Warner expansion latest of seed successes

By SPEEDY NIEMAN
Editor-Publisher

George Warner Seed Co. of Hereford is nearing completion of another expansion project—one that will add a new warehouse with 36,000 square feet and provide an additional 15 new metal storage bins with a capacity for storing 3.3 million pounds of seed.

The project not only includes a substantial capital investment in the community, but five new jobs have already been created by the expansion, according to George Warner. The company has 32 employees.

Purpose of the expansion, says Warner, "is to endeavor to take advantage of the opportunities in increasing the sales of hybrid sorghum seed." It also means potential economic growth for the community. Warner points out that the home-owned company has 20 stockholders, "all who work here or have worked here," and the company has 42 local seed growers.

"What we sell in other areas of the country brings money back to the stockholders and growers," points out Warner. The prospect for increased sales of hybrid sorghum seed is in the midwest. "Most of our markets in the midwest are small hybrid corn companies who relate in size to us in the southwest," said Warner. "They have their own corn breeding programs but some want to align with a company that has its own sorghum plant breeding program," he added.

The latest expansion project is just one in a series of many for Warner since 1956. A local farmer with a dream, Warner borrowed money to erect his first building at 120 S. Lawton 32 years ago. "I bought one-half of Block 31 from Carl McCaslin," recalls Warner, "and later borrowed money to buy the other half when Carl had another interested buyer for the land."

"When we first started the seed business, we'd thresh during the daytime, then haul the seed to town and run it through the cleaner until about midnight," remembers Warner.

McCaslin erected the first building for Warner with nothing down and arranged a 15-year payout. More warehouse space and equipment was added through the years, then Arrowhead Mills acquired some of the buildings. Warner then bought Block 32, to the east, and later acquired more land across New York Avenue. Warner was one of the founders of Arrowhead Mills. That company, headed by Frank Ford, now owns three-fourths of the original block of land where Warner started operations. Warner Seed was incorporated in 1966.

From that small beginning, Warner Seed has grown into a huge company doing business on an international scale. Warner says it shows what can be done "if you won't take 'no' for an answer."

The modest Warner gives much credit for the success of the company to his co-workers and stockholders. "I don't claim brilliance, just perseverance," states Warner.

New bins

George Warner Seed Company recently added 15 new bins to increase its seed storage capacity.

Bill Albright, former manager of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is still putting his "H-3" slogan to good use. He's using the "hustle, hustle, hustle" slogan with his work as president and CEO of the Northeast Houston Chamber of Commerce. Bill and his wife, Inez, were recent visitors in Hereford and came by The Brand to chat.

After leaving Hereford in the mid 70s, Albright was manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce before moving to the Houston area. He served as president and manager of one Houston chamber and retired, only to be called back to start a new Northeast C of C in Houston. Bill initiated the H-3 slogan while in Hereford as a take-off on the hospitable, hustlin' Hereford slogan. It was good to see the Albrights!

Another interesting visitor to The Brand office last week was Keith Guthrie of California. Guthrie's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. B.F. Guthrie, owned and operated The Brand for two and one-half years in 1915-17.

Keith is a retired educator. While in Hereford, he had lunch at the Senior Citizens Center and visited with a few old timers. His dad has 12 years newspaper experience in Missouri when he moved his wife and four sons to Hereford in 1915. B.F. Guthrie built The Brand a new home near Main and 4th streets (across the street from the present post office) in 1916. He also purchased new equipment to publish The Brand on all machine-set type for the first time.

All health forced Guthrie to sell The Brand to Earl Gough in the winter of 1917. The Guthries had another brief association with The Brand in 1927 when Keith's brother, Gwynne, filled in as editor during the summer months. Gwynne was a former journalism teacher at New Mexico A&M College in Las Cruces.

We had an enjoyable visit with George Warner Tuesday afternoon. We went out to the seed company to ask Warner about his latest expansion project, and we found him in the greenhouse watering some of his plants. He complained that no one else was interested in the task, but we have a hunch that George was doing just what he wanted to do.

Warner is from the "old school" and his business philosophy reflects that attitude. He points out that not all prospective employees agree with his 49-hour workweek, and a few employees have gone their way over the years because they did not see the need in putting the interests of the customer first.

Warner believes there is a place for businesses who take care of customers first, and his company will take its chances for growth on that concept.

Sales tax rebate up again

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

For the eighth consecutive month, most area cities recorded an increase in their monthly sales tax rebates received from State Comptroller Bob Bullock. Hereford will receive a sales tax rebate check for $65,336. That's $5,500 more than the August 1987 check. For the year, Hereford has received $395,002, up 6.8 percent from the $369,933 through the first eight months of 1987.

The largest increase among area cities was Plainview's rebate. Plainview's August check is $199,178, 53.6 percent higher than last August's check. For the year, Plainview has received $1.1 million, a 43.5 percent increase from last year's eight-month total of $769,746.

The only area city to show a decrease was Friona, down 11 percent with an August rebate of $12,679. For the year, Friona is off 4.7 percent with a total of $67,372 for 1988, compared to $70,710 through the first eight months of 1987.

Other area cities include: —Dimmitt, $27,294 this month, a 67 percent increase; $142,209, a 44 percent increase for the year; —Vega, $2,979, a 4.1 percent increase over August 1987; year-to-date, $16,260, a 10 percent increase;

—Canyon, $38,689, a 17 percent increase for the month; for 1988, $248,468, a 3.1 percent increase;

—Dumas, $66,726 this month; for the year, a 12.3 percent increase to $430,195;

—Pampa, $145,634, a 14.7 percent increase from August 1987; for the year, 10.8 percent higher at $885,429;

—Borger, $116,599, a 15.2 percent hike; for the year, $691,451, 15 percent more;

—Littlefield, $29,493, 11.6 percent more; for the year, $171,987, up 5.1 percent;

—Levelland, $74,951, up 5.2 percent; in 1988, a 17 percent increase to $484,499;

—Amarillo, $1.4 million, an 11 percent surge; for the year, $8.3 million, higher by 7.6 percent;

—Lubbock, $1.61 million, up 19 percent; for 1988, $9.4 million, 12.6 percent more.

Bullock sent 1,043 checks to cities for a total of $113.5 million, another big statewide increase. "The Texas economy is steadily improving," Bullock said. "Cities and counties across the state are still seeing the benefits."

Deaf Smith County will get a check this month for $31,187.58. For the year, the county has received $130,483 from the new county allocation.

Local Roundup

Police arrest five

The Hereford Police Department arrested a 34-year-old man on charges of driving while intoxicated, having no liability insurance and was arrested on a warrant for issuing bad checks; a man, 23, was charged with violating a protective order; a 25-year-old man was arrested on charges of public intoxication; a man, 34, was arrested on a warrant for having no liability insurance and a 29-year-old woman was charged with violating her probation and disorderly conduct.

