Coalition plans bills to block nuke dump

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional coalition plans to introduce legislation placing a moratorium on efforts to select and develop a site to store the nation's highly radioactive wastes.

Republican on the panel, added, "No matter how carefully we restructure the program, I guarantee that once we zero in on specific sites in specific states, we will again find ourselves in the exact same situation we are in today."

The House bill has attracted more than 25 sponsors, led by Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz.

At a Monday hearing, however, Johnston defended the Energy Department.

replied that the department had done a bad job.

AMARILLO (Special) - Two Vega men were killed early Monday morning after the vehicle in which they were passengers collided with a tractor-trailer rig about 2 miles west of Amarillo on Interstate-40.

Broken windows and cut screens were reported on the 900 block of Brevard, windows were shot with B.B.'s on the 300 block of George, windshield damage estimated at $250 was done by kids throwing rocks on the 300 block of Bradley, the hood of a vehicle was damaged at Sixth and Main and criminal mischief was also reported on the 400 block of Ave. I.

Thunderstorms sweep area

A fast-moving thunderstorm swept across the Hereford area Monday night as three weather systems combined to produce scattered showers across a vast area of Texas.

Other scattered showers and thunderstorms are being reported along the coast. One thunderstorm near Big Spring produced wind gusts of more than 80 mph during the night.

Local Roundup

DOE meeting Wednesday

Salt Repository Project Deputy Manager Robert Wunderlich will conduct a weekly public information session Wednesday at 7 a.m. in the Hereford Community Center.

City to zap mosquitoes

City Manager Darwin McGill announced this morning that the city will conduct aerial spraying for mosquitoes on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday morning of this week as weather conditions permit.

Sheriff reports theft incidences

Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Deputies investigated four theft cases over the weekend. Taken were a Ford tractor-mower, gasoline, battery cables and batteries, a 13-inch remote control television and a radio antenna.

After a low of 68 degrees Monday morning, the low dipped to 57 this morning. Hereford recorded a high of 88 Monday. Today's outlook is for partly cloudy skies with a 20 percent chance of evening thundershowers and a low near 60. Winds will be to the south and southeast from 5 to 10 mph.

Forecasts called for partly to mostly cloudy skies statewide through tonight with scattered showers and thunderstorms expected over West Texas, North Texas, the Hill Country and Southeast Texas.

Wednesday's forecast calls for partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures, with a high in the mid-80s and wind to the south from 5 to 15 mph.

Lows tonight will be around 60 in the Panhandle and in the 70s over the rest of the state.

Pankey won first place in feature writing and Nieman was second in editorials in the small daily division. Nieman, a past TPA president, attended the convention and accepted the awards.

In regions with dirty air

EPA restricts new construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency singled out 14 urban areas for restrictions on new construction in its first concrete steps to enforce a deadline for meeting federal air quality standards.

The Dec. 31 deadline has been postponed twice before and a Senate subcommittee on Monday began drafting a bill to delay it again, for five years for most cities. EPA, however, says it has no choice but to act now.

Similar action is expected against another group of cities late this summer.

Monday's action covered only areas whose air pollution control plans don't show compliance by the deadline. In some cases the plans had lain dormant for four years without action.

EPA officials say that if the latest action does not produce progress toward compliance, the areas could eventually face loss of highway funds.

Cleveland is among the cities threatened with such a loss, and Patricia Walling of the Ohio EPA complained that such punitive measures have a "double negative impact."

"You lose money and can't do as much to combat pollution," while at the same time the incentive to make the corrections drops, she said.

David Kee, director of the federal EPA's air and radiation branch in Chicago, responded that funding withdrawals are "kind of a nuclear deterrent you hate to wheel out, but it's the only deterrent we really have."

Areas with acceptable plans are still being checked to see that they did all they promised. If they failed to follow up they can expect similar restrictions; areas that did all they promised but still missed the mark will have to present more vigorous plans.

The punishment announced Monday is often called a "ban" on construction of major new sources — 100 tons a year — of carbon monoxide or the chemicals that form ozone, a major part of smog. But a builder has a way out — the project can be approved if offsetting reductions in pollution from existing sources can be found.

Such a source might be a refinery, a steel mill, or the paint shop of an auto assembly plant.

Carbon monoxide reduces the oxygen-carrying ability of the blood. Ozone, formed from chemicals such as gasoline vapor, worsens breathing disorders at ground level, although at high altitude it shields the earth from harmful ultra-violet rays.

The Office of Management and Budget has been reviewing for months other EPA measures aimed at reducing ozone, notably requirements for larger gasoline vapor recovery canisters on cars and reduced gasoline volatility.

Some of the control plans that sat for four years came from California, and Bill Sessa, spokesman for the California Air Resources Board, said his state was now being penalized "for being honest about our inability to meet the standard."

There actually will be little effect in his state, he said. "Our air quality rules are so stringent that it is rare we would ever have an industrial facility that would put out as much pollution as EPA chooses to define as a major source," Sessa said.

California officials, he said, believe EPA has authority to withhold penalties as long as the state is making progress. Monday's announcements, he said, "have a lot more to do with politics in Washington than with air quality" and are aimed at putting pressure on Congress for legal changes EPA wants.

EPA, however, says it has run out of much of its discretion. It still has discretion whether to use its major weapon, cutting off highway aid, and it readied that artillery against Cleveland.

Cleveland was accused of not living up to a 1982 agreement to begin checking auto exhaust emissions to try to reduce carbon monoxide concentrations. Such inspections were required in exchange for extending the compliance deadline from 1982 to 1987, and more than 50 areas now undertake them.

If the agency gives final approval to its proposals after a period for public comment, the Cleveland area would lose federal highway funds and air pollution program grants.

