MEMORIAL SANITARIUM PROPOSED BY MAYOR

Now that an armistice has been signed and actual hostilities have ceased between the mighty armies at the front; and now that it is apparent that formal articles for a permanent peace will be executed by the nations recently arrayed against each other, in the near future, it seems an opportune time to consider some wise and appropriate manner by which a grateful and thankful people can express its appreciation of the sacrifices made by the men and boys sent to the front, some of whom will not return.

It has been suggested that a fund should be raised by private subscription with which to erect some suitable marble monument in memory of the boys who have lost their lives and of those who by their services have made possible the occasion of our gratitude. A fund raised by private subscription, as is usual in such cases, would have to be raised by the most generous and liberal hearted although they are not the most able to contribute.

Besides it seems to me that neither a marble shaft nor a bronze statue are the most appropriate and adequate to the occasion. They are not responsive to the spirit of the age, nor are they at all symbolical or even suggestive of the lofty humanitarian purposes that reinduced the American People to undertake this great war.

Recently a venerated bronze statue of Frederick The Great, presented to the American people by the Kaiser during Roosevelt's administration, was removed from a conspicuous position it occupied in Washington and was stored away. Statues and bronze and paintings of the Kaiser and his family in military trappings are disgustingly common in the cities of Europe.

The American People went into this war for great ideals. To better the conditions of mankind and to relieve humanity of the burdens under which it had been staggering for so long, were the ultimate objects to be accomplished and the objects, which we now think have been accomplished.

Instead of a marble shaft or a bronze statue erected on the Court House lawn, for which our enthusiasm and interest will largely cease after it is unveiled, I suggest that the people of Deaf Smith County do some thing that will be handsome and useful and warmly sympathetic towards frail humanity and erect a MEMORIAL SANITARIUM by taxation of all the people under the provisions of a statute enacted by the Texas Legislature a few years ago.

Let it be a building worthy of a well to do, public spirited, patriotic and Christian people.

Let it be a building that is pleasing to the eye and gratifying to look at, as well as one that is equipped and arranged in the most modern way to contribute to the relief and alleviation of the ills that afflict mankind.

While the roar of the battles has ceased and the great armies will soon be demobilized, disease and suffering will be with us always.

Can any thing in the way of a MEMORIAL at this time, be more fitting or appropriate than an up to date SANITARIUM?

It can be made a thing of beauty. It will be useful. It will be advancing the cause of civilization. It will reflect great credit on the people of Deaf Smith County and be an enduring monument to their love for humanity, their public spiritedness and their gratitude to the American Soldiers who went from the

WRITE A LETTER TO A SAMMIE AND DO IT NOW

Following is a list of all the soldier and sailor boys "over there" that Miss Bonnie Chamness and her friends could locate. The people of this community are urged to write to these boys. No matter if you are not well acquainted with them, if you know them, or of them, make a PRETENSE for writing, and it will please the boys more than you think. Be sure to tell everything in a humorous way and if you know any GOOD jokes don't be stingy with them. There is nothing like a good laugh to make a happy heart. The boys have done more for you than you can ever repay, so get busy and send them all Xmas cheer, in letters that you can put in an envelope:

Wilbur Renfro, recently officially reported dead of pneumonia by the War Department, was born in Grand county, Mo., January 12, 1893. In the fall of 1902 he moved to Hereford with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Renfro. He attended the Hereford public schools and leaves many sorrowing schoolmates in this vicinity. He was an industrious boy, working on his father's farm until the past two years, when he came into his father's garage in town. He was a moral boy with a ready smile, and numbered his friends by his acquaintances. He was one of the county's selective service men and left for training at Camp Travis April 25. He was supposed to have sailed for overseas duty on September 11, on the S. S. Orando, which was wrecked in the English Channel on the 26th of September, his parents being notified of his death on September 30th. Beyond the official telegram telling of his death, his parents have received no details of his untimely demise.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE TO BE HELD AT NIGHT

At a meeting of the ministers of the various churches last Monday afternoon, in the study of the Rev. J. E. McClurkin, it was decided to hold a joint Thanksgiving Service next Thursday, November 28th, in the big Christian church, the sermon to be preached by Rev. McClurkin.

At first the hour was set for ten o'clock in the forenoon, but later it was learned that the schools would not turn out Thursday morning, owing to the loss of valuable time from the "Flu", and for that reason it was determined to hold the service at 7:00 o'clock in the evening.

The program as arranged for the occasion follows:

Special Music—Solo

LISTEN, EVERYBODY!

The war is won, but the men of the Army who left their business, their homes, their loved ones, and risked their lives and suffered hardships and privations (many of them now being sick and wounded) have not come home yet.

DON'T LET THEM WALK BACK.
DON'T LET THEM SUFFER.
DON'T BE UNGRATEFUL.
Keep the RED CROSS going.
Don't CASH the War Stamps.
Keep the FRUIT PITS and NUT SHELLS coming many masks to be made yet.

