

Labor Dept. promises to check I-9s

By ANDREA LAMB
Staff Writer

Darrell Krenak, a farm labor specialist with the U.S. Department of Labor, told agricultural employers Tuesday at a meeting at the Hereford Community Center that they could be fined $1,000 for not properly documenting all workers under the Migrant and Seasonal Protection Act.

In properly documenting migrant and seasonal workers, Krenak said an employer must first complete an I-9 form which verifies a worker's eligibility to work in the United States.

"We (Labor department) will probably have two officers out here during the onion transplanting season, and we'll be checking as many I-9s as we can," said Krenak.

The specialist also said he will give a three-day notice to employers before verifying workers' I-9s.

Krenak added that an employer should carefully inspect a worker's social security card for invalidity. He said if the card is metal or starts with a 9, the card is no good.

Every worker should have a social security number, said Krenak.

"We won't listen to the excuse that someone doesn't have one," said Krenak. "Everyone over five years old has a social security number. If we find that you're listing a worker's wages under his child's social security number, it's a violation."

Employers who own or control housing for migrant and seasonal workers are obligated to provide housing approved by the Texas Department of Health and the Labor department, said Krenak. "We've had reports that migrants have been living in substandard housing and we plan to check it out," said Krenak.

And in transporting the workers, Krenak said, "There will be no more throwing them in the back of a truck because there must be a seat attached to the floor of the vehicle for each passenger." In addition to this, said Krenak, the transporter must have a valid driver's license and must receive permission to transport the workers. The vehicle, too, must meet both state and federal health standards.

Krenak also stressed that verifying a farm labor contractor's registration with the Department of Labor is important.

"If we find any unregistered farm labor contractors, we'll tell them to stop work right that minute and will charge a civil monetary penalty of $1,000," said Krenak.

One may check on a farm labor contractor's registration by calling 1-800-368-1008, said Krenak.

Employers must also issue a statement each pay period for every worker, said Krenak. This statement must include the hours worked, wage earned, deductions, and the employer's social security number, name and address.

Concerning child labor, Krenak stated that children under age 16 may not work during school hours. He added that children ages 12 and 13 may work after school hours only with written permission from their parents. Children ages 14 and 15 may work after school with no such permission.

Krenak stressed that the Department of Labor was not the enforcing agency for the Migrant and Seasonal Workers Act.

"We are just the investigating force. The Immigration and Naturalization Service is the organization that dishes out the fines. We just make recommendations," said Krenak.

The meeting was sponsored by the Texas Employment Commission.

It's Hereford Junior High

School board approves consolidated junior high's name, athletic teams, and other plans for next year.

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Hereford's sole junior high will be called Hereford Junior High, and its athletic teams will be officially known as the Whitefaces as the Hereford school board adopted a plan presented by administration officials Tuesday night.

The board also honored three former students, left the scheduling of two snow makeup days to Superintendent Charles Greenawalt, and approved preliminary plans for instructors at the Stanton Training Center next school year.

Hereford will have one junior high next year, at the present LaPlata Junior High. Later this school year, students at LaPlata and Stanton will elect four cheerleaders at each school to represent the junior high next year.

The plan also calls for up to four football and basketball teams at the seventh and eighth grade levels, as well as two volleyball and track squads for each grade at the junior high.

The consolidation plan means freshmen will be attending Hereford High School next year, necessitating expansion of the HHS band hall, the need for more band uniforms, and more restroom facilities in the school. HHS is in the midst of another expansion program, with additional classrooms being built on the building's north side.

The new expansion will cost about $210,000.

"There has been a lot of work that has gone into this consolidation plan," said board member Steve Conaway, "from Mr. Greenawalt on down. This plan may not satisfy everyone, but I hope we've reached a happy medium."

Former students honored

Teresa Valdez, left, and Maria Garcia, former Hereford school students, were honored Tuesday night by the Hereford school board for their recognition as outstanding migrant students in Texas. Valdez is a student at West Texas State University. Garcia is now an elementary counselor in Hereford. Also honored, but not present, was Eloisa Cepeda, who is now a student at Texas Woman's University.

Greenawalt will be responsible for setting school on two Saturdays to make up for two school days lost to snowy weather in December.

The board had established two makeup days, at the beginning of next month's spring break. Many activities, including school-related trips to Aransas Pass and to Washington, D.C. have been scheduled for those days, as well as private family plans.

"With my luck I'll pick the best two Saturdays in the history of the Texas Panhandle," Greenawalt said.

Board member Bud Patterson was not pleased with the decision.

"We made it very explicit last year that those two days were snow days," Patterson said. "We made it as explicit as we could make it. We took a stand and we need to keep that stand."

The board also began a preliminary look at the 1988-89 school calendar. The calendar will be set at the March board meeting.

The board also gave its approval to instructors needed for the training center, and for more teachers for the dyslexia and gifted and talented programs.

The board also approved guidelines for the dyslexia program.

"I hope everyone realizes how far along this community is in this program," said board member Kathy Moore.

"With the exception of the Lubbock school district, no other district has a program like we do," Patterson said.

The board also heard a presentation on Campus Action Plans being developed at each local school, and gave a one-year extension on all administrator contracts.

Greenawalt was given a one-year extension on his contract at the January board meeting.

Three former students—Eloisa Cepeda, Teresa Valdez, and Maria Garcia, were honored by the board last night. The three had been honored in November by the Migrant Division of the Texas Education Agency for academic, social and personal excellence.

Cepeda, now a student at Texas Woman's University in Denton, graduated from HHS with a 94.4 average and was active in several HHS organizations, including the National Honor Society.

Valdez, a student at West Texas State University in Canyon, was also in NHS and graduated with a 93.95 average. She was active in band and athletics.

Garcia, an elementary counselor for the HISD, is a graduate of WTSU and, while in college, was honored as WTSU's outstanding student teacher.

Oldest alien gets green card

HARLINGEN, Texas (AP) — Now that she has a brand-new green card, 98-year-old Clara Escobedo de Martinez is ready to go on TV to urge other aliens who qualify for amnesty not to miss the chance of a lifetime.

Mrs. Escobedo, a great-grandmother and the nation's oldest applicant under the new immigration law, received the permanent resident card Tuesday, along with an application for citizenship more than six years sooner than most normally would be eligible to become a citizen.

Immigration officials speeded up the process for Mrs. Escobedo because she once had legal status, said Stephen Martin, the Immigration and Naturalization Service's regional commissioner.

"What we're doing now is we're putting things back in their proper order," Martin said.