EPA said it has no idea of how much money is at stake.

EPA Administrator Lee M. Thomas said in a statement he intends to keep funds flowing to states making reasonable efforts to adopt adequate control plans, reserving cutoffs for "only when there is no longer a reasonable prospect that a state will progress at a satisfactory pace toward producing an adequate plan."

Don Clay, deputy assistant administrator for air programs, summed up the advice of agency lawyers on what constitutes an acceptable plan: "We have to have an attainment date" — progress without a deadline is not enough.

Cleveland is not listed among the 80 cities not meeting carbon monoxide standards. EPA officials say that is because its data were not properly collected, and they believe concentrations of the pollutant are excessive.

The city is among the 76 not meeting ozone standards, but like most in that category, its deficiency is small.

The air in most of those cities is gradually improving as cleaner cars come into use. EPA expects more than 50 to comply with the ozone standard sooner or later without much trouble, and all but a handful to meet the carbon monoxide standard.

Aside from Cleveland, these are the areas dealt with Monday and the pollutant in question: Chicago, ozone; Chicago's Indiana suburbs, ozone; East St. Louis, Ill., ozone; the Indiana suburbs of Louisville, Ky., ozone; carbon monoxide; Atlanta, ozone; Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas, ozone; Denver, carbon monoxide; the South Coast Air Quality area of California, which includes Los Angeles and other areas, ozone and carbon monoxide; Fresno County, Calif., ozone and carbon monoxide; Sacramento County, Calif., ozone; Ventura County, Calif., ozone; Kern County, Calif., ozone; Reno, Nev., carbon monoxide.

Congress scrutinizing plan for M-1 tank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is taking a close look at Reagan administration plans to allow Egypt to assemble the U.S. Army's M-1A1 main battle tanks.

Rep. Tom Lantos, D-Calif., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Europe and the Middle East, said he would question Assistant Secretary of State Richard Murphy on the plan at a previously scheduled closed-door hearing today.

"We have the responsibility of preventing a serious mistake from being made," Lantos said in an interview. Allowing Egypt to manufacture, rather than just assemble, the M-1A1 "would reduce our ability to export, and it could lead to the transfer of sensitive technology," he said.

The plan has been under discussion within the administration for a year, said Pentagon, State Department and industry sources who described a proposal that appeared to answer most of Lantos' concerns.

"We have decided in principle to assist Egypt in some form of co-production of the M-1A1 tank but the modality and details have not yet been decided," State Department spokesman Charles Redman said at a midday briefing Monday.

"Sensitive technologies will be protected and will not be manufactured in Egypt," Redman said, seeking to forestall possible opposition to the plan.

The administration was waiting to formally notify Congress of the decision, said one Pentagon source, because "we want to get everything worked out before we go up to Capitol Hill and start answering questions."

Lantos voiced his concern after the Washington Post reported on the proposal in its Monday editions. Pentagon officials previously have testified on the issue, which has been covered in defense industry trade publications.

Sources familiar with the plan said that it avoided the pitfalls cited by Lantos by having nearly all the parts manufactured in the United States and shipped to Egypt for assembly.

The Egyptian defense minister, Abdul-Halim Abu Ghazala, has been pushing for more than a year for permission to either build or assemble the M-1A1 in Egypt, according to State and Defense Department officials.

REAGAN

Rehnquist to chief justice.

Fitzwater said candidates would not be judged on whether they oppose abortion or other individual issues important to conservatives. "There are no specific issues that will be litmus tests," he said.

Attorney General Edwin Meese III stressed the same point in a speech in Chautauqua, N.Y.

"We don't have any test. We don't care about the political or ideological allegiance of a prospective judge," Meese said. "We are concerned about how they view the Constitution and how they view their particular responsibilities as a jurist."

Bork is best known nationally for his role in 1973 as solicitor general

Gore joins Demo field

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore Jr., the newest addition to the crowded field of Democratic presidential hopefuls, is offering himself as a match in wits and energy for Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

"The free world urgently needs a leader who can match him, test him, bargain with him and make the most of this possibly historic opportunity for a safer, saner world," Gore said in formally announcing his candidacy Monday.

Gore, 39, would be the youngest president ever. He made his candidacy official during a day of campaign stops that began on the courthouse steps of his hometown of Carthage, Tenn.

Common Market passes U.S. as leading world farm exporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — With relative suddenness, the European Common Market has replaced the United States as the world's leading exporter of farm products, wiping out a 2-to-1 lead enjoyed by American farmers only a decade ago.

Part of the reason is the expansion of the trading bloc from 10 countries to 12. Another factor, according to a new analysis by the Agriculture Department, has been monetary policy and exchange rates.

"The 12-member European Community passed the United States as the world's largest agricultural exporter in 1986," the report said.

It added: "EC exports, buoyed initially by exchange rates that made EC products relatively less expensive, started to rebound as the dollar neared its peak value during 1984 and 1985. As the dollar weakened and world prices fell, export subsidies have permitted increased EC export sales at prices far below internal support levels."

According to the report, the 12 nations exported $28.1 billion worth of farm commodities last year, compared with $26.1 billion for the United States. If limited to 10 countries, the Europeans still tied the Americans, the report showed.

Comparatively, in 1976, U.S. farm exports were valued at $23 billion, against $11.8 billion for the European group of countries.

The analysis was prepared by the department's Economic Research Service as a staff report — "A Comparison of Agriculture in the United States and the European Community" — by agency economists Mark Newman, Tom Fulton and Lewrene Glaser.

Officials said the report was designed to help policymakers as they explore options for protecting farm incomes on both sides of the Atlantic while cutting back on price and income supports.

