For Next Election

School Numbers Board Positions

Hereford School Board, meeting for four hours in a regular session Tuesday evening, covered a 14-item agenda which was highlighted by discussion of several school policies, a visit to the high school language lab, appointment of a textbook committee, approval of a school audit, and discussion on selecting a name for the new elementary school.

In relation to policies, the board established place numbers for trustee positions by drawing numbers from an envelope. The action was necessary prior to the next trustee election since the board voted several months ago to change the method of election. In the future, candidates must file for a specific place on the board.

SINCE THE TERMS of Hugh Clearman, Jim Arney and Bob Veigel are next to expire, these three drew for the place 1, 2 and 3 positions. Clearman's seat will be Place 1, Arney's Place 2, and Veigel's is Place 3. Danny Martin and Ron Zimmerman drew 4 and 5, respectively, while Jim Conkwright drew Place 6 and Lynton Allred came up with 7.

Supt. Roy Hartman suggested that the board should be giving some consideration to the name for the new elementary school being constructed just off West Park Ave. After a brief discussion, the board decided to call upon interested citizens to submit their ideas for the name of the school.

All citizens who wish to make a recommendation for the school's name are asked to write a letter or card and mail it to the Administration Office, Hereford Independent School District.

THE CURRICULUM report for this meeting concerned the Language-Arts Department, headed by Margaret Bell. The board, administrators and visitors moved to the high school building for a demonstration of the foreign language program. Explaining the program and demonstrating teaching methods in the lab were Bonnie Maston (Spanish), Lois Laubhan (German), and Barbara Stagner (French).

The new lab is equipped with a teacher-console unit and individual desks with headphones, making it possible for the teacher to talk with all students, with individuals, or for student-to-student conversation. The teacher can use tapes, records or cassettes in the training program.

Jim Holmes, administrative assistant, explained to the board the annual selection of a textbook committee—which is also aided by a large advisory group of teachers and administrators. Named to the textbook committee, and approved by the board, were: Judy Birdsong, Pam Lauder, A.B. Lyles, Marie Stringer, Leslie Paschel, Dianne Wood, Judy Phipps, Wanda Nall, Teddie Poindexter, Sharon Hodges, Donna Warwick, Ophelia Echevarria, Vida Hicks, and Holmes. Hartman, as superintendent, is required by the state to serve as chairman of the committee.

County Announces Intent To Increase All Salaries

Thanks To You, It's Halfway

The United Way Campaign for Deaf Smith County neared the halfway mark this week as workers turned in $9,916.84 Tuesday morning, raising the total to $27,585.18—or 46.3 per cent of the goal of $59,600.

MIKE PATRICK, general chairman, gave a breakdown of contributions in 10 areas being covered by volunteer workers. Leading the way to date is the wholesale division with $7,157.

A further breakdown of the divisions: public, $5,375.20; professional, $3,758; utilities, $3,060.82; retail, $3,205.52; financial, $2,296.64; farm, ranch and industry, $1,921; out-of-town, $261; miscellaneous, $550. No amounts were reported for the church or feedlot divisions.

Patrick said volunteers are making their contacts as soon as possible. Any business or individual who has not been contacted and wishes to make a contribution may call Patrick or Raymond White, drive chairman.

Honorary Hereford Bull
"I've been wanting one of these for a long time," said a beaming State Rep. Bill Clayton after he was made an "Honorary Hereford Bull" during an appreciation dinner in his honor Monday night at Civic Club Center. Roy Faubion made the presentation on behalf of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Clayton also received a check for $4,540 from supporters here.

Clayton Honored With Check, Bull

Visibly moved by the presentation of the Honorary Hereford Bull Award and a check for $4,540 during his appreciation dinner here Monday night, State Rep. Bill Clayton told a capacity crowd at Civic Club Center that "words cannot express my feelings to the warm, friendly people of Hereford and Deaf Smith County."

The $25-a-plate appreciation affair was put together by a steering committee of local supporters, who decided on the dinner after published reports that Clayton has more than enough pledged votes to become the next Speaker of the House. Bill Gentry served as chairman of the steering committee.

CLINT FORMBY, in introducing Clayton, said it was the first time—to his knowledge—that the community had honored a legislator in such a manner. Roy Faubion, C of C president, made the presentation of the Hereford Bull Award, and Don Zimmerman made the Deaf Smith County Commissioners took another step Monday in approving salary increases for all county elected officials and employees, authorizing a legal publication which gives taxpayers 30 days notice before the action takes effect on Jan. 1.

The action came as no surprise, since proposed salary increases had been included in the new 1975 budget which was recently adopted. The notice of intent states that salaries are to be raised 10 per cent "plus some adjustments."

IN OTHER business during the regular meeting Monday, commissioners approved purchase of crushed caliche in two precincts; canvassed votes of the general election; revised each precinct's percentage of receipts from motor vehicle tag fees; granted a five-year extension on a contract with the Hereford Lions Club for use of the Bull Barn for wrestling; approved a payment of $450 to Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce to help pay for brochures; heard a request for caliche to be put on a road; approved the lease of a copying machine for the county library, and approved monthly bills.

The county treasurer's report showed three of the precincts with deficit balances at the end of October. The funds were put back into the "black" with the deposit of $187,022 in 1975 tax revenues now collected. Precinct 1 had a deficit of $8,099.62; Precinct 3 had a deficit of $2,827.67; and Precinct 4 was $30,270.89 in the "red". Precinct 2 had a balance of $20,341.66. The county's fiscal year starts in January.

Commissioners had held a closed meeting Oct. 31 to discuss the salary hikes and agreed on a 10 per cent increase for all officials and employees. In addition, further adjustments were approved for six elected officials and two employees. With the adjustments, some increases will range from 13.5 to 21.2 per cent.

THOSE NAMED to receive adjustments, and the annual amount: Sheriff, $1,400; criminal district attorney, $1,200; county clerk, $900; tax assessor-collector, $900; district clerk, $900; and treasurer, $900. The chief deputy sheriff will receive $330 additional per year, and the tax consultant will receive $500.

Elected officials who are scheduled to receive only the 10 per cent raise are the county judge, justice of peace, and the county commissioners. The new annual salaries for elected officials will be: County judge $14,365; sheriff $14,300; district attorney $16,500; clerk $12,100; tax assessor $12,100; treasurer $11,000; district clerk $11,000; justice of peace

Herd Closes Out Regular Season Against Monterey

The Hereford Whitefaces will play host to the Monterey Plainsmen at Whiteface Stadium Friday night in the last regular season game for both teams. Outcome of the 7:30 p.m. contest could determine winner of the District 4-AAAA title and who will represent the district in state playoffs.

For 21 seniors on the Hereford team, it will be their last regular season appearance on the gridiron. With a win over Monterey, Hereford could claim the District 4-AAAA title, depending on the outcome of the Plainview-Lubbock High game to be played Saturday night.

A WIN for Hereford, Monterey and the defeat of Plainview by Lubbock High would give the Herd the district title, their third in four years. On the other hand, if Plainview and Monterey both win this weekend, Monterey will be the district representative. Monterey and Plainview would have identical records, but Monterey would advance to the playoffs on penetrations over Plainview in the tie game between the two. In that case Hereford would finish third. A last possibility would be a Monterey victory and a defeat of Plainview, in which case Monterey would represent the district, Hereford would be second and Plainview third.

Hereford will play host to Monterey after enjoying an open date last weekend. In the two week period Hereford has had to prepare for the Plainsmen, Coach Larry Dippel said his team worked on basics of football and explored every avenue to insure a Hereford win.

Should Hereford lose out on the district win, it would mean 24 seniors will have played their last game for the Maroon and White. Twenty-one players and three managers will end their high school football careers. Listed below are senior players and their assignments:

- Kent Hollingsworth, No. 20, starting defensive back
- Ronnie Ohlig, No. 22, starting split end
- David Artho, No. 30, starting defensive back
- Doug Charest, No. 35, starting fullback and captain
- Mike Munnerlyn, No. 42, starting wingback and captain
- Bobby Fields, No. 48, defensive back and specialty teams

- Kevin Compton, No. 50, center and specialty teams
- Terry Bell, No. 52 (84), starting center, defensive end and captain
- Danny Collins, No. 63, starting offensive guard
- Stan Fry, No. 64, offensive guard and specialty teams
- Kevin Fox, No. 65, starting offensive guard
- Clifford Fangman, No. 68, defensive tackle
- Danny Jones, No. 70, offensive tackle and specialty teams
- David Fish, No. 73, starting offensive tackle
- Melvin Betzen, No. 74, starting offensive tackle and captain
- John Paetold, No. 75, starting defensive tackle and captain

- Kevin Malone, No. 80, starting tight end
- Fernando Rocha, No. 83, defensive tackle and specialty teams
- Jimmy Sanchez, No. 87, starting defensive end
- David Jones, No. 88, linebacker and specialty teams
- Darrell Murphy, manager
- Ricky Dupree, manager
- Dale Simon, manager

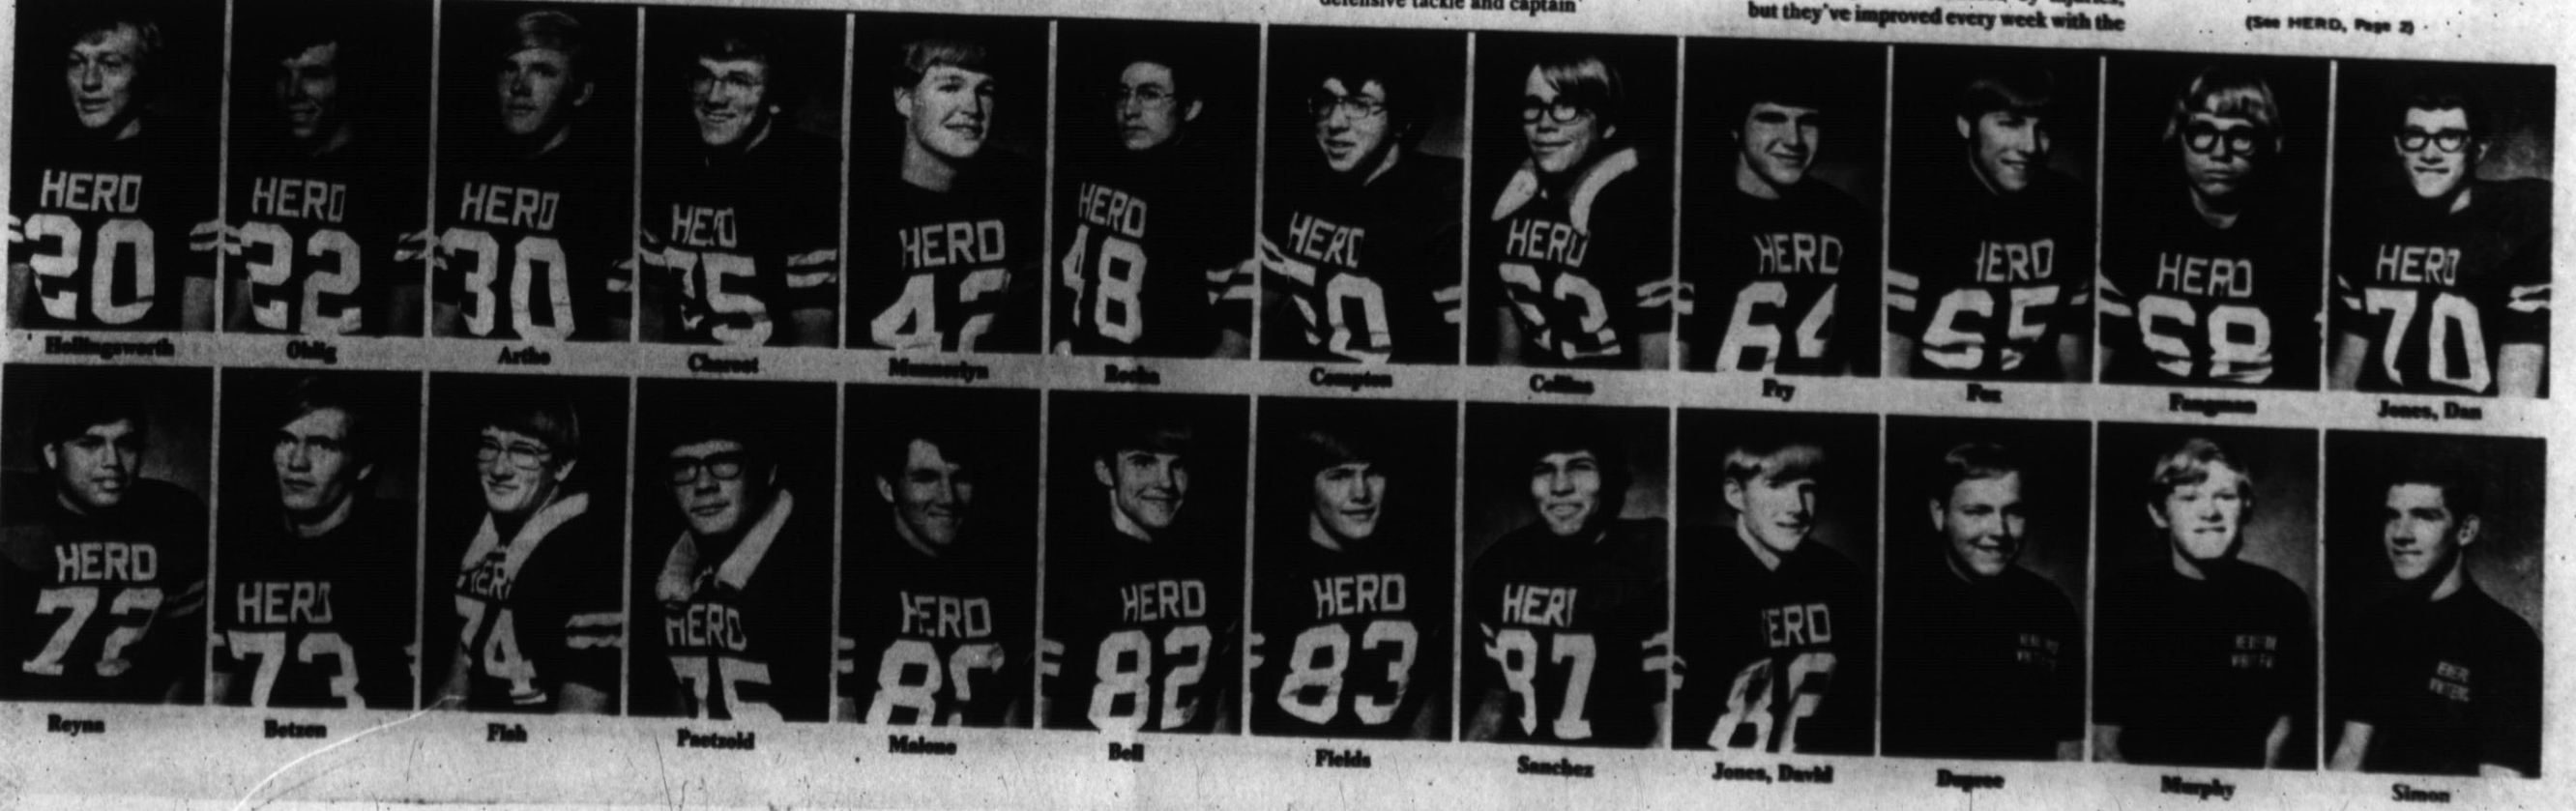

Coach Larry Dippel sized up the Plainsmen in an early week interview with The Brand. "They are an excellent defensive team. Very aggressive. And they've got great team quickness. Offensively, Monterey has been improving every week. Early in the season they were hindered by injuries, but they've improved every week with the people they've had to use."

