The Hereford Brand

Hustlin' Hereford, home of Orlando Lopez 90th Year, No. 255, Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas 12 Pages 25 Cents

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says a generation ago, most people needed rest after a day's work but now they seem to need exercise.

Sandwich spread: What you get from eating between meals.

A neighbor asked the little girl what she was going to give her brother for his birthday. "I don't know," the little girl said.

"Well, what did you give him last year?"

"The chicken pox."

Like it or not, pay-per-view television is just around the corner. Actually, it is already here and the disease is spreading. The recent Foreman-Holyfield fight brought in $80 million on pay-per-view and the prospect of these big bucks for a single event has all other sports people drooling.

The day of free sports on TV may soon be a thing of the past. There will be a big test during the 1992 Summer Olympics. In addition to 160 hours of network programming, NBC will show 1,080 hours of pay-per-view Olympic events. Estimated cost to the viewer is $95 to $170.

Other ballpark figures for single events would be $15 to $20 for pro football games, $13 and up for NBA basketball, $10 for NHL hockey, $7 per baseball game, and $20 to $30 for college football games.

With these prices, it appears that pay-per-view will be for rich folks who have a burning desire to see certain sporting events. Pay-per-view is not for the average American, so I'm not sure how many folks will be willing to shell out $30 just to watch a college game on television.

As big a sports fan as I am, I don't think I'll take part in this ripoff to line the pockets of teams, owners and players who already make too much money for what they do.

Don't look, Ethel!

If your searching for a unique vacation getaway, a news release received here at the newspaper office tells about a place where you can bear your soul, among other things.

Nudists from everywhere in the U.S. and Canada are gathering July 13-14 to celebrate National Nude Weekend. The event is at Live Oak Ranch, a family nudist resort located 80 miles northwest of Houston.

Before you reject the idea of getting a busload of your friends and participating in the celebration, consider some of the spectacular events scheduled. The promotional material says there will be nude skydiving performances and nude helicopter rides.

We suspect there might be numerous UFO sightings, too!

The release said National Nude Weekend is observed each year by 40,000 nudists in North America, highlighting the need to protect individual body freedom. It also reports the event is open to anyone who cherishes individual liberty and boy freedom. "We hope to introduce people to the social and health benefits of nudism," the release announces.

No one here at The Brand office has offered to cover the uncovered event, even though the release reports the curious are invited and nudity is not required to attend.

We heard the story about a cub reporter who sent to cover the grand opening of a nudist camp in East Texas. When he returned, a guest editor tried to get the reporter to hurry with his story.

The reporter said he was having a difficult time just knowing how to begin the article. The crusty editor growled, "Just write what impressed you the most about the nudist camp."

The reporter typed out a one-paragraph story which read: "The highly-publicized nudist camp near here opened this weekend. The most impressive thing was the wicker-bottom chairs."

Induction kicks off HOF event

Four new members of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame will be inducted at an 11:30 a.m. luncheon Friday, kicking off the annual Rhinestone Roundup for the CHOF.

Tickets are still available at the CHOF for the induction luncheon, at 11:30 a.m. Friday at the Hereford Senior Center, and for events Friday and Saturday nights at the CHOF. Persons needing tickets may contact the CHOF at 364-5252. Tickets for the luncheon are $15 per person.

The four inductees include Mary Ann "Molly" Goodnight and Georgia O'Keeffe, Western Heritage honor-ees; and Lynn Jonckowski and Nancy Sheppard, Cowgirl honorees.

Joan Wells, a 1989 Cowgirl honoree, and Roberta Courtney Meyers of Taos, N.M., will perform at the induction luncheon. Wells, a master trick roper, will also perform Friday night at the Rhinestone Roundup at the CHOF.

Meyers is presenting a dramatic monologue on the life of each of the honorees.

Friday evening's festivities will include music, a silent auction, and the beginning of the second annual Feedyard Challenge.

Featured entertainment will include the country two-woman Rocking N-B band from Denver and Patsy Montana, a 1987 Western Heritage honoree.

A Mexican food buffet will be featured, and items will be sold in a silent auction to benefit the CHOF.

On Saturday, the feature band will be Slow Motion, a country band from Adrian.

The Rhinestone Roundup will also include colorful competition in the Feedyard Challenge, with teams from feedyards in the region competing in several events.

Yugoslavia on brink of civil conflict

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) - Army troops and tanks moved today to seize Slovenia's borders and main airport, provoking the secessionist republic's president to promise a fight and call on government soldiers to desert.

The challenge to Slovenia's independence bid came two days after Slovenia and neighboring Croatia declared their sovereignty from the Yugoslav federation, which has long been troubled by feuds between rival ethnic groups.

In Croatia, government troops were apparently limiting themselves to trying to prevent clashes between ethnic Serbs and Croats.

The central government said it would crush opposition.

Slovenian leaders, who met in emergency session, vowed resistance.

Slovenes used buses, trucks and snowplows to block roads leading to their international borders after government troops were ordered to secure them.

They also blocked roads into Ljubljana, their capital. And troops of the republic's territorial militia, armed with anti-tank weapons and rifles, patrolled the capital's streets.

Government troops made no move into Ljubljana itself.

But about 30 government tanks closed in on the Radkersburg border crossing with Austria, about 70 miles northeast of Ljubljana, and another column of tanks and armored personnel carriers gathered at the Vipava base near the Italian border, Ljubljana radio reported.

Government tanks also shoved their way through blockades early today and rumbled to the perimeter of Slovenia's main airport, outside the capital.

No clashes were reported, but Slovenia's president, Milan Kucan, warned on Slovenian television that the republic's militia would respond with "all methods" to any "act of aggression" against his "independent state."

Soldiers wonder if welcome will be warm

By LESLIE DREYFOUS
AP National Writer

The Gulf War is long over, ancient history tied up with yellow ribbon and punctuated by the latest parade to welcome home veterans of the 43-day blitz.

But James Lee Helton, a Navy petty officer, is now fighting another war.

"I'm so burned out and angry at everything," he wrote in a recent letter to the wife he hasn't seen in six months. "When I get back you better hold me tight, because you have a lot of bad to make into good for me."

These weeks have not been so joyous for the 55,000 American troops still serving in the Persian Gulf, or for their families. Cleaning up after war is a lot less glorious than celebrating the peace.

"The military isn't making headlines anymore," said Kathy Gill, a staffer at the Desert Storm Community Resource Center in Orlando, Fla. "Is there going to be a parade for the people still out doing the gruntwork?"

Those still in the Middle East fear they'll be too late to attend the enormous victory celebration given the nearly 500,000 U.S. troops who began returning stateside shortly after the war ended in February.

"And their families aren't enjoying the festivities either," said Sandy Thunberg, whose 20-year-old son is still in the gulf. "We're feeling left out, alienated."

Sharp recommends state layoffs, mergers

AUSTIN (AP) - A massive reorganization plan of state government would merge agencies, cut more than 1,000 state jobs, and raise numerous fees and public college tuition.

The payoff to taxpayers, according to State Comptroller John Sharp, would be $5.22 billion in revenue and a more efficient state government.

Unveiling his report Wednesday after 4 months of audits, Sharp said Texas government is "overlaid with hundreds of agencies, boards, commissions and advisory groups. It is a jerrybuilt mess."

Many of the recommendations "promote good government or improve the flow of services to the public - gains no less real or important than those measured in dollars," he said.

For example, he said, parents of children with multiple disabilities currently have to seek assistance from several agencies. But under his plan, they would go to one agency that would be composed of the 14 existing agencies now providing most health and human services.

Although, 1,043 state employees would lose their jobs, Sharp said the remaining 225,000 state workers would receive better health insurance and retirement benefits, plus incentives to perform a better job.

He proposed massive changes to the education administration, including the shutdown of the Texas Education Agency in order to allow the new education commissioner, Lionel "Skip" Meno, to restructure the department.

In higher education, tuition at public colleges and universities would increase from $20 per semester hour to $40 per hour for in-state students, and from $40 per hour to $160 per hour for out-of-state students. One-fifth of the tuition revenue would go into a special fund to provide loans to low-income students.