A .22-caliber rifle and a BB gun, all worth $125, were stolen from a residence in the 600 block of Stanton Street; 16 cassette tapes valued at $160 were taken from the 100 block of Hereford Calle; a movie rental store is filing charges against a woman for not returning a video cassette recorder; and a lamp and picture were stolen from a residence in the 500 block of Avenue H.

Nine citations were issued and three minor accidents were reported.

County arrests burglar

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office charged a man with burglary Tuesday night after Friona police found the man with a cash box stolen from Tide Products southwest of Hereford the same night.

Loy Smith, chief deputy, said Michael Wooldridge, 22, confessed that he kicked open a back door at the business and stole the box containing $147.72, credit cards and other items.

He is being held in lieu of a $5,000 bond in the Deaf Smith County Jail.

Other arrests include a 37-year-old man for violating his probation and a man, 26, for a probation revocation.

Rain chance continues

Tonight will be cloudy with a 40 percent chance of thunderstorms. Locally heavy rains are possible with a low near 65. South winds will be 5-15 mph.

Thursday will be partly sunny with a 20 percent chance of thunderstorms and a high near 90. South winds will be 10-15 mph.

This morning's low at KPAN was 65 after a high Tuesday of 81. KPAN has received .20 inch of rain in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today.

City to spray Friday

The City of Hereford will spray for flies and mosquitoes by plane Friday morning, weather permitting.

In case of inclement weather, the spraying will be held on the next fair-weather morning.

Persons affected by the spray should take necessary precautions.

GOP will meet Thursday

The Deaf Smith County Republican Party will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Community Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Local GOP candidates will make brief presentations, the state convention will be reviewed, and the platforms of the Republicans and Democrats will be examined.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

School board meets Thursday

The Hereford school board will meet Thursday at 6 p.m. at the Hereford School Administration Building.

The agenda includes a possible tax increase and a likely pay increase for teachers; the second reading of guidelines for substitute pay, football tickets and the at-risk plan; the first reading of a job description for a bilingual director, gifts and solicitations policy, and activity funds management;

Opening of bids for the old ag facility on North Avenue K and for a high school parking lot; a review of school construction; selection of an auditor for the 1988-89 school year; and various committee and administrative reports.

Babbling Brooks

Dr. Lauro Cavazos as secretary of education?

Not a bad idea.

But for five months?

That duck is so lame he could roost in the handicapped zone in a parking lot.

There is only one person I can think of that would try to go in there and do something drastic and quick. That's H. Ross Perot.

Yes, Mr. Perot would be a fine man to have in there as the titular head of our nation's schools. I think the rest of the country should have to endure what we are enduring.

If you want to find someone to blame for the school district's tax increase that will probably be passed Thursday night, don't blame the school board, superintendents past and present, tax abatement and economic development.

Just thank H. Ross Perot.

No doubt there were some reforms needed. No doubt there have been some good things come from House Bill 72. The main thing that was not considered was how we were going to pay for all of that stuff.

The excuse that the state used to be flush with money is invalid: The state was already going through a budget crisis, thanks to the sudden drop in oil prices coupled with steadily deteriorating farm prices and other debilitating economies in the state, when the educational reforms were passed.

You can't blame this tax increase on the school board or anyone else on the local level: You are paying for items mandated by a state that doesn't have the dollars to fund the items.

I am sure the school board would like to tell the state to put its money where its mouth is, but there's no money to put there. Instead, we're funding state goodies at the local level.

When you think about the good things H. Ross Perot has done, remember that the amount your school taxes go up this fall is thanks to that same man.

Back to Dr. Cavazos.

Five months is a terrible short time for a Cabinet member to do something memorable, I suppose, but I wonder if he's looking at the long haul.

This could be a post that is being filled with someone recommended by George Bush, and it could be, if Bush win, a 4 year, 5 month job instead of a five month job.

Course, there are worse people Mr. Mike could put in there should he win.

An AP story pointed out that he would be taking a salary cut if he accepted the post. It didn't point out at the same time that he was fixing to get one anyway, since he was leaving the presidency of Tech to devote more time to the Health Sciences Center.

Film draws mixed reviews

UNIVERSAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — "The Last Temptation of Christ," a film that is enraging segments of the Christian community for its reinterpretation of the Bible, is drawing mixed reviews as art on the secular front.

Included in the film is some nudity, Mary Magdalene plying her trade as a prostitute, and the scene that has most outraged its antagonists, in which the crucified Jesus hallucinates he marries her and has sex with her.

Film critics who viewed the R-rated movie in a Universal Studios screening room Tuesday, including Michael Medved of "Sneak Previews," Charles Champlin of the Los Angeles Times and Bob Thomas of The Associated Press, said they were unimpressed overall.

"It's the height of irony that this level of controversy could be generated by a movie this awful," said Medved.

"An intellectual exercise of the 'What if?' variety," Thomas said. "At times moving, often overwrought, and at least 40 minutes too long."

Daily Variety raved about the film. "A film of challenging ideas, and not salacious provocations," the industry paper's review said.

And Time magazine's Richard Corliss wrote in this week's edition, "Those willing to accompany (director Martin) Scorsese on his dangerous ride through the Gospels may believe he has created his masterpiece."

Scorsese, who also directed "Taxi Driver" and "Raging Bull," defended the film Tuesday night on ABC-TV's "Nightline."

Regarding the sex scenes, he said, "It was important to show him go through all the steps of an ordinary life, to be married, to make love with his wife for the purposes of having children."

He denied any blasphemous intent.

"I'm a Catholic, raised Catholic," he said. "We have a right to explore God in our way."

As the critics watched, 150 protesters, none of whom had seen the film, rallied on another part of the studio lot to castigate Universal and its parent company, MCA Inc.

At the climax of the protest orchestrated by the Rev. R.L. Hymers Jr., a Baptist preacher, a mock crucifixion depicted a bloodied Jesus screaming as a man portraying MCA Chairman Lew Wasserman nailed him to a 10-foot cross.

Wasserman, encountered later, would not acknowledge a reporter's questions.

Earlier protests have drawn charges of anti-Semitism. Other Christian ministers denounced a march led by Hymers at a synagogue where he thought Wasserman worshipped.

There was no demonstration outside a New York screening.

Regarding the protests, Scorsese said: "I am not surprised at people being shocked by the idea of it. Not everybody's going to like it." But, he added, "I'm surprised at the anti-Semitism that's been brought around in the protesting."

"It's very important that people understand this film is not based on the Gospels. It's based on a work of fiction."

Scorsese said he was bothered by the Roman Catholic church's objectionable rating.

