Local tax abatement plans placed on hold

By ANDREA HOOTEN
Staff Writer

The criteria for offering tax abatement to industry were not adopted at a joint meeting of the Hereford city, school and county boards Tuesday night because the Hereford Area Tax Abatement Board, which wrote the guideline, doesn't legally exist.

The three entities scheduled the meeting to hear public comment on the tax abatement criteria and adopt the criteria, but city attorney Earnest Langley said the three entities never passed resolutions creating the board even though each has named two representatives to the board.

"The three entities need to create this board under the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act and set up the guidelines after that," said Langley. "You're awfully close to doing what you want to do but there are things lacking. To the best of my knowledge there is no Hereford Area Tax Abatement Board."

The Hereford Area Tax Abatement Board has met several times since June 28, tailoring a tax abatement plan for Deaf Smith County which would abate a percentage of ad valorem taxes for new or expanding industry for several years as an incentive for businesses to build in the county.

The 11-page plan states that the three entities would offer up to 100 percent abatement for two years during construction, 50 percent up to three years after and 25 percent up to five years after that. The plan was based on tax abatement plans from Austin, Wharton and Waco.

County commissioner Johnny Latham, chairman of the board, will meet with Mayor Wes Fisher, Hereford school board president John Fuston and Langley today to reword the tax abatement resolution to read that the entities, not the board, shall adopt the criteria.

The resolution currently states that the Hereford Area Tax Abatement Board shall adopt the guidelines when, in fact, the three entities must first adopt them.

"It won't be hard to do," said Latham. "After we get the wording right each entity will adopt the criteria and then adopt an intergovernmental agreement at their next meetings and form the board."

Langley also said the abatement guidelines never clarify that the Hereford

Area Tax Abatement Board's sole responsibility is to recommend abating taxes, not abating the taxes.

"The principal thing is that no where in these criteria do you find that the abatement decision will be made by the individual taxing entities. What they're saying out loud is that the tax abatement board meets and makes recommendations to the taxing entities but it doesn't state that on paper," Langley said.

At the combined public hearing-joint meeting, six people attended, but no one had comments concerning the tax abatement criteria.

Campaigning congressman

during a campaign visit by Combest on Tuesday at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse in Hereford.

Combest again refuses McCathern challenge

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

A day after his opponent for his 19th Congressional District seat stepped out of a van and onto the rear platform of a trailer-mounted caboose, U.S. Rep. Larry Combest stepped out of the front seat of a van and shared a glass of lemonade with about 20 visitors at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse in Hereford.

"It doesn't surprise me that Gerald (McCathern) was on a caboose," Combest said. "The caboose is at the back of the train. I've always preferred to ride up in the front."

Combest, on a two-day tour through the district to kick off his general election campaign, feels confident about his chances in November against McCathern. It's the second time in two years the two have faced each other in the general election.

"I would assume he is running on the same issues he ran on two years ago. I have my record. Two years ago, 63 percent of the people in the district said they didn't want him," Combest said.

The two-term Lubbock congressman again refused McCathern's challenge to a debate. The challenge was renewed by McCathern during two Hereford appearances Monday.

"I answered that two months ago. I'm not going to spend my constituents' time spreading his issues. If he wants to get his issues to the people, that is his responsibility. If he wants to spread his message, then he needs to go out and talk about it."

Combest said the George Bush-Dan Quayle ticket could give him an added boost in November. "The differences between George Bush and Mike Dukakis are as wide as the were between Ronald Reagan and Walter Mondale in 1984," Combest said. "If you like the idea of gun control, increasing taxes, a nuclear freeze and disarming the armed forces, then you can support Mike Dukakis. I think George Bush will have overwhelming support in West Texas."

Combest said there are not many issues left in Washington that could have an effect on the November election, "but I think we are going to see the failure of the national Democratic policy in Central America," Combest said.

"We are going to see that policy shown for what it is. You can see how the Democrats have hamstrung President Reagan in so many areas and see how their policies have failed. But look at where the president has been able to do something: We have peace talks in the Persian Gulf, Russian troops being withdrawn from Afghanistan. Those are places where the president has been able to exert his influence."

Combest said the biggest issue facing Congress in the next two months will probably be the bill to raise the minimum wage.

"Business is very concerned about the minimum wage bill, and I am very, very opposed to it," Combest said. "I think we can sustain a veto, and I am going to strongly encourage the president to veto it."

Hereford school board approves $16.1 M budget

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

The Hereford school board approved a $16.15 million budget for the 1988-89 school year during a special meeting Tuesday at the Hereford school administration building.

The budget is $2 million lower than the $18.2 million 1987-88 budget, but the 1987-88 budget included most of the payment for new construction at Hereford Junior High and Hereford High School.

The district will have a carryover of $2.9 million for the 1988-89 budget, but that includes $125,000 from the unemployment self-insurance fund, $57,000 taken from the cafeteria fund surplus, and $273,656 that is still to be paid for the construction. Most of the unpaid construction costs are for the nearly-completed band hall renovation at HHS.