Other reorganization measures would create a new Department of Transportation by combining the departments of highways, aviation, and turnpike authority. The High Speed Rail Authority would be rolled into the Texas Railroad Commission.

Twelve business and occupation licensing boards, and 20 health-related licensing panels would be combined into the Department of

Monday is deadline for block decoration

A deadline of 5 p.m. Monday is in effect for entries in the July 4th block decorating contest sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce committee directing the Independence Day celebration.

An entry must be turned in for the block to be eligible for judging and a majority of homes on both sides of the street in a block must participate. The winning block will receive a $100 cash prize.

Although the committee has put no specific requirements on the contest, the consensus is that red, white and blue in a patriotic theme is appropriate. Entry forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Announcement of the winning block will be made during the festivities the evening of July 4 at Veterans Park.

Hereford businesses are being encouraged to join in the patriotic observance by decorating the exterior of their stores.

Licensing and Regulation. Sharp also recommended abolishing the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, and bringing the agency's responsibilities under his office.

And environmental agencies, including the Water Commission, Air Control Board, and Structural Pest Control Board, would be brought under one roof. A similar proposal died during the regular legislative session.

Sharp pushed for a wide range of fee increases, including a hike in the cost of a driver's license from $16 to $25. The license would be good for five years instead of the current four years.

In addition, the diesel tax would jump by 4.5 cents per gallon, and the fees for some 60 different alcoholic permits and licenses would be increased.

The plan would also eliminate the discounts now allowed businesses for collecting and paying taxes on time.

Sharp said that major savings would be made by consolidating 301 funds into five super funds ($540 million); delaying phase-in of the sales tax exemption for manufacturing machinery ($368 million); and delaying the 1993 transfer to Teachers Retirement Systems ($250 million).

Welcome to the Lions Club, Heather

Tommie Weemes, right, new Boss Lion of the Hereford Lions Club, presents a Lions pin and vest to Heather Gililland, new sweetheart for the club. Weemes and other new officers for the club were inducted Wednesday.

'Boss' installed by club

Tommie Weemes was formally installed as the new Boss Lion of the Hereford Lions Club at a special club ceremony Wednesday at the Hereford Lions Club.

Weemes' term will officially begin Monday. He succeeds Benny Womble as president of Hereford's largest civic club.

Weemes and other new officers were formally installed by Raymond White, a past Boss Lion and a past District Governor of District 2-T1 of Lions International.

Heather Gililland, daughter of B.J. and Linda Gililland, was introduced as the club's new sweetheart. She will succeed Leslie Billingsley.

Other new officers installed Wednesday included John Brooks, president-elect; Philip Shook, Terry Beavers and Daniel Lemus, vice presidents; Larry Alley, secretary; Pete Holcomb, treasurer; Ricky Lloyd and Mark Andrews, Tail Twisters; David Ruland and Tom Simons, Lion Tamers; and Jeff Torbert, Sammy Gonzales, Julius Bodner and L.J. Clark, directors.

Bentsen offers bill for lake

WASHINGTON (AP) - A three-year fight over who pays to clean up the salt pollution threatening water supplies for thousands of West Texans may finally be resolved this year, lawmakers say.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, said Wednesday that he is optimistic Congress may approve legislation that would include the federal government in financing and conducting the cleanup of Lake Meredith.

The Panhandle lake is the source of drinking water to 450,000 people in West Texas, but naturally occurring salt could eventually render the water useless for human consumption, Bentsen said.

"I'm very optimistic about our chances of adopting the bill this year," Bentsen said. "The House approved it recently and I'll be pushing hard for quick action in the Senate."

Bentsen first introduced legislation in 1988 authorizing the federal government to finance one-third of the cleanup costs. The bill passed the Senate in 1989, and the House approved it in 1990. But the plan died last year during a conference committee dispute over an unrelated issue.

The Lake Meredith plan was again approved in the House last week, and Bentsen introduced similar legislation in the Senate Wednesday.

Private and government studies show that 70 percent of salt entering the lake originates in a shallow brine aquifer in New Mexico, Bentsen said. The aquifer is under artesian pressure and is leaking into the Canadian River, which feeds Lake Meredith.

A Bureau of Reclamation report in 1985 recommended the most cost-effective solution would be to intercept the brine at the source by well pumping and disposal by deep well injection, Bentsen said.

Cost estimates have ranged as high as $9 million.

The legislation would authorize the Bureau of Reclamation to pay for design preparation and construction management, an estimated one-third of the total costs. The Canadian River Municipal Water Authority would be responsible for the remaining two-thirds, including construction, operation and maintenance costs.

If Congress authorizes the project, it would still have to vote to approve the funding.

"Each year of delay puts another 30,000 tons of salt in Lake Meredith. If the salt problem is not solved and Lake Meredith continues to be flooded with salt, it could eventually be rendered useless," Bentsen said. "Enough studies have been conducted and enough time has passed. The time is now to begin the process of reducing the salt content of Lake Meredith."

Rep. Bill Sarpalis, D-Amarillo, said he believes that with the support of Bentsen in the Senate, "we will finally be able to get a bill to the president's desk this year that he will hopefully sign."

The chlorides in Lake Meredith are well above the recommended maximum levels set by the Texas Department of the Health and the federal Environmental Protection Agency, said Rep. Larry Combest, R-Lubbock.

Communities that depend on the lake for drinking water include Lubbock, Amarillo, Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland, Plainview, Slaton, Borger, Pampa, O'Donnell and Tahoka. The 11 cities are members of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

Coleman says loan proper

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - A Texas congressman denied impropriety in his support for a funding for a Santa Teresa, N.M. port of entry and a financial deal with a developer of the border crossing.

New Mexico developer Charles Crowder has assumed a $65,000 bank loan made to Rep. Ron Coleman, D-El Paso, and is being repaid through an arrangement with Coleman's blind trust, the Wall Street Journal reported Wednesday.

The blind trust, used by many elected officials, manages the person's assets without their knowledge.

Crowder, a friend of Coleman's for 20 years, headed a project to open a U.S.-Mexico border crossing at Santa Teresa, N.M. He stands to benefit from development around the port of entry that is expected to open by the end of the year.

Coleman, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, last year voted in favor of a bill that provided $6 million in federal funding for the crossing.

But Coleman on Wednesday denied any impropriety and told The Associated Press that not voting for the bill would have been irresponsible.

"It was the conference (committee) bill that we finally voted on. It also contained $9.2 million for the Ysleta-Zaragoza (International) Bridge, $5 million for the Bridge of the Americas and 1,000 new Customs agents, which I put in the bill," Coleman said.

Coleman said the funding for the El Paso crossings was contained in the House version of the appropriations bill and funding for the Santa Teresa port of entry was contained in the Senate version.

The two were put together in a compromise bill by a conference committee, he said.

"At the time of the conference committee the Senate accepted our projects and we accepted theirs," Coleman said.

He confirmed that Crowder had spoken to him about the Santa Teresa project, but said the developer did not lobby him on any appropriations.

The Crowder loan is reported on Coleman's financial disclosure statement, although the details of the loan and repayment are not included.

Crowder would not comment on the specifics of his financial arrangement with Coleman because it involves the congressman's blind trust.

But, he said, "There's been no effort to hide anything here."

Crowder said he's never been shy about getting support for the Santa Teresa project. "I'm a major proponent of this project, I have been for 20 years. I may even make speeches to the Kiwanis Club, if they let me in," he said.

The report of Coleman's arrangement with Crowder was included in a Wall Street Journal story about congressional members who owe money to wealthy friends with interest in legislation.

Senate bill allows abortion counsel

WASHINGTON (AP) - A House-passed bill that would permit abortion counseling at taxpayer-financed clinics is on its way to the Senate, where a key subcommittee chairman predicts approval.

"And I expect a presidential veto, and I'm prepared to fight the president on this," Sen. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee that will receive the measure.

Whether the House or the Senate could find enough votes to override a veto promised by President Bush is not clear.

"We'll just have to wait and see where people want to be counted on this one," Harkin said in an interview Wednesday. "But I can say that women's groups all over this country are going to be watching this one."