Members of the Common Market grew from the original six nations in 1957 to nine in 1973 and to 10 in 1981. Last year's entry of Portugal and Spain raised the bloc to 12 countries. The others are: Belgium, West Germany, France, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Denmark, Ireland, United Kingdom and Greece.

The total population of the 12 countries was shown at 320 million, compared with 235 million in the United States.

In 1985, the most recent year shown, about 3.18 million Americans worked on farms, including hired workers and farm operators, equal to 3 percent of the U.S. work force. In Europe, 7.67 million were working on farms, 7.2 percent of the work force.

Other comparisons cited by the report:

—Average sizes of U.S. farms are 438 acres, compared with 42 in Europe. In 1984, there were about 2.3 million farms in the United States, compared with 6.8 million in the 10-nation bloc. Expansion to 12, boosted the number to 9.8 million farms.

—Dairy, livestock and grains account for the bulk of EC farm production, although fruits, vegetables and oilseeds are becoming more important.

—Beef and veal production is more important to U.S. livestock producers, while dairy is more important in Europe. Coarse grains such as corn make up a larger share of U.S. grain, while wheat is more important to the European farmer.

—Agricultural price support in the EC is "paid for through high consumer prices as well as government payments to store surpluses and subsidize exports and processing." Producers are protected from international competitors by a variable levy, a system of import taxes.

—In the United States, farmers get "deficiency" payments or subsidies to support incomes, meaning that consumer prices are held down from what they otherwise might be.

The report noted that in 1984 food prices in the 10-nation bloc required an average of 20.2 percent of the typical household's annual income, compared with 11.7 percent in the United States.

Ann Landers

Humor may be best defense

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I think I can top the person who wrote complaining about the idiocy of the phone company. Talk about garbage in-garbage out!

When AT&T split with Bell we had three phones in our houses. The equipment belonged to Ma Bell and the service belonged to AT&T.

After we returned all the phone equipment to Ma Bell, we received a bill for $0.00. My husband and I took turns calling people to get this straightened out.

Shortly after that we were informed that our bill for $0.00 was overdue. My husband, just to be cute, sent a check to Ma Bell for $0.00. A few weeks later, we received a check for $5 and a note thanking us. We didn't cash the check, thinking this has to be a mistake. After six months nothing happened so we cashed it.

Several months later, we received another computerized bill for $0.00. We called again, got nowhere, so we sent another check for $0.00. A few weeks later we received another $5 refund with the same thank you.

This went on every three months for two years. Now we are down to once a year and have given up trying to straighten this out. We just cash the $5 and forget about it.

They say that computers don't make mistakes, but people sure do. Someone out there likes us very much or they are awfully stupid.—Linda K.R. in California

DEAR LINDA: And some people think I make up letters! Thanks for demonstrating that a sense of humor can be the best defense against frustration, anger, ulcers and migraines.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 16-year-old daughter is in love with a 17-year-old boy. My husband hates this guy. She is not to see him or talk to him. His name is not to be mentioned in our home. I say it's not normal for an adult to hate a kid so much.

I have talked to the school principal and several teachers. "Howard" is not a terrific student but he is not as bad as my husband seems to think. Our daughter could do a lot worse.

My life is total hell with my daughter bawling in one room about her "lost love" and my husband swearing in another room about "that no good bum."

I say that we should let them see each other, because the more my husband tries to keep them apart, the more determined they will be to defy his wishes. My husband says that if our daughter so much as talks to Howard he will kick her out of the house.

My husband and I have not spoken for two weeks. He says he can't believe I would take up for that rotten kid, that I should be on his side and our daughter should do as she's told, period. I am not on his side, and I think he is totally unreasonable. He thinks I'm wrong. You decide. I am within days of being admitted to a nut ward. Please help—soon!—Atlanta wreck

DEAR WRECK: Of course you are right. That pig-headed husband of your is going to drive the girls right into the arms of "that rotten kid"—or someone who is a lot worse.

For your daughter's sake I hope your husband will talk to a counselor about this situation. I have a feeling that he isn't going to like anybody who shows the slightest interest in his little girls. I also have a feeling that he might resist counseling, and if he does, you and your daughter should go to a counselor or your clergyman for guidance. Good luck to everybody.

Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," explains every aspect of sexual behavior—where to draw the line, how to say no, the various methods of contraception, the dangers of VD, the symptoms and where to get help. For a copy, send $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Blackwell feted with bridal shower

Linda Blackwell, July 16 bride-elect of Tony Gilliam, was feted with a bridal shower Sunday afternoon at 405 Centre. The couple plans to exchange wedding vows in the gazebo at the E.B. Black House.

The honoree is the daughter of LaRue Blackwell and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Davis.

Miss Blackwell welcomed guests with her mother, the prospective bridegroom's mother, and her grandmother, Elizabeth Hix. They were each presented corsages of peach colored feathred mums and daisies, and lace that will be used in the bride's wedding dress.

The registry table was covered with an antique handquilted floral garden design cloth and was appointed with the bride's book and pen. The gift display table was covered with a matching cloth.

Becky Martinez ladled punch and Jill Gallagher served coffee from the serving table layed with a white linen cloth and appointed by a silver coffee service and punch bowl. The centerpiece consisted of a potted ivy accented with peach colored daisies and a matching bow.

Refreshments included fresh fruit served from silver and crystal pieces, assorted cookies, apricot punch and coffee.

The honoree received as hostesses' gifts a floor lamp designed with an oak finish table and magazine rack and an electric mixer.

Serving as hostesses were Margie Ford, Oleta Diller, Carla Smith, Joanne Burfield, Cheryl Davison, Lorraine Grant, Esther Frazier, Lydia Claudio, Dolores Foster, Irene Mullins, Bonnie Day, Lynda Glenn, Pauline Smith, Ruth Williams, Ludie Greeson, Becky Tidwell and Jill Gallagher.

