

Bush scores with acceptance speech

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — George Bush, who accepted the Republican presidential nomination asking to be seen "for what I am," is hitting the campaign trail with plaudits for what he claims he doesn't do very well: give speeches.

After he addresses a meeting of the Republican National Committee today, Bush was to set out on a six-day campaign swing through the Midwest and far West.

His running mate, Sen. Dan

Quayle, will accompany him for the first three days and their first stop was to be a rally in Quayle's hometown of Huntington, Ind., later today.

The vice president gave what many Republicans claimed was the best speech of his career Thursday night. He portrayed himself as "not the most eloquent" and confessed "I may be sometimes a little awkward."

"I am a quiet man — but I hear the quiet people others don't," Bush told the final session of the Republican National Convention in a speech that probed a personality he previously had claimed was not in focus for the public.

Talking about his family, his values, his desire for a "kinder, gentler nation," Bush drew repeated and boisterous applause from his convention audience.

Just as Democratic presidential nominee Michael Dukakis had done at his party's convention last month, the vice president delivered a speech that was better received than even some supporters had expected.

"A grand slam," said Massachusetts delegate Joyce Hampers.

"I think he touched all the important bases he needed to touch," said Oklahoma delegate Dick Freeman.

And, even though Bush's day of triumph was clouded by questions surrounding Quayle's military service, Bush declared: "I'm proud to have Dan Quayle at my side."

In his acceptance speech, which Bush had carefully fine-tuned and practiced over the past two weeks with speechwriter Peggy Noonan, the vice president sought to portray himself as an underdog in his race against Dukakis.

"There are a lot of great stories in politics about the underdog winning — and this is going to be one of (See BUSH, Page 2)

Consolidation of dozen troubled thrifts approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal regulator says the consolidation of 12 insolvent Texas thrifts in a single $1.3 billion deal signals the things to come in Texas and elsewhere as the government tries to clean up the battered thrift industry.

M. Danny Wall, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, declined on Thursday to specify when the next consolidation would take place. But he indicated about half of an estimated 200 insolvent thrift cases currently in various states of negotiation, bidding and marketing may be resolved by the end of the year.

Earlier in the week, bank board member Roger Martin said that by the end of August 35 insolvent thrifts would be dealt with under the so-called Southwest Plan to consolidate and recapitalize ailing thrifts in the region.

Wall's comments came as regulators announced the government would spend $1.3 billion to assist the acquisition of 12 failed thrifts by an investor group led by Chicago banker William Gibson.

The transaction, the fourth consolidation under the Southwest Plan, was the biggest single such deal to date and doubled the number of Texas thrifts to be merged since the first transaction in May.

"While we're focusing a lot of attention on the state of Texas, because of the concentration of the problem within the industry in that state, we continue to work elsewhere," Wall said.

The consolidation brings to 68 the number of mergers, consolidations and "insurance actions" approved nationwide so far this year. Wall said the number was "ahead of what we had established as a minimum goal so far this year and that ratio, that average per week, would only continue to increase as we move toward the end of the year."

The action accounts for 24 of the 109 Texas thrifts that were insolvent when work on the Southwest Plan began earlier this year, "and we plan to complete the work in Texas by the end of May 1989," Wall said.

The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. will provide an immediate $499 million note to fund the new consolidation, with the money (See THRIFTS, Page 2)

No drinking, dancing or foolin' around at local Country Opry

By ANDREA HOOTEN
Staff Writer

When you sit at a table in the Country Opry, music had better be the only thing on your mind because the "Walker girls" don't allow drinkin', dancin' or foolin' around with the exception of having to fool with the kids.

The three singing sisters, who were raised in the Church of Christ, renovated The Lazy S Club on West U.S. Highway 60 with the premise that families have little choice for entertainment in Hereford.

Combining this with their love of country and western music, the trio formed a business touting music and family fun — the Pistol Pete's Pizza of night life, so to speak.

"We wanted some place where a family could come and not have to stumble over drunks everywhere," said Jeanne Zimmerman, one of the sisters who owns the club. "It's a place where you can leave your kids and let 'em run around without worrying about them."

The Opry opens its doors only the last Saturday of each month and with no admission being charged, profits are based strictly on donations.

"When we opened on July 23, we had a packed house," Zimmerman said. "We didn't have to pay the bands because everywhere they go they play for free because they're here just to play. We did take in about $100 in donations opening night and that was enough to pay the light bills and restock the concession stand."

If the Opry continues to draw country and western music lovers, Zimmerman said they may open twice a month.

"At first I wanted it every week but Mother and Daddy said they thought that might be too much of a headache," Zimmerman said. "And besides, most of the bands we get to play can't come that often."

The three sisters, formerly known as The Walkers, provided some of the entertainment on opening night along with nine other bands such as Hereford Country, The Panhandlers from Plainview and Mike and Tammy Garrett from Littlefield.

These bands travel around to oprys in Littlefield, Easter, Meadow and Olton — all courteously scheduling their business hours on alternating weekends so the bands, including The Walkers, can make the rounds.

"We've been a lot of places singing and we've always sung at family reunions and such, so we wanted somewhere close to home to perform," said Elaine Reynolds, the second of the singing sisters.