Two players who are injured and out for the season with Monterey are starting backfield members Dennis Blair and Ricky Kiech. In their places are Glen Stallings at tailback and Joel Acosta at fullback. Dippel credited the two with doing a good job since they moved into the starting spots. Both have played only about three weeks.

A thing to watch for, according to Dippel, will be the throwing game. Scott Gardner, a 6'5" junior who doubles as an ace pitcher during baseball season, would rather throw the ball than run with it and more often than not his target is split end Richard Bowles. Bowles is the district's leading receiver.

Branding Time

THAT FELLER on Tierra Blanca Creek says an optimist is a guy who thinks his wife could live within his income if he got a raise.

HEREFORD CITIZENS interested in the naming of the new elementary school have been asked by the school board to submit suggestions to the administration office. Some may want to keep the name "Central"; others may want to name it for an early teacher or pioneer, or others may favor a historical flavor.

(Note to wise guys: Because of its location, trustees already foresee such suggestions as Cemetery, Boot Hill, Lakeside, and others. These will probably not be considered!)

THE HUSTLIN Herd closes out its regular season Friday night against the tough Monterey team, and we are saluting the senior members of the team in today's issue. The Whiteface gridders can't finish better than 5-5, but they have surprised some of the experts and have been a factor in the 4-AAAA race this season. We classify them as winners and urge fans to pack the stands Friday night!

THE APPRECIATION dinner here Monday night for State Rep. Bill Clayton was a big success—an informal and spontaneous-type event that was well received by all in attendance. The entertainment was great, too, with the new Methodist music man—Bob McFarland—proving to be a big hit with the crowd.

Bill Gentry got in some great licks as master of ceremonies, too. His introduction of Clint Formby as chairman of the board of regents at Texas A&M—pulled off by Gentry as a slip of the tongue—broke up the audience. (Formby, of course, is a Texas Tech man.)

TEXAS AUTO license plates will be heavier in 1975. That's because they're designed to last five years. Each will have a space for renewal stickers, in accord with a law passed last session. The plates, already arriving at some tax assessor offices, have black lettering on an off-white background.

THE MOST recent census projection, July 1, ranks Texas third among the states with an estimated 12 million population. California is first with 21 million and New York second with 18.1 million. U.S. population is estimated at 211 million.

FIGURES FOR 1973 showed the states taxed and consumed 111 billion gallons of motor fuel, which was 5.4 billion more gallons than 1972. California was the leading consumer with 11 billion gallons taxed; Texas was second with 7.9 billion gallons, and New York was third with 6.2 billion. Add Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, Florida, New Jersey and Georgia and your account for more than 51 per cent of the U.S. total in 1973.

510,124; and commissioners $9,517.20. Commissioners received bids on crushed caliche and awarded contracts to Gilvin-Terrill for 40,000 yards in Precinct 4 and C.Q. Smith for 12,000 yards in Precinct 3. The larger amount was purchased at 40 cents a square yard, and the other at 45 cents.

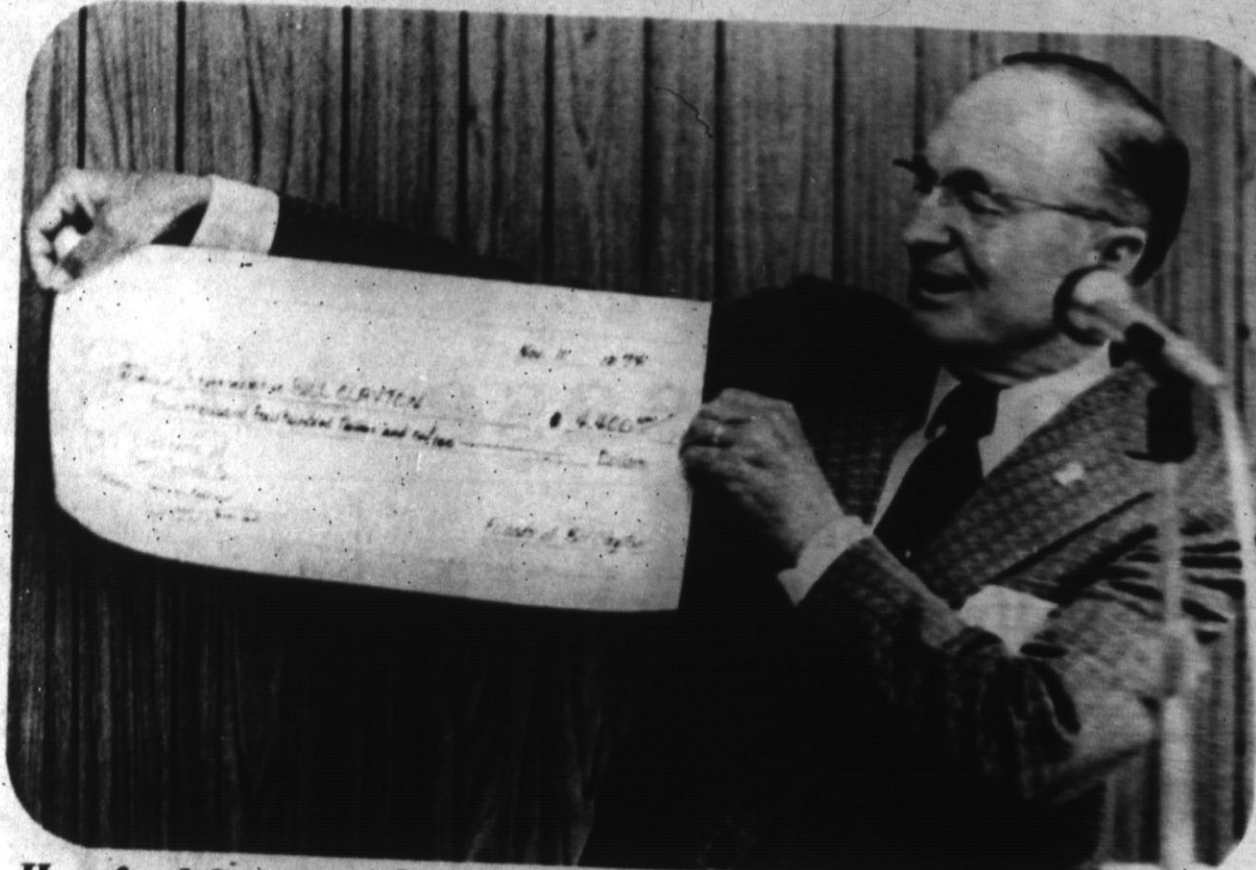

WHILE DISCUSSING the percentage each precinct should receive from motor tag revenue, commissioner Donald Hicks pointed out that one reason his precinct had a deficit balance was due to incorrect allocation of tax money. He reported the tax money percentages were set up on a 23-23-23-31 split for the precincts, but had actually been divided 25 per cent each. A motion was made to correct that apportionment.

The tax money was set up on a 25-26-23-26 basis the past year, and commissioners in precincts 1-2-3 agreed to give up one per cent to Hicks in precinct 4. The new split will be 24-25-22-29, with Precinct 4 receiving three per cent more. Hick's precinct covers most of the northern part of the county and has more miles of roads than the others.

A routine canvass of the votes in the Nov. 5 election was made with no errors being found. There were no contested races in the county. County clerk B.F. Cain reported election expenses of $1,539.50 for judges and clerks.

HARVEY ROWLAND appeared before the commissioners to request that a short road, from the city limits to the end of Ave. F, be improved with a cliche topping. He said the city had promised to put caliche on its portion of the street which is not paved. The length is only about 250 yards, according to Rowland, who maintains stables at the location and cited a need because of heavy traffic.

Commissioner Earl Holt agreed that the road needed the work but explained that he was limited by funds in what work could be accomplished. He told Rowland, however, that the work would be scheduled as soon as possible.

Hereford-Size Check

Don Zimmerman displays a large check which was presented to State Rep. Bill Clayton at an appreciation dinner here Monday night. Deaf Smith County citizens sponsored the event to show appreciation for the work of the 74th District representative from Springlake. Zimmerman was one of the showing committee members. Although the amount is listed as $4,400 on the check, the correct total from the $25-a-plate dinner turned out to be $4,540.

discussed. One concerned the administrative policy for the music department on special trips to music festivals, or similar events. Hartman explained that the policy in the past had been to allow the trip if the band or choir was a "sweepstake" winner. On recommendation of the music department directors, the policy was changed, reported Hartman.

The decision to attend a spring festival or other acceptable school trip will be based on the recommendation of the director, subject to final approval by the school administration. The criteria will include the educational value of the trip, and the attitude and work put in by the students all year. It will not be based on contest ratings.

On a board policy matter, Hartman said the school's listed "criteria for measuring faculty and staff relationships" should be updated in accordance with the Texas Education Agency's request. Some of the changes were discussed and the school chief said a revised personnel policy would be submitted to the board, probably at the next meeting.

THE LIST required by the state includes the criteria by which the school district measures faculty and staff for assignment, promotion, demotion, reassignment, or dismissal, and by which they will judge prospective employees for faculty and staff positions.

A number of regular reports were made for the board. The enrollment report showed a total of 5,535 students—an increase of 127 compared to a year ago. Bill Phillips said the increase was primarily reflected in more kindergarten pupils. High school has 960 students—10 more than recorded a year ago.

A report from the tax office showed that $1,427,000 had been received on local taxes during October. This was slightly lower than a year ago. Many taxpayers take advantage of the discounts offered before January. Larry Wartes reported on the cafeteria and transportation. With rising food costs, he said the district may have to reevaluate lunch prices in January.

HARTMAN REPORTED the school had received five bids for new textbooks for the high school choir and awarded the contract to Gaston's in Sugarland Mall on a low bid of $112.50 for each complete outfit, including a shirt and cummerbund. Four other local bids were submitted at competitive prices.

Ed McCreary, assistant on Federal programs, explained several problems which had caused funding for the migrant program to be delayed—not only here but in all schools which have the program. He also reported that superintendents from five area school districts met here Tuesday to determine the number of economically disadvantaged students each district should claim under another Federal program. He reported that the Hereford district is allocated for 1,757 of these students.

Trustees elected Jim Conkright to serve as a liaison with area school boards. All members of the board answered the roll call except Jim Arney, and he joined the session about midway of the agenda discussions.

presentation of the $4,540 check—which represented proceeds from the dinner.

Tickets for the event were sold only to individuals—no companies or corporations—and the dinner was a sell-out several days before it was scheduled. The steering committee said the money would be presented to Clayton for expenses in the Speaker's race and for travel to and from his 74th district.

Clayton praised the progressive attitude of the people of Deaf Smith County, saying that he tells people about hustlin' Hereford in his trips around the state. "When the people of Hereford decide something needs to be done, they set their eyes on the goal and put their shoulders to the wheel," said Clayton.

"I FELT the same way in the Speaker's race," added Clayton. "Everyone told me that a rural West Texas representative could never win the Speaker's post, but I think we've convinced them otherwise."

Clayton was first elected to the state legislature in 1962 and has been re-elected for consecutive terms since that time. A Springlake farmer, Clayton was born in Olney and moved with his family to Springlake at the age of three. He is a graduate of Texas A&M.

Clayton has been the recognized leader in water resources in the state and has served in numerous capacities in that area—including service as executive director of Water, Inc. He has served on many important committees in the legislature and has been chairman of various committees.

"IN AN AREA that could well be the breadbasket of the world, we face many problems, but I believe that we can solve them by working together," Clayton told his audience. "We live in a complex society and we face greater responsibilities and challenges than did our forefathers," he added.

Clayton's wife, Delma, accompanied him to Hereford and drew special recognition from the state representative.

Clayton remarked that this was the first appreciation dinner he'd attended where he really had nothing to do with the event. "They just invited me to come up and eat a steak, and this is great," he exclaimed. Gentry recognized Roy Hartman as the top ticket seller for the dinner, and paid special tribute to the local TSTA chapter and the CowBelles for table decorations. State Rep. Pete Laney of Hale Center was recognized as one of the special guests at the dinner.

SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT was provided by Bob McFarland, minister of music at First Methodist Church, who was accompanied by his wife, Margaret. A newcomer to Hereford, McFarland impressed the audience with several vocal selections.

Tech Museum Now Closed For Season

Ranch Headquarters officials are announcing that the outdoor museum, adjacent to The Museum of Texas Tech University, is closed for the season to public tours.

The popular tours are expected to be resumed in the spring. The closing became effective Oct. 27. More than 13,000 visitors had toured between May 5 and closing date. The number averaged 695 per Sunday during the two and one-half hour open period. This represented an increase over the 1973 tour numbers when the average was 336 per tour day.

ALTHOUGH closed to the general public, special group tours can be arranged by calling The Museum, 742-5151.

Definitely, Dippel pointed out these players and said they were as fine defensive players as you will see in high school football in this area. Gary Hingston and Steve White are linebackers and Brad Hingston is a safety.

"The thing we'll have to do is get good field position. That will be the key to the game, that and ball control. We'll have to control their field position. Hereford will not be able to take the ball and drive 50 yards with it. We'll just have to move it a little and get good field position," said Dippel.

Offensively, the Mustangs set in multiples, a variety of about 20 formations they use, though in the I-10. Defensively, the Mustangs do a lot, but work mainly out of the four-three and stack five defenses.

