Gripp is sentenced in drug case

By ANDREA LAMB
Staff Writer

A Hereford man, 34, pleaded guilty Monday to two counts of criminal solicitation and four counts of delivering a controlled substance in 222nd District Court, according to District Attorney Roland Saul.

District Judge Wes Gully sentenced Kimberly Spicer Gripp to 10 years in the Texas Department of Corrections with a $1,000 fine.

Gripp was arrested Aug. 24, 1987, along with Mark Jackson, Donald Cockrum, Aubrey Don Burns and Jeff Gradert on charges of delivering methamphetamine. Jimmy Stubbs and Danny Beltran were arrested with Gripp for soliciting drugs.

Gradert is expected to plead guilty to delivering a controlled substance Thursday in 222nd District Court. The others were sentenced earlier in connection with the incident.

Jackson is seeking school seat

Juan Jackson has announced he will be a write-in candidate for District Three in the Hereford school board election on May 7.

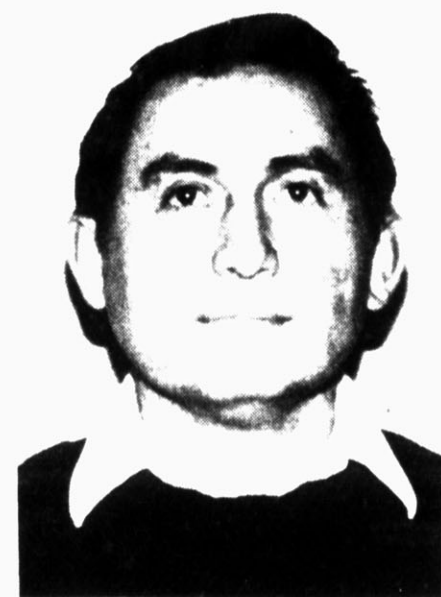

Jackson, 43, is manager of Hereford Apartments and has lived in Hereford since 1968. He and his wife, Aurora, have five children, four of them are Hereford school students.

"I believe in top-quality education," Jackson said. "Hereford has a good school system. The present board is moving things right along, but we should always strive to improve."

"I know I can work with the present board in making our schools a place where all children can get the quality education they deserve."

"I am bilingual and I feel I relate to and can be open about any situation involving the citizens of Hereford and the educational system."

The District Three seat will be a write-in election because no one filed for the position. A line will be on the ballot for persons to write in the name of a candidate.

Dukakis wins big in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Michael Dukakis, hoping "it's a sign of things to come," won an overwhelming victory over Jesse Jackson in Wisconsin and moved into the driver's seat as the 1988 Democratic presidential campaign rolled into Mario Cuomo's New York.

The Massachusetts governor won his first Midwestern primary on the strength of the blue-collar vote Tuesday, helping to ease doubts about his appeal even as it was raising questions about Jackson's ability to turn his enthusiastic crowds into success at the polls.

Wisconsin also rang the closing bell for Paul Simon's campaign, giving the Illinois senator a last-place finish.

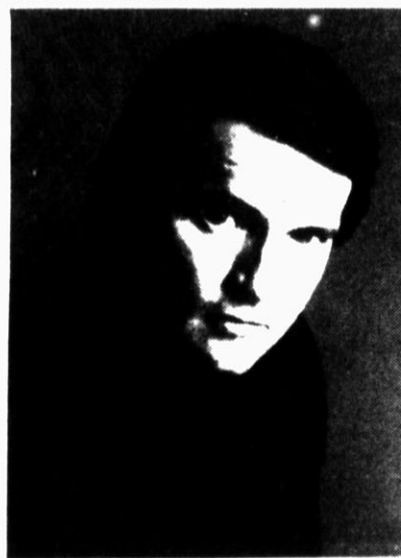

Albert Gore Jr. spent heavily but remained an also-ran in third place. Just as Simon did here, Gore has put all his chips on the New York (See DUKAKIS, Page 2)

Artists, CHOF could get national exposure

By JOHN BROOKS

The Cowgirl Hall of Fame in Hereford could reap benefits from an annual art show and sale later this year in Arizona.

"We're doing this because we want to leave something with this community," said Lynne Treadwell, whose husband, John, is the manager of the local Battelle Memorial Institute office.

Chris Robinson

"There is a very good possibility that the Hall of Fame could obtain a very nice work of art that they could display or auction to raise money."

The show will be part of a six-day celebration that will help raise funds for the Dine'Bi'Keyah Museum in Page, Ariz., which plans to house the history of every Indian tribe in the United States. The museum site is on the edge of the Navajo Indian reservation.

Several local artists, including Mary Selfridge (watercolor and oil), Andy Wilks (bronze), LaVern Elliott (watercolor, sculpture and pottery print in Zia matt), D.R. Parker (oil), Chuck Azbell (still life pottery), and Russell Brown have donated works for the $100,000 art drawing to be held June 29.

"The tickets are $3 each, and anyone wishing to buy a ticket may call me at 354-8506 or Margaret Formby at the CHOF at 364-5252," Treadwell said. "Anyone wanting to buy a ticket may buy it in their own name or for the CHOF. The volunteers selling the tickets also receive one free ticket for every ticket sold, so there are more chances for the CHOF to earn a beautiful piece of art."

The art drawing was the brainchild of Chris Robinson, formerly Dr. Rick Weber of General Hospital and now Jason Frame of Another World. The event draws stars (and their art) including Connie Stevens, Dieder Hall, Dennis Weaver, Marlon Brando, Anne Seward, and Richard Dean Anderson.

Other events include canoe races, traditional costume and tribal dances, hatchet and knife throwing contests, frying pan and buffalo chip throwing events, native foods and handicrafts, and a Black Powder competition with an authentic 1838 campsite.

"We hope that not only can the CHOF win some art, but we can get more national exposure for our local artists," Treadwell said. "Mary (Selfridge) has been to this event before, and Andy (Wilks) is on Cloud Nine because he could get some national exposure."

America getting grayer; average age goes higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are easing into their middle years, as growing numbers of maturing Baby Boomers boost the nation's median age to a record high of just over 32 years.

The 35-44 age group represents the leading edge of the post-World War II Baby Boom and is the fastest-growing segment of the U.S. population, the Census Bureau reported Tuesday.

And the population segments aged 85 and over and 75-84 rank second and third in growth since 1980, the Bureau said.

This combination helped boost the nation's median age to 32.1 years as of last July 1, the highest ever.

"The 'Graying of America' is documented by its increasing age," observed bureau statistician Lousia Miller.

Up from 31.8 in 1986, the median means that half of all Americans are older than that age and half younger.

By race, blacks remain younger than whites, although both groups are maturing.

For whites, the median age hit 33 for the first time, up from 32.7 in 1986. Black median age was 27.2, up from 26.9 and the first time that group had surpassed 27.

The nation's median age first reached 30 in 1950, but the rapid growth of the Baby Boom that was then occurring pulled it back down in the following years. The Baby Boom

Average age, 1987	33

Fastest growing population segments

2. Super seniors, age 75 and over
3. Senior seniors, ages 85-94 consists of the estimated 20 million Americans born between 1946 and 1965.

With the maturing of the Baby Boomers, the median has begun moving in the other direction. The growing elderly population has also helped raise the median, as improved medical care extends lifespans.

"The repercussions of the Baby Boom are many and varied," Miller said. They are now at the age where they have more discretionary income and the effect can be seen in the nation's culture and marketing, she said.

The generation's arrival spurred a boom in sales of baby products. It then proceeded to overwhelm the school system, following up with creation of a national orientation toward teen-age music and styles.

Now, as the Baby Boomers set up more and smaller households, they are prompting a boom in housing sales and household goods, marketing experts say.

"Further down the road, once they begin to reach retirement age, they will obviously have a great effect on the direction the country takes," Miller added.

Meanwhile, the Boomers are being followed by the much smaller Baby Bust generation, leaving fast-food outlets, retail stores and others offering "first jobs" searching for employees, she said.

The Boomers boosted the 35-44 age group by 33.8 percent between 1980 and 1987 to some 34.4 million people, the bureau reported.

