

ARMISTICE Day --- 1941

FOR TWENTY-THREE YEARS LEGIONNAIRES HAVE BEEN SERVING THEIR COUNTRY IN THE CRISES AND STRUGGLES OF PEACE AS THEY SERVED IT IN WAR

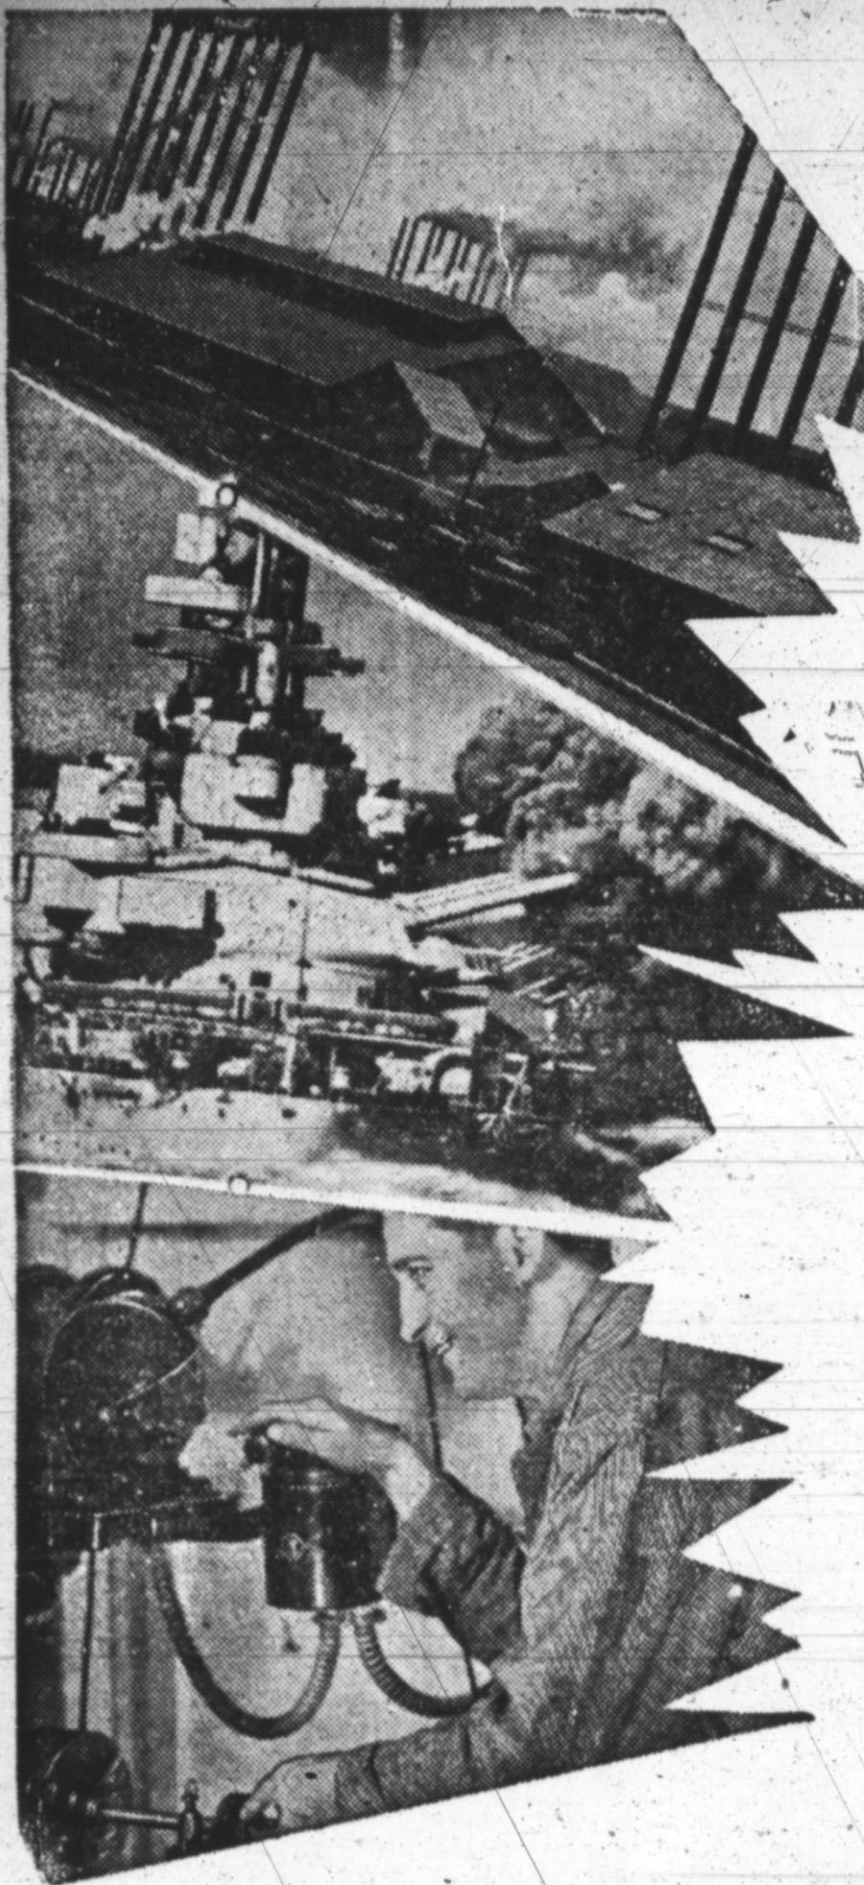

This Armistice Day Page Sponsored by Hereford Post 192

American Legion

Twenty-three years ago — the Eleventh hour, the Eleventh day and the Eleventh month — Armistice Day came into existence. Since that time we have considered it a privilege to pause in our undertakings to pay tribute to Veterans of the World War in memory of the ideals for which they struggled. This year — 1941 — the occasion takes greater significance than at any time during or since that first Armistice Day. That same fearless courage, grim determination and "dedication to the cause of World Peace" remains foremost in our hearts as we observe the memorable occasion. We should also like to recognize the "Boys of 1941" as we renew our pledge of unswerving loyalty to the Stars and Stripes, to American Democracy, and to the Constitution of the United States.

Between the Goal Posts

By Mary Kate Brotherton

Always heard that too much mental activity was fatal to certain types of mentality—meaning the columnist's, evidently, because even my best friends have noticed that I'm beginning to go around in a daze, and that I look—as Lil' Abner puts it, "con-fuzzed."

The reason 'is, I have been trying to get some first class reasons to back up the Whitefaces as victors over Tullia's stinging Hornets—and just when I have a good case all worked out, Bang! a couple more scores turn up and I am back where I started. All I've got to say in rebuttal is, this sort of thing never happened to Philo Vance, and my detective intentions are as earnest as his—even if may-be somewhat dumber.

Can't Prove It By Figures
Anyway, the reason for all the introduction, the Whitefaces beat Friona 13-0 in a dilly of a game, even though it was pretty cramped by a slimy field. Which makes Hereford fans—including the columnist—pretty happy. But it seems that these Tullia guys beat Friona about 20-0 (maybe under entirely different conditions, but it gives the amateur Einsteins a chance to give Tullia a seven point margin over Hereford, this is O. K.; at least it is understandable to one who passed seventh grade arithmetic with guff), but the figures have just started to sprout.

Because these same Hornets beat Dalhart 7-0, as compared to the Whitefaces' 14-6 win. It makes the locals one kick after-touched-ahead of Tullia, and that's comforting but it's not the way the first figures had it.

But the reason for confusion has just started. Dimmitt beat Friona 19-0, and Hereford beat Dimmitt 15-0. Adds up to the fact that Dimmitt and Tullia beat Friona by about the same score, so Hereford ought to take Tullia fairly easily. Except Tullia beat Dimmitt about 58-0, and that knocks all our dope into the well-known cocked hat.

Turn It Over To Whitefaces
So maybe the writer and all the other amateur statisticians had better just give it back to the Indians—or at least turn it over to the Hereford Whitefaces who will probably take care of the situation admirably.

