Bluebonnet, Amwest may consolidate

Negotiations are underway between Bluebonnet Savings Bank, headquartered in Dallas, and Amwest Savings Association, with headquarters in Olney, to consolidate operations of the two savings banks in three Texas cities, including Hereford.

A public notice was first published Nov. 28 in the Dallas Morning News on the consolidation of branches in Hereford, Sweetwater and Mineral Wells. A copy of the public notice was obtained by the Brand today.

A spokesperson from Bluebonnet said that no papers have been signed and negotiations are continuing.

"It's not a done deal," he said. "The notice is required by the Office of Thrift Supervision in case there are any objections to the plan."

If the plan is approved, Amwest would absorb the operations of Bluebonnet in Hereford and Minerals Wells. Bluebonnet would acquire Amwest's assets and liabilities in Sweetwater.

The two savings banks were created in the past three years in the massive consolidation of thrifts from the savings and loan crisis that hit Texas and has spread through most of the nation.

For a unique last-minute gift that will get your whole family involved, make some spicy cider drops. They're made of orange rind, brown sugar and whole spices. It's great fun to hare them with neighbors, teachrs, your mail carrier and others you want to remember during Christmas week. They'll love adding the grops to a pot of simmering apple ider for a treat that delights the enses and celebrates the season. Here's how to make a dozen spicy ider drops:

-Cut oranges horizontally in half. coop out the flesh and use later in fruit salad or for orange juice. Wash and dry the scooped-out orange-rind "bowls" and place them on wire rack in a 125 F oven for four five hours. Remove from the oven hen orange-rind halves are dry and nard. Cool.

Set out the following ingredients assembly-line fashion on your kitchen counter or table:

12 dried orange rind bowls 3 cups brown sugar small pieces of stick cinnamon whole cloves whole allspice

12 clear plastic food storage bags or plastic wrap

4 yards decorative ribbon cut in 12-inch lengths

12 gift tags

- To make a cider drop, fill each orange-rind bowl with 1/4-cup brown sugar. Press sugar firmly in place. Decorate by pressing a few of the spices in the brown sugar, making a pattern or design. Place the spicy cider drop in a plastic bag or wrap tightly with plastic wrap. (If the to harden a bit before covering.) Tie on a ribbon and attach the gift tag. On the gift tap write your greetings on one side and the directions for using the spicy cider drop on the white vinegar. reverse: "Remove the spicy cider drop from the plastic and drop it into two quarts of apple cider. Simmer for 30 minutes.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Although Christmas for most people is a happy occasion, it can be a very sad time for others. I suggest that card senders ask themselves if it is possible for those on the receiving end to have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

We lost our daughter two years ago. Christmas for us is now a very sad time. Just a simple note saying "thinking of you" would be appreciatcd. Every time we receive a Christmas card wishing us a jolly holiday season, I ask myself how people can be so insensitive. How can we have a happy holiday season when our daughter, who was the light of our lives, is dead.

Please don't tell me I need counseling because I've had plenty. The only ones who can possibly understand how I feel are those who have lost a child. I hope you will print this letter so folks who send cheerful Yule greetings to families in mourning sensitive .-- Grieving Parent

DEAR FRIEND: The cards you consider hurtful are expressions of friendship from people who want you to know they are thinking of you.

Please contact The Compassionate Friends and ask for their literature. This is a national organization made up of parents whose children have died. They are able to offer the kind of cmotional support that is unavailable anywhere else. Send a selfaddressed, stamped envelope to: The Compassionate Friends, P.O. Box 3696, Oak Brook, Ill. 60522-3696. (A dollar to help defray costs would be greatly appreciated.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You recently printed a letter from "Hoodwinked in the Midwest," a woman who had received an officiallooking document offering to obtain a Social Security number for her young child--for a fcc, of course.

As chairman of the Postal Operations and Services Subcommitwill know they should be more tee, I am extremely concerned about the increasing emergence of deceptive mail. Experiences like "Hoodwink- complaints. When a mailing violates cd's" are no longer the exception, they are the norm. As a result of such fraudulent mailings, I sponsored the Deceptive Mailings Prevention Act of 1990.

This legislation requires the use of a disclaimer for any solicitations by non-governmental organizations which use official-looking emblems, titles, seals and insignias which could be interpreted as implying federal endorsement.