The 25-34 age group remains the most numerous with 43.5 million members, but that is up only 16.8 percent from 1980, the study noted.

When Americans now in that age group move on, they will have few replacements.

Between 1980 and 1987 the 18-24 group declined by 9.7 percent to 27.3 million, and those aged 14-17 fell 11 percent to 14.4 million.

Even the 5-13 group slipped 1.1 percent to 30.8 million, but those under 5 jumped 11.6 percent in the Baby Boom; echo. They totaled 18.2 million.

The second-fastest growing segment was aged 85 and over, increasing 28 percent to 2.2 million. The 75-84 group was third, jumping 20.3 percent to 7.7 million. Americans in the 65-74 group increased 13.4 percent to 17.7 million.

Recipients of contaminated blood notified

Area hospital officials confirmed Tuesday that physicians have contacted all the patients who received blood from a donor carrying AIDS antibodies.

Coffee Memorial Blood Center wrote letters about three weeks ago to six hospitals that received the suspect blood products. One patient at Deaf Smith General Hospital was involved, and administrator Gary Moore said this morning that the physician has notified the patient and the hospital offered a free AIDS test.

Area health officials were concerned that a frequent blood donor, who tested positive for the AIDS antibody in February, might have infected 15 people through previous blood donations. Although four of those patients have died from other illnesses, 11 patients remained alive who received the donor's blood, officials reported.

All of the patients involved have been notified and some have already taken advantage of the free test and tested negative for the virus, according to hospital officials. Other hospitals that used the blood were Northwest Texas, St. Anthony's, High Plains Baptist and Palo Duro (Canyon).

The blood center has been testing its donated blood since April 1985 for the presence of AIDS antibodies, which are present when a donor has the AIDS virus, said director John Mitchell. Tests are not perfect, said Mitchell, but the blood since beginning the tests for AIDS and only one donor has tested positive.

Stay lifted on Brown land

By ANDREA LAMB
Staff Writer

The U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Amarillo lifted the stay on Mrs. N.A. Brown & Sons' land Monday, which could aid the Walcott Independent School District's attempt to purchase 14.93 acres of the land according to the school's lawyer, Chuck Hester.

Hester will present options to obtaining the title at the board's meeting April 26.

The school district has been trying to obtain clear title to the land since December because the deed states that the school building belongs to the Browns if the school district were consolidated or abolished.

The Browns refused the $4,216 which the school board offered for the land, and the school district could not take further action until the stay was lifted.

"The Browns' lawyer (Mike Calfin), Judge John C. Akard and I conducted a pre-trial hearing on Monday in which the stay was lifted and then we considered some options that we might present to our clients," said Hester.

Hester would not disclose the options, but one possibility might be to offer the Browns "the fair market value of the interest in the real property," as stated in the bankruptcy hearing notice the school board received March 1.

Hester stated that the 12-acre tract on which the school sits was assessed at $5,900, the reversionary interest (which states the Browns may seize the buildings after the school district consolidates) was assessed at $5,500, and the extra 2.93 acres surrounding the 12 acres was assessed at $400.

Local Roundup Criminal mischief reported

Hereford police suspect four juveniles for damaging two duplexes the past week in which damages totaled $3,200.

N. E. Tyler, who owns the duplexes at 124 and 126 Hernallo St. and 709 and 711 S. Texas Ave., said four windows and window frames were broken, the sheet rock on the walls was crumbled and graffiti were covering the duplexes.

Two witnesses stated they saw the four juveniles in the duplexes, but the four stated that they were only partially responsible for the destruction.

Police also reported that a 10-year-old girl on a bicycle suffered minor injuries when she struck a vehicle in the 700 block of 16th Street and Avenue H Tuesday night.

The vehicle's driver, Mary Irene Palmer of 616 Ave. J, was traveling west on 16th Street, and she said she didn't see Nancy Carabajal of 705 Ave. H on the bicycle, according to police reports.

Carabajal was treated and released from Deaf Smith County General Hospital.

A 42-year-old male was arrested on charges of no liability insurance (second offense), and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle was reported. Blankets, sheets and other items were taken from the 1400 block of E. U.S. Highway 60; disorderly conduct was reported in the 600 block of Avenue K; criminal trespassing was reported in the 400 block of 13th Street;

A prowler was reported in the 100 block of Western Avenue; a domestic disturbance was reported in the 100 block of Avenue H and harassing phone calls were reported in the 100 block of Aspen Street.

Ten citations were issued, and one minor accident was reported.

Sheriff arrests two

Babbling Brooks

By JOHN BROOKS

Did you know that Hereford's population could instantly double if, heaven forbid, something happens at the Pantex plant east of Amarillo?

That's the plan—about 25,000 Amarillo residents would be evacuated to Hereford in case of an emergency at Pantex—America's nuclear weapon assembly plant.

Where would we put all those people?

That's where the local chapter of the Civil Air Patrol comes in.

The CAP is just a flying club in some cities, but in Hereford, the recently reorganized unit is doing more than flying.

It's also concentrating on youth—most of the local members are high school students. That could pay dividends in the future if the youngsters decide to settle in Hereford. They can remain active while more young cadets enter the program.

Some of them are learning to fly, some are learning to help coordinate and participate in searches should they be called upon to help look for some lost plane or pilot.

They are all learning to help plan.

If we were to get a sudden influx of folks from Amarillo, where would we put them? The CAP folks are looking at several places in their plan: The Hereford Senior Citizens Center, Hereford Community Center, schools and churches are being mapped out, with estimates made on their ability to give harbor to the hordes that may have to make Hereford a temporary home.

Most of the folks would be fed through the Senior Citizens Center, and school cafeterias would probably pitch in, too.

The plan is all preliminary, and those CAP cadets, like the rest of us, all hope it never happens. In case it does, though, the plan is being derived, done by a bunch of teen-agers under the guidance of adult volunteers who are taking the time to help, like Anne Clyde and Jim McMorries.

The best part of this whole thing is getting our youth involved. Our young people are our best resource. Water can dry up, farming could fail, the dollar could collapse—anything can happen.

But we'll always have kids around, and we might as well use our best resource to the fullest.

I realize there are many other youth-oriented organizations, but here's a special "hats off" to the CAP for getting our young people involved.

Woman governor takes over reins in Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Democrat Rose Mofford, who began her government career 47 years ago as a secretary, was sworn in as Arizona's first female governor, saying she's proud of her new job but sad about how she got it.

Mrs. Mofford, 65, widely known as "Auntie Rose," commenced her term with wholesale housecleaning of the administration of Evan Mecham, the elected Republican governor convicted and removed from office Monday by a Senate court of impeachment.

She ordered Mecham's personal staff of about 20 off the payroll as of April 15, withdrew the names of 45 Mecham appointees from Senate consideration for now and said she would review agency chiefs to see who would stay.

Mrs. Mofford, who had been acting governor since Feb. 5, also promised to sign a tax increase, a policy opposed by the Mecham administration, but did not know how large it would be.

"I am relieved to have the 'acting' qualifier removed from in front of the title of this office, and I am moving forward with enthusiasm," Mrs. Mofford, who became Arizona's 18th governor, told a news conference.

"Little did I realize 47 years ago that this would happen," she told an invitation-only group of staff members in her protocol office earlier in the day.

Mecham, the first U.S. governor in 59 years to lose his job through impeachment conviction, told supporters Tuesday he isn't ready to give up politics.

"This is just another chapter in a book, and this book isn't near the end," he said. "I haven't yet determined what my course will be."

Also Tuesday, the Arizona Supreme Court allowed a pro-Mecham group to drop its challenge to the May 17 gubernatorial recall election. Concerned Arizona Voters said it wanted to dismiss its case because it now sees the recall as the former governor's last hope for regaining his office.

However, Mecham attorney Jerris Leonard said he does not believe Mecham can run in any election until 1990 because the Senate removed him from the four-year term he began in January 1987.

The Supreme Court could decide this week whether a recall election is necessary since Mecham was the target.

