DOE declines invitation

Bailie outlines problems at Thursday POWER forum

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

"How many people here have had thyroid cancer?" Tom Bailie asked a group of about 150 people at the Hereford Community Center Thursday night.

Not a hand was raised. "That is unbelievable," Bailie said. "At meetings in our area, I can ask that question, and half the hands in the audience are up."

Bailie, a farmer in Mesa, Washington, who has lived his life within stone-throwing distance of the Hanford Nuclear Reservation in Washington State, addressed a public forum sponsored by People Opposing Wasted Energy Repositories.

Also invited were representatives of the Department of Energy. DOE runs the reservation at Hanford, and is currently working on the possible siting of a high-level nuclear waste repository north of Hereford, and at Hanford and Yucca Mountain, Nev.

DOE declined to participate in the forum. In a letter to POWER president Dempsey Alexander, Salt Repository Project Office manager Jeff Neff said, "Without knowing in advance the presentation to be made by Mr. Bailie, my staff would be unable to respond to his remarks because of lack of familiarity with the Hanford site and lack of opportunity to consult with the Hanford staff."

"We question how the DOE can avoid making the same mistakes here that apparently have occurred in Washington State when they admit a 'lack of familiarity with the Hanford site,'" Alexander said. "Also, it seems curious during our electronic age that the local project office claims a 'lack of opportunity to consult with the Hanford staff' when they received our invitation on Sept. 11.

"Their absence here tonight raises doubts about the DOE's sincerity in asking for public participation."

During the forum, Bailie said that information was withheld from Hanford-area residents about releases, both purposeful and accidental, from reactors at Hanford that have been ongoing for 40 years.

"They kept that information from us," Bailie said. "The coverup by the DOE and its contractor, Battelle, were exactly like the Russians not telling their people the full story about Chernobyl."

Bailie added that "Battelle has done a very good job of gathering information... we have the finest Battelle office in the world at Hanford... but someone has done a very poor job of disseminating that information."

Bailie outlined the problems facing many of his neighbors—the "downwinders" who live just outside the reservation and most of whom are suffering, or have had family members die, from cancer. It was not just a few, and not all have lived there for 40 years like Tom Bailie.

Some of his neighbors moved there in the late 1940s and the 1950s, soldiers decorated with honors as high as the Congressional Medal of Honor and given tracts of land in the Hanford area for little or no cost.

Many of those soldiers, Bailie said, now lead lives of misery. Some are suffering cancer themselves, others are suffering through the agony of watching their family die.

Bailie reviewed documented releases of radiation from DOE and Battelle that had been listed as classified but has been slowly obtained over the last two years under the Freedom of Information Act.

That information shows that there were potentially hundreds of releases to "test their monitoring equipment" since the reactor was built in 1945. Those releases are on top of radionuclides released through the reservation's smokestacks and through injection wells into the volcanic tuff underlying the region to dispose wastewater.

Bailie said more information, much of it alarming, is coming out every day, including a revelation last week that much of the region's drinking water is contaminated with radioactive iodine.

"I hope you don't have to face it in your wells like we are facing it in ours," Bailie said. "We are trying to rise above this."

"My future is a journey into fear. It's an emotion I'm not dealing with well right now."

Award Recipient

vice manager, and Bill Jean, volunteer consultant. Henson is the director of the Hereford Chapter of the American Red Cross and King is chairman of the uniformed volunteers.

Henson honored for Red Cross work

"Getting the job done" is high on Betty Henson's list of priorities and she definitely gets the job done, according to local Red Cross volunteers.

"I started out as a volunteer a long time before I was employed 11 years ago," said the life-long Hereford resident who is director of the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

Her experience as a volunteer and as an employee has been very fulfilling for Henson. "I enjoy working with people to do whatever needs to be done," she said. "Hereford has really wonderful volunteers. Without them we wouldn't have a Red Cross chapter here."

Volunteers and supervisors agree that Henson's dedication to getting the job done is worthy of reward, and that reward came to her recently in the form of a Red Cross Tiffany Award.

The Tiffany Award derives its meaning from the three stained glass windows which adorn the national Red Cross headquarters. The glass panels symbolize caring, truth and fortitude.

"The Tiffany Award symbolizes the Red Cross aim for excellence and is given to employees who meet specific criteria, including a display of extraordinary personal commitment to the mission of Red Cross," said Field Service Manager Paula Martin, who presented the award.

Henson says she is honored by the award, but she is quick to pass the praise along to her family and to Red Cross volunteers.

"Without my family to assist me I could not get near as much accomplished," she said. Henson's family consists of her children and her husband, Dale, who is employed with Santa Fe Railroad. She and Dale have been married for 34 years. They have five children—their sons are Jim of Amarillo; Norman of Shattuck, Okla.; and Don and Kenny of Hereford. Their daughter is Darlene Burns, of Hereford, and the extended family includes Betty's mother, Nell Culpepper, also of Hereford.

Chamber selects six director nominees

Four new directors for Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will be elected by members for 1988, and the board approved a slate of six nominees during a regular monthly meeting Thursday.

The candidates are Temple Abney, associated with SeedTec; Jeryl Baker, Lone Star Insurance; Jeff Brown, Hereford State Bank; Rocky Lee, Summerfield Fertilizer; Doug Josserand, First National Bank; and Berta Ottesen, The Vogue.

Ballots will be mailed to C of C members for selection of the new directors for three-year terms. Those whose terms expire include Mike Bowles, Bill Harris, Terry Bromlow and Doug Manning. Bowles will remain on the board as past president.

In other business Thursday, the chamber board discussed committee progress reports, heard an update from Department of Energy officials, and approved the monthly financial statement.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, announced that the industrial development committee will start hosting a monthly Economic Update Luncheon for members. The first luncheon is scheduled at Hereford Country Club Oct. 20. Interested persons should make reservations at the chamber office for the "Dutch-treat" lunch.

Carr also reported that Hereford Industrial Foundation has been asked to serve as a nominating group to help create a board here for an Educational Learning Center. The foundation is currently seeking candidates for the board.

Betty Taylor, president of the Women's Division, announced that a regional meeting here Saturday has already drawn 44 reservations from out-of-town chamber women. The meeting begins at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Community Center. Visitors will tour the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and the Deaf Smith County Museum. New officers for the Women's Division will be chosen at a quarterly meeting on Oct. 6. The salad-supper meeting will be held at the Community Center.

Linda McLain and Phil Van Loan, representing DOE, appeared at the board meeting and Van Loan explained the budget process under which the DOE operates. The topic had been discussed at the weekly information meeting sponsored by DOE.

Bowles announced that plans for the annual banquet are underway and the date is tentatively set for Feb. 4 or Feb. 18. Directors attending the meeting included Bowles, Harris, Manning Taylor, Ike Stevens, B.J. Gilliland, Lajean Henry, Carol Sue Legate, Allen Parsons and David Emerick.

Clements wants prison solutions

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says a new plan to ease prison overcrowding problems by releasing and admitting an equal number of inmates daily isn't the long-term answer needed for the state's prison problems.

"We all fully understand that there are no easy answers or quick fixes. Real solutions to complex problems must be found," Clements said Thursday.

In the meantime, he said, about 150 inmates will be released daily to make room for a like number of incoming criminals as part of a coordinated "management plan" involving the Texas Department of Corrections board and the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Clements, along with members of both boards, said the new plan should end problems that have closed the state prison system to new admissions more than 20 times this year.