New Arrivals

Cheri and John Richard Sparks are the parents of a son, John Richard II, born June 28 at Big Spring. He weighed 6 lbs. 9 oz.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bub Sparks of Hereford and the great-grandmother is Hazel Sparks, also of Hereford.

Carla Fry recently attends Girls State

Carla Fry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dwayne Fry of Hereford, attended Girls State in Seguin recently. She was sponsored by Hereford High School and the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 192.

During the ten day session lasting from June 16-26 the citizens heard talks from several prominent persons. Among them were two former citizens of Bluebonnet Girls State: Ann Richards, state treasurer, and Carole Reeton Rylander, former mayor of Austin, and former members of the Texas State Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Mrs. Marie Gregory, president,

American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Texas; Mrs. Betty Jean Jones, mayor of Seguin; and Commander John W.J. Richter, American Legion, Department of Texas, spoke to the citizens during opening ceremonies on June 17.

Supreme Court Justice Robert M. Campbell administered the oath of office to the elected state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State Monday, June 22, in the rotunda of the state capitol. Secretary of State Jack Rains represented Gov. Clements and addressed the citizens during the inauguration of the Bluebonnet Girls State officials.

The 1987 session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of ninety-four girls, held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the largest single extracurricular educational program for high school girls in Texas. This year 580 girls are in attendance, making a total of more than 18,500 girls in Texas who have participated in this top-level citizenship program.

Former citizens of Girls State and members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Texas, comprise the 70 members of the staff and counselors who volunteer their services to direct and lead this program.

Girls State was organized as a national Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. The purposes of this non-political program are to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults.

They learn the problems of government by simulating the duties of city, county, and state officials. Each year citizens are selected at local levels from students who have just completed their junior year in high school. The selection is based principally on leadership, citizenship, character, and scholarship.

NCAA's 'new experiment' faces test

DALLAS (AP) — The "Bold, New Experiment" of the NCAA's powerful Presidents Commission faced a stern test today as opposition rose up against cost-cutting measures aimed at restoring perspective to collegiate athletics.

The NCAA kicked off its special two-day convention, called by the Presidents Commission, with a forum on Monday on the role of athletics in American universities. The commission hopes to continue the forum for 1½ years, leading to major reforms at its 1989 convention.

Today, 43 less ambitious cost-cutting items were on a voting agenda. They would, among other things, cut scholarships, reduce lengths of seasons, cut the size of coaching staffs and set up commission studies of other possible areas of reduction.

Several of the items were expected to be tabled — the result, in part, of impassioned pleas during Monday's forum from some of the bigger athletic universities and their supporters.

Although there were suggestions ranging from a more equitable distribution of athletic wealth to the total abolition of bowl games and athletic scholarships, the most popular and professionally delivered speech at Monday's forum came from Michigan football Coach Bo Schembechler.

"Big and successful does not mean corrupt. Not at all," Schembechler said, the pitch of his voice rising as though he were addressing a locker room full of striped football helmets. "Revenue producing is not a sin. How can it be a sin when we talk about revenue sharing? You mean it's more pleasant to receive than to give?"

Although Schembechler's remarks were greeted by applause and laughter, the Presidents Commission was confident of at least partial victory.

"I think that the major thing here is not so much (the voting on) the particular proposals. It's what people want to make of the particular proposal," said Ira Michael Heyman, president of Cal-Berkeley and the Presidents Commission's main speaker Monday. "If they want to read that a defeat of it means that this bold new experiment in the NCAA is dead, then there's a real worry about voting it down. If it gets voted down, I hope they don't read it that way.

"I think somebody made a perfectly valid observation that we really ought to be dealing with larger issues, and if a particular thing gets voted down because it seems to be flawed in some way, so it gets voted down."

Two proposals were expected to cause most of the argument on the floor today. One, resolution No. 19, would cut the total number of football scholarships from 95 to 90, a proposal of the Pacific-10 Conference and not the commission. The other, resolution No. 2, would limit the total playing and practice seasons in all sports to 26 weeks.

Schembechler said it would be impossible to operate a football program with less than 95 scholarships. The Pac-10, however, has been telling delegates here that if their football scholarship limit proposal is tabled or defeated, they will move that resolution No. 18, a proposal to cut grants in other sports, also be tabled.

Resolution No. 2 has drawn fire from, among others, the U.S. Olympic Committee. The USOC says a 26-week limit on practice and playing seasons would force potential international athletes in such sports as swimming and gymnastics to seek coaching elsewhere.

"Most athletes will drop out of school and that defeats the whole purpose of the legislation," said Jeff Diamond of the U.S. Swimming Federation. "What choice do you have if you are a world class athlete with a chance of winning a gold medal?"

Texas A&M Athletic Director Jackie Sherrill said there could be so much discussion of the 26-week season "that we may not get to the rest of the convention."

Since football and basketball fall generally within the 26-week limit, there was not expected to be much opposition from those sports. In fact, Schembechler said, "If you want to do that, we'll go along with it."

A proposal to reduce spring football practice from 36 to 30 days was expected to pass unopposed. There also was a proposal to eliminate spring practice in Division II.

One resolution, No. 21, probably will be ruled out of order by the Presidents Commission. Sponsored by several universities, it would increase basketball scholarships from 13 to 15. They were cut from 15 last January, and the new resolution does not follow the Presidents Commission's stated purpose for the special convention.

Resolution No. 28 would cut football coaching staffs from nine to eight assistants.

Charlie McClendon, executive director of the American Football Coaches Association, said that the only thing accomplished by that reduction would be hurting "the teaching process with the kids. Assistants don't make that much."

"The coaches have been very responsive to cost-containment," Penn State Coach Joe Paterno said. "But it's getting to where we may have to decide what kind of game we want — do we want to de-emphasize like the Ivy League?"

