

DOE releases revised guidelines for site search

As the latest step in the ongoing process of locating the nation's first high-level nuclear waste repository the U.S. Dept. of Energy (DOE) has issued its "Draft Revised General Guidelines for Recommendation of Sites for Nuclear Waste Repositories."

The document, dated May 27, 1983, supercedes the original proposed guidelines as published in the Federal Register on Feb. 7, and includes changes brought around by public comments received at a series of DOE hearings.

The revised guidelines have been mailed to affected and interested states and to federal agencies. Over the next month, the DOE will meet with the individual states to discuss their comments on the guidelines.

The revised guidelines are also being made available to the public for review. Copies of the document are being sent to persons who commented on the proposed guidelines, to those who were originally sent copies of the proposed guidelines, and to persons who participated in the recent hearings regarding the proposed nominations of sites.

Copies of the document are also available from the following address: Comment Response Document, C-O Jerome Leszkiewicz, Roy F. Weston, Inc., 2301 Research Blvd., 3rd Floor, Rockville, MD, 20850, or by calling 301-963-6807.

A statement was scheduled to appear in the Federal Register around June 2 announcing availability of this material and a 30-day comment period ending July 5. That comment period coincides with the DOE's consultation period with state and federal agencies. Following conclusion of the consultation process and consideration of comments received, the DOE will finalize the guidelines for submission to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Comments on the guidelines should be sent to Critz H. George, DOE Director, Guidelines Task Force, in care of Weston, Inc. at the above address.

Approximately 1,800 comments were received by the DOE in formulating its proposed guidelines, with some 2,000 more received in the second stage of the process which led to the revised guidelines.

The final General Guidelines for the Recommendation of Sites for Nuclear Waste Repositories will be developed after further consultation with the Council on Environmental Quality, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Geological Survey, and interested state governors, and will be issued with the concurrence of the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Included in the revised guidelines document are conditions and processes affecting the expected performance of a repository, potentially disruptive processes and events (such as climatic changes, erosion, dissolution, human interference, and natural resources), radiological safety, and environment, socioeconomics, and transportation.

A copy of the draft general guidelines is available at the Deaf Smith County Library.

Jim Weeks, representative from Larry Jones Evangelism, spoke to farmers last night concerning the need for food in Central America. Eight Hundred bushels of wheat were donated from local farmers.

First hike in 15 years

Local water bills to be raised

By JERI CURTIS
 Staff Writer

Minimum charge on water bills will be going up for Hereford residents for the first time in over 15 years.

After having a Water and Sewer Department deficiency of over $28,000 last year and a prospect of the same or more this year, city manager Dudley Bayne suggested to commissioners Monday night that they consider raising water bills at their next meeting.

His proposal is to raise the minimum charge of $3 for 2,000 gallons minimum use to $5. That would result in an increase of $10,344 monthly and $124,128 annually. If, additionally, the current rate of $.60 per thousand gallons is raised to $.80 per thousand the city could gain about $142,820 annually. If that were raised to $1 per thousand gallons the increase would be an additional $285,642.

Hereford currently has the lowest minimum rate of Panhandle area cities; next cheapest are Friona and Dalhart at $3.50 and Canyon is the highest at $10.

expansion of water systems. Since the water table is being depleted and most wells are within or near the city limits, Hereford may have to go outside of town for a water supply. That would mean coverage of drilling, pumping and line services into town.

Farmers donate wheat to battle world starvation

Local farmers donated 800 bushels of wheat last night to the Larry Jones, Feed the Children in Central America.

Mike Brumley, local farmer and organizer of the meeting said, "hopefully this was just the start for farmers in Hereford and he knew that more wheat and other grains would be donated soon by other concerned farmers."

Farmers and citizens listened for several hours to Jim Week, representative from Larry Jones Evangelism, who discussed the problems of hungry and sick children in Central America and urged citizens of Hereford and surrounding towns to become involved.

More than 80 thousand people a day die all over the world, over half of them from starvation or malnutrition. Out of that 80 thousand people, 20 thousand are children which die from starvation," Weeks said.

A film was shown during the meeting entitled, "Seeds for Evangelism," which illustrated the conditions in Central America.

The Larry Jones Ministry works through missions already established. Jones' ministry is considered to be non-denominational work, since each of the missions is usually from a different church.

A few of the programs in which Jones' ministry helps are medical and dental care, clean water system, work training program, child scholarship in Africa for handicapped children, bible distribution and emergency relief all over the world.

The men who donated the wheat are Mike Brumley, Garland Solomon, George Rushing, Eric Rushing, John Perrin and Frank Ford. The grain will be collected by Hereford Grain and then will be cleaned and bagged by George Warner Seed Co. (There will not be any kind of charge. Everything is being donated.)

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The leftist Sandinista government says three expelled U.S. diplomats plotted with the CIA to kill Foreign Minister Miguel D'Escoto with poisoned liquor and to form terrorist assassination squads.

The three diplomats flew Monday night to Guatemala City and embassy spokesman Gilbert Callaway said they would leave for Washington today. But U.S. officials in Guatemala refused to say where they were staying or when they would leave.

U.S. Ambassador Anthony Quainton, who accompanied the three to the Managua airport Monday night, told reporters the charges were "absurd" and said the embassy protested the expulsions.

Officials probe cause of test site explosion

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Army officials, hoping to prevent "more accidents of this type," shut down a munitions test site after an anti-tank rocket explosion injured 24 recruits and an instructor.

The anti-tank weapon blew up after it had been set aside following a demonstration, with the trainees sitting as close as 8 feet from the rocket launcher, he said.

The general said most of the trainees, members of the First 88th Training Brigade, had been in the Army only "for a few weeks."

Col. Edmund Solymosy, commander of the 88th Brigade, is heading the investigation, which will center on the overall safety of the rocket launcher. One investigator said he believed the reason the weapon misfired was from "something done right there," Fort Bliss spokesman Ed Starnes said.

The LAW, or light anti-tank weapon, is a 3½-pound, disposable rocket launcher designed to pierce tank armor that is 12 to 18 inches thick. It is a shoulder-firing weapon with a 250-yard range.

"They were all in close. It just was one of those things that happen," Starnes said.

"Some were moaning. Others seemed in shock," said Sharon Saperstein, who was visiting a friend at the William Beaumont Army Medical Center when the injured arrived from the test range about 30 miles northeast of El Paso.

Instructor Antonio Gonzalez, whose home town was not available, was in critical condition after surgery to remove shrapnel that lodged in his abdomen and bladder, said hospital spokesman Capt. David Cotzin today. Six others were in serious condition, and 10 others were hospitalized overnight for observation. Eight others were treated and released.

Billboard sitters claim twin prizes

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Two men who spent nearly nine months living on a billboard platform are coming "back into the real world," each winners of mobile homes in an endurance contest that no one expected to last so long.

"Time flies when you're having fun," said contestant Mike "Billboard Mike" MacKay, 31, of Northampton, preparing to climb down today after 261 days. He said he was "not too nervous" about descending.

MacKay and Ron Kistler, 25, of Coplay, went up on the billboard just outside the city Sept. 20, trying to outlast each other to win a mobile home valued at $18,000.

Now, each will get a home and more — a car and possibly vacation trips — said Allentown businessman Harold Fulmer, owner of the radio station that sponsored the contest. He put up the matching prizes to bring the contest to a close.

"I'm glad to be coming down to get back into the real world," said Kistler, who was unemployed before mounting the billboard.

