95 walk away from Delta crash at DFW

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — Nearly 100 people, scrambling amid thick smoke and leaping through blazing jet fuel, miraculously survived the crash of a jet airliner that failed during takeoff from Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

Thirteen others, however, perished Wednesday on the Delta Air Lines Boeing 727 headed for Salt Lake City. Two of the fatalities were Delta flight attendants. Another was an infant.

"All I heard was screaming from the people on the ground," paramedic Jim Hartman, one of the first rescuers at the scene, said. "Just screams."

Ninety-four people were accounted for at six area hospitals, many of them suffering from smoke inhalation, broken bones and burns. The passengers included 10 off-duty Delta flight attendants, five on their way to a training session in Salt Lake City, according to Delta spokesman Henry Conley of Dallas.

Nearly two dozen investigators from the National Transportation Safety Board converged on the crash site at the south end of an airport runway.

The airport is the same one where on Aug. 2, 1985, 137 people died in the crash of another Delta flight, an L-1011 attempting to land during a thunderstorm.

In Wednesday's accident, Flight 1141 originating in Jackson, Miss., stopping at Dallas and continuing to Salt Lake City, the weather was clear.

Survivors said the plane appeared to lose power immediately after leaving the ground at 9:03 a.m. and bounced three times before sliding along the ground and breaking into pieces as fires broke out.

"Apparently the pilot made an attempt to abort. ... There apparently was an engine problem," said Fred H. Rollins, Delta's district manager for marketing in Salt Lake City.

Delta officials in Dallas, however, would not confirm speculation about an engine problem.

"That will be up to the NTSB to determine," Conley said.

"We will not rule out anything," Lee Dickinson, a member of the NTSB panel, said when asked to speculate on a cause. "All doors are open."

Dickinson said the team would remain at the scene five days to a week, perhaps longer. He said aircraft flight data and cockpit voice recorders, the so-called "black boxes," were found in good shape and were taken to Washington for analysis.

Although 97 passengers and a crew of seven were listed as aboard the aircraft, the number of passengers fluctuated because several were carrying babies not identified on airline passenger lists.

"You heard the thing crumple, so you knew you were going to crash the whole time," said passenger Penn Waugh, a lawyer from Dallas. "You were just looking for a way to get out of the plane. You're hoping you weren't going to die."

Sixty-one people were treated and released from at least six area hospitals, Conley said.

"We were just terrified," passenger Mona Thomason said. "We jumped on the wing but it looked like we were jumping into a pit of fire."

'You knew you were going to crash'

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — Amid the din of a 727 roaring to take off but not making it, some survivors of Delta Flight 1141 said there was quiet.

"It was very quiet on the plane," said Keith Thompson, 44, a Dallas businessman. "It was a little bit like a dream. You knew what was happening, but you felt slightly removed from it."

The Boeing 727 crashed on takeoff Wednesday at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, killing 13, officials said.

No one was screaming before the crash, said Michelle Christensen, 25, of Dallas.

"Everything gets dark, and then it was orange," Ms. Christensen said. "We all just clutched."

"You heard the thing crumple, so you knew you were going to crash the whole time," said passenger Penn Waugh, a Dallas lawyer, who was being treated at Harris Methodist-H.E.B. in Bedford. "You were just looking for a way to get out of the plane. You're hoping you weren't going to die."

"I don't remember any screaming or crying," wrote survivor Robert D. Anderson in a copyright first-person account for The Dallas Morning News. "Everybody around me was still in their seats when we came to a stop. The overhead luggage compartments had all sprung open."

"We veered to the right as we were taking off," Peter Wright, also of Dallas, told reporters after being discharged from the hospital. "I heard a banging noise under the carriage and then someone said, 'We're not going to make it.' After the crash

Spat erupts in Boston

By ROBERT GREENE
Associated Press Writer

The polluted Boston Harbor plays host to the biggest political spat there since a tea party two centuries ago, with George Bush and Michael Dukakis attacking each other's record on clean air and water.

The encounters in the Democratic presidential nominee's watery backyard take place as supporters of Jesse Jackson meet with the onetime presidential contender in Atlanta amid growing tensions with the Dukakis camp.

A new poll, meanwhile, shows Bush and Dukakis in a dead heat, but a 2-1 sentiment that the Democratic vice presidential nominee, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, is more qualified than Sen. Dan Quayle of Indiana, the Republican nominee for the No. 2 slot.

Bush, who aides said was trying to separate himself from Reagan administration policies on the environment, began touting the new theme Wednesday during an appearance on the shore of Lake Erie in Michigan.

Promising swift action on acid rain if elected, Bush also said he would convene a global conference during his first year in office to address the problem of the warming of the atmosphere. He further called for wetlands protection and pledged a policy of "zero tolerance" for polluters.

"I am an environmentalist, always have been, from my earliest days growing up and then as a congressman ... and I always will be," he said in Michigan.

His planned boat cruise today of Boston Harbor, one of the most polluted places in America and just a few blocks from Dukakis' Statehouse office, was a clear jab at Dukakis.

Although Dukakis recently broke ground on a new waste treatment plant on the harbor's Deer Island, his administration has not yet started the project unnecessarily.

Dukakis on Wednesday shifted blame to the Reagan administration, saying it tried to eliminate federal funding for waste treatment plants, and called Bush an election-year convert to the environmental cause.

"It's been polluted for hundreds of years, and I'm very proud to be the governor's who's cleaning it up," Dukakis said. "And we are doing it no thanks to Vice President Bush and the administration he is part of."

In Atlanta, Jackson was meeting with a number of key supporters a week after meeting quietly with the Dukakis camp.

Rep. John Lewis, D-Ga., an Atlanta congressman and former Jackson supporter who now co-chairs Dukakis' Georgia campaign, said he understood the meeting was called to discuss voter registration and get-out-the-vote efforts in the South.

But Tennessee State Rep. Roscoe Dixon said he planned to bring up the relations between Jackson and Dukakis supporters. "We don't feel that we have been totally involved in the Dukakis campaign," Dixon said.

Jackson met with Dukakis aides in Washington last week and was reported as angered by the suggestion he stay out of several states. According to one participant in the discussions, who asked not to be identified, the request was withdrawn. The Dukakis campaign denied such a suggestion was made.

Both Bush and Dukakis came out just about even in the newest poll, but the survey also found that Bush's attacking campaign style has yet to win over the Reagan Democrats.

According to the ABC-Washington Post poll released Wednesday, Dukakis led Bush 48 percent to 47 percent, a statistical dead heat because of the 3.5-point margin of error.

Bush's harsh attacks on Dukakis' patriotism and defense positions have had no effect on Dukakis' lead among the Reagan Democrats, who favor Dukakis 58-34.

The survey also found twice as many voters thought Democratic vice presidential candidate Lloyd Bentsen was more qualified than Quayle.

The survey of 1,129 registered, likely voters was begun last Wednesday and ended Tuesday.

Quayle, campaigning in Baton Rouge, La., as part of a five-state Southern swing, claimed that the Dukakis campaign was "crumbling."

