Rodeo Performances Kick Off Today

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Hereford's National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage All Girl Rodeo festivities are now underway, and the first performance of the all girl rodeo at 7:30 tonight at the Hereford Riders Club arena should give area residents an idea of the type of competition they will be seeing through Saturday night.

Ninety original paintings and sculpture by some of America's most noted female artists went on display today at noon at the Hall of Fame in the basement of the Deaf Smith County Library.

Members of Women Artists of the American West, who are convening here for their annual meeting, are participating in the showing, and art buyers from throughout the West have indicated interest in attending the art sale.

Admission to the art show is free, and the showing will continue Friday and Saturday with hours set for 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. both days.

The art display will remain open to the public through June 30.

A PAINTING AND sculpture will also be awarded by the Hall of Fame in a special drawing here on Memorial Day, May 30. Tickets for the drawing are priced at $1 each.

A reception for rodeo contestants began at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Little Bull Barn.

Some of the nation's top cowgirls have entered events in this year's rodeo, which include barrel racing, steer undecorating, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping and team roping.

Contestants in the rodeo will include Connie Combs, 1976 GRA world barrel racing champion; Jimmie Gibbs, 1976 GRA barrel racing champion; Amy Iverson, 1976 bull riding champion; Sue Pirrle, 1976 bareback bronc riding champion; Bonnie Pleasant, 1976 calf roping champion and 1976 runner-up to the all-around champion; and Kathy Kennedys and Becky Fuchs, 1976 team roping champions.

EACH RIDING EVENT in the rodeo will carry a $550 added purse, and each timed event will carry an additional purse of $500.

A new feature of this year's rodeo will be a Super Horse Contest, which will feature a Starrline two-horse trailer valued at $4000 as the first prize. The trailer is being donated by Wyoming Realty Co. of Wheatland, Wyoming. A total of $1,000 will be divided 50, 30 and

Toastmasters Set Charter Banquet

The newly formed Hereford Toastmasters Club will hold its charter presentation dinner Friday night at the Cason Steak House, it was announced this week by Bob Wear, president.

The ladies' night banquet will start at 7 p.m. Members of the club are urged to make reservations for the dinner, and friends may be invited.

20 per cent for the second, third and fourth place finishers. The prize money is being donated by Starrline Versatile Trailer and Fencing Co. of Wheatland, Wyoming.

The Hereford rodeo is the first of five qualifying rodeos for the new event. To qualify, a horse must be entered in at least three events at every all girl rodeo in the contest.

Other rodeos include Red Bluff, California; Billings, Montana; one in the Mountain Prairie Region and San Antonio

FOLLOWING TONIGHT'S rodeo performance, the West Texas Express will provide music for a dance at the Little Bull Barn. The dance is scheduled to begin at 9:30.

A dance will also be held at 9:30 Friday night at the Little Bull Barn, and a final rodeo dance will get underway at 10:30 Saturday night.

An afternoon of rodeo-related activities is planned for Saturday, kicking off with a parade in downtown Hereford at 2 p.m.

Immediately following the parade, games will be held at Dameron Park.

COMPETITION WILL include cow chip throwing, a women's greased pig chase, horseshoe pitching and a stick horse race for children two to ten years of age.

Special activities are also planned to honor Hall of Fame inductees Saturday.

A coffee will be held at 10 a.m. in the Bill Griffin home at 200 Sunset and the Hereford Country Club will be the site of a noon luncheon.

Bernice McLaughlin, Lucille Mulhall, Sydna Yokely Woodyard, Rhonda Sedgwick and Mike Reid Settle will be honored as the 1977 Hall of Fame inductees during the final rodeo performance Saturday night.

Following the rodeo, a reception will be held for the inductees at the Hereford Country Club. The reception is being sponsored by Nancy Binford of Wildorado, daughter of Kathryn Binford, a 1976 inductee.

A BIG HUSTLIN' Hereford welcome is extended to the Girls Rodeo Association as members roll into town for the Hall of Fame Rodeo! The first performance of the All-Girl rodeo is set tonight, and rodeo chairman Jack Andrews and his crew have put much work into the big three-day event. All it needs now is your attendance.

WE'VE ALWAYS believed that both sides of a controversial issue should be aired but, like many other citizens, we take a dim view of former President Richard Nixon's decision to tell his side 2 1/2 years after he resigned in shame.

He had never taken the many chances offered him to tell his side of Watergate, but now is reported to be receiving well of $600,000 for his 27 hours of interviews with David Frost. That can't help the image of politicians, or former presidents.

JOE MCCARTHY, who managed the New York Yankees to eight pennants in the 1930s and 1940s, once listed these proverbs as important to anyone who wants to be a good baseball player. Some of his proverbs may also be applied to daily living.

Cutting Corners En Route To Hall of Fame

Mike Reid Settle of Silverton is shown cutting a close corner in barrel racing competition. Mrs. Settle, who claimed the National Collegiate Rodeo Championship in barrel racing in 1959, 1960 and 1961, is one of the five women to be inducted into the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage during the final performance of the All-Girl Rodeo at the Hereford Riders Club Arena Saturday night. Biographies on Mrs. Settle and the other inductees and additional photos are included on Page 2.

Zinser Named Valedictorian During Assembly

Phillip Zinser, who has attended Hereford public schools since the first grade, was named valedictorian of the 1977 graduating class of Hereford High School this morning during the annual HHS awards assembly.

At the hushed climax of the awards program, it was announced that Larry Landers was class salutatorian and Zinser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zinser Jr., was named valedictorian with a grade

HOF Inductees Represent Rich Western Heritage

BY JIM STEZERT
Brand Farm Editor
Highlighting the final performance of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame rodeo here Saturday night at 7:30 will be the induction of five new members into the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage.

This year's inductees represent a broad spectrum of the nation's western heritage, the modern style of the American rodeo and the role which women play in professional rodeo events today.

Three of the new inductees are still active in rodeo or western-related activities while two of the inductees who will be honored posthumously Saturday night made their own marks on rodeo history during their lifetimes.

The following is a biographical sketch of this year's inductees.

BERNICE MC LAUGHLIN
Bernice McLaughlin today

resides on a cattle ranch at Des Moines, New Mexico, where she had been honored as an outstanding soil conservationist for her program of grass management and for developing adequate stock water by terracing her cropland to prevent water erosion.

She was born 85 years ago in Alberta, Canada.

In 1911, at Calgary, she rode a wild pony "Smookey" in the high jump competition against male competitors and three times broke the existing record with a six foot two inch jump.

Since that time the contest has been outlawed at rodeos, because of the great danger to horse and rider.

Mrs. McLaughlin and her husband Loris came to New Mexico in 1916 and homesteaded a tract of land. McLaughlin was killed by lightning in 1919, leaving his wife with two small children.

Mrs. McLaughlin had no rights or claim to the land on which she lived, because she was a citizen in a foreign country. She eventually became a U.S. citizen, and after a lengthy fight, won the right to homestead the land.

She lost the land two other times before it eventually became hers. She now lives alone and operates the cattle ranch.

LUCILLE MULHALL
The late Lucille Mulhall was born in 1885, the daughter of Col Zack Mulhall, a famous producer of wild west shows.

She grew up on a ranch in the Oklahoma Territory where she became a proficient ranchhand, rodeo contestant, and wild west show performer.

On two occasions, she broke existing world records while competing with men in roping events.

A headliner long before Will Rogers, she worked in shows with the renowned western humorist.

During one of the first western-style contests seen in

New York City in 1905, a steer broke away and went into the stands, terrifying the audience. Mulhall and Tom Mix, a then unknown cowboy, moved into the stands to head the animal off and the steer was then roped by Will Rogers. The incident made the wild west show an instant success.

The word "cowgirl" was reportedly first coined for Lucille Mulhall, and she was termed "the golden-haired girl of the west" by former President Teddy Roosevelt.

She died in a car accident in 1940, and was nominated for the posthumous honor by Will Rogers Jr.

SYDNA YOKELY WOODYARD
A native of the Texas Panhandle, the late Sydna Yokely Woodyard was a resident of the Lazy L Ranch at Canadian.

Termed a true woman of western heritage, she acquired considerable skill with horses and cattle, talents easily traced to the way of life she had grown accustomed to on the ranch.

She was widely acclaimed in the 1940's and 1950's for her activities as a top flight calf roper and trick horse rider.

"Life" magazine published two full pages of pictures on her performances in Madison Square Garden and Boston Garden.

At one time, she was one of the few calf roping women in the world, and writers including Ernie Pyle and Eleanor Roosevelt devoted stories to her beauty, pettiness and performing ability.

Mrs. Woodyard helped to form the American Quarter-horse Association in Southern California prior to her death in 1959 at Winslow, Arizona when she was kicked by a horse.

RHONDA SEDGWICK
Rhonda Sedgwick's present profession is that of a rodeo organizer, although she has had experience in riding competition.

Making her home at Mush

Creek Ranch near New Castle, Wyoming, she works with her parents in raising cattle and registered quarterhorses and Appaloosas.

She was named Miss High School Rodeo America in 1966 and Miss Rodeo Wyoming in the competition for Miss Rodeo America. As Miss Rodeo Wyoming, she was named winner of the horsemanship award and was also champion barrel racer for two years in her native state.

The holder of numerous rodeo queen, quarterhorse show and all-around cowgirl titles, she entered her present profession as a rodeo organizer after developing unique country-western organ stings.

She began her career of playing at rodeos in 1966 and was the first woman organizer to hold a contract member's card in the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

She has been featured as the musician at major rodeos throughout the west. She is a member of the G.R.A. P.R.C.A. CowBelles, Fellowship of Christian Activities and the American Federation of Musicians.

WILHELMINE SETTLE
Mrs. Settle, born to a ranching family on the Texas Plains, is still a working cowgirl who assists her husband in operating a ranch, when she is not teaching school at the Silverton community.

As a young girl, she won the Texas High School Barrel Racing Championship and was also named to the Morris Stephens Rodeo Company for winning the greatest sum of money at rodeos produced by the firm.

Mrs. Settle claimed the National Collegiate Rodeo Championship in barrel racing for three consecutive years, 1954, 1955 and 1956.

She was also a winner in collegiate team racing competition at West Texas State University, Texas Tech, Hardin Simmons and Texas Tech. New Mexico State, New Mexico University, ENMU and Oklahoma University.

