By KIM THOGMARTIN

Motions for continuance are expected to be filed for the three defendants charged in connection with an apparent fencing operation that was broken up Aug. 15 at a barn northeast of Hereford.

222nd District Court Monday included the cases of Robert Strain, 52, of Hereford; Thomas Martinez, 55, and his son Thomas Martinez Jr., 34, both of Lubbock. Neither the defendants nor their attorneys were present for the hearings.

Travis Shelton of Lubbock, who represents Strain, reportedly indicated to Deaf Smith County District Attorney Roland Saul that he will seek a continuance in the case, in which Strain is charged with 16 counts of theft over $200 and under $10,000, and one count of theft over $10,000. According to Judge Gulley, Shelton seeks the continuance because he is committed to a trial elsewhere set to begin in mid-November. Without the continuance, the case would go before the jury Nov. 1.

Saul, appearing before Judge Gulley, said he would not oppose the motion when filed. If the motion is granted by Gulley, the trial will be continued Jan. 9.

Man dies after accident

Gilberto DeLaPaz, 54, died early Sunday after crashing his 1960 Ford pickup into a pillar on Highway 385, Hereford police reported.

At approximately 11:05 p.m. Saturday, DeLaPaz swerved his vehicle into a concrete pillar beneath the Sante Fe Railway overpass. Headed north in the passing lane of the four-lane road, he reportedly directed the truck gradually (one witness said at a five-degree angle) onto the median and made no apparent attempt to avoid the crash.

At 12:30 a.m. Sunday, DeLaPaz was pronounced dead at Deaf Smith General Hospital. The cause of the fatality was listed as head and torso injuries suffered from hitting the pickup's steering wheel and windshield.

DALLAS (AP) — A car on a popular spinning midway ride broke loose, hung precariously for five or six revolutions and plummeted more than 50 feet into a crowd of people at the State Fair of Texas, killing one man, seriously injuring two others and sending five other people to hospitals.

Snipers force travelers to divert

By FAROUK NASSAR
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Heavy sniping broke out today along the highway linking Beirut with its international airport, prompting police to escort travelers in convoys over safer alternate roads.

A police statement warned outgoing passengers to consult with police headquarters about arranging safe transit from the city to the airport, the base for 1,600 U.S. Marines serving in the multinational peacekeeping force in Lebanon.

The sniping was reported as President Amin Gemayel prepared to announce a site for a "national reconciliation conference" Thursday aimed at working out a new power-sharing formula to promote peace between warring Christian and Moslem factions.

Police did not identify the snipers involved in the latest violation of Lebanon's 23-day-old civil war ceasefire. But the state radio and U.S. officials here referred to "infiltrating elements" who attacked Marine and Lebanese army positions in the past few days in an attempt to undermine the truce and sabotage the reconciliation conference.

Number of Hispanic teachers in district lower than student ratio

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor
Though Hispanic students outnumber whites by more than 3-to-2 in the Hereford Independent School District, less than 20 percent of HISD's teachers are Hispanic.

HISD contains 2,999 Hispanics (60.2 percent) and 1,851 whites (37.2 percent). "We're not under any court orders or administrative directions to hire any prescribed number of Hispanic teachers," Dr. Harrel Holder, superintendent for the district, said about 18 percent of the instructors are Mexican-Americans. According to a report issued at last week's school board meeting, HISD performs "extensive" recruiting of Mexican-American instructors, attracting more than half of the teaching-degree graduates from nearby West Texas State University. The local district also sends many of its teacher aides to WTSU and Amarillo College through federal and state funds in order to obtain teaching certificates.

two during Dr. Holder's seven-years as superintendent, he said. Dr. Holder maintained one of his intentions has always been to have Mexican-Americans represented on the school board. This summer, a lawyer from Texas Legal Rural Aid (TRLA) proposed HISD adopt a system of single-member districts to create a better opportunity for Hispanics to be elected.

McFarlane sees no difficulties

By TERENCE HUNT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. McFarlane is taking over the White House national security adviser's job made famous by Henry A. Kissinger, but McFarlane says he won't use it as a pulpit for promoting his own views with President Reagan.

Reagan said she will remain at the United Nations. "As far as I know she's happy," the president said. "I think that she has done so much for this country."

Conservatives had argued that the blunt-spoken Mrs. Kirkpatrick carried more clout than McFarlane and would do a better job in presenting the case for higher defense spending, being tough with the Soviet Union and taking a hard-line approach in Central America.

Hispanic students have not always been predominant in HISD. Twenty-five years ago, there were 2,082 whites (77.9 percent) and just 551 Mexican-Americans (20.6 percent). The percentages

Modified vaccine protects against herpes, hepatitis

NEW YORK (AP) — Vaccines against herpes, hepatitis and influenza have been made by modifying smallpox vaccine using a technique that could theoretically be used to make vaccines for any infectious disease, researchers said today.

It even appears possible to make a single vaccine to protect against as many as 12 diseases, said Enzo Paoletti, the developer of the new technique.

While vaccines for hepatitis and influenza already exist, the new technique may lead to cheaper, safer and easier-to-use vaccines, said Paoletti and Joseph Esposito, a virologist at the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta who is familiar with Paoletti's work. Esposito said Paoletti's research "has tremendous potential" in the fight against infectious diseases.

Paoletti said it would be at least two years before the vaccines are ready for human trials.

A report on the research, described at a press conference today, will appear in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences in December.

Cocaine trade reportedly thriving in Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The cocaine trade is growing at "an alarming rate" in Bolivia because the government is ill-equipped to combat it and peasants resist switching from coca to less lucrative crops, a Cabinet member says.

Interior Minister Federico Alvarez Plata estimated that almost 4,000 pounds of cocaine paste were leaving Bolivia daily, or 1.4 million pounds a year worth roughly $155 million. Bolivian exports are believed to account for half the cocaine used in the United States.

He told a news conference Monday that the government "cannot hide the fact that the cocaine trade has grown."

Alvarez Plata said he had visited Chapare, a tropical region east of La Paz where 80 percent of Bolivian cocaine is produced, to have a first-hand look at the cocaine trade.

"The main hindrance in controlling it is the lack of money, trained personnel and communications equipment," said the minister, whose office is responsible for law enforcement.

Airlinne nipped talks in bud, spokesman says

HOUSTON (AP) — Negotiations with striking pilots were nipped in the bud when Continental Airlines officials ridiculed a proposed contract, a union spokesman says.

Gary Thomas, a member of the Air Line Pilots Association, said Monday his union had hoped talks would follow the proposal, submitted to Continental last week.

Instead, Continental issued a statement rejecting the pact as "an insult."

"We intended for our proposal to be a starting point for serious negotiations. But Continental has stopped the process short. They've derailed the negotiations," Thomas said.

Continental pilots and flight attendants walked off the job Oct. 1, one week after Continental filed for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws. The groups struck in protest of the contract imposed by the new airline, which cut salaries by about half.

A pilot captain, who made $89,400 annually previously, is now paid $43,000.

The pilots' proposal called for the group to begin working longer hours for lower wages than the old contract. It suggested they receive raises in October 1984 and June 1985 which would increase their pay about 5 percent above the previous contract's wages.

Market explosion injures 17; none trapped

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — As clouds of acrid smoke billowed overhead, workers today combed through the rubble of a supermarket destroyed by a natural gas explosion, and one official said, "It's plumb amazing that everyone got out."

At least 17 people were injured in the blast Monday, but authorities said they had accounted for all those reported missing. Five remained hospitalized with burns and respiratory problems.

Work crews sifted through the rubble of the 10,000-square-foot building until about 4 a.m. today, when they finished removing sections of the market's collapsed roof and found no victims beneath it.

Paul Harvey News

It needs to be said

Something needs to be said — about "the airline thing," an unpleasant warning, before it gets written in blood.