Asked about Dukakis campaign manager Susan Estrich's comment Wednesday that Bush's selection of Quayle will be a "habitus" for Republicans that the Democrats will exploit, he said, "This is the first real sign that you are seeing a crumbling campaign."

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says having the right aim in life doesn't mean a thing if you are loaded with blanks or don't know when to pull the trigger.

Sure it's lonely at the top, but it beats having to wait in line. —Quote

One way to keep people from jumping down your throat is to keep your mouth shut.

September brings back-to-school time and it also marks the end of the summer slump. It's time for football games, the impending harvest season, marching bands, and the start up of club and organizational activities after taking a summer break. It's hustlin' time in Hereford!

As the children had back to the classroom, we are reminded how involved children and parents become with the start of school. Principals are already getting some "counseling" from anxious parents. One principal recalled when a certain youngster was always a sure bet to be a real terror during the opening week of classes. Finally, she called the mother to report the problem.

"Listen," she retorted. "I've had to put up with the little monster all summer long, and I did not call you one time. Now he's your problem, so don't call me!"

Hopefully we don't have too many instances like that as principals, teachers and aides get school underway this week.

The Brand's annual football contest is underway with the first week of games listed in Tuesday's edition of the newspaper. Readers have lots of fun entering the contest and have a shot at winning weekly prizes in Hereford Bucks, as well as the opportunity to get in on the jackpot prizes at season's end.

The football contest is made possible by the following sponsors: Anthony's, Bradford Trucking, Charlie's Tire, Deaf Smith Electric Co-op, First National Bank, Frito Lay Inc., Gibson's, Hereford Cablevision, Hereford Frame & Axle, Glass Co., Hereford Parts & Supply, Hereford State Bank, Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber, Ink Spot Office Supply, La Plata Agency, Litho-Graphics Printing & Office Supply, Plains Insurance Agency, Rix Funeral Directors, Sirloin Stockade, Stagner-Orsborn Buick-Pontiac-GMC, The Store, George Warner Seed Co., West Texas Rural Telephone, Whiteface Ford.

A National Advertising Bureau survey has found that American adults—by a 4 to 1 margin—believe newspapers are more useful than direct mail advertising in deciding where to shop.

Those responding noted a much more favorable attitude toward newspaper ads than the direct mail variety and said newspapers were more useful in comparing prices for different stores.

Thornburgh cutting Justice trips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General Richard L. Thornburgh will only permit Justice Department employees to take trips directly related to their jobs, a policy that could have barred some officials from traveling to Japan with Edwin Meese III this week, a top aide says.

The aide, speaking Wednesday on condition he not be identified, said Thornburgh raised questions about the Tokyo trip taken by six officials, but decided against canceling any part of it to spare the Japanese hosts any embarrassment.

"There were international considerations to let it go ahead," the aide said, noting the event had been scheduled long in advance. "It involved a foreign government and certain commitments had been made."

The six department officials joined Meese, the former attorney general, at a four-day legal symposium in Tokyo that ends today. All are Reagan administration appointees at risk of losing their jobs next year.

Thornburgh's aide said the former Pennsylvania governor has been reviewing the department's travel policies since he was sworn in to succeed Meese on Aug. 12.

"Based on his experiences in Pennsylvania, he will only permit travel when it pertains exactly to your job," the aide said. He said this policy would rule out traveling on "people-to-people type" exchanges that are not directly job-related.

"Going on this kind of trip was originally raised in Pennsylvania," the aide said. "The decision in Pennsylvania was not to go on these kinds of trips."

The Japan delegation was headed by Joseph A. Morris, director of the office of liaison services. Morris has announced his resignation to join the Mid-America Legal Foundation in Chicago on Sept. 18.

Thornburgh declined his invitation to attend the "U.S.-Japan Bilateral Session: A New Era in Legal and Economic Relations."

Local Roundup

Early deadlines established

Early deadlines have been established by the Hereford Brand and Reach 4 More for the Labor Day holiday. Because the Brand will be closed Monday, the display advertising deadline for the Sept. 6 issue will be Friday at 5 p.m. The deadline for classified advertising will be 9 a.m. on Tuesday.

For next week's Reach 4 More, the deadline for display and classified advertising will be at noon on Tuesday.

Rain is likely

Tonight will be cloudy with an 80 percent chance of thunderstorms. Heavy rain is possible, with a low near 60. South winds will be 10-20 mph and gusty, becoming northeasterly by morning.

Friday will be cloudy with a 60 percent chance of rain and thunderstorms. Heavy rain is possible with a high of 78. Northeast winds will be 10-20 mph and gusty.

The outlook for the Labor Day weekend is for partly cloudy skies with a chance of thunderstorms. High will be near 80 and lows near 60.

Hereford received .62 inch of rain in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today. This morning's low at KPAN was 61 after a high Wednesday of 83.

Other rainfall reports included .10 inch at the Bruce Coleman farm at Walcott; .20 inch at the county barn at Bootleg; .30 inch at Northwest Gram in Milo Center; 1.1 inch reported by the J.E. McCabes at Dawn; and 1.2 inch at Easter Gram.

Two bicycles stolen

A bicycle worth $200 was stolen from Hereford Junior High and a $100 bicycle was taken on South Miles Avenue on Wednesday, according to Hereford police.

Someone driving a jeep struck a tree in the front yard of a residence in the 100 block of Centre Street around midnight Wednesday. The jeep's owners were located and said they would pay for damages.

A teen-age girl filed assault charges against two other females after she said they assaulted her in the Hereford Community Center parking lot; a woman babysitting some children said the children's 17-year-old brother took them without her consent; a woman in the 300 block of Avenue A said someone spray painted her driveway.

Two men yelling at the Blue Water Garden Apartments were told to leave; and a lawn trimming implement was found in the middle of Avenue H.

The Hereford Police Department jailed a 17-year-old boy when he stated he would rather sit out his $65 fine.

Polish strikers lay down picket signs at shipyard

GDANSK, Poland (AP) — Workers at the Lenin shipyard agreed to end their strike today at the request of Lech Walesa, but striking coal miners who began the current labor unrest demanded to see the Solidarity chairman in person.

In a breakthrough meeting with Walesa on Wednesday, senior government officials promised talks to consider reinstating the banned free trade union movement.

Solidarity spokesman Piotr Niemczyk said workers at the Lenin shipyard in this Baltic port met this morning and approved Walesa's request.

In the meeting with Walesa, communist authorities promised round-table talks on legalizing Solidarity and jointly solving the country's daunting social and economic problems.

In exchange, they demanded an end to Poland's most serious strike wave in seven years.

Walesa's meeting with communist authorities was his first since they banned Solidarity in 1982. Previously, the government had refused to treat him as anything more than a private citizen.

Niemczyk, in Warsaw, said workers at the Lenin shipyard agreed to formally end the strike in the afternoon.

Workers removed Solidarity banners from the Lenin shipyard's gates this morning, and a single banner was left hanging on a crane.

There was no immediate word on whether strikes at nine other enterprises would continue.

Niemczyk said workers at the July Manifesto mine in southern Poland said they would end their occupation strike when they have settled local issues of pay and work conditions with management.

