HEREFORD, DEAF SMITH COUNTY, TEXAS, TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1923.

TWO BROTHERS DROWNED IN FRIONA LAKE; SEARCHERS FIND BODIES TUESDAY

RUSSEL AND MARK REEVE WERE REPAIRING TELEPHONE LINE WHEN BOAT CAPSIZED AND BROTHERS GO TOGETHER

HIGH WAVES HAMPER RECOVERY

Volunteers From Friona, Hereford, Farwell and Elsewhere Put in Hours Dragging, Diving and Other Efforts Without Avail Until Early Tuesday Afternoon

The body of Russel Reeve was brought to the surface about 1:00 Tuesday afternoon with the aid of grab hooks fastened on the end of a windmill sucker-rod. It was found near the telephone pole where the nephew who was with them had said the accident happened. The body was brought at once to Friona. A short time afterwards the report reached here that the second body had also been brought to the surface from the same pool. No more details were available before going to press.

Friona, June 17.—Perhaps the saddest affair in the history of this community occurred here about four o'clock Sunday when two brothers, Russel and Mark Reeve, aged respectively 27 years and 23 years, were drowned in a lake about eleven miles north of this place.

The young men were out in a small boat trying to repair a telephone line when in some manner the boat rocked and Mark fell overboard. He was unable to swim and became slightly strangled but Russel sprang to his assistance and brought him to the boat and told him to hold on and they would get to shore, but in his alarm he tried to get into the boat and thus upset it. Once more Russel rescued him but again he let go of the boat. Again the brother undertook his rescue and the two went down together and came up no more. William Guyer, their nephew, a boy of about 16 years of age, was with them in the boat and made several attempts to rescue them by diving but failed to reach them. Seeing his own strength was failing and that the boat was drifting away from him, he swam to it and floated safely to the shore which was about 200 yards away. The water where the brothers went down was about twelve feet deep. A call for help reached town and within an hour nearly every man and boy and several of the ladies and girls of the town were on their way to the lake. This fact alone would prove the very high esteem in which these young men were held by the entire community.

Russel Reeve came to this country from Indiana about the year 1916 and Mark, with his mother and three sisters came a few years later and all located on their farm about nine miles west of town where they have since resided. They were two of America's noblest young men and their untimely death is a severe loss to the entire community.

Large parties of Hereford men hurried to Friona at the first report of the drowning of the two men to lend what aid they could. Sunday night Dr. Hicks was called to attend Mrs. Reeve and he was accompanied by Henry Hastings. Monday morning several auto loads left early, among them the truck belonging to Carl Cockrell, on which a boat from the Boardman place was carried for use in the search. Part of the crowd came back Monday night in the heavy rain and had great difficulty in negotiating the roads. Tuesday morning other squads left to help in the search. Among those who went to the scene at various times were: W. H. Ray, J. O. Newell, French Thurmond, Dubbs Pitman, Carl Cockrell, Ray Casebolt, Beryl Witherspoon, Truman Hines, Buck Hines, Bart Sisk, Dr. J. M. Farrell, E. W. Kinney, Oden

Cotton List is Growing; is Your Name Among 'em?

The growing list of cotton acreage in Castro, Parmer and Deaf Smith counties was swelled the past few days through some active field work of A. Herbert vice president of the First State Bank & Trust Co., and E. S. Ireland, both on the Cotton Committee, who made two trips to Castro county personally securing names of the planters and their acreage. More acreage from Castro will be sent in from different neighborhoods within the next few days.

The committee is working earnestly to secure every possible acre so that a gin may be secured for Hereford at once. If you have acreage, or know of anyone who has, not on this list you will confer a favor on yourself and on the community as a whole by giving the information to the committee.

