Hereford's Community Concert Association opened its series of programs for the year with the Johnny Mann Singers and Dancers Thursday night in the HHS Auditorium and it was a rousing success. A near-capacity crowd was treated to musical selections ranging from the "golden oldies" to the current Broadway hits and, of course, the patriotic songs which are a trademark of the Mann group.

The CCA usually sells plenty of tickets, but the attendance is not always good. Television is given some of the blame, but nothing replaces a "live" show. The crowd here last night included a number of out-of-town guests, using their reciprocal privileges to catch a program that was not scheduled in their series.

Hereford football fans, and players, are taking tonight's game against Lubbock Dunbar perhaps more seriously than any game in the Herd's history as the team attempts to rebound from last week's loss to Frenship and the discovery of a mix-up Monday that led to the team's forfeiture of its two 1987 wins. New group seeking Holly

A New York-based partnership has been formed to purchase shares of Holly Sugar Corp in the latest in a string of buy-out attempts.

Plum Associates, an investment group headed by Peter Harvey, president of Artra Group Inc., of Northfield, Ill., has filed notice with the Securities and Exchange Commission that it has bought 7.4 percent of Holly's stock and plans a negotiated buyout of the company, based in Colorado Springs.

Holly has a plant in Hereford as well as other locations in the Western U.S.

The company has been trying to go private since January 1982, but several purchase plans have gone awry. A spokesman for the Artra group told The Wall Street Journal that the group "most likely" would take Holly private, but didn't specify any financial terms. Holly's outstanding shares, priced at $87.375 a share, is valued at about $96.1 million.

Several buy-out attempts this summer almost brought an end to the 5½-year effort to take the company private when board chairman Michael Buchsbaum formed a group to buy the shares for $134 million.

That effort later failed after the chairman, who has resigned but remains on the board, said he and his family had received several death threats. Holly officials turned down his group's efforts.

Holly officials said then that they still planned to actively seek a sale to increase shareholder value, either through a sale, a leveraged buy-out, or a recapitalization.

Holly officials said they had not yet received heard from Harvey's group or reviewed the SEC filing, and refused comment on the possible transaction.

Bentsen will oppose Bork

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pointing to conflicts over issues of privacy, civil rights and equal protection for women, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen today joined the growing ranks of U.S. senators opposing confirmation of Robert H. Bork to the Supreme Court.

Bentsen, who had never previously indicated publicly how he was leaning, became the fourth Southern Democrat in 24 hours to announce opposition to Bork. Those losses and another defection in Republican ranks have forced President Reagan into an uphill fight to place Bork on the high court.

The moderate Texas Democrat said he waited until the hearings concluded to formulate his opinions about the controversial judge, nominated by President Reagan to replace retiring Justice Lewis Powell.

"As successor to Justice Powell and the potential 'swing vote' on the Supreme Court, Robert Bork will, if approved by the Senate, be in a position to exercise vast influence over every aspect of American life well into the 21st Century," Bentsen said on the Senate floor.

"I have heard the arguments pro and con and I have decided to oppose the confirmation of Robert Bork."

Emphasizing he is not opposed to placing a conservative on the court, Bentsen recommended Reagan look to 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Patrick Higgenbotham of Dallas, "who has all of the talent and none of the controversy that surrounds Judge Bork."

Bentsen declared that he could not vote for a nominee who has "steadfastly refused to acknowledge that the people of America have a constitutional right to privacy—especially in the home."

California begins recovery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police patrolled against looting today and Southern Californians began clearing the destroyed buildings and sea of shattered glass left by the region's most powerful earthquake since 1971 and 16 aftershocks.

Thursday's earthquake lasted only 10 to 15 seconds, but left more than 100 people injured, crumbled dozens of buildings, damaged hundreds of houses and tossed heavy pieces of furniture about like toys.

Yet, emergency services worked smoothly, traffic flowed, power was quickly restored, and highway improvements completed since the devastating 1971 Sylmar quake minimized damage, officials said.

"It could have been worse," said Mayor Tom Bradley. "Overall, I think we escaped a major catastrophe and I'm sure we're grateful for that."

The temblor, which struck at 7:42 a.m. Thursday and measured 6.1 on the Richter scale, was centered seven miles east-southeast of downtown Los Angeles at the northwest end of the 30-mile-long Whittier Fault.

The town of Whittier, five miles from the epicenter, suffered the most damage and the mayor declared a state of emergency. Hundreds of homes were damaged in the suburban community where Richard Nixon grew up.