They certainly will if they put up as good a fight as they did last Friday afternoon. When that first team ran out on the field it looked sort of like the "men in white"—considering all the bandaged knees and bruises while Miss Edna Ruth Bourland visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Watson Sunday night and Sunday. Edna is a student at Wayland College, Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Chapman, Mesdames J. E. Speed and C. L. Eagle and Verne Jacobson and Bobby Speed left Saturday morning for Austin where Mesdames Chapman, Speed and Eagle will attend the State Congress of Parents and Teachers. Verne and Bobby will enter a N. Y. A. School near Austin; Enroute they will visit Buddy Chapman, a student at North Texas Agricultural College, Arlington; and Mr. Chapman will visit relatives for year, is Close's first year out for the football team.

Pennant Goal
But tomorrow night is the big night as far as Hereford's pennant aspirations are concerned, and the biggest and most enthusiastic crowd of the year is expected to jam Whiteface field for the event.
Statistics aside, it looks like a well-matched contest—and tops in football entertainment for the year.

BULL

By Jimmie Gilentine

No doubt you've read about Hereford being the ideal place to grow fine teeth. People have been writing in and sending clippings all of the way from New York to California. The news has even been on several nation-wide hook-ups and Dr. G. W. Heard was by the office Monday with a letter from a lady in New York who wants to write a magazine article about him.

Among others who sent in comment was Albert Herbst. His letter is welcome, but it is really the "P. S." which I appreciate most. He says: "Hereford Brand: "Today's newscast over several of the local stations (WOAI-KHSA) and presumably Houston stations carried special announcements and comments on Dr. Heard's discovery of your dental and outstanding conditions on good teeth in your community. In fact, comments stressed the fact that this condition exists nowhere else in the world. "It looks like a golden opportunity for some exceptionally effective advertising if taken advantage of." —A. Herbst
"P. S. Don't tell them how Homer Fox looked the last time I saw him."
Anyway, I sure wish Albert could see Homer today. Despite all of his bragging, Homer Fox is now sporting a pair of "store bought" teeth.

He put them in Tuesday—and he sure is proud. I hope the old boy didn't bite off more than he can chew.
Here's another letter. This one's from G. O. Norton, who is a brother of Ezra, and who raises goats down around Gold-walte, Texas. The whole letter is fine, but the first sentence was best. He says: "Hereford Brand: "Enclosed find a check for one year's subscription to The Brand. Bob Higgins used to write me all of the news, but since Geo. Muse is not in the bank anymore it seems Bob don't write so much. I don't understand why, unless it is that Bob used the bank stationery and envelopes (stamped). "Or maybe he is sore because I told some of his friends he was in the sheep business. Bob will never be a success in the sheep business—he can't stop a sheep. Those that don't go around him will run through. If you see Bob tell him to send me some of those "good Hereford Spuds," and I will forgive him. Best Wishes."
—C. C. Norton

A carnival under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Frye will be held at the school house next Saturday night provided the weather is good and the roads become passable. The proceeds of this carnival is to go to the school cafeteria and everyone is invited to attend. Bingo, a fish pond, forty-two, bridge, food sale, and other attractions will go to make a full evening's entertainment. Only three visitors were able to get to the Halloween party for the school children Thursday afternoon. Games were played and refreshments of apples and popcorn were enjoyed by those present. Visitors were Robert Miller, Ralph Atchley and Miss Helen Oglesby.
Mrs. H. E. Miller has been ill but is able to be up at the present time.
Twenty-seven were present at Sunday School and preaching services held by Rev. Clarence Wylie this week.
A hilarious evening of fun was reported by those who attended the Halloween party at the school house. Approximately 25 were present. Refreshments of apples and popcorn were served. A number of women met at the school house Wednesday afternoon and canned apples and pears.

