EDSC reviews survey questions

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

The Economic Development Strategy Council did some fine-tuning Thursday on the questionnaire to be used to determine what county citizens think Hereford and Deaf Smith County should aim for in the next 12 years.

Meeting at the Deaf Smith County Library in Hereford, the group reviewed a draft prepared by Dr. Steve Murdock of Texas A&M University. The 45-item questionnaire will be used during a telephone survey that will begin here Tuesday.

"We are working backward from an April 25 deadline, so we took guidance from other economic development surveys and tried to tailor these to the specific concerns and issues of importance here," Murdock said.

The survey will ask respondents to rank-order some items while making specific choices and comments on others; find out what a scientific sample of local citizens desire in community development; identify specific strengths and weaknesses; and provide specific demographic information.

Using a computer-generated random list, Texas A&M students will probably call about 300 county residents in order to obtain 200 completed surveys. Murdock said at a March 7 meeting that only 100 completed surveys would be needed to provide a satisfactory sample, but 200 completed surveys would reinforce those results. The complete survey process will last about 25 minutes. Murdock also urged that if surveyors call at "bad" times, that would-be respondents suggest a better time for completing the process.

Murdock added that about 40 percent of the surveyors would be bilingual, and that a Spanish-language questionnaire is also being prepared.

While much of the survey deals specifically with economic development, some of it could help determine the feasibility of the proposed Hereford Learning Center, and areas the Center should concentrate its efforts.

Phillip Niedzielski-Eichner, executive director of the EDSC, said the specific interest group meetings that also help build a community consensus of goals and strategies for the future "have been productive from the interest shown and their actions."

The revised schedule for strategy meetings for interest groups includes: consumers-customers, Monday, 7 p.m.; retail merchants, Tuesday, 7 a.m.; financial-commercial, Wednesday, 9 a.m.; agri-producers and growers, Wednesday, 7 p.m.; high school students, Thursday, 8 a.m.; agribusiness, April 6, 8 a.m.; and Hispanics, April 6, 7 p.m.

Realtors will hold their goals session Monday at 8 a.m., then discuss strategies to achieve those goals on April 4 at 8 a.m.

Chamber hears reports, makes plans

Committee progress reports and discussion on industrial development activities highlighted the monthly directors meeting of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon, according to President Larry Malamen.

Directors were presented an update on the industrial development committee's study on the possibility of locating a research facility here on food processing. Malamen gave the report in the absence of committee chairman Ken Rogers.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, also reported that the chamber was working with several prospects who are interested in locating businesses in the old Swift plant west of town. He added the chamber was not in a position to announce the possibilities as yet.

Carr also gave an update on the Valley View project. The Southern Electric International corporation from Atlanta, Ga., has been named contractor and managing partner for the electric generating plant, which will use manure to fire boilers. Officials have stated that construction will begin about April 5 or no later than May 1.

The chamber's sports committee conducted the annual "Super Sports Weekend" last week with some 2,000 athletes participating in track, tennis and golf tournaments, reported Carr. Directors commended chairman James Self and the HHS coaching staff for their work in the project. About 75 volunteers helped with the sports program.

Carr reported that the C of C membership drive is continuing after 28 new members were signed up in February. The goal is to gain 100 new members during the year. A "Business After Hours" reception was postponed last Thursday because of the weather. A new date has not been arranged yet.

Sue Malamen, president of the Women's Division, announced plans for a quarterly meeting April 7 at 7 p.m. at Hereford State Bank. Other projects underway for the division are the annual Pet Show, April 16; the Little Miss Hereford Pageant, April 23; and the Miss Hereford Pageant, April 30.

Carr distributed copies of the finalized 1988 Program of Work to directors. He also presented directors an invitation to Panhandle Milling Company's open house on March 31. Directors are making plans to attend. The board also discussed organization of a Human Relations committee for the chamber.

Directors attending were Malamen, Rocky Lee, Carol Sue LeGate, Mike Bowles, Ike Stevens, Berta Ottesen, David Emerick, Doug Josseland, Lajean Henry, Sue Malamen and Temple Abney. Absent were Fred Rivera, B.J. Gilliland and Allen Parsons.

TRLA to 'aggressively enforce' law

Texas Rural Legal Aid has promised to "aggressively enforce" a new state law that increases the minimum wage for farmworkers from $1.40 an hour to $3.35 an hour.

The Texas Legislature passed the law in 1987.

"Although there are a few technical exceptions, all farmworkers in Texas should have been paid $3.35 an hour since Sept. 1, 1987," said Rudy Mares, a TRLA staff attorney. "This six-month-old law now closes most of the loopholes that small farmers used to avoid paying $3.35 an hour under the federal minimum wage (law).

"Our office intends to aggressively enforce this law in the area. Farmworkers who are paid less than $3.35 an hour should contact their own attorney or call us."

The law was passed last year by the Texas legislature to bring wages up to the $3.35-an-hour level. However, the law has no provisions to tie the wage to federal minimum wage laws in the future.

Gephardt seeking miracle

By LAURA KING
Associated Press Writer

Vice President George Bush lashed out at Jesse Jackson for criticizing him on civil rights, accusing the Democratic contender of "talking when he should have been listening." Democrat Richard Gephardt, meanwhile, clung to a candidacy he said could be saved by a "Michigan miracle."