"THIS IS NOT A GOVERNMENT DOCUMENT" must appear on the envelope directly below the postage stamp. In addition, "THIS PRODUCT OR SERVICE (OR ORGANIZA-TION) HAS NOT BEEN APPROVED OR ENDORSED BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT" must appear in typeface which is at least twice the size of normal typeface.

If you or your readers receive a mailing that doesn't conform to these standards, please contact your local postmaster or the Postal Inspection Service, which will then handle all the law, the mailer faces civil penalties for false representation.

I hope all people who find themselves in a situation like that of "Hoodwinked in the Midwest" will report deceptive mailers. The more people who come forward, the better the chance the government and the Postal Service will be able to stop fraudulent mailings. Sincerely--Frank McCloskey, U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C.

DEAR REP. MCCLOSKEY: Good work! Thank you on behalf of millions of grateful readers.

Gem of the Day: Time is nature's way of keeping everything from happening at once.

I am wondering what your blood calcium levels are. Anyone who has kidney stones, deposits in the aorta and thin bones should at least have the blood calcium level checked and an evaluation of their parathyroid glands — the glands on each side of your thyroid. When they produce too much parathyroid hormone, that can elevate your blood calcium level by robbing calcium from the bones. The high blood calcium level may also cause kidney stones.

Memphis shuts down for championship game

By GENE YOACHUM Amarillo Globe-News MEMPHIS, Texas (AP) - Six days before Christmas, there is little talk about gift giving, yuletide lighting displays or Santa Claus in the home of the Fighting Cyclones.

Christmas will get its due, but not until after Saturday.

The hot topic on most people's minds is the prospect of Memphis High School winning the Class 1A state football championship on Saturday.

'Christmas has been put on hold," said Delores McWhorter, manager at the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, as she talked on the telephone, taking another reservation for one of the buses of Fighting Cyclone boosters planning to travel to Bedford, near Fort Worth, to watch Memphis take on Oakwood High School for the state title.

"This whole town is excited and can't wait," McWhorter said. "You won't hear people talk about much else.'

Indeed, a mini-tour of several in the Oakwood High School Panthers.

No one mentioned Christmas shopping or presents or brightly decorated evergreen trees in any of more than a dozen conversations at several downtown businesses.

"It's got everybody standing on their heads," said Memphis Mayor Homer Tucker. "Everybody's proud of our school, our team. We are delighted to be in that position for the first time ever.'

Tucker said he doubts many people will be left in the town of 2,500 residents on Saturday, given the excitement the game is generating.

Even though a large number of Memphis residents are expected to be at the game, Tucker said city police patrols will be stepped up to prevent would-be burglars from having a heyday.

"I guess even the thieves are going to go to the ball game," the mayor said. "We're going to go and that's all they are talking about."

Tucker said he issued several downtown Memphis retail shops mayoral proclamations urging the yielded a host of comments about community to get behind its team as Memphis making mincemeat the Fighting Cyclones fought their Saturday, using a recipe that calls for way through the playoffs. At least one early so they and their employees could attend the games.

"I got chewed out for that," Tucker said, smiling as he recalled the criticism. He said the shopkeepers were upset with him for urging early closings during the Christmas season.

"As if they thought they'd do any business with everybody gone," he said. "We're so grateful they all stayed so healthy," said Louise Fowler, co-owner of Fowler's Rexall drug store. "We have a great bunch of coaches and kids.'

"The most remarkable thing is last year's record (2-7) and this year (13-1)," said her husband, Dick Fowler. "The turnaround - It's been just unreal."

He said the fact that most of the Fighting Cyclones have been playing football together since they were in seventh grade may have helped them advance to the title game.

At Perry's department store, sales clerk Eva Narvaez said she planned to go to Saturday's game, the first time Memphis has been beyond the 1A quarterfinals.

Jean Sperry, another clerk, said a quantity of pulverized Panther, as of them encouraged retailers to close everyone's favorite colors for the past several weeks has been black and gold - in honor of the MHS football team. She predicted Oakwood's colors might be black and blue after the Cyclones are finished with the Panthers on Saturday.

"It's a good thing you came into town today," said Johnny Farnsworth, owner of Memphis Glass & Supply. "There won't be anyone in town Saturday to talk to.'