The following list is incomplete, and may have some errors in the names, acreage, or county. It will be corrected as fast as errors are discovered and will be added to week by week until the list is complete. If you see any errors tell us about it—they will be errors of the head and not of the heart. The Brand wants to give each county its proper credit for acreage and will especially like having our attention called to errors of this nature.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Acreage. Includes entries like J. H. Wagner (300), D. L. McDonald (200), Mitchell (12), J. C. Cummings (30), B. W. A Fine Example of Golden Rule by a Community

There's an old saying to the effect: "Get acquainted with your neighbor—maybe you'll like him!"

The truth of this slogan seems to have struck home with the people of South Hereford and there is a growing spirit of community interest and friendly cooperation in that neighborhood that means much toward a more enjoyable life and appreciation of each other for every resident involved.

Some few months ago when Jim Robinson's baby was sick the neighbors were so kind that after the child's recovery Mr. and Mrs. Robinson gave a neighborhood picnic and invited all these kind friends to attend. The picnic happened to fall on the first Sunday in the month and the occasion was so much enjoyed that there grew out of it the resolution to hold such a gathering on the first Sunday in each month thereafter.

These picnics, held at different places, have done much to cement friendships and good will. An instance of what this volunteer association is doing was told The Brand this week. J. P. MacMahon, who lives on the old Sheepy Davis irrigated farm, has been sick for some time and got behind with his crop. The neighborhood, prompted by the developing community spirit, has resolved to help him out. Accordingly on Tuesday of this week all South Hereford will be at the MacMahon place and join hands in cleaning out their neighbor's crop in one day's united effort. And the women-folks will have their share in this fine undertaking also, for they will bring their baskets and have a neighborhood picnic and feed for the workers.

It is hoped that the spirit of the new South Hereford proves contagious and spreads to every neighborhood in the country. It shows a splendid spirit and one that means untold things for the happiness and contentment of the people who grasp the idea.

Collapsed Renfro Building Rapidly Reconstructed

The contracting firm of Ruckner, Lambert & Carter is rapidly clearing away the debris and planning reconstruction of the Hereford Garage building, the back end of which collapsed about 2:30 o'clock last Thursday morning.

This was one of the queerest accidents that has happened here in many years. The brick building, owned by E. Renfro, carried big cross-trusses to support the weight of the roof. Apparently water had stood in a low place on the roof until it had rotted away the end of one of the trusses where it fitted into the wall. It was a mercy that it gave way in the dead of night, otherwise someone may have been badly hurt or killed. The back portion of the roof came down with the truss and a portion of the rear brick wall fell outward. A truck and an old car parked in the garage for the night were more or less battered up while several other cars were just outside the crush.

The extent of the damage is not known but work of reconstruction is rapidly progressing and the entire building will soon be ready for use. Jim Rutherford, proprietor of the station, is badly crippled for the time by the loss of his storage space and washing racks but expects to be back on a normal business basis very shortly.

GREAT SHOOT SAID VISITING SPORTS

HEREFORD GUN CLUB PULLED A REAL COMPETITION

HIGH CLASS MEN

An Unusual Gathering of Noted Shooters For the Size of Town

The second and last day's shoot in the Hereford Gun Club's annual event last Friday was said by the visiting marksmen to have been one of the most enjoyable and successful things of the kind they had ever attended. Two hundred and fifty registered targets were broken and the competition among the star teams of the best professional and amateurs was keen and sustained to the end. It is a very rare thing for a town the size of this to attract so many men of national prominence for a shoot, and the shooting was the best that has ever been presented here. William Lambert, doubles champion of Oklahoma, an amateur, took the high gun score with a total of 196. The doubles event was an exceedingly interesting affair and was won by F. W. McNeil of Houston, Texas, with twenty three pairs out of twenty-five shot at. C. C. Rockwell of Hereford threw a scare into the visitors and made local history with a consecutive run of sixty-five before he dropped one.