All five Democratic presidential candidates were in Michigan today, scouring the state for votes on the eve of Saturday's caucuses, with 138 delegates at stake.

Gephardt aides said Thursday that without a win this weekend, the Missouri congressman would end his presidential bid and run for reelection to his House seat. The filing deadline for the House seat is Tuesday.

Bush campaigned in Connecticut, where he was expected to cruise to an easy win in Tuesday's primary.

Bush has been under fire in recent days for supporting President Reagan's veto of a sweeping civil rights bill. Congress overrode the veto this week.

The vice president said he favored the basic premise of the bill, but didn't want to go against the president on the matter. Besides, he said, the legislation was flawed. Jackson has scoffed at that, saying Bush lacks leadership.

"Perhaps Rev. Jackson was talking when he should have been listening," Bush retorted Thursday. "If he's the nominee, we'll have a chance to discuss civil rights records and I'll lay my record on the ground with anybody."

Bush suggested Jackson's Democratic rivals were too timid about criticizing him. "It's not that I'm afraid to do what some Democrats are afraid to do — go after him," he said.

For the second time this week, a poll suggested Bush would have a tough fight on his hands if he were running against Democrat Michael Dukakis. A CBS-New York Times poll indicated 46 percent of all registered voters polled favored Bush and 45 percent backed Dukakis. The margin of error was plus or minus 3 percentage points.

A survey by ABC News and The Washington Post also put the two neck and neck, with Dukakis polling the best among Bush among the Democrats.

Dukakis had a round of appearances today in Michigan. On Thursday, he was replenishing an already impressive campaign treasury with fundraisers in California.

In Los Angeles, the Massachusetts governor fielded questions in English and Spanish. Asked whether he would consider a Hispanic running mate, he answered "Vamos a ver" — we'll see.

Fewer persons died on Texas streets and highways in traffic accidents during 1987 than in any other year since 1976, according to a report from the Department of Public Safety.

According to the report, the Texas traffic-death total for 1987 was 3,261—a decrease of 8.6 percent from the 3,568 deaths recorded in the state during 1986.

"Another way of measuring traffic safety is to calculate the number of deaths for each 100 million miles traveled. Although the miles driven increased slightly last year, the rate dropped to 2.2 deaths per 100 million miles traveled—the lowest mileage death rate in Texas history."

DPS Director Col. Leo Gosset attributed the decline in highway deaths to stricter enforcement of DWI, speed and safety belt laws. He could have mentioned, but didn't, that the decrease came in the year in which the speed limit was raised to 65 mph on some sections of interstate highway.

The statistics ought to be reason enough to convince those legislators from the northeast that 65 mph should be the speed limit on all Texas highways and 70 mph on the interstates.

A little common sense is required when viewing the difference between the wide open spaces in Texas as compared to the clogged, short-haul arteries of the northeast. It makes no sense to have a 55 mph limit between here and Canyon, then have a short stretch of 65 mph before nearing Amarillo. The 55 limit for everyone was a bad law that should never have been passed.

Shultz says vote for Contra military aid may be in the works

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz is raising the possibility that the administration will seek legislative authority for a quick vote on military aid to the Nicaraguan rebels if the cease-fire there breaks down.

Shultz said Thursday night that the prospect of additional military assistance to the rebels would be added insurance that Nicaragua's leftist government will abide by promises it makes under its cease-fire agreement with the Contra rebels.

But House Speaker Jim Wright, D-Tex., indicated that he would oppose any effort by the administration to have an "expedited procedures" provision for military aid included in a Contra humanitarian assistance package the Congress will take up next week.

"I want to emphasize positive things, and not anticipate failure," said Wright, who was interviewed with Shultz on PBS' MacNeil-Lehrer "NewsHour."

The reaction of both the administration and the Congress was generally positive to the agreement reached by the Sandinistas and the Contras, which calls for a 60-day cease fire during which talks on a final settlement will take place.

There is agreement among the administration and the lawmakers that the United States should provide humanitarian aid to the Contras — permitted under the agreement — but the comments of Shultz and Wright indicate the military aid issues are not dead.

"I do think there is great merit ... to have in it (the humanitarian aid package) a mechanism for a fast track vote," Shultz said. He said there should be a guaranteed early vote on "whatever the president might ask for."

Wright said such a provision in the humanitarian aid package is tantamount to having a discussion of terms for divorce during a wedding ceremony.

"I think it's inappropriate at this time to be anticipating failure," he added.

Sen. John McCain, R-Ariz., a longtime Contra aid supporter, said he thought that any differences over an expedited procedure provision could be ironed out.

The agreement "reduces the requirement, in our view, for lethal aid," McCain said, adding that he believes real compromise is now possible with Wright on that issue. "Our differences of opinion are not major," he said.

Rep. David Bonior, D-Mich., a critic of administration policy, said he hopes the agreement will encourage the administration to turn its attention away from "a military

Arab states may be caught up in Palestinian fighting, says Sharon

JERUSALEM (AP) — Trade Minister Ariel Sharon warned that Palestinian violence could lead to war with neighboring Arab states, in which case Israel might expel Palestinians from its occupied lands and from Israel itself.

He made the comment Thursday, when Israeli security forces shot and killed another two Palestinians and seven were reported wounded in clashes throughout the occupied West Bank.