In Los Angeles, where five people were arrested for looting, a special anti-looting squad was on patrol downtown and the entire department was on alert, working 12-hour shifts, said Lt. Dan Cooke, a police spokesman.

At least six people died, one of them a college student on her way to class struck by a two-ton slab of concrete falling off a parking structure.

DOE restarts East site process focus

By DEBE GRAVES
Staff Writer

In spite of claims, at a Dallas meeting this week, that the Department of Energy had not taken any action toward restarting the selection process for a second site to receive the nation's nuclear waste, Energy Secretary John Herrington mailed letters Thursday night to the governors of 17 eastern states saying DOE will resume its search for a second nuclear waste repository, but not aggressively.

Steve Kale, manager of DOE's office of geological repositories, told a Dallas audience on Thursday that the DOE had not taken any action toward resuming the search.

"Those who would be involved in that are here in this room and we have received no instructions and, as of right now, we are not working on it," he told the group of representatives from Texas, Washington and Nevada where the DOE is conducting characterization studies for the site selection of the first repository.

Kale told the group, "We just have not done anything yet. I have not discussed it with the folks who will be doing the work and until I do receive a directive I will not go forward."

Kale was backed up by Tom Isaacs, deputy director of the repository program, who said, "There is no reason, nor do we contemplate doing anything on those sites at this time or in the foreseeable future."

As Kale was making his remarks, governors of 17 eastern states were about to receive letters from Herrington saying DOE will begin reviewing 60,000 public comments it received in response to a draft report. Herrington estimated the process could take up to 18 months.

The legislative act determining the laws DOE must operate under in its search for a radioactive waste repository were set in the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982. The NWP Act called for DOE to select two sites, one in the western U.S. and one in the eastern U.S.

Herrington's May 28, 1986, suspension of the eastern search prompted western states to sue the agency for breaching the NWP. The Ninth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, in San Francisco, is scheduled to hear the case on Oct. 9.

Herrington had promised to resume the search on Oct. 1, but he has said he supports pending legislation to completely halt the search for a second repository site.

He said until that review has been completed, DOE need not and does not intend to conduct any activities on any of the 12 potential sites scattered among seven states.

Herrington mentioned legal action being sought by the states, including the upcoming San Francisco hearing, as a factor in his decision to pursue the matter, but cites his obligation to follow the law set out in NWPA as the chief force in his decision.

Dallas meeting focuses on bills, program changes

Legislative proposals, lawsuits, money and changes in the nuclear waste program were the topics of debate at a quarterly meeting Thursday between Department of Energy officials and representatives of various states and Indian tribes affected by the Office of Civilian Radioactive Waste Management's search for siting a high-level nuclear waste repository.

Site characterization activities have been narrowed down to three potential sites: Deaf Smith County; Hanford, Washington; and near Las Vegas, Nevada.

Legislative action being considered to change the characterization process includes 20 Senate and 15 House bills that would alter the course of the controversial program.

Ginger King, of DOE's office of policy and outreach, said that the department favors Senate Bill 1668, (See DOE, Page 2)

Lopez arrested in heroin bust

By DEBE GRAVES
Staff Writer

Thirty individually wrapped doses of heroin, with an estimated street value of over $600, and various drug paraphernalia were seized Thursday night and a woman was arrested when Hereford police officers executed a search warrant on a residence in the 300 block of Lake Street.

Lisa Lopez, 20, of Hereford, was arrested and charged with possession of heroin with intent to deliver. A male suspect remains at large.

Lopez was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Johnnie Turrentine, who set bond at $25,000. Lopez, at the time of her arrest Thursday, was out on bond on charges in connection with a May 5 incident, where she attacked a police officer who was attempting to restrain her father, 78-year-old Manuel Medeles, after the officer had been assaulted.

The officer, Sammy Sanchez, was called to the scene of a trash fire by firemen who requested he explain, in Spanish, that the man needed to extinguish the fire because of ordinances prohibiting the burning of trash inside city limits.

The man is alleged to have struck Sanchez, who then tried to restrain the man. Lopez then jumped on the officers' back and began beating him. Several firemen struggled with Lopez before wrestling her to the ground while she was kicking and screaming obscenities.

The pair were arrested on felony charges of aggravated assault on a police officer, resisting arrest, and disorderly conduct. Medeles was charged with violation of a city ordinance. At the time Turrentine set bond at $5,500 each and Tina Gonzales, an agent for E-Z Bail Bond in Amarillo, posted bond for the pair.

