Court upholds drug sentence

The 1986 conviction of Natalia "Nellie" Hernandez for possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver was upheld this week by the Seventh District Court of Appeals in Amarillo.

Hernandez was arrested during in 1985 and pleaded no contest to the charge. A jury sentenced her to a 20-year sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Hernandez's appeal, filed by attorney David Martinez of Lubbock, alleged that 222nd District Court Judge David Wesley Gulley erred in overruling a motion to suppress evidence obtained under a search warrant issued without sufficient probable cause.

In the court's opinion, written by Judge John T. Boyd, the search warrant was obtained with probable cause.

The warrant was issued after an affidavit was filed by Lt. David Wagner of the Hereford Police Department after Wagner had watched Hernandez's house for several hours and had seen "three known heroin addicts" going into and coming out of her house.

Wagner's affidavit also included at least 10 tips from informants that

Hernandez was "a heroin dealer and possesses heroin regularly." Wagner's affidavit said the tips came from informants who "have given me information in the past which have proven to be true and reliable. Some tips have come from other officers who have learned from confidential informants who they believe to be true and reliable that Natalia Bresinio is dealing heroin."

Wagner also relied on information from an informant that had been in the house "within the last 96 hours knew Bresinio was in possession because he saw it."

In the final 24 hours before the affidavit was sworn and the warrant issued, Deputy David Castillo of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department related to Wagner that an informant had told him that she "was dealing in heroin on a regular basis."

"We find there was sufficient facts submitted to the magistrate to justify his conclusion that heroin was on the premises to be searched at the time the warrant was issued," Boyd said in the opinion. "The affidavit sufficiently showed probable cause for the issuance of the search warrant."

State jobless rate drops

DALLAS (AP) — Unemployment in Texas dipped sharply in October while the jobless rate nationwide edged upward as students returned to school after summer vacations, federal officials said today.

The percentage of Texans out of work dropped to 7.8 last month, compared with 8.5 percent in September, according to figures released by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics in Dallas.

Economic analyst Nic Santangelo said about 653,000 Texans were out of work in October, compared with about 716,000 the month before.

Last month's unemployment rate also represented a dramatic improvement over October 1986, when 9.4 percent of the Texas work force was unemployed, Santangelo said.

Nationwide, the civilian jobless rate edged up to 6.0 percent in October, the first increase in 18 months, the government said, despite the creation of more than 500,000 jobs and significant growth in manufacturing employment.

Officials said September's 5.9 percent rate had been the lowest in nearly eight years.

A survey of households by the Labor Department showed 415,000 more Americans at work last month than in September. But the civilian labor force grew by 500,000, raising the jobless rate by 0.1 percentage point.

Overall employment and the size of the civilian labor force had dropped in September as hundreds of thousands of students returned to school after summer vacations. Officials said the dip accounted mostly for September's 0.1 percentage point drop from the 6.0 percent rate of July and August.

Ginsburg under fire for pot use

WASHINGTON (AP) — Douglas H. Ginsburg's admission that he smoked marijuana in the 1960s and 1970s has jolted, and could cut short, his bid to win confirmation to the Supreme Court, senators say.

Ginsburg, 41, revealed Thursday that he used the drug once in the 1960s and on a few occasions in the 1970s, adding, "It was a mistake and I regret it."

The statement followed National Public Radio's request for his comment on NPR interviews in which a half-dozen people indicated Ginsburg used marijuana while teaching at Harvard Law School.

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Joseph R. Biden Jr., D-Del., said earlier in the day that he hoped to begin confirmation hearings the week of Dec. 7 and finish well before the Senate adjourned for the year.

A source close to Ginsburg, speaking on condition he not be named, said the nominee told senators he "didn't buy it (marijuana), didn't sell it and used it just a few times."

But comments from conservative Republican senators made clear that only two weeks after the embarrassing defeat of Supreme Court nominee Robert H. Bork, the successor candidate was in trouble.

"If it was known before he was nominated he would not have been nominated," Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, said of the drug revelation.

Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said the admission might not make a difference in and of itself, "except that you like to think people who are appointed to the Supreme Court respect the law."

Grassley, asked if the disclosure would hurt Ginsburg among conservatives, said, "Yes, without a doubt."

Sen. Patrick J. Leahy, D-Vt., said "it's been an embarrassment to a number of the conservative senators who were announcing their support of him minutes after he was nominated."

Biden said he didn't think the marijuana revelation would hurt Ginsburg's chances for confirmation, "if that's all there is."

The rumors of Ginsburg's drug use spread through the Capitol on Thursday, and soon reached Republican leader Bob Dole of Kansas.

To separate fact from rumor, Dole called the White House and Ginsburg was sent to the Capitol, said a Republican Senate source, speaking on condition he not be named.

After Dole heard the story first hand, the source said, he summoned Republican members of the Senate Judiciary Committee for a series of meetings with the nominee. Shortly after Ginsburg left the Capitol, Ginsburg's statement was issued by the Justice Department.

Dole went from the meetings to the Senate floor and gave a brief description of what happened, expressing neither support nor opposition to the nominee.

On Wednesday, in an interview with Cable News Network, Dole said Ginsburg had assured him there were no major complications to his confirmation.

At the White House on Thursday, chief presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Reagan continued to support his nominee.

"The president accepts his statement, doesn't feel that it influences his judicial qualifications, and the president stands by his nomination," Fitzwater said.

Attorney General Edwin Meese III also applauded Ginsburg, commenting, "As he states, his action, taken during his younger days, was a mistake. It certainly does not affect his qualifications to sit on the Supreme Court, and he should be confirmed expeditiously."

One White House official, speaking on condition he not be identified, said "there was no indication" of any drug use on Ginsburg's part in a preliminary FBI report received by the White House.

Asked if the judge was asked specifically during his pre-nomination interviews with White House officials whether he had used drugs, the official said, "This was not discussed."