Israeli troops also rounded up hundreds of Arabs in an attempt to silence the leaders of the four-month uprising, Arab sources said.

In Lebanon, Israeli warplanes divebombed Palestinian guerrilla bases on the outskirts of Sidon for almost an hour, the second air raid in two days. Israel radio quoted Lebanese sources as saying 30 people were killed in the attack.

Also Thursday, The Labor Party re-elected Foreign Minister Shimon Peres as its leader and candidate for the premiership. He said he would appeal to the nation to support the U.S.-initiated peace process — in essence an exchange of land for peace with the Arabs.

In the Balata refugee camp near Nablus, border policemen opened fire on demonstrators throwing rocks, concrete blocks and iron bars at them. Two protesters were killed, the army and the Israeli news agency Itim reported.

approach, and will begin to work in the context of this agreement for a lasting peace in Nicaragua."

Senate Majority Whip Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said: "The U.S. government now has a profound responsibility not to do anything except what is in strict conformity with the precise terms of the cease-fire, neither more nor less. We must not tinker with what the Nicaraguans themselves have agreed to."

Shultz said he welcomes the agreement but that the Sandinistas have a "history of broken promises."

A Palestinian was shot in the leg and three border policemen were injured by rocks in the clash, Itim reported.

Thursday's fatalities raised the Palestinian death toll to 109 by U.N. count since violence broke out in the occupied territories Dec. 8. One Israeli soldier has been killed.

Sharon told journalists in Tel Aviv that, by failing to halt the disturbances at their onset, Israel had lost its deterrent capability. As a result, he said, Arab states could launch a surprise attack against Israel.

The hawkish former general, a leader of the right-wing Likud Bloc, hinted that in such a war, Israel might expel Palestinians and Israeli Arabs.

Sharon referred to Israel's first prime minister, David Ben Gurion, saying Ben Gurion refused to allow Arabs who fled the country during the 1948 Middle East war to return to their homes.

Midland toddler's rescuers can't agree on story line for proposed TV movie

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — A volunteer involved in the dramatic rescue of Jessica McClure says in-fighting between rescuers over a planned TV movie may be an indication a re-telling won't do justice to the heroic exploits.

Rescuers were tightly knit together during the 58-hour ordeal last autumn that captured the nation's attention when the rescue of the 23-month-old girl was broadcast live on network television.

But now the unity has unraveled with two groups sparring while they wait for the girl's parents to decide who should produce the movie, a producer working with a group of rescue volunteers or one recommended by 11 city employees involved in the rescue.

Volunteer Bruce Peeler has decided to remain neutral on the issue, but he says he sometimes doubts whether the story could be told right, even if all the rescuers have a voice in its production.

"I am wondering if a unified group got together and there was no problem joining the association, if a really true, accurate picture of what took place could ever be put on the screen," he said. "It was a special event. There was so much effort, and everyone had their own story. Maybe it should be kept special like that."

Peeler, president of Midland's Air-master Equipment Corp., which contributed some drilling materials to the rescue effort, said Thursday he worries the 11-member municipal association will exclude civilians and volunteers when negotiating a movie deal.

"My problem is that there are several hundred people out there and it is not right that maybe the lady that brought us hamburgers at 3 in the morning, or the guy who brought the sanitary privies, how do you say they should not be in the movie?"

Peeler said he and other neutral participants have been trying to bring the two groups together without success.

"I have taken a stand that if a movie is made, let's make sure that everyone gets involved who was in the deal," Peeler said.

Jessica's parents, Chip and Cissy McClure have said they don't want to profit by their daughter's story, but do not want to stand in the way of the story being told. McClure spokesman Pete Snelson did not return phone calls Thursday by The Associated Press.

Los Angeles producer Larry Spivey, president of Highland Communications Group Inc., organized the 11-member McClure Rescue Association to consult on a TV movie deal. The group, which includes O'Donnell, Police Chief Richard Czech and Fire Chief James Roberts, broke with Spivey later.

"We found that he was going around to individual members of our association offering each member side deals that the others didn't know about," said Martin Allday, a Midland lawyer representing the rescue association.

Spivey has scoffed at the allegation and said everyone was offered the same deal, a chance to consult in the production or to act in it.

Spivey is now allied with the Jessica McClure Rescuer's Association, a group of about 30 volunteer rescuers.

The rescuer association's president, Kragg Robinson, said 33 members have signed the contract that includes an initial $200,000, plus future payments, to be divided among the membership. Other sums, depending upon the movie's profitability, would be given to charities. Allday remains skeptical.

"My advice to anyone is if they have not signed with the producer to do so until the McClures say who they want the movie to be made by," he said.

Horseracing tracks may be cheap to open

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Horse Racing Association says a study of how to implement pari-mutuel horseracing in Texas could lower the cost of opening tracks in the state.

But representatives of two other racing-related groups said they did not think the study was needed.

The horse racing association will use the study, to be done by a major consulting firm, to recommend to the state racing commission when, where and how to implement tracks in Texas.

But Al Poulj of Houston, president of the Texas Horseman's Association, said racing commission members are experienced people who "don't need anybody telling them where to put a track."

Poulj's organization worked with the THRA to get Houston-area pro-racing voters to the polls last November.