The 1988-89 budget calls for a fund balance next year of $1.96 million. "We want to again commit to the board that we are going to try our best to save $100,000 in this budget to put our surplus at $2 million," said Superintendent Charles Greenawalt.

"We are hoping the budget picture is going to be better for us," Greenawalt said. "We had a better year last year than what we were anticipating, and I think when we take a final look at the 1987-88 at our September board meeting we will see that."

"We have a $16 million budget: that's $1.3 million a month we're spending if you divide it out over 12 months, and a lot of that money, 77 percent of it (in personnel salaries) goes right back in into our community," said board member Dennis Newton. "I hope people realize that a lot of what we are spending goes right back into our community's pockets."

Board members are attempting to set up a meeting with Dr. Paul Dunn of Levelland and Monte Hasie of Lubbock, the candidates for this area's seat on the State Board of Education in the November general election, on Sept. 19, but that date is not yet firm.

Delta 727 crashes on DFW takeoff

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — A Delta 727 carrying 105 people to Salt Lake City crashed and burned during takeoff shortly before 9 a.m. today at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

Delta spokeswoman Jackie Pate in Atlanta says Delta Flight 1141 originated in Jackson, Miss., and carried 97 passengers, five flight attendants and three pilots. The plane was to have left Dallas at 8:31 a.m.

At least 12 and possibly 20 people survived, including some of the flight crew, said Jerry Weeks of Irving, one of the first to arrive at the scene.

"The cabin was in good shape," said Jerry Weeks, of Irving, who worked for Flagship Services, an airport shuttle busline.

Weeks said the plane appeared to have lost power and turned sideways but the passenger compartment caught fire.

Survivors "weren't terribly distraught," Weeks said. "They just asked us to call their relatives and say they were OK."

The Tarrant County Medical Examiner's Office set up a temporary morgue to receive casualties.

"We are anticipating receiving some casualties, but we have no idea how many," said Bill Fabian, a spokesman with the examiner's office.

Parkland Memorial Hospital emergency room attendants said they were prepared to receive 40 to 50 injured, most with burns, cuts and broken bones.

"We are working on an alert three. That is a crash," said DFW Airport spokeswoman Marilyn Beauvais.

Eyewitnesses said the plane burst into flames and plowed into the dirt of a north-south runway.

David Hooker, 28, of Celina, was waiting at a gas station at the south end of the airport when the plane crashed.

"I heard the normal noise of an airplane taking off. I turned to watch and just barely saw the nose clear a building over there," he said pointing to a low-level warehouse type facility about a half-mile away.

"Then there was a cloud of smoke about three stories high and an explosion," Hooker said.

"I was coming over the bridge on I-30 in Arlington, and I saw a big ball of fire going into the air," Greg Isaacs of Dallas told KRLD radio. "I started driving over there and it looked like it was over near DFW, and I thought, 'No way could it be an airplane accident.'"

"I could tell it was over near DFW. It was an unbelievably big explosion. I could not believe it — I absolutely could not believe it was that big an explosion," Isaacs said.

Fire trucks were blanketing the wreckage with foam.

The jet lay smoldering in two sections under a cloudless sky, and the top half of the front section burned completely away.

The tail-section was not visible, and only a portion of the rear half of the jet with the name Delta above about a dozen seat windows was not scorched or blackened.

Less than an hour after the accident, rescue teams in asbestos suits were beginning to walk through the wreckage, looking for additional passengers and spraying water on sections still aflame.

A constant stream of ambulances with sirens wailing flowed in and out of the flat, grassy field where the jet crashed. Several helicopters were also coming in and out of the crash site.

Relatives and friends of people believed to be on the flight were ushered into two meeting rooms at the Delta terminal, near a chapel.

Delta officials contacted several ministers from suburban Dallas-Fort Worth to help comfort those at the terminal, said a minister who declined to give his name.

The accident is the second at DFW involving Delta in three years.

On Aug. 2, 1985, Delta Flight 191 crashed as it approached a runway during a violent thunderstorm, killing 137 people, including the driver of a car that was hit. That crash injured 25 others.

The L-1011 jet was on a flight from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Investigators of that crash determined that there was a wind shear — a violent change in wind direction that can rob a plane of lift — within the storm.

Local Roundup

Rock throwing reported

Criminal mischief was reported in the 100 block of Oak Street after a rock was hurled at front and back windshields, causing $200 worth of damages.

Hereford police also reported another rock throwing incident in the 500 block of Union Avenue and police intervened in a rock fight between children in the 500 block of Blevins Street.

A child was treated at Deaf Smith General Hospital after the child was bitten by a cocker spaniel in the 800 block of Blevins; a woman in the 100 block of Country Club Road reported that children were stealing her mail; and assault was reported in the 400 block of Brevard Street.

A 21-year-old man was arrested on charges of public intoxication and a juvenile was detained for shoplifting bubble gum from a discount store.

Six citations were issued and the fire department answered two false alarms.

County arrests three

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office arrested a 17-year-old boy on charges of public intoxication; a man, 27, on a bench warrant; and a 21-year-old man on charges of public intoxication.

The Hereford State Bank also reported a $520 forged check.