Town's liquor vote set at Baptist church

MARTINDALE, Texas (AP) — Martindale residents will vote Saturday in a Baptist church to determine if the town should go on record as opposing liquor sales.

When Nancy Martindale helped found the Caldwell County town more than 130 years ago, she made it clear she didn't approve of liquor sales or gambling houses.

"We've got along 140-150 years without it, I don't think we need it," said Emmett Harper, 78, a descendant of Nancy Martindale.

Written in the family Bible, rewritten in the family history, and legalized in the deeds to the original Martindale family lands, this San Marcos River town has been dry for more than a century.

A court challenge has prompted the election.

"Since there is a dark cloud on what the situation is in Caldwell County, we'd like to make sure Martindale is dry," Sarah Jane Ogletree, who led the petition drive to call the election, said.

If the prohibition vote should fail, the town will not automatically become wet since it takes a legalization petition and voter approval or a judge's decision to sell liquor.

The county clerk's office has kept a map that outlines wet areas. No one challenged the boundaries until June when Ann Roose did.

Roose, who runs a South Austin bar, owns property along U.S. 183, five miles north of Lockhart. She applied for a liquor sale permit for her Caldwell County property.

County Clerk Nina Stells, who said Roose's land fell in a dry area, denied the permit.

But Roose said the map was uncertified. She appealed to County Judge Bill Ellison, who backed Stells.

Roose, joined by four others, filed a lawsuit against Stells. The case will be heard this month.

The plaintiffs are asking a judge to declare all of Caldwell County wet unless there are deed restrictions prohibiting liquor sales.

This year's funding drive for the United Way of Deaf Smith County is winding down, and it appears the goal will be reached for the second year in a row. United Way leaders here are so confident that they have scheduled a "victory party" next Thursday at the Senior Citizen's Center.

With a goal of $120,000 for the 12 agencies, the UW reported more than $102,000 earlier this week. Howard Birdwell, president, said campaign workers were sure there were enough pledges outstanding that could push the total over the $120,000 mark.

The party to announce the victory will be for United Way board members, division leaders and some of their workers. Members are asked

Iran-Contra Committee recommends tight controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congressional Iran-Contra committees will recommend tighter controls on the CIA and changes at the White House in a report due out in two weeks, according to panel members.

The recommendations for legislative action include more rigorous requirements for CIA notification to Congress on covert action plans and a restructured National Security Council staff to keep it under civilian control, lawmakers familiar with the 600-page report said Thursday.

Members of the House and Senate committees voted Thursday to approve the final report, with all but three Republicans voting against it and saying they would come out with their own dissenting version. Both versions are to be unveiled Nov. 17.

Leaders of the two panels called the majority-written document fair and balanced, tough in laying blame for the Iran-Contra affair at the feet of President Reagan and as thorough as could be achieved within time limits imposed on the committees.

But GOP members were quick to brand the report biased, saying it was too harsh on Reagan and used critical rhetoric unsupported by evidence brought out during the summer's public hearings on the secret sale of U.S. weapons to Iran and the diversion of proceeds to the Nicaraguan Contras.

Rep. Jim Courter, R-N.J., quoted the report as saying Reagan's "unabashed zeal for the Contras" set a climate at the White House that led staff members to circumvent normal controls in aiding the rebels.

"It implies that the president was less than candid and less than honest to Congress and the American people," Courter said.

But a Republican who sided with the majority, Sen. Warren Rudman of New Hampshire, said the report was "tough but fair" and called Courter's criticism "prattle."

"Our mission was to get the facts," Rudman said. "I believe we succeeded."

Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the House panel, said publication of the report will mark only the midpoint of the investigation process. He said leads will be followed by the government's independent counsel, Lawrence E. Walsh, who is pursuing criminal cases in the affair, and legislation will be recommended to congressional committees.

"There are strands of the story we cannot follow to the end because of time limits and other restraints," Hamilton said. He cited the shredding of documents, the death of former CIA Director William J. Casey and the adversarial nature and forgetfulness of many witnesses.

Sources speaking on condition of anonymity have said Walsh's targets include fired White House aide Lt. Col. Oliver L. North; former national security adviser Rear Adm. John M. Poindexter; retired Air Force Gen.

Richard V. Secord; and arms dealer Albert Hakim, Secord's business partner.

The Los Angeles Times reported in today's editions that Alan D. Fiers, chief of the CIA's Central America task force, has been notified by prosecutors that he also is the subject of a criminal investigation. However, the newspaper cited unidentified government sources as saying Thursday that Fiers is not now a target for criminal indictment.

Recommendations by the congressional panels, according to members familiar with the report, include:

—Tighter requirements for executive branch notification to Congress on covert intelligence activities.

—A requirement that the CIA, when it notifies Congress of covert actions, also specify who will be carrying out the activities.

—A change in the composition of the National Security Council, the president's chief advisory body on security issues. The changes are said to include a requirement that the national security adviser be a civilian, instead of an active-duty military officer such as Poindexter.

Senate committee chairman Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, said the recommendation "in no way denigrates" Army Lt. Gen. Colin L. Powell, named by Reagan on Thursday to the national security adviser's post. But he said it is difficult for a military officer to serve two masters — the president and his military superiors.

Poll shows deficit is preferable

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Although more than two-thirds of Americans call the federal deficit a serious problem, 64 percent do not want their taxes raised to reduce it, according to a Los Angeles Times Poll released today.

And even fewer Americans are willing to accept cuts in defense or domestic spending, the nationwide survey of 2,463 adults conducted last Thursday through Monday found.

On the political front, the poll showed Jesse Jackson leading his nearest Democratic rival, Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis, 20 percent to 13 percent in the campaign for the 1988 Democratic presidential nomination.

On the Republican side, Vice President George Bush holds a commanding 47 percent lead, compared to his nearest rival, Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas, with 22 percent.

The poll has a margin of error of 3 percent in either direction, the newspaper reported.

"Raising taxes in order to make substantial reductions in the budget deficit" was rejected by 64 percent of those polled, but at the same time, 69 percent agreed the deficit is a serious problem.