Coch Dippel said Mustangy was a team that rarely fumbled the ball. They've fumbled the ball only a few times this year. They've had a couple of penalties that hurt them, but they've played with few mistakes the last three weeks. Mustangy is small in size, not awesome, but they play bigger than they are.

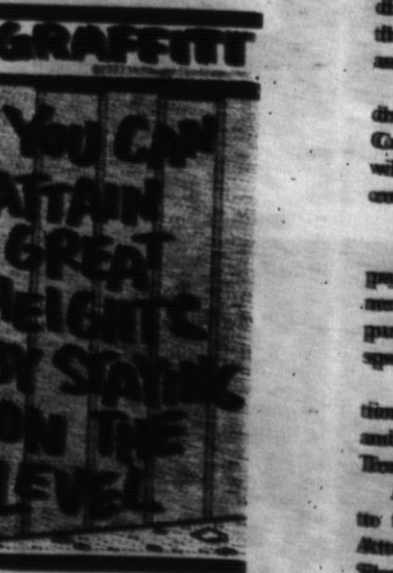

Has the open date helped the Herd? "Well we've had time to prepare for them. We'll be ready to play when we hit the field Friday night. We'll just have to wait and see how much effort the open date has had. I think playing at home will be to our advantage. The support of the fans makes the team play better," said Dippel.

Dimmitt Posts Bounty For Narcotic Pushers

Concerned parents in Dimmitt have revived the bounty program of yesterday by initiating one of the toughest anti-drug moves in Texas history.

As of now, a $5,000 reward is being offered for "hard" evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of drug vendors in Castro County. Rewards of Dimmitt youth have already pledged $5,000 for the first convicted drug pusher and the

Alcoholism Council Stresses Education

If the name of an organization is mentioned that contains the words "alcoholic" or "alcoholism," most people immediately assume the organization is Alcoholics Anonymous. One of those organizations often confused in our area is the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism.

The council works to educate the public of the huge problem of alcoholism in America and when alcoholics come to the council for help, refer them to agencies or persons who can help.

THE REV. BILL LANG, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism, said The Brand in a recent interview that the Council is a representative group of citizens in the county from many professions—some of whom are total abstainers and others who are not—all working together to promote a common understanding of the problem.

Rev. Lang points out that the Council is not a prohibitionist organization nor does it promote drinking. The Council is neither wet nor dry, but includes persons of all opinions on the issue. The principal objective of the Council is to inform the public about drinking to excess or to the extent that serious personal problems are created through alcoholism. Abstinence is within the scope of teaching of the Council, but it is not its total approach to the problems connected with the misuse of alcohol.

Alcoholics Anonymous is "a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others recover from alcoholism." Rev. Lang says the Council of Alcoholism is an organization designed to prevent persons from becoming alcoholics through education, and refer those who are alcoholics to persons or agencies for treatment and rehabilitation.

THE COUNCIL receives its only income from the United Fund, about $2,200 a year, or two per cent of the United Fund in Deaf Smith County. The money, Rev. Lang said, does not go to any individual or family, but is used by the Council to purchase educational films on alcoholism and literature dealing with the problem. All members of the Council work strictly on a volunteer basis, giving their time and efforts, receiving no compensation.

Council members are available to speak before service clubs, industrial groups, churches, schools, civic organizations, and other interested parties and the Council will provide pamphlets and literature to anyone who needs information on alcoholism.

The Council has two telephone numbers available for persons who need their services. The Council's number is 364-4540, but Rev. Lang said persons may also call his home number, 364-8939.

The Council will refer persons in need of care for alcoholism to any number of persons or agencies, from AA to doctors and psychiatrists, anyone they feel can help the alcoholic. In addition, the Council will consult with family friends, and problems of the alcoholic on a confidential basis.

THE COUNCIL'S first concern is alcoholism as a disease: not alcohol as a beverage. The Council feels alcoholism is a disease, that the alcoholic can be helped and is worth helping, that alcoholism can be prevented if symptoms are recognized in time, and that alcoholism is a public health problem and therefore a public responsibility.

In their objectives of education and referral, the Council works to increase public understanding of the problem of alcoholism, to maintain information for the public for consultation and referral services, to mobilize public opinion for a community approach to the major health problem of alcoholism, and to help promote and expand needed facilities for the rehabilitation of the alcoholic by bringing together members of the community at large.

Alcoholism, Rev. Lang said, is a public health problem recognized by medical authorities as one of four major health problems in America, after heart disease, mental illness, and very near the cancer mark—a progressive illness which is characterized by the compulsive drinking of beverage alcohol. But it is a treatable illness.

The Council defines an alcoholic as one whose compulsive (uncontrollable) drinking behavior causes serious problems in the management of his life (facing each day without the need of alcohol). An alcoholic, says the Council, is a person who needs assistance in order to recognize and overcome his illness.

THERE IS no distinction among alcoholics, claims the Council. They are in any profession—in any neighborhood—in any family—in any area of the country—anywhere and everywhere in the nation. "Said Rev. Lang is a proven myth," says one Council pamphlet. "Ninety-five per cent of the alcoholics are not on skid row. Alcoholism is a living room disease."

Thousands Flock To Umbarger Feed

Many persons in Deaf Smith County and in nearby communities still carry the names of their German ancestors who settled on the High Plains. A community just to the east of Hereford, Umbarger, helps to revive that German heritage every November with its annual German Sausage Festival.

The festival is a joint community effort, but proceeds from the sausage feast go to the St. Mary's Catholic Church and parish. Community members have gathered to cook the German links and sausage since 1952, 22 years ago when the fellowship hall of St. Mary's Church was dedicated.

MORE THAN 4,000 persons traveled to Umbarger for the meal Sunday. Serving began at 11 a.m. and during the five hours that followed, the waiting line outside the fellowship hall stretched to a quarter-mile long. John Beckman, chairman of the festival, said some persons had to wait in line over an hour and a half to sample the German cooking.

Over 300 loaves of German-style bread were baked before the dinner to go along with 3,300 pounds of the German sausage, 200 gallons of sauerkraut, 100 gallons of green beans, 1,100 pounds of potatoes and uncountable gallons of ice tea and milk. Four head cooks directed about 20 kitchen helpers in the preparation of the food.

Many other activities were held in conjunction with the sausage supper including a raffle. Among the prizes was $200 in cash, tires, electric blankets, and two other prizes. Ten pounds and 25 pounds of German sausage!

Budget Requires Records M. G. Layman Services Planned This Afternoon

How often have you wished you had a record of where all your money goes? You don't have to keep track of every penny, but to get the most for your money, it's wise to have a plan, one expert advised this week.

She's Mrs. Lillian Chesworth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"The first step in making a spending plan is to figure exactly how much income you have — from job, pension, investments, or other sources. Be sure to consider your take-home pay after deductions, not your total salary," she advised.

Start listing your regular expenses such as mortgage or rent, regular medical expenses, insurance and installment payments.

Then figure how much you usually spend for groceries, including cleaning products and other non-food items.

"The food budget for a family of four usually averages 30-35 per cent of the total budget. But what your family spends may be quite different, so don't accept that figure as a rigid rule," she suggested.

Decide how much you usually spend for clothing during the year. Averages are usually about 15 per cent of a family's budget for this.

Add gasoline bills, car repair bills and related expenses such as insurance or license fees.

"This will give you an idea of how much to allot for transportation," she said.

Allow some money for recreation, including magazine or newspaper subscriptions, club dues, movies or entertaining.

"Some expenses on your spending plan can be estimated from last year's figures. These would be taxes (income, property and local) and household maintenance (repairs and upkeep)," she noted.

The specialist pointed out that one of the most important parts of a plan is to allow some money to meet emergencies.

"Have some amount that you save regularly. Treat this savings as a regular bill and always pay yourself," she said.

"After getting all your figures together, add the expenses and subtract that total from your income — making sure everything was considered on an annual basis.

"You may have to make adjustments, but this plan should help you see where your money is going," she said.

Funeral services for Miner Gilmer Layman, 95, a resident of Westgate unit, Kings Manor retirement home, are scheduled at 2 p.m. today in Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Arthur Thomas Gray, 27, a Hereford man injured when a car struck his motorcycle Nov. 3 near Seminole, was reported in stable condition last week at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa.

Gray suffered a broken leg, broken back, broken ribs, ruptured bladder, bruised kidney and head injuries. The Seminole Sentinel reported Sunday that a passenger in the car which struck Gray has been charged with theft of $300 from the injured man.

Gray told officers he had lost control of his cycle and was attempting to upright it when he was struck by the vehicle. He told the investigating patrolman he had $300 on him at the time of the accident and it was missing afterwards.

Meanwhile, friends of the Gray family have started a special fund at Hereford State Bank to aid the injured man. Gray and his wife, Laura, resided at 901 Cherokee and have two sons — 5 and 8 years old. He was formerly employed here by Orkin Exterminating Co. and had gone to Odessa to see about a job, according to a neighbor.

Kiwi Fruit Has Potential

An edible kiwi fruit that looks non-edible promises to provide American consumers a nutritious new taste treat and American farmers a lucrative new crop.

It's kiwi, known to some as the Chinese gooseberry. Native to Asia, the fruit was first produced commercially in New Zealand where it was named "kiwi" after the country's national bird.

About the size of a hen egg, it has a brownish skin with a covering of short, stiff hairs. When peeled and sliced, kiwi fruit has a green flesh that becomes a cream shade at the center. Its taste is described as a combination of strawberry, raspberry, and pineapple.

The fruit has a higher Vitamin C content than citrus, is rich in iron, and its enzymes reportedly aid in digestion.

While most of the kiwi fruit now being sold in this country is imported, an estimated 300 growers planted about 2,000 acres of kiwi vines in California last year. Culture of kiwi plants is similar to that of grapes.

Consumer acceptance, with demand for outstripping supply, is stimulating new interest in the plant as a potential crop for the western United States.

Imports Not Only Problem For Feeders

COLLEGE STATION — Are high imports and low exports the cause of current falling cattle prices? Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, sheds some light on this question with a few facts. "During January to June of 1974, imports of beef, veal and pork into the U.S. were down three per cent from last year's levels, while imports of cattle were down 21 per cent," says the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Hog imports however, were up 184 per cent over last year's levels."

Uvacek went on to say that beef and veal exports were down eight per cent over last year's levels, while pork exports were down 77 per cent.

However, cattle exports have gone up 87 per cent, with a 231 per cent increase in cattle

"Despite these low import levels, except for hogs, and higher cattle exports, the price per hundred weight of slaughter steers, lambs, and barrow and gilts has shown a marked decrease during 1974 compared to 1973 levels," he adds.

"This should emphasize the fact that current low cattle prices have a much deeper domestic root than foreign trade in livestock would explain."

November Weather

By CORINNE J. NEELY

Most of us tend to forget the weather of past years when we say this year has been an unusual one with so much rain before and at harvest time. But the fact is that in the last five years we have had similar years. The year 1969 and again in 1972. (From records kept by one non-farmer and one farmer's wife)

NOVEMBER 1969 —

1. We need the sun. Poor farmers will lose so much this year.
2. October's weather was so cold and wet - a rare thing for that month.
3. A cool beautiful day which we were happy to see. Nice for walking.
4. Men are cutting some grain but it is still muddy.
5. A breeze which helps to dry out the fields of the rain soaked land.
6. A spider and a wasp came into the house today looking for a warm place - we put them out on a fly swatter.
7. Muddy fields still delaying the farmers in harvest. Holly Sugar will begin rolling tomorrow.
8. The sun set in a flame of red clouds. "Red sunset at nite, sailors delight" - we hope so for the farmers. And all of us.
9. Silver colored jets are laying long silver ribbons across the blue sky, broken now and then by more silver clouds.
10. Fair and sunny, very much like October weather. The sky a gray blue which most farmers read as a promise of no rain.
11. A pretty day and everyone so happy to see the sun, they are, in a visiting mood.
12. Bird population so scarce they must be out in the fields. Some have gone south.
13. Flickers are back - late this year it seems to us.
14. Last day of November and it was cold last night, leaving a heavy frost. We left water running on the lawn and there was beautiful grass fringes and tree limbs.

NOVEMBER 1972

Records borrowed from a farmer's wife - Mrs. H.H. Miller of Dawn. Rain, snow and ice came on the night of October 31st and carried over into November.

1. Very cold and disagreeable day.
- 2-3. Wet and muddy, not drying quickly.
4. Sun shone, wind blew - a drying kind of day. Farmers did cut milo.
5. Dreary day - gray and cloudy.
6. A cold wintry day.
7. Harvest continued and in progress all week.
8. Gray and windy but harvest went on.
9. Foggy, showery and muddy. No harvesting.
10. Windy and cold.
11. Cold, gray, rainy day ending with two inches of snow.
12. Snow on the ground, slippery, slushy slick unpared roads.
13. Growing colder!
14. Cold and damp. Two inches of snow on the ground. And it was 20 degrees. All roads from Denver to Lubbock and New Mexico Mountains described as hazardous.
15. It was down to 15 degrees.
16. Thanksgiving, a pleasant day but the sunshine of the morning gave way in afternoon to scattered clouds.
17. Snow again with 4 inches by 1 p.m. Roads again hazardous. High was 36 degrees. Snow began melting by afternoon.
18. It was 22 degrees in the morning, but in PM snow was melting.
19. Snow again and the country roads were a quagmire.
20. Snow again! But sun out in afternoon.
21. A good day weather-wise but roads are a mess in the country.

Witkowski Returns From Washington Wheat Assembly

Executive officers of each state wheat association were called to Washington, D.C. this week, according to Leo Witkowski, local resident who is president of the Texas Wheat Producers Association and member of the national organization.

Purpose of the Washington session was up-to-date the wheat leadership on current events affecting wheat prior to state meeting scheduled later in November and December.

Highlight of the session was a White House briefing and conference on the President's message on inflation as it relates to food and agriculture, especially wheat production and marketing. Other conferences were scheduled in the U.S. Department of Agriculture with top officials to discuss the new export gain reporting and marketing system, market development programs, disaster payments, and agricultural research and education expansion.

Participating in the meetings for Texas in addition to Witkowski were the Association's executive vice president, Bill Nelson of Amarillo. These officers will report their findings to the membership of the Texas Wheat Producers Association during the annual meeting scheduled November 21 and 22 in Wichita Falls.

