NEW YORK (AP) - Eight Muslim fundamentalists accused of plotting a string of terrorist bombings appear to be part of a terrorist network involved in the World Trade Center bombing and the assassination of a radical Jewish leader, authorities said.

The eight, arrested Thursday and held without bail, hoped to reinforce the message sent by the Feb. 26 bombing that killed six and injured more than 1,000: "We can get you anytime," as the alleged mastermind reportedly told an informant.

MUNICH (AP) - The largest concerted effort in Europe by Kurdish separatists, who are waging war to break away from Turkey, ended on a tree-lined Munich street with a surrender of hostage-takers.

Space walk training astronauts for working on Hubble, satellite

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) -- Two Endeavour astronauts stepped outside the safety of the shuttle today on a spacewalk to help NASA train for the Hubble Space Telescope repair mission and secure a satellite's loose antennas.

Astronaut G. David Low was the first out the hatch. He and Peter "Jeff" Wisoff were tethered to the shuttle as they moved about Endeavour's payload bay.

Their first job was to secure two wayward antennas on a European science satellite secured in the shuttle's cargo bay. Forty minutes were added to the spacewalk. originally scheduled for four hours, so Low and Wisoff could attend to the antennas.

During the spacewalk, the two astronauts were supposed to use a foot restraint mounted on the end of the 50-foot robot arm, manipulated by crewmate Nancy Sherlock from inside the shuttle.

sentence of a convicted killer in a case that could affect many other Texas inmates who are awaiting execution.

In a 5-4 decision Thursday, the court upheld Dorsey Johnson's sentence, ruling that a now-discarded provision of state law allowed jurors to consider all the relevant evidence. The ruling appeared to dash similar challenges in some two dozen other Texas death row cases, including the highly publicized case of Gary Graham, who won a stay recently specifically to await the outcome of Johnson's high court case.

The court said the unique Texas death-penalty law had not unconstitutionally limited sentencing juries' consideration of certain mitigating evidence, such as a murderer's young age or troubled family history.

Johnson, in an interview on death. row Wednesday, said he knew his case had generated a lot of interest.

There's been a lot of concern about the ruling. A lot of people's lives are depending on the ruling," said Johnson, who was sentenced to death for a 1986 robbery-slaying.

Johnson, who was 19 at the time of. the crime, said a ruling against him. also could affect many of his friends.

"It's not so much for myself, but for all the lives that would be taken," he said. "For them, they're on their last leg. I would feel bad for them, devastated would be my feelings for them. I feel I have more legal avenues to travel on. The thought of people's lives being taken because of the decision would affect me more."

In Thursday's decision, Chief-Justice William H. Rehnquist and Justices Byron R. White, Antonin Scalia, Clarence Thomas and Anthony Kennedy ruled that the old Texas death-penalty law provision was constitutional.

Although juries must be allowed to consider all mitigating evidence, that which points to life in prison rather than death as an appropriate punishment, states are free to shape how juries consider it, Kennedy wrote for the court.

He said past Supreme Court rulings "do not bar a state from guiding the sentencer's consideration of mitigating evidence.'

Justices Sandra Day O'Connor, Harry A. Blackmun, John Paul Stevens

and David Souter dissented. Under the since-changed provision of the Texas law, jurors were told they could consider Johnson's youth and his

Houston attorney Dick DeGuerin, learned of the disk while interviewing approved a similar measure a month ago, to craft a compromise plan. The legislation hews closely to the economic recovery recipe Clinton embrace during last year's presidential campaign. Of its $243 billion in tax increases over the next five years, 78 percent would be borne by people earning more than $200,000 a year, the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office said.

The middle class would be squarely hit by a 4.3-cent-per-gallon rise in the gasoline tax -- costing the average $40,000-a-year family $122 extra annually. Some higher-income Social Security recipients would also pay higher levies.

The measure omitted one key ingredient Clinton had long since abandoned: tax cuts for the middle class, which the president admitted the deficit-laden government could not afford. That prompted one Republican after another to tauntingly wave copies of Clinton's campaign manifesto, "Putting People First," at the television cameras covering the debate.

Sampras prevails to reach Coplen named tennis coach at HHS round of 16 at Wimbledon

By DAVID CRARY AP Sportswriter

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) -Top-seeded Pete Sampras became the first man to reach the round of 16 at Wimbledon by overpowering Byron Black in a quick third-round match today.