Walesa also must visit the strikers to explain his appeal, he said.

The current wave of labor unrest began Aug. 16 at the mine in Jastrzebie.

In an initial reaction to Walesa's statement, strike committee members in Szczecin said they would not automatically end their stoppage while local grievances were still pending, said Niemczyk.

Besides Gdansk, Szczecin and Jastrzebie, a strike also was under way at the huge Stalowa Wola steel plant in the southeast. At its peak, the strike wave has affected 20 enterprises employing about 100,000 workers.

Strikers have been demanding higher wages and legalization of Solidarity, which was crushed in a Dec. 13, 1981 military crackdown.

Passengers screamed to get plane airborne

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — Horrified passengers aboard planes on the runway watched struggling Delta Flight 1141 and cheered the pilot to coax the troubled plane into the air.

Thirteen people were killed when the Boeing 727 lifting off from Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport for Salt Lake City crashed on takeoff, officials said. Ninety-four passengers survived.

Gene Metzger was aboard a commuter flight that had just landed at D-FW from Wichita Falls.

"His right wing was coming straight at us. It was probably no more than a foot or 18 inches off the ground," Metzger said. "As he pulled it back to the left, I don't know how the hell he missed us, but he missed us."

Passengers began to cheer on Metzger's plane as they watched Flight 1141 trying to get off the ground.

"It was like a football game," Metzger said. "We were cheering this guy to get that plane off the ground. It was very emotional. Plus, we were in danger of our own lives. We were rooting for that pilot to get that plane up. But there was just no way."

Rick Arnett, an Austin attorney, was also on a plane that had just landed.

"A lot of people on the left side of our plane were saying 'Get up! Get up!' when they saw it coming in front of us," Arnett said.

"As the plane came up to take off, it was barely getting off the ground and the right wing was dipping as it passed beyond us. There were flames coming out of the right engine and the wing touched the ground. The plane started spinning (and) there was an explosion," he said.

A motorist driving along the interstate said he watched in disbelief when he saw the aircraft erupt into flames.

"I was coming over the bridge on I-30 in Arlington, and I saw a big ball of fire going into the air," Greg Isaacs of Dallas told KRLD radio. "I started driving over there and it looked like it was over near D-FW, and I thought, 'No way could it be an airplane accident.'"

"I could tell it was over near D-FW. It was an unbelievably big explosion. I could not believe it — I absolutely could not believe it was that big an explosion," Isaacs said.

The plane burst into flames and plowed into the dirt of a north-south runway, witnesses said.

David Hooker, 28, of Celina, was waiting at a gas station at the south end of the airport when the plane crashed.

"I heard the normal noise of an airplane taking off. I turned to watch and just barely saw the nose clear a building over there," Hooker said, pointing to a low-level warehouse-type building about a half-mile away.

"Then there was a cloud of smoke about three stories high and an explosion," Hooker said.

KNEW

someone kicked the door open. I was lucky because I just hurt my wrist. In fact, I have hurt myself worse shaving."

Geoff Parkes, a friend who was going on vacation with Wright to Yellowstone National Park, estimated the plane did not get 10 feet off the ground before it seemed to lose power.

"I saw the right wing tip hit the ground and flames shot toward my window," Parkes said. "In this instance, the seat belts turned out to be great. There was no panic, but people were saying, 'Let's get out of here. Let's get out.' I jumped on the wing following Peter and got out."

Mona Thomason, who also was going to Yellowstone, said: "We were just terrified. We jumped on the wing, but it looked like we were jumping into a pit of fire."

Ms. Christensen was going to visit her parents in Rapid City, S.D. when the plane caught fire. After escaping, she ran into a fence. The first thing paramedics did was cut the fence.

She ran down a nearby road, flagged a car and had it bring her back to airport.

Delta officials took her to Harris Methodist where she was treated for a few cuts and minor burns.

Among the survivors treated at Harris Methodist-H.E.B. in Bedford, were Jane Wood, who is six months pregnant, and her two sons, Adam, 2, and Evan, 5. All escaped the burning plane without serious injury by leaping through a crack near the bulkhead.

"It was a big fire," Evan said. "We jumped out, but we weren't scared."

PLANE

"People were jumping on the plane's wing and burning themselves on it because it was so red hot," said Jim Hammock, another passenger. "We got out of the way fast because we thought it was going to explode."

Others crawled or jumped through gaping holes in the fuselage, which was broken into pieces and laying on its side off the runway.

"You could see the fuel running down the window and down the wing, and I wasn't going to get burned," Hammock said. "Luckily I was by the emergency exit on the left side of the plane."

Among the survivors were the three pilots, officials said, including Capt. Larry Davis, 48, of Greenville, a Delta pilot since 1965 and a Boeing 727 captain for the last nine years.

According to Conley, 1st Officer Carey Wilson Kirkland, 37, was hired by Delta in 1979 and 2nd Officer Stephen Judd has been with Delta since November 1987.

The jet's crew was based in Dallas, Delta officials said.

"I spoke to the pilot but he didn't respond," paramedic Haftman said. "He was in severe pain."

Parkland Hospital officials said Davis, who was pinned in the wreckage, was talking but in shock. His injuries were described as traumatic.

The plane, its hull burned and tail-section broken, came to rest in a grassy field dotted by sunflowers. One of the jet's engines lay several hundred yards away.

Seattle-based Boeing Co. said the aircraft was 15 years old, purchased by Delta 15 years ago. Spokesman David Jimenez said the jet had accumulated 38,629 takeoffs and landings, a number he described as average.

Federal Aviation Administration records show the plane had only minor problems in the past five years, including replacement of a wing flap controller and repairs to two small cracks in the fuselage skin and another in the pilot's window.

The 727 has been a workhorse for many of the world's airlines for nearly 25 years and won rave reviews for its safety after a rocky start. Before they were discontinued in 1984 after 20 years of production, Boeing manufactured 1,831 of the planes, with 53 lost in accidents.

Officials said in its early years, several crashed because pilots were unaccustomed to the rapidity with which the aircraft descended during landings. Pilots subsequently had to be retrained to cope with the so-called high sink rate.

The aircraft remains the most widely used jet in the U.S. airline fleet, making up nearly one-third of the U.S. fleet of 3,476 passenger and cargo aircraft. But the 727 is being phased out for economic reasons as airlines have found it less expensive to use more modern aircraft that have only two engines and require two pilots instead of the crew of three needed to fly 727s.

Conley said none of the other 727s in the Delta fleet would be pulled from service because of the crash.

"We don't see anything serious enough to pull any planes out of service," Conley said. "Everything is going on as normal as possible."

Russian restaurateur shows off Soviet free enterprise

NEW YORK (AP) — Lines are legendary in Moscow, so it's no surprise that the lunchtime queue snakes for 90 minutes most days at Cafe Kropotkinskya No. 36.

What's unusual is that this restaurant does not belong to the state, but to a cooperative founded by Andrei Fyodorov, who has come here to whet the appetites of U.S. businessmen for the Soviet Union's experiments in private enterprise.