Kistler spent his last night on the sign cleaning up his tent on the 48-by-8-foot platform, talking to reporters and "anxiously waiting for tomorrow."

MacKay shared a final billboard dinner Monday with his wife and parents although they, under the contest rules, had to stay on the ground while he remained up in the air.

Kistler and MacKay stayed on the billboard through autumn winds, a snowstorm that dumped 24 inches on the platform and the tents they lived in, sub-zero temperatures and spring rains.

Shultz heads to NATO meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz was setting out for a NATO foreign ministers meeting in Paris today to solicit allied views on how to speed up U.S. negotiations with the Soviet Union on limiting nuclear weapons in Europe.

The United States is especially eager for an show of allied unity on the issue because this will be the last NATO meeting before deployment of the American cruise and Pershing 2 missiles is scheduled to begin in December.

American officials have said repeatedly that talks with the Soviets aimed at limiting deployment will have a much better chance of success if the allies can maintain a solid front.

If NATO is unable to maintain unity, the Soviets will have little incentive to negotiate seriously, officials said.

Former resident injured

Dwayne Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Waters, 224 Avenue E, was seriously injured Wednesday when a tractor he was driving overturned on a slope near Denton.

Waters, a former local resident, was working for his uncle in Denton at the time of the accident. He sustained internal injuries, a punctured lung and broken ribs.

According to reports on Sunday, he was still bleeding internally and is expected to be in the Intensive Care Unit at Flo Hospital in Denton for at least 10 days to two weeks. Family members are with him in Denton.

Waters is a graduate of Hereford High School and North Texas State University in Denton. He is currently a resident of Denton.

Developers drop suit against state

AUSTIN (AP) — Two Corpus Christi developers who went to court to challenge state laws on access to public beaches have dropped their lawsuit, according to Attorney General Jim Mattox.

Buddy Beck and Bill Etheridge, who plan to build a 20-story condominium project on Mustand Island, filed suit in April.

Mattox said an order dismissing the suit was signed Monday in Corpus Christi.

"I view the developers' decision to drop the lawsuit as a sign that they intend to cooperate in building the proposed condo according to state law," he said.

The original building plan would have cut into the public beach on Mustang Island and could have caused "significant damage" to sand dunes, according to Mattox.

Posse Comitatus labeled 'domestic terrorist group'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Posse Comitatus has been labeled a "domestic terrorist group" by the federal government, which is about to launch a major nationwide crackdown against it, The Kansas City Times reported Tuesday.

In a copyright story, The Times said federal authorities — including the FBI — have received permission from the Justice Department to conduct wide-ranging investigations of the right-wing organization of tax protesters and paramilitary survivalists.

The Times attributed the information to "well-placed federal law enforcement sources" who refused to be identified.

The death of Gordon Kahl, a Posse Comitatus member who died Friday in a shootout with authorities in Smithville, Ark., apparently cleared the way for broader action by federal authorities against the group, the newspaper said.

The legal framework for the crackdown was laid during the months that Kahl remained a fugitive after he, his son and an associate shot and killed two federal marshals attempting to arrest him in North Dakota last February, the newspaper said.

Eight to 10 Posse Comitatus encampments in northern Arkansas and others in central Wisconsin, where membership may be as high as 2,000 people in 13 counties, are presently under close scrutiny by federal authorities, The Times said.

Birth rate up in Texas last year

AUSTIN (AP) — There were 297,683 births and 111,263 deaths in Texas last year, says the state health department.

The department said Monday the state's birth rate last year was 19.5 per 1,000 population, compared with 19.1 in 1981. The national birth rate last year was 16.0 per 1,000 population.

The U.S. Census Bureau estimated the state's population as of July 1, 1982, at 15,280,000.

The health department said the infant mortality rate continued to decline, reaching an all-time low of 10.8 deaths per 1,000 births last year. The previous low was 11.6 in 1981.

The overall death rate also reached a record low of 7.3 deaths per 1,000 population, compared with a national death rate of 8.6.

Leading causes of death in Texas last year were heart disease — 38,359 — and cancer — 22,470, the department said.

Homicides ranked No. 7 with 2,551 deaths.

More than 100 killed in Volga ship wreck

MOSCOW (AP) — More than 100 Soviet tourists were killed when a Volga River cruise ship rammed into a railway bridge and tore its top deck off, a spokesman for the state travel agency said today.

There were unconfirmed reports the death toll was closer to 200.

The Intourist spokesman said those killed in the accident Sunday were watching a film in a hall on the upper deck at about dusk when the diesel-powered Alexander Suvorov rammed the bridge.

40 killed in Taiwan transport crash

TAIPEI, Taiwan (AP) — A Nationalist Chinese air force transport carrying military personnel from the island of Quemoy to Taipei crashed into the sea Monday, killing about 40 people, the Defense Ministry said today.

The ministry declined to give additional details but said it would hold a news conference later today.

Military sources said the C-119 transport crashed into the sea shortly after taking off from Quemoy, a Nationalist island about 1.3 miles from mainland China's Fujian province.

The sources said several survivors were rescued, but they declined to give any additional details.

C-119 transports used on the flights usually carry about 40 people.

Diplomats

organization of attempts on the lives of leaders of the Sandinista revolution and of high-ranking officials of the Nicaraguan government."

At a news conference Monday, government security chief Lenin Cerna said that in addition to scheming to kill D'Escoto, the three conspired to "create terrorist commandos to carry out attacks against our leaders and exercise influence on rightist political parties and labor unions."

He said they were caught when they tried to recruit Marlene Moncada, a consular secretary at the Nicaraguan embassy in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, to deliver a bottle of liquor to D'Escoto, a Maryknoll priest.

Photos of alleged counter-revolutionaries who Cerna said tried to recruit Ms. Moncada were displayed at the news conference. The black bottle sat on a table and Cerna gestured toward it as he spoke. Although he called it a bottle of wine, it appeared to be one containing a brandy liqueur.

Ms. Moncada, who was at the news conference, said alleged agents who contacted her after she transferred to Managua last year asked her about D'Escoto's habits and told her to go to Tegucigalpa in March.

There, she said, she was told that "D'Escoto must be eliminated because he used the priesthood to introduce communism in Nicaragua." She said she played along with the scheme on instructions from her superiors.

The government decided to act after the bottle was left for her in a hole near a Managua restaurant on May 5, she said.

The Nicaraguan communique claimed investigations carried out by the Interior Ministry's state security department "demonstrated" the diplomats met secretly with a number of prominent Nicaraguans, including Sandinista officials, "to recruit, train, and supply them with the necessary means for the execution of criminal projects."

Callaway told The Associated Press, "These accusations are simply absurd and we are protesting energetically to Nicaragua about the expulsion of our three diplomats."

In Washington, Deputy White House Press Secretary Larry Speakes said the Reagan administration "totally rejects their conclusions and their charges in that matter."

Relations between the United States and Nicaragua have deteriorated since the July 1979 Sandinista revolution. One Western diplomatic source said "diplomatic relations between the two countries have reached their lowest level in three years and the possibility of a total rupture are now greater than ever."

U.S. presidential envoy Richard Stone, charged with negotiating peace in Central America, is scheduled to arrive in Managua Friday.

Nicaragua accuses the U.S. and Honduran governments of secretly training and arming Honduras-based anti-Sandinista forces for cross-border raids into Nicaragua.

The United States cut off aid to Nicaragua in early 1981, claiming the Sandinistas were smuggling weapons to leftist guerrillas fighting to topple the U.S.-backed government in neighboring El Salvador.