The study would "give us an analysis of the total racing program — where the first major tracks should be built, how large they should be and how many racing days should be scheduled for quarter horses and thoroughbreds," said former Dallas Mayor Robert Folsom, member of the THRA governing committee.

Consultants also could study the possibility of forming a non-profit organization to run all Class 1 tracks, or all those catering to thoroughbreds, said Preston Carter of Dallas, association president.

"Any attempt by individuals to say they should limit competition for tracks is merely an attempt to gain an exclusive right and monopoly which would restrict others from applying," said Tom Russell, a former president of the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association, who wants to build a Dallas-area track.

The state's pari-mutuel law allows a maximum of four Class 1 tracks, which would be located in major population areas and could have longer racing seasons than other facilities.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was a compulsive liar who started young. Although my parents did all they could to stop it, I kept lying. My problem was trying to impress people. My life never seemed glamorous enough. Here is a short history of what happens to a liar.

I went through school lying to my friends, trying to look like a big shot. When I got out of high school, I had no friends, so I started to look for new ones. By then lying was a way of life.

In order to support the lies I needed more money than I had so I wrote checks I couldn't cover. I also impersonated a naval officer and later a successful businessman.

My wife found out that I had totally misrepresented myself and invented friends and businesses I never had. She left me. The same thing happened with my second wife. I decided I had to change. Shortly after I married my third wife, I went to prison for bad checks. She divorced me while I was in prison.

This advice is for the kid who lies. Please think about the future. A lie not only hurts you, but it poisons all your relationships.

I'll get out of prison some day, and when I do I vow to tell the truth. I will probably still be called a liar, but after a while people will find out that they can trust me. I'm now 26 years old, and by the time I'm 50, I will have built a good reputation. A kind teacher once told me (when I was getting into so much trouble) that a person's word is worth more than gold. It's too bad that it took me so long to wake up to that fact.

If you are a liar, stop while you still have friends. I hope my letter will help somebody who is where I was about 15 years ago.—Steve M. in Oregon, Wis.

DEAR STEVE: You've written a very persuasive letter. I'm sure many readers out there who play fast and loose with the truth will give serious thought to what you have written. Thanks for sharing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For several years I made pastries, wedding cakes and fancy candies in my own kitchen. People were always asking me for my recipes. Because I didn't have the nerve to say no, I gave them freely.

Now I make only mints for weddings. They are very unusual and people, like before, ask me for the recipe. I worked hard to perfect it, experimented for several years, and I don't want to give it to anyone.

I am almost certain that I read a letter in your column quite a while ago from a woman who asked the baker in a restaurant for a bun recipe. She received the recipe in the mail and along with it was a bill. The woman then called her lawyer and asked if she had to pay the bill. He told her that she did.

I don't want to charge anyone for anything. I just don't want to give my candy recipe to anyone. Please tell me; Am I being selfish? Will I make enemies? How can I refuse graciously?—Wichita, Kan.

DEAR KAN.: You are under no obligation to give your candy recipe to anyone. Simply say it took you a long time to perfect it and you want to keep it your very own specialty. No reasonable person will hold this against you.

In advancing in NCAA Tournament

Sooners boomed, Owls played sweet music

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

As usual, the Sooners boomed and the Owls played some sweet night music.

Oklahoma, which soars past the 100-point mark as if it was playing in the NBA, ripped off 108 points Thursday night in beating Louisville 108-98. That was the fourth-ranked Sooners' 20th game over the century mark and put them in the Southeast Regional final on Saturday against Villanova, which upset No. 6 Kentucky 80-74.

Top-ranked Temple, a team as stingy as Oklahoma is prolific, snapped Richmond's upset run with a 69-47 victory in the East Regional at East Rutherford, N.J. The Owls' 18th consecutive victory sent them into the final eight against No. 5 Duke, which edged Rhode Island 73-72.

Tonight's games feature Vanderbilt vs. Kansas and No. 3 Purdue vs. No. 20 Kansas State in the Midwest at Pontiac, Mich.; and No. 7 North Carolina vs. No. 10 Michigan and No. 2 Arizona vs. No. 17 Iowa in the West at Seattle.

SOUTHEAST

At Birmingham, Ala., Oklahoma's offensive onslaught was too much for Louisville, the 1986 NCAA champs who had won their last eight NCAA contests.

Harvey Grant scored 34 points and Stacey King added 24 for Oklahoma's inside game. Outside, the Sooners, 33-3, put in 10 of 19 3-point shots, with Mookie Blaylock, Ricky Grace and Dave Steiger hitting three each.

Grant hit his first six shots of the second half, including the team's first four baskets for a 64-53 lead with 17:22 to play. Louisville closed within two points, then Oklahoma pulled away again for its seventh straight victory and 19th in 20 games.

"We couldn't stop them with our hands in their face," Louisville Coach Denny Crum said. "We hoped they would miss some of them. Oklahoma has a lot of different ways to beat you ... When you pressure their outside players, they are tough on the inside."

Pervis Ellison, playing on a losing team in the NCAA tournament for the first time, led the Cardinals with 23 points.

Villanova, 24-12, made few mistakes in winning the war of Wildcats. The 1985 NCAA champions, who followed virtually the same path then as they are on this season, made all 17 free throws and 57 percent from the field.

Villanova broke from a 29-29 tie to a 43-32 halftime lead and SEC champion Kentucky never caught up.

