IN THURSDAY MEETING

County Board Tables Bus Issue

Two motions were passed Thursday morning by the Deaf Smith County School Board regarding the four 72-passenger school buses for the Hereford Independent School District — but neither of them gave approval of purchase.

As indicated by the Hereford board earlier, no representative appeared from either the trustee or administrative branches at the special session.

County trustees agreed to another special meeting at 10 a. m. Tuesday requesting that the Hereford school board have a transportation representative appear with them as they discuss and vote on the approval or rejection of the buses in question.

Their request for the representation has been placed in the form of a letter mailed to Hereford trustee president Olin Parris, with copies going to the other trustees and superintendent Johnny Clark Jr.

Although invitation was open for the city school's representation at the Thursday meeting, it was reported that no written invitation had been offered.

Forthwith, a second motion was passed stipulating that another letter be sent to the Hereford Independent School District requesting that (1969-70) bus routes be sent to the County Board as soon as possible for approval prior to June 1.

County trustees pointed out that June 1 is the state deadline for their approval on the bus routes. Heretofore the proposed routes have not been received for consideration until mid-June during the past two years.

Although the school buses are operated in the jurisdiction of the Hereford Independent School District, the Deaf Smith County School Board stated that it has the responsibility under state law to approve all bus purchases and their maintenance, along with the approval of routes which the buses will travel.

However, the law does offer a bit of confusion for two separate boards, it was stated. Don Baugous, a county trustee, said that he would "like a clarification of the law, even if it means a hearing in Austin."

He indicated that both boards, under the same state rulings, at times have similar responsibilities, and that it is possible that the state attorney general should decide who should have the various responsibilities.

Moreover, trustee L. J. Straffuss reported that the voters in his precinct did not want the 72-passenger buses because they are reportedly a danger to the children over some of "the dirt roads they would travel. I would have to vote no due to this danger." But he said that he would approve 66-passenger buses.

The 72-passenger bus is described as longer than the 66-passenger type, so that two additional seat rows may be included in the rear.

The four 72-passenger buses (along with a 48-passenger Special Education bus which was approved by the county board) were approved by the Hereford Independent School District trustees at their Feb. 11 meeting, "under the recommendation of the Texas Education Agency."

County Judge H. C. Williams, who is ex-officio county school superintendent, reported to the trustees Thursday morning that he had received "personal" letters from the Texas Education Agency which requested that the 72-passenger buses be approved and that his secretary, Mrs. Jay Spain, had received a telephone call from a TEA official in Austin on the same proposition.

All public school buses are funded through the Texas Education Agency.

Clark reported to the Board earlier that the Hereford Independent School District must "rely on state decisions and recommendations" because transportation is "supposedly" 100 per cent state financed — although the schools do use some of their own money for transportation here.

But Clark stated that he felt the dispute was between the county board and the Texas Education Agency, "and if there is a dispute between them, we do not want to become involved in it because of the county funds involved." He reported that the Hereford schools have been successful in increasing the state grant here by approximately $16,000 from the TEA through local cooperation.

Hereford trustees issued the statement that "this becomes a problem that needs to be submitted to the state for clarification."

Judge Williams told the trustees at the county board meeting that there is still "no animosity" between the two local boards.

The TEA recommendation indicated that the new 72-passenger buses would replace smaller buses here.

County trustees reported that they were interested in having a Hereford schools transportation representative present at their Tuesday meeting to discuss the number of 72-passenger buses already in operation here, among other related subjects.

Present at the Thursday meeting were Grant Hanna, Robert Strain, Straffuss, and Baugous. Trustees president Floyd Brown was absent due to conflicting business.

Local law enforcement officials picked up a former New York state resident in connection with swindling with worthless checks totaling almost $20,000 and on three warrants issued by New York officials.

James Hayes, 33, who had purchased the former Hacker and Jesko meat company, was picked up by local officials on March 16.

The out of state warrants were for forgery, possession of a forged instrument and a third warrant which was unclear. The local warrants were for passing checks for $9,000 and $10,000 and $7,000 believed that a total of $85,000 in worthless checks were still out in the surrounding area.

Numerous persons who had received bad checks on Hayes have already started involuntary bankruptcy proceedings it was reported. Hayes is now free on bond.

Water Meeting Is Slated Thursday

Importing water to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will be discussed at the second annual meeting of Deaf Smith County Water Association to be held in the ball room of the Community Center, Thursday beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Everyone is invited to attend and offer comments and questions during the discussion period. Speakers will be W. P. Axe, vice president of the association; R. C. Godwin, president, and John D. Aikin, Hereford attorney who is helping other High Plains counties organize water associations.

Discussion will be centered around the recently published "Texas Water Plan" that proposes the transfer of enough surplus Mississippi River water to completely replace the diminishing underground water supplies of the High Plains. The cost of bringing water to the High Plains would amount to about eight billion of the 10 billion dollars expected to be needed to finance the entire Texas Water Plan.

The money would come from both the state and federal governments and most of it would be repaid by water users over a long-term period. Payment of agricultural water would be interest-free under federal reclamation law while the plan is designed to save the economy of West Texas, which is dependent upon irrigation water.

Availability of surplus water in the Mississippi River for export has not yet been determined, but according to

Absentee Vote Still Light For Trustees

Absentee vote total had risen to 3 ballots at the school tax office in the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees race by late Friday.

With the election date set for April 5 — one day prior to Easter — it is expected that absentee balloting will pick up before its conclusion on April 1, by school officials here. They believe that a number of voters will be out of the city over the holidays and will mark their choice as absentees.

Four candidates are running for three positions on the board. They are incumbents Olin Parris and Hugh Clearman, with Lowell Sharp and Wayne Phillips as newcomers

(Continued from page 1) representatives of the Deaf Smith Water Association, a study of this is being made by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, and their report is expected to be presented in 1972. The Bureau of Reclamation feasibility study should be completed in 1971.

Charles Hoover, program chairman, stated that the people of the High Plains need to be informed about the water project and that their active support will be necessary to have it authorized in Congress. "We are behind in educating our own people," he pointed out, "but here is an opportunity for everyone to learn about the project and what to do to make it a reality."

"Certainly all farmers should be vitally interested in imported water," Hoover concluded, "but the project equally affects the future economic status of every single business there is out here."

Thanks for the comments both wise and otherwise on the pinto bean cake. For evidence that vegetables are versatile, try this cake recipe given by Mrs. Steve Mies. This Beatnik Cake has no less than beets in it:

BEATNIK CAKE
 1 1/2 C plus 2 T. flour
 3/4 t. salt
 1/2 t. soda
 1 1/2 C. sugar
 9 T. cocoa
 3 eggs
 1 1/4 t. vanilla
 1 1/4 C. vegetable oil
 1 1/2 C. mashed and drained beets
 Beet eggs, add sugar and oil. Add sifted ingredients alternately with beets. Add vanilla. Bake at 300 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes.
 For more variety, here's a Sauerkraut chocolate cake.
 1 C. kraut
 Two-thirds C. butter or oil
 3 eggs
 1 t. baking powder
 1/2 t. salt
 1/2 C. cocoa
 1 1/2 C. minus 2 T. sugar
 1 t. vanilla
 2 1/4 C. sifted flour
 1/4 t. soda
 1 C. plus 4 T. water
 Rinse sauerkraut with water. Thoroughly drain and chop. Cream together butter and sugar. Beat in eggs, vanilla. Sift together dry ingredients. Add alternately with water to egg mixture. Stir in kraut.
 Pour in greased pan and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Frost with icing of your choice. Lovely and moist.

This topping will add interest.
MOCK WHIP CREAM
 2 T. flour
 1 C. milk

Mike Engler
In Who's Who

Mike Engler, a senior at the Abbey School, Canon City, Colo., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Engler, well-known in Hereford, received word yesterday that he was one of four Abbey seniors selected to appear in Merit's Who's Who Among American High School Students, an annual publication devoted to honoring outstanding graduating high school seniors throughout the nation.

Less than 3 per cent of the graduating seniors in the United States are selected for this recognition each year. Involved in many campus activities throughout the years he has spent at the Abbey School, Mike is a member of the student council, and editor of the school paper.

Besides having his personal biographical sketch included in the publication which is distributed to libraries, colleges, universities and corporations, he will also be eligible to compete for scholarships offered by Who's Who.

THE COLOR programs have been very well received. Almost everyone who attended the first in the series, has done something to "learn to see color." In some cases, two or more are working together to supplement each other's knowledge and skill. For a year we will be studying colors in dress.

My thanks to Velma Salviño for the nice collection of colors she gave me.

Some of the women comment that color is complicated and deceptive. One woman had over 20 tints and shades of blue. This was true blue. I wonder how many samples there would be if she had slipped over into blue-green and blue-violet.

Blues and blue-greens, which bring out in the skin the orangy pigment with the accent on the red side, are flattering to more skins than any other color. Red-violet is the most yellowing of all colors, since both the violet and red work toward making yellow more intense.

Whether it is good or bad to accentuate the yellow or red pigment in your skin depends on its own color content and on the relationship between the colors of your skin and hair.