As for lowering government spending, only 32 percent of those questioned favored reducing the defense budget, and just 23 percent supported cutbacks in domestic programs.

In the political races, Jackson had the support of 20 percent of those Democrats polled, including 57 percent of the blacks, 38 percent of the whites and 5 percent of the Hispanics and Asians.

After Dukakis, with 13 percent, the other Democratic candidates ranked as follows: Sen. Albert Gore Jr. of Tennessee, 11 percent; Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois, 10 percent; Rep. Richard A. Gephardt of Missouri, 7 percent; and former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt, 2 percent.

Twenty-seven percent of the Democrats polled were undecided, and 10 percent said they wouldn't vote for any of the candidates listed.

Trailing Bush and Dole among the Republicans were Rep. Jack Kemp of New York, 8 percent; former Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., 6 percent; former TV evangelist Pat Robertson, 5 percent; and former Delaware Gov. Pierre S. du Pont IV, 2 percent. Ten percent of those polled said they were undecided.

The poll also shows Bush is still suffering from what has been dubbed the "wimp factor."

Weinberger pleads for defense buildup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger is retiring with a final plea to Congress not to reduce President Reagan's defense buildup, but lawmakers say money problems will be one of the main headaches of his successor, Frank C. Carlucci.

"For the life of me, I don't see what the reluctance is to voting the amounts that are necessary for the nation's security," Weinberger told a Pentagon news conference Thursday, echoing appeals he made for seven years as he pushed for ever-rising defense budgets.

Weinberger's long-expected resignation was announced earlier in the day by Reagan in a White House ceremony during which the president praised his old friend as "the finest secretary of defense in the history of our nation."

Carlucci, Weinberger's deputy during Reagan's first term and currently Reagan's national security adviser, was named to succeed Weinberger. Reagan also promoted Army Lt. Gen. Colin Powell, the second-ranking man on the National Security Council staff, to succeed Carlucci.

Weinberger, 70, will remain in office until Carlucci is confirmed by the Senate, a process which is expected to be quick and smooth.

"I can assure the president we will act expeditiously on this excellent nomination to insure a timely transition," said Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, which will hold hearings on Carlucci's nomination.

Sen. John Warner, R-Va., ranking Republican on the panel, said, "I anticipate that those hearings will go smoothly and that the Senate will confirm Mr. Carlucci very shortly." Nunn agreed with that assessment.

Weinberger was the architect of Reagan's plan to "rearm America" and battled, often successfully, to win sharp increases from Congress in the defense budget. Weinberger often flatly refused to negotiate with legislators about defense budgets, insisting instead that the entire amount was needed. Pentagon spending doubled during his tenure.

But legislators said Thursday that Congress is under pressure to limit or reduce Pentagon spending as part of the drive to cut rising federal deficits.

Nunn praised Weinberger but also said, "I have disagreed with some of his priorities," a reference to Nunn's belief that the administration should have asked for different budgets.

Ortega okays indirect talks

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — President Daniel Ortega offered to hold indirect cease-fire talks with Contra rebels, but said any further moves toward peace depend on "an end to aggression against Nicaragua" by the United States.

The announcement Thursday night was greeted with cautious optimism by one rebel leader who said such talks would depend on finding a mediator acceptable to the rebels and the leftist Sandinista government.

Ortega's offer represented a reversal for the Sandinista leader who previously refused direct or indirect talks with the Contras, demanding to talk instead with officials from the United States, which finances the rebels.

Ortega, who made the offer in a speech before thousands of cheering Nicaraguans, did not explain how such indirect talks would work.

He said the offer was made "to strip all pretext from our enemies and unmask those who say they are for peace and don't really want it."

He said "this should not be confused with a political dialogue with the leadership of the Contras to negotiate power."

Ortega's speech coincided with the deadline for Central American leaders to show progress in fulfilling a regional peace plan aimed at ending the civil wars in Nicaragua, El Salvador and Guatemala.

The day was marred by a clash in northern Guatemala that left 13 soldiers and three leftist rebels dead.

In El Salvador, President Jose Napoleon Duarte declared a unilateral cease-fire in that nation's civil war with leftist guerrillas that has killed an estimated 65,000 people.

In Costa Rica, Pedro Joaquin

Chamorro, a director of the rebels' Nicaraguan Resistance umbrella group, called Ortega's announcement "a triumph for the resistance" and said the Contras want to know who will mediate.

Chamorro noted the Contras had accepted a proposal by Costa Rican President Oscar Arias that Nicaragua's ranking Roman Catholic clergyman, Cardinal Miguel Obando y Bravo, serve as a negotiator in cease-fire talks.

Arias, author of the regional peace plan, won the 1987 Nobel Peace Prize.

It would be "very difficult for us to accept anyone but Cardinal Obando y Bravo," Chamorro said. However, he added: "We'll have to see the names proposed."

Sources close to the regional peace negotiations said Obando y Bravo, long a critic of the Sandinistas, was unacceptable to the Nicaraguan leadership.

A close adviser to Arias, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said Arias had proposed former Colombian President Belisario Betancur as a mediator.

It was not immediately known if Betancur will be accepted by either side.

City, county get mixed drink checks

(AUSTIN) — State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday sent checks totaling $10.5 million to the 219 counties and 435 cities as their share of the state's 12 percent mixed drink tax collected during the third quarter of 1987.

Bullock said the state collected $43.6 million in mixed drink taxes for the third quarter, compared to $48.3 million collected during the same period in 1986.

Deaf Smith County will receive $2,125 as its share of the tax revenue of $16,999 collected on the mixed drink tax. The City of Hereford will receive $1,724 on tax revenues of $13,797.

Texas cities and counties each receive a 12.5 percent share of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries under the law that legalized the sale of mixed drinks in the state.

Of the total $43.6 million in state collections, counties received more than $5.4 million, down from the $6 million received in the third quarter of 1986. Cities received more than $5 million, down from the $5.3 million rebated to cities last year during the third quarter. The $33 million dollar balance was deposited into the state's general revenue fund, down from the $36.9 million that was deposited in the third quarter of 1986.

