HTFCU, HSB show increases

Deposits at Hereford's two banks totalled $131 million at the close of business Sept. 30, 1989. Adding the shares of members at Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, the deposits reflected a total of $151.7 million for the three financial institutions. Totals were not available from Bluebonnet Savings Bank or Olney Savings.

First National Bank had deposits of $69,478,000 and loans of $39,069,000 at the close of the period. This compared to a deposit total of $70.4 million and loans of $40.1 million a year ago.

Hereford State Bank deposits were shown at $61,698,000--an increase of $2.9 million from Sept. 30, 1988. Loans were $36,758,000 compared to $35,831,000 a year ago.

HTFCU showed shares of members totalling $20,545,000--up from last year's total of $18.9 million. Loans were $13,408,000--an increase of about $2 million over last year.

Total deposits for the three financial institutions were $148,145,000 a year ago--reflecting a total increase of $3,576,000. Total loans for the three had increased by $2,045,000.

Wisdom is the reward you get for a lifetime of listening when you'd have preferred to talk.

Time tells on a person--especially a good time.

This is Homecoming time at Hereford High, and we join others in the community in extending a big welcome to returning exes. Today's parade and the football game tonight are just part of the activities for the annual celebration.

Homecoming is usually linked to the big football game, but exes will find that HHS is excelling in other athletic programs and the Mighty Maroon Band continues to pursue its course of excellence. Last week, the band earned a trip to the regional marching contest.

The Whiteface tennis team, undefeated in district play, goes to the region meet for the fourth straight year. The girls' cross-country team goes for its third district crown Saturday, and the boys are seeking a trip to regional. The volleyball team is tied for first in district and finishes Saturday at Borger.

All of the Herd teams and organizations are still hustling!

Despite the advances in medicine, some home remedies still remain popular--especially with such things as a bad cold, hiccups and warts.

The current issue of the Old Farmers Almanac lists some interesting ways to remove warts. Among the 50 solutions are:

- rub with dandelion juice.
 - rub several times with a gold ring.
 - wash your hands in water used to boil potatoes.
 - count them each night for nine nights.
 - give your warts names and think good things about them.
 - sell the wart to someone and don't spend the money.
 - rub it on St. Abdon's Day, July 30.
 - rub it with the sole of your shoe.
 - cut an apple in half, rub each half over the wart, tie the halves together and throw them away.
 - look at the new moon, rub the wart three times, saying: "You grow and go."
 - rub the wart with a fish.
 - kiss the wart, then kiss someone else.
 - rub it with a chicken foot.
- If some of those solutions sound bad, you wouldn't be interested in the others. If all else fails, you can always make an appointment with the doc.

Water break

Hereford football player Mark Daniel gets ready for a little water during last Saturday's game at Lubbock Dunbar. Daniel and his teammates hope to warm up again tonight when they host Canyon Randall in the homecoming game at 7:30 p.m. at Whiteface Stadium.

Gift for senior citizens

Gene Brock, left, president of the Hereford Kiwanis Club, presents a check to Shirley Garrison, president of the Hereford Senior Citizens Center, for the center's expansion project. The center has reached 77 percent of its initial $300,000 goal for expanding the center to better meet its growing needs.

Time change Sunday

No matter your perspective on whether you'll be gaining an hour of daylight for your favorite activity or losing an hour, you will need to set your clock back one hour before you retire Saturday night.

If your clock reads like the one at the right when you go to bed Saturday night, you need to move it back so you'll be on time for church and other activities on Sunday.

Beginning Sunday, you'll be losing an hour in the afternoons for golf or work or other needs, but it also means it will be daylight when you go to work or school in the mornings. It also means it'll be dark for the ghosts and goblins on Tuesday, when they go trick-or-treating through the neighborhood.

CSF needs volunteers

Hereford's community-wide holiday charity--the Christmas Stocking Fund--is in need of a few good volunteers.

The annual campaign to help the less fortunate in the community is administered by an anonymous committee with the support of the Red Cross chapter and The Hereford Brand.

Any person who would be interested in being a CSF volunteer can contact Speedy Nieman at The Brand or Betty Henson at the county Red Cross office. Either will pass along the name to the CSF committee.

Christmas Stocking Fund

Senior citizens closer to goal

The Hereford Senior Citizens Association received a $1,000 boost Thursday with gifts from the Hereford Kiwanis Club and club member Bartley Dowell.

The association's president, Shirley Garrison, said the Thursday gifts boosted the Senior Citizens Association's total of cash and pledges to $232,700, 77 percent of the $300,000 goal to be raised locally for building expansion and other improvements at the center.