"The management plan will establish an equilibrium on both sides of the state prison doors. The plan will keep the prisons open to receive those inmates who have been duly and legally sentenced by the courts," Clements said.

"We're trying to hit a steady flow, a steady rate, of about 150 that are coming in and 150 that are going out," he said of the program scheduled to begin Monday.

Because the TDC has filled its prisons to the population limit allowed by court rulings, its gates have been closed repeatedly this year. The governor said the plan also should ease crowding problems in county jails caused when the TDC closes.

Clements and the other officials emphasized at a news conference that the long-range solution is building more prisons.

"This plan is to keep the prisons open. It's a management program. It doesn't catch up. It doesn't keep people off the streets that we want to keep off the streets," said Charles Terrell, a member of the TDC board.

"We are incomplete in two areas. We don't have enough (prison) units going on line to keep up with keeping the hard-core, repeat offender that's dangerous to society in prison. And we don't have enough funds to initiate other programs outside of prison, like continuing education for people on probation or parole," Terrell said.

Terrell said Texas has more criminals on probation, 290,000, and on parole, 41,000, than any other state. California is second, he said, with 200,000 on probation and 30,000 on parole.

"It's not as though we have plenty of prison beds and can keep everybody in prison," he said.

Clements proposed this year that the Legislature approve 19,000 more prison beds to meet needs projected through 1991. But only about 10,000 beds were authorized.

"The Legislature must do more (See PRISONS, Page 2)

Bork hearings won't end soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee is resuming hearings on the nomination of Robert H. Bork to the Supreme Court with more American Bar Association leaders testifying for and against the nominee.

The hearings, concluding their second week, were in recess Thursday for the celebration of the Jewish new year.

Four separate panels of ABA leaders and law school professors, two supporting and two opposing the nomination, were among the scheduled witnesses today.

The hearings will continue Monday and could carry over into a fourth week, overlapping the beginning of the new Supreme Court term on Oct. 5.

President Reagan chose Bork, a federal appeals court judge, to replace retired Justice Lewis F.

Powell. The court, now with eight members, will open the new term with a vacancy on the bench.

Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., the Judiciary Committee chairman, has said he hopes to wrap up the hearings early next month.

The committee, controlled by an 8-6 Democratic majority, is sharply divided on the nomination. But Biden and others have said they favor sending the nomination to the full Senate even if a majority on the panel opposes Bork's confirmation.

Bork testified for a record five days last week, and this week witnesses for and against the nominee have had their turn.

Meanwhile, public opinion polls show an increasing number of Americans with an unfavorable opinion of Bork.

A New York Times-CBS News poll reported that of 836 adults surveyed Sept. 21-22, after Bork testified, 26 percent said they had an unfavorable opinion of the nominee; 16 percent had a favorable opinion; and 57 percent were undecided or had no opinion.

The survey found when the same question was asked Sept. 9-10, before the hearings began, 12 percent said they had an unfavorable opinion of Bork; 11 percent had a favorable opinion; and 77 percent had no opinion.

A Washington Post-ABC poll completed Wednesday and published today shows no significant difference in those who approve of Bork's nomination, from 45 percent on Aug. 5 to 44 percent in the latest poll. But it shows 48 percent disapproving, compared with 44 percent in the previous survey. Those with no opinion had dropped from 16 percent to 8 percent.

Both polls have a margin of sampling error of plus or minus 3 percentage points.

On Thursday, the Teamsters union joined a chorus of other unions in opposing Bork's confirmation.

Teamsters President Jackie Presser said his union, the nation's largest with 1.7 million members, had waited until after Bork's testimony last week to see if "he might demonstrate some reconsideration of his opinions regarding workers' rights before the bench."

"Unfortunately, the judge managed only to reaffirm those positions," Presser said in a letter this week to Biden. The union made copies of the letter available Thursday.

The AFL-CIO in August condemned Reagan's nomination of Bork and vowed an all-out fight to have it defeated in the Senate.

Answering questions

AIDS pamphlets ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration is disregarding a congressional admonition to mail AIDS information to every American household and instead will distribute as many as 45 million copies of a brochure through private and public outlets.

Word that the eight-page pamphlet will be distributed next week surfaced late Thursday on the heels of criticism in Congress that the administration had failed to prepare a national mailer along the lines of what has been done in Britain. "This doesn't fit the bill of making sure every household gets information, which I think is the goal we need to work toward," said Ann E. McFarren, executive director of the private AIDS Action Council.

Congress wants to beautify highways

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress wants to put a Texas-style bloom on the nation's highways.

Texas highway officials have been sowing bluebonnets, Indian paintbrush and daisies along state roads for more than 50 years, a practice heralded by Lady Bird Johnson during the years Lyndon B. Johnson was president.

Following that lead, the federal government has formally committed to planting native wildflowers along federal-aid highways throughout the country, Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen said Thursday.

The wildflower idea came from Bentsen, who successfully shepherded legislation mandating planting through Congress last winter. The Democrat has been advocating the plan for years.

"I passed that bill through the Senate three different times and finally got it accepted by the House," he said. "Now they're talking about planting wildflowers along federal highways across the nation because of the 'Bentsen amendment,' and they'll have funds to do it wherever it's feasible."

Earlier this month, the Federal Highway Administration published a final rule requiring that 25 cents of every $100 in federal highway landscaping funds be used to plant native wildflowers. In addition to beautifying the nation's roads, the wildflower project will save the taxpayers money, if results from Texas are any indication, Bentsen said.

"Texas has worked on (a wildflower) program for 50 years, and they have found that it cuts down on the amount of mowing, that you don't have to mow once a week. Instead you mow one or two times a season," Bentsen said. "You also find that people don't throw as much litter."

next session than they were willing to do this year," the governor said. He said he will call a criminal justice summit meeting for December of January to recommend solutions.

Inmates who will be released under the new management plan all are eligible for release and will be the least-violent of those imprisoned, said TDC board chairman Al Hughes and Henry B. King, chairman of the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

"We're going to let out the best 150 we have in our prison every day," Hughes said. "Given our choice, and I'm sure given Pardons and Paroles choice, they might not have let out all that 150. But until we're funded for more beds, there's ... no other way to resolve it."

According to the new federal regulations, which became effective on Sept. 14, wildflower seeds or seedlings will be planted as part of any landscaping project undertaken on the federal-aid highway system.

A waiver can be obtained if a state certifies that native wildflowers cannot be grown satisfactorily, that there is a scarcity of planting areas or that the planting areas are to be used for agriculture.

"All but four states have some form of native growth program already. Those states are Montana, Utah, Hawaii and Nevada," said Eugene Johnson, a spokesman for the highway administration. "But overall, the requirement will bring about more wildflowers along our highway throughout the country."

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor: I am writing as a citizen concerned for the welfare of the city of Hereford. Hereford had a hospital to be proud of yes, had, because the hospital board of directors has accepted the resignation of Jim Bullard.

Jim Bullard's dedication, perseverance and tireless energy has made the quality of medical care such that people may remain at home to receive that care. Securing the services of an Orthopedist, Vascular surgeon and Urologist was not undertaken lightly, but at a considerable expense to the hospital, both in time and equipment. An expense that is an investment for the future of Hereford. Patients now need not go to Amarillo or Lubbock for specialized care.

Jim Bullard has attained the goals which he and the hospital board set forth when Jim Bullard became administrator. I know he was a major contributing factor to my family now calling Hereford home. Because of Jim Bullard's efforts with time and patience the hospital will be able to break even financially. Have these efforts and accomplishments gone UNNOTICED by the people of Hereford?