Good rain chance

Showers began falling in the Hereford area at about 8 a.m. today, and there's a good chance for more rain through Thursday.

Tonight will be partly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of thunderstorms and a low of 65. South winds will be 10-20 mph.

Thursday will be partly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of thunderstorms and a high of 88. Southwest winds will be 10-20 mph and gusty.

This morning's low at KPAN was 65 after a high Tuesday of 81.

Boeing 727 Facts,
By The Associated Press
Boeing 727s at a glance:

Boeing 727s are no longer manufactured. The first flight of the three-engine jet with the T-shaped tail was Feb. 9, 1963. The plane first went into service in February 1963 with United Airlines and Eastern Air Lines. Initially designed for short-to-medium routes and a maximum passenger capacity of about 130, later models were capable of carrying 180 passengers, with a range of more than 2,500 statute miles. Production ended Aug. 14, 1984, with 1,831 delivered. It is currently flown by more than 170 carriers.

There are various models, all powered by Pratt & Whitney JT8D turbofans. Models include:

- 727-100, standard passenger seating 94. Length 133'2", wingspan 108'. In service Feb. 1, 1964.
- 727-100C, same size, convertible to all cargo. In service April 23, 1966.
- 727-100QC, same thing, designed for quick conversions to passenger or cargo.
- 727-200, Length 153'2", wingspan 108', 134 passengers. In service Dec. 14, 1967.
- 727-200 advanced version, same size, 145 passengers. In service July 1972.
- 727-200F, all freight version, same size, in service August 1983.

Dukakis: Bush lacks scruples

By ROBERT GREENE
Associated Press Writer

George Bush turned Michael Dukakis' 25-year-old snowblower on him to argue that the frugal Massachusetts governor would shortchange national defense, while Dukakis said the vice president failed a vital test of judgment by letting the Reagan administration sell arms to Iran.

The sniping took place Tuesday as the Dukakis presidential campaign planned an early battery of television commercials and pointed to organizational successes in establishing strong, well-financed, grassroots organizations in nearly every state.

But there still was lingering tension between the Dukakis camp and Jesse Jackson over how the civil rights leader and former Dukakis opponent would campaign for the Democratic ticket.

Sources who spoke only on condition of anonymity said Jackson resisted attempts to limit the states in which he campaigns, but it was still unresolved where and when Dukakis and Jackson would appear together.

Bush ridiculed Dukakis' snowblower — the prized emblem of the Democratic presidential nominee's budget-consciousness — during one of several appearances in which he continued to criticize Dukakis as weak on defense.

"If he doesn't want to modernize his snowblower, that's his concern," Bush said at Fort Campbell, Ky., referring to the 25-year-old snowblower that figured prominently in a film about Dukakis at the Democratic National Convention. "But if he doesn't modernize our weapons systems, that puts the national security of the United States in considerable risk."

The vice president also was trying to broaden his campaign beyond traditional Republican themes by highlighting environmental issues today.

Bush was traveling to Michigan, where his schedule included a speech near Lake Erie to environmentalist groups. Later in the week, Bush, who has proposed a ban on ocean dumping, will visit several beach sites in New Jersey and New England.

Aides said he also may make a foray deep into Dukakis territory — a campaign event on polluted Boston Harbor, an environmental disaster that has been a political embarrassment for the Massachusetts governor.

Bush's running mate, Indiana Sen. Dan Quayle, will be traveling to Louisiana with his wife, Marilyn, as part of a five-state southern swing.

Dukakis, resurrecting the Iran-Contra arms and money scandal as a campaign issue, said Bush was head of an anti-terrorism task force that had issued a report denouncing any concessions to terrorist nations.

"The president, and the vice president and a number of other people, over the opposition of the secretary of state and the secretary of defense, by the way, proceeded to do precisely what that commission said you should never do," Dukakis said at a news conference during a tour of Western Massachusetts.

"Making tough decisions is a test of leadership," Dukakis said. "George Bush endorsed the decision to sell arms to Iran and in doing so he failed that test."

Jackson met in Washington last Thursday with Dukakis aides and Democratic Party chairman Paul Kirk to discuss the campaign, but very little was settled, according to one participant who asked not to be identified.

A request was made, but later dropped, that Jackson avoid appearances in five states where his negative ratings might hurt, the source said.

Jackson beat Dukakis in the primaries in three of those states — Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi — and in the primary-like caucus in the fourth state, Michigan, but conceded defeat in Texas.

Astronauts solve fake problem

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Astronauts resolved a problem caused by a simulated failure of their craft's right engine as part of a final rehearsal of the upcoming flight of Space Shuttle Discovery.

The 56-hour simulation began Tuesday and involved about 300 people at Johnson Space Center in preparation for mission STS-26, a four-day flight that will mark the first launch of a NASA space shuttle in more than 2½ years.

NASA spokeswoman Barbara Selby said, "The first thing after launch, when they were going into orbit, the right engine failed so that they had to do what's called 'abort to orbit.'"

"That means the shuttle can still make it into orbit, but lower than planned, so they have to adjust their activities," Ms. Selby said. "They did achieve the ATO, as we call it, and made the necessary adjustments to continue the mission."