First, some background on how we got into this mess. When federal government regulated the airlines, government decreed which could fly where and for how much it could sell tickets. Airlines prospered.

For one thing, every time a union demanded a wage raise — all the airline had to do was — run to Washington and open the books. "See," the airline would say, "Our costs have gone up, our fares must go up."

Which they did. With no real incentive to hold costs down the airlines awakened one day to discover that pilots are getting as much as $150,000 a year. Flight attendants are averaging $33,400 a year for a three- or four-day week. Even airline agents — issuing tickets and such — are earning $28,800 — baggage attendants $27,900.

Five years ago, the airlines were "deregulated." Government decreed that any airline could fly anywhere and charge whatever it pleased. Soon many fledgling airlines were taking over the fat routes, those which enjoyed the most consistent traffic, while the biggies stuck with all those inflated salaries, were simply unable to compete.

Five years ago airlines profited a billion dollars. Last year they flew backward a billion dollars. And some went bankrupt. Now what do we do? Should government take over the airlines, heaven forbid, we'd end up with a "flying Amtrak." Should we re-regulate airlines, the wage spiral would start all over again.

But if we leave things as is — airlines to cut costs may compromise safety.

Already one airline allows one less preflight line check. In most any day's news — I think it is safe to say in "every day's news" — we hear or read some symptom of somebody's negligence.

While wiser persons than I are contemplating what to do about "the airline thing" — how to restore profitability without destroying competition — they must also consider another negative byproduct of government regulation: government-dictated employment practices.

It may be permissible in most industries to require employment based on considerations other than skill and efficiency — but no such priority should ever be enforced where the public safety is concerned.

And in aircraft maintenance we've had to hire some real goof-offs!

Commission's staff proposes rate hike

AUSTIN (AP) — The Public Utility Commission's staff has recommended that Southwestern Bell be awarded a rate increase of nearly $910 million next year when the telephone company must break away from its parent corporation, AT&T.

It was by far the largest recommendation the commission staff has ever proposed, but it was just over half what the telephone company had originally asked for.

The PUC staff, which released its figures after 5 p.m. Monday, has not yet figured what its proposal would mean to individual phone rates. Commission spokesman Rick Hainline said those figures would be available in early December.

A Southwestern Bell official called the staff proposal "more realistic" than recommendations made by others involved in the case, but said it still "falls short."

In years past, the phone company has gotten less than the PUC staff recommendation.

The telephone company had asked for a $1.7 billion rate increase in June, citing losses in long distance revenue it now gets from AT&T.

Bell's original request would have tripled the cost of basic residential service, but the phone company reduced its request to $1.36 billion on Oct. 3 — saying the reduced request would about double the present rates for basic service.

The staff recommendation of $909.8 million will be considered by the three-member commission after hearings on the Bell case are over. The hearings, expected to take at least eight weeks, begin Monday.

The hearing examiners will make their own recommendations to the commission, and a final decision in the case is not expected before March, Hainline said.

The utility commission staff disallowed all telephone plant construction and payroll expenses and lowered

Bell's rate of return on equity, also known as the return on shareholder's investment, from the asked-for 17 percent to the recommended 15.5 percent.

Southwestern Bell Vice President Paul Roth said the PUC staff "at least recognizes we have a sizeable revenue need which must be made up in new rates."

Roth said the "PUC staff proposal is more realistic than earlier recommendations made by other parties in the Southwestern Bell rate case."

"However, the staff proposal still falls far short of our true revenue need," Roth said in a written statement distributed to the press.

Last week the Texas Municipal League, a group of Texas cities, intervened in the case and asked commissioners to award a rate hike of only $640.7 million.

Other intervenors have recommended the commission throw Bell's entire case out as too "speculative."

Roth complained there were two major shortcomings in the recommendation — the proposed 15.5 percent return on equity and "disallowance of valid business" operating expenses.

Last year Southwestern Bell asked for a rate increase of $471.5 million. The PUC staff recommended the telephone company get $304.5 million, and the commission awarded $243.8 million.

Secrets allegedly routed to KGB

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A "loner" who sold vital defense secrets for $250,000 began his odyssey into the world of espionage after being presented with a Soviet "shopping list" for information by two spies, officials say.

James Durward Harper, a computer consultant, was held without bail today after a brief appearance Monday before U.S. Magistrate Owen Woodruff on a charge of espionage involving information allegedly passed to Polish spies and routed to the Soviet Union, the Justice Department said.

Harper is alleged to have obtained photocopies of sensitive defense research through his late wife, Ruby Louise Schuler, who worked for Systems Control Inc. of Palo Alto, a computer company.

According to an FBI affidavit filed in federal court, about 100 "extremely sensitive" classified documents — some with Harper's fingerprints — allegedly were passed in a series of 14 meetings over a 4½-year period. They included details about the Minuteman intercontinental missile and materials aimed at helping the United States survive a first-strike nuclear attack.

The secrets apparently were of tremendous value to the KGB — the Soviet Committee for State Security — and had been sought unsuccessfully "all over the world," according to the affidavit, which said that KGB personnel "were extremely excited" to have them.

John Cunningham of the Army's Ballistic Missile Defense Project Office told the FBI that "communication of these documents to the Polish People's Republic and the Soviet Union would cause serious damage to our national defense..."

The value of these documents to Warsaw Pact military planners is "beyond calculation," Cunningham was quoted as saying.

Harper, 49, a balding, bespectacled Silicon Valley computer consultant from Mountain View, was arrested Saturday at his home. The FBI said its agents recovered some government documents after the arrest.

Harper earned $50,000 a year, the FBI said, most recently working for Solectron Corp., a San Jose company that subcontracts for electronic parts assembly but has no defense contracts.

Ms. Schuler, who died in June of natural causes, had a "secret" security clearance through her job as a secretary-bookkeeper at Systems Control, a computer company owned by British Petroleum. She allegedly took her husband, who had no clearance, into the company's offices on weekends and at night.

Annual Halloween carnival planned

The Walcott Independent School District has announced plans for its annual Halloween carnival. The community event is set for 6:30 p.m.

Oct. 29 at the Walcott School. Festivities will include the usual booths, cake walk, dunking board and concession stand, as well as a bingo game that will feature handmade prizes. Canned and baked goods, knitted and crocheted items and paintings and macrame are among the items being donated by Walcott area residents.

The haloween Costume judging will begin at 7 p.m.

The Walcott P.T.O. has launched a fund-raising drive to support a proposed tennis court and multi-purpose area for the school. Susan Perrin is chairman of a committee that is sending letters and pledge cards to school district patrons. Pledges are due by Oct. 21, with Dec. 31 set as the money collection deadline.

With the help of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court, the school district plans to file an application for a state matching grant to fund part of the tennis court project.

UIL calls for stricter academic requirements

AUSTIN (AP) — High school students who want to play football or be in the school band would have to meet stricter academic requirements beginning next fall if proposed new rules are approved by UIL member schools.

A vote will be taken in February, and the results should be in by early March.

If member schools approve recommendations proposed Monday by the UIL legislative council, students would have to have passing grades in four classes, instead of the current three, to be eligible to participate in extracurricular activities.

The February ballot also will include a proposed penalty for having a student repeat the seventh grade in order to gain an additional year of growth.

Under the council proposal, a student would become academically ineligible for UIL activities, including sports, the semester after he or she did not pass four courses, not including physical education. Students in most Texas schools take five academic courses.

The council did not setting a passing grade, although its policy committee on Sunday had talked about setting 70 as passing. Passing grades vary in the state.

If approved by UIL members, the rule would be effective for the spring 1984 semester, meaning students must pass four courses in the fall semester in order to participate in spring UIL activities.

Also Monday, the UIL council recommended member approval of a rule barring a student to participate in a league activity if it meant missing a class he or she was failing.