The Opry seats about 150 but the room got a little stuffy opening night, so the trio is planning another expansion if things go well.

"We already had to renovate once," said Zimmerman, "and that was no fun. We built on to the stage, put in two small rooms for the musicians to rehearse in and we had to totally renovate those bathrooms because they were in pretty bad shape."

The fourth weekend of the month will be tomorrow night and the sisters said they are anxious to see the turnout.

"Four or five bands have already booked for the 20th, but I always get a little nervous about that," Reynolds said. "What do you do if they don't show?"

Slim chance. The bands have offered rave reviews of the Country Opry because of its unusual family atmosphere.

"And with the place being as small as it is, the crowd looks a lot bigger," said Zimmerman.

Perhaps the profits will follow suit.

After Bush accepts nomination

'The force was with him' claim Texas delegates

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The band played "The Eyes of Texas," balloons rained down and Republicans from George Bush's home state said he hit the home run he needed in his speech accepting the presidential nomination.

"The force was with him," said H. Pulse Martinez of Pleasanton. "He hit a home run. I think we won the election tonight," added Rep. Joe Barton.

Because of the wide acclaim received by Democratic nominee Michael Dukakis, many Texans had said Bush needed to deliver a dynamic speech to the Republican National Convention Thursday night.

In a wide-ranging talk that discussed his personal background, his family and his philosophy, Bush did just that, Texas delegates said.

"He's not going to make just a competent president, he's going to make a superb president," said Wendy Gramm, chairwoman of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and wife of Sen. Phil Gramm.

Bush, who calls Houston home, accepted the nomination after telling a national television audience that he had "learned a few things about life in a place called Texas."

He recalled moving to the West Texas in 1948 and going to work in the oil business and starting his own. That, he said, made a lasting impression.

"The big thing I learned is the satisfaction of creating jobs, which meant creating opportunity. ... I learned that the good done by a single good job can be felt in ways you can't imagine," Bush said.

"We've got a candidate who understands our Texas philosophy," said Tom Loeffler, a former member of Congress who is co-chairman of Bush's state campaign.

Karl Rove, an Austin political consultant, said he believes the vice president accomplished several objectives with the speech.

"He was able to project an upbeat, positive message without the type of personal assaults we saw at the Democratic convention," Rove said.

Rove said Bush also rebutted many of the Democrats' charges about his ability to lead, and the vice president used a little humor to deflect some of the jokes made about him, including Texas state Treasurer Ann Richards' keynote address barb about being "born with a silver foot in his mouth."

"Most effective was the good hard look he gave at who George Bush was," Rove said. "He gave people a look tonight at what makes him tick."

Rob Mosbacher Jr. of Houston, an unsuccessful candidate for the Senate in 1984, said the speech impressed him.

"He defined George Bush separate and apart from Ronald Reagan. He responded to the Democrats without using the ridicule and personal attacks," Mosbacher said.

"I think he showed the sense of humor and the strength and purpose that people who know him have seen all along," he added.

Texans shrug off Quayle's Guard duty

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Texas Republicans are trying to shoot down questions that have arisen over vice presidential candidate Dan Quayle's Vietnam-era military record.

Despite the Indiana senator's hawkish congressional record, his military record became the talk of the GOP National Convention hall Thursday after it was disclosed that a Quayle family associate had interceded to help get Quayle into the Indiana National Guard at the height of the Vietnam War.

"It's ridiculous," said George W. Bush, the vice president's son and a stateside National Guard pilot during the war.

"I joined the National Guard in 1968, one year before he did. I thought it was service to my country and I'm proud of my time in the National Guard," Bush's eldest son said.

Amarillo Rep. Beau Boulter, said he didn't think the issue would pose a major public relations problem for the Republican ticket.

"He was not dodging the draft. He was serving his country in the same way a lot of other young men at that time chose to serve their country," Boulter said.

"He was ready and willing to go. Other National Guard people were called up. He would have gone," Boulter added.

Local Roundup

Purse stolen

A woman who was registering her child at Aikman Elementary School Thursday reported that her purse was stolen from her car. The purse contained jewelry and cash totaling $405.

A man in the 200 block of Knight Street saw three boys stealing his three-wheeler, but the boys fled before police arrived.

A civil dispute was reported in the 300 block of West Second Street and criminal mischief was reported in the 200 block of Star Street.

Four citations were issued.

Thunderstorms possible

Tonight there is a 30 percent chance of thunderstorms, some producing local heavy rain. The low will be in the mid 60s and wind will be southeast up to 15 mph.

For Saturday, the high will be near 90 with winds up to 15 mph.

According to KPST, yesterday's high was 89 and this morning's low was 67. No moisture was recorded.

Two major retail stores open here

Gibson's Discount Center held a ribbon-cutting ceremony here this morning to signal the opening of a new business firm at 1115 W. Park Ave. in West Park Plaza shopping center.

Coupled with the formal opening held Thursday for Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., local consumers are welcoming two major retail firms to the business community.

Gibson's is an old friend with an entirely new look. The building in West Park Plaza has been completely remodeled and will have about 50,000 square feet of floor space. Jim Rakes, manager, said it would have been easy to just come in and put merchandise in the store, but we wanted to give the store a new look.