Mrs. Escobedo, who received the green card during a ceremony that drew about 50 people, plans to make television commercials for the INS without pay because she enjoys the attention.

"I'm very content doing this," she said.

The script for one commercial shows Mrs. Escobedo, who is less than 5 feet tall, with two burly Border Patrol agents.

"Do you live in fear of the Border Patrol and the Immigration Service?" she asks in Spanish, as the agents help her into a chair. "I did... but not any more."

She continues by urging eligible aliens to apply for legalization by the May 4 deadline.

"Don't let the chance of a lifetime pass you by," she says.

Under the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, a one-year amnesty period began last May 5 for undocumented aliens able to show they had lived in the United States illegally before Jan. 1, 1982.

A study issued Tuesday in Washington urged the INS to conduct a major marketing effort to attract applicants because the amnesty program is in danger of falling below its original estimate of covering 2 million people.

Most aliens are not able to apply for citizenship until five years after obtaining permanent legal status. Permanent status also was granted to Mrs. Escobedo more than a year ahead of schedule.

"I'm very thankful for this and for all of the things the Lord has done for me without deserving them," she said in Spanish on Tuesday during a ceremony in which she was given a Valentine's Day card and a party.

She never learned how to speak English.

"I think this is great. We've been waiting for this," said great-granddaughter Rakeel Zarate, who attended the ceremony.

Mrs. Escobedo, who said her husband was killed by Pancho Villa's men in 1914 during the Mexican revolution, first came to the United States from Mexico in 1927.

She lived here legally for 35 years, beginning in 1927.

Then, in 1962, as she was returning from a visit to Mexico, immigration officials at the international bridge in the border city of Brownsville canceled her legal status, because they thought she had been living in Mexico.

They sent her back to Mexico, but she returned to stay as an illegal alien in 1979, and lives in Brownsville with her daughter and granddaughter.

"What we did was go back to the time her card was taken and nullify that action because it was not a right and correct action, which gives her legal status in this country since 1927," said Martin.

"I think she'll probably aggressively pursue the (citizenship) application pretty quickly."

Cuban escapee caught here

A 30-year-old man who escaped from the Jasper County jail last October was arrested in Hereford Tuesday night on charges of concealing a weapon, possession of marijuana under two ounces and possession of two identifications.

Serrano Arcadia Utria apparently escaped with four other Cubans through a hole they knocked in the Jasper County jail wall. All five were being held on immigration warrants.

Williams said he spotted a double-edged dagger protruding from the man's pocket when he was stopped. When Williams frisked him, he also found seven or eight marijuana joints.

Utria's criminal history includes convictions for four crimes and eight charges, said Williams.

Williams added that Utria was the last of the five escapees to be captured.

Utria is waiting arraignment and no bond has been set.

Private Contra aid is questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders say a plan by Nicaragua's Contra rebels to solicit private donations for their war against the Sandinista government smacks of the private foreign policy that led to the Iran-Contra affair.

The House leaders also criticized the Contras' failure to resume cease-fire talks today with the Managua government, saying the delay calls into question whether the rebels want a negotiated settlement or insist on a military solution.

"I'm disappointed that they seem to give no priority whatsoever to continuing the peace talks," House Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, said Tuesday. "That casts serious doubts on their intentions."

Wright said he will continue efforts to draw up a package of purely "humanitarian" aid for the rebels — with or without administration help — to replace the White House proposal that included military aid. President Reagan's plan was killed in the House last week.

Wright said he hoped to have the alternative ready by the week of Feb. 22.

House Majority Whip Tony Coelho, D-Calif., accused the Contras and the administration of trying to "privatize" U.S. foreign policy despite the lessons of the Iran-Contra affair, and destroy a five-nation Central American peace accord.

"Before, it was an international embarrassment for the United States," Coelho said in a reference to the elaborate covert network that sent profits from arms sales to Iran to aid the Contras.

He noted that polls repeatedly have shown a majority of the American public opposed to the policy of arming the Contras to overthrow the Sandinista regime.

"But the administration is saying we are going to circumvent the Congress and tell the American people to go to hell," Coelho said. "They're trying to do publicly what they tried to do privately before. I think there's a deliberate attempt by the administration to stop the peace process."

At a news conference in Miami on Monday, Contra leaders said they were establishing two tax-free funds to receive donations from private Americans to buy supplies. They said they were doing this publicly to avoid the taint of scandal that came in the Iran-Contra affair.

The rebels also said they planned to solicit military aid from foreign countries.

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Reagan has not contributed to the private aid account and he does not know whether the president plans to do so. GOP presidential contender Bob Dole already has given $500.

Fitzwater added, however, that the president has made it clear "through the decision-making network here at the White House," including the National Security Council, that the administration "will not be involved in private support to the Contras."

Coelho said that in their humanitarian aid package, Democrats will likely seek to include provisions banning third-party fund raising.

Highway patrolman Dwayne Williams, arresting officer, said Utria roused his suspicion when Utria screeched to a halt at McKinley and Fourth streets.

"I thought he was drunk," said Williams. "I followed him, and he kept making the blocks trying to avoid me."

Local Roundup

Sheriff's office reports thefts

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office has reported thefts this week including the theft of hydraulic cylinders Tuesday off a plow three miles south of Hereford; theft of various items from a barn outside Hereford on Tuesday;

Burglary of a residence at 700 Stanton St. reported Monday in which clothes, a desk and paint were taken; and a theft last weekend of tractor parts totaling $2,118 from a tractor parked two miles east of the Texas state line.

Police arrest one

A 22-year-old man was sent to Deaf Smith County Jail Tuesday by Municipal Judge Joed Cuppell after the man was arrested by Hereford police for failure to pay $354 in fines.

Other reports Tuesday included a woman locked out of her house by her husband, who she said was mad at her. Police escorted the woman back into her house.

Police also responded to a dog bite report on S. Texas; a man ordered from a house on Stanton; criminal non-support charges filed against a local man; a bike stolen from 1107 E. Park; $450 damage to plate glass windows at Short's Furniture; a dog, valued at $100, taken from 134 Ave. C; and a disturbance on Star.

Police also issued 11 citations Tuesday and reported no accidents.

Cool continues

Tonight will be mostly cloudy and cold with a 20 percent chance of light snow. The low will be 15, with northeast wind at 5 to 20 mph, decreasing to 5 to 10 mph by morning.

Thursday will be mostly cloudy during the morning, clearing during the afternoon. The high will be 35, with northeast wind at 5 to 15 mph becoming southeast by afternoon.