On quarantine

Texans want fast action

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas cattlemen, who say they face multi-million-dollar losses if a U.S. Department of Agriculture brucellosis quarantine goes into effect, are trying to convince state officials and legislators they need quick action on the matter.

More than 1,000 cattlemen are scheduled to gather in Austin Tuesday at the invitation of the Texas Brahman Breeders Association to urge Gov. Mark White to call a special legislative session.

At the same time, an emissary of the Texas Department of Agriculture, former land commissioner Bob Armstrong, is asking other states to hold off on em-

Fort Bliss soldier was decapitated by shrapnel when his rocket launcher blew up.

Last month during the test firing of a Pershing 2 missile, a Fort Bliss soldier was killed when the truck he was riding in overturned and crushed him, officials said.

Investigators determined the 1981 explosion that killed one soldier was caused when the wrong-sized shell was put into the rocket launcher. Monday's incident was more serious because the explosion occurred around a crowd, Starnes said.

barges of Texas cattle until a federal court hearing June 14.

Montana already has said Texas cattle are not welcome. Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska are considering embargoes.

"However, I think most of the states will wait and see if the quarantine plays out or what we will do about it," Armstrong, a cattleman, said Monday.

Brucellosis is a livestock disease that causes weight loss and miscarriages in cattle but poses no danger to consumers of meat or pasteurized dairy products.

The threatened quarantine would prevent interstate shipment of breeding stock from Texas, unless they are from qualified herds that have passed two inspections 120 days apart. Steers and spayed heifers — or neutered animals — over six months of age would be exempted.

The Texas Farm Bureau has estimated the quarantine could reduce cattle income in Texas by up to $130 million a year.

Since 1979, the state has been at odds with the federal government over the brucellosis inspection and vaccination program. Some large Texas ranchers, including former Gov. Dolph Briscoe, claim the federal program is ineffective and too costly.

Nothing too much

Nothing too much; that is the law.

All men through all time have patterned their lives by the Golden Mean or have been punished for their excesses.

A little water you must have to live; too much and you drown.

A little food you must have or starve; too much and they take you to the hospital and slice you open.

A little sunshine is good; too much and you get skin cancer.

A little love you must have lest you die of desolation; too much and her husband shoots you.

It's hard to know when to say when because trouble always starts out being fun.

Moderation in all things. The Greeks had a name for it, inscribed on the "Delphic Oracle": "Pon Metrion Ariston" — the middle ground.

Juvenal, the Latin writer, thought the precept so important that it must have descended from heaven: "Ne quid nimis."

Nothing in excess. Nothing too much.

Nature cannot get out of balance without getting into trouble and man is a natural thing.

If living gets too hard for us we go insane; if it gets too soft we atrophy.

So things do get out of whack in a while; just to keep us awake, reserve our mental muscle-tone.

Nothing too much. The middle way lies somewhere between faith and fanaticism, between drudgery and frivolity, between the runny nose and the nightclub paint-job, between the brute and the jellyfish.

Nothing too much. Totalitarianism is too much government; democracy is too little.

Some government you must have or somebody steals your strawberries; too much government and the government steals your strawberries.

In between is the Golden Mean.

Robbins wins three awards

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The late Marty Robbins "really loved his fans," and they reciprocated by voting him the winner of three posthumous Music City News Country Awards, including top male vocalist.

Robbins, who died of heart failure last December at age 57, was chosen male vocalist of the year and won album of the year for "Come Back To Me" at the 17th annual Music City News Country Awards on Monday night. He also earned single record of the year for "Some Memories Just Won't Die."

The winners were chosen by 20,000 subscribers to Music City News, a monthly country music publication.

"He loved his fans and they really came through for him," Robbins' wife, Marizona, said afterwards.

The four-piece band Alabama won two awards, vocal group of the year and top band, at ceremonies at the Grand Ole Opry House that were syndicated to television stations across the country.

The full house of 4,400 included most of the major country stars.

The other double winners were Ricky Skaggs for the star of tomorrow award and top bluegrass act, and the syndicated television show "Hee Haw," which won top country music television series and whose gospel quartet was chosen gospel act of the year. The gospel quartet consists of Roy Clark, Buck Owens, Grandpa Jones and Kenny Price.

Roy Acuff, the 79-year-old "king of country music," won the first living-legend award as a tribute to his 50 years in the country music business.

"I've been in this town 45 years and it's the first award I've received that I've come on stage to accept," Acuff said after receiving a standing ovation. "I think they created this so maybe I'd win something."

Janie Fricke was voted top female vocalist, dethroning Barbara Mandrell who had won the honor the past two years.

"I'm going to accept this on behalf of the fans," Miss Fricke said, echoing the acceptance remarks of most winners.

It was the first time since 1980 that Miss Mandrell had not won at least one award in these presentations.

"It's not fun not to win," Miss Mandrell said after the show. "But you can be happy because it is a friend" who won. Miss Fricke was a backup vocalist on many of Miss Mandrell's records.

Other winners included David Frizzell and Shelly West, duet of the year; "Conway Twitty on the Mississippi," country music television special of the year; and the Statlers, comedy act of the year.

The show featured a two-minute tribute to Robbins, who had been a finalist for 41 awards during the past five years. Hosts of the program were the Statlers, Louise Mandrell (Barbara's sister) and Miss Fricke.

Testimony starts in climber's trial

HOUSTON (AP) — An attorney for a man charged with criminal trespass after climbing the tallest building west of the Mississippi River says he cannot understand why the building's owners are proceeding with the trial.

"They don't care if the birds go up there and make deposits on the bank," said Jim Moriarty, who is representing Ron Broyles. "I don't know why they ought to get upset about my client climbing the building."

Testimony was to begin today in the criminal trespass trial. Broyles was arrested March 14 after reaching the top of the 75-story Texas Commerce Tower.

Broyles, who climbed in a white tuxedo and carried a portable telephone, maintained his sense of humor as jury selection proceeded Monday.

Asked the worst thing that can happen to him, Broyles replied, "Decapitation, I think." The maximum penalty for the offense is six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

We found it here in 1879, a government that was neither too much nor too little — a "republic." It was designed to protect each man's rights and to prevent him from transgressing on the rights of another.

Let every man make of himself a prince or a knave as long as he makes no other man his slave.

A government neither too hot nor too cold, but just right. Nothing too much.

And when government lets the pendulum swing too far in any direction, who blows the whistle? You do.

When government aid for deserving poor overflowed to the undeserving, you said, "That's too far."

When justice for criminals began to deny justice for their victims, you said, "Too much!"

It was you who said "too much" to taxes, redundant regulations and unwinnable wars.

Nothing too much — or our government will be overthrown — every other year — by you!

In another courtroom Monday, a state judge delayed scheduling the trial of a man who climbed almost to the top of Houston's second-tallest building and parachuted to the street.

State District Judge Jack Pickren said he would wait until June 22 to set a trial date for Skip Stanley because the defendant's lawyers were out of town.

Despite powerful domestic opposition to the deployment in a number of West European countries, the plan remains on track. It was reaffirmed by the seven leaders attending the Williamsburg summit last week and by all but one of the 14 NATO defense ministers at a meeting last Thursday in Brussels. Greece was the lone dissenter.

With these endorsements, there is little reason to believe any significant cracks in the NATO position will emerge at this week's meeting.

Under the NATO plan, deployment of the missiles will get under way in West Germany, Britain and Italy this December. At a later date, missiles will be placed in Belgium and the Netherlands.

Ann Landers

Names are published

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A reader suggested that if a newspaper publishes the names of men caught with prostitutes, it should also publish the names of the "ladies of the evening."