It is possible the election could remove Mrs. Mofford from office. Her chief of staff, Andrew Hurwitz, said he had been negotiating with acting Secretary of State Karen Osborne and Attorney General Bob Corbin in hopes of exempting Mrs. Mofford from the recall.

Corbin believes the recall should be held as scheduled, but Mrs. Osborne, a longtime Mofford aide, hopes to have it cancelled.

Mrs. Mofford has refused to comment about the recall, and a state resign-to-run law could put her in jeopardy if she campaigns actively.

Also uncertain was Mecham's ballot status.

Mrs. Mofford, known throughout government for her silver beehive hairdo and her stories about her days as a champion softball player, said she was proud to be the first woman in charge of the government where she has worked with 11 of the state's 17 previous governors, but added, "It's very sad that I had to be elevated this way."

She has been the elected secretary of state for the last nine years and had been serving as acting governor since Mecham was impeached by the state House in February. Arizona does not have a lieutenant governor.

Billy Bob's Texas dances last two-step

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Billy Bob Barnett lost his namesake honky tonk to foreclosure and one of his Stockyards development companies filed for bankruptcy protection.

Barnett, 41, a former beer distributor and native of Lampasas, founded Billy Bob's Texas in 1981 and turned it into one of the nation's largest and most famous country-western nightclubs.

Landmark Bank of Fort Worth purchased Billy Bob's Texas and other Stockyards property owned by Barnett for $8.2 million during a public auction on the steps of the Tarrant County Courthouse. Landmark was the only bidder.

In addition, one of Barnett's Stockyards development companies, Stockyards South Inc., filed for protection under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy code.

According to court records, Landmark foreclosed after Stockyards 85, a partnership controlled by Barnett, failed to repay a $10.5 million loan.

Last month, Landmark officials gave Stockyards 85 an extra 30 days to raise money to pay its debt, but decided to foreclose on the property

Shultz seeks for 'shalom'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz today acknowledged that his Middle East shuttle has been difficult but pledged to continue his efforts to achieve peace in the region.

"When you are down in the trenches doing it, you certainly are aware of how hard it is," Shultz said after a meeting with Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir. "But that doesn't lessen the importance of continuing the effort."

Shultz returned Tuesday night from a 15-hour trip to Amman, Jordan and Damascus, Syria, where he sounded out Arab leaders on the peace plan. He is scheduled to return to Amman later today after a stop in Cairo, Egypt.

Shultz met Shamir for 1½ hours in talks described by Shamir aide Avi Pazner as "very friendly." The last 15 minutes of the session were private.

Pazner said Shultz told Shamir he had not received a clear answer to his peace plan from King Hussein of Jordan, who requested clarifications from the Israelis. Pazner quoted Shultz as saying President Hafez Assad of Syria was "negative" about the plan.

Returning from his trip to Jordan and Syria on Tuesday, Shultz said: "I cannot report any particular sense of convergence on our initiative at this point." But he said all sides had urged him to continue, and he hoped to bring to Hussein today Israel's answers to questions the king raised about the plan.

The initiative calls for negotiations in two stages. The first would seek to establish some self-rule for Palestinians who live in the West Bank and Gaza Strip. The second would deal with the settlement of the 40-year Arab-Israeli conflict. Four months of anti-occupation rioting in the West Bank and Gaza Strip have left more than 135 Palestinians and one Israeli soldier dead.

In an interview in Amman on Tuesday with a group of Jordanian editors, Shultz said a total Israeli withdrawal from the West Bank of Jordan was not "in the cards."

He opposed a separate role in the negotiations for the Palestine Liberation Organization, which he said called in its covenant for Israel's extermination. And, he said, an independent Palestinian state on

Millionaire accused of drug trafficking

NEW YORK (AP) — A millionaire Honduran arrested in a raid on his luxurious home arrived here early today to face drug trafficking charges and questioning in the 1985 killing of a U.S. drug agent in Mexico, authorities said.

Juan Ramon Matta, 43, was arrested before dawn Tuesday and turned over to U.S. marshals after an airborne police raid on his home in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, authorities said.

In addition to drug charges, authorities want to question him about the death of Enrique Camarena Salazar, a U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent, according to a U.S. law enforcement source, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Matta arrived at Kennedy International Airport early today on a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico, said Lt. Kevin Ward of the Port Authority police.

He was accompanied by three federal marshals who put him aboard a government jet that took off for an undisclosed federal prison, Ward said.

U.S. marshals on duty in New York and Washington overnight would not comment on the case.

Warrants charge Matta with escape from federal custody, conspiracy to smuggle cocaine, possession with intent to distribute cocaine, engaging in a continuing criminal enterprise and other crimes.

"This arrest is a major milestone in our worldwide assault on illegal drug trafficking," Stanley E. Morris, director of the U.S. Marshals Service in Washington, said Tuesday.

Matta had been living openly in Honduras after escaping in 1986 from a Colombian prison.

He had been held in Colombia on charges of involvement with the cocaine-trafficking Medellin cartel.

The Marshals Service said he was believed to have since become a leader of a group of traffickers that controlled the flow of illegal drugs from Mexico.

Camarena was kidnapped, tortured and killed in Guadalajara, Mexico, in 1985. John C. Lawn, the head of the DEA, said in 1985 that Matta was one of the four prime suspects in the case.

Carlos Lorenzana, Matta's lawyer, said in a telephone interview that about 60 heavily armed policemen using helicopters arrived at his client's home at 5:45 a.m. Tuesday.

He said Matta, as a Honduran citizen, could not be extradited to the United States "because the constitution forbids it."

Honduran government sources said privately that President Jose Azcona Hoyo met with top civilian and security officials to discuss Matta's case.

U.S. authorities link Matta's return to Honduras to an increase in transshipment of Colombian cocaine through the Central American country.

Allegations have been made of involvement by top Honduran military officials.

The government denied the reports in February. Azcona said critics were trying "to discredit the armed forces and my government, which has taken a series of actions to combat the drug traffickers."

Matta told The Associated Press in February he makes his living in cattle ranching, construction and the tobacco, spice and coffee trade. His wealth has been estimated at up to $2 billion, but he put it at about $5 million.

He said the charges against him were "a lie, a story," and claimed U.S. agents tried three times in the past year to kidnap him.

: Middle East road to peace rocky

the West Bank would not be viable economically and did not "make sense."

Shultz said the ethnic aspirations of Palestinians should be taken into account: "We seek some workable way these interests can be served."

At the same time, he said negotiations must be based on U.N. Security Council resolutions that call on Israel to yield territory captured from the Arabs in 1967 in exchange for peace.

Without explanation, the interview was not shown on Jordanian television Tuesday night.

Shultz is due to wind up his latest Middle East venture, the second in a month, on Friday.

Flying back to Israel on Tuesday night, Shultz said both Shamir and Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres were prepared to hold negotiations with Jordan on an overall settlement.

Damascus Radio cited Assad making four demands for a peace settlement:

—The convening of an international conference with far-reaching involvement in the negotiations, as opposed to the ceremonial role advocated by Shultz.

—Israel's complete withdrawal from all occupied territories.

—Establishment of an independent Palestinian state.

—The participation of a united Arab delegation in the peace talks, as opposed to direct bilateral talks with each Arab country as advocated by Shultz.

Dukakis

primary on April 19.

The New York contest puts the spotlight on Cuomo, who has often been mentioned as a potential draft at a deadlocked convention. But Dukakis' win is likely to tone down talk of drafting Cuomo or another Democrat.

The New York governor has not made an endorsement, but the Dukakis camp is hoping the Wisconsin win could put Dukakis in a good position to finally win the nod from his fellow governor.

There was a Republican primary in Wisconsin, but there were no doubts. Vice President George Bush, the nomination his in everything but name, bested Pat Robertson by a 10-1 margin.

In the Democratic battle, Wisconsin gave Dukakis the boost he had to have and perhaps pointed to a ceiling on Jackson's support.

"I hope it's a sign of things to come," said Dukakis of what he called "a great victory."

With 99 percent of the precincts reporting, Dukakis had 481,857 or 48 percent, to 285,575 or 28 percent for Jackson. Gore had 176,009 for 17 percent, while Simon drew only 48,877 about 5 percent.