This morning's low, at 7 a.m., was 30 at KPAN after a high Tuesday of 58.

Bush adopts line from competitor

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — George Bush borrowed a neighborly slogan from rival Bob Dole, and Dole took a leaf from Rep. Jack Kemp's playbook as the Republican presidential contenders jostled for support in New Hampshire after their race turned topsy-turvy in Iowa.

Among Democrats, Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis settled in for a fight on his home turf, declaring he would lead the pack after the Feb. 16 primary here. Iowa winner Richard Gephardt at least partly agreed, describing himself as "clearly the underdog" here.

Dole, seeking to ride the wave of favorable publicity from his Iowa victory, spoke out Tuesday in favor of the Star Wars program, a pet project of Kemp.

Bush, stinging from a third-place showing in Monday's Iowa caucuses, was making a pitch that echoed Dole's successful Iowa slogan, "He's one of us."

"I'm one of you," the vice president, a Connecticut native who has a home in Maine, told New Hampshire voters.

But Dole retorted that a "good neighbor feeling" isn't enough.

The confident Dukakis warned that the Democratic campaign will get "more aggressive" as the field tightens. Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois was already on the attack, suggesting Dukakis' reputation as a manager is not sufficient to win the nomination.

"I think one of the basic questions is, do we want a national manager or do we want a president, someone who can really lead and give us a vision of the kind of tomorrow we can have?" said Simon, who finished just ahead of Dukakis in Iowa.

Among the GOP hopefuls, the rhetoric was already tough — with several contenders quick to see an end to Bush's hopes after his big loss in Iowa.

"I think the vice president's campaign is over," said former Delaware Gov. Pete du Pont, who finished next-to-last in Iowa. He called Bush "a mortally wounded vice president who has no vision."

"The hemorrhaging of George Bush has begun," added former Secretary of State Alexander Haig, the last-place GOP finisher. "His support is a mile wide and an inch thick."

Former television evangelist Pat Robertson brought his campaign to the Granite State to try to mobilize another "invisible army" like the one that surged to support him in Iowa.

Dukakis and Bush were still their respective parties' front-runners in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary, but both faced newly invigorated challenges in the wake of Iowa.

"I'm one of you because in this state there is steadfast, loyal support for the president of the United States and I have that," Bush said at Hopkinton High School. "When the going gets tough, I have not jumped away from the president for my own personal political gain, nor do I intend to do it. I have stood right with him, shoulder to shoulder."

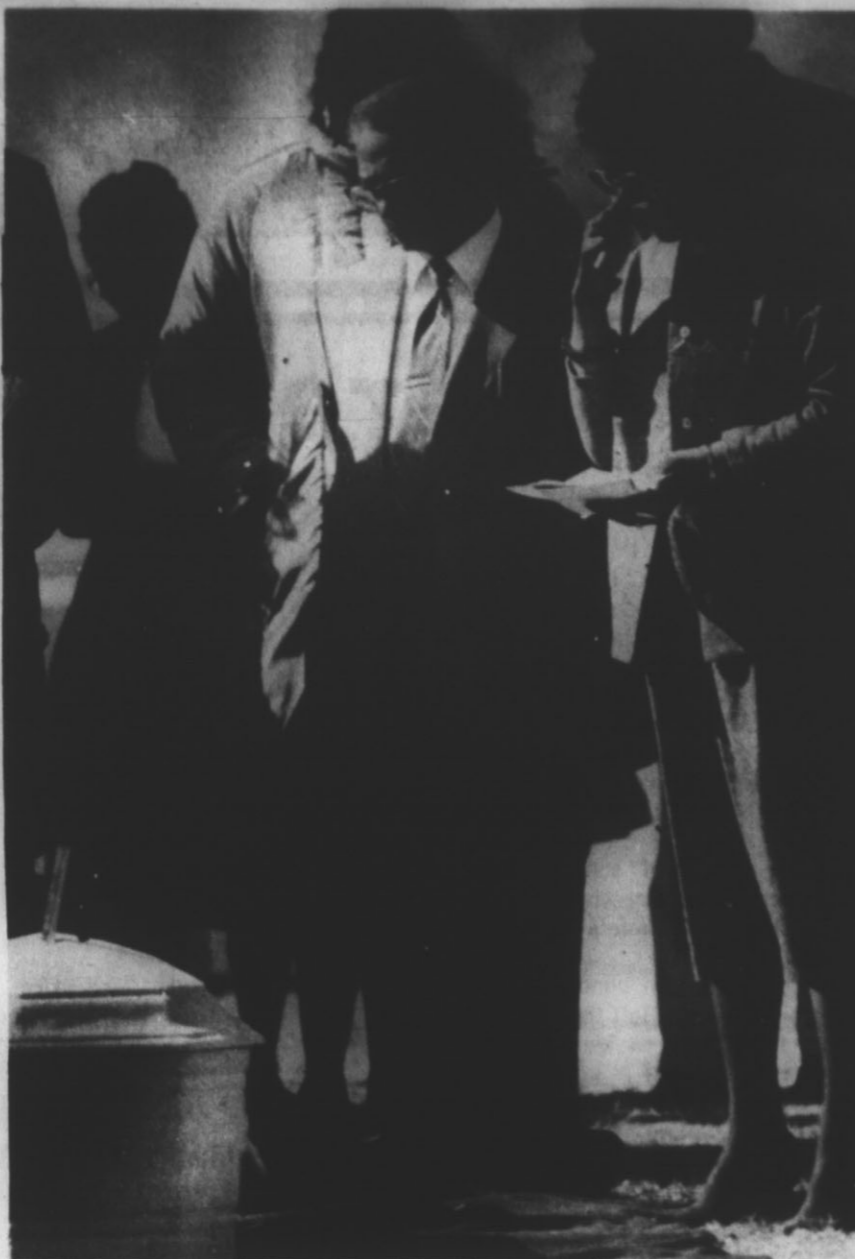

But Dole told a old-style campaign rally in Concord late Tuesday night that such appeals can fall flat.

"I don't think being one of us is about geography," Dole told 750 cheering supporters. "The good neighbor feeling — sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't."

For his part, Dole was taking a harder and harder line on behalf of President Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative and suggested his rivals do the same.

"I challenge them to join me in this clear and unequivocal pledge," Dole told a joint session of the New Hampshire legislature. "I will develop SDI, I will test SDI, I will deploy SDI."

Dole's pledge sounded much like Kemp's strong support for SDI — commonly known as Star Wars. And Kemp had been closing on Dole in the polls here before Iowa.