The mixed drink tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission. City and county rebates are sent out quarterly by Bullock's office.

Dallas cons make 'free' calls

DALLAS (AP) — A scam that has been thriving on college campuses has found its way behind bars in the Dallas County Jail, authorities say.

Inmates in the Dallas County lockup have used confidential access codes to make $83,000 worth of unauthorized long-distance telephone calls from behind bars in recent weeks, Detective Capt. Terry Baker of the Dallas County Sheriff's Department said Thursday.

Felony charges of credit card abuse are being prepared against a former inmate following a three-week investigation, Baker said.

Baker said the investigation began when ClayDesta Communications, a Midland-based long-distance company, complained that more than 35,000 unauthorized phone calls had been traced to pay telephones in the four Dallas County jails.

Detectives said they found access numbers for several telephone companies during a shakedown search of tanks and cells at the jails. The numbers had been written on scraps of paper and bits of cardboard found in the prisoners' belongings, officer said. A total of about 9,830 unauthorized calls were made during one four-hour period, according to Detectives D.A. Shield and Al Messinger said.

Similar problems have surfaced at various universities around Texas and in other states, authorities say.

Federal officials say long-distance companies lost about $500,000 in 1986 because of such illegal activities.

The illegal use of the access codes in Texas may result in felony charges that carry a two- to 10-year sentence and a $5,000 fine upon conviction. If federal charges are filed, the maximum punishment could be up to 20 years in prison and $20,000 fine.

More than 1,000 men, women and children were killed in 1914 when the Canadian Pacific passenger liner Empress of Ireland was rammed by the coal-laden Storstad near Rimouski, Quebec, and sank in 20 minutes.

Letters to the Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter, addressed to The Amarillo Daily News, was also submitted to The Brand for publication.)

Sirs:

Your recent series in your concentrated campaign against Hereford is the final straw. I cannot understand your motivation. Apparently you're determined to ignore all we've accomplished here in Hereford and are attempting to drive a wedge between us and our Mexican-American friends and neighbors.

The only thing you've accomplished from my viewpoint is to lose a subscriber of 40 years. I am canceling my subscription to the Amarillo Daily News and the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe and will avoid doing any business with your advertisers. I want nothing to do with anyone who supports such a biased, vindictive newspaper.

I wouldn't mind your writing about Hereford if you presented all the facts.

You neglect to mention that our sheriff, an elected office and one of Hereford's finest citizens; probably half of our police force, many of our postal employees, store managers, merchants, doctors, nurses, office workers, bankers and teachers are all Mexican-Americans.

These people did not get where they are by riding on the coat tails of a "crusading" newspaper searching for a cause. They did it by working side by side for years with the rest of us, earning each other's respect, admiration and friendship in our combined efforts to make Hereford a happy, safe place for all of us.

This is our city, our home, and I resent your trying to kick dirt in our door. Your methods bring shame to the journalism profession.

I doubt that you'll want to, but you have my permission to print my letter. However, don't expect me to read it because the Amarillo newspaper will no longer take up space in my waste basket.

And besides, Lubbock has a better daily anyhow.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was address to The Amarillo Daily News and a copy was submitted to The Brand for publication.)

Dear editor:

We are a Hispanic family residing in Hereford, Texas. We are very proud of our heritage and culture. Being able to speak two languages fluently is a big plus for anyone.

While you were printing your articles about our town, our family was going through a very painful ordeal. Our 15 year old son was having to be hospitalized hundreds of miles away from home for quite a long time. One of our problems, other than having to leave him so far away, was that while in the hospital he had to attend a private school. Our insurance would not cover these costs.

Since our son's education is as important to us as his health, we felt the schooling to be a necessity. My (Aurora) co-workers at school found out about our difficulty in being able to pay his tuition. It took them one day to come up with enough money to cover the cost. We might add that more than half of these people are Anglo.

It was not a matter of brown, white or black. It was a matter of a human being in need. A situation existed where Anglos and Hispanics came together to help. These are the kinds of things we wish you would print in your newspaper once in a while, because this happens quite often in Hereford.

We will agree that there are some people that are prejudiced against Hispanics, however they are the minority. In all fairness you should give the majority equal timing.

Yes, we do have problems in Hereford, but so does Amarillo and just about any town in America. We feel confident that we a Hispanics and Anglos in Hereford will be able to solve our own problems.

We wonder if you realize just how much you're hurting the very people you claim to help.

P.S. Don't be misled by the name—we are Hispanic!

Mission Yearbook: The support of higher education has always been a priority in our Presbyterian tradition. Today we are asked to pray for one particular institution, Foreman Christian College in Lahore, Pakistan. Though nationalized in 1972, this college is still an instrument of the Gospel to the people of Pakistan, as Forman Chapel and the International Christian Fellowship continue to worship there. The ministry of this Presbyterian college meets us in the midst of our congregation and at Stanton Junior High School, as our own Nisar Chand is a graduate of Foreman. Please offer your prayerful support.

Newcomers Day Sunday

If a glass of water were magnified to the size of the earth, the molecules comprising it would be about as big as a large orange.

Discover buttermilk's low-calorie goodness

Buttermilk...don't let the name mislead you. Contrary to what many people believe, a glass of buttermilk is as low in fat and calories and as loaded with calcium as a glass of skim milk.

Surprised? Buttermilk, in its original form, is the liquid left after churning butter. The fat goes into the butter, not the milk. Today's buttermilk is slightly different, though still low in fat. Nowadays it's made by adding a special bacterial culture to milk which produces the characteristic tang.

How high buttermilk stacks up nutritionally depends on the milk on which it's based. In the United States, buttermilk is most often made from skim milk. So, just like an 8-ounce glass of skim milk, a glass of buttermilk provides about a third of an adult's dairy calcium requirement with only 90 calories and less than .5 percent milk fat.

