City, Chamber, Hospital, School Boards All Schedule Meetings

By DON RICHARDS

Major action appears on tap this week for your local governmental agencies when trustees meet in three regular sessions and one called meeting.

The Hereford City Commission meets Monday night with a heavy agenda as the School Board and Hospital Board meet early Tuesday morning. The Chamber board will have its regular session Thursday morning.

CITY COMMISSIONERS are expected to discuss two major money items during their regular session at 7:30 p.m. Monday in City Hall.

Mayor Jim Sears told Pioneer Natural Gas officials they could expect a definite "yes" or "no" Monday night to their request for a monthly cost of gas adjustment. Pioneer presently has a yearly cost of gas adjustment in which it can pass on to the consumer increases in gas at the wellhead that it (Pioneer) experiences. Pioneer is requesting from the city that they be allowed to adjust that cost monthly instead of annually.

Original action on the request was taken in October when the commission turned down the Pioneer request. However, Pioneer, through the representation of Dale Young, local manager, appeared before the commission two weeks ago in a second appeal.

In other major action at the meeting, the commission will hold a public hearing on the city budget for the next fiscal year; take bids for a new police car; adopt election procedures for the April 6 city commission election; discuss extraterritorial jurisdiction of the city; and discuss and possibly take action on contracts with neighboring counties concerning fires which the local fire department help extinguish.

HEREFORD School Trustees will be meeting in a called session at the School Administration building at 6 a.m. Tuesday to receive bids for insurance coverage of buildings within the school system.

Trustees discussed the insurance at their regular meeting this past Tuesday night with Bud Eades of Plains Insurance Agency, who carried the present policy. However, Ken Rogers of Lone Star Agency appeared before the school board and requested that the Lone Star Agency be allowed to submit an insurance bid on the buildings.

The board then set the special meeting this upcoming Tuesday morning to allow both insurance firms an equal opportunity to bid.

THE DEAF Smith General Hospital Board of Directors will meet in regular session at 8 a.m. Tuesday in the conference room of the hospital to discuss an apparent routine agenda. General reports concerning the financial outlook for the past month, report from the Medical Staff and report of Ron Welty, hospital administrator, re expected.

THE DEAF Smith County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors are scheduled to meet at 6:30 a.m. Thursday in the Chamber Board room and will receive a report from the Special Action Council headed by Jim Conkright. The report is expected to be an indicator report of the initial organization and work of the council, which was created to study the needs of the community.

CC Executive Vice President Bill Albright is expected to present a final report on the Chamber banquet held last month.

Albright also said the board is scheduled to discuss the possible promotion for Hereford of an article in Texas Parade magazine. Other regular committee reports following initial meetings under the new CC board are also expected to be presented.

Even four Dan VanderZees might not have been enough at Snyder Friday night as the Herd lost a 74-70 double-overtime game to the Tigers in an important 4-AAAA contest. The game was marred by several controversial decisions, and Hereford "blew" a 13-point lead in the last period. The unique action photo was composed by using three enlargements of one shot.

Herd 'Clipped' By Snyder in Overtime

Hereford's chances of sharing the second-half title in District 4-AAAA basketball were erased Friday night in a controversial, double-overtime loss at Snyder, 74-70.

A discrepancy in the scorebook, favoring Snyder by one point, and a deferred decision on whether the time ran out before a foul was called on Hereford at the end of regulation play added to the frantic climax of the important district contest.

Herd coach Barry Arnwine, although disturbed by the two controversies, declined to blame officiating for the bitter defeat. "We had a 13-point lead going into the final quarter and lost our composure... we should have won anyway," he said after the game.

Even with the question of the one-point difference in scorebooks, Hereford held a 61-60 lead and had the ball with only seconds left. A turnover gave the ball to Snyder with 4 seconds left on the clock, and Chester Cobb drove the length of the court. Lynn Tarr was called for fouling Cobb on an attempted layup, but the buzzer was not working and officials didn't know if time ran out before the play.

The official timekeeper, Arnwine noted, at first said he thought time had already expired. However, when asked for a definite decision by officials, the clock-keeper declined to make the judgment. Officials said the game couldn't end without a decision, so the free shots were allowed. Cobb missed the first one, but made the second to tie the game at 61-61.

Each team scored four points in the first overtime, and the game remained tied at 65-65. Snyder outscored Hereford by 9-5 in the second overtime, however, to capture the 74-70 victory.

★ Playoff Due ★

Hereford's loss at Snyder Friday night assured a playoff for the District 4-AAAA title next week.

Hereford and Plainview, the first-round winners, will meet in the first playoff game with the winner taking on the winner of next Tuesday's Monterey-Snyder battle.

Either Monterey or Snyder, each with 4-0 marks in the second round, will claim outright possession of this half of action. Coach Barry Arnwine said Hereford and Plainview will meet with the winner next Wednesday to set up the playoff schedule.

The playoff has to be held at the same site, according to Arnwine, and the games will probably be played next Friday and Saturday. Arnwine thinks the site will probably be Levelland, Canyon or Amarillo.

Hereford is 2-2 in this round of play after tying Plainview at 4-1 in the first round. The Herd has a season record of 21-10. The Whitefaces end the regular season at home Tuesday, taking on the tough Coronado Mustangs—the pre-season favorites to win the crown. The soph game starts at 4, followed by the JV game at 5:45 and the varsity clash at 7:30.

James Harris led the Herd with 21 points, tallying 8 in the first period as Hereford jumped to a 19-11 lead. Dennis Nogler was close behind with 20 points, while Dan VanderZee and Mike Albiar were also in double figures with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Chester Cobb led Snyder, also with 21 points, but a couple of scorebooks had him with only 20. Carter hit 17 for Snyder, and 12 points came in the last quarter and the overtime periods.

Hereford held a 57-51 lead in the closing minutes, when Snyder put on a tight full-court press and quickly scored three baskets. However, the scoreboard then showed the Tigers leading by 58-57, rather than tied at 57 points.

Time was called to check the scorebooks, but the official book had one more free throw for Snyder than did the Hereford bench, the Hereford radio station book, and the Snyder radio book. The Herd battled back for the 61-60 lead before the crucial turnover gave Snyder the opportunity to go into overtime.

Hereford led by about eight points much of the way through the game. The halftime score was 35-27 in favor of Hereford, and the Whitefaces upped the advantage to 13 points, 49-36, going into the final 8 minutes.

Harris turned an ankle in the closing minutes, then Albiar was shook up in a collision. Harris went back into the game at that point, with Hereford nursing the 57-51 lead. Tarr and VanderZee both fouled out of the game, to further hurt the Herd's cause in the closing minutes. The Tigers turned the game around by scoring 25 (or 24) points in the final quarter.

Habits come in three classifications: Good, bad and those you are just now trying out.

Big topic of conversation around town this week was the report that some Hereford and Panhandle feedyards and or feeders stand to lose millions of dollars through deals with an out-of-state cattle buyer. Several reliable sources have confirmed the basic fact, but there is much speculation and rumor floating around, too.

No formal statements had been issued on the matter, and no charges had been filed as of this writing Saturday morning. Local people involved were reluctant to be quoted about the deal, but losses here could amount to more than $2 million.

There has been discussion for sometime on the need for a YM or YWCA center in Hereford, as well as the need better convention facilities. A special Action Council for Civic Facilities has been formed by the Chamber of Commerce, and we think they're headed in the right direction.

The council is currently working on a survey aimed at finding the overall community attitude toward such a project. If most citizens favor such action, the council also wants to know what citizens think is needed in this program, how big to set the goals, and how to finance the project.

Although the council will have a cross-section of views within its membership, they realize their opinions might be colored by the fact they are closest to the

Sugar Beet Clinic Planned Tuesday

A sugar beet clinic, to study problems related to growing and producing sugar beets and the value of sugar beets, is scheduled from 1:30 - 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Hereford Bull Barn.

The program will be designed to answer questions about problems incurred during the past season of production of sugar beets and to give an insight into what is expected in the future in the sugar beet industry.

"This is a sub-area program involving all sugar beet producing counties and we feel it is important to point out the value of the sugar beet industry to all farmers in the area," said Juston McBride, Deaf Smith County Extension agent. "Beets are important today and will be in the future and we certainly think every farmer should give consideration to growing sugar beets," he added. "We ask all sugar beet growers to attend and also get them to invite other farmers to the meeting."

The meeting will be sponsored by the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP), the Extension Service, and the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Assn.

The program will consist of five sessions with a coffee break about halfway through.

Leon New, Extension Service in Lubbock, will start the meeting with a talk about the irrigation of sugar beets. At 1:55 p.m. Dr. Robert Berry, also of the Lubbock Extension Service, will discuss disease of sugar beets.

A coffee break is planned at 3 p.m. with the next session at 3:10 p.m. featuring Dr. E.A. Stewart of Bushland on Fertilizer and Manure for Sugar Beets.

Ed Wieck of Umbarger will conclude the meeting with a session beginning at 3:35 p.m. concerning "A Farmer's View on Sugar Beet Production."

County, District Courts Stay Busy With Case Loads

Deaf Smith County, JP, and 69th District Courts have been busy the past week with misdemeanor and felony criminal filings and court judgments.

According to reports issued by Criminal District Attorney Andy Shuval and Roland Saul, Assistant DA, 19 misdemeanor cases were handled in county court, and 13 cases were handled in District court.

Saul reported the county court, presided over by Judge H.C. Williams, heavy with driving while intoxicated cases with total of 13 of the 19 cases. Bond was set in five of the DWI cases, one was dismissed after the defendant died, and seven entered guilty pleas and received sentences ranging from 15 days in jail, probated terms to 60 days in jail.

Other cases in County court resulted in one man's receiving 180 days in jail after he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of possession of marijuana; one man was still at large on a charge of swindling with a worthless check; a case of aggravated assault was dismissed by the judge after the defendant joined the U.S. Army; and bond was set on three cases of speeding which were appealed from Justice of the Peace Court.

Felony cases filed in Judge Glen Nelson's JP court included an attempted murder charge against David Martinez and Tano Villirreal and a murder charge against Tommy Perez. Nelson also set bond in three other cases in which persons were charged with DWI-subsequent offense. Charged in the cases were Virgil Lee Werther; Forrest L. Bridges and Gordon B. Kerr.