He is the guest of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons Inc., and is promoting his country as open as the Wild West once was.

"Today the Russian market should be of great interest to Americans," Fyodorov, who also is general secretary of the Committee for Cooperative Business in Moscow, said recently through a translator. "The U.S.S.R. now has limitless opportunities."

Seagrams invited Fyodorov and his wife, Helen, because the Soviet Union "is a good market for our products," some of which already are sold in that country, said Robert I. Gandel, vice president for special projects for Seagrams Overseas Sales Co.

Fyodorov, who worked many years for the Soviet tourist agency, expects to learn much about restaurants and to impart a good feeling for doing business with Soviet cooperatives of all kinds. Seagrams hopes he will go home with "an understanding of the way the restaurant business is run, and the importance of wines and spirits in the hospitality business," Gandel said.

Toward those ends, Fyodorov's schedule in the United States included visits with chefs and meals at New York's toniest restaurants. Also planned were visits to a supermarket and farmers' market, a winery tour, a New York power breakfast and a night at Rockefeller Center's Rainbow Room.

Philadelphia and Washington were also on the itinerary before the Fyodorovs return to Moscow on Monday.

Gandel said Americans who have eaten at Soviet-run restaurants would be surprised by Cafe Kropotkinskya's food and friendly, professional service.

At a state restaurant, Gandel said, there might be lipstick on a glass, or a 90-minute wait to be acknowledged by a waiter.

At Cafe Kropotkinskya, which seats 200, "it is far from perfect in service, but the desire is there and eventually the tree will bear fruit," said Fyodorov, who watches over every detail and planned to make sure by telephone that all was well in his absence.

In March 1987, Cafe Kropotkinskya No. 36, named for its street address, became the first of an estimated 300 cooperative restaurants in Moscow.

It was an instant hit, and now would-be diners without luncheon reservations wait in line outside the 19th-century townhouse 1½ hours most days. At night, don't even bother to come by without a reservation, Fyodorov said.

Is it the food? "No," said Fyodorov, talking amid the quiet elegance of Aurora, a midtown Manhattan restaurant where a reception was held to mark the start of his tour.

Mesa may be dropped from suit

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A city commissioner says the city "has been chasing the wrong horse" in its gas supply lawsuit and has proposed dropping Mesa Limited Partnership from the suit and concentrating its efforts against Dallas-based Energas Co.

City commissioners will discuss the proposal by Commissioner Don Chrysler at a meeting next Tuesday.

The city has sued the two companies, which supply gas to consumers, claiming that gas dedicated to the city is being sold elsewhere and that its quality and quantity has been diminished by Mesa over-extracting natural gas liquids from the supply.

Chrysler argued that since Energas actually supplies consumers with gas, only it should be named in the suit rather than Mesa, which sells gas from the Panhandle Fields to the utility company.

Energas general counsel Don E. James said he had not heard of the proposal and declined comment, as did Lin Patterson, Mesa's general counsel.

Mesa and Energas have made several settlement offers since the suit was filed in March. The city last week made a counteroffer to the latest offer of a $6 million reduction in gas prices, but Mesa and Energas rejected that Monday.

The two companies said they would cease to negotiate a settlement offer.

The suit has sharply divided the city and prompted criticism of city leadership from Mesa general partner T. Boone Pickens. Mesa is one of Amarillo's leading corporations, employing more than 400 people, and business leaders have said the suit damages the city's reputation for having a favorable business climate.

Mesa has maintained a high profile in the city since the suit was filed. The company has run numerous ads in the Amarillo Globe-News, some full page, touting its efforts to keep Amarillo's gas prices low.

Last week, Pickens announced Mesa would donate almost $35,000 to the Amarillo Independent School District for letter jackets and $9,000 to an elementary school library.

District budget constraints had resulted in cutbacks to funds for the library and jackets.

To publicize the gifts, Mesa took out a full-page ad about the importance of education and the tradition of letter jackets.

"Boone Pickens is one proud owner of an Amarillo High School letter jacket ...," the ad read. "He knows what that letter jacket meant to him. (It got him a girlfriend his junior year.)"

Recent 4-H Bake Show yields several area winners

Deaf Smith County 4-Hers participated in the 1988 Bake Show held Friday, Aug. 26 at the Community Center.

The Bake Show culminated training in the study of wheat products and their use in human foods. A Bake Show workshop tour was held Aug. 4 by Dan Prouse, Mill Manager for Panhandle Milling Company at Dawn.

4-Hers learned about the milling process, marketing of the flour product and careers available in cereal science and milling production. 4-Hers prepared products using whole wheat as the base for yeast and quick breads.

Jill Dutton, 4-H Council Representative lead the Bake Show awards program where pledges were led by Rusty Dutton, Ted Peabody and Jeffery Carlson. Breads program objectives were presented by Cady Auckerman, Erin Auckerman, Misty Peabody, Amanda Rickman, Karon Harder and Stephanie Wilson. Jennifer Hicks gave a synopsis of the activities and presented Delores Brorman and Maudette Smith with judges' gifts from the 4-Hers.

Kinann Campbell expressed appreciation to Arrowhead Mills for providing whole wheat flour to the participants, and to Ford and Westway Extension Club and 4-H Parent Leaders Association for the financial support of the activity.

Appreciation was expressed to Pam Wilson and Shirley Carlson for organizing and implementing the Bake Show and to the parents of the 4-Hers for providing the luncheon and for their leadership and guidance in the project.

Monica Grotegut presented the luncheon prayer and Lori Urbanczyk invited guest to the luncheon and tasting bee of the baked products. Assisting with the day preparations were Jay Wilson, Michael Carlson, Karon Harder and Stephanie Wilson.

Presenting the Bake Show awards were Pam Wilson and Shirley Carlson. Senior Food winner was Donna Grotegut with Monica Grotegut serving as food alternate. Senior Project winner was Monica Grotegut with Jill Dutton serving as alternate. Jeffery Carlson was presented a blue ribbon for his entry of 30-minute yeast rolls.

Junior food winner was Sarah Wagner with Jennifer Hicks being awarded alternate Food Winner and Top Project Winner. Alternate project winner was Lori Urbanczyk.

Other junior winners receiving blue ribbons were Sheila Teel, Karon Harder, Rusty Dutton, Kinann

Campbell, Amanda Rickman, Erin Auckerman, Cady Auckerman, Stephanie Wilson, Jay Wilson, Misty Peabody, Michael Carlson and Ted Peabody.

Food entry winners and project winners will be competing at the District I Better Bake Show on Sept. 17.

Additional copies of the recipes featured in the bake show are available from the County Extension Office.

During World War II, King Christian X of Denmark was interned by the Nazis in 1943 as the Danes rebelled against occupation forces.

Some 100 towns and villages in Iran were hit by devastating earthquakes in 1968. The death toll was placed at more than 11,000.

Bake Show Winners

The 1988 Bake Show featuring the culinary talents of Deaf Smith County 4-Hers was held Friday and yielded several winners. From left is Sarah Wagner, Jill Dutton, Jennifer Hicks, Donna Grotegut, Monica Grotegut, and Lori Urbanczyk. Donna Grotegut was Senior Food winner and her sister Monica was named alternate.