Enclosed is a clipping from yesterday's Quad City Times. They have been doing as suggested for quite some time.—A Davenport Fan

DEAR QUAD: Thanks for the fill-in. Here's another letter on the same subject from a neighboring state:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In Omaha we have a law against soliciting. (Both sexes). The fine is $100 and the names and addresses of all parties involved are printed in the Omaha World Herald.

And now I would like to register a complaint. Why do you (and other writers) refer to prostitutes as "ladies of the evening?" What's wrong with calling them whores? I happen to be a lady, and I resent being put in the same class with such scum.—Mrs. E.K.

DEAR MRS. E.K.: Sorry if I offended you, but I have some pretty conservative editors and publishers around the country. I try to avoid using language that might offend THEM.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know you often receive letters describing family arguments after a death and thought you might appreciate hearing how one dear lady prevented this in her own family. Attached to my mother's will was a handwritten note. I hope you will print it in memory of a great lady. I am — Her Grateful Son

"Dear Children: As you prepare to go about settling my estate, I hope you will avoid the squabbling that so many families experience in conducting such affairs. My will stipulates that everything is to be divided equally among you, but when it comes to family heirlooms such division is impossible. Following is a list of the heirlooms and the name of the person who should receive each item.

"I have tried to be fair and take into consideration which items each of you would most appreciate. I ask that you not consider yourselves as the owners of these pieces, but merely the custodians. They belong to the family and you are the stewards who must keep them for the next generation.

"Now I pray that you will remember the words of our Lord and love one another as I have loved you.—Mom."

Donann Cummings

Cummings competes at gymnastics meet

Miss Donann Cummings recently competed at the National Gymnastics Finals held in Cleveland, Ohio, on the campus of Cleveland University.

Miss Cummings is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Don Cummings of 219 Aspen St.

Miss Cummings traveled to Ohio by bus with 16 other participants from Nards Gymnastics of Amarillo. At the finals she competed in Plantform Tumbling and finished 17 out of 36. During her performance she did tumbling tricks such as a front full, round off, back layout, punch front and an Arabian.

The Arabian is a difficult gymnastics movement which very few girls perform and Miss Cummings is one of few who use it.

In order to qualify for nationals Miss Cummings won first at several competitions. She was first at the Top-of-Texas meet, an Amarillo warm up meet and first at the regional competition.

Nards Country of Hereford is where she is currently taking lessons from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols. She has been involved in gymnastics since she was 5 years old.

Good Timers enjoy dance, salad supper

The Good Timers Square Dance Club met Friday at the Community Center. Albert Cupell of Amarillo was caller for the evening. Visitors from Friona were welcomed by the club members. A salad supper was enjoyed by the members and guests at the close of the dance.

Several items of business were discussed at the brief business session. President Sonny Evers reminded members that new officer nominees would be announced at the next dance. New officers will be elected in July for the next six months term of office.

The next regular dance for the Good Timers will be June 17 at the Community Center. All area dancers are always welcome to visit the Good Timers.

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, June 7, the 158th day of 1983. There are 207 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: In 1942, the World War II Battle of Midway ended with a decisive U.S. naval victory over Japan.

One year ago: Israeli forces continued their northward sweep in Lebanon, capturing the Palestinian stronghold of Beaufort Castle.

Today's birthdays: House Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter Rodino is 74. Pop singer Tom Jones is 43.

Thought for today: "Impossible" is a word only to be found in the dictionary of fools." — Napoleon Bonaparte, French general-statesman (1769-1821).

In extra-inning thriller

UT nips OSU Cowboys, 6-5

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Jamie Doughty's double scored Mike Trent with the winning run in the bottom of the 11th to lift No. 1-ranked Texas to a 6-5 victory over No. 3 Oklahoma State in College World Series baseball action.

But had things happened slightly different, Doughty says he may have been playing his baseball at Oklahoma State.

"We recruited him, helped put him in junior college...we knew he's a fine ball player," said OSU Coach Gary Ward.

"He put me everywhere but at Texas," Doughty said of Ward. "How close was I to going there (OSU)? I had the papers in my hand. I had the pen in my hand. That was until (Texas) Coach (Cliff) Gustafson called and sent me a plane ticket. I went down (to Texas' campus) and loved it."

Doughty's game-winning hit Monday night advanced Texas, 63-14, into the winners bracket finals Thursday at 7:10 p.m. against the winner of Tuesday's Michigan-Alabama contest.

Oklahoma State, 48-15, dropped into the losers bracket to face Arizona State, 43-23, at 5:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Trent, who tied a College

World Series record by scoring four runs Friday night, walked with one out and advanced to second on a wild pitch in the decisive 11th inning. He scored easily when Doughty, who replaced Brian Burrows at third base, lined a fast ball deep to right-center.

Both teams snuffed 10th-inning rallies as OSU's Robbie Wine opened the top of the inning with a double and moved to third on a groundout. But Texas reliever Kirk Killingsworth retired the side to keep the contest at 5-5.

Texas then loaded the bases with two outs in the bottom of the 10th when Mike Brumley doubled, Jose Tolentino and Jeff Hearron walked to load the bases.

OSU reliever Gary Kanwisher, 9-4, then worked the count to 3-2 on Steve Labay and fired a called third strike past the Texas outfielder to keep the game going.

Longhorn starter Roger Clemens, who tossed a five-hitter last year against OSU in the College World Series, struck out 12 and scattered seven hits in 8 2-3 innings Monday night before being sidelined by OSU's game-tying rally in the top of the ninth.

Mike Brumley, a second-round draft pick Monday, set up a dramatic finish with a go-ahead run in the eighth inning when he scored on a wild pitch by Kanwisher.

Cage camp still has openings

Many openings remain in the girls' basketball camp, especially in the fourth and fifth grade group, according to Coach Larry Sowers who is conducting the camp.

Fourth and fifth graders will have the first week of the four sessions with workouts June 27-July 1.

Sixth and seventh graders will take July 5-9; eighth grade and over, July 11-15; and the beginning session for first through third grades will be July 18-23.

Session tuition is $35 for all groups but beginners, who pay $20.

Registration may be done by contacting Coach Sowers at 364-8077, or via mail to the high school by sending the child's name, session to attend, grade next year and shirt size.

With two down in the top of the ninth, Oklahoma State pinch hitter Kevin Jagielo and Tim Knapp singled to send Clemens, a first-round draft pick, to the bench.

"Clemens had nothing left," said Gustafson. "I left him in too long. He ran out of gas."

Scott Wade then greeted Texas reliever Killingsworth, 12-3, with a single to score Jagielo to even the game at 5-5.

"You just can't give the type of team you face in the tournament that many breaks and expect to survive," said Gustafson.

Texas gave up two runs on three errors in the third and single runs in the fifth and sixth. Trailing 4-1, Texas came up with three runs in the seventh to even the game and set the stage for the late-inning excitement.

Starting Out Right

Rangers take Kunkel in draft, Astros choose Cowboys' Wine

By The Associated Press

The Texas Rangers chose Jeff Kunkel, a shortstop from Rider College and the son of major league umpire Bill Kunkel, as their first-round pick and the No. 3 choice in the entire major league baseball draft Monday.

The Houston Astros, picking in the No. 8 spot, tabbed Robbie Wine, a catcher from Oklahoma State.

Two Texas high schoolers and two Southwest Conference players were grabbed by other teams in the first round.