"We still have many businesses, professionals and individuals to contact and several follow-up calls on businesses already contacted," said Garrison.

The association also has a commitment of about $15,000 for paving new parking areas and has made application to one foundation and is making application to another foundation for the remainder of the needed funds for the ambitious project.

"Each weekday we serve food to over 450 members, over 200 of whom are homebound," Garrison said. "We continue to grow and our need to expand is increasing."

Garrison said that because of the time needed to get responses from foundations new construction will not start until after Jan. 1.

A giant garage sale, sponsored by the Golden K Kiwanis, is to be held today and Saturday at the Center to raise funds, and the center is also selling goods from a Hallmark store that is closing. Items in both sales include many holiday-season items. The public is invited to shop at the sales.

Chamber board hears plans, reports

Progress reports on the annual banquet, Hustler activities, an After-Hours Business Mixer, and legislative affairs highlighted the monthly meeting of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce board Thursday afternoon.

Donna West, Women's Division president, also announced that the annual Christmas Carousel project was cancelled for this year. A lack of interest from retail business owners was given as the reason.

Rocky Lee, C of C president, urged chamber officials and all interested members to attend a meeting here Sunday when Sen. Phil Gramm appears to discuss the drug problem. Gramm will be at the courthouse from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Lee announced that the next Fun Breakfast is scheduled Nov. 30, and an After-Hours Business Mixer is being planned for early in December. A committee is currently seeking a guest speaker for the annual banquet.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, discussed several amendments that should be of special interest to business and agriculture in the Nov. 4 election. He also reported that ballots will be mailed soon for the annual election of new directors. Six candidates have been named by the nominating committee, and members have until Nov. 1 to nominate other candidates.

Carr also announced that a leadership training seminar for chamber volunteers is being held at Frank Phillips College in Borger on Nov. 3. He urged any board members or interested chamber volunteers to attend the meeting.

No motions were made at the monthly board meeting Thursday, since there was not a quorum. Directors present were Lee, Doug Josseland, Temple Abney, Carol Gerke, Ike Stevens and Donna West.

Absent were Carol LeGate, Larry Malamen, David Emerick, Scott Keeling, Bobby Moore, Pat Robbins and Berta Ottesen.

Lawmakers criticize Bush plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush's plan to improve pesticide regulation is being criticized in Congress as doing nothing to make food safer but praised for promoting needed bureaucratic improvements.

"The president deserves credit for reforming the outdated and extremely cumbersome procedures for removing dangerous pesticides from use," Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., said Thursday. "But better procedures are meaningless if the safety standards are weakened."

The president's proposal "offers absolutely no assurances that our food will be free of dangerous pesticides," he said.

Waxman, chairman of the House Energy and Commerce subcommittee on health and the environment, has introduced legislation of his own to reform pesticide use and said he would consider Bush's proposal during hearings within the next three weeks.

Waxman's bill is among several in Congress that have various plans for regulating the way chemicals are used in farming.

Bush's proposal includes: -Redefining the criteria to be used for temporarily removing or suspending from use a pesticide that poses a possible health hazard, making it easier to get the chemical off the market even though formal proceedings might still be underway.

-Streamlining the procedures under which a dangerous pesticide may be permanently removed from the market. Officials said the process would reduce by at least half the four-to-eight years it often takes for a chemical to be banned.

-Providing tougher enforcement against misuse of pesticides, including a proposal to increase penalties from $5,000 per day to $25,000 per day.

"President Bush's proposal ... will enhance the government's ability to remove potentially hazardous pesticides from the marketplace," said Rep. Norman Lent, R-N.Y., ranking Republican on the Energy and Commerce Committee.

In the Senate, Agriculture Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy criticized Bush's plan.

"The administration is taking one step forward and two steps back when it weakens important food safety protections in exchange for some procedural improvements in pesticide regulations," said Leahy, D-Vt.

Sen. Joseph I. Lieberman, D-Conn., a member of the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee, likened the Bush proposal to an Impressionist painting.

"The closer you get to it, the fuzzier it looks," he said.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please print this on behalf of all your brown-eyed readers. They need you on their side.

I am enclosing an ad for tinted contact lenses. It pictures a brown-eyed woman and says, "There is someone exciting inside you and her eyes are a different color." I have also seen TV ads showing a woman with brown eyes. No one pays any attention to her until she pops in blue contact lenses. Suddenly, as if by magic, she becomes very popular.