Gibson's is owned by Chaffin, Inc., the parent franchiser for the stores worldwide. Chaffin has 33 stores with most located in Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Nebraska and Montana. The company has a 100,000 square-foot distribution center in Dodge City, Kan.

Rakes pointed out this was the first Texas operation and "we want everything to be right and show people we have a new and different concept."

Higginbotham-Bartlett reported a good crowd at its formal opening Thursday, according to manager David Hardegree. The new facility, with more than 30,000 square feet of floor space, is located at 720 N. 25 Mile Ave., or just north of 15th Street on US-385.

The company broke ground for the lumber yard here Feb. 8. "We had been looking at Hereford as a prospect for our company about five years," said J. Lanham Higginbotham, president.

Republicans cater to Hispanic vote in Texas, Calif.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Republican strategists urged "sensitivity" toward Hispanic voters, and party heavyweights spent much of their convention courting a group that could spell the difference in such key states as Texas and California.

The week opened with muted grumbling from some minority groups about being excluded from the party, but that didn't extend to Hispanics where party leaders said "the environment is changing" and the GOP must react.

"Whether it is welcome or unwelcome, the fact is the key political factor in the Southwest is going to be the Hispanic vote before the turn of the century," said Arizona Sen. John McCain.

"Our Republican Party is learning that if we're going to prevail, if we're going to play a major role in politics in the Southwest, we must have good Hispanic candidates," McCain told a group of Hispanic teen-agers Thursday.

The 265 young people, many of them yet too young to vote, were brought to the convention from across the country for a lesson in non-textbook politics. They heard speeches from various senators and members of the family of presidential nominee George Bush. "We are teaching them about politics, about the political process," said Sandy Estrada, a Dallas-based political consultant. "When they come to conventions, they're not going to be intimidated."

Both parties are targeting the Hispanic vote in this election, with Texas looming large because of its significant Hispanic population.

Bush claims Texas as his home, while Democratic nominee Michael Dukakis picked Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen as his running mate.

There is little hard evidence of any progress by either party. A CBS News poll last month showed two-thirds of the blacks and Hispanics polled backed Dukakis. McCain noted that President Reagan got about 45 percent of the Hispanic vote in his 1984 victory, but conceded that figure is skewed because of his heavy support among Cubans.

McCain conceded the GOP has work to do before it can lure big numbers of Hispanics.

"Why have the Republicans not done as well as they should have done with the Hispanic vote?" McCain said. "Very frankly, a lot of it has to do with concern and interest and sensitivity to issues that affect the Hispanic community."

VCRs spawn conversation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — VCRs are turning television viewing into video campfire gatherings — kids and parents not only watching more prime-time TV together, but also talking to each other more, recent studies show.

"When a VCR comes into a household and the household has children, people tend to talk to each other more," said Southern Illinois University Professor Carolyn Lin, who has studied home video cultures since 1984.

"They have to negotiate about what videos to rent and when to play these videos," Ms. Lin explained. "If someone wants to 'time-shift' (record) a show for later viewing the person will have to get consent from the other people as well."

More communication is only one side effect of families adding video cassette recorders to their television sets. Although many homes have more than one set, VCRs are bringing people together to watch a single screen, much like the campfires of yesteryear.

In a survey of 233 VCR homes in three Midwestern communities, Ms. Lin found that after adding a video recorder 58 percent of the people spent more time watching TV with the family and 35 percent spent more time having video parties at home.

"Pre-recorded cassettes appear to have brought back 'family viewing' during prime time," said Debra Krayson of AGB Television Research. Prime time tape viewing "not only brings the family together but also appears to be a social event. AGB data show a significant number of guests in the audience."

AGB, a British-owned firm that recently withdrew from the battle for U.S. use of People Meter measurement of viewers per set, tracked national VCR recording and playback last April.

The number of prime-time viewers watching movies and other prerecorded tapes averaged nearly three persons per household, according to AGB. Regular prime-time TV programs averaged 1.7 persons per household.

Studies by academic and commercial researchers now provide a profile of the impact of VCRs, now found in 56 percent of U.S. homes. Just five years ago only 10 percent of households had video recorders, said Tom Lederback of the Electronic Industries Association-Consumer Electronics Group.

VCRs were reported by nearly two-thirds of those polled in a Gallup survey of homes with telephones for the electronics trade group last Spring. Video recorders were second in popularity only to TV sets themselves, found in 99 percent of the households.

The Gallup survey found 78 percent of the households with children had VCRs; versus 63 percent of the two-adult homes and 40 percent of the singles.

Children are the VCRs' most avid users, spending 50 percent more time watching tapes than adults. According to the AGB study released last month, children under 18 spend an average of 3.4 hours a week watching videotapes, while adults average 2.3 hours weekly.

Teen-agers developed their own versions of video campfires, often watching tapes in groups at parties. Often they have little adult supervision, said Ms. Lin.

Despite parent group fears that racy adult videos are the biggest video moneymakers, 1987 Video Software Dealers Association figures show comedy and action-adventure tapes are tops with nearly 20 percent of the dollar volume apiece. Adult videos rank fourth behind drama at 11.4 percent.