Baylor pitcher Stan Hilton was chosen by the Oakland A's as the fifth player selected in the draft, while Jackie Davidson, a highly touted righthanded pitcher from Everman, was the sixth player taken in the draft. The Chicago Cubs garnered him.

righthanded pitcher from Lubbock, was the Detroit Tigers' first-round pick, while University of Texas hurler Roger Clemens, also a righthander, was taken by the Boston Red Sox.

"I guess I'll have to throw away my Yankees cap. And get rid of my nickname," Clemens said when he heard the news. His teammates call him "The Goose" because of similarities in his antics on the mound to New York pitcher Rich "The Goose" Gossage.

Two other players with Texas' No. 1-ranked team — junior righthander Calvin Schiraldi and junior shortstop Mike Brumley — also went high. Schiraldi was taken by the New York Mets at the end of the first round as a special pick in compensation for the loss of free agent pitcher Pete Falcone to Atlanta.

"I think I'll be very signable, for sure. I'm just happy to get drafted that high and to get a chance to play," Brumley said. Schiraldi and Clemens said they don't see any difficulty in coming to an agreement either.

Schiraldi was the 27th player and the 14th pitcher picked. Brumley went to the Red Sox early in Round 2 and was the 33rd player selected.

Local linksters place in Oldham tourney

A number of Hereford golfers placed in the partnership golf tourney at Oldham County Country Club Sunday. The tourney title went to N. Sanders and B. Maxey of Amarillo while the Canyon duo of Myron Dees and C. Booth was second.

Emory Brownlow and Cal Garrett of Hereford tied for third place with Dana Rush of Hereford and Glenn Short of Amarillo. A team score of 134 took the title, while the third-place score was 142—just one shot out of second place.

Hereford golfers dominated the second flight.

Shorty Roark and Charles Skinner won the flight with a 141, while Virgil Marsh and Ron Weishaar took second place with a 148 total.

In the fifth flight, Earl Stagner of Hereford teamed with Frank Broman of Vega to win second place. J.R. Blackwell and Roger Hamilton of Hereford won the sixth flight with a 159 score. Larry Walterscheid and Gary Kreighauser tied for third.

The seventh flight title went to L. Walterscheid of Hereford and A. Paschal of Vega.

Chaps claim NAAIA crown

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Lubbock Christian did what no other NAAIA team did this season — beat Lewis-Clark State — and then did it again to capture the 27th annual NAAIA World Series.

David Bulls came on in relief in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and struck out the side as LCC upset the Idaho college 12-9 in the championship game Monday night.

For the second straight night, the Warriors blew a chance to capture the crown. LCC posted a 4-3 win Sunday night in the double elimination tournament.

Both games marked the only two losses for Lewis-Clark against NAAIA teams this season.

The Warriors loaded the bases with no outs in the seventh before Bulls came on to fan the next three batters.

LCC took a 7-3 lead into the eighth inning when Lewis-

Clark scored four runs on a double, a walk, a single and David Martinez' home run.

But LCC rebounded in the bottom of the eighth with five runs, including a homer by Ed Jeffrey.

In the ninth, Bulls gave up a single and a walk and was replaced by Travis Walden. Walden walked the bases full, threw a wild pitch to allow a run, got Fred Quintero on an infield out and then walked another batter.

Rick Dillman then came on for LCC and gave up an RBI single to Gary Balmer before striking out David Martinez and Jim O'Dell to end the game.

Bulls, 13-5, picked up the win, his third in three appearances in the championship series. Tom Edens, 8-2, was the loser.

LCC finished the season 56-27. Lewis Clark was 69-7 and 49-2 against NAAIA competition.

Ryan set to pitch

HOUSTON (AP) — Nolan Ryan, fresh from a rehabilitation program in which he ran in place underwater daily, is scheduled to pitch today for the first time since pulling a hamstring May 2.

Ryan, who suffered the mid-thigh hamstring strain against the New York Mets, will face the San Francisco Giants.

Dr. William Bryan, placed Ryan in an aquatic rehabilitation program, consisting of two one-hour sessions daily during which Ryan ran in place under water.

Ryan started the season on the disabled list, suffering from a prostate infection.

After he recovered, Ryan broke Walter Johnson's 56-year-old career strikeout record. Before his hamstring injury, Ryan boosted his lifetime total to 3,521.

Boston upsets Chicago Blitz

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Breakers may not be crazy about their usual halftime position. But by now, they at least should feel comfortable starting the second half with ground to make up.

For the third straight week, the Breakers trailed at intermission. And, for the third straight week, they won, overtaking the Chicago Blitz 21-15 in the United States Football League Monday night.

In those three games, Boston has outscored its opposition 19-0 in the third quarter and 30-9 in the fourth after a cumulative 37-14 deficit in the opening halves.

"I just wish we could play that well in the first half," said Breakers' Coach Dick Coury.

"When adversity strikes, we always know something good's going to come out of it," said Boston linebacker Bill Roe. "We don't panic because we know we're going to come back."

The Breakers came back from a 13-0 deficit against Chicago to stretch their winning streak to four games and tie the Blitz in the battle for the league's single wild-card playoff berth. Boston is in second place in the Atlantic Division, Chicago is in second in the Central, and both have 9-5 records.

"It keeps them in the race," Chicago Coach George Allen said of the Breakers' win. "It puts our football team in the hole in our division. We're fighting for our lives."

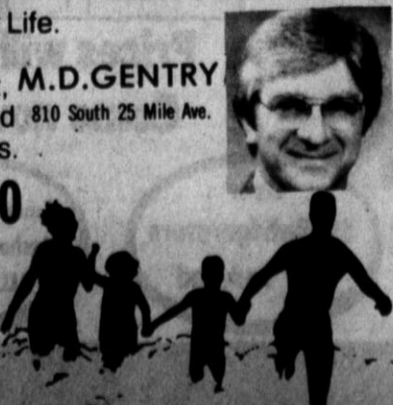

The Blitz are one game behind Tampa Bay, which visits Chicago Sunday. Boston, which trails Philadelphia by three games, is at Birmingham Saturday night.

Holmes a hot item with ring promoters

An AP Sports Analysis
By ED SCHUYLER JR. AP Sports Writer

Larry Holmes vs. Greg Page in a mandatory defense of the World Boxing Council heavyweight title. Promoter Don King wants it.

Larry Holmes vs. Marvis Frazier, the son of former heavyweight champion Smokin' Joe Frazier. Promoter Bob Arum covets it.

Larry Holmes vs. Michael Spinks, the undisputed light heavyweight champion. Promoter Butch Lewis seeks it.

"Everybody is making noise," said the 33-year-old Holmes, who has said he will not fight after this year.

"Right now I'm in limbo." But it's good kind of limbo Holmes finds himself in. He finds himself in the position of calling the shots, in the position of being able to take the best deal ... or of taking no deal and retiring. He does not need money, so he is able to not fight unless the money is big.

"I'm on the open market," said Holmes, who has had most of his fights promoted by King.

Michael Dokes is recognized as champion by the World Boxing Association, but most boxing fans recognize Holmes as the champion. So

Kunkels' week has been good

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — It has been a good couple of days for the Bill Kunkel family of Leonardo, N.J.

Stanford's freshman pitcher Kevin Kunkel set down nine straight James Madison batters in a relief appearance here Sunday night to help keep Stanford alive in the College World Series baseball tournament.

Monday marked the amateur baseball draft. Kevin's brother Jeff, who played shortstop at Rider College, was selected by the Texas Rangers as the third player selected in the draft.

The sons of Major League umpire Bill Kunkel are doing their father proud.