I find these ads extremely offensive. What exactly are they trying to say? That if you were born with brown eyes you were cheated? That maybe you're OK looking, but if your eyes were blue you'd be gorgeous? That no man will want you unless you change your eye color to blue or violet or some fake color?

I know at least one man who thinks my brown eyes are beautiful. My husband. He would be very upset if I appeared at the breakfast table with blue eyes. We also have a 3-year-old daughter and the first thing people say when they see her is, "What beautiful brown eyes!"

So, please, Ann, as a favor to all of us brown-eyed people (including yourself), run this letter and help us get the message to the contact lens people that we think their campaign is insulting and we wish they would switch to another theme. -- The Eyes Have It In Ohio

DEAR OHIO: Here's your letter and I do believe your point is well-taken.

For the record, Ohio, my eyes are an honest blue. My parents gave them to me for a birthday present.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I can't believe that at the age 65 I'm writing for advice.

Right now my wife and I are looking at wedding invitations to Long Island, Lake Arrowhead and Delray Beach, Fla., and birth announcements from St. Louis Park, Minn., New Rochelle, N.Y., Marina Del Ray, Calif., and Deerfield, Fla.

Honestly, we hardly know most of these people and have not seen them or their children in years.

My wife and I always seem to disagree on whether to send a gift. Is there any rule of thumb? -- E.P., San Bernardino

DEAR E.P.: Just because you receive an invitation or an announcement does not mean that you must send a gift or that one is expected. Send a gift only if you attend the celebration or if the people involved are close friends or relatives you are in touch with.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last week my neighbor sent her son, Johnny, to our house to play. After an hour he said he was going home because he couldn't stop coughing and was going to throw up. Unfortunately, he had been coughing in my son's face. My son got sick shortly after and wound up with pneumonia.

I learned that Johnny had a temperature for two days. This is no the first time his mother has done this sort of thing. She once took the boy to a crowded story hour at the library with a temperature of 104 because she "didn't want to disappoint him."

Can you offer some guidelines on when to keep a child home? I'm sure other mothers would appreciate this help. -- Sick Again in Boston

DEAR BOSTON: A child with a temperature of 100 or over should be at home. If he has a cold and a cough it is best to keep him away from other children for the first three or four days. A word of advice to all mothers -- "Do unto others...."

Frosh, sophs gain wins; 8th White stumbles twice

The Hereford Whiteface sophomore and freshman teams all picked up wins Thursday as the sophs took their rematch with the Randall JV, 38-26, on the road while the frosh White came away from Plainview with a 32-16 decision over the PHS Blue and the Maroon freshman came back to down Berger at the South Field, 30-6.

In junior high action, the eighth grade White teams dropped a pair of games played at the Junior Field to Plainview Red with the visitors winning the "A" contest, 7-0, and the "B" game, 9-6.

In the "A" game, Plainview put the only points on the board when Tim Uddley returned the second half kickoff 65 yards for a touchdown and Ramiro Reyes kicked the extra point.

Hereford reached the Plainview 19-yard line mid-way through the fourth quarter, but the drive stalled and a fake field goal play on fourth down lost three yards.

Hereford was given one last chance with 24 seconds left when Plainview fumbled at mid-field while trying to run the clock out. But a hook-and-lateral play went awry when the lateral hit the ground and Plainview recovered.

Chris Vallejo led the Herd with 49 yards rushing on 18 carries while Jeremy Blair completed two passes for 12 yards in the game.

In the "B" game, Andy Stevens scored Hereford's only points on a three-yard bootleg to in the third quarter to cut Plainview's lead to 7-6, but the try for two points and the lead was stopped short.

Hereford mounted a drive late in the game that reached the Plainview 10 with six seconds remaining, but the Herd ran out of time before getting into the end zone.

Frosh Maroon 30, Berger 6
Defense kept Hereford in the game through the first half before the offense cranked up for three third-quarter scores.

The Herd defensive unit sacked Berger quarterbacks Stacy Bruce and Nathan White 16 times in the game, including one of Bruce for a safety in the first quarter. Defensive end Joel Gayton led the charge as he got in on eight of the sacks.

The safety represented the only Hereford points in the first half.

Borger took the lead in the second quarter when Paul Burkhalter went over from three yards out. The drive was kept alive by a face mask penalty at the Hereford 10-yard line.

After some halftime adjustments, the Herd took only five plays to move the kickoff into the end zone. Chris Brummett got the score on a 35-yard run. Richard Sanderson connected twice with wingback Jason Tatarevich for 26 yards to set up Brummett's run and found tight end Eric Sims for the conversion.

