Commissioners Hike County Tax Rate

The addition of four employees to the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office, the cost of operation of the new jail facility and a five per cent pay raise for county personnel were reasons the commissioners court approved a proposed tax rate of $1.25 during their regularly scheduled meeting Monday at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

The tax rate, which would become effective at the start of the 1977-78 fiscal year Oct. 1, is 10 cents more than the current rate. The new figure was approved in relation to the approximately $4,000,000 worth of property in Deaf Smith County with a $96,000,000 tax

The estimated collection rate is 90 per cent or $86,400. The new tax rate on that amount will create $1,080,000 in actual

The projected county budget for the 1977-78 fiscal year is $267,989.48. With receipts of $1,983,836.98 (excluding revenue-sharing funds) and disbursements of $2,153,312.06, the projected balance at the end of the fiscal year Sept. 30, 1978, is $98,514.40, a figure which was low enough to cause concern among the commissioners.

Last year's disbursements amounted to $1,982,285.32.

The five per cent salary increase will apply to all county personnel except the overall hike of $39,088 in addition to seven per cent of that total for retirement, $2,286.65 for social security and approximately $7,900 for workman's compensation.

Estimated operating expenses of the new jail facility are $45,365. New state guidelines necessitate the addition of four jailers their salaries will be paid from revenue-sharing funds.

The cost-of-living raise and high costs were the main reasons the commissioners gave for approving the take hike in the preliminary county budget.

A public hearing for both the revenue-sharing and county budgets was scheduled for 10 a.m. June 13 at the County Courthouse.

The court Monday also approved a revenue-sharing budget for the 1977-78 fiscal year. The total budget of $273,208 will be divided as follows:

$200,000 for transportation, $50,000 for general government, $12,500 for special services, $9,208 for county repairs and $2,00 for health. The transportation funds also will be divided, with $39,000 going to Precinct 3, $12,000 to Precinct 1 and the remaining $149,000 to be divided at a later date.

The budget was ammended to transfer $3,500 from road and building funds in both Precincts 2 and 4 to Precinct 3. The $7,000 will be used to pay repair bills.

Grain could be harvested from as much as 60 per cent of the acreage which was planted to dryland wheat in Deaf Smith County following timely showers which fell Saturday night and again Monday.

JOHN FUSTON, county ASCS executive director explained. "We have some wheat that is so thin the weeds are going to take it over, and the severe damage inflicted by wind and blowing sand earlier this year cannot be discounted, but with the additional rainfall of Saturday and Monday, we are going to cut some dryland wheat now. Probaby 60 to 70 per cent of the dyrland wheat that was planted in the county will but cut now. That might sound a bit optimistic, but is a ballpark figure.

Significant rainfall was received in the western portion of the county where dryland farming is a way of life on Saturday night.

Mrs. Bill Page reported that moisture accumulations varied from .60 to 1.30 inches in the vicinity of Bootleg Corner on Saturday night in widespread showers. Scattered thunderstorms deposited an additional inch of moisture in that same vicinity Monday afternoon.

"SATURDAY'S RAINFALL was more widespread than Monday's." Mrs. Page explained. On Monday, we received an inch of rain here at the farm, but it didn't even sprinkle a mile west of us. We're certainly happy to get the moisture, the wheat is really looking good now." she

The Bruce Coleman farm at Walcott reported an inch of rain, with lighter accululations toward the north.

Mrs. Clint Homfeld reported that no rain fell at her husband's farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford on Monday afternoon, but a total of .75 inches of moisture fell there Saturday night.

'It may not be as much rain as some people have received, but we're happy to take anything we can get." Mrs. Homfeld

No Direct Payments to Sugarbeet Growers

Subsidy Plan 'Complicated'

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some details of a federal sugar subsidy plan announced by President Carter last week its helip financially pressed sugarbeer and sugarcane producers probably will be disclosed this week, according to sources in the Agriculture Department.

he program involves some complicated forumlas on how to allocate the subsidies between farmers and process-

As outlined briefly by the White House, the program "would provide supplemental compensation to growers of up to two cents a pound" for sugar witers prices drop below the New York spec market prices of 13.5 cents a pound for raw sugar.