Black, a Zimbabwean who played at Southern California, fended off seven set points before yielding the first set, but then offered little resistance as Sampras won 6-4, 6-1, 6-1 in about an hour and a half.

Sampras' chief worry was a nosebleed in the middle of the second set, but he continued to dominate play after treatment.

In women's play, Yayuk Basuki of Indonesia upset 10th-seeded Magdalena Maleeva, the last survivor of the three highly ranked Bulgarianborn sisters. Basuki, a 6-4, 6-2 winner, also reached the fourth round here last year.

Moments carlier, Meredith McGrath, a qualifier from Midland, Mich., earned the distinction of fourth round, upsetting Shaun Stafford 6-1, 6-2.

McGrath, 22, is ranked 148th, compared to 58th for Stafford, and in six previous Grand Slams had won only one match, at Wimbledon in

The women's top seed, Steffi Graf, was to play later today against Canadian Helen Kelesi.

The second round concluded Thursday with dramatic contrasting losses by Ivan Lendl and Britain's Chris Bailey.

Lendl slipped away from the Wimbledon grounds without meeting the press, his dogged quest for a title here once again ending in failure, and perhaps ending for good.

Bailey, with a lifetime record of 14-29 and a No. 263 world ranking, walked off Centre Court to a tumultuous ovation Thursday after playing the match of his life.

He had just battled fifth-seeded Goran Ivanisevic through five sets of the most thrilling tennis so far in the tournament. The Croatian resorted to a daring second-serve ace to save a match point before prevailing 5-7, 7-6 (7-3), 6-7 (7-3), 6-4, 9-7.

"What can your say, apart from, 'Too good,'" Bailey said afterward. "I gave it everything I had and more, and in the end it wasn't good Lendl, 33, made his earliest exit from Wimbledon since a first-round loss in 1981. He didn't stay around to answer the inevitable questions about whether this world be his last try at the only Grand Slam tournament he's never won.

But Arnaud Boetsch, the 24-year old Frenchman who beat him 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4, was willing to answer when asked if Lendl still had a shot at a Wimbledon title.

"The way he played, I don't think so," Boetsch said. "I'm a bit sad. I like to watch all the players like Becker, like Lendl. ... I don't want them to leave." Did he sense the poignancy while he was on court? "No, I didn't have time to think

Jim Plunkett was the winning quarterback in both the Rose Bowl and the Super Bowl.

Babe Ruth posted the highest lifetime slugging average in the major about that," Boetsch said.

In addition to Lendl, 10th seeded Andrei Medvedev was ousted Thursday. The top 10 women's seeds have reached the third round, and top six men.

Ivanisevic had a rest day Friday. He will need it after two straight fiveset matches.

"Everything is sore now," the Croatian left-hander said after outlasting Bailey. "But this shows me that it's never over. You can fight. ... I'll play all seven (matches) in five sets if I have to, just to win the tournament."

Bailey, 25, has been playing at Wimbledon since 1987, but won only two first-round matches against obscure opponents. This was his first time on Centre Court.

"To be able to perform like that is obviously very heartening forme," he said. "When I walked out there, it was great and everybody was cheering. It was just an unbelievable experience, and I want to do it next year."

He was still a bit stunned by becoming the first player into the Ivanisevic's match point-saving ace. "I've never seen that before on second serve,: he said. "That was hit > or miss, and he made it. Why take the risk, Ivanisevic was

> "Why not?" replied the Croatian. "I have to give it a try. I mean, if you hit a slow serve and he hits a great return, then you think, 'Why didn't I go for something big?"

Though Bailey departed, head high, two other unsung Britons have reached the third round: Chris Wilkinson and Andrew Foster. It's the first time two British men have gone this far since Wilkinson's third round opponent on Saturday will be second-seeded Stefan Edberg.

"I have a chance to beat him," said Wilkinson, ranked 143rd.

A good chance? "A chance."

Edberg won his second-round match 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, Thursday over Amos No. 2 seed, Martina Navratilova, stopped Rosalyn Nideffer of South Africa 6-0, 6-4.

Hereford, has been given the job of head tennis coach at Hereford High School.