For low-fat drinking, read the carton. The calories and fat increase in buttermilk when low-fat or whole milk is used instead of skim milk. A glass of buttermilk made from low-fat milk has 120 calories (2 percent milk fat); from whole milk, it has about 150 calories (3.25 percent milk fat).

Ingredients are listed on the carton in descending order by weight. If the label says that the buttermilk contains "skim milk, milk and salt," the buttermilk has more skim milk than whole milk. Because it contains some whole milk, however, the fat and calorie levels will be slightly higher than if it has been made from skim milk alone.

Occasionally buttermilk contains flecks of added butter for a churned buttermilk appearance and buttery flavor. Adding these flecks of butter increases the fat content slightly, although it's still generally less than 1 percent milk fat. You can often identify a buttermilk with added butter by the words "contains butter particles" or "churned" on the label.

Chilled buttermilk is refreshing alone or used in cooking. It has a distinctive tang similar to yogurt and a smooth, thick consistency. Here are just a few ideas for making buttermilk part of your diet.

-Make a refreshing low-fat, low-cal drink by combining buttermilk with juice from oranges, pineapples or tomatoes. Or, make a slush-like drink by combining some buttermilk with frozen peaches, strawberries, raspberries, or bananas in a blender or food processor.

-Buttermilk adds lightness and flavor to pancakes, scones, muffins and cakes. If you're substituting buttermilk for fresh milk in a recipe, use baking soda instead of baking powder. Use 1/2 teaspoon baking soda for every 1/2 cup of buttermilk.

-Tenderize meats in a marinade made from buttermilk. It adds flavor and nutrients without the fat of an oil-based marinade.

-Try buttermilk dressings on your tossed salads, cucumber salads or coleslaw.

-For a low-fat frozen dessert that's even lower in fat than traditional sherbet, substitute buttermilk for whole milk. The tang of the buttermilk is a sophisticated contrast to the sweetness of the sherbet.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several weeks ago our small town had a special memorial service to honor two law enforcement officers who had been killed in the line of duty. When our local paper printed the story, they included a poem.

I was so impressed by the poem that I went to the police station and asked where it came from and who wrote it. They didn't know the source, but they said one of the slain officers had had it pinned to his bulletin board.

Please print it, Ann. It's truly beautiful and a well-deserved tribute.—S.H.C., Crime Prevention Specialist, Raleigh, N.C.

DEAR RALEIGH: Here it is. My thanks for sending it on.

A Part of America Died
Somebody killed a policeman today and

A part of America died.
A piece of our country he swore to protect

Will be buried with him at his side.
The suspect who shot him will stand up in court,

With counsel demanding his rights,
While a young widowed mother must work for her kids

And spend many long, lonely nights.

The beat that he walked was a battlefield, too,
Just as if he'd gone off to war.

Though the flag of our nation won't fly at half mast,

To his name they will add a gold star.

Yes, somebody killed a policeman today,
It happened in your town or mine.

While we slept in comfort behind our locked doors,
A cop put his life on the line.

Now his ghost walks a beat on a dark city street,
And he stands at each new rookie's side.

He answered the call, and gave us his all
And a part of America died.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 22-year-old woman who came here from Japan when I was 15. I consider myself Americanized, although I am not as wordy as some of the women who work with me in the canning plant. I want to be married and have a family, but I am not willing to take just anybody.

I have been going with a nice man for six months and we get along fine, except when we argue about sex. I have never had any experience and do not care to have any until I am married. He knows this.

Last Sunday he asked me to prepare a picnic lunch so we could drive to the country. After lunch as we were resting on the grass, he took a ring out of his pocket, put it on my finger and asked, "This ring makes

Meeting held by study club

A meeting of La Afflatus Estudio Club was held recently in the home of Mary Williamson with Lydia Hopson serving as co-hostess.

President Jennie Terrell conducted the meeting and those present read the club collect and recited the Pledge of the American Flag. Roll call was answered by each member's favorite quote. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Keywanettes make plans

The Keywanettes met recently at the Hereford High School gym.

Julie Allison, president, brought the meeting to order and announced upcoming events. On the agenda you my wife." (The ring looked like it came in a box of caramel corn.) I got up immediately and said, "I don't feel married."

Please tell me if a ring seals a marriage.—"Blue Jay" in Seattle

DEAR BLUE JAY: It takes more than a ring to "seal" a marriage. A license is essential and the ceremony must be performed by an authorized person. Tell your friend you checked with me and I said he should not get any more bright ideas like the last one.

Do you have questions about sex, but nobody you can talk to about them? Ann Landers' newly revised booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," will give you the answers you need. To receive a copy, send $2.50 plus a self-addressed, stamped No. 10 envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0662.

The program was turned over to Margie Daniels and her subject was Mexico. Refreshments were served to Opal Elliston, Virginia Beasley, Tresa Hale, Alberta Higgins, Hopson, Lola Jewell, Etoile Manning, Pet Ott, Della Stagner, Emily Suggs, Terrell, Aileen Montgomery, Williamson, Elliston, and guest, Margie Daniels.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17, in the home of Tresa Hale.

Hospital Auxiliary holds meeting

The Hospital Auxiliary met Monday in the Conference Room of Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Mary Lou Spinhirne, president called the meeting to order. The opening prayer for hospital auxiliaries was read by Bonnie Sublett.

Grace Covington reported that 259 hours have been given by auxiliary members to the hospital. She also reported that six care bears had been presented to children in the hospital and 27 baby books were given to new babies and their families. These statistics applied to the month of October.

The Christmas luncheon will be in the Flame Room at 11:45 a.m. All members should bring a salad and a Christmas ornament for a gift exchange. Hour pins will also be given. Members present were: Spinhirne, Covington, Gracie Shaw, Nell Culpepper, Jane White, Alice Koenig, Bonnie Sublett, Sadie Shaw, Donna Gallardo, Baxter London and Andrew Spinhirne.