Dukakis edged Jackson among blue-collar workers, network exit polls said, and won white union workers outright. That was good news for the Massachusetts governor, who needed to show he can win that group, which is key to the party's hopes in the fall.

Even in Kenosha County, home of the doomed Chrysler plant where Jackson had made a splash by joining the picket line, Dukakis won with better than a 2-1 margin.

"I'm doing very well with working families...because people see in me someone who doesn't just talk about jobs," Dukakis said.

The Massachusetts governor also won in Colorado's precinct caucuses, which were held Monday, even though the counting dragged into Tuesday.

With 77 percent counted, Dukakis won with 44 percent to Jackson's 37 percent. Uncommitted groups took 16 percent and Gore 3 percent.

Dukakis's campaign was in serious trouble after Jackson's stunning victory in the March 26 Michigan caucuses. But he has now won three of four events in the past eight days.

Babbling Brooks

By JOHN BROOKS

Did you know that Hereford's population could instantly double if, heaven forbid, something happens at the Pantex plant east of Amarillo?

That's the plan—about 25,000 Amarillo residents would be evacuated to Hereford in case of an emergency at Pantex—America's nuclear weapon assembly plant.

Where would we put all those people?

That's where the local chapter of the Civil Air Patrol comes in.

The CAP is just a flying club in some cities, but in Hereford, the recently reorganized unit is doing more than flying.

It's also concentrating on youth—most of the local members are high school students. That could pay dividends in the future if the youngsters decide to settle in Hereford. They can remain active while more young cadets enter the program.

Some of them are learning to fly, some are learning to help coordinate and participate in searches should they be called upon to help look for some lost plane or pilot.

They are all learning to help plan.

If we were to get a sudden influx of folks from Amarillo, where would we put them? The CAP folks are looking at several places in their plan: The Hereford Senior Citizens Center, Hereford Community Center, schools and churches are being mapped out, with estimates made on their ability to give harbor to the hordes that may have to make Hereford a temporary home.

Most of the folks would be fed through the Senior Citizens Center, and school cafeterias would probably pitch in, too.

The plan is all preliminary, and those CAP cadets, like the rest of us, all hope it never happens. In case it does, though, the plan is being derived, done by a bunch of teen-agers under the guidance of adult volunteers who are taking the time to help, like Anne Clyde and Jim McMorries.

The best part of this whole thing is getting our youth involved. Our young people are our best resource. Water can dry up, farming could fail, the dollar could collapse—anything can happen.

But we'll always have kids around, and we might as well use our best resource to the fullest.

I realize there are many other youth-oriented organizations, but here's a special "hats off" to the CAP for getting our young people involved.

Woman governor takes over reins in Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Democrat Rose Mofford, who began her government career 47 years ago as a secretary, was sworn in as Arizona's first female governor, saying she's proud of her new job but sad about how she got it.

Mrs. Mofford, 65, widely known as "Auntie Rose," commenced her term with wholesale housecleaning of the administration of Evan Mecham, the elected Republican governor convicted and removed from office Monday by a Senate court of impeachment.

She ordered Mecham's personal staff of about 20 off the payroll as of April 15, withdrew the names of 45 Mecham appointees from Senate consideration for now and said she would review agency chiefs to see who would stay.

Mrs. Mofford, who had been acting governor since Feb. 5, also promised to sign a tax increase, a policy opposed by the Mecham administration, but did not know how large it would be.

"I am relieved to have the 'acting' qualifier removed from in front of the title of this office, and I am moving forward with enthusiasm," Mrs. Mofford, who became Arizona's 18th governor, told a news conference.

"Little did I realize 47 years ago that this would happen," she told an invitation-only group of staff members in her protocol office earlier in the day.

Mecham, the first U.S. governor in 59 years to lose his job through impeachment conviction, told supporters Tuesday he isn't ready to give up politics.

"This is just another chapter in a book, and this book isn't near the end," he said. "I haven't yet determined what my course will be."

Also Tuesday, the Arizona Supreme Court allowed a pro-Mecham group to drop its challenge to the May 17 gubernatorial recall election. Concerned Arizona Voters said it wanted to dismiss its case because it now sees the recall as the former governor's last hope for regaining his office.

However, Mecham attorney Jerris Leonard said he does not believe Mecham can run in any election until 1990 because the Senate removed him from the four-year term he began in January 1987.

The Supreme Court could decide this week whether a recall election is necessary since Mecham was the target.

It is possible the election could remove Mrs. Mofford from office. Her chief of staff, Andrew Hurwitz, said he had been negotiating with acting Secretary of State Karen Osborne and Attorney General Bob Corbin in hopes of exempting Mrs. Mofford from the recall.

Corbin believes the recall should be held as scheduled, but Mrs. Osborne, a longtime Mofford aide, hopes to have it cancelled.

Mrs. Mofford has refused to comment about the recall, and a state resign-to-run law could put her in jeopardy if she campaigns actively.

Also uncertain was Mecham's ballot status.

Mrs. Mofford, known throughout government for her silver beehive hairdo and her stories about her days as a champion softball player, said she was proud to be the first woman in charge of the government where she has worked with 11 of the state's 17 previous governors, but added, "It's very sad that I had to be elevated this way."

She has been the elected secretary of state for the last nine years and had been serving as acting governor since Mecham was impeached by the state House in February. Arizona does not have a lieutenant governor.

Shultz seeks for 'shalom'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz today acknowledged that his Middle-East shuttle has been difficult but pledged to continue his efforts to achieve peace in the region.

"When you are down in the trenches doing it, you certainly are aware of how hard it is," Shultz said after a meeting with Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir. "But that doesn't lessen the importance of continuing the effort."

Shultz returned Tuesday night from a 15-hour trip to Amman, Jordan and Damascus, Syria, where he sounded out Arab leaders on the peace plan. He is scheduled to return to Amman later today after a stop in Cairo, Egypt.

Shultz met Shamir for 1½ hours in talks described by Shamir aide Avi Pazner as "very friendly." The last 17 minutes of the session were private.

Pazner said Shultz told Shamir he had not received a clear answer to his peace plan from King Hussein of Jordan, who requested clarifications from the Israelis. Pazner quoted Shultz as saying President Hafez Assad of Syria was "negative" about the plan. Returning from his trip to Jordan and Syria on Tuesday, Shultz said: "I cannot report any particular sense of convergence on our initiative at this point." But he said all sides had urged him to continue, and he hoped to bring to Hussein today Israel's answers to questions the king raised about the plan.

The initiative calls for negotiations in two stages. The first would seek to establish some self-rule for Palestinians who live in the West Bank and Gaza Strip. The second would deal with the settlement of the 40-year Arab-Israeli conflict. Four months of anti-occupation rioting in the West Bank and Gaza Strip have left more than 135 Palestinians and one Israeli soldier dead.

In an interview in Amman on Tuesday with a group of Jordanian editors, Shultz said a total Israeli withdrawal from the West Bank of Jordan was not "in the cards."

He opposed a separate role in the negotiations for the Palestine Liberation Organization, which he said called in its covenant for Israel's extermination. And, he said, an independent Palestinian state on

Millionaire accused of drug trafficking

NEW YORK (AP) — A millionaire Honduran arrested in a raid on his luxurious home arrived here early today to face drug trafficking charges and questioning in the 1985 killing of a U.S. drug agent in Mexico, authorities said.

Juan Ramon Matta, 43, was arrested before dawn Tuesday and turned over to U.S. marshals after an airborne police raid on his home in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, authorities said.

In addition to drug charges, authorities want to question him about the death of Enrique Camarena Salazar, a U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent, according to a U.S. law enforcement source, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Matta arrived at Kennedy International Airport early today on a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico, said Lt. Kevin Ward of the Port Authority police.

He was accompanied by three federal marshals who put him aboard a government jet that took off for an undisclosed federal prison, Ward said.

U.S. marshals on duty in New York and Washington overnight would not comment on the case.