Coastal states boom, regional income differences grow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regional disparities in personal incomes widened last year as strong economic growth continued for coastal states while states in America's heartland did not fare as well, the government reports.

The Commerce Department said Thursday that the current economic expansion is the first in 28 years in which regional differences in incomes have grown larger rather than narrowing.

The department said all 10 of the states with the highest average personal incomes last year were on the nation's coasts: eight along the Atlantic and two, California and Alaska, on the Pacific.

Connecticut ranked No. 1 with residents earning $21,266 for every man, woman and child last year, an increase of 8.8 percent over 1986.

For the entire nation, incomes rose 6 percent to an average of $15,481 last year, the best showing since a similar 6 percent increase in 1985. Incomes had risen 5.1 percent in 1986. The gain last year kept Americans ahead of inflation, which climbed 4.4 percent.

Seven of the 10 states with the lowest incomes were in the South. Mississippi remained in last place with a per capita income of $10,292, an increase of 6.5 percent over the previous year.

The Southwest and Rocky Mountain regions were farther behind the national income average in 1987 than they were in 1982 at the depths of the recession, while New England and the Mid-Atlantic regions were farther ahead.

"This has been a somewhat unusual economic expansion," said Rudolph DePass, a Commerce Department analyst. "Regions like New England have benefited from rapid growth in high-tech industries and relatively slow increases in population, while the Southwest and Rocky Mountain states have been hit by a slump in the oil industry."

John Tower, former chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee was blunt.

"It's a non-issue," Tower said. "So he was in the National Guard. So were a lot of other people of his generation. So was Lloyd Bentsen's son in the National Guard at that time."

them," Bush said. "I mean to run hard, to fight hard, to stand on the issues — and I mean to win."

Bush's speech was calculated to help him emerge from the shadow of President Reagan — a man to whom Bush said he had given absolute loyalty over the past seven years — and to paint a portrait of himself as a man of sensitivity.

"Those of you who saw the president's speech this week, and listened to the simple truth of his words, will understand my loyalty all these years. But now you must see me for what I am: the Republican candidate for the president of the United States," he said.

Bush aides, who beforehand had sought to lower expectations about the speech, said they were delighted with the way it had been received.

"There was not a single thing he was intending to set out to accomplish that wasn't accomplished," said Rich Bond, the political director of his campaign. Campaign Manager Lee Atwater exclaimed: "The delegates on the floor were going wild. He really outdid himself. I've never seen him do better."

Bush brought laughter from his audience when he joked that his wife, Barbara, had found him tired recently while working on his speech and had implored him to relax and "put your silver foot."

It was a self-mocking reference to Democratic keynoter Ann Richards' taunt that Bush, with his privileged family background and his tendency to make verbal gaffes, was "born with a silver foot in his mouth."

Republicans indicated that they found little evidence of a foot in his mouth, silver or otherwise, in his Thursday night performance.

"It was great," said Tennessee delegate Shirley Duer. "It was his finest hour. He just couldn't hold back his charisma."

Bush, who like Dukakis is often characterized as lacking a strong personality, had joked at the start of his acceptance speech, "To be fair to the other side, I'll try to hold back my charisma."

going to boost capital and help cover bad loans. Outside investors will inject $48 million.

Gibson, executive vice president of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust in Chicago and Continental Illinois Corp., will serve as president and chief executive officer of the new institution.

Gibson is a former senior vice president at First Republic Bank Corp. of Dallas. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. bailed out First Republic Bank in July when it pledged $4 billion to help NCNB Corp. Charlotte, N.C., take over the troubled banking giant.

The new Dallas-based thrift will be called American Federal Bank F.S.B. It has more than 50 branches in Texas, but it was not immediately known how many would be closed. The bank board, regulator of the thrift industry, said the 12 thrifts had combined assets of nearly $2.4 billion and liabilities of $3 billion.

FHLBB officials said the 12 thrifts were losing a combined $105 million a quarter. One of the merged thrifts, Richardson Savings and Loan Association of Dallas, had a $77.6 million loss in the first quarter of 1988, the 10th worst earnings record nationally among thrifts.

Two other thrifts, Mercury Savings Association, Wichita Falls, and Ben Milam Savings and Loan, Cameron, were in the bank board's management consignment program, which replaces the management of ailing thrifts with those from healthy ones.

Awards committee accepting nominations

Women's Forum, Amarillo area, is accepting nominations for the 1988 Texas Panhandle Distinguished Women's Service Awards.

The Distinguished Service Awards Committee of Women's Forum will accept nominations for these prestigious awards until Sept. 30, according to committee chairperson Virginia Blackburn. These awards are presented to Panhandle women who have made outstanding contributions to the region.

Women's Forum re-established the Distinguished Women's Service Awards after West Texas State University discontinued them in 1965. Since 1976, 89 Panhandle women have been honored with this award. Past recipients have been leaders in farming, ranching, business, medicine, education, volunteerism, civic responsibility, health care and the legal system.

Women who are residents of the top 26 counties of the Panhandle and who have not previously received this award are eligible for nomination. The Awards Committee encourages nomination of any woman who has had a significant impact on the Panhandle of Texas through her local community in one or more of these categories: arts, civic leadership and public service, education, health care, legal, science and technology, and volunteerism.