He said he plans to close his store Saturday for the first time so he can be at the championship contest. Farnsworth said one of his employees, Earl Kabler, is the father of the Cyclones' tight end Jeremy Kabler.

The last time the Memphis community got behind anything like it has the high school football team was three years ago when residents raised $340,000 in three weeks to save

YMCA plans New Year's Eve party

The Hereford and Vicinity YMCA will hold a New Year's Eve sleep in from 9 p.m. Dec. 31 to 10 a.m. Jan.

The event, for children in grades 1-6, will feature VCR movies, ping pong, wallyball, raquetball and swimming. The cost is $9 for YMCA members and 14 for non-members. The YMCA will accept the first 60 kids who sign up and pay.

Things to bring include a sack supper, snacks, a sleeping bag, a swim suit and a towel.

Younger Detmer on track to match Ty's trophy collection

DALLAS (AP) - Sonny Detmer's not predicting a second Heisman Trophy in the family, but it's a father's prerogative to dream.

Detmer already has seen his oldest son, Ty, win the Heisman and shatter dozens of NCAA passing records at Brigham Young. Now the Mission coach is launching another quarterback into college football, and he says this one could be even better.

Koy Detmer has spent the past two years burning defenses and shattering state passing records. After passing for 3,685 yards in 14 games as a nior, Detmer completed 209 of 305

Dallas Carter and Beaumont West Brook each placed three players on the APSE first team, while Huntsville, Waco and Arlington Lamar each had two. The team was chosen by sports writers and editors from throughout the state using statistics from regular-season play.

Detmer was joined on the first-team offense by linemen Adam Clark of Plano, Desi DeLatorre of Irving Nimitz, Cephus Northcutt of Dallas Kimball and Danny Wilson of Huntsville. The center was Calvin Collins of Beaumont West Brook.

The ends were Kevin Beirne Conroe McCullough and Charles Briley of Aldine, Sam Brooks of Odessa Permian, Alton Maiden of Dallas Carter, Keith Mitchell of Garland Lakeview and Ceaser O'Neal of Huntsville. Anthony Armour of Dallas Carter, Jim Brady of Arlington Lamar and Larance Shaw of Waco were the linebackers. Shaw, a senior, also was voted the defensive player of the year for his 122 tackles and two interceptions.

Shaw, who is 6-foot-1 and 210 pounds and runs the 40-yard dash in 4.7 seconds, is a fearsome rusher and is tough against the run, said Waco Hall County Hospital, Farnsworth said. "This is the only topic; there's nothing else being talked about, not even the farmers and their bad crops."

"We're going to win state," predicted Rhonda Fields, clerk at orner Creations. "I told them we would six weeks ago, the night we beat Wheeler." Gloria Ruiz, owner of Gloria's Cafe, agreed that the only topic of conversation in Memphis this week has been The Game .

She said she will be among those attending The Game on Saturday, conceding that many who are not able to go "will stay home and, as they say, watch it on the radio."

The community is proud of the football team and the high school, Ruiz

"This is history for Memphis." She said she can't keep up with the demand for Cyclone T-shirts, handkerchiefs, sweatshirts, buttons and ribbons sold at her cafe.

"We've been running out of them as quick as we can get them," Ruiz said

At the Memphis Chamber of Commerce office, McWhorter said at mid-week she was taking reservations for a third busload of Fighting Cyclone boosters planning to support the football team

"I've got 13 signed up and need 43 to fill it," she said. "But, guess what? It's raining right now. That may mean we'll get some cotton farmers to sign up because they can't strip cotton if it's wet. We may fill that third bus.'

passes for 3,141 yards and 28 touchdowns this year in Mission's perfect regular season.

In a 55-41 playoff loss to Corpus Christi Miller, Detmer had his best game, throwing for 522 yards.

The performance put him over 3.900 yards this season and made him the leading career passer in Texas with 8,221 yards, surpassing both his brother (8,005) and Huntsville's Steve Clements (8,204).

Given those numbers, it should be no surprise that Detmer was voted the offensive player of the year on The Associated Press Sports Editors Class 5A All-State team announced Thursday.

Sonny Detmer said his sons are so much alike - Ty is 6-1 and 170 pounds and Koy is 6-2 and 165 pounds - that he can't help but predict similar success for Koy.