Warrants charge Matta with escape from federal custody, conspiracy to smuggle cocaine, possession with intent to distribute cocaine, engaging in a continuing criminal enterprise and other crimes.

"This arrest is a major milestone in our worldwide assault on illegal drug trafficking," Stanley E. Morris, director of the U.S. Marshals Service in Washington, said Tuesday.

Matta had been living openly in Honduras after escaping in 1986 from a Colombian prison.

He had been held in Colombia on charges of involvement with the cocaine-trafficking Medellin cartel.

The Marshals Service said he was believed to have since become a leader of a group of traffickers that controlled the flow of illegal drugs from Mexico.

Camarena was kidnapped, tortured and killed in Guadalajara, Mexico, in 1985. John C. Lawn, the head of the DEA, said in 1985 that Matta was one of the four prime suspects in the case.

Carlos Lorenzana, Matta's lawyer, said in a telephone interview that about 60 heavily armed policemen using helicopters arrived at his client's home at 5:45 a.m. Tuesday.

He said Matta, as a Honduran citizen, could not be extradited to the United States "because the constitution forbids it."

Honduran government sources said privately that President Jose Azcona Hoyo met with top civilian and security officials to discuss Matta's case.

U.S. authorities link Matta's return to Honduras to an increase in transshipment of Colombian cocaine through the Central American country.

Allegations have been made of involvement by top Honduran military officials.

The government denied the reports in February. Azcona said critics were trying "to discredit the armed forces and my government, which has taken a series of actions to combat the drug traffickers."

Matta told The Associated Press in February he makes his living in cattle ranching, construction and the tobacco, spice and coffee trade. His wealth has been estimated at up to $2 billion, but he put it at about $5 million.

He said the charges against him were "a lie, a story," and claimed U.S. agents tried three times in the past year to kidnap him.

: Middle East road to peace rocky

the West Bank would not be viable economically and did not "make sense."

Shultz said the ethnic aspirations of Palestinians should be taken into account: "We seek some workable way these interests can be served."

At the same time, he said negotiations must be based on U.N. Security Council resolutions that call on Israel to yield territory captured from the Arabs in 1967 in exchange for peace.

Without explanation, the interview was not shown on Jordanian television Tuesday night.

Shultz is due to wind up his latest Middle East venture, the second in a month, on Friday.

Flying back to Israel on Tuesday night, Shultz said both Shamir and Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres were prepared to hold negotiations with Jordan on an overall settlement.

Damascus Radio cited Assad making four demands for a peace settlement:

—The convening of an international conference with far-reaching involvement in the negotiations, as opposed to the ceremonial role advocated by Shultz.

—Israel's complete withdrawal from all occupied territories.

—Establishment of an independent Palestinian state.

—The participation of a united Arab delegation in the peace talks, as opposed to direct bilateral talks with each Arab country as advocated by Shultz.

Billy Bob's Texas dances last two-step

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Billy Bob Barnett lost his namesake honky tonk to foreclosure and one of his Stockyards development companies filed for bankruptcy protection.

Barnett, 41, a former beer distributor and native of Lampasas, founded Billy Bob's Texas in 1981 and turned it into one of the nation's largest and most famous country-western nightclubs.

Landmark Bank of Fort Worth purchased Billy Bob's Texas and other Stockyards property owned by Barnett for $8.2 million during a public auction on the steps of the Tarrant County Courthouse. Landmark was the only bidder.

In addition, one of Barnett's Stockyards development companies, Stockyards South Inc., filed for protection under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy code.

According to court records, Landmark foreclosed after Stockyards 85, a partnership controlled by Barnett, failed to repay a $10.5 million loan.

Last month, Landmark officials gave Stockyards 85 an extra 30 days to raise money to pay its debt, but decided to foreclose on the property to "protect its interests."

While saying in a statement that "the bank is committed to doing all in its power to assure that the stockyards area can once again become a vital part of Fort Worth's economic base," bank officials declined to specify any plans for Billy Bob's Texas.

The voluntary bankruptcy petition, filed in U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, was also signed by Barnett, president and principal stockholder of the company, and by H.B. "Hub" Baker, secretary-treasurer.

Dukakis

primary on April 19.

The New York contest puts the spotlight on Cuomo, who has often been mentioned as a potential draft at a deadlocked convention. But Dukakis' win is likely to tone down talk of drafting Cuomo or another Democrat.

The New York governor has not made an endorsement, but the Dukakis camp is hoping the Wisconsin win could put Dukakis in a good position to finally win the nod from his fellow governor.

There was a Republican primary in Wisconsin, but there were no doubts. Vice President George Bush, the nomination in his everything but name, bested Pat Robertson by a 10-1 margin.

In the Democratic battle, Wisconsin gave Dukakis the boost he had to have and perhaps pointed to a ceiling on Jackson's support.

"I hope it's a sign of things to come," said Dukakis of what he called "a great victory."

With 99 percent of the precincts reporting, Dukakis had 481,857 or 48 percent, to 285,575 or 28 percent for Jackson. Gore had 176,009 for 17 percent, while Simon drew only 48,877 about 5 percent.

Dukakis edged Jackson among blue-collar workers, network exit polls said, and won white union workers outright. That was good news for the Massachusetts governor, who needed to show he can win that group, which is key to the party's hopes in the fall.

Even in Kenosha County, home of the doomed Chrysler plant where Jackson had made a splash by joining the picket line, Dukakis won with better than a 2-1 margin.

"I'm doing very well with working families...because people see in me someone who doesn't just talk about jobs," Dukakis said.

The Massachusetts governor also won in Colorado's precinct caucuses, which were held Monday, even though the counting dragged into Tuesday.

With 77 percent counted, Dukakis won with 44 percent to Jackson's 37 percent. Uncommitted groups took 16 percent and Gore 3 percent.

Dukakis's campaign was in serious trouble after Jackson's stunning victory in the March 26 Michigan caucuses. But he has now won three of four events in the past eight days.

Collier, McCracken brothers continue hot hitting

Herd beats Tigers, Cotten hurls 4-hitter

Robby Collier, Rodney McCracken and Roger McCracken continued their hot hitting, and Clint Cotten pitched a four-hitter, to lead the Hereford Whiteface varsity baseball team to a 14-3 victory over Frenship on Tuesday at Wolforth.

Hereford's victory, coupled with Canyon defeating Levelland 11-3, put Hereford alone in the District 1-4A lead with a 6-1 record. Canyon, Levelland and Lubbock Dunbar are led for second with 5-2 record.

Lubbock Estacado, fifth in the district with a 4-3 record after beating Borger 9-5 Tuesday, plays at Hereford on Saturday at 1 p.m.

A balanced offensive effort was a key to the win over Frenship. Rodney McCracken went three for four with three RBIs, Robby Collier was two for three with three RBIs, and Roger McCracken went two for three with two RBIs.

Derrell Page and Michael Phibbs each drove in two runs also. Collier, Glenn Parker, Ross Torres, and Bill Ruckman each had two stolen bases for Hereford, which totaled 15 steals.

Clint Cotten struck out four batters and walked one in hurling his four-hitter for his third win of the season against one defeat.

"Clint did a lot better job throwing strikes. He hurt himself in his last game walking batters," Hereford Coach T.R. Sartor said. "He was throwing his knuckleball for strikes."

The Whitefaces moved out to a 4-0 lead in the first inning when six straight batters singled, including Page who drove in two runs and Roger McCracken and James Hernandez who each batted in one run.

Collier hit a single in the second inning to drive in two baserunners who had walked, and Roger McCracken hit an RBI single, upping Hereford's lead to 7-0.

Hereford loaded the bases in the third inning on walks, and Phibbs hit a sacrifice fly to bat in a run. Rodney McCracken hit a two-run single and later scored on an error to help increase the lead to 11-0.

The Whitefaces made it 14-0 in the fourth inning. Hernandez hit a double and the next three batters walked, including Phibbs with the bases-loaded. Rodney McCracken hit an RBI single, and Collier was credited with an RBI on a fielder's choice.

Frenship scored an unearned run off Cotten in the fourth inning, and scored twice in the fifth inning with a pair of hits, including a triple.