My contention: There are so many shades in colors and so many cosmetics that a person can wear whatever color she pleases if she will go to the study and effort to accomplish this. Too, rules on color are made to be broken.

THE TAILOR'S ham pattern is in the office. Call us if you want us to mail you a pattern.

Too, we have the tomato bread and spiced tea recipe. They are yours for the asking. 364-3573.

Cedar-Rustic Western Red Cedar fencing blends well with today's modern home exteriors plus giving complete privacy and protection.

The low initial cost, simple construction method, and minimum maintenance qualities are just a few of the many wonderful features of this Western Red Cedar Fencing.

Because of the precision-cut 6' lengths and uniform machine-cut edge, Cedar-Rustic is ideal for the "do-it-yourselfer". Each piling of approximately 2 1/2" in width goes up fast. No trimming is necessary.

When galvanized or aluminum nails are used, Cedar-Rustic will weather to a delightful natural color without showing nail stains. This is in contrast with other wood fencing which turns dark with age. Cedar-Rustic never needs paint, stain, or sealer of any kind.

Imagine . . . a permanent fence with no upkeep!

The Paul Morgan Show and a dinner are scheduled at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn. Sponsored by Suit's Auto Supply Co. of Hereford, they have announced that they will pick up the tab on the entire affair and that door prizes will also be awarded.

Morgan, a field service engineer who is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, will discuss service problems on modern engines including oil consumption, short engine life, piston ring seating, cylinder distortion and surfaces, piston failures, sleeve installation, valve failures, combustion problems, and break-in procedures.

For the past 14 years, Morgan has been conducting auto engine clinics for service personnel for cars, trucks, industrial and farm tractors. He had six years of prior service as consultant to major fleets and machine shops in eight states, all in the heart of the automotive manufacturing area, Suit reported.

He also had several years of operating an automotive machine shop and spent two years rebuilding engines for the trade. Suit advised that people planning to attend the Paul Morgan Show should not forget that the dinner is included as part of the invitation.

White Hurls 4-Hitter Whitefaces Blank 'Dogs For Second Season Win

Behind Sheldon White's three-hit, nine strike-out performance, the Whiteface diamonders collected their second win of the season as they shut out the Plainview Bulldogs Friday, 1-0.

Plainview sent the first three Whitefaces down in order in the top of the first inning, then threatened to score when they went to bat in the bottom of the frame. With two out, a single by the Bulldog third sacker and an error on the Whiteface first baseman put Plainview runners on second and third, but White thwarted the uprising by fanning the next batter to end the inning.

Hereford managed to get a runner on in the second, and got him around to third, but he was picked off to end the frame and any chances of scoring. The locals again threatened in the fourth when leadoff batter Lynn Betts reached first on a Plainview error, stole second and third, but died there when the host hurler ended the inning by forcing Gary Crume, Whiteface centerfielder, to fly out.

Not idle themselves, Plainview threatened to tally in both the third and fourth frames when they got runners as far as third on one occasion and second on another.

to Lakin in 1953. He was graduated from Lakin High School in 1966 and attended Wichita State University.

He was inducted into the army January 15, 1967 and served one year in Vietnam, returning in June of 1968. He was stationed at Fort Hood, Texas, when he became ill.

He was later transferred to Brooks General Hospital at San Antonio, then to Denver where he had been confined about two weeks when he died.

He attended the Church of Christ.

In addition to his parents, and a sister Susan, grandfather, aunt and uncle, he is survived by the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McLain, Hart, Tex., two uncles, Bill Carthel of Friona and Bob Carthel of Amarillo.

ther. Both times, White ended the inning by striking out the side.

The sixth frame provided the winning run for the locals when rightfielder Tom McGowen reached first when the Bulldog catcher missed his third strike pitch. McGowen then stole second and scored on a double by leftfielder Gilbert Alanez.

Plainview was shut out in the sixth, but in the seventh inning they appeared on the verge of tying the game up when, with one out, the Bulldog centerfielder connected for a triple into deep right field. In a desperation effort, the Bulldogs attempted a suicide squeeze, but catcher Jim Loerwald latched on to the ball in time to tag the runner out at home, inches short of a score, to preserve a 1-0 victory for the Whitefaces.

Hereford collected three hits in the game as compared to host Plainview's four, while White sent nine batters down swinging and the Bulldog pitcher did the same to seven Whitefaces. Collecting hits for the locals was Randy Ragan, a single; Alanez's double; and a single by Jeff Loerwald.

Caprock's Longhorns are the next opponents on the schedule for the Whitefaces as the locals play host to them Monday in a 4 p. m. game. Tuesday the locals will journey to Portales, N. M. for another game set to begin at 4 p. m. Mountain Standard Time.

Cotton Loan Up For Change

Farm Bureau will recommend changes in the cotton loan program that will encourage mills to buy through established markets rather than the Commodity Credit Corp., according to Bill Walden of Hereford, President of the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau.

Walden said the American Farm Bureau Federation board of directors has approved a recommendation calling for extending the CCC cotton loan term to 12 months from the time cotton is placed in the loan, and setting the CCC re-sale price at 115 percent of the loan rate, plus carrying charges. Present expiration date for cotton in the loan is July 31.

Walden said the effect of the proposed change regarding loan term would be to extend the time in which the producer could manage his own cotton in the loan. During this period, the CCC could not sell this cotton in the market in competition with other cotton. The recommended higher re-sale price would have the effect of encouraging mills to buy through established markets rather than through the CCC, Walden said.

At The Library

Toy Dogs Are Book Subject

New books received by the Deaf Smith County Library deals with training of toy dogs and the life of an aristocratic Englishwoman on a plantation.

THE VINES OF YARRABEE

It was her aristocratic beauty, her fine English breeding, and her impeccable social sense that first drew Gilbert to Eugenia and made him think of her as the perfect mistress of Yarrabee, the great plantation and vineyard he had wrested from the wilderness. But from their wedding night on, as Eugenia learns more of the character of the virile, ruthlessly ambitious man she has married and the rugged land he has brought her to, the very elegance and delicacy her husband prized in her soon prove liabilities.

Though she is an unparalleled hostess, an understanding wife, and in time a splendid mother, Eugenia is appalled by many aspects of plantation life that her husband takes in enthusiastic stride. The convict slave laborers, the ever-present danger of vengeful escapes, the suffocating summer heat, and the merciless winters imperiling the precious vines of Yarrabee — none of these is what a cultivated Englishwoman has been prepared to expect from life.

Indeed, the real mistress of Yarrabee soon seems to be the attractive downstairs maid, Molly Jarvis, a refugee from a convict colony, for Gilbert increasingly seeks her out for the earthy satisfactions denied by his wife. And in handsome Colm O'Connor, an itinerant artist who comes to Yarrabee to paint her portrait, Eugenia seems at last to have found the sensitive, thoughtful lover she has yearned for, who will irrevocably alter her existence — and the existence of all those at Yarrabee.

Conference At Baptist Church

Wednesday will mark the beginning of the 5-day Missionary Conference at the Greenwood Baptist Church in Hereford, according to pastor Rev. Al Baum.

Missionaries Paul Steffler of Uruguay will be a speaker, along with Marvin Matthews of Australia, and Mike Pepper of Korea. Rev. Baum reported that possibly other missionaries will speak.

Meetings are planned each night beginning at 7:30. Final Sunday services will be held on the Greenwood Church's regular schedule.

Rev. Baum reported that the 1968 missionary collections here were almost 400 percent over the previous year's collections. "This year's goal is $12,000," he said.

Rev. Baum said that all local people are welcome to attend the services.

"We feel that the directness of the missionaries appearing here and presenting to us their personal needs is what is necessary to obtain a personal vision of others," he said.

Judson Nowotny New Education Minister Will Begin Duties

Judson Nowotny, former resident of Gulfport, Mississippi, has taken over duties as Minister of Education at the First Baptist Church, it was announced recently.

At Gulfport, Nowotny served as Minister of Education to a congregation of 3000 persons.

He is a native of San Antonio and he and his wife have three children, ages 15, 13 and nine. They will reside at 122 N. Texas.

Presenting a close-up of all the toy dogs, from the delightful Toy Poodle and the Papillon to the aristocratic Pekingese of China and the graceful Italian Greyhound, TOY DOGS, by C. G. E. Wilmhurst, is a guide that provides the reader with all the information needed to buy, care for, train, and breed any toy dog. Chapters on how and where to choose a breed and how to housebreak and train a puppy provide a thorough grounding for the first-time owner.

A section on breeding presents an understandable basic explanation of genetics, with details on selecting breeding stock and breeding for particular characteristics, as well as care of the pregnant bitch and puppies, Kennel-ling and feeding, the techniques of obedience training, and first aid and emergency treatment of illnesses round out the dog's care and training. A chapter on dog shows and showing introduces the joys and techniques of canine showmanship.