Monica was selected Senior Project winner while Dutton served as alternate. Junior food winner was Wagner and Hicks was named alternate and top project winner; alternate project winner was Lori Urbanczyk. Food entry winners and project winners will compete in the Sept. 17 District I Better Bake Show.

Poultry products fit diet

Poultry products are nutritious, yet low in calories, fat and saturated fat when compared to other animal products.

"Poultry fits well into today's dietary needs and the emphasis on reduced consumption of total fat, saturated fat and caloric intake," said Dr. James H. Denton, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "At the same time, poultry offers appropriate levels of essential nutrients. By providing high protein levels with low caloric content, poultry products are excellent choices as nutrient dense foods."

Denton said that 1987 data from the USDA's Human Nutrition Information Service showed that poultry products provide a more desirable ratio of nutrients to fats than other animal products.

Each day the average person consumes 3,560 calories, of which animal products account for almost 36 percent, said Denton. Poultry products provide only 3.5 percent of these calories. Red meat provides 15.5 percent; milk and milk products, 10 percent; eggs, 1.6 percent; and fish and shellfish, 0.9 percent.

At the same time, animal products provide almost 57 percent of the total fat in daily diets. Poultry products account for only 5 percent of this total, with red meat accounting for 32.8 percent; milk and milk products, 20.5 percent; eggs, 2 percent; and fish and shellfish, 0.5 percent.

More than 75 percent of all saturated fatty acid consumed daily come from animal products. Poultry products contribute only 4 percent of this total while red meat accounts for about 33 percent; milk and milk products, 20.5 percent; eggs, 2 percent; and fish and shellfish, 5 percent.

"Despite much publicity to the contrary, poultry products continue to provide a greater share of many of the desirable nutrients than other animal products," said Denton.

According to the USDA data, poultry provided more than 11 percent of the 68.5 percent protein provided by animal products in daily diets, with red meat providing 27.6 percent; milk and milk products, 20.9 percent; eggs, 4 percent; and fish and shellfish, 4.6 percent.

"Poultry meat products account for about 25 percent of the total meat protein consumed per capita daily while providing only 17 percent of the calories, 14 percent of the fat and 11 percent of the saturated fat in animal products," Denton said.

'88 Herd should be exciting

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Hereford head football coach Don Cumpton thinks the Hereford football fan may be in for more than the money's worth in the 1988 football season.

Those fans are curious: What kind of football team will Hereford have this fall?

Not even Cumpton knows for sure. He may not know until Sept. 16, the end of the "first season" for the Herd.

Sept. 16 is the day after the Herd plays three football games in less than two weeks. Hereford plays two non-conference games against District 3-5A favorites Amarillo Tascosa and Amarillo Palo Duro, then opens District 1-4A against powerful Lubbock Estacado.

The Whitefaces then have an open week before seven games against the rest of the district. That's the second season.

"Our community is really going to enjoy watching this team play," Cumpton said. "These players are unified. They play together with a lot of enthusiasm. Shoot, the coaches are excited about watching them play, and we're excited about our schedule."

Absent from this year's schedule are any sure wins, and that's by Cumpton's design. "When we got down to our district schedule the last couple of years, we didn't know what it meant to have to play with intensity, to know what pressure was," Cumpton said. "With our scrimmage last week against Amarillo High and our games against Tascosa and Palo Duro, we'll be ready for the kind of intensity and pressure we'll need for district."

"We open against three great teams, then we have that open week to evaluate what our position is. Then we have our second season, and if we improve and win all seven of those, we are in the playoffs."

Cumpton and his coaches are busy evaluating right now. There are few experienced hands starting for the Whitefaces, and some of the veterans are learning new positions.

One experienced hand is quarterback Jason Scott. "The experience Jason gained last year at quarterback is invaluable," Cumpton said. "He started the last five games, won four of those five, and learned a lot."

"And I think Jason will have a lot of carryover success from the baseball team last year (as the Herd's No. 1 starter on the state quarterfinalist squad). I think there is a lot of carryover between sports, and his success and the confidence he gained last spring should help him."

"And Carl Delozier (Scott's backup) has improved immensely. Carl has had a good fall practice."

"I am really pleased with our throwing game. We throw the ball well and catch the ball well. Brent (Cumpton's son) injured his finger the other day and we'll have to see about him. Clint Cotton (wingback) and Pat Mercer (split end) have done a great job this fall, and we have our 'Smurfs' that have done a great job, people like Jared Victor that had a great scrimmage last Friday, Brent, Kyle Solomon, Nick Kendall, John Wilson and Shane Kapka."

"That's a great position for us because of the depth we have there. We don't have any burners, but we feel confident with any of those guys catching the football."

Roger McCracken is back at tight end, but he'll probably split time with Tate Smith and John Tohm, who have moved there from the backfield. "It's a learning experience for Tate and John, but they just keep getting better," Cumpton said.

Behind Scott in the backfield are some veterans. Keith Brown, Kyle Andrews and Glenn Parker all played last year, with Andrews the most experienced of the trio.

"Glenn has really come on this year. He reported to practice in great shape and has worked hard. He has made great strides over a year ago. Kyle is bigger and stronger than he was a year ago, and is a tremendous blocker for us. Keith concentrated mainly on defense for us last year and didn't play a whole lot of offense. The more experience he gains, the better he'll be."

Cumpton's counting on help from transfer Steve Steward and Jim Eric Andrews, who moved from quarterback to runningback.

There are big questions in the line, where guard Brian Watts is the only returning starter.

"Kevin Paetzold played some last year, and so did Edward Castillo. Bud Shirley, Ricky Rieves and Benny Gonzales were all on the JV last year, and Anthony Tijerina was on the sophomore team," Cumpton said. "We're just real inexperienced in varsity competition, and we won't know where we're at until we play a game."

"But they're improving. We didn't gain as many yards in our scrimmage against Amarillo High as we did against Lubbock Monterey, but the line probably played better against Amarillo High."

The defensive front is in the same, green condition. Defensive end Brad Smith is the only returning starter.

"You could tell that inexperience in our first scrimmage," Cumpton said. "We have some decent size with Brad (6-6, 215), Roger (6-3, 235) Darren Nikkel (230) and Benny Gonzales (230). Steve Tucker is coming on, and Marcos Marquez had a good scrimmage for us. Those two could be a real factor for us."

"Joe Medrano is returning at linebacker, but everyone else (Richard Abalos, Moses Casas, Rieves, Jason Lueb, Kirby Kaul) is up from the junior varsity and sophomore teams. We have some talent there, but it's going to take a little time. As a unit, they probably improved more from the first scrimmage to the second scrimmage."

Cumpton's smiling point is the secondary.

"Stuart Mitts played a lot for us last year at cornerback, and he has had a great fall," Cumpton said. "I may be prejudiced, but I think Keith Brown was the best defensive back in the district last year, and he only made second team all-district. Pat Mercer is going to play in the secondary some, and he concentrated totally on offense last year, so he needs some experience. Steward and Anthony Gonzales are going to help us a lot, and some of our younger kids like Russell Backus, Chuck Lemons, Pat Rhodes are going to do some good things for us."