The shuttle crew faced another problem later Tuesday when they tried to deploy the $100 million communications satellite.

A tilt table used to deploy the satellite stuck at a 24-degree angle, meaning two crew members will have to go outside the orbiter today to manually adjust the table to the needed 50-degree angle.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor: After recently having a baby at Deaf Smith General Hospital, we feel the need to express our thanks to the entire "OB" staff, Dr. McBryer, Dr. Khuri, our anesthesiologist "Bill", and the respiratory therapists, all of whose friendly, personal, and professional attitudes made this special time a very pleasurable experience.

After moving from a larger city, we found the friendly and personal atmosphere at Deaf Smith General Hospital most welcome!

We are very thankful to have such a facility in Hereford and it is apparent to us the importance of community support to maintain this fine service to our people, who may someday need medical attention!

Sincerely,
Jerry and Linda Stevens

Fire threatens 600 cabins in Yellowstone

By BART ZIEGLER
Associated Press Writer

California firefighters battled more than 170 fires, while gusts in Yellowstone threatened to fan a 90,000-acre blaze toward 600 cabins and the park superintendent said there was no end in sight to this summer's wildfires.

Montana ranchers prepared for possible evacuation today, and crews fought woodland blazes in Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Utah.

In California, nearly 9,500 lightning strikes Tuesday sparked scores of blazes a year after a similar barrage spawned devastating fires. Firefighters said more than 4,600 acres had burned, but they held most of the blazes to an acre or less in the drought-parched wildlands.

Crews were hampered by 100-plus-degree temperatures, winds and lightning in some areas. The unfavorable conditions were expected to continue today.

Altogether on state land, 73 lightning-sparked fires burned 2,700 acres, said state Department of Forestry spokeswoman Karen Terrill.

U.S. Forest Service spokesman Matt Mathes said 43 lightning-caused fires in Southern California national forests burned just 30 acres, while 60 blazes in Northern California national forests blackened 1,900 acres.

"We are flying over the areas to determine if there are any (other) hot spots," Terrill said.

Near San Francisco, fire swept through dry brush and trees Tuesday in Orinda, destroying five houses and badly damaging two others.

Police believe an electronically ignited toy rocket may have sparked the blaze, which was controlled in about two hours without reports of injuries.

"This has been the worst time of my life," said Beverly Hopp, whose 33-year-old home was destroyed. "What do you do after all these years?"

The only thing she and her husband, Al, could save was a desk containing money and insurance papers. In Wyoming, flames from the 90,000-acre North Fork fire at Yellowstone National Park moved to within a quarter-mile Tuesday of the Canyon hotel and campground complex.

Firefighters hoped for an early winter to quell blazes burning about a fifth of the 2.2 million-acre park, but Yellowstone's superintendent offered little encouragement.

"When will this end? Frankly, ladies and gentlemen, that's anybody's guess," Robert Barbee told about 100 people Tuesday night at a meeting in nearby Gardiner, Mont.

Gusty winds forecast for this afternoon threatened to again close some park roads that were put off limits Tuesday afternoon but later reopened.

Yellowstone spokeswoman Linda Young said activity on the 34,000-acre Wolf Lake fire forced closure of one road, and a flareup in North Fork blaze closed Yellowstone's west entrance for several hours.

To the north in Montana, winds played havoc with efforts to control the 190,000-acre Clover-Mist fire, burning in Yellowstone and in neighboring Shoshone National Forest.

Dallas Christian group attacks film

DALLAS (AP) — The company distributing the movie "The Last Temptation of Christ" is the target of an all-out attack by a Dallas-area Christian group, which plans to picket the film's opening and boycott all MCA-related businesses.

"We're through begging. We're through pleading," said Russ Houck, founder of Christians in Action. "They (MCA) chose to declare this war and we're planning to fight it."

A talk-show host on a local Christian radio station, Houck announced the group's strategies during a news conference Monday at Calvary Temple in Irving.

Christians in Action was planning to protest the movie's opening Wednesday at a theater in the Dallas suburb of Addison and to boycott all AMC theaters and MCA products and businesses through Jan. 1, Houck said.

Theater officials said it is all right for the group members to protest as long as they follow some guidelines.

"We worked out a plan so that people who wish (to picket) will be able to do so and people who want to see the movie will be able to do so without being harassed or disturbed," said Rick King, vice president of operations for AMC's Southwest Division.

If demonstrators assemble on theater property, including the parking lot, they will "be asked to relocate," King said. "It's private property and we won't permit any of that kind of activity."

"There are public areas in the vicinity of the theater where they will be directed to go," King said, referring to sidewalks.

Houck said, "We're calling for the boycott of all AMC theaters and we're also boycotting Starplex Amphitheatre."

"Don't go," he said. "Don't spend your money. I don't care what the product is."

Starplex Amphitheater is a popular concert spot near the Cotton Bowl.

Singer to test space

HOUSTON (AP) — Singer John Denver, who wants to ride aboard the Soviet Mir space station, is spending three days at NASA's Johnson Space Center undergoing a medical evaluation given to all astronaut applicants, a spokesman says.