Scientists Trick Weeds Into Self-Destruction

Inducing weeds to self-destruct is a relatively new approach being taken to weed control in the Carolinas.

Agricultural scientists there are growing the witchweed - a parasitic plant that sucks food and water from corn, sorghum, and other grassy crops - into what is known as "artificial germination."

ethylene gas released below the surface of the soil spurs witchweed to sprout and grow before the plants they feed upon develop. About 50 percent of the weed seeds germinate and then die from lack of the used on some 10,000 acres of farmland in the Carolinas - the only areas in the U.S. known to be infested with the weed at the present time.

Native to Africa, India, and Asia, witchweed was first discovered in the Carolinas in 1956.

Its potential threat to U.S. agriculture is regarded as serious, and federal agents have been under close observation.

Hereford Man on Panel

A Hereford man, Bill Walden, will be a member of the 41-man Texas Farm Bureau resolutions committee when it meets at Waco, Nov. 20, to compile a set of tentative resolutions on many issues gleaned from recommendations sent in from county Farm Bureau annual meetings. The tentative resolutions will be considered by voting delegates at the upcoming TFB annual convention where they will be adopted, rejected, or amended.

The state convention will be held Dec. 1-4 in Dallas. Resolutions approved pertaining to state issues will become TFB's official policy for 1975. Those dealing with national issues will be forwarded as recommendations to the American Farm Bureau Federation for consideration by AFBF voting delegates at the national convention which will be held in January.

Action at the national convention will culminate Farm Bureau's annual policy development process which begins with input of ideas at county annual meetings and progresses through state deliberations to the national convention. County Farm Bureaus send voting delegates to the state convention with the number of voting delegates from each county based on the membership strength of the county organization. Likewise, state Farm Bureaus are represented at the national convention on the basis of state membership.

The Resolutions Committee is composed of three county Farm Bureau voting delegates from each TFB district plus the TFB vice president, who is chairman, and the chairman of the TFB Young Farmers & Ranchers Advisory Committee.

Other area men on the committee will be: Carol Chalmers, Dallas; Stanley Terry, Childress; Orville H. Finch, Jr., Dallas; H.L. (Hib) King, Brownfield; and Larry Garner, Tolia.

The Veterans Administration reminds service disabled veterans whose prosthetic or orthopedic devices tend to wear out or tear clothing that they are eligible for a $500 annual clothing allowance.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—Atty. Gen. John Hill, viewed as a likely gubernatorial candidate in 1978, emerged from the November 5 general election as the top statewide Democratic vote-getter.

While all the statewide incumbent Democrats won landslide victories over Republicans and minor party candidates, Gov. Dolph Briscoe ran last on the ticket.

But last was good for 62 per cent of the total vote cast in the governor's race (nearly a million) and an apparent sweep of all but five counties by the governor.

Hill was followed closely by Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong in the vote-getting statistics.

While the attorney general received more than 74 per cent of the votes over two opponents, Armstrong was less than a percentage point behind.

All but two of the statewide Democratic candidates topped well over one million votes, and most had more than 70 per cent of their total totals.

Democrat Jesse James ran down the list and just ahead of Briscoe, but he still managed to finish with 64.7 per cent in his race.

The turnout of just over 1.6 million was, percentage-wise, perhaps the worst in recent Texas history—about 31 per cent.

While there were only 1.4 million votes in the 1966 general election and 1.5 million in 1972, there were far fewer than the present 5.4 million registered voters then.

GOP HOPEFUL — Republicans, in spite of the drubbing they took in statewide elections, already are talking hopefully about rebuilding for the future.

GOP Chairman Jack Warren of Tyler said the state party will be working in on 1976 legislative races and looking for a strong U.S. Senate candidate to challenge for Sen. Lloyd Bentsen's seat. GOP's from Texas will also want to have a say in the next big presidential effort, Warren emphasized.

There were bright spots in the darkness for the Republicans this year, Warren noted. He pointed to victories of Jon Lindsay for Harris County Judge, John Whittington's upset of longtime Dallas County Judge Lew Stern and Nathan White's victory for the Collin County judgeship. The party had a net loss of one congressional seat (U.S. Rep. Bob Price in Danville-North Texas district 18) and two state House of Representatives places in the November 5 general election.

ONE PRIMARY LESS — Raza Unida Party, which held its first primary this year, won't be conducting any more in the near future.

Under new election law, parties which receive two to 20 per cent of the vote for governor must nominate in conventions. Raza Unida falls in this bracket, with about a six per cent showing November 5.

Only Democrats and Republicans will nominate in primaries next time out, since both received more than 20 per cent of the gubernatorial vote.

The American Party and Socialist Workers Party, if they get on the next ballot, will have to submit about 16,000 signatures on petitions. They need 24,000 signatures to qualify this year.

COURTS SPEAK — The Court of Criminal Appeals refused to reconsider its September 21 decision upholding convictions of former House Speaker Gus Mutsaers and two aides for conspiracy to take a bribe.

The high court reversed and directed new trial for a Houston woman convicted of slaying her husband.

In another husband-killing case, the same court affirmed the 20-year sentence given a Dallas housewife.

The State Supreme Court ruled in favor of the state in a tax case involving liquor served by a Taylor County country club.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. John Hill held material supporting the agenda of the University of Texas Board of Regents meeting in public information insofar as it reflects factual matters.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• A grand jury has no authority to employ aides to investigate crimes.

• A bail bond board may consider felony convictions of applicants for a bail bond li-and distributed by a private concern for profit.

CONFERENCE SET — A national conference on economic problems and energy consumption forecasts is set here November 14-15.

Economists and mathematicians from over the nation will meet to discuss mathematical techniques used in economic analysis, supply and demand forecasting, governmental program planning and constraints on development.

The governor's office is host for the conference. The session will produce papers and reports to help state and federal government analysts in evaluating modeling and analytic techniques and data requirements.

FEW BLACKS HIRED — A Dallas legislator has complained that 54 state agencies (most of them small) have no black employees.

Rep. Paul Ragsdale of Dallas, a black, said only one agency has more than 10 per cent black employees. That is the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Compared with a state population which is 12 per cent black, there are fewer than nine per cent black state employees, and only two per cent hold state jobs which pay $10,000 or more annually.

Ragsdale said Texas population is 18 per cent Mexican-American, but only 11.6 per cent of state jobs are held by Mexican-Americans.

SPED CHECK URGED — Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir has urged Texas drivers "to make a greater effort to observe the 55 miles per hour speed limit."

Speir said surveys indicated more than 60 per cent of all vehicles are exceeding the limit, including trucks. Speeding arrests are doubling this year, and DPS officers are concentrating on unsafe driving practices by commercial operators. Speir said the truckers frequently radio each other warning of law enforcement efforts.

SHORT SNORTS

Drought-hit Baylor and Borden counties have been designated disaster areas.

Larry F. Yorn resigned as first assistant Texas attorney general to return to Houston law practice.

Joe H. Golman of Dallas is chairman of the Texas Cosmetology Commission.

WTSU Hunts Work Site

West Texas State University will seek input from the Golden Spread area concerning the possibility of offering cooperative or internship education at a dinner meeting in the East Dining Hall at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

This project seeks to combine academics training with actual work experience.

The members of the West Texas State University Committee for Cooperative Education have already contacted a wide variety of businesses and encourage anyone who is interested to attend. The cost for the dinner will be approximately $3.25.

The Panhandle Regional Planning Association is holding its regular meeting at that time, and other clubs are encouraged to do so also.

Interested individuals can contact Stuart Lawrence, dean of the School of Business; George Ritter, Department of Political Science; Gene Parker, director of placement or Henry Moreland, Department of Industrial Technology.

Lions Boost United Way

The Hereford Lions Club last week contributed $500 to the Deaf Smith United Way Campaign, with club president Wayne Lady, left, making the presentation to Raymond White, drive chairman. The presentation came during the club's weekly luncheon meeting. The United Way drive neared the halfway point this week as volunteers sought to reach the goal of $59,400.

American Party Proud Of Recent Campaigns

MIDLAND — "The American Party candidates had a vital effect on the election of 1974," said Bill Skies, party chairman. "In each race entered by an American Party candidate, the opposing candidates of both parties echoed our platform of 'less big government.'"

"Each election year our party grows stronger, due not only to our own efforts, but also due to the disastrous things involving both other parties and their constant striving to increase the size of the Federal Government and its control over all activities of all citizens."

He said, "We will be on the ballot in 1976, stronger than ever! While we were disappointed that the national news media deliberately ignored the conservative party effort, we were most encouraged by the fair and helpful support of the local media, which are now becoming knowledgeable of our purpose and sympathetic with our aim of 'less government.'"

Tech Writers To Enter Spring Fest

Entries will be judged by a committee of graduate students and members of the English faculty.

Winners of the competition will be notified prior to the Creative Writing Fest.

BED JACKETS BACK

Bed jackets seem destined to return to popularity this fall, possibly as one answer to how to keep warm during the continuing energy problem this winter, Margaret Ann Vanderpoorten, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, notes.

INSIDE TV

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT — BURT REYNOLDS and DINAH SHORE have both gone to a great deal of trouble to rearrange their hectic business schedules so that they can be free to take a romantic Caribbean cruise together on a private yacht in January. Many of their best buddies are betting that the vacation will actually turn out to be a honeymoon voyage. Burt and Dinah don't think that the 20-year difference in the ages matters in the least to their romantic involvement. "Can you imagine going to a Broadway theatre or your neighborhood drive-in to watch four hours of the Watergate hearings? It's inconceivable, but you'd think nothing of spending that much time and more watching in your own living room." Author STANLEY GREENBERG was reflecting on the uniqueness of television as a stage for his "theatre of fact," which are dramatizations based on real people and real events. His next venture is another "ABC Theatre" presentation, "The Missiles of October," which will be seen on the ABC Television Network, Wednesday, Dec. 18 (8:00-11:00 p.m., EST). The program, which stars WILLIAM DEVANE, MARTIN SHEEN and HOWARD DA SILVA, re-creates the tense 1962 confrontation between the U.S. and the Soviet Union over missile installations in Cuba. "As stage and films have become less and less idea mediums, television has picked up the ball," Greenberg said. "In television you're close up to people. They're sitting by twos and threes in a room and watching and listening carefully. In effect, they're captured. You can throw ideas back and forth and quite a deeply into them and the audience will hold still for them." The program is a VIACOM presentation.

TV TELETYPE — While RONNY COX prepares an album under his new Columbia recording contract, rumors are gaining ground that he'll leave "Apple's Way" at the end of the season. Or is it just Apple-sauce? ... Hollywood is such a small, gossipy town. They took SALLY STRUTHERS, the "All In The Family" cutie, into the U.C.L.A. Emergency Hospital the other day, and kept her there overnight. And right away, wouldn't you know it, there was a panic all over town, about a possible overdose of drugs. Actually, it was nothing but an acute attack of stomach virus... The Los Angeles Hispanic Urban Center, a group of professional educators who work with teachers involved with Chicano youths, is up in arms over NBC's "Chico And The Man." The show is demeaning to Chicanos, the group feels. Racial stereotypes just aren't chic any more.

TV CLOSEUP — His contemporaries will tell you that JACK LORD is every bit as ruthless as the police chief he plays in television's "Hawaii Five-O." They even suggest he would have better been christened "Jack God." The star has gained the reputation of being one of the most ruthless stars in TV. Competing against Lord — or even with him on the same show — is like swimming in shark-infested waters. He's likely to swallow you whole if you stand in his path to the ratings. "I want to get my hands in, my thumbs in, to mold the show," he admits. He has refused many times to recognize JAMES MACARTHUR as a co-star. "I've found from bitter experience after doing 35 shows as a guest," he once remarked, "that that's the only way to maintain harmony. When there are co-stars I've seen wonderful people jockeying for position, cutting each other's lines." He admits, however, that he's allowing MacArthur much more exposure than he used to.

SUMPTUOUS SEASONALS: For a dazzling seasonal centerpiece, gold-spray fresh and artificial fruit and nutshells, then arrange on your dinner table with fresh greens. A gold pineapple makes a glittering focal point. Halve it first, reserve the fruit for mealtime garnish, then tape the two halves together and cover the leaves with foil before spraying.

CRANBERRY FREEZE: Start a delicious Thanksgiving tradition by serving cranberry sherbet instead of cranberry sauce with your turkey. Homemade or store-bought it adds marvelous pizzazz to the bird and eye-appealing verve to the table.

HOUSEHOLD HELPER: A bottle of ammonia does many jobs around the house, at half the cost of many commercial cleaning products. Add a few tablespoons to water for window-washing and voilà!

Helps you do it all.

Facts About Social Security

Q. I am totally disabled. My only income consists of interest of $140 each month which I receive from Series H Bonds. I am unmarried and live alone. Can I receive a Supplemental Security Income payment as a disabled person?

A. A single person may have savings or other resources that can be converted to cash that are worth as much as $1500 and still get Federal payments (SSI). However, it appears that your savings in the form of bonds is in excess of $20,000 and you will not be able to receive Supplemental Security Income payments even though you are disabled.

Q. I injured my back in a boating accident and my doctor told me I would not be able to go back to work for 3 months. I need help to meet my expenses. Can I receive Supplemental Security Income as a disabled person?

A. To receive SSI payments as a disabled person, your disability must be so severe as to prevent you from doing any substantial gainful work for 12 months or longer or be expected to result in death. Since your doctor has indicated that you will be able to return to work in less than 12 months, you would not qualify for SSI payments.

KEEPING HOUSE PLANTS HEALTHY

Playing Mother Nature for your indoor plants isn't always easy and sometimes your plants may seem rather temperamental. For every plant problem, however, there is always a very specific cause and usually something can be done about it. To help you with your indoor garden, here's a run-down of some common plant disturbances and their probable causes and remedies.

If the leaves of your plants get spotty, there are two possibilities which might explain it. First-off, you may be committing that absolute no-no of indoor care - overwatering. Water less and see if the spotted foliage doesn't disappear. The second cause of spotting could be excessive direct sunlight. Especially if you spray your plants with water while the sun is shining on them, leaves can be spotted by the too-quick evaporation of the water. Try spraying at a time when the sun is weaker (morning or afternoon) or simply move your plant to an area where the sunlight is more diffuse. If the leaves lose their normal color or look yellowish and limp, the cause again could be overwatering. Or the plant may be hungry and need more fertilizer. Check for insects, too, when leaves don't look quite themselves, colorwise. If your plant is losing leaves altogether, the cause might be a sudden change in temperature. Try to keep the environment of your indoor plants as consistent as possible. Recently transplanted plants might also suffer from general defoliation. Overwatering is another possible cause as is a drastic change in lighting exposure. When the tops of leaves turn brown, this may be due to irregular watering schedules, a chill, too much fertilizer, or an onslaught of insects.