The Third French Republic was proclaimed Sept. 4, 1870, following the capture of Napoleon III during the Franco-Prussian War. With the fall of the empire in France, a government of national defense tried to continue the war with Germany, but France capitulated the following year.

Will Houston be a spoiler on Saturday against Texas?

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

David McWilliams is worried that the University of Houston will pick this week to become a spoiler.

"It's probably the most worrisome game a coach can have," the University of Texas coach said. "You're playing in the home of a team that hasn't won a Southwest Conference game, yet they've played a lot of people tough."

The Longhorns, who are 3-0 in SWC play 4-3 overall, are 10-point favorites over the Cougars (1-6, 0-4), who have yet to win a league game for new coach Jack Pardee. But Houston has played Baylor, Texas A&M and Arkansas close.

"You just know Houston is going to be a spoiler somewhere down the line," McWilliams said. "I just hope it isn't this week. We're going to have to play with a good deal of emotion to make sure that doesn't happen."

Texas and Houston tangle at the Astrodome in the only night game — 7 p.m. CST — on the SWC schedule this week.

In other games that feature Arkansas and Texas Christian trying to

La Plata loses eighth grade contest, 39-14

La Plata Junior High School suffered an eighth grade football doubleheader loss at Levelland Thursday, 39-14 in an "A" game and 38-0 in a "B" game.

The "A" team's season record is now 1-7. Next Thursday, La Plata's eighth grade team goes against Stanton at 5:30 p.m. at Whiteface Stadium in the 1987 season finale.

Levelland moved out to a 26-0 halftime lead in the "A" game Thursday. Levelland led 33-6 after three quarters of play.

La Plata's Chad Burns rushed eight yards for a touchdown in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Derek Mason caught a pass from Ben Perry for a 40-yard scoring play. Burns then scored a two-point conversion.

stay alive in the SWC chase, the Razorbacks (6-2, 4-1) host Baylor (5-3, 2-2) at 1 p.m. in Fayetteville, while the Horned Frogs (5-3, 3-1) are on the road for a noon Rosecrans regional TV) meeting with Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Arkansas rated a 14-point favorite over well-rested Baylor, which was idle last week.

TCU was a one-point pick over the Red Raiders, who play tough in Jones Stadium where they upset defending champion Texas A&M in September.

The Aggies and the Rice Owls are idle this week.

Arkansas has a bone to pick with Baylor. The Bears knocked the Hogs out of the Cotton Bowl race last year with 17 points in the fourth quarter for a 29-14 victory in Waco.

"Baylor has a typically physical team," said Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield. "Every game we've played against them has gone to the wire. I don't expect this to be any different."

He added, "I'm sure Baylor welcomed the open date. They got off to a great start then slipped in their last two conference games. The week off gave them time to regroup and get healthy."

The TCU-Tech series couldn't be closer. It's knotted at 20-20-3. The Red Raiders have won the last two times, defeating TCU 36-14 last year in Fort Worth and 63-7 in Lubbock in 1985.

"It's kinda hard to have very many fond memories of Texas Tech in Lubbock," said TCU defensive tackle Kent Tramel. "The last time we played out there, I think (Tech quarterback) Billy Joe Tolliver set about every imaginable passing record except those in the NFL."

Goal-Line Stand

Hereford's Todd Collier (80) assists in the tackle of a Canyon running back as part of a goal-line stand in the first quarter of Thursday night's junior varsity football game at Whiteface Stadium. Canyon needed four plays to score from the three-yard line in one possession, and in another possession failed to score in four plays from the one-yard line. Hereford fell 21-16 to Canyon when a fourth quarter rally fell short. No. 86 of Hereford is Hud Edwards. (Brand photo by John Brooks)

Hereford loses to Canyon, 21-16

Herd JV rally falls short

Hereford High School staged a great comeback Thursday night in a junior varsity football game at Whiteface Stadium, but fell short to Canyon, 21-16.

The loss dropped Hereford to a final season record of 7-3.

In the first quarter, Canyon had a 35-yard touchdown called back because of a clipping penalty. Later in that period, Canyon had a first-and-goal at the three-yard line.

Hereford's defense stopped Canyon in three straight plays, but in the fourth down play, a running back successfully dived for a touchdown. Canyon added a two-point conversion for an 8-0 lead with 5:51 left in the first quarter.

Also in the first quarter, Canyon had a first-and-goal at the one-yard line. This time, however, the HHS defense achieved a goal-line stand to prevent Canyon from gaining a 15 or 16-point lead.

Hereford had a first down at the Canyon 25-yard line in the second quarter, but failed to get the ball into the end zone and trailed 8-0 at halftime.

Touchdown runs of 75 yards and seven yards put Canyon ahead 21-0 in the third quarter.

Early in the fourth quarter, Hereford's Randy Iruegas recovered a Canyon fumble at the Canyon 47-yard line.

Hereford was unable to get a first down, but punter Brian Fowler kicked a 48-yard punt that went out of bounds at the two-yard line.

Later, Canyon punted from its own 10-yard line, and Hereford partially blocked the punt. Hereford gained possession at the Canyon 25 and in the next play, quarterback Carl DeLozier found Jared Victor for a touchdown pass with 8:13 left in the game.

J.T. Heaton's extra-point kick cut Canyon's lead to 21-7.

When Bob Lanier signed his first pro basketball contract with the Detroit Pistons in 1970, he was in a wheel chair, the result of an injury in a college game.

In two consecutive games in 1967, Wilt Chamberlain set an NBA record by hitting with 35 straight field goals.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Hereford again partially blocked a punt, and gained possession of the pass at the Canyon 36-yard line.

DeLozier completed a 14-yard touchdown pass to Kyle Solomon with 2:28 left. Heaton's PAT put Hereford within seven points, 21-14.

The Hereford defense again forced Canyon to punt from deep in the Eagles' territory. Canyon chose to take a safety instead of punting from within the 10-yard line, and the Eagle lead was 21-16.

Hereford's last possession started at the Canyon 41-yard line. In the first two plays, a pass fell incomplete and DeLozier was sacked for a five-yard loss.