Staunch abortion foes, however, are confident they can sustain a veto. The House on Wednesday overwhelmingly approved a $203 billion spending bill that included an amendment that would block enforcement of the government's abortion counseling ban, upheld recently by the Supreme Court.

The bill, appropriating money for the Labor, Health and Human Services and Education departments, was approved 353-74 after abortion opponents decided to pin their hopes on a presidential veto rather than fight the amendment that would effectively lift the "gag rule" on counseling.

Bush has said he would veto the bill, as well as other abortion-related measures that have advanced in the House this year.

The bill was approved by more than the two-thirds majority that would be needed to override a veto, but abortion foes expressed confidence they could mount enough support to sustain Bush.

"This vote had absolutely no relevance in terms of strength to uphold a veto," said Rep. Chris Smith, R-N.J. He said many lawmakers opposed to the amendment supported the bill anyway because "it's a good bill except for this ... and it's coming back" from the Senate.

LUCILLE HALL
...enjoys cooking

Now You're Cooking

When Ray Trucking moved from Portales, N.M. to Hereford, over a year ago, they brought in five families. Among those were Lucille Hall.

She has worked for the trucking company for approximately 13 years and is classified as a safety director. She does bookkeeping and other office jobs.

"I really like a small town," Hall said. "I'm close enough to the big city that I can take my grandchildren to see 'Texas,' Wonderland Park and to the movies when they visit. I wouldn't enjoy living in Amarillo, it's just too big.

"I like the climate, even if the smell gets a little rough around the edges at times. What makes the town are the people in it and I've met a lot of wonderful and friendly people," she added with a grin.

"Being a single woman I have a lot more time for the things I enjoy doing. I like to sew and make most of my own clothes. I also enjoy reading, playing bridge and other card games. I like country-western music and I like to dance," she said.

"I enjoy cooking for friends and relatives. Everyone tells me I make the best spaghetti sauce. I have to taste it and add a little of this and a little of that to get just the right amount of ingredients. I don't give out the recipe because I'm not sure of how many pinches of this and that ingredients to add for that special taste."

Hall has a variety of favorite family recipes. Some of them are:

MARINATED COLE SLAW

- 1 medium head cabbage, shredded
- 1 green pepper, diced fine
- 1 large onion, grated
- 6 stuffed olives, sliced
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 cup white vinegar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. celery seed
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 cup salad oil

Place vegetables in a large bowl, sprinkle with sugar. Boil remaining ingredients for 3 minutes, pour immediately over cabbage mixture. Refrigerate, covered, for 24 hours or longer before serving.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 cup applesauce
- 1/2 cup nuts
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. cloves
- 1 3/4 cup flour

Cream butter and sugar; add eggs well beaten. Add vanilla and applesauce. Mix other ingredients and add butter mixture. Pour into a well greased bread pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

GREEN ENCHILADA DISH

Jenna Blankenship, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Blankenship of Hereford, was one of 756 students named to the spring 1991 Dean's Honor Roll at Abilene Christian University.

- 1 lb. ground meat
- 1 pkg. soft tortillas
- 6 oz. can chopped green chilies
- 2 cans cream of mushroom soup
- 1/2 lb. grated longhorn cheese
- Chopped onion, if desired

Brown meat in skillet. Drain off excess grease. Butter bottom of oblong glass casserole dish. Tear soft tortillas into quarters. Place tortillas in bottom of the dish. Alternate ground beef, soup, green chilies, onion, and cheese until all combined. Top with grated cheese. Bake in 375 degree oven for 30 minutes or until casserole is bubbly.

TUNA-WHAT-EVER

- 1 can tuna
- 1 small can green chilies
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- Mayo to taste
- May be served on top of lettuce with sliced tomatoes or stuff tomato with ingredients.

BROCCOLI CORNBREAD

- 4 eggs
- 1 large onion chopped
- 1 stick oleo, melted
- 1 6 oz. carton cottage cheese (use 1/2 of 12 oz. carton)
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 10oz. pkg. chopped broccoli
- 1 box Jiffy cornbread mix.

Accent on Health

Summer camps in Texas can be compared to little cities, which must meet all the sanitation and safety needs of the campers.

This season the Texas Department of Health (TDH) will regulate more than 500 summer camps through its licensing and inspection program.

As might be expected, TDH inspectors will check for safe drinking water supplies, adequate garbage and sewage disposal facilities and sanitary food service operations. But the inspector also ensures that the camps meet the specific standards of the Texas Youth Camp Safety and Health Act.

"The Act specifies that camp activities such as swimming, archery, horseback riding and riflery must be conducted by experienced counselors whose qualifications are on record at the camp," said Travis Mansell, a chief sanitarian with the TDH Youth Camp Program.

"Also, each camp must have an infirmary or first-aid facility to handle health and emergency cases," he said.

The infirmary must keep a health record on every child and a physician must be on call at all times. Any serious accident, illness, or death must be reported to the camp inspection program.

Food or water-borne diseases, such as dysentery, salmonellosis, shigellosis or infectious hepatitis, must be reported immediately.

Recently, the 72nd Texas Legislature passed a bill amending the Texas Youth Camp Safety and Health Act by establishing standard license renewal fees and allowing administrative fines for violators.

Under the new law, camp operators can be assessed an administrative penalty not to exceed $100 per day if the Commissioner of Health, following a hearing, finds them in violation of the law. Violators also may be subject to a fine of $50 to $1,000 in civil penalties.

In addition, the bill establishes a nine-member Youth Camp and Health Advisory Committee under the Texas Board of Health.

The Golden Spread Coin Club, Inc. is holding a free collectors show July 13 from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and July 14 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center, exhibits hall.

There will be approximately 135 tables of dealers from all the surrounding states and towns displaying all realms of coins, stamps, jewelry, sports and non-sports cards, antiques, crafts, knives, watches, Indian artifacts, comic books, records and more items.

Admission is free and a hourly door prize will be given. A $50 U.S. gold bullion eagle will be given away. Tickets for the drawing are $1. The drawing will be July 14 at 5 p.m. You need not be present to win.

Bring coins, stamps and cards to buy, sell and trade with dealers. Members of the coin club will try to answer questions on coins or stamps or direct you to a table where they can answer it.

Educational exhibits will be on display for you to see and learn more about coins and stamps.

Swimmers enjoy swim class

A basic water safety and emergency water safety class will begin July 1 at the city pool. For more information contact the Red Cross office or Mike Manchec at 364-4370.

Red Cross sponsors water class

A basic water safety and emergency water safety class will begin July 1 at the city pool. The class will begin at 6:30 p.m. and finish at 7:30 p.m. or later.

Instructor for the class will be Mike Manchec. The cost of the class will be $15, which includes two books and the pool fee. CPR will also be included in this class.

The basic water safety section is open to anyone interested in learning about water safety. The class includes topics such as preventing water accidents, use of lifejackets, hazards, safety for swimmers and other recreation water activities and emergency responses.

The emergency water safety section includes procedures for responding to water emergencies. Those taking this class must have completed the basic water safety class and have an intermediate swimmers card or be able to pass a swimming test before the class begins.

Call the Red Cross office for further information or contact Mike at his home 364-4370.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Readers: Millions of fireworks are sold annually for the Fourth of July holiday celebration.

According to the National Safety Council, nearly 10,000 people are treated in hospital emergency rooms for firework-related injuries, and more than two dozen accidental deaths occur annually because of injuries or from fires caused by fireworks.

Please take a few minutes to read through these very important safety hints. Don't become a statistic!

- Young children should not set off any fireworks. Over 40 percent of injuries happen to children 14 and younger.

- Read all label direction on fireworks carefully before setting them off. They are all different!

- Keep admirers at a safe distance from the display. Two-thirds of the permanent eye injuries caused by fireworks happen to spectators.

- Keep a bucket of water or water hose handy in case it's needed.

- Never set off fireworks near dry, bushy areas. Gravel, pavement or sandy places are the best.

Many areas have outlawed fireworks, so be sure to check if you plan on using them.