Mourning

A minister leads mourners in a graveside memorial service for Monique Black, 4, who died Monday in a house fire in Hereford. About 50 mourners gathered at the graveside service at West Park Cemetery in Hereford.

Hereford business pioneer dies Sunday

Alton Thomas Fraser, 81, a pioneer Hereford businessman, died Sunday and last rites were read this morning at St. Thomas Episcopal Church. Burial was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral Directors.

Fraser came to Hereford in 1924 as a farmer, then became a prominent grain dealer, owner of a trucking business, and later built a lumber of grain elevators. He also incorporated Fraser Milling Co. in 1938, where he manufactured whole wheat flour and a cereal under the name "Vita-Wheat."

Fraser also organized Commercial Oil Co., which was the first dealer of butane gas in this area. Fraser grew up in Fort Worth. His father bought four labors of land in Deaf Smith County in 1920, and Alton came to Hereford in 1924. He gradually increased the acreage to 10 labors of land.

He developed Fraser Oil Co., which grew out of a trucking operation hauling gasoline to Consumers Fuel in Hereford and Dimmitt. He established outlets in San Jon, Tucumcari, Las Vegas, Santa Rosa and Albuquerque in New Mexico, and another in Winslow, Ariz.

As his trucking business grew, Fraser started trucking butter from the Hereford Creamery to Chicago. In 1929, a load of butter was hijacked in Chicago, and he changed his business to hauling dressed poultry and eggs from Amarillo to Los Angeles and bringing back fruit and vegetables. Fraser also set up a produce business in Hereford.

He married the former Mary Valentine in 1930. In all his business ventures, reports his wife, Fraser was always promoting Hereford on his many trips out of town. He sponsored many experiments to study the soil, wheat roots and the water in Deaf Smith County. He was an early promoter of the health food business through his milling plant here.

Fraser was involved in a near-fatal automobile accident on May 12, 1953, near Albuquerque. After that time, he operated his business from his home. He leased and sold his elevators, and sold a farm to the City of Hereford for water.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Jon of San Leandro, Calif.; a daughter, Beverly Evans of Coronado, Calif.; three grandsons and two great-grandsons.

The report itself, in contrast to a predominantly gloomy outline of conditions in last year's document, contained several relatively bright spots, notably in the loosening of Soviet control over press commentary. "On the other hand, we regret to say, the hopes and expectations voiced in the spring of 1987 as to rapid additional progress were not fulfilled by the end of the year," Schifter said.

Over half of Soviet troops may leave Afghanistan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three-quarters of the Soviet troops in Afghanistan could be withdrawn from the war-torn country over six months under a new proposal from Moscow being warmly received by Secretary of State George P. Shultz.

But forming an interim government to oversee the Red Army's pullout could be difficult, Shultz said Tuesday.

The U.S.-armed Afghan rebels, who have fought Soviet troops for more than eight years, "are not ready to accept positions in a government run by Mr. Najibullah," the Soviet-backed leader in Kabul, Shultz said.

"It is difficult to imagine how an interim regime is going to be put together," Shultz said in an interview with radio reporters.

Soviet General Secretary Mikhail S. Gorbachev offered on Monday to begin the pullout on May 15 if negotiations held under United Nations auspices produced a settlement

Dukakis says Iowa proved strength

AUSTIN (AP) — Democratic presidential hopeful Michael Dukakis says his strong Iowa showing proves he can wage a national campaign. But aides to contender Al Gore, who didn't campaign there, said Iowa's presidential precinct caucuses aren't significant.

On the Republican side, backers of Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., who won Iowa, and Pat Robertson, who was second, were delighted. Vice President George Bush's campaign downplayed the adopted Texan's third-place finish.

"If I can get out of New Hampshire in good shape, and I fully expect to, I think we're going to do well in the South and be on our way to the nomination," said Dukakis, Massachusetts governor. He finished a close third in Iowa and was favored to win next week's New Hampshire primary.

"I think the South is wide open."

Tom Cosgrove, Texas campaigner for Dukakis, added, "For a full-time governor to go out to the rural Midwest from New England and finish a strong third — especially against two other candidates from neighboring states (Missouri Rep. Richard Gephardt and Illinois Sen. Paul Simon) — demonstrates his national strength, his national appeal."

Aides to Gore, a senator from Tennessee who received less than 1 percent of the Iowa vote, said their candidate is concentrating on the March 8 Southern "Super Tuesday" primary.

"On Super Tuesday, we're going to choose 40 percent of the (Democratic National Convention) delegates. In Iowa, they chose 1 percent of the delegates," said Tom Jurkovich, Gore's Texas campaign director.

"Super Tuesday has changed the process significantly. We're the only campaign to recognize that," he added.

Richie Martin, campaign director for former TV evangelist Robertson, called the Iowa results "the de-thron-

Hispanic gets scholarship

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — A top-ranked Hispanic high school student who has received a scholarship to attend Texas A&M University says she will continue to pursue her goal to go to West Point.

But Xochilt Carreto, who ranks first in her senior class at Dallas' L.G. Pinkston High School, intends to enroll at Texas A&M and join the Corps of Cadets.

"Since the nominations for West Point already went in, I said to myself, 'Why not go to A&M?'" Miss Carreto told The Dallas Morning News. "It's also an excellent ROTC program. I thought it would prepare me for West Point."

The 17-year-old was not allowed to enroll at the U.S. Military Academy because she is not a U.S. citizen, having moved from Mexico with her mother less than three years ago.

But as a result of efforts by several former A&M students, she will be offered one of the university's President's Achievement Award Scholarships. A&M officials said Thursday. The four-year award totals $10,000.

John Meek, Junior ROTC program director at Pinkston, encouraged Miss Carreto to attend A&M where both his son and daughter-in-law went. Ed Castillo, a Pinkston counselor and Aggie alumnus, also encouraged her to try Texas A&M.

Gorbachev's human rights improvements not as good as hoped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mikhail Gorbachev instituted "more than cosmetic" improvements in Soviet human rights performance last year, but failed to meet Western hopes and expectations for more dramatic progress, the State Department said today.

In its annual report on human rights in 169 countries and territories, the department also said it observed positive signs in Poland, Hungary, South Korea and Taiwan.

On the negative side, the report repeated a long list of conditions imposed by the Israeli government on Palestinians in the occupied West Bank and Gaza territories, said hopes for the establishment of democracy in Haiti were set back and concluded "there was no progress toward respect for human rights in South Africa."