Deaf Smith County has made a wonderful record so far—keep it up.

Don't spoil it on the finish. Our reward is great—the cost very small.

EVERYBODY HELP BOOST THIS!

HEREFORD PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE BOYS WHO DIED

QUOTA DOUBLED; BOYS AND GIRLS GIVE BIG SUMS

Hats off to Deaf Smith County! Another campaign over in a blaze of glory!

The closing days of the big War Work Campaign, were marked with the same intense interest and determined purpose that has characterized the work from the beginning. Never, until the last hour of the last day was there the slightest cessation in the efforts of the workers even though it was known that by daylight of the opening day, the county had passed its original quota and had reached its later goal of $6000. The work went on day after day with men and women, boys and girls, willing, eager, anxious, and each afternoon from all over the county came encouraging reports and a steady stream of pledges, until the final summing up Monday evening showed a total of $8500, an amount exceeding the most sanguine hopes of the workers, and the term includes practically every man and woman, boy and girl in Deaf Smith County.

A surprising fact and a matter of congratulation to the parents of the county is that the big item that put the total so much in excess of the quota was the unexpected response of the boys and girls, whose united contribution was $1121, $507 coming from the boys and $614 from the girls. This training in citizenship thus afforded the future men and women of the county, can not be overestimated and gives a double value to the service they have rendered to the boys at the front.

Another important factor in the good showing made was the excellent work of the women.

In the rural communities many busy housewives spent days in a house-to-house canvass of their entire school districts. Into these visits was put the personal touch and human sympathy that brought in to every home the realization that in this work the women of America were a united motherhood in service for its sons. The same was true of the women's work in Hereford. Carefully organized and planned under the city leader Mrs. P. W. Prier and carried out with efficiency and thoroughness by competent committees, the work meant much more than a mere money canvass. Exclusive of a number of women whose subscriptions were included with their husbands there was a total of 123 women subscribers, their subscriptions amounting to $1066.40 so, to both these factors—the unexpectedly larger subscription of the women and the boys and girls due the greater part of the excess amount.

Much of the inspiration that was the motive power of the weeks work can be credited to the faithfulness and efficiency of the men and women who visited the various schools and communities of the county and put before them the work in its meaning and importance.

For the committee to have stopped work when the quota was reached would have been a manifest injustice as many of those best able to give and really anxious to give would have thus been denied the privilege. Neither would a lower per-capita rating have been advisable as it would have incurred the risk of falling short—a thing they do not do in Deaf Smith County. There are no regrets at not having stopped sooner but, rather a deepened

On Sunday last, at the Christian church, the congregations of the Presbyterian and Christian churches united in a memorial service for Deaf Smith County's four boys who have fallen on the field of honor, the County Council of Defense also being represented in the service.

The beautiful decorated church itself, spoke eloquently of the nature of the occasion. Everywhere flowers shed their beauty and fragrance, in front of the chancel four gleaming golden stars, pendent from erape hangings, were brought into perfect relief by a background of vines and fern falling softly over ivory panels; while over all and on every side, was unfurled the nation's flag mutely proclaiming its proud privilege to guard in death the sacred emblems of those who had defended it in life.

In the large audience that came into the church so quietly and reverently, filling the entire auditorium and gallery, could be read a universal sorrow mingled with a common pride—sorrow for the great loss to home and loved ones, and pride in sharing the glorious sacrifice of American peerless sons.

Opening the service a large chorus made up of voices from the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Christian church choirs led the congregation in the singing of "America" and after scripture reading and prayer sang again Kipling's inspiring "Recessional." Beautifully appropriate and very effective was the old hymn "Jesus Lover of My Soul" sweetly and tenderly sung by Miss Zena Owen as was also, "There's a Service Flag at Our House," sung by Misses Bonnie Chamness, Annie Pries, Waldine Wilson and Jane Gregg. This song with its touch of home sentiment struck a responsive chord in every heart.

With "The Supreme Sacrifice" as his subject Rev. Asbell showed that through all history great ends had been attained only through sacrifice and that to the pagan and Christian world alike the sacrifice of human life was the fullest, highest service within the power of man to give. The address was a clear and forceful exposition of the thought that the fittest place that man can is where he dies for man.

Rev. Baker's "Tribute to Our Boys" was eloquent with love and sympathy. He spoke feelingly of

JOE OWEN

Hereford's minister-soldier son, whose body now rests in "Flanders Fields." He told of Joe's early decision to enter the ministry, of his strong religious conviction, and of his zeal for the Master's work. To the speaker paid glowing tribute to his boyhood and early manhood, of his cheerful, unselfish life in the home, of his business integrity and ability and of his eagerness to complete his training that he might be ready for the place, where his life would count most for his country. Of the two other boys

JAMES M. HENINGTON

Rev. Baker spoke not from personal acquaintance but from the sure knowledge that comes from the unasked testimony of those who knew and loved and appreciated the real worth of these true-hearted, patriotic, young men. Both volunteers, they had gladly offered all upon their country's altar. No higher eulogy could be given for

If you have any sense of proportion—of related values—of anything at all—the U. S. A., as a place to live in, looks better to you than any other country in the world.