Council member B.J. Stamps, Amarillo school superintendent, said that rule could end with parents "chartering a plane to take (an athlete) to a game" after the student attended a late class he was failing.

Jack Frost, Georgetown superintendent, said such things might occur, but added, "I don't believe we can legislate everything."

Meanwhile, another man was listed Monday in serious condition after having had his skull fractured in a weekend incident at Allsup Store Number 167, 515 S. 25 Mile Ave. Eugenio Garcia, 134 Jackson, was reportedly hit on the back of the head with a long, flat board at 1 a.m. Sunday.

Police said one witness claimed the perpetrator was a Hispanic male in his early 20s who had long hair pulled behind his ears.

Garcia is being treated in Amarillo's Northwest Texas Hospital.

A wallet containing $350 was stolen from Mike Jaramillo, 404 Ave. G, sometime between 5:30 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. Sunday. Police reported they have no suspects in the case.

Two tires, worth a combined $280, were cut in the 300 block of Forrest Avenue. The involved 1982 Pontiac is owned by Alex Serrino of 404 Ave. E.

Over the weekend, police made 12 arrests, including five for public intoxication and four for DWI. Among the many reported incidents were three each of criminal mischief, minor theft and simple assault.

There were also eight non-injury accidents, one involving an estimated $5,800 in damages.

narrowed to 52.7-45.6 a decade later and, by 1973, Hispanic students had established a majority.

Since 1953, HISD figures show the percentage of black students has not changed dramatically. Their enrollment has constantly remained in the 1.5-to-3 percent range.

According to the enrollment figures released last Tuesday, there were 517 Hispanic and 429 white students at Hereford High School as of Oct. 3. Stanton Junior High School had 355 Mexican-Americans and 188 whites while the other junior high - La Plata - showed a 328-289 white majority.

The Hispanic-white ratios for HISD's elementary schools were listed as: Aikman 353-186; Bluebonnet 234-127; West Central 245-165; Northwest 382-213; Shirley 259-117; and Tierra Blanca 347-123.

Though he declined to comment on the frequency of racially-induced problems in the district, Dr. Holder said, "We do everything we possibly can to eliminate discrimination." He claimed most of the student fights reported to his office involve kids of the same ethnic background.

Varied experiences build educational foundation

By LINDA CAULDE
Family News Editor

"I believe people are educated more through their experiences than within the walls of an educational institution," commented the Rev. Jon Beard, who recently assumed the pastorate of Frio Baptist Church, located south of Hereford on FM 1055.

Beard holds a B.A. in sociology and history from Louisiana Tech University and a master of divinity from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, but said that much of his "real learning experience" has come through his interaction with people in various situations.

He hasn't been in the ministry for very many years, but his work has run the gamut of age groups, from youth to senior adults.

Beard began his ministry with youth, which he feels is a very important part of the total church ministry. He then worked in ghetto ministry while employed at a suburban church in New Orleans. "We did everything from picking up kids to helping pay bills and bailing people out of jail," he said.

"My wife, Marla, was involved in a deaf, blind, and multi-handicapped ministry. She taught Sunday School to deaf teenagers. We both took sign language," he added.

In his last church, Beard had an extensive ministry to senior adults and was volunteer chaplain in a nursing home.

The Beards moved here from Battery Park, Va., where he served as pastor of the Battery Park Baptist Church the past two years. Prior to that time, he had been associate pastor at West Hampton Baptist Church in Hampton, Va.

Beard had also served as minister of youth and education part-time in student capacities at several other churches while in college and seminary.

Marla, who earned her bachelor of science in nursing from Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond, was a registered nurse at the Virginia Department of Public Health Clinic in Newport News, Va., and patient educator in home dialysis at an outpatient center in Hampton, Va., while the couple resided in that state.

She is presently enrolled in the community health master's program at West Texas State University, and related to her classwork, she does lab work at a local clinic.

Marla is a native of Oklahoma and grew up in Wyoming and New Orleans. Her husband is from Ruston, La. The couple met while she was in nursing school and he was attending graduate school.

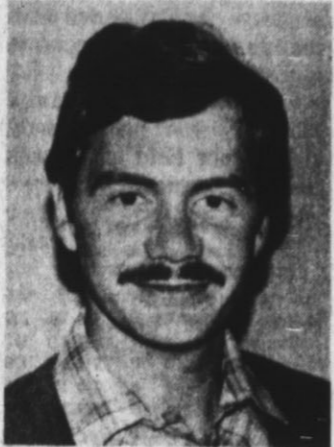

She likes to cook and he enjoys sports and reading.

They arrived in Hereford Aug. 24. "We really like it here, and feel very comfortable and at home," stated Beard. "It's much like the town I grew up in — the dependence on agriculture and the community interest in school sporting events."

"I think the people really make the community, and there is an open familiarity and friendliness among the people here that you just don't find in a lot of places."

"What I've enjoyed about living and ministering in totally different types of communities," he continued, "is the constant involvement with people in all aspects of their lives."

"Some people think that ministry is only for Sunday morning worship and Bible study, but I feel it's important to be with families in their joys and sorrows, at football games and at the hospital, out on the farms, listening to peoples' problems and sharing what they're going through.

"Christian involvement is more than just putting money in the offering plate — it's reading to the blind, teaching others how to raise food or irrigate farmland. I foresee a time when a lot of Christians will be asked to share their professional knowledge about a given vocation as they are involved in missions, whether in another part of this country or in a foreign country."

"I think Christians in this area have a great opportunity to educate and assist people in other countries. There is a great potential for service."

Bad temper catching

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 11 years old and have this problem. It is my mother's terrible temper. She gets mad at me over the least little thing. For instance, when I get the hiccups. Honest, Ann, I don't get them on purpose.

I want to be friends with my mother, but it seems like she is always picking on me for something. I know I am not perfect, but she has so many complaints about the way I sit and walk and talk. She says my table manners are the worst and my friends are dumb.

When mom gets mad at me, I find myself taking it out on my 2-year-old brother. Can a bad temper be catching? If so, I am catching hers and I don't want to be a grouch. Can you help me like you have helped so many others?—A Problem That Needs To Be Solved In Pa.

DEAR PROBLEM: You are awfully smart for 11. In fact, you have picked up on something many adults never get wise to. A bad temper can be "catching" in the sense that when people are mistreated they are inclined to mistreat others. Show your mother this column and tell her the letter is yours. I'll bet it will help.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've enjoyed your wit and wisdom for years and am always amused at the ditties that pop up from time to time. I ran across one called "The Four Stages of Man" and thought you might want to share it with your readers. I found it not only good for a laugh, but also it contains some practical guidelines.—I Am "Weekly" In N.Y.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thanks a million for that letter on controlling mothers. It was good to know I am not alone. I am 50 and still struggling to get free. because of her domination I married the first jerk who asked me. (In those days marriage was the only moral way to get out of the house). My father was a decent, mild-mannered man who was also dominated by her craziness. When he died I was divorced, and for economic reasons mother and I had to live together.

It is hell here. She talks down to me as if I were 2 years old. I am constantly fighting for my rights. She would like me to stay home every night and listen to her complain about her health, her relatives and the way life has treated her.

Don't suggest therapy. She will never change.—Also Been There in N.Y.

DEAR N.Y.: Your mother may be all you say she is, and worse, but she couldn't treat you like that at age 50 without your permission. How about some therapy for you? The truth could set you free.

Herd-Don showdown comes Friday

Hereford loss causes 4-way tie in district

Hereford's unbeaten string was snapped at Plainview Friday night when the Bulldogs put on a second-half rally to score a 21-7 victory over the Herd.

The loss was only the sixth in the past 41 games for Hereford High. Over the past three seasons, the Whitefaces compiled won-lost records of 8-2, 13-1 and 8-2. This was supposed to be a rebuilding year, but the Herd reeled off six straight wins before falling Friday night.

