Muleshoe's Potato Crop is beginning to move to market in force. At this writing the area is approaching the 100 acre harvested mark. The harvest, thus far, is highlighted by three items.

1. Yield is excellent.
2. Quality is excellent.
3. Price is very good.

According to local estimates most fields are producing in the immediate area of 200 sacks per acre, which means area farmers are harvesting about 20,000 lbs. per acre here. This figure does not include number two and cull potatoes.

Produce men, farmers and local farm officials all agree that the quality here is "very good". Approximately 700 acres here are devoted to red Irish potatoes, according to J. K. Adams, Stan Barritt an Buck Gregory. Gregory an Barrett produce the lion's share of the area's potato crops.

Price Friday was holding steady at $4.25 per sack. However, Hereford, with its 11,000 acre crop is beginning to hit the market in force. It is believed that crop coupled with others on the High Plains will lower the potato price shortly.

The onion market, which started out the season at the bottom of the scale has showed increasing strength this week. Friday, yellow onion were selling at $1.75 — up from $1.55 last week. At the outset of the harvest the price was $1.25. White onions continue low and unsteady.

According to the latest report from Elvon DeVaney, manager of the West Texas Farm Labor Association, the Muleshoe trade area's 263 acres of cucumbers are looking better than very good, and a much better yield is expected then the area had last year. Harvesting will start next week. Half of the area's crop will go to La Junta and the other half to Phoenix.

GOLDWATER'S SIDE

... And This Is Where I Stand

There have been few, if any, occasions when the searching of my conscience and the re-examination of my views of our constitutional system have played a greater part in the determination of my vote than they have on this occasion.

I am unalterably opposed to the basis of race, color, or creed, or on any other basis; not only my words, but more importantly my actions through the years have repeatedly demonstrated the sincerity of my feeling in this regard.

This is fundamentally a matter of the heart. The problems of discrimination can never be cured by laws alone; but I would be the first to agree that laws can help — laws carefully considered and weighed in an atmosphere of dispassion, in the absence of political demagoguery, and in the light of fundamental constitutional principles.

For example, throughout my twelve years as a member of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, I have repeatedly offered amendments to bills pertaining to labor that would end discrimination in unions, and repeatedly those amendments have been turned down by the very members of both parties who now so vociferously support the present approach to the solution of our problem. Talk is one thing, action is another, and until the members of this Body and the people of this country realize this, there will be no real solution to the problem we face.

To be sure, a calm environment for the consideration of an law dealing with human relationships is not easily attained — emotions run high, political pressures become great, and objectivity is at a premium. Nevertheless, it is in this context that I maintained high hopes for this current legislation — high hopes that, notwithstanding the glaring defects of the measure as it reached u from the other Body and the sledge - hammer political tactics which produced it, this legislation, through the actions of what was once considered to be the greatest deliberative Body on earth, would emerge in a form both effective for its lofty purposes and acceptable to all freedomloving people.

It is with great sadness that I realize the non - fulfillment of these high hopes. My hopes were shattered when it became apparent that emotion and political pressure, not persuasion, not common sense, not deliberation, had become the rule of the day and of the processes of this great Body.

One has only to review the defeat of common sense amendments that would in no way harm it but would, in fact, improve it — to realize that political common sense, has come to rule the consideration of this measure.

I realize fully that the federal government has a responsibility in the field of civil rights. I supported the civil rights bills which were enacted in 1957, 1960, and my public utterance during the debates on those measures and since reveal clearly the areas in which I feel that federal legislation on this subject is appropriate. Many of those areas are encompassed in this bill and to that extent, I favor it.

I wish to make myself perfectly clear. The two portions of this bill to which I have constantly and consistently voiced objections, and which are of such overriding significance that they are determinative to my vote on the entire measure, as those which would embark the federal government on regulatory courts of action with regard to (See GOLDWATER, Page 5)

Sorghum Midge Showing Up In Area

The sorghum midge is showing up in several Plains counties, according to James Harding, entomologist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock. Harding says very light populations of midge have been found in a nine-county area — roughly centered by Lubbock County.

The entomologist cautions, however, that midge damage is not expected on grain sorghum blooming this early in the season. He says research and observations in past year showing midge damage is usually not significant until about August 1. Application of chemical for midge control before this date served little useful purpose.