The 1,358-page report was sent to Congress to give senators and representatives guidance in deciding which nations are worthy of U.S. aid and trade benefits.

The report, for the most part, did not judge the nations, but merely stated conditions as observed by U.S.

diplomats assigned to monitoring rights in each country. In a brief introduction, however, some national performances were highlighted.

"There is no doubt that the attention of a great many observers focused on developments in the Soviet Union," Richard Schifter, assistant secretary of state for human rights, said in the introduction.

"Was Mikhail S. Gorbachev, in this third year of his stewardship of the world's first Leninist dictatorship, bringing about fundamental change, or were the changes merely cosmetic?"

"The answer to this question, asked by so many observers, is that neither adjective fits. The changes were more than cosmetic and less than fundamental."

Schifter said the country continues to be controlled by "a small elite group" supported by the secret police.

On the other hand, he said, "some political prisoners were released" and some totalitarian controls were relaxed, notably on emigration of Jews, Armenians and ethnic Germans.

Jury indicts FBI agent on charges he gave away classified information

HOUSTON (AP) — A former FBI agent was indicted on charges he gave classified information to an official of an organization that represents Taiwan interests in the United States.

According to a grand jury indictment handed down Tuesday, Douglas S. Tsou, also known as Tsou Tau-hsu, gave the information in March 1986 to the Director of the Coordination Council for North American Affairs, the Taiwan group, said U.S. Attorney Henry Oncken.

Oncken and Andrew J. Duffen, special agent in charge of the Houston FBI office, refused to disclose the nature of the information.

Oncken would say only that it was about an individual being evaluated and considered as a source of the FBI.

The indictment described it as "classified information concerning an operational foreign counterintelligence asset of the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

"At the time of the communication, the defendant knew that the information he communicated was classified, and he knew that the Coordination Council for North American Affairs was and is an instrumentality acting on behalf of the governing authority on Taiwan, formerly recognized as the Republic of China," the indictment said.

Tsou, 63, was fired in October 1986 from the FBI bureau in Houston, where he had worked for six years as a language specialist, translating Chinese to English, Oncken said.

Authorities said he had spent the majority of his six years in the FBI in Houston although he was hired by the agency on the West Coast. His dismissal in 1986 was related to the charges outlined in Tuesday's indictment, officials said.

Tsou was born in mainland China in 1924 and became an American citizen in 1977.

He was held on $100,000 bond and faces up to 10 years in prison and a $250,000 fine if convicted.

A woman who answered the telephone Tuesday at the Coordination Council for North American Affairs referred questions about the case to John Wei, whom she described as the organization's secretary. He was not in the office, however, she said.

Federal authorities said the council had been helping investigators with the probe. Oncken said it did not appear the organization had solicited the information.

"This case at hand presents an additional element for consideration, that of the matter of national security," Duffen said. "This element takes this case out of the realm of a routine announcement of an indictment and arrest and precludes the government from going any further with statements about the case, which is to be proven in a court of law."

"Please understand we are not trying to be evasive," Oncken said. "We've got the issue of national security and there's just a lot of things we cannot answer that we ordinarily would be able to answer."

Kolleen McCathern feted at bridal shower

A bridal shower feted Kolleen McCathern bride-elect of Scott Newland, Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A.R. Dillard, 217 Texas.

The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCathern and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Tom Newland.

An arrangement of mauve and white roses and dahlias, accented with black ribbons, decorated the refreshment table which was covered with a cutwork cloth and appointed by a silver punch bowl and coffee service. April Aleman of Amarillo served cookies and mints in the bride-elect's chosen colors.

Cookie Reyes invited guests to register.

Serving as hostesses were Dillard, Ruth McBride, Bobby Wilson, Shirley Miller, Aleman, Edna Marnell, Wanda Hoover, Ellen Thames, Reyes, Ann Eicke, Jo Beth Shackelford, Delores Christie, Johnnie Turrentine, Valerie Felthauer, Anna Beth Roming, Paula Edwards, Frances Block, Romilda Friemel and Irene Foster.

In old Scotland, Parliament passed a law forbidding any man to turn down a girl who proposed to him on Leap Year, under penalty of a $500 fine.

Bride-Elect Honored

Kolleen McCathern, bride-elect of Scott Newland, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A.R. Dillard, 217 Texas. Greeting guests with the honoree were (from left) her mother, Mrs. Gerald McCathern, and hostess, Mrs. A.R. Dillard. The hostesses presented Miss McCathern with a set of pans.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is for "N.Y.C." who was distressed about a friend who returned to work when her baby was 6 weeks old. (She felt lucky to find a day-care center that would take such a tiny infant.)

I work because I have to, and I, too, returned to work when my child was 6 weeks old. But I was lucky to have had a wonderful boss, terrific co-workers and the kind of office set-up that could accommodate my baby. I went to the office five days a week with my child tucked under my arm.

And by the way, Ann Landers, I don't "have it all." I am raising this child alone. There is no time or energy to invest in a relationship right now.

Each of us must make our own decisions, based on need and circumstances. People who make wholesale judgments about what is right for everyone should, in the old Indian proverb, "Walk a mile in the other person's moccasins" before deciding what others should do.

I have a fulfilling career and a healthy, happy child, and I would never be so presumptuous as to tell N.Y.C. or you, Ann, what to do in your life.—J.M. in Los Angeles

DEAR J.M.: If you wrote an advice column you had darned well better be prepared to tell people what to do with their lives or you would be useless.

People who look to me for guidance expect clear-cut, unequivocal, no-nonsense answers, and I am not afraid to give them. I am well aware that the inability to make a decision can be infinitely more damaging and produce more anxiety than making the wrong one.

I refuse to budge from my initial stand. Mothers of infants who must work have no choice, but mothers who can stay home with their babies should do so for six months minimum and one year, if possible, to insure the proper bonding.

You were lucky, J.M., to have had an office set-up that allowed you to bring your baby to work every day. I know of precious few workplaces where this is possible.

So, when you talk about moccasins, bear in mind that yours were quite special.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband's cousin, Timothy, has been living with us for a year and a half. He is 16 years old and helps my husband in his landscaping business.

This kid is driving me crazy. He isn't working because it is winter and he refuses to go to school. His room smells like dirty socks. He won't do his chores and he makes messes all over the house. I've talked to my husband about the boy's personal hygiene. He says I am right, but he won't make him leave.

Timothy's father lives in town but he has never shown any interest in the boy. His mother lives with her new husband in southern Texas, and it is obvious that she doesn't want to be bothered with him either.