Mark West led the Big East team with 24 points.

Rex Chapman had 30 points, including five 3-point baskets, for Kentucky, 27-6.

EAST

Temple, 32-1, took the lead for good with less than three minutes gone. Ahead only 39-34 with 16:25 left, the Owls then pulled away as their zone defense clamped down on the Spiders.

"I don't see a weakness on that team," Richmond Coach Dick Tarrant said. In the second half, Temple shot 60.9 percent from the field and Richmond 30.8.

Yet, the Owls weren't totally satisfied.

"We were impatient," said Temple guard Howard Evans, who had 11 points and 11 assists. "In the first half, we were rushing it, trying to blow out Richmond in the first five minutes. You just can't do that. In the second half, we regrouped and did the things we needed to do."

One of those was stop guard Tom Garrick, who averaged 30 points in Rhode Island's five previous postseason games, which included a 68-63 loss to Temple in the Atlantic 10 tournament final.

Rhode Island gave Duke all it could handle. But the Rams couldn't handle Danny Ferry, who had 17 points and 12 rebounds, and Kevin Strickland, who sparked a 22-10 second-half burst with 12 of his 14 points.

The second half was different, although Rhode Island made it tough for the Blue Devils, 27-6. The Rams, who upset Missouri and Syracuse in the sub-regional, were led by Carlton Owens with 19 points.

Pitched three-hitter

Whiteface junior varsity defeats Canyon, 11-1

A three-hitter by pitcher Russell Backus, coupled with a good defensive game, helped boost the Hereford High School junior varsity baseball team to an 11-1 victory over Canyon Thursday in Hereford.

The win improved Hereford's record to 2-3. Hereford plays at doubleheader at Pampa on Saturday, starting at 1 p.m., and will play at home Monday against Dumas at 4:30 p.m.

"We played hard, we competed, we hustled. We made only two errors — that was a key," Hereford Coach Bill Bridge said.

Backus recorded nine strikeouts and walked only two batters in the game that ended after six innings because of the 10-run rule. Canyon's lone run, in the second inning, was unearned off Backus.

Doubles by Jim Eric Andrews and Joe Lopez in the first inning, plus two Canyon errors, enables Hereford to score three runs.

In the third inning, J.T. Heaton singled and later scored on Todd Collier's RBI groundout. Jared Victor walked, stole second, went to third on one error, and scored on another error, making Hereford's lead 5-1.

Lopez opened the fourth inning with a single. Three HHS batters walked, including Collier with the bases loaded. Another run was scored on an error for a 7-1 lead.

Backus and Nate Smith each hit RBI singles in the fifth inning, and Hereford added a run on a wild pitch for a 10-1 lead, in the fifth inning. Runners were left stranded at second and third base in that inning.

Backus drove home the game-ending run in the sixth inning with a single. Shawn Sciumbato, who had walked, reached second base on an error and advanced to third base on a wild pitch, scored on Backus' single.

Hereford had eight hits in the game. Canyon committed six errors.

Big East, WAC survive in NIT

By The Associated Press
The Big East and the Western Athletic Conference, two of the powerhouse leagues in college basketball, are showing why in the National Invitation Tournament.

Both conferences have two teams in the quarterfinals, which begin tonight with three games. Connecticut and Boston College are the Big East survivors, while Colorado State and New Mexico are still around from the WAC.

The other teams remaining in the tournament are Ohio State of the Big Ten, Arkansas State of the Southland, Virginia Commonwealth of the Sun Belt, and Middle Tennessee State of the Ohio Valley.

In tonight's games, Virginia Commonwealth, 23-11, is at Connecticut, 17-14; Ohio State, 18-12, visits New Mexico, 22-13, and Arkansas State, 21-13, is at Colorado State, 20-12.

On Saturday night, it will be Boston College, 17-13, at Middle Tennessee State, 23-10.

The winners advance to Tuesday night's semifinals in Madison Square Garden at New York.

VCU Coach Mike Pollio is impressed by, but not in awe of, Connecticut.

"Connecticut plays sound basketball," he said. "We were told Connecticut plays the hardest of the Big East Conference teams. We play the hardest in the Sun Belt, so it should be a good game."

"We have to shoot well, rebound well and play well. It sounds like a cliché, but that is all there is to it."

The Rams ousted defending champion Southern Mississippi in the second round after eliminating Marshall in their NIT opener. Connecticut has victories over West Virginia and Louisiana Tech.

Boston College was seventh in the Big East and lost in the first-round of the conference tournament, also at Madison Square Garden. But the Eagles have beaten Siena and Evansville in the NIT.

At Evansville, they got 32 points from sharpshooting guard Dana Barros.

Middle Tennessee has victories over a pair of tough Southeastern Conference foes, Tennessee and Georgia, both at home.

New Mexico has won 19 of 20 home games this season, including victories over then-No. 1 Arizona and Ohio State.