But designing the program is much more involved than the White House description indicates. For one thing, no federal subsidies will go directly as farmers. Instead, they money will be paid to processors who then will pass along higher prices to producers.

him even if the maximum of two cents a pound paid by the government. augarboet farmers probably will get no more than about 1.2 cents a pound, with the processor getting 0.8 cents a pound. according to USDA technicians.

This is because historically farmers summant at the start of a season with a processor for the sale of their sugarbeets. # final settlement is made based on the market price for sugar, the sugar content of the beets and other factors covered by formalis farmers get 60 to 62 per cent of what the sugar brings on the market and the processor gets 38 to 40 per cent. The idea is to divide the federal nationally along these same lines, meaning that both the processor and farmer will share in the payments.

Another complicating factor in putting the pragram together is that there is a cap of two cents a pound in the subsidy. meaning that if the New York spot price of raw sugar drops below 11.5 cents, the guaranteed amount will be less than the 13.5 cents set as a target. 13.5 cents set as a target.

Recently, the New York spot price of raw sugar has been slightly less than 12 cents, meaning a full potential subsidy of around 11.5 cents to bring it up to the

The New York spot price is for raw cane sugar, meaning that formulas will be used to convert sugarbeet sugar to the "cquivalent basis" in the New York price, another complicated step in computing actual subsidy payments. About 30 per cent of the 11 million tons of sugar used annually in the United States comes from domestically produced sugarbeets, 25 per cent from cane, and 45 per cent from imported raw cane sugar, according to USDA.

Beef Referendum Details To Be Explained Tonight

Details about the proposed Beef Research and Information Act will be explained tonight at 8 o'clock in the Bull Barn in a special county-wide meeting.

JIM CONKWRIGHT, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Beef Development Taskforce will outline details on the upcoming beef referendum.

The program is designed for all beef and dairy cattle owners of the county, and will include two slide presentations about the Beef Research and Information Act. One is prepared by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the second by the Beef Development

A period for questions and comments from producers will also be held. Joining Conkwright on tonight's

FFA To Honor Top Achievers

A local resident will receive an honorary membership in the Hereford FFA and the winner of the coveted DeKalb Award will also be named during the annual Hereford High School FFA Parents and Member Banquet tonight at 7:30 in the HHS cafeteria.

The DeKalb Award is presented to an FFA student who has posted the highest academic and productive accomplishments in scholarship, leadership and cooperation.

The FFA Foundation Award, scholarship and leadership awards, certificates of merit and proficiency awards will also be presented tonight.

Local FFA advisors include Bob Ward. Marcus Phillips and Jess Robinson.

Extension agent and Extension Livestock Specialist Dr. John McNeil. Both men will provide more detailed information about the upcoming referendum.

THE BEEF RESEARCH and Information Act serves as enabling legislation and authorized the Secretary of Agriculture to conduct a referendum among beef producers to determine whether they want a beef development plan, developed by an industry-wide

According to Conkwright, the beef development plan is a proposed national checkoff program that would be financed through assessment as spelled out in the beef marketing order. If approved, the plan would provide some $30 to $40 million per year for beef research, consumer and producer information. promotion and market development.

To be eligible to participate in the beef referendum, beef and dairy cattle owners must register with their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices, and must then return to their county office to vote.

Teacher Bills Get House Vote

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Three bills for teachers - past, present and future - with a two-year price tag of $476 million were set for House action today.

Representatives also planned a final vote on a bill creating a modified cabinet system of state government that also would lump most of the 200-plus agencies under 16 umbrella departments.