"It disturbs me I know but I do know the church has to protect what they feel is its flock. I do know that the book (on which the movie is based) is used in seminaries at times to open discussions."

The U.S. Catholic Conference said Tuesday it is urging the nation's 53 million Catholics not to see the film.

Reagan prepares to sign $3.9 billion farm aid package

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan plans to sign a $3.9 billion aid package for drought-stricken farmers that cleared Congress with overwhelming support in both the House and Senate.

"We have kept the faith," House Agriculture Committee Chairman E. "Kika" de la Garza, D-Texas, said Tuesday as the House approved the bill on a 383-18 vote. "Our promise has been kept."

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Reagan plans to sign the bill, which whisked through Congress in a matter of weeks. It emerged from a House-Senate conference committee last week and won Senate approval Monday.

The measure provides relief for farmers suffering crop losses of more than 35 percent of expected harvest due to drought or a variety of other causes, including hail, insect damage or even excessive moisture.

For damage exceeding the 35 percent eligibility level, the Agriculture Department would provide payments equal to 65 percent of lost income.

Also in the bill are larger payments for farmers with extraordinary losses. They would be eligible for payments equal to 90 percent of income lost as a result of crop losses exceeding 75 percent of expected yield.

The money for these payments is expected to come from savings that the government will realize as a result of the drought itself.

Income-support payments, known to farmers as deficiency payments, are based in part on how much the individual farmers produce. Destruction of crops by the drought has thus lowered the amount that the government-owned Commodity Credit Corp. must spend on these payments.

Some urban lawmakers in recent years have been highly critical of the amount the government spends on farm subsidies, but the drought bill largely escaped such criticism.

The House had been viewed as the toughest test. Unlike the Senate, it has members who represent no agricultural interests of any kind and some relish playing the role of fiscal watchdog when farm bills are on the floor.

Rep. Bob Walker, R-Pa., did complain about a $5.5 billion authorization contained in the bill to control water temperatures in the Sacramento River near California's Shasta Dam as a way to enhance salmon spawning.

"So the bill is going to take care of yuppies, too, and make sure their salmon mousse supply is not interfered with?" Walker said. He grumbled that the public "is sick and tired of Congress using every sort of emergency to pork barrel."

But there was virtually no political opposition to the general idea of drought relief.

"This bill is the product of a tremendous concerted effort to produce relief for drought-stricken farmers," said Rep. Edward R. Madigan, R-Ill.

Errors reduce govt. checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten years of errors in federal records could cut the Social Security checks of 40 million recent retirees by $50 a month, a union says, and government auditors say there's little chance of fixing the mistakes.

Although a new agreement between two government agencies goes a long way toward preventing similar errors in the future, "early reconciliation results for past (error) backlogs are not encouraging," said Joseph F. Delfico, senior associate director of the General Accounting Office.

Kenneth L. Blaylock, president of the American Federation of Government Employees, which represents 60,000 employees of the Social Security Administration, said the discrepancies could affect the pensions of one-third of all recent retirees.

Testifying Tuesday before two

House Ways and Means subcommittees, Blaylock said a recently announced plan by the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service to correct the records "is a cruel hoax and a charade." He said the two agencies are unwilling to commit the money and manpower needed to fix the problem.

At issue are the worker earnings reports that employers file with SSA; these reports determine how big a Social Security pension workers eventually receive. Employers must report once a year to SSA but four times a year to IRS.

For a number of reasons, those reports do not always match. Between 1978 and 1984, GAO estimates, employers reported $58.8 billion less to SSA than to IRS. That means the IRS collected and turned over to the Social Security trust funds more than $7.7 billion in taxes that are not credited to any worker's account.

That is only about 0.5 percent of all wages that SSA recorded during those years, but the discrepancy is enough to affect the pensions of 10 million retirees by about $17 a month, GAO estimated. Blaylock said the figures could reach 40 million and $50 a month unless the government makes a better effort to clear up past-year errors.

GAO surveyed what SSA had done to correct 3.5 million employer reports that make up the 1978-83 backlog and found that as of June 10, "most of the differences in employer reports to the two agencies have not been resolved and likely will not be."

"Most employers SSA contacted either have not responded, are no longer in business or no longer have the necessary records," GAO's Delfico told the subcommittees.

Another 2.1 million employer reports for 1984 through 1986 are being checked as well.

Senators seem close to agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican senators accused each other of seeking political advantage but appeared close to a grudging agreement on new U.S. aid to Nicaragua's Contra rebels.

After days of inconclusive negotiations, some Republican senators said many of their number appeared ready to accept a Democratic-drafted compromise Contra aid plan which holds out the possibility of releasing stockpiled arms to the rebels opposing Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government.

If agreement is reached, it will be because a majority of Republicans realized that the alternative may be no aid at all, these senators said.

"I go home with high hopes," said Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., at the end of another long day of repeated conferences on and off the Senate floor.

But he added: "Time is running out. The sands in the hour glass are falling, one by one."

Byrd made clear that if there is to be a unified Senate position on Contra aid, including the possibility of renewing some military assistance, the concessions will have to be made by the GOP.

"On my side of the aisle, it's a fragile coalition and I'm not going to tangle with it," Byrd said.

Democrats like Bentsen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Solomon Ortiz says he's had conservative Southern Democrats tell him they can now stand behind the party's nominee for president because Sen. Lloyd Bentsen is on the ticket.

Conservative Democratic leaders around Dixie say they're ready to campaign with Michael Dukakis, partly because he's chosen the pro-business, pro-defense Texan as his vice presidential running mate.

"Once they selected Bentsen they came to me, very conservative Democrats, and said: 'Now we can stand with this candidate on the platform, and now we can campaign with Dukakis, because of Bentsen,'" said Ortiz, a Corpus Christi Democrat. "They were from Alabama, Mississippi, all over the South."

Many boll weevil Democrats in Congress, who voted for Reagan's programs and avoided their party's presidential ticket in previous elections, say Bentsen's presence has energized them and their constituents.

Other factors play into the support Dukakis is apparently gathering across the South — part is the absence of President Reagan as a candidate and part is Dukakis himself, say some Democrats who see him as a tough and astute manager.

"For the first time in modern history, the nominee moved to the right in selecting his running mate," Rep. Charles Stenholm, a conservative Texan who can be considered the "head boll weevil" in the House, said Tuesday. "It's what we always ask for and finally received."

"I know of no candidate ... for Congress who is running away from the ticket," said Stenholm, who remembers other election years when Democrats would not even appear on the same platform as the presidential nominee.

Although Stenholm supported previous Democratic tickets for president, he "couldn't influence one vote."