And if you have the homing—which every good man has—Hereford looks to you like one of the best places in the U. S. A.

Christmas is the time when the home spirit is most potent within us—or should be. Every block on Main St. should arouse impulses at this time which could not be stimulated by the sight of the Capitol dome.

Sentiment need not blind us to the fact that firms engaged in retail business on our streets are, like the rest of us, prompted in their daily activities by the prospect of commercial profit. But it should count for something with us that it is their life work to study the individual needs of Hereford people. And the material symbol of the Christmas spirit is that eternal emblem, the Christmas gift.

Hereford merchants, who know many of us by our first names, are the best judges of our habits, tastes and requirements. They have for some time been making their preparations on the basis of what they know about us, and now is the time to apply to them for advice and service.

In many large banks the bond departments are being reorganized, and among new features contemplated is a greater abundance of bond issues in the lower denominations. The innovations arise from the conviction of the direct-grades that they will soon have to deal with a new type of investor—the type that has never invested before.

Those of us who have been in the habit of putting their savings into bonds hardly realize how widespread an ignorance has existed regarding this class of investment. But any Liberty bond salesman has realized it by this time. He has worked to exhaustion answering questions which he thought anybody could answer. "What's a coupon?" "Can you buy groceries with it?" "Can you sell a bond after you have bought it?" "Must you take it to Washington to sell it?"

These mysteries are now cleared away, and most people know that you don't save bond coupons up to a total of eleven hundred and then trade them in for premium coffee-pots or tobacco-humidors. The Liberty bond campaigns have elucidated these things—and a few others.

It has taught that the bond department of a state or national bank is widely different from a fraudulent bucket shop. Banks of standing cannot afford to offer doubtful securities for sale; they prosper or decline in proportion as their customers win or lose. One cheated customer could set up a squeal that would wreck the institution.

The movies have fed us to repletion on Wall St. romances in which some sinister broker always plays a leading part, and those who get their ideas from movies felt more inclined than ever to hide their savings in mattresses. But they can do better now.

According to General Du Pont it will take about two years to demobilize the American army. There will be plenty of work for our soldiers to do in France after peace has been signed, so that there is no fear of a period of unemployment at home. On the contrary, the work of reconstruction will mean a tremendous circulation of money and its distribution into the hands of the masses in America, and the more readily it is invested by them in sound securities the faster will capital be available for expanding reconstructive programs to more ambitious dimensions.

Peace will bring with it a greater stimulus to having among the wage-earners than ever inspired them before. And here is the keystone of national prosperity.

The white angel of peace has come to bless the world.

We never expected to delight in any other flag than the Stars and Stripes. But the white flag under which the German envoys came to Marshall Foch was very welcome.

A large selection of assorted noises evidenced the joy of America over the cessation of hostilities.

Don't expect the flesh-pots of Egypt again at once. Our army and our allies are still to be supplied, and we must continue to conserve and conserve some more.

Some one suggests that the Kaiser should hereafter live in Oblivion. This will be impossible, for quarters have already been reserved for him in the Hall of Infamy.

Will our boys like the home menu when they return? Or will we all have to learn to make army stew?

This will be the greatest Thanksgiving since the days of the Pilgrim Fathers. One hardly knows how to specify the causes for thankfulness. However, we might mention Peace by Victory, President Wilson, Marshal Foch, General Pershing, the French 75's, the Yanks, the Gods, the 1918 wheat crop, sugar substitutes, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie. Add others to suit your individual taste.

Perhaps swords will soon be beaten into plowshares. During the peace celebration we certainly saw wash boilers and garbage cans beaten into producers of infernal sounds.

For months the German army will have nightmare dreams of running at its topmost speed while dreadful Americans on motor trucks pursue it.

PEACE

Is declared and I declare that I am in the market to sell Farms and Ranches cheaper than was ever heard of before. Busy every day and always something doing. Come and see me. Our good smooth shallow water land around Hereford is the best investment in the world. Come and see me while it is still cheap and be convinced.

Don't let us be tempted into any extravagance by the thought that the war is over. Our boys must still be supported abroad; they must gradually be brought back; they must be returned to civilian life by degrees. There will be another Liberty Loan. We must be ready for it.

The War Lords in their shining armor have had their brief and bloody day. It is followed by the days of the Lord of Peace.

After the "tumult and the shouting dies," a sense of deep thankfulness and gratitude will be with us and remain with us for all the days of our lives.

OUR HEROES.

O, Golden-bond of Sympathy! Thou art both human and divine. Countless, the aching hearts to soothe, The gracious, heaven-sent mission thine.

Among the ties that nature knows, The tenderest, the truest and the best, That forms the brotherhood of man; And finds a chord in every human breast.