In Judge Archie McDonald's 69th District Court Shuval reported a total of 13 cases handled. A charge of possession of marijuana against John Ramirez was dismissed after the defendant pled guilty to another charge. Joe Luis Alvarez's probation was revoked and he received a three-year prison sentence after he had been charged with burglary. A second charge of DWI against Alvarez was dismissed.

A charge of possession of marijuana was dismissed after it was learned the defendant was a minor at the time of the alleged offense.

McDonald overruled a writ of habeas corpus in one case against Epifanio Morales Flores and then set probation revocation hearings in four cases.

Hearings in the four cases were set for Carlos Rodriguez charged with theft over $50, Abel Garza Jr., charged with theft over $50; David Mumau, on a charge of sale of marijuana; and Gregory Aldred Zepeda, on a charge of DWI-2nd.

Domingo Perez Alvarado was sentenced on a charge of DWI-2nd and gave notice of appeal.

Probation also was revoked in three other cases. Johnny Crespin had his probation revoked and he received four years in prison on a charge of passing a forged instrument. Frank Lee Crespin also received four years in prison after having probation revoked on a charge of passing a forged instrument. In a fourth case, Sid Henderson, on a charge of burglary, had his probation revoked but sentence is yet to be handed down.

Blood Bank Scheduled Friday For Mrs. Bob Ginn Fund

A special blood bank drive is scheduled for 3-5 p.m. Friday at the Community Center to aid in the hospital fund for Mrs. Bob Ginn.

Mrs. Ginn, wife of the agricultural manager at Holly Sugar plant in Hereford, recently underwent extensive surgery. The blood bank Friday is expected to help defer expenses of the operation and hospital costs.

Persons donating one pint of blood will be crediting Mrs. Ginn's hospital account $10 for each pint. The mobile unit of the blood bank will also be in Hereford on regular schedule from 3-6 p.m. Feb. 27 at the Community Center.

Public Hearing Planned On Hereford Bypass Road

The Texas Highway Department has scheduled a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. March 19 in Hereford to discuss a proposed highway route from Amarillo to Las Cruces, N.M., that could result in a highway bypass of the city of Hereford.

The public hearing is "purposed to gain knowledge to be used in a feasibility study report to the U.S. Congress."

The meeting is open to the public and will be held in 69th District Courtroom in Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

The new highway is being proposed by officials in New Mexico and would be designed to generally follow along U.S. 60 from Amarillo to Las Cruces. This meeting will pertain only to that portion of this route in Randall, Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer Counties.

"All interested individuals and groups are requested to be present at this meeting," stated an announcement from the Highway Department. "Come prepared to submit all pertinent data which you may have, both oral and written, that would have any bearing on this feasibility study."

The route has been proposed previously, but has never been approved. Highway Officials have reportedly suggested the highway follow along U.S. 60, bypassing several towns along the way. Tentative plans call for the route to swing to the north around Hereford before joining back near the present U.S. 60 Highway.

A first year member of the FFA is called a "Greenhand."

ambitions, and problems, of such a proposal. They want a true view of the community attitude, if possible. There are a lot of questions to be answered before a course of action is adopted. No one is putting a price tag on the project yet, because the scope of the proposal has not been defined. The survey could bring this into focus.

With the price of gasoline continuing to rise, the government may not have to ration the fuel. The high cost may take care of the rationing dilemma. On the other hand, gasoline may be compared to cigarettes — it doesn't seem to make much difference how much they raise the price on cigarettes because a confirmed smoker will buy them anyway!

If we do get around to rationing, the latest release from the Federal Energy Office does make more distinctions, setting rules for buying gas at service stations and defining commercial users. Autos used for business purposes can qualify for more gasoline than those for private or personal use. Commercial users have to file a statement as to how the vehicle is used and the amount of gasoline sought will have to be justified to the government.

Private vehicle drivers will have it simpler. Each person over 18 years, with a valid drivers' license, will get coupons in the mail and each month the government will say how much gas the coupons will secure. When those coupons are gone, a person can hunt up somebody who didn't use all their coupons and buy these. People in big cities—over 100,000 population—get less gasoline than those in smaller towns. The entire publication sounds rather complicated.

The government still doesn't appear to be making much progress on the energy crisis. It's difficult to see how a rollback of crude oil prices will help. It won't produce any more oil, and the price doesn't make much difference if there is nothing to buy. The beef boycott didn't succeed in pushing down retail prices—it merely dried up the supply of beef. It's a frustrating time!

Energy! Energy! Energy! We all know it's in critical supply.

We've been told about it time and again and yet—What really are we doing about it? Unfortunately, not much. It seems it's just too much to believe that such a shortage could extend to Wonderful West Texas. But sadly enough, it's coming and soon. So, what can we do about it?

Well, first of all, we can wake up to the fact that if we don't start conserving energy we're going to increase the shortage and we'll work greater hardships on ourselves. And secondly, realizing this, we can really begin a program of conservation.

And we can start by saving gasoline. How? Easy! Plan to save! Challenge yourself to save! Cut down on unnecessary trips; combine trips; "POOL IT".

Stick with the 55 miles an hour limit and cut speed around town; don't sit and idle for more than 3 minutes; keep your engine tuned and make sure tire pressure is correct; walk or use the bicycle; and of course, shop in Hereford.

Really, it's up to us, the consumer, whether we will line up at the pumps and be rationed to 7 or 8 gallons per week. Let's get with the program and save!

The Chamber was represented at the annual meeting of Water Inc. in Lubbock Saturday. This important area of concern requires continuing support from every member of the county and here again, we, the 22,000 citizens of Deaf Smith County, can help. We can practice conservation of water! More on this later. And speaking of annual meetings, the West Texas Vegetable Growers Association meeting at the Bull Barn last week was both interesting and enjoyable. A great deal of progress is being made in vegetable production and this industry has a very large impact on our local economy.

The Hustlers were out in force at the recent opening of Park Plaza. Chairman Melvin Jayroe reported that 15 of the 22 Hustlers were on hand. And here's another one to add to the group. Ed Coplen has just achieved that coveted status by enrolling six new business members in the Chamber. Congratulations to Ed.

With the spring like weather we've been enjoying, the time for the Cleanup Campaign approaches. Much planning is underway with meetings of the Beautification Committee and the Environmental Committee.

And from what I've observed, after the plans are complete it's going to be a major effort to coordinate the project. Around here we put it all together with what we call HUSTLE, HUSTLE, HUSTLE.

Hereford Boxers Win Honors Over Weekend In Amarillo

Frank Celaya, fighting in the 125-pound high school division, and Hector Guerrero, 85-pound senior special division, brought Golden Gloves Regional Championship honors back to Hereford last Saturday night.

Eddie DeLeon, although losing in the championship fight for the 139-pound high school class, was awarded the coveted Hamilton trophy for being the most outstanding boxer in the tournament.

Hereford's Boxing Club had five fighters who advanced to the finals in the four night tourney. They were Edwin Smith, 55 pounds; Fabian Ruiz, 70 pounds; Guerrero, Celaya and DeLeon.

The Regional Tournament is the top competition for the boys in the Golden Gloves. The club will compete March 14-15-16 in the West Texas AAU Junior Olympics tournament in Amarillo. Winners in that tournament will go on to the Tri-State Region Nine tournament.

which will be in Hereford in June. From this tourney the winners will advance to the national finals.

This year marks the first time for the Region Nine tournament to be held in West Texas, and certainly is rare for it to be in a small city. The Sports Committee of the Deaf South County Chamber of Commerce made a bid for the tournament two years ago.

Special significance is placed on the honor awarded to brothers, Jimmy and Kenneth Hamilton, who were killed within five days of each other in 1961 during the Korean War. They were both outstanding boxers in the Amarillo program in the 1940's.

In winning the award, DeLeon is gaining recognition as a boxer throughout the district.

Stanton Wins Two Of Three Over La Plata

Stanton Junior High captured the 7th grade zone championship Wednesday when they squeaked out a close one over La Plata 7th grade 20-19.

Stanton will now represent the zone for the district championship at Boys Ranch 3 p.m. Friday when they play Dumas, winner of the other zone championship.

Local Boy Active In Houston Rodeo

Terry Neil Barrier of Hereford will be participating in the calf scramble at the 1974 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo during the matinee performance, Sunday, Feb. 24. Since its inception in 1942, the Calf Scramble has paid youngsters well over $1 million to buy more than 7,000 calves to feed and develop. The purpose of the calf scramble is to encourage and further educate 4-H Club and FFA boys in the raising, feeding and breeding of high quality Texas cattle. Only half of the 388 boys taking part in this year's scramble will come out winners.

As the fourth event of each 1974 rodeo performance, the calf scramble begins with 24 boys lined up within a square in the center of the Astrodome arena. After the signal is given, the boys race after 12 calves which have been turned loose nearby. Each boy's objective is to place his halter on a calf and return it to the square. The 12 boys who manage this feat receive $25 certificates from area businessmen for the purchase of a calf of their choice. Each winner will feed, raise, and care for his animal until next year's show when he will return it for judging in the calf scramble division and junior breeding division.

In addition to the calf scramble, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is packed with excitement, entertainment, and thrills. The show opens Feb. 20 and runs through March 3. Top professional cowboys from throughout the United States and Canada will be competing for the world's richest rodeo purse - over $100,000. Nine entertainers are scheduled to appear at the rodeo: The Jackson 5, Feb. 22; Sonny and Cher, Feb. 23 and 24; Johnny Rodriguez, Feb. 25; Charlie Rich, Feb. 26; Doc Severinsen with Today's Children, Feb. 27; Tony Orlando and Dawn, Feb. 28; Conway Twitty, March 1; Vikki Carr, March 2; and Elvis, March 3.

For tickets or additional information, write the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, P.O. Box 20070, Houston, Texas 77025.

Hunter Mishaps Down Slightly

Theron Carroll of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Hunter Safety Program has the sad task of compiling a hunter casualty report this time every year.

The 1973 report is a little better, however, than last year's: 80 accidents versus 85 for 1972.

Fatalities and the number of people involved in hunting accidents are also down from last season. Some 116 persons were involved in accidents this year with 22 fatalities. In 1972, 130 persons were accident victims with 30 fatalities.