The Plainview triumph not only left Hereford at 6-1 on the season, but it put the District 3-5A race in a scramble as four teams now have 4-1 league records. Palo Duro and Amarillo join Hereford and Plainview at the top of the ladder.

Palo Duro matched Plainview's explosive offense by trouncing Coronado, 41-16, Friday night. Monterey blanked Tascosa, 27-0, to keep its slim playoff chances alive.

With four teams having one loss, the district race has many possible results—including a five-team tie. Hereford appears to have the toughest road to the throne room, having to meet two of the contenders.

However, the Herd can control its own fate at this point. The Whitefaces are the only 4-1 team that can assure themselves a playoff berth by winning the remaining three games. The other three teams could win all three and only two of them could go into the playoffs.

Plainview appears to have an "edge" in the schedule in that the Bulldogs have already played the other three contenders. Monterey seems to be the only threat left on the Plainview slate.

Palo Duro has yet to meet Hereford and Monterey, while Amarillo's lone hurdle appears to be Hereford. Monterey could be the "spoiler" and the Plainsmen still have a chance to be involved in the playoff picture.

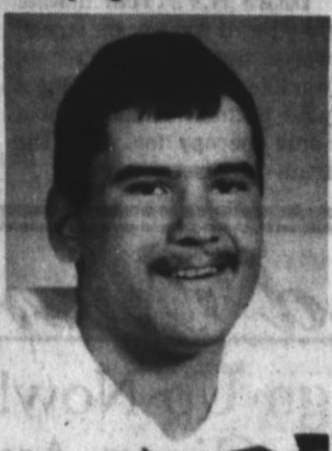

Hereford and Palo Duro are the only contenders to play this week, and the loser could face elimination from the playoffs. Monterey figures to beat Tascosa in Amarillo; Plainview will be a heavy favorite at Lubbock High, and Amarillo is rated over Coronado Saturday afternoon at Lubbock.

The key games the following week will be Hereford at Amarillo and Monterey at Plainview.

Hereford	4-1	6-1	146	43
Palo Duro	4-1	5-1	141	73

Taylor comments on first loss

By SPEEDY NIEMAN
How does a team react after having a six-game winning streak snapped?

The Hereford Whitefaces "responded real good" in Monday workouts, according to Coach Jerry Taylor. "Naturally you feel a little down in this situation, but the team went about its business Monday and appeared pretty sharp in our practice session," said Taylor.

"We played real hard both halves at Plainview, but we didn't play very smart in the second half. Penalties hurt us in the second half, taking away the positive things we were doing," said the Herd coach.

"We just didn't move the ball the second half, and our defense couldn't contain their explosive offense. When you just make one first down and 39 yards, you can't make a 7-0 lead stand up," Taylor commented.

The Whiteface coaches selected Eric Walterscheid, 188-pound senior end, as the most valuable player on offense in the Plainview game. David Parsons, the Herd's 190-pound junior noseguard, was named the MVP on defense.

Taylor said the team came out of the Plainview game without any serious injuries. Linebacker Alan Ritchie has a bad pinched nerve in his shoulder and he will be held out of contact work this week. Tackle Keith Bridwell is also nursing a pinched nerve.

Taylor said cornerback Larry Jimenez sustained a painful hip pointer in the game, but he hopes to be ready by Friday. Safety Jeff Streun, who played with a cracked bone in his forearm, did not re-injure the arm and is expected to be ready for action Friday.

"We've got a real chore facing us Friday night against Palo Duro," said Taylor. "They have explosive backs like Plainview, and their team defense may be quicker but smaller. We've got to fence in their backs and not let them break, because we can't catch them."

Taylor noted that Hereford has three "real tough opponents remaining, but we're happy to be in the position of controlling our own destiny. We don't have to depend on someone beating someone else at this point...all we have to do is concentrate on winning the last three games."

In cross-country meet

HHS fem team finishes second

Posting its best finish ever at Lubbock, the girls cross country team from Hereford High School finished second Saturday in a 29-squad meet.

HHS boys, meanwhile, managed to come in 16th. The second-place standing was the highest ever for Hereford girls at the Lubbock meet, according to HHS coach Martha Emerson.

It was also the first time the Whitefaces have topped any school from El Paso, which Emerson said is traditionally "very strong" in cross country. Last year, all three boys' and girls' team qualifying for state from El Paso's region came from the border city.

One El Paso school - Burgess - did manage to defeat HHS in the girls division. It posted a dominating 65 points, about three times better than Hereford's mark of 194. El Paso's Bel Air was third with 213 and was followed by Abernathy at 221, El Paso-Andress 253 and Lubbock-Coronado 255.

Selma Moreno, only a sophomore, was the leading runner for the Whitefaces. Her two-mile time of 12:25 was good for 11th individually. Running second for HHS, and 28th overall, was Glenda Gonzales with a 13:04 clocking.

Other competitors for Hereford's girl squad were Francis Flores (53rd with a 13:30), Yolanda Alaviz (53rd, 13:31), Dana Cabiness (78th, 13:48) and Judy Sanders (117th, 14:14).

The local boys were led by Eliseo Ramirez. He traversed the three-mile course in one second under 17 minutes, which was good enough for 44th individually overall. Alonzo Martinez, who ran a 17:32, was 73rd while Gary Blevins was 88th with a 17:54.

Also participating for the local varsity boys were Lupe Rocha (94th, 17:56), Joel Lopez (140th, 18:40), Frankie Valjejo (150th, 18:53) and Bruce Carlton (151st, 18:54).

Final boys team scores had El Paso-Bel Air at 117, San Angelo Central 145, El Paso-Yaleta 172, Hobbs 241 and Dumas 251.

HHS also had four junior varsity runners. For the girls, Eva Medrano was 64th with a 16:12 while Veronica Estrada (69th, 16:22) and Amy Hernandez (92nd, 18:20) also competed. Bobby Aranda (41st, 19:28) was the only local boy in the JV race.

Cowboy game sold out next Sunday

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys' National Football League game Sunday night against the Los Angeles Raiders has been sold out and will be televised locally, it was announced Monday.

The Cowboys also released their injury list and there were no questionable players for the game.

Packers upset Redskins in wild Monday-night shootout

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) - It was nothing less than the wildest shootout so far in the season - and it ended with the game's most accurate marksman misfiring.

Washington's Mark Moseley, who had already kicked four field goals, was poised for a 39-yarder, almost routine for him. But he was wide to the right as time ran out and a 20-yard chip shot by Jan Stenerud with 54 seconds to play stood up as the winning edge in the Green Bay Packers' 48-47 victory Monday night.

"It's the first time Mark's missed in a situation like that," said Redskins' quarterback Joe Theismann, who threw two touchdown passes to Joe Washington. "He's won a lot of games for us in that situation. He's the best kicker in the league and I'm sure that's the last one he'll ever miss like that."

"He has made so many clutch kicks I guess the percentages finally caught up to him," Stenerud said of Moseley, last year's Most Valuable Player in the National Football League.

It was the highest scoring game in the league this season, surpassing Green Bay's 41-38 overtime victory over Houston in the season opener.

"You never expect to see 95 points in a game and it is always impossible to explain," said Washington Coach Joe Gibbs. "The Pack was just super tonight. They were great playmakers and they made a big night for themselves."

The game almost belonged from start to finish to the quarterbacks.

Green Bay's Lynn Dickey completed 22 of 30 passes for 387 yards and three touchdowns - 36 and 9 yards to tight end Paul Coffman and 31 yards to fullback Mike Meade.

Theismann hit 27 of 39 attempts for 396 yards and had scoring tosses of 6 and 5 yards to Washington.

In all, the two teams amassed 1,025 net yards in total offense, just 108 short of the NFL record of 1,133 set in 1950 by the Los Angeles Rams and the now-defunct New York Yankees.

"It was the wildest game I've ever played in," Dickey said. "Everything you wanted to see or hear just about happened."