Mrs. Settle also advanced to the finals of the Ranch Girls' Barrel Race at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and Rodeo on four occasions.

In addition to the induction ceremonies Saturday night, other activities have been planned locally to honor the 1977 inductees.

A coffee will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Bill Griffin home at 200 Sunset.

The Hereford Country Club will be the site of a noon luncheon for the inductees Saturday.

Following Saturday night's final performance of the all girl rodeo here, a reception will be held for the inductees at the Hereford Country Club.

Nancy Binford of Wildorado, the daughter of Kathryn Binford, one of last year's inductees, is sponsoring the evening reception.

Dereze Testimony Continues Today

HOUSTON (AP)—The defense was expected to continue its cross examination of Paul Cantrell Dereze today in the fourth day of the capital murder trial of Vernon McManus charged in the slaying of her parents.

Mrs. Dereze, 27, testified Wednesday that McManus told her he and two other men killed her parents last July in their fashionable Baytown home.

She also said McManus threatened to kill her and her young son if she told anyone about his role in the slaying. McManus is charged in the July 25

15 Nations Refuse Weapon Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifteen nations that export nuclear tools and technology refused to agree on a proposal to slow the spread of nuclear weapons, despite U.S., Soviet and British backing for the plan.

Although members of the so-called Nuclear Suppliers Club failed to reach an accord during last week's talks in London they did agree to resume their talks next month.

Giving the first account of the secret exchanges that preceded last week's allied summit talks, insiders say two themes dominated the two-day meeting.

The first was a former British-Soviet proposal, supported by the U.S. delegate,

Police Report

Hereford police Wednesday investigated three traffic accidents, one resulting in minor injuries to a 19-year-old motorcyclist and two alleged bicycle thefts.

A motorcycle driven by Mercedes Dominguez of 210 Higgins collided with an automobile in the intersection of Catalpa and Knight at 8:12 p.m.

Dominguez was treated at Deaf Smith County General Hospital for injuries to the face, arm and leg. The driver of the automobile was cited for failure to yield right of way.

Hereford police also investigated two minor accidents.

A bicycle theft was reported at approximately 4:45 p.m. Wednesday at T.G.A.Y. the value of the black 10-speed bicycle is estimated to be $90. Arthur Burton, deputy sheriff, reported the theft of an orange bicycle valued at $63.

Per Capita Income Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you fit the government's description of an average American, your income increased by 9.1 per cent last year, and you gained a step on inflation.

The Commerce Department reported that per capita income jumped from $5,903 in 1975 to $6,441 in 1976. The government measured inflation for the same 12 months at 4.8 per cent.

Residents of Hawaii, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota lost ground to inflation during the year, the government said. But elsewhere the news for consumers was good.

Stability for two years. Top administration economists, urging the extension, said the council would be assigned new duties to provide early warnings of problems that could heighten inflation.

The Senate Banking Committee approved a $14.8 billion housing and community development authorization bill, increasing limits of Federal Housing Administration insured mortgages and reducing down payments.

Mortgage limits for FHA insurance would be increased from $45,000 to $60,000 for single family homes, and down payment requirements for homes costing more than $25,000 would be reduced from 10 per cent to 5 per cent.

Paul Harvey News

There Are No 'Victimless' Crimes

That last FBI crime report should reassure us all. For the first time in five years it indicates no overall increase in crime.

For the first time since we've been keeping score, violent crime actually decreased. Murders, muggings, rapes and assaults declined 5 per cent!

But the FBI keep no national statistical summary on so-called "victimless crimes."

The FBI has no tally of such crimes as arson and fraud, embezzlement and other white-collar offenses.

And the big league criminals--and even some minor leaguers--are now robbing us by the back door.

Here is a news report relating to "vast land holdings, real estate properties, resort properties, restaurant franchises and national prepaid dental insurance."

It sounds like a thriving conglomerate in which any investor might invest with confidence--until you read further that this financial empire is promoted by an unholy alliance of teamsters and mobsters.

Twenty years ago our tax laws were rewritten to require that big spenders must be able to identify the sources of their big income.

This drove the hoods into quasi-legitimate businesses.

Criminals, organized and otherwise, infiltrated businesses which they could use as fronts--from which they could collect a carefully taxed income.

Yet those therefore legitimate businesses they now began to operate with mob muscle and political clout.

So while we can be encouraged by the statistics relating to "violent crime," we must not construe these numbers to reflect a renaissance of righteousness.

Former Chicago Crime Commission chairman Virgil Peterson researched the inroads which Al Capone's heirs have made into the beer business, the bottled water business, the linen supply business, the parking lot business, the food supply business and some unions--and he concluded that it is impossible for anybody to survive in the city for 24 hours without paying tribute to the underworld.

On the surface the nationwide prepaid dental insurance business spawned in Arizona is altogether legitimate, except that it has options denied to legitimate businesses: kick-backs and threats, coercion and violence.

The mob likes to operate in the dark, must chuckle with glee to see the FBI and the CIA take headlines away from them

And while such corporations as AT&T and Gulf Oil take the heat from consumer groups and federal agencies for "restraint of trade" or "unconscionable profits" or "political action," mob-manipulated corporations conceal their excess profits and bury their competitors.

Sheriff Says D'Artois Guilty

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Sheriff Al Amiss insists that George D'Artois and Donald Gardner are guilty of slaying Jim Leslie, and they remain the chief suspects in his investigation.

His remarks at a news conference Wednesday came one day after a state district judge ruled that there was not sufficient evidence to hold the pair for the shotgun slaying of the young Shreveport advertising executive last July 9.

Attorneys for D'Artois, said they may sue Amiss, presumably because the former Shreveport Public Safety Commissioner was arrested on charges that did not stick.

"The loss of the first battle does not mean we have lost the war," Amiss told reporters. He indicated that his case fell apart when Dist. Atty. Ossie Brown refused to give immunity to two key witnesses.

"The district attorney was in a spot and he did his best," Amiss said.

Dist. Judge Frank Foil agreed with defense attorneys that there was no link shown in court between the defendants and the death of Leslie in a Baton Rouge motel parking lot.

Amiss, however, said he remains convinced that Gardner is connected with the slaying.

"I feel like he was—we have warrants and we arrested him—I feel he was guilty," Amiss said.

'Entitled' To Session

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A mystery note, presumably from a lobbyist, caused Rep. Mat Garcia to drop an attempt Wednesday to force a horse race gambling bill out of committee so the House could vote on it.

The question is: Who wrote the note?

"Those people who are interested in having horse racing in Texas are entitled to have a vote on it this session," he said in moving to instruct the House Intergovernmental Affairs Committee to send the bill to the floor.

The bill would allow pari-mutuel betting in counties that vote to have it. A state agency would regulate it, and there would be a state tax on bets.

Several representatives objected that forcing the bill to the floor would do violence to the House committee system.

Rep. Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth committee chairman, said the bill simply got caught in a logjam behind "local bills that you desperately want passed." Such bills are a prime responsibility of Lewis' committee.

Rep. John Wilson, D-La Grange, said, "I guarantee you the architects of the motion are two men sitting in the gallery, Al Pujola and Bill Pumphrey."

"If you put both their brains in a meadow lark, a hawk would catch it before mid-morning."

Wilson said.

Pumphrey is a registered lobbyist for horse racing interests. Pujola is chairman of the Texas Horseracing Association.

After further argument, Garcia abruptly withdrew his motion to instruct.

He told reporters he did so because Rep. Leonard Briscoe, D-Fort Worth, "brought me up a message" from one of the two lobbyists. He displayed a handwritten note saying, "Withdraw your motion."

Briscoe said, however, he wrote the note himself and, "I don't take instructions." He then went back to Garcia and said, "What's wrong with you, man?"

"You were walking in and I thought he Pumphrey gave it to you," Garcia said.

Take all of the unpleasant things you've ever known about banks. And forget them. Forget that you've ever felt uncomfortable asking for a loan. Forget that you've ever had to wait in a long line to make a transaction. Forget that banks are cold buildings that lock your money up in a safe. Forget all of that!

Now... think about what you'd like your bank to be. And think about how you'd like to feel when you visit it.

Think about how you'd like to be treated by the people who work for your bank. The way you'd like to be treated as a person and not just another customer.

Think about the trust you put into your bank. How much you depend on it when you need assistance. And why it's so important to have faith in the people who run it.

Think about all of the reasons why you don't want to feel uneasy when you visit your bank. And why you should feel at home.

We've thought about them. That's why we're the way we are. When you visit our bank, we do whatever we have to do to make it the best of all possible banks for you.

We don't want you to think of us as just another bank. We'd like you to think the best of us.

Air Force Denies Keeping Projectes

WASHINGTON (AP) - Top Air Force officials are denying they tried to keep expensive computer development projects alive in defiance of congressional edict. One disbelieving senator says the denials are "garbage".

Charging "gross deception" by senior officers, Sen. Thomas Eagleton has accused a two-star general of lying. He called testimony by Maj. Gen. Robert L. Edge before a Senate defense appropriations subcommittee "the most disgraceful performance by any witness I've seen in my career in the Senate."

"Do you think we should sit here and give one-half ounce of credibility to the garbage you have given to the committee?" the Missouri lawmaker asked.

Edge, assistant Air Force chief of staff for communications and computer resources, clearly was stunned by Eagleton's charges, but refused to comment. He won a vote of confidence, however, from Gen. David Jones, Air Force chief of staff.

Jones called Edge a man with "a reputation for veracity" in "a long and honorable career."

The subcommittee planned further testimony on the issue today. It arranged to hear from Pentagon analysts who reported last year that computer development programs abolished by Congress in 1975 apparently still existed.

Two years ago, the Air Force was ordered to re-evaluate its computer projects to determine which were "mission essential" or non-"deferrable," meaning vital to continuing operations.

But documents leaked by Pentagon sources to congressional investigators last month started an inquiry into whether these guidelines had been applied improperly by Air Force officials to keep virtually all former programs in existence.

The over-all cost of the computer programs is estimated at $803 million, slightly less than a 1975 estimate. But the final figure could be as much as $44 million more, officials said.

Of special interest to investigators were notes handwritten by Edge last January in which he suggested that detailed summaries of the Air Force projects not be furnished to congressional committee chairmen because they probably wouldn't read or understand them.

The notes were key elements in arousing suspicions by congressional investigators that the Air Force was concealing its plans.