Of this year's figure, 22 of the persons involved were 16 years of age or younger. According to Carroll, 20 of this year's accidents could be blamed on "hunter judgment."

"Most of these mishaps," he said, "might have been prevented if the victims had been wearing hunter orange or some other identifying clothing."

At present, Texas has no laws requiring hunters to wear articles of clothing which make them stand out against the autumn background.

However, heading the list of accidents are those classified as the result of violating laws or rules of hunter safety.

"Here is where the Parks and Wildlife Department comes in," said Carroll.

"Our Volunteer Hunter Safety Program is entering its third year and the instructors have taught some 7,000 Texans of all ages the basics of handling firearms and safe hunting."

The Hunter Safety Program is open to anyone 12 years of age or older.

Contact your local game warden for the name and address of the instructor in your area.

Alcoholism Information Number Announced

A Hereford telephone number has been established for persons who would like more information concerning aid for alcoholics or related problems.

Don Elwell, Director of the Hereford Mental Health Mental Retardation Center (MHMR) has announced that persons wishing further information may call 364-4540.

Elwell also announced that the new Hereford number will be a part of a program initiated by Amarillo Television station KFSD, Channel 10. Durin this week on the Channel 10 news at noon, 6 p.m. and 10 p.m., a special presentation on alcoholism will be shown. Immediately after the presentation the Hereford telephone number, along with several other numbers of area towns, will be flashed on the screen. "This number will be manned between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. every working day, and will especially be manned following these special broadcasts," said Elwell. "This has been a very successful program in the past and we think it will be very beneficial to local residents who have such a problem or are closely related to such a case."

Wage Rates Set For Laborers

Minimum wage requirements for sugarbeet handworkers in all producing areas have been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The determination announced becomes effective on Feb. 18, and increases basic minimum wage rates for specified hand labor operations by 15 cents per hour if performed on a time basis, and by amounts ranging from -$1. to $2.50 per acre if performed on a piecework basis.

The determination continues the requirement that sugarbeet producers make payment of wages to workers upon completion of each land labor operation on the farm, unless they agree in writing to some other arrangement.

Other provisions contained in the prior sugarbeet wage determination which became effective April 9, 1973, are continued essentially unchanged in the new determination.

The minimum time rate established by the new determination is $2.30 per hour. Minimum piecework rates per acre are $16.50 for thinning; $21.50 for hoeing; $25.75 for hoe-trimming; and $14 for weeding, whether employed as an operation following one of the other operations or as a first-hand labor operation on fields that have been machine-thinned and treated with herbicides.

Piecework rates other than those specified in the determination may be agreed upon by the producer and worker, provided the worker's average hourly earnings equal or exceed the $2.30 hourly minimum rate. A minimum hourly wage rate of not less than 85 per cent of the specified rate is provided for workers 14 or 15 years of age. The employment of children between the ages of 14 and 16 years for more than eight hours in any one day subjects the producer to a deduction from his Sugar Act payment.

A principal purpose of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended, is to protect the welfare of those engaged in the domestic sugar-producing industry.

The Act, through a system of conditional payments to growers, assures that all parties engaged in the production and processing of sugar crops share equitably in the proceeds of the industry. Conditional payments act as an incentive to growers to adjust their production to quota and carryover needs.

This payment system also has three other objectives: (1) to provide adequate income to growers; (2) to assure growers and fieldworkers a fair sharing of returns to the industry; and (3) to prevent the employment of child labor in fieldwork.

The sharing of returns between growers and fieldworkers is accomplished by requiring growers, as one of the conditions to qualify for payment under the Act, to pay all workers in full at wages not less than those determined by the Secretary of Agriculture to be fair and reasonable.

Department officials stated that the wage rates established in the determination are fair and reasonable and within producers' ability to pay under prospective price and production conditions for the 1974 sugarbeet crop.

Texas Livestock Boosts Ag Earnings

If Texas moves ahead of California and Iowa to become Number one nationally in agricultural earnings by 1980, it should be the result of increased income from the state's livestock industry more than any other factor.

The climb won't be easy, said Dr. L.S. Pope, associate dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University, but Texas has the enthusiasm, backing and resources to do the job.

Pope gave his outlook Tuesday before an estimated 1,500 persons attending the first annual Texas Animal Agriculture Conference (Jan. 21-24) at Texas A&M.

The conference is a merger of the former annual beef cattle, dairy production, horse, swine and forage and pasture short courses. Principal sponsors are the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Pope said Texas ranked third last year in returns from crops and livestock with $3.9 billion. At the same time, California was tops with a $5.5 billion return, and Iowa second at $4.7 billion.

"Chances are that if Texas does advance to this enviable position, it will be the result of increased earnings from livestock and other products more than any other factor in our agricultural economy," the dean said.

Pope then listed trends he said "we have going for us."

There is rapidly increasing forage potential and production capacity from better varieties, plus more fertilizer use, if available; and improved management. In addition, there are good climate, convenient distribution centers, fast-growing population and more efficient transportation.

Other advantages are larger-sized production units, opportunity to expand and increased slaughtering and processing capacity.

The speaker said necessary capital is usually available for agricultural expansion. This is coupled with labor advantages, favorable state laws for incoming industries, and willingness of leaders—in and out of agriculture—to accept change and recognize growth opportunities.

"Given this mixture of natural and man-made advantages, Texas stockmen can look forward with confidence to 1980 and beyond," Pope said.

Another speaker, Extension Service livestock marketing specialist Ernest E. Davis, urged cattlemen to go easy on expansion plans if they expect prices to remain in their favor. He said producers have responded to recent favorable prices by rapidly increasing their herds. In 1972, the U.S. beef cow herd rose 6 per cent, and Texas boosted its herds by 13 per cent. The outlook is for another 6 per cent rise in U.S. beef cow numbers soon.

More Inflation But Better Stock Prices Ahead

By BOB HILL
Lentz, Newton & Co.
Amarillo

We can get a hint at 1974 developments by taking a look at the preliminary Gross National Product figures for the last quarter of 1973 which were just released. The rate of inflation in the last quarter was 7.7 per cent, the highest in 23 years. From just November to December, consumer prices for fuel oil and coal rose by a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 132 per cent. The price of gasoline and motor oil rose at an annual rate of 50 per cent.

The numbers themselves are not so important. It is the change in trends that we try to spot early in order to get some insight on what will happen to the economy, the stock market and your pocketbook during 1974 and 1975.

We can assume that 1974 fuel costs, on the average, will be double the 1973 prices. The Administration hopes to stabilize food prices late in the year, but you will see food prices rising sharply through most of 1974.

The unpleasant fact is that we will see a rate of inflation of 8 per cent to 9 per cent in 1974 and in some months it will probably exceed 10 per cent. Inflation will also continue to plague us in 1975 and 1976. In fact, inflation is almost chronic in our economy.

It's important to point out which areas of our economy are showing real growth and which are not. Residential construction, consumer durables (automobiles account for 50 per cent of consumer durable spending), aircraft and international trade are showing declines. The key point to remember here is that most of the areas of softness, though vital to real economic growth, involve only a small amount of industrial production. For instance, residential construction involves very little industrial production in our economy. As we stated earlier, about half of our consumer durable spending is for automobiles. Yet automobile production in the aggregate accounts for only 3 per cent of the total industrial production in the U.S. Industrial production will hold up well in 1974, assuming the Administration is successful in restricting fuel demands by consumers while maintaining an adequate flow to industry. These industries will show increased sales in 1974: Railroad equipment, machinery, steel and aluminum, chemicals, rubber products, paper, foods and beverages, tobacco, textiles, apparel, leather products and mining.

To sum it all up, the slowdown in our economy will be moderate in 1974 with the second half beginning to show increases in corporate earnings. The stock market will move above the 900 level for two reasons. Stocks are the only way to purchase a stream of earning power at knockdown prices and they do not have an inflation premium built into their prices. Remember, you have to make 10 per cent on your money just to offset the loss in purchasing power caused by inflation. If earnings increases come through as they appear likely, these bargain prices on many stocks aren't going to be around six months from now.

WT Sets Teacher Tests

The National Teacher Examinations will be administered on April 6, at West Texas State University, which has been designated as a test center.

According to Dr. Kenneth Waugh, Director of Testing and Counseling Center, many college seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for certification, licensure, or those seeking positions in school systems which encourage or require the NTE will be taking the tests.

In addition, the designation of West Texas State University as a test center for those examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests, Dr. Kenneth Waugh said.

Last year approximately 100,000 candidates took the examinations which are designed to assess cognitive knowledge and understanding in professional education, general education and subject-field specialization. The examinations, which are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, are limited to assessment of those aspects of teacher education that are validly and reliably measured by well constructed paper-and-pencil tests.

Bulletins of Information describing registration procedures and containing Registration Forms as well as sample test questions may be obtained from the Testing and Counseling Center or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, N.J. 08540.

Kiwanis Club Hears ICT And VOE Reports

A program on vocational education and discussion of the club's current civic activities highlighted the Whiteface Kiwanis Club's regular meeting Friday morning. Mrs. Larry Wartes, Vocational Office Education (VOE) instructor and Ray Barber, Industrial Cooperative Training (ICT) teacher both talked about their respective programs and vocational training in general.

"We have one of the better vocational education programs in the state of Texas," Barber said. The Hereford Independent School System maintains 10 different vocational education programs.

Mrs. Wartes, VOE teacher, explained all programs were designed so that students could attend class for 1/2 day and work at some area business for 1/2 day.

ICT teacher Barber said that vocational training tried to form good work habits in students while they were forming those habits. Barber went on to praise the Hereford School System and area business men for their support of vocational education.

Whiteface Kiwanis members currently are seeking items for the Mental Health Mental Retardation Center. Needed articles include a canister set, paper towel holders, a drain board, a drain tray, a large wall clock, soap dishes, silverware trays, hand tools, blankets, sheets, pillows; old couch cushions, phonograph, and other soft goods. People wanting to donate the needed items should contact the Mental Health Mental Retardation Center.

Gene Brock, Whiteface Kiwanis Key Club sponsor, announced that the Key Club will hold a work day Saturday at King's Manor. An inter-club representative the Noon Kiwanis Club at the meeting.

Do you find making rolls from scratch just too time consuming when planning dinner for a few guests? This recipe takes only a few minutes and your guests will rave over the biscuit-roll flavor.