One important research finding was reported by Harding. He says midge have emerged from grain sorghum floras (flowers) that were covered with soil last fall up to a depth of eight inches. This indicates land preparation measures have little effect.

Two approaches to chemical control in late - planted sorghum may be followed.

1. Automatic or insurance method: Apply a recommended insecticide after 90 percent of the heads have emerged from the boot. A second and possibly a third, application may be necessary at 3 to 4 day intervals if the field doesn't head uniformly.
2. As - required method? Carefully check for midge in wild host (See SORGHUM, Page 5)

Accent on Health

AUSTIN — Without the sun we would all die. But use of sun, like anything, can be carried to extremes.

The sun is necessary for growth processes of all — man, animal and vegetable. Sunshine is a source of vitamin D, as most people know. But what apparently is misunderstood is that ordinarily healthy people can get all the D vitamin they need through routine activities such as hanging out the family wash, mowing the lawn or walking to the store.

As some of our senior citizens will tell you, the skin hue of choice fifty years ago was a fragile, pale white. One elderly Texas resident tells how she never went to the barn of field without protection of a sunbonnet. And she tells of spending hours trying to bleach her skin with lemon juice and buttermilk.

Today, the skin hue of choice by many is a golden brown. And many a person sweats out a frequent sun bath to attain a coat of bronze.

Overdoing a good thing — trying to acquire a suntan in a day's time — is where the problem begins.

The sun, as a heat source, can give the body first, second and even third degree burns. The medical term for sunburn is "erythema solaris." It's the ultraviolet rays, it is possible to get burned even on overcast days in mid-summer.

There are other dangers, too. Ultraviolet is associated in many minds with cancer. The rays stimulate cells to divide, and sometimes the cells 'forget' to stop, thus becoming cancerous. It's likely, they say, that this could happen from any ultraviolet source — either the sun or sun lamps. Of course, only a person subjected constantly to large amounts of ultra violet is in danger. For example, farmers who work under sunlight are frequent victims of skin cancer. Ultraviolet may also harm the eyes — even when they are closed. The skin of the eyelids is the thinnest on the whole body, the light can go right through causing sunburn of the eyes. Ordinary, sunglasses offer some protection, but a thicker material — like cotton — offers more protection.

Bask in the sun, if you like, but do it with discretion.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By J. Frank Peery

UNDUE ANXIETY ... Perhaps, one of the most puzzling statements which Jesus ever made concerns anxiety. On the surface, his directions seem to be clearly out of touch with reality: "... do not be anxious about your life..." (Matt. 25). This seems utterly contrary to common sense, and in the kind of world in which we live, it also seems impossible.

One of the basic motives of our time is to find security. The United Nations seeks to establish it in international affairs. Medical-aid programs seek to provide against the encroachments of disease. Scientific research tries to prolong life and to derive more comforts from it. And, one of fundamental causes of nervous anxiety is the possibility that some sick, unbalanced, or excited persons will push the panic button to set off a nuclear war. From a secular standpoint, security is one of the many goals of our twentieth century. Thus, we are prone to say that Jesus just didn't know how conditions would be in our time. Anxious we must be. Such spiritual teachings seem too idealistic. Even should one want to avoid anxiety, it is apparently impossible.

The man called Christ did know what he was talking about. He knows of the times and trials under which we live and he also knows man. He knows man is capable and could possess the inner power to rise to meet any anxious moment. Jesus is not condemning, intelligent thought about the future but only nervous anxiety about it. Jesus is trying to guard his people against such undue concern for days and things that never happen. How, then, can we be harmed or even understand troubles which may never happen.

I'm certain it is the good providence of God that we do not know the earthly future. You see, happiness yet to come known beforehand could easily distract us from today's tasks. If we know that we will win the race, then why train and condition? More seriously, the certain knowledge of trouble would likely create a mood of despair even in the saint of saints. If one knew for certain that he would fail the examination — if many knew for certain when death would come — the frailty of human life could not endure such knowledge and remain sane.

Frankly Speaking — We need to get self out of the center of things, face one trouble at a time, turn away from our atheistic tendencies, and really trust in God. Love God as God loves you and nothing will happen this day that you and God cannot handle.

Work Books And Sewing Programs For Seven Clover

Work books and sewing were the highlights of two recent meetings of the Seven Clover 4-H Club.