Polygamist Murdered By 2 Women

MURRAY, Utah (AP) - Two dark-haired, heavy-set women in their 20s walked into an office and calmly shot to death a surgeon who claimed to have at least six wives and 40 children, police said.

Dr. Rulon Allred, 71, a neuropathic surgeon admitted polygamist, died Tuesday in his office in this Salt Lake City suburb. Police said seven shots were fired from the two hand-guns.

Police Sgt. Paul Forbes said several persons, including members of Allred's staff, were in the doctor's waiting room when the women entered sometime after 4:45 p.m.

Officials said they were told the patients and nurses heard several shots and then saw two women leave and walk around a nearby home.

No one else was injured and no arrests were made, police said.

Scene From 'The Birds' Resembles Swift Attack

ANDERSON, Calif. (AP)— It was a nightmarish scene plucked from the chilling movie "The Birds": thousands of twittering swifts dive-bombing Dottie Sherlock's chimney.

"It was the most fascinating thing I've ever seen," Mrs. Sherlock said in a telephone interview Tuesday as a chimney sweep was removing the last carcasses of the birds that had beat themselves to death inside the chimney.

"It was just like out of an Alfred Hitchcock movie," she added referring to the Hitchcock movie where thousands of birds attacked humans.

The Monday incident was the second time in a week that a home in rural Shasta County, 200 miles north of San Francisco, had been assaulted by huge flocks of birds. Last week a home in nearby Redding was also "attacked" by swifts, the fire department reported.

Experts are hard-pressed to come up with a reason.

"I can't really explain it," said Dr. Murray Fowler, a veterinarian at the Davis campus of the University of California. A swift is a small, plainly colored bird which resembles a swallow.

"We heard the noise and looked outside," Mrs. Sherlock said. "A huge black cloud of birds was over the house, then 30 or 40 would dive bomb into the chimney. The flock would circle and then 30 or more would do it again."

But the birds were remarkably calm, especially those which managed to get out of the chimney.

"My 11-year-old boy held one in his hand for over an hour," she said. "At first I didn't want him to go out, but the birds weren't pecking or biting. Some were sitting on my dog and he didn't even bark."

The birds forced soot from the chimney into the house and hundreds of dead bodies fell to the bottom where they were trapped by the closed flue. Although there was little other damage, Mrs. Sherlock isn't taking any chances.

The ladybug is really a beetle.

Energy Crisis May Give 4-H Incentive

COLLEGE STATION— "The energy crisis may be just the needed incentive to add some real fun to 4-H summer outdoor programs," contends a 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Canoeing and sailing are two of the most satisfying outdoor sports available to 4-H'ers and their families today and are considerably less expensive than motorboating, points out Jeannine Callahan. Our American heritage on the American waterways began with the canoe and sailboat, and they are still the most versatile watercraft today.

"These two exciting water-sports open the door to a wide variety of outdoor skills ranging from sport fishing and white-water racing to silent communion with nature. Canoes and sailboats are allowed in thousands of waterways where motorpowered crafts are not permitted," says Callahan.

"The greatest obstacle that must be overcome is the old stereotype fear of canoeing and sailing, there are hundreds of styles of boats to fit every need and pocketbook. Both crafts are manufactured in guaranteed unsinkable and noncapsizable models."

4-H clubs offering projects on outdoor education, hunter safety, camping, canoeing and outdoor cookery are springing up all over Texas.

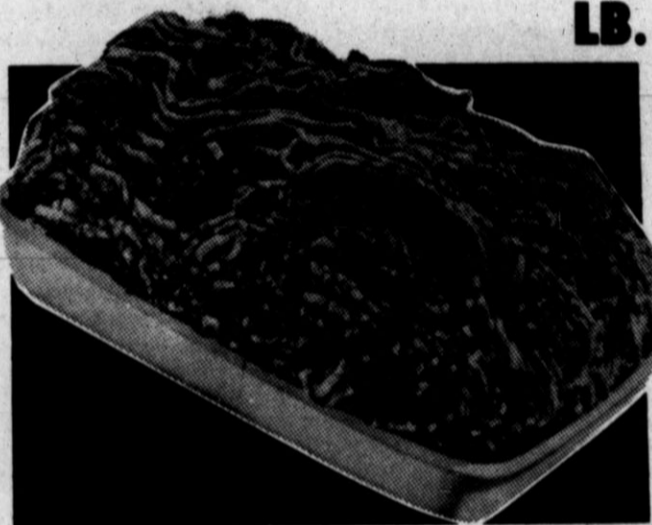

Families with youth that are interested in the excitement and adventures that the outdoors can provide should contact the local county Extension agent's office today to find out more about what the 4-H program has to offer, adds Callahan.

After the "Beer Hall Putsch" in 1923, during which the Nazis tried to take over the government of Germany, Hitler was convicted of treason and sentenced to five years in prison. Although his sentence was commuted to eight months, the Nazi Party was outlawed. The Crash of '29 brought him back to power.

Johnson Convicted Of Burglary

AUSTIN (AP)- The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld Wednesday a burglary conviction of Lee Otis Johnson of Harris County, who won national renown in 1968 for his 30-year sentence for the sale of one marijuana cigarette.

The dope-conviction later was overturned, but another felony conviction allowed the state to seek enhancement of the sentence for a 1974 "burglary of a habitation." Johnson got 17 years.

A neighbor of the victim testified he saw two men enter the residence in the afternoon and leave 20 minutes later carrying loaded pillow cases.

The neighbor got the license number of the car they drove off in and gave it to police.

Two pistols, three wrist watches, a diamond ring, some meat and other items had been taken from the residence.

Johnson argued on appeal he should have been allowed to act as co-counsel in his own defense. One appeals court judge, W.T. Phillips, dissented on the ground Johnson should have been allowed to do that.

Johnson said his lawyer gave him poor representation because he failed to press the issue of the voluntariness of his confession. Johnson claims police beat him up. But a Houston Chronicle reporter, King Waters, witnessed the signing of the confession, the appeals court noted, and he saw nothing to indicate Johnson had been coerced.

Rodeo, Art Promoters Speak At Noon Lions Meeting

The Hereford Noon Lions recognized the students of the six weeks from HHS and heard a short program on the upcoming All Girl Rodeo and the Art Show running in conjunction with it at their meeting Wednesday.

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Director Bob Duckworth was on hand with artists Pamela Harr and Joan Wright to present the program to the Lions. Duckworth went over the schedule for the Rodeo, while Harr talked about the art show, which begins a three-day run at the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center today.

Wright is the chairman for the show, while Harr is an exhibitor of bronze sculpture, and is co-coordinator of the show along with Pam Trotter of Hereford.

Recognized by the Lions for achievements at HHS for the past six weeks were students Suzanne Duvall and Greg Hacker, and teacher Randy Vaughn. Miss Duvall, a senior, was a drum major at HHS. FTA president, a qualifier for the state girls track meet in the shot put, and composes her own music. Hacker is a member of the National Honor Society, a Key Club member, an officer of the HHS Symphonic Band, and qualified for the All-Region Band as a french horn player.

Vaughn is the HHS band director, having been at the school for four years after having taught at Stanton Junior High for five years. He directed the HHS band to a I (one) rating (the highest) in concert, sight reading, and marching this year. He is a graduate of West Texas State University.

In other business Leo Club president Greg Pagett made a farewell speech and presented the new Leo Club officers to the Lions. The new officers include Sonja Hacker, president, Kyla Poteet, vice president, Laurie Steinkruger, secretary, and Lynn Metz, treasurer.

The Lions also welcomed and heard a short address from Lion Al Tremble of Dumas, who is a candidate for the position of Lt. Governor for the District.

Test On Mexicans Vetoed

WASHINGTON (AP)- The Environmental Protection Agency said Wednesday that one of its divisions proposed in 1975 to test a possible cancer-causing fungicide on Mexicans, to by-pass its own ban on human testing in the United States.

An EPA spokesman said, however, that the proposal was turned down by Edwin L. Johnson, who was then associate deputy assistant administrator, heading EPA's pesticide programs.

Responding to questions on the subject, the spokesman said the proposal originated in the pesticide program's Criteria and Evaluation Division, then headed by Leonard R. Axelrod, now deceased.

It involved a group of fungus-killers called "EBDC" which were known to cause cancer in animals; such findings automatically bring the chemicals under suspicion as possible causes of human cancer, until they can be proven safe.

EBDC is also suspected as a possible cause of birth defects. But the Department of Health, Education and Welfare had placed a moratorium on human testing of such questionable substances.

Town Hall Meeting
Date, Site Changed

The Hereford Town Hall Meeting date has been rescheduled from Saturday (May 14) to May 28, according to Jose Griego, co-chairman of the affair.

The meeting will include workshops, discussions, entertainment and other areas to assist Hereford residents in getting to know their city better and help them set and achieve goals for the city's improvement.

There have been two steering committee meetings for the affair, with another scheduled for Tuesday, May 17.

Town Hall Meeting place also has been moved from the Bull Barn to the high school cafeteria.

Eight states had per capita tax burdens under $500 in fiscal 1975, says the Commerce Clearing House. They include Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Board Of Realtors
Orientate New Members

The Hereford Board of Realtors had its first in-house orientation for new members earlier this week.

The orientation is a newly-instituted requirement for new applicants before they are accepted on the board. There were 12 realtors present at the meeting, representing Lone Star Agency, First Realty, Family Homes, Marn Tyler Real Estate and Carnahan Griffin Real Estate and Investments.

The meeting was chaired by Marie Griffin. "With these sessions we hope to create a better awareness of Realtor responsibilities and enable every realtor to be more competent in the real estate profession," Mrs. Griffin said.

The Hereford Board of Realtors will sponsor the sessions for new members quarterly.

Pool School Slated Monday

Individuals owning, managing or operating a public, semi-public or private swimming pool are invited to attend a swimming pool operators school between 6-9 p.m. Monday at the Hereford Community Center, Park Avenue and Avenue C.

There is no cost for attending the school, each person attending will receive a certificate.

Registration will be from 5:30-6 p.m. Topics will be discussed include algae- PH control, bacteriology, water-borne disease, water sampling, disinfection, filters and recirculation equipment.