Each department's secretary or executive director would report directly to the governor, serve at his pleasure, recommend efficiency measures and submit the budgets for all agencies under his management.

But the day's big business was action on two bills raising benefits for retired teachers and those who retire in the future, at a cost of $213 million in 1978-79, and a measure raising teacher salaries by $263 million.

Hearst Receives 5 Years Probation

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Patricia Hearst has won five years probation on charges stemming from a 1974 shootout at Mel's Sports Goods Store. Some said Miss Hearst - who could have received 151/2 years to life in prison - suffered enough, but the store owner says he was stunned by the sentence.

Plan Calls For Resignation Of Rhodesia Prime Minister

WASHINGTON (AP)- A new British-U.S. plan to make Rhodesia an independent blackruled state by Sept. 24, 1978, foresees the resignation of Prime Minister Ian Smith and his government by next summer.

Sources here say the resignation of the Smith government would clear the way for immediate cancellation of the United Nations embargo against Rhodesia as well as for a cease-fire between white-led Rhodesian forces and black guerrillas.

The sources say the plan, which is to be unveiled this week, will call for the resignation of Smith and his Rhodesia Front government about three months before Rhodesia actually comes under black control as an independent

The study, prepared for the Postal Service board of governors, says there would be no immediate rash of closings and that further studies would be needed. The Postal Services maintains post offices in an estimated 30,000 communities. The study also says surveys show that rural residents who oppose post office closings find them "highly satisfactory once they occur

"Among those whose offices have been closed, there is a high degree of satisfaction with the new services they are receiving," the study says.

Despite the conclusion, the report's assertion that closings will not hurt service is certain to be challenged in Congress. Previous Postal Service attempts to cut the number of offices have run into heavy opposition from representatives from rural districts.

One foe of past Postal Service cuts, Rep. Paul Simon, D-III., is promising another battle. "It would be a disaster," Simon said when told of the study's recommendation. "The Postal Service thinks that if it cuts back service and raises rates it will move toward a balanced budget. History shows that it won't work." Advocates of maintaining the Sugarbeets are processed directly into refined sugar while cane is processed into raw sugar and then shipped to refiners. There are an estimated 12,000 sugarbeet farmers in the United States and probably fewer than 8,000 sugarcane producers, according to USDA authorities. Domestic cane includes that produced in Florida, Louisiana, Texas,

Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Some refiners also are producers of sugarcané and range from small to huge operations, according to USDA analysts. This also will add to the complication of handling the subsidy program. Officials have estimated that the federal cost of the subsidy program will be around $125 million for each cent paid to the sugar industry, a maximum of $250 million if the full two cents is paid.

Dobie Gillis Resurrected For New Television Series

LOS ANGELES (AP)-In 1959, CBS dropped "See It Now" and began "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis." In 1977 it axed "Who's Who." Guess who's filling half the "Who's Who" time slot tonight.

Yes, neighbors, it's a comdy pilot called "Whatever Happened to Dobie Gillis?" It features Dobie, his true love Zelda. Maynard G. Krebs and Dobie's long-suffering dad, Herbert.

Great balls of fire, the original cast is back, too-Dwayne Hickman as Dobie, the now silver-haired Bob Denver as Maynard, Sheila James as Zelda and Frank Faylen as the senior Gillis

It even starts in the same old park, with Dobie seated and pondering life's travails next to the statue of "The Thinker."

As with the 1959-63 series, tonight's revival is about a matter of great social, economical, philosophical and demographic importance. I have reference to Dobie's 40th birthday.

Forty years, Godfrey Daniel. What time has done. For one thing, he starts the show in a business suit, not a pair of Chinos with the buckly in the

For another, he and Zelda are married, parents of a teenager, Georgia Steve Paul who, as you'll see, now works with his father in the grocery store owned by grandfather Gillis.

Enter wacky Maynard, wearing an african mask, saying Bumba Bayou."