I was never asked if Tim could live with us. I was forced on me and now I'm afraid I'll never be rid of him. We have been married four years and want to have a family. But until Tim leaves, his room can never be a nursery. What should I do?—Desperate in Dallas.

DEAR DESPERATE: Get pregnant. Then give Tim a choice; get counseling and clean up his act or he's out of the house. This poor kid has had a lot of rejection in his young life. He needs professional help. I hope he gets it.

Here's An Idea That Can Strengthen Your Family

Tonight at the dinner table, read something out loud to your family. Tomorrow night, let another member read something. A news story. A Bible verse. A Robert Frost poem. A cereal box panel. History. Humor. Anything. Each night a different family member can read a selection. Imagine the wide range of subjects your family will read in 365 days. What a stimulating way to have your children develop good reading habits. We have 23 million illiterate adults in America. We wouldn't have one, if each of them had been served reading as part of their nightly diet. It's non-fattening, but enriching. And it doesn't cost a dime.

Abundant Life

LABOR AND WAIT

By Bob Wear

Impatience may be one of the greatest stumbling blocks on the pathway of many lives. In our time of rush, hurry and general turmoil, it seems that the spirit of impatience is widespread and reaching into the lives of more and more people.

'Impatience' can throw us off balance and keep us off balance and, consequently, we never seem to be able to make anything work out right.

Many young people are making their prospects for satisfactory living much less than desirable, and some are ruining their lives because of 'impatient' choices and actions. This is seen in their assumption of adult privileges and obligations, long before they are qualified to do so. For most of them, this 'impatient' conduct is inevitable failure.

All of us must know that it takes time and hard work to prepare for the burdens and responsibilities of a full life; time and labor to learn a profession, or a trade, or to develop needed skills. Many are destroying their chance for personal success and happiness by marrying before they are mature enough for marriage.

Many people, all ages, fight the unhappy fight of 'impatience'; until they reach the end of life hopelessly and helplessly battered and beaten. Everything could have been better, if they had only been willing to 'labor and wait! We must not permit 'impatience' to rule our lives, as we move along through time. If we do, we will be constantly disappointed and discouraged.

There must be diligent study, patience in the process of application through the waiting time, and then the acceptance of the responsibility for doing the things for which we have prepared ourselves. We can expect a reasonable amount of success and satisfaction, when we are ready for the responsibility we are accepting.

"Let us then be up and doing, with a heart for any fate; Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait."—A Psalm Of Life—(Longfellow)

College football letter of intent

Brown signs with ASU

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

Hereford Whiteface running back Marcus Brown signed a letter of intent today to play college football at Angelo State University in San Angelo.

Brown led the Hereford High School football team with 927 yards rushing in the 1987 season. He carried the ball 140 times for an average of 6.6 yards per carry, and scored nine touchdowns.

"Since I was a kid, I've always wanted to play college football. I'm glad Angelo State overlooked my size and gave me a chance," said Brown, who is a 140-pounder.

"I'm happy to have a chance to prove myself. They told me I'll probably return kickoffs and punts my first year, and play a little at running back," Brown adds, noting that he figures to see more time as a ball carrier his second season in college.

Brown is the son of Clyde Brown of Hereford and Birdie Brown of St. Louis, and the grandson of Alice Brown of Hereford.

Brown missed one game in the 1987 season. His 927 yards rushing in nine games average 103 yards per game — the fourth best average in Hereford High School history. He also caught seven passes for 86 yards last season, led the Herd in scoring with 54 points, returned six kickoffs for 119 yards, and returned five punts for 36 yards.

Brown had 186 yards rushing versus Dumas, 172 yards versus Andrews, 164 yards versus Borger, and 110 yards vs. Lubbock. He rushed for a 77-yard touchdown run versus Dumas, a 48-yard run and 39-yard run versus Levelland, and a pair of 31-yard touchdown runs versus Andrews.

"I'm proud of Marcus. That speaks well for him," Hereford head football Coach Don Cumpton said about Brown's signing with Angelo State.

"I'm tickled to death that he has this opportunity. It's a credit to him and a credit to our program. I think he's as good a little man as there is in the country," Cumpton adds.

Cumpton noted that Hereford fans will have many opportunities to see Brown in action as a collegiate athlete, since Angelo State is in the Lone Star Conference and will play West Texas State and Eastern New Mexico in conference games.

Herd falls to Estacado 68-56

A cold night at the free throw line hurt the Hereford Whiteface varsity boys' basketball team Tuesday night when they lost a District 1-4A to Lubbock Estacado, 68-56 at Lubbock.

Hereford hit just nine of 26 foul shots, and was 23 for 56 from the field for the game. The loss drops the Whitefaces to 6-8 in district play and 11-16 for the season.

Hereford High School won the other half of the boys' doubleheader, defeating Estacado 66-64 in overtime. Keith Brown scored a field goal for the only points by either team in the overtime period.

The junior varsity team's victory ups its season record to 16-6.

Hereford is open this Friday and will play at home its last two nights of the season next week — versus Levelland on Tuesday, Feb. 16, and versus Borger on Friday, Feb. 19.

Game times each night are 6:30 p.m. for the junior varsity and 8 p.m. for the varsity. A sophomore boys' game is also scheduled on Feb. 19 versus Borger, at 5 p.m.

The sophomore team's game versus Clovis on Tuesday was cancelled because Clovis had to make up a district game that had been postponed from last Friday.

In Tuesday's varsity game, Hereford was behind Estacado 34-21 at halftime, but could have been much closer. The Whitefaces missed five straight one-and-one free throw attempts in the second quarter.

Estacado held a 48-34 lead after three quarters of play. The Whitefaces sliced the Matador lead to six points in the fourth quarter, but were unable to overtake Estacado and suffered the 68-56 loss.

Three Herd players scored in double figures — Brad Smith with 15 points, Rodney McCracken with 13 points, and Clint Cotten with 12 points. Kevin Hansen added seven points.

McCracken was the leading rebounder for Hereford with 10, and Smith had six rebounds. Hansen had eight assists and six steals, and Marcus Brown had four assists and three steals.

The junior varsity game was tied at 64-64 at the end of regulation time. Keith Brown's overtime field goal, which gave Hereford the 66-64 win, gave him 20 points for the game.

Brown hit nine of 11 shots from the field. Kyle Andrews made nine of 13 field goal attempts and scored 19 points. Jason Scott scored eight points, and Todd Schroeder had six points.

What Does a typical Brand Reader Look Like?