Devoted to the history and origins of the various breeds, the second section provides the full particulars about such little-known dogs as the Japanese Shiba, the Shih Tzu and the Chinese Crested Dog, as well as the 4,000-year-old Pekingese breed, the Chihuahua, and all the other breeds. Discussions of the distinct characteristics of each toy's personality and physical attributes with the official A. K. C. standards for the recognized toys along with photographs makes this an essential book for the dog fancier's information and enjoyment.

I find it difficult to find adequate words to express my appreciation to all the wonderful people who have sent flowers, cards and have expressed words of encouragement to me and my family following the death of my mother this past week. There is always a void left in our lives after the loss of a loved one and we seldom realize how much our friends and neighbors mean until such an occasion arises. Your thoughtfulness is indeed a source of comfort and is much appreciated.

—HB—

Many of my close friends and associates have known that my mother had been severely ill for several months and knew that because of this I had spent a great deal of time out of town and away from my desk, resulting in fewer and fewer columns as the weeks went by.

I mention this not as an apology, but only in the way of an explanation to those hardy souls who look forward each week to reading the end result of my feeble column writing efforts. I confess to being somewhat less than the world's greatest column writer, yet there are a few people who have voiced their concern when I fail to produce. To these gracious folks, I promise that I will do better (in quantity if not in quality.)

—HB—

Spring has arrived and we're all looking forward to the warmer days ahead when we can spend a few hours working in the yard and garden and generally getting things ship-shape around the old homestead. Even though the past winter has not been a severe one, we still long for the warmth that comes only in the summer time.

For those of you who may be newcomers to the area however, we might give just a word or two of advice. You may want to zip out the heavy liner from your overcoat, but don't pack it away. We always have at least one last "blast" before Easter and that's a couple of weeks off yet.

—HB—

And speaking of Easter, we might remind you that it is early this year. Falls on April 6th. Just a few days before the deadline for paying your federal income tax. And that's probably something else we shouldn't have mentioned.

—HB—

Bill Davis, owner-manager of Davis Implement Company, is now in the process of building a new building for the company. The new building will be located on the lot that once belonged to Blanton Butane, between Phillips and Lawrence Texaco and Farmer's Drive-In on Highway 60. It should be ready for occupancy in about 60 days, according to Bill.

Davis Implement Company is one of the oldest implement firms here, originally established by Bill's father, the late W. L. Davis, Sr. and J. C. McCracken. They are now located at Miles and Second St.

The new building will be an asset to the town and we're real happy to see Bill make the move.

—HB—

Those of you who plan to be out of town over the Easter holidays should get up to the school tax office now and vote absentee in the upcoming school board election. It is unfortunate that the election date had to fall as it does, but that's the way it is and we hope that all those who plan to be away from the city will cast their vote before leaving. There are four men running for three places on the ballot, so your vote will make a difference. Be sure to be there.

Those running are Lowell Sharp, Wayne Phillips, and inc. bents Olin Parris and Hugh Clearman.

—HB—

When the family car is out of gas, the TV dealer out to repossess it, no funds to give Junior his allowance, the telephone disconnected for nonpayment of bills, and the refrigerator is out of six packs, then brother, under today's standards, that's poverty!

Area Familiar To Her

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
A three-month resident of Hereford, Mrs. C. T. Gross is a friendly West Texas native who is finding friends easily in this new location. The Gross family moved here in December from Clovis, N. M. and is living at 432-B Avenue B.

organizations here as she has been in churches where she has lived before. Mrs. Gross comments on the "exceptionally friendly" attitude she has found among Hereford residents and says the family already is well acquainted in their new home.

Her only unusual experience in school, she says, was serving a year as editor of the school paper. "There was more work than I expected," she laughs, "and I found that it was not just an honor to be the editor; whenever anybody on the staff fell down on his job, it was my job to fill in!"

ALTHOUGH JOAN Gross feels now that she has a full-time job at home with her two pre-school children, she does take time to be the "errand girl" as she describes it, for her husband in his business. He is manager of the new Sherwin-Williams Paint store here.

She likes to cook and does some sewing, making clothes for her daughter, five-year-old Sheri, who has sky-blue eyes like her mother's. The other member of the Gross family is son Craig, who is quick to tell you that he is three years old. Sheri attends kindergarten this year.

The family goes to church at First United Methodist Church and Mrs. Gross expects to be active in women's

Club Is Told Of Girls' Trip

Three girls from Hereford Horizon Club groups who last summer made a tour along the Canadian border for a study on Conservation of Natural Resources, showed films and talked of their experiences on a Bud To Blossom Garden Club program Friday morning at the Campfire Girls Lodge.

Kay Golden, Cindy Lea and Rhonda Stewart, who were selected for the trip by their accomplishments in the national Campfire program, told of their travel by water on lakes and rivers of northern Montana and Minnesota and in Canada, with stops in the Lake Superior area to study damage done by water pollution. Mrs. Herbert Bruns gave an informative talk on Anti-Litter-for Civic Beautification, listing recommendations of the local Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee which aim to make the public conscious of the litter problem and means to combat it.

Delegates elected to the district convention of Garden Clubs which will be held in Lubbock Apr. 10-11 are Mrs. Bill Nelson and Mrs. Hubert Stoerner, with Mrs. H. A. Winters as alternate. Mrs. Bill Gentry presided for business.

Also present were Meses. Bruce Brown, Ernest Kendall, Sam Long, Lloyd Sharp, Delmo Williams, R. N. Yarbrough, Jess Robinson, Bob Ginn and Charles Mayfield.

Mrs. McDowell Gives Book Review For Club

A member of Bay View Study Club who is a favorite book reviewer in this community, Mrs. Ansel McDowell, gave the program for 14 club members in the home of Mrs. Si Darling Thursday afternoon.

She selected the latest work of popular novelist Taylor Caldwell, Testimony of Two Men, for her review. Background of this story is a small town in Pennsylvania, which might be a town of its size anywhere in the United States, Mrs. McDowell said.

The story of American family life is focused on two brothers, one a doctor whose profession is most directly involved in the plot. The reviewer sketched in broad outline the long and involved story told in the novel.

Mrs. R. B. Miller, club president, assisted Mrs. Darling in serving a dessert course to the speaker and Meses. Herman Ford, J. R. Allison, Carl Swanson, Howard Gault, Tom Sawyer, Carl Perrin, Colby Conkright, A. M. Jones, Justin McBride, Jimmie Gillentine and W. S. Kerr.

Members were reminded that the first meeting in April will be omitted, since it would fall on the Easter weekend. The only meeting next month will be on April 17.

Present were Meses. John Hill, Wayne Johnson, W. B. Nunley, J. V. Perrin, Douglas and Weaver.

Guest Gives Club Talk At Lunch

A guest, Mrs. George Zetzsch, demonstrated cake decoration for members of Farm and Ranch Club after a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Cliff Johnson Thursday. She decorated a birthday cake and one with a doll motif, and showed one with a baseball and glove traced in chocolate. Pictures of other cakes were shown on slides.

Mrs. Johnson, president, appointed a nominating committee to present a slate of officers for the annual election. Members are Meses. J. E. Sorrells, C. T. Douglas and Jack Weaver.

Plans were made for a visit to the Graham home at Amarillo for the April meeting; members will meet in Mrs. Sorrells' home Apr. 3 and go together.

MISSIONARIES IN URUGUAY—Shown here is Rev. and Mrs. Paul Steffler and their family who have been Baptist missionaries in Uruguay, South America. Steffler and other missionaries will speak Wednesday through Sunday at Greenwood Baptist Church here during the Missionary Conference.

Lawyer Speaks For Circle

Mrs. Larry Walterscheid presided over the March meeting of St. Anthony's Antonian Circle Thursday evening. The Rev. Simeone Heine led the opening prayer. Special guest for the evening was attorney Wayne Thomas who gave a talk on the trial of Jesus Christ compared to modern trials.

The next meeting will be an auction of homemade goods and mystery boxes with Rev. Heine as auctioneer. Proceeds will be sent to Biafra.

The Circle will have a pre-Easter bake sale April 5 at Sugarland Mall, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mrs. Leonard Walterscheid is chairman for the sale and Mrs. Ken Walterscheid of publicity. Refreshments were served to 23 members and 2 guests by Meses. Rhonda Fingman and Ronnie Pagett. The door prize was presented to Mrs.

HEREFORD PUPILS

CREATE ART

IN VARIED FORMS

ALMOST ANY BIT of creativity may be classified as art these days. Throughout the elementary schools, junior highs and high school in Hereford, is found a variety of art work. Clay sculptures, newspaper mosaics, papier mache animals and free designs made from pieces of "junk" have been a few of the many recent projects of Hereford's students. March is national Youth Art Month but in the school art classes here, that designation is suitable for any month.

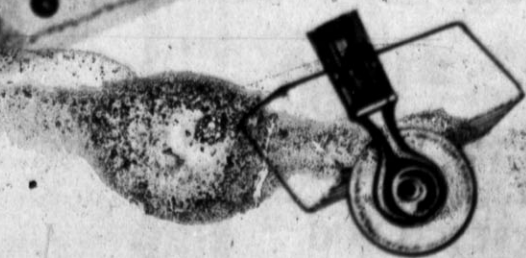

AIKMAN STUDENTS are shown as they arrange display cases and bulletin boards with their art work. The fourth, fifth and sixth graders at Aikman Elementary School worked with papier mache and made newspaper mosaics.