Denver began the medical evaluation Tuesday as part of his efforts to ride on the Soviet space station. He is paying $1,500 to $2,000 for the evaluation, a JSC spokesman said.

Earlier this month, Aviation Week & Space Technology magazine reported that Denver asked the Soviets to launch him to the Mir space station after he failed in repeated attempts to ride on the U.S. space shuttle.

The Soviets responded more positively but have imposed several conditions including a $10 million pricetag and U.S. permission.

Denver, however, said he has no intention of paying $10 million and will discuss with the Soviets alternative methods of financing the trip.

Carrie Click, a spokeswoman for Denver, told the Houston Chronicle that the Soviet Union has contacted numerous Americans — from scientists to politicians to Denver — about having an American fly in the Soviet space program.

DR. MARY BIRDSONG

Dr. Birdsong to speak at local area meeting Sunday

Dr. Mary Birdsong will be speaking on "The Role of Nutrition in Alzheimer's" when the Alzheimer's Disease Related Disorders Support Group assembles for an area meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 4, in the Hereford Senior Citizens Center, 426 Ranger.

Shirley Garrison, president of the Hereford Senior Citizens Association, will serve as master of ceremony and the welcome will be given by Margie Daniels, Senior Citizens Center director.

Members of the publicity committee for the group include Vera Newton, Nila Cockrell and Argen Draper, and serving on the hospitality and social committee are Edna Marnell, Robert Thompson, Stella Hershey, Mildred Garrison, Carrie Mae Doak, Bettye Bagley and Linda and Harley Daniel. Steering committee members are Margie Daniels, Kay Hall, M.J. Anvik and Argen Draper.

Dr. Birdsong moved to Hereford in January of 1986. She received her BA degree from the University of Texas at Austin and BS and MD degrees from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston. She is married to John Yavornik, D.D.S., and they have four sons, Joshua, Benjamin, Gideon and Jonah, who all attend college.

Opening Day Tea held by Xi Epsilon Alpha

Peggy Hyer's home at 239 Ironwood was the setting of Sunday afternoon's Opening Day Tea by Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Refreshments of cake, cookies, punch and coffee were served as this year's theme of "Pave It With Stars" was carried out.

After President Hyer called the meeting to order and the opening ritual was repeated, members answered roll call with a favorite 1988 summer memory. It was noted that Jimmie Middleton has moved to California and Carol Kelley was welcomed into the chapter after progressing from Alpha Iota Mu.

Secret Sisters were thanked by Deann Harris, Susan Shaw, Gaye Reily, and Marge Bell. Treasurer

Sharon Bodner thanked everyone who made Saturday's garage sale a success along with the Town 'n' Country Jubilee photo buttons.

Service committee Susan Cardinal noted upcoming service projects and stated that the Sept. 27 style show is set. She said remaining garage sale items would be donated to a local charity.

Bell distributed yearbooks outlining the events of the upcoming year. Membership committee chairman Susan Shaw reminded everyone that Sept. 20 has been set as a rush party.

Connie Matthews, social chairman, noted upcoming social events, including a "Clue" Halloween party, a progressive dinner, and a couple's Christmas party with spring events also planned.

Following adjournment and the closing ritual, a game of Trivial Pursuit pitted two teams against each other. The next meeting will be held Sept. 6.

Members in attendance included Hyer, Kelley, Harris, Shaw, Reily, Bell, Bodner, Cardinal, Matthews, Pene Coplen, Holly Bixler, Teresa Peiffer and Kay Williams.

J.C. Penney opened his first store in 1902. The store was in Kemmerer, Wyo.

Herd comes back to defeat Clovis

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Tuesday night's home opener for the Hereford Whiteface varsity volleyball team against Clovis was almost too easy.

Hereford raced to an 11-1 lead and eased to a 15-5 win in game one, then had to claw back after losing the second game, 9-15, to take a come-from-behind 15-10 win in the final game to win the match.

"That easy win in the first game caused us to lose our intensity, ease up our intensity," said Coach Brenda Reeh. "There are areas in which we are very immature, and areas where we can beat anybody we go up against, and they were all shown tonight. We need to concentrate and dominate every point out there."

The Whitefaces concentrated and dominated the first game as Nikki Self served the first six points of the game for Hereford. Jill West later ripped off four straight scoring serves and, after Clovis had cut Hereford's lead to 14-5, nailed a spike in the center of Clovis' court. Cande Robbins served the game-winning point.

Clovis came back from a four point deficit in game two to jump ahead 13-8. Hereford called time out and rallied for a moment before the Lady Cats won the second game 15-9.

In the final game Hereford jumped to a 5-0 lead before Clovis roared back to go ahead 9-8. Brenda Greenawalt and Self served a point apiece to give Hereford the lead for good, then Laynie Souter served three straight winners to give Hereford a 13-9 advantage.

Clovis cut the lead to 13-10 before Poppy Richardson uncorked her fourth winning dink of the match to give Hereford the serve. Richardson then served the winning points, with Robbins dinking the ball just beyond the reach of the Clovis blockers for the match.