Hereford plays at Dumas on April 12 at 4:30 p.m., and plays at home against Lubbock Dunbar on April 16 at 1 p.m. The Whitefaces will be open on April 19, and will play at Pampa on April 23 at 1 p.m.

Mize cannot afford to dwell on Masters miracle shot

By ED SHEARER

AP Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — It's unlikely Larry Mize will ever hit a more memorable shot, but it's one he can't afford to dwell on this week.

"I've got to think about this year," Mize said Tuesday as he prepared to defend his championship when the 52nd Masters begins Thursday.

"It's come up about 4 billion times," Mize said of the 140-foot chip he made a year ago to capture this revered title on the second hole of a playoff with two of the game's top performers — Greg Norman and Seve Ballesteros, who bowed out on the first extra hole.

"It's a great memory ... but I'm really concentrating hard on this year," Mize said.

"I'm trying hard to try and relieve myself of all pressure. I'm working as hard as I can to get my game in good shape. Defending at Augusta should be a fun and enjoyable week."

The season's first major golf championship historically hasn't been kind to defending champions, and Mize really doesn't rank among the favorites this week.

Only one player has ever put together consecutive victories on the storied Augusta National Golf Club course — Jack Nicklaus, perhaps the greatest golfer in history.

Nicklaus owns a record six Masters championships, including titles in 1965 and 1966.

Even at age 48, Nicklaus can't be counted out. He won this event only two years ago.

"When thinking of players to beat, you have to think about Greg Norman and Seve Ballesteros," Mize said.

The two foreign stars are generally regarded as the pre-tournament favorites.

Norman, an Australian, tied for second in the last two Masters. Ballesteros, the dashing Spaniard, won this championship in 1980 and 1983, was in the second-place tie with Norman last year and also has three other finishes in the top five.

Mize hasn't won since last year's triumph on this 6,905-yard, par-72 layout. He had five finishes in the top 10 following the Masters, but hasn't fared well at all this season.

He's missed three cuts in eight events, with his best finish a tie for 11th in the Tournament of Champions.

"It's not as good as it was a year ago," Mize said of his game. "But I feel like it's real close."

Norman won three events in Australia this season to run his global career victory total to 45. He missed by one shot of getting into a playoff at Pebble Beach in February.

"I feel very strong, very confident about my game," Norman said Tuesday.

The field of 90 for this invitational event includes an especially strong international contingent.

Besides Norman and Ballesteros, the foreign group includes Sandy Lyle of Scotland, Ian Woosnam of Wales, Bernhard Langer of West Germany and England's Nick Faldo, the current British Open champion.

Lyle has won twice on the PGA Tour this season, at Phoenix early in the year and at Greensboro last week.

The only two-time winner this year among the 62 American professionals is Steve Pate, winner of the Tournament of Champions and the Andy Williams Open.

Other Americans to watch include U.S. Open champion Scott Simpson, PGA winner Larry Nelson, two-time Masters champion Tom Watson and Ben Crenshaw, the 1984 Masters champion who has nine other top 10 finishes in his 14 appearances at Augusta.

Tom Kite has never won this event, but has been consistently among the leaders, posting 10 finishes in the top 10 in 15 years.

Mark McCumber, second on the money list, is coming off a victory in the Tournament Players Championship two weeks ago.

Kaul wins steer wrestling in second straight rodeo

Kirby Kaul of the Hereford High School rodeo club won the steer wrestling title for the second week in a row at a rodeo in the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association.

Kaul won the event at the Dumas rodeo on Sunday with a winning time of 6.59 seconds. Teammate Shawn McCormick placed sixth in 13.54 seconds.

Regina Lewis and Marcie Smith each placed in two events. In barrel racing, Lewis was fifth in 15.84 seconds and Smith placed seventh in 15.86 seconds.

Lewis finished third in goat tying in 11.75 seconds, and Smith placed third in pole bending in 21.30 seconds.

Chris Northcutt of Hereford competed with Gary Clements of Stratford for a second place finish in team roping, in 10.04 seconds.

In bull riding, Chris Burrus placed fourth with a score of 68.

RICH TRAINER

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner-trainers are common around the race track but not in pro football.

Except in Chicago where Brian McCaskey, a grandson of George Halas and part owner of the Bears, also serves as an assistant to head trainer Fred Caito.

McCaskey, 27, is the son of board chairman Ed McCaskey of the Bears and is the 10th of 11 children, born to the former Virginia Halas, now Mrs. McCaskey.

"They say I'm a millionaire on paper," Brian said. "I've never seen the money and perhaps never will. Sports medicine is my chosen profession."

The average time for NFL games in 1987 was three hours and nine minutes, a decline of two minutes from the previous year.

Houston defeats San Diego, 6-3

Bass' two-run single rallies Astros

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Kevin Bass heard the cheers as he came to the plate in the eighth inning as a pinchhitter.

It wasn't until later that he realized the ovation was for him Tuesday night.

"I thought maybe somebody was passing around a beach ball in the stands," Bass said. "I was so pumped up I didn't realize what was going on."

Bass shut out all distractions, including rumors that he was on the trading block, and drilled a 2-run single that helped rally the Astros to a 6-3 victory over San Diego.

If Bass felt unwanted, he put on a good act following his big hit.

"I've been rumored on the trading block since 1985 and it hurts you every time but that's the nature of baseball," he said.

Bass had spent the day fielding questions about a rumored trade to the Yankees for outfielder Dave Winfield.

"Sometimes you have to take your services elsewhere," Bass said. "I don't want to leave."

Bass' pinchhit tied the score at 3-3 and Billy Hatcher's double scored Chuck Jackson, pinchrunning for Bass, with the winning run.

Two more runs scored on a wild pitch by relief pitcher Mark Davis and Steve Henderson's pinchhit single.

Houston's rally marked a quick turnaround for the Padres and starter Ed Whitson, who left the game after he was hit on his pitching hand by Terry Puhl's infield hit.

"That's what happens when you get a break and take advantage of it," Whitson said. "We didn't want to lose on opening night. We'll do all we can to keep from having the same start we did last year."

The Padres started last season with a 12-42 record.

"You lose one or two like that and you start to have flashbacks of last year," Padres right fielder Tony Gwynn said. "The veterans around here are letting people know that we have to put this one behind us."

Bass' hit helped make Mike Scott the winning opening day pitcher for the second season in a row.

"I just tried to keep us in the game and I did that for eight innings," Scott said. "But we came back in the eighth inning. It was fun to watch."

Chris Brown's home run over the center field fence gave the Padres a 1-0 lead in the third and Houston's Glenn Davis tied it with a solo homer in the fourth.

Keith Moreland's two-run double gave San Diego a 3-1 lead in the eighth inning.

"It was one ball game, that's all, we start all over tomorrow," Padres Manager Larry Bowa said.

Elsewhere, the Atlanta Braves and Chicago Cubs opened with a bang. The San Francisco Giants went out without a whimper in a bizarre day in the National League.

The Braves and Cubs combined for seven home runs to tie an opening day record Tuesday night before Chicago pulled out a wild 10-9 triumph in 13 innings.

The defending NL West champion Giants, meanwhile, were handled easily by Los Angeles right-hander Orel Hershiser in a 5-0 loss. Also, it was Pittsburgh 5, Philadelphia 3.

Cubs 10, Braves 9

Manny Trillo's 13th-inning sacrifice fly lifted Chicago in a game that included a controversial interference call on the Braves along with the rash of homers.

Trillo's fly ball off reliever Jim Aker, 0-1, scored Vance Law, who had doubled and was sacrificed to third. Mike Bielecki gained the victory with two scoreless innings of relief.

The game included four home runs by the Braves and three by Chicago.

The Braves appeared to have won the game in the bottom of the ninth. Albert Hall bounced a two-out grounder behind second base with Gerald Perry at second. Perry, who was caught in a rundown between third and home, scored when catcher Jody Davis' throw hit him on the helmet and bounced toward shortstop.

But home plate umpire Bruce Froemming ruled that Perry interfered with third baseman Law and called him out.