NO MORE WASTED LAND
NOW IRRIGATE THE CORNERS WITH VALLEY

It's a revolutionary new concept in center pivot irrigation. The new Valley Corner System is the first Center pivot that hits the corners. It allows you to irrigate up to 150 acres per quarter and to adapt your system to any shape field. Expensive corner land can be converted into profitable new acreage with a Corner System Pivot. The amazing versatility of this unique system extends all the obvious advantages of center pivot irrigation - dramatic water savings, automatic irrigation the moment you need it, and precise fertilizer application to every farmer. Unusually high yields from land that was previously unproductive will enhance your whole farming enterprise. By irrigating nonproductive farmland, you are unping the overall value of your land as much as $500 per acre. You'll find as many progressive farmers have already, that the corner catcher will actually pay for itself and then some.

Winter Wheat Crop Could Be Much Better Than Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) - Good weather this spring pumped so much new life into the 1977 winter wheat crop that the harvest probably will be substantially better than many forecasters predicted last winter.

The Agriculture Department said Tuesday that this year's harvest, based on May 1 computations, will be almost 1.48 billion bushels, down 6 per cent from 1976 production but 3 per cent more than the department initially predicted last December.

An estimate of 1977 spring-planted wheat population will be announced in July, but officials think that if farmers get good weather an output of around 500 million bushels is possible.

So, if things go right, total wheat production this year could be close to two billion bushels not far below the record harvest of 2.1 billion bushels in 1976, and add further to the growing U.S. wheat stockpile.

Last year's record wheat crop included about 1.57 billion bushels of winter wheat and 561 million of spring wheat.

The winter wheat crop in Kansas, the leading producer, was estimated as of May 1 at 384 million bushels, compared with 339 million in 1976 and just a shade less than the all time record of 384.8 million bushels harvested in 1973, according to USDA records.

Officials said the 1977 average yield per harvested acre nationally is estimated at 30.9 bushels, compared with 31.6 bushels an acre last year and 32.1 in 1975.

The department's Crop Reporting Board said the winter wheat crop perked up "as a result of substantially improved moisture conditions, principally during March and April, and by May 1 mostly was in good condition except in drought areas of California and the Pacific Northwest."

As a result of the recent large crops, the U.S. wheat reserve stockpile has grown and by June 1 is expected to exceed 1.1 billion bushels, the most since the early 1960's. A year ago it was 664 million.

Consequently, wheat prices have dropped sharply and averaged $2.41 a bushel as of April on the farm, compared with $3.50 year ago, according to USDA.

The report Tuesday also showed that as of May 1:

--Orange production is estimated at 254.6 million boxes, down one million boxes from the April estimate, but still 5 per cent more than last season.

--Peach output in the nine southern states is forecast at 643.5 million pounds, up 23 per cent from last year and the most in the region since 1969.

--Spring potato output, estimated at 22.7 million hundred-weight, is up 6 per cent from prospects in April but still 8 per cent down from 24.8 million produced in 1976.

--Stocks of hay on farms are estimated at 19.6 million tons, down 23 per cent from 25.6 million on May 1, 1976.

Emergency Loans Available

Emergency loans are available from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) county office in Deaf Smith and Oldham County, J. Lynn Futch, FmHA State Director has announced.

FmHA authorized the loans following a request from the Drought Emergency Coordinating Committee.

The request for emergency assistance from the Farmers Home Administration came as a result of losses sustained by local farmers hit by the recent drought. The disaster did not affect a large number of farms, but those who were stricken have suffered severe losses.

Farmers can apply for assistance at the FmHA county office at 313 W. 3rd, Hereford, until September 30, 1977 for the production losses. To be eligible for a loan, an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster and be unable to get credit from other sources.

Loans covering actual losses are made at an interest rate of 5 per cent and are scheduled for repayment as rapidly as feasibly consistent with the applicant's reasonable ability. Loans beyond actual losses can be repaid in various periods depending upon the purpose of the loan. The interest rate for short-term loans for farm operating purposes is 8 per cent.

Long-term loans are being made at an interest rate of 8 per cent.

Emergency loan funds may be used to buy feed, seed fertilizer, livestock, or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts. A farmer can use the money for essential operating and living costs, Futch said.

Emergency loans can be used to help the farmer restore damaged farm operations and additional loans based upon the emergency designation can be used to make major adjustments in the farming operation for greater efficiency and productivity.

Advisors 'Honored'

Big Crop Could Mean Corn Price Plummet

WASHINGTON (AP) - If farmers get good weather and raise a bumper crop this year, corn prices at country elevators probably will average around the federal price support loan level of $1.75 a bushel in the 1977-78 season, according to the Agriculture Department.

That would compare with an estimated farm price of $2.25 a bushel for 1976-crop corn during the current marketing year which will end Sept. 30, the department's Outlook and Situation Board says.

But if drought and other weather problems interfere, and the world grain crop is affected, corn prices at the farm in the 1977-78 marketing year "would likely average 25 to 50 cents a bushel" above this season's market. That would mean a corn price in the range of $2.50 to $2.75 a bushel for next fall's crop.

"While final outcomes are uncertain, the generally improved moisture conditions suggest that at this time the odds favor another large U.S. feed grain crop," the board said in a preliminary report.

Coffee Crop Rebounding Sharply From Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) - This year's coffee crop in Brazil, the world's leading producer, is expected to rebound sharply from last season's frost-reduced harvest, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service, in its first estimate of 1977-78 coffee production in Brazil, said the crop is expected to total 17 million bags, a 79 per cent gain from the 9.5 million bags produced in 1976-77.

Officials said, however, that the new crop - which is now being harvested - still will be less than those prior to the 1975 frosts which severely crippled Brazil's coffee industry.

Production averaged 25.2 million bags annually in the two years prior to the freeze. A bag of coffee weighs about 132 pounds and consists of green, unroasted coffee beans.

The agency said that the estimate is based on a recent survey made by several USDA experts in Brazil's major coffee production zones.

"Information gathered during the trip and other data indicate that Brazil's frost recovery program is progressing very well."

Community Center Busy, Could Be Used Even More

By LAVON NIEMAN

Hereford's Community Center is a busy place but "it's not used as much as it could be", according to its director, Nelda Smith.

Mrs. Smith has been director of the center since March. She was hired by the city commission and is at the center Monday through Friday from 2 to 5 p.m. Her duties include answering the phone, booking meetings and parties, try to have two teen dances a month, and make sure the center is well kept.

She said she could remember when a lot of teenagers used the center as a meeting place. "This would be a great place for kids to watch television together and play games, but they just don't seem interested. Maybe they had rather drive around in their cars", she said.

The center has a foosball table, two ping pong tables and will soon have a pool table, a television, juke box and all kinds of games. She said there weren't any students coming by three weeks ago but here lately five to 15 boys have been coming by nearly every afternoon after school. "They never cause any trouble and it is a pleasure to have them here", she said. There is a 25 cents charge to play foosball, the juke box and pool table. Other facilities are free. She mentioned they also have a croquet set if any of the youth want to use it.

She is hoping there will be another summer youth program at the center similar to what has been sponsored by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce the past three summers.

"We want to encourage all citizens to take advantage of such a fine facility", she said. The center has three kitchens, a big ball room, five meeting rooms, fenced back yard with barbecue grill and patio furniture.

"We have about 30 club meetings scheduled here this week", Mrs. Smith reported. This is a typical week, but club meetings are bound to slack off this summer. These meetings do not include square dancing, first aid meetings and other such type meetings held regularly.

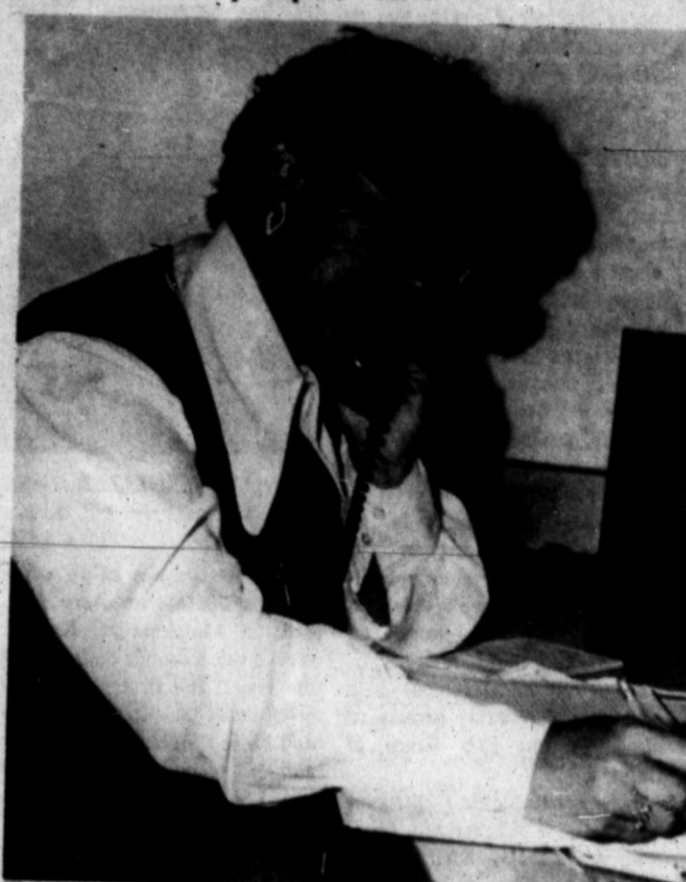

Mrs. Smith noted that there is no charge for using the facilities but there are some rules. For instance, weddings, showers, family reunions, church services are not allowed. She noted though that gymnastic, dance and twirling lessons are taught there. "The drill team will be using the facilities when the school is out to practice routines", she said.

No alcoholic beverages are allowed in the Community Center and Mrs. Smith said one of the most important things to remember when reserving a room or rooms is to pick up the key from her and return it promptly so someone else may use it.

Newcomers Like Hereford People

"We are just amazed at how friendly people are in Hereford", said Mrs. Bill McClarty, a newcomer to Hereford. Dr. and Mrs. McClarty and their family recently moved to Hereford from Amarillo. They reside at 145 Pecan.

Dr. McClarty took over Dr. Ronald Zimmerman's dental practice in January when the Zimmermans left Hereford.

The McClartys have four children, Kim, 22, who is getting married next month and presently residing in Amarillo; Mark, who will be a sophomore at West Texas State University next fall; Karen, a senior at Hereford High School; and Kelley, a sophomore at HHS. The family attends First United Methodist Church.