The lead changed hands seven times, five in the final quarter.

The Redskins, their nine-game winning streak on the road halted two short of the NFL record and their five-game winning streak against the Packers ended as well, fell to 5-2, two games behind unbeaten Dallas in the National Conference East.

Green Bay, 4-3, trails first-place Minnesota by a game in the NFC's Central Division.

Asked whether this game could be the turning point in an erratic season, Dickey shrugged and replied: "It was one game, one night. We have to find out next Sunday."

Oriole 'organization' beats Philly stable of aging stars

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

The best team in baseball won the World Series. The Baltimore Orioles didn't do it with mirrors, not with multi-million-dollar free agents, bombs or bombast. They did it with the finesse of a surgeon's scalpel.

Joe Altobelli, who stepped into a pressure cooker when he replaced Earl Weaver as manager, chomped placidly on a smelly cigar and outfoxed Paul Owens right out of his unwanted Philadelphia pilot's pantaloons.

While the Phillies, with their stable of certain but aging Hall of Famers, struggled to find a winning groove, the Orioles played poised, precision baseball with a team almost lacking in individual identity.

Their destruction of the late-surgling National League champions was mercifully painless and quick.

Oriole pitchers didn't come in and blow down the Phillies' hitters — Mike Schmidt, Joe Morgan, Gary Matthews and Pete Rose — with blazing firepower. They mesmerized them with dizzying assortments of spins and speeds that sent them back to the dugout skaking their heads in bewilderment. And always in the Orioles background was "the organization," with its farmyard which should serve as a textbook for all baseball franchises.

Until the very end, it was difficult to guess who the Most Valuable Player might be. Would it be young Mike Boddicker, the rookie right-hander with his foshball? Or second baseman Rich Dauer, who hit those two big doubles in the fourth game? Or big reliever Sammy Stewart, who kept stepping in to throttle Philadelphia threats? Or maybe the ace slugger, Eddie Murray, who snapped out of a miserable slump with two mighty last-game home runs?

No, it was Rick Dempsey, the rollicking catcher with the anemic .231 season's batting average, who sealed the election with his 371-foot home run Sunday, one of his five vital hits in the series for a batting average of .385.

"That's the nature of this team," Murray said graciously afterward. "When one part of the team lets down, somebody else picks it up. In this case, it was Dempsey and the lower part of the order."

That order consists of Dempsey, third baseman Todd Cruz and Dauer, lovingly tabbed "The Three Stooges" by teammate Ken Singleton.

Murray is perhaps the best switch-hitting player in baseball since Mickey Mantle, but the average public hardly knows he exists. His name doesn't conjure up visions of deed and drama as that of a Ruth, Mantle, DiMaggio, or, for that matter, a Reggie Jackson.

Murray, who batted .306 with 33 home runs and 111 runs batted in for the season, got only two hits in his first 16 at bats before Sunday's explosion. But Oriole fans didn't boo him. Schmidt hit 40 homers and knocked in 109 for the Phillies and it was his bat that carried the team into the playoffs. Yet when his bat cooled against the Orioles (one hit in 20 at bats), Philly fans turned on him atrociously. It was a sad commentary.

This is only one of the many contrasts in the two teams emerging in the series.

A national case was made of it when Rose was benched in Friday night's game. Rose himself, admittedly one of the game's durable giants and great competitors, was openly bitter, criticized the action and refused to face the press, which has always lionized him.

Singleton, one of the Orioles' best offensive performers, had to sit out the series because designated hitters weren't allowed under baseball's silly alternating system. He didn't emit a single whine. Neither did Dempsey when pulled for a pinch-hitter in another of the weekend games.

"He did right," said Dempsey, of Manager Altobelli.

While Philly players grumbled most of the year over Owens' scattershot platooning — many of the complaints apparently justified — Altobelli platooned liberally, swapping all three outfield positions.

"It's prolonging my career," said John Lowenstein.

The Orioles grow most of their talent down on the farm, make little use of the free agent market, astutely buy, sell and trade. Lowenstein was obtained on waivers for $20,000. Three of the series' stars — Dempsey, Scott McGregor and reliever Tippy Martinez — were gained in a 1976 trade with the Yankees.

You no longer read of the guys the Yankees got. The trade will forever be remembered as "George Steinbrenner's Folly."

Burdine cops first in grid contest

Wendell Burdine and Carolyn Schumacher, both of Hereford, missed just three games in The Brand's Football Contest this past week, and Burdine took first place with a guess of 44 on the tie-breaker score.

Carolyn picked a total of 35 on the tie-breaker, but St. Louis beat Tampa Bay by 34-27 for a total of 61. Burdine won $25 in Hereford Bucks, and Carolyn received $15.

Oscar Peyna took third place and $10 in the community dollars when he missed four games and came closer to the tie-breaker score with a guess of 29.

Others who missed four games but picked the total too low or the wrong team to win: Alan Ritchie, John Finley, Alene Alexander, Gerald Banner, Jimmy Walker, Rt. 2, Friona; Melvin Kalka Sr., and Beverly Bryant.

A total of 19 other entrants missed five games. They were: Bobbie Kitchens, Robert Chaney, Joe Spana, M.C. Adams, S.T. Loerwald, Joy Stagner, Brian Baker, Teresa Baker, Bridget Baker, Alfonso Tamez, Vincent Ramakers, Ansel McDowell, Pandy Farr, Bill Stephens, Ralph Paschel, Jan McNaney, F.H. Loerwald, Tracy Shepherd and Berhadette Kalka.

Akers discusses game with SMU

AUSTIN (AP) — Coach Fred Akers of Texas says the only thing this year's undefeated Southern Methodist squad doesn't have that SMU had last season is a running back "as big and fast as Eric Dickerson."

The record-breaking Dickerson completed his college eligibility and was a first-round draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams.

SMU, however, is 5-0 this season and now has gone 21 games without a loss, the longest non-losing streak in NCAA Division I. Its last loss was 9-7 to Texas on Oct. 24, 1981.

No. 2-ranked Texas, also 5-0, and SMU play at Texas Stadium in Irving on Saturday. A capacity crowd of 65,000 is expected, and the game will be on national television.

"I'll tell you what's incentive for us, or should be, they've beaten us two out of the last three years," Akers said.

SMU won 20-6 in 1980 and 30-17 here last year in a game that decided the Southwest Conference football championship.

"They don't have anyone like Eric Dickerson — with that kind of speed — back there, but who does? The other backs they have are good ones ... Dickerson is the only football player they had a year ago that these backs can't match," Akers told a news conference Monday.

He said SMU has a better defense and passing attack than last year's SMU squad, which was 11-0-1 and ranked No. 2 in the nation.

"They've got some great athletes," Akers said. "I don't guess anyone probably in the country could out do them at skill positions."

Asked about SMU freshmen receivers Marquis

Pleasant and Ron Morris, who have combined for 32 receptions, 690 yards and five touchdowns, Akers said, "They're special talents, they really are. They possess probably as much speed and innate ability as any set of receivers you're going to find anywhere."

Akers was asked if Texas had any All-American-type players on defense, and he paused for 20 seconds before naming safety Jerry Gray, middle linebacker Jeff Leiding and cornerback Mossy Cade as "ones that probably would be more noticeable."

He said, however, "I'm not sure they mean any more to our defense than Eric Holle or Ed Williams, or Mark Lang or Tony Degrate or (John) Haines or (Richard) Peavy or (Fred) Acorn or June James or Ty Allert or Tony Edwards."

Akers said starting center Mike Ruether would miss the SMU game with a sprained ankle, tight end Mike Chapman is still bothered by an injured knee, and defensive tackle John Haines has a large thigh bruise and slightly sprained knee.

A writer predicted SMU would be "foaming at the mouth" against Texas, and Akers responded, "When was the last time you've seen them that they weren't when they played us?"