There is no question he has shortcomings, as we all do, but they are far outweighed by his accomplishments. People of Hereford, we must do what is necessary so we don't lose our health care facilities. I have worked with many administrators and will tell you that honest, dedicated, supportive and energetic ones, like Jim Bullard, are few and far between. Should the people of Hereford settle for second best when we already have the best? I feel the board has made a very serious mistake in accepting his resignation.

Sincerely yours,
Sandra R. Herbertson

Dear editor: I am breaking a vow to myself to never write a letter for public viewing, but I must. I want to express publicly my appreciation for Jim Bullard, and what he has done for our hospital and hence for our community. I would urge each of you whose lives have benefited directly or indirectly from our superior hospital, doctors and ambulance service to thank Jim Bullard. About two years ago, Jim and the hospital board made a bold decision to upgrade our hospital by doing some innovative things. To do these things cost money, but were done with little increase in taxes (we still have one of the lowest tax rates of any hospital district). Because of some unforeseen things, like larger than expected indigent care costs, and cutbacks in Medicare payments, our hospital has operated in the red.

Some good things have begun to happen this summer to alleviate the deficit. These things were brought about largely through Jim Bullard's efforts. Through his efforts and cooperation of the board our hospital should receive 1.5 million dollars in bond money in October. This will fund the long term debt of the hospital.

Medicare and Medicaid have recently paid $412,000 to the hospital. Upon review of the hospital, Medicare determined that Hereford's hospital had achieved a higher acuity level and thus was due extra funds. What this means is that we have a superior hospital and superior doctors, who can perform speciality services for their patients.

I think no one will deny that Jim Bullard has worked tirelessly to bring these specialists to Hereford, who, along with the fine doctors we already had, have given us the finest

Ruling could halt Pickens' takeover

NEW YORK (AP) — A Delaware judge planned to rule late today whether a British concern's large stock purchases of Newmont Mining Corp. are valid, a finding that could derail T. Boone Pickens' hostile takeover bid.

Newmont, a giant mining concern based in New York but incorporated in Delaware, has been fiercely resisting the acquisition attempt that a Pickens-led investment group, Ivanhoe Partners, undertook earlier this month.

Brokers and analysts familiar with the Newmont-Pickens struggle said Thursday it was unlikely Delaware Chancery Court Vice Chancellor Jack B. Jacobs would order Consolidated Gold Fields PLC to rescind or divest the nearly 16 million shares of Newmont stock it purchased earlier this week.

Those purchases, which Pickens contends were illegal, gave Consolidated a 49.7 percent stake in Newmont and pose a formidable obstacle to the well-known oilman and takeover strategist.

At Pickens' request, the Delaware judge temporarily blocked Consolidated on Wednesday from purchasing more shares and said he would rule later this afternoon on whether Consolidated's purchases Monday and Tuesday were valid.

"I think if Consolidated's earlier purchases are upheld, that would seem to pretty much end the possibility of Pickens taking over Newmont," said Jeffrey Miller, an analyst for Duff & Phelps Co., a Chicago investment bank.

"If they're not upheld, then I think Pickens will still try to do something," Miller said. "But from what I understand, it probably wouldn't be reversed."

Vahid Fathi, metals analyst at Prescott Ball & Turben Inc. in Cleveland, also said Jacob's decision probably would be the key to the takeover battle's outcome.

"If the judge rules in favor of Consolidated and Newmont, that's quite something," Fathi said. "That would stop the takeover attempt."

Some said the sheer magnitude of Consolidated's stock purchases earlier this week, made through its investment banker, First Boston Corp., diluted the possibility that Jacobs would invalidate them.

"It would create enormous chaos," said Hugh A. Johnson, senior vice president at the First Albany Corp. brokerage. "It would be unbelievable. They would have to go back through each transaction."

Other analysts, however, said the complexity of undoing Consolidated's $1.5 billion "market sweep" of Newmont shares would not be a major factor in Jacobs' decision. They said the primary issue was whether the move constituted an unfair obstacle to Pickens' tender offer of $72 a share.

Pickens and his associates could not be reached for comment Thursday. But in a Securities and Exchange Commission filing, Pickens' group said it had additional financing commitments for the offer to buy up to 28 million Newmont shares, an indication it planned to persist with the takeover attempt.

In addition, the Pickens group said in the filing that its investment banker Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc. was confident about refinancing the debt incurred by Newmont under the company's $2.25 billion bank-credit arrangement to pay shareholders a $33 cash dividend. That debt was aimed at discouraging Pickens.

The Pickens-Newmont maneuvering intensified a debate over whether Pickens sincerely wants to acquire the company or is just posturing to raise the stock price and sell the 9.9 percent stake his group already owns.

Pickens paid about $64.25 a share for his 5.6 million Newmont shares, or about $424 million. Newmont stock rose $1 a share Thursday to $83.75. At that price, Pickens could make about $194.8 million if he sold his stake.

Mattox wants no opposition

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox says he would like to keep all potential Democratic opponents from entering the next gubernatorial primary.

"I'd like to discourage the opposition," Mattox said at a news conference in Corpus Christi Thursday. "It makes no sense to spend $3 million to $5 million in a primary when you have to do battle in November," Mattox said.

Although Mattox has not declared himself a candidate officially, he has made no secret of his desire to move into the governor's mansion in 1990. He recently has tried to discourage other potential opponents from joining the race, saying the Democrats cannot afford a costly, divisive primary.

"A primary race can be very expensive, and when you're a poor guy like me, you have to be concerned about that," Mattox said.

Earlier this month, state Treasurer Ann Richards said she intended to enter the 1990 race for governor, "short of anything unexpected."

A Richards candidacy would be divisive for the Democratic Party, Mattox said.

"History tells us there will probably be some tough opponents in the Democratic primary," Mattox said. "But I'm going to discourage all comers, especially if I'm going to be there."

He said he probably will wait until after the 1988 presidential primaries before making an official announcement.

HENSON

Cross, Henson's interests range from cake decorating to rock hunting. She is a charter member of the Deaf Smith County Lapidary Club.

The Hensons are members of First Christian Church and a local bluegrass music group.

"Dale plays the guitar but I don't play any music with the group. I'm the auxiliary ... I bring the refreshments," she said.

Mattox was in Corpus Christi to announce that a record $17 million has been awarded by the state attorney general's office in 1987 to victims of violent crimes, including 104 in Nueces County for $471,859.

That compares with 11 awards totaling $56,770 in fiscal 1983, the year before Mattox took over the program.

The crime-victim compensation program awards funds to victims of violent crimes and their families to pay for losses not covered by other sources. The program is funded by court fines assessed to convicted criminals.

"The good part of this program is it does not cost the taxpayer any money," Mattox said. "It all comes from fines assessed against lawbreakers."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've read one too many articles that proclaim "computers don't make mistakes."

Five of us would like to challenge that statement. We made an audit of one month's business and found that the accounts were out of balance by more than $80,000. Everything was on computer. We worked far into the night and finally discovered that 21 bank deposits were on the printout but the total was dropping one.

A programmer was called in. He worked seven days and called another from the home office. They worked for another two weeks.

They had the original entries reentered 50 times. More than 150 reprintouts were made, but the same mistake kept occurring. They admitted that it was not a human error.