Mrs. Jean Martin gave a flip card demonstration of how the work books should look with a card showing how each page should be made up. This meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Richard Puckett. Pictures were taken of the girls at work on their books during the demonstration.

Mrs. Dan Throckmorton was hostess for the other meeting when sewing on skirts was completed. Refreshments were served and the next meeting will be held in the Throckmorton home and the study topic will be sewing machines.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Through the newspaper, I want to say something to the whole community. It has been a great pleasure for me, to stay during one year in Muleshoe. I want to show my appreciation to the community for everything you all have done for me to show me a good stay.

I also have to thank you all because of your cooperation to the American Field Service program to sponsor a foreign student. Because of you, I was able to fulfill one of my dreams; to be able to come and know the United States of America. So, thank you very much.

I have to show recognition, also, to the people because of the friendship that they showed to me. I do not want to start naming them because there are so many that I could not finish in a short time. But there are a couple of words that have a great great meaning: Thank You.

As you all probably know, I am traveling throughout the United States. This bus - trip is a lot of fun. We are 43 students from 25 different countries. This is in bus No. 17.

I boarded it in Midland. We traveled until Ponca City, Oklahoma, passing through Wichita Falls, Oklahoma City, and several other small towns. Midland organized a wonderful schedule of activities. Among them a tour of the city, and the visit to the First National Bank of Midland. We received a short lecture and then we went through the different offices.

In Ponca City we did not have a good schedule as we had in Midland. We visit the largest CONOCO oil refinery. It was very interesting to see the different processings which oil is passed through to obtain the m/a product and subproducts. To me, the most interesting part were the office bldg. because for the first time I saw IBM electronic machines at work. They use a system of punched card to record those cards are taken to machines which pass them to tapes. The tapes are filed keeping alphabetical order. Up to the time we went through them, they had 2831 tapes worth 4 million dollars.

That is great. In St. Louis, Mo. we did not do much. We went to see a musical in the big open theatre in a park in St. Louis downtown.

The rain ran us away just before the last scene. The name of the musical was "Mr. President". I went on a tour through downtown, but I did not like it. It is a very old city. It was not as good as I thought it was.

Then in Lebanon, Ind.; we spent the 4th of July. There has been a parade and at night there was a show of fireworks. The next day I went to visit Indianapolis. I went to see the famous speedway. By paying 25 cents one can go on a tour through the speedway. I went twice. The drivers show the places of the accident, and one can appreciate the tire marks left because of the brakes, and also the results of burning gasoline.

The climate in this region is terrible because of the humidity. Before going to Muleshoe, I used to be accustomed to humidity. Unfortunately I can't support it right now.

Well, I have to finish this letter because I have several things to do. Receive my kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,
Horacio A. Cavallero

private enterprise in the area of so-called "public accommodations" and in the area of employment — to be more specific, Titles II and VII of the bill. I find no constitutional basis for the exercise of federal regulatory authority in either of these areas; and I believe the attempted usurpation of such power to be a grave threat to the very essence of our basic system of government, namely, that of a constitutional republic in which fifty sovereign states have reserved to themselves and to the people those powers specifically granted to the central or federal government.

If it is the wish of the American people that the federal government should be granted the power to regulate in these two areas and in the manner contemplated by this bill, then I say that the Constitution should be so amended by the people as to authorize such action in accordance with the procedures for amending the Constitution which that great document itself prescribes. I say further that, for this great Legislative Body to ignore the Constitution and the fundamental concepts of our governmental system is to act in a manner which could ultimately destroy the freedom of all American citizens, including the freedoms of the very persons whose feelings and whose liberties are the major subject of this legislation.

My basic objection to this measure is, therefore, constitutional. But, in addition, I would like to point out to my colleagues in the Senate and to the people of America, regardless of their race, color, or creed, the implications involved in the enforcement of this sort of a federal police force of mammoth proportions. It also bids fair to result in the development of an "informer" psychology in great areas of our national life—workers spying on workers, bus-

10-15 percent below the Caprock. Weevil infestations above the Caprock should be controlled promptly — regardless of size.

Thrips infestations are becoming less severe. However, small numbers of fleahoppers and bollworm are showing up in several areas. Beneficial insects may suppress these early bollworm hatchlings but cannot be relied on entirely.

For control recommendations, refer to L-508, "Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos Areas of Texas," or to L-218, "Cotton Insects." Both are published by The Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Copies of these guides can be obtained from your county agents office.

