never played in the British Open, one of the game's Big Four events.

"I really wanted to play over there," he said.

"But when I was playing in Milwaukee (also as the defender, the week prior to the British Open), my back started acting up on me a little bit.

"I wanted to play in the British Open, but I just couldn't see going all the way over there and not being able to perform well, if I could play at all.

"It was a tough decision, but I figured the week off would do me more good. I think I made the right choice.

"Now, I'm rested and eager to defend. The back is fine, and I'm looking forward to playing," Peete said before teeing off in today's first round over the 6,684-yard, par 71 Kingsmill Golf Club course.

"This is a good golf course for me. It's not all that long but it requires good placements of your shots. I feel like it's the kind of course I should play really well," Peete said.

Peete, the most successful black player in the game's history, scored the sixth victory of his career earlier this season in the Atlanta Classic, was second in the Bing Crosby, has six other top-10 finishes and has clinched a position on the 1983 American Ryder Cup team.

Peete, 40, golf's most accurate player, has led the Tour for the past two seasons in greens hit in regulation and driving accuracy. And he's in position to make it three in a row.

He leads by a wide margin in driving accuracy and is pressing Johnny Miller for the lead in greens hit in regulation. Miller leads with a .723 average, while Peete is .716.

He also is challenging Ray Floyd for the lead in scoring average.

Four tie in golfing scramble

Four teams carded a best-ball score of 30 Wednesday in the weekly Golf Scramble at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

With the four-way tie, the prize money will carry over to next week. The entry fee of $3 per player is placed in the pot, and the winning team splits the prize in golf merchandise.

The nine-hole tourney is open to all interested players, but entries are taken the week prior to the tourney and the first 60 players are eligible to participate.

Since there was a tie this week, new players will be required to pay an entry fee of $6 to enter next week. The prize money will be greater, however, since the pot is carried over in case of ties.

The four teams to score a 30 Wednesday were: (1) Don Shaw, Doc Weaver, Paul Hamilton and Jerry Shipman; (2) Clay Richerson, Darwin Manning, Jim Duncan, Chuck Weems and Cathy Edwards; (3) Ron Weishaar, Alan Wartes, Robert Hamilton and Lillie Shipman; and (4) Charlie Kerr, Tiffi Dirks, Scott Keeling and Leland Shelton.

PUBLIC NOTICE

At the request of the Office of the General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission, the Commission has established Docket No. 5113 to inquire into pressing issues involving the entire telephone industry in Texas. Docket No. 5113 will deal with many issues resulting from the impending divestiture of American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Additionally, Docket No. 5113 will deal with the issues arising from the Federal Communications Commission's Final Order in Docket 78-72 (the Access Charge Docket) as they impact all telephone companies, including West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc. It is anticipated that Docket No. 5113 will be evidentiary in nature. RATES FOR WEST TEXAS RURAL TELEPHONE COOPERATIVE, INC. MAY BE DETERMINED BY THE COMMISSION IN OR AS A RESULT OF THIS PRECEDING. Ann Landers

Working mother's prayer

DEAR READERS: These are tense times for mothers who are working eight-hour jobs — and then go home to laundry, cleaning and children who hunger for their time and attention. Many of these mothers are exhausted and irritable. They lose their tempers and write to unload their guilt and ask for help. Today's column is a repeat that will surely strike a responsive chord. It's high time I ran it again.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This morning, burdened with too much work to fit into one day and very tired from the day before, I took out my frustration on my children. This evening I picked up a magazine and saw this Mother's Prayer by Marjorie Holmes I hope you will print it. Thank you in advance.—Alpena, Mich., Mother.

"Oh God, I was so cross to the children today! Forgive me. I was discouraged and tired — and I took it out on them. Forgive my bad temper, my impatience and, most of all, my yelling. I am ashamed as I think of it. I want to kneel down by each of their beds, wake them up and ask them to forgive me. But I can't. They wouldn't understand: I must go on living with the memory of this awful day, my unjust tirades. Hours later I can still see the fear in their eyes as they scurried around, trying to appease me — thinking my anger and maniacal raving was their fault.

"Oh God, the pathetic helplessness of children! Their innocence before the awful monster—the enraged adult. And how forgiving they are — hugging me so fervently at bedtime, kissing me good-night. All I can do is straighten a cover, touch a small head burrowed in a pillow and hope with all my heart that they will forgive me.