Royal drug probe becomes baseball's worst scandal

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The government was on the verge of completing its presentation to a grand jury in a case that already has led to guilty pleas by four present and former Kansas City Royals to cocaine-related charges and has become major league baseball's worst drug scandal.

Vida Blue, a Cy Young Award winner who pitched for the world champion Oakland A's in the 1970s, pleaded guilty Monday to a federal misdemeanor charge of possessing three grams of cocaine. Three of the pitcher's former Royals teammates pleaded guilty last week to a similar charge stemming. Blue was released by the Royals on Aug. 5.

U.S. Attorney Jim Marquez has said he expected a federal grand jury investigating cocaine traffic in suburban Johnson County, Kan., to return "many indictments." The investigation was not necessarily limited to baseball players, he said.

"We hope to get everything finished tomorrow (Tuesday)," Marquez said. "I can make no further comment."

Blue, 34, who won the American League Cy Young Award in 1971, spent more than two hours before the grand jury Monday after entering his plea. The grand jury later recessed for the day without returning indictments.

Outfielder Willie Wilson, the 1982 American League batting champion, first plea was accepted. At one point, Sullivant asked Blue: "Have you recently been under the care of a doctor or a psychiatrist or been hospitalized or treated for drug addiction?"

"Yes, I have," Blue answered. Marquez said later that Blue's attorneys told him the former pitcher had been treated for drug abuse. Aikens' agent said last week that Aikens would be involved in a comprehensive guidance program during the off-season.

The Royals said Martin was informed before he was charged that his contract would not be renewed for 1984. Blue had a guaranteed contract through 1984 for a reported $600,000 a year, but Royals General Manager John Schuerholz said Monday he could not comment on whether the guilty plea would have any effect on the contract.

Breaking his silence on the situation, Royals owner Ewing Kauffman said Monday, "We are sorry and we do apologize to all the baseball fans of America, especially the youngsters, because we do not condone this." Schuerholz said he thought drug abuse was "a problem throughout professional sports."

Roselli, a lawyer who once did research for the Kansas Court of Appeals, said he had very little contact with any baseball players. He described his involvement as "doing a favor for a friend."

However, Marquez, when asked about Roselli's link with the Royals players, said Roselli was "a major target" of the investigation.

Blue, who was released by the Royals after his record fell to 0-5, was questioned closely by U.S. Magistrate J. Milton Sullivant before his

Top 5 remain same in rankings

By The Associated Press

For the second straight time, voting for the nation's best in college football resulted in the same 20 teams as the previous week.

The top five spots in The Associated Press Top 20 were identical to last week, led by overwhelming leader Nebraska, but losses by Ohio State, Arizona and Alabama caused considerable shuffling after that. Those three teams fell to 17th, 19th and 20th, respectively.

Nebraska, a 34-13 winner over Missouri, received 52 of 58 first-place votes and 1,154 of a possible 1,160 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters in the weekly poll. The other six first-place ballots went to Texas, which received 1,107 points following a 31-3 rout of Arkansas.

Last week, with all 60 voters participating, Nebraska led Texas 55-5 in first-place votes and 1,195-1,144 in points.

North Carolina, West Virginia and Auburn held on to the 3-4-5 spots. The Tar Heels defeated North Carolina State 42-14 and received 997 points, West Virginia blanked Virginia Tech 13-0 for 978 points and Auburn, which beat Georgia Tech 31-13, received 888.

Ohio State slipped from sixth after a 17-13 loss to Illinois, which jumped from 19th to 11th. Arizona, ninth a week ago, lost 19-10 to unranked Oregon and Alabama, No. 11 last week, is now 20th after a 41-34 loss to Tennessee.

Florida, which was idle, received 861 points in going from seventh to sixth. Georgia went from eighth to seventh with 795 points by downing Vanderbilt 20-13.

Miami of Florida climbed from 10th to eighth with 722 points by whipping Mississippi State 31-7. Southern Methodist was idle but jumped from 12th to ninth with 657 points and Michigan rose from 13th to 10th with 625 points following a 35-0 whipping of Northwestern.

The Second Ten consists of Illinois, Iowa, Arizona State, Washington, Maryland, Oklahoma, Ohio State, Brigham Young, Arizona and Alabama.

Last week, it was Alabama, SMU, Michigan, Iowa, Oklahoma, Maryland, Washington, Arizona State, Illinois and BYU.

The Newspaper BIBLE

DON'T SAY IT ISN'T RIGHT WHEN GOD SAYS IT IS!

Soon the news reached the apostles and other brothers in Judea that Gentiles also were being converted!

But when Peter arrived back in Jerusalem, the Jewish believers argued with him. "You fellowshipped with Gentiles and even ate with them," they accused.

Then Peter told them the whole story. "One day in Joppa," he said, "while I was praying, I saw a vision—a huge sheet, let down by its four corners from the sky. Inside the sheet were all sorts of animals, reptiles and birds (which we are not to eat). And I heard a voice say, 'Kill and eat whatever you wish.' 'Never, Lord,' I replied. 'For I have never yet eaten anything forbidden by our Jewish laws!'"

"But the voice came again, 'Don't say it isn't right when God declares it is!' This happened three times before the sheet and all it contained disappeared into heaven."

Choir to present concert tonight

The Norman Luboff Choir will perform today at 8 p.m. in Mary Moody Northern Recital Hall at West Texas State University.

Luboff attended the University of Chicago and Central College, where he worked as an assistant, teaching theory of music in Central's Department of Music. At that time, he also began singing professionally with choruses on the radio and to write arrangements. He soon was appearing regularly on various Chicago radio programs.

In 1948 Luboff became the choral director of the "Railroad Hour" show. In addition to his work for radio, he wrote arrangements and compositions for many top television shows and more than 80 motion pictures, plus works created especially for recording artists.

Luboff continues his work in Scandinavia with performances and concert tours of Denmark with the Radio Choir of Denmark. In Sweden, he guest conducts with the Radio Chamber Choir and the Swedish Radio Choir.

Under the direction of Eric Ericson, Sweden's leading choral conductor, the Swedish Radio Choir has been awarded the Gold Prize in France and Germany for their outstanding recordings.

Luboff's 30-member choir will present a variety of music including standard popular songs, show tunes, folk tunes and gospel songs. There is a $5 admission charge.

USSR would install missiles to reach US

HAMBURG, West Germany (AP) — Any swift-striking nuclear missiles installed by NATO in Europe that can hit the United States "in 10 minutes," a Soviet general is quoted as saying.

"Of course we will take counter-measures that directly threaten U.S. territory," Col. Gen. Nicolae Chervov was quoted as saying in an interview with the West German magazine Stern.

"We would build up our intercontinental system and balance out the short flying time of the Pershing 2," Chervov reportedly said.

"If the Americans station weapons in Europe that can reach our land in 10 minutes, then we will put up ones that likewise can reach the U.S.A. in 10 minutes."

"You'll find out soon enough" what kind of missiles they would be, Chervov, a member of the Soviet general staff, was quoted as saying. "In any case, they're good rockets."

The Pershing 2 is one of two kinds of U.S.-built nuclear missiles NATO plans to start installing in Western Europe this winter if negotiations fail to produce agreements to reduce the Soviet and U.S. arsenals of medium-range nuclear weapons.

NATO says it needs the force of 572 missiles to counter the Soviet arsenal of SS-20s missiles.

"The Pershing 2 reaches its target in eight to 10 minutes," Chervov told Stern. "Our SS-20 needs about 16 minutes, because it has a steeper trajectory. In order to even out this disadvantage, we will, in coordination with our allies, bring a corresponding rocket system into position."

Stern quoted Leonid Zamyatin, a senior Kremlin spokesman, as saying that in two years of arms talks in Geneva, "We haven't moved forward a millimeter."