In August, Gonzales learned that Lopez had not cooperated with her attorney and that he had withdrawn from the case. Gonzales withdrew her bond money and the pair was brought before District Judge Wesley Gulley who named new attorneys to represent Lopez and Medeles. Without money to meet their bond the pair was returned to jail.

On August 6, activist Jesus Moya led a demonstration of family members and friends in front of Deaf Smith County Courthouse, protesting the return of the pair to jail.

Moya passed out a written press release which claimed the pair was a victim of police brutality. He said that the pair should be released without bond. Moya claimed that Medeles' had been an active member of the International Union of Agricultural Workers and that the arrest was a "form of retaliation against him". (See BUST, Page 2)

Leadership in a community is often provided by strong committee structures. When active, concerned citizens get involved in a project, the benefits of committee work is readily seen. Sometimes committees get bogged down, and the groups sometimes get a bad rap for lack of leadership.

With that in mind, we are presenting the following poem, titled:

HAVE PITY ON THE COMMITTEE

Oh, give me your pity
I'm on a committee,
Which means that from morning to night

We attend and amend
And contend and defend
Without a conclusion in sight.

We confer and concur,
We defer and demur,
And reiterate all of our thoughts.

We revise the agenda
With frequent addenda
And consider a lot of reports.

We compose and propose,
We suppose and oppose,
And the points of procedure are fun;

But though various notions
Are brought up as motions
There's terribly little gets done.

We resolve and absolve;
But we never dissolve,
Since it's out of the question for us

To bring our committee
To end like this ditty,
Which stops with a period thus.

Cool front comes through

A rapidly moving strong cold front was poised to make a run through Texas by this evening, bringing cool temperatures and gusty north winds. Clear skies and cool temperatures were the rule over most of the state early this morning, but some high level clouds were scattered over the Trans-Pecos and South Texas, the National Weather Service said.

The cold front, located in Central Kansas early this morning, was expected to move quickly south into Texas and be located from Laredo to Corpus Christi by midnight, the weather service said. With a dry atmosphere over the region, the front was not expected to bring rain.

The wind was from the south or southwest at 5 to 10 mph over much of North and West Texas early this morning. South Texas had light and variable winds owing to an area of high pressure located over the middle Rio Grande plains.

Panhandle could have quake, too

By The Associated Press
Chances are slim that an earthquake the magnitude of the one that shook Los Angeles Thursday ever hit Texas, experts say.

But the most likely sites for a Texas quake are the northwestern Panhandle and El Paso, they say. "In Texas, there's not much tectonic activity," Toshimatsu Matsumoto, a geology professor at the University of Texas at Austin, told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

Even when there have been quakes in Texas, they were so mild that most residents probably did not notice them, said Davis Fahlgvist, professor of geophysics and associate dean in the College of Geological Science at Texas A&M University. The two main areas for geological movement in Texas over the years are the northwestern Panhandle area and El Paso, he said.

"El Paso is a young area, geologically speaking — about 10 million years," Fahlgvist said. "Historically, there have been some fairly large quakes there."

In the Panhandle, he said, "there have been some moderate quakes," but nothing that has approached the size and scope of the Los Angeles quake. Both men said it is the smaller quakes that occur more frequently overall.

The underground activity required to cause earthquakes exists in the El Paso area, partly owing to rifts — splits or fractures below the Earth's surface along the Rio Grande from Colorado to West Texas, said Randy Keller, chairman of the University of Texas-El Paso geological sciences department.

Keller told the El Paso Times he has studied rifts in Africa similar to those along the Rio Grande.

"An earthquake like today's could happen here, especially one about that size. We have the fault scarps on the east side of the Franklin Mountains," Keller said. "But it's not as likely one will happen here as in California."

Keller said Thursday's West Coast earthquake was strong enough that

"The side of the house is pretty thrashed. Big chunks of concrete came off the side," Verdugo said, adding his baby girl would sleep in the car.

Amid concern about falling debris, authorities sealed off a dozen blocks of the city.

"The houses up here in the hills are all a mess," said Denise Huff, whose ceiling caved in. "I'm from Ohio, and I'm going back."

Although the quake was brief, its impact was sure to reverberate for years among those whose fears became reality.

The quake was felt as far away as Las Vegas, Nev., 250 miles to the northeast. It knocked dishes off shelves in the Victor Valley, 70 miles to the northeast.