"The best thing about Hereford is the people and the Panhandle weather", Mrs. McClarty said. "We have lived in Alabama, Oklahoma, Nevada and parts of Texas and we love Hereford, including its weather, best". "The people here make you feel like you've been a part of Hereford for several years--we've just never lived in a town like Hereford."

Mrs. McClarty, who is known as Fredna by her friends, enjoys knitting when there is time and doing things with her husband. "We love to walk, camp and he enjoys shooting and music". "We also enjoy playing bridge", she said. Their home reveals that she also enjoys raising plants.

Melba Cooper To Graduate

Melba Cooper, a former Hereford resident, will be graduating from the University of New Mexico at Gallup, N.M. Saturday with a degree in nursing. She will be eligible to take the state board examinations and be certified as a registered nurse.

Mrs. Cooper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lawrence, 439 Ave. F. She graduated from Hereford High School in 1949 and is the wife of Benny Cooper. The couple has two children, Chris and Melissa.

The graduate will be employed by Rehobeth Hospital at Gallup.

World population at the end of 1976 was an estimated 4,047 million, representing a 71 million increase in one year, according to PRB Report, a publication of the Population Reference Bureau, Inc.

Youth, Chamber Singers To Give Concert Sunday

The public is invited to a vocal performance of Hereford Community Youth Choir and Hereford Chamber Singers at 3 p.m. Sunday in the High School auditorium. Admission will be free for preschoolers, $1 for students and $2 for adults. Proceeds will be split between the two local choirs.

Bill Devers is director of both choral groups.

Pioneer Club Members Convene At Amarillo

In their final meeting until fall, members of Pioneer Study Club held a luncheon Tuesday at Amarillo Country Club.

Mrs. W.C. Hromas, president directed a brief business session and plans were completed for assisting with registration during the Mid-Plains Day here May 28. Mrs. C.P. Cockrell delivered the invocation.

After the meal, members took a guided tour of Amarillo

Discovery Center. Other members participating were Roberta Campbell and Mmes. Herman Ford, O.G. Hill Sr., Tandy Legg, L.H. Lookingbill Sr., Ted Panciera, A. Petersen, Delmar Sigle and William W. Wimberley.

Batu, the grandson of Genghis Khan, conquered Russia in 1238-40. He was the founder of the Golden Horde.

G. E. D. TESTS

The next testing session will be Monday, May 23 and 24, 1977 at the school Administration Building. For details call

Red Cross Postpones Classes

Due to a malfunction of the boiler at Hereford City Pool, the Red Cross Water Safety Program has had to postpone indefinitely the Basic Water Safety classes which had been scheduled May 16 and 17.

This also causes cancellation of the Basic Rescue Class (Junior Life Saving), which had been planned May 18-20.

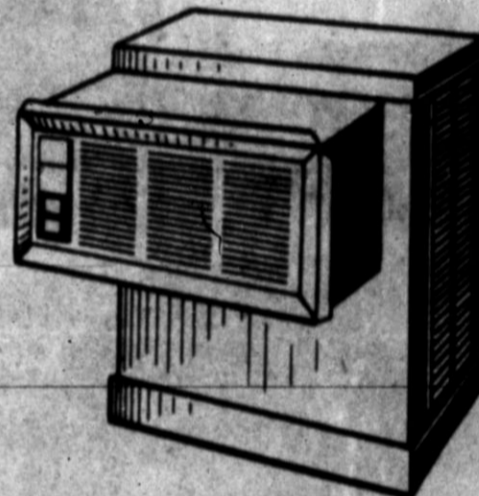

Red Cross officials hope to reschedule the water safety program as soon as possible.

Ann Landers Fatherhood Praised

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The piece I send was printed in Newsday a few years ago. I came across it again and sent it to you to share with your readers—with the author's permission. His name is Martin Weinstein.

ON BEING A FATHER

I was the product of a broken home. I grew up without the physical or spiritual presence of a father, without the comforting knowledge that, at home, there was a strong figure I could turn to for solace, warmth, and discipline—someone who would be glad to share the joys of childhood and shield me from the minor hurts.

I am now a middle-aged man, the father of three, but I can still feel the pain of being fatherless—as if I just had a tooth extracted. That void in my life has never been filled.

Growing up alone forged my character and my personality. It taught me to look only to myself for aid and comfort. But it denied me an emotional haven, the one thing a young person needs if he is to grow up whole.

How vital it is for a child to have a shoulder to cry on in crisis. He needs a place to go—so he can close his eyes and shift the burden of woe or responsibility, even for a moment, to someone who really cares. Only a father can fill this role. Only a father can create the ambience that grounds the emotional security that young people require if they are to become mature adults and, in turn, pass on to their children the warmth and love that makes for stability.

I love my children and I care about them. This means, in addition to attending PTA meetings and open school nights, I give of myself. I do not try to enter their world as a peer. I want to be a father, not a friend. I establish order in my home. This means discipline—swift, certain, consistent and, above all else, loving. I strive to transmit waves of concern without creating neurotics. This means setting the framework of my child's capacity to perform. It means sharing the victories and helping to pick up the pieces after a failure.

Being a father also means nights under a sheet—with billowing steam to cure the croup—and more nights trying to decipher the new math. It means museum time and romp time, family singing, dinner table discussions, reading Edgar Allan Poe by candlelight in the den, sacrifice without histrionics, conveying the fact that parents are human and, therefore, fallible. It means saying "I'm sorry" when you're wrong, even from your exalted position as head of the house.

The job is full-time, Saturdays and Sundays included. It can be open to anyone who cares to qualify and it is not necessarily limited to natural parents. Stepfathers, adoptive fathers, even relationship with a child that will be filled with rewards and yes, sorrows and disappointments. For the sum total of all these things is a father. DEAR FRIEND: Thank you for sending Martin Weinstein's beautiful piece, "On Being a Father." I'm sure he has helped put fatherhood in its proper perspective in a way that will be helpful to many.

Veleda Officers Installed

Using keys to symbolize the duties of each office, Mrs. Laurence Ruther conducted the annual installation of officers of Veleda Study Club Monday night in the home of Mrs. Billy Wayne Sisson.

The newly-installed president, Mrs. Ken McLain appointed various committees for the 1977-78 club season. This was the last meeting of Veleda Study Club until September, with the exception of a summer social, not yet scheduled.

In other business, members were reminded of the All-Girls Rodeo this weekend and the art show of Women Artists of the American West.

The hostesses served a "Stokki Uppie" supper with the assistance of Mrs. Bill Brady.

The third set of human molars, known as wisdom teeth, usually do not appear until the age of 18 to 20.

The Nile River, the world's longest, flows 4,157 miles from its source in Rwanda to its mouth on Egypt's Mediterranean coast.

Koelzer Enters Naval Service

Ens. Thomas Gerard (Tom) Koelzer will report to the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., May 23, to begin his military career. Koelzer, 23, is the son of Werner and Betty Koelzer, 424 Avenue J.

Koelzer was commissioned into the U.S. Navy Saturday during a pre-commissioning reception, which followed an early morning graduation ceremony at Texas A&M University, where Koelzer received his B.S. degree in Aerospace Engineering. During the afternoon, 110 candidates from A&M were formally commissioned into the different branches of the military service by Gen. David C. Jones, Chief of Staff, United States Air Force.

Members of Koelzer's family attending the graduation and commission ceremonies besides his parents were his sisters, Barbie, Cathy and Jeanie, and his grandmother, Mrs. C.E. Carney, all of Hereford. Also attending were Mary Brüssard of Edna and Bob Grace of Dallas.

Having completed a four year Navy ROTC scholarship program at TAMU, Koelzer will serve five years in the Navy, entering the pilot training field. He obtained his private pilot license at the age of 16 while working at Hereford Aero.

As a Midshipman, Koelzer served two summer cruises with the Navy, the first in aviation orientation at Corpus Christi and basic training at San Diego and the second in 1976 aboard the LST1183 Peoria in the Philippines and Japan. During this cruise, Koelzer rated as number one among the 10 midshipmen on board.

Lone Star Members Conclude Season

Mrs. J.C. Williams, president of Lone Star Study Club, expressed appreciation to her fellow officers for their service the past year Tuesday during a meeting a Hereford Country Club.

During the annual luncheon, Mrs. Williams installed the slate of officers for 1977-78. Placed in office were Mrs. J.J.

Durham, president; Mrs. Gaston Baer, vice president; Mrs. Hardy Benson, secretary; Mrs. W.H. Wiseman, treasurer; and Mrs. Henry Vaughan, corresponding secretary.

Each of the newly-installed officers received a corsage from Mrs. Williams who was presented with a gift of appreciation by Mrs. S.S. Williams.

Introduced by Mrs. G.W. Newsom, Mrs. Emil Dettman, a former club member, presented the program. The guest speaker reviewed the book "Marie Von Trapp, My Own Story," which served as the basis for the popular movie "The Sound of Music."

Serving as hostesses were members of the social committee, composed of Mmes. Newsom, Durham and H.E. Henstee. Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr. finished floral table decorations of iris, peonies and heliotrope.

BB-BS Program Evaluated

The board of director of Big Brothers-Big Sisters met Wednesday morning in regular monthly session.

President Mike Patrick read the evaluation conducted by Big Brothers of America and Big Sisters International. The national organization was complimentary of the local program and impressed with community support of Big Brothers-Big Sisters.

In her director's report, JoAn Dwyer spoke of her attendance at a recent workshop of psychotherapy. She will be attending the Big Brothers-Big Sisters national meeting in June. Margaret London, Patsy Giles and LS Cozette Moore will also be in attendance.

Norma Walden, public relations committee chairman reported that Big Brothers-Big Sisters will set up a booth at the Town Meeting, May 28, at the high school cafeteria. Members of the board will be manning the booth.

The membership committee, chaired by Patsy Giles, reported that 6 new volunteers were accepted as Big Brothers and Big Sisters. They are as follows: Earl Brookhart, Joan Heun, Twanaha Kendrick, Kevin Lea, Johnny Moya, and Patti Owens.

Rodger Ruland, reporting for the events and activities committee, announced participation in the GRA parade. He also reported on the camp-out to be held May 28 and 29 for members of Big Brothers-Big Sisters. The matches will be going to Camp Don Harrington for a fun-filled outing in the woods. Plans are being made for a fund-raising event scheduled in July.

HHS Class of '27 Plans Reunion

Hereford High School's graduating class of 1927 will stage its 50th anniversary reunion May 27-28.