Sims recovered a fumble by Borger's Joey Stuebgen on the first play after the kickoff, and then took a pass from Sanderson for 15 yards on third down. Brummett gained 17 of the remaining 20 yards, including the last five for the score.

The Herd defense pushed the Bulldogs back 10 yards on their next possession to force a punt, which Tatarevich returned 15 yards to the Berger 32.

On third down from that point, Brummett took off for his third touchdown of the quarter to give Hereford a 22-6 lead.

Hereford opened the fourth quarter by taking another Borger punt at the Bulldog 37. Brummett picked up nine yards on first down to set up Shawn Fogo's 28-yard score on the next play. Jake Head passed to Ruben Gutierrez for the conversion to close out the scoring.

Frosh White 32, Plainview Blue 16
The White scored a touchdown in each quarter at Plainview to give Hereford a sweep in freshman games.

Tailback Percy Colvin led the Herd with 128 yards 17 carries and scored three touchdowns and two two-point conversions.

Colvin got the game's first score on a 24-yard run and went nine yards in the second quarter for another score. Quarterback Chad Sandoval ran for the conversion to give Hereford a 16-0 halftime lead.

Alan Martinez got the Herd's third-quarter touchdown on a two-yard run with Colvin converting. The two running backs switched roles for Hereford's final score as Colvin went in from the 7-yard line and Martinez converted.

The Herd defense set up two of the touchdowns when Mark Ramirez blocked and recovered a Plainview punt and Michael Ramirez returned an interception 18 yards.

Hereford jumped out to an 18-0 lead in the first quarter as the sophomores downed the junior varsity Raiders for the second time this season.

Leo Brown scored on runs of 14 and 21 yards to open the game and Eddie Tijerina sprinted 31 yards for the Herd's next score. Brown led the Herd with 219 yards rushing for the game.

In the second quarter, Brown took Ben Perry's pass 80 yards for a touchdown to give Hereford a 24-12 halftime edge.

Hereford ate up most of the third quarter part of the fourth with 99-yard drive after a Randall punt was downed at the 1-yard line. Perry got the touchdown on a one-yard sneak and Brown ran for the conversion.

Tijerina, who rushed for 88 yards in the game, added the finishing touch with a 41-yard dash for his second score.

Defensively, the Herd was led by Monroe Timberlake with seven tackles and Michael Campos with five. T.J. Samples added an interception in the fourth quarter to thwart the Raiders comeback attempt.

NFL tabs Tagliabue

CLEVELAND (AP) - One of Paul Tagliabue's credentials as a candidate for NFL commissioner was the insider's view he had at the job as one of Pete Rozelle's closest advisors.

Judging from his first public appearance as the NFL's seventh commissioner, his actions may not differ much from Rozelle's, at least not for a while.

Tagliabue was elected Thursday morning, breaking an impasse that has existed since July 6 when a group of dissidents blocked the election of Jim Finks, the sole candidate proposed by the first of three committees that had a hand in the selection process.

Tagliabue replaced the candidate of those dissidents. But in reality he is a league insider, close to the so-called "old guard" that had backed Finks, the president of the New Orleans Saints.

"The truth of the matter is that the 48-year-old Tagliabue is as much 'Old Guard' as anyone," said Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell, one of the members of the committee that first recommended Finks. Modell was one of the principal targets of the insurgents and one of the two Finks supporters - Wellington Mara of the New York Giants was the other - who switched their votes to come up with Tagliabue.

Tagliabue sounded a lot like Rozelle in his position on issues. That's not unusual - league officials say that Rozelle often asked when confronted with a major issue: "What does Paul think?"

Tagliabue reiterated, for example, that there can be no expansion without a new collective bargaining agreement, and there hasn't been one since 1987. That was also Rozelle's position.

And while he denied being the author of "Plan B," the modified plan of free agency that took effect last year, Tagliabue had a major role in formulating it. He has also been the league's chief lawyer in the lawsuit that stemmed from the NFL Players Association's 1987 strike.

"There are ways of dealing with the question of free agency," he said. "The Management Council would like to get to the table so that a lot of new ideas could come forward. We need the other side to respond."

The union reacted to Tagliabue's election with guarded optimism.

"I find him to be very straightforward and he wants to solve problems. He understands things have to be done and he's never been opposed to taking actions," Gene Upshaw, the NFLPA's executive director, said.

"I'm glad to see the process is over. It gives us some certainty as to who will be leading the league in the future. The question is, will he be able to pull the owners together? The other question is how much authority will he have?"