A holding penalty was called on the Canyon defense in the third down play, and Hereford had a third-and-six at the Canyon 37.

Another quarterback sacked pushed Hereford back five yards. DeLozier completed a 20-yard pass to Solomon for a first down at the 22-yard line with 27 seconds left.

Three straight passes fell incomplete, and Canyon escaped Whiteface Stadium with a 21-16 win over Hereford. DeLozier completed seven of 16 passes for 87 yards.

Hereford had a tough time running the ball, with 94 yards in gains and 64 yards in losses. Canyon's defense had seven quarterback sacks for 46 yards in losses.

Hereford offensive Coach Craig Yenser said, "I'm real proud of the way these kids have competed this year. They've improved tremendously, and that's due to the hard work they put in this year."

"I was proud of the way the offense didn't give up in the fourth quarter and came back."

Defensive Coach Bill Bridge said, "These kids showed a lot of character all year long. They never gave up and battled to the end."

"They learned how to play hard, they had fun, and most importantly, they learned how to win. They worked hard every day. We're super proud of their effort all year long."

Previews of WTSU, ENMU games

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Here are sketches of games involving Lone Star football teams this week — West Texas State versus Northwest Missouri State, and Eastern New Mexico versus Texas A&I:

NORTHWEST MISSOURI STATE (2-7) at WEST TEXAS STATE (3-5), 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Kimbrough Memorial Stadium, Canyon. Buffaloes and Bearcats meet for the first time ever in non-conference game. West Texas State fell 44-20 last weekend to nationally-ranked Texas A&I while the Bearcats were losing their sixth straight game of the season to Central Missouri State. Senior fullback J.R. Compton and senior quarterback Steve Kragthorpe lead Buff offense. Compton is runner-up in LSC rushing at 112.3

yards per game, and Kragthorpe is runner-up in passing at 104.6 yards per game. After overcoming an early season injury, Compton has 674 yards and six touchdowns, and Kragthorpe has thrown for 1,317 yards and seven touchdowns for Coach Bill Kelly. Northwest Missouri got off to a 2-1 start for Coach Vernon Thomas before a six-game losing streak. The team from Maryville, Mo., has defeated Washburn, Kan., and Missouri Western. Radio: KIXZ-AM, Amarillo; KMDL-FM, Amarillo.

EASTERN NEW MEXICO (3-4, 3-4) at Texas A&I (7-1, 2-4), 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Javelina Stadium, Kingville. Both teams are ranked in the NCAA Division II top 10 — the Javelinas are second and ENMU is fifth. A win for Eastern gives Coach Don Carthel's team at least a tie for the conference title. Texas A&I, preseason favorite to win the 1987 LSC crown, beat defending champion West Texas State 44-20 last weekend while ENMU was winning 34-12 over East Texas State. A&I comes in with the league's best rushing offense (234.9) while the Greyhounds have the LSC's best rushing defense (87.1). Coach Ron Harms' team has the top figures in total offense (507.8) and scoring offense (37.8). Sophomore running back Johnny Bailey is LSC Offensive Player of the Week after a record-setting performance last Saturday. Bailey ran for 254 yards and scored five touchdowns to maintain the LSC leadership in rushing, scoring, kickoff returns and all-purpose yards. ENMU is the only team in the league on the plus side in turnovers with fine ratio of plus 23. Other top 'Hounds include senior linebacker Cecil Jackson, junior quarterback Tommy Gonzalez, and junior running back Tommy Neal. Gonzalez has completed 81 of 104 passes for 1,139 yards and 13 touchdowns. Another quarterback, Mike Scott of Hereford, Texas, has completed 21 of 38 passes for 281 yards and one touchdown. Radio: KCLV-FM, Portales.

Stanton loses football doubleheader to Canyon

The Stanton Junior High School ninth grade football team had a fourth quarter rally fall three points short Thursday, losing to Canyon 33-30 in a game played in Hereford.

In the other half of a junior high football doubleheader, Stanton's eighth grade team lost 30-8 to Canyon.

Stanton's season records are 2-5-1 for the ninth grade team and 1-4-1 for the eighth grade team.

Next Thursday, Stanton plays La Plata in a football tripleheader — seventh grade game at 4 p.m., eighth grade game at 5:30 p.m., and ninth grade game at 7:30 p.m.

Stanton trailed Canyon 6-0 after one quarter of play in Thursday's ninth grade game. In the second quarter, Stanton's Larry Brown scored with a seven-yard run, and Jose Nava carried for a two-point conversion, giving Stanton an 8-6 lead.

Canyon, which had scored with a 92-yard pass in the first quarter, went into the lead 14-8 in the second quarter with a four-yard touchdown run and a two-point conversion.

Stanton tied up the game in the third quarter, 14-14, when Nava rushed six yards for a touchdown.

Three straight touchdowns by Canyon's fullback resulted in a 33-14 lead for Canyon. In the third quarter, the touchdowns were a 63-yard kickoff return and a 38-yard run, and in the fourth quarter, it was a six-yard touchdown run.

Larry Brown scored with a nine-yard run for Stanton in the final period, and Oscar Pesqueda caught a pass from Max Mungia for a two-point conversion, cutting Canyon's lead to 33-22.

Brown later scored with an 11-yard run. A two-point conversion pass from Mungia to Jerry Hardisty pulled Stanton to within three points, 33-30, but time ran out on the Dogies.

"Max Mungia had an excellent game passing. The offense played really well, but the defense didn't stop them," Stanton Coach James Salinas said.

In the eighth grade game, Canyon led 6-0 at halftime and 22-0 after three quarters of play in defeating Stanton 30-8.

Eddie Tijerina rushed 35 yards for Stanton's touchdown, with 3:23 left in the game. Santos Rincon carried for the two-point conversion.

Ask Dr. Lamb

BY LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB: Please, Dr. Lamb, I have a friend who suffers from severe hearing loss. She tried a few different hearing aids, but they only give her louder sounds. The sounds are not clear enough to hear what they are saying on the radio or what people are saying to her. I feel so sorry for her and would like to help her if I could.