The visitors were highly complimentary for the manner in which the local committees handled the affair. Not a hitch occurred. The traps were working smoothly, the trigger work in operating them was good the birds proved O. K., the weather was fine, and the organization for handling the visitors was well-nigh perfect. Practically all of the visitors went to Amarillo Friday night and Saturday morning, where they are participating in the annual Texas State Shoot. Many of the Hereford Gun Club members also are taking part in this event. The detailed score of Friday's registered event, follows:

Will Push Street Work When Material Arrives

Mayor Knight stated Monday that construction work on the sewer and water extensions recently authorized would begin just as soon as the contractor receives his material for the work. It has been thought best to await the arrival of all this stuff before starting so that no ditches will have to be kept open long or the job delayed to any extent. The contractor has a big ditching machine in New Mexico which will be brought here and put to work just as soon as the other material arrives.

Witherspoon and Kinney Purchase Electric Service

The sale of the Electric Service Station, operated by Robert and Walter Fullwood, to Vern Witherspoon and E. W. Kinney was effected Monday of this week, when the new proprietors took charge. Announcement was made by the new owners that Robert Fullwood would remain with them permanently and his brother, Hiram, until the end of June. Walter Fullwood has not yet matured his future plans. The Fullwood brothers established this business about nine years ago and have built up a lucrative business through close attention to their business. The purchasers of the business have been associated in business together for a long time and are well and favorably known here by a large circle of friends and well wishers. They formerly operated the Hereford Garage. During the past winter Mr. Kinney has worked for the Santa Fe at Clovis but recently returned here to supervise his farm work. Improvements in the building are contemplated by Messrs. Witherspoon and Kinney. A concrete floor is to be laid, a drive-in entrance and display space in the front put in, and the trade carried with it the transfer of the Deleo lighting contract. A general battery service work will be carried on.

Lester Boardman Pitched From Car And Badly Hurt

Lester Boardman, about twenty years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Boardman, is in the Hereford Sanitarium, unconscious and believed to have concussion of the brain, as the result of a most unfortunate accident about seven o'clock Sunday night. The young man was out driving with friends and the car was rounding Mother's Park when Lester rose to his feet and reached for some object in the back of the car. At this moment the car lurched and pitched him out. He landed squarely on the back of his head in the road with terrific force. He was carried at once to the Sanitarium and given medical attention by Dr. Gabbert.

The family's many friends here are trusting in the boy's youth and strength to pull him through a very dangerous condition.

WILL CLOSE STORES FOR BIG REVIVAL

MAJORITY MERCHANTS AGREE TO HELP THIS WEEK

POWER GROWING

Many Additions and Confessions as Result of Mighty Efforts

The majority of the merchants and business men of Hereford signed an agreement Monday afternoon to close their places of business between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock each morning on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week in order to enable themselves and their employees to attend the big Union Revival service at the Christian church. A committee consisting of J. Frank Potts, Arch Foster and C. O. Lee circulated the petition, after action favoring this move was taken at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at noon.

The revival is reaching supreme heights at every service and the concerted work of the three ministers leading, aided by enthusiastic support of their laymen as laymen is feeling heavily in the success of the meeting. The big church was packed to the hilt at both services last Sunday and many converts and confessions are resulting from the united effort on foot.

Another Big Rain Falls and Entire Country Soaked

Another hard rain fell over this territory Monday night, beginning around supper time and continuing at intervals into the small hours. One inch and seven tenths was recorded in the city although reports Tuesday were that the rain covered all the north, west and eastern portions of Deaf Smith county and extended well down into Castro, although it did not extend as far as Plainview to the south.

The Amarillo News of Tuesday morning states that the rain was general and heavier than ordinary over practically the entire Panhandle country. Following the moisture already received it means that the country is more thoroughly soaked than it has been in years. The lakes are full and brimming over and while a lot of replanting will have to be done a bumper crop for the fall is a sure thing now. Observers state that those farmers who had to break up and their crops free of weeds will be greatly benefited while those who had not cleaned up their crop will be put to it now to keep ahead of the rank growth that is certain to come. The Tierra Blanca was again in flood Tuesday morning, although nothing like it was during the recent heavy rains.