Mrs. W. P. Caraway returned home Tuesday night from Ranger where she has been visiting her parents for several weeks.
J. G. Coe who is working as assistant foreman of an extra gang near Panhandle, visited Mrs. Coe and sons over the weekend.
Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hewitt and Harry Cree of South Plains, who were on their way to New Mexico to hunt deer, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith Tuesday evening.
M. G. Upton, William Wimberley and L. A. Smith attended the Brotherhood meeting at the Baptist Church in Hereford Tuesday evening.
Miss Ceverina Ortega spent Friday night with Miss Nadine Holman in Canyon and attended a senior class party.
Visiting Mrs. L. M. Harris Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Williams and daughter of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Doak and family of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Benton of Excell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hamblin of Vigo Park.
Mrs. Maude Wimberley and son, Paul, of Tulla, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Caraway Sunday.
Only about one inch of moisture was received here this week. A number of people have resorted to horses as a means of transportation because of the mud.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Little and Miss Alvera Frye of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Frye Sunday.
The sub-freshmen class of W. T. High School enjoyed a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Frye Friday evening. The basement where the party was held was decorated with pumpkins and shocks of feed and the guests wore costumes. A gala time was reported by all. Eighteen were present.
Miss Mary Jo Tomlinson of Daniel visited Miss Wilma Jean Miller Friday night and Saturday.
Mrs. Vva Mae Upton attended a district meeting of school principals in Amarillo Saturday.
Several from here attended funeral services in Hereford Sunday afternoon for Wesley Higgins.
Miss Laura Frye moved to Canyon, Monday, where she plans to stay until road conditions clear up. She got her fingers frozen while walking to Dawn one morning this week to get to school.

Actually, Mr. Norton, Bob is just getting lazier and lazier. I hear his neighbors are sponsoring a movement to change his brand from "Lazy-U" to "Lazy Me." I suggest that you contact O. E. Sherman, who is also a goat fancier and who regularly drinks goat's milk.
A lot of folks have been kind enough to complain because the Bull Column has been out of the paper for several weeks. Jim Lipscomb said he sure misses it. He says that he gets a box of crackers and a Hereford Brand every Thursday night, then he sits down and eats crackers and reads the Bull Column. He adds that this enables him to go to bed without anything on his stomach—or on his mind. Prentice Rosson says that he lost three nurses when he was in the hospital in Dallas, because he made them read the Bull Column to him. Meade Halle is also raising cane to get the Bull Column back, he says it has missed three weeks and that the sale of aspirin tablets has fallen off 96 2-3 per cent, despite the fact that the cold season is in full swing.
I tell you, folks, there is nothing like having good, staunch friends. It's little things like the above complaints that make life worth-

The government is talking about putting a marketing quota on potatoes. This means that the yields would be automatically cut in order to decrease the supply of potatoes—and the deal will probably come up for a vote in the U. S. Congress. On the other hand, publicity articles from another department in the government are asking the little people, "as individuals, to put in more time with gardens—in order that commercial production may better take care of the "Defense Demands." This is, of course, contradictory. Actually, what this country needs is a Marketing Quota on Government Bureaus. When there get to be so many divisions of a single government department that one division is asking for a cut in production, while another seeks an increase, it's time that something should be done.
Albert Law, editor of the Dalhart Texan, is offering a $50.00 reward for information leading to the name of the person who originated the term "Dust Bowl." If the fellow happens to live near Hereford, I will increase the reward with another practical prize—a pair of mud chains.

All-Fluid Drive Belongs to DODGE

THE RESULTS BELONG TO YOU

(ONLY DODGE IN ITS FIELD OFFERS ALL-FLUID DRIVE)

WHEN YOU BUY A DODGE, you get All-Fluid Drive as Dodge alone supplies it. The gear-shift lever is still at the wheel for safety and instant speed when you need it. Otherwise, you have nothing but Fluid Drive, with all the added smoothness, quiet, and freedom from fatigue that that means.
CONSIDER THE FACT that Dodge sold 200,000 Fluid Drive cars last year, and that you could search the country for complaint, and find nothing but enthusiastic praise. Consider, also, that these new cars are better because they have new Power-Flow Engines, especially designed to go with All-Fluid Drive—and because together they deliver faultless performance at a still more favorable level of economy, in gas and oil consumption.

DODGE HAS DEFINITELY BROKEN WITH THE PAST. There is not a trace of the old days left—a difference you can't imagine. You are now in position to make an investment in the future, one which is already proven for you, one which carries an extremely high interest rate in daily economy.