In heaven born, when God made knowna The fall of man and his righteous doom Then Christ, the priceless offering made Which ransomed man and vengeance stayed.

But no less human because divine This tie should bind us heart to heart And cause us each in a brother's we Bear our God-bidden, Christ-like part.

The warm hand-clasp and welling tear The heaving bosom and glowing face The unspoken word of love and cheer— These silent tokens are Nature's grace.

Our Blessed Savior, when He stood By that loved friend's grave in Bethany Bound loving hearts yet closer still By tender, human sympathy.

Nor there alone, but whereso'er He went on earth, this lesson taught, That all our dealings with mankind With love and sympathy should be fraught.

Gladstone, that imperious, "Grand old man," Found time in life's great work and plan To bestow a smile and word of cheer In many a life of toil and care.

Fair England's Sydney, true and brave, Who to the dying soldier gave His own "cup of cold water" in His name, Won a reward greater than all his fame.

No deed of Grant's won him truer praise Than when, to the South, came her darkest days And Lee, peerless leader, before him stood To offer the victor an untarnished sword.

But Grant, as must all truly great Refused to unjustly humiliate One who had done a most noble best As true historians all freely attest.

Our "Father of His Country," noble man, Did not disdain, with liberal hand To aid and comfort the poor and weak Or any who might his favor seek.

Brave LaFayette, noble son of France, Who came to us with his sword and lance, With a brothers help, in time of need We'd not withhold, of praise, his meed.

With grateful homage we would name, Him, who to the head of our Nation came In a period of peril, dark as night When Hunnish kultur, said, "Might is right."

Reluctant to plunge our nation in blood, Yet longing to assert her brave manhood: Impelled by sympathy for those oppressed:

By the knowledge that "War is hell" distressed: Fearing to trust men's wisdom alone, This man of prayer, as he'd ever done, Sought Higher Guidance to shape our course.

That we might not fall nor know remorse, And now "in the cause of humanity" our country stands forth in her majesty Weak and oppressed peoples to defend And gain for them the right of men.

Conquest, revenge, nor fame her cause But the world to free from unjust laws, A cause that know no race nor name But would light the world with Freedom's flame.

A "War against war," for righteous peace, For all the world, till time shall cease As great her achievement, as was her aim, As deathless, as just, shall be her fame.

Bravely Our Boys on this mission went Proudly, with the allies, were the instrument As self-sacrificing as martyrs of old Their names we record with stars, red or gold.

As truly brave, as loyally true The Boy whose name bears the star's of blue, They went as bravely at their country's call, They'd have given as gladly their service, their all.

Friday for their home in Los Angeles, Calif., after having spent the summer here with their daughter, Mrs. Dayton Hanson.

Dayton Hanson last week received a confirmation of the message received several days previous that his brother, Dr. Hanson of Amarillo, had been slain in battle by the Huns on Oct. 8. Mr. Hanson truly has our sympathy in his loss.

Dick Clinin was able to be down to his office at the elevator a short while Saturday afternoon for the first time since he was stricken with the "flu".

G. W. Maurer Sr., member of the Santa Fe Grain Co., was in Farwell Monday looking after the business of the company.

Several new cases of influenza developed here last week but all seem now to be recovering.

Efforts are being made to secure a threshing machine to thrash the row crops grown here this season, and there is hopes that one will be in the community this week or next.

Mention was made in last weeks letter of the death of Mrs. Elsie Clinin, wife of R. G. Clinin on the morning of Nov. 10, resulting from influenza.

The funeral services were held at the home Wednesday morning at 11 a. m. conducted by Rev. W. H. Harbut of Bedford, Oklahoma, former pastor of the Congregational church at Friona, of which the deceased was a member.

In spite of the contagious nature of the disease, nearly every family in the community was represented at the funeral, thus rendering a mute evidence of the esteem in which the departed one was held by all who knew her.

Mrs. Clinin was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goodwine, who came here from Kokomo, Indiana in 1908. She leaves besides her husband, two little daughters to mourn her loss.

The parents and husband join in extending their sincerest gratitude to the many friends who so kindly rendered and offered their assistance and sympathy during their hours of deep sorrow.

Rev. Willman departed for Weatherford, Oklahoma, last Wednesday after having come here to preach in the Congregational church but was unable to meet the congregation in a body owing to the prevalence of influenza.

Everybody who met Rev. Willman was favorably impressed with his personality and it was decided under the circumstances to leave the decision to the church officers who met at the Kinsey home and voted to extend a call to him to become the pastor of the church for one year, and he having expressed his willingness to accept such a call, it is expected he will return and begin his pastoral work here in the near future.

BETTS-CLARK DRUG STORE TAKE AGENCY FOR PEP SYSTEMIC PILLS.

These Pills Made from a Formula Prescribed By Noted Physicians For Many Years.

Betts-Clark has just secured the agency for his store, and expects them to become the biggest selling tonic for toning up sluggish people that has ever been introduced in this city.