"Winning that third game, coming back from that far down, is the biggest confidence booster we could have had," Reeh said. "We haven't known how to come back from mistakes this year, how to react when things don't go according to plan. We came back from some mistakes tonight."

"Poppy is probably one of our most consistent players. She'll keep building her confidence with games like this. Cande did a super job keeping everybody up mentally, and Laynie had some very important serves at crucial times for us."

The Hereford JV dropped their match in two close games. Clovis won 15-13, 17-15.

The two teams meet again Saturday in Clovis. The JV will play at 10 a.m. CDT with the varsity at 11 a.m. CDT.

Scrambling for the ball

As Cande Robbins (40) races away from the ball after saving it, Libby Kosub (11) and Poppy Richardson (44) avoid running into each other during the Hereford-Clovis varsity volleyball match in Hereford on Tuesday. Hereford won the match 15-5, 9-15, 15-10.

Ojeda heats up Mets in win

By BEN WALKER AP Baseball Writer

It's hard to believe, but the New York Mets' pitching is getting even better.

Bob Ojeda tossed the Mets' 19th shutout of the season, a six-hitter Tuesday night in a 1-0 victory over the San Diego Padres.

The host Mets won for the seventh time in the last eight games and opened a 7½-game lead over the Pittsburgh in the National League East.

In the last nine games, only once have New York's opponents scored more than one run. The Mets are on a pace to pitch the most shutouts since 1969, when the Tom Seaver-led staff had 28.

"I still can't believe that I won 1-0 tonight. This is the third time this year," Ojeda said after his fourth shutout of the season.

On Monday night, David Cone pitched a one-hitter as New York beat San Diego 6-0.

"The way those two guys pitched against us in these two games makes my batters feel sick," Padres manager Jack McKeon said.

Orel Hershiser pitched a six-hitter for his 18th victory as Los Angeles beat Montreal for its fifth straight triumph.

Hershiser, 18-8, pitched his third straight complete game. He also hit a two-run double.

Danny Jackson became the NL's first 19-game winner and tied Minnesota's Frank Viola for most victories in the majors as Cincinnati beat Pittsburgh.

Jackson, 19-6, gave up five hits in 8 2-3 innings.

Phillies 7, Giants 5

Rookie Ron Jones' bases-loaded single in the eighth inning rallied Philadelphia over visiting San Francisco.

Steve Bedrosian, 4-6, got the victory and Craig Lefferts, 2-8, took the loss.

Phillies reliever Kent Tekulve pitched in his 1,000th major league game, only the second to reach that mark. Hoyt Wilhelm leads with 1,070.

Cardinals 9, Braves 1

Greg Mathews pitched four-hit ball for eight shutout innings and Jose Oquendo hit a three-run homer as St. Louis won at Atlanta.

Mathews, 3-4, got his first victory since May 4 and helped the Cardinals win their third in a row. He made his third start since spending three months on the disabled list with an inflamed left shoulder.

Astros 7, Cubs 4

Joaquin Andujar got his first victory since July 18 with relief help from Dave Smith as Houston downed Chicago.

Andujar, 2-5, allowed three runs on six hits in six innings. Smith worked 12-3 innings for his 23rd save.

Trailing 3-2, Rafael Ramirez hit a tying sacrifice fly in the sixth inning and pinch hitter Denny Walling followed with an RBI single. Walling had been hitless in his last 14 pinch-hitting appearances.

Stewart wins 1-0 duel

By The Associated Press

While Roger Clemens found his fastball, Boston's search for first place in the American League East continues.

Oakland's Dave Stewart pitched a five-hitter to beat Clemens and the Red Sox 1-0 Tuesday night.

For the second straight night, the Red Sox missed a chance to move into a first-place tie with Detroit as the Tigers lost 4-1 to Chicago.

Clemens, 15-10, allowed nine hits and had nine strikeouts in 6 1-3 innings as he lost his fifth straight game. In the four previous games, he had allowed 21 runs in 20 2-3 innings.

"It's hard to take, when a guy like Roger finds himself and you wind up losing by a run," Boston manager Joe Morgan said. "When he gives up one run, we always win — but not tonight."

Clemens raised his major league-leading strikeout total to 257, one short of the club season record set by Smokey Joe Wood in 1912. Clemens had 256 strikeouts last season.

"That was major league baseball at its best," Oakland manager Tony La Russa said.

White Sox 4, Tigers 1

Harold Baines scored the go-ahead run and drove in another as Chicago beat struggling Detroit at Comiskey Park to send the Tigers to their fourth straight defeat.

Jeff Bittiger, 2-4, yielded one run and five hits in 5 1-3 innings to gain only Chicago's third victory in 11 games with Detroit this season.

Mariners 7, Yankees 1

New York lost its sixth straight as Seattle's Scott Bradley hit a three-run homer and Mike Campbell allowed four hits in 7 2-3 innings at the Kingdome.

Indians 4, Royals 1

Tom Candiotti allowed five hits in six innings for his third consecutive victory as visiting Cleveland beat Kansas City to snap the Royals' four-game winning streak.