"I've lived here for a year and had horrible, horrible nightmares about the big one. I thought this was it," said Margie Thomas who raced out of a downtown Los Angeles restaurant when the shaking started. "I'm getting out of Los Angeles."

In old residential neighborhoods, porches collapsed onto lawns, chimneys toppled, windows were shattered, and streets cracked.

Those killed included a 21-year-old California State University-Los Angeles student crushed by a collapsing wall; a 32-year-old man who fell from a second floor window in suburban Maywood; and a 40-year-old construction worker buried under seven feet of earth 35 feet into a tunnel under construction in the San Gabriel Mountains, officials said.

Heart attacks attributed to the earthquake killed a 69-year-old man during a high-rise building evacuation in Los Angeles; a 72-year-old woman, distraught over damage to her apartment in the city of Bell; and a 20-year-old woman, described by a coroner's spokeswoman as overweight, in Covina.

A 70-year-old woman suffered a fatal heart attack in bed at her Irvine home as her husband tried to calm her over the telephone, but authorities said they could not prove the earthquake caused her death.

The quake, dubbed the Whittier Narrows quake by scientists, was followed by at least 16 aftershocks that measured 3 or more on the Richter scale. Three had magnitudes exceeding 4, and U.S. Geological Survey seismologist Lucile Jones said aftershocks up to magnitude 5 might occur during the coming week. The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number means a tenfold increase in magnitude. Thus a reading of 5 reflects an earthquake 10 times stronger than one of 4.

Power outages were widespread but Southern California Edison and the Department of Water and Power said electricity was mostly restored by day's end.

UTEP would have recorded it on its seismographs no matter where in the world it had occurred.

Keller had warnings for California about its well-known earthquake activity along the San Andreas fault system.

"The thing that's important is that this one was less than one one-hundredth of the size that (scientists) expect there before the end of the century," Keller said.

A quake of up to 8.5 on the Richter scale is expected. The scale is a measure of ground motion determined partly from readings on seismographs, Kelly said. The scale's numerical value is an estimate that can be off by as much as a half point either way.

What is important about the scale, he said, is that each increase of one number on the scale means a tenfold increase in magnitude of the quake. Thus a 7.0 quake is 10 times as strong as a 6.0.

The earthquake that damaged much of Mexico City two years ago probably was at least 100 times stronger than the one that hit California Thursday, Keller said.

Thursday's earthquake was not enough of a relief on the underground fault system to do more than reduce the earthquake potential only slightly in California, he said.

Houston-area banks fail

HOUSTON (AP) — Although the failures of three more Texas banks pushed the nationwide total to 141 — three past the post-Depression record of 138 failures in 1986 — federal regulators say they see better times ahead.

The failure of Western Bank-Westheimer on Thursday triggered the closings of two of its affiliates, Western Bank-North Wilcrest, N.A., and Western Bank-Westwood, N.A., Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. spokesman Alan Whitney said.

State officials said Western Bank-Westheimer had about $253 million in total assets, while federal officials put that amount at $290.9 million. The Wilcrest bank had assets of about $44.8 million, and the Westwood bank about $46.9 million, Whitney said.

The closings brought the state's total to 42 this year, and it also marked the third time this year that three Texas banks failed in one day. In 1986, Texas set a national record with 26 failures.

FDIC officials on Thursday also closed Security State Bank in Oxford, Neb., and Clay County State Bank in Dilworth, Minn. The Texas banks marked failures 139, 140 and 141 for the year.

"We're looking at this pace continuing for the rest of the year so we will probably exceed 200 failures," FDIC Chairman L. William Seidman predicted.

"We see the trend sharply reversing next year primarily because of the improvement in the Farm Belt.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A member of our Santa Barbara chapter has drawn our attention to your column in a recent edition of the News-Press. You printed a letter from an anonymous reader concerning an incident of child abuse that he/she witnessed and that the police advised should be reported to 911.

May we give you and your readers an alternative option? CHILDHELP USA operates the only national child abuse hotline in the country. It is a round-the-clock service, toll-free, and covers every state, including Alaska and Hawaii. The number is (800)4-A-CHILD, and we offer professional counseling, referral to community service agencies in the caller's local area and educational information. We counsel the abused and the abuser. If a child calls and our counselor recognizes an emergency, that child can be "patched in" to a local number for immediate help.

Pros and cons of cancer therapy

DEAR DR. GOTT — Doctors involved in cancer treatment make a point of discussing the short-term effects (nausea, hair loss, etc.) of radiation therapy, but do not seem to concede the possibility of any long-term effects. Are there any? Is this a case of the cure being worse than the disease?