The point Cumpton says the team needs to work out, on both offense and defense, is consistency.

"Look at last week against Amarillo High," Cumpton said. "The second time we had the ball, we moved it straight backwards. We were third-and-25, then we drove the ball right down the field. We have to be consistent: We must move the ball down the field all of the time."

"The first time Amarillo had the ball, they went from their 35 down to about the 10, then we got tough. We have to eliminate the bad plays on both sides of the ball."

How does Cumpton hope to gain the experience necessary to do well?

"We're just going to have to play our best," Cumpton said. "If we play as hard as we can it will be a great learning experience, and the score will take care of itself. Of course we want to win these first two games, but we have more important games on down the road. If we compete well against Tascosa and Palo Duro it's going to help us a lot."

"I think it's going to be a whole lot of fun, seeing what kind of team we really do have. And we want to re-establish the tradition of Hereford playing over its head. That's what really makes it exciting for the coaches and the fans. That's where you get your money's worth, and we have that kind of team again this year."

Throwing success

One of the keys to Hereford's success this year will be its throwing game. If quarterback Jason Scott gets the kind of time he had in last week's scrimmage against Amarillo High, it could be a very successful season.

Owners guilty of collusion

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball owners continued their conspiracy against free agents into 1987, engaging in a "patent pattern" of bid-rigging that defied fair play and a free market.

Arbitrator George Nicolau, in a harshly worded 81-page opinion delivered Wednesday, found "there was no vestige of a free market" between the 1986 and 1987 seasons. It was replaced, he wrote, "by a patent pattern of uniform behavior" in "deliberate contravention" of baseball's collective bargaining agreement.

He found that communications between clubs were designed to further the free-agent boycott.

Damages involving such stars as Montreal's Tim Lincecum, Detroit's Jack Morris, Philadelphia's Lance Parrish and the Chicago Cubs' Andre Dawson will be determined after this season, avoiding any disruption of the pennant races.

Nicolau's decision will precipitate another round of multimillion-dollar damage hearings and will allow several of the free agents in the case the opportunity for "new-look" free agency.

Seven players from the first case were made free agents again in January and Kirk Gibson left Detroit to sign a three-year contract with Los Angeles.

Another arbitrator, Thomas Roberts, ruled last Sept. 21 that clubs conspired against free agents between the 1985 and 1986 seasons. Nicolau's opinion was much more expansive and, among other things, accused baseball officials of making offers "for public relations purposes" and of having "remarkable lapses of memory" in their testimony.

He also found that American League president Bobby Brown and two AL club owners pressured Philadelphia Phillies owner Bill Giles not to sign Parrish, one of the two premier free agents who switched teams by taking pay cuts.

Donald Fehr, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, called it "a story of deceit, dissembling and conspiracy and said "the owners stand exposed as willing to make a contract and then deliberately violate it, to collude and conspire to violate their solemn contractual commitments to the players; to avoid their obligations to the fans to put the best possible team on the field."

Barry Rona, executive director of the owner's Player Relations Committee, maintained the teams were innocent.

"Not only was the conduct of the owners consistent with guidelines established in the Basic Agreement. Such conduct, it should be noted, in no substantive ways differed from that of player agents and other representatives of the players."

Rich Levin, a spokesman for Commissioner Peter Ueberroth, said Rona's statement would speak for the commissioner.

Economic experts hired by the union have proposed damages of between $20 million and $30 million in the first collusion case, according to information obtained by The Associated Press.

Viola wins 20th

By BILL BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

Becoming the majors' first 20-game winner this season was nice, but gaining the 100th victory of his career was music to Frank Viola's ears.

"Actually the goal of winning 100 was more important to me," Viola said. "It means you go out there every fourth day, be consistent and stay healthy. I just hope the next 100 are a little easier than the first 100."

Viola, 20-6, allowed five hits in seven innings before the Twins finished off a 10-1 victory over the Texas Rangers on Wednesday night.

"The guys made it real easy with the 10 runs," Viola said. "That's why this is such a team sport. My last outing against Kansas City, I was a little nervous. Now I've got it."

"When I get the support, it's easy."

Viola failed in two previous bids to become the first Minnesota pitcher to win 20 since Jerry Koonsman in 1979. But while he struggled with his favorite pitch, the changeup, a 5-0 lead in the second inning was more than enough support: German Gonzalez got the last six outs.

Tigers 9, White Sox 3

Detroit increased its AL East lead to two games over Boston as Lou Whitaker drove in three runs and Jack Morris improved his record to 4-0 against Chicago this season.

Royals 1, Indians 0

Charlie Leibrand pitched a seven-hitter for his second shutout for Kansas City, and Bill Pecota's suicide squeeze drove in the only run against Cleveland.

Yankees 4, Mariners 1

New York halted a six-game losing streak and got a win from a starter for the first time since Aug. 14 as Rick Rhoden pitched a six-hitter against Seattle.

29 wins scramble

Two teams tied with a score of 29 in the Hereford Men's Golf Association scramble Wednesday afternoon at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

The winning team was determined on a scorecard playoff and included Max Goforth, John Robinson, Cliff Jones, Scott Holbert and Rose Marie Robinson. John Robinson chipped in an eagle on the par-5 eighth hole for the winning margin.

Also scoring a 29 was the team of N.D. Kelso, Tim Frintz, Leland Shelton, Pat Goforth and Kathy Bode. Seven teams participated in the scramble, which was followed by hamburgers and refreshments at the VFW Hall.

Angels 7, Orioles 5

California trailed 4-0 after six innings, but rallied to beat Baltimore.

Tony Armas' double snapped a 5-5 tie, and Dick Schofield walked with the bases loaded later in the eighth inning.

Athletics 7, Red Sox 2

Oakland completed a three-game sweep of Boston as Storm Davis won his ninth straight decision and Mark McGwire hit his 27th homer.

Brewers 4, Blue Jays 2

Don August combined with two relievers on a nine-hitter and Robin Yount drove in two runs with a homer and a single for Milwaukee against Toronto.

Reds bop Pirates

By HILLEL ITALIE
Associated Press Writer

Rookie Norm Charlton earned his first major-league victory by doing a lot of bending but very little breaking.

Charlton allowed eight hits and walked three in eight innings, but gave up just one run as the Cincinnati Reds beat the slumping Pittsburgh Pirates 4-1 Wednesday night.

The Pirates left 10 runners on base in the first five innings as Charlton won for the first time in four starts.

"I'm a lot more comfortable out there compared to my first time," the 25-year-old left-hander said. "It's very gratifying. I've waited four games for it. This wasn't a real pretty one, but I'll remember it."

So will Kal Daniels, whose three-run homer in the eighth inning snapped a 1-1 tie.

"It's been a long time coming," said Daniels, whose 14th homer followed singles by Herm Wingham and Chris Sabo. "That's a good situation to be hitting in, with men on first and third. I looked for a fastball to drive. I just went with it."