"Sorry, we don't stock it," Dobie says. Suddenly, after 15 years it's reunion time. After a brisk jest exchange they repair to Dobie's home to catch up on past history.

Maynard has been around various spots in the world, talks of visiting India and finding

"the sacred elephant burial ground." Zelda asks how he knew it was the sacred elephant

burial ground. "With a hole that big, you know it wasn't a chipmunk," she is told.

Maynard comes bearing gifts. For Dobie, there's a sheet with rows of small holes in it: "A fitted sheet for a bed of nails." For Zelda there is a glittering Bolivian mining press "for formal mining."

And so on. There is to be a surprise 40th birthday party for Dobie, but Dobie, brooding and not realizing what's afoot, disappears.

He goes to the park, swings at the "Thinker" statue with a wood plank. He lands in jail, demands a press conference. Enter his family and Maynard. They commence a string of half-liners, which are one-liners that haven't been fed.

Near the finale, listen for Zelda's anguished cry: "Maynard:" Dobie: This is no way to grow old." It is a fine summation.

The James Komack Co.. maker of "Chico and the man," made this one. Nobody knows yet, CBS says, if this midaged "Dobie" will be a midseason replacement next year.

If it is, critics will claim the era of mindless television is again upon us. Not me. I'll be too busy watching another new series, "whatever happened to Adventures in Paradise?"

Have your blood pressure checked regularly. It's a great life insurance policy, says Carla Shearer, health education specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Ann Landers Men Not Animals

DEAR ANN LANDERS: 1 have just finished reading the letter from "Just Another Animal" who lamented, "So many decent men get shut off sexually by their wives in the prime of life, it's a shame!" I would like to say a word to wives who go blissfully about their business, thinking their husbands are also doing without sex just because THEY find it a ore. "Wake up, girls. You're out of touch with reality. And to those of you who are married to men past 60--there's an old saying, "Just because there's snow on the roof doesn't mean there's no fire in the furnace." A wife who sends her husband to work day after day in a state of sexual starvation is a damned fool-- if she cars anything about her marriage.

Lindsay's $1,000 factory rebate offer has received such a response that it's been extended to May 15, 1977. Order a Zimmatic quarter-section center pivot by May 15—and Lindsay will give you a $1,000 factory rebate. The offer is good only through participating Lindsay dealers and the number of Zimmatics that can be ordered by May 15 will be limited, so order now. If your land is rough and rolling, order a Zimmatic 410, the hillclimber. The less expensive Zimmatic 307 will meet your needs if your land is level was the first successful long-span Whichever Zimmatic you choose, remember that the only thing being cut is your cost. You still get all of Zimmatic's idea-leading features. Like the Uni-Knuckle* and flex feature to ease stress on the line. Patented heavy-duty gearboxes, electric control panel with pivot and tower read-out meters and an external collector ring for dependable operation. Hot-dip galvanizing that adds years to the life of the system.

Under this program you can order a Zimmatic already adapted for the new Zimmatic Corner Pivot' ... to be installed now or ordered and installed at a later date. The Zimmatic Corner Pivot allows you to irrigate 150 acres on a quarter-section and is available for immediate shipment in limited quantities.

This is a limited offer so act now and have a Zimmatic for this year. Save $1,000 . . . and maybe your crop. Come in and see us for . . further details on Lindsay's factory rebate program.

Gabriel, a music group from Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Okla., will be appearing Friday, May 13th at 7:30 p.m. at the First Assembly of God, 606 E. 15th Street in the first of three days of First Assembly's Annual Youth Celebration.

Gabriel, under the direction of ORU senior Lynwood Wells, is composed of five men and two women, all students of ORU, with majors varying from Music Education to Telecommunications. According to Greg Wojahn one of the group members, "Gabriel is a ministry. My greatest desire in singing with the group is to see people come to know Christ."

Gabriel is one of 9 groups touring the United States, students would like to become singing in various denominations. The group's program will include a variety of singing, sharing, and drama skits which will appeal to all ages.