Herd Boosters Scout Monterey

Coch Larry Dippel told a group of about 25 Whiteface Boosters meeting Tuesday night that one of his players, David Fish, best summed up the attitude of the Herd going into their last regular season game: "It wouldn't matter if we were playing Monterey of last place in district, we'd still play to win."

In addition to Dippel's remarks on the game, Coach Fred Uphaw presented a scouting report on the Plainsmen. Booster president Tom Simons told the group their next meeting would be Monday night at 7:30 in the high school auditorium due to the season opener for the Herford basketball team. The Herd boosters will meet Burger in the La Plata gymnasium for three games beginning at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

represent the district in the playoffs." Dippel said that if Herford beats Monterey Friday night, the players would report for practice the next day to ready for the playoffs, even though the other district ball game is that night. The bi-district opponent will also not be determined until Saturday afternoon when Oquock and Palo Duro will play. There is a chance those two teams will be in a three way tie with Pompa.

Coch Uphaw told the group that Herford coaches had scouted on film or in person seven of the games Monterey has played this season. "Monterey is one of the best defensive teams we've played," Uphaw said. "Offensively they had some injuries early and had to put in reserves. They were not consistent, but they've done well in their last three games." "Those of you who have seen Monterey in past years will notice that this is the smallest Monterey team we've faced, but they make up for it in quickness and aggressiveness," Uphaw said in the seven games the coaches have scouted, Monterey has lined up in 20 different sets, but that the Herd coaches had narrowed that down to three basic sets: an I-3 set, a split set Monterey throws from, and a pro slot. The Monterey throwing game consists of mainly two persons: quarterback Scott Gardner and the split end Richard Bowles. Bowles is the leading receiver in the district and is Gardner's favorite target. Gardner is a 65" sophomore who led the school's baseball team to the state championship last year as a pitcher. Uphaw added that Gardner directed last year's junior varsity game and riddled the JV Herd with his passing.

Monterey has had two of their starting backs injured and relied on their reserves to take over. The two backs, Glen Stallings and Joe Acosta, have performed well since the beginning of district. "Monterey is one of the best balanced teams that we've played," said Uphaw. "In that they have no set tendencies, about the only thing we know for sure is when they're in third down and less than two they'll run. Monterey doesn't have a lot of offense, but what they do have they execute well."

Plainsmen were the strongest part of the defense, the two linebackers and a safety. Brad Harrelson in the safety position is quick, fast and a good hitter according to Uphaw. Harrelson also leads the district in interceptions.

Steve White was an All-District linebacker last year and underwent corrective knee surgery early in the season. Uphaw said White has played the last two games as if he never had surgery and is probably the team's leading tackler. Gary Hampton is the other linebacker, a returning starter from last year and is in on most of the tackles. Monterey played the five man front-two linebacker formation most of the pre-district schedule, but has used the 4-3 formation more than the 5-2 in the last three ball games. Uphaw showed film on the Monterey-Cornado game and pointed out various formations and peculiarities of the team.

Stanton Freshman Play Perryton in Zone Playoff

The Stanton sixth graders will travel to Sanford-Fritch this afternoon to take on the Perryton Ranger freshmen in a contest to determine the football champion of the Panhandle Junior High School Athletic League.

The 4 p.m. game will match the winner of the north zone in the district, Perryton, against the winner of the district's south zone, Stanton. The two teams have only one loss between them for the season. Stanton dropped a two point decision to Ranger's freshmen while Perryton has gone undefeated.

Coch Coach Kitchens spoke as if impressed by the group of athletes that compose the Perryton freshman team. He told the Brand that Stanton played against the same boys when they were all eighth-graders last year, and Perryton won rather handily. Kitchens added that the group has not lost a game since they were gathered together in the seventh grade. Kitchens said it was apparent at a district track meet last year that the team was composed of many quality athletes. As eighth-graders the Perryton, team swept that track meet and turned in such performances as a 12-foot pole vault.

Although Hereford's record is not unblemished, the one game they gave up to the Berger freshmen came on a last minute interception that Berger ran to their goal line for a touchdown.

Besides the wealth of quality athletes, Perryton's freshmen run out of an offensive set that is used by very few teams. It's called the Denver City split, named so because Denver City was the first team to use the formation.

The offensive line in the Denver City split places the guards about two yards away from the center, the tackles two yards from the guards, and so on. Most offensive sets place the linemen about 18 inches apart. In addition, the backfield lines up very close to the line.

Kitchens said the formation is hard to defend against, as the conventional defensive formations are not designed to contend with the wide spacing of the line. If the defense drops back or splits to defend against the wide set, then the handoff goes to a back who runs right up the middle where there is running room.

The Stanton freshmen will be experimenting to see which defense will work against this unusual formation in the early stages of the game, and Kitchens said if the Stanton defense can prove tough enough, Perryton may have to resort to more conventional offensive sets.

Perryton relies mainly on their running game, according to Kitchens, but last year they scored at least one touchdown on Stanton with a pass. Winner of Thursday's game will be declared the champion of the junior high district, but the team does not advance to any other playoffs.

WT To Honor Gobin

When the West Texas State Buffaloes meet North Texas State in Kimbrough Stadium Saturday, it'll be "Steve Gobin Day" as proclaimed by WTSU president Dr. Lloyd Watkins. Gobin, a standout Buff griddier, was injured in an auto accident prior to the football season. Men's fraternities at WT are behind the "Gobin Day" observance and are challenging civic groups to stage contests on getting the most members out at Saturday's game. Purpose of the special day is to honor Gobin and also to seek better fan support of the Buffs. Students will hold a benefit dance Saturday night for Gobin. Tickets for the game are on sale locally at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office. It is the final home game for the Buffs, and kickoff time is 1:30 p.m.

Underclassmen Wrap It Up

The Longhorns and the Shorthorns of Hereford will close out their seasons this afternoon with both playing 4 p.m. games.

The Longhorns, or Herd junior varsity, will be on the road, traveling to Lubbock to meet the Monterey JV. The JV record is now four and five, with the game this afternoon to determine if the Longhorns have a winning season or not. They ran a 49-6 score up on the Plainview JV last Thursday in Whiteface Stadium.

The sophomore Shorthorns will end their season with a game against the Plainview sophomores here in Hereford at 4 p.m. The sophs own a 6-2 record after suffering a 13-6 loss at the hands of Lubbock High's sophomores Saturday morning in Lubbock. Coach Rick Stewart's Shorthorns took the opening kickoff and drove 60 yards for a score. Gilbert Rodriguez claimed the touchdown on a two-yard run. Lubbock High scored two touchdowns in that first half for a come-from-behind win. There was no scoring in the second half.

Ms. Richards Wins Football Contest

Judy Richards of Santa Rosa, N.M. won the football contest this week with only four incorrect choices while a three-way tie for third place developed.

Judy won $15 for first place with incorrect picks of Monahans over Peos, Texas over Baylor, Texas A&M over SMU, and Pittsburgh over Cincinnati. She was the only contestant to miss four choices.

Frankie O'Rand of 803 Brevard was one among many who missed five games, but placed second in the contest by virtue of a tie-breaker score of 33, only one point off the correct score. O'Rand missed the Dumas-Perryton game, the WT-Tampa game, Baylor-Texas, SMU-Texas A&M, and the Jets-Giants game. Frankie's winnings were $10.

In a three-way tie for third place were Jimmy Walker of 204 W. 7th, Rodney O'Rand of 803 Brevard and Joe Risher of 27 Avenue B. Contest judges ruled that the three would share the $5 prize for third place, coming to $1.67 each. Winnings may be picked up at The Brand office. All three missed the Baylor-Texas and SMU-Texas A&M upsets and three other games. Walker's tie-breaker was 31, three points off. O'Rand and Risher guessed 37 as a tiebreaker, three points off the correct score of 31.

Only a few other contestants were lucky enough to miss only five games. Pat Goforth, June Owens, Mrs. Ray Brorman, Ray Brorman, Santry Rosh, Wallace Hill, Joyce Wantes, and Eddie O'Rand all missed five.

Despite pre-game publicity of Phillips forfeit to Dalhart, the game was counted as marked on the entries. Those who heard of the forfeit therefore collected a free game.

Forecasters Tie

A tie for first place in averages has developed between two of the Fearless Forecasters with Speedy Nieman moving up to catch Dan Welty.

Welty missed 11 games last week in his forecast, one of the worst scores any of our forecasters have had to date. It dropped his average from .71 to .66. Nieman missed seven games and moved up three average points from .69 to .66.

Coach Larry Dippel led the forecasters this week in the least number missed. Missing only six, Dippel moved from .68 to .69. Tom Simons, at .675 last week, progressed only one point to .68 with eight incorrect games.

As in our Brand football contest, we counted Dalhart the winner in the game in which Phillips forfeited. Despite publicity of the forfeit, we decided to count Dalhart as the winner, giving those who heard about a free game. Nieman and Welty both missed that game, though.

Dippel missed only one high school game, the Plainview defeat of Coronado.

WT Basketball Near

The countdown to West Texas State's 1974-75 basketball campaign nears the three-week mark this weekend, and Buffalo Head Coach Ron Ekker cautiously admits that "I'm just fairly pleased with our progress."

"We're doing some things well," Ekker adds. "I'm most pleased with our half-court offense. We're running it well, getting excellent shots."

The Maroon open the regular season Nov. 30 against Panhandle State in the Amarillo Civic Center, but the club will have three public showings before that time.

The Annual Cager Club Meet The Team Luncheon was held Tuesday in the Civic Center. Then on Nov. 16, following WT's football clash with North Texas State in Kimbrough Memorial Stadium, Ekker will send the 13-member team through the Maroon and White scrimmage.

The big date is Nov. 22 when the Buffs host the Brazilian National team during the South Americans' tour of Missouri Valley Conference schools. It will be the fourth stop on the Brazilian tour.

At this point, however, Ekker is most concerned with the physical condition of his team.

"We'll be in shape," the second-year mentor says, "and hopefully that will help us be injury free."

Eugene Smith and Howard Taylor drew most of Ekker's praise. "Eugene and Howard are really playing well. (Joe) Cooney, Dallas (Smith) and Bruce Taylor also have looked good, and Reggie (Ramey) is just not getting over his injury (a pulled muscle)," Ekker adds.

Tourists Analyze Travel In Texas

"During our two-month vacation," a New York City man wrote, "so far we have visited 26 states and we were welcomed best in Texas. We have a different outlook on Texas now. Thanks."

A New Jersey party in route to Albuquerque, N.M., remarked, "Intended only to pass through. Thanks to tourist counselor we visited Palo Duro Canyon and made other stops. Many thanks."

Comments in these the heart of the coldest travel counselor, the above remarks were printed on questionnaire postcards returned to the Amarillo Tourist Bureau. Travelers who stopped at the bureau located on East Interstate Highway 40 this summer were asked to mail in the cards that leave room for and encourage anonymous comments.

Most questionnaire postcards received at the Texas Highway Department Tourist Bureau offer constructive criticism.

"The purpose of the cards is to draw a profile of our visitors," according to Archie "Skip" Birkner, director.

Detailed responses about origins, destinations, purpose of visit and expenditure of the travel dollar are asked in the questionnaires.

The following opinions of Texas and its people are responses plucked from some of the green questionnaire cards:

The only state where I saw it rain and also saw the dust blowing in the rain. (response from an Ohio party)

The stars at site (sic) are big and bright (sic). We enjoyed excellent Chamber of Commerce. (from Vermont)

Proverbs 3: 5-6. (remark from a Fresno, Calif., party whose destination was the Bible Memory Camp in Ringgold, La.)

People were very friendly. Thought there could be more shade trees. (Maryland)

Enjoyed it, but should have more rest areas with comfort facilities even if out houses. (California)

Rich country — friendly people. Cities and highways impressive. (Michigan)

We enjoyed the scenery in the Great Plains. Tourist books excellent. (Ontario, Canada)

You'll (from New York) have a state to be really proud of and the friendliest people I have ever met. Plan to return in your state.

Birkner, Amarillo tourist bureau director since May, has a November observation for the public: reserve a favorable chat this winter for discussion of travel in Texas, especially after you have visited the nearest bureau (Amarillo's) at least once.

The most frigid months of the year do not necessarily have to be travel unconducive times, claims Birkner. The bureau staff, Birkner, Henry T. Huhel, Terry Hunt and James Cook, will help you plan a Texas trip to visit relatives during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, or that biblical vacation next summer.

Birkner reminds us of human services, claiming, "If there's a town of any size in Texas, we'll find it for you at the bureau."

Examples of small municipalities he cites contemporaneously are Cotuit, Light, Old Diner Bar and of course New Diner Bar. Birkner's staff refers to an exclusive directory when asked the pronunciation of Texas towns.

The bureau offers plenty of Texas maps and some out of state maps, many city maps, 16 pieces of travel literature published by the Highway Department's Travel & Information Division, as well as a multitude of other tourist-nudging pamphlets and brochures produced by cities, chambers of commerce, tourist attractions, etc.

How far is it...? What's the population...? What is the exact location of...? When will it be open and what are the admission charges? Birkner or one of his counselors can tell you.

The bureau also receives a monthly report on new industries in Texas, information on the best time to track fowling and up to date knowledge of road conditions throughout the state.

Soon the bureau will receive notice of new state hunting and fishing laws.

Birkner's brigade issues permits for oversized loads. Bureau hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day of the week year round, except for summer months when closing time is advanced to 6 p.m.

The director said 36,543 travelers stopped at the tourist bureau situated just west of the Amarillo Air Terminal exit in June, July and August of 1974.

In June, a man called the bureau who claimed he had spent three extra days in Texas after he looked through the booklet "Texas-Land of Contrast!"

Birkner recalls that in July a bus load of weight watchers from Mississippi stopped by. There were only 38 weight watchers on the bus.

During the summer, a man who said he was a professor at the University of Kansas, and his wife, were following Coronado's trail. The man said he had received a federal government grant, but that money had run out and he was continuing on his own resources.

"Tourist visits are beginning to slow down," was noted Aug. 29 in a daily reminder book kept at the bureau.