Winners are selected on the basis of lasting contributions or achievements that have impacted the region. A representative panel of Panhandle citizens, including former award recipients, will select the award winners. Recipients will be honored at an awards ceremony scheduled Nov. 19, noon, at the Amarillo Civic Center.

For further information or to request a nomination form, contact: Women's Forum—Amarillo Area, c/o Carol Autry, P.O. Box 997, Canyon, Texas 79105.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I strongly identified with the man who blew his stack and lost control. The consequences were tragic in his case. I was a lot luckier.

While on my way to North Africa on a troop ship in June, 1943, a member of my unit returned to his berth one night dead drunk, and threw up all over me.

I was so enraged I went berserk. The only thing that kept me from killing the guy was that I couldn't find my trench knife. I realized soon after that he was completely out of it and not responsible for what he did. To have killed him would have been a terrible tragedy for both of us. Later we became good friends.

I learned a lot from that experience, Ann. It taught me compassion for drunks and the value of controlling my temper.—Medford, N.J.

DEAR MEDFORD: Luck was with you. There isn't a person alive who has not committed an act in anger that he or she would give anything to undo.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: There is a painful side to divorce that no one mentions. It is the parents of the children who are getting the divorce.

In my wildest dreams, I never imagined that we would experience such pain as we have suffered since our middle-aged daughter informed us that she was leaving her family to marry another man. It is like a nightmare that doesn't end.

We love our son-in-law, and it tears us up to see what this divorce is doing to him. We dare not take sides for fear of alienating our daughter. She is a dear person, and how all this came about is a mystery to us. It's as if she suddenly took leave of her senses. The children are bewildered and we must comfort them, which is difficult because we need someone to comfort us.

I don't know why I am writing to you, Ann, maybe it's because I need to talk to someone who will be non-judgmental. Thanks for being there.—Heartsick in Wisconsin

DEAR WISCONSIN: Plenty of readers will identify with you, dear. Meanwhile, the future may be better for all concerned. No one knows for sure what a marriage is like except the two people in it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In a recent column a reader gave the word "you" a bum rap, and you let him get away with it. He said the word "you" canput people on the defensive and destroy relationships. The example he gave: "Why didn't you? Why don't you? Why should you? Why couldn't you? The implied message is, "You messed up. It's your fault. You are stupid."

I believe "you" can be a terrific word if used in a positive way. It can improve relationships, not destroy them. For example: "You did a terrific job" or "You look better every time I see you," or "You made my day." Or the best: "Thank you for being so thoughtful." In closing, I'll say, Ann, you are the greatest.—Positive in L.A.

DEAR POSITIVE: Thank "YOU."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hope you will see fit to include this in your column. It really hit me where I live.

Speaker No. 1: "Sometimes I would like to ask God why He allows poverty, famine and injustice when He could do something about it."

Speaker No. 2: "Well—why don't you ask Him?"

Speaker No. 1: "Because I'm afraid God might ask me the same question."

HISPANIC MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

All ministers and pastors are invited to attend the monthly meeting of the Hispanic Ministerial Alliance at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Sirlion Stockade.

The special guest speaker will be David Maldonado, president of the Ministerial Alliance of Amarillo.

COMMUNITY CHURCH

(15th St. and Whittier St.)

Jacob Kurien, a native of India who has recently returned from ministering in South Africa, will be speaking Sunday at the church during the 10:30 a.m. service and the 6 p.m. worship service. The public is invited to attend.

Kurien, who is based in Houston, has been ministering for eight years in the United States and other countries. He will soon be leaving for Australia and New Zealand.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The Continental Singers and Orchestra will be performing at 10 a.m. Sunday at the church. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Richard Strickland will be speaking during revival services Aug. 31-Sept. 4.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Enrollment is continuing for K4 and K5 kindergarten classes. Those wishing to enroll their child must do so no later than Aug. 25.

Kindergarten classes will be held from 8:20-11:20 a.m. three days or five days a week for four-year-olds and regular kindergarten classes are planned from 8:20-11:20 five days a week.

The annual First Baptist Golf Scramble is scheduled Sept. 24. Those interested in playing may sign up beginning Monday.

The church youth will leave at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday to hear Morgan Cryar in concert at the San Jacinto Baptist Church in Amarillo.

Residents to receive scholarships

Four Hereford residents will receive academic scholarships at Amarillo College for the fall semester. They include Beverly Griego, Sophie Suarez, Nancy Turubiates and Truman G. Hill II.

To qualify students have to carry at least 12 semester hours of credit and maintain a 3.00 grade point average. Amarillo College will award 89 academic scholarships for the fall semester.

Fall registration at Amarillo College will be Aug. 25 from 9 a.m. till 8 p.m. in the College Union Building on the Washington Street Campus. Some classes will also be offered in Hereford in cooperation with the Hereford Independent School District for college credit.

Registration for classes offered in Hereford will be Monday, 7-8 p.m., in the Hereford High School Cafeteria. A class schedule is available in the Adviser which was mailed to residents of Hereford.

WARM-UP WISDOM

NEW YORK (AP) — An aerobic dance class warm-up should take more than five minutes.