Girls' athletic director Brenda Reeh on Thursday announced the hiring of Coplen, who served as the interim head coach of the HHS tennis team briefly in the spring of 1991 and has served in other Hereford coaching positions since 1984.

"Over the years, he's contributed a great deal to our athletic programs and he's always served our kids very well," Reeh said. "I think he'll bring some maturity and stability into the tennis program."

The HHS tennis program has had four different head coaches in the last two and a half years. Coplen served as interim coach after the resignation of Luis Zavala in the spring of 1991.

fall of '91, but left at the end of the semester. Natalie Sims, an HHS graduate and an assistant under King, held the job for a year and a half before resigning in May. Coplen replaces Sims.

"I thought it was a good position, it's a good job," Coplen said. "I'm excited to work with kids that are coming up, and its a good program."

He said he took the job now instead of two years ago because his son Greg was on the tennis team then, but now he has graduated.

Before, when I was the head tennis coach, Greg had two years left," Ed Coplen said. "It wouldn't have been fair to either one of us

Coplen has lived in Hereford for 22 years, serving as city commission-

Jones: Aikman, Smith will make season opener

ED COPLEN

...new HHS tennis coach

AUSTIN (AP) -- Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones predicts quarterback Troy Aikman and running back Emmitt Smith will be playing the team's season opener.

Aikman was operated on last week for a herniated disk, while contract talks with Smith are ongoing. Smith, the Cowboys' leading rusher, will be signed and "playing in the first games we play," Jones said Thursday in a speech before about 350 people at a luncheon of the Greater Austin Sports Foundation.

"I think that you'll see Emmitt in for the first ball game," he said.

Jones said it was important for the Super Bowl champion Cowboys to maintain continuity, and avoid disputes that often befall clubs that have won titles. "We don't have any of that," he said.

He said he was also confident Aikman would be in the lineup for the Cowboys' opener Sept. 6 against the Washington Redskins.

Aikman's surgeon, Dr. Robert Watkins, has said that it will take the Mansdorf of Israel, and the women's Super Bowl MVP about 12 weeks to recover. That would force Aikman to miss all of training camp and two regular-season games.

Harold Baines hit a three-run homer in the first inning and Mark McLemore drove in three runs to send Detroit to its 10th loss in 10 games over two seasons at Camden Yards.

Ben McDonald (4-6), the first of four Baltimore pitchers, allowed six hits, walked three and struck out seven in 5 1-3 innings. Pennington pitched the final three innings to earn his fourth save. Mark Leiter (6-4) took the loss.

Devon White had a homer and a triple for two RBIs and Tony Fernandez also drove in two runs. Yankees starter Scott Kamieniecki (2-2) lasted just 21-3 innings, allowing six hits and five earned runs.

Royals 7, Angels 1

At Kansas City, Kevin Appier (9-4) won his fourth straight start as the Royals stopped Mark Langston's sixgame winning streak.

Rico Rossy had three hits and three RBIs, Brian McRae had three hits, Wally Joyner had an inside-the-park home run and Jeff Montgomery got his 22nd save.

Langston (9-2) gave up four runs and 10 hits in seven innings.

At Seattle, major league strikeout leader Randy Johnson wasted a 14strikeout performance by walking home the winning run in the ninth inning.

Padres trade Sheffield

after third baseman Gary Sheffield was traded away by the San Diego Padres, temporary replacement Kurt Stillwell found the hot corner a little too torrid. Stillwell, who hadn't played at third base since 1987, let Chris Sabo's single go by him and down the left-field line in the ninth inning, allowing Bobby Kelly to score the goahead run in the Cincinnati Reds' 6-4 win over the Padres.

In the only other NL games played Thursday, Houston blanked Los Angeles 1-0 and San Francisco crushed Colorado 17-2.

Craig Shipley started in place of Sheffield, who was dealt to the Florida Marlins along with lefthanded reliever Rich Rodriguez for right-handed reliever Trevor Hoffman and two minor leaguers. Stillwell, a backup shortstop, came in during a double-switch in the seventh.

"A couple of minutes before I went in, they said, 'Third.' I said, 'Third?' I was a little bit surprised," Stillwell

"Basically, it faked me out," Stillwell said of Sabo's single. "It was a two-hopper. It's been a couple weeks since I even had a ground ball hit at me, much less at third base. It ate me up. The Reds then loaded the bases

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Just hours before Bip Roberts delivered an insurance run with his third single.