That's difficult to say because you are as different as your substantial number would imply! You are one of the 4,100 households we're invited to every evening. That's quite a few. According to the most recent census, our township has slightly less than 5000 households.

Your vocation is part of a broad spectrum as well — white collar, blue collar, owners, managers, cowboys, teachers, housewives, students and professional.

Yet, with all your individual complexities, your interest in local issues and news gives you and other readers a common bond which is separated only by your level of curiosity.

You are an informed, intelligent and often vocal audience, and we're happy to be a part of your household every evening!

To Estacado in varsity game

Lady Whitefaces lose finale 55-46

Hereford High School finished its 1987-88 girls' basketball season Tuesday night, losing to Lubbock Estacado in the varsity game 55-46, and beating Estacado in the junior varsity contest, 57-32.

The Lady Whitefaces' final season records are 10-9 for the varsity and 10-12 for the junior varsity. The Hereford varsity girls were 5-11 in District 1-4A games.

Hereford trailed Estacado 30-24 at halftime in the varsity game Tuesday, and fell further behind in the third quarter, 44-30.

Cande Robbins led Hereford with 18 points, and Carmen Brockman scored 12 points. Brockman was the leading rebounder with 11, and Robbins and Susan Bell each had seven rebounds. Tricia Kahlich was the assists leader with six.

"I thought the kids have come a long way this season. I thought they improved to the point where we'll have a chance to have the kind of girls' basketball program everyone wants," Hereford Coach Frank Belcher said.

"I hated to see the season end with the kind of effort we had. We just didn't come to play."

Poppy Richardson scored 12 points, and five other players scored five or more points each to lead the Lady Whiteface junior varsity team to its 57-32 win over Estacado.

Other scorers included Jessica Dearing with nine points, Nikki Self eight points, Chandra Brown seven points.

Brown had 10 rebounds, and Dearing had nine rebounds. Self and Libby Kosub each had four assists.

Hereford trailed at halftime, 22-21, but outscored Estacado 14-3 in the third quarter for a 35-25 lead.

DAR awards announced

Jim Bob Parker is the 1988 DAR Good Citizen at Hereford High School. Receiving this honor at Dimmitt High School is Denise Schulte. Recognition of these honor students is sponsored by Los Ciboleros Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The winning students are named by their respective faculties.

Parker is the son of Mary and Gerald Parker of Dawn and is a senior at HHS. After graduation here, he plans to enroll at Baylor University as a biology-chemistry major to prepare for entrance into medical school.

Scouting has been a prime interest of Parker's and he has attained the rank of Eagle Scout. His high school studies have been centered in the Honors Graduate Program, having earned membership in the National Honor Society for all three years.

Serving as president of the National Forensic League at HHS, Parker holds the Degree of Excellence status. He was a UIL district winner in 1987 in prose interpretation and a UIL regional finalist in this event. The VFW has recently announced that Parker is a regional winner in their "Voice of Democracy" speech contest and that his entry is eligible for further judging at the state level.

The vice-president of the 1988 senior class, Parker's extracurricular activities have included being in the HHS Student Council for three years, a Key Club member for three years and lettering on the Whiteface varsity football team for two years.

A senior at Dimmitt High School, Denise is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schulte. After graduation, she plans to attend Texas Tech with a major in education, either in the field of special education or home economics.

Denise has had a full schedule of activities for her three years at DHS, including membership in the Bobcat Band, the Future Homemakers of America and the Student Senate. She became president of the FHA in her junior year as well as being secretary of her class.

Honors given to Denise include induction into Who's Who Among American High School Students, the United States Achievement Award and the National Leadership Award. She is a member of the Key Club at DHS and was named to the Society of Distinguished American High School Students. Being honored as the FHA sweetheart added further recognition in her school life.

Outside of school, Denise has been very active in the Castro County 4-H program, having been named the Gold Star 4-H award recipient for that county. She is also active in the Catholic Youth Organization of her church.

CLASSIFIED ADS
Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80
5th day FREE

Ten days (7 free) is $16.80 minimum; 15 days (3 free) is $24.80 minimum; one month is $32.80 minimum.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-these with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALIS
Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS
Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Legal Notices

PUBLIC NOTICE
West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc. hereby gives notice that on January 11, 1988, the Cooperative filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas a request to detariff inside wiring and customer premises equipment, to change its tariff, implement new services and revise certain nonrecurring rates. The proposed changes may become effective on February 15, 1988. Customers will not be immediately affected by this change except that the Commission will no longer regulate rates for monthly extension wiring and equipment leased by the Cooperative. Rates for local service (excluding telephones and other equipment) will not change as a result of this filing.

The proposed changes include the revision of service connection charges, the establishment of a returned check charge of $15.00, the deletion of services no longer provided and the provision of new custom calling services. Through this filing, the Cooperative is also revising its tariff to reflect the elimination of monthly charges for extension wiring and the sale to customers of the telephones and certain other equipment leased from the Cooperative.

It is estimated that the proposed changes will result in a revenue increase of approximately $927,000. All customer classes will be affected by the proposed changes. Persons with questions or who desire more information about the requested rate changes are encouraged to contact the Cooperative by telephone (806)364-3331 or in person at South Highway 385, Hereford, Texas. A complete copy of the filing will be available for review.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 450N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512)458-0227, or (512)458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. W-149-a4c

'AWAKE, THOU THAT SLEEPEST'
"Selfishness is many-sided. There is the selfishness of indifference. ... There are men who build themselves castles while their workmen hunger for bread, who spend thousands on social fetes and hear not the sighs of broken hearts in neighboring blocks, who bid their souls feast while broken bodies bleed for the sympathy and love of their fellows.

"There are men and women and children bought at starvation wages and put to the most menial labor where between fear and losing their positions, and the inseparable dread of broken health, they drag out a miserable existence.

"Can we continue indifferent to endangered souls and bodies about us? Can we refuse the word of good cheer, the smile of interest, the tears of sympathy and the more substantial help of brave hearts? Can we refuse to treasure life's diamond moments and fail to brush away the tears of sorrow?"

"Can we deny our soul's channels for the outgoing of love and Christ, the service for which His life was given? Even if we are indifferent, I rejoice that there is a heaven and a Christ - a heaven to receive us and a Christ to treasure life's tears and heartthrobs, and lofty aspirations never known perchance on earth, but registered before the throne. To the earth's indifferent ones comes the peal of thunder, 'Awake, thou that sleepest.' There is no time for lethargy while human lives sin and suffer."

-J. Frank Smith, Dallas Morning News, Feb. 28, 1898.