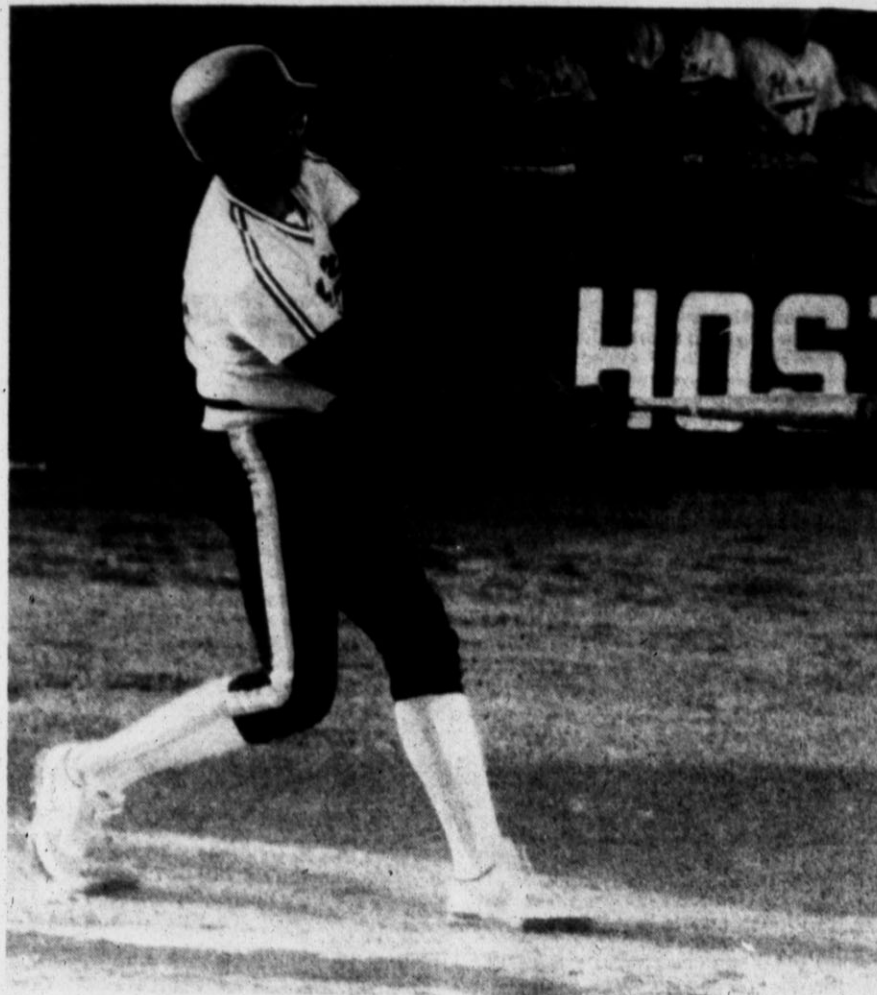

The Buckeyes, who won the 1986 NIT, since have upset four ranked teams in the Big Ten.

"I know Ohio State is a much better team now," Lobos Coach Gary Colson said. "I don't know if we're better, but if we're not, we're in big trouble."

The Lobos also will be shorthanded. Luc Longley, their 7-foot-1 freshman center who scored 12 points and had nine rebounds in an opening-round victory over Pepperdine, has returned to his native Australia. Longley will try out for the Australian Olympic team.

Arkansas State Coach Nelson Catalina is concerned with the recent history of Colorado State.

"It sort of worries you when you realize that New Orleans beat you twice and Houston beat you once and CSU beat both of them," Catalina said Thursday.

Lopez gets a hit

Joe Lopez, a member of the Hereford High School junior varsity baseball team, singles in the fourth inning. Lopez later scored on a bases-loaded walk, giving Hereford a 6-1 lead over Canyon en route to an 11-1 win. Lopez also doubled in the first inning. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

Illinois State upsets Nevada-Las Vegas

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A clutch free throw by Pam Tanner with eight seconds remaining gave the Illinois State Redbirds a 70-69 upset victory over Nevada-Las Vegas in the opening round of the women's National Invitational Tournament.

The clutch free throw gave the No. 8-seeded Redbirds a victory over top-seeded Nevada-Las Vegas.

In other games Thursday night, Purdue defeated South Alabama, 63-55, DePaul defeated Mississippi State, 73-57, and New Orleans defeated Montana State, 77-66.

Illinois State will meet Purdue in one of the semifinals tonight and DePaul faces New Orleans in the other semifinal game.

Tanner hit the first free throw attempt, breaking the 69-69 tie, but she missed the second attempt.

UNLV's DeNise Ballenger's hurried shot from 3-point range was no good.

Illinois State, 20-9, was led by Amber Lindbeck's 16 points. UNLV, 24-8, was led by Pauline Jordan's 13 points.

Christa LaCroix scored 14 points to lead Purdue to a 63-55 victory over South Alabama.

The Lady Boilermakers, 20-9, outscored South Alabama 10-0 in the last three minutes.

Purdue received a balanced scoring attack as Lisa Jahner and Sharon Versyp joined LeCroix in double figures with 12 apiece. Purdue made 16 of 20 free throws, compared to 5 of 7 for South Alabama.

Stephanie Richardson and Angela Dennis had 11 points each for the Lady Jaguars, 20-9.

Diana Vines scored 27 points and Andrea Morgan added 23 as the DePaul Lady Blue Demons defeated Mississippi State 73-57.

DePaul, 25-4, made the key run of the game in the final six minutes of the first half, outscoring Mississippi State 13-4 in the final 6:33 to take a 41-28 halftime lead.