Angel Biscuits

- 1 pkg. yeast
- 2 T lukewarm water
- 1 t salt
- 2 1/2 t baking powder
- 1/4 t soda
- 1/2 c shortening
- 2 T sugar
- 3/4 c buttermilk
- 2 c flour

Dissolve yeast in water for 5 minutes. Stir flour, salt, soda, baking powder and sugar together; add shortening. Combine yeast and buttermilk. Add to flour mixture slowly, stirring with a fork. Turn on floured board and knead. Roll out 1/2 inch thick and cut. Bake at 450 degrees for 10-12 minutes. Omit soda if sweet milk is used but add 1/4 teaspoon more baking powder. Makes 16 biscuits; double recipe for larger dinners.

Deanne Allen Is Bride Of Richard C. Schlabs

White gladiolas and carnations were arranged on either side of the main altar in St. Anthony's Catholic Church Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Miss Deanne Cheryl Allen and Richard Charles Schlabs. The Rev. Bernard McGorry of the church officiated for the ceremony.

Pews were decorated with white satin bows down the center aisle.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Allen of 420 Star and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schlabs of Route 2.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore organza over satin, the skirt flaring gently to carpet length, the high-rise bodice featuring a sheer yoke outlined in ruching and finished with a wedding ring neckline of lace to match lace cuffs on the full sleeves.

Lace scallops bordered her veil, which extended past the chapel train formed by widened skirt back. A tiera of lace held the veil to her hair.

She carried a bridal Bible topped with white orchid corsage in her shoe belonged to her late grandfather, Clarence Allen of Golden, Mo., and she carried her grandmother's lace handkerchief.

Miss Lilli Lyons served as maid of honor and wore a blue floor-length dress of satin crepe designed with high waist, fitted sleeves and stand-up collar. Covered buttons down the front trimmed the bodice.

Bridesmaids included Misses Becky London, Suzanne Smith and the bridegroom's sisters, Misses Susan and Janette Schlabs and Mrs. John Williams.

Dresses of the latter three matched Miss Lyon's, while the other bridesmaids and the flower girl were in identical style but rose color. Each carried a white basket with pink and blue carnations and babybreath, flowers that made their headpieces.

John Beckman was best man and groomsmen were Steve Hysinger, the bride's brother, Dean Allen Jr., Gary Coleman, Tony Ohlig and John Williams.

Ushers were George Diller, the bridegroom's cousin Ray Schlabs, and Jerry Campbell, Adolph Knabe Jr. and Kevin Urbanczyk were mass servers.

Holly McNeese, the flower girl, carried a white lace basket filled with lily of the valley, rose and pink petals. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McNeese.

Rodney Straffuss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Straffuss, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Joe Reinauer sang Wedding Prayer, Ave Maria and Twelfth of Never accompanied by Mrs. Allen Evers at the organ. As the bride placed a white rose at the Virgin's image, the soloist sang Mother At Your Feet We're Kneeling.

Miss Sharon Straffuss invited guests to register at the reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall. The table was covered with a blue carnation in a bud vase.

Receiving guests with the newlywed couple, the bride's mother was wearing a pleated aqua dress with matching jacket and accessories, and the bridegroom's mother a jacket costume of pink. Corsages were white orchids.

Misses Donna Sargent and Cheryl Smith served the wedding cake as Misses Deanne Miller and Karen Walden laid punch. The three-tiered cake was based on five hearts with pink roses and forget-me-nots ornamenting the layers. Under an arch of roses topped with a gold cross, bride and groom figurines were placed on the top layer.

The groom's cake, served with coffee, was surrounded with miniature tractor and colorful vegetables to symbolize his occupation as a farmer.

Dinner was served after the reception, and a dance held in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Schlabs left for a 10-day honeymoon in Colorado, the bride wearing for travel a red and white dotted swiss dress with pleated skirt and matching jacket. They will be at home south of Hereford.

Mrs. Schlabs is a senior student in Hereford High School, and Schlabs is a 1973 HHS graduate.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Martin Becker, Shirley and Gilbert Hess of Muenster; Mrs. Clema Allen of Golden, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Fellings, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Black and Cecilia Black of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Logan of Amarillo, Mrs. Louis Beckman of Texitone.

Initiation Planned

An initiation ceremony is planned for the Rebekah Lodge meeting Tuesday evening, following the recent initiation of Edna Johnson.

Members served supper to the IOOF Lodge Monday evening and had a brief session Tuesday, when it sponsored a "grand Ole Opry" performance. Mrs. Loving was hostess for the social period.

LUNCH GUESTS—Mrs. Henry F. Neely, hostess at her home Thursday for a Valentine lunch of Red Cross Volunteers, stands between two special guests, Becky Kropff, left, and an inactive member of the group, Mrs. H.C. Williams. Mrs. Kropff was the guest of her mother; Mrs. Clinton Jackson's The covered dish lunch was served at tables decorated for the holiday.

Trip To Mexico Follows Sorrells-Bullock Vows

Mexico City is the destination of Mr. and Mrs. David Bullock for a honeymoon following their marriage in First United Methodist Church Saturday evening. The bride is the former Miss Linda Sorrells.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Sorrells, Harrison Highway. Bullock's parents are Mrs. Deima Bullock of Idalou and Leo Bullock of Abilene.

After the trip the couple will be at home at 3710-B Amarillo.

An arch twined with fresh foliage held white candles at the altar, with a fan bouquet of white, pink and red paired spiral candelabra on either side.

Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of the church, read the marriage service. Escorted by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Debbie Sorrells, as maid of honor, Mrs. Jerry Meeks of Lamesa, a cousin, and Mrs. Joe Neil Bullock of Lazbuddie as bridesmaids.

Richard Ballenger of Amarillo served as best man, with the bridegroom's uncle, Joe Neil Bullock, and a cousin, Ronnie Bullock of Lazbuddie, as groomsmen.

The bride's brother, David Sorrells, and Gary Sikes of Lubbock were ushers, who lighted altar tapers before the processional which was played by Mrs. Tony Calkins, organist. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Boyd as they sang duet arrangements of Twelfth of Never, Whither Thou Goest and Wedding Prayer.

Small members of the wedding party were Lisa Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Page, the flower girl, and Todd Northcutt, son of the Jerry Northcutts, who carried the rings.

The bride's gown of starwhite organza over taffeta was styled on slim lines with wide bands of pearl-studded lace around the bateau neckline, the empire waistline, hemline and lower half of the skirt.

More of the lace was pointed at wristline of the fitted sleeves, and in a design on the circular train which was attached at the back waist. Lace petals outlined with pearls held her bouffant veil above her forehead.

Touches of pink and deep red appeared with white roses in her cascade bouquet. She wore a necklace set with the diamond from her mother's engagement ring, which was given to her when she graduated from high school.

Of petal pink chiffon crepe over taffeta, the bridal attendants' dresses had floorlength skirts, slightly gathered, and bishop sleeves, with sleeveless bolero bodices of velvet in rouge shade. White lace edged the bolero and high round neckline and formed a panel up the front where tiny velvet buttons were sewed.

Headpieces were pink Dior bows with short veils, and bouquets were nosegays of pink and red blossoms. The flower girl's frock, in similar style, was of the velvet and she carried a frilly white umbrella with pink flowers.

Mrs. Sorrells wore for her daughter's wedding a floor-length A-line dress in rose pink with chiffon sleeves and a circular band around the high neckline over an open V. Her corsage and those of reception houseparty members were of white flowers.

The reception was in the church fellowship hall. Serving in turn at the refreshment tables were Mmes. Rodger Ruland, Gerald Nunley, Steve Loveall, Dean Watson and Gary Sikes of Lubbock, Misses Charlene and Mary Ruth Weaver.

Mrs. Marvin Smith registered guests. Others assisting were Mmes. S.N. Thweatt, Wheeler Davis, Jack Nunley, John Schneider, Harold Bass, Wayne Bass, Murry Leith and Mrs. Leo Webb of Amarillo.

Center of interest on the bride's table was the tiered cake, with pink decoration on the white icing, cherub figurines and on top, the bride-and-groom piece from the golden anniversary cake of the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I.D. Fisher, which is traditionally used on wedding cakes in her family.

The groom's table was centered with a ceramic antique auto backing the chocolate cake with its inscription, "Get me to the church on time." Frosted grapes surrounded the centerpiece.

Mrs. Bullock chose for travel a pink ensemble with a corsage from her bouquet.

She has been employed in a Lubbock beauty shop after receiving her license as a cosmetologist on graduation from Hereford High School. The bridegroom, employed with Texas-New Mexico-Oklahoma Bus Lines, is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a degree in business administration and completed high school studies in Idalou.

A number of guests from other cities attended the wedding, including his grandmothers, Mrs. Edna Blanton of Idalou and Mrs. Ethel Bullock of Comanche, and a longtime friend of the bride's family, Mrs. T.L. Collins of Canyon.

Mrs. Atchley Voted To Represent Club

Mrs. Thurman Atchley and Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill presented the program entitled New Earth to members of Summerfield Study Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lookingbill.

During the business meeting, the 1974-75 yearbook committee was named. Heading the committee is Mrs. Guy Walser and assisting her are Mrs. J.B. Noland and Mrs. Mack Noland.

Members voted to send Mrs. Atchley as a delegate to the Top of Texas Federated Clubs' district convention to be held in Borger.

Co-hostess was Mrs. Earl Lance. Members present included Mmes. Clayton Sanders, R.B. Baker, Lee Curry, George DeLozier, J.R. Euler, Ray Johnson, R.E. Lance and Guy Walser.

Fashion
Short sweaters and blouses are favorites with pants.
An attractive knitted ensemble consists of a flared skirt, short blouse and cardigan sweater.
Short hair do's seem to be popular. These probably account for the new interest in hats.
A compliment remains the best way of insuring cooperation.

PRIZED AWARDS RECEIVED—Mrs. A.T. Mims, left, and Mrs. T.E. Seigler were presented Ernest Thompson Seton awards, high commendation for adults who work with Campfire Girls, at the annual meeting of Hereford Campfire Council this week. Mrs. Seigler wears the Indian headband and Mrs. Mims the armband which Horizon Club girls placed on all the leaders at the meeting. With other adults in the Campfire program here, these two are helping girls prepare for the Father-Daughter banquet scheduled for Thursday evening in the County Bull Barn.