HEREFORD, TEX., 79045, SUN., MARCH 23, 1969

A CRITICAL EYE of a La-Plata art student looks over his clay sculptures as other students work on sketches and with water colors.

CRUSHED CHEERIO? — Students at Saint Anthony's collected odds and ends, including everything from broken glass and pull tabs from soft drink cans to crushed Cheerios cereal, to make their art work.

HARD WORKING TEENAGERS — Students in Hereford High School's art classes work diligently to create their posters and paper cut-outs.

LA PLATA CLUB HAS PARTY — Guest Day for La Plata Study Club was an event of last week, with a book review by the club president, Mrs. Ansel McDowell, presented for a large group of visitors and members in Community Center ballroom. Hostesses, pictured above with Mrs. McDowell at right, were Mmes. A. J. Schroeter, Ken Rogers and J. D. Neill. At left are some of the new La Plata officers recently elected for the 1969-70 season. Mrs. M. H. Richie, seated, will be installed in May as president, Mrs. Pat Hughes as correspondent and Mrs. Larry Dippel as secretary.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

There's something about next week that seems to make it a good time for women's club conventions. At least three conventions will attract a number of visitors from Hereford, two beginning Tuesday.

TEXAS FEDERATION of Music Clubs will hold its annual state meeting at Brownwood March 25-28. Audrey Thompson, who is on the state board as choral chairman in the department of music in the community, plans to attend, and there may be others.

Music club members, by the way, are very much pleased that the National Federation of Music Clubs will hold its annual convention in the Southwest this year, and thus give Texans an unusual chance to go to one of the big meetings. It will be in Albuquerque next month and several local members are talking about going over.

Also on Tuesday, the one-day spring convention of District One, Texas Home Demonstration Association, will be held in Amarillo with programs at the Herring Hotel. Three voting delegates have been chosen from the county; in addition numerous members will drive over to the neighboring city for all or part of the day.

THEN THE TOP of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, will convene in Dalhart Thursday and Friday, with Federated clubs of that city and Hagley as hostesses.

Mmes. Delmar Sigle, Ralph McCullough, Ray Johnson and L. H. Lookingbill of Pioneer-Study Club will all have program responsibilities, and other members will probably go for at least a part of the meetings. Mrs. Guy Waiser is the delegate from Summerfield Study Club and Mrs. W. T. Carmichael plans to go from Deaf Smith County Federation.

Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, district president, will open the convention formally at 1 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Henry F. Shaper Sr. of San Antonio, TFWC president, will be a special guest. A speaker from outside the district will be Dr. John C. Stevens, assistant president of Abilene Christian College.

A SHOPPING excursion by Joyce Haug this week was for something unusual, materials to make dresses in the style of about 70 years ago. She is one of the committee from Hereford Community Players which is making costumes for the next play, Charlie's Aunt.

The players are doing that comedy, which may rightfully be called a stage classic, in the time and place of its original setting, as it should be done. So the action takes place in a prestigious British university about the turn of the century.

For a good many years after it was first a hit, amateur actors kept staging Charlie's Aunt and updating it to make it a contemporary piece. Worse, they tried to make the setting an American college instead of English. Which completely warped the comedy and turned it into a dull piece of slapstick that left a bad taste with a lot of people who saw it around 1920.

SETTING BACK the time and going back to England gives the full flavor of the plot about a couple of college boys who simply must have a chaperone present before they can entertain their sweethearts at tea in their apartment. That idea doesn't ring true since World War I. But for eighteen-ninety-something it's logical, so the complications that follow are logical, and very funny, after they talk their good-natured titled classmate into posing as the aunt of one boy.

Lately-Wed Couple At Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rice are at home here after their recent marriage in First Baptist Church of Dimmitt.

Mrs. William E. Rice nee Edna Slough

He couldn't pose as a modern aunt, who would have to dress as young as the visiting girls; in the play's original form he wears long, full-skirted black dresses and small bonnets as a matter of course.

Two characters who simply won't ring true as Americans are the father of one student, a nobleman who has lost the family fortune and considers it his duty to his son to recoup by marrying for money even though he must marry the unattractive "aunt"; and the student's servant, a "gentleman's gentleman" in the true British tradition, prototype of the Jeeves who was a more recent popular character in English fiction.

and a New Mexico trip. Mrs. Rice is the former Miss Edna Slough, a teacher at Bluebonnet Elementary School. Mr. Rice is a senior student in West Texas State University.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Slough of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Rice of Sweetwater. Miss Joyce Slough of Kingsville was maid of honor and James Brown of Midland best man, while Miss Karen Rice of Sweetwater and Tommy Rose of Canyon were the other attendants.

Jimmy and Russell Slough served as ushers and Lou Ann Rice lighted candles at the altar. Wedding music was by Dwight Joiner, organist, and Miss Jeannie Mars, vocal soloist.

The bride's gown of ivory satin had a lace overdress with skirt gathered in the back to extend into a short train. Bridesmaids were dressed in yellow lace coats over crepe.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony.

Film Presented After Luncheon Of CWF Group

A film titled Kaleidoscope of Southeast Asia was shown as the program for Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church, after a luncheon in the church dining room Wednesday. Mrs. Robert Veigel was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Ron Zimmerman directed a worship period and a business session was a part of the monthly meeting.

Honors Award In Music Won By Student

Mrs. Marvin Berry of Fort Worth, the former Kathieen Knox of Hereford, has won the Honors Concerto Award at Texas Christian University as outstanding musician for the 1968-69 year. She attends TCU as a graduate assistant working on a master of music degree.

Her major is in flute, the instrument she played in the Hereford High School band during her years there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Knox.

In recognition of the award she recently won, she is to be soloist with the TCU Symphony Orchestra in its April concert.

Mrs. Berry was presented in graduate recital, the first of two required to fulfill requirements for her master of music degree, on the Fort Worth campus March 11. Her parents went down for the recital accompanied by her brother, Bryan Knox, who is an electrical engineering major at Texas Technological College and plays in Tech's variety band and the ROTC Drum and Bugle Corps.

Assisted by a string trio and pianist, Mrs. Berry played on the recital program sonatas by Bach and Giannini, the Mozart Quartet in D Major, K. 285, Serenade by Hanson and Sonata by Dutilleul.

Planting Set On Arbor Day

Arbor Day observance is scheduled by Hereford Garden Club Monday afternoon, with planting of shrubs at the Campfire Girls Lodge in North Park. Junior Garden Club members will assist in the work day, Mrs. Ray L. Johnson, president, announces.

About 60 shrubs have been purchased to be set around the new building as one step in beautification of the grounds. This is a major project of Hereford Garden Club, an entry in a project contest. Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. is chairman.

The Junior Gardeners, who are members of a Campfire Girl group, will add a touch of tradition in their part of the planting program.

They will move from grounds of the old Campfire Hut a small evergreen tree which was brought back from mountain campgrounds by Hereford girls, and replant it on the new grounds.

Also to be moved are pyracantha bushes which produce berries liked by birds.

Union Protestor Set For Speech

LUBBOCK — Jose Mendoza, a spokesman for farm workers in California who are resisting compulsory unionism, will speak to an area-wide Farm Bureau meeting April 1 in Lubbock, according to H. L. (Hub) King, Brownfield, Texas, Farm Bureau board member from Dist. 2. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the Koko Palace.

Mendoza, of Bakersfield, Calif., was scheduled to speak in Lubbock and a number of other Texas cities in late February, but was forced to cancel his appearances due to illness.

Mendoza is a leader of an organization that was formed last year to combat what he calls harassment and intimidation of grape workers by agitators who are trying to organize them. Since last September, he has been traveling throughout the country under the joint sponsorship of Californians for Right to Work and the National Right to Work Committee. He has become widely recognized as the spokesman for the majority of California's vineyard workers.

King said the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, has not been successful in its campaign to sign up farm workers in California. Because of this, he said, the union called for a nation-wide boycott of California table grapes last year in an effort to force growers to sign union contracts, thus forcing workers into the union. Cesar Chavez is head of the union.

The West Texas farm leader said the boycott was effective only temporarily in some Eastern markets, but that a much bigger effort is expected this year.

In speeches around the country, Mendoza has told audiences that organizers of the grape boycott are more interested in organizing a powerful union than they are in helping farm workers.

"I don't like Mr. Chavez's union, and most of all, I don't like the way they're trying to force it onto people," Mendoza said. He charged that Chavez's efforts have done nothing but create unemployment in the Delano, California, vineyard region.

Plains Insurance Agency, after having tied for first half second place honors with two other teams, pulled the placing out of the bag in a three-team playoff last week to win in Major League bowling action.

The team, tied with Ink Spot and Orval Watson Ford, shot 1003 pins their first game as L. J. Clark had the single game high of 253 and the 3-game high of 642. Aiding the cause were John Fink, 577; Barley Dowell, 546; Dick Mills, 559; and Jim Culpepper, 494. All members of the team shot above average.