Not allowing cooler weather and school to eradicate vacation dreams and spirit, let yourself gain the insight of a traveler who signed the guest register at the Amarillo tourist bureau in this way: "I thought Chicago was windy, but..."

FOR SAFETY

As an older adult, you may be free to leave home for frequent family visiting or travels. For the safety of your possessions — and your own peace of mind — make your house look as if it is still occupied. Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education specialist-aging-with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advises.

Prairie Chicken Hunting Slowed

Green, uncut grain fields in the Panhandle and Permian Basin contributed to a low harvest of prairie chickens during the Oct. 19-20 season.

The combination of dry weather last spring and winter, late rains and late, immature grain evidently reduced the birds' numbers somewhat and the harvest was hurt as a result.

"It looks as if this year's hatch of young birds was not very good in Cochran, Hockley, Yoakum and Terry Counties," said Texas Parks and Wildlife Department project biologist Herb Kothman of Big Springs.

"Hunter success was down from last year even though many hunters used bird dogs and walked the large grasslands."

Only 215 prairie chickens were checked through department stations at Plains and Lehman, down more than 50 per cent from last year's record 456 birds.

The eight-county area of the Texas Panhandle which had a prairie chicken season showed a 17 per cent decrease in the number of birds bagged.

A total of 232 birds was counted through the check stations at Allison, Canadian, Higgins, McLean and Wheeler. This is a modest drop from the 279 taken in 1973.

YOU AND YOUR HEALTH

By Paul J. Esch, MD

DO YOU LIKE TO SUFFER ALONE?

Dear Dr. Esch: I read recently of the woman who wrote you complaining of the oversolicitousness of her family. She stated that she was an invalid. Nevertheless, she would rather crawl off in a corner and suffer alone. I wonder, she doesn't know how lucky she is. I'd exchange places with her. My own personal experience is directly opposite from hers. My family does not believe in giving or showing any sympathy, attention, or understanding.

I am 63 and have several physical ailments, none of them imaginary. Any one of which would make anyone uncomfortable because of the pain and misery. My children are 43 and 44 and live a few hundred miles from here. I don't expect them to come here to see me. I don't expect flowers, candy, or any other gifts.

But it would be wonderful to know they cared. A phone call, a card, an occasional letter would be welcome. Some little act or word showing kindness, tenderness, or love. Instead, the few things they do or say are done grudgingly and with resentment.

I know what it means to crawl off in a corner and suffer alone. Feeling unloved and unwanted. It is as if I had lived for nothing.

The women who wrote you that her family is oversolicitous ought to get down on her knees and thank her wonderful family. At least they have hearts rather than hunks of lead where the heart should be. Yes, I'd change places with her.

On second thought, I don't think I will. I wouldn't want to wish my misfortune on another human being. — Mrs. X.

COMMENT: When you are ill do you prefer to crawl off to a corner and suffer in solitude? Or do you like to have your family make a fuss over you? I believe it's evident that most of us would suffer more if we lived in an atmosphere of total disregard and lack of sympathy. Of course, there are extremes. There are times when we'd rather suffer alone.

As one man said, "When the pain comes on, I'd rather be alone so I can groan out loud. It relieves me a bit. But I could not do so if my family were around at the time." Even the person with a frightfully painful toothache appreciates a family member saying, "It must hurt terribly." Sympathy acts like a painkiller — for a moment or two, but it is that moment or two that makes the pain bearable.

I suppose it's true that many crawl into a corner and prefer to suffer alone — so they will not be a burden to the rest of the family, or unnecessarily produce anxiety in children. But most are like Mrs. X. They crave understanding and sympathy to help them get over the hurdles of their medical problems.

It is my belief that the one who is ill should gladly accept any efforts by the family or friends to bring comfort. Complications arise in family relationships when illness makes members further apart instead of bringing them closer together. Even oversolicitousness is a virtue to be appreciated.

Invisible Gas Is Killer

What's odorless, tasteless and colorless and can kill you before you know you're being poisoned?

The lethal answer to this State Health Department riddle is carbon monoxide, a product of all combustible substances — from gas used in your kitchen range to the gasoline in your automobile or gasoline-owned lawn mower.

Carbon monoxide poisoning is preventable, but a lot of people are unaware of its danger.

It is a threat year-round, but the most hazardous time is during the cold months of the year when homes and businesses are closed up tightly against the weather.

But, even summer air conditioning can add to the threat, say State Health Department engineers from the Occupational Health and Radiation Control Division.

In some air conditioned warehouses where forklifts are used to move heavy materials, carbon monoxide has been found at serious levels. This same problem has been found in garages, where automobile motors are often left running for tests. Enclosed parking garages and drive-in banks also have proved to be sources of trouble.

"YOU CAN'T depend on leaks around doors or windows to bring in fresh air," says a Health Department engineer. "In places with a source of carbon monoxide, you've got to bring in fresh air constantly to keep up a positive pressure so stale air will be pushed out through ventilators."

The autumn chill in the air has brought heating units and gas stoves into play. Hopefully, each home owner had his heating system checked before turning it on for keeps.

This might've prevented a tragedy occurring at Killeen, where a family of four went to bed one night and three were dead the next morning. A little girl survived. An inspection later showed a faulty burner and faulty duct work in the home.

With Texas in the midst of its fall and winter hunting season, hunters should check ventilation in their stoves and should examine smokestacks and chimneys to be certain they aren't clogged.

Of particular concern are the use of catalytic heaters and other unvented heaters in tents and campers.

In the home, make sure the damper is open before lighting the fireplace. Have your gas refrigerator service-checked annually even though newer models have improved control systems. All furnaces, regardless of fuel type, should be checked and properly vented to the outside. Combustion-chamber leakage is a serious hazard, particularly if the heating units is old. All individual room-type gas heating equipment should be vented. And, say safety experts, don't use your gas cooking range for heating.

Automobiles and trucks, as well as other gasoline engines, shouldn't be run indoors for long periods — even with the garage door open. A charcoal grill or hibachi should be used only outdoors.

While carbon monoxide poisoning is sneaky, there are recognizable symptoms — if you are alert.

EARLY SYMPTOMS of carbon monoxide poisoning include yawning, headache, nausea, dizziness, ringing in the ears, and abdominal pain. Difficult breathing and unconsciousness quickly follow. The victim should get fresh air immediately and should be kept lying down and warm. A physician should be called promptly, and inhalations of oxygen or an oxygen-carbon dioxide mixture should be administered.

Once carbon monoxide is inhaled, it invades the blood stream through the lungs. It unites with the hemoglobin in the red blood cells so they can not carry oxygen to the cells of the body. Asphyxiation results. Carbon monoxide is so poisonous that when combined with red cells in the blood the bond between the two is 200 times stronger than the normal bond between oxygen and red cells. When oxygen and sizable amounts of carbon monoxide are breathed in together, the carbon monoxide muscles the oxygen aside, causing illness. If oxygen is depleted sufficiently, death follows. Many deaths occur from faulty appliances even though a window may be slightly open, say the Health Department.

At least 1,400 deaths are attributed in the United States each year to carbon monoxide poisoning. Texas had 141 deaths in 1973. More than 10,000 persons nationwide are poisoned by carbon monoxide. Those not killed may suffer temporary or permanent damage to the brain, with serious disturbances of vision, hearing, speech and memory.

Carbon monoxide is dangerous, but it doesn't have to be fatal, repeats the State Health Department. Be aware of the dangers, observe caution in the use of appliances, have them checked regularly, and you may never suffer from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Texas Scientist Earns MD Research Grant

Awards totaling $64,284 in research grants, clinical service grants, and fellowships to scientists in Texas for studies in neuromuscular disease have just been approved by Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

The awards, effective Jan. 1, were announced today by Tony Poole, president of MDAA's Panhandle Chapter.

Poole said that the Grants were awarded to two well known Texas institutions. Doctors at the Baylor College of Medicine received $43,784, and $24,500 was awarded to the Marine Biological Institute at Galveston.

24 clinical service grants and clinical fellowships.

Poole pointed out that MDAA's program of research support also includes maintaining six major neuromuscular research centers, established during the last year through grants totaling over $3.2 million. The centers have been set up at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.; at four universities in the U.S. — California (at Los Angeles), Columbia, Pennsylvania, and Vanderbilt — and at the University of London, England.

The MDAA leader said that as of Jan. 1, the voluntary health agency will be expending a total of $5,844,253 this fiscal year to fund 275 research grants and postdoctoral fellowships in the U.S. and 16 foreign countries, and a further $335,043 to provide

Club Dines In Holiday Tradition

A Thanksgiving dinner has become a tradition for the November meeting of the Star Street Friendship Club, and members enjoyed the event Saturday evening at Dickie Restaurant.

Members of that Northwest Hereford street comprise the Friendship Club, which has informal meetings to encourage better acquaintance. They invited other friends for the dinner and spent the evening in their favorite entertainment, good conversation.

In the party were Messrs. and Mrs. Joe Davenport, W.A. Harris, P.E. Hester, Frank Jones, William Wall and James Allred.

Also Messrs. C.N. McInroe, Don Allen, Frank Enloe, H.E. Miller, C. Gus Galloway, June Hymonack, Emmett Hale, Junior Clark, Claude McDougal and Louise Curtis.

The seminar is open to all NSA members, secretarial and business students and any other interested persons, according to Mrs. Janie Victor, program chairman.

The person who crochets, knits or does crewel work has enough time now to make attractive pillows or bags of their favorite needle work for Christmas gifts. Many lovely patterns for these articles are featured in fall magazines.

To avoid electric and telephone interruption during winter ice storms and high winds, check overhanging limbs and remove or properly brace them.

Panel Member

Mrs. Bill Howard, assistant manager of Hereford Federal Credit Union, will be a panel member Saturday morning during the National Secretaries Association annual seminar. The public is invited to attend the assembly which will focus on women's legal status.

Spanish Furnishings Add Charming Touch

By SANDY PANKEY
Brand Staff Writer

TOURING the Danny Vermillion's home is like taking an excursion to areas in old Mexico. Throughout the modern Spanish design home are Mexican pieces including a beautiful wooden bedroom suit, iron light fixtures and carved stone ornaments.

"My husband and I love to travel when we can and have taken several trips to old Mexico. We have brought back everything from paper flowers to furniture and usually have to bring all our purchases home in a pickup," says Mrs. Vermillion.

To complete the Spanish decor is a cactus garden which borders the family's circular driveway.

"We have collected cactuses for about five years," explains the attractive brunette.

GROWING in the unusually landscaped yard are ocotilla, agave, century, Spanish dagger, yucca and pampas grass. The Vermillions have one variety of cactus which grows between 10 to 12 feet high within a week's time.

"Since we travel a great deal the different cactuses are relatively easy to find," states the homemaker. Using their motor home as a home away from home, the couple has journeyed all over the northwest part of the United States, Mexico, Canada and Hawaii.

"We just returned from a trip to Hawaii that we enjoyed very much. A dish that we were served while there was particularly good and it's easy to prepare. I brought the recipe home with me and have served it several times," continues Mrs. Vermillion.

SHE MENTIONS that the recipe for Char Sue Ding is convenient to prepare and hence simmering for a household with varied dinner hours.

CHAR SUE DING
2 cups chopped pork
2-8 oz. cans chopped mushrooms
1 stalk chopped celery
2-8 oz. cans sliced water chestnuts
1 pkg. frozen green peas
1 pkg. frozen mixed vegetables
2 pkg. instant mushroom gravy
6 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup sliced almonds
Sauté pork, mushrooms, celery and water chestnuts in a small amount of oil. Add mixed vegetables, green peas, and mushroom gravy cooked to package directions.

Cook all ingredients over low heat until vegetables are hot. Sprinkle with sliced almonds and serve over rice.

FOR THE working women

this recipe for Vanilla Wafer Cake is ideal. It takes about five minutes to mix together and less than an hour to bake.

VANILLA WAFER CAKE
Cream together:
1 stick olio
1 cup sugar
Add:
3 eggs
1 box crushed vanilla wafers
1/2 tsp. baking powder in
1/2 cup milk
1 can flaky coconut
1 cup chopped pecans
Bake for about one hour in 375-degree oven using a 9x9 cake pan.

MRS. VERMILLION is a pharmacist at Gibson's and her husband owns and operates White Auto Sales in Elgin and Tulsa.

They enjoy camping and especially like taking their motor home into the back country at Yellowstone National Park.

"When you can get away from the tourists and get off by yourself it's really nice. We like to take our fishing equipment and spend hours just fishing," explains Mrs. Vermillion.

In the Vermillion household are two aquarists and six dogs including three poodles, an Irish Setter, German shepherd and a dalmatian.

Besides raising pets, the family also likes growing a variety of houseplants. "Actually, my husband takes care of the plants," says Mrs. Vermillion.

The plants including everything from Aroids to ivy are arranged throughout the home and add to the city atmosphere in a livingroom which is accented with an off-white adobe fireplace.

Completing the room's decor are large wooden ceiling beams, built-in bookcases, front door green shag carpet and a gold velvet sofa, chair and loveseat.

Mrs. Vermillion's hobbies include playing the organ, painting, crocheting and working in the yard.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

VISITORS here for several weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Arsenio Coates of Miami, Fla., the parents of Mrs. Jim Pickett and guests in the Pickett home, 109 S. Douglas. They plan to be in Hereford until Christmas. The family is originally from Cuba.

INITIATES into Alpha Chi honor society at West Texas State University in a Sunday afternoon ceremony include Hereford students Suzanne Schwertner, Joan Grady, Alesia Ragsdale and Larry Roberts. Only students who rate scholastically in the top 10 percent of their class are eligible for this society.

Juan is the daughter of the Nolan Grady, Alesia of the Mack Ragsdales and Suzanne of the Onkar Schwertners, while Larry's parents are the Jerry Lee Roberts who live northwest of Hereford.

The Schwertners were in Canyon for the ceremony. I know, and maybe some of the other parents were also.

AMONG all the things now happening "for the benefit of", I failed to mention last week that the DAR Chapter is responsible for the clever cutout paper turkeys that appear here and there over town, asking you to give thanks for your library and deposit a contribution.

It will help finish paying for a microfilm scanner for the library. The chapter has raised most of the money with book sales — and it takes quite a lot of money for one of those machines which will be useful to a lot of people.

ANOTHER note on a benefit sale: Unusual items for sale in Hereford Garden Club's bazaar at the mall this weekend are 200 clay flower pots. In these days of plastic flower pots the clay ones are getting scarce but many people prefer them for house plants. This may be a good opportunity to get some just in time.