"It's like the same person playing," Sonny Detmer said. "People who have seen both of them say if you put a plain helmet and pads on them, you couldn't see the difference.

When Ty left high school it was hard to tell what he could be. After seeing what Ty has become, you have a good idea what Koy could be."

Detmer's college choices have been whittled to Penn State and Texas, but he'll visit Brigham Young and Florida State has shown interest, Sonny Detmer said.

The eldest Detmer said one Heisman was more than a father could ask for, but two?

"Wow. That would be a miracle. To have one is a miracle," he said. "I'm so proud of both of them. I can hardly see straight."

What's Important

PONTE VEDRA, Fla. (AP) - The important things in life, not always noticed immediately, sometimes are sharply brought home.

A young golf pro, Chris DiMarco, became aware of that when he visited a children's hospital while competing on the Ben Hogan Tour.

"It really gave me some perspec-tive," DiMarco said. "Afterward, a 4-foot putt did not seem quite as mportant as it had been."

3:30-12:00 1:00-5:00

West of state Division 1 champion Killeen. Beirne caught 53 passes for 924 yards, while West grabbed 60 passes for 956 yards and 19 touchdowns.

The first-team running backs were Chris Abron of Richardson, Jay Johnson of Waco and Shawn Walters of Arlington Lamar, all of whom ran for more than 1,600 parts Hurst Bell place-kroce Ross Evans also was named to the team after booting 13 field goals, including one for 54 yards, and 33 of 35 extra-point attempts.

The defensive line included Ervin coach Johnny Tusa.

"So many times, people would dodge him when he was rushing a punt," Tusa said. "He was a dominant player. When you turned on the film you knew right away you had to do something with him or he would destroy you, especially in the running game."

The first-team defensive backs were Howard Antwine and David Garrett of Beaumont West Brook, Jonathan Hickerson of San Antonio Clark and Sherrod Wyatt of Dallas Carter.

Taft, who averaged 42 yards this year, also was named to the first team.

Lakers surprised by lowly Timberwolves

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers, coming off the emotional high of a victory over the defending champion Chicago Bulls, were ripe for the picking, even by the worst team in the NBA.

The Minnesota Timberwolves outscored the Lakers by 16 points in the first half, committing one turnover to eight by Los Angeles and outshooting the Lakers 58 percent to 38 percent. Then the Wolves held off the inevitable Los Angeles rally and won 93-85, snapping a nine-game losing streak and improving their record to 4-18.

"Needless to say, it was a disastrous loss for us, coming off a great win in Chicago," Lakers coach Mike Dunleavy said.

The Timberwolves led 37-31 midway through the second period before an 18-8 surge gave them a 55-39 halftime lead.

"We should have been ready," Lakers forward James Worthy said. "Unfortunately, it took us until the second half to get started. They've been very eager to win. They are one tough ball club. You can't play their record."

The Timberwolves, who have made a habit of folding in the fourth quarter this season, saw the Lakers close to 88-84 with 4:24 to play. But Sam Mitchell made a 15-foot jumper and Los Angeles missed its final nine shots, settling the outcome.

"You learn certain things from defeat. I like to believe you learn a whole lot more from winning," Wolves coach Jimmy Rodgers said. "The discouraging thing is we had opportunities to win and were not able to put games away. From that standpoint, we needed one. We needed one badly."

The Timberwolves - whose 43 percent shooting is last in the NBA - made more attempts than they missed (51 percent) for only the second time all season.

Tony Campbell led the Wolves with 23 points.

Worthy and Sam Perkins scored 22 points apiece for the Lakers.

Randy Breuer added 17 points and Pooh Richardson 16 points and nine assists for Minnesota, which made 11 of 13 shots and raced to a 22-7 lead with 4:53 left in the first quarter.

Rockets 109, Kings 102 Houston handed Sacramento its 48th loss in 49 road games behind 21 points and 17 rebounds by Hakeem Olajuwon and 21 points and 14 rebounds from Otis Thorpe. Olajuwon scored 10 points in the third quarter as the Rockets boosted their 55-45 halftime lead to 90-69 going into the final period.

Mitch Richmond led Sacramento with 24 points.

Bucks 95, Magic 87 Milwaukee shot 39.1 percent from the field, but Orlando folded down the stretch.