Even seemingly harmless sparklers burn at temperatures as high as 1,800 degrees F and can cause disfiguring burns. So please make safety and caution No. 1! — Heloise

RECYCLING GREETING CARDS

Dear Heloise: Recycle sturdy greeting cards by cutting off the fronts to use as postcards. Draw a center line on the back side and you're ready to pen your message and add a stamp. — Vivian Zajicek, Wilber, Neb.

ALARM CLOCK

Q. I have an alarm clock that ticks so loud I have trouble falling asleep. Do you have any suggestions on quieting it?

— Sleepless Sara, Baltimore, Md.
A. Well, you can try this. Set the clock on the floor near the bed under a pillow or a small throw rug to muffle the noise, yet you still will be able to reach it when needed.

OR USE A LARGE GLASS BOWL TO COVER IT AND YOU CAN STILL SEE IT. — Heloise

FRESHER-SMELLING THROW RUGS

Dear Heloise: I've discovered a wonderful way to freshen my throw rugs without washing them weekly, which quickly eats away the rubber backing. I put them into the dryer on fluff or low heat with a dryer sheet for about 20 minutes.

The heat is enough to release the fresh smell of the sheet, but not do any harm to the rubber backing of the rugs. This is a real life-saver!

In addition to freshening the rugs, it helps to reduce static and removes pet hair. — S. Lewandowski, Columbus, Ohio

Fireworks injuries preventable

Fireworks injure nearly 10,000 people every year. A physician at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston says statistics show that many of these injuries are preventable.

"Most injuries from fireworks occur in teenage and pre-teen boys," said Dr. M. Bowes Hamill, assistant professor of ophthalmology at Baylor. "The injuries we most often see, to the hands and eyes, can be prevented by proper, adult supervision."

Children frequently throw firecrackers at each other, causing injury as severe as blindness or deafness when they explode in midair near the head. Injuries to the hand and face occur when fireworks with short fuses go off while they are still being held.

"I recommend that parents take their children to organized fireworks show, but if they do purchase fireworks, it is important to know how to use them safely and properly," Hamill said.

Firework rules to follow: never allow fireworks to be used without adult supervision, never use fireworks in prohibited areas, always place firecrackers on the ground before lighting them, never throw firecrackers, rocket-like fireworks should be launched from the ground, not the hand and pointed away from people, select an open field away from buildings to launch fireworks, carefully read the instructions and warnings on fireworks.

Hamill says anyone planning to use fireworks should know first aid measures should injuries occur.

Minor burns, the most common injury, should be treated by running cold water over the site immediately. Apply a cold water compress until the pain subsides and cover with gauze or similar material.

If the eye is injured, inspect the area for any foreign object on the eyeball or the eyelids. If it is embedded in the eye, if there is bleeding, if sight is diminished or the pupil is not round, attempt no treatment and take the patient to an emergency room immediately. Otherwise, gently rinse the area with clean water until the object is removed.

In the case of an explosion near the ear, perforation of the eardrum is possible. Cover the ear with a clean, dry pad to prevent infection and have a physician examine the area.

A first aid kit is recommended for any outing involving Fourth of July fireworks.

The first practical phonograph was invented in 1877 by Thomas Edison.

Notice of Calculation of Effective Tax Rates, Estimated Unencumbered Fund Balances and Debt Schedule

I Fred E. Fox, Designated official for the taxing units listed below, have calculated the tax rates in accordance with Sec. 26.04 of the Property Tax Code. This notice presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate used to determine the 1989 property taxes. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same amount of taxes on the same properties as last year. This year's rollback rate is the highest tax rate the taxing units may set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. This notice contains a summary of the calculations. You can inspect the full calculations at Deaf Smith County Appraisal District, 402 W. 4th, Hereford, Texas.

Lurline Cawthon won the door prize which was furnished by Pearson.

Atwater group hosts organizational picnic

A membership drive and a cookout for a newly created Republican organization, "The Atwater Group," will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. at 800 S. Avondale in Amarillo.

"The Atwater Group" was formed to give an active voice to individuals 22-40 years of age who want to learn more about the political process and who share the ideals of the Republican party. These beliefs include a strong defense, free enterprise and a government whose powers are limited.

One of the group's goals is to provide a grassroots leadership to elect party members to local, state and national offices. Members will SEATTLE (AP) - Roseanne Barr and husband Tom Arnold, who renewed their marriage vows last weekend, apparently are getting serious about their health.

The couple, in Seattle for a comedy date this week, switched hotels so they could have access to a swimming pool and asked for exercise equipment in their suite, said Dan Bean of Entertainment Consultants Inc.

Bean, who has stocked dressing rooms with booze and caviar for other stars, said the Arnolds asked only for soft drinks, fruit, vegetables and low-calorie dip. He said they have lost about 120 pounds between them.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I really need to vent my anger and frustration about a problem that is affecting everyone. I am talking about women and girls on Medicaid who are having three, four and five children.

Most of these women have no husbands and no jobs, but they continue to have babies that the rest of us hard-working people must support. I work in an emergency room so I see this every day. Yesterday, a 21-year-old came to the hospital, pregnant with No. 5. She has had a baby every since age 16, never married, has frequent pelvic infections and has never used birth control.

The tragic victims are the children. We are now seeing the third generation of Medicaid families. Something must be done NOW. I know this sounds cruel but why should hard-working, responsible taxpayers have to subsidize the irresponsible, careless behavior of these three, four and five-time repeaters? If a woman is on Medicaid, has had two children, is not married, is not attending school and is not seeking employment, she should have her tubes tied or be put on birth control and not be rewarded with more money with each new baby.

I know all the equal rights people out there are having fits right now but, my God, I see it every day and it makes me sick. I have talked with these girls myself. They shrug their shoulders and say they need more money so they have another baby. The only medical care they get is in our emergency room. Their teeth are rotten (dentists in this area refuse Medicaid patients) and they live on junk food. Some days I go home and cry.

Do I sound bitter? Well, I am. Please, Ann, print this letter. Maybe it will make a difference. -- Concerned, Upset R.N. in Michigan

DEAR CONCERNED: I can understand your anger but this is America, not Nazi Germany. We don't sterilize women. What we need is more federal and state funds to educate those repeaters and give them hope. They must understand that the road they are traveling leads nowhere. They also need basic instruction on birth control from non-judgmental social workers who speak their language.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I recently received your booklet "Sex and the Teenager" from my mother. I was very surprised. When she gave me the booklet she said, "I think you ought to read this." I was embarrassed and couldn't figure out why she gave it to me. After I read it, I knew it was just what I needed to make up my mind. I decided I was definitely not ready to have sex.

When Mom gave me the booklet, I was having a rough time with a relationship. I couldn't decide whether I should keep on saying no and risk losing my boyfriend to someone who would say yes, or stick with my convictions and take the chance. You made it clear that giving in to hang on to a guy was foolish because if that's the kind of person he is, he's not worth hanging on to. You also pointed out that some guys dump girls after they give in because they lose interest, or worse yet, they make girls feel cheap about themselves.

So thanks, Ann, for helping me keep my head together. You settled a big problem for me and I feel 100 percent better about myself. -- Jamesville, N.Y.

No surprises in NBA draft Wimbledon may play on Sunday

By BILL BARNARD
Basketball Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - The NBA could have held its draft in April and not much would have changed.

The Big Four in the spring - Larry Johnson, Kenny Anderson, Billy Owens and Dikembe Mutombo - was still the Big Four Wednesday night.

The projected second tier of four players - Steve Smith, Doug Smith, Luc Longley and Stacey Augmon - went 5-6-7-9, with only Mark Macon sneaking up a few spots to break the pattern.

The four centers projected as the best in the first round - Mutombo, Longley, Rich King and Stanley Roberts - went exactly in that order.

Johnson was the No. 1 pick of the Charlotte Hornets, winning out over Owens among the team's management because of the aggressive play he displayed at UNLV the last two years.

"He came up No. 1 in most of the categories that we were looking at, but the big thing about Larry Johnson is his competitiveness and his leadership, and he's a winner," Hornets player personnel director Allan Bristow said.

Johnson was the first of three Runnin' Rebels taken in the first round - another expected development - and four were taken in the first 29.