WITH THE end of a year coming up fast, the news room crew here at the Brand is starting to move the photographs from our 1972 files to make room for 1973 files. We keep news photos two years, unless someone picks them up within that time.

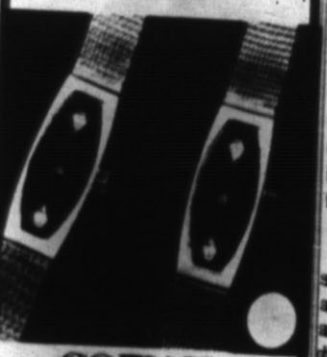

We're happy for people to call for photos they have brought in for publication, and are also glad to give away those made by staff photographers, strictly on a first come, first served basis.

A lot are always left in the files at the end of two years and we hate to destroy them, as we must to make room for more. Those studio portraits of brides, family groups and others, we know someone would like to have.

If we still have a photo that was used in 1972, and you want it, this is your last call to come and get it. Or if you want any photo used since, and nobody else has claimed it, you're real welcome to come by and pick it up. You only need to know when it was used, as the photos are filed by dates.

Mystery, Romance Featured In Book

Best Wishes Doc is an inspiring book filled with stories of Doc and "his" kids who have learning disabilities. Dr. Cohen, director of Buckingham School in Queens, N.Y., comes on strong as an enthusiastic, innovative simultaneous loving and strict authority in this field.

Kilgaren is a book filled with mystery and romance. Barbara Kilgaren's reluctant journey to her ancestral home soon envelopes her in a scene her conventional upbringing hadn't allowed for.

The library is open to the public on Mondays from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., weekdays from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Saturdays until noon.

BEST WISHES DOC
By Dr. Martin Cohen

The teacher calls on the ten-year-old boy to read aloud. He fidgets, can't seem to find the place. "Please read, Teddy," she says.

Teddy tries to make some sense out of the jumble as the class titters.

JANE CALEB THE BOG! Dugested, Teddy throws the book down. Furious that the child is "spitting" her, the teacher sends him to Siberia, a table conspicuously isolated from the rest of the class.

This scene is repeated with tragic frequency in schools all over the country. Estimates differ, but according to some experts one in every four children in every classroom suffers from some form of learning disability.

Terminology also varies — dyslexic, minimally brain damaged, hyperkinetic, "slow learner" — but whatever the label LD children are all seemingly normal kids like Teddy who, regardless of IQ are simply unable to learn. And because the symptoms of LD are so hard to spot — many normal kids also refuse to sit still or pay attention — these children and their parents suffer helplessly, not knowing where to begin looking for a solution.

Dr. Cohen, Director of the Buckingham School in Queens, New York, comes on strong as an enthusiastic, innovative simultaneously loving and strict authority in this field marked by lack of authorities.

Like a junior Vince Lombardi determined to whip his Little Leaguers in shape, Doc hassles, jolies, bullies his "problem" kids and they love him for it. But more important, for the first time in their lives they learn. Many of them have returned to regular schools; some have even gone on to college.

Best Wishes Doc is an inspiring book, filled with stories of Doc and "his" kids — his successes, some failures — as together they struggle to turn disabilities into the ability to learn.

KILGAREN
By Isabelle Holland

The name Kilgaren had long identified a small green island on the West Indian map; a large and weathered Great House; a family that had dominated its people and managed its sea-girl land for generations.

The first rumors of trouble and a devastating fire at Four Winds sent eight-year-old Barbara Kilgaren and her mother away to the states. But then, some ten years later, without warning or preamble, there came a letter from Jonathan Kilgaren, Barbara's older, strong-willed half-brother, to pack her belongings and return to a heritage she had all but forgotten.

Barbara Kilgaren's reluctant journey to her ancestral home soon enmeshed her in a scene her conventional upbringing hadn't allowed for. Before Kilgaren has run its course Barbara undergoes a post-graduate course in ancestral deception, tangled bloodlines, mortal danger, and unexpected romance. Her story will grip and satisfy, the most discriminating reader of suspense.

293=4,665=Thanks To Our Customers

In the last two weeks we've been honoring our long-service employees... 293 of them with a combined service of 4,665 years... and with individual service for periods ranging from five to 45 years.

And this seems like a good time to recognize the confidence that you, our customers, have in our employees and in our Company. We, all of us, appreciate the understanding you have shown in recognizing that, like everything else, our costs of providing electric service have increased... and that makes it necessary to charge more for electricity. Inflation, higher material costs, higher costs of the fuel we use to make electricity... even the higher costs of borrowing money all account for higher costs of your electric service.

But, so long as we are expected to have electricity ready for you the instant you turn on a switch... to meet your year-around demands for electricity to keep your homes and businesses liveable... then there's just no other way. Increased costs must be reckoned with.

We have good employees... all trying to do the best job they know how, and so it's in order for us all at Southwestern Public Service Company to say, "Thanks," to our customers for their understanding... because your understanding of our problems does make our jobs that much easier.

Light opera music from Europe and America made up the program of the Music Study Club Monday afternoon, when it met in the home of Mrs. W.T. Carmichael with Mrs. C.J. Moutz as co-hostess.

Solo and ensemble songs by members were taken from the opera comique and operetta repertory. Mrs. A.J. Schroeter was program leader and discussed these types of music for the stage.

Mrs. Buddy Poeler and Mrs. Joe Hacker presented Habanera from Bizet's opera Carmen as the first selection. The barcarolle from Tales of Hoffman was sung by Mrs. Tom Burdett and Mrs. Lynton Allied with Mrs. Poeler as accompanist.

Two selections were from the Merry Widow, the Valse a duet by Mrs. Steve Clements and Mrs. J.R. Allison and Villa by Mrs. Burdett; Mrs. J.C. McCracken was piano accompanist.

Mmes. Carmichael, Clements, Paul Lyons and Wes Fisher sang To Vienna from the Johann Strauss Waltz opera, Gypsy Baron. Another Strauss number was Laughing Song from Die Fledermaus, sung by Mrs. Wesley Gulley who also presented My Hero, from the Chocolate Soldier by Oscar Straus, accompanied by Mrs. Ken Walser.

Mrs. T.W. Roberson discussed the Hymn of the Month, We Gather Together, which members sang.

Members were reminded of their annual contribution of $2 each to the club's scholarship fund, to be made at the Christmas party in December.

Mrs. Robert Mayfield was welcomed as a new member. A former member, Mrs. Sam Long, was returned to full membership and Mrs. Bob McFarland voted in as a new member.

Canadian Singer To Give Concert Sunday

Anne Murray, Canadian singer, will present her greatest hits at 8 p.m. Sunday in the WT Fieldhouse.

Miss Murray, one of those fortunate people whose natural openness and warmth automatically capture at-fection, was born in the mining town of Springhill, Nova Scotia. She graduated from the University of New Brunswick with a Bachelor's Degree in Physical Education.

She taught one year in Prince Edward Island, Canada, then she fully pursued a career in show business, which was her preference.

Miss Murray recorded two Canadian Capitol albums which became best-sellers. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation stepped in, and Anne Murray stepped out as potentially the biggest female star ever produced in Canada.

In an interview she was asked if Capitol records were aware of her direction. Miss Murray answered, "I think they are not. Sheathed happened just as the beginning of all the problems Capitol had, and they just closed house. It took them two years to do and just now they are getting back on their feet."

"I think they're pretty well aware of what direction I want to go. A hit record helped."

According to Canada reports, she's a public treasure in her native country, winner of virtually every honor accorded entertainers there, sure-fire box office in any personal appearance, and the first female ever signed to a contract by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for a series of television specials. She has taped eight specials to date.

A tour of England and the continent designed to spread further this public love affair with Anne Murray took place in early '72. She commenced her second European tour in September '72 which covered nine countries in a one-month period which was followed by a three-week tour of Europe starting in mid January '73. Highlighting this visit was a taping of an "Anne Murray Special" for the British Broadcasting Corporation from London's famous nightclub "The Talk of the Town" and guest performances at NEDEN's '72 show in Cannes, France.

The Hartford Grand, Hartford, Texas, Thursday November 14, 1973. A fourth European visit took place during April-May '73 and saw her perform in such venues as Royal Festival Hall and the Palladium in London.

Miss Murray says she feels great being a Canadian and going to Europe or the States. "I'd rather be a Canadian than anything else. But you can't generalize about the American people, there are all kinds of nice people there, like there are here, and it's a few people who go ahead who've given that image to the U.S. They demand things and expect things, and nobody likes that. We don't like it when they come up here and do that, and again it's just a few of the people who do it."

Miss Murray has appeared on the "Glen Campbell Show," her own special, Johnny Carson's "Tonight Show," "Merv Griffin Show," "Donna Martin Show," "Helen Reddy Show" and many other variety presentations. She's had nominations for Grammy and the Academy of Country & Western music award.

WT students admission is $5; general public is $5 per person.

An early gift suggestion is rings as they come in many shapes and colors. There's no limit to the number one wears.

Artificial Lights Good For Plants

If window space is limited in your house for growing indoor plants, you can still grow attractive plants with the aid of artificial lights.

Fluorescent lamps are excellent for growing plants because they give off little heat and can be placed near the plant to provide high light intensities, points out Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The standard cool light lamp is the most popular for growing plants although other colors can be used.

For best results Janne suggests a fixture with at least two 40-watt tubes. This fixture should be suspended over a bench or table not more than a foot above the plant trays or flats. If the fixture is lit 14 to 16 hours per day, it will provide sufficient light to produce good quality plants. Two lamp fixtures mounted side by side will adequately light an area four feet by four feet.

temperature remains between 60 and 75 degrees F., no additional heat is needed, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. If the room becomes cooler, supplemental heat may be necessary. Such heat should be controlled with a thermostat to prevent over-heating.

Many garden shops and hobby centers have units equipped with lights and trays for growing plants from seeds or cuttings. Some of these are elaborate, containing doors for ease in controlling temperatures and humidity. As you become more interested in indoor gardening, you may want to invest in more elaborate equipment.

Whatever your interests, Janne suggests a try at indoor gardening under artificial lights.

According to Canada reports, she's a public treasure in her native country, winner of virtually every honor accorded entertainers there, sure-fire box office in any personal appearance, and the first female ever signed to a contract by the Canadian Broadcasting Company for a series of television specials. She has taped eight specials to date.

A tour of England and the continent designed to spread further this public love affair with Anne Murray took place in early '72. She commenced her second European tour in September '72 which covered nine countries in a one-month period which was followed by a three-week tour of Europe starting in mid January '73. Highlighting this visit was a taping of an "Anne Murray Special" for the British Broadcasting Corporation from London's famous nightclub "The Talk of the Town" and guest performances at MIDEM's '72 show in Cannes, France.

OIL NATIONS & FOOD

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND -- The World Council of Churches has appealed to the oil producing countries and the industrialized world to cooperate in an arrangement to stave off "disaster" on our doorstep because of food shortages.

If window space is limited in your house for growing indoor plants, you can still grow attractive plants with the aid of artificial lights.

Fluorescent lamps are excellent for growing plants because they give off little heat and can be placed near the plant to provide high light intensities, points out Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The standard cool light lamp is the most popular for growing plants although other colors can be used.

For best results Janne suggests a fixture with at least two 40-watt tubes. This fixture should be suspended over a bench or table not more than a foot above the plant trays or flats. If the fixture is lit 14 to 16 hours per day, it will provide sufficient light to produce good quality plants. Two lamp fixtures mounted side by side will adequately light an area four feet by four feet.

temperature remains between 60 and 75 degrees F., no additional heat is needed, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. If the room becomes cooler, supplemental heat may be necessary. Such heat should be controlled with a thermostat to prevent over-heating.

Many garden shops and hobby centers have units equipped with lights and trays for growing plants from seeds or cuttings. Some of these are elaborate, containing doors for ease in controlling temperatures and humidity. As you become more interested in indoor gardening, you may want to invest in more elaborate equipment.

Whatever your interests, Janne suggests a try at indoor gardening under artificial lights.

Lazarus

At one time or another, all of us make mistakes. Of course we hope that we'll be given a second chance. Perhaps the mistake isn't so important, but what we do to correct it is.

Lazarus, the brother of Mary and Martha, was given an unusual second chance. And after four days in the tomb, Christ resurrected him. Once back in the daylight, Lazarus had to make a decision: what should he do with his life... his second chance.

John 12:9-11 tells us he used it for God. And because of Lazarus testimony, many accepted Christ as their Savior.

This unusual act of God proves to us that Lazarus received physical life, so that we might understand eternal life.

He wanted us to know, beyond doubt, that the Spiritually dead could live again... that they could have a second chance to live their lives for Him.

God may not add years to our lives, but He will add life to our years whenever we turn to Him. Then, seek your second chance.

Workers With Youth Are Heard

Youth needs in the Hereford community and some steps being taken to meet them, were discussed by two guests of Valeda Study Club Tuesday evening. The meeting was in Mrs. Hugh Clearman's home. Jo An Dwyer, director of the Big Brothers-Big Sisters program here, and Phil Sciombato of the detective division of Hereford Police Department, were the speakers introduced by Mrs. Bill Walden.

Mrs. Dwyer, outlining aims of the program she heads, said its founder originated Big Brothers on the idea of friendship on a one-to-one basis to help the youngster needing personal attention from someone other than a parent or guardian.

Sciombato spoke chiefly of the growing problem of drug addiction and showed slides to illustrate various forms of drugs including heroin, marijuana, morphine and barbiturates. These slides are to be used in an educational series for Hereford Schools.

He also told of talk sessions and field trips he held with a group of young residents, starting with three who needed special guidance and grew to a group of 52.

The club voted financial assistance for this group which Sciombato plans to activate again. A contribution was also voted to the Big Brothers-Big Sisters program.

Members present included Mmes. George Ritter, John Poindexter, Gwynne Owen, Betty Oglesby, Richard Ottesen, Armon Lauderback, Frank Zinser, Glenn Watta, Laurence Ruther, J.D. Gilbert Jr., Gid Brown, Bill Brady and Howard Birdwell.

Victory Class Opens New Year

Yearbooks listing meeting dates and duty assignments for members in the coming year were distributed at the meeting of Avenue Baptist Victory Class Tuesday. Mrs. Herman Hendrix was hostess in her home.

Mrs. C.E. Coleman presided at the beginning of her term as class president. Plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 12 at Mrs. Bill Wall's home. Mrs. John Townsend conducted the devotional period.