Dale Ellis scored 27 points for the Bucks, who outscored the Magic 14-4 in the final 2:31.

Jerry Reynolds' three-point play gave Orlando an 83-78 lead before Moses Malone keyed the Bucks' late rally with five points and three rebounds. Malone finished with 13 points and 10 rebounds.

Terry Catledge scored 20 points for Orlando.

SuperSonics 119, Nuggets 106

Ricky Pierce scored 29 points and Seattle shot 50 percent from the field for the first time in 15 games in its defeat of Denver.

The Sonics made 47 of 94 shots. Seattle led 74-58 with 5:24 remaining in the third quarter and put the game out of reach with a 17-4 burst for a 91-62 lead with 22 seconds left in the period.

Eddie Johnson scored 28 points in reserve role for the Sonics, and Marcus Liberty led Denver with 18.

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP) - New York Yankees pitcher Steve Howe, a recovering addict who once described cocaine as "stronger than you, me, anything out there," is in jail on drug charges.

Howe, staging a comeback after five suspensions from baseball for drug and alcohol problems, was arrested Thursday afternoon and jailed without bond pending a court appearance today, said Flathead County Sheriff Jim Dupont.

Howe, 33, lives during the off-season in nearby Whitefish.

The sheriff said Howe's arrest on a charge of felony possession of cocaine was related to a raid in the area last weekend in which more than two pounds of uncut cocaine were confiscated and seven people arrested.

Dupont would not say specifically how Howe was connected with that incident.

The arrest could shatter the comeback for the Yankees reliever, who was reinstated to the majors in early 1990 after a 3 1/2-year absence. At the time, commissioner Fay Vincent's office said he would be banned if he tested positive again. He has taken weekly drug tests since his reinstatement without further incident.

"I'm heartbroken. This is terrible news," Vincent said from his home in Greenwich, Conn., when told of Howe's arrest. "I'm totally surprised and shocked. It's really disturbing if it's true. If it's true, it's a great tragedy."

Howe was National League rookie of the year in 1980 with Los Angeles, helped pitch the Dodgers to the 1981 World Series championship and was an All-Star in 1982.

Last month, Howe signed a $600,000 contract for the 1992 season that included incentives that could've made the deal worth $1.5 million. He made $500,000 last season.

With the arbitration deadline out of the way, teams prepared for today's deadline. Players who aren't offered contracts by midnight become free agents, too.

Seattle said it would not offer deals to pitchers Rob Murphy and Scott Bankhead, Philadelphia said it wouldn't give a contract to pitcher Joe Boever and Texas said it wouldn't make an offer to shortstop Jeff Kunkel.

During my years of pheasant hunting I have endured some miserable, cold, snowy, windy and even muddy conditions, but opening day of 1991 pheasant season was a delight. A perfectly cool crisp day that made walkhunting an ideal way to enjoy our great outdoors.

The rewards of pheasant hunting are not limited to just eating the delicious meat, because the colorful feathers can make a beautiful centerpiece. Skin out your bird by starting at the breast and working at the tail feathers. When skinned down to the tail feather section, use a pair of scissors or a knife to separate it from the body of the bird. Use Borax powder or salt to tan the skin. Those brilliant feathers combined with some dried grasses and yucca stems can make an outstanding centerpiece that will grace the table next fall.

If you expect some Yankee visitors during the holidays, a centerpiece composed of pheasant tail feathers, barbed wire, cactus and a pair of old boots will help make up for not owning an oil well. The 1991 pheasant seson ends on Dec. 29.

With mule deer season completed and white-tail season more than half over, the results indicate a better than average year. The deer are in good shape and antler development is the best since 1986. Good spring rains were offset by a dry fall but the deer had plenty to eat during the key antler development stages.

If you want to donate some venison to a good cause, Hunters for the Hungry, sponsored by Budweiser, has a toll-free number (1-800-992-9767) that will give you the location of the closest meat processing plant.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is looking for the top 50 white-tail deer in our region and will present Texas Big Game Award certificates of recognition to both the hunter who shoots the big buck and the landowners who manage good habitat. For details and brochures, contact your local game warden or call 1-800-792-1112.

If you see anyone breaking our game laws, call 1-800-792-GAME. A school teacher was rewarded with $7,500 for turning in the poachers who killed a whooping crane!