The machine was crated and sent back to the factory. A replacement arrived within days. We were asked not to discuss this matter with anyone for obvious reasons.—It Happened In Texas

DEAR HAP: OK, you didn't discuss it with anyone. You merely wrote to me and I decided to share it with $5 million of my closest friends. Thanks for the input, Tex.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently we had a severe thunderstorm. I was watching the late-night movie and during the commercial I went to the kitchen window to look at the lightning and listen to the thunder.

Suddenly I heard a crackling sound. I turned and saw sparks under the bottom of the coffee maker. A strong odor of smoked filled the room.

I quickly awakened my parents. Dad pulled out the plug. How lucky that I hadn't gone to bed early. The results could have been tragic. The

Regional conference Saturday

Women holding current memberships in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division are encouraged to attend the Regional Womens Division Conference set from 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the Hereford Community Center.

If reservations have not already been paid, the cost per person is $17.50. This year's theme is "Panhandle Chamber Women Involved in Community Service" and the keynote speaker will be Kathryn Ruga.

An executive committee meeting, to be conducted by Women's Division President Betty Taylor, will be held that morning followed by tours of the Deaf Smith County Museum and the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center. The Hereford Chamber Singers will be preparing and serving a luncheon and will also provide entertainment.

Welcome bags, donated by Hereford merchants, will be distributed among those present.

In 1972, 11 Israeli athletes and five Arab terrorists who had taken them hostage were killed in a shootout with police during the Olympic games in Munich, West Germany.

kitchen curtains were very nearby and the whole house might have gone up in flames.

Please advise your readers to unplug all electrical appliances if there is an electrical storm. This includes digital clocks and lights that stay on all the time. Also advise them to stay off the phones during an electrical storm. Two of our phones were knocked out last year, and one of those phones was over the coffee maker. DEAR GLAD: So am I. Thank you for a letter that could make a big difference.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've never written to you before, but after reading the letter in which you advised against eating canned food that was more than five years old, I remembered a funny moment in my life. May I share it with you and your readers?

I was in the Marine Corps in 1976. A bunch of us guys were eating up the last portion of canned goods left over from the Korean war. My buddy and I both (both chow hounds), had turkey. He elbowed me and asked, "How do you like eating a bird that's been dead longer than you've been alive?" We broke up laughing.

The turkey tasted just fine and none of the guys suffered any ill effects.—J.M. Charlotte, N.C.

DEAR J.M.: Many people in the grocery business wrot to say that food, properly canned, will last indefinitely. In spite of what the experts said (and they said plenty), I still wouldn't knowingly eat anything from a can that had been on a shelf more than five years.

Presidential prophecy

As noted in "The Little Red, White & Blue Book," in his farewell address on Sept. 17, 1787, after serving two terms, George Washington gave strong warnings against permanent alliances with foreign powers. He also warned against big public debt, large military establishments and devices of "small, artful, enterprising minorities" to control or change government.

Over Frenship Thursday night

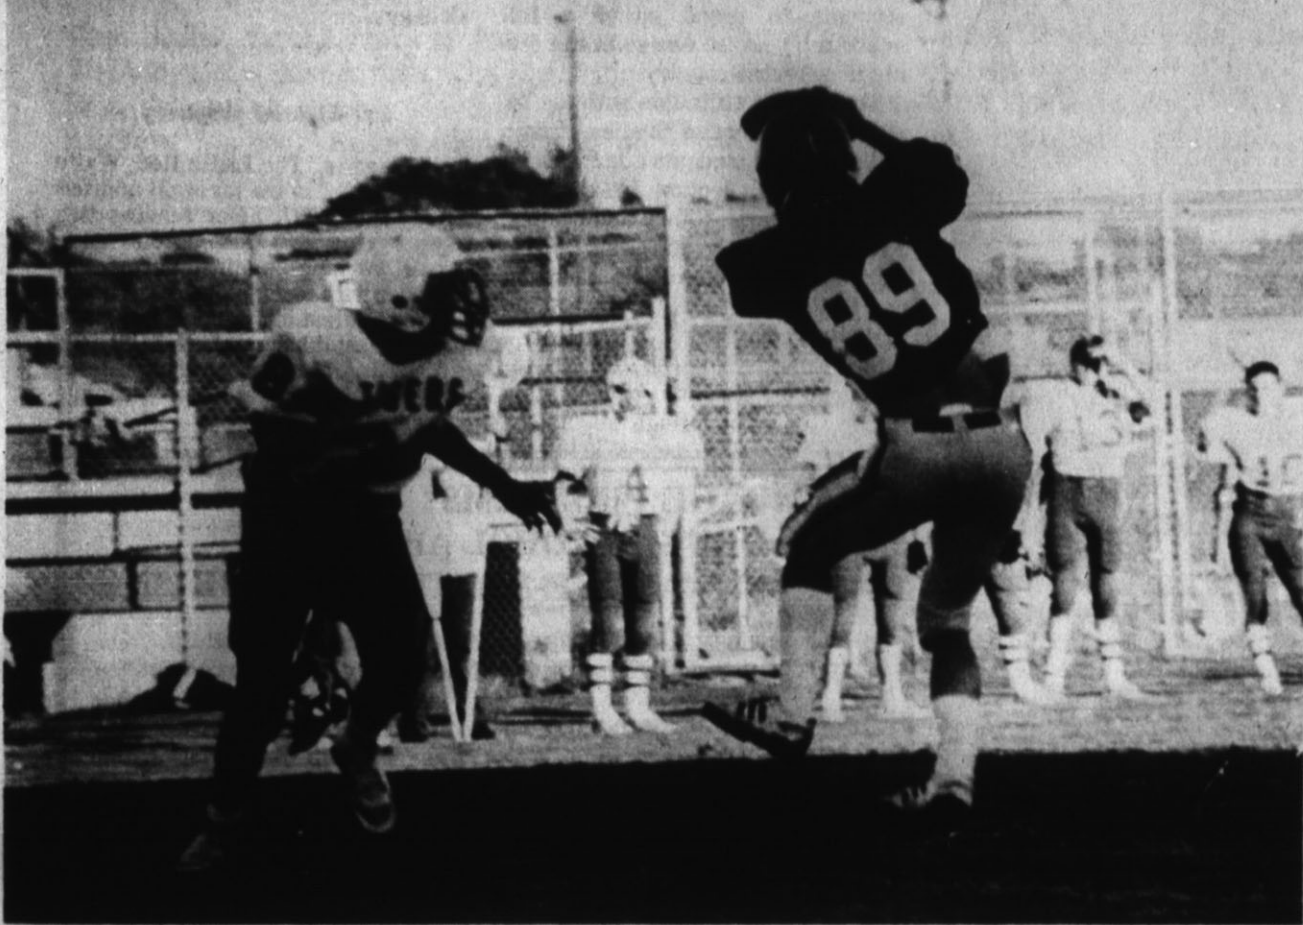

HHS junior varsity scores 23-6 win

The Hereford High School junior varsity football team upped its season record to 3-1 Thursday night by defeating Frenship 23-6 at Whiteface Stadium in Hereford. Next Thursday, Hereford plays at Lubbock Dunbar at 4 p.m.