A proposal cutting financial awards to such sports as women's tennis, swimming, soccer, golf and track, was expected to draw opposition from women's groups, led by Donna Lopiano, women's athletic director at Texas.

"It's patently discriminatory and puts women's programs behind the 8-ball where they've been anyway," she said.

Lopiano was among several speakers who argued at Monday's forum that there was nothing intrinsically wrong with making money from sports.

"When an educational institution produces excellence, there is a public demand to consume that educational product, be it athletic contests or superconducting materials, or government contracts or intellectual expertise of our faculty," she said.

"There is nothing wrong with the commercialization of sport, number one, as long as ... the public does not dictate or limit the university's search for truth ... (and) second, as long as exploitation of this excellence does not involve exploitation of human beings."

Speaking against Heyman's points of de-emphasis, Schembechler said: "I believe strongly that intercollegiate athletics on any level is one of the greatest experiences that a young man or young woman can do in his college career. You must believe that. If you have ever played the game, you know how important it is to you."

"The greatest experience I ever had at my university was my association with that football team," he said, his voice again rising. "I believe that strongly. And wherever I have coached, I have carried on that premise, that I want that experience to be the greatest experience that they have in college. I don't mean the most important. Naturally the most important thing is to get a degree. ...

"I'm for cost cutting if you have to. I'm not for de-emphasis, though. I'm for emphasis."

After the forum, North Carolina State athletic director and basketball Coach Jim Valvano stood at the back of the large auditorium, almost in awe of Schembechler's oratorical powers.

Yankees win homerun derby; Texas slips by Seattle, 4-3

By The Associated Press

Owner George Steinbrenner, who once ridiculed Dave Winfield's run production by calling him "Mr. May," is going to have to come up with a new nickname for his power-hitting outfielder. How about Mr. June?

In 26 games this month, Winfield has batted .306 with 25 runs batted in and seven home runs. Monday night, he drove in six runs with two homers, the second a grand slam, as the Yankees outlasted the Toronto Blue Jays 15-14.

It was an emotional victory for the Yankees, who took a one-game lead over the Blue Jays in the American League East. New York saw an 11-4 lead turn into a 14-11 deficit before Winfield's eighth-inning heroics.

"But this couldn't last until September," Winfield said of the gut-wrenching opener of a three-game series at Toronto. "Everybody would be dead. You can't play with that type of intensity on a daily basis."

It was the 12th victory in 17 games for New York since Toronto swept three games at Yankee Stadium to build a 2½-game lead.

In other American League games Monday night, major league batting leader Wade Boggs drove in seven runs with a grand slam, a two-run triple and a single as Boston thrashed Baltimore 14-3; Jack Morris won his 11th game as Detroit bombed Milwaukee 11-1; Wally Joyner drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a single as California won its eighth in a row, 11-4 over Cleveland; Chicago cooled off Oakland 5-2 behind the seven-hit pitching of Richard Dotson; Pete O'Brien singled in the deciding run in the eighth as Texas beat Seattle 4-3; and Bo Jackson's homer allowed Kansas City to beat Minnesota 3-2 in a game called after 4½ innings because of rain.

Yankees 15, Blue Jays 14
On a night when the wind was blowing out of Toronto's Exhibition Stadium, the Yankees and Blue Jays combined for eight home runs, including two grand slams by the Yankees to tie a major-league record.

Don Mattingly connected for the first one in the second inning to give New York an 8-3 lead that eventually reached 11-4 before Toronto unleashed its own long-ball attack.

Winfield hit his grand slam in the eighth.

Red Sox 14, Orioles 3
Boggs, who lifted his average to .384, was upset that he missed hitting for the cycle against the hapless Orioles, who lost for the 25th time in 30 games.

"It's strange that I missed it because I couldn't hit a double," Boggs said. "I hit 40 to 50 doubles a year, one of the easiest things for me to do. It's ironic that's the one hit I couldn't get."

Boggs singled in a run in the first, tripled for two more in the fourth and hit his second career grand slam in the sixth.

This was the 15th time in AL history that three grand slams had been hit on the same day. Boston's Ellis Burks and Marty Barrett and Cleveland's Tony Bernazard did it earlier this season.

Tigers 11, Brewers 1
Morris, 11-3, got out of the first inning unscathed despite walking the bases loaded, then limited Milwaukee to two hits through the next six innings. He struck out seven and walked six.

Angels 11, Indians 4
Don Sutton, 5-8, moved past Gaylord Perry to 12th on the all-time list with his 315th pitching victory. Cleveland has given up 71 runs in the 72 innings of an eight-game losing streak.

The 42-year-old Sutton allowed six hits and two runs in five innings before two lengthy rain delays ended his evening. Greg Minton pitched four innings for his fourth save.

Joyner's run-scoring single made it 4-0 in the third and he hit a three-run homer to highlight a six-run rally in the seventh.

The winning streak, longest since a 10-game string in April 1979, pulled the Angels within four games of first-place Minnesota in the AL West.

White Sox 5, Athletics 2
Harold Baines and Ivan Calderon hit consecutive home runs in the third inning and Dotson, 5-5, allowed seven hits. Oakland, which had 23 runs and 10 homers in two previous games against Cleveland, managed only two extra-base hits off Dotson.

Dotson struck out seven and walked four in his third complete game, ending Oakland's four-game winning streak.

Rangers 4, Mariners 3
Pete O'Brien, who has hit .356 with 22 RBI in June, singled home Jerry Browne in the eighth inning to make a winner of reliever Mitch Williams.

Williams, 5-3, struck out four in two innings after taking over for Greg Harris, who went seven innings.