The Reebok Aerobic Information Bureau says the purpose of a warm-up is to slightly raise the body's temperature so that the joints become lubricated, thus preparing the body for more strenuous activity.

A good warm-up includes gentle movements involving all of the body's large muscles, such as brisk walking, followed by a flexibility segment.

Herd huddle

Hereford High School football coaches huddle with the players in the middle of the field before a play is run in a scrimmage against Lubbock Monterey Thursday. The preseason scrimmage gave coaches an opportunity to watch their players closely from behind the team on offense, compared to watching from the sidelines during the regular season. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

Touchdown reception

Herd varsity outscores Monterey three TDs to two

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor
Two of three Hereford Whiteface teams outscored Lubbock Monterey three touchdowns to two in preseason scrimmages Thursday at Whiteface Stadium, including the Herd varsity. Glenn Parker and Carl DeLozier each scored touchdowns rushing for the Hereford High School varsity, and Clint Cotten caught a touchdown pass from Jason Scott.

The Hereford sophomores also outscored Monterey three touchdowns to two. In the other scrimmage, Monterey's junior varsity scored three times to Hereford's two.

Whiteface head Coach Don Cumpston said his varsity squad made their mistakes but feels the scrimmage was important for a team lacking in varsity experience.

"We know we're inexperienced right now, but there were two things we wanted to accomplish — to get the first competition out of our system and to see what we needed to work on," Cumpston said.

"We made a lot of mistakes, but you do that this early in the year. We played 56 kids in the varsity scrimmage, and only 16 of them had ever played in a varsity game."

"We know we need to get a lot better, and we will. We played 2½ hours and didn't get anybody hurt, so we got a lot of good things out of this scrimmage."

Monterey scored first in the varsity scrimmage with a three-yard touchdown run.

A 40-yard pass from quarterback Jason Scott to Brent Cumpston set up Glenn Parker's three-yard touchdown run for the Whitefaces.

Scott later found Clint Cotten for a nine-yard touchdown pass. Monterey achieved its second touchdown with a five-yard pass.

Another quarterback, Carl DeLozier, rushed four yards for the Whitefaces' other touchdown.

"We're proud of this bunch of kids. They're good kids. I'm proud of their attitude, how they stay together and work together," Cumpston said. Jonathan Haney and Chad Schroeder scored touchdowns for Hereford in the junior varsity scrimmage.

Haney caught a 12-yard scoring pass from Jason Walterscheid, and Schroeder scored with a 10-yard run. Junior varsity offensive Coach Stan Carter said, "Our boys competed real well. We played real hard on offense and defense. I think we have a chance to do pretty good."

"We've got a good bunch of kids. They excelled so well that many of them will be on the varsity. I think we'll have good varsity, junior varsity and sophomore teams," Carter said.

"Hard work and discipline wins games and these boys ought to win their share," he said.

Ron Young, junior varsity defensive coach, said, "Our boys gave a real good effort. We got to the ball real well. We've got a long ways to go."

"We've got lots of young players. We had seven sophomores in there at the end. "Our players are aggressive and they get to the ball well. They'll do all right."

For the Hereford sophomores, Larry Brown, Chris Tardy and Stephen Banner each rushed for one touchdown. Brown's effort was the longest of the three touchdown runs, 53 yards.

Sophomore offensive Coach Oscar Rendon said about his team, "They did real, real good in the scrimmage, both offensively and defensively. We had a good week of workouts."

"In the first week in pads, they've learned a lot. What they've learned showed today in the scrimmage."

Defensive Coach Ed Coplen said, "Defensively, we played real good and got after them. Monterey scored on a long pass and another pass. They've worked real hard this week and they've shown lots of promise."

Hereford scrimmages next week with Amarillo High School — freshman and sophomore scrimmages at Amarillo and junior varsity and varsity scrimmages in Hereford.

A&M faces tough non-conference schedule

Cotton Bowl is Mobil, Aggies are mobile

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The only thing different about the Cotton Bowl this year might be its new name. Texas A&M could be there for the fourth consecutive year.

While it's now the Mobil-Cotton Bowl, the mobile-and-hostile Aggies very well could earn another invitation as the host team because of a talent pool as deep as any in the nation.

A&M, facing a tough non-conference schedule, should know by October what kind of team it will field.

The Aggies, who defeated Notre Dame 35-10 in the Cotton Bowl to finish 10th in the final Associated Press poll, open with Nebraska on Aug. 27 in the "Kickoff Classic" at East Rutherford, N.J.

The next Saturday, A&M visits Louisiana State. After a week off, the Aggies will then play host to Alabama.

Back on the road again, A&M travels to Stillwater, Okla., to play Oklahoma State on the next Saturday.

A&M launches its Southwest Conference title defense on Oct. 1 against Texas Tech at Kyle Field. The Red Raiders were the only SWC team to beat the Aggies in 1987.

Texas, Arkansas, Baylor, Texas Christian, and Tech could give the Aggies trouble. A&M plays SWC games on the road at Arkansas and Texas.

"We should be better on offense than we were last year," A&M coach Jackie Sherrill said. "The schedule is the most difficult we've ever played."