Bill Kunkel, who has been battling colon cancer, had a day off Monday after umpiring a game in Minnesota Sunday. The time off allowed Bill to get in touch with Kevin.

"He got to watch the replay on ESPN today," Kevin said. "I called him from the hotel here and we got to discuss the game as it was being replayed."

Kevin said he had talked with his brother prior to the draft. Jeff "was really excited. He didn't know then who would get him. He's anxious to sign. I'll talk to him again tomorrow (Tuesday)," Kevin said.

The 19-year-old right-handed pitcher said he would like to follow his brother into professional baseball. Currently he is a pre-med student at Stanford.

Cardinal Coach Marquess reportedly heard about Kevin from a scouting service in the East. After a January 1982 recruiting visit to the Stanford campus, the youngster fell in love with California and signed to play for Stanford.

Bill Kunkel started the family in its successful do promoters, who know the importance of having promotional ties to the heavyweight champion.

Right now, King is the No. 1 promoter, and his strength is keyed to the heavyweight division.

King is tied Dokes, who is managed by King's son, Carl, and to Holmes through long association, even though Holmes now says he is willing to fight for someone else. King also is tied to several heavyweight contenders, including Page.

So Arum and Lewis would love to promote a Holmes bout. They could wait and hope to get their foot in the door after Holmes retires, but should Frazier or Spinks upset Holmes, Arum or Lewis would be a position of real strength.

Arum announced after the 22-year-old Frazier ran his record to 10-0 with a unanimous 10-round decision over Joe Bugner last Saturday that "Holmes told me he is interested in the fight."

Arum and Lewis, who then worked for Arum, once interested Muhammad Ali in fighting a man with seven pro fights. Leon Spinks upset Ali, but Ali was then much farther downhill than Holmes is now.

"All the financing is in place, but nothing is signed," said Arum, who even announced a tentative date of Sept. 23 for Atlantic City, N.J.

Holmes said he has talked to Arum, but added "the finances are not set. Arum said he offered Holmes $2.5 million and could go to $3 million, although Holmes' figure is higher.

Then Holmes acknowledged that Lewis also is seeking his services.

"Right now they're asking me to fight Michael Spinks for $3.25 million," said Holmes.

Lewis said he had offered Holmes $3 million to fight Spinks even before the heavyweight champion defended against Tim Witherspoon May 20. Lewis said that the $3.25 million figure includes $250,000 in expenses.

Then there is Page, ranked No. 1 by the WBC, and in line for a mandatory shot at the title.

"I have signed for Page," said Holmes, "but no date has been made and no money negotiated."

Holmes reportedly has been offered $2.25 million to defend against Page.

This all leads to some interesting speculation. Perhaps Holmes can get in a fight against Frazier or Spinks before meeting Page. Then if that fight showed he has slipped too much, he could retire without risking his unbeaten record against Page.

Page, whose attitude was poor but is improving, can match Holmes in speed and size and holds a distinct edge in right-hand punching power. He figures to be a much tougher opponent than the experienced, relatively small Frazier or Spinks, who would be an a blown-up light heavyweight.

There is also the possibility that Holmes is using Frazier and Spinks as a wedge to drive up his price for a Page fight.

In saying he thought a Holmes-Frazier fight was possible, Arum said the fight would be for 15 rounds and would be sanctioned by the new United States Boxing Association International which recently recognized Holmes as its champion.

Arum said he didn't care whether the WBC sanctioned the fight or not.

In his last two defenses, Holmes fought at the WBC title limit of 12 rounds.

But should a Page fight fall through, Holmes might decide to fight Frazier or Spinks even without WBC sanction, then retire.

Yanks' Kemp rises from goat to hero; Brewers outlast California, 9-7

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

For New York Yankees' right fielder Steve Kemp, the top of the eighth was nothing to laugh about — but he was all smiles in the bottom of the inning.

He misplayed Domingo Ramos' fly ball into a triple to help Seattle take a 2-1 lead in the top of the eighth Monday night. Then, with the score 2-2 in the bottom of the inning, he smacked a three-run, inside-the-park homer that boosted the Yanks to a 6-2 victory.

"That's what's so funny about this game," said Kemp. "You can go from being in the gutter to the top of the world. That's what's unique about this game and why you have to have a lot of confidence. You can't lose confidence or you're shot, and you have to have pride in yourself — and I have both."

Elsewhere in the American League, Milwaukee outlasted California 9-7, Detroit defeated Boston 11-6 and Baltimore beat Toronto 8-1 in a game halted by rain in the top of the sixth inning. Oakland's game at Cleveland was rained out. The National League was idle.

After Ramos' tainted triple and Dave Henderson's tie-breaking sacrifice fly gave the Mariners a temporary lead, the Yankee Stadium crowd went to work on Kemp, booing lustily as he trotted in from right field. Then the Yanks went to work on Seattle's relief corps, which was following Gaylord Perry to the mound.

Willie Randolph nailed Mike Stanton for a single. Ed Vande Berg took over and promptly threw Ken Griffey's sacrifice into center field trying for the force at second. Randolph reached third, then scored when Bill Caudill gave up a sacrifice fly to Dave Winfield.

After Oscar Gamble singled, Kemp sliced the ball to left. It caromed off the wall and skipped past rookie Ricky Nelson, and Kemp had his first Yankee Stadium homer.

"I never thought I'd get it that way," said Kemp. "I wanted to just get a base hit, to score at least one run — and then not mess up another fly."

With two away, Graig Nettles capped the five-run burst with his second solo homer of the game.

Ron Guidry, tying Toronto's Dave Stieb for the AL lead in wins with eight, fanned seven Mariners and scattered six hits en route to his fifth consecutive victory and fifth complete game. Perry pitched seven innings and slipped past Warren Spahn into fourth place on the all-time innings-pitched list with 5,246 1-3.

Brewers 9, Angels 7

Paul Molitor, his injured wrist obviously healed, went 4-for-4 with a single, two doubles and a homer and drove in three runs for Milwaukee. "My wrist still isn't 100 percent, but my confidence is nearing 100 percent again," said Molitor.

"Getting Paul back in the leadoff spot, especially the way he's hitting, has been a real lift," added Brewers Manager Harvey Kuenn.

Jim Gantner's two-run triple and Robin Yount's two-run double contributed to the Brewers' 16-hit assault. "For a change we got a lot of hits with men on base," Molitor said. "Maybe that's a sign that things finally are going to start going our way."

The Brewers built a 9-1 lead before California woke up with a six-run eighth inning. Ron Jackson's grand slam chased Milwaukee starter Bob McClure and Bobby Grich's homer greeted Tom Tellmann.

"We came back offensively," Angels Manager John McNamara said. "At least we didn't just roll over and die."

Tigers 11, Red Sox 6

Enos Cabell hit a solo homer and Lou Whitaker a two-run shot before Alan Trammell highlighted a five-run eighth inning with his three-run homer that boosted Detroit past the Red Sox. Dwight Evans and Glenn Hoffman homered for Boston.

Orioles 8, Blue Jays 1

Leo Hernandez' three-run homer and a two-run belt by Cal Ripken Jr. gave Baltimore sole possession of first place in the East, one game ahead of Toronto and Boston. Cliff Johnson homered for the Blue Jays. The game was delayed 45 minutes at the start and called after a 52-minute wait in the sixth.

CBS wins slander suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Attorneys for Dan Rather, CBS and the top-rated show "60 Minutes" claimed a victory for a free press after successfully defending a $30 million slander suit filed by a California doctor.