DEAR READER — The use of radiation to treat cancer is a classic case of the risk/benefit ratio. The risks of not treating cancer are much greater than the risks of radiation. In other words: In general, the cure is not worse than the disease.

One caveat, however: Oncologists (cancer specialists) tend to become overly enthusiastic about treatment. If a cancer patient is expected to live six months without therapy, oncologists may try to give that person a few more weeks of life by administering toxic chemicals (chemotherapy) or radiation. The treatment may, in fact, add some time to life, but at what cost? Chemotherapy and radiation have many side effects, the most serious of which is that patients may feel perfectly awful. Therefore, each cancer patient must be given the opportunity to decide whether he or she wants to be made comfortable (a benefit) or to have extended treatment that can add further illness and discomfort (a risk).

In reality, most oncologists attempt to weigh the benefits of treatment against its risks, thereby adopting a middle-of-the-road approach that is individualized according to the patient and the type of cancer. Nonetheless, radiation (and chemotherapy) have long-term, as well as short-term, effects. Here is truly a situation in which doctor and patient can work together, using honest communication and a careful analysis of what goals the ill person wishes to achieve — and at what price, in terms of discomfort.

In old England, the word "child" referred only to a girl.

We would be grateful if you would print this information in your column. Child abuse is one of the great tragedies of our society and CHILDHELP (its staff and over 1,000 volunteer members) is working continuously to alleviate the problem through prevention, treatment and research.—Sara O'Mera, chairman, and Yvonne Fedderson, president, National Headquarters, CHILDHELP USA, Woodland Hills, Ca. 91370.

DEAR FRIENDS: I always try the hotline before I suggest it to my readers and yours is right on the button.

I spoke with "Jill" who is a graduate student in psychology. I posed a hypothetical question and asked Jill what should be done. Her advice was superb.

It's gratifying to know that my readers will be getting high-quality service.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two small diamonds fell out of my wife's wedding ring last week. She feels it is my responsibility to get the ring fixed because I bought it for her. Also, she says I'm to blame for buying a "cheap" ring. That remark just slipped out. When I became upset, she said she was only kidding.

I told her the giver is not responsible for fixing a present when it breaks. Nevertheless, I agreed to take the ring to a local jeweler and get it repaired.

Well, that is not acceptable. My wife claims it would cost much more to get the ring fixed locally than if we drove to downtown Los Angeles (one hour away) and tried to get the jeweler who sold it to me to fix it for nothing.

I run my own business and am very busy. Ann, I do not look for occasions to spend half a day trying to get something done for nothing that I am sure we will have to pay for in the end.

My wife says if I am not willing to take a half day to get her wedding ring fixed I must not care very much about her or our marriage.

Is there some feminine logic here that I am missing? Please unscramble this puzzle. Sign me—Confused in California

DEAR CALIF.: It is highly unlikely that the jeweler who sold you the ring will agree to repair it. Moreover, I do not feel that your refusal to drive to Los Angeles means that you don't care very much about your wife or the marriage.

If this problem is a sample of what you two fight about I suggest that you both go back to the clergyman who performed the ceremony and get a better perspective on what marriage is all about.

What's the story on pot, cocaine, LSD, PCP, downers, speed? Can you handle them if you're careful? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Lowdown on Dope." For each booklet ordered, send $2, plus a No. 10, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

AC sponsoring series of programs with United Way

Amarillo College is currently co-sponsoring a series of Nonprofit Leadership Development Programs with the United Way and the Junior League of Amarillo. The first program was recently held in the AC College Union Building, Badger Den and featured a lecture/discussion on the Essentials to Good Management.

The Development Program involves a series of management workshops for volunteer boards of directors, agency executive staff, advisory boards, and public commissions designed to address the most frequent problem areas of public and nonprofit organizations, including: successful boards, financial planning, marketing, and managing change.

The purpose of the series is to improve the effectiveness of voluntary non-profit organizations by enhancing board skills in the area of resource development, financial management, marketing, and planning. Training sessions are geared to create a more productive partnership between volunteers and staff by defining roles and responsibilities and by increasing managerial skills.

The next Nonprofit Leadership Development Program is scheduled Oct. 20, again in Badger Den, and will focus on the topic of Financial Management. Questions can be directed at the college to Glenn Branch at 371-5205.