I read that some people who never were able to hear received perfect hearing through a transplant. She would be willing to have it done, but doesn't know whom to get in touch with about it. Could you send me some information?

DEAR READER: There are many different types of hearing aids. One possible reason for the hearing distortion your friend experiences from hearing aids may be that they do not suppress background noise. Just amplifying all types of sound can make it more difficult for proper speech discrimination.

News stories relate that President Reagan had trouble with a hearing aid that amplified everything. He said he had to just grin and bear it when he received applause. An aid that suppresses background noise eliminates the discomfort and improves hearing.

Tell your friend to be evaluated by a speech and hearing center with a certified audiologist. She can locate one near her by writing to the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, 10801 Rockville Pike, Rockville, MD 20852.

A hearing aid that amplifies only the frequencies that she needs for conversation may be very helpful. You have probably read about cochlear implants. They are really of no great value to a person who retains partial hearing. They are for the profoundly deaf. They will enable the deaf person to hear the doorbell, the telephone and be aware of sound, but do not enable hearing of sufficient quality to understand conversation. They may improve understanding lip reading.

I have a new Special Report 87, About Your Hearing, that I'm sending to you for your friend, so you may understand hearing problems and what can be done about them. Others who want this special report can send $1.00 and a long, self-addressed envelope with 39 cents postage to THE HEALTH LETTER/87, P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713.

In 1849, Elizabeth Blackwell was the first American woman to become a doctor.

Boston begins with McHale out of lineup

NBA season starts tonight with 11 games

By BILL BARNARD
AP Basketball Writer

The Boston Celtics figure it is their turn to win the NBA championship, even with Kevin McHale out of the lineup for a month or two.

The Celtics, who have traded championships with the Los Angeles Lakers the last four seasons, can

La Plata ninth grade defeats

Levelland 22-12

La Plata Junior High School's ninth grade football team won its eighth game of the season in nine outings by outscoring Levelland 22-12 Thursday in Hereford.

The game was called after three quarters because of darkness at the La Plata football field.

La Plata closes out the 1987 season against Stanton next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Whiteface Stadium.

Amado Lopez caught a 35-yard touchdown pass from T.J. Head in the first quarter. Lopez also kicked the extra point for a 7-0 La Plata lead.

Levelland also scored in the first quarter, but did not score an extra point, and La Plata's lead was 7-6.

Greg Urbanczyk rushed 10 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter for La Plata. Head passed to Lopez for a two-point conversion and a 15-6 lead.

The Head-to-Lopez combination resulted in another touchdown pass in the third quarter. An 18-yard scoring play, plus an extra point kicked by Lopez, increased La Plata's lead to 22-6.

Levelland had a 40-yard touchdown pass later in the third quarter for its other scoring effort.

begin to prove they can win the team's 17th NBA title when they play host to Milwaukee tonight in one of 11 season-opening games.

"The edge we have this year is that we did lose," guard Dennis Johnson said, referring to last June's defeat against the Lakers. "That just makes you want it back even more."

"We had a good preseason; now it's time to get going," Coach K.C. Jones said. "We've been working on defense and the running game and we got kind of rusty in the half-court game, but we'll see."

HHS sophomores lose 25-7 at

Denver City

Hereford High School's sophomore football team finished the 1987 season with a 5-5 record after a 25-7 defeat at Denver City Thursday.

The game was played against the Denver City junior varsity team.

Hereford gained a quick 7-0 lead. George Madrigal returned the game-opening kickoff 70 yards for a touchdown, and Eddie Cantu added the extra point.

Hereford was still leading 7-0 when a touchdown was called back because of a holding penalty. Brad Mason had rushed nine yards for that touchdown.

Denver City then tied the game 7-7 in the first quarter, and went ahead 15-7 in the second quarter. Denver City scored its other points in the fourth quarter.

Defensive leaders for Hereford included Danny Ruiz, Steve Tucker, and Brian Wagner, said Coach Ron Young. Chris Solomon blocked a Denver City punt.

surgery, the Celtics went 7-1 in exhibition play. Top draft pick Reggie Lewis and rookie forwards Brad Lohaus and Mark Acres played better than expected.

"They've shown what they can do in preseason, so now we'll see what they can do when the bell rings," Jones said.

In other games tonight, it will be Cleveland at New Jersey, Indiana at Philadelphia, Washington at Atlanta, New York at Detroit, Golden State at Sacramento, Utah at Dallas, San Antonio at Houston, the Los Angeles Clippers at Denver, Seattle at the Lakers and Phoenix at Portland. The Chicago Bulls are idle.

McHale averaged 26.1 points last year and led the league in field-goal percentage. His absence could place more of a scoring burden on Larry Bird, who slimmed down after averaging 28.1 points last season.

"I'm pleased with the way I played and I'm very pleased with the way the team played," Bird said of Boston's exhibition performance.

The Celtics aren't the only team with designs on challenging the Lakers.

The Hawks, who won 57 games and the Central Division last season, are led by Dominique Wilkins, who averaged 29 points.

Dallas, which last year won the Midwest Division for the first time, was disappointed with a loss to Seattle in the first round of the playoffs.

"I just want us to play better when the playoffs roll around," Coach John MacLeod said. "That's our goal."

MacLeod replaces Dick Motta, whose seven years as Dallas coach was surpassed only by Red Auerbach's 16 seasons with Boston for the longest continuous service with one club in NBA history.

The Mavericks have one of the best starting lineups in the league in forwards Mark Aguirre and Sam Perkins, center James Donaldson and guards Rolando Blackman and Derek Harper.

The defending champion Lakers won their first seven exhibition games before losing the Hall of Fame game to Chicago on Tuesday night. Magic Johnson, last season's most valuable player, and 40-year-old Kareem Abdul-Jabbar missed that game with nagging injuries, but were expected to play tonight.