More Farmers to Pay Income Tax in '42

Due to the reduced amounts of personal exemption allowable for the taxable year 1941 many individuals, including farmers, who heretofore have not been required to file federal income tax returns will be required to file returns for this year. In case of citizens of the United States or resident aliens a return is required for the taxable year 1941 by every individual who is single or who has a gross income of $750 or over for the taxable year and every individual who is married and living with husband or wife, if no joint return is made, if such individual has for the taxable year a gross income of $1,500 or over and the other spouse has for the taxable year a gross income and the aggregate gross income is $1,500 or over. The requirement for the filing of returns is not affected by any credit for dependents or other credits to which the taxpayer may be entitled.

Farmers Defined

Farmers are those who cultivate, operate or manage farms for gain or profit either as owners or tenants. There are included, in addition to the farm as ordinarily understood, stock, dairy, poultry and truck farms, plantations, ranches and all other land used for farming operations.

Under the provisions of Supplement T of the Internal Revenue Code as added by section 102 of the Revenue Act of 1941, an individual whose gross income for the taxable year is $3,000 or less may elect to pay the tax computed on a flat rate basis if his income consists wholly of one or more of the following: Salary, wages, compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities, or royalties. However, inasmuch as the income from farming operations does not fall within such classification, a farmer may not compute his tax on the flat rate basis even though his gross income is $3,000 or less.

For some years past, the Bureau has issued form 1040F to be filed, in addition to form 1040, by those farmers who report their income on the cash basis. Farmers who use an inventory to determine profits and report on the accrual basis are not required to use form 1040F but may, if they so desire, fill in pages 2 and 3 thereof. Inasmuch as form 1040F for the taxable year 1941 has not yet been issued, the one issued for 1940 may serve as a guide. Copies may be secured by applying to any collector of internal revenue.

A farmer filing a first return of income may elect to use either the cash or the accrual basis, but the method elected must be followed in subsequent returns until permission is secured from the Commissioner to change to another method.

Cash Basis. If the farmer reports on the cash basis he is required to include in gross income (1) the amount of cash or the value of merchandise or other property received during the taxable year from the sale of livestock and produce which were raised during the taxable year or prior years, (2) the profits from the sale of any livestock or other items which were purchased, and (3) gross income from all other sources. If farm produce is exchanged for merchandise, groceries, or the like, the market value of the article received in exchange is to be included in gross income. Rent received in crop shares are to be reported for the year in which the crop shares are reduced to money or its equivalent. The amount received as insurance, such as hail, cyclone, fire, etc., on growing crops must be included in income for the year in which received. A farmer who receives a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation may elect to include the amount of such loan in his gross income for the taxable year in which the loan is received. He will be required to continue to use the method so elected until permission is secured from the Commissioner to change to a different method.

In the case of a farmer reporting on the accrual basis (in which an inventory is used to determine profits), his gross profits are ascertained by adding to the inventory value of livestock and products on hand at the end of the year the amount received from the sale of livestock and products, and miscellaneous receipts for hire of teams, machinery, and the like, during the year, and deducting from this sum the inventory value of livestock and products on hand at the beginning of the year and the cost of livestock and products purchased during the year.

Deductions Allowable

A farmer is not allowed to deduct from his gross income any amount representing the value of labor performed by him, or to deduct the value of milk, vegetables, eggs and other produce grown on the farm and fed to poultry or livestock. The cost of feed actually purchased for poultry and livestock, however, would be a deductible expense. The cost of ordinary tools of short life or small cost, such as hand tools, including shovels, rakes, etc., may be deducted. The cost of the operation and upkeep of trucks and tractors used in farming operations may be deducted as a business expense. The cost of gasoline, repairs and upkeep of an automobile to the extent to which it is used strictly in farm operations may be deducted, but the purchase price would represent a capital expenditure. Capital expenditures are not deductible. Amounts expended in the development of farms, orchards and ranches prior to the time when the productive stage is reached may be regarded as investment of capital. The cost of farm trucks, tractors, machinery, equipment and farm buildings represent a capital investment. Where a farmer is engaged in producing crops which take more than a year from the time of planting to the process of gathering and disposal, deductible expenses may be determined upon the crop basis, with the consent of the Commissioner, in which case the deduction must be taken in the year in which the gross income from the crop is realized.