Elsewhere in the National League, it was San Diego 6, New York 3; Chicago 3, Houston 1; Montreal 4, Los Angeles 3; St. Louis 6, Atlanta 4, and San Francisco 3, Philadelphia 2 in 11 innings.

Charlton had been weak at holding runners on base in the minors, but managed to prevent the Pirates from stealing any bases Wednesday night.

"I pitched from the stretch most of the night," Charlton said. "I wasn't real happy about that. They put the ball in play."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You failed to address a very important point in your response to the teenage girl who had a phantom pregnancy and learned her lesson about the responsibility (or irresponsibility) of casual, unprotected sex.

Her reference to trusting guys who "promise they will stop in time" is a clear reference to the withdrawal method of birth control (stopping intercourse prior to ejaculation). This is common among inexperienced teenagers. Apparently, they don't realize that pregnancy can result even without total penetration.

You provide a great service to teens and adults alike, Ann, but I felt I had to haul you up short for not zeroing in on this important point. Teenagers are bored by statistics, but when you sock it to 'em in plain language, they get the message. Keep hammering away.—Sterling Heights, Mich.

DEAR STERLING HEIGHTS: Thanks for the wake-up call. You're absolutely right. Statistics don't mean much to teenagers. Plain language and no-nonsense information is what they want. Count on me to lay it on the line: The withdrawal technique is extremely risky and those who depend on it are almost certain to get caught.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I are gregarious people and we like to have guests over for dinner parties and Sunday brunch. But I'm beginning to think we should entertain our friends in the garage because almost every time we have guests over, something in the house ends up missing.

In the last few months we have lost an heirloom letter opener, a sterling-silver cake knife and a small clock, and an expensive bottle of perfume disappeared from my wife's dressing table. Last week, after a party, we discovered that a guest had walked off with a large framed original Currier and Ives.

I'm sure some of these things are taken as souvenirs of a pleasant evening. How do you cope with the problem, Ann?—Needing Answers in L.A.

DEAR L.A.: I don't have the problem. My guests don't steal.

Since you obviously do, I suggest that you put away all small items, lock doors to bedrooms, and you might also discreetly inquire among your close pals as to the identity of a possible keltomanic in your circle.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I both have high cholesterol. Last night, she said she read somewhere that frequent sex lowers the cholesterol. We have never heard of this before. We decided to ask Ann Landers. How about it?—Idaho Inquirers

DEAR IDAHO: I checked with Dr. Anthony Gotto, a world-recognized authority on cholesterol at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. He said the only way frequent sex might help lower cholesterol would be if a couple engaged in sex instead of eating eggs, cheese, ice cream, liver and caviar.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why is it that most suit-and-tie gentlemen don't know how to make a diamond knot?

I work for a banking firm in Manhattan as a blue-collar building engineer. When I see impeccably dressed executives with a sloppy tie, it annoys me.

Just look at the newscasters and guests being interviewed on TV and you'll see what I mean. A well-made knot doesn't slip. It looks neat and classy. Pass the word, Annie. These guys need to shape up!—Observer in N.Y.

DEAR OBSERVER: You're also a mind-reader. Any man who wants to learn how to make a perfect knot can ask the salesperson who sold him his last necktie.

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? "The Ann Landers Guide for Brides" will relieve your anxiety. To receive a copy, send $3 plus a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope (45 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

STATES OF EXCESS
NEW YORK (AP) — More overweight people live in West Virginia than in any other of the 25 states surveyed by the government's Centers for Disease Control, says Nutri-System.

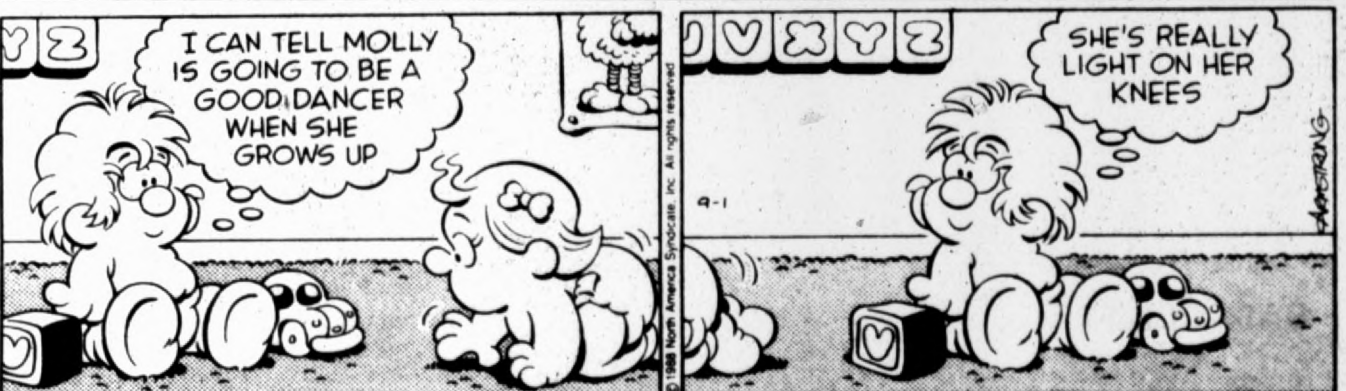

It says 24 percent of the state's population qualified as overweight. Wisconsin and North Dakota were close behind with 23 percent each.

Salads provide refreshing alternatives

Everyone has a different vision of the idea salad. To some, it's a simple bed of lettuce tossed with tomato wedges, cucumber slices and a creamy dressing. For others, nothing will do but a medley of as many different garden delights as they can fit into a bowl.

Salads provide a refreshing alternative to everyday meals and bring a sparkle to the dinner table. There is something for everyone—ethnic salads such as hot curried chicken salad and Italian salad to old favorites like cottage cheese and fruit. Seafood as well as vegetables provide salads hearty enough to serve as entrees.

The following recipes were provided by the American Dairy Association:

CUCUMBER MOUSSE
6-8 servings
1 pkg. (13 oz.) lime flavor gelatin
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup crumbled Blue cheese
2 cucumbers, peeled, seeded, shredded and well drained
2 T. fresh lime juice
2 tsp. grated onion
1 tsp. grated lime peel
½ tsp. salt
1 cup EACH: whipping cream, dairy sour cream, lettuce, cucumber slices, if desired, watercress

Dissolve gelatins in boiling water in large mixing bowl. Stir in cheese until fairly well dissolved. Stir in cucumber, lime juice, onion, lime peel and salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Meanwhile, whip cream until stiff; fold in sour cream. Whip cucumber gelatin mixture until fluffy; fold in whip cream mixture. Pour into oiled 6-cup mold. Chill several hours or overnight until firm. Unmold onto lettuce-lined plate. Garnish with cucumber slices and watercress. Serve with marinated, sliced tomatoes.