Manager Jim Riggleman stressed that the Sheffield trade didn't affect the team.

You should put the uniform on and go out and play," Riggleman said. "I've never seen or felt a cloud around this team. People can make excuses, but to me, that's ridiculous."

The Padres' new third baseman, Archi Cianfrocco, acquired in a trade with the Montreal Expos on Wednesday, will be added to the roster today.

While San Diego lost for the ninth time in 12 games, Kelly homered and singled twice as the Reds rebounded from a poor showing in losing two of three games at Colorado.

Cincinnati beat the padres for the fifth straight time this season and Kevin Mitchell singled in the first to extend his career-best hitting streak to 18 games, the longest current streak in the major leagues.

Reliever Bobby Ayala (3-3) worked 22-3 innings and got the win

Baby animals--Each year at about this time reports from concerned citizens about abandoned fawns and other wildlife babies flood the offices of Texas Parks and Wildlife. Witnessing the survival instinct of lying perfectly still causes us to think that a wild baby animal needs our help when in fact its mother is feeding and will return soon. Authorities couple their helpful advice with a stern warning that it is illegal to possess wild animals: it is a Class C Parks and Wildlife Code violation with a fine of up to $500.

Gobble, Gobble--After three years of above average turkey nestings in the Panhandle, the lack of late spring moisture this spring might reduce their numbers. The peak hatching usually occurs in mid-June, and a few gentle showers would help out the baby poults, ranchers, farmers and my vegetable garden.

Tip of the week--Strange as it may sound, "bubblegum pink" colored gitzits and Slug-Go-type soft plastics will continue catching bass in the heat of summer, while traditional lures like the jig-n-pig and plastic worms lose their effectiveness. The clearer the water, the better the fishing for brave anglers that use bubblegum lures with light tackle (10-, 8- or even 6-pound line!). Ute Lake and Childress Lake are prime candidates for this unusual fishing combination.

NBA sets judge on Jordan's trail

NEW YORK (AP) -- Frederick Lacey, a former federal judge who handled the NBA's investigation last year of Michael Jordan's gambling, will assist the league in its inquiry of the San Diego man who claimed to have won $1.25 million in golf bets from the Chicago star.

NBA spokesman Brian McIntyre said the league was not launching a formal investigation, but following through on a promise by commissioner David Stern during the NBA Finals to look into charges by Richard Esquinas, whose self-published book brands Jordan a compulsive gambler.

ANCIENT IDOLS!

ALL OF WHOM WERE REPRESENTED BY SOME FIGURE IN STONE, OR WOOD, OR SOMETIMES BY PRECIOUS METALS. WHEN THE IDOL WAS METALLIC IT WAS FASHIONED BY RUNNING MELTED METAL INTO A MOLD, IN WHICH CASE THEY WERE CALLED MOLTEN IMAGES. WHEN OF WOOD OR STONE THEY WERE MADE BY GRAVING TOOLS AND, NATURALLY CALLED GRAVEN IMAGES. THE WHOLE PROCESS OF MANUFACTURE IS SATIRICALLY DESCRIBED IN ISAIAH (44:9-20). SOME WERE SMALL OBJECTS, ESPECIALLY THOSE DESIGNED FOR USE IN THE HOUSEHOLD, SOME WERE AS LARGE AS A HUMAN BEING (I SAM. 19:16) AND SOME WERE COLOSSAL LIKE THE HUGE GOLDEN IMAGE THAT WAS ERECTED BY NEBUCHADNEZZAR IN THE PLAIN OF DURA---WHICH ALMOST CAUSED THE DEATH OF SHAD-RACH, MESHACH, AND ABEDNEGO. NEW YORK (AP) - Getting Tom Cruise to portray a hotshot lawyer in the film version of "The Firm" has to give the law profession a boost,

Not necessarily. The verdict from lawyers: It won't change the negative image of the profession.

"It's like libel - you have to prove you have a good reputation in the first place," Michael A. Kahn, a partner at the St. Louis-based firm Gallop, Johnson and Neuman, told The National Law Journal in its June 28 issue.