Speakers Tell Why Hereford Should be Thankful

The weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Cordova Hotel Monday discussed the cotton acreage and gin proposition, now the pressing problem before the community, and then devoted a short time to the subject: "What Has Hereford to be Thankful For Right Now?" The revival was a sub-head under this subject handled by G. A. F. Parker; another sub-head under this subject was the agricultural outlook, presented by C. A. Skelton; the third prong to the discussion was Hereford as a Home City, as seen by W. E. Dameron.

All three speakers were optimistic and heartening in their analysis of the situation and the audience was evidently pleased with the topic for the day. Owing to the fact that many of the regular members were at Friona to assist in the finding of the bodies of the men drowned there and several others were at Amarillo at the gun club shoot the attendance was not as heavy as usual. E. W. Harrison, vice president, presided, as President Wilkinson was late in arriving. Next Monday the meal will be spread at the City Cafe.

District Court Reopened for a Short Session

District Judge Tatum and Court Stenographer Cooper arrived Monday for a short delayed session. Monday afternoon a jury was secured and trial begun on the case of J. H. Mecaskey vs. Ed Duniap et al, suit on contract. Several other cases will be disposed of at this term of court.

(Too Late for Last Issue)
Wind, rain and hail struck this community Saturday evening. The sky was a constant glare of lightning. Dwellings, crops and out buildings were injured. The velocity of the wind was such as to drive hail through the roofs and eaves. And Sunday morning found windows covered with wagon wheels to keep out wind and rain. The churches and schoolhouses have not many lights left in. In its path it destroyed fields of wheat and cotton.

The rain of June seventh and eighth was in this vicinity very beneficial and a gentle rain. Four inches fell. Farmers could not work.

The scholars that are attending summer school at Canyon came down Sunday to the Singing Convention and on their return got mired in the mud. They were very much surprised to see everything so destroyed by the storm.

The rain of the twelfth came down in torrents. Only a little hail fell.

The Woman's Missionary Society meets from now on at the M. E. church every Wednesday at 2:30.

Charles Schlenker shipped out two carloads of hogs to California Tuesday. The hogs were hauled into town Saturday. The roads are so muddy the hogs could hardly be delivered.

The all day workers meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society last Thursday was well attended. Ladies from other societies, Hereford, Friona, Mealeshoe and Farwell, were present. Edwin Reddington, formerly of Spring Lake, Texas and who has been attending Kansas University at Lawrence, Kansas, is visiting in St. Louis, Mo., with his mother who came through from California last week. Mrs. Lorida Englet was in town Tuesday. She reports that she has 200 young chicks, a fine garden, also 16 turkeys. She says turkeys are so busy they do not have time to loiter away in down, but come and do what business they have and hurry back to work.

All report when they see W. E. Williams come from the post office smiling "a letter from his wife." Mrs. Williams is going to school in Canyon.

Reginald Lively left Wednesday to join a brother in Fresno, California. He will go into business with his brother who is in the lumber trade.

John Aldridge reports a few lambs killed by the storm.

Mrs. Sam Lively returned Tuesday night from Canyon. She is thinking of trading her hotel property here for property in Canyon. Miss Bernice and her brother, Worth Lively, will attend school there.

Many farmers will have to replant their cane crop. They say their gardens will all have to be replanted. The snow running north and south are hurt most. The force of the wind driving the hail was from the east.

Last Tuesday J. P. McDonald took out to his farm to pasture, 1200 head of steers, and Miss Donna Gardner took 400 head, Mr. Jersig 000. All belong to a man at Roswell.

Mrs. James Richards has over one hundred turkeys, so her daughter, Marie, reports.

Last Monday Charles Schlenker was in our community buying hogs, to be shipped later.

J. L. McDonald, Jr., is in town stopping at the hotel with his father. He has on boots, spurs and is riding after stock like a man. He is only about six years old and a very bright little fellow.