Augmon went to Atlanta with the ninth pick the Hawks acquired earlier in the day from the Los Angeles Clippers in a deal for Doc Rivers. Greg Anthony was selected 12th by the New York Knicks and George Ackles by Miami with the second pick in the second round.

Owens, from Syracuse, was favored by New Jersey player personnel director Willis Reed and coach Bill Fitch, but the Nets' ownership wanted the flashy Anderson, believing the sophomore point guard from Georgia Tech is a better drawing card because he was a high school hero in New York City.

"A Kenny Anderson comes along only once every 10 years or so. We looked at next year's draft and felt there was only one point guard, and there were at least three No. 3s (forwards)," said Joe Taub, a minority owner of the Nets.

"They told me they wanted me right along," Anderson said. "All I can do is go in with a great attitude. There's a lot of work ahead, but New Jersey has a piece of my heart now."

"I guess we didn't make the decision until this afternoon, but when we left, there wasn't any blood on the carpet," Fitch said Wednesday night. "Joe's a very convincing guy, and he was an Anderson guy from the get-go. But this wasn't a Joe Taub decision, it was a Net decision."

Sacramento, which coveted Anderson with the third pick because the Kings are already loaded with young forwards, grabbed Owens.

Denver did what was expected with the fourth pick, grabbing the best center available in Georgetown's 7-foot-2 Mutombo.

Despite not playing basketball until he was a senior in high school in Zaire, Mutombo averaged 15.2 points, 12.2 rebounds and 4.7 blocks as a senior for the Hoyas and was selected as the Big East's defensive player of the year last season.

Mutombo also has excellent running skills and stamina for a big man, and he'll need them with the Nuggets, 20-62 last season with the worst defense in the NBA.

"I am a great defensive player," said Mutombo, who turned 25 on Tuesday. "This will bring defense back to Denver."

After Miami picked Michigan State's Steve Smith, Dallas selected Missouri forward Doug Smith and Minnesota took New Mexico's Longley, Denver used its second choice to take Macon.

The Nuggets, who acquired the eighth pick in a deal that sent guard Michael Adams to Washington, appeared to commit to using shooter Chris Jackson at point guard.

"We looked in the draft to get a nice balance of inside-outside, and we got exactly that," coach Paul Westhead said.

Between Augmon at No. 9 and Anthony at No. 12, Orlando took forward Brian Williams of Arizona 10th and Cleveland grabbed guard Terrell Brandon of Oregon 11th.

After Anthony was taken, it was forward Dale Davis of Clemson to Indiana, center Rich King of Nebraska to Seattle, Seton Hall's Anthony Avent to Atlanta, Chris Gatling of Old Dominion and Victor Alexander of Iowa State back-to-back to Golden State, Kevin Brooks of Southwest Louisiana to Milwaukee, Louisville's LaBradford Smith to Washington, John Turner of Phillips to Houston, Eric Murdock of Providence to Utah, Syracuse's LeRon Ellis to the Clippers, Stanley Roberts of LSU and Real Madrid to Orlando, North Carolina's Rick Fox to Boston, Shaun Vandiver of Colorado to Golden State, Mark Randall of Kansas to Chicago and North Carolina's Pete Chilcutt to Sacramento.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - The incessant rain that already has wrecked a couple of Wimbledon traditions now is challenging one of its most hallowed rituals: the mid-tournament break.

All England Club officials have mandated for more than a century that, "On the seventh day, we rest."

But a backlog of matches caused by three days of miserable weather could call that commandment into question.

"At this stage it is too early to decide if we will have to play on the middle Sunday," said chief executive Chris Goringe. "It has never been done in the past and of course we have had this sort of weather before."

Yet Wimbledon librarian Alan Little, who has been at the Grand Slam event for 46 years, said he cannot recall such soggy weather.

"I can't remember a wetter first three days," Little said. "It is certainly the wettest start we've ever had."

After three days of Wimbledon, the rain was winning 134-46. Instead of the 180 matches that should have been completed at that point, only 46 had been finished.

"It's not quite critical, but it's getting close to that," Wimbledon referee Alan Mills said. "It's obviously been a very frustrating and depressing three days."

But Mills said he still hopes to avoid playing this Sunday and is optimistic the tournament can end as scheduled on July 7. He said it could be completed on time even if the first round is not finished until Monday.

Rather than playing this Sunday, Mills said he would prefer to make other moves if the rotten weather continues - such as cutting men's doubles matches from best-of-5 to best-of-3 sets.

"It is not just the tennis that is to be taken into consideration," Mills said. "It is all the domestic things that have to go on and be organized with all the contractors and the stewards and ballboys and linespeople."

The rain has forced tournament officials to move the traditional daily starting time ahead by 90 minutes until at least Saturday.

And the poor weather undermined another Wimbledon staple this spring when it ruined the British strawberry crop - forcing officials to import the tournament's famed berries from Belgium and France.

After a total washout on Monday and the completion of 28 matches on Tuesday, only 18 more matches were finished Wednesday as heavy rain caused a 6 1/2-hour delay and turned parts of Wimbledon into marshland.

When the wet weather finally cleared early Wednesday evening, (see WIMBLEDON, page 8)

Mavericks bulk up with Smith

DALLAS (AP) - Tommy Lasorda won't like it, but the Dallas Mavericks are shunning the Slim-Fast way of life.

The Mavericks chose Missouri forward Doug Smith with the sixth pick in Wednesday night's NBA draft, and plan to put the 6-10, 223-pounder on a strength conditioning program to add upper body strength and bulk.

They also chose Temple junior Donald Hodge, a 6-11, 230-pound center with the 33rd pick and 5-11 guard Mike Iuzzolino of St. Francis with the 35th pick.

Both are projects who could eventually replace veterans James Donaldson and Brad Davis.

But the player that the Mavericks are hoping will return them to the playoffs is Smith, who was rated just a notch below the draft's premier players and was the best big man left after the first four picks. He was the third player in Big Eight history, after Danny Manning and Wayman Tisdale, to reach 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds.

He averaged 23.6 points and 10.4 rebounds as a senior for the Tigers.

Dallas coach Richie Adubato said Smith, who can play both forward positions, might see plenty of playing time right away because the Mavericks are thin at forward, especially with Roy Tarpley's status unclear.

Tarpley is on indefinite suspension from the NBA for violating his drug treatment after-care program and even faces a possible prison term if a judge determines a March drunken driving charge violates terms of his probation for an earlier DWI conviction. He also has an assault charge pending.

But Smith won't fill Tarpley's shoes on the court.

"Tarpley is more of a prototype, physical power forward," Sund said. "Doug is probably more like a Harvey Grant, a Horace Grant or a Cliff Robison-type player. He's very athletic. Doug gives you some real good speed."

Smith is considered an excellent low-post scorer with a baby hook and turnaround jumper. He played for the U.S. National Team at the Goodwill Games and World Championships last summer.

He said the Mavericks and he are a good fit.

"The Mavericks appear to need some rebounding, and I think I will bring that, along with my ability to run the floor, to Dallas. Once I get a little bit stronger I will be able to do even more things."

He said he won't mind coming off the bench.

"Not at all. I have played that role as a freshman and I would prefer it at first to get adjusted to the NBA," Smith said.

Rockets, Turner glad to have each other

HOUSTON (AP) - When the Houston Rockets made their final draft plans, they didn't expect John Turner to be available for their first pick, the 20th overall.

But as the draft unfolded Wednesday night, things fell into place. He was there and the Rockets grabbed him.

"We were very, very pleased he was there," Rockets General Manager Steve Patterson said. "We needed two surprises in front of us for John Turner to come to us. We really didn't expect to make it."

The elation - and surprise - was mutual.

"A couple of times when I came in to visit, they told me that I'd probably be gone earlier," Turner said. "But I wasn't and I'm happy I'm going to Houston."

After playing for a junior college and Georgetown, he finished with Phillips College of the NAIA.

At 6-6 1/2, 245 pounds, Turner can play the big and small forward spots. His strength comes near the basket where he averaged over 13 rebounds per game and scored most of his 23.5 points per game at Phillips.