Tagliabue's election capped 50 hours of deliberation in seven separate sessions dating back to July 6, when Finks' election was blocked three votes short of the necessary 19. Tagliabue was elected on the 12th ballot.

Rozelle, by contrast, was chosen on the 23rd ballot as a compromise candidate after the then-12 NFL teams debated for 11 straight days on a successor to Bert Bell. At the time, Rozelle was the little-known, 33-year-old general manager of the Los Angeles Rams.

Finks seemed to take the decision of the owners in stride.

"My congratulations go to Paul. He should make an outstanding commissioner and should serve the NFL for years to come," Finks said.

Rozelle said he is very much relieved by the end to the impasse.

"I know Carrie is happy," he said, referring to his wife, who moved the family to the San Diego area in August. Since then, Rozelle has been living in a New York hotel about 10 blocks from his office.

Giants, A's set to resume Series

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Slowly, life in the Bay area is returning to normal.

Businesses are back in business, and so is the symphony and the opera. Conventions are coming back and so are tourists.

And tonight, so is the World Series.

Eleven days after a devastating earthquake, the Oakland Athletics and San Francisco again will try to play Game 3.

Of course, this World Series will never be the same. Win or lose, tragedy will be remembered more than any triumph.

But, just like bankers do their banking and cooks doing their cooking, the baseball players will play baseball. More than 62,000 fans will watch them at Candlestick Park when Oakland ace Dave Stewart faces Scott Garrelts in a rematch of Game 1 starters.

Rick Reuschel, scheduled to pitch Game 4 for the Giants, was scratched. He was hit in the right shoulder by a line drive in batting practice this week, so Don Robinson will fill in to face Mike Moore.

Robinson has not started since Sept. 25. He has pitched just 13 1-3 innings since Sept. 3 because of a bad knee.

"If things keep going on like this, Dave Dravcecky and Mike Krukow will be our starters," Robinson said.

All during the record layoff, while it was debated whether the games should go on, the Athletics and Giants talked about the spirit of the series being gone. Day by day, though, the excitement and enthusiasm returned.

"It's starting to feel like a World Series again," San Francisco's Will Clark said during Thursday's workout.

Oakland, leading 2-0, also got into the swing Thursday. At the Athletics' spring-training site in Phoenix, they held their instructional league team hitless and won 7-0 in a five-inning scrimmage.

Rickey Henderson led off the game with a single and doubled in his next at-bat. Dave Henderson hit a home run off 21-year-old Mike Grimes, a June draft pick who was Jim Abbott's roommate at the University of Michigan.

Jim Corsi, who bounced between the Athletics and the minors this season, pitched three innings for Oakland. Two farmhands finished up and did the job against an instructional team lineup that, by the end of the game, included Ken Phelps, Mike Gallego and Stan Javier.

Jose Canseco was slowed by blisters, caused by a new pair of spikes, but start tonight and try to end an 0-for-23 World Series slump. Catcher Terry Steinbach got nicked by a foul tip, but also is ready.

The weather won't be a problem and neither will the Rolling Stones.

Clear skies, moderate winds and temperatures in the low 60s are in the forecast. There might be rain Sunday, when Game 5 would be played if necessary.

While the Athletics worked out, team management, the Oakland Coliseum and the Rolling Stones worked out a compromise that will allow the World Series to continue as planned despite a schedule conflict.

The Rolling Stones have sold 120,000 tickets for concerts at the Coliseum on Nov. 4-5 and their contract allows them to move into the stadium five days earlier to set up their massive stage. Should the World Series go back to Oakland, that would've meant trouble.

Bill Graham, one of the country's best-known concert promoters, said Thursday that the rock group agreed to move back its concerts a day if the World Series needs Game 7 on Nov. 1. If so, the group, the Athletics and the Coliseum will together absorb the overtime construction costs.

Commissioner Fay Vincent said $1.4 million would be donated to the earthquake relief effort. The Giants and Athletics each contributed $100,000 and the other major-league teams gave $50,000 apiece.

Four unbeatens face stern tests

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame, Miami, Colorado and Alabama, four of the nation's six remaining unbeaten and untied college football teams, appear to have their work cut out for them on a weekend that will go a long way toward determining the eventual national champion.

Top-ranked Notre Dame (7-0) entertains No. 7 Pitt (5-0-1), runner-up Miami (6-0) visits No. 9 Florida State (5-2), No. 3 Colorado (7-0) is at Oklahoma (5-2), which is unranked but one of three teams tied for the Big Eight lead, and No. 6 Alabama (6-0) visits No. 14 Penn State (5-1).