Special Meetings Held

Longtime members of two Home Demonstration Clubs in Deaf Smith County were honored in an unusual way this week, in meetings which were planned separately.

Both Mrs. Jack Fortenberry of Bippus Club and Mrs. Bess Werner of Westway Club have been unable to attend meetings for several months, so the members went to them for special programs.

Wednesday was Bippus Club's meeting day, and also Mrs. Fortenberry's 82nd birthday. She played hostess to the group in the chapel of Westgate unit at Kings Manor retirement home, assisted by her daughters.

A decorated birthday cake was presented to her by Mrs. Charles Burke. It was served with punch by Mrs. Emmett Dorris of Texico, Mrs. Inman Larson and Mrs. Jimmie Bradley, daughters of the honoree.

Informal visiting was part of the entertainment and the group sang with Mrs. Joe Carthel at the piano, reminiscent of the community singings which Mrs. Fortenberry has always enjoyed with neighbors at Bippus.

Other club members present were Mmes. Wayne Sifford, C.L. Douglas and C.F. Homfeld. A guest who was popular with all the group was Stan Sifford, the club-president's, baby son making his first visit to the club. Mrs. Tom Draper was another guest.

Mrs. Werner's home on Harrison Highway was the meeting place for Westway Club, with Mrs. Andrew Kersh assisting as hostess for a Valentine party. There was an old-fashioned Valentine exchange, and a shower of the pretty cards for Mrs. Werner.

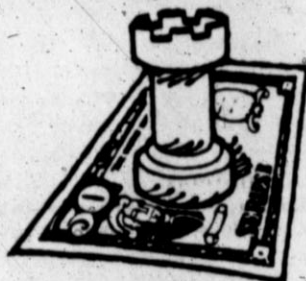

Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Turrentine, and Mrs. Donald Douglas were welcomed as visitors.

The regular club program was presented, with Mrs. Werner the speaker on Family Health. She discussed diabetes as one of the most prevalent diseases in America, speaking of diets and other special care for diabetics in a family.

Mrs. Arnold Fangman, club president, was chosen its nominee as a delegate to the spring convention of the district Home Demonstration Association.

Members also present included Mmes. Fred Sherman, Albert Lamb, G.C. Morrison, Orville Williamson and Joe Artho.

Book Gives Club View Of Illness

Experiences as a patient for mental illness, and after recovery, were related in a book review given for Calliopean Study Club Thursday evening by Mrs. A.T. Mims. Mrs. Ansel McDowell was hostess in her home.

Mrs. Mims told Nancy Covert, Smith's story from her book, Journey Out Of Nowhere. Mrs. Smith was a housewife and mother in her early thirties when she suffered a breakdown, she writes, adding that she uses the word "breakdown" because it is generally understood in relation to mental illness.

In her illness and slow recovery she came to realize how little people know about it, and how their ignorance can hurt the patient, Mrs. Smith writes. Since statistics show that one in 10 Americans have some degree of mental illness, almost everyone will have some contacts with patients and she feels that everyone needs to be better informed.

Club members discussed attitudes which Mrs. Smith said were shown to patients and those who have suffered mental illness, and agreed that they needed information given in the book, "if not facts about what to do or say, at least about what not to say!"

Mrs. Keith Simmer directed business, presenting the letter from Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce which asks residents to express their views on the need of Hereford for some type of community building. Views of the club were expressed in reply, and all members were urged to reply individually.

Those present included Mmes. George Warner, Dolson Palmer, M.W. Nobles, Virginia Holmes, John Gilliland, J.T. Gilbreath, Alton Fraser, Emil Dettman, C.J. Crump, Paul Conway and Clyde Cave.

Love of pleasure is the disease which makes men most despicable. —Longinus.

NATURALLY that current scare, the energy crisis, was the main topic at the National REC Association's annual convention in San Francisco the first of this week, local REC Manager James Hull says.

He and Mary Sue went to the meeting, along with Sam Morgan, assistant manager, and six directors and all their wives.

They were Sloan Osborn of Friona, board president; Raymond Higginbotham, vice president; Eldred Brown, Noel Gollehon of Dimmitt, A.W. Anthony Jr. of Friona and Raymond Annen of Nazareth. Hull says he found that this part of the nation is in far better shape than any other, so far as a shortage of energy production is concerned; it really is quite serious in places although we aren't feeling it much. Shortage of materials is more serious to electric co-ops in this area.

CONVENTION delegates, more than 10,000 of them from 46 states, heard speeches by government notables including senators, representatives of the Federal Energy Office and the head of the Rural Electric Administration — mostly on the energy crisis.

One fact that Hull remembers from the many quoted, and I'm glad he remembered it: Engineers estimate that if every light bulb in the country were cut off and left on, the saving in energy would only amount to two per cent.

So if you're worried about leaving a light burning until the children come in tonight, relax.

ONCE IN awhile we get a letter from somebody who has read something in the Brand away off in another town, and I always feel sort of surprised that we attract any attention that far away. Makes us feel quite important.

A note from Mrs. G.M. Hudson of 1008 Horace Mann, Rosenberg, has a question, but prefaces it with the pleasant remark that "We are former longtime residents of Hereford and enjoy reading our Brands each week."

She was writing about a recipe that appeared some time ago, Mrs. Floyd Eubanks' Wacky Cake. It makes delicious cake, she says, but it can be removed from the pan only with great difficulty and she wants to know what sort of pan she should use.

So I phoned Paula Eubanks, who says she's sorry, but she has trouble getting the cake out of the pan, too; it's just a sort of gooey chocolate cake that tastes great but sometimes has to be taken out with a spatula.

She uses a sheet-cake pan and has not tried baking it in layers as Margaret Hudson has done. I wonder if anyone else has tried the recipe and has a suggestion for solving this problem?

NAMES OF two Hereford students at Oklahoma State University are on the dean's honor roll for the fall semester, a release from the Stillwater school says.

Cheryl Ann Cole and Cissie Reinauer are listed among those who made a grade average of B or better while carrying at least 12 credit hours.

ALAN Cornelius, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cornelius, of Route 1, has been named to the Sul Ross University honor roll for academic achievement.

He is a 1973 graduate of Hereford High School and plans on becoming an athletic coach.

Area History Is AAUW Project

Collection of area history and location of American art works owned by area residents, are two projects of the American Association of University Women in which the Hereford Branch is to be involved, members decided at their meeting in Community Center Thursday evening.

The branch has been asked to nominate a pioneer woman who assisted in the growth of this area in the years between 1820 and 1890.

To aid in a survey being made by a nationally known museum, Mrs. Robert Stewart asked members to compile names of residents here who own paintings by an American artist, dated prior to 1914. Anyone who has such a painting is asked to notify an AAUW member.

The program Thursday evening was presented by Mrs. Patt Robbins and Patty Hill, teachers in special education classes of Hereford schools. They gave demonstrations, showed slides and classroom equipment to explain methods of instructing children with language and learning disabilities.

Mrs. Reuben McGilvary Jr., president, appointed Mmes. Philip Shook, D.N. Garner and Stewart as nominating committee.

Mrs. Robert Hickman reported on luncheon held by the branch in January, when a program was given by Nancy Richie, Mrs. Wayne Hodgson and Mrs. Garner.

Hostesses who served refreshments in a social period were Mmes. Earl Holt, John Winder, Arthur Clark, Garner and Jim Conkwright.

Surprise Party Held For Mrs. Williams

Honoring Mrs. Robert Williams with a surprise farewell party Thursday in the home of Mrs. Floyd Neill were her sorority sisters in Alpha Iota Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Williams, who is moving to Little Rock, Ark., where her husband is stationed in the U.S. Air Force, has been serving the chapter as president.

In conjunction with the Valentine theme, members brought Valentine cards and presents to Mrs. Williams along with a salad.

A double heart cake, tea and coffee were served from the refreshment table centered with red and white carnations.

Members present were Carol Elliott, Betty and Beverly Barrett, and Mmes. Bill Drake, Jerry La France, Kenneth Glenn, Phil Sciumbato, Ken Walsler, Fred Ruland, Coy Mason and Johnie Burkhalter.

FFA Is Anchor In Stormy Sea

The promise of the future lies in the youth of today. This fact is brought sharply to mind during National FFA Week, which occurs this year during the period of February 16-23.

Through its program of instruction in modern farming techniques and preparation for challenging careers in agribusiness and related fields, the Future Farmers of America ensures that tomorrow's agriculture will be able to meet the needs of tomorrow's consumer.

The national FFA organization embraces some 8,000 high schools throughout the nation, helping its members develop their individual skills and interests in agriculture. As the world leans evermore heavily upon American farmers to supply the food and fiber vital to human life and well-being, the importance of FFA becomes more evident. We must see to it that the Future Farmers of America continues to thrive and produce the agricultural leaders capable of maintaining the excellence of U.S. agriculture—the most productive agricultural system ever created in all the recorded history of man's earthly tenure.

Spock's Admission

The much-publicized and quoted baby doctor, Ben Spock, has now admitted what so many common-sense parents have long known. He and other experts in the field overemphasized not saying "no" to junior so much many parents became reluctant to be firm enough with their children.

Spock recently said too many parents today are not firm enough with their children for fear of losing their love or incurring resentment. Parents have too often been persuaded that only trained persons know how children should be reared, Spock added.

This, Spock admitted, is a cruel deprivation "we professionals" have imposed on mothers and fathers, though done with the best of intentions.

This, of course, is something many observers have known and recognized for some time. Today we have part of a generation of little darlings who grew up not being told "no" into monsters.

Thankfully the tide has begun to turn, with even a candid Dr. Spock now admitting the error of method he and others effectively sold parents some years back.

Smoke Warning

The Federal Trade Commission has asked Congress to strengthen the printed warning on cigarette packages and add warnings on small cigar packages.

The FTC would change the cigarette warning from, "Warning: The Surgeon General has determined that cigarette smoking is dangerous to your health," to, "Warning: Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and other diseases."

Although millions have been induced to kick tobacco addiction in recent years, because of population growth and the number of young people successfully addicted by films and advertising each year, tobacco consumption continues to increase.