Ink Spot edged Orval Watson Ford out for third place honors as they managed 2842 as compared to 2797 for their opponents.

Lettermen At WTSU In April

CANYON — The Lettermen, a popular singing group, are slated to appear at West Texas State University for a two-hour concert beginning at 8 p. m. on April 16, according to Student Activities Council Publicity Chairman Larry Pittman.

Pittman said admission for the single performance is $3. However, students with identification cards will be admitted for $2.25 each.

Mines at Sudbury, Ontario, produce 75 per cent of the world's nickel supply.

Choir Service Planned At Methodist Church

A worship service in music of the Easter season is planned at First United Methodist Church at 11 a. m. Sunday, when the sanctuary choir will present The Seven Last Words of Christ, a work by Theodore Dubois. Three soloists and the choir will sing Dubois' settings of the seven "words" or sayings of Christ from the cross, as recorded in the four Gospels of the New Testament. Robert M. Wert, minister of music, will be the director and Don Baugous organist.

Mrs. Wesley Gulley is the soprano soloist, Ben Gollehon baritone and Douglas Morris tenor. Reading of Biblical passages by the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor, will supply a narrative background.

The introduction is a soprano solo, "O All Ye Who Travel. The chorus will accompany tenor and baritone soloists in singing the first word, "Father, Forgive Them, For They Know Not What They Do," also a tenor and baritone duet for the second, "Verily Thou Shalt Be in Paradise Today With Me" and all three soloists for the third, "See, O Woman, Here Behold Thy Son Beloved."

Gollehon will sing the fourth word, "God, My Father, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" as a solo. The chorus will be heard with soloists in the fifth word, "I Am Athirst," by baritone and tenor; the sixth, "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Soul," with Morris as soloist; and the seventh, "It Is Finished," with the three soloists.

The Tigers took eight of nine games from the Indians in Detroit in 1968.

Lt. Carter In Focus Retina

FT. BRAGG, N.C. — Second Lieutenant J. Floyd Carter III, 23, son of Mrs. Guyrene H. Carter, Hereford, and a member of the 82nd Airborne Division from Ft. Bragg, N.C., is participating in the U. S. Strike Command's Exercise Focus Retina in Korea.

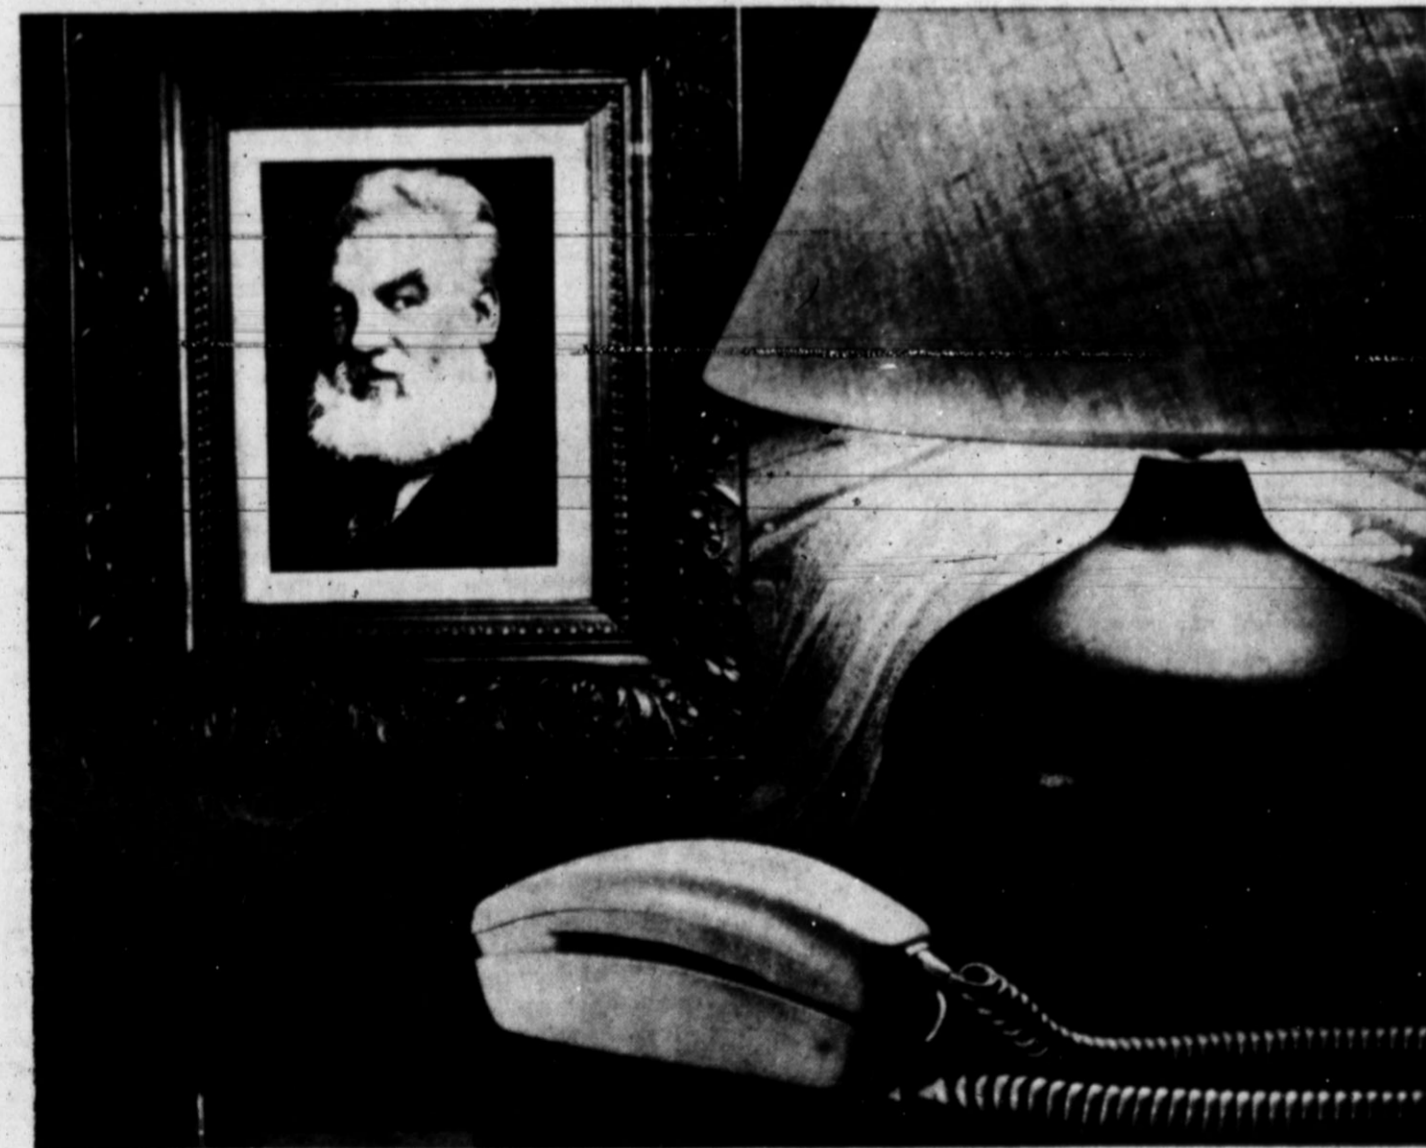

Focus Retina, designed to test the rapid reaction-capability of Strike Command forces based in the U. S., will link some 7,000 soldiers and airmen from the U. S. and Korea in the longest airborne assault operation in history.

Paratroopers of the 32nd were flown from Pope Air Force Base, N.C., on March 14 and jumped into Korea 31 hours later, approximately 40 miles southeast of Seoul.

Following the parachute assault, the division joined Republic of Korea Army forces and U. S. forces stationed there for ground attacks on simulated enemy units.

The exercise is scheduled to end March 27.

Lt. Carter's wife, Mariellen, is at Ft. Bragg. His father, J. Floyd Carter Jr., lives at San Diego, Calif.

Man, That's Revolution

THIS MAY SOUND revolutionary, but it is becoming clear that the Nixon administration is convinced that the executive branch has a duty to carry out the laws passed by Congress.

The new attorney general, the saints be praised, believes that law enforcement means enforcing the laws instead of lecturing into the air on sociology and the moral values of Western civilization. What a next?

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, in a television interview, declared that the Justice Department actually is going to arrest and prosecute individuals who violate the law against interstate commerce in violence.

He said that the department intends "to bring these people to justice," even if their crimes are advertised as student demonstrations. The persons traveling across state lines to incite riots will be brought to the bar even if they claim immunity as idealists.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL is not entirely convinced that the violation of laws is excused by big-man-on-campus status. His opinions are rather the reverse, in fact.

Of the campus-wrecking, he said, "this has gone far beyond the pale of student demonstrations. . . . These people are primarily not students. They're militant activists who appear on college campuses. They're not students as such."