Royals 3, Twins 2
Kansas City squeezed out all the runs it needed in the seven minutes between two rain delays in the fifth inning at Royals Stadium. After taking three balls from Minnesota starter Les Straker, 3-5, Frank White sat out a 20-minute delay before rapping a single to center. Jim Eisenreich doubled White to third, from where he scored when Straker balked. A wild pitch scored Eisenreich and Jackson followed with the game-deciding homer over the 410-foot sign in center field.

One out later, the rain resumed. The game was called 1 hour and 33 minutes later.

Hereford Boys Score High

Hereford's summer track team captured 26 entrants in the Borger AAU Track Meet Saturday. Among the top medal and ribbon winners were these local entrants:

Girls Rank High In Track

These girls on the summer Hereford track team were among the local entrants who won medals or ribbons at the Borger AAU Track Meet Saturday. left to right: Angela Phibbs, Megan Sanderson, Jill Robinson, Natasha Colvin, Christine Moore, Nakia Banes, Mitzi Villarreal and Jessica Huffaker.

Hereford Track Club reaps medals

Hereford's Track Club scored well in the Borger AAU Track & Field Meet Saturday, capturing 13 first-place and 9 second-place individual medals as well as finishing first in two relays and second in another.

The Hereford team had 26 individuals participating in the meet. The team's next goal is the TAAF Region IX Track and Field Meet at Texas Tech on July 11. First and second-place winners will advance to the state meet in Fort Worth. Only first-place relay teams will qualify for state. James Perkins is coach of the track club.

Hereford had several double winners in the meet Saturday. Brooke Perkins took the gold medal in both the 200 and 400-meter dashes in the senior boys division. Pat Mercer captured first in the 110 and 400-meter hurdles, as well as a second in the high jump in the intermediate category.

Petey Colvin won the 100 and 200-meter dash events in junior boys and added a second-place in the high jump. Jessica Huffaker won the long jump and the 100-meter dash in the bantam girls' division. Natasha Colvin was first in the shot put and ran on the first-place 400-meter relay team in the bantam girls' division. Shawn Fogo won the shot put and ran on the first-place 1600-meter relay team in the midjet boys. Angela Phibbs captured first in the 100 and 200-meters in the intermediate girls' division.

Other top finishers included Amber Brooks—three seconds in the intermediate division in long jump, 100 meters and 100-meter hurdles; Mitzi Villarreal—first in the 100 meters and second in the shot put in junior girls; Nakia Barnes, Megan Sanderson, Crystal Mercer and Huffaker, first in the 400 meter relay, bantam girls; Sanderson, second in the shot put; Michael Brown, Jason Eades, Stacey Sanders and Fogo, first in the 1600-meter relay, midjet boys; and Brown, Eades, Sanders and Fogo, second in the 400-meter relay.

Anderson, Streun help Legion baseball team win three

The Amarillo Smokey City Titans, an American Legion baseball team composed of stars from Amarillo, Canyon, Hereford, Dumas and Borger, captured three victories over the weekend.

The Titans swept a doubleheader from Pampa, 8-3 and 10-1, Sunday in a home bill at Canyon. The Amarillo team posted a 9-6 win over Guymon, Ok., Friday night.

Hereford's Keith Anderson pitched a one-hitter in the second game Sunday, and he had two doubles in two trips to spark the top-sided victory in five innings. Kyle Streun of Hereford had three hits in four trips Friday night, including two doubles, to pace a 14-hit attack. Other Hereford players on the team are Keith Her-raera and Bobby Medina.

In Sunday's first game, Bryan Long of Dumas pitched a five-hitter and struckout 10 batters. Amarillo took advantage of 10 walks issued by the Pampa hurler to score 8 runs on just 5 hits. In the second game, Anderson whiffed 12 batters and walked only one. He struckout each batter in the lineup at least once. In the twinbill, the first game went seven innings and the second game was stopped after five frames.

Gilbert Escobar of Borger was the winning pitcher in the Friday game. Paul Jolley of Canyon pitched two innings for the save and the pair combined for 15 strikeouts. Amarillo stole seven bases in the game and repeated that statistic in the second game Sunday. It was the third time this season the team had swiped seven bases in one game.

The Titans travel to Bartlesville, Ok., Friday to enter an 8-team, double elimination tournament. Teams from five states will be entered and the Amarillo team opens against Enid, Ok., Friday morning.

BASEBALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willie Horton hit three home runs and drove in eight runs to lead the American League to a 24-11 comeback victory over the National League in the Sixth Annual Old Timers Game.

The AL Stars trailed 11-0, but scored all their runs in the final three innings of the five-inning game.

Rocky Colavito hit two homers for the AL, including a grand slam in the fourth inning that put the AL Stars ahead for good. There were 13 home runs in the five-inning contest, many of them over the left field wall that stood only 250 feet from the plate.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie first baseman Mark McGwire, who batted .565 and slugged five homers for the Oakland Athletics last week, was named American League player of the week for the period ending Sunday.

McGwire scored 11 runs and drove in eight runs during the week. He had a slugging percentage of 1.304 and an on-base percentage of .615.

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Tony Gwynn, who hit .542 for the San Diego Padres last week, has been named National League player of the week for the period ending Sunday.

Gwynn had 13 hits in 24 at-bats, scored six runs and drove in three last week to raise his batting average to .381, best in the National League.

GOLF

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Vance Heafner, whose play on the pro tour has been hampered by a sore back, shot a steady 6-under-par 66 Monday to win the 21st Amana VIP golf tournament.