Pep Systemic Pills have been creating wonderful results. The Formula used in the production of these pills has been used for many years, by physicians in prescribing a tonic for building up run down systems and for such ailments as nervousness, rheumatism, impotence, loss of appetite, impure blood, constipation, sallow complexion, feeble weakness and as a general tonic for strengthening the body.

Nearly everyone who takes these pills say, "They made me feel just like a boy again."

Not only are Pep Systemic Pills more-convenient to take than liquid tonics, but better results have also been reported by all who have used them. Being easily dissolved after taken into the stomach, they are far superior to hard compressed tablets which so often pass through the system undissolved.

Pep Pills, which contain iron in BLAUD'S MASS form, which is considered to be the most assimilable form of iron salts, are reinforced by other valuable nerve, blood and alterative tonics, make a combination that is scoring marvelous results for rundown systems, giving color to the skin and producing a healthy, robust body.

Try a box of these pills. Start taking them at once and see how much "pep" and vigor they will put into you after taking just a few of them. They can now be had at Betts-Clark drug store. Address all mail orders and correspondence to Betts-Clark, Drugists.

Sold by Betts-Clark. ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTE FOR PEP SYSTEMIC PILLS.

BAY VIEW CLUB.

After a "stay-at-home" for three weeks, it was with renewed zeal and interest that the Bay View Club met at the home of Mrs. D. C. Laird on Nov. 14th, 1918. The meeting was called to order by vice-pres. Mrs. F. T. Holocen and after a brief business session, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Charlie Donald who was leader for the afternoon. Taking up the study of "A Doll's House" by Henrik Ibsen the following program was rendered.

Study of "A Doll's House"—Mrs. Chrs. Garrison.

Social Problems Presented in "A Doll's House"—Mrs. B. F. Guthrie. Reading from "A Doll's House"—Mrs. W. A. Price.

In order to make up for the time lost during the quarantine for influenza the program for Oct. 24th and Oct. 31 will be given at our next meeting which will be with Mrs. Seth E. Holman with Mesdames Holman and Guthrie as hostesses, and Mesdames Evans and Ferguson as leaders.

We are especially glad to have with us once more Mrs. Jno. McLain and the new club baby Master Wm. Franklin McLain, and Mrs. W. A. Price.

After serving delicious lemon pie, cheese straws and coffee, the meeting adjourned.

The Delphian Club met Friday afternoon at the Court House in the Library where it was decided to meet for the present. A second Vice Pres. is to be added to our officers at the next meeting. Every member is urged to be present; this is just the beginning of our year's work so come and "begin at the beginning." Don't forget the second, three divisions of questions on Italy will be the next program. Mrs. Rodgers leader, Nov. 24 at Library.

The Parents Teachers Club will meet at the Central school building Friday December 6, at 3:30 p. m. The program is as follows: Song School Reading Winnie V. Potts Piano Solo Beulah Lee Rutherford Violin Solo Mable Barnhardt "The Prussian Idea of a Greater Germany" Miss Altha Morton "Freedom as a progress in the development of Humanity"

All mothers and friends of the students are cordially invited to attend. 43-31

On Friday of last week the Mothers' club surprised Mrs. Enna Mercer with an old fashion "Turkey Dinner." Mrs. Mercer was leaving in a few days to spend the winter with her daughter Mrs. Frank Goodloe, of Wellington, Kansas, and the club thought to try, in a small way, to show their appreciation of what Mrs. Mercer had meant to them as a member of the club.

Never was a surprise carried out so well. Not one member of the Mercer household was told of the dinner, and the astonished look that greeted the party when they arrived was enough to assure them that it was indeed a surprise for the "not invited hostess."

After the Turkey dinner was served the afternoon was spent in knitting and visiting also an impromptu program was given. Just before leaving for their homes, at a late hour, the guests presented Mrs. Mercer with a beautiful bar pin with the engraving, "Mothers' Club."

The seasons joy was expressed to it's fullest on last Sunday in the form of a surprise for Mrs. W. W. Chivington at the home of W. J. Gilliland, where she is a guest.

After attending services at the different churches a number of her friends found their way to the Gilliland home, with dishes of delicious "cats."

When Mrs. Chivington first saw the beautifully set table, before the guests had come in, she wondered what the occasion was. The suspense was not long however as the many friends began to come from every room into the dining room.

The day was a pleasant one for every one and when parting time came best wishes were made for Mrs. Chivington, who will soon leave for her new home in California.

LIBRARY GROWING.

There is an old saying that, "The more we do, the more we can do." This truth was never better demonstrated than by the work accomplished during the past few months for the benefit of our town library. This work has been done at a time when the amount of war work was greater than at any other time, since it's beginning. It would seem, with all the different branches of war work, and the demand of time, purse, and heart that the library stood a chance to be forgotten; but such was not the case. At no period of it's history has more work been accomplished, in a given time, than the work recently done.