The movie, based on the John Grisham novel, features lawyers who work for a prestigious firm that has the Mafia as a major client.

"I don't spend a lot of time fussing with images," David B. Isbell, head of the American Bar Association's Committee on Ethics and Professional Responsibility, said of the movie's influence. "I'm concerned with the substance."

Here's An Idea That Can Strengthen Your Family

Tonight at the dinner table, read something out loud to your family. Tomorrow night, let another member read something. A news story. A Bible verse. A Robert Frost poem. A cereal box panel. History. Humor. Anything. Each night a different family member can read a selection.

> Imagine the wide range of subjects your family will read in 365 days. What a stimulating way to have your children develop good reading habits. We have 23 million 'illiterate adults in America. We wouldn't have one, if each of them had been served reading as part of their nightly diet. It's non-fattening, but enriching. And it doesn't cost a dime.

'm not sure where they originated, but I believe they deserve a place in your column. Sometimes it appears that some of us forget the rules for

Thanks for your consideration .--M.M., Ashland, Ore.

The Rules For Being Human

YOU WILL RECEIVE A BODY. You may like it or hate it, but it will be yours for as long as you live. How you take care of it or fail to take care of it can make an enormous difference in the quality of your life.

YOU WILL LEARN LESSONS. You are enrolled in a full-time, informal school called Life. Each day, you will be presented with opportunities to learn what you need to know. The lessons presented are often completely different from those you THINK you need.

THERE ARE NO MISTAKES, ONLY LESSONS. Growth is a process of trial, error and experimentation. You can from success. Maybe more.

behavior) then you can go on to the or go visit her sisters. next lesson.

NOT END. There is no stage of life it, I ALREADY have my inheritance that does not contain some lessons. As from her. For one thing, I have her long as you live there will be something more to learn.

THERE" IS NO BETTER THAN "HERE" When your "there" has become a "here," you will simply discover another "there" that will again look better than your "here." Don't be fooled by believing that the unattainable is better than what you have.

OTHERS ARE MERELY MIRRORS OF YOU. You cannot love or hate something about another person unless it reflects something you love or hate about yourself. When tempted to criticize others, ask yourself why you feel so strongly.

WHAT YOU MAKE OF YOUR LIFE IS UP TO YOU. You have all the tools and resources you need. What you create with those tools and

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your through desire, goal setting and unflagging effort you can have anything you want. Persistence is the key to success.

THE ANSWERS LIE INSIDE YOU. The solutions to all of life's problems lie within your grasp. All you need to do is ask, look, listen and

YOU WILL FORGET ALL THIS. Unless you consistently stay focused on the goals you have set for yourself, everything you've just read won't mean a thing.

DEAR ASHLAND: Thanks for those Rules for Being Human. Like all such "rules," there are several flaws.

Life is unfair, and no set of "rules" can be applied to everyone. Physical handicaps, mental limitations, genetic glitches and just plain lousy luck can and do show up and make a world of difference.

What this world needs is fewer rules and more compassion.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you stand another letter about inheritance? I hope so, because here it is.

When my dad died several years back, he left everything to my mom. can learn as much from failure as you Her will states that everything she has goes to me. But because Mom was A LESSON IS REPEATED UNTIL relatively young when Dad died, she IT IS LEARNED, A lesson will be is now worried that she is "using up" presented to you in various forms until my inheritance. I've tried to tell her you have learned it. When you have that what Dad left her is hers, not learned it (as evidenced by a change mine, but she frets about spending in your attitude and ultimately your "my" inheritance to have her roof fixed

Will you help me get a message LEARNING LESSONS DOES across to that dear woman? As I see distinctive nose and big feet. She and Dad dragged me to church (I'm a deacon now) and sent me to college. I learned from my mom how to be a good neighbor and a good citizen. She taught me generosity and independence and how to find my way around the kitchen. In short, I've inherited everything I need to be a secure, productive, responsible adult.

It is extremely likely that my mom will indeed "use up" my inheritance.

I feel sorry for those selfish sisters who begrudge their dad his home improvements because it means he will leave them less. They must be awfully empty inside. How sad .-- Grateful Child in Raleigh, N.C.

DEAR RALEIGH: Beautifully put. resources is up to you. Remember that Thanks for saying it so well.