Hereford took advantage of a first quarter mistake by Frenship to gain an 8-0 lead. Hereford recovered a Frenship fumble at the Frenship 19-yard line with 4:18 left in the quarter. John Tohm rushed eight yards for a touchdown with 2:43 left in the first quarter, and caught a pass from quarterback Carl DeLozier for a two-point conversion. In the second quarter, DeLozier scored with a one-yard quarterback sneak. DeLozier then passed to Tohm for a two-point conversion, increasing Hereford's lead to 16-0. Frenship cut the lead to 16-6 with a six-yard touchdown pass with 5:41 left in the third quarter. With eight minutes left in the game, Frenship was deep in its own territory, within the 10-yard line. The Frenship quarterback took the snap from center and backtracked into the end zone to attempt a pass. Hereford's Todd Collier nearly tackled the quarterback in the end zone, just missing a safety. The quarterback got a pass off, and Moses Casas of Hereford intercepted it at the three-yard line and returned it for a touchdown.

J.T. Heaton kicked the extra point to make Hereford's lead 23-6. Earlier in the fourth quarter, Casas intercepted a Frenship pass and returned it 60 yards to the Frenship 25-yard line. Hereford failed to score after having a first-and-goal at the nine-yard line, and that eventually led to the other interception by Casas. Jared Victor of Hereford also intercepted a pass, with 3:50 left in the game. Hereford offensive Coach Craig Yenzler said the team had "a total team effort" and stressed the team's confidence. Defensive Coach Bill Bridge said, "We made the big plays when we had to, on both offense and defense."

Klepac Snares The Pass From DeLozier

Hereford junior varsity receiver Dan Klepac (89) catches a pass from quarterback Carl DeLozier in the first quarter of Thursday night's game against Frenship. Herd sophomores beat Friona 10-0

Hereford High School's sophomore football team shut out the Friona junior varsity 10-0 Thursday at Friona to claim their first victory of the season after suffering three defeats. Hereford plays at home next Thursday against the Tulia junior varsity, at 7 p.m. at Whiteface Stadium.

Against Friona, Hereford got on the scoreboard in the first quarter when Eddie Cantu kicked a 35-yard field goal. That was the halftime score, 3-0. In the third quarter, Hereford's Phillip Martin recovered a Friona fumble at the Friona 17-yard line. The fumble occurred when Friona was receiving a punt. Hereford capitalized on the Friona mistake, with Jim Hillwig later rushing four yards for a touchdown. Cantu added the extra-point kick, making Hereford's lead its final margin, 10-0.

Hereford coaches Stan Carter and Ron Young emphasized that no turnovers committed was a key to the victory, since the team had problems in its losses with turnovers. The HHS coaches said that the leading offensive players included quarterbacks Chad Schroeder and Jason Walterscheid. Punter Brandon Murdock averaged more than 35 yards per kick.

Leaders on defense included these athletes: linebacker Jason Lueb, 16 tackles; middle linebacker Bryan Wagner, 11 tackles; defensive end Steve Tucker, eight tackles, one quarterback sack, one caused fumble and one fumble recovery; Alonzo Ramirez, one interception; and strong safety Jared White.

La Plata ninth graders roll to 31-6 victory

T.J. Head threw three touchdown passes, and Greg Urbanczyk rushed for one touchdown, to lead the La Plata Junior High School ninth grade football team to a 31-6 victory over Gattis Thursday in Hereford.

Garrick McPherson, Amado Lopez and Matt Bromlow caught the touchdown passes for the Mavericks, who now have a 2-1 season record.

In the other half of a football doubleheader Thursday, the La Plata eighth grade team lost to Gattis, 36-0. La Plata's eighth grade team is 0-2 for the season.

Next Thursday, both the La Plata eighth and ninth grade teams play at Clovis against Marshall. Game times are 4 p.m. for the ninth grade and 5:30 p.m. for the eighth grade (Texas time). An eighth grade "B" game is scheduled Tuesday at Muleshoe at 5 p.m.

La Plata's ninth grade football squad built up a 24-6 halftime lead with three touchdowns and three two-point conversions — all points scored with passes. McPherson caught a pass from Head for a 50-yard scoring play in the first quarter. Head passed to Lopez for the two-point conversion. In the second quarter, Lopez caught a 10-yard pass from Head for a touchdown. Head completed a pass to Bromlow for the two-pointer. Also in the second quarter, Head connected with Bromlow for an 11-yard touchdown pass. Head passed to Chris Blair for two points. Urbanczyk rushed one yard for La Plata's other touchdown, in the fourth quarter. Lopez kicked the extra points, making the margin 31-6.

"All of our defense really played a good game, and everyone on offense did too. We sure had a lot of time to throw," La Plata Coach Ed Coplen said. Coplen said the team's defensive leaders included defensive tackles Ciro Casarez and Jesse Moya, and also Bryan Bentley of the secondary. Casarez recovered a fumble and Bentley intercepted a pass.

LIKES 3-POINTERS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — For years Coach Pat Riley of the Los Angeles Lakers did not like the three-point play which was introduced to the NBA in the 1979-80 season.

He changed his mind in the last four years and gave the green light to a few of his long-range bombers. The Lakers were fifth in the league in three-pointers in 1986-87, mostly by Byron Scott and Michael Cooper. Cooper hit 89 and Scott connected on 65 in the regular season.

In game two of the title series in Boston, Cooper made six three-point shots to set a record for an NBA final. Riley's quote now on three-pointers: "They're game-breakers."

In 1920, Washington's Walter Johnson pitched a no-hitter against the Red Sox in Fenway Park, Boston. It would have been a perfect game except for an error by Bucky Harris, the Washington second baseman.