The group is part of the Summer Music Ministries program at ORU, under the direction of Jerry Florence. The program began two years ago with a group which toured throughout the southeast part of the country. This first group was so widely accepted that in the following year ORU sent our four groups to about 20 states. This summer's music teams involve 80 students, and a recent campus survey indicated that more than 600 ORU involved in the program.

just because we're in Portland," said Ramsay. "We're just looking to win that third game."

Ramsay ran the Blazers through a practice session Monday to work on some problems he spotted in the Sunday contest.

"It was a good practice," he said. "we just used it to loosen up between games and work on ways of defending Kareem Abdul- Jabbar."

Ramsay called Sunday's victory "a great win" and the reception the Blazers received at the airport magnificent. But he said he felt the team played much worse Sunday that it had in Portland's 121-109 rout Friday night.

'They worked hard to shut us off. We just have to work harder to get open," he said. "We weren't making our cuts to the basket and we were taking too many perimeter shots."

Portland will be without the services of starting guard Dave Twardszik, who missed the first two games of the series because of an ankle injury. Twardzik will miss Game Three because of the death of his mother-in-law, but Ramsay said he expected him to play Friday night in the nationally televised fourth game of the series.

West said he has been down two games before in a best-of-seven series and come shift 1976 shortstop Toby back.

"We lost both games at home to Golden State one year, then won four in a row," he said, adding, "There was a little more talent on that team."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)- Amid talk of sweeping the National Basketball Association semifinal series, All-Star forward George McGinnis of the Philadelphia 76ers is sounding a note of caution. 'They're an explosive club and they're able to score a bunch of points. Sure, they're capable of beating us if we don't play well and they get hot." McGinnis said of the Houston Rockets, the team the 76ers thrashed in two straight games

"They could beat the hell out of us. But I doubt if they could ever beat us consistently," added McGinnis, whose 21 points and eight rebounds led Philadelphia to a 106-97 victory Sunday.

The best-of-seven series for the Eastern Conference title and a berth in the NBA finals switches to Houston on Wednesday. Philadelphi's biggest problem in taking a 2-0 lead is keeping the pressure on.

For example, the talent-laden 76ers rolled to a 12-point halftime lead before the Rockets clawed back to tie in a dazzling third-period burst. Then the 76ers went to work again to run up a bigger lead.

"There's a confidence factor there," said the 6-foot-8, 230-pound McGinnis. "Maybe at times we do get a little lack-adaisical. But the important thing is the bottom line." At this point, the bottom line favors Philadelphia.

"I don't think they have to play a flawless game to win, but we would have to have a bad game," said guard Henry Bibby. Bibby, who guarded Jo Jo

Wednesday night against Eddie Dibbs of the United States.

On Thursday night, Poland's Wojtek Fibak and America's Vitas Gerulaitis will play followed by a match between Dick Stockton of the Uniceo States and South Africa's Cliff Drysdale.

Here's a look at the 'exceptional eight" as the WCT likes to call them in the scrap for berths in Sunday's nationally televised finals:

CONNORS- Perhaps the most feared competitor in the game. The 24-year-old left-hander, who hails from East St. Louis. III., prefers the serve-and-volley style of play but will have to play a waiting game on the slow Supreme Court surface. "I can stay back and hit 20 balls a point just like anybody else," he says. Picked by the tournament players to win.

PANATTA-A strong backcourt player with the arsenal to give Connors fits on a slow surface. Noted for playing a top-spin game which kicks the ball shoulder high. He is 26 and lives in Rome.

NASTASE - Called by many the game's most talented player. Amazing quickness and uses volcanic temper eruptions on the court to break an opponent's concentration. He is 30 and hails from Bucharest.