On the reunion schedule is a dinner for class members, guests and 1927 faculty members at 7 p.m. Friday, May 27, at K-Bob's Steak House, 215 S. 25 Mile Ave. On the following day, reunion participants are invited to the Mid-Plains Pioneer Day celebration from 9 a.m. - 12 noon at the Bull Barn.

Concluding reunion festivities will be a reception sponsored by the Class of '27 from 3-5 p.m. May 28 at Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room, 301 W. 3rd. All interested persons are welcome.

Any 1927 graduates or teachers who have not been notified of the upcoming reunion are asked to contact Alice Womble Thompson, 364-0843, or Norma Powelson McKnight, 364-0964, for detailed information.

Association of W's Hopes to Raise Money

In an effort to boost the treasury of the local chapter, Association of the W's, members agreed Tuesday night to stage a fund-raising project this summer. Mrs. Les Mullins called the group to order in the Community Center.

The group scheduled a home products party on 7:30 p.m. June 3 in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room as a ways and means activity. The public is welcome to attend.

Also, it was announced that Mrs. Norman Gabler of Longview, a noted analyst of school textbooks, will be giving a lecture at 2 p.m. Sunday May 22 at Hereford Community Center. Mrs. Gabler is the subject of a book, "Textbooks on Trial," in which she and her husband battle to oust objectionable texts from public schools.

In a related topic, Association members were reminded that proposed textbooks are available for the public to view until July 1 at the Regional Service Center at Amarillo.

The association adjourned for the months of June and July.

Lodge Plans

To Earn Funds

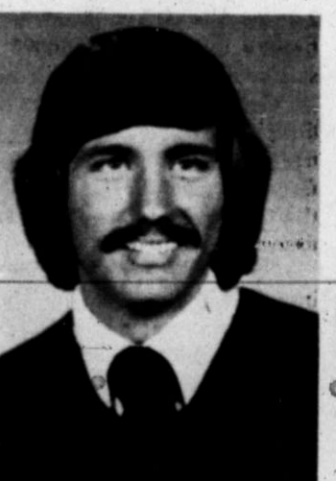

Plans for a fund-raising project were discussed by members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge #228 Tuesday night in IOOF Temple. Noble Grand Peggy Lemons presided.

Proceeds of the ways-and-means activities will be used to honor lodge members who have been an active Rebekah for 25 years or longer.

Visits to the sick numbered 35.

Helen Sowell was hostess during fellowship after the business meeting.

Members present were Ola Hacker, Martha Bridges, Ada Hollabaugh, Lydia Hopson, Bessie Saulcy, Edna Mathes, Frances Parker, Ann Freeman, Susie Curtsinger, Verna Sowell, Mrs. Lemons, Faye Brownlow and Ursalee Jacobson.

ROBERT M. HUGHES JR.

Robert Hughes Jr., son of Bob and Marcy Hughes of Bob & Marcy's Feed & Supply of Hereford has been admitted to the University of Texas Health Sciences Center at San Antonio, where he will begin study in the field of dentistry in August. He will graduate cum laude from Texas Tech University Saturday. Hughes has served as secretary and first vice president of Saddle Tramps while at Texas Tech.

Mike Gilbert

To Get Masters

Mike Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gilbert, 237 Elm, will receive his master of arts degree Saturday in graduation exercises at West Texas State University at Amarillo Civic Center.

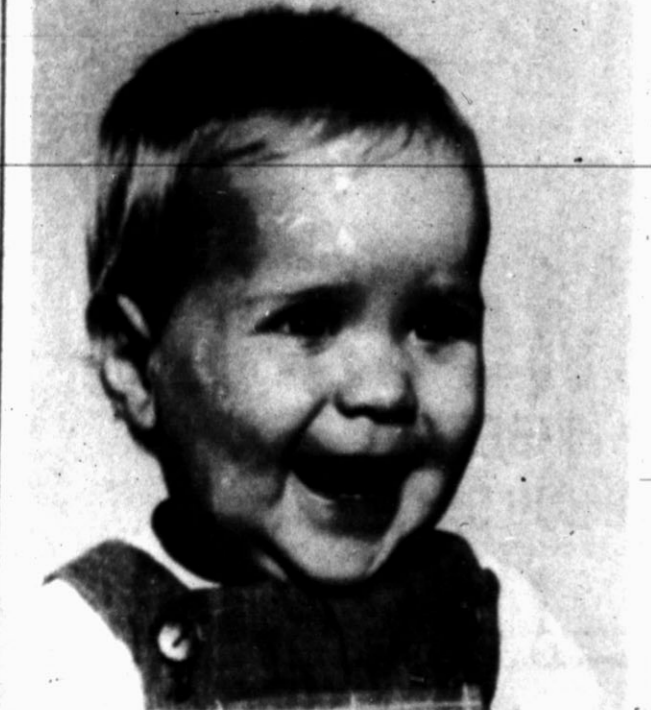

A 1970 graduate of Hereford High School, Gilbert received his bachelor of arts degree in 1974 from WTSU. He has been a graduate's assistant at WT for a year and also taught at Tahoka High School for a year. During the past school year, Gilbert has taught individualized English at Amarillo College.

He is married to the former Deana Townsend of Rock, Port. Mo. the Gilberts' home before Hereford.

Norton Dusting Off Contract With Ali

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - In some musty safe there lies a contract for Norton vs. Ali No. 4. "We've signed the contract. Ali has signed the contract, and we're counting heavily on it," said Bob Biron, manager of Ken Norton. "We expect to get Ali before the end of the year." Biron was very evasive about the details of the contract Wednesday night, shortly after Norton had destroyed highly-regarded Duane Bobick. And when Norton was asked about it, he replied, "You'll have to talk with my manager. He handles all those details." But it was clear that a fourth fight with the world heavyweight champion was in the forefront of Norton's thinking. "My attitude about it is $2 1/2 million and the crown," said Norton. "Of course, Ali will get most of the money." The fight is rumored for September in Rio de Janeiro. Norton, weighing 222 1/2 pounds, came out swinging. His first punch, a right, caught Bobick in the throat, and that was it. A couple more rights landed, and Bobick toppled to the canvas. He reached his feet at the count of nine, but referee Pety Della stopped the contest, 58 seconds into the first round. "I felt he would apply more pressure early," said Norton, "but he wasn't that aggressive, so I decided to take action." Bobick, at 26 five years younger than Norton, addressed the press after the fight in a squeaky, crackling voice. "After I got hit in the throat," Bobick said, "I couldn't do anything, I'm a slow starter anyway, and he just came out barreling for me." Besides the throat punch, Norton caught Bobick with several overhand rights to the head, an uppercut and heavy body shot. "There'll be another day for me," said Bobick, who weighed 215 1/2. "Sure I'd like to fight Norton again, but I don't think he wants me right now. He wants that title." Bobick said he was ready to continue after the knockdown. "I felt I was ready to go on. I was a little wobbly, but everything was clear," he said. "But the referee said I'm not knocking the referee. It was his decision." Norton still contends he won his last fight with Ali, a disputed decision that went to the champion last September at Yankee Stadium. In his three meetings with Ali, he once and lost two close decisions. Norton's record is 38-4 with 31 knockouts. A fourth Ali fight reportedly would be worth $12 million to the fighters, $10 million to Ali and $2 million to Norton. As for Bobick, Norton agreed his did not spell his end. "Duane is very young and he's got a good record," Norton said. "He'll get together with Eddie Futch and decide what to do. We haven't heard the last of Duane Bobick."

Lucas Fuels Rockets

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Rockets guard John Lucas sat in front of his dressing cubicle exhausted, but with a look of deep satisfaction etched on his face. "It was unreal, but I just knew if I could get back to familiar surroundings I would play well and so would the team," Lucas said Wednesday night after he had quarter-backed the Rockets to a 118-94 victory over Philadelphia in their National Basketball Association playoff series. Criticized for his inability to control the tempo to two previous losses to the Sixers, Lucas had his hand on the pulse of the game all the way Wednesday as the Rockets narrowed Philadelphia's lead to 2-1 in the best of seven Eastern Conference championship series. "Tonight we could dictate a little more what was happening," said Lucas, a rookie from Maryland. "When you get the lead you can have something to say about what to do."

But this time Kunnert didn't get into foul trouble, and in fact, played a key role in keeping the 76ers from getting into their fast break offense. "Kunnert was hitting that little short jump shot over the middle and C.J. Caldwell Jones was having to go over and guard him," Sixer forward George McGinnis said. "That keeps us from getting the fast break going." The Rockets led 33-20 by the end of the first quarter and expanded it to a 59-41 margin by halftime. Their 13-point first quarter lead was their biggest of the series to that point. Philadelphia made one run at the Rockets when they outscored Houston 15-3 in the first four minutes of the third quarter. Then Calvin Murphy hit two straight baskets, Malone scored on a dunk and two free throws and the Rockets again were out of trouble. Malone was the dominant force in the game for the Rockets scoring 30 points and grabbing 25 rebounds. Malone was strangely silent after the game however, refusing a newsmen's handshake and saying only he didn't want to talk. "We were just not shooting well," a disappointed Philadelphia Coach Gene Shue said. "We were no aggressive. They have a much better team effort. The wide spread and the rebounding in the first half was significant." "When we can't do anything with the boards, it cuts off the main part of our game." The Sixers lost guard Lloyd Free in the second quarter when he collided with Rockets guard Mike Newlin in a scramble for a loose ball. Newlin got the ball and Free was examined at a nearby hospital for what was diagnosed as a bruised chest wall.

GROGAN OKAYS CALLS FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) - There are quarterbacks in the National Football League who don't like the plays called for them but Steve Grogan, the young star of the New England Patriots, is not one of them. "Coaches have been calling plays for me since I was in high school," he said. "I think it makes a lot of sense. Nobody down on the field can possibly get the overall look that the scouts in the press box have. Out scouts phone down a quick report to Coach Chuck Fairbanks on the sidelines and he sends the plays in to me." "The coach made me learn all the blocking assignments of our offensive players. I guess if anything goes wrong he wants me to know why it did."