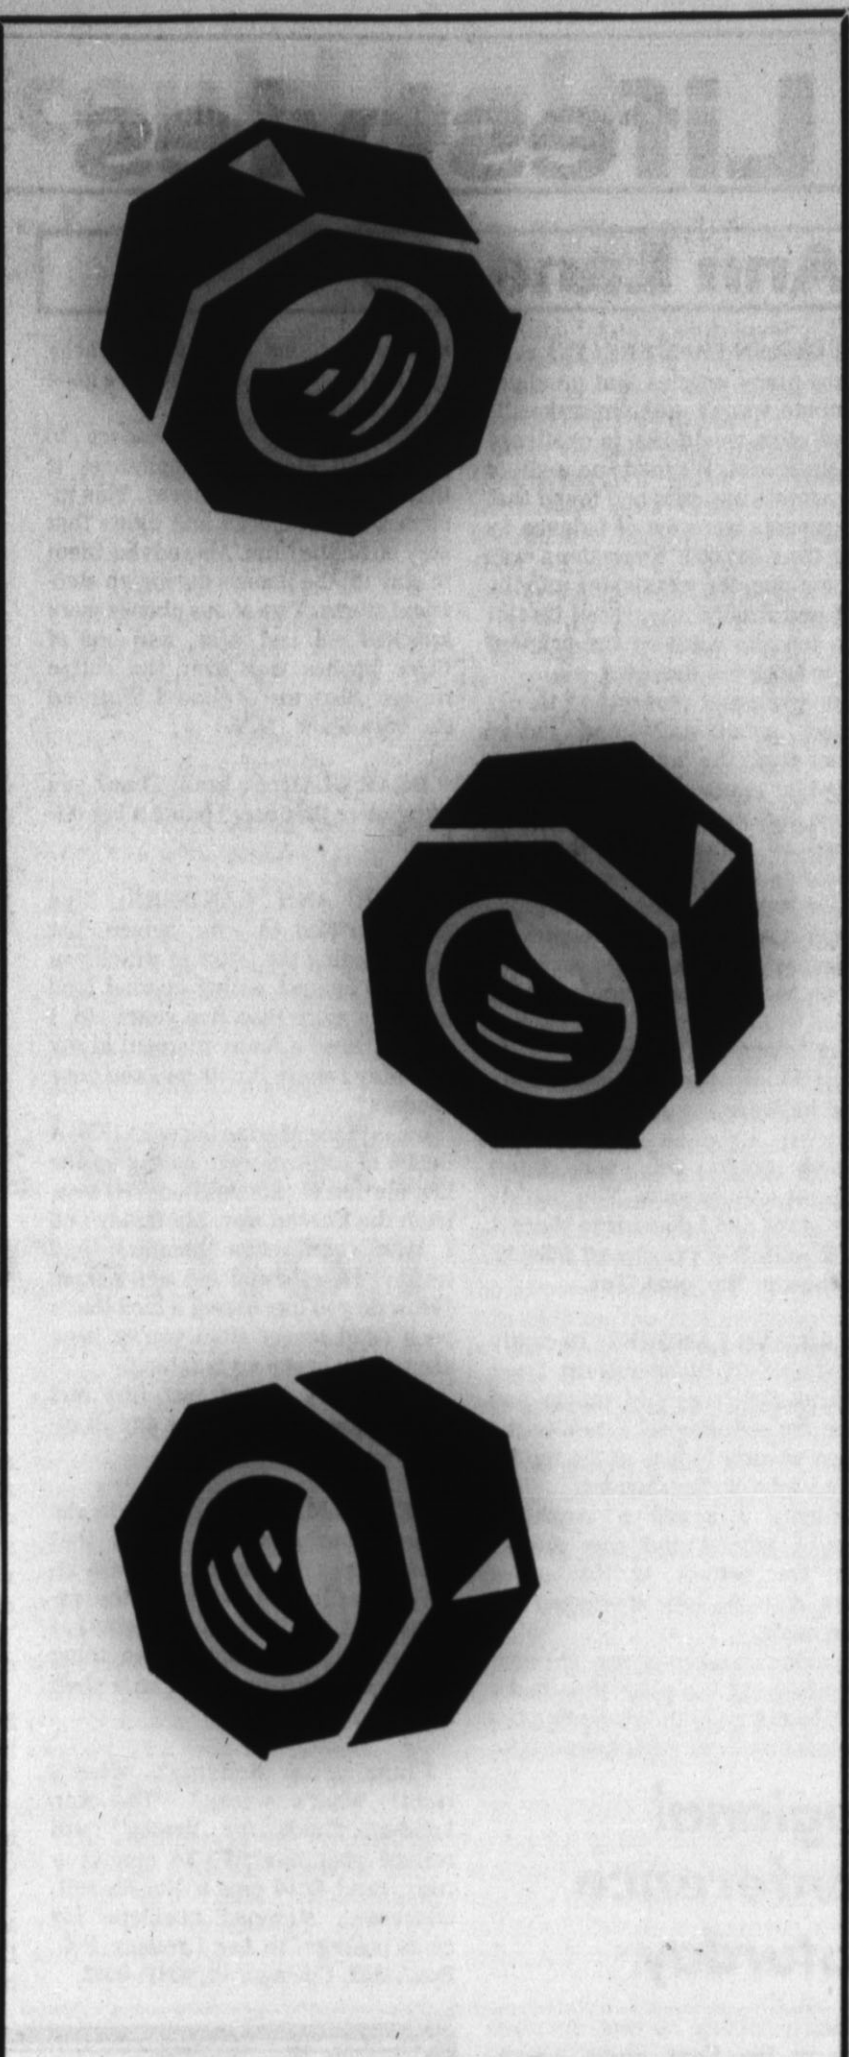

Pete Rose, the all-time leader in base hits, had 5,752 total bases through the 1986 season.

Ice skating queen Sonja Henie was born April 8, 1912, during an unusual spring blizzard in Oslo, Norway.

In a game at Wrigley Field, Chicago, on June 3, 1967, Brian Dayett and Keith Moreland of the Cubs and Billy Hatcher of the Astros each hit a grand slam, setting a National League record.

Stanton eighth grade beats Marshall 16-0

Mark Drumm threw two touchdown passes to John McBride to help lead the Stanton Junior High School eighth grade football to a 16-0 victory over Marshall Thursday in Clovis.

The other half of a football doubleheader saw Marshall shut out Stanton 16-0 in a ninth grade game.

Stanton's eighth grade game was the opener of the 1987 season for that team. The Stanton ninth grade team has a 1-2 season record.

Next week, on Thursday, the two teams play at home against Plainview Blue. The ninth grade game is scheduled for 4 p.m. and the eighth grade contest is scheduled for 5:30 p.m.

The Mutual Broadcasting Co. paid only $2,500 for the rights to the 1940 NFL championship game. The Chicago Bears beat the Washington Redskins by the record score of 73 to 0.

Sixty-five countries were invited to the 1932 Winter Olympics at Lake Placid in 1932. Because of the worldwide depression only 17 could afford to send teams.

In Clovis Thursday, the Stanton eighth grade team scored both its touchdowns in the first half in defeating Marshall 16-0.

Mark Drumm completed a pass to John McBride in the first quarter for a 60-yard touchdown play. Drumm then competed a pass to Joel Gaytan for a two-point conversion.

In the second quarter, Drumm completed a 40-yard touchdown pass to McBride. Drumm then carried the ball for a two-point conversion.

Defensively for Stanton, T.J. Sample and Manuel Hernandez each recovered Marshall fumbles.

In the ninth grade game, Marshall scored a touchdown in the first and in the second quarters, adding a two-point conversion after each touchdown.

Mission Yearbook: When the masses of starving people fled the famine of Ethiopia, many of them went to the country of Sudan. Almost unpublicized were groups displaced by civil war who, if they were helped at all, were helped quietly by fellow Sudanese. Joseph Maker, a successful businessman in the land, went into a refugee camp, sought out the needs of the people, and rallied support to feed the hungry and build a church for the camp. Please pray for the lives of the brave and hungry people in camps such as this one, where people are hungry for the spiritual and practical Gospel.

Names In The News

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Rock 'n' roller John Cougar Mellencamp says he plans to play a country singer in his first feature film, "Riding the Cage."

"We're 95 percent certain on the movie (going to production), but that 5 percent is a big percent," he said at home Tuesday.

Mellencamp, a 35-year-old Indiana native with three straight platinum albums, said he will write and perform several country songs for the film. Shooting begins next year.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Muhammad Ali, sitting in a booth surrounded by ice cream, fudge and truffles, was mobbed by fans at a chocolate fair here.

"He touched me," screamed Julie Elizabeth Russell, 22, a Cooper City college student. "He's cute for an old guy. He signed my chocolate card and he touched me."

The former heavyweight boxing champion appeared at the fourth Chocolate Festival and Fair at the Fontainebleau Hilton, HONOLULU (AP) — How did John Hillerman, watching Sunday night's Emmy Awards show on the television set in his Waikiki Beach penthouse, know his name would be called before the sealed envelope was opened?

You don't need to hire Thomas Magnum, private investigator, to figure out the answer. Hillerman's sister in Houston told him during the afternoon.

But there was no skulduggery involved. The broadcast of the 39th annual awards show from Pasadena, Calif., was delayed in Hawaii.

Hillerman was eating caviar and drinking champagne by the time he heard his name announced for best supporting actor in a dramatic series for his portrayal of the fussy Higgins in "Magnum, P.I."

It was Hillerman's first Emmy in four nominations.