But Texas Republican Party Chairman Fred Meyer says the congressional support this time around is "all political rhetoric ... They're doing it for political expediency. They're ready to paper over everything to win."

Meyer said the conservative Democrats were linking themselves with Bentsen "because in fact they're still running away from Dukakis."

Conservative Democrats agree with Bentsen's stand on gun control, capital punishment, aid to the Nicaraguan Contras and taxes, while they disagree with Dukakis' position, Meyer said. But "it's a Dukakis-Bentsen ticket and ultimately Bentsen will end up with all of Dukakis' programs."

Around the South, however, Democrats are lining up to campaign with their party's ticket.

Sen. David Boren wants to appear with Dukakis and Bentsen if they come to Oklahoma and Georgia Gov. Frank Harris says he's willing to serve in any capacity on the campaign. Rep. Marvin Leath of Texas says he's excited about a Democratic ticket for the first time in years.

Bazaar craft items

Thousands of craft and art objects will be for sale during the Hereford Fine Arts Association's annual Jubilee of Arts Bazaar set from noon until 6 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday at the Hereford Community Center. The association's founder and charter member, Jean Lyles, at left, displays a hand-painted carousel horse, and Stacy Lesly exhibits a T-shirt, bandanas, socks, necklaces, and barrettes, all of which will be for sale during the bazaar. Local craftsmen and artists will represent Dumas, Plainview, Vernon, Amarillo, Canyon, Lubbock, Dimmitt, Silverton, Bovina, Tulsa, Okla., and Texico, N.M.

Hereford residents attend convention

Catholic Life Insurance Union, a Texas based fraternal benefit society, held its 81st convention July 22-24 at the Worthington Hotel in Fort Worth.

Representing the 321 member Hereford branch were Raymond Artho, Gwendolyn Hacker and Leander

J. Reinart Jr. Approximately 1,000 people, including delegates and guests, were in attendance.

Highlights of the meeting included an Awards Luncheon honoring the Twelve Apostles or outstanding representatives, the Branch of the Year, and the Fraternalist of the Year. In addition, in a spirit of ecumenicalism, convention delegates voted to allow non-Catholics to join Catholic Life.

Andrew Lange of Rowena, Clifford Friesenhahn of San Antonio, Johnny Martinka of Jarrell, and Henry Boenisch of Houston were elected to four year terms on the Board of Directors. All except Lange had served since 1982. They join President J. Michael Belz of San Antonio, Dan May of George West, Alvin Snoga of San Antonio, Herbert Popp of Garwood and Andy Roewe of Windthorst as the governing body. Johnny Martinka was elected as Chairman of the Board.

In 1849, Elizabeth Blackwell was the first American woman to become a doctor.

Ann Landers

DEAR TEENAGE READERS: A while back I reprinted the 1978 Sex Test and invited you to submit an updated version that reflected the '80s. I promised to run it.

Sorry to go back on my word, but most of the tests I received were not fit for a family newspaper. Here are a few printable questions that reflect the changes during the last decade:

Ever had sex in your parents' bedroom to get back at them for being too strict?

Ever made a blood vow as proof of sincerity? (You both cut your wrists with a razor blade and mix bloods.)

Ever play Scramble Pills? (You collect all the pills from the medicine cabinet, put them in a bowl and take turns gulping down six at a time.)

Ever faked an orgasm?

Ever give a guy a punctured condom so it would break and you could hook him?

See what I mean, folks?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your answer to "Lubbock Fan" was terrible. Where in the Bible does it say Jesus had long hair, dummy? There were no cameras in those days and the artists who painted Our Lord's pictures were only guessing.

Jesus lived under the Jewish law and followed it to the letter. In Corinthians 11:14 it says, "Does not nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair it is a dishonor to him?"

I'll bet you heard plenty about this from your readers.—Roseville, Mich.

DEAR ROSE: You're right. I did. But it's good to know that so many of you are reading the Bible. I'll bet I received 5,000 letters with that quote from Corinthians. Thanks to all who wrote.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Five weeks ago, I relocated out of state and took my cat along with me. The move was distressing to "Maggie" and she ran off.

I notified three organizations interested in the prevention of cruelty to animals, placed newspaper ads and posted signs, but I didn't receive a single call. Sad to say the cat was not wearing an ID tag because she was never allowed out of the apartment.

Yesterday "Maggie" showed up at the back door emaciated and in shock. In spite of the valiant efforts of a skilled veterinarian, she didn't make it.

I am heartbroken and sickened at the thought of her suffering. If she had had a tag on she would have had a chance.

Please, Ann, tell your readers that if they plan on moving or are considering taking their pets on vacation, they should be sure to put name tags on them. I wish I had.—In Memory of Maggie (Colorado)

DEAR COLO.: Sorry about Maggie. The lessons learned best are those that come with a big price tag.

Thanks for reminding us.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 10 years old and read your column every day. This is my first time to write. It's about people who visit and don't know when to go home.

I have a suggestion. Tell the couple to start a fight. Nobody likes to be around when a man and wife yell at each other. The company will leave fast. I know because it works in our house.—John L. (Baton Rouge)

DEAR JOHN: Great idea. Here's another one from an 11-year-old in Tampa. "Bring out a box of oatmeal and say, 'It's nearly time for breakfast, folks.'"

Drugs are everywhere. They're easy to get, easy to use and even easier to get hooked on. If you have questions about drugs and drug use, Ann Landers' newly revised booklet "The Lowdown on Dope," will give you the answers. Send $3 plus a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope (45 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

King Henry IV of France signed the Edict of Nantes in 1598. It granted rights to the Protestant Huguenots.

19 83 Property Tax Rates in Deaf Smith General Hospital District

This notice concerns 19 88 property tax rates for Deaf Smith Gen Hosp. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. Compare it to the tax rate the taxing unit proposes for this year. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Including Charmayne James, Pam Minick

Top cowgirls to compete in 1988 All-Girl Rodeo

Four-time Women's Professional Rodeo Association barrel racing champion Charmayne James of Clayton, N.M., will make her team roping debut this weekend in the All-Girl Rodeo in Hereford.

James will team up with Pam Minick of Roanoke, Texas, and Jackie Winters of Hereford in the deading and heeling event in Sunday's performance at the Hereford Riders Club Arena.

Times for the All-Girl Rodeo performances are 7:30 p.m. Friday, 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Events in the rodeo will include bull riding, bareback bronc riding, team roping, tie down calf roping, steer un-decorating, and barrel racing.

James leads the 1988 barrel race standings in the PWRA. She was the PWRA National Finals Rodeo champion in 1984, 1986 and 1987, the WPROA year-end Winston champion in 1985 and 1986.

The Clayton cowgirl's other titles have included WPROA Wrangler Series champion in 1985, 1986 and 1987, and the WPROA Coors & Dodge champion in 1986 and 1987. She was named the WPROA rookie of the year in 1984.