"It was obvious to me that he (Perry) went out of his way to make contact with the ball," Cubs catcher Jody Davis said.

Dodgers 5, Giants 0

In Los Angeles, Hershiser outduelled San Francisco's Kelly Downs with a three-hitter and squeezed home a run in the sixth inning.

Hershiser, making his 1988 debut after consecutive .500 seasons, struck out six and walked two en route to his 12th career shutout. He retired 17 of the last 18 batters to secure his ninth career win over the Giants in 12 decisions.

Downs surrendered only two hits in seven innings, but still trailed 1-0 when he left the game.

Reliever Scott Garretts came on in the eighth, and was responsible for four more Dodgers runs. Los Angeles scored on an RBI single by Mike Scioscia, a two-run single by Alfredo Griffin and an error.

Pirates 5, Phillies 3

Darnell Coles' three-run homer highlighted a four-run third inning that carried Pittsburgh.

The Pirates erased a 2-0 deficit in the third as Mike Schmidt's error at third base set up three unearned runs.

Prior to Coles' homer, Barry Bonds' homered with one out to cut the Phillies' lead to 2-1. Coles' homer gave the Pirates a 4-2 lead, and he tripled home a run in the eighth.

Mike Dunne, 13-6 in his rookie season last year, pitched 5 2-3 innings and earned his first victory with relief help from Jeff Robinson. Robinson held on for the save despite giving up a homer to Schmidt, his 531st that put him three behind eighth-place Jimmie Foxx on the all-time list.

In debut with Oakland Athletics

Welch shuts out Mariners

By DAVE CARPENTER
Associated Press Writer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — If Bob Welch didn't have his best stuff in his Oakland Athletics' debut, as his manager said, then opposing American League batters are in for a grim year.

Welch scattered seven hits and pitched seven shutout innings Tuesday night, recording six strikeouts and never allowing a runner past second base as the A's blanked the Seattle Mariners 6-0.

In the only other American League game played, the New York Yankees beat the World Champion Minnesota Twins 8-0.

Welch, a 31-year-old right-hander, flirted with danger several times, retiring the side in order only once and relying on outstanding defense behind him to keep Seattle from scoring. But it was more than satisfactory for a pitcher who was admittedly "quite nervous" making his first AL start and allowed two of the first three hitters to face him to reach base.

"I was able to stop them from getting the big hit," Welch said. "I was just trying to stay ahead of the hitters."

"Any time you go out there and come away with a win, it doesn't matter what kind of stuff you had. The win is all that counts."

The victory was Oakland's second straight over Seattle to begin the season after the A's went 0-5 at the start of 1987. The Mariners have scored only a single run, on a first-inning walk by Dave Stewart in the opener, and mustered 11 hits for the two games.

Oakland Manager Tony La Russa expects even greater things from Welch, who also started fast last season, winning eight of his first 10 decisions en route to a 15-9 record in his 10th season with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"He made a lot of good pitches, especially with men on base, and threw a lot of good breaking balls," said La Russa, who said Welch was not as fast as he can be. "But I'm sure we'll see him out there when he's sharper. He was rushing at times."

Until the A's broke the game open with four runs in the eighth on Jose Canseco's two-run double, a run-scoring walk by Mike Jackson and Stan Javier's sacrifice fly, Welch was locked in a pitching duel with Seattle starter Mike Moore.

Moore, a 19-game loser last year, allowed only three hits over the first seven innings and retired 14 consecutive batters. But the A's bunched

NEW YORK (AP) — Movie star Kevin Bacon plans to marry blue-blooded actress Kyra Minter Sedgwick in September, says a spokesman for the actor.

Publicist Allen Eichhorn made the announcement Monday.

Miss Sedgwick has been rehearsing with Jason Robards and Colleen Dewhurst in a production of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness!" opening today in New Haven, Conn.

Bacon's screen credits include "Footloose," "Quicksilver" and the recent films "She's Having a Baby" and "End of the Line." He has also appeared on stage and television.

Miss Sedgwick is the daughter of Patricia Heller of New York, an educational and family therapist, and Henry D. Sedgwick of New York and Stockbridge, Mass., a venture capitalist. Her great-grandfather, Endicott Peabody, founded the Groton School.

Bacon's father, Edmund, is former director of the Philadelphia City Planning Commission. His mother, Ruth, teaches preschool children.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It's taken most of her 68 years, but entertainer-businesswoman Eva Gabor says she has finally learned to live alone without fretting.

"The last five years is the first time I'm not married in my life, and I've found my center — a sense of self-responsibility," said Gabor, who is promoting her upcoming autobiography, to be published by Little-Brown.

Gabor, the younger sister of actress Zsa Zsa Gabor and the former co-star of the television series "Green Acres," has been married five times.

"I enjoy, really enjoy, living alone, which is strange for a lady who was the clinging vine of all times," she said recently.

Besides running her 16-year-old, international wig business and tending her garden at home in Los Angeles, Gabor works for AIDS patients and cancer victims.

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — The organizer of an auction for a local ballet school says she's been overwhelmed by donations from more than 100 stars, including a pair of red dancing shoes from Liza Minnelli and a compact mirror from Ginger Rogers.

"Things are still coming in," Ellen Ricciardi, director of the auction to benefit the Central Wisconsin School of Ballet, said Monday. "I have been totally surprised ... It's neat for little Wausau to get items like that."

Proceeds from the auction scheduled April 23 will help pay for educational programs and performances, Mrs. Ricciardi told The Wausau Daily Herald. Between 100 and 200 students from preschool through high school attend the school in this central Wisconsin city, she said.

She said other items include a signed copy of a "M-A-S-H" television script from star Alan Alda and a pewter mug from actor Paul Newman.

— By The Associated Press
Jessica McClure, the 2-year-old rescued last October after spending 58 hours in an abandoned well, and Olympic gold medalist Bonnie Blair were among the newer celebrities who threw out the first pitches of the baseball season.

In Arlington, Texas, Jessica bounced a one-hopper into the mitt of Texas catcher Geno Petralli from a distance of 3 feet before the Rangers' Monday night home game against Cleveland.

To prove it was no accident, she did it twice to the roars and applause of the Arlington Stadium crowd, who saw the Rangers defeat Cleveland 4-3.

The chameleon's tongue is as long as its body.

ASK DR. LAMB

Continuous Medication BY LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I had a heart attack (myocardial infarction) 18 years ago. When I was released from the hospital I was taking several medications. After about five years, I was taken off all medication except Inderal and Lanoxin. I was told by the doctor that I must take them the rest of my life.

Each year, I have a complete physical checkup. My blood pressure is always normal and the doctor says no one can tell that I have even had a heart attack. I would like to know if it is necessary to take these medicines continuously and what the side effects could be from taking them. I am 71.

DEAR READER: You are living proof of how well many people can do after having had a myocardial infarction. That should be encouraging to a lot of people.

If your doctor has prescribed Lanoxin (which is a digitalis preparation) for you, he thinks you have congestive heart failure. That happens when the heart muscle is not able to contract with enough force to maintain good circulation. It is often a complication of having had a myocardial infarction, because so much heart muscle is destroyed that the remaining muscle is not strong enough to do the job.

It is true that digitalis can cause many side effects. So can many medicines. But it is also true that digitalis can be lifesaving and can significantly improve a person's physical capacity. You should ask what the complications would be if you stopped the medicine. If you really did lose enough heart muscle to cause congestive heart failure, you might have serious shortness of breath with a buildup of fluid in your lungs.

I have discussed this and other symptoms of congestive heart failure in Special Report 64, Congestive Heart Failure, and am sending you a copy. Others who want this report can send $1 with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/64, P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713. I cannot recommend that you decrease or stop your medicines without your doctor's approval. If he thinks you can get along without them, he may wish to try it while he has you under observation, in case you should need to be put back on the medicine to control congestive heart failure.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have too many white cells or platelets (540) according to my last blood test. What do white cells do for my body? Is it dangerous to have too many of these? How do I get rid of them and get back to normal amounts? I have been a very heavy smoker for the past 60 years, would love to quit but lack the willpower. I'm 74 and can't seem to find anything regarding white cells.