George Archer, who tied for the VIP title in 1981, Jim Thorpe, Steve Jones and Doug Tewell all finished one stroke back at 67. VIP founder Julius Boros, who has played in the tournament every year, was part of a large group at 69.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Cindy Scholefield of Malibu, Calif., defeated qualifying-round medalist Kay Cockerill in sudden death in the semifinals of the 45th annual Broadmoor Ladies Invitational golf tournament.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Keep cake from sticking to the pan

By Polly Fisher

DEAR POLLY — I have a problem getting cakes to come out of the tins without sticking either to the sides or bottom of the pans. I grease the tins, dust with flour and, after baking, let the cake layers sit on a rack 15 minutes before trying to remove them. Do you have any further suggestions? — LOUISE

DEAR LOUISE — I think you're waiting too long before removing the cake layers from the pans. Try waiting just five minutes. This gives time for the cake to firm up slightly, lessening the chance of the cake breaking, but the shortening used to grease the pans is still warm, allowing the cake to release from the pans. Waiting until the cake is cool usually causes sticking.

Other points to consider: Are you using solid vegetable shortening to grease the pans? This works better than oil.

Are you sure you're coating the pans with a good, even layer of shortening and flour? Missing a few spots can cause sticking.

Commercial spray-on products that contain both oil and flour are available in many grocery stores and usually provide a good finish and an easy-releasing cake. You might try such a product if you're still having problems.

Non-stick pans are helpful, too. However, when using them for sweet baked goods, even non-stick pans should be greased and floured.

Hope one or more of these suggestions results in perfect cakes! — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Here's a neat way to keep children's shoes from becoming untied. When making an ordinary bow, after crossing the laces, flip the lace under the crossed part as usual, then flip under a second time. When forming the loop for the bow, hold the loop and wrap the other lace around the loop twice before taking hold of each loop to pull tight. The result is like a double knot, but can be untied by just pulling one end of the lace. There's no knot to undo. Hope this is clear. It works great! — JEAN

Art workshop set for July 20 in Amarillo

The Amarillo Arts Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will host a one-day area-wide seminar and workshop on key issues facing community arts organizations in the Panhandle area.

Set for Monday, July 20, the session will be held at the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce offices, 1000 S. Polk, in the John Stiff Board Room. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

The event is part of the Texas Arts Council's sixth annual Regional Meeting Series, held each summer in 13 locations throughout the state. The Texas Arts Council is a nonprofit, statewide "umbrella" association serving community arts councils, arts commissions, and other local arts organizations in the state.

The agenda includes an update on current legislation affecting local arts programming, including effects of the Special Session; a survey of resources, services, and communications opportunities available from the Texas Arts Council; information on the Texas Commission on the Arts, state funding agency; "networking" opportunities to share concerns and exchange information with representatives of other arts organizations in the area; plus a workshop dealing with Arts in Education. There will be a one-hour break for lunch, with the program expected to conclude around 3 p.m.

There is no charge for the Texas Arts Council-sponsored seminar, which is open to all interested individuals. It is made possible in part by a services contract with the Texas Commission on the Arts and corporate support from the Tandy Corporation/Radio Shack and Standard Oil Company.

Texas Arts Council President Peter Fox, Jr. is overall coordinator of the Regional Series, and Texas Commission on the Arts Executive Director Richard Huff will be in Amarillo to provide information on projects of the Commission.

Those wishing to register for the seminar should contact the Texas Arts Council, 3939 Bee Caves Road, Suite 1, Austin, Tx. 78746, telephone 512/327-5282 or they may call Becky Zenor at the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, 373-7800.

DR. GOTT

Finding cause of diarrhea

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am terribly upset. Sometimes at night I wake up having had watery diarrhea. There's no warning. During the day I have to run to the bathroom for hours. What can I do?

DEAR READER — Chronic diarrhea, with or without urgency, can have many causes. Peptic ulcer, bowel inflammation and intolerance to certain elements in your diet — such as milk sugar — are common causes. You need an examination, possibly with stool analyses and X-rays of your intestinal tract, to determine the reason for your problem. Your family doctor is the place to start. He or she can initiate the investigation and, if an obvious cause is not discovered, can refer you to an appropriate specialist for more sophisticated testing, such as endoscopy, during which a qualified doctor can examine your upper and lower intestine with a flexible, lighted tube. Once the cause of your unpleasant and distressing diarrhea is identified, treatment should correct the problem.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is the prognosis for bone cancer? I was told I had it nine months ago. I can cope with it if I have the information needed to make decisions.

DEAR READER — The prognosis for bone cancer — indeed, for any malignancy — depends on the type of tumor. Some bone cancers are highly malignant and resistant to treatment; the prognosis is poor. On the other hand, other types seem to respond quite satisfactorily to chemotherapy and radiation. For example, osteosarcoma of children, once a dreaded and fatal bone tumor, is now curable in a high percentage of cases.

Your doctor, preferably with the help of a cancer specialist called an oncologist, is the person who can best answer your questions.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report, VIRUSES AND CANCER, which tells about the latest discoveries in cancer research. Other readers who want a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is the safest product for a woman to douche with?

DEAR READER — Most commercially available douches are safe — but expensive. Some women experience allergic reactions to the components of a douche; fortunately, these reactions are rare.