The Rockets took Keith Hughes of Rutgers with their second pick, the 47th overall, and traded him to Cleveland for the Cavaliers' second round choice in 1996 and future considerations.

They continued planning for the future by selecting the rights to Zan Tabak of Yugoslavia. He is under contract with Pop 84 for two more years, but the Rockets, also owners of the rights to Carl Herrera who is playing in Spain, hope to sign him then.

Spurs pick project

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - The San Antonio Spurs got what they were after in the NBA draft - a point guard.

The question is whether Greg Sutton of Oral Roberts University can make the team.

Not surprisingly, Spurs coaches and executives had positive predictions Wednesday night after announcing their second-round, 49th overall pick.

"I think he can make the team," said Spurs coach Larry Brown. "One, we have the need. Two, he has the ability to play in the league."

Sutton, a 6-2, 170-pound guard, averaged 34.3 points, 4.8 rebounds (see SPURS, page 8)

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for residence Custom Calling Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for certain residence Custom Calling Services.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling 8 and Speed Calling 30.

The Company's proposal would increase the monthly rate for the individual Call Waiting feature from $2.10 to $3.10 for residence customers. Also, the rates for certain combinations of Custom Calling Features (Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8) would increase or decrease depending upon the combination of features. In addition, the company proposes to obsolete the optional Custom Calling Service feature Speed Calling 30 for residence customers except for existing customers at their existing locations. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

One Feature Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting	$2.10	$3.10
Call Forwarding	2.10	2.10
Three-Way Calling	2.10	2.10
Speed Calling-8	2.10	2.10
Two Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding	3.75	4.50

Speed Calling 30	3.20	3.20

*denotes rate decrease
**Southwestern Bell's application proposes to obsolete residence Speed Calling 30 except for existing customers at their existing locations.

Most of the Company's residence customers in Texas who subscribe to one or more of the Custom Calling Service features will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring. It is expected that the proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.9 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. The restructuring will result in an increase in the Custom Calling Services rates for approximately 2.5 million residence customers and rate decreases for approximately 15,000 residence customers. Also, the obsolescence of the optional feature Speed Calling 30 will affect approximately 156,000 residence customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Belle comes back; Indians blast Orioles

By The Associated Press
Albert Belle is alive and well and living in Cleveland - again.
Belle, banished to Class AAA Colorado Springs on June 6 after not running out a double-play grounder, returned to the Indians' lineup Wednesday night and wasted no time making his presence felt.
He had a two-run double in his first-at bat and an RBI single in his second - both in a nine-run first inning that led Cleveland to a 10-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Cleveland manager John McNamara hopes Belle, who still leads the Indians with nine homers and is second with 30 RBIs, is back to stay.
The victory snapped Cleveland's five-game losing streak and was the Indians' fourth in 21 games. They were 2-15 without Belle, who hit .328 with two homers and 16 RBIs in 16 games in the minors.
"Hopefully, being in Colorado Springs he has his confidence back and he'll start hitting," McNamara said.

And what did Belle think about his triumphant return. He wouldn't say - at least not to the media. He has refused to talk to reporters in Cleveland since he threw a baseball at a heckler during a game on May 11.
Greg Swindell (4-6), who's suffered all year from a lack of offensive support, had no complaints after the Indians' biggest inning of the season. He allowed four runs and 10 hits in six innings.

"This has been a long time coming," Swindell said of the outburst.
After Belle's two-run double, Brook Jacoby followed with an RBI single and Felix Fermin added a run-scoring single for a 4-0 lead. Mark Lewis and Jerry Browne added two-run singles before Belle's RBI single.

Sanderson gave up only Ellis Burks' ninth homer of the season in the sixth. Howe allowed a single and a double to the first two batters he faced, then got the next nine for his second save.
Roberto Kelly led the offense against Mike Gardiner (3-2) with a two-run single.
Angels 10, Royals 5
The Angels made it easy for Mark Langston, scoring six runs in the top of the first to complete a three-game sweep at Royals Stadium while setting an American League record with their 13th straight errorless game.

Luis Sojo had a two-run double as the Angels routed Mark Gubicza (3-4).
Langston (11-2) won his fifth straight decision despite allowing five runs in eight innings.
Tigers 8, Brewers 7
Detroit wasted a five-run lead in the eighth and ninth innings, but won in the 13th on Travis Fryman's RBI single.
Detroit hit three homers, including Mickey Tettleton's second roof-clearing shot at Tiger Stadium in five games,

Mitchell homers in return

By The Associated Press
It didn't take long for Kevin Mitchell to show what he means to the San Francisco Giants.
Mitchell, in his first game since coming off the disabled list, homered in the 11th inning off Tim Crews on Wednesday night as San Francisco beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 for its sixth straight victory.
"Coming in here and winning two games against the Dodgers when they're been playing so well, and beating their best pitchers has to give us a lift," Giants manager Roger Craig said.
Matt Williams tied the game in the ninth inning with a two-out, two-run homer off Ramon Martinez, who was one out away from a two-hit shutout.
Mitchell, who hadn't played since June 3 because of an injured right knee, entered the game as a pinch hitter in the ninth and popped out to second. Two innings later, he hit his 11th home run of the season off Crews (2-1).
"I was looking for something hard that I could drive," Mitchell said. "He started me off with a fastball up and away, and then he threw me a slider for a strike. In that situation, I never thought he'd throw me a ball that I could pull."
Mitchell missed Tuesday's game because of a stomach disorder and an inner ear infection.

"The ear infection messed up my focus," Mitchell said. "It had me leaning to the left a little bit. They gave me some antibiotics. It helped out a lot, but I'm still a little woozy."
Jeff Brantley (2-1) pitched the 10th inning for the Giants, striking out Stan Javier to end the game with Brett Butler on third.
Martinez allowed three hits in nine innings, struck out seven and walked four.
Cardinals 14, Phillies 1
Pat Combs (2-6) walked five of six batters he faced and 22 of his 27 pitches were balls.
St. Louis had 16 hits, including five doubles and a triple. Tom Pagnozzi drove in three runs and pitcher Bryn Smith, Ozzie Smith and Todd Zeile had two RBIs each.
Bryn Smith (6-4) won for only the second time in seven starts, giving up six hits and a run in 6 2-3 innings.
Reds 6, Padres 2
Scott Scudder hit his first major league homer in a four-run third and pitched six strong innings.
Scudder (3-3) allowed four hits in 6 1-3 innings and Randy Myers got his sixth save. Dennis Rasmussen

(3-2) allowed 10 hits and three walks in six innings for the Padres.
Mets 7, Expos 4
Frank Viola survived a shaky start and five hits by Marquis Grissom.
Viola (8-5) gave up three runs and 10 hits in seven innings. John Franco got the final out for his 14th save.
Mark Gardner (3-4) gave up five runs and seven hits in five innings.
Pirates 7, Cubs 6
Barry Bonds and Jose Lind homered in a five-run third inning, Bob Walk remained unbeaten and Jay Bell went 5-for-5.
Walk (6-0) allowed six hits in seven innings. Bill Landrum got three outs for his 14th save in 14 chances.
Pittsburgh trailed 3-1 before Bonds' two-run, two-out homer in the third off Greg Maddux (6-6), who gave up six runs and seven hits in four innings.
Braves 3, Astros 2
Terry Pendleton went 4-for-4 and scored the go-ahead run.
With the score tied 2-2, Pendleton led off the eighth with a double off Jim Clancy (0-2). Jeff Treadway then singled home the lead run.
Mike Stanton (3-1) allowed one hit in 1 1-3 scoreless innings. Juan Berenguer finished with perfect relief for his 11th save.

Jones: Cowboys' talent tops

AUSTIN (AP) - Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones stopped short of predicting a playoff spot for the Cowboys this season but said his players can match up with anybody in the National Football League.
Jones said Wednesday 80 players would be coming to summer football camp in Austin. "This is the most competitive that the Dallas Cowboys have been for intrasquad positions in many, many years."

He said the roster includes second-year players Emmitt Smith, a running back who was NFL Rookie of the Year, and wide receiver Alexander Wright, whom Jones said is the fastest player in the NFL.
Both were holdouts last year and will be taking part in their first summer camp.