This might seem to some to be but an individual stand by a new official who, in a burst of enthusiasm, vows to carry out his oath of office, oppose the permissive fashion of the day and really prosecute some hoodlums.

Yet, it seems that the attorney general is not the only one in the administration who feels that laws mean what they say.

The President himself believes that the law against using tax money to subsidize the campus wreckers should also be enforced.

The Federal government now pays out a billion dollars a year to aid students. The Congress has decided this money will be denied those few so-called students whose primary academic pursuit involves burning down their academy.

This, too, is shocking to those who have become accustomed to the traditional method of giving colleges and simultaneously giving radical "students" federal funds to destroy them. Yet apparently the President has the impression that Congress passed the laws with the serious intent that they be carried out, and not merely to give the lawmakers some exercise in oratory.

UNDOUBTEDLY these revolutionary concepts will be denounced by graybeards of the liberal status quo.

They will be condemned as outrages against academic freedom because they could conceivably cramp the style of the few who are determined to make history on the campus, not study it.

However, the administration is not really preventing these history-making types from doing their thing, so long as their thing does not include breaking skulls, public property and the law. If it does include these criminal activities, then the new administration intends to do its own constitutional thing, which is likely to restrain considerably the career radicals' freedom, academic and otherwise. A jail term does that.

The new administration seems determined to insist that obedience to the law is not optional, not for presidents or attorneys general or college officials or even, wonder of wonders, professional students. If it carries through on this proposition, it may very well make some history of its own. — The Dallas Morning News

A Boon For Consumers

The settlement proposed by five major drug companies of the civil antitrust suits filed against them for rigging the price of broad-spectrum antibiotics is truly remarkable. If it is accepted and the details worked out as now proposed, it will become a milestone in consumer protection. For the first time, an antitrust settlement would be based on the idea that states and local governments can collect damages on behalf of citizens who have paid more for products than they should have because of illegal price-fixing.

Historically, the antitrust laws have promised far more than they have delivered in terms of keeping the economy competitive. The criminal penalties for breaking them have been small, since rarely have businessmen gone to jail for violations and since the fines specified by law are chicken feed in modern-day finance. The treble damage provision in civil cases, designed to be a substantial deterrent, has been effective only in cases involving large and expensive products or bulk sales to corporations or units of governments. An individual who paid an extra $100 or $200 for drugs because of price-fixing had no effective remedy, the cost of litigation outstripped his potential recovery. The result has been that the profits made possible by price-fixing far exceeded the costs even if a company was caught breaking the law.

The legal theory developed in these drug cases by attorney David I. Shapiro could reverse that pattern. It is simply the idea that units of government can collect those treble damages on behalf of individual citizens. Although the theory has not been approved by the courts, it opens up all sorts of possibilities.

The drug companies rate a cheer for going along with this idea, although they rate nothing but boos for the situation that led them into court in the first place. — Washington Post

Congress Needs Help

By BERT MILLS
Washington, D. C. — Congress is wrestling with the knotty problem of election reform but needs guidance from the voters back home if a constitutional amendment is to be adopted before the 1972 election.

Practically everybody agrees that Electoral College reform is a must. The problem is that there are three major proposals, each with numerous variations, and no sign of any consensus in favor of a single plan. This could bring about a stalemate and prevent any action.

President Nixon sent a special message to Congress on this subject but did not endorse a specific plan. He confined himself to stating objectives, on the practical grounds that too drastic changes in the present system would prevent adoption by 1972 of the necessary amendment to the Constitution.

Nixon said he believes the candidate receiving the most popular votes should become President. Nobody can quarrel with that goal although we have elected minority Presidents under the archaic system now in use. It almost happened again in 1968 and is a threat to happen any time there is a strong third party candidate.

Nixon also favors abolishing individual electors, allocating the electoral votes of states in proportion to the popular vote within that state, and making a 40 percent plurality of the electoral vote sufficient to elect a President.

Run-Off Would Be Needed
Critics of the President's position point out that a run-off election between the two top candidates would be necessary whenever a third party candidate polled enough votes to prevent either major candidate from achieving a 40 percent plurality. This could mean that days after the election, the outcome would still be in doubt. A perfect plan would eliminate runoff.

By implication, the President's message eliminated one of the three plans — a direct popular vote election, without the Electoral College. Of 100 Senators, 41 are sponsors of a bill calling for a direct election, and three others advocate a variation of that plan. At the moment, this is the largest group of supporters of one proposal in the Senate.

The so-called "district" plan is the second most popular reform being considered in the Senate. There are 19 Senators backing this approach, which calls for allocation of electoral votes by districts within a state. A run-off election would remain a possibility under this plan, but with members of Congress doing the voting.

The third approach is called the "proportional" method. The Electoral College would be eliminated but electoral votes retained. They would be allocated in proportion to the popular vote within a state. If neither of the top two candidates achieved a 40 percent plurality, Congress would name the President.

Perfection Seems Impossible
Congress has debated the issue of election reform long enough to make it clear that no perfect plan satisfactory to everybody is going to be evolved. The best that can be expected is a compromise combining the best features of the various proposals. It is to be hoped that Congress will soon end the haggling over details and reach a satisfactory solution that can be taken to the people as an amendment to the Constitution.

Everybody who has studied the present system has agreed it needs to be changed. Congress should do the best it can and get an amendment moving through the state legislatures. It is time the debate is resolved, at least at the Washington level.

A national consensus on a detailed plan appears impossible of achievement. But the legislators should not let this serve as an excuse for inaction. Let's have a resolution brought to the floor of the Senate and House. Let it be amended if necessary before being passed along to the states.

But whatever blueprint Congress adopts is certain to be an improvement on the present system, which threatens chaos every four years. The public appears ready and willing to endorse any reform plan enacted by their elected representatives. Let's get on with the job.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

LONE STAR LEGEND — The continuing love of a sculptor for his dead sweetheart gave Texas and the world one of its art masterpieces — the "Rose Window" of San Antonio's San Jose Mission.

The sculptor was Pedro Huisar, who came to Texas from Spain in the 1700's. His dream was to establish himself and then send for his childhood sweetheart, his Rosita, or "little Rose." He found work at the mission and soon wrote Rosita to come to the New World.

En route to America, however, her ship sank and all lives were lost. Huisar, his heart broken and his plans for the future shattered, began carving a window at the mission in memory of his beloved Rosita.

It took him five years to complete the window with its intricately carved scrolls that remind one of blooming roses. And when the job was done, Huisar never cut another stone.

BRIDGE TO THE PAST — A century-old wooden footbridge, once the main route into the Cherokee County town of Rusk, is being restored.

The walking bridge, only four feet wide, was built in the 1860's to span a small valley and a creek between two small hills in a wooded area near downtown Rusk. After eight decades of use, the bridge was abandoned 16 years ago. The new bridge is being rebuilt from the old timbers.

THE CHANGING TIMES — Thirty years ago, when it had only half as many people, Dallas boasted 32 ice plants. Today there are only five.

IT TAKES ALL KINDS — When Newton County women go hunting, they leave their husbands and boyfriends at home.

Their women-only hunting club, organized 14 years ago as The Wolf Den, admits members from 18 to 80 providing they are experts in the outdoors and can get along without a man to pitch their tent and skin their game. The "no male" rules are so strict, in fact, that even husbands can't invade the hunting grounds except in cases of emergency.

IT'S A FACT — Cows, as well as cotton and vegetables, have become one of the principal "crops" of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

No longer is the Valley just an endless field of cotton interspersed with truck farms and orchards. Each year more and more of the lush, irrigated acreage is being used to raise livestock. Starr, one of the four Valley counties, already has more income from cattle than it does from either cotton or vegetables and beef production is increasing each year.

JAIL FOR RENT — From 1868 to 1883, the state penitentiary at Huntsville was leased each two years to the highest bidder.

This system was changed after 15 years when the Legislature decided to operate the system by entering into a contract with private individuals. Contractors ran the prison until 1906 when the lawmakers finally decided that the care and feeding of criminals was a direct responsibility of the state.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q— Taxes were taken out of my pay on the summer job I had last year. How do I get this money back?

A— You must file a tax return to obtain any refund that may be due. Tax forms and instructions are available at local IRS offices as well as many banks and post offices.

Q— I've read where a lot of people are making mistakes on their tax returns because of the surcharge. What are they doing wrong?

A— Taxpayers are either forgetting to add the surcharge or they are figuring it wrong. Mistakes like these delay processing as well as any refund that may be due. To avoid these mistakes check your instructions which explain how the surcharge should be handled.

Q— Can I deduct the federal tax I pay on my phone bill?

A— No, this is an excise tax and excise taxes are not deductible.

Q— My brother has just been sent to Vietnam by the Army. Does he have to file a tax return?

A— Military personnel in Vietnam do not have to file tax returns while stationed there. Your brother may wait to file his 1968 tax return until 180 days after he leaves Vietnam.

Q— Where can I buy a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax?"

A— Most local offices if IRS have copies of this guide, Publication 17, or you can write the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. It costs 60 cents.