Depreciation Allowances

A reasonable allowance for depreciation with respect to farm buildings (except the farmer's own dwelling), farm machinery, automobiles, in proportion to their use strictly for farm operations, and other physical property may be allowed as a deduction. There may be deducted also a reasonable allowance for depreciation of livestock acquired for work, breeding or dairy purposes, unless they are included in an inventory used to determine the profits.

If farm products are held for future markets, no deduction on account of shrinkage in weight or physical value or by reason of deterioration in storage is allowable, except as such shrinkage may be reflected in an inventory, if the inventory method is used to determine profits.

Loss by frost, storm, flood or fire of a prospective crop is not a deductible loss. A farmer engaged in raising and selling stock, such as cattle, sheep, horses, etc., is not entitled to deduct as a loss the value of animals raised on the farm which perish, except as the loss may be reflected in an inventory, if that method is used. If livestock has been purchased after February 28, 1913, for any purpose, and afterwards dies from disease, exposure or injury, or is destroyed by order of the authorities of a State or of the United States, similarly may be deducted as a loss. If reimbursement is made by a State or the United States in whole or in part on account of stock killed or other property destroyed in respect of which a loss was claimed for a prior year, the amount received shall be reported as income for the year in which reimbursement is made. The cost of any feed, pasture or care which has been deducted

BY MRS. HOWARD HIGGINS

This community received about one inch of rain last week which with that received before, left the entire country very wet and boggy.

The first snow of the season also arrived last week. Although the freezing temperatures were quite a change from the warm weather so far, the freeze was not hard enough to damage anything. Some of the farmers still have some crops standing.

Private Noel Higgins arrived Sunday for a 20 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Higgins. This is Noel's first furlough since his entry in the Calvary division of the Army last January. He is now stationed at Ft. Clark, Tex.

A short time before he left he received another promotion. He is now 1st Class Private 3rd. This is as high as it is possible to go as a private. He is head horseshoe man.

Mrs. B. R. Anderson of Borger spent Monday night with her brother, Ira Ricketts, and family. She also called on Mrs. Howard Higgins, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Howard Hershey and son, Homer, Mrs. Arnold Hershey and son, Marvin, left Monday for Abilene for a week's visit. Mrs.

as an expense of operation shall not be included as a part of the cost of the livestock for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of the deductible loss. If gross income is ascertained by inventories, no deduction can be made for livestock or products lost during the year, whether purchased for resale or produced on the farm, as such a loss will be reflected in the inventory by reducing the amount of livestock or products on hand at the close of the year.

Forms 1040 and 1040F, with instructions attached, for the taxable year 1941 will be made available in the office of the collectors of internal revenue after the close of the year and prior to March 15, 1942.

Arnold Hershey will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Box and Mrs. Horace Hershey will visit relatives.

The singers of the community are looking forward to the Deaf Smith County Singing at the Ford school house, Sunday.

A number from this community attended the funeral of Wesley Higgins, at the First Christian Church, Sunday afternoon. The community extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

The regular Sunday services of the community were not held Sunday because of bad roads.

Some of the school children spent part of last week with relatives in town in order to attend school. Robert Russell spent part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Russell. Sam and Joe Hershey spent part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Arch Conklin. A number of the men are busy hunting ducks in their spare time since the season opened Sunday morning.

The community regrets that they are losing one of their well beloved families from their midst. Mr. and Mrs. Owen Neel and sons, Clyde and Wayne, planned to leave Monday for Oregon where they will make their home.

Let's get acquainted! Try a tankful of today's high test Phillips 66 Poly Gas, and see if that isn't the beginning of a long and useful friendship.

The colder the day on which you first try it, the more convincing will be the evidence that you have found a great cold-weather gasoline.

Your engine will start... every time... with surprising speed. It will warm up faster, with less protest and pop-back. And you'll quickly feel the improvement in power, pick-up, and running.

Yes sir, it's not only a pleasure to drive with this greater gasoline; it's a pleasure to pay for it, because its extra high test does not cost a penny extra!

It gives you volatility (high test quality) rarely equalled or exceeded even by premium price motor fuels. Scientific tests prove that no other gasoline is so accurately matched all year 'round to the monthly changes in your weather.

Sound convincing? Well, the sound of your motor after you get your first trial tankful is doubly so. Forget starting trouble... just remember to stop for gas at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.