Dr. Carl Galloway, who claimed he was unjustly accused in a "60 Minutes" report on insurance fraud, said that during the trial he felt "like David up against Goliath. I don't have my own network."

Rather could not be reached for comment Monday; his phone number in New York is unlisted and a CBS-TV editor said Rather could not be contacted. He was at his regular post as anchorman of the CBS evening news Monday night, and introduced a brief report on the verdict in his own case. The disputed report, titled "It's No Accident," was broadcast Dec. 9, 1979. It told of insurance fraud schemes in Los Angeles' black community and pinpointed the Manchester West doctors' office as one clinic which allegedly churned out phony medical reports for bogus accident claims.

Benjamin Franklin invented the rocking chair.

10 YEAR NO SWEAT WARRANTY

If Air Conditioning doesn't have it here it probably doesn't have it.

Gas Air Conditioning Has It!

No other air conditioner has a warranty like a gas air conditioner because no other air conditioner is built like a gas air conditioner.

Gas air conditioning has fewer moving parts and no compressor to wear out or break down. This means less wear and tear and lower maintenance costs.

That's why gas air conditioning is so dependable and why it has a warranty that's twice as long as other types of units... a full 10 years!

Find out more about the air conditioning that's backed by the best warranty available. Call Energas today for a free cooling survey and cost estimate. There's no obligation.

Remember, all air conditioning was not created equal. And we have the paper to prove it!

Manufacturer's limited warranty covers all defects in materials and workmanship on the sealed refrigeration unit for ten years from the date of installation of the air conditioner when it is installed in a single family residence. All other parts are warranted for one year from date of installation.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Fisher

Shower curtain solution

DEAR POLLY - I have a shower curtain in very good condition. Would you know how to clean off the lime left from the water. - MARY

DEAR MARY - The easiest way is to just wash the curtain in the washing machine in cold water. I use just a little detergent and a cup or two of chlorine bleach - depending on how dirty and mildew the curtain is. After going through the complete wash and rinse cycle, the curtain can be hung to dry. This usually leaves the dirtiest curtain shining and fresh and should remove any mineral deposits as well. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - For the best popped popcorn, store popcorn at room temperature (not in the freezer or refrigerator), or bring it to room temperature if you must store it in the freezer. Corn popped cold does not fully explode and has hard centers. It is only partly popped out. Hulls are left on the outside. - POPPER MANUFACTURER

DEAR POPPER MANUFACTURER - Thanks for your professional popping tip. From my own experience, I've found that corn stored in the refrigerator or freezer retains its moisture for a longer period of time, but I'll try letting it come to room temperature before popping in the future. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - To prevent fluids from running down the outside of a pitcher, rub a little oil or butter on the inner edge of the spout.

To find out whether an egg is raw or cooked, try to spin the egg. If it wobbles, it is raw. If it spins, it is cooked. - MRS. E.R.S.

DEAR POLLY - I enjoy sewing, but I sometimes misplace my thimbles. Recently, I needed two and though I couldn't find any, my daughter found something just as good. She came down the stairs with caps off of old lip balm containers. They fit just great and they didn't cost a thing. - GAIL

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Medicine and prostate

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am an avid reader of your column and go along with much of your advice. There is one thing I wish you would mention when you discuss prostate problems again, and that is the problems prostate patients have taking medicines. There is no cough medicine or nasal congestion tablet that a person suffering from an enlarged prostate can take freely. My doctor used to prescribe Combid for my colon. Now I can't take it anymore.

asthma. The ingredients in coffee and tea may also aggravate symptoms.

Beyond medicines, bed rest imposed for any reason, but also after injury and surgery, can also cause obstruction symptoms. These conditions usually include problems of medications prescribed.

Other aspects of an enlarged prostate are included in The Health Letter 15-6, Prostate Gland Problems, which I am sending you. Others can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - After extensive examinations and blood panels, the doctors have diagnosed my eye problem as Graves' disease. A sister had the same problem and her physician said it was thyroid that caused the swelling of the eyes. My doctor says it is not thyroid. Which is correct?

DEAR READER - You are probably confused by different terminology used by the two doctors. The facts are that Graves' disease was originally described as three main features: increased metabolism, enlarged thyroid gland and exophthalmos (pop eyed) by Dr. Robert Graves in 1835. Clearly one reason for protruding eyes and some associated findings can be an overactive thyroid gland. About half of the patients with Graves' disease have eye findings.

Graves' disease is an overactive thyroid state. But not all overactive thyroid states are classified as Graves' disease. Some thyroid nodules produce an excess amount of thyroid hormone and cause an overactive thyroid. And of course you can have swollen or prominent eyes from other causes as well.

Diuretics, which are commonly used, may increase prostate symptoms and obstruction. So can tranquilizers and medicines for lungs, such as bronchodilators, which are used to treat

Patman may be wealthiest of delegation

WASHINGTON (AP) - In a congressional delegation where wealth is commonplace, Rep. Bill Patman, D-Texas, may be the wealthiest of all - the delegation's only $3 million man. Patman, of Ganado, listed assets of from $3.83 million to possibly more than $6.7 million in his financial disclosure form for 1982, released Monday by the House clerk's office.

Patman thus became the seventh member of the 29-member Texas congressional delegation to report minimum assets of more than $1 million in 1982. But he was the only one to report minimum assets of over $3 million.

It is not possible from the forms to determine the exact worth or income of members of Congress, since they are required only to report a range of assets and income and the upper range is open-ended.

But on the basis of their minimum assets, others who qualified as millionaires were Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, with a minimum $2.4 million, and Reps. Sam B. Hall of Marshall, $1.56 million; Ralph M. Hall of Rockwall, $2.14 million; Jack Brooks of Beaumont, $1.69 million; Marvin Leath of Marlin, $1.16 million and Tom Vandergriff of Arlington, $1.62 million. All are Democrats.

The others reported their assets in mid-May, when the forms were due, but Patman obtained an extension for filing his.

Of the 22 House members reporting assets of more than $1 million in 1982, six of them are from Texas.

Patman reported income, not including his congressional salary, of between $690,000 and $929,000 last year.

His assets included a wide range of stock and partnership interests plus extensive land and mineral interests.

Among those assets he included a stamp collection valued at between $5,000 and $15,000 and an outstanding loan of more than $250,000 to his campaign committee.

He also listed a partnership interest in a motor and implement company worth between $100,000 and $250,000, from which he derived $11,000 in income last year, and a partnership interest in a farm and ranch worth more than $250,000, from which he derived income of more than $243,000 last year.

Patman also reported more than $233,000 in income from sale of cattle.

He listed no liabilities on his form.

Patman, 56, was elected to Congress in 1980 after serving in the state Senate for two decades. He is the son of Wright Patman, the populist Democrat who served in the House for nearly half a century.

There are about 200,000 millionaires in America today.

Couple makes home here after triple graduation

By LINDA CAUDLE
Family News Editor

The Dino Barela family, new Hereford residents, celebrated a triple graduation last year, when Dino received a Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from Texas Tech University School of Law; the Barela's middle daughter, Kathi, graduated from Texas Tech with a bachelor's degree in business; and their youngest, Cindi, graduated from Monterey High School in Lubbock.

Dino's wife, Karen, recalls that it was a very exciting time and that many family members and friends came for the ceremonies, which all took place within a week. "We even had special announcements printed up which included all three graduations," she adds.

The Barelas, who are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary this week, came to Hereford from Lubbock when Dino accepted the position of assistant district attorney. He moved here March 1 and Karen followed in April.