"Lord, in failing these little ones whom you have put in my keeping, I am failing you. Please let your infinite patience and goodness replenish me for tomorrow."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I certainly agree with the person who complained about employees who take advantage by doing personal chores, writing letters and telephoning friends and relatives on company time. But I deeply resent your terminology. Why did you refer to it as the "Protestant work ethic?" Do you actually believe that Protestants work harder or are more ethical than Catholics and Jews?

Many Catholics and Jews came to this country penniless, with little more than the clothes on their backs. They worked diligently and taught their children to do the same. They made this country what it is today. Will you kindly explain why you used that phrase?—O'Malley and Ginsburg In The Bronx

DEAR O'MALLEY AND GINSBURG: The phrase "Protestant work ethic" is not original with me. It refers to the teachings of John Calvin (1509-1564), the French Protestant theologian. He taught that thrift, industry, sobriety and responsibility were essential to achieving the reign of God on earth. From this basic concept came "the Protestant work ethic." It certainly applies to people of all faiths.

DEAR ANN: My neighbor considers herself a born-again Christian, yet I know for certain that she cheats on her husband. What do you have to say about this?—Dubuque, Iowa

DEAR DUBUQUE: I'd say she was a born-again Christian with birth defects.

Scholarship fund is established at WTSU

A scholarship fund has been established in memory of a longtime business manager at West Texas State University who died last month.

The Virgil Henson Scholarship and Merit Award has been established with the Virgil B. Henson Division of the Opportunity Plan Inc. Members of his family, friends and business associates have contributed to the fund.

A minimum of $10,000 will be raised to establish an endowment and the interest will be used to award scholarships by the fall semester of 1984, said Lila Vars, director of development at WTSU and a member of the committee for the scholarship fund.

The committee, whose members will be responsible for raising funds and setting guidelines for selecting recipients, includes Vars; Milton Morris, director of Opportunity Plan Inc.; Clifford Baker, director of student financial aid at WTSU; Bernard Warren of Canyon; Marion Marrs, Henson's daughter of Amarillo; and T. Boone Pickens Jr., chairperson of the WTSU Board of Regents.

Henson died June 15 at the age of 73. A graduate of East Texas State University, WTSU and the Metropolitan School of Business at Dallas, Henson taught high school history before he joined WTSU staff in 1936. He was employed by Dr. J.A. Hill, WTSU's second president.

Although his title changed through the years, Henson managed the university's business affairs for 38 years until his retirement in 1974.

He is recognized as the person responsible for acquiring the land for WTSU's expansion to 128 acres.

Henson is survived by his wife, Ruth, of Canyon, two daughters, a brother and five grandchildren.

Opportunity Plan, Inc., is a nonprofit organization in Canyon which assists students with financial help to further their education. Divisions are established by families, organizations and professional groups.

According to the details of the scholarship, contributions will be invested and the income will be used to assist WTSU students who "possess the qualifications of honor, integrity, thrift, ambition, good moral character and sincere desire to achieve an educational goal."

"These are things we feel like Henson stood for," said Vars.

Contributions to the Virgil B. Henson Scholarship and Merit Award may be sent to the Opportunity Plan Inc. or the WTSU Development Office.

Ken Curtis, who played Festus Hagen on the long-running western TV series "Gunsmoke," once sang with the Tommy Dorsey orchestra.

TWO LITTLE FISH TO FEED 5,000 HUNGRY MEN!

Late in the afternoon all twelve of Jesus' disciples came and urged Him to send the people away to the nearby villages and farms, to find food and lodging for the night. "For there is nothing to eat here in this deserted spot," they said. But Jesus replied, "You feed them!" "Why, we have only five loaves of bread and two fish among the lot of us," they protested; "or are you expecting us to go and buy enough for this whole mob?" For there were about 5,000 men there!

"Just tell them to sit down on the ground in groups of about fifty each," Jesus replied. So they did. Jesus took the five loaves and two fish and looked up into the sky and gave thanks; then He broke off pieces for His disciples to set before the crowd. And everyone ate and ate; still, twelve basketfuls of scraps were picked up afterward!

One day as He was alone, praying, with His disciples nearby, He came over and asked them, "Who are the people saying I am?" "John the Baptist," they told Him, "or perhaps Elijah or one of the other ancient prophets risen from the dead."

Then He asked them, "Who do you think I am?" Peter replied, "The Messiah—the Christ of God!" He gave them strict orders not to speak of this to anyone. "For I must suffer much," He said, "and be rejected by the Jewish leaders—the elders, chief priests, and teachers of the Law—and be killed; and three days later I will come back to life again!" Luke 9:12-22