James won all her championships as a teenager the last four seasons. Her parents own the Clayton Cattle Feeders feedlot at Clayton.

Minick, who is serving her third term as vice president of the Women's Professional Rodeo Association, is fourth in this season's team roping standings. She is a former Miss Rodeo America and is a co-host of the Rodeo Sports Page television show.

A past breakaway calf roping champion in the WPROA, Minick holds an announcer's card in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and can be seen on ESPN broadcasts of the National Finals Rodeo each year in December in Las Vegas, Nev.

Minick will be a host at the American Junior Rodeo Association Finals in Snyder on Saturday.

Charmayne and Scamper

Rodeo last year. A three-time National Finals Rodeo champion, James comes to Hereford this weekend to compete in team roping in the All-Girl Rodeo.

Among the All-Girl Rodeo entrants

in the All-Girl Rodeo Sunday at the Hereford Riders Club Arena. It will be the team roping debut for James, who is from Clayton, N.M.

Hereford boys win honors at wrestling camp

Three boys from Hereford won honors last week in the Maverick Wrestling Club Camp in Amarillo.

Drew Radford and Billy Bankston each placed first in their weight classes and were honored for meeting the Junior Olympics requirements. Nathan Henderson placed third in his weight class and received honorable mention for Junior Olympics requirements.

The wrestling camp was held at the Maverick Club Aug. 1-5 and was headed by Henry Harmony. Wrestling coaches from the University of Arizona, the University of Kansas, the University of Oklahoma and the University of Nebraska instructed young wrestlers.

Radford lost only one match during the camp in the 85-pound class for 14 and 15-year-olds. Bankston lost only two matches in the 144-pound class for 15 and 16-year-olds.

Henderson received the "Most Improved Wrestler" award. He competed in the 132-pound class for 14 and 15-year-olds.

Although he was not Secretariat's regular rider, jockey Eddie Maple handled the great stretch-runner in his last race, a one-sided victory in the Canadian International at Woodbine in 1973.

At Wrigley Field with Cubs beating Mets 6-4

First official night game is played

By JOE MOOSHIL
AP Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — So it came to pass.

Officially, it was the first night game played in Wrigley Field and it will go down in history as a 6-4 victory for the Chicago Cubs over the New York Mets.

Gone was the circus-like atmosphere and hoopla that abounded Monday night for "the first night game." That lasted all of 3 1-2 innings when the skies opened up and washed away the initial attempt under the new light standards.

Gone were the dignitaries and celebrities and the members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. Missing was the "let's party" attitude which had prevailed along with the bunting which decorated the upper deck.

Instead, they played baseball. Exciting baseball.

The excitement began with Mike Bielecki's first pitch for a strike. It mounted when Met Howard Johnson became the first strikeout victim and Cub Mark Grace had the first hit, a single to center in the first inning.

The firsts kept mounting with Len Dykstra's two-run homer, following a single by Wally Backman in the fifth, gave the Mets a 2-0 lead before the Cubs went to work.

"Last night was exciting," Cubs Manager Don Zimmer said. "The atmosphere was good, but not like last night when it was unbelievable. Things are now back to normal."

"Last night was special," said Ryne Sandberg. "Tonight it was less of a circus, it felt more natural. It was a good, exciting ball game."

The excitement started to peak for the crowd of 36,399, the largest of the season, in the bottom of the fifth when the Cubs finally scored a run. Vance Law singled and scored on the first of three hits by Rafael Palmeiro, a triple which extended his hitting streak to 18 games.

Kevin McReynolds tried to surround the ball but he slipped and fell.

"He made the right cut," Mets Manager Davey Johnson said. "The wind was blowing away from him towards the line. He makes that catch nine times out of 10."

McReynolds, the only player to complain about the lights which "Kinda reminded me of a minor league park," said "I was playing him very shallow. I turned off to the side and the turf gave way."

Zimmer's recent tirades of the Cubs not playing team baseball paid off in the sixth when Chicago tied the game.

Shawon Dunston singled, stole second and went to third as Sandberg gave himself up by turning an inside pitch into a ground out to first. Grace walked and Andre Dawson beat a double play attempt by inches as Dunston scored.

Dawson grounded to first, where Keith Hernandez fielded the ball and threw to Johnson covering second. Johnson's relay was on target, but Sid Fernandez, 6-10, was a step late in covering first.

"That's what I've been preaching," Zimmer said. "Those are the little things you have to do to win ballgames. Sandberg moving the runner along with two strikes on him was a tough play. Dawson really turned on the speed."

Then came the turning point in the seventh when the Cubs rallied for four runs.

With one out, Palmeiro, who called it "The most exciting game we've played all year because of the lights and because the Mets are in first place," singled. Damon Berryhill flied out.

But pinch-hitter Jody Davis doubled off the center-field wall as Dykstra made a valiant attempt for the ball, crashing into the vine.

Johnson called on Roger McDowell, who failed to stop the Cubs. Successive singles by Dunston, Sandberg, Grace and Dawson capped the rally before Terry Leach came in to retire Law.

The Mets had one final shot. Goose Gossage came in to pitch the ninth and gave up a quick run on a double by Gary Carter and a single by Dave Magadan.

The fans booed. Gossage set down the last three batters. The fans cheered.

It will be hot, hot, hot again at PGA championship

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

EDMOND, Okla. (AP) — While most of the players praise Pete Dye's devilish Oak Tree Golf Club, some wish they were playing the 70th PGA Championship at another time of the year.

Near 100 degree heat baked the tournament site during Tuesday's practice rounds, then a tremendous rainstorm in the afternoon chased the players to the clubhouse.

A prime topic during the storm was why the PGA, the last of the four major championships, should be played in the dog days of August where heat and storms are not uncommon.

"In my modest opinion I think they should move the PGA to May before the U.S. Open," British Open champion Seve Ballesteros said. "It's always too hot. It was hot and humid in Florida last year and we had storms every day. It's hot here and we're also getting storms. The heat is always a big problem at the PGA." Ballesteros suggested that the heat was one of the reasons Scotland's Sandy Lyle, the Masters' champion, decided to skip the tournament.

"Maybe if it was May Sandy would be here," Ballesteros said. "I don't think he likes it real hot."

There is precedent for a move although there is a busy schedule of PGA Tour events in May, including tournaments in Las Vegas and Texas.

"We played the 1971 PGA in Florida (at the Palm Beach Gardens) and it was a great time to play it," said Jack Nicklaus, who also won that tournament. "I guess it all depends on what course you play it on."

"You couldn't play the PGA in February or May in Oklahoma because the bermuda fairways wouldn't be ready. In this instance, I guess you can say August in Oklahoma is fine."