La Plata 8th, 9th grade teams defeat Marshall

La Plata Junior High School scored two football victories over Marshall on Thursday in Clovis — 15-6 in the ninth grade game and 8-0 in the eighth grade game.

A touchdown with one minute left in the game gave the La Plata eighth graders their victory, and an outstanding defensive effort by the La Plata ninth graders helped their team defeat Marshall.

Season records for the La Plata teams are 3-1 for the ninth grade and 1-2 for the eighth grade. Next Thursday, La Plata plays at home against Plainview Blue, with the ninth grade game scheduled for 4 p.m. and the Score of 23 wins scramble

A score of 23 won the Hereford Men's Golf Association's weekly nine-hole scramble Wednesday night at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

The association has scheduled another weekly scramble next Wednesday, and has also planned its association tournament for Saturday, Oct. 11.

The team of Joe Kerr, Scot Russell, Don Aycock, Mel Charest, and M.D. Franks were the winning team Wednesday night. Two teams finished in a tie for second place with scores of 25.

The format for Wednesday's scramble was five-man teams, throwing out the high score and throwing out the low score.

Herd junior varsity scores 30-12 victory

The Hereford High School junior varsity football team broke open a close game by outscoring Lubbock Dunbar 22-6 in the second half for a 30-12 victory Thursday at Lubbock.

The win, the third in a row for Hereford, gives the team a 4-1 season record. The HHS junior varsity plays its next two games at home — against Levelland on Thursday, Oct. 8 at 7 p.m., and against Clovis on Thursday, Oct. 15 at 7 p.m.

Dunbar gained a 6-0 lead in the first quarter of Thursday's game in Lubbock. Hereford cut the lead to 6-2 on a safety in the second quarter, when the Dunbar quarterback was tackled in the end zone.

Also in the second quarter, a one-yard quarterback sneak for a touchdown gave Hereford an 8-6 lead, and Hereford never trailed again in the contest.

DeLozier began the second half scoring by completing a 23-yard pass to Jared Victor for a touchdown in the third period. J.T. Heaton kicked the extra point to make Hereford's lead 15-6.

Hereford scored another safety when Moses Casas blocked a Dunbar punt, with the ball going into the end zone and then out of the back of the end zone.

Tate Smith rushed for a 10-yard touchdown run, also in the third quarter, and Heaton's PAT made the margin 24-6.

Dunbar scored a fourth quarter touchdown to close the gap to 24-12, but Hereford put the game out of reach later in the period, 30-12, when Kevlin Brown rushed 65 yards for a touchdown.

Hereford Coach Bill Bridge, the team's defensive coach, said, "Dunbar had just two good plays against us. That was basically it, just the two touchdowns."

"The defensive line did a good job rushing the passer, and the secondary did a good job taking care of the speed of the Dunbar receivers. We played hard on defense."

HHS sophomores beat Tulia junior varsity

Hereford High School's sophomore football team won its second straight game by shutting out the Tulia High School junior varsity 13-0 Thursday in Hereford.

Hereford, which has a 2-3 season record, plays at Amarillo High School next Thursday at 4:30 p.m. Hereford will also be on the road on Thursday, Oct. 15, playing Lubbock Coronado at 4 p.m.

The HHS sophomores gained a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. Jim Hillwig rushed for an eight-yard touchdown run, and Eddie Cantu kicked the extra point.

In the third quarter, a blocked punt resulted in a touchdown. Chris Solomon blocked the ball and at the same moment, Dee Nall got to the punter. Brandon Murdoch recovered the ball in the end zone for the touchdown.

Hereford had one touchdown called back because of penalties. Chuck Lemons returned a punt for 51 yards, but his effort was nullified.

Linebacker Bubba Long, substituting for an injured Brian Wagner, had 14 tackles, and linebacker George Madrigal also had 14 tackles. Madrigal also recovered a fumble, sacked the Tulia quarterback twice, and hurried a pass.

Another linebacker, Jason Lueb, had 11 tackles and recovered two fumbles. Nall, a defensive end, had seven tackles, a quarterback sack and a fumble recovery.

"It was an overall good effort by the defense. All defensive tackles played good," Hereford Coach Ron Young said.

Defensive tackles Danny Beruman and Danny Ruiz each had nine tackles.