Bulldog Coach Ousted By Board

Based upon charges that "he doesn't cooperate with the athletic program" Plainview head basketball coach for the past nine seasons, Bill Phillips, has been relieved of those duties by the Plainview school board. The dismissal came after a four-hour executive session by the board, which lasted until 1:50 a.m. Wednesday. The final vote to not rehire Phillips was 4-2. "I thought maybe, really, that four board members might vote for me," Phillips said. "Two changed their minds." Other reasons listed for the dismissal were that the coach's bench conduct was detrimental to the team, that he failed to encourage basketball players to participate in other sports, and that he could not control his players. Phillips accused the school system of having double standards in remarks directed at Plainview athletic director and head football coach George Kirk. "The football coach was on the field half the time hollaring at the officials, and his team was involved in a free-for-all gang fight after the Lubbock Monterey game," he said. Kirk refused comment on the situation, and when asked about Phillips' statement on double standards replied, "Everybody's entitled to their opinion." Since the word of the dismissal came, Phillips has applied for several coaching jobs around the state, and reported that he had been offered several business opportunities in Plainview.

Mays, Coaches Austin Bound

Herd half-miler James Mays won't be lacking in advice at the state track meet this weekend, as if the top 880 man in the state needs any, with three coaches accompanying him to Austin. Mays left for the state capital today along with head track mentor Robert Priest and the coach's family, and assistant coaches Carroll Tucker and Steve Nieman. Mays will run his last high school race at 1:15 p.m. Saturday in the finals of the 4A 880. His 1:52.0 best time to date is tied with Houston Forest Brook's James Green's clocking for the top half-mile time in the state.

FCA Tourney Friday

The Hereford chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes will hold its annual Golf Tournament Friday, with tee times set for 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. The event, which costs $15 to enter, goes to send local representatives to a National Conference, according to FCA sponsor Rick Stewart. "We want to encourage all golfers in the Hereford area to play in this worthwhile event," Stewart said. Gift certificates will be awarded to the three top teams in the tourney. Players may sign up at the golf course or may contact Stewart at 364-6614 to register.

Umpires To Meet Here

An organizational meeting for all persons interested in umpiring baseball and softball in the Hereford area will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Civic Center tonight. L.J. Clark and C.D. Snow will conduct the meeting. The two will also conduct a school next week in order to prepare prospective umpires for calling baseball. A test will follow the three-night school. The organization could lead to the founding of a local officials' association, which would include umpires and officials for all sports, Snow said.

Playoff Begins

The Monterey Plainsmen and Amarillo High Sandies begin a best-of-three bi-district baseball series in Lubbock Saturday.

The second game will take place at Amarillo High's diamond at 4 p.m. next Tuesday day, with the third and final game if needed to be played in Amarillo at 4 p.m. Friday, May 20. Monterey, a two-time state champion (1972 and 1974) wound up this regular season with 19 straight wins, claiming the District 4-4A crown with a

Long Balls Lift A's Over Boston

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

Oakland's Mitchell Page is making American League pitchers rewrite the book. And as far as Boston pitcher Ferguson Jenkins is concerned, you can include the A's Wayne Gross and Earl Williams. "I went to slow stuff in the fifth inning," said Jenkins, "but by then it was too late." Jenkins gave up only five hits, but three were home runs by Page, Gross and Williams as Oakland downed the Red Sox 3-1 Wednesday. "I threw a hard slider to Page, fastballs to the other two guys," Jenkins said. "Next time, I'll throw them nothing but slop."

Gross has nine home runs this season, second best in the American League, while Page is tied for third with eight. Williams was his seventh. Doc Medich, 2-2, went the distance for the victory. Boston's only run was unearned as Carlton Fisk, who had three hits, doubled home Jim Rice, who had reached base on an error. In other AL games Wednesday, Cleveland clipped Milwaukee 4-3. Detroit stopped Minnesota 8-3, the Chicago White Sox nipped Texas 4-3 in 10 innings. Seattle defeated the Yankees 5-2 and California blanked Baltimore 6-0.

Mariners 5, Yankees 2
Enrique Romo tossed 2 2-3 innings of shutout relief as Seattle snapped a seven-game losing streak and downed the New York Yankees. Both Yankee runs came on Reggie Jackson's fifth homer of the season in the first inning. The Mariners used two bloop hits and an error by loser Ken Holtzman to score their runs.

Angels 6, Orioles 0
Bobby Bonds, Don Baylor and Ron Jackson slammed consecutive home runs and Frank Tanana scattered six hits, leading California over Baltimore.

Tanana, 5-1, hurled his second shutout of the season, striking out seven and walking none, as California posted its third straight victory.

Stockton Enjoys Colonial Course

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) - It may be the year of the Young Lions, but don't rule out the "Middle-aged Marauders" in the $200,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament. So says Dave Stockton, the PGA champion who at 35 figures he's too old for the Lions and too young to be called an old vet. "I guess I'm just a middle-aged marauder," he quipped on the eve of the Colonial, a tournament very dear to his almost middle-aged heart. Stockton was among the field of 102 who set forth today over the treacherous Trinity River course in quest of the $40,000 top prize.

"It always perks me up to come here," Stockton said. "I'm playing a little erratic now, but it's nothing a few birdies wouldn't straighten out." "It's pretty hard for me to have a bad attitude here. This is my kind of course."

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Gov. Dolph Briscoe's signature on a legislative bill Wednesday changed Texas' death penalty from a seat in "Old Sparky" to a shot in the arm.

Death by a lethal injection becomes the official method of execution on Sept. 1.

Texas became the second state with such a law, following Oklahoma where Gov. David Boren signed a similar bill on Tuesday.

"I think I hope this will provide some dignity with death," Briscoe commented after the brief informal ceremony in his public reception room. "I think it is a move in the right direction."

Briscoe said he supported and signed the bill on the recommendations of W.J. Estelle Jr., director of the state prison system. Estelle or anyone he designates will be the ones to give the injection of a "lethal substance."

For many years electrocution has been the means of execution in Texas.

Officials at the Texas Department of Corrections said the old electric chair, called "Old Sparky" by many of the prisoners, probably will be given to a Texas historical museum.

Briscoe was asked if he planned to delay any executions if they are scheduled before the Sept. 1 effective date of the new law.

"I had not thought about that," he replied. "Of course we do not know at this point when and if any death penalty will be carried out."

Briscoe also signed into law the "displaced homemaker" bill, which creates two pilot projects in Texas to counsel and help persons in middle age who have worked most of their lives without pay in their own homes and suddenly find themselves without financial support. One program would be established in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and the other in a rural county with less than 100,000 population.

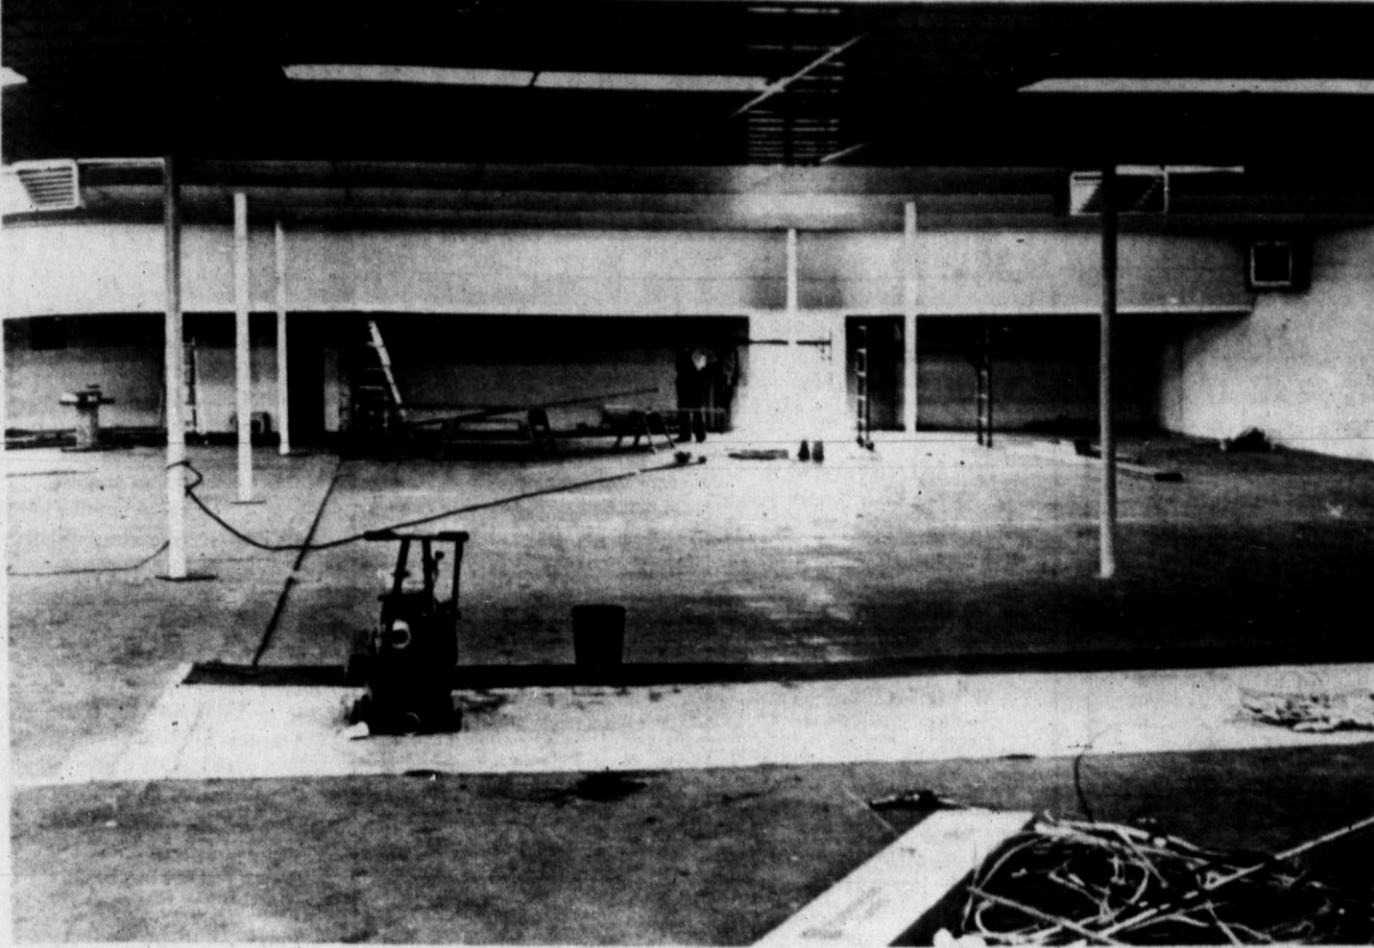

Although the Texas bill was signed a day later than the one in Oklahoma, it probably will go into effect first.