The couple's oldest daughter, Tammi, is living in Lubbock, and is employed as a nurse's aid at St. Mary's Hospital. Kathi is working at Texas Bank and Trust in Lubbock, and Cindi is currently attending Texas Tech.

Settling down in Hereford (or any other place, for that matter) is a relatively new experience for the Barelas. The family has lived in all four corners of the United States and traveled extensively, as Dino was in the U.S. Navy for 21 years before he retired and entered law school.

Going to law school was something he had been planning to do for several years, and he went to para-legal school in Maryland while still in the navy. He has a bachelor's degree in history and Spanish from Angelo State University in San Angelo, which is where the Barelas were stationed when they decided they liked Texas and wanted to retire here.

"I like it in Hereford," comments Karen. "Everyone has been really friendly and sincere in welcoming us. The neighbors are super. And Dino loves his job. He's happier now than I've seen him in a long time."

Karen, who is a native of Wisconsin, moved to Albuquerque with her family when she was in high school. Dino grew up in Albuquerque. The couple met there and were married a year after Karen graduated from high school. Dino worked in the naval communication security field, serving in every enlisted rank and retiring as chief warrant officer. The family has lived in Rhode Island, Florida, California, Oregon, Maryland, Indiana, Puerto Rico, and various other places.

The Barelas' two older daughters were born in San Diego, Calif., and their youngest daughter was born in Washington, D.C. Their 17-year-old cat, Cokey, is from Puerto Rico.

"We were supposed to go to Morocco," remembers Karen, "but our orders were cancelled and we went to Puerto Rico instead, for a three year tour of duty."

The Barelas lived in San Juan, the capital of Puerto Rico and the major tourist area of the island, in the late 60s and early 70s.

"It was very interesting living there," comments Karen. "Dino is a native Spanish speaker, and we picked up some Spanish, but since English is a second language there, we got along very well."

"The island is quite crowded," adds Karen, "and driving is an adventure. There is one main road which goes around the island and there are no railroads, so the roads are very congested."

Karen served as president of the Navy Wives Club while living in Puerto Rico. "We helped some of the orphans there, especially during the holidays," she says. "We got together with another Navy Wives Club across the island to go shopping and would get together to visit often because few people had telephones. It was a close community spirit."

Karen has also been a Red Cross volunteer, serving in all areas and departments and as a member of the board of directors in San Angelo. Having suffered a personal bout with arthritis, she has also helped with the Arthritis Foundation. "I have an interest in health and enjoy helping others because I've been helped," she comments.

Dino has helped with the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon since moving to Hereford. The Barelas have been a host family for foreign students at Tech while living in Lubbock. They were also involved in a similar program while Dino was studying Portuguese at the Defense Language Institute in Washington, D.C.

Karen says she and Dino both plan to catch up on some of the hobbies that they've put off doing the last few years while he was in school. He likes to garden and grow flowers as well as fishing and golfing.

She enjoys cooking and sewing. "I sewed out of necessity when the girls were all at home," smiles Karen. "Right now I'm making a strawberry print quilt, my first big one. I've made several baby quilts."

Karen likes to try cooking different foods and learning about other cultures. She has collected several cookbooks from various places they have been.

She has done secretarial work and interior decorating in the past, but is not currently working outside of her home.

"Moving around as much as we have has been a very unique experience," says Karen. "We've had to adapt and adjust to many different places, but we've made so many good friends."

"It might be a little hard on kids, especially when they're in high school and lose credits, but I can't say it's hurt our kids. They've graduated with honors and won scholarships. I think it's been a really good learning experience for all of us."

San Antonians don't mind long commute

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP)—It's not quite the Dust Bowl rush of the 1920s, but steadily, San Antonians are heading for the hills.

San Antonio certified public accountant Bernie Bernsen wears boots to his office and has learned the difference between Wichita, Choctaw and Mohawk pecans.

His wife, O.A., says she has really seen the stars for the first time.

Chris, their teen-age daughter, sometimes slips into the Alsatian accent of her rural neighbors.

She even raised a hog this year for the livestock show.

The Bernsens retreated to Rio Medina at the foot of the Texas Hill Country six years ago, selling their northwest San Antonio home next to a large car lot.

They are part of an exodus of San Antonio families casting off the shackles of city life and heading for the rural quietude and magical tranquility of the Hill Country.

And expatriates such as the Bernsen family are keeping their workday ties to San Antonio — they commute daily to jobs in the city.

If you ask any of them, they'll say they wouldn't trade their 50-mile, twice-a-day drives for a new condominium in "Loopland."

"Living in an apartment complex in San Antonio gave me a complex," recalls Donna Renken, who moved to Canyon Lake 10 years ago.

Since then her husband, Bobby Renken, has commuted to work at Big State Electric Co.

"It's two cups of coffee to work and three beers coming back," Mrs. Renken jokingly says.

"It gives Bobby a chance to unwind for 45 minutes or so, but it's nothing unusual. Nearly all of our friends out here commute to San Antonio or Austin."

That's true, says New Braunfels Realtor Gaz Green, who estimates 25 percent of New Braunfels' population commutes to San Antonio.

They come from all walks of life.

Some work at the Bexar County Hospital District and the military bases.

Others are San Antonio police officers and firefighters.

Many of the transplants are citing the city's growing population and traffic congestion — "another Houston," they say — for fleeing to communities such as Mico, Sattler, Startzville, Bulverde, Pipe Creek and Rio Medina.

But part of it is a desire to return to basics.

"There's only a post office and a beer joint in Rio Medina," said Bernsen, a CPA in San Antonio for 18 years.

From his northwest side office, Bernsen can be home in approximately 30 minutes, a short jaunt to what seems like the other side of the world.

Skunks, opossums, snakes, tree mites and coyotes have made life in Medina County interesting for the Bernsens, who are remodeling a turn-of-the-century ranch house.

"The first winter here, we had to buy longjohns for everybody," Bernsen recalls, noting he was forced to install insulation.

"But, I like living in a kind of place where you don't have to have any drapes."

Ponce de Leon discovered the east coast of Florida in 1512.

4-H'ers learn to control insect pests

By BRAD MORRISON
County Extension Agent

Don't let hungry bugs reap the harvest of all the hard work you've put into planning and planting a garden.

Young people in the 4-H entomology program supported by Mobay Chemical Corporation learn a host of pest control tips.

Among key pest control tips are these:

—To keep ahead of bugs, check the garden each week, crop by crop, for pests.

—If pests are present, begin controlling them right away by using a recommended pesticide.

—Be sure to follow directions and precautions on pesticide labels. Observe the waiting period specified from time of application to time of harvest.

—At the end of the growing season, give the garden and its surroundings a good clean-up. Fall plowing also kills many destructive insects.

Girls and boys who take part in 4-H entomology projects and activities have a variety of opportunities to learn-by-doing about the insect world.

Harmful insects like cabbage worms and helpful ones like honeybees can be found in the garden, backyard, home or practically anywhere. In fact, there are more different kinds of insects than all other living things—plants and animals—combined.

4-H members, ages 9-19, can collect and identify insects or rear live insects in captivity. They can learn how insects interact with the environment, plant life, other insects and man himself. And they can examine career opportunities in entomology.

4-H'ers can also work for awards donated by Mobay and arranged by the National 4-H Council. These include six-$1000 scholarships at the national level and 16 expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago awarded on a sectional basis.

One program member per state can earn a $75 U.S. Savings Bond and up to four members in each county are eligible for medals of honor.

For further details about the 4-H entomology program as well as other 4-H programs and activities, contact the county Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.