"We have excellent talent. I believe we have talent on par with anybody in the NFL, with anybody in the NFL today," Jones told a news conference. "It is dramatic the talent that we have relative to where we were two or three years ago."
The Cowboys finished 7-9 last season, which was the second for Jones and Coach Jimmy Johnson.
The team improved from a 1-15 record in 1989. As a result of that improvement, Johnson was named NFL Coach of the Year.
Last year, in a training camp Johnson called "fantastic," the Cowboys drew 97,647 spectators for 36 practices, according to the team's count.
"I think you haven't seen anything yet compared to what it's going to be," Jones said.
The Cowboys report to camp at St. Edward's University on July 14, with the first practice July 16.
An intrasquad scrimmage is scheduled for July 21. Scrimmages against the Houston Oilers will be held July 25 in Austin and July 28 in San Antonio.
Camp ends Aug. 16.

NCAA toughening freshman eligibility

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - It's going to get harder to be a college athlete. And being a college coach, at least on some campuses, may soon become less of a money-making experience.
The NCAA Presidents Commission, its long-range reform campaign rolling along virtually unopposed, announced Wednesday it will address academics and the sticky issue of coaches' compensation at next January's convention.
Schools will be asked to approve measures strengthening academic standards, including freshman eligibility, and requiring coaches to get prior approval for all outside compensation.
"It's been a step-by-step process starting in 1986 and 1987 when the Presidents Commission established their forums and set their agenda for change," NCAA executive director Dick Schultz said at a news conference. "The presidents are right on track."

If approved in January, freshman by 1995 would need a 2.5 cumulative grade point on a 4.0 scale in 13 college preparatory courses instead of the present requirement of a 2.0 in 11 core courses. The two new core courses can be either math, English or natural sciences, Schultz said.

Gabriela Sabatini and Jennifer Capriati wasted little time scoring straight-set victories.

Sabatini, the second seed, defeated Monique Javer 6-4, 6-0. Capriati, seeded ninth, won 6-0, 7-5 over Shaun Stafford after a long afternoon in the locker room.

"I was bored out of my mind. I was hanging around," Capriati said. "I ate something. I played a couple of games of backgammon. I was really eager to go out."

The tournament also lost its first seeded players late Wednesday.

Richey Reneberg finished off a 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 upset of 12th men's seed Andrei Cherkasov of the Soviet Union in a match that had begun Tuesday and Gigi Fernandez defeated 10th women's seed Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

SPURS

and 4.3 assists his senior year, when he was voted NAIA player of the year and was a consensus All-American.

Sutton is the all-time leading scorer for Oral Roberts, with 3,070 points in three years. He played his first year of college basketball at Langston University.

Spurs officials said they attempted a trade that also would have given San Antonio the 38th overall pick, but the deal fell through minutes before that selection had to be made. The Los Angeles Clippers had the 38th pick.

Brown said Sutton was the preference of Bob Bass, the Spurs vice president of basketball operations. But the coach said "the consensus was pretty close."

"I think he has a legitimate chance of making our team," Brown said. "He's the 49th pick, so let's just hope we got lucky."

Bass said selecting in the 49th spot means gambling on a longshot.

"Every player down there is a longshot," Bass said. "There are a lot of small college players that have made it in the NBA."

Edinburg brothers face death penalty in trial

TYLER, Texas (AP) - Defense attorneys for two Edinburg brothers charged with killing an East Texas lawman say a video tape that captured the officer's confrontation with three men will not prove the government's case.

The attorneys made the comments Wednesday during opening statements in the federal trial of Baldemar S. Villarreal, 29, and Reynaldo Sambrano Villarreal, 24.

The men, who face the death penalty if convicted, are accused in the Jan. 23 slaying of Nacogdoches County Constable Darrell Edward Lunsford, 47. The lawman inadvertently videotaped events leading to his death with a camera on the dash of his patrol car.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Wes Rivers told jurors they would see the videotape. "You will see most of the attack but you will not see the actual firing of the gun," which took place out of camera range, he said.

Defense attorney Clifton "Scrappy" Holmes said during opening statements that Lunsford was shot accidentally during a scuffle.

"The government will say it's as easy as watching 'Inside Edition' on TV. It's not," Holmes said.

"The videotape will show a scared Baldemar waiting to bolt and run to fulfill his nickname of Jackrabbit," he said.

Rivers said during opening statements that the shooting was intentional. He called the slaying a "vicious, violent and unprovoked attack" by three men who were hauling marijuana.

Federal officials say the trial is the first in the nation under a section of a 1988 law that carries the death penalty for those convicted of killing a police officer during commission of a drug offense.

A third suspect, Jesus Zambrano, earlier pleaded guilty and agreed to testify against the brothers.

Rivers said the Villarreal and Zambrano were transporting marijuana from Houston to Chicago when their car was pulled over by Lunsford for a routine traffic stop.

Lunsford was patrolling U.S. 59 in his hometown of Garrison, 151 miles southeast of Dallas, when he stopped the car.

Dr. James Bruce, a pathologist from Lufkin, testified Wednesday that it would have been difficult for Lunsford to have been holding the gun when it was fired.

The bullet penetrated the back of Lunsford's jacket before it struck him, Bruce said.

David Spence, a Department of Public Safety worker in Austin who performed chemical tests on the bullet hole in Lunsford's jacket, said the gun was "in contact with or in near proximity to" the jacket.

Lunsford died from a gunshot wound to the rear left side of his neck, Bruce testified. The constable also suffered a wound to the right side of his face below the jaw, but it was unclear whether it was an exit wound from the gunshot or a stab wound, the forensic specialist said.

Lunsford also had bruises on his neck, face and fingers.

Nacogdoches County Deputy Sheriff Don Welch, the first of 13 witnesses called Wednesday, said he drove by while Lunsford had the suspects' car pulled over and later saw the same car leaving town.

After following the car because it looked suspicious, Welch backtracked to look for Lunsford. Welch testified he found the constable's body in a ditch near his patrol car, which was still running and had its overhead lights on.

Two days of jury selection concluded Tuesday with attorneys selecting seven women, five men and two alternates for the panel. The case is being heard in the court of U.S. District Judge Robert Parker.

Zambrano, 22, pleaded guilty April 11. In a plea bargain, prosecutors have agreed not to seek the death penalty against Zambrano in exchange for his testimony against the Villarreal brothers. Zambrano faces 20 years to life in prison and a fine of up to $250,000.

"Jesus Zambrano is a cooperating witness because he has cut a deal to save his own life," Holmes said in his opening statement.

No ill woodwinds blow for clarinetist

WASHINGTON (AP) - To say that Berk Motley plays the clarinet is to tell only a third of the truth.

He plays three clarinets at once, in three-part harmony. Years ago, he played three clarinets and accompanied himself on the piano with his toes, a trick that landed him in "Ripley's Believe It or Not."

"I'm so good I can also play three clarinets backwards," he says, turning his back and tooting "Anchors Aweigh."

Motley used to play a couple of clarinets standing on his head, until he turned 75 and his family made him stop.

"It was a good time to quit," he says. "Since I've gotten old, it hurts when I fall."

How does he do it? Easy, he says.

"All it takes to play three clarinets at the same time is a big mouth," he says. "My wife can play four or five."

A former burlesque comedian and big-band musician from the 1930s and 1940s, Motley is 78 now. But he's still doing his shtick two nights a week from the stage of his surf 'n' turf restaurant in a blue-collar Maryland suburb east of Washington.

Motley entertains his customers with hoary gags, pantomime routines and hot licks on the trumpet, trombone, alto sax, clarinet and his own musical invention, a bagpipe he plays by blowing into a rubber tube attached to a flute that sticks out of a hot water bottle.

His long-suffering wife, Agnes, is a favorite target of the one-liners that ricochet off the walls around midnight:

"I dedicate the next song to my wife. 'Please Release Me'."

"Good night, folks, it's time for me to go home and jump-start my wife."

Motley fell in love with music at age 9, when his mother bought him a secondhand trombone for $3.