The Pershing 2 is "a completely new weapon system, against which we must protect ourselves with completely new means," Zamyatin was quoted as saying. Chervov was asked if the Soviet plan to match the swift-striking Pershings meant putting SS-20s in Cuba. "Absolutely not," he replied. "Cuba is not what we mean."

If NATO installs the Pershing 2 and cruise missiles, the Soviets "will deploy as many SS-20s in the European part of the Soviet Union as necessary for our own security and that of our allies," Chervov was quoted as saying.

President Reagan, asked to comment about Chervov's remarks, said, "I don't exactly take a Soviet general's word as being authoritative on anything."

The largest contingent of the new NATO missiles — 204 — would be put in West Germany, Britain, Belgium, Italy and the Netherlands will host the rest.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Factors in blood type

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read that if both parents have positive blood types it is not possible to have a baby with negative type blood, even if a grandparent has negative blood, because blood type comes from the parents only.

I was told 27 years ago that I had O positive and my husband has had his typed several times and his is A positive.

Our oldest child definitely has negative type blood. What is your opinion of this? He is definitely the father and I am definitely the mother.

DEAR READER — Well, you are living proof that two parents who are Rh positive can have an offspring with Rh negative blood. That is not exactly news to medical scientists.

The point of confusion for most people is that there are two types of Rh positive blood groups. To understand that, you need to know that there are two gene locations that determine Rh. We have paired genes.

Let us say that the dominant gene is called positive (+) and the other gene is the weaker and called negative (-). Now a person with the paired genes of (+, -) will test out as Rh positive. He is an Rh positive heterozygous type. He can give his offspring the plus or negative gene.

If the mother is also a heterozygous Rh positive she can also transmit the positive gene or the negative gene (d form for the purists). It follows that if both heterozygous Rh positive parents provide a negative gene the offspring will have a pair of negative genes and be Rh negative. It is a little more complicated than that, but, in essence, that is the way it happens.

If a parent had a pair of positive genes (DD for the purists), he can only transmit a positive gene and the offspring would definitely be Rh positive but the rub is that Rh heterozygous gene pairs are different from Rh homozygous gene pairs even though both type out as Rh positive.

purists), he can only transmit a positive gene and the offspring would definitely be Rh positive but the rub is that Rh heterozygous gene pairs are different from Rh homozygous gene pairs even though both type out as Rh positive.

The importance of the Rh factor in pregnancies is discussed in The Health Letter 6-4, Blood Type, Rh Factor and Transfusions, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — In your column about undescended testicles you answered the question about fertility, but you didn't say that he might not live to father a child. A good percent of these turn to cancer by the time the people are 20 years old.

DEAR READER — Cancer is a consideration but not as big a concern as you evidently think. To put things in perspective, statistics show that in 1978 in the entire United States there were only 329 deaths from cancer of the testicle in men aged 15 to 34. That is the age group in which the problem is most likely to arise.

Cancer of an undescended testicle is now believed to be more common in intersex individuals (abnormal people whose characteristics fall between those of males and females). But some reports state that cancer of the testicle is 11 times as common if the testicle is in the inguinal canal (the abdominal wall) and 50 times more common for those in the abdomen. But again that still is not a large number when you consider that all cancers of the testicles caused only 329 deaths in the 15 to 34 age group.

Detective says

Police questioning of Autry proper

PORT ARTHUR, Texas (AP) — A detective says that contrary to James David Autry's claims in a national news magazine, investigators took great care not to mistreat the condemned killer during questioning.

Newsweek magazine quoted Autry in an article last week as saying officer Wayne Hughes Jr. pulled his hair, bruised his ribs, clubbed him with a rolled-up phone book and talked about killing him during an investigation of a 1980 killing.

But in a story printed Monday, Hughes told the Port Arthur News "police were unusually careful not to violate Autry's rights."

"We knew we were going to be looked at and knowing that we had a capital murder going, we would take the extra precautions to make sure nothing out of the ordinary would go wrong. We didn't want to mess up before it got to court," Hughes said.

Hughes said he was called to work April 20, 1980, when the bloody bodies of Shirley Drouet and two customers were found at the Sak-N-Pak convenience store.

Autry, 29, was convicted of capital murder and sentenced to death later that year in Mrs. Drouet's death. He lay strapped to a hospital gurney with needles in his arms Oct. 5 when U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron White issued a stay 31 minutes before Autry was to be executed.

Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox asked the Supreme Court on Monday to vacate the stay and allow the state to carry out Autry's punishment. After his arrest, Autry denied he was responsible for the shootings and placed the blame on a companion, John Alton Sandifer, who told police about the slayings, Hughes said.

"It was one of those 'I was blamed' but everything was blamed on the other," Hughes said.

But the officer said he didn't believe Autry. "The main thing which really caught our attention that night was the deal about the cash register ... That was one of the first things we picked on was the cash register being turned off, it was completely dead," Hughes said.

"According to the assistant manager ... the cash register was never turned off. It was kept on, it was not switched off and that was one of the first things we noticed," he said.

Hughes said he doubted Mrs. Drouet would have turned off the cash register unless she suspected something was about to happen.

"Why would she turn to cash register off if she was getting ready to accept money?" he asked.

Hughes said he believes Autry deserved to die.

"He had his day in court and he exhausted everything. I feel the people of the community have spoken. It was the wish of the community who the jurors represent. He wasn't a sweet, innocent child," he said.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Fisher

Souffle sense

DEAR POLLY — Is there any way souffles can be prepared in advance? I'd like to make them for guests, but find the last minute preparation too much to cope with. — MRS. T.J.N.

DEAR MRS. T.J.N. — Traditional kitchen wisdom says that a souffle must be prepared from start to finish in one fell swoop and served the moment it comes from the oven. However, practical Polly wisdom says you can cheat a bit. Here's how:

The best way is to prepare only the sauce base in advance; that is, the cooked white sauce complete with egg yolks, grated cheese if any, seasonings, pureed vegetables, etc. This can be covered and stored in the refrigerator for several hours, then stirred to loosen the mixture (bringing it to room temperature will also make it easier to incorporate into the egg whites) and folded into freshly whipped egg whites just before baking.

The egg whites, of course, should be beaten just before you're ready to combine the two mixtures and pop the whole thing into the oven. This way, the major portion of the work is done in advance, with only the beating of the egg whites, the folding of the two mixtures and the actual baking to be accomplished at the last minute.

If even that's too much work while your guests are hovering, you can, if you must, prepare the entire souffle mixture a half-hour or so ahead of baking time and put it in the refrigerator lightly covered with plastic wrap or waxed paper until you're ready to bake it. The souffle is likely to be lower in volume when this procedure is followed, since there's no way you can keep the egg whites from deflating somewhat, but if that's the only way you can manage, give it a try. Don't try to hold the mixture longer than an hour.

In either case, do serve the souffle immediately upon removing it from the oven. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When your pet needs a pill, try rolling it in peanut butter. Many animals love the flavor and will swallow the pill easily. — GRACE

DEAR POLLY — Recently I attended my class reunion in a distant state. On the way, I stopped to look for a dressy dress to wear to the banquet-dance. The shop was a very special shop I had shopped in before. I found a pretty dress — just what I wanted — but it needed to be shortened. Since I carry an emergency sewing kit at all times, that was no problem, but I didn't know how to press the hem in the motel room without an iron. I dampened a wash cloth and rubbed it over the hem several times. This did the job! — MRS. G.B.

DEAR POLLY — When my first baby was born, I received about a dozen receiving blankets. I've found them to be very good bath towels for the baby. They're just the right size and are soft and absorbent. — PAM

CANCER ANSWER LINE American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

QUESTION: The use of diethylstilbestrol (DES) by some mothers during their pregnancies was implicated in a type of vaginal cancer which subsequently developed in some of their daughters. Has it also been related to sons of such mothers?