Many books of interest concerning the war have been added and eagerly read by the public. Gifts have come in unexpectedly and in goodly numbers. A few months ago Mr. Lovelace donated a number of volumes and the past week Mrs. Costell's generosity made the library richer by twenty volumes.

At the last meeting of the library board it was decided to add a new feature "Children's Hour," which will begin as soon as suitable quarters can be had. Fifteen volumes for this department are already on the shelves, among them, Folk Stories, books of Rhymes, Book of Humor and others of equal worth.

The Harvard Classics have also been added to the library's growing collection.

Far and near it is known that Hereford went "Over the Top" in Red Cross work, in the Liberty loans, in war saving stamps and the United War Work. It is a matter of great pride that our local institutions have also prospered in this time of great stress.

Too much praise cannot be given to the ladies whose efforts have made this possible. In addition to an efficient library board, a librarian who has placed the work before personal interest and sacrificed time from an already busy life. To these things the library owes it's success. For more than four years Mrs. Rolosen has worked and planned for the library; has read or investigated every book, and saw that every book was one that should be in a good library, a library censor is important as well as a war censor.

We are glad that the public is becoming more interested in our library. The help, however, of all is needed. One thing that you all can do to help is to give your magazine subscriptions to the library board it will cost the subscriber no more and will greatly help the library.

this, that he lay down his life for his friends."

As a personal friend of many years, Mr. G. A. F. Parker added to what Rev. Baker had said many tender reminiscences of the life of Joe Owen. The depth and earnestness of appreciation manifested by this well known business man was a touching tribute to the pure strong manly life lived out in such few brief years.

As a member of the County Council of Defense Mr. Carl Gilliland expressed the love and sympathy and appreciation of this organization who, he felt, were in a way sponsors for these and for all the boys of Deaf Smith County who are in the service. His address was timely and fitting voicing the thought that the memory of these boys was now the treasured heritage of the entire county and of the state and nation as well.

Following this address, the singing of the old hymn "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" closed a most beautiful and appropriate service—a service that will be a living memorial in the hearts of the large assemblage of the people privileged to attend it.

The separate memorial service held for J. J. Owen at the Baptist church was also an impressive ceremony. The house was full, and suitable resolutions were passed by the congregation. The resolution will be published in full next week.

sense of appreciation of the genuine worth of this loyal, big-hearted, Panhandle people.

From start to finish the campaign was indeed a UNITED work. Everybody was glad to do his bit.

The large, cheery, well located room used as "Headquarters" was kindly donated by the First National Bank and with it went lights, telephone and heat. Then to make the place complete, an attractive sign, easily read a block away, was supplied by Mr. E. A. Bone of the Cash Grocery. Every courtesy was shown and every convenience placed at the hands of the committee. All of these things played a vital part in bringing success and prove again the caliber of the people of this locality.

All in all the good work done shows that we have learned the lesson taught us by our boys—that humankind after all, is only a big brotherhood; not Jew, not Protestant, not Catholic but rather children of the same Father and fashioned in His image and that the great movement known as the United War Work is the pioneer step toward that unity and oneness prayed for by "The Man of Galilee" when he said "Father, may they be one, even as we are one."

county to help maintain the National ideals.

It can be provided with appropriate tablets expressing the sentiments which prompted the people voluntarily to tax themselves to erect and support such an institution, and with memorial inscriptions recording the names of all the boys who went from the county and the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

The war has brought home to us as never before the wonderful work that has been done by the Red Cross. Why should we not have in our midst an institution every day prepared, ready and willing to carry on one branch of the work carried on by that great organization?

Are we really thankful that the war is over and are we really grateful for the results that have been accomplished by the American Armies, of which our Deaf Smith County boys were a part?

Are we really sincere when we say that we want to do some thing to manifest our appreciation of their efforts? Or are our utterances mere lip service and self congratulatory? It seems to me that this would be a fitting time for the voters of Deaf Smith County to say that they welcome this excellent opportunity of erecting and maintaining in this county a MEMORIAL SANITARIUM in order to express in a substantial, practical and useful way the real gratitude and thankfulness that is in their hearts and to show their lasting appreciation of those who sacrificed and were willing to sacrifice their lives in order to accomplish what the President has recently called "a great triumph of right."

A Sanitarium is both practical and useful and isgermaine and suggestive of the great objects of the war from the view point of the American People. It would be a MEMORIAL both substantial and enduring and a constant reminder of the sacrifices made to win a cause so righteous. It would be a handsome exhibition of our gratitude. Fortunately it is easily within our reach, but the details for handling such an enterprise under the statutes of Texas must be left for another time.

What do the people think about it? Wm. M. KNIGHT.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak... I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught." Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. OPEN LETTER TO ROOSEVELT.

The following appeared in the New World.

Dear Sir: In the face of this morning's message from the president to Germany, I feel impelled to write this public letter to you. If I withhold my name from the publication it is only because a long friendship with members of your family makes me loath to wound them by a personal note and because I am convinced that I speak for a very large and unanimous constituency. The admiration for you which I, along with hundreds of thousands of fellow Americans, have felt in the past has been gradually undermined by your failure to be loyal to any one but yourself.