Consistently In Top Five

Alina Benitez, a member of the Hereford High School girls' cross country team, has been a consistent performer this season. She placed third in the Levelland meet on Sept. 3, fifth in the Borger meet on Sept. 12, and fourth in both the Plainview meet on Sept. 19 and the Hereford meet last weekend. Hereford, with three athletes usually placing in the top 10 or 15, have been the highest ranking District 1-4A team in the meets so far this season. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

Miami-Florida State game tops college schedule

By The Associated Press
Florida State Coach Bobby Bowden isn't sure his team is currently worthy of the No. 4 ranking in the nation, but he is sure about Miami's status as No. 3.

"They look so good to me, I'm amazed they're not on strike," said Bowden, referring to the current strike by NFL players. "When most of those guys graduate, I sure will be happy — they've got so many fine players."

In some ways, though, Bowden is looking forward to Saturday's compelling home matchup with another Top Ten team. He's anxious to see how his youthful team will handle the veteran Hurricanes.

"I think we're going to learn more about us this week than we will them from this game," said Bowden, who starts six sophomores and seven juniors. "If we can beat Miami, I'll say, we belong up there."

"I see Miami as a proven football team playing against a team that hasn't proved itself, but might be there."

In another contest involving ranked teams, No. 7 Louisiana State will play host to No. 19 Florida. Elsewhere in the Top Ten, it's No. 1 Oklahoma at Iowa State; No. 2 Nebraska against South Carolina; No. 6 Auburn at North Carolina; No. 9 Ohio State at Illinois and No. 10 Tennessee vs. California.

In the Second Ten, No. 11 UCLA is at Stanford; No. 12 Michigan plays Wisconsin; No. 13 Arizona State takes on Texas-El Paso; No. 14 Penn State hosts Temple; No. 15 Texas A&M travels to Texas Tech; No. 16 Washington is at Oregon; No. 17 Alabama plays Southwestern Louisiana at Birmingham; Iowa, also No. 17, faces Michigan State, and No. 20 Georgia tackles Mississippi.

Fifth-ranked Notre Dame and No. 8 Clemson are idle. Bowden feels his game will feature more skilled players than any in the Fifth, sixth Dallas Cowboys to defy union

Jones, Renfro cross picket line today

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Writer
IRVING, Texas (AP) — Veteran defensive end Ed "Too Tall" Jones and wide receiver Mike Renfro crossed the NFL players' picket line today, becoming the fifth and sixth Dallas Cowboys to defy the union.

Cowboys quarterback Danny White, running back Tony Dorsett and defensive tackle Randy White and Don Smerek previously had reported back to the Cowboys.

Jones issued a statement on why he returned. "Based on circumstances regarding my contract with the Dallas Cowboys football club, I have made the decision to return to practice and will play on Sunday," Jones said.

"I hope that all my teammates understand the reasons behind my personal decision to return to camp at this time. I have no further comments," Jones said.

Jones received a letter from Cowboys' management which said he could possibly jeopardize an annuity contract if he did not play against the New York Jets on Sunday.

Jones reported to the Dallas area offices exactly two minutes before the 9 a.m. deadline. Renfro said, "My reasons for returning are economic."

Cornerback Everson Walls, who also received a warning letter from Dallas management, did not show up.

Dorsett, who was informed by Cowboy's management he stood to lose almost half of a $6 million annuity, joined his substitute teammates at noon Thursday. Dorsett lost $31,000 on strike last week.

Offensive Guard Brian Baldinger said he needed to continue to rehabilitate his knee through contact work and was disappointed in the union's efforts to arrive at a settlement with management.

"I was planning to go back in this coming Monday, but I would have been kicking myself for not going in on Friday," said Baldinger, who can make an extra $14,000 by going in this week. "I have all kinds of philosophical problems with where we've been led, and if I'm going to rehabilitate my knee, I've got to get my equipment on and start hitting Randy (White)."

Dorsett, who had been an active member of the Cowboys' picket line, said he wasn't particularly happy about breaking with the union.

"Every individual has to make his own decision. I'm just trying to put bread on my table," Dorsett said. "I respect unions. But the way things are being negotiated is very discouraging."

Stanton eighth grade ties Plainview Blue

Stanton Junior High School battled Plainview Blue to a 14-14 tie in an eighth grade football game Thursday in Hereford, and lost to Plainview Blue 27-8 in a ninth grade contest.

Stanton plays at Clovis next Thursday against Yucca. Game times are 4 p.m. for the ninth grade and 5:30 p.m. for the eighth grade.

Stanton's eighth grade team has a 1-0-1 season record, and the Stanton ninth grade team is 1-3.

Plainview Blue gained a 14-0 lead in the first half of Thursday's eighth grade game. Stanton's Leo Brown rushed 20 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter, and also carried for a two-point conversion.