ANSWERline: There has been some indication of the possibility of testicular cancer in men whose mothers used DES. A study at Tufts-New England Medical Center revealed two cases of men aged 27 and 28 whose mothers had taken DES. One of the men appears to have been successfully treated by surgery and radiation. The other, who is receiving chemotherapy after surgery, has one sister who has been treated for vaginal cancer; a second for adenoma - a benign but precancerous tumor.

QUESTION: If you smoke cigarettes but don't inhale, is there any danger?

ANSWERline: Wherever smoke touches living tissue, it does harm. All smokers have an increased risk of lip, mouth and tongue cancer - no matter what they smoke. And all smokers, even those who don't inhale, including pipe and cigar smokers, have some increased risk of lung cancer.

QUESTION: Does the use of oral contraceptives cause uterine cancer or protect women against it?

ANSWERline: Researchers of the Federal Centers for Disease Control have found that taking the pill protects women from ovarian and endometrial cancers. It was also found that using the pill does not increase the risk of developing breast cancer. More than 3,300 women were in the ovarian and endometrial studies and 1,766 were in the breast cancer study. Researchers found that using contraceptives which are combinations of the hormones estrogen and progesterin, gave special protection against cancer of the womb and ovaries to childless women.

QUESTION: Will the widespread dumping of toxic chemicals and the use of pesticides in homes and elsewhere lead to a general increase in the risk of cancer for everyone?

ANSWERline: Most reports of such contamination deal with the potential danger of cancer. So far there has been very little confirmed evidence of increased cancer risk. However, prudent public policy certainly calls for a clean environment to eliminate or minimize any such risk.

QUESTION: Besides cancer of the chest lining, is asbestos linked to any other form of cancer?

ANSWERline: A study of asbestos insulation workers in the United States and Canada showed an increased risk of death from cancers of the esophagus, colon and rectum, larynx, oropharynx, kidney and stomach.

McKibbens return from Pentecostal conference

The Rev. and Mrs. Warren McKibben recently returned from the 59th General Conference of the United Pentecostal Church International in Louisville, Ky. McKibben is pastor of the Hereford United Pentecostal Church at 908 Lafayette.

The United Pentecostal Church International and the Rev. Nathaniel Urshan, general superintendent, were instrumental in the freedom of the "Siberian Seven," five of whom were present at the conference.

These Russian Pentecostals took refuge in the American Embassy in Moscow for approximately five years before gaining worldwide publicity when they were finally granted exit visas to the United States this summer. The two families had been seeking emigration to the West since 1962 so they could practice their beliefs free from governmental repression.

Sunday was "Foreign Missions Day" at the conference and 37 families were commissioned. Twenty-one new families will be going to foreign countries and 16 will return to the countries in which they have been ministering.

Soviet musician arrested

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet rock musician has been arrested after recording an opera about the life of Christ and is being held in a psychiatric hospital, according to a college which monitors treatment of religious groups in Eastern Europe.

Keston College said in a statement Monday that Valeri Barinov was arrested Oct. 11 in Leningrad and that his wife reported that he is given daily injections of a powerful tranquilizer used to treat schizophrenics.

Tatyana Barinov, his wife, is the only person allowed to visit the 39-year-old musician at Skvortsov-Stepanov hospital, said the college, a Roman Catholic theological institution.

Mrs. Barinov said a doctor in charge of the case said her husband was not really ill but was being treated because his beliefs differed so drastically from "normal Soviet views," the college said.

Speaker discusses opening of hospice

Helen Wheir of St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo spoke to members of St. Anthony's Women's Organization Thursday evening and showed a film about "Hospice."

Hospice care is a specialized organized program stressing the management of pain and other symptoms associated with terminal illness while providing supportive care for both the patient and family.

The new St. Anthony's Hospice will be located across N.W. 7th Street from St. Anthony's Hospital. The two facilities will be connected with a covered walkway.

The Hospice will provide a services and support through a multidisciplinary team, including medical, nursing, consultant specialists and trained volunteers, to terminal patients at home, in a hospital or in a nursing facility.

According to Ms. Wheir, concern for the total family is an integral part of what makes Hospice care different from traditional forms of health care.

Hospice is based on the concept that dying, just as being born, is an inevitable and natural process requiring devoted and skillful medical and nursing care. Hospice focuses on living until the moment of death and also seeks to help the family cope with the loss following the death of the patient.

Volunteers are needed in the Hereford area to help with the Hospice, said Ms. Wheir. Interested persons may contact Mrs. Annette Albracht at 276-5817 to obtain further information on becoming a volunteer.

After the program, a short business meeting was held, during which unit reports were given. It was announced that St. Joseph's Catholic Church has been designated as the Pilgrimage Church for the Holy Year of the Redeemed.

Plans were discussed for the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women which will be held in Amarillo on Nov. 4 at the De Falco Retreat Center.

25% to 50% off our entire stock of bed pillows

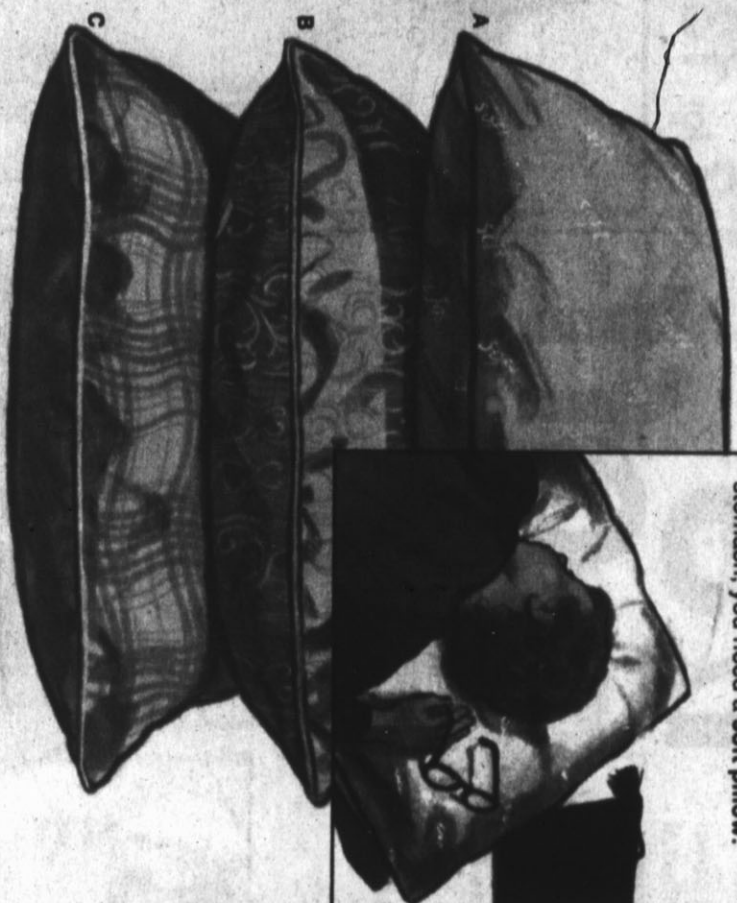

how to choose the right pillow

1. Think about how you usually fall asleep. Are you on your stomach? A soft pillow is for you. On your back? Medium should do it. On your side? Firm is the ticket. Different ways? Whatever feels right to give you a good night's sleep.
2. Consider the advantages of synthetic fill. Find the biggest selection, in price and firmness, in our polyester pillows. They're ideal for those who are normally allergic to feather or down pillows.
3. Decide if you want a natural fill. Down is acclaimed for its luxurious softness, and feathers for their thrifty firmness.
4. Compare costs. Depending on price, polyester may last up to several years and it's machine washable. Down or feathers cost more initially but may last longer, ours have a 5-yr. full warranty.
5. Pick the size that's best. Standard size suits most sleepers just fine—but the queen or king sizes may give your bed a more finished, decorator look.