Sherrill, who also is athletic director, was asked why he did it.

"I strongly believe that it does a team more harm to play easy non-conference opponents early," he said. "When conference play begins you're not nearly as ready as you are when you've got some tough games under your belt."

"It might hurt you in the polls but the real gauge of how good a team is is how well it finishes."

The Aggies have some potent offensive weapons in quarterback Bucky Richardson, offensive MVP of the Cotton Bowl, and Darren Lewis, one of the top running backs in the nation.

Sherrill said Richardson, Lance Pavlas and Chris Osgood, a transfer from Mississippi, will all play quarterback.

"We'll play all three of them," Sherrill said. "I'm not as concerned about that as the media and fans seem to be. They all bring something to the table."

The defense is led by All-American linebacker John Roper and linebacker Adam Bob, the defensive MVP of the Cotton Bowl.

The Aggies also must handle the distractions of an NCAA investigation, charging them with 31 violations and seven other allegations of possible coverup. The NCAA's decision could be announced in late August.

The Texas Longhorns could ride the explosive runs of Eric Metcalf to a surprise championship.

Texas loses only seven seniors from a team that defeated Pittsburgh 32-27 in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Coach Dave McWilliams has an experienced defense, a Longhorn tradition. Texas opens at Brigham Young on Sept. 8.

Arkansas is talented, but must develop a passing attack. Coach Ken Hatfield believes he has one through the improvement of Quinn Grove.

"We have exciting potential an offense," Hatfield says. "We have more weapons at the skill positions than we've ever had."

Baylor could be a sleeper if the Bears' young offensive line comes on strong.

Pittsburgh transfer Bobby Sign, considered one of the best centers in the nation, will anchor it.

"Bobby started three years at Pitt and should give us some of the experience we need," Teaff said.

Quarterback Brad Goebel could be the best passer in the SWC.

TCU should be ready to spring an ambush with 31 seniors.

Coach Jim Wacker said, "This is potentially the best team we've had."

However, TCU has to open at Georgia.

Texas Tech has a big play producer in quarterback Billy Joe Tolliver and a corps of speedy wide receivers.

"We've got great skill people but it won't mean much if we can't get the job done up front," Tech Coach Spike Dykes said. "We'll be average as every day wash if the offensive line doesn't come through."

Houston could be troublesome with Jack Pardee's run-and-shoot offense, which piled up a 60-40 victory over Texas last year.

Jason Phillips caught 99 passes last year and the Cougars have one of the top defensive backs in the nation in cornerback Johnny Jackson, who set an NCAA record by returning three interceptions for touchdowns in the win over Texas.

Houston also is under investigation by the NCAA on accusations of illegal payments to players.

Rice's lack of depth keeps the Owls from being legitimate threats although Coach Jerry Berndt said, "I expect our offense to be among the best in the conference."

SMU will not field a team this year because of NCAA probation. The Mustangs will begin workouts in late August under the direction of Forrest Gregg.

"We'll work just right like we're getting ready for a game," Gregg said.

SMU's first game since the NCAA "death penalty" is Sept. 2, 1989 against Rice.

SMU has dropped Oklahoma from its schedule, but the Mustangs will play Notre Dame in non-conference play in two years.

The Mustangs will practice this fall, scrimmage each other and attend some SWC games.

Parker whizzes through an opening

Stadium. Earlier, Parker scored with a three-yard run, one of three Herd touchdowns. Monterey scored twice. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

Rangers double Twins, 4-2

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jeff Russell and his team's manager saw no reason to dwell on mistakes he made while pitching a five-hitter for the Texas Rangers in their 4-2 defeat of the Minnesota Twins.

Russell encountered some trouble in the eighth inning Thursday night, when the Twins scored twice. But a single run in the third and Pete O'Brien's solo homer in the eighth gave Russel a cushion.

"I made a mistake on (Dan) Gladden," who singled in a run in the eighth, Russell admitted. "I blew two fastballs by him and then threw two sliders in a row. But all in all I felt I pitched well, and the guys made some great plays behind me."

Texas manager Bobby Valentine was pleased, too.

"Jeff did a great job. He was throwing real hard. He got in a little trouble in the eighth, but he got out of it," Valentine said.

Twins manager Tom Kelly also had praise for Russell.

"That other guy is a heck of a pitcher. He has a good sinkerball," he said.

Unlike most American League pitchers, Russell says he feels comfortable in the Metrodome.

"I like throwing here," Russell said. "They've got a good mound here. The ball sails a little, but I like it here. I get psyched up against these guys."

Russell, 10-5, retired the first 10 batters he faced before John Moses doubled in the fourth inning after consecutive homers by Pete Incaviglia and Geno Petralli off Twins starter Charlie Lea, 6-7, gave Texas a 2-0 lead in the second.

Russell got a lot out of the first half of the season, winning six of his first seven starts. But he was just 2-5 in his most recent nine outings before Thursday.

With two outs in the eighth, Russell allowed a double by Al Newman, an RBI single by Gladden and a single by Moses. Gladden then scored from third on a wild pitch, but Kirby Puckett struck out to end the threat.

The Rangers added a run in the third on a double by Oddibe McDowell, a sacrifice and a passed ball by Harper. Texas' final run in the eighth came on O'Brien's 12th homer.