Plain Lanes

Would you believe in a month a bowling alley? The Hereford area will see the opening of Bowling's Bowl in about a month despite the building's empty look as of Wednesday. Workers were to begin installing new equipment for the lanes today, and operator Tommy Bowling has other workmen preparing the pro shop, games area, and snack bar for the opening of the establishment around June 10. The alley will be complete with 16 lanes. (Photo by Bob Nigh).

Dibbs Waylays Nasty In Turbulent Match

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) - Scruppy Eddie Dibbs thought seriously about punching out stormy Iie Nastase Wednesday night in their controversial World Championship of Tennis quarterfinal match.

"I was mad enough to hit him...but then I wouldn't have had an opponent," said Dibbs who upset the 30-year-old Rumanian in as wild a match as the WCT final has produced.

Dibbs prevailed 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 for his first victory over Nastase, whom Dibbs claimed had quick-served him in the fifth game of the first set.

"Boy, that hacked me off," said Dibbs. "I wasn't even ready. That's typical of his and that's when the four letter words started flying."

Dibbs and Nastase became involved in several shoving incidents and WCT officials John McDonald and Larry Pease moved in as peace makers.

"I've got a short fuse and Nastase gets me going," said Dibbs. "I can get as crazy as he does."

"He tried to break my concentration. It's always tough to play him. He can get you upset."

Asked about the shoving, Nastase said "Shoving? It was just for fun. We are good friends."

Pressed further about the shoving match, Nastase snapped "You want to see a good shove. Come up here."

Nastase said of the quick serve: "I won the point...I've done it before. If Dibbs is upset that's his problem. We are friends."

Dibbs debated the point, saying "I thought we were good friends. I guess we ain't."

Nastase obviously was tired from his flight back from Rumania after the weekend Davis Cup matches.

"I was just too tired...I couldn't move at all in the fourth set," said Nastase. "At the end I couldn't move at all."

Dibbs took control of the match with 11 consecutive points in the third set, which was marred by a 10-minute argument over a point which was finally replayed. It triggered another shouting match between the two players.

"They (the words) were flat naughty," Dibbs admitted.

HEY, MA, NO HANDS NEW YORK (AP) - Walt Michaels, the new coach of the New York Jets, was a linebacker in his playing days. He retired in 1961 but came back for one game in 1963. Michaels, then an assistant coach with the Jets, was pressed into service in the season opener against Boston because of injuries to the regular linebackers.

"I played the whole game without getting hurt," Walt recalled. "But one of the officials kept warning me that he was going to call holding on me if I didn't stop grabbing the tight end."

"I kept telling him that it only looked like holding," Michaels added, "and I got away with it."

Badminton originated in India where it was known as Poona.

Walton 'Outblocked', But Blazers In Charge

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - During the regular National Basketball Association season, Portland's Bill Walton was the meanest kid on the "block" - blocking an average of 3.25 shots per game. He also led the league in rebounds with a 14.4 average.

But the Los Angeles Lakers' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar has out-blocked the 6-foot-11 Walton so far in the team's semifinal playoff series, blocking a total of 11 in two games, compared to Walton's six.

Neither of the two UCLA alumni rejected a "shot" in the first game, but in the next two, Abdul-Jabbar blocked three and eight and Walton four and two.

Not that it has made much difference. The Blazers have won all three games - the first two on Los Angeles' home court.

A victory in Friday night's fourth game would eliminate the Lakers and put the Blazers in the NBA final series, against either Philadelphia or Houston.

"Blocking shots depends a lot on what the other team does," Walton said Wednesday. "Patience is a big part of it. Some nights the opportunities are there and sometimes they aren't."

"How a player rebounds and blocks shots depends a lot on the kinds of players he has as teammates. If we didn't have good shooters on this team, I would have to score more and concentrate more on that part of the game."

In Tuesday night's 102-97 Trail Blazers' victory, Walton turned scorer instead of blocker and turned the game around with a 14-point fourth-quarter burst.

Abdul-Jabbar, double-and-triple-teamed at times, took only 12 shots and turned to a passing and defensive game.

Walton and teammates Maurice Lucas, Lionel Hollins, Larry Steele and Bob Gross, all suffering from a virus, were expected to be improved for Friday's game. Also expected to be on hand is starting guard Dave Twardzik, who missed the first three games because of a sprained ankle and a death in the family.

Turner No Help As Braves Drop 17th

By ALEX SACHRE
AP Sports Writer

Ted Turner is in the dugout and Dave Bristol is in limbo.

Turner, the flamboyant 38-year-old yachtsman and broadcasting executive who owns the Atlanta Braves, decided he needed a close-up look at what was wrong with his team, which had lost 16 games in a row. So Wednesday he told Bristol, his manager, to take a 10-day vacation, and donned the manager's cap himself.

There was no noticeable effect - the Braves lost No. 17, 2-1 to Pittsburgh.

"It seemed like I had done all I could, sitting up in the stands," explained Turner, who doesn't have a baseball background and is leaving all strategy matters to coaches Vern Benson and Chris Cannizaro. "I wanted to see what it's like down in the trenches."

From those trenches he got an eye-ful of Dave Parker, the slugging Pirates outfielder who is tearing up the National League. Parker had two hits, including his sixth home run of the season in the third inning which snapped a 1-1 tie.

Parker now has hit safely in 22 consecutive games and is batting .437 - both major league highs. And the Pirates have won 11 in a row, the longest streak in the majors.

Bristol, meanwhile, was "taken back" by Turner's move.

Elswhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Montreal Expos 5-1, the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1, the Houston Astros whipped the Chicago Cubs 8-2 and the San Diego Padres swept a two-night doubleheader from the New York Mets 6-3 and 4-3.

The Braves almost sent their game into extra-innings, but a long hit by Darrel Chaney in the ninth inning, which would have scored the tying run from first base, bounced over the wall for a ground-rule double, forcing pinch-runner Pat Rockett to stop at third. Reliever Rich Gossage then retired Rowland Office, ending the game.

Reds 5, Cards 1

Dave Concepcion had two singles, drove in one run, scored one and stole three bases, leading Cincinnati past St. Louis. Jack Billingham got the victory, with relief from ex-Cardinal Mike Caldwell.

Cubs 8, Astros 2

J.R. Richard pitched a five-hitter for his first victory since April 12 for the Astros. He also drove in a run as Houston scored five times in the third inning in snapping the Cubs' six-game winning streak.

Dodgers 5, Expos 1

The Dodgers scored all their runs in the seventh inning. Bill Russell stroked a two-run single. Steve Garvey and Manny Mota drew bases-loaded walks and Dusty Baker drove in the final run with an infield single.

Padres 6-4, Mets 3-3

Dave Winfield drove in four runs in San Diego's two victories over the troubled Mets. Winfield had a two-run homer in the opener as the Padres knocked out Mets ace Tom Sever after three innings, his shortest stint of the season. Bill Almon's two-run single helped Randy Jones to victory in the second game.

Giants 4, Phillies 2

Bill Madlock's two-run homer in the fourth inning snapped a 1-1 tie for the Giants. Lyn McGlothen, 2-3, got the victory with a six-hitter.

WAS IT RADAR?

NEW YORK (AP) - Kyle Rote, a former star receiver for the National Football League Giants, tells a story about Eddie LeBaron, the new general manager of the Atlanta Falcons and a one-time 5-9 quarterback for the Washington Redskins and Dallas Cowboys.

"One year in the Pro Bowl," Kyle said, "I was at wide receiver and little Eddie was the quarterback. I ran a pass pattern and looked back. All I saw was a cluster of uniforms. Then the ball flew out of the cluster and into my hands. I don't think he saw me. He just had a feeling for where I might be."

Durable Wardrobe Eases Home Budget

COLLEGE STATION--Ten short ideas can let each family member have a wardrobe "long" on looks and wearlife--yet within the family budget, says Beverly Rhodes, a clothing specialist, who compiled the guidelines.
Miss Rhoades is with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
She recommends a buying, use and care plan for clothing as follows:
--Plan your family's wardrobe needs and develop a spending plan to coordinate new purchases with items you already have.
--Avoid impulse buying and fashion "fads". Don't overbuy, especially items that will be outgrown quickly, even when you find a "bargain."
--Match quality with use and expected wearlife. Select better quality for items that get the most wear for the longest time. Better fabric and workmanship (such as reinforced pockets and secure seams) increase durability and wearlife.
Lower quality is suitable for items outgrown quickly (unless they can be "handed down")--and seldom-worn items.

--Sew your own clothes for a significant savings. Use sewing skills to reinforce and repair clothing items for more wearability.
--Extend wear life with wise care practices. Repair rips and tears before laundering, follow proper laundry procedures and wash soon after wearing to avoid staining and fiber breakdown due to prolonged contact with harmful stains, bacteria and oils on the fabric surface.
Fold or hang clothes up after wearing, and store clothes clean, neatly and properly (such as moth-proofing woollens).
Before buying garments or fabric, check labels for color fastness, shrinkage control and recommended care procedures.

--To save on clothing care costs, wash garments instead of drycleaning when possible, and use the lowest practicable water temperature to achieve the desired results.
If drycleaning is necessary, use coin-op drycleaning methods when possible.
--Remember that proper fit in clothes and shoes prolongs wear. Tight fitting clothes soon lose shape, pull out at seams and tear more easily. To assure proper fit, try on garment before purchasing.
Keeping in good physical condition also helps clothes stay in better condition, and maintaining a constant weight eliminates the need for new clothes to accommodate weight gain.
--Consider discount and used clothing stores as perhaps an excellent source of clothing at a fraction of the cost. "Swap systems," particularly in children's and maternity wear, can be a tremendous savings.

Use old clothes for rough or strenuous activities--or buy durable clothes designed for such activities. Aprons and overalls help save good clothes.
--Shop the sales, but keep your spending plan in mind.
--Rent items, such as formal wear, that are seldom worn or needed.

A PAINTER'S PLACE
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) -- The art colony at Provincetown is the subject of a new exhibition at the Everson Museum. It deals with artists who, since the founding of the Cape Cod School of Art by Charles Hawthorne in 1899, have been drawn to the area.
"Provincetown: A Painter's Place," traces the development of American art from impressionism, cubism and realism to modern abstract and figurative art. The exhibition, made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, will last through June 26.