Both presidents who have followed you in the occupation of the most onerous and responsible position in the world today have suffered from your attacks, both insidious and open. The one an old friend and political comrade; the other, a political opponent charged with a task beyond the power of any human being to perform to the satisfaction of a critical and necessarily uninformed country, has never received from you even a suspension of comment, a generous thought or a helpful word. I have read your public utterances faithfully and I cannot recall one occasion on which the winning of the war has been put before politics, or any evidence of loyal support of your country in its travail has been shown, or has builded forth that eloquence and force of speech which you have not hesitated to employ to attack to weaken, or try to destroy.

The poison you distill is often demonstrated. Based upon your irresponsible fulminations mistaken opinions are formed, doubts are created, faith shaken, in the household of your friend and family, who look upon you as an oracle in much the same attitude of mind which inspires the outrage of the Kaiser, a fair estimate of the present administration is impossible to attain. Intemperate language, the result of conclusions drawn from insufficient data and misinformation, is all one ever gets. They reflect you, and you, apparently, are not capable of a just judgment. Your vision is clouded by partisan prejudices and ignoble jealousy that the great war is drawing to a close successfully, for your efforts. You are reported in the public press as having said in a late speech at Oyster Bay that the "president's diplomacy, it was worse than secret diplomacy." All who read those words must have burned with rage and shame. Your sons have gone to the war. They went like countless other brave young men. You "gave" them only in the sense that you were proud and glad to have them go. Theirs was the gift, not yours. How many other parents do you think have done the same and said nothing?

But it is impossible for you to say nothing about anything. In this last fact lies perhaps the one thing which renders you harmless and powerless excepting to exasperate. We have been so long and so persistently inoculated by small doses of your venom, sometimes fevered and distressed by it, that when we are exposed now to the disease of Rooseveltism we do not take it.

Only we do protest that such utterances as the one I have cited are prejudiced, ignorant, unpatriotic and disloyal, and we ask that for your own sake, and to persevere that remnant of respect which as a former president we should like to retain, you desist from such offenses.

I am, sir, yours with PROFOUND INDIGNATION.

THE HAND OF GOD IN ALL OUR AFFAIRS

The Brand is glad to publish the following communication from a reader who has many friends in this and adjoining communities.

Los Angeles, Cal., 11-11-18
To The Brand:
There are many in this day who do not recognize the hand of God in the affairs of men. But any student of the Bible must admit that the fate of Germany and its proud rulers was meant by the old Prophet Isaiah when he denounced the fate of Babylon a thousand years before our own era: "How are thou fallen from Heaven, Oh, Lucifer, son of the morning! How are thou cut down to the ground which did weaken the nations. For thou hast said in thine heart: I will ascend into Heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God. I will be like the Most High. Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit. They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, saying: Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and did shake Kingdoms; that made the world as a wilderness and destroyed the cities thereof?"

Why should it be thought a thing incredible that God should manifest Himself directly in the affairs of men? It will be considered by posterity as one of the miracles of the ages, that the Great Republic of the West should have intervened to save Europe from the Hun; that she should have been able to transport, not only men, but food and munitions, to feed her famishing millions, and to supply her armies; that one of the greatest Statesmen of all time should have been in the exalted position of our beloved President to guide, by his consummate wisdom, the councils of the nations. All this seems proof positive that God still governs in the affairs of men, not in a perfunctory way, but personally in the same manner he will guide our future.

I have been profoundly impressed by this great nation of ours. She is training herself to be the leader of the nations, in science, and art, and in government. May God grant her His righteousness, and lead her in the way of virtue and right living. There is danger that we be led astray by the pride of achievement. Nations, like individuals, are led by their ideals, and these to be potent and effective for good, must needs be God-fearing.

Rome, Greece, Babylon, were all splendid civilizations, but they were ruined by pride and luxury. So it will be with us if we forget God.

CLEVE TATE'S DODGE CAR GOES ON TEAR SMASHES WINDOW

Last Monday evening Cleve Tate of Dimmitt, driver of the mal hack between Hereford and Dimmitt, left his Dodge standing in front of the Wilson Furniture building, and later returned and cranked up. One twist was plenty—the Dodge reared up and made a bee line for the expensive plate glass window in the ex-furniture store front. Cleve stated that it is a mystery to him how he managed to get out of the way, but the Lord was apparently with him. The car crashed into the big window and smashed it to smithereens, even the marble slabs at the bottom being shattered by the heavy spring. The car was not injured.

The accident is a most unfortunate one for Tate, as the glass is an extra large and costly one.

QUESTIONNAIRES MUST BE RETURNED BY MEN OVER THE AGE OF 36

Chief Clerk Joe Crouch states that much misunderstanding has arisen over the disposition of the questionnaires sent out to men over the age of 36. Mr. Crouch is in receipt of an official order from the Adjutant General, instructing him to secure every Questionnaire sent out to this class of men, although they are not to be filled out, and send them in to headquarters.