Julio Franco walked leading off the Indians' first, moved to third on Joe Carter's single and scored when Ted Power, 5-6, threw a wild pitch. Carter took third on the wild pitch and scored on Mel Hall's single.

Brewers 6, Blue Jays 2

Rob Deer hit two homers and drove in five runs as Milwaukee beat Toronto at County Stadium.

Deer hit his 19th homer with two outs in the fifth off starter Jeff Musselman, 5-3.

Deer then lined a three-run homer to straightaway center in the seventh off reliever Duane Ward.

Ted Higuera, 12-8, allowed eight hits and two runs in 7 1-3 innings en route to his fifth straight victory.

Rangers 8, Twins 6

Cecil Espy's two-run homer with one out in the ninth inning lifted Texas over visiting Minnesota.

Hints from Heloise

PICKING BLUSH Dear Heloise: I know that you have written a beauty book. Well, I have a beauty question.

I wanted to buy some makeup and when I got to blush, there were so many different shades. There were pinks, oranges and shades of red. How do I pick the color that suits me? — Diane Shopley, Los Angeles, Calif. You should choose a color that goes with your hair color and skin tone.

Generally, redheads, auburns and brunettes look better with brown tones. Blondes look better in reds.

Pale skin tones are flattered by warm corals, light pinks and peaches. Medium skin tones are complemented by reddish colors, plums and bronzes. Darker tones look good with burgundy, wine and berry blushers.

That's what testers are for! — Heloise

YARN DUSTER Dear Heloise: I have made the handiest duster ever. I refashioned a wire coat hanger and tightly tied a whole bunch of various lengths of yarn around it.

It works really well in high places as well as low areas, and the best part is that I can simply replace the yarn when need be! — DeeDee, Schoolcraft, Mich.

CHORE LIST Dear Heloise: At the beginning of each day, I write out a list of chores I need to accomplish.

I list them in the order of importance. As I finish each chore, I cross it off my list. At the end of the day I look at my list and it gives me feeling of accomplishment as I see the items crossed off.

I try not to feel discouraged if I don't finish everything on the entire list. I simply add these items to the list for the following day. — Ruth Ann Cross, Omaha, Neb.

My day starts with a list too! Sometimes it looks like too many things to do, but it does feel good to cross each one off. Glad you wrote. — Heloise

THOUGHTFUL GIFT Dear Heloise: When I receive an announcement of a birth, anniversary, wedding, graduation or any special occasion or if I see one in the newspaper, I either make or buy a wooden plaque and make a decoupage of the picture or print.

This is my gift to friends. It makes a lovely remembrance to hang on the wall. — Melissa Thompson, Louisville, Ohio

FAMILY PICNIC Dear Heloise: Our family loves picnics, as most families do. Sometimes we decide all of a sudden to take off to a favorite spot. We all help put things together with the aid of a picnic supply list I keep taped to the inside cover of our picnic basket.

This makes getting everything ready a snap and we usually don't forget anything. — Kathryn Howard, Joplin, Mo.

Send a money- or time-saving hint to Heloise, P.O. Box 795000, San Antonio, Texas 78279. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column.

Place crushed eggshells around Adiantum ferns, peris ferns and African violets, variegated aspidistra. They like calcium.

Rodeo held

The Westway Junior Rodeo was held Friday and Saturday at Circle A Arena west of Hereford. Youth of all ages competed in 26 events and approximately $1,000 was collected via entry fees and concession stand sales. Proceeds will benefit the Circle A Youth Association and Hereford Future Farmers of America. FFA members will use their portion of the earnings to offset expenses at the national convention set in November in Kansas City, Mo.

Czech kolache bake show set

Texas can be proud of the strong Czech background and heritage that exists throughout the state. Such a heritage brings along with it wonderful Czech food that includes the very popular Kolache.

The yeast pastry filled with fruit, meat, cheese, poppyseed, or whatever filling desired is a Czech favorite for a wedding feast or any occasion is a favorite of many.

Caldwell, Texas, along with Burleson County, is celebrating the strong Czech origin with the 5th Annual Kolache Festival and Bake Show set for Saturday, Sept. 10. Included in the event will be anything that is Czech such as dancing, Polka Bands, Czech historical exhibits, Kolache Bake Show, Czech arts and crafts, kolachea and much more.

The bake show, which is a statewide event, is open to all kolache bakers, non-professionals and professionals. Awards of excellence will be bestowed upon the State Grand Champion and Reserve Champion professional and non-professionals. The winners will each receive trophies and the non-professional winners will also receive cash prizes.

The Kolache Bake Show will commence Sept. 10 at Burleson County

Courthouse on the 3rd floor in Caldwell. Entries and registration will take place from 9-9:30 a.m. Judging will be complete by noon; between noon and 12:30 awards will be presented at the speakers' stand.

Entry forms with complete guidelines are available through the County Extension office in this county. Requests for entry forms may also be made by writing: Kathy Smith, County Extension Agent-Burleson County, Post Office Box 117, Caldwell, Texas 77836 or call (409)567-3255.