The other teams with unblemished records are No. 4 Nebraska (7-0), which is tied with Colorado and Oklahoma atop the Big Eight and plays host to Iowa State, and unranked Fresno State (7-0), which entertains Nevada-Las Vegas.

Among those holding their breath will be the Orange Bowl, which is drooling over the possibility of a national championship 1-2 shootout matching the Nov. 25 Notre Dame-Miami winner against the survivor of next week's Colorado-Nebraska showdown. The Sugar Bowl's hopes are riding on Alabama, the only unbeaten team in the Southeastern Conference.

Spoilsports Pitt, Florida State and Penn State are hoping to join the New Year's Day bowl picture while Oklahoma, on probation and ineligible for postseason action, would just like to ruin someone else's holiday plans.

Rounding out the Top Ten, fifth-ranked Michigan entertains Indiana, No. 8 Illinois plays host to Wisconsin and No. 10 Southern Cal is at home against Stanford.

Elsewhere, No. 11 Tennessee is at LSU, No. 12 Houston plays No. 13 Arkansas at Little Rock, No. 15 West Virginia is at Boston College, Mississippi State is at No. 16 Auburn, Pacific is at No. 17 Arizona, No. 18 Brigham Young is at Hawaii, No. 20 North Carolina State is at No. 25 South Carolina, No. 21 Texas A&M is at Rice, Wake Forest is at No. 22 Clemson and No. 23 Washington State is at Arizona State. Florida, the No. 19 team, and No. 24 Texas are not scheduled.

For Pitt, this is the biggest game since 1982 when a No. 1-ranked Panther team was upset by unranked Notre Dame 31-16. That was the last time Pitt was unbeaten this late in a season.

"It's the biggest game since we've been at Pitt, the biggest game of my life," defensive back Louis Riddick said.

Miami has been a thorn in Florida State's side, handing the Seminoles their only setbacks in 1987 and again last year. The Hurricanes are 9-1 in Tallahassee while trailing 12-10 in Miami.

Dennis Erickson, Miami's new coach, says he "had a sense of the rivalry when I first came into town and people said, 'The two things you do are beat Florida State and Notre Dame.' That kind of tells you how important it is."

Miami's Gino Torretta will make his third consecutive start at quarterback for Craig Erickson, who has been sidelined with a broken finger on his throwing hand.

Torretta, a redshirt freshman, has completed 64 percent of his passes for 976 yards and seven touchdowns and is ranked No. 4 nationally in passing efficiency.

"Looking at Miami on film, they don't look any different," Florida State coach Bobby Bowden said. "I don't see anything missing. They are probably the best team in the nation."

Florida State will rely on senior quarterback Peter Tom Willis, who has completed 60.4 percent of his passes for 1,832 yards and eight touchdowns.

Colorado visits Oklahoma without two of the people it was counting on last spring. Quarterback Sal Aunese died of cancer last month and running back Eric Bieniemy suffered a knee injury two weeks ago.

Bieniemy insists he will play. Coach Bill McCartney isn't so sure. Besides, backup J.J. Flannigan ran for 178 yards on just 10 carries and scored three touchdowns against Kansas last week.

Oklahoma's Mike Gaddis, the nation's No. 3 rusher, is out for the season after injuring a knee two weeks ago.

No one has ever beaten a Joe Paterno team three years in a row. Syracuse tried two weeks ago and failed. Now it's Alabama's turn.

Paterno is 3-7 against the Crimson Tide, including 0-4 against Bear Bryant and 0-2 against Bill Curry.

Hogs-UH top SWC slate

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
 AP Sports Writer

The surprising Texas Longhorns get a week off to read their press clippings and nurse their injuries but it's crunch time for defending Southwest Conference champion Arkansas.

The Razorbacks will be battling to stay in the SWC title chase at 7 p.m. on Saturday when the high-octane Houston Cougars come calling in War Memorial Stadium.

Texas is 3-0 in the SWC race following last Saturday's upset of the Razorbacks in Fayetteville. The banged up Longhorns need the rest. They face serious tests when they get back into action against Texas Tech, Houston, Baylor and Texas A&M.

Houston, which isn't eligible for SWC title consideration because of NCAA probation, still can determine who goes to the Cotton Bowl because all results against the Cougars count in the standings.

Houston quarterback Andre Ware is decimating the NCAA and SWC record books. Houston set an NCAA record with 1,021 yards total offense last week in a 95-21 slaughter of Southern Methodist. Ware has passed for 27 touchdowns this year and already is seventh in career passing on the SWC charts with a year of eligibility remaining.