Add exciting foods to spice up a picnic

There's nothing more all-American than a picnic!

Get family and friends together, prepare and pack some comestibles (be sure that they taste good cold, and are made with ingredients which will last if the weather's sweltering), plus appropriate cloths and tableware and head for the park. Or, if you'd rather not travel, an ideal picnic environment can be found as near as your own backyard.

Over the years, your family may have developed a repertoire of picnic favorites. If they haven't, or if you'd all simply welcome a change of pace, the recipes below for some Southern specialties offer new flavors and some exciting twists on classic down-home cookery, as well as some traditional taste treats.

CHEESE STRAWS

8 tablespoons butter
½ pound sharp Cheddar or blue cheese
1¾ cups flour
Salt to taste, if desired
Cayenne pepper to taste
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1. Preheat the oven to 300 degrees.
2. Put the butter and cheese in the container of a food processor. Add the flour, salt, cayenne, and Worcestershire. Cover and blend thoroughly. If a food processor is not used, put the flour, salt, and cayenne in a bowl. Add the butter, cheese, and Worcestershire, and using two knives or a pastry blender, blend thoroughly.

3. Use a cookie press outfitted with a houndstooth or star dispenser. Push the dough out onto an ungreased baking sheet to make individual straws. Or, if desired, roll the dough out to ¼-inch thickness and cut it into individual strips, which can be twisted if desired, or other shapes. Arrange the pieces on 1 or 2 ungreased baking sheets.

4. Place the baking sheet or sheets in the oven and bake 30 to 25 minutes, or until the straws are crisp and lightly browned. If you wish a darker color, let them cook longer. Remove and let cool.

YIELD: ABOUT 6 DOZEN.

CORN ON THE COB SALAD

Serves 4 to 6
One-third cup olive oil
3 tablespoons hot pepper vinegar, or to taste
1 tablespoon coarsely chopped fresh marjoram or oregano leaves
1 tablespoon ground mild red chile salt
4 large very fresh ears white or yellow corn
1 small red bell pepper
1 small green bell pepper
1 bunch scallions

1. Make a vinaigrette with the oil, vinegar, marjoram, and red chile. Season with salt.
2. Husk and remove the silk from the corn. Cook the corn in lightly salted simmering water until the corn milk has just set, from 30 seconds to 2 minutes, depending on the freshness of the corn. Refresh the corn under cold water.
3. Seed the peppers and cut them into small dice. Trim the scallions, leaving 2 inches of green, and slice them thinly. Cut the corn from the cob and break the cut corn into kernels. There should be about 4 cups of corn.
4. Put the vegetables in a bowl and toss them with the vinaigrette. Season with salt. Let the salad stand at cool room temperature for an hour or so before serving.

PASTA AND ROASTED PAPPER SALAD WITH PINONS

Serves 8 to 10
1 pound dried pasta, such as macaroni, fusilli, or cavatappi
5 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon ground mild red chile
4 tablespoons fresh lime juice
1½ teaspoons toasted and ground corinader seed
3 cloves garlic, finely minced
6 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley leaves

1 large red bell peppers, roasted, seeded, peeled, and chopped

4. Anaheim, Numex Big Jim, or New Mexico chiles, roasted, seeded, peeled, and chopped
½ cup toasted pinons
Salt and freshly ground black pepper

Lettuce and tomatoes, optional

1. Cook the pasta until al dente; then drain and toss it with 1 tablespoon of the oil.

2. In a small bowl mix the remaining oil, ground chile, lime, coriander, garlic, cilantro, and parsley. Toss with the pasta.

3. Add the peppers, chiles, pinons, and salt and pepper. Toss well and taste for seasoning. Let the salad stand for at least 30 minutes before serving; or refrigerate for a few hours and allow to come to cool room temperature before serving.

4. Serve the salad alone or on a bed of greens, garnished with ripe tomatoes, if desired.

SHRIMP IN MUSTARD SAUCE

¼ cup tarragon-flavored vinegar
¼ cup red-wine vinegar
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
¼ cup dry mustard
2 teaspoons hot red-pepper flakes
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup vegetable oil
¼ cup minced parsley, preferably flat-leaf
6 green onions, chopped
2½ lbs. uncooked medium shrimp, peeled, deveined
1 (3-oz) pkg. crab and shrimp boil
Cucumber slices
Crackers

In a 3-quart bowl, whisk together vinegars, black pepper, mustard, pepper flakes and salt. While whisking, slowly pour in oil until slightly thickened. Stir in parsley and green onions. Set sauce aside. To cook shrimp, fill a 6-quart pot half full of water; add crab and shrimp boil. Bring mixture to a boil; boil 3 to 4 minutes. Add shrimp to boiling water; cook just until pink, 2 to 3 minutes. Quickly pour shrimp into a colander; shake to remove excess water. Immediately stir drained shrimp into reserved sauce. Cover and refrigerate overnight or up to 2 days. To serve, spoon into a glass serving bowl. Place bowl in center of a platter. Serve with cucumber slices and crackers. Serve with wooden picks or cocktail forks. Makes 8 to 10 appetizer servings.