A sample Kolache recipe, complete with filling, follows:

KOLACHE RECIPE

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup margarine or butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup boiling water

1 1/2 packages (3 tablespoons) dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
1 eggs, beaten
3 to 3 1/2 cups flour

Cream sugar, margarine and salt. Add boiling water and stir well. Let mixture cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add beaten egg to yeast mixture. combine mixture, add flour and mix well. Let rise to double in bulk in greased bowl.

Grease top of dough after placing in bowl and before rising. When doubled in bulk, punch down. Put margarine on hands because dough is sticky. Pinch off a little handful and make into little balls for round kolaches or roll out on floured board for filled kolaches. Place little kolaches in buttered pan and butter tops of each. Then let rise about 30 minutes, make indentation in each and add filling and streusel and bake in 350 degree oven until they turn tan, about 15 to 20 minutes.

STREUSEL

3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
enough melted margarine to make mixture crumbly

PEACH FILLING

1 package dried peaches
1 1/2 cups sugar

Cook peaches with just enough water to cover until tender and most of the water is cooked away. Mash with sugar, add about 1 teaspoon butter or oleo.

Cool before spooning onto dough. Use whole milk. Butter makes the kolaches a little richer. Kolaches are done when they are a pretty tan color on the top.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am sick and tired of my friends being fat and getting fatter.

Last night, another pal called me all excited to say she is on a diet and has lost six pounds. "That's great," I told her. Then later in the conversation, she said, "I've gained 30 pounds since I last saw you." I was speechless.

This stunning girl is only 5-foot-1. She says she is fat because she had a hysterectomy and quit smoking. Another friend is fat because she got a divorce. Still another one gained 40 pounds because she now has to cook for her husband, who is on a special diet. The most common excuse is, "I just had a baby."

These are nothing but alibis and I'm sure you've heard them all. Incidentally, the first woman's hysterectomy was seven years ago.

The husband "Mary" cooks for is not fat, and "the baby" is now 4 years old.

One of my friends has gotten so heavy that her knees hurt and she is using canes. The woman refuses to acknowledge that perhaps her knees can't carry the extra 100 pounds she's put on in the last 2 1/2 years. She says they went bad when she started to jog.

Ann, please tell these women that obesity is the death knell to good health and looks and that diets work only if you stick to them. Do you know of a sure-fire way to lose weight? Please address this problem in your column. I miss my thin friends in - Longview, Texas

DEAR LONGVIEW: Gimmicks won't work. To lose weight and keep it off, you must change your entire approach to eating. This means breaking old habits and learning a whole new way of life.

It's tough because eating is one of the most fundamental pleasures of life. But implementing a new mindset can be done, and the results are enormously rewarding. Also, losing excess weight will add years to one's life and build self-esteem.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I bought our first house last year. It's our dream house. We went way over budget to buy it. The problem is our next-door neighbors. They have a wreck of a car in front and live like pigs. We are sick of looking at the junk piled up in their driveway. There are mounds of dirt everywhere and ditches for pipe that were never laid. They started to paint the exterior and never finished it. My husband has been inside their home and they don't even have flooring. They live on the concrete slab.

These slobbs have been pleasant and friendly, which is why we haven't said much. But my husband and I have worked hard to make our yard and house look nice, and this tacky dump next door cheapens the entire neighborhood. We're ashamed to have guests over.

Other than putting a 10-foot fence between our house and theirs, what can we do, Ann? We need some sound advice on how to protect our investment without alienating our neighbors.—Fed-Up in Texas

DEAR FED: The fence is the best idea. You could also plant shrubs that would block out the neighbors completely.

Slobbs don't change. They are accustomed to letting it all hang out and see themselves as easygoing, laid-back folks who take life as it comes.

Take charge of your life and turn it around! Write for Ann Landers' new booklet, "How to Make Friends and Stop Being Lonely." Send a check or money order for $3.50 and a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope (45 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

KEEPING GARLIC FRESH

EMMAUS, Pa. (AP) — Instead of putting peeled garlic cloves into a jar of olive oil in the refrigerator, a practice that may result in brown cloves and rancid oil, the Fresh Garlic Association offers a better alternative, reports Organic Gardening magazine:

Start with fresh, peeled cloves and freeze them on a baking sheet. Break them like peanut brittle into small chunks, pack them into tightly closed plastic bags and put them back in the freezer. With this method, garlic can keep for at least a year, the magazine says

FIRST THE SEED

Without a doubt, the one thing that determines the outcome of any crop is the seed that you put into the ground. Good seed produces a good crop - bad seed fails you.

We believe that insect and disease problems this last year have created a need to look at the crops and varieties you plant and your harvest intentions.

TAM 200 ; a new release from Texas A & M that appeared very promising in limited trials.

TRITICALE ; for known grazing or graze-out acreage - triticale showed less damage from insects & disease than wheat in 1988.

OATS ; Chilocco oats produce excellent grain and abundant forage for grazing.

HAWK ; 1987's best variety for milling & baking qualities. A consistent high yielding variety that makes excellent early grazing.

THUNDERBIRD ; a new release from NAPB that has excellent grain quality, yield and test weights.

TAM 105 ; need to update your seed. We have both certified and good quality select seed available.