A 15-yard touchdown run by Brown put Stanton into a 14-14 tie with Plainview Blue in the fourth quarter. Stanton went for a two-point conversion to gain the lead, but was not successful, and the game remained tied.

The Stanton defense recovered six Plainview fumbles, blocked two punts, and intercepted one pass. Raymond Flores, Joel Gaytan, Marty Griego, T.J. Samples, Michael Campos, and Gilbert Contreras each recovered one fumble.

Griego and Joe Riojas each blocked a punt, and Lewis Zepeda intercepted a pass.

In the ninth grade game, Plainview Blue led 14-0 at halftime and 21-0 at the end of the third quarter in defeating Stanton 27-8.

Stanton's Jose Nava scored with a two-yard run in the final period, and also carried for a two-point conversion.

Seven turnovers, all fumbles, were lost by Stanton.

MAKE A PROPER LANDING

NEW YORK (AP) — Roll onto your midfoot and heel when landing from a jump during aerobic dance, suggests the Reebok Aerobic Information Bureau.

It says a Pennsylvania State University study found that aerobic dancers who landed only on their toes hit the ground harder than those who rolled onto their whole foot.

The researchers suggest instructors emphasize complete foot involvement during jumping since this would lessen foot strike force and thus reduce the potential for injury.

The most popular form of the card game bridge was thought up by the yachtsman and railroad financier Harold Stirling Vanderbilt on a cruise (probably on the bridge) from Los Angeles to Havana in the mid-1920s.

Mission Yearbook: As we celebrate World Communion Sunday

this week, it is Good News to hear of Kipuni Kimbundu, an Elder in the Kingabwe Presbyterian Church in Kinshasa, Zaire, Africa. Rev. Bill Warlick was pleased when Elder Kimbundu gave 10 sacks of cement to help build the Kingabwe church. Warlick was deeply moved when he was asked to Kimbundu's house for dinner after church and found that his house was not finished yet because he had given away the cement. Today, may we pray for this church and this ministry of generosity that comes from around the world to challenge us to receive by giving.

ALLEY OOP by Dave Graue

MARMADUKE by Brad Anderson

Meeting held by Sweet and Fancy Cake Decorating Club

The members of the Sweet and Fancy Cake Decorating Club met recently at King's Manor for their first meeting of the year.

President Carol Kelley called the meeting to order and the guests, Janie Balderaz and Magdalena Leal were introduced. A thank you was extended from Evelyn Crofford to the club for making her 50th Wedding Anniversary cake.

Kelley announced that cake decorating lessons for the public would begin on Monday Oct. 5 at 7:00 p.m. at the Community Center. Members are asked to be at the lessons about 15 minutes early to help set up. Betty Henson will teach the lessons.

Marrie Leverett distributed the new yearbooks and pointed out the highlights. It was noted that the November meeting will be on a Wednesday instead of the usual

Thursday.

An amendment to the club by-laws was discussed. Members will be asked to make a down payment on large purchases and pay the balance upon possession of the merchandise.

Members were also reminded that dues were due and if they could not regularly attend club meetings that an associate membership should be considered.

Betty Henson and Marrie Leverett will be responsible for the King's Manor October birthday cakes.

The meeting was adjourned and members demonstrated their favorite cake borders to the residents of King's Manor and then enjoyed lunch with the residents.

Members present were: Elida Balderaz, Isabel Cervantez, Elizabeth Flores, Beckie Fry, Henson, Kelley, Leverett, and Rosa Rodriguez.

KAUFFMAN'S WALL RELIEFS

NEW YORK (AP) — The exhibition "Craig Kauffman: Wall Reliefs From the Late 1960s," is on view at the Whitney Museum of American Art through Nov. 8.

The exhibition of three-dimensional paintings on plexiglass consists of seven lozenge-shaped works. The museum says they are "Quintessential examples of the pristine aesthetic known as 'Los Angeles fetish-finish,' which is characterized by a sensuously colored, immaculately finished surface."

Kauffman discarded canvas to paint first on glass, then plastic. By spraying paint onto the back of plexiglass, he was able to achieve a shadow box effect. The bubble shape of the reliefs was achieved by means of an industrial process of vacuum-formed molding.

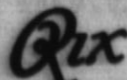

Anyone who moves a lot comes to appreciate the usefulness of an old crumpled newspaper.

In life, three things are certain: death, taxes and the odds that dropped toast will hit the carpet butter-side down.