Greg Norman said "There's nothing wrong with playing this time of year." Then he paused as thunder boomed and continued... "except for this."

Norman said the heat was a problem, but sympathized with the PGA because of schedule problems.

Despite all the clubhouse theory, the tournament will be held in August again next year, at Kemper Lakes Golf Club in Hawthorn Woods, Ill.

The heavy rains that broke the heat wave late Tuesday also did the players a favor by softening the 7,015-yard course, rated by The United States Golf Association as the toughest Par-71 in the nation.

Nicklaus got in nine holes before the storm hit.

"I'd say it is very difficult," Nicklaus said. "They say it's the toughest in the world and I'd say the first half of it is. It looks to me as though it will be more difficult to score than at the PGA West."

The PGA West in LaQuinta, Calif., is rated by the USGA as the hardest par-72 course in the country.

Larry Nelson will be the defending champion when the 72-hole, $1-million tournament begins on Thursday. It carries a first place prize of $160,000.

After edging Giants, 3-2

Astros 1/2 game out of first

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — After such a long wait, Terry Puhl feels like he's a member of the Houston Astros once again.

Once tabbed for greatness, Puhl suffered through numerous injuries and bench time until the past six weeks when he's emerged as a contributor to the Astros title aspirations.

Puhl got three hits, scored two runs, including the winning run, and boosted his average to .360 Tuesday night, helping the Astros beat San Francisco 3-2.

The victory pulled the Astros within one-half game of first place Los Angeles in the National League's Western Division.

"Any player wants to be a functioning part of the club," Puhl said. "You've got to make the most of your opportunities. I've been around long enough to know that."

Because of his performance this season, Puhl has forced Manager Hal Lanier into a four-man outfield rotation.

"We beat a team that's right behind us in the race, so that's more important than any individual considerations," Puhl said.

With the score tied at 2-2, Puhl singled in the eighth inning, stole second base and went to third on the same play on catcher Bob Brenly's throwing error.

He scored the winning run on Glenn Davis' single to centerfield.

Davis missed six games during the Astros' most recent road trip because of a knee injury.

He was on a hot streak prior to the injury and he returned to the lineup without missing a beat.

"I don't have any secrets, I'm going to sit here and tell you I'm doing something to stay sharp," Davis said. "I'm just trying to relax and pick out more pitches."

Davis pinchhit once during his injury and he still doesn't feel recovered.

"When I pinchhit, I felt like I'd never picked up a bat in my life," Davis said. "I still don't feel comfortable but things are happening."

Davis drove home Bill Doran with a third inning single for the Astros' first run.

Puhl doubled and scored on Kevin Bass' single in the sixth to set up his game-winner in the eighth.

Will Clark's third inning single scored one run for the Giants off starter Joaquin Andujar and Jose Uribe's seventh inning single gave the Giants their other run.

Juan Agosto got his eighth straight victory without a loss in relief for the Astros and Kelly Downs, 11-9, was the loser.

Puhl stole second in the eighth inning and went on to third on Brenly's throwing error to second base.

Planning annual lunch

An old-fashioned country lunch, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, is planned from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 16, in the American Legion Post Home in Veterans Park. Proceeds from the event are used each year to benefit various community projects and local programs. Publicity chairmen for the event, Alice Gilleland, at left, and Pet Ott, discuss the luncheon's menu consisting of fresh vegetables, roast beef and gravy, relish plate, homemade rolls and cornbread, a variety of fruit cobblers, tea and coffee. Tickets, priced at $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12 years of age, may be purchased from Auxiliary members.

The number of hours the average American works each week has risen from 40.6 hours in 1973 to a current 48.8 hours.

It wasn't until 1933 that the National Football League stopped playing entirely by college rules and adopted its own set of regulations.

At the end of the 1932 season, the National Football League had only eight teams, the lowest in the history of the league.

19 88 Property Tax Rates in City of Hereford

This notice concerns 19 88 property tax rates for City of Hereford. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. Compare it to the tax rate the taxing unit proposes for this year. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

| Last year's tax rate: | |

Bride-elect honored

Kari Diane Walterscheid, Sept. 24 bride-elect of Patrick Strader of Houston, was feted with a bridal shower Saturday morning in the E.B. Black Historical House.

The honoree greeted guests with her grandmother, Elizabeth Walterscheid, and her mother, Opal Walterscheid.

Kari Walterscheid honored

The E.B. Black House was the setting for a Saturday morning wedding shower honoring Kari Diane Walterscheid, bride-elect of Patrick Strader of Houston. The honoree is the daughter of Leonard and Opal Walterscheid of Hereford.

Donna Tidmore, the bride-elect's sister, registered guests.

Wearing white carnations with blue and white accents, guests were greeted by Miss Walterscheid; her mother, Opal Walterscheid; and her grandmother, Elizabeth Walterscheid.

The refreshment table was decorated with silver and crystal appointments and was centered by a fruit and fresh flower arrangement designed by Ella Marie Veigel. Refreshments were served by the honoree's sisters, Brenda and Lori Walterscheid, both of Hereford.

Hostesses were Roberta last, Carol Gerk, Gerry Taylor, Donna Brockman, Marian Yosten, Tina Langehennig, Clara Reinart, Elaine Clarke, Ella Marie Veigel, Dolores Foster, Elizabeth Vogel, Josie Schulte, Frieda Reinart, Charlene Sanders, Madeline Rosson, Ida Schumacher, Rosie Griffin and Brenda Thomas.

The couple will reside in Houston following their wedding Sept. 24.

Kids pictures needed for Women's Division project

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division will have a children's picture display set up at Jubilee Junction Saturday in Dameron Park.

MATERNITY STAYS ARE AFFECTED BY GEOGRAPHY
NEW YORK (AP)—Women in the West have a shorter stay in the hospital for childbirth than do women in other parts of the country, reports the Health Insurance Association of America.

According to a recent study by the group, women in non-metropolitan areas of the Western United States stay in the hospital an average of 1.8 days for a normal delivery, compared to three full days for women in urban areas of the Northeast.

Children's pictures are still being accepted at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office and by the organization's Jubilee chairman, Teresa Munoz, and Women's Division President Sue Malamen.

The display will be exhibited at Kid's Corner where Division members will be on hand to help children work on crafts so their parents can browse at Jubilee Junction. Cost will be 25 cents per child.

Another picture display on various Women's Division committee projects this past year will be exhibited during the Jubilee of Arts Bazaar planned from noon until 6 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday at the Hereford Community Center.