"It's certainly nice to win," Hillerman said Monday. "But I don't act to win awards. This is not a big thing in my life."

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Donahue, Soviet journalist Vladimir Pozner and an organization that raises money for humanitarian aid for Nicaragua were among those honored by a group founded by cable TV pioneer Ted Turner's Better World Society.

In announcing the awards Monday, Turner told a news conference, "We're joined by some individuals who are making determined, effective efforts to nurture our planet, and to make the lives of its people more hopeful and secure."

Donahue and Pozner were honored by the society for two television programs that allowed viewers in the United States and the Soviet Union to communicate directly via satellite.

Also honored was the Washington-based Quest for Peace organization, formed in 1965 to aid the people of Nicaragua and to counter Reagan administration assistance to the Contra rebels.

OSLO, Norway (AP) — King Olav V, one of the world's longest reigning monarchs, has marked his 30th anniversary on Norway's throne.

National celebrations for the 84-year-old king climaxed Monday with a government banquet at Akershus Castle. Other events included a buffet luncheon for 5,000 citizens last week.

Olav swore the royal oath on Sept. 21, 1957, after his father, King Haakon VII, died at age 85.

The Norwegian king has no political power.

RED BOILING SPRINGS, Tenn. (AP) — Country music singer Randy Travis, whose second album just went platinum, has been rewarded by Warner Bros. Records with a 2-year-old quarterhorse named "Platinum."

"Man, is he a pretty thing," she said after receiving the muscular black animal during a party here Sunday.

The horse was a gift to mark sales of more than 1 million copies of Travis' second LP, "Always and Forever."

Since he burst onto the Nashville music scene two years ago, Travis has scored on the charts with hits such as "Forever and Ever Amen" and "On the Other Hand."

NEW YORK (AP) — The new Miss America looks and smiles the part, but Kaye Lani Rae Rafko may prove to be as unusual as her name. Consider what she said at a news conference:

— As a Roman Catholic, she disapproves of abortion, but believes in a woman's freedom of choice.

— She would like to see women enter the Catholic priesthood — "I disagree with Pope John Paul (II)."

— She believes it is unrealistic to combat AIDS by promoting sexual abstinence.

Miss Rafko, a 24-year-old nurse who has specialized in treatment of the terminally ill, said Monday she wants to change the way people think about the pageant.

"I'm a professional individual," she said, sounding a bit indignant at a suggestion that anyone would think of a beauty queen in any other light.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Sean Penn is due for release from jail after serving more than half of a 60-day sentence for probation violation, authorities say.

Penn, 27, whose film credits include "Bad Boys" and "The Falcon and The Snowman," will be eligible for early release on good behavior on his 32nd day behind bars, according to court records.

Penn was jailed for violating probation imposed for two scuffles.

Penn's probation was extended to two years in June after he punched a movie extra who tried to take his picture on the set of the police film, "Colors." He already was on probation for punching a man he accused of trying to kiss his wife, pop singer Madonna.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former CBS News anchor Walter Cronkite says he's impressed to be part of the Constitution's bicentennial celebration as host of a live, two-hour broadcast from Philadelphia tonight.

Cronkite, who retired as anchor in 1961 after 20 years, is a senior correspondent at CBS News and serves as a member of the CBS board of directors.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Grand Ole Opry star Roy Acuff received a yo-yo for an 84th birthday present from former astronaut Henry Hartsfield.

Hartsfield took the yo-yo on his 1964 flight on the space shuttle Discovery and gave it to Acuff on Monday during the "Nashville Now" program on cable television's The Nashville Network.

NEW YORK (AP) — Corbin Bernsen, who plays the semi-sleazy divorce lawyer on NBC's "L.A. Law," is looking to get married. The problem is, he hates to date.

"I know what I like and I know what I don't like," the 33-year-old actor says in October's Glamour magazine. "I've been through two relationships (actress Heather Thomas and ex-wife Brenda Cooper) where I loved one woman five years at a time."

"Now, if I'm on a date and my mind is saying, 'You've got to be kidding,' I'd pay the check and leave in the middle of dinner if it weren't rude," Bernsen said.

TORONTO (AP) — Actor James Earl Jones says working with filmmaker John Sayles in "Matewan" was something he's wanted to do for a long time.

Sayles' fifth movie tells the story of the 1920 Matewan massacre, a shootout between coal-miners and strikebreakers that was the bloodiest episode in the long fight to unionize the West Virginia coalfields.

"The ironic thing is I don't know how long our present-day unions will let John make movies that cheaply and that well," said Jones, who introduced the film this week at Toronto's Festival of Festivals.

Jones said he wanted to work with Sayles since seeing the writer-director's 1965 film "The Brother From Another Planet." He said he worked for scale and stayed at an inexpensive motel with the rest of the movie crew during filming.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Former New York Mets baseball star Tom Seaver has begun pitching again. Not baseballs, but art.

Seaver, who retired earlier this year after 20 years in the major leagues, said he was lured out of retirement by an offer to help promote a new traveling exhibit of baseball art opening today at the New York State Museum in Albany.

The exhibit, titled "Diamonds Are Forever: Artists and Writers on Baseball," was to officially open today. Organizers say it is the first comprehensive compilation of baseball art.

Save for emergencies

The best way to acquire a fund for emergencies is to make saving a habit.

"Regular savers end up saving far more than occasional savers, even when they set aside a small amount at a time," says Nancy Granovsky, a family economics specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

According to the specialist, there are several ways to get started on a savings plan:

-Every payday put money into a savings account first, before paying other expenses.

-Have a portion of your earnings deducted from your pay and deposited directly into a savings account.

-When you pay off a loan, save the amount of the old payment instead of putting it back into the budget for spending.

-Put your change in a home bank or jar. When it's full, deposit the money in the bank.

"It's advisable to have a fund to draw on in case of unemployment or a financial emergency," says Granovsky. "You may want to build a fund of 2 to 6 months take-home pay, an amount equal to your fixed expenses for a year, or some other amount appropriate for your financial situation."

Since money saved for emergencies should be convenient and readily available, it should be kept in a savings plan. Once you have reached your goal for an emergency fund, however, you can start investing your savings where they will earn higher interest, notes the specialist.

Earthquake

A major earthquake, measuring 7.9 on the Richter scale, struck the mountainous area of eastern Turkey on Nov. 24, 1976. The quake killed at least 4,000 persons, injured 2,000 more and left 250,000 homeless.

This week's college schedule looks like playoff series

By BILL BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

There are no playoffs for college football's national title, but four games south of the Mason-Dixon line Saturday have the look of a championship elimination series.

No. 2 Nebraska will be at No. 12 Arizona State, No. 3 Auburn is at No. 11 Tennessee in a Southeastern Conference game, No. 7 Ohio State travels to No. 4 Louisiana State and No. 5 Miami of Florida is at No. 10 Arkansas.

The four nationally televised games involving eight of the nation's top 12 teams are sure to cause a reshuffling in the Top 20.

"I told the players the other day this is one reason they came to the University of Miami, to play in games like that," Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson said.

Johnson said he has no qualms about facing a partisan crowd at Little Rock, remembering his team's success on the road against Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Florida and Florida State.

"Packed houses that scream and holler, it fires up our team as well as the home team," he said. "During the last few years, we've probably been on television more than any team in the country."