Club Sees Texas History On Film

Spanish missions which dominated an era in Texas history were discussed and pictured on film for the program of Pioneer Study Club Tuesday, one of a series of studies in the state's background.

Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. was program leader at a luncheon in Hereford Country Club. She introduced Jimmie Alfred who presented two films, one on missions built in Texas during early years of Spanish domination and the other titled Texas Highlights, picturing scenic spots in the state.

Missions were built as Spanish priests Christianized the Indians, teaching them to work as well as to worship in churches, Mrs. Hill said. The first missions served as forts also, as the Alamo did.

Five of the original missions in and near San Antonio are still in good condition and in use as churches, she added. Most of the others have fallen into ruin; one at Goliad has been restored.

The filmed scenes of Texas stressed the wide diversity of terrain from Palo Duro Canyon in the Panhandle to the Gulf coast, and from the rugged Davis Mountains to deep East Texas' pine forests.

The program began with the invocation by C. Ora Cockrell. Mrs. Frank Ball and Mrs. Guy Walser were hostesses.

Committee reports featured the business period with Mrs. P.B. Sowell presiding. Mrs. Ralph McCullough reported completion of this year's sale of bulbs, a beautification project which also raises funds for other club activities.

Mrs. Henry Hastings reminded members to bring food to the December meeting to fill baskets for needy families. Mrs. A.L. Marjeot reported on an annual project to aid hospitalized war veterans.

Organization of Friends of Deaf Smith County Library has been completed, Mrs. Henry Neely, the club's representative, announced. She said membership is open to all residents.

Mrs. Alfred was welcomed as a guest with her husband. Other club members luncheon were Roberta Campbell and Bonnie Brumley, C.L. Craig, Herman Ford, John Heard, Tandy Legg, L.H. Lookingbill, H.E. Miller, Ted Panciera, John Patton, Wirt Phillips, J.V. Pickens, Paul Rudd and R.L. Wilson.

Mrs. Cox Is Club Hostess

Mrs. E.M. Cox was hostess to West Hereford Extension Club Tuesday afternoon in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co. Joyce Shipp, county extension agent, gave the program, showing quick methods of preparing individual pizzas and pineapple pie.

Mrs. U.V. Pierce read a poem, Tip. She was the recipient of the hostess gift. Plans were made for a Thanksgiving luncheon on the next meeting date, Nov. 26.

Guest Is Speaker In Newcomers Club

Ideas for home decoration in the Christmas season were given members of Hereford Newcomers Club by a guest speaker, Mrs. Charles Riggan, at the club's luncheon Tuesday in Community Center.

Traditional greens, berries and fresh flowers were arranged in containers suggestive of the season, in a display from Park Avenue Florists. Mrs. Riggan showed how to make an attractive corsage in Christmas motif.

New members welcomed at the covered dish lunch were Mrs. John West, who came from Lubbock and resides at 208 Centre; Mrs. Julian Berry, lately from Amarillo, now living at 1827 Plains, and Mrs. Freddie Savage of 1565 Brevard, whose former home was in Friona.

Mrs. Melvin Hoover, a former member of the club, was a guest. Mrs. Glenn Perry, president made the introductions and conducted business.

The Newcomers Club is an organization for women who have lived in the city less than two years. Those eligible for membership are invited to the covered dish luncheons at Community Center on the second Tuesday of each month.

The club's purpose is to assist newcomers to become acquainted with each other and with the community at large, and to take part in community service activities.

Members Added

Tour Scenes Are Shared In Club

Five members of Lone Star Study Club relived a pleasant trip they made last spring, and shared experiences with others in the club as scenes photographed on the trip were shown on slides at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Baker Womble was hostess in her home.

Mrs. G.W. Newsom was in charge of the program, showing pictures made by Mrs. L.N. Cox, another Hereford woman on the bus and boat tour of the southeastern United States.

Mmes. J.E. Shirkey, S.S. Williams, John Moore, Henry Vaughn and Newsom were Lone Star Club members in the party.

Their comments indicated they were most impressed with the Vicksburg battlefield monuments from various states, including one of Texas granite commemorating Texans who died in that Civil War battle, and the Cape Kennedy Space Center, larger than they had expected in both acreage and equipment.

Other members at the meeting were Mmes. Dale Tinnin, Ed Warren, M.H. Wiseman, W.O. McCutcheon, John Jacobsen Jr., Jim Higgins, H.E. Henslee, Jim Bookout, Hardy Benson, Gaston Baer, R.G. Blue, Robert Thompson, V.E. Dodson, C.O. Phillips and W.S. Fluit.

Seams Fused By Unit

"Sonic sewing" is one of many new techniques being used by the textile and apparel industry, according to one clothing specialist.

She's Margret Ann Vanderpoorten, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"This new method, already in use by several manufacturers, used high frequency vibrations to melt synthetic fibers and fuse them together. No needle or thread is needed," the specialist said.

This method works well for fusing seams in wearing apparel, adding decorative patterns and quilting several layers of synthetic fabrics and fibers together, she noted.

"Quilted fabrics produced by this method are becoming popular for making ski wear and home furnishings — because the 'stitches' never break under stress the way traditional thread stitches do," Miss Vanderpoorten explained.

Another advantage is that design and color can be added as the fabrics are welded together. The color becomes part of the fabric by melting into the liquified synthetic fibers, she said.

"This technique is suitable for most synthetics and for blends containing less than 35 per cent natural fibers," she said.

Food Dollar Should Meet Meat Prices

Make Thanksgiving a time for thanks — thanks that your food dollar covers your basic nutritional needs without stretching it to the breaking point, one foods and nutrition specialist advised this week.

"Since meat takes the largest portion of your food dollar, a comparative shopping trip is a good idea," Frances Reasonover with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, pointed out.

The specialist suggested you consider the number of servings you will need and the number of servings per pound you can expect from each of the products you're comparing — turkey and ham, for example.

"You can expect two and a half servings from one pound of ham with bone in, but three servings from a pound of boneless ham.

"One pound of whole fresh turkey yields two servings per pound, while one pound of turkey breast or boneless turkey roast gives three servings," Miss Reasonover pointed out.

Nutrition wise, turkey and ham are comparable. Both are good sources of protein — but pound for pound, turkey has a little more protein and less fat than ham. This may be a consideration if you are on a special low-fat diet, she noted.

Indian folk tales speak of a white cow who supports the earth on her horns.

Fruitcake-Making Provides Pre-Holiday Fun

Hospital Notes

It's fruitcake-making time, and the fun of baking is a big part of pre-holiday festivity.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Cyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, looked at the holiday tradition of fruitcake baking — and buying.

"One big question is whether to make your own or buy one," she noted.

Good quality ready-made fruitcake is a boon for busy homemakers. They come in all sizes — by the slice, in 8-ounce, one-pound, one and one-half pound, up to five pound and over sizes.

"But whichever type you choose, read the label first to make sure you buy what you intended to buy. Prices for ready-made usually depend on the amount of fruits and nuts they contain. The more nuts and fruits, the higher the price," Mrs. Cyatt said.

COST OF HOME BAKING: The specialist pointed out that if you make your own, cost depends on the recipe.

"Check costs of the ingredients before you bake. Of course, costs don't consider your time, patience and the cleanup — or your satisfaction."

of preparing your own, Mrs. Cyatt suggested.

Some choices are citron, lemon peel, orange peel — available in glass form, covered with a light coat of sugar, or in dehydrated form, with all the sugar removed. Also cherries are packed whole in glass form, colored green and red.

"Mixed fruit contains four or five dried fruits such as citron, orange peel, lemon peel, pineapple and cherries. Pineapple, packed in glass form as fingers, slices and discs, colored red, green and yellow is available."

Candied fruit comes in four-ounce containers, but can also be found in larger vacuum jars, cello-packs and bulk containers.

The specialist suggested you consider the total amount of candied fruit you will need for holiday baking and buy it in the larger packages — usually more economical.

Stores usually stock candied fruit to last only through the holiday season since the demand is small during the rest of the year, the specialist said.

HOW TO BUY NUTMEATS: Nutmeats are an important ingredient in fruitcakes of all kinds and there are do's and don'ts for buying them.

Mrs. Cyatt's suggestion are: Buy unshelled nuts that are clean and free from scars, cracks or holes.

With shelled nuts, look for kernels that are plump and meaty, crisp and brittle, and if used for garnish — uniform in size and color.

Unshelled nuts are often, but not always, less expensive than shelled nuts.

To compare costs: two pounds of unshelled tree nuts make one pound (three to four cups) of nutmeats.

"The small, recipe-size packages are generally more expensive than the 'holiday baking' size (one pound) packages," the specialist pointed out.

BAKING, GLAZING AND DECORATING: "Bake fruitcakes in foil pans, individual-size glass casseroles, or even in tiny muffins tins. Glaze and decorate them after they've cooled. You can bake them in clean, well-washed coffee cans for unusual shapes," she added.

"For a handsome glaze, heat corn syrup to a full, rolling boil and spread with a pastry brush over the top of the cake. Decorations of nuts and red and green maraschino cherries will cling tightly if first dipped on one side in powdered sugar icing before arranging on the cake," Mrs. Cyatt said.

CARE OF BAKED FRUITCAKE: Wrap thoroughly cooled fruitcake tightly in plastic wrap, then in heavy aluminum foil.

"You may want to brush the cake occasionally with fruit juice or cider. Or you can saturate a cloth in the liquid, wrap the cake in it first and then overwrap with plastic wrap. Four to six weeks will complete the mellowing of the delightful fruit flavors," she said.

After the fruitcake is well-seasoned, a home freezer or refrigerator is ideal for storing it. Just be sure the cake is freezer-wrapped, she reminded.

Quick Meals Demonstrated

Quick meal preparation was the topic for Young Homemakers Extension Club Tuesday morning, at a meeting in Mrs. Richard Patzig's home. Individual pizzas were made from canned biscuits and pineapple pie made by a quick method was also demonstrated by Joyce Shipp, county extension agent.

Plans were made for the club's Christmas party, scheduled for Dec. 6 in the home of Mrs. Sam Munnick.

Members present were Misses Don Dougherty, Robert Brown, Allen Evers, Mary Louie, Marvin Welby, Marilyn Seale and Munnick.

DARK OR LIGHT FRUITCAKES

Choices range from dark to light types of fruitcake, with both kinds full of fruits and nuts — or for families who like just a hint, the fruit and nuts may be lightly scattered through the

CANDIED FRUIT CHOICES

Candied fruits are a necessary part of fruitcake and a welcome addition to pies, cookies, breads and salads. As you look over the selections of candied fruits, you may want to compare the price with the cost of preparing your own, Mrs. Cyatt suggested.

HOW ABOUT IT?

We have advertised to give as good values as you can get any where. What we have said is either true or untrue. We think it only fair to you and to us to let us compare values. If it is the truth we should be getting more of your business. If you haven't been to see us, make it a point to come around as soon as convenient. You are welcome whether you buy or not.

Ad From 1905 Brand

Since this ad ran in a 1905 edition of the Hereford Brand, our area has seen a lot of progress. And we've changed too.

Keeping a respectful eye on tradition, the Brand has strived to develop better ways for the business community to communicate with the rest of the community.

We help businesses tell you what merchandise they have available to sell and how much it costs. Through us businessmen can tell you what services they provide, their store hours, and even what credit cards they accept.

Since 1905 area businesses have depended on the Brand to help them "talk" to their customers. We're proud to say in that way we haven't changed.

Our Service Hasn't Changed.

On The Cover

NBC's new Friday night comedy, "Chico and the Man," with Freddie Prinze and Jack Albertson garnered both high ratings and an angry, outraged Los Angeles Chicano protesting alleged slurring of American-Americans and the absence of native talent on the show.

Modeling the series after Roy Anderson, a Chicano militant he admires, producer Jimmy Komack, nevertheless, is called all kinds of names including bigot because he cast a Hungarian-Puerto Rican, Freddie Prinze, in the role of Chico, and had another Puerto Rican, Jose Feliciano, write the show music.

While Komack finds off vocal bulleth, Freddie Prinze reads a fan letter from a Los Angeles Chicano who got a kick out of the first episode.

Teen Gangs Battle On "Ironside"

Chief Ironside (Raymond Burr) persuades parolee Carl Parkos (guest star Paul Burke) to head a new home for convicts' kids just as Carl's son gets caught in a teen-age gang war in "Act of Vengeance," the "Ironside" colorcast for Thursday, Nov. 14 (8:00-9:00 p.m.) on the NBC Television Network.

Also guest-starring are Kathie Browne as Parkos' wife, and Anthony Eisley as his ex-prisoner.

Before Ironside can install Parkos (Burke) as head of the new home, Parkos' son Tony (Scott Colburn) is seen tossing a fire bomb at the custom-painted van of a rival teen-age gang. Soon after, Tony is gunned down by shots from the painted van and Carl vows vengeance.

David Friedman directed from a script by True Boardman.

David Carradine, who stars as a half-American Buddhist priest on the ABC Television Network's "Kung Fu," is as unconventional as his Emmy-nominated role.

The son of noted actor John Carradine, David sports all the usual trappings of Hollywood success, living in a ramshackle old house in the Hollywood hills and driving a car which his friends say has "definitely been better days." His usual uniform consists of jeans and an old shirt and, like the character he portrays, he likes to walk barefoot.

David was born in Hollywood. He attended numerous schools on both coasts and completed his education at San Francisco State College, where he majored in music during his two-year stay.

His first taste of acting was at the Theatre of the Golden Hind in Berkeley. It was a heady experience, so much so, that he left college to join friends in staging a production of "Chinella" in a San Francisco little theatre.

Then he joined a professional Shakespeare repertory company in the Bay City. On the side, he sold stereos, machines and encyclopedias, and became one of the first beachbites.

The Osmond Special

The musical dimensions of the Osmond family's talents will be on display in a special program that blends music and variety in a unique look at a modern musical legend. In "The Osmond Special," Wednesday, Nov. 28 (7:00-9:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

Andy Williams and Isaac Hayes will be the guests of the seven singing and dancing Osmonds—Alan, Wayne, Merrill, Jay, Donny, Marie and Jimmy. The hour-long program will highlight musical numbers and informal conversations between the young people and their guests, as well as a repertoire of held cameras to capture the aura of a "live" concert appearance.

Some of the many hit songs identified with the Osmonds will be featured on the special, including "Mashed Potato of the Mountain," "Lovers We Are for a Reason," "Little Arrow," "Down by the Lazy River" and "Let Me In."