19 88 Property Tax Rates in Walcott I S D

This notice concerns 19 88 property tax rates for Walcott ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. Compare it to the tax rate the taxing unit proposes for this year. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

|------------------------------|------------------|
| Last year's tax rate: | |
| Last year's operating taxes | $ 182,532.00 |
| + Last year's debt taxes | $ -0- |
| = Last year's total taxes | $ 182,532.00 |
| ÷ Last year's tax base | $ 26,842,951.00 |
| = Last year's total tax rate | $.6800 /$100 |

|---|------------------|
| This year's effective tax rate: | |
| Last year's adjusted taxes | $ 182,532.00 |
| (after subtracting taxes on lost property and taxes to correct appraisal roll errors) | |
| ÷ This year's adjusted tax base | $ 26,237,860.00 |
| (after subtracting taxes on new property) | |

Cutting the fat in your diet possible

COLLEGE STATION — The first Surgeon General's Report on Nutrition and Health declared war on fat in the national diet, but didn't give much specific advice to people who are waging the daily battle of the bulge.

Surgeon General C. Everett Koop's report, released July 27, calls on Americans to drastically reduce the amount of fat in their diets, citing its link to heart disease, stroke, cancer and diabetes.

The report supported recommendations already contained in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Dietary Guidelines and those given by the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society.

The major health organizations now advise Americans to reduce their fat consumption from about 37 percent of their total calories to 30 percent of their total calories.

"The problem for most people is not knowing that they should cut back on fat, but actually doing it," said Dr. Alice Hunt, a Registered Dietitian and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

She said cutting down or eliminating fried foods from your diet will significantly reduce intake of vegetable fats, but not remove them completely.

"Vegetable fats are also found in commercial baked goods, boxed and frozen prepared foods, salad dressings, chips and snacks," she said. "Some of these vegetable fats, like coconut and palm kernel oil are also highly saturated fats."

"The easiest way to reduce intake of animal fats is to always select lean meat, trim the visible fat from meat, remove the fat and skin from poultry and eat only low-fat dairy products," Hunt said.

"It's also important that the fat be trimmed before the meat is cooked, since research has shown that some of the fat will migrate into the lean during the cooking process."

According to the specialist, USDA research indicates that while Americans have reduced their intake of animal fats in the last several years, consumption of vegetable fats has increased.

Hunt said that a 1987 USDA study of middle to upper-income women found they had cut back on eating red meat, for example, but were eating more croissants, ice cream and other high fat-foods. While their fat intake stayed about the same, the women were getting less iron, zinc and other minerals because they ate less meat.

"Cutting back on red meat or any other food may not significantly reduce fat intake, unless you're careful about what foods are substituted," said Hunt. "With both more low-fat products and premium, high-fat foods available it's easy to fall into contradictory eating habits."

Reunion Saturday for class of '68

The Hereford High School graduating class of 1968 has planned its 20-year reunion during the Town 'n' Country Jubilee festivities Saturday.

Former classmates are invited to visit a special booth which will be set up in Jubilee Junction in Dameron Park following the parade. At 3 p.m., a tour of Hereford High School is scheduled, and at 6:30 p.m., registration will begin at the Caison House for dinner, dancing and visiting. Cost of the evening, which will feature live entertainment, will be $25 per couple.

Those interested in attending the dinner, may still make reservations by calling Lynn Hale Gowdy or Darlene Sparkman Richardson.

A golf match is planned Friday beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the City Golf Course. If planning to play, call Sid Shaw.

Frederick the Great always insisted his coffee be made with champagne instead of water.

Adding finishing touches

Whipped cream and nuts are being put on praline ice cream crepes by (from left) Donna Tidmore, Pam Perrin and Kim Bigham, members of Toujours Amis Study Club. The crepes will be among a variety of foods which will be sold during the Town 'n' Country Jubilee of Arts Bazaar set from noon until 6 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday at the Hereford Community Center. Approximately 50 booths will be set up during the bazaar which is sponsored annually by the Hereford Fine Arts Association.

Jubilee Garage Sale Saturday

The Problem Pregnancy Center is sponsoring the Jubilee Garage Sale from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday at 505 E. Park Ave. Proceeds will benefit the center.

Donations of sellable items are still being accepted by Center personnel.

For additional information or for pick up of donations, call Michelle Brisendine, 364-5299, after 5 p.m. or Marlene Hendershot, 364-3444.

Alligators can close their ears just as camels can close their noses.

Quilt show scheduled

A variety of quilts will be for sale during the Jubilee Quilt Show from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday at the Hereford Community Center. The event is being sponsored by the Hereford Senior Citizens.

Co-chairmen of the show are Belmont and Frank Watson, who are being assisted by Lorene Grant.

Anyone who would like to participate in the show may bring quilting items to the Community Center from 1-4 p.m. Friday or to the Senior Citizens Center through Thursday.

ATTENTION WATER SUPPLY CUSTOMERS AND CONSUMERS-CITY OF HEREFORD AND ADJACENT SERVICE AREAS:
The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has adopted requirements that all public water systems notify their customers about lead exposure. This notification is intended to educate and inform consumers of this issue in light of the fact that your drinking water may be a potential source of lead exposure. This is being done even though your water system is not in violation of the current standard. There are also other potential sources of lead contamination in the environment.
The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.
Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard. EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.
Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:
1. If your home or water system has lead pipes, or
2. If your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and if the home is less than five years old, or if you have soft or acidic water, or if water sits in the pipes for several hours.
Ways to avoid potential lead exposure are to "flush" faucets before use and to use cold water for drinking and cooking. You may wish to have your home tap water tested for lead content by a competent laboratory. You may also wish to check to see if lead pipes, solder, or flux were used in your home plumbing.
The City of Hereford takes many precautions to assure that your drinking water is safe. Most recent laboratory water analysis indicate that city water contained less than 0.020 parts per million (ppm) lead content, well below the EPA allowable standard of 0.050 parts per million.
Should you desire to have the water tested at your home, or business you may do so by contacting a private laboratory who will assist you in this matter. The City offices will have available names and addresses of laboratories willing to provide this analysis for you.
For additional information you may contact the Texas Department of Health, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756-3199.

Search begins for new Tech president

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Texas Tech University is gearing up for an accelerated presidential search and a more pressurized legislative session now that President Lauro Cavazos is leaving 11 months sooner than expected.

Cavazos' naming Tuesday as Secretary of Education left Tech officials pleased for their boss but uncertain of the university's administrative and political future. Few decisions have been made in the wake of Tuesday's fast-breaking announcement.

The most likely scenario, according to regents chairman Wendell Mayes and finance Vice President Gene Payne, would be an emergency regents meeting to consider naming an interim or acting president. "Somebody's gotta' run the place," Mayes remarked.

Tech has a line of succession for temporary delegation of authority in the president's absence. The chain begins with academic and research Vice President Donald Haragan, who is out of town, followed by Payne, student affairs Vice President Robert Ewalt and arts and sciences Dean Joe Goodin.