DIBBS - Ranked No. 2 in the U.S. behind Connors. Has a bristling two-fisted backhand

Actually won more matches than any other finalist. He is a tireless retriever on a slow court. He is 26 and from Miami

GERULATIS - At 22 the youngest of the finalists. The Kings Point, Long Island, N.Y. resident was runnerup in four WCT events. Although he didn't win a tournament because of inconsistency, he is a noted fast starter not having lost a first round match all year. FIBAK- A rising young (24) star who qualified with a strong second half of the WCT tour. Sound overall game particularly on a slow surface. Was runnerup in the U.S. clay courts championships. Beat Nastase in Stockholm last year for his first WCT title.

DRYSDALE - The senior citizen of the tournament at 35. Returning to Dallas for the first time since 1972. Has nagging injury problems and stamina is a question mark. Tremendous serve and volley. Lives in Lakeway, Tex.

STOCKTON - Ranked seventh in the U.S. but should move up in the rankings. Has rocket serve but is undergoing acupuncture treatments for chronic back problems. Had an impressive 15-4 won-loss record on WCT tour. Won the WCT-World Doubles with Vijay Amritraj. He is 26 and lives in nearby Carrollton, Tex.

Police Seeking Man In Cooney Murder

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Police Volkswagen van. have asked for help in locating the 25-year-old man wanted for questioning in the "torso slaying" of car salesman Jack B. Cooney III last December.

An artist's drawing of William Craig Riley, a longhaired man who wears thick glasses, was released Monday.

Dist. Atty. Ronnie Earle told reporters Riley usually carries a pistol in each of his plain-toed Wellington-style" boots.

Riley sometimes wears beard or mustache, and the last known picture of him, taken before Easter, shows a short beard. He frequently wears a red bandanna as a scarf or a headband to keep his dark hair out of his eyes. Earle said.

Riley stands about 5-foot. 10-inches and weighs 140 to 160 pounds, he said. Riley has been charged in the slaying of Fred James Cunningham Jr., a Sul Ross State. University student whose body was found 12 miles west of Del Rio on March 27. Cooney's body, minus head, hands and legs, was found Dec. 2 on a sandbar in the Brazos River near Hearne.

Cooney left the car dealership where he worked on Nov. 30 with another man in a 1977

California police recovered the van outside of Indio, where it had been abandoned after a high-speed chase. It had been repainted several times. Riley is charged with two armed robberies in Indio.

Riley is also wanted for questioning in several other crimes committed between Texas, California and the Pacific Northwest, Earle said. "None of the victims had any reason to believe they w jeopardy," Earle said.

He claims to be a paramedic with license to practice in Arizona, Utah and California. He has been an ambulance driver, a funeral home attend-. ant, a nurses aide, a fruitpicker and he may have worked on a shrimp boat.

'He considers himself a naturalist and takes price in his wilderness survival skills,

Riley usually carries a sleeping bag with him and travels by hitchhiking and sometimes in new cars loaded aboard freight trains. He is right-handed, has at least one of his ears pierced, plays the harmonica and may speak some Spanish, he said.

Cullen Davis Unphased T-216-2c By Trial's Rescheduling

Worth millionaire Cullen Davis says the probability of his capital murder trial being moved to Amarillo is all right with him.

"I don't care where I go," Davis said Monday after State Dist. Court Judge Tom Cave indicated the trial will be scheduled June 6 in State Dist. Judge George Dowlen's court.

Cave withheld a final ruling on the venue change until he has reviewed exhibits submitted at a hearing Monday. "It is quite likely the court is going to grant the motion for change of venue," Cave said. He said trials on Dowlen's docket would have to be rearranged before he could take the favorable population makeup and location, has been exposed to little publicity about the case and has "open-mindedness and good people."