Q— How long should it take between the time I send in my return and my check comes?

A— If the return is accurate and complete, it takes five to six weeks to receive an income tax refund. To avoid delays, read the instructions that accompany the tax forms carefully.

If you are expecting a refund, file your return now for prompt action. Our offices are flooded with returns in April and refund claims filed then take longer to process.

Q— I can't find my W-2. Is there any way I can get another one?

A— Let your employer know what has happened and ask for another copy of your withholding statement.

Q— Is a tax refund income that has to be reported?

A— Federal tax refunds do not have to be reported.

A state tax refund has to be reported as miscellaneous income if the taxpayer deducted the tax in a prior year.

Q— I don't provide over half of my grandfather's support but when you add what I contribute to my brother's contributions, it does amount to over half. Can either of us claim a dependency exemption for this?

A— If each of you contributed over 10 percent of your grandfather's support and the combined total adds up to over half of this total support then either of you may claim him as a dependent. A special declaration must be completed by the one not claiming the exemption and sent in with the return of the one who claims the exemption. Use Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration.

Q— I paid off my home mortgage early and was charged a pre-payment penalty. Is that deductible?

A— Yes, it is deductible as interest if you itemize.

Q— Under what conditions can a person 65 or over sell a house and not have to pay any tax on the profits?

A— There will be no tax to pay if: 1. You were 65 or older before the date of the sale. 2. The adjusted sales price was $20,000 or less. 3. You owned and occupied the house as your principal residence for at least five of the eight years preceding the sale.

If the adjusted sales price was over $20,000 and the other conditions are met, then only a portion of the profit will be taxable. Details on this and other benefits are contained in the booklet, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans," Publication 854. For a free copy, drop a post card to your IRS district director.

Cattle Feeding Study Progress

LUBBOCK — The beef cattle feeding study to compare steam flaked and micronized (dry heat treated) grain sorghum at the Lubbock Feedlot here is making excellent progress, reports Dr. Lowell Schake, area livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and coordinator of the project.

After 100 days into the feeding project, steers on the ration containing micronized sorghum have a slightly higher average daily gain, 3.14 pounds.

In addition to evaluating the different grain preparations, the study is also designed to determine the effect of anthelmintic treatment, explains the specialist. This is a treatment to reduce parasitic worms, especially those found in the intestine.

In this part of the test, half of the steers on each of the processed grains were treated with drugs at the beginning of the study to determine their influence on parasitic worms as well as animal performance and carcass traits.

The difference in amount of feed required per pound of gain is even less between the two groups, averaging 7.61 pounds for the group on the micronized grain and 7.85 pounds for the other group.

Cooperators in the study, in addition to the Lubbock Feedlot and the Extension Service, are the Ralston Purina Research Feedlot, Lubbock; Chardo Pierce, supplier of the micronized grain, Lubbock; Texas Agricultural Experiment Station; Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension

A uniform group of 400 steers which weighed an average of about 760 pounds each at the beginning of the study are being used, points out Schake. The animals are divided into four lots of 100 head each with all steers receiving the same ration with the exception of the different types of grain preparations. Two lots are being fed steam flaked grain while the others are receiving micronized grain.

According to Schake, the purpose of the study is to compare animal performance and carcass characteristics of steers fed a feedlot ration containing two different types of grain sorghum preparations. The cattle will be slaughtered in about 30 days.

Elevator grain is micronized by heating it to about 300 degrees with gas fired infrared burners and then rolled. The resulting grain has about seven percent moisture and weighs 38 to 40 pounds per bushel.

Steam flaking is done by heating grain with steam to bring it to about 18 percent moisture and then flaking it. Flaked grain weighs about 22 pounds per bushel.

Both of these preparations are designed to improve digestibility of the grain to obtain better feed efficiency, Schake adds.

SPRINGTIME "Instant Yard"

THE AMAZING NEW WAY TO HAVE A RICH GREEN YARD IN A MATTER OF HOURS... "GUARANTEED"

WHAT IS INSTANT YARD?

The instant yard idea although new to Hereford has been in operation for sometime in other high plains areas.

Sturdy Kentucky Blue Grass sod is cut and trucked from Westway sod farm to your location and laid on ground that has been leveled and prepared for it, then watered. That's the whole operation. The roots take hold and you have a rich green yard of instant Kentucky Blue Grass in a matter of hours.

Free Shop-Show Set For Kiddies

"Apache Uprising" is the title of the western feature which will be the free Shop and Show Matinee feature showing at the Star Theatre on Good Friday.

According to Star manager Francis Hardwick, there are two showings scheduled — at 9:45 a. m. and 2 p. m., both sponsored by merchants of Sugarland Mall. Similar to the pre-Christmas Shop and Show matinees, they are designed for mothers who wish to shop without their children — with no extra expense for a babysitter.

Also on the same program is a 3 Stooges comedy.

The western, in Technicolor and Techniscope widescreen, is actually rated for the younger set but has a cast that will bring back memories to many of their parents — and even grandparents.

It was made by producer A. C. Lyles for Paramount Pictures, who believes strongly in returning "old faces" in new pictures.

Released in 1965, Lyles had such old familiar names as Rory Calhoun, Corinne Calvet, John ("Lawman") Russell, Lon Chaney, Gene Evans, Richard Arlen, Robert H. Harris, Arthur Hunnicutt, DeForest Kelley, George Chandler, Johnny Mack Brown, Jean Parker, Abel Fernandez, and Don Barry in the leading roles.

Calhoun has continued starring in pictures since World War II, but Miss Calvet returned to the same studio where her acting career was launched in 1949 with "Rope of Sand" (recently television's Monday Night at the Movies). Russell, the strong arm of the Law to many television fans, turned in both his mustache and badge for this role of a lawless renegade. But veteran screen menace Lon Chaney Jr. portrays a good-natured stage driver.

Arlen, who became a star at Paramount when the silent picture "Wings" was released in 1928, marked "Apache Uprising" as his eighth picture for Lyles. Miss Parker was also a star during the 1930s. But veteran cowboy star Johnny Mack Brown plays a badman in the picture! Don "Red" Barry was also a cowboy star.

Fernandez was a juvenile delinquent in 1949's "City Across the River" but a long-time good-guy in t.v.'s "The Untouchables." Chandler who had his beginning in 1929 playing a juvenile in some of W. C. Fields comedies, will be remembered later on television playing an old doctor on the Lassie series.

"Apache Uprising" has a screen time of 1 hour 30 minutes.

Pat Burnett Is Named Star Of Week In Sunset Keglers Play

Pat Burnett, with her 497 series, was named the "Star of the Week" in Sunset Keglers bowling league action last week.

Hereford Welding won "High Team Series" honors with 2401 and Justice Realtors collected the "High Team Game" of 829. "High Individual Series" was won by Alice Lueb with a 540 and Jean Bagwell nabbed the "High Individual Game" with a 205.

Last week's results show Chester Gin won 4 and lost 0; Boyd Machine and Supply won 0 and lost 4; Justice Realtors won 4 and lost 0; Hereford Insurance Agency won 0 and lost 4; Hereford Welding won 4 and lost 0; Sunset Lanes won 0 and lost 4; Rutherford and Company won 4 and lost 0; Arrowhead playing a juvenile in some of W. C. Fields comedies, will be remembered later on television playing an old doctor on the Lassie series.

"Apache Uprising" has a screen time of 1 hour 30 minutes.

Dive In won 0 and lost 4; Hereford Clinic won 3 and lost 1; O'Kelley's Sporting Goods won 1 and lost 3; Hays Implement won 3 and lost 1; and Hiway '60' Truck Stop won 1 and lost 3.

Standings to date show Justice Realtors, 71-33; Hereford Insurance, 67½-36½; Hereford Clinic, 66-38; Sunset Lanes, 63½-70½; Hereford Welding, 57-47; Chester Gin, 53-51; Rutherford and Company, 52-52; Arrowhead Dive In, 48-56; Boyd Machine and Supply, 40-64; Hays Implement, 39-65; Hiway '60' Truck Stop, 34-70; and O'Kelley's Sporting Goods, 33-71.

Converting splits last week were Wilma Clark, 4-7-9; Helen Arntt, 4-9; Jean Watts, 4-5-7; Joan Munnerlyn, 3-10; Audine Dettmann, 5-6-10; Margaret Jansen, 3-10; Anne Radney, 3-10; and Nadine Kearns, 5-8-10 and the 6-7.

Getting 200-or-better games was Jean Bagwell while 500-or-better series were rolled by Stella Varner, 531; Jean Bagwell, 537; Alice Lueb, 540; Anne Radney, 503; and Martha Emerson, 527.

SINGING THIS AFTERNOON — Hereford High School's A Cappella Choir, directed by Bill Devers, will be one of the student groups to be heard in concert at 3 p.m. this afternoon as the Music Study Club sponsors a School Music Recognition program. It will be given at Community Center, with the public invited. Instrumental groups from the HHS band will present a part of the concert.