ITALIAN SALAD
4 servings
Italian dressing:
2 cartons (8 oz. each) plain yogurt
Two-thirds cup grated domestic Parmesan cheese
¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
2 tsp. grated onion
1 clove garlic, crushed
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
Salad
4 cups torn salad greens
1½ cups shredded Mozzarella cheese
1 cup EACH: sliced zucchini, sliced fresh mushrooms
1 tomato, cut into wedges
Two-thirds cup green pepper strips
½ cup thinly sliced pepperoni, chopped

½ cup French-fried onion rings, optional
For dressing, combine all ingredients and mix well. Chill, covered, 2-3 hours to allow flavors to blend.
For salad, combine all ingredients except onion rings in large salad bowl; toss gently. Chill one hour. To serve, spoon salad onto individual plates. Spoon approximately ½ dressing over each salad. Onion rings may be sprinkled on top for crunch and garnish. Remaining dressing will keep in covered container in refrigerator up to one week.

SALMON STUFFED TOMATOES
6 servings
1 can (15½ oz.) salmon, drained, boned, skinned and flaked
½ EACH: sliced green onion, chopped celery
¼ cup sliced pitted ripe olives
6 large tomatoes
Salt and pepper to taste
Two-thirds cup dairy sour cream
thinly sliced cucumber
Combine salmon, green onion, celery and olives; chill. Cut top off of each tomato; scoop out center to form cup; chill. Just before serving, sprinkle inside of tomato with salad and pepper. Fold sour cream into salmon mixture. Spoon into tomato cups. Serve tomatoes on salad greens surrounded by sliced cucumber.

SNAPPY SLAW
8 cups
6 cups finely shredded cabbage
2 cups thinly sliced carrot
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded Provolone cheese
½ cup EACH: sliced green onion, chopped pimento drained
1 carton (8 oz.) plain yogurt
2 tsp. prepared mustard

½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
Combine cabbage, carrot, cheese, onion and pimento. Combine yogurt, mustard, salt and pepper. Toss yogurt mixture with cabbage mixture. Chill, covered, 2-3 hours to allow flavors to blend. Serve on cabbage leaves.

HOT CURRIED CHICKEN SALAD
(6-8 servings)
3 cups cooked, chopped chicken
1½ cups chopped celery
½ cup salad dressing (creamy toasted onion or creamy garlic and chive)
¾ cup chopped unpeeled apple
½ cup EACH: raisins, chopped walnuts
1½ cups plain yogurt
2 T. flour
2½ tsp. curry powder
½ tsp. salt
sliced unpeeled apples

Combine chicken, celery and salad dressing; refrigerate, covered 1 hour. Preheat oven to 300 degree F. Stir apple, raisins and walnut into chicken mixture. Combine yogurt, flour, curry powder and salt; blend well. Stir yogurt mixture into chicken mixture. Place in 1½ quart rectangular baking dish. Bake 30 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Serve on individual plates surrounded with sliced apples.

PARTY RIBBON SALAD
4 servings
6 ounces fresh spinach, cleaned, drained, torn into bite-sized pieces
2 medium-sized tomatoes, thinly sliced
Salt and pepper
1 small Bermuda onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings
1½ cups (6 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese

4 hard cooked eggs, sliced
Pepper
1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas, thawed
½ cup chopped celery
1½ cups dairy sour cream
½ cup grated domestic Parmesan cheese
¼ teaspoon pepper
4 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
Place spinach in bottom of clear, straight-sided, tall bowl. Top with tomatoes; sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Layer onions, Cheddar cheese, and eggs. Sprinkle lightly with pepper. Combine peas and celery. Sprinkle over eggs. Combine sour cream, parmesan cheese and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Spread over peas. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Just before serving, sprinkle with bacon. Serve, making sure each serving contains some of every layer.

PINEAPPLE COTTAGE CHEESE BOAT
4 servings

Blue Cheese Dressing
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup (4 oz.) well-crumbled Blue Cheese
¼ cup chopped pecans
1 to 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salad
1 whole fresh pineapple
2 cups cottage cheese
12 slices kiwi fruit
12 medium-size cooked shrimp OR 1 cup small cooked shrimp
For dressing, combine all ingredients, mix well. Chill, covered, 1 to 2 hours to allow flavors to blend. For salad, cut whole pineapple (including top) into quarters. Carefully remove fruit from pineapple; reserve pineapple shells. Cut pineapple into wedges; set aside. Place a scoop of cottage cheese in center of each pineapple shell. Surround cottage cheese with sliced kiwi fruit, shrimp and pineapple. Chill up to 1 hour before serving. Pass Blue Cheese dressing.

Nazarene Church conducting revival services this week

The public is invited to attend revival services this week at the First Church of the Nazarene. Services are set at 7:30 p.m. today through Saturday and at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday.

The featured guest speaker is Dr. Richard Strickland of Springfield, Ohio, who is an ordained minister and evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene. A ministry of restoration and Christian education enable him to minister to needs of the total family and have given him an understanding of problems facing adults and teenagers. His messages are Christ-centered, dynamic, practical and pertinent to the times, directing the gospel to such problem areas as money, marriage, mysteries, memories, motivation and ministry.

Dr. Strickland holds a A.B. in religion from Olivet Nazarene College, an M.A. in educational administration from the University of Dayton, and a Ph.D. in educational administration and psychology from Columbia Pacific University.

'Meanwhile, Back on the Couch' scheduled

The Country Squire Dinner Theatre opens today, Sept. 1 with a Jack Sharkey comedy, 'Meanwhile, Back On The couch.'

Lela Dawkins, active in theatre since the age of 12, will play the part of Gabrielle Wingate, a talented interior decorator. She was one of Peter Fox's Peter Piper Players at Amarillo Little Theatre.

Jane Lipscomb will play Dorothea Melnik, a disgruntled client of Roy's.

Regi Fowler has been seen on the Squire Stage numerous times. He will play Roy Terrigan, an affably unpleasant psychiatrist. A Country Squire Rogue, teacher for the Canyon Independent School District, Regi teaches guitar in his spare time.

Christi Schmidjell will portray Charlotte Hennebon, a nurse for one of the psychiatrists.

J. Vance Sebren will play Victor Karleen, a psychiatrist and would-be novelist. Vance, a native of Amarillo, has performed in two seasons of TEXAS and in several productions at the Amarillo Little Theatre. He is employed by Corporate Systems.

Don Rouse will play the part of Parker Donnelly, a publisher and friend of Victor Karleen. Don has been seen in many of the Squire's productions.

Brad Nies will portray Albert Brock, a young man with an old problem.

Missye Pillow will play Jingle Jabonski, Victor's next door neighbor.

'MEANWHILE, BACK ON THE COUCH' will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturdays only beginning Sept. 1, 1988 and running through Oct. 8, 1988.

For reservations call 358-7486.

"...we specialize in home town loans!"

"Different financial institutions specialize in different kinds of lending...and here at our bank we specialize in the home town kind.

"That's right! We make home town loans to home town neighbors...putting local savings dollars right back to work here in Hereford.

"We don't take your money and buy many participations in big loans in the big markets...we don't send your money off to back some other community's economy...we still believe in loyalty to our neighbors and our home community.

"We still specialize in home town lending and we invite you to try some right here at our bank."