Houston was a five-point favorite over the Razorbacks.

In other games involving SWC teams, Texas A&M was a 17-point favorite over the Rice Owls in a 2 p.m. game in Houston; Baylor was an 8-point favorite over Texas Christian in a noon (Raycom TV) matchup in Waco; and oddsmakers didn't establish a point spread in North Texas' 2 p.m. meeting with Southern Methodist at Ownby Stadium.

The SWC is 16-8-1 against non-conference opposition.

Arkansas has won seven consecutive games against Houston, including a 26-21 triumph in the AstroDome last year and leads the all-time series 10-5.

Houston is coming off a 95-21 slaughter of SMU while Arkansas is trying to bounce back from a 24-20 loss to Texas.

A&M, which has only one league loss, meets troublesome Rice after a 14-11 victory over Baylor.

It's A&M final road game of the season, leaving the Aggies in great position with home games left against SMU, Texas, and Arkansas.

A&M has won eight games in a row from Rice and 14 of the last 15. Rice has not beaten A&M in Houston since 1973.

TCU beat Baylor 24-14 last year. The Horned Frogs also won 24-0 in 1987.

 Richard Mickler of Hereford shows off the 26-pound yellow catfish he caught last month at Lake Stamford. Mickler caught the fish on a trot line using a small perch as bait.

Slovenian concert to be held

Plainview Community Concerts Association's first concert of the season will be presented by the Slovenian Mastersingers of Yugoslavia Saturday, Oct. 28, at 8 p.m. in Herral Memorial Auditorium on the Wayland Baptist University campus.

Concert Association members are reminded to attend. Membership cards have been mailed. For information contact Membership Chairman, Mrs. Vera Ott, 1103 Ennis, 296-7933 or Thanet Kramer of Lockney at 652-3794.

Yugoslavia has been called "a nation of singers." The Slovenian Mastersingers are the leading vocal ensemble of Slovenia, the northern-most republic of Yugoslavia.

The first American tour of the Slovenian Mastersingers during the 1986-87 season was a tremendous success. The 1989-90 American audiences, even Plainview, will again have the opportunity to hear this remarkable ensemble.

The Mastersingers were founded in 1951 and have performed continuously with full touring seasons in five continents ever since. The same high standard has been maintained even though personnel changes have been made.

Critics have commented on the degree of personal communication between singers and audience. Their success is due to the mastery of every style and range of the best vocal writing from all time periods.

The concerts consist of at least four different groups of varying types of repertoire, usually beginning with Elizabethan and Madrigal selections, followed by the Baroque and Classical period, (Mozart, Schubert, Brahms, Mendelssohn) then Romantic selections including the Russian school (Tchaikowsky, Rachmaninoff) and ending with a light group of international folk songs in interesting arrangements and American Spirituals.

In the annual world-famous Dubrovnik Festival, a regular event, is the midnight concert in the atrium of the cathedral by the Slovenian Mastersingers.

For the past five years the artistic director of the Slovenian Mastersingers has been Anton Nanut, celebrated as Director of Yugoslavia's leading orchestra, the Slovenian radio, and TV orchestra which has twice toured America. He has received virtually every musical award his country offers and is considered one of Yugoslavia's foremost musicians in both the orchestral and vocal fields.

Chili supper set Saturday

Plans were completed for the annual chili supper when members of the Hereford Rebekah Lodge # 228 met in regular session Tuesday.

Chili, pie and drinks will be served Oct. 28 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Odd Fellow Temple located at 205 East Sixth. The cost of tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children.

There will be a "toy walk" for the children at the Halloween Carnival sponsored by Crime Stoppers at the Bull Barn Oct. 31.

Noble Grand Stella Hershey presided over the regular business session. Thirty visits to the sick, 28 cheer cards, one flower, and 10 dishes of food were reported for the week.

Lydia Hopson served as hostess to Hershey, Marie Harris, Susie Curtsinger, Irene Merritt, Sadie Shaw, Leona Sowell, Erma Loving, Jim Loving, Ursalce Jacobsen, Faye Brownlow, Shirley Brown, Ada Hollabaugh, Dorothy Lundry, Jo Irlbeck, Tony Irlbeck, Peggy Lemons, Verna Sowell and Ben Conklin.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
We had some really bad weather lately and the electricity was off from time to time. The other night it was off for a couple of hours.

I am wondering if I should have thrown away the dairy items that were in my refrigerator. Do you have any information on how long they can stay in a refrigerator with the electricity off and still not spoil? — Jodie Garrison, Houston, Texas

When electricity goes out, the first thing we do is open the refrigerator to check on the items. Well, this is the worst thing to do! You should leave the refrigerator door shut to allow the cool air to stay in it.