Mr. Crouch therefore requests The Brand to ask all those who have these official papers to please return them at once.

If you wish to subscribe for magazines, or any periodical, call on J. M. Boone. He will duplicate any club rates offered, and will save you postage and money order fees, and will be responsible for papers coming.

MY FRIEND—JOE OWEN.

—G. A. F. Parker—
 When I think of Joe Owen there comes to me only pleasant and inspiring memories. There seemed nothing in his life to regret—strong in body, bright in mind, warm hearted and true, his boyhood gave promise of a long and useful life.

As a boy he sowed no wild oats, and as a man he had none to reap. Early in life he gave his heart to God, and determined to devote his talents to the ministry. Well do I remember when he left home to attend the college at Decatur. With the small amount of money at his command, it seemed an impossible undertaking. But he felt sure he could get through, and so he did. He worked his way, paying his expenses by the labor of his hands, and yet winning the big and best honors of his school, and even inter-collegiate honors.

His vacations were spent in farm work. Time was precious to him. He did not waste it.

When the awful war came, and our beloved country took her rightful place among the champions of liberty, justice and righteousness, the young preacher boy, Joe Owen, was among the first to volunteer. He was soon recognized by those in authority as one capable of unusual service. His early training had fitted him for high service to his country.

He was assigned to work with the civil engineers, and after a short course of training was sent to France to serve his country and humanity upon the battle front.

We do not yet know the part he played in that awful struggle. He fell gallantly upon the battle field on September 29th, before victory had come to our arms. But we do know Joe Owen and we know he did his best. He always did.

His blood was shed for us, and his pure soul has gone to be with his savior whom he loved and served.

Ah soldier, to your honored rest
 Your truth and valor bearing

 The loving are the daring.

RED CROSS

Now that the quarantine is lifted it is necessary to give a good deal of time toward the completion of our quota. There is an impression abroad that all work stopped during the epidemic period. Such was not the case. There was a great deal of work done in the homes but the quota still lacks much of being complete. It is urged we do this before December first. We were asked to have this work turned in by November 15th, but on account of influenza the time was extended to Dec. first. The rooms will be open for sewing every day and there will be ladies present to give out work.

The cutting committee is ahead on garments now.

SURGICAL DRESSINGS

Headquarters has asked that all whole bolts of surgical dressing material be returned but broken bolts will be made up here and shipped later. Workers will be needed to complete this work.

KNITTING

The knitting quota is not complete. The past week 280 pairs of socks and 40 sweaters were shipped, all articles when completed should be sent in whether knitting or sewing.

Red Cross work in some form will be continued for months. Mr. Simmons manager of South Western Division says at no time have supplies been more needed. A garment now of the right kind may be the means of saving a life.

The Red Cross is organized to help the helpless, and although the war is ended the results remain. Millions of sick, maimed, and destitute must be cared for. We no longer have to sacrifice our boys but there is still need for our work and money.

The final date for mailing Christmas parcels for Soldiers and War Workers overseas has been extended from Nov. 20th to Nov. 30th.

In order to relieve the distress that has been occasioned by the slow arrival of Christmas parcels labels from abroad, and the fear that they would not come at all, the war Department has arranged to supply the American Red Cross with labels which the Red Cross in turn will issue to the public under the following conditions and restrictions.

Persons who have no parcels labels from abroad, should apply to the nearest Red Cross headquarters, and in the presence of an authorized representative of the Red Cross should make the following statement in writing:

"The undersigned makes hereby application to forward to..... (insert name of recipient), whose address is..... (insert military units to which recipient belongs) of the American Expd. Forces one Christmas parcel. The undersigned hereby declares that he, or she, is the nearest relative in the United States of the person for whom the Christmas parcel is intended. The undersigned furthermore declares that he, or she, has not received a label from abroad, and that if such label be subsequently received, it will not be used. The undersigned furthermore declares that to the best of his, or her knowledge and belief only one Christmas parcel will be sent from America to the proposed recipient, and that this parcel will be sent by the undersigned."

The foregoing regulations become effective on the morning of Nov. 21. They are not applicable now to any case or condition, to make this clear and unmistakable to the public.

Signed by the Committee,
 Mesdames Sherm Williams,
 Walter Dunlap,
 Fletcher Rogers.

Big Holiday Cash Sale of Art Rugs

We have the most extensive line of ART RUGS it has ever been our pleasure to show at any time. It is true we have had the most extensive sale of these goods during 1918 that we have ever enjoyed.

We take it as a compliment to ourselves that there is a big reason for this big business at our store.

In the first place we bought our goods before the big advance in prices and second we are satisfied with small profits. We have never marked our goods up like other dealers have done all over the land. We have been loyal to our trade and have kept prices down at least 25 per cent under the prices of all our neighboring towns.