He said other cities were disqualified for geographic or population reasons. He said Austin had been highly regarded, but it was determ that a backlog in criminal cases there made courtrooms unavailable for the Davis trial. Dowlen, Cave said, "can try this case better in Amarillo that I can in Amarillo." Cave also postponed Monday a contempt hearing scheduled Tuesday for defense attorneys Richard Haynes and Phil

Witnesses Say Laetrile Offers False Hope For Cancer Patients

AP Science Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)- Is Laetrile a viaid cancer treatment being suppressed by a conspi-racy of the medical establish-

Or is it simply a product of those who traffic in false hope? The evidence put forth by sicentists testifying for the U.S. Focd and Drug Administration at two days of an intense and emotional public hearing in Kansas City, Mo., last week, was heavily on the side of those who say that Lactriel represents false hope.

"Neither the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, the Cansdian Food and Drug Directorate. the National Cancer Institute. the American Cancer Society. nor any reputable organization has found any evidence to substantiate the use of Lactrile in the treatment or prevention of cancer," the FDA said in its formal argument.

Or, as Dr. Daniel S. Martin of the Catholic Medical Center in New York told the hearing, Laetrile is "a swindle, a hoax, a fraud and a ripoff. The only thing it can do is take your

The Lactrile side also contended that recent actions in Florida, Indiana and Alaska involving approval of Laetrile legislation showed that claims for the substance were gaining wider acceptance.

Latrile is the chemical amygdalin, which occurs naturally in the pits of apricots and peaches and in bitter almonds. It is banned from interstate commerce by the FDA. The agency also has banned the import of the substance, but some individuals have been allowed to bring it into the country under court orders, including one which led to the Kansas City hearing.

In recent years, Laetrile proponents have made such of a study conducted at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center by Dr. Kaematsu Suguira which seemed to show that Laetrile reduced the spread of breast tumors in mice. But now scientists have reported that no one has ever been able to reproduce those results. "It is expected that a soon-toapproximately 32 animal studies carried out the fact that Laetrile Laetrile is now being promoted as a treatment for cancer in its early stages."

Laetrile supporters dominated the emotional aspects of the Kansas City hearing, oftenbooing and jeering the scientific testimony.

The focus of most attention was Glen L. Rutherford, 60, of Conway Springs, Kan., whose suit to obtain Laetrile led to the court-ordered public hearing to compile an administrative rulemaking record.

Rutherford drew cheers when he countered the scientific testimony by saying "You people in authority consider all the rest of us a bunch of dummies."

The administrative record that resulted from the hearing will go to the U.S. District Court in Oklahoma City so the court can review the basis for the FDA's contention that Laetrile is a new drug that is not safe

He addressed the House Energy Resources Committee and other interested legislators and responded to a question from Rep. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville.

Nugent said about 30 per cent of the price of western coal imported into Texas consists of severance taxes levied by the producing states.

"Gas is more precious than coal. If we are going to have to sell it at a reduced price to subsidize other parts of the country, the citizens of this state are entitled to some kind of trade-off," Krueger said.

"At some point, a state that has provided so much energy for other states and will be paying such taxes to other states might want to look at a substantial severance tax of their own," Krueger said.

Such a tax presumably would violate Gov. Dolph Briscoe's no-new-taxes policy.

Krueger is a member of the U.S. House subcommittee that will get the first crack at President Carter's energy plan, which would continue regulation of natural gas prices and set a $1.75 per 1,000 cubic feet (mcf) ceiling on Texas intrastate gas. The current price for newlyproduced gas is about $2.

"What is the worst thing that could happen?" committee chairman Joe Hanna, D-Breckenridge, asked.

For Congress to give the president authority to allocate gas from the Texas intrastate market to other states in time of shortage.

"If the president has that power, Texas stands to lose tens of thousands, and in a severe winter, hundreds of thousands of jobs," he said.

Judge Orders

From FDA

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)- A ederal judge ordered the U.S. Food and Drug Administration on Monday to retract a directive setting out requirements for persons to import the substance

U.S. District Court Judge Luther Bohanon issued the order during a closed-door hearing on whether the FDA and one of its attorneys should be held in contempt for allegedly adding to the conditions the judge had laid down for cancer victims to mport the substance.