The need for stronger warnings on cigarette packages is thus obvious and Congress should enact legislation to afford the gullible, ignorant and young better protection, which will save many lives in the years to come.

George Washington

In modern times when old virtues such as duty, patriotism and service to one's country meet with a certain cynicism, it's good to remember the birthday of George Washington—"first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Washington was born February 22nd, 1732, in Westmoreland County, Virginia—one of five children of a family which had for three generations lived in America. Because his father, a well-to-do planter, died when he was twelve he was not sent to England like his older brothers for an education.

He became a surveyor and took his place in the militia when his brother became ill. As a major he was sent on two expeditions against the French, and on the second he was defeated. On a third, led by General Braddock, the British and Americans were again defeated. But from this start Washington rose to become the commander in later years of American forces in the successful, long, hard-fought revolution against Britain. He then became the new nation's first President.

Thus, for fifteen years, seven in war and eight as President, Washington founded and guided a new nation to manhood and, as the father of our country, bequeathed a precious heritage to all of us.

Incentive Might Trim Budget

by ARCH N. BOOTH
Chief Executive Officer
Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Congress is about to get a big pay raise, by not voting not to get one. If that confuses you, it's supposed to.

Congressmen are traditionally reluctant to vote themselves pay increases, because such votes tend to be resented by constituents who cannot do the same for themselves. So the ingenious legislators thought of a way to avoid this unpleasant responsibility, yet still get the raises: They established a federal commission, in 1967, to recommend salary increases.

This commission makes its recommendations once every four years, and whatever increases it recommends go into effect automatically unless Congress votes against the increase within 30 days.

In other words, as things now stand a congressman does not have to go on record as voting for his own pay raise. He can simply sit on his hands and let it happen.

Rumor has it that the commission is about to recommend a 7.5 per cent pay raise for each of the next three years. That would take the pay of a senator or representative from $42,500 now to $52,726 by 1976.

I don't want to say whether $52,726 is "too much" or "not enough" to pay a member of Congress. I don't know. It's probably not enough for the good ones and too much for the bad ones.

BUT THREE aspects of this process do bother me:

1. Under the federal wage-price control regulations — duly authorized by Congress — raises are not supposed to exceed 5.5 per cent a year. The government has often bent that standard for unions which claimed they were entitled more to "catch up" for earlier years in which they got no raise at all. And Congress hasn't had a raise since 1969. But should Congress set an example of bending the rules to its own benefit?

2. IF the members of Congress believe they have a good case for a raise, they should have the guts to vote for it and then justify their vote to their constituents. This business of hiding behind a federal commission is sheer cowardice. (To their credit, some congressmen feel this way, too, and have been speaking out against the "automatic" pay raise procedure. Better find out which side your congressmen are on before criticizing them for something they may be trying to rectify.)

3. While it's true Congress hasn't had a raise since 1969, the members have kept up with inflation over the years. Since 1954, the cost of living has increased a little over 69 per cent. During the same period, congressional pay has gone up 3.4-fold, or 34 per cent from $12,500 to $42,500.

If we eliminate the effect of a big raise which boosted pay from $12,500 in 1954 to $21,162 in 1955, Congress still comes out way ahead. From $21,162 to $42,500 is a doubling, or a 100 per cent increase, over the years when the cost of living increased about 69 per cent.

SINCE CONGRESS often creates — or exacerbates — the conditions that cause inflation, it is disturbing to learn that the members are insulating themselves from the suffering that inflation causes others.

Perhaps what's needed is another "automatic" pay-control mechanism to insure that our representatives will be as sensitive to the ravages of inflation as are their constituents.

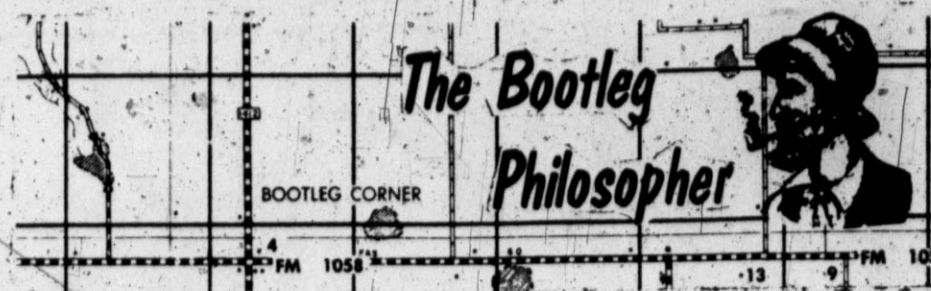

A short Constitutional amendment should do it:

"The Congress shall not receive an increase in pay or other remuneration in any year in which the Consumer Price Index rises by more than three per cent."

Something like that would give us all an incentive to control the federal budget.

"Where else but in America could you get an advertising piece that costs $50,000 to design, $500,000 to print, offers $2 million in prizes — and what is it called? Junk mail!"
LAKE CRYSTAL, MINN., TRIBUNE

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg corner defends newspapers this week, we think.

Dear editor:

According to a nationwide survey I read in a newspaper last night, "people generally aren't satisfied with the way newspapers are run." They said papers sometimes slant the news, are sometimes inaccurate, irresponsible and biased.

I DON'T know who was interviewed in this survey or what papers they were talking about, if they'd be willing to sign their names, if their daughter's wedding was left out, or what, but my theory is that you show me a newspaper nobody criticizes and I'll show you a newspaper nobody reads.

I've always thought that criticizing a newspaper was half the fun of subscribing, like buying a ticket to a football game in a license to lambast the coach if he loses. Nowhere in the Constitution does it say you can't laugh at a Congressman just because you voted for him.

Sure, most newspaper editors are biased, biased in favor of their own community, and sometimes they leave out the truth, which is better than having to leave town. Most people want the truth published about others, not themselves.

BUT I got to thinking about that survey. If the people who conducted it have any money left, over they ought to broaden their inquiry. For example, how many people are dissatisfied with the way their church is run, their grocery store, their bank, their city government, their radio or television stations, their schools, their universities? Why they might even find out some people are dissatisfied with the way surveys are run?

But they shouldn't go too far. For example, I don't want them conducting a survey to find out how many people like my letters to The Brand every week, and if they go ahead and do it anyway I hope you'll avoid the risk of slanting the news and refuse to print it.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Congress Tempted By Raise

By BERT MILLS

DEAR CONGRESSMAN: There is a $34 million question pending in Congress that affects your pocketbook directly and that of all taxpayers indirectly. This sum for pay raises for top officials is important but less important than the principle involved.

If you and your colleagues do nothing until March 6, your salary and those of top bureaucrats and judges will be raised about 24 per cent over the next two years. The temptation for Senators and Representatives to accept this $10,300 pay hike must be strong.

Hopefully you will not yield to this temptation, for a long list of reasons. Argument number one against a Congressional pay raise now is inflation. This is the nation's top problem and the psychological effect of a fat pay hike for legislators would be damaging. You should be fighting inflation, not abetting it.

Millions of Americans, including many of your constituents, are having a hard time making ends meet. Some have lost their jobs at least temporarily, and unemployment is rising. These voters are not likely to look kindly upon your cutting yourself a bigger piece of pie.

Another thing is the method Congress devised back in 1967 to get pay raises through the backdoor. The arrangement for a commission to make salary recommendations which the President passes along with automatic effectiveness unless vetoed or reduced by Congress is ingenious but devious. Voters don't appreciate such schemes.

AS A MEMBER of Congress, you are now paid $42,500 a year. To most people, that is a princely sum. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce pointed out recently that you are in the top 1 per cent of all taxpayers. You earn nearly four times as much as your average constituent, whose wife may have to hold a job to help out.

Unless you and a majority of the House or Senate vote by March 6 to cancel the deal, your pay will go up to $45,700, rise again to $49,100 in 1975, and reach $52,800 in 1976. That will buy a lot of steaks, even at today's and tomorrow's prices. Lots of voters can never afford steak now.

Then there are the emoluments of office. You get $3,000 per year as a tax-free allowance because you must maintain a residence back home as well as in Washington. Also you get 19 free trips annually to your home base, with the option of taking cash up to $1,125 a year in case you don't choose to travel that much.

Then there is the stationery allowance of $4,250, all or part of which can be taken in cash. Also, if you are an average Congressman, you make speeches for money, sometimes as high as $2,000 for a single appearance. Many members also maintain a law practice or other business connection.

You have a very generous pension. You will get $20,000 a year for life if you serve 20 years and reach age 60. Your cost of $3,400 per year will be a fine investment. Rep. Martha W. Griffiths (D., Mich.) calculated that you would have to save about $25,000 per year, after taxes, for 20 years in order to duplicate your pension.

All these facts suggest to the average voter that maybe $42,500 is enough salary and $52,800 would be too much.

SEVERAL SENATORS and Representatives reacted to the salary proposal contained in the Budget by introducing resolutions to disapprove the pay plan. However, the leaders of Congress are conspicuously absent from the list of sponsors. In general the newer members are those opposed, and it will be the veterans occupying command posts who make the coming decision.

The Senate killed a Congressional pay raise last year. A disapproval resolution with 12 sponsors has been placed on the Senate calendar, bypassing the usual committee consideration which is planned in the House. Hopefully, the Senate will defeat the increase, not just postpone it or scale it down.

Mr. Congressman, won't you forego a pay increase in the national interest? Won't you use your influence to see that the salary raise is killed? It would be appreciated by many.

Sincerely,
Your Constituent

Talk Of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

CORRECTING THE HISTORIANS — Erastus (Deaf) Smith, famous spy of the Texas Revolution, was not a deaf mute as the history books imply.

Smith did have impaired hearing and had to cup his hand over an ear to hear. This may have handicapped him as a spy for Gen. Sam Houston, but was offset by his ability to speak Spanish like a native.

An Irishman who was born in upper New York state, Smith married a Mexican woman and became fluent in her language. His natural swarthy complexion and command of the language enabled him to pass for a Mexican when he infiltrated enemy lines.

FFA Week Begins Monday

Members of the Hereford chapter join with over 450,000 other FFA members in the United States in celebrating National FFA Week which starts Monday.

Throughout the week the state's 1,200 chapters are planning activities to support the theme, "FFA for tomorrow's agriculture."