Music Club-Sponsored

School Band, Choir Giving Concert Today

Instead of an out-of-city musician, students from Hereford High School choir and band will present the annual Guest Day Concert sponsored by Music Study Club this afternoon in Community Center. The public is invited to hear the program at 3 p.m. Music Study Club sponsors each year a concert open to the public, usually by a well-known artist of this area.

This year 85 young residents in instrumental ensembles and the A Cappella Choir will be starred in recognition of the place filled by school music in Hereford.

Selections on program are among those performed by the groups in Interscholastic League contests this spring. The instrumental ensembles, picked from the Whiteface Band, have each won first division rating in their contests.

Bill Devers directs the choir and Ben Gollehon the band groups.

Choir numbers will be The Falco (Garish), Alleluia (Berger) and The Eyes of All Wait Upon Thee (Berger). Soloists will be Sherry White, singing Biblical Songs, Op. 99 by Dvorak; Larry Kuper, Blessed Are the Pure in Heart (Metcalfe), and Bob Nelson, Bless This House, by Brahe.

L-Cpl. Brashear is 19 years old and has been in Vietnam since January. He is with an amphibious assault unit.

A graduate of Hereford High School, he also attended West Texas State University and Texas Tech before entering the service. He attended Presidio at Monterey, California, where he studied the Vietnamese language.

Brashear's father had 7-and-a-half years in military service in previous years. His mother, a native of Germany, lived overseas during the ravages of World War II.

Studio Concert By Trio From WTSU Is Planned

Voice pupils of Mrs. D. W. Palmer and their guests will hear a studio concert this evening by three music students from West Texas State University, pupils of E. I. S. Porter.

The program and an informal reception for the guest singers, their accompanist and Miss Porter will be in Mrs. Palmer's home.

Opening the concert, Judith Balo, lyric soprano, will present Arriettes' Oubliées by Debussy and a cycle of kid songs entitled I Hate Music, by Leonard Bernstein. Stephen Hunter, baritone, is to sing a Handel composition, O Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me? and Votre Toast from Bizet's opera, Carmen.

Lynda Sharman, soprano, will be heard in another opera aria, Vissi d'Arte from Tosca, by Puccini, and she will also sing Lamento (Dun-pare). Miss Sharman and Hunter will join voices in two duets, My Dearest, My Fairest, by Purcell, and from the Mozart opera, The Magic Flute, Bei Maennern. Welche Lieben Fuehlen.

Miss Balo, a senior student, was lately chosen among the top three in semifinals of the national contest of Collegiate Artists Auditions in Cincinnati, after winning state and regional contests. She has had leading roles in WTSU Opera Workshop productions and is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, international professional music sorority, and of Alpha Chi, honor society.

Also a senior, Miss Sharman has held music scholarships during her years in WTSU. She is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon and Tau Beta Sigma, sorority for women in band, and like Miss Balo is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She has appeared in Workshop productions and in the summer musical Texas.

Hunter, junior music and drama student, was lead dancer in the premiere of Texas and has had numerous singing and acting roles on the Branding Iron Theatre stage. He is a scholarship student, a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, international professional fraternity in music, and Alpha Psi Omega, professional and honorary drama fraternity.

Lorna Schultz, piano accompanist, is a graduate student in organ at WTSU, holds a bachelor of music degree from St. Olaf University in Minnesota and has done graduate work at the University of Michigan. She is organist at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Canyon.

The Maginot Line was started in 1929 under War Minister Andre Maginot. The fortifications stretch more than 200 miles through eastern France from Switzerland to Belgium. Maginot vowed, "We must build a wall the devil himself cannot get through."

Gene Brashear Is Safe; Loses Pal

Late word received on the condition of Marine Lance Cpl. E. G. (Gene) Brashear, who has been a patient in a hospital in Vietnam suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning, reveals that he is now back in action.

Brashear entered the hospital Monday but was released Wednesday. However, the details of the unusual accident have not been released by the official sources at this time. Washington sources have delayed the information but reports indicate they will supply them later.

In a personal letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brashear of 311 N. 25 Mile Ave., Brashear indicated that another Marine, a buddy had died in the same incident.

His letter was dated Tuesday, March 18, and was written on U. S. Naval Support Activity Hospital stationery with a DaNang, Vietnam address.

"Dear Mom and Dad:
How is everybody today? Just fine I hope. I'm just skating in the hospital now. It sure does wonders for a person to have a good, thick mattress and clean sheets. Plus I am getting all the hot chow I want. You better believe I'm stuffing myself like a hog. This place is really all right. We have a television with American programs on it. I watched Rowen & Martin's Laugh-In last night. Well, I was told that you had been notified of my predicament. I just want you to know everything is fine. I'm ready to go back to the bush if they want to send me. Not that I'm in a big hurry because this is like a vacation.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

There's an unwritten motto around my house. "If you like me, you like my dog."

I must have enemies. On the morning of March 21, I was awakened by hysterical screams from my children. They were the ones to find my dog in the first stages of strychnine poisoning.

This will undoubtedly leave a scar on the minds of my children, for this is the most cruel, vicious way for anything, animal or human, to die. Strychnine attacks the nervous system. It results in violent twitching, difficulty in swallowing, and a sudden bending backward of the body. This is bad enough for a poor, defenseless animal, but what of the countless numbers of small children in my neighborhood alone?

We are beginning to suspect this poisoned meat is being maliciously strewn about the neighborhood. Must we wait until one of our children becomes the victim? It is very possible that a small child might consume the poison intended for a dog. Must we pay this high price in order to stop the person responsible? Must we lose a child before action is taken? Eleven animals on three blocks have been poisoned. This is eleven times our children have been endangered.

We do not question the city ordinance pertaining to dogs. We respect these laws. Nor do we question the rights of the individual to protect their property against damage dogs can do.

We also understand there is a law prohibiting the deliberate poisoning of animals. Must one law apply and not the other? Through the prompt efforts of Dr. Cope my dog was spared the final agony of this poisoning. At this point, he is still alive.

To the person responsible I have but one question: Must I live in constant fear for the safety of my children and other children in my neighborhood?

Must one of these children suffer for your unnatural hatred for dogs? Respectfully,
Mrs. Milton White,
808 Brevard,
Hereford.

Alcohol Panel Here Tuesday

The Amarillo Council on Alcoholism will present a panel discussion Tuesday night to the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism.

The meeting will be in the Boy Scout room of the Hereford Community Center at 7:30 p.m.

Members from the Amarillo Council will present the panel on the "Purpose and Functions" of a council on alcoholism. The program will also include a discussion time between the audience and the panel. The Amarillo Council is one of the better councils in the state, and their effectiveness in and around Amarillo is quite good, it was reported.

The Deaf Smith County Council is sponsoring this meeting in hopes that this will be the beginning of another step forward in serving our community in the rapidly growing problem of alcoholism. Rev. Fred Howard, chairman of the council, said, "The dialogue with this panel should enable us to better identify the problem and to come to a better understanding of what we can do in Hereford." The meeting will be open to all who are interested in the problem of alcoholism.

DI-SYSTON works systemically. As the chemical is released, plant roots absorb it along with soil nutrients. The powerful chemical is then circulated in the plant sap stream to all parts of the foliage, killing piercing and sucking insects and spider mites as they feed.

TRANSMISSION STOLEN FROM AUTOMOBILE
A 4-speed transmission, valued at $350 was reported stolen Monday from a 1968 Chevrolet owned by C. R. Caperton, 804 Ave. F.

Belonging to Caperton's son, the car had not been driven during the weekend, so the time of the theft could not be pinpointed. City police officers are investigating the theft.

After rookie lefthander Jon Warden was taken in the American League expansion draft, the Detroit Tigers were left with only two bachelors — Earl Wilson and Darrel Patterson.

Travelers in the Australian Outback can set their course by looking at the 12-foot-high-mound homes of Meridionalis termites which always point north and south, the National Geographic Society says.

ADDING INSULT TO INJURY
KALISPELL, Mont. — A nighttime burglary of Koford's Jewelry on Main Street resulted in the theft of only one item from the display.

Owner Ed Koford reported an antique wedding band valued at about $50 was taken. But the window the thief broke to enter the case cost him more than $100 to replace.

Jones and Smith were neighbors and each had $3,500.00 and each wanted an automobile.

JONES

Jones bought a brand new car. A beauty. His wife wanted to go to the seashore. But Jones said NO, we can't afford it as we spent all our money for a new car. When summer was over Jones still had his car. BUT, it was not a new car now. It was a good used car. And worth about as much as Smith paid for his car when he bought it.

Think it over folks, and come down to Miller Auto Sales. See Dick Miller, Lee Umsted or Victor Cantu. Pick out a good used car and go fishing. P.S. We also have a boat.

SMITH

Smith bought a good used car from MILLER AUTO SALES. He also bought a boat, a new sewing machine. Some good fishing tackle and a kodak. And had enough money left to take his family to lake Meredith or Ute lake or to Ruidoso most every week-end all summer. When summer was over Smith had a good sun tan, a freezer full of fish, and a photo album of beautiful places he and his family had visited. And still had a good usable car.