Generally dairy items will not spoil for four to six hours in an unopened refrigerator. You may also want to check the "use by" date. If it's an item that is almost out of date, it may not last as long as an item that has a newer date.

Some dairy foods are more perishable than others, so if you have any doubts about the freshness of an item, toss it.

And next time, don't open that door! — Heloise

HEALTHY BAKING
Dear Heloise: I found a wonderful baking tip. When baking goods for my family, I was always concerned with all the sugar that I was adding.

Now I add half sugar and half heat-stable diet sweetener. For most recipes this will work. Now I bake more often and feel better knowing that the sugar content is not quite so high. — Delores Perez, Miami, Fla.

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

Church News

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

In conjunction with the 90th anniversary of First Baptist Church, a banquet is planned at 7 p.m. Saturday in the fellowship hall. Dr. Gary Cook, president of the Dallas Baptist University, will be the guest speaker. For banquet reservations, call 364-0696.

During the Sunday worship celebration which begins at 11 a.m., Dr. J.B. Fowler, editor of The Baptist New Mexican, will be the speaker.

A called business meeting is set for 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

ST. ANTHONY'S PARISH

The parish is having a Harvest Liturgical Celebration at 6 p.m. Saturday to commemorate the bountiful harvest and the climax to the fifth season of Renew.

The Renew program has been a three-year process to revitalize the people of the parish. The mass will be held at the Don Meyer's farm, one-and-a-half miles north of Milo Center. All members of the parish are invited. There will be no 6 p.m. Mass at the church.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday School and adult Bible classes will be held at 10 a.m. Sunday. The theme of the Reformation will be emphasized in the children's and youth classes. The adult Bible class will continue to study the liturgy of the church in detail.

A special invitation is extended to the public to attend the Reformation worship service at 11 a.m. Sunday. This service will follow the pattern of the "Service in the Language of the People of 1526" which was written by Martin Luther. The sermon will also follow the pattern of those which were delivered during this time. It will be based on selected readings from the book of Galatians.

On Nov. 5, the congregation will observe Mission Festival during the morning worship service which begins at 11. The special guest speaker will be the Rev. Edmund Lichtsinn of Storm Lake, Iowa. This event is being held in conjunction with the special anniversary celebration set to begin at 4 p.m.

that day. All friends and supporters are urged to be present for this special service. Pastor Lichtsinn will also speak at this time.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Fifth Sunday Dinner is planned Sunday following the morning worship service at 11. Everyone is asked to bring enough food for their family and guests. Tea and coffee will be furnished.

Holiday baskets are being collected for needy families for Thanksgiving and Christmas. If you know of anyone in need of one, call Paula Eubanks at 364-3728.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The church is in need of a Sunday school teacher and a teacher for the fifth and sixth grade Sunday school class. Please call David Fanning at 364-0830 in the evenings or the church office during the weekdays.

At 5 p.m. Saturday, the teens will be leaving from the First Christian Church parking lot to attend the Al Denson Concert which begins at 7 p.m. There will be no charge for the concert, but a love offering will be taken at the event to be held in Clovis, N.M.

All ladies are invited to join Flame Fellowship, an organization of Christian women of every denomination. A local chapter is being started and the first meeting is planned at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 2 at the Community Center. The speaker will be Jean Warner, author and licensed minister.

An all-church hallelujah night is planned at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 31. Come dressed in Biblical, western or animal costume (no worldly, cultic or rock costumes please). A movie will be shown in the sanctuary at 7 p.m. entitled "No Greater Power". Organized games, booths, prizes and goodies will be featured in the gym and fellowship hall. Each family needs to bring candies and food.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"When Discouragement Strikes" is the title of Dr. Jim Cory's sermon for the regular Sunday morning worship service. The scripture lesson is Luke 18:1-8.

The senior highs will have a home meeting at the Robinson's home, 119 Juniper.

The monthly covered dish luncheon of Presbyterian Women will be Nov. 1 at noon in the small fellowship hall. Working women whose lunch hour permits are welcome to come without bringing a covered dish. Old sheets are needed so they can be torn and made into bandages for mission hospitals. Some missions are in such desperate need of bandages that they wash and sterilize used ones.

The deacons will host a pot luck harvest dinner at 6 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 5. The Hereford Senior Citizens Choir, which has 35 members, will be entertaining.

Those planning on going on the ski trip to Angel Fire need to sign up by Nov. 1.