According to President, Ronald Johnson, the Hereford Chapter attends various livestock shows and judging contests the latest of which were San Antonio and Hereford's Young Young Farmers' Junior Livestock Show and will leave next week for the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

National FFA Week always includes George Washington's birthday in observance of his leadership in promoting scientific farming practices. Washington is considered the patron saint of the FFA and has come to symbolize the FFA Treasurer.

Organized in 1928, the FFA promotes leadership, cooperation and citizenship among high school vocational agriculture students. The FFA Foundation awards program provides chapter, state and national recognition for supervised programs of agricultural production, marketing, processing, and service.

Home Life 200 Years Ago Is Girl's Essay Subject

Only one girl was a winner in the annual American History Month essay contest conducted by Los Cibolefos Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, of four whose entries will go to state competition.

Tracy McCathern of Aikman School was judged best writer among entrants from fifth to eighth grades competed, 286 in all, writing on the subject, A Child Of 1774.

A CHILD OF 1774
By TRACY MCCATHERN

Cynthia Belkwell had come to America from England and had been living in the southern part of Virginia for nine months. She lives with her parents and five brothers.

Her oldest brother, Jermaine, is married to Rebecca, Beck for short. Her other brothers, Mike, Tom, Joey, and Albert are all older than Cynthia, who is 12. Jermaine and Beck live with the family but in a separate part of their one story house.

Her family isn't poor, but they have trouble making money. "It took a lot of money to get here," her mother says. "It will take twice as much to live here."

"Family night" at the Belkwell's is when each member of the family shows what talent he has. Cynthia's mother and father taught the children songs. Jermaine and Beck sign songs that they learned in England. Tom, Mike and Albert do an Indian skit and Joey and Cynthia dance.

"Family night" was really practice for community gatherings. At community gatherings Cynthia's family and their neighbors get together at the Mackey's barn to show what they can do or to show off livestock or crops. But most of all just to talk and have fun.

Everybody gets up early in the morning, every day to get all of the chores done. First they have to feed the animals.

Cynthia has a dog and a cat. First she feeds Mr. Hickamire, the dog, then she feeds Snow, the cat. They don't eat much because Mr. Hickamire prefers a rabbit and Snow catches as many mice.

Cynthia helps Beck and Mama make soap. They use animal fat and alkali. It takes most the day to make it. So, while it's boiling Cynthia chums the butter. It takes a lot of hard work and sometimes she could barely move her arms the next day.

After they finish that, Mama, Beck and Cynthia have to cook dinner. Papa had killed a rabbit so they have rabbit stew. Mama had a special recipe. Later Beck and Cynthia go to work shaping the soap.

The boys have many chores to do. Papa and Jermaine chop the wood for the fireplace. It is hard work and sometimes it takes more than one day to do it. Mike and Tom usually work in the fields and vegetable garden.

Mike plows and Tom plants seeds for wheat, corn, potatoes or other things depending on the planting season, weather, and other things. Joey and Albert tend to the animals. There was always a lot to do on the farm, but they all work together.

At mealtime, they would rush to the table but wouldn't sit down right away. First they would have to say Grace. When it was Cynthia's turn she prayed, "Dear God. Thank you for this food and home. We thank thee for getting us here safely and Jermaine finding Beck. In the name of Jesus, we pray. Amen." Then they could sit down and eat.

They usually went to bed at sunset because they didn't have electricity and they didn't want to waste candles. Cynthia and her four brothers would sleep in a windowless space above the main room.

Beck and Jermaine slept in their part of the house in a bed and so would Mama and Papa. As you can see, the life of a child of 1774 was very different from the life of a child of 1974.

VOE STUDENT OF THE WEEK — Vocational Office Education student of the week is Debra Last, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Last of 231 Beach. Debra is employed as a bookkeeper and general office clerk at Carl Last Shop under the supervision of Carl Last. She is a senior student at Hereford High School and plans to study nursing after graduation.

Lions View Film, Plan Pancake Supper

"Smoking... It's Your Choice" was the title of a film shown at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at the Civic Club Center.

Dickie Gerles, chairman of the local Heart Fund drive, presented the program in connection with the observance of "Heart Month". Climax of the drive will be a door-to-door solicitation Sunday.

Club president Jim Hale announced that four new members had been approved by the board. They are Charles Boyd, Don Elwell, Sammy Gonzales, and Ben Harris.

Clete Corlis, co-chairman of the annual Pancake Supper, urged Lions to sell their tickets for the event, scheduled Feb. 28 at the Bull Barn. Jeanette Schlabs gave the weekly Leo Club report from high school.

LOUISA'S LETTER

guest. What should I have done about this?
Bewildered-Del.

Dear Louisa,

A few weeks ago I decided to have a dinner party for four couples I was obligated, to. I went to a great deal of trouble to have everything just right. My table seats eight people and I had fixed casseroles and desserts ahead of time so that I could enjoy my guests.

What was my surprise when one of the couples came bringing their two little boys four and six years old. I had to put up a card table for the children to eat on in the living room and gave them my and my husband's deserts. The evening was ruined for me and some of my

Answer:
Bringing children to a dinner party when they have not been invited is inexcusable. If your friend was unable to make arrangements to have the children cared for in her absence she should have called you, explained the situation and offered to stay home and let you invite another couple in her place. Then it would be up to the hostess to decide whether to have the children or not. If she decided to let them come she could suggest that they have their supper before they came and let them play with toys in another room while your supper was in progress.

Ancient Space Visitor?

Is this figure, found in a Central American temple, the representation of a visitor from outer space thousands of years ago? Note how similar the position is to that of a modern-day astronaut. This is one of many provocative suggestions posed in "Chariots of the Gods?", G-rated film from Sun International Productions which shows Friday and Saturday at the Star Theatre. The film is based on the controversial best-seller by iconoclast Erich von Daniken.

Motion Picture Provides Link To UFO Sightings

Are the UFO sightings real? Well, if they are, international authority on space travel Erich von Daniken has proof that these were not the first.

Von Daniken, author of three books based on the premise that ancient astronauts came to earth in antiquity, is adding a new dimension to his theory with the release of his new film, "Chariots of the Gods?" from his book of the same name.

The Sun International Productions release will open a limited engagement at the Star Theatre in Hereford on Friday and Saturday.

UFO's have been a popular topic for sky watchers for centuries but with the advent of rocketry, the interest has soared.

The world-renowned "father of modern rocketry," Dr. Wernher von Braun, recently said, "I hold as a definite probability the existence of not only animal and vegetable life in the infinite reaches of the universe, but also that of intelligent beings. 'Yes, I'm even convinced of it.'"

The 38-year old von Daniken has set forth for the past five years to document on film the physical evidences of visits by galactic travelers who came to the third planet from our sun: Earth.

Just what they did here and the influences they left behind is the core of the film, "Chariots of the Gods?"

Perhaps they showed the pharaohs how to move colossal masses of rock into pyramid forms. Perhaps they revealed to Easter Islanders how to carve massive stone statues. And what about those prehistoric airstrips in Peru?

It was in search of basic truths that young von Daniken set out to travel the world 20 years ago. He's been so pleased with his success that he's been doing it for most his life ever since.

He was so busy, in fact, that he was unable to direct the film while it was in the making. But he is so elated with the result that he exclaims, "Really, seeing the film is even more persuasive than my books. In fact, who can now dare dispute my books, once they have seen my film?"

No doubt someone will, for even after some near thousand documented UFO sightings this year, there are still those who scoff at the whole idea. But as man's own technology progresses, their voices grow dimmer. Perhaps it was the same for ancient civilizations who witnessed chariots of the gods descend from the skies on shafts of light, so noisy, the ancient UFO's make the mountains shake. Sounds familiar, doesn't it?

Welty Tells Kiwanis About Local Hospital

"We are very fortunate to have the quality medical community we do have here in Hereford."

Those were the words of Ron Welty, administrator of Deaf Smith General Hospital here, as he spoke to the regular noon meeting Thursday of the Hereford Kiwanis Club.

Introduced by R.C. Hoelscher, Welty described the growth of the hospital in recent years, told of the new programs being introduced and spoke about the future plans of the medical facility.

Welty said the hospital presently has a 79-bed capacity and that it is one of the few accredited hospitals of its size in the Panhandle. He also listed the various services offered by the hospital.

"We are a full-service hospital," he said. "We have 11 licensed physicians and three dentists on the medical staff."

Welty said the hospital now has two operating rooms with staffs on call 24 hours each day and that recently new delivery rooms were added to the hospital.

Answering questions of the audience, Welty said the occupancy of the hospital had declined mainly because doctors had reduced the stay per patient by 1 1/2 day average.

In evaluating the needs and outlining the future goals of the hospital, the administrator said an affiliation agreement was recently signed with Texas Tech Med School which he feels will be very beneficial to the hospital.

In other action at the noon meeting, several Kiwanians were awarded perfect attendance pins. Receiving the awards were Wayne Swoops, one year; Earl Warrick, two years; R.L. Blakley, six years; Don Lane, six years; Lloyd Crume, seven years; Bub Sparks, eight years.

Also at the meeting Joe Castillo was installed as a new member by Rodney Gordon. Kiwanian Servio Gamez sponsored Castillo as a new member.

'Activist' Shareholder

Suppose a political activist buys one share of stock in a corporation that makes guns. His purpose is to gain access to a list of shareholders, so he can arouse their opposition to the company's products. Would the company have to let him see the books? Most courts faced with this question have said no. True, every stockholder is a co-owner of the corporation. However, say these courts, the relationship is strictly economic, not political. To see the books he must have an economic motive. He must be acting, at least in part, to protect his investment.

The activist shareholder is new but the problem is old: how open should a corporation's books be? Clearly, there has to be some sort of limitation on access. As one judge explained, in barring a stockholder who was "just curious":

"Considering the huge size of many modern corporations and the complicated nature of their bookkeeping, to permit their thousands of stockholders to roam at will through their records would render impossible not only any attempt to keep their records efficiently but the proper carrying on of their businesses."

On the other hand, a stockholder with a legitimate economic motive generally cannot be prevented from seeing the books merely because the management doesn't happen to like him.

One stockholder was refused access to his company's books because he was considered a "troublemaker." He was indeed a troublemaker. But the trouble he wanted to make was getting rid of the management, which he thought was doing a bad job of running the business.