C-C Training Class Schedule For 20th

Although the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce sponsored employed training course is rapidly filling with local executives who work with and train employees, a few vacancies still exist.

The four step method of training employees will begin here July 20th. Officially titled "How To Train An Employee", the four day course will be brought to the area through the offices of the Distributive Education Program of the University of Texas and the Texas Education Agency.

C of C president the meeting according to Roger Abertson, have been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. July 20 - 23. Meeting place has not yet been announced. Because the class can not be overcrowded all supervisory personnel who are connected with the training of employees are urged to enroll now.

Businessmen spying on businessmen, where those who would harass their fellow citizens for selfish and narrow purposes will have ample inducement to do so. These, the federal police force and an "informer" psychology, are the hallmarks of the police state and landmarks in the destruction of a free society. I repeat again: I am unalterably opposed to discrimination of any sort and I believe that though the problem is fundamentally one of the heart, some law can help — but not law that embodies features like these, provisions which fly in the face of the Constitution and which require for their effective execution the creation of a police state. And so, because I am unalterably opposed to any threats to our great system of government and the loss of our God-given liberties, I shall vote "No" on this bill.

This vote will be reluctantly cast, because I had hoped to be able to vote "Yea" on this measure as I have on the civil rights bills which have preceded it; but I cannot in good conscience to the oath that I took when assuming office, cast my vote in the affirmative. With the exception of Titles II and VII, I could wholeheartedly support this bill; but with their inclusion, not measurably improved by the compromise version we have been working on, my vote must be "No."

If my vote is misconstrued, let it be, and let me suffer its consequences. Just let me be judged in this by the real concern I have voiced here and not by words that others may speak or by what others may say about what I think.

My concern extends beyond this single legislative moment. My concern extends beyond any single group in our society. My concern is for the entire nation, for the freedom of all who live in it and for all who will be born into it.

It is the general welfare that must be considered now, not just the special appeals for special welfare. This is the time to attend to the liberties of all. This is my concern. And this is where I stand.

He pointed out that well trained employees enjoy their work, and contented customers in all lines of business.

Carpenter Operates Two Gulf Service Stations

If you want good petroleum products and fast, courteous service, drive into Carpenter's Gulf Service Station at 400 American Blvd., and also 220 American Blvd., and you will be pleased with both the products and the service.

Fast Car Service At 1st. St. Conoco

If you are caught with your tires, battery or gas down call the First Street Conoco Station, 7920 and a service truck will soon arrive with the necessary relief to get your wagon going.

headlights wiped off, rear window cleaned, tires, battery and oil checked if you wish and you are soon ready to roll again. This firm also does minor motor repairing, installs mufflers, and tail pipes, repacks wheels adjust brakes, installs batteries, tires and accessories. They also do washing, polishing, waxing and lubrication as well as engine cleaning.

ies and accessories. They also wash and lubricate cars and furnish road service. In addition, they install mufflers and give S & H Green stamps with every purchase.

These two service stations are owned by A. M. Carpenter who took over management last October. Previous to that time he farmed at Progress for a number of years. His son Jerry, manages the station at 202 American Blvd. Gulf Oil Products are known all over the world for their high grade performance and good mileage. A large staff of research chemists are constantly working to improve their products and they claim to have the world's finest motor oil as well as the best gasoline. Even the cheapest grade of Gulf gasoline — Gulfane — will give perfect performance in today's high-powered engines. It is not necessary to buy premium grade gasoline to operate today's new cars. Gulfane will start as fast and run as fast as any premium grade gasoline.

Since taking over these stations, Mr. Carpenter and son, Jerry, have made many friends and customers in the Muleshoe area and their volume shows a steady increase each month.

The next time you need gasoline drive into one of these stations and fill up with "Good Gulf" — there's "extra gallop" in every gallon.

Mrs. Joe Foster led the study at the meeting Monday afternoon of the Ladies Bible class of the Church of Christ when the book "Sacrificial Life" was completed.

In attendance were Mrs. John Withrow, Mrs. Dail Burnett, Mrs. Quinton McCabren, Mr. T. Fife, Mrs. Tom Stanley, Mrs. E. B. Hutchinson, Mrs. Bernard Wilson, Mrs. Paul Mathews, Mrs. Weldon Wiseman.