In other games involving ranked teams, it's No. 1 Oklahoma at Tulsa;

No. 6 Florida State at Michigan State; No. 8 Notre Dame at Purdue; Georgia Tech at No. 9 Clemson; Arizona at No. 13 UCLA; Long Beach State at No. 14 Michigan; No. 15 Penn State vs. Boston College at Foxboro, Mass.; No. 16 Texas A&M vs. Southern Mississippi at Jackson; No. 17 Alabama at Vanderbilt; Pacific at No. 18 Washington; Kansas State at No. 19 Iowa; and South Carolina at No. 20 Georgia.

Nebraska-Arizona State is on ABC, LSU-Ohio State on CBS, Miami-Arkansas on ESPN and Auburn-Tennessee on WTBS, all in the afternoon.

Miami hasn't played since routing Florida 31-4 on Sept. 5 as quarterback Steve Walsh, the sophomore successor to Heisman Trophy winner Vinny Testaverde, completed 17 of 27 for 234 yards.

Arizona State will be an underdog at home for only the fourth time in 12 years when they play host to Nebraska, which outscored UCLA 42-33 two weeks ago.

Arizona State, 2-0, opened with a 21-7 victory at Illinois before beating Pacific 31-12. Nebraska also is 2-0 after crushing Utah State 56-12 and beating UCLA behind Steve Taylor's school-record five touchdown passes.

Redshirt junior Daniel Ford has completed 20 of 38 passes for 310 yards and three touchdowns in his first two career starts for Arizona State.

In order to accommodate television, LSU is playing its game against Ohio State in the afternoon, a rare occurrence at Baton Rouge, where Saturday night football is a tradition.

Not since a 1980 victory against Mississippi has LSU won an afternoon game at home. Since then, the Tigers are 0-4-1.

The Auburn-Tennessee game could turn into a defensive struggle.

Auburn has not given up a touchdown in posting a 2-0 record, while Tennessee, 3-0, has relied on big defensive plays. Linebacker Darrin Miller had a 96-yard fumble return for a touchdown and cornerback Terry McDaniel stripped the ball from a Mississippi State runner headed for the goal line.

Like the 1985 team, which led the nation in turnover ratio, Tennessee has forced seven turnovers while losing the ball only once.

While the games at Tempe, Little Rock, Baton Rouge and Knoxville could be close, Oklahoma should have little problem with Tulsa.

The Sooners have outscored North Texas State and North Carolina by a combined score of 97-14, while Tulsa is 0-3.

EASTERN NEW MEXICO (3-0, 0-0) at ADAMS STATE (2-0), 1 p.m. MDT, Rex Field (3,500), Alamosa, Colo. Coach Don Carthel's Greyhounds are now league's only unbeaten team after Saturday's 33-13 decision over Fort Lewis, Colo. ENMU defense came up with 9 turnovers, including 7 interceptions, against Raiders. Junior DB Andre Mayfield from Midland (Texas) Lee got 2 interceptions in endzone to win LSC Defensive Player of the Week. Junior RB Tommy Neal of Florence, Ariz., and freshman SE Dennis Griggs of Van Vleet, Texas, scored touchdowns in the fourth quarter to insure ENMU victory, and junior FB Eric Craig of San Antonio Highlands ran for 100 yards. ENMU lost LSC defensive leadership to Angelo State, but 'Hounds still tops in rushing defense (48.7). ENMU gives up 279.7 yards per game in the air. Adams State beat Chadron, Neb., 21-0 and Panhandle, Okla., 24-19. Mike McAninch of Adams State returned short field goal attempt 86 yards for touchdown and also had interception and 12 tackles to win RMAC Player of Week honors. ASC coach Jeff Geiser uses wishbone offense with 18 starters back from 2-8 team. ENMU won last year's meeting, 36-12. Radio: KCLV-FM, Portales.

WEST TEXAS STATE (1-2, 0-0) at MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE (0-2), 7 p.m., Robinson-Hale Stadium (9,000), Clinton, Miss. Both teams coming off losses. Defending LSC champ WTSU took 45-0 beating from Troy State, Ala., last weekend while Choctaws were also falling 24-20 to North Alabama. Mississippi College also fell in opener 35-0 to Arkansas State. Veteran coach John Williams has 13 starters back from 7-4 team which beat West Texas State, 34-24, last year. Senior RB James Morton of Eastland, Texas, gets 113.6 yards per game on ground to lead coach Bill Kelly's team. Senior QB Steve Kragthorpe of Pocatello, Idaho, throws for 122.6 yards per game, and Morton is also WTSU receiving leader with 11 catches for 75 yards. Buff punter Sean Frederiksen of Amarillo Caprock is LSC co-leader at 41.1. WTSU leads league in pass defense, giving up only 72.0 yards per game in air, and scoring defense at 20.0 points per game. Radio: KMML-FM, KIXZ-AM, Amarillo.

Astros are officially out of N.L. pennant race

ATLANTA (AP) — The chance of repeating as National League West champions officially ended for Houston in the type of game the '86 Astros almost always found a way to win.

Atlanta rallied from a four-run eighth-inning deficit for an 8-7 victory Thursday night that mathematically ended Houston's chances of a title and gave the Braves a sweep of the three-game series.

Dale Murphy's run-scoring infield single with two outs in the ninth scored Albert Hall with the winning run and gave Murphy his fourth RBI of the night. He also had a two-run homer, his 42nd, an RBI double and a single, and reached the 100-RBI mark for the fifth time in six seasons.

The Astros led 7-3 in the eighth. But Atlanta rallied to tie when Hall hit his third homer, Murphy doubled in a run, Ozzie Virgil hit an RBI single and Ken Oberkfell drove in a run with a single against Houston reliever Dave Smith. Smith had relieved Larry Andersen after Murphy's hit.

Nolan Ryan pitched six innings for the Astros, allowing five hits, striking out five and walking seven. In 1972-3 innings, Ryan has 251 strikeouts, tops in the major leagues. Seattle's Mark Langston leads the American League with 244 strikeouts.

Bill Doran doubled in Gerald Young and Reynolds in the first, then scored on a sacrifice fly by Kevin Bass as Houston jumped to a 3-0 lead. Atlanta trimmed it by one on Ron Gant's first major-league homer in the bottom of the inning.

Houston made it 5-1 in the third on run-scoring singles by Ty Gainey and Ken Caminiti.

Arkansas-Miami game tops SWC schedule

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

The Arkansas Razorbacks have a chance to put the Southwest Conference back on the national football map in a big way.

The 10th-ranked Razorbacks host the fifth-ranked Hurricane Saturday in a nationally televised (ESPN) 3 p.m. clash in War Memorial Stadium at Little Rock. Arkansas, the SWC preseason favorite, is the only unbeaten team left in the league.

Odds makers have installed Miami as a touchdown favorite.

"Miami is everything they are ranked to be," said Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield. "Their defense is just awesome."

Texas A&M, a 29-12 upset winner over 10th-ranked Washington last week, takes its brand new Top 20 ranking (16th) to Jackson, Miss., to meet Southern Mississippi. The defending SWC champion Aggies are 13-point favorites over the Golden Eagles.

A&M Coach Jackie Sherrill will wait until game time to decide between senior Craig Stump or redshirt freshman Lance Pavlas on his starting quarterback.

Freshman running sensation Randy Simmons also is expected to make his 1987 debut. Sherrill had planned to use Simmons against Washington, but changed his mind and held him out.

The SWC regular season officially opens this week as Baylor entertains Texas Tech at high noon in a regionally televised (Raycom) game in Waco.