Mayes expressed doubts, however, that any current Tech administrator would have time to take on the president's duties.

A permanent vacancy usually requires an interim, Payne outlined. Tech's last interim president was former arts and sciences Dean Lawrence Graves, who served in the late 70s after Cecil Mackey left and before Cavazos took the post in 1980.

Although Cavazos told regents and some staff members last week he was being considered, Mayes said Tuesday night that no meetings have been scheduled to discuss an interim.

According to Mayes, Cavazos' nomination will not be submitted to the U.S. Senate until after Labor Day. He said regents will not meet until they know if and when Cavazos is to assume his new duties.

Outgoing Education Secretary William Bennett leaves in late September.

Cavazos was to leave Tech at the end of July 1989, take a developmental leave and return to teach anatomy.

Cavazos announced his resignation on May 11, two days after Bennett stepped down. Payne discounted the idea that Cavazos might have been positioning himself for the job, for which he also was considered in 1980.

Mayes emphasized that Cavazos' resignation was in no way related to Tuesday's events. "This was unforeseen," Mayes stressed.

Payne said Cavazos' selection did not surprise him. "It crossed my mind in May when Bennett resigned" that Cavazos might become a candidate, Payne said.

Tech has formed a presidential selection committee that met for the first time Friday. Search consultant Bill Funk of Dallas predicted that a replacement could be found by January.

No formal applications had been received as of late last week, but Cavazos' hastened departure could speed up the process considerably.

Another concern is how his absence will affect Tech's ability to obtain sufficient funding critical for the university and Health Sciences Center. Both schools are on tight budgets, and the center has faced several challenges in recent years.

State Sen. John Montford and Tech public affairs director Mike Sanders are predicting a tough legislative session for higher education in January. Payne said Cavazos' replacement will have to be "a quick study who can hit the ground running."

Cavazos: Education solves problems

By WENDY E. LANE
Associated Press Writer

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Lauro Cavazos believes that education can solve any of mankind's problems, no matter how large.

"I am convinced education is the key to many things," he once said. "If you have sufficient education, you can solve most any problem in the world. Famine. Ecological problems. Nuclear problems. Racism. They're all solved with education."

Those beliefs ran in Cavazos' family, which lived on the huge King Ranch in South Texas where his father was foreman of the Santa Gertrudis cattle division.

The elder Cavazos, also named Lauro, stressed the importance of education to his three boys.

The strength of that message took the oldest son, known as Larry, all the way to the White House, where President Reagan on Tuesday nominated him as U.S. Secretary of Education and the first Hispanic Cabinet member.

Cavazos and his brothers all left the brushland of the King Ranch to get an education at what was then Texas Technological College.

His brother Bobby was an All-American running back at Tech who now has his own ranch, while Dick became a four-star Army general.

Cavazos, 61, has devoted most of his life to educating himself and others, becoming the first Hispanic president of Texas Tech University and its medical school.

That post makes him head of the nation's largest higher educational institution run by a Hispanic.

"I have pushed hard on that, especially with minority groups," Cavazos has said.

At Tech, Cavazos paid special attention to minority education. He oversaw the creation of a special office to handle minority student problems and increased efforts to recruit and retain minorities. He regularly gave speeches on the importance of curtailing the skyrocketing dropout rate of minority students.

During his tenure, Hispanic enrollment increased from 3.6 percent in 1980 to 6.3 percent in 1987. Black enrollment edged up from 1.85 percent to 2.4 percent during the same period.

He has expressed support for bilingual education for Spanish-speaking children, but only through the third grade.

Despite his soft-spoken, friendly demeanor, Cavazos was sometimes criticized for being stretched too thin in running both the university and its medical school.

Dr. Bernhard Mittermeyer, executive vice president of Tech's Health Sciences Center, said Cavazos was always easy to work with, but occasionally difficult to track down.

"He basically is a delegator," Mittermeyer said. "He works best in an atmosphere where people are able to solve problems through communication."

After becoming in 1980 the first Tech alumnus named president, Cavazos is keeping the family tradition alive. Seven of his 10 children hold Tech degrees.

Cavazos announced in May that he would resign as president of Texas Tech in July 1989 and, after a developmental leave, return to teach anatomy in the medical school, where he has tenure.

"One needs to leave the presidency when you think perhaps you've given direction to the institution and strong leadership," said Cavazos during an emotional news conference. "I really believe things are in good shape here."

However, things weren't always so easy for him at the 24,000-student school.

Beryl weakens in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The former tropical storm known as Beryl, now a weakening tropical depression, drifted slowly toward the west-northwest early today trailing higher than usual tides and some thunderstorms.

An Alabama teen-ager remained missing in the storm's wake. But hundreds who evacuated their coastal Mississippi homes on Monday began returning Tuesday when Beryl moved inland and lost much of its punch.

The storm had little impact on New Orleans or south Louisiana, which was preparing to host next week's Republican National Convention. Only a few dozen people left their homes Monday when high tides swamped three small fishing villages east of the city.

At 11 p.m. CDT Tuesday, the National Weather Service placed the storm's center near Lafayette, La. Forecasters said the disturbance, with maximum winds of up to 35 miles an hour, was drifting to the west-northwest at about 5 miles an hour.

The depression was expected to take a more northwesterly direction later today.

It left behind the usual hot, muggy summer weather along the Alabama-Mississippi-Louisiana coast and an 80 percent chance of Wednesday thundershowers for the region.

The damage was confined mostly to lowland flooding, scattered tree limbs and power outages that have since been restored.

"The storm's inland and west of New Orleans and it should continue moving westward for the next 24 hours," Linda Rouse, deputy Civil Defense director for Harrison County, Miss. "It's moving away and that's great news for us. The only thing we have to contend with now is more rain."

Others acknowledged potential problems still had to be dealt with.

FIRST THE SEED

Without a doubt, the one thing that determines the outcome of any crop is the seed that you put into the ground. Good seed produces a good crop - bad seed fails you.

We believe that insect and disease problems this last year have created a need to look at the crops and varieties you plant and your harvest intentions.

TAM 200 ; a new release from Texas A & M that appeared very promising in limited trials.

TRITICALE ; for known grazing or graze-out acreage - triticale showed less damage from insects & disease than wheat in 1988.

OATS ; Chilocco oats produce excellent grain and abundant forage for grazing.

HAWK ; 1987's best variety for milling & baking qualities. A consistent high yielding variety that makes excellent early grazing.

THUNDERBIRD ; a new release from NAPB that has excellent grain quality, yield and test weights.

TAM 105 ; need to update your seed. We have both certified and good quality select seed available.