Mississippi State, 18-12, was led by Kunshinge Sorrell-Howard with 16.

Pam Cox scored 20 points to lead New Orleans to a 77-66 win over Montana State.

New Orleans, 24-6, lead by as many as 23 points during the second half. The Buc-Kettes successfully used full court pressure most of the game, forcing 14 turnovers.

Lynne Andrew scored 19 points for Montana State, 24-4.

Reds' manager supports umpire Pam Postema

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — National League president Bart Giamatti may not have decided whether Pam Postema will become the first female umpire in major league baseball history, but she has at least one backer in Cincinnati Reds Manager Pete Rose.

"She did good," Rose said after Postema worked first base during Cincinnati's 3-1 exhibition victory Thursday over Houston at Kissimmee, Fla. Despite the endorsement and published reports, Giamatti maintained his position on Postema's status this season.

"I have consistently said we will not make an announcement about any of our people (umpires) until we reach a decision, and there is no decision yet," Giamatti said. "We are still studying 10 people and she is one of them."

USA Today quoted Giamatti in Thursday's editions as saying Postema would not be one of two umpires added to the NL's pool of vacation replacements, and the newspaper said it was standing by its story.

Church News

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"Why wait?" is the title of the Rev. Bruce Kochsmeier's sermon for the regular 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service. The scripture lesson is Philippians 2:1-11.

The Scripture For Lunch Bunch meets at noon each Wednesday. This week's study is Mark 16:1-8, Acts 10:34-43.

Maundy Thursday will be observed at 7 p.m. March 31. Everyone is encouraged to attend and child care will be provided.

Mission yearbook: Today we are asked to pray for the ministry of "One Great Hour of Sharing". The causes of poverty are complex and overwhelming. Yet, as people of faith we are empowered in God's new creation. And in this power we are called to help find the answers. Since 1949, One Great Hour of Sharing has provided a way for Christians to become partners with God's family around the world and help solve problems that only united efforts can address. TODAY, as we unite with the rparts of Christ's body to bring a practical touch of the Gospel all around the world, please pray for this vital ministry.

WESLEY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH (410 Irving)

The public is invited to all services at the church in which there is Sunday school offered for all ages beginning at 10 a.m. each Sunday. The call to worship Sunday will consist of the choir marching from the back of the church waving palm leaves and singing "Tell Me The Stories of Jesus."

The Rev. Derrel Evins will be in the pulpit Sunday bringing the stories of Jesus and his crucifixion and resurrection from the passages contained in the books of Matthew and Mark. There will be a special sermon for children through 12 years of age.

The musical special Sunday is entitled "The Holy City" and will be presented by the Wesleyan Singers. Choir practice begins at 6 p.m. Sunday. A special Good Friday evening service is set April 1 and will be presented in drama of the scriptures, songs and piano and organ selections. The theme is "The Last Supper" with Holy Communion to be observed at the end of the service.

The Wesley United Methodist Men will have a breakfast at 9 a.m. on the first Sunday of each month.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to hear the Hereford Community Easter Choir and Orchestra as they present "Joy Comes in the Morning" under the direction of Archie L. Coplen. The performances are planned for 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday in the Hereford High School auditorium. The price of admission is $3 per person; $5 per couple; and $10 per family.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Special events of Palm Sunday in First United Methodist Church will be a covered dish dinner for all families after the morning worship which begins at 10:55 a.m., then the annual Easter egg hunt for children through elementary school age.

Rev. Steve McElroy will preach at the worship service, and music appropriate to Palm Sunday will be presented by the Sanctuary Choir directed by Don Summersgill. Elaine Calkins is organist and Dee Anne Trotter pianist.

Everyone in the church and their friends are invited for the dinner, with each bringing a dish for the meal. Tom and Betty Conway, Family Life coordinators, head the committee in charge of arrangements. It will be served in Fellowship Hall.

Eggs will be hidden on the church grounds for the hunt and each child is asked to bring a basket to hold those he finds.

Next Thursday evening the annual Maundy Thursday service of Holy Communion will begin at 7 p.m. in the church sanctuary, with the public invited. This service commemorates the Last Supper of Christ and His disciples before His crucifixion on Good Friday, to be resurrected on Easter morning.

WESTWAY BAPTIST CHURCH

Jack Lee, former pastor of Westway Baptist Church, will be preaching a revival at First Baptist Church in Adrian March 27-30. Lee is currently the pastor of First Bpatis Church in Canadian.

Jim Bozeman, interim pastor at Adrian, invites the public to the services which will be held at 11:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. March 27-30.

Midland youth to benefit from local sorority chapter

Peggy Hyer's home at 239 Ironwood was the site of Tuesday's meeting of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. Co-hostess was Connie Matthews, president.

The Cody Scarborough Fund, benefitting Midland youth, was selected as the chapter's state service project for 1988-89. Girlstown had been the project selected for the 1987-88 year.

Matthews presented information on the state convention set in El Paso June 17-19. She noted that May 24 is the deadline for registration.

Election of officers was held and yielded the following selections: Peggy Hyer, president; Susan Shaw, vice-president; Gaye B. Reilly, recording secretary; Pene Coplen, corresponding secretary; and Sharon Bodner, treasurer. Serving on Beta Sigma Phi City Council will be Barbara Cochran, Marge Bell, and Deann Harris.