Names in the News

NEW YORK (AP) - Bruce Springsteen is a "Catholic minstrel" whose most recent album may have been "a more important Catholic event in this country than the visit of Pope John Paul II," says the Rev. Andrew Greeley.

The pope "spoke of moral debates using the language of doctrinal positions that appeal to (or repel) the mind," while Springsteen "sings of religious realities - sin, temptation, forgiveness, life, death, hope - in images ... from his Catholic childhood," the priest writes in the Feb. 6 issue of America magazine.

Springsteen's images, Greeley argues, "appeal to the whole person, not just the head, and that will be absorbed by far more Americans than those who listened to the pope."

John Paul II should take no offense, because "troubadours always have more importance than theologians or bishops," insists Greeley, a sociologist, best-selling novelist and frequent contributor to America, which is published by the Jesuit order.

BLUE ISLAND, Ill. (AP) - Former ABC "World News Tonight" co-anchor Max Robinson was released from the hospital where he was treated for nearly two months, a spokesman said.

"All I can say is he was released (Monday) morning," said St. Francis Hospital spokesman Chuck Green. "I'm sure his vital signs and everything were stabilized before he was released."

Robinson, 48, was admitted to the hospital Dec. 4 in critical condition, but officials refused to give information about his medical problem at his family's request.

Robinson, the first black to anchor a daily network news show, was for six years one of three co-anchors on "World News Tonight" before becoming a co-anchor on WMAQ-TV, Chicago's NBC affiliate.

NEW YORK (AP) - Tony Award-winning playwright Harvey Fierstein and actress-comedian Anne Meara helped launch a workshop where panels will be made for addition to a quilt in memory of AIDS victims.

"It's a way of saying, 'I miss this person, I'm proud of knowing this person,'" Ms. Meara said Monday.

"I've made quilts for people I have lost. I have more quilts to make," Fierstein, author of "Torch Song Trilogy," said, noting that 28,000 people have died nationwide of acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

The Center Quilt Workshop being run at the Lesbian and Gay Community Services Center in Manhattan is an outgrowth of the national Names Project, which created the quilt.

The quilt was part of a demonstration last October at the Mall in Washington. The project originated in San Francisco.

DETROIT (AP) - Rosa Parks, whose refusal to give her seat on a segregated bus to a white man 32 years ago triggered a boycott and a landmark civil rights case, celebrated her birthday with about 350 people.

Mrs. Parks, who turns 75 on Thursday, said the gathering Sunday left her "just about speechless."

"I can hardly think of a thing to say," she said. "But this has been a great day."

Among those attending were Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich. and U.S. Appeals Court Judge Damon Keith.

The celebration marked the start of a nationwide drive to raise $1 million for the Rosa and Raymond Parks Institute for Self Development here, named for Mrs. Parks and her late husband and aimed at helping young people.

Mrs. Parks' refusal to give up her bus seat in Montgomery, Ala., on Dec. 1, 1955, resulted in a boycott and a court case that ultimately outlawed racial discrimination on transportation systems.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ron Reagan, the president's son, says he's not sure whether his parents will be watching when his cable TV comedy special airs next month. In fact, he's not even sure they get cable at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

"I'll send them the tape," he said. The show pokes fun at something he definitely knows about - being the president's son.

"Cinemax Comedy Experiment: Ron Reagan is the President's Son," was written by Penn Jillette of the comedy duo Penn and Teller, and Eddie Gorodetsky, a former "Saturday Night Live" writer. Young Reagan caused a stir as guest host of "Saturday Night Live" when he danced in his underwear during a spoof of the film "Risky Business." He also has appeared as a dancer with the Joffrey Ballet and a feature reporter on "Good Morning America."

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Singer Linda Ronstadt says she'll launch an elaborate Mexican-themed concert tour next month that will feature mariachis, folklore dancers and a stage show.

"It promises to be her most spectacular musical stage presentation and the most intricate and elaborate (concert) of her career," spokesman Paul Wasserman said Friday.

The set for "Canciones de Mi Padre," or "Songs of My Father," will be designed by Tony Walton, winner of an Oscar for the "All that Jazz" set and Tony awards for "Pippin" and "House of Blue Leaves." The choreographer will be Michael Smuin, who arranged the dancing for the film "Cotton Club."

The concerts will feature Mariachi Vargas de Tecalitlan, a band that has recorded 80 albums, the Ballet Folklorico dancers of Los Angeles, and Danny Valdez, who co-produced and co-starred in the film "La Bamba."

The cast will rehearse in Cuernavaca, Mexico, later this month. The 10-city tour premieres Feb. 5 in San Antonio, Texas.

DALLAS (AP) - A judge has ordered British rock singer David Bowie to be tested for AIDS after a woman testified he assaulted her and exposed her to the virus.

"No law says it can be done, but no law says it can't," State District Judge David Brooks said Friday.

Wanda Nichols, a 30-year-old makeup artist, testified that Bowie assaulted her at an exclusive Dallas hotel Oct. 9 while he was in town for two concerts. A Dallas county grand jury reviewed the matter and declined to indict Bowie Nov. 19. The woman also filed a civil suit.

"I want to know if I am going to die," the woman testified. She said Bowie sexually assaulted her several times, bit her, pulled her hair, threw her around and said he had given her AIDS.

Bowie has said he was with the woman from early morning to late afternoon, but called the charges ridiculous.

Ms. Nichols tested negative for the AIDS virus, her attorney has said. Bowie's attorneys said he already was tested for the AIDS virus in Switzerland, but the judge would not allow the results to be used because the doctor was not available to testify about their validity.

Confer display at library

One of the February displays at Deaf Smith County Library is Pat Confer, who has an exhibit of Australian items.

The Confer family hosted Gavin Barbey, an exchange student from Australia, for 11 months, three and one-half years ago in Colorado prior to their move to Hereford.

Military Muster

Army Private Gabriel G. Gamez, son of Antonio V. Gamez and Oralisa Guzman, both of Hereford, has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

His wife, Irene, is the daughter of Maria Lopez of 125 Campbell, Hereford.

He is a 1980 graduate of Hereford High School.

CALIFORNIA IMPRESSIONISM
TULSA, Okla. (AP) - "Masterworks of California Impressionism" will be shown at Gilcrease Museum Feb. 20-May 22.

Featuring 98 paintings by California artists working in the Impressionist style, the exhibition is drawn from the collection of the Franchise Finance Corp. of America, Phoenix, Ariz.

The museum says, "California Impressionism is a unique combination of French Impressionism and traditional American painting."