"I slept with it," he says. "I woke up at 5 a.m. and practiced for hours, until the neighbors took me to court."

At 14, he joined the traveling circus that stopped in his home town of Rocky Mount, N.C.

CLASSIFIEDS

Call Janey Allmon at the Hereford Brand, 364-2030, or come by 313 N. Lee to place your classified advertising. We reach thousands everyday!

THE HEREFORD BRAND Since 1901
Want Ads Do It All!

YOU WANT IT, YOU GOT IT CLASSIFIED

364-2030
313 N. Lee

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	.15	3.00
2 days per word	.26	5.20
3 days per word	.37	7.40
4 days per word	.48	9.60
5 days per word	.59	11.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not in solid-word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing; all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Ask Dr. Lamb
DEAR DR. LAMB: Four years ago, when I was 47 years old, I had a complete hysterectomy. My doctor started me on Premarin almost immediately, but because of side effects, I could not tolerate it. He then prescribed Climacteron Injection once a month. This worked well for the menopausal symptoms, but I now have excessive body hair, especially on my breasts, under my chin, the top, front and back of my legs and sideburns. I have always been prone to "peach fuzz" on my face.
I have used a hair remover on occasion on all the new growth, but it is now like bristles. It is becoming uncomfortable to walk because my legs rub together, and my face is beginning to look like a beard. What on earth am I to do now?
Electrolysis would be out of the question because I would have to spend every day there for the rest of my life. I am going to try the Estraderm patches this month.
DEAR READER: The most likely cause of your problem is Climacteron Injection. Although it is a Canadian medication, and not available under that name in the United States, it points out a problem with some forms of hormone replacement. Climacteron Injection contains not only estrogen, but also testosterone, the male hormone. I notice from my mail some renewed interest in using testosterone to stimulate a woman's sex drive. It will do that, but it may produce the kind of masculinizing changes you describe.
Women do have as much hair as men. The difference is that testosterone causes the hair to become coarse and prominent. In women, the hair is so fine you often need a magnifying glass to see it.
Many cases of increased hair in women are the result of an imbalance in male and female hormones, not just because of medication. I have explained this in my new Special Report 107, Hirsutism: Women's Excess Hair, which I'm sending you. Others who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/107, P.O. Box 787, Gibbstown, NJ 08027-9908. Medicines to neutralize the masculine hormone may help in these cases.
Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 787, Gibbstown, NJ 08027-9908. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

State audit wins praise

AUSTIN (AP) - Legislative leaders, armed with an audit that proposes saving and raising $5.2 billion, say they will try to implement as many of its proposed changes as possible.

Gov. Ann Richards said the audit released by Comptroller John Sharp, if followed by the Legislature, should head off income tax talk.

"My personal feeling is that you will not see an income tax in Texas," Richards said.

Both House Speaker Gib Lewis and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock endorsed the audit findings made public Wednesday.

"I look for the Legislature to adopt 90 percent or more of it... The legislation that we will be drafting will be pretty much along the lines of this report. We hope to keep it intact," said Lewis, D-Fort Worth.

Bullock called the audit "the finest piece of work" he had seen in more than 20 years in public office. Bullock said he was "committed to implementing these recommendations."

The governor stopped short of predicting that the nearly 1,000 changes proposed by Sharp's audit could prevent all taxes from going up.

"As far as what will be needed, though, in terms of additional revenue - I don't think we know that yet," she said.

The audit was prepared for lawmakers who are convening to write and fund a 1992-93 budget facing a projected $4.6 billion deficit.

The chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. James Hurry, said the audit could mean a lower tax increase if one eventually is needed.

"The magnitude of these cuts makes it easier to get a tax bill because the tax bill will be less... and finally we'll be able to say to the taxpayers we have scrubbed as much as we can" from the budget, he said.

The governor praised the audit's proposals, saying they could put state government on the road to a dramatic overhaul.

"The people of Texas are not satisfied with what they've always got. They are not satisfied with the service and they are not satisfied with the bill that goes with it. And I don't blame them," she said.

Lobbyists expected to battle cuts

AUSTIN (AP) - Government watchdog groups advised the public to watch closely as lawmakers ponder money-saving proposals, because special interest lobbyists are expected to be out in force.

State Comptroller John Sharp on Wednesday released a report on ways to save billions of state dollars, including suggestions to consolidate some state agencies and eliminate jobs.

"Citizens have to take responsibility for making sure that government is serving them, the citizens, and not the special interests. So the public needs to pay attention to this process and to urge their legislators to do the fiscally correct thing," said Suzy Woodford, executive director of Common Cause.

She added, "I never underestimate the power of the lobby, especially the lobbyists that are being paid big bucks to make sure they do save their pet projects."

Tom Smith, Texas director of Public Citizen, said, "I'm very afraid the lobbyists will descend on the Capitol and thwart the plan, unless the citizens make it clear to their legislators that they want a more efficient and leaner government."

Richards said she would decide by the weekend whether to start the Legislature's budget-writing special session July 8, or wait until July 15 so lawmakers would have more time to examine the audit.

Richards, Lewis and Bullock were holding a private summit meeting on Matagorda Island today to discuss the upcoming session, the governor's office said.

Sharp's report, the result of 54,000 hours of work by nearly 100 auditors, called for sweeping reforms in the way government works.

"It was suggested that we should look for ways to cut at least $200 million from the state budget. We did that the first day," Sharp said.

The 975 recommendations included merging some agencies, combining many of the more than 600 state bank accounts and eliminating about 1,000 of the 226,000 state jobs.

Among key proposals:

- Reorganize the Texas Education Agency.

- Merge the numerous health and human services agencies, which now number about 25.

- Create a Natural Resources Council. Currently, 15 agencies deal with the environment and natural resources.

- Consolidate many of the more than 600 special-purpose bank accounts now on the books.

- Provide incentives for state workers to be more efficient.

- Limit school district administrative costs.

- Obtain more federal Medicaid and child support money.

- Increase tuition at public colleges and universities, and various state fees.

Sharp said the audit's findings - if enacted - would generate $4 billion in savings and higher fees.

The proposals also could bring an additional $1.2 billion in new money, mostly from the federal government, he said.

However, Sharp warned that it is crucial that the recommendations not be picked apart by state agencies and their lobbyists. That almost certainly means higher taxes, he said.

Sharp likened his recommendations to a string of Christmas tree lights.

"Every bulb is important. If you pull one of them out, the whole string goes dark," he said. "We can either streamline state government as proposed... or we can pass a tax (increase) to pay for the old way of doing things."

An indication of the fight that may lay ahead was all around him as Sharp made the 1,200-page audit public in the Senate chamber. Crowded into the room and seated in the spectator galleries were hundreds of state agency employees.

The comptroller said he expected legislators to be pressured by both bureaucrats and lobbyists for the various special interests that are cozy with the 200-plus agencies that now exist.

"If you're going to call your legislator and harass them about some $500,000 item, then have the guts to call them and tell them you're for a $5 billion tax increase at the same time," Sharp said.

"You've got all these people that no doubt are going to be calling them (lawmakers) saying, 'Save my agency.' And then the next call is going to be, 'Don't give me a $5 billion tax.'"

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for Directory Assistance Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for Directory Assistance Service.

To help recover its costs, the Company is proposing to increase the rates for Directory Assistance calls from $.30 to $.40 per call (after the three-call allowance). Southwestern Bell is proposing that there be no change in the number of free Directory Assistance calls allowed each month (currently three) and that customers who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps continue to be exempt from these charges. The company also proposes to begin charging $.25 per call for Directory Assistance from pay telephones.

If approved by the Commission, this proposed rate change for Directory Assistance will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.4 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. This proposed rate change would affect approximately 900,000 residence customers, approximately 155,000 business customers, approximately 500 private pay telephone owners and all customers who make Directory Assistance calls from public pay telephones.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Did you know . . .

Every year we throw away 28 billion glass bottles and jars — enough to fill the twin towers of New York's World Trade Center every two weeks.

When you toss out one aluminum can, you waste as much energy as if you filled the same can half full with gasoline and poured it onto the ground.