DEAR READER: Platelets are small cells that are essential to blood clotting. They come from the bone marrow. If you mean your test showed 540,000 platelets per milliliter, that is high. The normal range is usually less than 350,000. The white blood cells in the circulating blood are involved in controlling infection. They may become elevated if you have an infection or when the bone marrow becomes overactive for several different reasons.

The first step is to have the blood test repeated to be sure this isn't just a laboratory error or a transient condition. If one or both remain high, it would be wise to have additional tests, perhaps even a bone marrow study.

If your platelet count is high and persists, I would be concerned about a possible complication from your cigarette smoking.

DEAR DR. LAMB I would like some information about men going through the change of life. It seems to be a very closed subject. I have a husband who is giving me a time. He has changed in the way he acts and talks. So I think he is going through a change. What are the signs, and how can I cope with this?

DEAR READER: Strictly speaking, men do not have a menopause. Their endocrine system is quite different from that of women. While a woman has a sharp decline in sex hormones, usually in the 40s, associated with ovarian failure, men do not have a comparable decline in male sex hormones. The testicles don't normally fail at that age unless alcohol or disease enters the picture. After age 50, there is a very gradual decrease in testosterone levels.

Everyone does change through the years. Then some men have a depression, which often seems to occur in mid-life. So do women. So the mistake is confusing hormones with personality and mental changes. If your husband has signs of depression, he should seek professional counseling.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

Scrumptious Cheesecake

Cheesecakes have been a popular dessert for centuries, with almost every country offering its special recipe. Chocolate Marbled Cheesecake is an updated version, easy to prepare, but spectacular to see and taste.

Rich cheesecakes foremost dessert

Cheesecake is so well established as a favorite dessert that you might think it's an American invention. In fact, though, history tells us that cheese was popular in cake-making as far back as the first centuries, long before butter came into use and well before the Middle Ages.

Cheesecakes were made in ancient Greece and Rome. There were so many versions of cheesecake on the Greek island of Samos that it became known as "the Cheesecake Island." Today cheesecake recipes are plentiful and representative of almost every cuisine in the world. The Germans, Austrians and French each has their own variations, and many American favorites are based on these recipes. In Russia, cheesecakes became an Easter tradition of the Orthodox Church. By the time "The Art of Cookery Made Plain and Easy" (by Hannah Glasse) was published in England in 1747, its cheesecake repertoire boasted a variety of flavors including saffron and lemon.

Today, as in earlier times, the cheese used in making cheesecakes varies. It is an important factor in the resulting texture and flavor of the cake. Most frequently used cheeses today are cream, farmer's, pot and cottage cheese which yield cakes that vary from light and airy, to dry or creamy, to rich and dense.

For the busy cook who wants an elegant cheesecake for dessert but doesn't have time to bake, try Chocolate Marbled Cheesecake. The crust is a simple mixture of melted butter and chocolate cookie crumbs which complements both the flavor and texture of the filling.

The filling is made with cottage cheese which has been beaten until light and creamy. Whipped cream, teamed with gelatin and eggs, adds volume and a smooth, silky texture to the cottage cheese. Creating the marbled effect is simple. Just melt chocolate in cream to give it the proper consistency for swirling, then layer it with the cottage cheese base in the prepared crust and swirl with a spoon.

CHOCOLATE MARBLED CHEESECAKE

Crust:
2 cups chocolate cookie wafer crumbs
½ cup confectioners sugar
½ cup (1 stick) butter, melted
Filling:
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ cup all-purpose flour
¾ cup granulated sugar, divided
1½ cups milk
4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 cup whipping cream
2 cups cottage cheese
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

½ teaspoon almond extract
4 egg whites

For crust, combine crumbs and sugar; stir in butter. Press mixture firmly and evenly against the bottom and halfway up the sides of a 9-inch springform pan. Chill.

For filling, sprinkle gelatin over water to soften. Combine flour and ¼ cup sugar. Stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add small amount of hot mixture to egg yolks; return all to saucepan. Cook 1 additional minute.

Add softened gelatin; stir until dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Melt chocolate pieces with ½ cup whipping cream over low heat, stirring constantly, until chocolate is melted. (Refrigerate remaining cream until used.) Remove from heat; cool to lukewarm.

Beat cottage cheese 5 minutes on highest speed of mixer. Blend in vanilla and almond extracts and gelatin mixture. Beat egg whites until foamy; continue beating and gradually add remaining ½ cup sugar. Beat until stiff peaks form. Fold beaten egg whites into gelatin mixture. Whip remaining two-thirds cup cream in a chilled bowl with chilled beaters until stiff peaks form; fold into gelatin mixture.

Spoon about one-third of filling into crust; drizzle thin stream of chocolate over filling; swirl with spoon in marble pattern. Repeat until filling and chocolate are used. Chill several hours or overnight. To serve, place cake on serving plate; carefully remove sides of pan. Serving size: One sixteenth of recipe. Calories per serving: 328

While the American tire industry has no minimum requirements to qualify tires as safe at various speeds, tire makers have generally adopted European guidelines. Tires rated "S" are considered safe up to 112 mph; "T" to 118; "H" to 131; "V" to 148, and "Z" at more than 148. While tire makers don't recommend driving at those speeds, overall tire performance generally improves with higher speed ratings, explains Armstrong Tire Co. This includes handling, cornering and resistance to heat buildup.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you handle one more letter about the man who couldn't talk about anything but World War II? This one will be a little different.

My husband can't talk about anything but that war either, in fact, he hasn't been off the subject for several years. The dear man has Alzheimer's disease.

Tell "Incredulous in Idaho" that she has no idea what it is to live like this. My friends have given up on us and the relatives say they can't stand to be around him, so we go it alone. This wonderful, beautifully educated, sweet husband of mine has been written off as if he had died.

I am so grateful to the strangers in places like McDonald's and Wendy's. They talk to him and listen to him ramble on, making no sense. These kind people make life bearable. God bless them. Please sign my letter—Heartache in Jacksonville

DEAR JACKSONVILLE: Thank you for letting us know what it's like to live with a person who is afflicted with an illness that kills twice, first the mind, then the body.

I have received many letters from readers who say they can't stand to be around that wonderful person who is "so different" now. Don't they realize that you must be around constantly, and it is a heartbreaking, soul-searing responsibility?

I beg people to show compassion for the afflicted and their families. Take an hour out of your busy (or not-so-busy) life and go visit a person whose mind is gone. You will come away feeling thankful for your blessings, and you will feel good about having done a generous thing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I couldn't resist writing after reading that letter from the parents who were upset because their daughter wanted to shave her head. With us, it was our 19-year-old son, a student at the University of New Hampshire.

We were chatting on the phone and at the end of the conversation, he said, "Mom, I'm going to shave my head." I was shocked and asked him why he would want to do such a thing. (He has wonderful thick, blond, curly hair.) His answer was that he wouldn't have to bother brushing it and he'd save money on shampoo. It did not make much sense to me.

Two weeks later I went to get the mail and there was a letter from my son. I was surprised that he would write because we talk on the phone often and he almost never takes pen in hand. When I opened the envelope, there was nothing in it except one beautiful blond curl.

A week later, I went to pick him up at the bus station and didn't recognize him. There was this tall male waving madly and yelling, "Mom, Mom, it's me." The only comment I made when we got into the car was, "You should have brought along a mutual friend to introduce us."

He kept his head shaved for a few months and has now gone to the other extreme. His curly, blond hair is almost down to his shoulders. Again,

I'm saying nothing. Get the picture?—A Mom in Ogunquit, Me.

DEAR MOM: I certainly do. You're a smart mom. When kids do funny stuff with their hair, silence is the best response. They'll conform when they're ready and the less said about it the better.

How much do you know about pot, cocaine, LSD, PCP, crack, speed and downers? Think you can handle them? For up-to-the-minute information on drugs, write for Ann Landers' newly revised booklet, "The Lowdown on Dope." Send $3 plus a self-addressed, stamped No. 10 envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.