FDA lawyers said afterward Bohanon felt their directive, sent to FDA offices throughout the country, went beyond his April 8 order.

The judge dismissed FDA lawyer Paul Ragan as a defendant. Attorneys for both sides said Bohanon ordered that the hearing be continued at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Bohanon originally granted a Kansas man permission to import Laetrile, promoted as a cancer cure, some two years ago and enjoined the FDA or the Customs Service from interfering with the importation.

Since then, approximately 20 persons have become intervenors in the suit and have been permitted to import the substance, which the FDA bans.

On April 8, the judge issued an order saying any cancer patient could import Laetrile if they could meet one of the following requirements:

That future orthodox treatment could be expected to benefit him; that Laetrile would be administered in conjunction with established and recognized forms of cancer therapy, or that the patient, after being made aware of the effects of Laetrile and the fact that many cancer authorities consider it worthless, decides to take it anyway.

Attorneys for the FDA said Bohanon felt they went too far in their directive.

Congressman Show 'Horse-sense-us'

WASHINGTON (AP) - A bill that would spend more than $3 million in tax money for a national horse census now has the endorsement of 15 congressmen and probably will be the subject of public hearings this

Rep. John Breckinridge, members have joined him in sponsoring his horse-counting bill. Among the endorsers is the chairman of the subcommittee that has jurisdiction over the question, Rep. E. de la Garza, D-Tex.

Breckinridge's legislative aide, John Chwat, said in an interview Monday that hundreds of horse owners are writing their congressmen to support the bill. He said public hearings will be held on the measure. probably this summer.

Chwat also said he had been told the Senate might vote on a similar measure when the farm bill comes up for consideration, possibly by the end of this month.

In remarks printed in The Congressional Record, Breckinridge says horse equipment makers, horse owners and racing track interests "cry out for accurate horse data.

"The time has come to move forward and pass the horse census bill of 1977," he said.

Breckinridge originally proposed spending $3 million next year and $600,000 each year thereafter on the proposed census, and Chwat said the Agriculture Department has estimated that the cost could go as high as $10 million.

Breckinridge now has modified the bill to spread out the costs, spending $1.25 million during each of the next three years. His bill would authorize this amount. Congress also would have to pass a spearate appropriation bill before any money could be spent.

Breckinridge said the Interior Department already has spent $3.6 million "researching wild horses and burros" and will spend another $2 million this year. However, Robert Springer of the department's division of range said this is not so.

Springer said his department has spent not more than $100,000 on research about wild horses and burros. He said the department is budgeted to spend $1.85 million this year on research, management and roundup of "excess" wild animals from government-owned lands, all under the Wild Horse and Burro Act passed by Congress in 1971. Chwat said some people consider the horse census bill a gag, but to horse owners "it's a very important bill, and they represent millions of people." He said a census is too large a task for the horse industry to undertake on its own.

Woman Flees, Shoots Self

AMARILLO (AP)- A woman fleeing the scene of an armed robbery shot herself fatally as police curbed her vehicle, authorities said Monday.

Police identified the woman as Sue Hopkins Meyer, 31, of Flagstaff, Ariz.

Investigators said they recovered a large amount of cash from the woman's purse and said apparently was taken at gunpoint minutes earlier at a north side convenience store.

Responding to an all-points bulletin police gave chase to the woman's vehicle and succeeded in stopping it after a dash down an interstate highway.

The woman suddenly slumped over in the front seat as her four-wheel drive vehicle slowed to a crawl, investigators said. She died at the scene of a bullet wound in the head.

Police said pursuing officers had pulled their weapons but there was no exchange of gunfire.

A woman earlier entered the food store, brandished a pistol and demanded a clerk to 'Give me the bills."

Authorities said they identified the woman through an Arizona driver's license and had notified her husband of the shooting. Flagstaff officers were unable to provide back- ground information on the woman.