In these circumstances, a court ordered the company to open the books for his inspection. The court said that for a disgruntled investor, throwing the management out was a natural and proper objective.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

OBJECTIVE FOR A GARDENER: To increase the knowledge of horticulture, to learn names of trees, plants, vegetables and flowers. To learn some of the fundamentals of color harmony so it can be used in planning colors for landscape design and flower arranging.

To be a part of civic beauty and share in the environmental problems of my home town. Also to have good practices relative to litter and pollution.

To familiarize myself with new introductions, I visited some of the florists and nurseries in Amarillo Monday. I became so excited over one of the new geraniums, which is to be on the market for spring and is now available in potted plants, I just yielded to temptation and purchased two of them.

The name is Jamboree and it has beautiful red flowers. The florets are smaller than many of the old types. The foliage is very rich in color, a deep green. Leaves are small and have an attractive shape.

Pattern of growth is a symmetrical and compact. Another outstanding feature is that blossoms are long lasting and make good cut flowers. The plant is small enough to make good border material. A colorful plant for the indoor days, then it can be transplanted outside.

Another good way to fight the winter doldrums is to do some experimenting and add new houseplants. I read an article while in Wichita, Kan., entitled Even You Can Turn an Avocado into a Lovely House Plant.

Green thumb or not, it is an excellent project. They do make lovely lush plants. It just takes a little bit of know-how, loving care and that characteristic which all gardeners need to cultivate, patience.

In selecting an avocado, a soft, ripe one is best for eating and the pit is most likely to sprout. The winter variety (green skin) California grown and the summer variety (dark skin) give pits equally suitable for house plant use.

To begin the plant, wash the reserved pit in warm water and remove all fragments of fruit. It is well to remember that the plant is tropical in origin and responds best to the warm temperatures in both water and climate. Remove any skin that peels freely.

The pit may be split or curled roots may be tucked under it. If you find pits in this condition, don't worry, they may become one of the best growers, they are almost certain to sprout.

Insert three wooden toothpicks into the seed at regular intervals. This serves as a framework to suspend the pit halfway submerged in a large glass. Fill the glass with warm water, suspend the seed broad end down.

Place the 'incubator jar', in the warmest spot you can find, free from strong light, drafts or fumes. Maintain a constant water level as time passes, always keeping the base immersed 1/2 inch. Fresh well water would be excellent to use.

Now is where patience comes in. Avocado pits have their own personalities. Some begin to split and root in several weeks, others will take their own sweet time, often up to six weeks. There really is no hard and set rule. The roots are vital, they must be well developed before the plant can take to soil.

First signs of growth is when the main stem peeks through the slit seed. At a certain time both root and stem develop at a mutual pace. When the growth cycle begins, and is responding to ones efforts it is really a good feeling to see a healthy and happy growing plant.

Keep in mind that by nature the avocado is a tree (A very lovely lush tree both in color and foliage) a tall mainstemmed creature, but we must alter its nature if we want a full, well developed house plant. When the shoot has reached a height of 6 to 7 inches, it is then time to snip the main stem back, with sharp scissors, to a minimum of three inches. It is through the process of snipping that the plant is enabled to pool its resources and stimulate new stem growth.

Occasionally a seed will grow two stems automatically. They will branch without the aid of scissors. This is certainly the exception, not the rule.

When roots are thick and stem has leafed out, the plant is ready for potting. Sterilize a clay pot, soak for an hour or two in lukewarm water. Fill the clean pot with the plant, surrounded by rich humus-type soil.

The pot should have a diameter of 10 1/2 inches and have a good drainage system with broken crockery, natural rocks (thoroughly cleaned), or broken crushed bits of oasis. If the latter is used, tamp it as it is placed in the bottom of the pot. This is necessary because the plant must have good drainage.

When planting, the seed should be half out of the soil, the end half plant into the soil. This gives any future stems a tempting glance at light and air. After potting process, place the new plant in a good light and warm temperature. Do not expose it to strong, direct sunlight.

It will respond to plant food applied as indicated on the package. Organic food would be good too. Keep soil moist but not saturated. Turn it occasionally as it leans toward the light.

Once in awhile bathe the leaves with a gentle warm water spray or soft, moist cloth to remove dust or grit that might have collected. Do not forget to clean both the top of leaves and the underside. Both sides have pores through which the plants breathe.

As the plant grows, if you do not want it to become leggy or unproportioned then prune lightly. When the plant has reached a height of 16 or 17 inches, it would be well to place a wooden dowel as a support, using care not to damage the root system.

Do not expect it to bear fruit; just enjoy it as a well grown foliage plant. If in time it looks a little ratty, unattractive, toss it out and start another seed—that is one of the fun and interesting parts of this whole adventure.

The following is a recipe taken from one of my newest recipe books. Author-Julie Benell. Since many of my friends are having to eat fish often I want to share it.

AVOCADO SAUCE FOR FISH

1 cup sieved, mashed avocado; 3 tb. lime juice; 3 tb. salad oil; 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce; salt and pepper to taste; add any other spice or seasoning you wish, chopped chives and parsley would be tasty.

Blend mashed avocado with other ingredients. Serve with baked, broiled or fried fish, fish sticks, or French-fried shrimp. Makes 1 1/4 cups.

Air Pollution Injury To Plant Life, by Dr. Donald H. Scott, National Landscape Association 230 Southern Building, Washington, D.C. 20005, has been recommended as good reading as well as informative.

Really this matter of pollution is not a new thing, we have had it for sometime, in fact Europeans had this problem in the early eighteenth century.

Damage was observed to their plants and trees, and in some instances it spread and created much damage. We must face it and fight it, starting with our surroundings.

One less disease to worry about—auto-intoxication is a generalized condition caused by the absorption of harmful products from the intestinal tract. Fortunately, there is no evidence that such a disease exists.

Comings And Goings At Kings Manor

By FAY GAUGGEL

Our two newest residents are Mrs. Allie Collins of Canyon, Room 109, and Mrs. J.M. Zinn of Lubbock, Room 115. Welcome to these lovely ladies. We wish them much happiness here.

On Feb. 12 the Alice Ward Circle of First UMW met in Kings Manor.

After the business Mrs. D.V. Dettman who grew up in Espanola, N.M., spoke on the McCurdy Mission Schools of that area. She showed slides of the work there, in both boarding and day schools. Students are of four ethnic groups - Spanish, Anglo, Indian and Negro.

Aim of the schools is well-rounded Christian lives for pupils and community in general.

About 27 ladies attended.

La Plata Junior High chorus of about 25 7th graders under the direction of Bill Devers sang for Kings Manorites Wednesday morning in Lamar Memorial Garden Room. They sang a capella beginning with rounds then proceeding to more complicated harmonies.

Program: I Love the Mountains (Round) You're Not Sick; Just in Love (Counter point melody), Fifty-Nifty U.S. (named all 50 of the states), Colorado Trails, High Hopes and It's a Small World After All. We gave them profuse applause.

Thanks to Mr. Devers and students - We'd love for you to perform for us again.

On Feb. 8 Kings Manor people traveled again via slides and armchair to Africa, with delightful Willie Weaver, nephew of Virgil and Jessie Mae Dodson. Without notes or script he carried us where he had been recently. Kenya and the Nairobi area were especially featured. He pointed out that the open country terrain there resembles the plains country here except that Kenya produces practically nothing because of lack of expertise or farming interest. School attendance is optional and most youth do not attend. Weaver visited Tanzania but the Communist element there made for a cool reception. Chief beauties of Africa seem to be bougainvillea in profusion and orange colored skies pierced by dark silhouettes of zebra or tall trees. Come again, Mr. Weaver. You make traveling so pleasant and informative. You almost inspire us to wish we were Schweitzers or Livingstons, and we aren't being facetious.

Manorites were unusually inspired and blessed by two guests for the Tuesday vesper service. They were youth director, Buddy Roland and choir director, Fred Radliff of First United Methodist Church. The program of music followed scripture read by Roland. Then with his outstanding tenor and Radliff's accompaniment they swung into action. Radliff's improvising hands were wonderful and every note was beautiful.

Mrs. Don Davidson maneuvered a quartet, to include the Rev. Seago, Clyde Hudson and the two guests. Thanks to Hereford Music Study Club for the operetta performed for us Feb. 11.

The cadences of many haunting minor-key melodies, tambourines, swirling Gypsy skirts and compositions like Sing Gypsy, Slumber On, Dark Eyes, Two Guitars and even Carmen came back to our minds. 'Twas beautifully nostalgic, we deeply appreciated all the work you did for a program for us.

Honored At Banquet

Four Hereford scouts were honored recently at a banquet in Amarillo when they were presented with the Ad-Altare-Dei Award. In a banquet at the Sacrament Church receiving the awards were (standing l-r) Edward Fry, Troop 50; Greg Hacker, Troop 150; (sitting) Greg Albracht, Troop 150; and Mike Hacker, Troop 150.

In Ireland, the people wore arrows around their necks to prevent being shot by an elf. So far, no one with an arrow around his neck has ever been shot by an elf!

Inverrary: Tempting and Unyielding

The four finish holes of the Jackie Gleason-Inverrary Classic, one of Goldfom's richest tournaments with its $260,000 in prize money, to be broadcast Saturday, Feb. 23 (3:30-5:00 p.m.) and Sunday, Feb. 24 (3:00-4:30 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

The 17th hole measures 400 yards and plays to a very easy (or very hard) par-4. It's a dogleg right that keeps the players thinking every inch of its 400 yards.

The drive zone is narrow, with trees on the right coming into length of the hole. Sand traps, at the elbow of the fairway catch many tee shots, sometimes keeping the player from getting a par, sometimes keeping him from going into the drink.

The 18th is an intimidating finishing hole, not because it is overly long at 395 yards, but because it is surrounded by moving traffic, spectator bleachers and scoring tents, and, best of all, leads to the $2,000 winner's share of the purse.

The drive zone is narrow, with trees on the right coming into play, along with out-of-bounds stakes. Normally it is a short iron second shot, but can be longer. The green is elevated and provides many good pin placements. Yet, as with any final chance, a lot of strange things can happen.

So it's a good idea to firm up your schedule early for a Jackie Gleason-Inverrary Classic weekend on the CBS Television Network that no golfing buff will want to whiff.