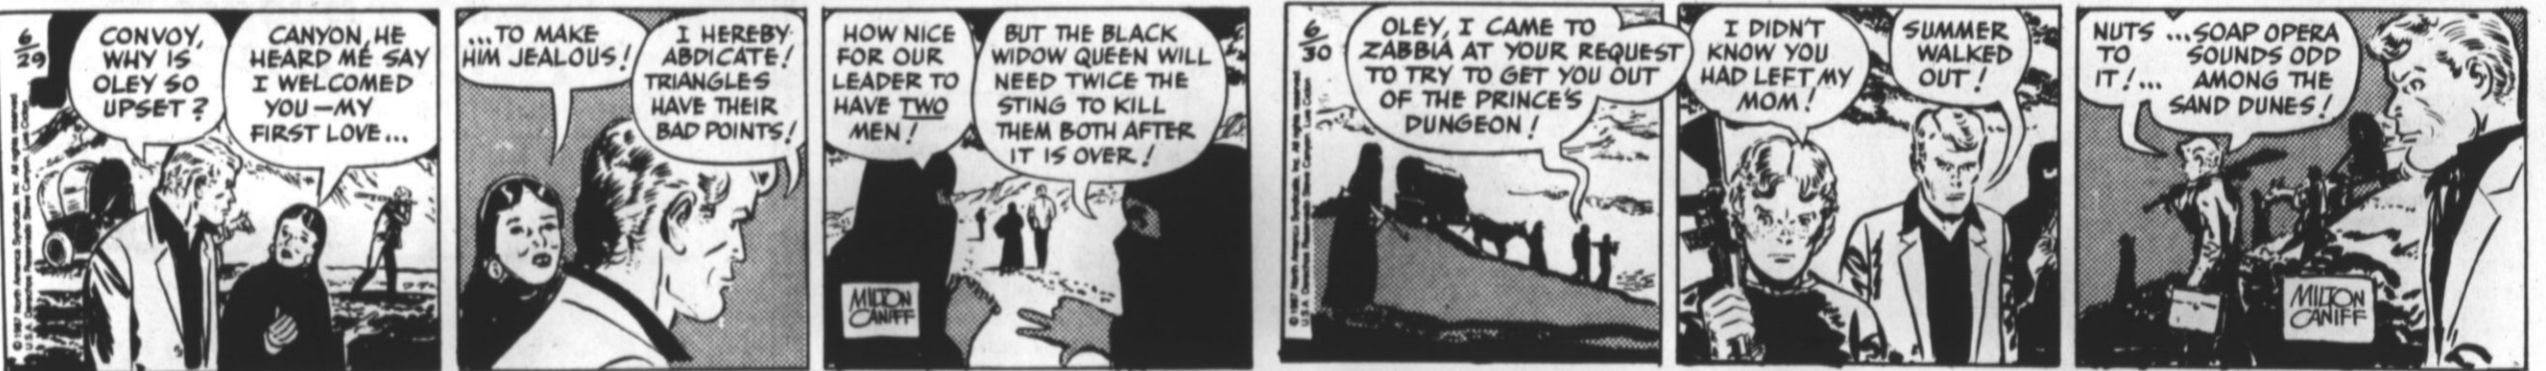

In my opinion, an effective and inexpensive douche can be made at home. To a quart of warm water, add either two tablespoons of white vinegar or two tablespoons of baking soda. These concoctions work, and I have yet to see a patient with an unpleasant reaction to them.

If you are a sole proprietor or a business partner, don't let the paperwork required for "tax-qualified" retirement plans scare you, says the Equitable Assurance Society of the U.S. Despite changes made by the new tax law, these plans can still be good tools for building substantial retirement wealth on a tax-favored basis. That's because they still offer two favorite tax advantages: deductions and deferrals.

"It is easier to fight for one's principles than to live up to them."—Alfred Adler, Austrian physician and psychologist (1870-1937).

CLASSIFIED ADS
Classified advertising rates are based on cents a word for first insertion ($2.00 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80
5th day FREE

Ten days (2 free) is $15.80 minimum; 15 days (3 free) is $23.80 minimum; one month is $31.80 minimum.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALIS
Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS
Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Newspaper Bible

JUST HOLD ON AND HANG LOOSE

But when you are arrested and stand trial, don't worry about what to say in your defense. Just say what God tells you to. Then you will not be speaking, but the Holy Spirit will.

Brothers will betray each other to death, fathers will betray their own children, and children will betray their parents to be killed.

And everyone will hate you because you are Mine. But all who endure to the end without renouncing Me shall be saved.

When you see the horrible thing standing in the Temple—reader, pay attention!—flee, if you can, to the Judean hills.

Hurry! If you are on your rooftop porch, don't even go back into the house. If you are out in the fields, don't even return for your money or clothes.

Woe to pregnant women in those days, and to mothers nursing their children.

And pray that your flight will not be in winter.

For those will be days of such horror as have never been since the beginning of God's creation, nor will ever be again.

And unless the Lord shortens that time of calamity, not a soul in all the earth will survive. But for the sake of His chosen ones He will limit those days.

And then if anyone tells you, "This is the Messiah," or "That one is," don't pay any attention.

For there will be many false Messiahs and false prophets who will do wonderful miracles that would deceive, if possible, even God's own children.

Take care! I have warned you!

COMPENSATION & BENEFITS SPECIALIST

Battelle one of the world's largest research and development organizations, currently has an excellent human resources opportunity available within its Office of Nuclear Waste Isolation Project for a compensation and benefits specialist. This professional position will be responsible for the preparation and maintenance of job descriptions for exempt and nonexempt jobs, assisting in job evaluation, market survey analyses, administering the salary program, maintaining personnel records and coordinating the benefits program. To qualify, you must:

- Have a basic knowledge and understanding of the fundamental concepts of job analysis, job evaluation, and quantitative methods as it applies to compensation administration;
- Possess excellent communication and writing skills, including demonstrated experience in the preparation of effective job descriptions;
- Have experience in operating a personal computer and in utilizing various analytical and data management software in support of a human resource information system.

These skills are typically acquired through completion of a bachelor's degree in human resources or business related field, combined with approximately 2-3 years' experience in a compensation and benefits or personnel generalist support function within an automated information systems environment.

We offer a comprehensive benefits program and a highly competitive salary commensurate with your background. If you are interested in being considered, send your resume, in confidence, to: Ronald L. Jones.