As for upcoming events, Matthews reminded members of the busy schedule slated for the few weeks. The silent auction salad supper will be held March 29 in the Community Center at 6:30 p.m. for all three local chapters; a regular meeting, set for April 5 at 7 p.m. is tentatively set to be held in the Reddy Room and will feature a dinner for Alpha Iota Mu members eligible for progression; rituals are set for April 21 in the Community Center; Founders Day will be April 28; and the May 3 meeting will feature the topic, "Growing Up" by the current pledges. Middleton gave the program on "Receiving Service." Thank-yous were extended to Secret Sisters by Teresa Peiffer; Bell; Susan Cardinal, Hyer, Matthews, and Ruby Sanders.

Following meeting adjournment, refreshments were served to Matthews, Hyer, Reilly, Bell, Peiffer, Linda Arellano, Holly Bixler, Cardinal, Cochran, Coplen, Harris, Middleton and Shaw.

Classic family musical to be performed in May

The Amarillo Little Theatre will be presenting Rodgers and Hammerstein's classic family musical, "Cinderella", as the final production of the 1987-88 season.

This well loved fairy tale was adapted for the stage and enhanced with musical scores such as, "The Prince Is Giving A Ball", "In My Own Little Corner", "Impossible", "Stepsiters Lament", and "Do I Love You Because You're Beautiful?"

Evening performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. on May 6, 7, 13 and 14. Two matinees will be held on Sunday, May 8, and Sunday, May 15, at 2 p.m. The Amarillo Little Theatre offers group rates and discounts for students & senior citizens.

Children (12 and under) bringing four cans of food to the two matinee performances, will be admitted for $3. All donated cans will be given to the High Plains Food Bank. The Box Office opens to the general public on April 29. For more information, call 355-9991.

Legal Notices

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR WASTE DISPOSAL PERMIT

MIKE BRADFORD, P.O. Box 129, Cactus, Texas 79013 has applied to the Texas Water Commission for a permit (Proposed Permit No. 02974) to authorize disposal of wastewater from a cattle trailer washing operation by evaporation and irrigation. Water that has been used for washing trailers will be diverted by a concrete pad directly into a holding pond. The volume of washout water is not to exceed 150,000 gallons per month. Wastewater from the holding pond that does not evaporate will be used to irrigate cropland at an application rate not to exceed 1.25 acre-feet/acre/year. No discharge of pollutants into the waters of the State is authorized by this permit. The site is approximately 5 miles southwest of the City of Hereford, near U.S. Highway 60, Deaf Smith County, Texas. The site is in the drainage area of tributaries which flow into the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River in Segment No. 0207 of the Red River Basin. The Executive Director of the Texas Water Commission has prepared a draft permit based on the application submitted by the applicant and other information presently available. Legal Authority: Section 26.028 of the Texas Water Code, as amended, and 31 TAC Chapter 305 of the Rules of the Texas Water Commission. No public hearing will be held on this application unless an affected person who has received notice of the application has requested a public hearing. Any such request for a public hearing shall be in writing and contain (1) the name, mailing address and phone number of the person making the request; and (2) a brief description of how the requester, or persons represented by the requester, would be adversely affected by the granting of the application. If the Commission determines that the request sets out an issue which is relevant to the permit decision, or that a public hearing, would serve the public interest, the Commission shall conduct a public hearing, after the issuance of proper and timely notice of the hearing. If no sufficient request for hearing is received within 30 days of the date of publication of the notice concerning the application, the permit will be submitted to the Commission for final decision on the application. Requests for a public hearing and/or requests for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing to Claire Patterson, Assistant Chief Hearings Examiner, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512)463-7905. Issued this 9th day of March, 1988.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR READERS:

Owning a pet is not like buying a fluffy little toy. Some may look like toys, but they certainly are not; there's a lot of care that goes with owning one.

If you feel you can't give a pet the best care possible, just don't get one! Many dogs and cats are dumped when they're no longer wanted, and the poor things suffer for it.

Today we are starting a series on pets. We hope to provide you with information you'll find helpful from the day you decide to own one to the day your beloved animal passes away. I want to give special thanks to Dr. Tom Vice, my wonderful veterinarian who takes care of my "menagerie" of animals. He provided me with most of the information for this and future pet columns.

Now, if you've decided to get a dog, here are a few tips to help you: Consider where you live, your lifestyle and the size of your house or apartment.

Some dogs are short-haired, some are long-haired. If you live in a hot climate, you're better off with a short-haired dog, since he/she will be more comfortable. There are breeds like huskies, sheppdogs, Afghans and others that are much more comfortable living in colder climates.

If you live in an apartment, you shouldn't select a large breed, since they require lots of space.

A toy breed should not be considered a yard dog because they require constant grooming. If you have an outgoing, forceful and dominant personality, a timid and passive dog isn't for you; they tend to be nervous. On the other hand, if you're quiet and shy, you wouldn't want a dog that would be dominating and too outgoing. You could have a problem that could be more than you can handle.

Consider children in your family. If they are under the age of 4, you may want to wait until they're older to get a puppy. Bringing a puppy home can be traumatic for both the puppy and child. You don't want the puppy to overpower the child. On the same note, you would not want the child to tease the animal. A puppy between the age of 3 and 12 weeks requires regular, non-traumatic human contact.