Special thanks to TPW's Gene Miller for explaining that the threat of contracting Lyme Disease while field dressing a deer is not considered to be a health threat by most experts. Using long sleeve plastic gloves might not prevent getting sick, but it sure does keep your clothes cleaner and the wife happier.

MIAMI (AP) - The last time the New York Jets and Miami Dolphins squared off, one team was at the top of its game and the other looked awful.

The Jets romped to a 41-23 victory, grinding Miami down with a relentless running game.

"As bad as we've played," coach Don Shula said at the time. "Or worse."

The AFC East rivals meet again Sunday, with the NFL's final playoff spot at stake.

Both teams will stumble into the game: Miami (8-7) blew a 13-point fourth-quarter lead Sunday at San Diego and New York (7-8) has lost three in a row.

Already in the playoffs, but jockeying for position, are four AFC teams. The Oilers play at the New York Giants on Saturday and, with a victory, the Central Division champions would secure a first-week bye. Buffalo, the East winner, already has a bye.

Kansas City is at the Los Angeles Raiders on Sunday, with the winner playing host to a rematch in the playoffs the next weekend. Meanwhile, West winner Denver is at San Diego. If the Oilers lose and the Broncos win, Denver gets the first-week bye.

In the NFC, East champion Washington, which is at Philadelphia, has secured a first-round bye and Chicago will get the other pass if it beats San Francisco on Monday night, or if Detroit loses at Buffalo on Sunday. The Bears and Lions are tied for the Central lead, but Chicago has the tiebreakers in its favor.

Either Atlanta or New Orleans will take the West crown. The Falcons are at Dallas, while the Saints are at Phoenix. The Cowboys are the other NFC wild-card team.

Pentagon may halt sea missiles

Pentagon says it may end production of new nuclear warheads for the submarine-launched Trident II missile, a move that could hasten the permanent closure of the troubled Rocky Flats nuclear arms plant.

Lt. Cmdr. Ken Satterfield, a Pentagon spokesman, said Thursday in response to an inquiry by The Associated Press that halting production of the W-88 nuclear warhead "is under consideration." He said no final decision had been made.

The W-88 was designed to give the Trident II missile nearly five times as much destructive power as its predecessor, the Trident I. The missile is carried by Ohio-class submarines.

The fact that the Pentagon is even considering stopping W-88 production marks an important policy change. Until now it has insisted that Trident II missiles fully outfitted with the new, more powerful warhead were vital to U.S. national security.

No other type of warhead for submarine-launched nuclear missiles is in production.

Satterfield did not explain why the Pentagon was reconsidering the need for more W-88s, which cost about $3 million apiece. It may be a combina-

> Energy Secretary James D. Watkins gave the first public indication that the Pentagon might give up producing more W-88s. In response to questions about Rocky Flats at a news conference Monday, he said the future of W-88 production was "in debate."

> Watkins also said that before the future of the W-88 was called into question within the administration, production of that warhead was "the only thing left for Rocky Flats to do.

If no more W-88 warheads are made, the six Atlantic Fleet Trident submarines due to enter service later this decade probably would be outfitted with Trident II missiles carrying the 1970s-vintage W-76 warhead, which was made for the smaller, less accurate predecessor to the Trident II missile.

The W-88 warhead has a yield, or destructive power, equivalent to 475,000 tons on TNT - enough punch, the Navy had said, to destroy the most

The Energy Department, which runs the nation's nuclear bomb factories, has spent more than $1 billion over the past two years fixing safety problems at Rocky Flats. The facility, located 16 miles northwest of Denver, is the sole manufacturer of plutonium cores for W-88 and other warheads.

When safety breakdowns at Rocky Flats forced the plant to close for repairs in late 1989, production of the W-88 warhead was suspended. About 400 of the estimated 1,900 warheads ordered for the Trident II missile had been finished at the time of the shutdown, enough to fully outfit just two submarines.

The Navy and the Energy Department had said repeatedly over the last two years that Rocky Flats would resume W-88 production as soon as the plant's safety problems were fixed. The plant is still closed, but Watkins has said he intends to have it ready for operation this spring.

Stan Norris, a nuclear weapons specialist at the Natural Resources Defense Council, a private group interested in nuclear disarmament, estimated that halting W-88 production would save about $1.5 billion.
